No Liberty for Dreyfus-Another Success for Wireless Telegraphy-Mayor and Council Carry on Forgery in the Town Hall Cellar.

London, April 25.-In the House of Commons John Dillon, Nationalist member for county Mayo, called attention afresh to the large increase in the British force in the Cape, within a comparatively brief period-an increase which Mr. Balfour, when the matter was brought up last week, said was in no wise intended as a menace to the Transvaal. Mr. Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, answering Mr. Dillon's interpellation, explained that the increase was due to the fact that the Transvaal Government had been making "tremendous military preparations" on the borders of Cape Colony. Henry bouchere, Radical member for North-ampton, reproached the colonial secretary with "following a defiant action by a defiant speech."

IN THE MATTER OF WILLIAM HENRY Weston, of the city of London, in the county of Middlesex, merchant, insolvent. Notice is hereby given that the above-named William Henry Weston has made an assignment to me under the provisions of "An act respecting assignments and preferences by insolvent persons" being Chapter 147, of R. S. O., 1897. A meeting of the creditors of the said William Henry Weston will be held at my office in the Court House, in the city of London, on Thursday, the 4th day of May, 1899, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, for the appointment of inspectors and the giving of directions for the winding up of the estate. Creditors must file their claims, verified by affidavit, with me on or before the 15th day of May, 1899, after which date I will proceed to distribute the estate, having regard only to those claims of which I shall have had notice. In the Italian Senate, Admiral Canevero, minister for foreign affairs, re-plying to questions about the Anglo-French arrangement on the Nile, and its effects on Tripoli, said that Great Britain and France had given ample assurance that they had no designs either for present or future execution on Tripoli, and that the commercial routes between Tripoli and the hinterland would be kept open. MUNICIPAL FORGERY. Some of the Vienna newspapers published a story that the mayor and the whole municipal council of eight members of the town of Boseec. Hungary, have been allied for two years in forging currency notes. They worked in the cellar of the town hall, and to guard against intrusion they stationed policemen at the doors to refuse permission to anyone who desired to enter while they were engaged in their unlawful occupation. When arrested the accused men fought furiously.

TO CHANGE RUSSIA'S CALENDAR. In reply to inquiries made by the committee that was appointed to consider a reform in the Russian calendar, the foreign office and the departments of the interior and finance have sent communications to the committee expressing themselves as favorable to a change from the style, which is twelve days behind the calendar used by other civilized nations.

NO LIBERTY FOR DREYFUS. Mr. David Christie Murray publishes the statement that he has learned from trustworthy sources in Paris that the superior council of war, including Gen. de Negrier, Gen. Zurlinden, Gen. Giovannelli, Gen. Duchesne and Gen. Jamont, its vice-president, none of whom, except, perhaps, Gen. Zurlin-den, has heretofore been implicated in the Dreyfus affair, have decided that, under no conditions whatever shall Dreyfus be liberated. He understands also from the same source that negotiations are now proceeding from the intelligence bureau and the judges of the court of cassation to secure a rejection of the request for revision. More than this, he learns that everything is arranged for a sham trial of Col. Picquart, who is to be degraded and sentenced to imprisonment for ten years.

The Paris Figaro continues its publication of testimony offered before the court of cassation. Capt. Cuignet, who described the discovery of the forgery of Lieut.-Col. Henry, told the court that in his opinion Henry was only an accomplice of Col. du Paty de Clam, the pricipal author of the forgery, inas-ABLE for wholesale tea business. STOMACHS MIXED

And as a Result the Wrong Man May Have Been Sentenced to Die.

St. Louis, April 25.-Gov. Stephens, of Missouri, has been requested by Eph Houston to commute the death sentence of Thomas Shackleford, now in the city jail for the murder of a man named Taylor. Houston was an attendant at the morgue at the time Taylor's body was brought there, and the doctors who held the post-mortem examination gave him the stomach of the man to set aside. Soon after another dead man was brought to the morgue. There was some doubt as to how he came to die, and on the doctor's order his stomach was also put aside.

Houston says he believes he got the stomachs mixed. Shackleford was convicted of murder in the first degree on the evidence adduced from stomach, which was kept by Houston for the court.

CUBAN CROPS.

Havana, April 25.-The sugar crop for 1899 is officially estimated at 307 .-903 English tons, against the total for 1898 of 232,032 tons. The tobacco crop is said to be of good quality and more abundant than for two years past. The planters in the Province of Pinar Rio are very cheerful as to the outlook.

