HAL MCGIVERN, M. P. Soldiers Fire Into a Crowd of Mexican Rioters FEARFUL CARNAGE

One Estimate of Death List Reaches 500—Mexican Town Scene of Frightful Troubles—Reports of Invasion by More Mexicans Received

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 21—One hundred persons were killed in rioting which took place at Zatecas in the interior of Mexico, west of Tampico, on Saturday night, according to reports received here this morning.

Soldiers fired into the struggling body of rioters with disastrous effect. One hundred is the lowest estimate of the loss of life, and may reach 500.

The American consul telegraphed the first news of the riots to the Mexican consul at San Antonio stating that the town was in a state of uproar and that the loss of life was not less than 100. No details were given other than that a company of soldiers were ordered to fire upon a vast crowd of rioters thronging the streets.

Zatecas is the capital of the State of Zacatecas in Central Mexico about 300 miles from the United States line.

News of the riot did not reach the outside world until late on Sunday although the battle took place on Saturday night. It is stated that quiet has now been restored by placing the city under rigid military rule.

Latest reports are that the slain are still lying in the streets where they fell. A despatch from Del Rio, Texas, on the Mexican border 250 miles east of Zatecas, states that there are rumors of a fight which is supposed to have taken place near there early last night between Americans and Mexicans.

Reports that more bands of Mexicans had crossed the river at different points cannot be verified. County officers and United States river guards say they have no positive information of trouble but have heard rumors of an invasion and attack at various points.

It is reported that riots have taken place at Almiraz, seventy miles south of Mexico, and several have been killed there. The report is unconfirmed.

Washington, Nov. 21—Brig. Gen. Hoyt, commander of the department of Texas has been instructed to hold troops in readiness to meet any call made by the governor of Texas to preserve neutrality on the part of the United States in connection with the revolt in Mexico.

Moncton, Nov. 21—(Special)—The Moncton board of health report for the year just closed shows an abnormally low death rate. The schedule of deaths submitted by C. E. Northrup, secretary treasurer, shows 153 during the year.

Twenty-one deaths were reported, tuberculosis came next with fourteen; whooping cough and cholera infantum each caused nine deaths. Five people were killed by trains and one was accidentally shot. Of the remaining fatalities four died from shock following operation. Of those who died in the hospital, fourteen did not belong to the city.

INCREASE IN SALARY FOR OTTAWA TEACHERS Report of Committee Suggests Schedule Ten Per Cent. Higher

Ottawa, Nov. 21—A sub-committee appointed to consider increases in the salary schedule for the public school teachers will submit a new schedule to the management committee granting increases in nearly all the grades. The schedule as prepared by the sub-committee is of necessity of a tentative nature and will probably be amended by the management committee, but it is understood that the increases suggested to go into effect the first of next year will average about ten per cent.

Dr. Putnam, the inspector, submitted schedules of salaries from various other cities in Ontario. The only city which pays its teachers better than Ottawa is Toronto and the salaries there do not average $30 a year more. If the increases proposed by the sub-committee are made effective, Ottawa will be equal to or better than the best now paid.

BANDITS IN CHICAGO HOLD UP CITIZENS; ROB AND MURDER

The bandit trio committed the series of crimes on the northwest side within a period of an hour and were seen by half a dozen persons.

Following the murder they are believed to have robbed a fifth man. Five other recent hold-up shootings are laid at their door and within a half hour of the murder 100 police were searching for the desperadoes.

The murdered man, who was about twenty-five years old, and well dressed, has not been identified.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 21—(Special)—The Victoria General Public Hospital commission which was appointed to run the institution took another step on Saturday in the direction of determining what to be the policy in regard to the medical and surgical governance of the hospital. In response to representations from a committee speaking on behalf of the medical profession of Nova Scotia, the commission gave a hearing to medical men.

The commission took the statement from each medical man individually. They were admitted one by one. Four chief questions were put by the commission. They were asked generally for their view in regard to the existing system, called the regulatory or interregional system. The commission inquired in regard to the continuation of the system. Questions were put in respect to what is known as the continental system, involving a responsible chief of staff with associates. Each was asked to expound his views frankly on the question of appointing assistants.

