DISASTROUS FIRE ALONG INTERNATIONAL

Large Quantity of Pulpwood, Poles and Ties Destroyed by Settler's Fire.

A large quantity of pulpwood, cedar poles and railway ties piled along the International right of way at Maitland, about fifty-eight miles from Campbellton was destroyed by fire caused by a settler clearing land one day last week.

The lumber belonged to a number of operators among whom are the Richard Mfg. Co., Meigs Pulpwood Co., Lynch & Fournier, B. A. Mowat and others.

The entire lot was covered by insurance and is valued roughly at about $70,000.

It is said that the settler had no permit to set fire. If this is so an example should be made of him as altogether too much valuable timber has been burned by just such carelessness.

BE CAREFUL.
This is the season for forest fires. Settlers, fishermen and others are reminded that a small fire is easily extinguished but when once it gets into the dry grass and underbrush it is impossible to check it. Watch your fires.

PORK AND BOOZE.
A story is told of the enterprising prohibition inspector at Bathurst. One day he thought he would run out to Gloucester Jct. to see how things were going in his line. He searched the freight shed and found nothing but general freight, among which was an innocent barrel of salt pork. Pork and beans are all right, but pork and booze. Why not? No sooner thought than acted upon. The barrel was removed and a few pieces of pork removed when a very attractive five gallon jar was revealed. The jar was confiscated and now the question is being asked "who squealed." The inspector is doing good work and the thirsty ones are becoming parched.

WOMAN "FEARLESS JOE."
When we out here in the constant turmoil of war are so sad in losing so good a comrade as Homer, we realize what all of you at home must suffer. Homer was the greatest boy I have ever known; he was respected and admired by every one who knew him. He was the bravest of the brave; in fact, he won the name of Fearless Joe, though he was never rash, being cool and collected even when all about him was confusion. To the new men he was pointed out as an example to follow, and indeed I have heard more than one man say that but for Homer he would have gone to pieces.

"The fight we were in was the recent German advance in the south. We received orders on March 22 to prepare to move from our position, and left at 4:30 a.m. on the 23rd. He went into action at daylight the following day. It was very misty, and at the same time the Germans had put over a smoke cloud, which was rolling over the country so that one could not see more than a few yards.

West Too Far Forward.
"Though a miscalculation, we went too far with the cars, without realizing that we were past our front line. We saw the German coming to the rear, and we were in a bad way. Every one jumped to get the guns out and prepare to meet them, while the drivers tried to get the cars turned round and to back them away. I was driving a car, and I had just time to shake Homer's hand and jokingly warn him to be careful, as he rushed along the road to mount his gun. He smiled back at me and said 'I think I'm going to have a chance to see a few of them in all this time.' That was the last I saw of him, and I little thought at the time that I would never again shake the hand of him whom I loved like a brother.

"We got some of the cars away behind ridges, where we waited, and very soon our wounded began to come back with the news that the boys were fighting hard, but that the Germans were too many for them.

Maimed Gun Alone.
"Very few of our Battery came out of that scrap, but those who did never life of telling of Homer's bravery. He was in charge of a gun, and after every other man of the crew was either killed or wounded he went on firing into the on-coming horde, killing and wounding hundreds of them, till he finally received a bullet through the stomach. Those who saw him say that he never made a murmur, but just turned around and started back to an advanced dressing station. From there apparently, he was sent to No. 2 Stationary Hospital, where he died shortly afterwards.

"Every officer of our battery, except Capt. Nicholson, the O. C., was killed that morning. The Captain lost his right arm. A letter was received from him a few days ago and read out on parade, in which he especially mentioned Homer as one of the bravest he had ever known."

SCHOOL GROUND IMPROVEMENTS

Money Needed for This Work—
Tag Day Saturday
June 8th.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees held recently a committee was appointed to consider plans of improving the school grounds. Later this committee conferred with the teachers as to the means to be adopted for raising money for this purpose.

By an unanimous vote of the teachers it was decided to make an appeal to the citizens by having a Tag Day on June 8th. Sixteen young ladies from the High School have volunteered to carry out this plan.

It is to be hoped that the volunteers will be encouraged in this needed work by meeting with a hearty response.

The school grounds in many of the towns of our province are beautifully laid out and are a source of pride and pleasure to the people.

POURED LEAD INTO FOR WHEN ALONE AT GUN.
Lance Corporal Homer Joliat Dies Stinging Enemy Push.

Ottawa, Ont., June 3.—A thrilling story of the action in which Lance-Cpl. Homer Joliat, son of Inspector Emil Joliat who was mortally wounded has been received by the Inspector in a letter from Pte. H. C. Latham, of the Borden Motor Machine Gun Battery, who was the chum of the dead soldier. On April 4, Inspector Joliat received news of his son's death in No. 42 Stationary Hospital Amiens, though no details as to his wounds were given.

The letter written by Pte. Latham is dated from France on April 24th and reads as follows:

BATHURST PLAYERS AGAIN SUCCESSFUL

"Seven Keys to Baldpate" Well Received Here—Proceeds
For Red Cross.

The Bathurst Dramatic Club created a most favorable impression here Monday evening when they presented under the auspices of the Campbellton Women's Institute, for Red Cross purposes the "Mystery Farce," "Seven Keys to Baldpate."