San Francisco, Cal., April 25.-Nearly haif the crew of the battleship Iowa are on the sick list, and the men are loudly protesting. Strong Force Under Aguinaldo Await the Assault-No News of Dewey's Missing Men.

Manila, April 25.-Gen. MacArthur's division left Malolos yesterday, apparently intending to besiege Calumpit.
Before daylight the Fourth Cavalry,

Hale, at 4 o'clock p.m., had crossed the Bagbag and reached a position a quarter of a mile from Calumpit, commanding the ford. Prisoners captured by Gen. Hale's troops say Aguinaldo, Gen. Luna and the Filipino staff are at Calumpit with a great force of Filipino troops.

Gens. MacArthur and Wheaton, with the Montana Regiment, advanced to the left of the railroad, and the Kansas Regiment moved forward to the They had right, north of Maloios. They had with them a long supply train, with two armed cars in front, carrying two Gatlings and Colts, rapid-fire guns, and a 6-pounder. The insurgents attempted to destroy the railroad bridge outside of Calumpit, and succeeded in badly warping the iron framework.

As soon as the soldiers left the Filipino capital, the natives began flocking in as they did at Santa Cruz before the last boat of Gen. Lawton's expedition had sailed. FIFTY FILIPINOS KILLED. A dispatch to the New York Herald from Manila says: The movement of the American forces on Calumpit has begun, Gen. Hale's brigade crossing the river at Quingua and moving down the bank of the river toward Calumpit. Many insurgents were driven from in front of the line of march. Fifty of the enemy were killed, while the American loss was only one killed. It is reported that Gen. MacArthur, with Lawton's brigade and an armored train, is waiting at Malolos, for the strategic moment for an advance on Calumpit. This advance from Malolos is momentarily expected to begin. Otis: Manila, April 25.—Adjutant-general, Washington: Hale's brigade, MacArthur's division, moved down the right bank of Quingua River yesterday to the vicinity of Calumpit; now joined by Wheaton's brigade on the left bank. Hale encountered fierce opposition, driving the enemy with heavy loss, taking his entrenchments in flank. Hale's casualties, six killed, thirteen wounded. Capt. Coghlan's After-Dinner Remarks Create a Breeze-The Incident Not Considered Serious.

Berlin, April 25.-The afternoon newspapers here contain few comments upon Capt. Coghlan's remarks, and they generally take a calm view of the after-dinner speech and consider the incident closed, particularly in view of the semi-official note published here announcing the strong disapproval of United States Secretary of State John Hay with the captain's conduct, coupled with the dignified tone of the American press on the subject.

NOT SERIOUS. Washington, April 25 .- After the conference between Secretary Hay and the German ambassador, it was stated in an authoritative quarter that there was no reason to view the Coghlan affair in too serious a light, or as presenting grave international complica-tions. The meeting, it was stated, had been mutually agreeable. The main feature of the state department conference was in establishing that Germany expects the United States Government to deal with the Coghlan affair, according to the gravity of the offense, and the United States in return gives assurance that every just expectation in this respect will be per-The after-dinner remarks of Capt. States cruiser Raleigh, which have given the Germans umbrage, included the singing of the following, which was published in the Paris edition of the New York Herald:

for sinful Adam's sake, well knowing all the Ills to which human kind would be subject, God made it to bear herbs of all-healing. Among these herbs none was more widely distributed, or more potent for good than the Clover. The scientists of oldsoon found out the wonderful effect on the nervous system exercised by clover root, making it one of the chief ingredients in their most successful receipts for blood elixirs, sleeping draughts, and for the curing of diseases of the skin. Women in that olden time had clear, bright eyes and fine complexions, which lasted until late in life. Why? Because they did not dose themselves continually with medicines, nor use mineral poisons on their faces to try to cover up the effects of bad, impure blood. They had work to do, and must keep themselves well, and did so with these teas made from the herbs of the field. A German scientist, one of the leading physicians of the time, has revived the use of Clover in medicine. This is known as Karl's Clover Boot Tea and is a veritable elixir of life, gently stimulating the stomach and bowels, causing them to secrete naturally the various juices needed for the processes of digestion and assimilation of food, and by keeping the bowels open and regular, relieved the body of all waste, poisonous matter, which, if allowed to remain, taints the blood, frequently causing rheumatism. In other words, Karl's Clover Root Tea restores health by making pure blood, without which no one can have either strength or beauty. An absolute cure for sick-headache, backache and sleeplessness. Mr. Davis (Saskatchewan) Wants Oil on the Free List.

