Whirlwind of Fire in England. [From the Liverpool Mercury, Dec. 6.] On Saturday a most remarkable pheno enon occurred at King Sutton, near Ban-The Scud is expected to reach here from bury, by which a man had a narrow escape. No less than seventeen trees were torn up Digby and Annapolis some time during the jured, and 116 yards of stone wall thrown down. railway train were coming up. There was a dense smake, and a tree that he had been a dense sm ke, and a tree that he had been standing under a minute before was torn up. There was a heavy rain at the time, and a lew minutes before a vivid flash of lightning. For a mile and a half there are traces of the destruction caused by the phonomenon, which seems to have travelled almost in a straight line from earth to north It was followed by a whirlwind that swept everything before it, and a pond it passed was dried up, stones carried a distance of forty yards, and railings knocked down. Frightened cattle ran about the fields, many of which are strewn with the branches of the trees struck. The people were greatly alarmed—some of them say the noise was terrific—and they thought the earth was about to open and swallow everything up. After travelling for about two miles the fire meteor seems to have expended itself.

We regret to say that the kindly leeling of the promoters of this plan on this side has not been adequately appreciated on the other. The stock was taken up, and a great many thousands of pounds were paid by the subscribers. But dividends are nowhere; interest on debentures is unpaid, and the available assets are £9 in the hands of the bankers. They even pronounce this Canadian Oil Works Company a great Canadian swindle.