The Opera House was well filled, to see this production which had been so highly spoken of, and we think we can safely say all enjoyed the production. This play is usually considered far above the reach of amateurs and in fact is not often attempted even by professionals outside the large cities, so that the success of the Bathurst Club in doing so exceptionally well with it is a notable achievement.

The scenery necessary for the presentation of the piece was all prepared by the producers, and was complete in every detail, much more so than is usually seen in the smaller cities, and added much to the success of the venture.

The various parts were taken in a professional manner and evidenced much painstaking and careful work by every member of the company. In fact it is seldom amateurs work together as smoothly as did the Bathurst ladies and gentlemen responsible for the production of "Seven Keys to Baldpate."

Miss Therault's orchestra once more gave its services to the rounding out of the programme, and needless to say was a source of keen enjoyment.

Following was the cast of players: "SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPATE." Characters in order of Entrance. Elijah Quimby—The Caretaker.

SUCCESSFUL EFFORT FOR HOTEL DUFF

Girls' Guild Produce "A Woman's Honor" in Creditable Manner.

The Campbellton Opera House was crowded to the doors Thursday evening to greet the Catholic Girls' Guild in their production of "A Woman's Honor." The young ladies were assisted by a number of young gentlemen. The entire performance was most creditable and the proceeds amounted to $210.50 which was handed over to the Hospital.

The leading parts were taken by Miss Marguerite M. Henry and Martin A. Kelly. Miss Henry taking the role of Olive and Mr. Kelly that of General Mark Lester. Both took their parts most admirably and delighted all.

Miss Theresa J. Barry as Sally, daughter of Robt. Glenn, also had a fine part to perform and gave entire satisfaction, as did also J. L. Roy as the General's private secretary in love with Sally.

Mr. Hugh A. Daley as Pedro, the General's half brother, ably performed his part, which was a particularly difficult one, and Miss Evangeline Roy as his wife gave entire satisfaction.

Messrs. A. L. Steeves in love with Olive and Gerald Wall as Dr. Garcon were all that could be desired, while A. Poirier as a Wall Street banker and Robt. Neeley as Glenn's butler came in for much favorable comment. The entertainment throughout was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The specialties which included step dancing by Mr. Omer Guidry of Campbellton and a violin solo by Mr. Alonzo Frenette of Nouvelle were exceedingly good.

KELLY—FERGUSON.
The home of Mr. Mitchell Ferguson of Flat Lands was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wed. June 5th at four o'clock when in the presence of about thirty invited guests, his daughter, Isabelle was united in marriage with Charles Stewart Kelly of Campbellton.

The bride looking very lovely in a gown of white tulle and duchess lace with the customary veil and orange blossoms, entered the drawing room on the arm of her father. Her only attendant was her little niece, Isabelle Ryan who acted as flower girl. Miss Daisy Ferguson played the wedding march.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wellington Camp, B. D. pastor of the Campbellton Baptist Church under a beautiful arch of evergreens and wild flowers.

After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served in the dining room which was beautifully decorated with violets.

The many beautiful and costly gifts of silver, cut-glass, china, linen, furniture, etc., testify to the popularity of the happy couple. The groom's present to the bride was a set of French ivory.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly left on the Maritime Express for a trip to St. John and other Maritime points. The bride's going away gown was of wine colored tulle with hat to match. On their return they will reside in Campbellton.

Many friends in Restigouche as well as in other places will join in wishing them every happiness and prosperity.

WILLIAM J. FLYNN.
The entry of the United States into the world-war led me to make the disclosures of facts embraced in this serial photodrama. The early events of the great conflict brought official recognition of the motion picture as a powerful medium of public opinion. I therefore felt that the screen would prove the most convincing and broadest medium through which to present the perils we have gone through, as striking indications of what may happen at any time through enemy spy activities.

THE "EAGLE'S EYE" AT THE IMPERIAL

drama Will Run as Serial.
See It.

The first episode of the serial photodrama, "The Eagle's Eye," presented by The Whartons, noted producers of great serials, in which Chief Flynn reveals the unwritten history of the Imperial German Government's spy plots in America, is called "The Hidden Death," and will be presented at the Imperial Theatre, Friday evening.

This episode shows how the leaders of Imperial Germany's spy system in America operated in contributing to the plans of the German naval staff to destroy the Lusitania. Ambassador von Bernstorff was so sure of her destruction he inserted an advertisement in the New York Times May 1, 1915, in effect warning Americans not to sail on her.

So certain was some one in Berlin that the Lusitania would be torpedoed, a medal commemorating the destruction of this ship was made and distributed two days before the tragedy occurred. She was sunk on May 7, and the medal was dated May 5, 1915.

The German naval staff, it would appear, had an exact date set for this great tragedy of the sea to occur, but owing to the fact that the sailing of the vessel was delayed, she did not reach the point where the submarine lay in wait for her till two days later than had been calculated. This was the first blow in a war of frightfulness that was intended to strike terror into the heart of the world and especially to warn America of the consequences of war.

The serial is one of the most interesting yet produced, and has many specially educational features which appeal to all classes. Every loyal citizen should see it.

BRITISH NAMES IN VICE BOOK?

Unpleasant Story Comes from London of 47,000 Persons Being Held in Bondage to Germany through Fear of Exposure.