The Motion Adjourned Until the Bud get Comes Down-Will Aged Judges Be Retired?

Ottawa, April 25 .- The plethoric order paper was further reduced in bulk yesterday by the disposal of a couple of score more questions, many of them referring to small postoffices, etc., in the lower provinces. Mr. Davis' motion for free coal oil was debated for a couple of hours. Mr. Fielding suggested that the debate be adjourned until the budget came down, and Mr. Davis agreed, but Mr. Davin insisted on a division, when the motion carried by 63

Mr. Davis (Saskatchewan), in speaking to his motion, said that the government by its tariff had reduced the cost of coal oil to the consumer considerably, and the arrangements in connecwith the Crow's Nest Pass Railway had further benefited the people of the west by reduced freight rates. He would not now have presented this motion had it not been for the fact of the introduction of the Standard Oil Company's monopoly. The people for whose protection the duty had been put on had sold out to the Standard Oil Company. When the tariff came down these the protection they asked they would be swamped by the Standard monopoly, as their wells did not yield so highly as the wells of Ohio. Some of the owners are also refiners, and they claimed that their machinery was not as profitable to operate as that of the Standard monopoly, and if they did not get the protection desired they could not compete. These people had taken the first opportunity to sell out to the Standard Company, and not the wells only, but the amount of the protection which they had been given also. The consumer had a right to be considered just as much as the producer, and taking everything into consideration, he thought coal oil ought to go on the free list. The total output of domestic oil last year was 10,-250,000 gallons, as shown by the inland revenue returns. He calculated that the increased price of this oil to the consumer as a result of the duty en-abled the Standard Oil Company to make an increased profit of $512,000. If this amount was going into the pockets of Canadians it would not be so bad. Five million gallons of oil was also imported, and the amount that the consumers of this country had to pay, di- in London this summer. As to reprerectly and indirectly, on account of this duty is $930,000 yearly. In addition to the gold royalty in the Yukon, the only the duty there is also the inspection amendment to the royalty clauses was fee of one cent per gallon, and it to raise the exemption to $5,000, and no would be saved if the duty were abolfurther amendments were contemplatished. The oil at the wells of the independent oil companies, of which there are four operating in Oil City, Pa. was quoted at a price equal to 7% cents per imperial gallon, which, with 6 cents duty and 6½ cents freight to Winnipeg, would make the cost 19½ cents laid down there, and he had invoices to show that the Strandard

If the duty were taken off he calculated that they would lay oil down in the Northwest for about 12½ cents, which would make a great deal of difference to the people of that country, who had to pay as much as 50 cents for their oil. The total number of people interested in the oil industry in Canada was only about 10 000 and in Canada was only about 10,000, and he objected to the other 5,000,000 being called upon to pay 6 cents per gallon for the benefit of a few. They might say that this is an industry that cannot be made to pay without this protection, but these people should have thought of that before they went into it. It would be just as reasonable for McLeod, J. Coote, R. Hargreaves. tection, but these people should have thought of that before they went into 2,000 farmers to go into raising oranges, and because they could not raise them at less than a dollar a dozen to claim the right to be pro-

THE AMENDMENT CARRIED. The amendment to adjourn the debate was then put, and the speaker declared that the ayes had it, but Mr. Davin, who had a similar motion to that moved by Mr. Davis on the order paper, insisted on dividing the house, with the result that the amendment carried by a vote of 68 to 30. The Glory of Being an Enlishman Set Forth in Speech and Song-Friendly Sentiments Towards the United States.

The 32nd annual banquet of St. George's Society was held at the Tecumseh last evening, and proved to be one of the most pleasant and successful in the history of the organization. The decorations on this occasion were in keeping with everything else. There were about 150 guests. Immediately under the banner of the society sat President E. T. Essery, and on his right was Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, M.P., Rev. Dr. Saunders, Mayor lace, M.P., Rev. Dr. Saunders, Mayor Wilson, Ald. McPhillips, J. W. Jones, W. R. Hobbs, W. Davis and R. Fisher, and on his left Joseph Gibson, Ingersoll, Col. Henry S. Culver, United States consul, Thomas Scandrett and W. Wanless. Among others were: N. P. Graydon, R. A. Jones, J. B. Cox, Ald. Reed, Ald. Parnell, ex-Ald. Cooper, Ald. Jully, ex-Mayor George Taylor, ex-Ald. Jolly, ex-Mayor George Taylor, ex-Ald. Stevely, ex-Ald. W.Skinner, James Bell, Bert Screaton, W. H. Hewlett, John McIntosh, Ed. Weld, W. H. Bartram, George F. Jewell, James Lutman, Thos. Treleaven, George Tambling, A. Sar-gent, G. W. Heard, John Pannell, C. W. Davis, W. C. Barron, R. Cadwalla-