While the questions were practically identical as put to all those who appeared, the answers showed much diversity, as was expected.

SCHOONER SUNK OFF NOVA SCOTIA COAST; CAPTAIN AND WIFE ARE DROWNED

The Lila D. Young and the Midnight Strike in Snow Storm—Capt. Weston's Wife and Her Husband Slip Into Water Just as They Were Being Rescued

Canoe, N. S., Nov. 21—(Special)—The schooner Lila D. Young, Captain Berringer, arrived here this morning and reports a serious collision of Beaver on the way down when the schooner Midnight of Jeddore, was sunk with the loss of Captain Weston and his wife. The rest of the crew, three men, including a brother of the captain, were saved.

The Lila D. Young came out of Hubbard's Cove on Sunday morning, with a load of ice for the Maritime Fish Corporation here. The schooner Midnight, loaded with produce, left here on Sunday morning, and had run up the shore as far as Beaver, where the fatal accident occurred at 7 p. m. on Sunday. It is claimed there were no lights on the Midnight, and a snow squall was raging.

The Midnight was sighted by the lookout on the Lila D. Young and supposed she was going clear, but when almost abreast, for some reason, the Midnight hauled directly across the bow of the Young and the collision occurred.

Mrs. Weston, the captain's wife, was asleep in the cabin and everything was done to save her life, but before she could be rescued, the vessel went down carrying with her, Captain Weston and his wife.

Captain Weston who was at the wheel, at the time of the collision, rushed to the cabin and succeeded in getting his wife on deck, willing hands were extended and Mrs. Weston was almost pulled on board the Young, but fell back into the water, with her husband, and both were lost.

The Lila D. Young sustained considerable damage besides the loss of her anchor which was cut away to free the sinking vessel.

There may be some temporary inconvenience to outsiders, but the Musquash people are rapidly learning to swim. The talk about repairing the dyke is the usual complaint of people who are never satisfied. Applications for the position of ferryman are now being received.

FORMER ST. JOHN WOMAN DEAD IN BROOKLYN

Mrs. Samuel Jordan Passes Away—Aged Pt. de Bute Woman Hurt

Sackville, Nov. 21—(Special)—Mrs. Stewart, wife of Dr. Stewart, yesterday received word of the death of her step-mother, Mrs. Samuel Jordan, in Brooklyn. Mrs. Jordan formerly lived in St. John. Her husband died some forty years ago.

Miss Mabel Bembridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bembridge, and George Hicks, of Upper Sackville, were married recently by Rev. Hermann Cann, at the home of the bride's parents.

At Point de Bute a few days ago Mrs. Margaret Dobson, aged eighty, fell down the cellar stairs in her home and sustained a compound fracture of the right arm and numerous bruises as well as a severe shock. Her condition is fairly good now, but for a woman of her age the accident was very serious.

Effort is being made to have Gilbert S. Stairs, of Halifax, referee. He is a former Dalhousie and Wanderer man, and was one of Dalhousie's Rhodes scholars.

THE TIMES' NEW REPORTER

SILE JONES AND MR. BORDEN "Say," said Mr. Borden to the Times' new reporter this morning, "the way Borden is acting about this Bourassa business reminds me of the time Silé Jones' next neighbor had a good fire on one place. They wasn't on the ground at the time, an' one day somebody started a fire on the neighbor's place an' it began to eat things up. Well, sir, Silé was tackled most to death when 'e seen it. He just stood an' looked at it, an' grined to 'emself while the neighbor's family run out an' tried to beat out the fire. But after a while the wind changed an' 'then Silé grined on the other side of 'ee face. The fire had a good start by this time, an' 'e just naturally jumped for the line fence an' over onto Silé's place. It run over the pasture an' into Silé's woods, an' I guess two hundred dollars wouldn't 'a paid for the damage. It don't always pay to stand around an' let a fire get going, even if it does start on some other feller's place."

Financial Letter.