London, May 30.—Noel Pemberton-Billing, member of parliament for East Hertfordshire and publisher of the newspaper Vigilante, opening his defence in his trial in the Bow Street police court today on the charge of libelling Maude Allen, dancer, and J. T. Grein, manager of the Independent Theatre, copied Mrs. Villiers Stewart to prove the existence of a book which Pemberton-Billing alleges had been prepared by German secret agents, containing the names of 47,000 British persons said to be addicted to vice and held in bondage to Germany through fear of exposure.

Mrs. Stewart, under examination by Mr. Pemberton-Billing, said the book which she had seen but which was not produced, contained the names of ex-Premier Asquith and Mrs. Asquith, Viscount Haldane, former secretary for war and Justice Darling, who is trying the case against the member of parliament.

Another witness, Captain Harold Spencer, said he was shown the book by Prince William of Wales in Albania. He said he did not remember seeing Mr. Asquith's name in it but he declared the names of Mrs. Asquith and Viscount Haldane were there.

Captain Spencer and Mrs. Stewart both said they had been threatened, the former after he had communicated the fact to the authorities, and Mr. Pemberton-Billing asked the judge for protection for himself and his witness. The judge referred him to the chief commissioner of police.

Among Those Succumbed.

Captain Spencer, before giving the names of Mrs. Asquith and Viscount Haldane, said he would only give the names of those who had been approached and had succumbed to German temptation. He had placed the information before the foreign office, the war office and the admiralty.

"There was great political pressure brought to bear," said the witness, "and I was told that if it were published it would undermine the whole fabric of the government. I then took it to the political machine."

Captain Spencer declared that pressure had been brought to bear to suppress the matter in September last, when "a political crisis was on, and they were trying to bring Asquith back to power."

Mr. Pemberton-Billing explained that his object in calling evidence as to the existence of the book of names was to prove the existence of the "cult" referred to in the alleged libel, and its political significance.

A Financial Plot?

Continuing his testimony, Captain Spencer, who was a member of the International Gendarmes in Albania before the war and aide-de-camp to Prince William of Wales, said he wrote the article which contained the alleged libel and which was based on a letter from Marie Corelli, the novelist. Last September he had heard of Camilla in financial difficulties, whose object was to make Asquith back in power and make a German peace. As a precaution he informed American naval headquarters so that the plot might be frustrated.

"Admiral Mayo and his secretary came to me and got the whole statement," he said.

Asked whether he knew of operations of the Camerilla between England and Germany, the witness replied: "They have had messages sent between England and Germany with this intelligence."

One of the principal messengers, he learned, from Germany, who had reported to the intelligence department, was a well-known English society woman, Mrs. George Keppel. He had seen Mrs. Keppel come back from Holland.

Captain Spencer ultimately passed out of the flying corps as physically unfit. Under cross-examination, he said he had never been in the secret service. He was born in America and had never been naturalized in England.

In the German book to which he had referred there was a note after each name indicating the particular way in which the persons could best be approached.

The charge against Noel Pemberton-Billing, member of parliament, of libelling Maude Allen, an American dancer, and J. T. Grein, manager of the Independent Theatre, which is now being tried in the Bow Street Court, arose out of the publication in Mr. Pemberton-Billing's paper, Vigilante, of an attack on Miss Allen, such as it was unworthy of any man to make upon a woman, according to the prosecution.

The meaning of the passage complained of was that there was some connection between names and vice and the performances at the Independent Theatre. This was made clearer by a cryptic reference, suggesting that, if Scotland Yard were to seize a list of the members subscribing to the Independent Theatre, there was "no doubt they could secure the names of several thousands of the 47,000."

The explanation of this reference was discovered in an article in the previous issue of the paper, in which the alleged libel was directed against whole classes of people, not excepting the very highest in the land. The writer said that there had been many persons who had been prevented from

BEDRIDDEN WITH RHEUMATISM

Felt That He Would Never Walk Again "FRUIT-A-LIVES" Brought Relief.

MR. LORENZO LEDUC

3 Ottawa St., Hull, P.Q.

"Fruit-a-lives" is certainly a wonder. For a year, I suffered with Rheumatism; being forced to stay in bed for five months. I tried all kinds of medicine but without getting better; and thought I would never be able to walk again.

"One day while lying in bed, I read about 'Fruit-a-lives' the great fruit medicine; and it seemed just what I needed, so I decided to try it.

The first box helped me, and I took the tablets regularly until every trace of the Rheumatism left me.

I have every confidence in 'Fruit-a-lives' and strongly recommend them to every sufferer from Rheumatism."

putting their full strength into the war by corrupting and making the fear of exposure; and that there were reasons for supposing that the Germans were making use of the most productive and cheapest methods.

The paper went on to state that there existed in the cabinet "nurs" of a certain German prince a book compiled by the secret service from the report of German agents who had infiltrated England, spreading vice and debauchery. More than a thousand pages of the book were filled with the names mentioned by the German agents in their reports, including the names of 47,000 Englishmen and women.

Clean Spirits to Mortal Combat.

Then there was the suggestion that the most sacred secrets of state were threatened. It also declared that German agents, by certain Italian, could obtain information as to the disposition of the fleet and that "the thought that 47,000 Englishmen and women were held in enemy bondage through fear, calls all clean spirits to mortal combat."

Maud Allan figured in the affair for the reason that she had been engaged to play the part of Salome in a play called Salome, originally written by the late Oscar Wilde. The play, which included a dance, was to be put on at the Independent Theatre under J. T. Grein's management. The dance did not pretend to be that danced by Salome in the bible story, but was supposed to represent a vision seen by Salome after she had given the dance for which the head of John the Baptist was the reward.