The president, in a patriotic speech, congratulating the society upon the splendid gathering, spoke of British-Canadians as the best Britons in the world. He humorously referred to the energetic past president, R. A. Jones, as one of the hardest worked presidents the society had ever had. Mr. Jones was called forward and presented by Mr. N. Clarke Wallace, on behalf of the society, with a past president's jewel. Mr. Jones made an appropriate reply.

Secretary R. Cadwallader read letters of regret from Lord Minto, governorgeneral of Canada, Sir John Carling, Major Beattie, M.P., Lieut.-Col, F. B. Leys, M.P.P., and others, and also greetings from Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto and other places.

"The Queen and Royal Family" was honored in the usual manner. This was followed by the toast, "The President of the United States," proposed by Mr.

H. J. Carter, first vice-president.
Col. Henry S. Culver, United States consul, responding, expressed the delight every American felt at the existham Lincoln had such difficult questions arisen, and never had such difficulties been more speedily settled. American and British seamen would ever die side by side in the cause of liberty and justice. There would, he concluded, always be a healthy commercial competition, but the growth of both nations would bind them closer together. For although every American prided himself on peing a Yankee, he never forgot that he belonged to the English-speaking people. looked upon the growth and advancement of Canada with as much pleasure as they beheld their own prosperity. The development of Canada meant the development of America.

"The Army, Navy and Volunteers' ex-president, who reminded them of the immense responsibility they took upon themselves as a society to repre-and confined his remarks to the Sevrangements had been made for Can- enth Battalion. The officers were doing all in their power to make the battalion a credit to the city, the Province, the Dominion and to the British

Ex-Mayor Taylor and Mr. W. C. Coo also reponded. Mr. Taylor paid a tribute to Irishmen, and reminded them that England had done more liberal legislating for Ireland than any other portion of the empire, and two instances few days ago I dyed an overcoat with were the disestablishment of the your dyes, and the result was marvelchurch and the land laws, under which the Irish tenant was better situated than any other tenants in the world. In this connection he told his American friends that there had been more evictions in the city of New York last year than in the whole of Ireland.
"The Day We Celebrate"

was proposed by ex-President Ed. Weld. Mr.

Joseph Gibson, of Ingersoll, responded. He would not detract one jota from the glory due to Scotchmen for the considerable part they had taken in the making of the empire.

Despite the efforts of other European nations to stay the United States in her undertaking in Cuba, England had put forth her hand and commanded them to leave "her vigorous youngster over there alone." (Applause.) England never wished to make the light shine brighter in her own dwelling by extinguishing the lights of other nations. She was able to stand alone. The speaker excited considerable laughter by his decidedly original and funny descrip-tion of some of the political differences which America, Germany, France and Russia and other nations had with England. Revolution was never necessary in England, because within the confines of the constitution a remedy was to be found for every wrong. Refer-ring to France, Mr. Gibson said the day she undertook to do her washing on the wrong side of the channel she would find herself out of a job. Rev. Dr. Saunders also replied brief-

"Canada Our Home" was proposed by ex-President Wm. Skinner, in a happy speech, which was followed by the singing of "The Maple Leaf Forever." Hon, N. Clarke Wallace was greeted with "He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The ex-minister of customs prefaced his reply with a good-natured story. As a man of Irish extraction, he had always felt proud of the Englishman, who in many respects was superior to either Irishmen or Scotchmen, being more generous and cosmopolitan. The poets, warriors and statesmen of Britain were the poets, warriors and statesmen of Canada. The Canadian nation had accomplished more than any other six millions of people who ever graced the earth. In it was a perfect network of railways, from sea to sea, canals had been dug, and cities builded with beautiful homesteads. Our fathers had gone in, and by development transformed the wilderness into a land of beauty, where commercial and mineral weath was found in limitless quantities. Canada had not grown rapidly in population, but numbers was no criterion of advancement, for if this were so, China, the most populous land, should be in the lead. Instead she was probably the most unintelligent. Canada was building on a solid foundation with men who would do her justice and honor in the future. He hoped the good feeling between Canada and the United States would long continue. War between England and America would be sinful and suicidal. He reminded his hearers always be so. Mr. Essery, in proposing the toast of "The Senate, the House of Commons, and Local Legislature," pointed to the high honor resting upon the men whose fortune it was to represent the people in these bodies.