New York, Nov. 21.—Our deduction from the latest factors and information which we obtained point to bullish operations this week. On slight reactions we would protect bull commitments with stop orders, owing to the high level of professionalisms. To enter new territory upward the bulls will have to take considerable stocks. If such instances however, he made aggressively, substantial following will be created, justifying improvement of a material character. There are too many bears in the market for the short side to be safe.

Developments over Sunday do not appear to be important except that the bank statement shows a gratifying increase in the excess of loans over deposits. The money situation should continue to improve mainly by the reduction of loans through falling commodities and the return of cash from the interior. The slight increase in the car surplus does not appear to us as important.

Press comment and market literature seem to be slightly more cheerful. Big crops, easier money, abolition of legislative disturbance, international trade increase, these are a few underlying fundamental points not to be overlooked by the pessimist.

MAYOR NATHAN'S SPEECH
OPENING ROME COUNCIL

Rome, Nov. 21.—In a speech opening the session of the municipal council today, Mayor Nathan complained that interested hotel keepers abroad especially in America and Switzerland, had given currency to exaggerated reports of the cholera epidemic in Italy, thus serving "the lower interested motives of the clericals who wish to detract from the success of the festivities in 1911 in celebration of the proclamation of Rome as the capital of United Italy."

He referred to the controversy with the Vatican and hinted at a possible connection between the "artificially spread fears of cholera and the fears trumpeted in the name of the health of the soul, which mean war against Rome and the patriotic manifestations of 1911."

New York, Nov. 21.—The steamer San Giorgio, which arrived last week from Genoa and Naples and was detained because of two deaths on the voyage among the steerage passengers believed to be due to cholera, was allowed to dock today. The crew will not be permitted to leave the vessel, which will sail on its return trip in a few days. All the patients transferred from the steamer on its arrival are doing well.

TOLSTOY'S DEATH

St. Petersburg, Nov. 21.—The Duma adjourned today's session out of respect for Tolstoy, who died at Astapova yesterday, though the decision to do so was reached by a majority of the members of the extreme right contending that to honor the memory of the Russian novelist would be to challenge the Greek Catholic church. It was asserted that the duma was a state institution in which the church was especially opposed.

In proposing the adjournment the president, ennobled Tolstoy, whom he described as "the pride of Russia and the glory of mankind," adding "May the merciful God open to him the kingdom of Heaven." Many speeches and organizations are preparing to send deputations to the funeral.

THE SITUATION

New York, Nov. 19.—Business, which began to show considerable improvement, is now falling off. This is due to some extent to the farmer holding back his grain, hoping for the higher prices of last year. This, however, is futile. The tendency will be to lessen transportation and with declining business, railroad earnings must reflect the general situation.

An Ashcroft, N. H. item in the Concord Monitor says: Electric lights had been connected at Nuremberg, about 1477, though it is affirmed that Robert, King of Scotland, had a watch of some description as early as 1310. Others maintain that Emperor Charles V. about 1530 was the first who had anything that might properly be called a watch, though some called it a small table clock. Watches were first taken to England from Germany in 1577.

Beaver will be one of the favorite items in millinery during the coming winter. There is a tendency to get away from the kimono sleeve and to substitute the puffed sleeves.

You can hunt trouble and find fifty times as much as you want; happiness and a hundred times less.

Watches are said to have been first invented at Nuremberg, about 1477, though it is affirmed that Robert, King of Scotland, had a watch of some description as early as 1310. A philanthropic New York photographer has found a way of helping to cheer the lives of the poor. He takes a group picture of families free, and gives them two copies—one to keep themselves and one to send to relatives in Europe. Many hundred people have thus had their first photographs taken without expense.

A DASHING MEXICAN SOMBRERO

Very stunning is this big picture hat, with a tall Mexican crown and the wide brim which is becoming a dainty pretty face. The hat is made of Mandarin blue silk veiled with shirred black tulle net, a scarf of the chantilly being tied around the high Mexican crown is a pleading of dark blue velvet ribbon and over this is draped a heavy dull gold ornament of cord, with tassels hanging at the side. This is one of the new models brought out for a first appearance at the horse show.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

URING the Christmas season all the girls stood all day long—from eight to twelve in the morning and from one to eight at night the first day; from one at noon to ten and eleven at night, as the season progressed; and on the last dreadful night, from noon to the following midnight.