In the early stages of the trial, Mr. Grein, who was born in Amsterdam, but a British subject by naturalization, said he had founded "The German fair" in London and that he held the fourth classes of the Order of the German Eagle and the Order of the Prussian Crown. Miss Allen had no German associations, to his knowledge.

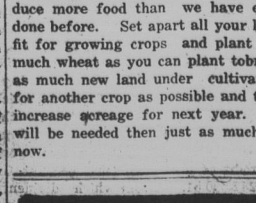

LARGER WHEAT ACREAGE.

"Let me draw the attention of the farmers of Canada to the grave need of planting every acre in wheat that is in shape to grow it. There should not be an idle man in Canada to-day, who is physically fit to work."

HON. T. A. CRESSER, Minister of Agriculture for Canada.

INCREASE YOUR ACREAGE.

Despite the difficulty, we must produce more food than we have ever done before. Set apart all your land for growing crops and plant as much wheat as you can plant to bring for another crop as possible and thus increase acreage for next year. It will be needed then just as much as now.

TOTAL ECLIPSE OF THE SUN ON JUNE 8

Professor's Plans for Observing it at Green River, Wyoming.

According to Director Edwin Brant Frost, of the Yerkes Observatory, the University of Chicago observers of the coming total eclipse of the sun have selected as their principal station Green River, Wyoming, a point on the Union Pacific Railway, lying between Cheyenne and Ogden. This station is situated in the so-called Red Desert, with a rainfall of about ten inches a year and at an elevation of more than 6,000 feet. The remarkable transparency of the air in this region makes the station one of the most promising of any along the line of totality. The observing party from the University of Chicago will have about twenty members, including Professor Edward Emerson Barnard and Assistant Professors John A. Parkhurst and Storrs B. Barrett, besides volunteers from the Yerkes Observatory and other institutions. Some of the volunteers will use apparatus at Denver. It is hoped also that the weather will permit simultaneous observations with the spectrograph at the Yerkes Observatory by Dr. Oliver J. Lee.

This total solar eclipse, which is one of six to occur in the United States during the present century, will be visible on June 8, 1918, over a narrow strip having a maximum width of about sixty miles and extending from the state of Washington through parts of Oregon, Wyoming, Idaho, across Colorado and Kansas and finally reaching Florida at about sunset. The duration of totality is two minutes, two seconds at the coast of Washington, and less than half that time in Florida.

The partial phase of the eclipse will be visible over the whole of the United States; at Chicago more than 75 per cent. of the sun's face will be obscured by the moon. During the few seconds of totality, however, and only, an observation be made of the mysterious corona which surrounds the sun and is then plainly visible to the naked eye. It is variable in its extent and brilliance, being connected in this respect with the activity of the sun in the eleven-year period of maximum sun-spots and solar prominence.

The principal constituent of the intrinsic light of the corona is the gas coronium, which has thus far been observed only in the sun's Corona, and not yet in any star or on the earth. It is important to collect all possible information as to the spectrum, and hence as to the characteristics of this gas, which will probably some time be found in the earth; just as helium, which was discovered in the sun at the eclipse of 1868 independently and simultaneously by Lockyer, of England, and Janssen, of France, was found twenty-seven years later, occluded in the crystals of the mineral cleveite occurring in the Scandinavian peninsula.

Director Frost has recently written an article for Popular Astronomy in the interest of the fullest scientific utilization of the coming eclipse of the sun, in which he calls the attention of astronomers and physicists at American institutions not on the line of totality to the important spectroscopic observations they may be able to make if they are situated within some 200 miles of the line.

MUST BE REGISTERED.

Owners of stations in this province who have not had them inspected and registered are courting trouble, according to W. R. Reek, secretary for agriculture who was in the city yesterday. Mr. Reek explained that, under the act passed at the last session, all stations must undergo inspection and be registered. Opportunity was given for the inspection in each county and the time and place was well advertised in each case. About 200 owners responded and complied with the act and while this is a large proportion of the whole number there still are quite a few owners who paid no attention to the law compelling them to register. Another opportunity to comply with the law will be offered. Registered letters will be sent to each of the owners and the times and places for inspections will be advertised so that there may not be any excuse for any who have been overlooked. Those who have neglected to meet the requirement of the law are chiefly in the northern part of the province, but there are some also in the central portion. If any neglect to have their animals on hand for inspection and registration when the next opportunity is offered, their cases will be dealt with promptly. The law provides for a fine ranging from $25 to $100.

LABOR FOR THE HARVEST.

Mr. J. D. McGregor, Director of Labor, Canada Food Board, says that the seeding of the West has been managed very well by the co-operation of the men in the towns and cities, of the boys enlisted in the Soldiers of the Soil, and by men secured from the United States.

"I have the assurance of the Government," said Mr. McGregor, "that measures will be adopted to assure you the necessary supply of labor for harvesting the crop. The Anti-Loafing Law has worked wonders and idle foreigners and sports have disappeared from the streets of the West. They are at work on the farm."

SEEDING WELL AHEAD.

Mr. J. D. McGregor, Director of Labor, Canada Food Board, says that seeding was never so well advanced in the history of the West as it is this year. It is up to the men in non-essential industries now to plan to help with the harvest.

ALL MEN MUST CARRY MILITARY PAPERS, JUNE 1st

Any Man of Military Age After That Date Liable to Arrest.