One of the girls had been through the last terrible day under pressure of sharp suffering. She could not afford to go home, and the floor walker would not let her sit down. "At midnight on Christmas eve, as the still crowd of girls walked wearily out of the great store into the brilliant New York street, someone said, 'How are you, Kitty?'"

"She made no reply for a minute. Then she said wretchedly, 'Oh, I hope I'll be dead before next Christmas.'" These are two quotations from a recent magazine article on the working girl that probably concern you intimately. Maybe you don't see just how, so I'll tell you.

We are responsible for any evil to which we give countenance by accepting the benefits and conveniences that come from it. If you are one of the majority of people who do their Christmas shopping in the last week or two before Christmas you are one of the people responsible for the conditions which these quotations show.

All of which is just a roundabout way of saying that the Yuletide is supposed to be the season of the year when everybody is happiest. Surely you can't be happy on Christmas Day if you think you have helped to make this season the most dreaded and the most unendurable time of the year for some of your sisters.

I recently heard of a sane and simple way in which one of my friends has long solved the problem of Christmas shopping. She begins in October and every time she goes into the shopping district for any purpose whatsoever, buys at least one Christmas gift.

She makes that a Medea-and-Persians rule for herself and behold the result. In the first place, her shopping is all done before the rush season so she can hold herself not guilty of adding a last straw to the shop girl's back and heart and health breaking strain.

Moreover many benefits accrue to herself. She doesn't get tired out by trying to do up all her Christmas shopping in one or two days. She often gets the benefit of better prices than prevail just before Christmas. She has time for more care and thought in selecting her gifts. She gets better attention from the clerks.

The strain on her purse being spread out over two or three months seems much less acute. Doesn't all that sound reasonable and logical and attractive? I don't mean just as a theory but to the point of inspiring imitation. Of course it's too late for you to begin in October this year. But it isn't too late for you to begin now. And it isn't too late for you to begin in October in 1911.

Daily Hints for the Cook

FRUIT COOKIES.

One and a half cups of sugar, one cup of butter, half cup sweet milk, one egg, two teaspoons baking powder, teaspoon of grated nutmeg, three tablespoons of English currants or chopped raisins. Mix soft and roll out, using just enough flour to stiffen sufficiently. Cut out with a large cutter. Wet the tops with milk and sprinkle sugar over them. Bake in a quick oven.

NUT BREAD.

One-half cupful of sugar, four cupful of flour, four level teaspoonful of baking powder, one teaspoonful salt, one cupful nut meats (ground), two eggs, one pint sweet milk. Put flour, salt, baking powder and sugar in sifter, sift on nuts, beat eggs, add milk and eggs to the flour; bake in moderate oven 45 minutes. Let stand in pan 20 minutes.

ORNAMENTAL BROSTING. To the whites of two fresh eggs add one ordinary sized breakfast cup of fine white sugar. Put them in a bowl, which is placed in a pan of boiling water on the stove. Beat the eggs and sugar together rapidly till too hot to bear the finger in, then remove from the pan of water and after adding the juice of half a lemon or its equivalent of tartaric acid continue to beat until cool.

SCRAPE THE CARROTS, cut into small dice and cook very slowly in salted water until very tender. Drain thoroughly and turn into a heated dish. Season with salt and pepper to suit your own taste, pour over a little clear melted butter and serve.

GENSUS OF MANUFACTURES

Next June Figures of Industries in All Canada are to be Gathered

On June 1 next there will be taken a census of the manufactures of Canada. It will ascertain the capital employed in works in 1910, together with the value of land, buildings and plant, the kind or class of products of the works by quantity or number of finished articles, and their value in the year. These statistics will relate generally to factories employing five hands or more during the year, but in such industries as flour and grist mills, brick works, saw and shingle mills, electric light and power plants, and a few others where the value of products is large in proportion to the number of employees, the aggregate wages paid will be reported to the number of employees.