A somewhat drastic amendment has been made to the Military Service Act which puts upon all men whether in Class One or not, the responsibility of carrying papers which will show the police officials just what position they occupy with regard to the M. S. A. The amendment to come into effect on June 1st. In the past, the Dominion police have had the authority to stop any man they saw fit and make him present papers to show that he was not in Class One, or, if in Class one, that he had complied with the proclamation of October 1st, but it was only Class One men who could be held as defaulters or absentees. Now, according to the amendment, any man the police see it to stop after June 1st, and who is unable to produce papers showing that he had complied with the military regulations, or that he is a married man, or is over the age of 34, can be placed under arrest and be treated as a defaulter under the Military Service Act. The responsibility is placed directly upon the individual to be able to show the police at any time just where he stands and if he does not prepare himself to do this he stands in danger of being treated as a defaulter. The identification papers for men not in Class One must be a marriage certificate or a birth certificate, and the man cannot present either of these may be put directly into the army, for whatever service his physical condition enables him to perform. In addition, imprisonment for one month or both. Further, the stiff penalty of a $500 fine or imprisonment for six months or both has been provided for any man who carries false certificates.

THE CHEVROLET 490 is an investment, not an expense or luxury. Doctors, business men, farmers, salesmen and ladies—all should use the Chevrolet Four-Ninety and crowd more energy, activity and business into the busy day.

The Four-Ninety stands unchallenged in its price class. The electric starting and lighting equipment is most efficient. The car is powerful, roomy, comfortable and economical. The time gained by operating a Chevrolet more than pays for the cost.

THE HOUSING PROBLEM.
Campbellton's growth is being seriously retarded by the lack of homes or houses to let. Many men who have families are prevented from removing to Campbellton because it is almost impossible to rent a suitable house, flat or apartment at a reasonable rate.

In discussing the same situation in Toronto, Controller O'Neill says—

"Unless we take measures to ensure the provisions of more housing accommodation now, we shall be confronted with a situation many times more serious after the war. Toronto needs additional housing accommodation that will be within the reach of people with moderate incomes. The need will be increased after peace is declared and the army demobilized. Immigration may then receive impetus. Homes must be provided for the men who will return from the front, not only those who went from Toronto, but others who went from outside places, many of whom are likely to sojourn here."

"The reasons for the present situation are the high cost of material, the high cost of land, the scarcity of labor and the reluctance of builders to erect small houses which do not yield them what they consider a fair return on their investment. There is a strong demand for small houses in Toronto. Their scarcity has led to families doubling up, two or more occupying one dwelling and living under conditions that do not conduce to their health and comfort as much as if each family occupied one house or separate apartments with modern conveniences."

The same condition exists here as regards high cost of material and labor, but some special inducements should be offered to insure the erection of houses here to accommodate families of moderate incomes.

THEIR OWN MEDICINE.

The Germans do not like their own medicine. At a time when Sir A. Conan Doyle is calling for reprisals, the Frankfurter Zeitung is suggesting to the German Chancellor that it might be well to suggest an agreement for the limitation or abolition of aerial raids. This German newspaper announces its conviction that the military advantages of these raids "on a peaceful homeland are insignificant compared with their frightfulness." Allied armies of late have been very active behind the German lines, dropping explosives upon railway stations, aerodromes, munition factories and other targets of military importance. The Germans see plainly that these activities will grow in extent, and they now say for a truce with respect to air raiding, just as a while ago they indirectly suggested cessation of the use of gas.

The Germans have made war upon civilians from the outset. They have bombarded English coast towns from the sea for the plain purpose of terrorism through murder. They have blown up hospitals, knowing that they were hospitals, and sunk hospital ships at sea, knowing the character of these ships. They have tortured prisoners. They have visited outrage of every character upon the lands they have invaded. In other words, they have made the utmost profit they could out of every form of barbarity in war, showing the most callous disregard for every moral principle, for all of the dictates of humanity. As a nation they have shown joy in the employment of every form of horror which the civilized world repudiates. But the time has come when they are beginning to feel the purely military retaliation of the Allies, and German like, they are now beginning to suggest that the belligerents might even agree to eliminate even air raids back of the lines.

The British and French have thus far refrained from any form of retaliation in kind, though they must be strongly tempted to adopt some such proposals as have been made by Conan Doyle. Whatever may be decided as to this, Germany will not now succeed in beguiling the Allies into any limitation of military activities. In fact there will be greater determination than ever ultimately to make the German people feel the war in their own country, among their own towns and cities.—Ex.

TOWN IMPROVEMENT.

The Campbellton School Board is to be commended for taking the first step towards town improvement. A committee has been appointed, headed by the teachers of the Grammar School in an endeavor to devise ways and means of improving the school grounds.

Their school grounds will stand improving in admitted by all, and that the work has been delayed so long is to be regretted, but as the old saying goes "it's better late than never."

The town property be it the schools or town office fire stations, etc., should set the example for attractiveness so that every citizen should strive to make his property more attractive. An untidy town is very often classed as a dead one.

Some would say that war work while generally speaking this may be right, yet from an educational viewpoint this is a mistake. Our boys and girls are growing up now and our school grounds and private plots should be an inspiration to them.

Sixteen young ladies of the Grammar School will tag the citizens on Saturday and we bespeak for them a hearty and generous reception.

FOREST FIRE LAWS.