The employees of work will include managers, superintendents, etc., on salaries; officers, clerks, etc., on salaries; operatives or workers on wages; and piece-workers employed outside of the works. Salaries and payments to all officers and employees will be entered on the schedule for the census year by sex, and will include the aggregate hours of working time in the year, and aggregate wages paid to them in the year. The aggregate wages paid will refer to the whole body of employees for the year, while the average hours of working time will refer to an average computed for all employees in the year for one week only.

For piece-workers outside of the works the statistics are required to show by sex the aggregate payments made to this class in the year, and also the aggregate wages paid to them in the year. The power employed in the works will show the number and horse power of steam, gas and gasolene engines, water wheels and electric motors, as well as the power sold to or bought from other public or private companies.

The fuel used at the works will show the quantity of coal, wood or other fuel and its value laid down at the works, including transportation and duties. The coal will be classified by measure to show whether it is foreign or Canadian.

Custom work and raw materials will be reported by kind or class, and entries will be made to show amounts received in the year for custom work and repairs; and the cost value of raw or partly finished materials used at the works. The kind or class of products of the works in 1910 will be entered by separate name if more than one is made, the quantity or number of each finished article and the value of separate products in the year.

The aim of this record is to show the extent and variety of manufactures in each province and district; but it will be understood that the statistics as compiled and published will give away no records of individual business. Totals will be published only where three or more industries of a class or kind are reported. All information here referred to will be collected by enumerators on schedule No. 9.

The census of the dairy industry, relating to the production of butter, cheese, cream and condensed milk, will be taken on schedule No. 12, and will show for each kind of product its quantity and selling value, and the quantity of milk and cheese used for conversion at the factories. The number of patrons, and the amount of money distributed to them in the year.

FEARFUL CONDITIONS

OF LIFE ARE THESE

Destitution, Low Morals, No Education in Ontario Sections—A Plan for Relief

(Toronto Telegram)

J. J. Kelso, superintendent of Neglected Children for Ontario, advocates the plan of granting provincial aid to destitute families in northern Hastings, Lennox and Frontenac, that they may be removed from their surroundings of poverty and ignorance to the new clay lands of Ontario, where they will get some return for their labor.

"It is not sufficient to take their children and remove them to happier surroundings, where they may be clothed and schooled," said Mr. Kelso. "The parents themselves need the same change. That section of the country cannot support a community, no matter how hard the people may work. Nothing can be grown on that rocky land, and the lumbering that once was a source of employment, is done. They have no roads and no schools."

"What should be done is to take these people to the new clay lands, giving them the assistance that we give to British immigrants. These people would do better on those lands than would strangers, and such a move would be economical for the end."

Mr. Kelso can give instance after instance of the destitution, ignorance and isolation in which these unfortunate people live. They all belong to the stock of immigrants who went to the back of the province in the days of Hastings, Lennox and Frontenac over forty years ago. The country has never developed, and the people today live in huts and shanties, ignorant and isolated from their fathers who went in there. Since then their life has been one of isolation, because roads have not been built, and because they have done nothing toward establishing schools.

The struggle for existence is so hard and the rewards for work are so scant that their poverty is distressing. In this poverty, ignorance and isolation their children have grown up unschooled and uncared for. Morality seems to have been forgotten. Consanguinity of parents in many cases exists, and there is continual multiplication without marriage.

Small wonder that this district, has been described as "old-Fleet Ontario."

"These conditions are not new," declared Mr. Kelso. "They have existed for a long time."

"We found a man, a widower," continued Mr. Kelso, "with seven grown children who had never seen a school. They lived in a part of the country where there was no school. They received no training or teaching of any kind, though the youngest was about fourteen years old."

"There are children there, our agents report, who cannot go out during the winter because they have no boots. To keep their feet warm they wrap them in bags. There are conditions existing there that could not be printed. Instances are numerous of parents who are not married and who are closely related. There is a low state of morals. Taking the children away is not good enough in itself. What is wanted is a general social uplift for old and young."