The Province of New Brunswick would be richer to-day by untold millions had it been able to prevent most of the forest fires within its borders during the last 40 years. The Department of Lands and Mines has just issued a circular letter reminding the public of the regulations of the department designed to prevent destruction by fire, and explaining in detail the reason why such regulations are necessary and the importance of observing them. The close season for fires in the province extends from April 15th to October 15th, and during this close season persons clearing land or burning brush within half a mile of the forest must obtain a burning permit from a forest ranger. This rule is in force to-day everywhere throughout Canada. It is recommended that settlers burn slash in the early spring and fall, at times when the slash is dry and the soil is damp, and that they have sufficient assistance to keep the fire under control at all times. The law requires landowners to do everything possible to prevent the spread of any fire on their own property, no matter by whom or under what circumstances it was started, and they are called upon to place themselves and their employees at the disposal of any forest ranger for fire fighting at his request. Landowners who violate this law may be called upon to pay any expenses incurred by their neighbors or the government in fighting the fire. Hon. Mr. Smith, Minister of Lands and Mines, in his letter earnestly requests the assistance and co-operation of everybody in preserving the forest areas that remain. He says:

"Thus every person in the province has a direct interest in the prompt and effective suppression of all forest fires. With the great forest area to be protected, forest rangers can only protect the timber resources of the province by having the willing assistance and hearty co-operation of every citizen. Your help in this matter is earnestly requested. All you are asked to do is this: First of all, put out promptly any fires which may start on your own property. Next, watch for fires on your neighbor's land, and if one is discovered, warn him and help in extinguishing it. Lastly, if you discover a fire on crown lands, or if a fire threatens to spread to crown lands, notify the forest ranger if you cannot yourself readily extinguish it. If you yourself extinguish a fire, please report your action to the forest ranger."

The people are reminded that it takes from fifty to one hundred years for a second crop of timber to grow after a fire, and if repeated fires occur the young growth is destroyed, the soil is injured, and the growth of new timber prevented indefinitely. The lumber industry is of immense importance to agriculture and to settlement. Of the provincial annual revenue the money secured from the forests makes up more than one-third of the total, and this money helps to keep down taxes, and to build roads, schools, and all kinds of public works. In protecting the forests the public is protecting its own property. The citizen, as Hon. Mr. Smith says, is a shareholder in the forest resources of the province. Ordinary prudence and good citizenship alike demand that the utmost care be exercised in preventing the starting of forest fires and in promptly reporting and fighting them when they are started.—Ex.

IN THE SUMMERTIME TOO!

(St. John Evening Times.)

"The editor of this well-meaning journal of the home and fireside desires to say in the interests of peace and harmony that during the next week or so such a question as: 'How is your vaccination?' will be regarded as personal and offensive to the last degree. There are limits to human endurance. For the third time in an arduous career this law-abiding editor has come to the end of the rope, and, being over the top, or, as it is called, conscripted by the vaccine department, or offered himself as a sacrifice to prevent the spread of smallpox. Let that suffice. If there are medals or titles or birthday honors, he wants none of them, but merely asks to be let alone. There is to his ears the sound of many waters, and in his soul a wailing and a howling to rhyme and reason with the immunities of politics and social intercourse. A prying solitude as to the state of his vaccination has an alarming effect, and his right arm is still fairly vigorous. Enough said. Let it go at that."

LETTERS OF THANKS.

Mrs. Jas. Morton, President of the Women's Institute has received the following letter from a former Campbellton boy, now in France expressing thanks for a parcel of socks received. France, April 30, 1918.

The Women's Institute,
Dear Ladies:

I had a feeling of pleasure as well as gratitude on opening your parcel of socks which I received a few days ago. It is a reminder that there are still friends in Campbellton and gratitude for the kindness shown by you repeatedly, for you see I hardly feel entitled to it although I still call Campbellton home. I have had the pleasure of meeting my brother Aurel last week and we talked of Campbellton for hours. I found him looking well but he thought I was very thin. I feel none the worse for it. I am still in the band. We have all taken a machine gun course just for emergency for you see every man must help to stop the tide and I think our breakfast is fairly solid.

Again thanking you ever so much for the parcel, I remain,

EXPERT SWEARS PATHE RECORDS ARE BEST

An interesting bit of testimony, in a patent suit of large importance recently on trial in the Federal District Court for the Second District of New York, had to do with the perfection of Pathe records.

Mr. Woodruff, an acoustician of national reputation and one of the foremost authorities upon recording and pressing in the talking machine business, testified under oath that, in his opinion, "Pathe records are the best samples of recording and music on the market to-day, and excel anything else in quality." Mr. Woodruff concluded with the assertion that he could not conscientiously testify otherwise and that he did not expect to profit in any way by his testimony.

The expert's testimony was of special interest in view of the fact that the Pathe company had no interest in the legal proceedings in which he was a witness, as the company was neither plaintiff nor defendant and its interests would not be affected one way or the other by the outcome of the trial.

At the annual meeting, which is to be held at the head office on June 4th, the business transacted will be shown to have indicated a satisfactory increase. The net earnings for the year ending March 31st, 1918, after paying the interest, and providing $25,000 towards paying government taxation, were $172,546.38, which with the sum of $69,544.13 to the credit of profit and loss account from the previous year, made a total to the credit of profit and loss account of $242,090.51. From which dividends have been paid preferred $50,765, ordinary $25,513, leaving a balance of $165,812.51. Transferred to reserve $34,619.05. Balance carried forward to profit and loss account $84,204.46. The transfer of $84,619.05 to reserve brings the total of this account to $350,000.

THE CURFEW.

Since the publication in the W. C. T. U. column of the Graphic of the well written paper on the Curfew law there has been considerable favorable comment upon it and at a recent meeting of the Town Council a number of councillors through out the suggestion that such a bylaw would be of great benefit. We feel sure that if the matter was pressed such a measure would be enacted by the present council. We would suggest that a delegation of mothers attend the next council meeting of the Council and press for the bylaw.

Another matter which should be taken up is the enforcing of the compulsory education law.

A peculiar thing happened in the Bathing Season Post Office. It was discovered last week that on account of the shrinking of the wood that forms the top of the base situated at the foot of the mail box that there was a narrow opening in which letters taken hurriedly from the boxes would fall and disappear. The postmaster investigated the mystery, by removing the boards and found a lot of letters and postal cards some of them two and three years old. CHRIST CHURCH.
There will be no service Sunday evening, but the Rector will preach in the Presbyterian Church.

FOUR DRUNKS.
The names of four drunks are registered on the police book for May. This is a record breaker for any month since prohibition came into effect, and is more than for the first four months of the year.

MORE BODIES RECOVERED.
The bodies of victims of the great Halifax explosion last December continue to be found. The bodies of Mrs. M. E. Upham and three young children were last week found in the ruins of their residence.

CROPS LOOK GOOD.
Although a little late, crops throughout Restigouche look exceptionally well. Grass is growing nicely and much of the grain sown is up nicely. A very large increase in acreage of grain has been sown this year. Many farmers who never previous planted wheat have done so this year.

INCREASED PRODUCTION.
There has been a large increase in the number of garden plots under cultivation this year over last. The town teams prepared one hundred and fifty-one, and a large number were prepared by private teams. Judge Matheson has given out free of charge plots on his property until the entire fields over the hill have been taken up.

IN MEMORIAM.
Ahier—in loving memory of dear Lillie who fell asleep on June 4th, 1917.
One year has passed our hearts still sore.
As time goes by we miss her more;
Her loving smile, her welcome face,
No one can fill her vacant place.
Inserted by Husband and Sister.

CATCH LIMITED.
Local trout fishermen who come home and boast about four to ten dozen fish, should remember that it is illegal to catch more than thirty trout at one fishing. If the fish happen to be larger than the usual run, ten pounds in the limit. There does not seem to be any law however on a man drawing on his imagination in regard to the catch.

DIED AT CHATHAM.
We regret to report the death of Sister McIntyre (nee Kathleen McIntyre) on the 29th of May after an illness of two months. The deceased has been a member of the Order of the Sisters, Hotel Dieu Chatham for 5 years. She was an accomplished music teacher and a graduate of the same convent. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. McIntyre of this town, who have the sympathy of all in their bereavement.

MIRAMICHI BOATS TAKEN.
Two Miramichi boats, the J. W. Brankley, owned by the Miramichi Lumber Company, and J. C. Miller, owned by the J. W. Snowball Co., and commanded by the Admiralty, left port Sunday afternoon for Montreal in charge of Capt. John McLean and Capt. Alex. McLean, respectively. The boats will be shipped across the water on an ocean transport for service overseas.—Chatham Commercial.

The police have been instructed to see that no children under fifteen years are on the public wharves, and have already sent a number of young fishermen home.

The Ocean Limited going east was delayed near Nash's Creek on Monday and tied up traffic for about eight hours. Only the engine and two cars went off and no one was injured.

SMOKE-STACK DOWN.
The long smoke-stack of the Campbellton Steam Laundry blew down during the gale Monday afternoon.
DUSTY.
Where is the watering cart is the question being asked about town today. Clouds of dust are raised by every passing auto and how about the street department should get the cart out of winter quarters.
CUP HAS ARRIVED.
The Napier Cup has arrived and it is certainly a handsome one. This cup has been presented to the Campbellton and Bathurst Curling Clubs by Mr. W. F. Napier and will be played for annually.

SERVICE AT PRESBY.
TIAN CHUO.
Owing to the absence of the Rev. Hugh Miller at the General Assembly there will be no service in the Presbyterian Church, Sunday morning. Rev. Mr. Barnes of the Episcopal Church will conduct the service in the evening.
NORMAL SCHOOL PUPILS.
The age for admission has been lowered to 16 during the war, and pupils must give a bond, $100, to teach three years in New Brunswick before engaging in that occupation elsewhere. They may get married, or engage in any other work in New Brunswick, or any other country, but pupils must give a bond, $100, to teach of the province before having taught here three years.

VAUTOUR-COLLET.
A pretty wedding took place at St. Anne des Restigouche on Wednesday, June 5th when Miss Agnes Collet and Mr. Barney Vautour of P. int. a la Garde, Que., were united in marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Vautour are spending a few days at the Florence Hotel, Campbellton. Mr. Vautour is a returned soldier and a member of the Great War Veterans Association, Restigouche, Branch.

THRILLING EXPERIENCE.
Mrs. Bedin, of Edmundston, has received a letter from her daughter, Mrs. Malouin, in Montreal, who had just got a letter from her son Jack, who is now stationed with the Imperial Flying Corps at Cairo, Egypt, saying that he had been in hospital. In January last he was flying over Turkey and was fired on by the Turks. The shots went through his boots, but he escaped with a few scratches. His machine was disabled and he came to earth at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour. To prevent his machine from falling into the hands of the Turks he set fire to it and made for the woods. It took him nine days to return to his headquarters hiding by day and traveling by night. He was about to be listed as missing when he arrived safely and reported to his command.—Telegraph.