The Presbyterian Witness announces that the Rev. William Stewart, a former pastor of the Presbyterian church, St. John, west, but now of Nutley, New Jersey, has resigned from active ministerial work. After a pastorate of forty-eight years, the last twenty of which were spent in the Reformed Church, Nutley, New Jersey, he has retired from active duties as the pastor of that church, and at the request of his congregation has been appointed pastor emeritus. Mr. Stewart was also pastor of the following churches: Warwick, Bermuda; West Point (P. E. I.); Fredericton (N. B.); Hamilton (Ont.); Green Hill (N. S.).

CONVEYS DISEASE GERMS

The Public Drinking Cup a Danger to Health Declares Prof. Davison

That a considerable part of the germ contents of the mouth is deposited upon anything touched by the lips we have indisputable evidence. An examination of a hundred glass slips touched by the lips of different persons showed the number of germs deposited on each to vary from a few hundred to more than a hundred thousand.

Three clean sterile glasses filled with sterile water and each used only once by a child presented rich infection under the microscope. All bore bits of dead skin. No. 1 had on its rim approximately 13,000 bacteria; No. 2, 20,000; and No. 3 had 28,000. In a space no larger than the head of a pin on the rim of a cup used nine days in a school, I have been able to count over a thousand germs.

By examining numerous areas, I estimated that the surface about the rim likely to be touched by the lips in drinking here no less than 5,000,000 germs, while other millions lingered deeper in the cup where the saliva had dripped down. Hundreds of dead particles of human skin decaying on the sides of the cup made it a veritable cemetery. Where else in the daily activities of life can be found such a rich field of infection? I believe that nine out of every ten public cups bear some kind of pathogenic germs. The fact that they cannot in many cases be detected does not prove their absence.

DYSPEPSIA

Can Be Cured.

This disease is the all prevailing malady of civilized life, and one which defies all ordinary treatment. It gives rise to a great variety of distressing symptoms, such as distress after eating, rising and souring of food, wind in the stomach, heartburn, etc.

Nearly everything that enters a weak dyspeptic stomach acts as an irritant, hence the great difficulty of effecting a cure.

The long train of distressing symptoms, which render life a burden to the victim of dyspepsia, may be promptly cured by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters.

B.B.B. regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, stimulates secretion of the saliva and gastric juice to facilitate digestion, purifies the blood, and tones up the entire system.

Mrs. Herman Dieken, Boston, N.B., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters and find that they give me such a relief in my stomach and stomach troubles. I was troubled for a number of years with dyspepsia, and could get no relief until I tried Burdock Blood Bitters. I took three bottles and became cured, and I can now do anything without ill effect. I will highly recommend it to all who are troubled with stomach troubles."

All of the six voters of Sharon, N. B., cast their ballots Tuesday in an exciting vote on the license question. The official returns give yes 4, no 2. Union Township, Penn., counts but four voters and the expense bill shows that $7.10 was the cost of each vote cast in the township this year.

A Physical Wreck

Suffered Tortures from Nervousness. Miss Marguerite Leese, 91 Robert St., Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I was a wreck, reduced in body, and dependent. I suffered tortures from nervousness, and was totally unfitted for work. A friend recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. I commenced to use it, and the time passed so quickly that I was cured. I knew that I was cured. Gradually I grew stronger and used Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was without it on any account, and when I was again attacked I was cured by its use. Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. Sold by all druggists everywhere."

COURTNEY BAY BORINGS FINISHED TOLSTOI IS DEAD Life of Russian Reformer and Novelist Ended on Sunday Astoria, Nov. 20—Presents all day long passed through the death chamber hung with pine boughs, where Tolstoi lies. Many of them knelt beside the bier. The silence at times broken by orthodox chants for the repose of the soul of the dead. Countess Tolstoi sat beside the body for hours, often kissing the face. The light of the world is out," she said repeatedly. She left the hut only to attend matins in the school chapel, expecting that churchmen would be sung. When informed that this was not permitted she faintly. Tolstoi left a written wish that he be buried without pomp, wreaths or rites under the "poverty oak" on a bank at Yasnaya Poliana, where he played as a child and where the peasants were accustomed to congregate. The funeral will be held on Tuesday and the police have been mobilized to prevent public demonstrations.