Can You Solve This Great War Puzzle?

WHO WANTS ME?

Four Things That Will Win The War
WHAT ARE THEY?
THE 16 Circles above can be made to spell out the names of the four chief things that are going to win the war. Every boy and girl should know all of them. Can you tell what words the four magic circles represent?
How to solve it.—Each circle represents a letter of the word called for. The number of dots in the circle represents the position of that letter in the alphabet. For instance: "C" would be represented by a circle with one dot because it is the first letter of the alphabet, "H" would be represented by a circle with eight dots because it is the eighth letter, "T" would be represented by a circle with twenty dots because it is the twentieth letter, "S" would be represented by a circle with 18 dots because it is the 18th letter. You must correctly count the dots in each circle, figure out the letter represented by its position in the alphabet and when you have then all figured out put them into proper relation to spell the name wanted. It's not an easy puzzle but if you can solve it correctly you may win this lovely shaggy pony or one of the grand Cash prizes above.

DALHOUSIE.

Dalhousie, June 4—Monday the King's birthday was well observed in the shiretown. Flags were seen flying from our principal buildings, the banks and schools were closed and in the evening a good war picture was enjoyed at the Star Theatre. His Majesty King George has the best wishes of all his subjects. It is during his reign that the greatest war that the world ever saw is taking place and from all parts of his great empire goes forward, during these uneasy times, the hope that the allied armies now stationed between Flanders and Paris, will before the summer ends, prove to the German hordes
"that they cannot pass."

Magistrate of Dalhousie, was treated

SHIGAWAKE.

On Saturday evening June 1st, a lecture "On the War" was given by Col. John MacPherson Almond in aid of the Red Cross, Shigawake at the Parish Hall, who was home for a few days.

It was opened by a short programme consisting of two patriotic songs
by members of the Red Cross.

Three songs by Mrs. R. P. Travers:
"Joan of Arc," "There's a Vacant Chair in every Home Tonight," and an encore song "Where do we go from Here?"

Rev. Mr. Plummer sang: "Britons do your Duty," then Almond Hayes sang "The Long Long Trail," by special request of his uncle Col.
Almond, and "Lad in Khaki" for an encore.

After the programme Col. Almond first of all gave a brief outline of the different modes of warfare, he held his thrilling experience in the past four years, and of the bravery of the Canadian boys.

His lecture was greatly appreciated by all, and after singing the national anthem he was loudly cheered.

Sunday evening Col. Almond preached a most inspiring sermon, at St.
Paul's Church taking for his text Romans 1—16, "For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation for everyone that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek."

The church was packed to overflowing, many coming from a long distance to hear one who has had such a wide experience and is such an eloquent speaker.

We are proud to know he is one of our boys from Shigawake, and honor him for all he had done to help humanity.

He is now senior chaplain in England over 135 clergy of different denominations, is a man of strong personality, a forcible speaker, a born leader of men, and loved by all who have the privilege of knowing him.

He left Wednesday morning to return to England to again take up his duties, many of his friends going as far as New Carlisle with him, where he took the train for Montreal, and where they said good bye, and wished him good luck, and God speed on his journey.

PORT DANIEL.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ramier of Port Daniel West, Que., have just received official information of the wounding in action of their son Peter, and his admittance to the "Depot des Convalescents," Rouen on May the fourteenth.

Peter Ramier has been on active service since February 1916, he was previously wounded in action on May 7th, 1917 and was admitted to hospital in August of the same year, suffering from shell shock, he returned to duty enthusiased with an appreciation of the work still before him, determined to devote himself entirely to the sacred cause that induced him and co-heroes to take up arms.

We understand that another son John has recently joined the colours of the United States Army, and is in training at Camp Custer, Mich., expecting to sail in the near future.

Our hearty congratulations to Mr.
and Mrs. Ramier as the proud parents of two such splendid sons.

ALARM CLOCK KEPT
GERMANS GUESSING.

The story tells how an American alarm clock kept the whole German line guessing and caused the useless expenditure of large quantities of machine gun and rifle ammunition all one night.

The Americans had been trying for some time to draw the fire of certain enemy units.

"Leave Fritz to me," said a happy young American, who, putting an alarm clock under his arm, disappeared into No Man's Land under cover of darkness and fastened the clock to a wire.

Soon the alarm rang, whereupon the Germans opened fire. The wire had been so arranged that the clock continued to ring intermittently, and each time drew a violent fire from the enemy. Meantime the Americans rested in their trenches and enjoyed a hearty laugh.

An American officer turned the tables on the enemy nicely recently. The Germans had retired during a bombardment to concrete dugouts behind the trenches, leaving the first three lines to one man, who went around setting off flares, so as to create the impression that the whole front was alive with Germans. An American patrol leader went over and discovered the ruse. He killed the one German, invaded the trenches and gathered dozens of street signs which the Germans had posted, and returned to his own lines with the signs tucked under his arm.

Two Husbands.
Mrs. Brown—My husband, 's a very dainty feeder.

Mrs. Green—Is 'e? Now my old man is just so much the other way about; 'e's a perfect epicure, 'e'll eat anything.