Sinking Spells Every Few Days

"At the time I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy I was having sinking spells every few days. My hands and feet would get cold; I could scarcely breathe, and could feel myself gradually sinking away until I would be unconscious. Those about me could not tell there was life in me. After these spells I would be very weak and nervous, sleepless and without appetite; had neuralgia in my head and heart. After taking the remedy a great deal all this disappeared and in a few weeks all the heart trouble was gone." MRS. LIZETTE PAINTER, 803 1/2 3rd St., Evansville, Ind. FOR THE WORKING BOYS In the old Alexandra hall, Main street, this evening the opening of the season for the working boys of St. Peter's parish, between the ages of fourteen and eighteen, will take place. Father Holland, C. S. S., will have charge of the boys who will have every means at their disposal to enjoy a pleasant winter in their rooms. A library has been fitted up, a new bowling alley installed, new games and gymnastic apparatus provided and it is expected that the rooms will prove very attractive for the lads.

THE RIVER The Star line steamer Victoria reached Indiantown on Saturday night on her last trip, and will tie up today for the winter. She had a good cargo of produce. The Majesty of the same line will arrive this afternoon and if weather conditions favorable, will leave tomorrow with a full cargo of merchandise for Fredericton and will remain on the route as long as business warrants it. Steamer Hampstead came through the falls on Saturday with a cargo of 22 tons of hay for A. C. Smith & Co. and docked at the Flour Wharf, West Side. The hay was shipped from Gagetown and was from the surrounding country.

CAN'T HEAR ALARM There is a feeling of dissatisfaction among some of the residents of north end over the fact that the fire alarm system does not seem to be of any benefit to those citizens living beyond Adelaide street, so far as their being warned in case of fire. At different times fire has broken out in Indiantown, the alarm has been struck, but those living a short distance from the fire are not aware of its presence unless they actually see it or see the apparatus being driven to the scene. They feel that something should be done to remedy this condition of affairs, which has been practically the same since the old bell at the public steps was taken away.

FOUR FEET OF WATER OVER ROADWAY Musquash Dyke Down for Weeks and Hazen Government Has Done Nothing to Mend Matters. A most disgraceful state of affairs in connection with the public highway is reported from the parish of Musquash. A dyke along the roadway, erected to prevent the tides from the Bay of Fundy encroaching on the highway was broken several weeks ago and since then the tides flow over the road to a depth of about four feet and render the road impassable for teams for about four hours. No attempt has been made to have the break repaired and the residents of that section are much incensed against the highway board and the Hazen government for permitting such a condition of affairs to continue.

Musquash Dyke Down for Weeks and Hazen Government Has Done Nothing to Mend Matters. George Maxwell, of Lancaster Heights, who had occasion to go to Musquash on business last Wednesday, was compelled to remain in Musquash an extra day on account of the road being impassable. He said when he was ready to start back he discovered that the tide had come in and as he would have to wait four hours at least before he could get over he decided to wait until the following day. Even when he was ready to start back he had to get out of his carriage and roll logs and driftwood off the road in order to get over. Every tide washes driftwood on the roadway and this has to be removed before the teams can pass.

GIRL ARRESTED; YOUTH WITH HER MADE ESCAPE. Policeman's Visit to Alley in Brussels Street on Saturday Night—Girl Twice Tried to Get Clear. On being found by Policeman McCollum in an alley off Brussels street on Saturday night, a seventeen year old girl, Rose Murphy, tried hard to get out of reach of the police and escape being brought to court, but, although a young man from Fort Howe, who was also there, managed to get away, she failed to do so, in two attempts which she made. McCollum acting on a complaint from a resident, who said that the couple had been in this alley on three nights, talking and laughing loudly, went to the alley and found the Murphy girl and a companion. He put them under arrest on charge of lying and lurking, but the girl made an attempt to escape, and taking advantage of this, her companions made off.