Mr. G. F. Jewell and Ald. McPhillips responded. "Our Sister Societies" brought responses from W. Wanless, president St. Andrew's Society, T. W. Scandrett, president I. B. S., and J. Cook, S. O. E. "Trade and Commerce" was proposed by G. Pritchard, treasurer, Thomas

Treleaven and J. Sussex responding. "The Mayor and Corporation" gave rise to a few timely remarks by Mr. Perry, and Mayor Wilson, Ald. Jolly and ex-Ald. Cooper responded.

During the evening vocal selections were rendered by Mr. J. T. Dalton, J. W. McIntosh, A. E. Galpin and the reorganized Imperial Quartet, and a couple of recitations were given by Mr. T. Alexander.

The committee to whom the credit of the great success of the banquet is du comprised: E. T. Essery, H. J. Carter, Joseph Perry, R. Cadwallader, George Pritchard, H. T. Simth, R. A. Jones, W. H. Bartram, E. Weld, Jos. Graham, J. B. Cox, Wm. Skinner.

Surely John Wesley himself might well be satisfied were he still at the head of Methodism. Every Sunday Rev. Mr. Bartlett preaches four sermons, and the pleaching-places are several miles apart. No wonder the circuit moves along. On the 23rd inst. he gave a very instructive discourse about Moses, at the Indian Church, enlarging on the sacrifices he made in giving up his place among royalty to sit as a slave, comparing his life as a deliverer to that of Jesus the Deliverer. It was listened to with rapt attention by the Indian people and by the whites

Mr.G.O.ARCHIBALD'S CASE.

Didn't Walk for 5 Months. Doctors said Locomotor Ataxia.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills Cure a Disease hithorto regarded

The case of Mr. G. O. Archibald, of Hopewell Cape, N.B., (a cut of whom appears below), is one of the severest and most intractable that has ever been his cure by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills the more remarkable from the fact that he was given up as incurable by worthy and respected physicians.

The disease, Locomotor Ataxia, with which Mr. Archibald was afflicted is considered the most obstinate and incurable disease of the nervous system known. When once it starts it gradually but surely progresses, paralyzing the lower extremities and rendering its victim helpless and hopeless, enduring the indescribable agony of seeing himself die by inches.

That Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills can cure thoroughly and completely a disease of such severity ought to encourage those whose disorders are not so serious to try this remedy.

The following is Mr. Archibald's letter:

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & Co.-"I can assure you that my case was a very severe one, and had it not been for the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I do not believe I would be alive to-day. I do not know, exactly, what was the cause of the disease, but it gradually affected my egs, until I was unable to walk har dy any for five months. "I was under the care of Dr. Morse, of Melrose, who said I had Locomotor Ataxia, and gave me up as incurable. "Dr. Solomon, a well-known physician of Boston, told me that nothing could be done for me. Every one who came to visit me thought I never could get better. "I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised and thought I would try them anyway, as they gave more promise of helping methan anything I knew of. "If you had seen me when I started taking those wonderful pills—not able to get out of my room, and saw me now, working hard every day, you wouldn't know me.

"I am agent for P. O. Vickey, of Augusta Maine, and have sold 300 sub-scribers in 80 days and won a fifty dollar

"Nothing else in the world saved me but those pills, and I do not think they have an equal anywhere.

"The seven boxes I took have restored me the full use of my legs and given me strength and energy and better health than I have enjoyed in a long time."
G. O. ARCHIBALD.

In addition to the statement by Mr. Archibald, we have the endorsation of two well-known merchants of Hopewell Cape, N. P., viz.: Messrs. J. E. Dickson and F. J. Brewster, who certify to the genuineness and accuracy of the facts as given above.

The London Wheelmen's Bicycle Club met in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A. last night and reorganized for the coming season. Mr. W. C. Ferguson, president, was in the chair. The attendance was fairly large, and the members present were very enthusiastic. The presentation of reports for last year's work proved interesting. It was decided to hold a reception in the near future to the friends who had enter-tained the club on its runs during 1898. The question of fees to the C. W. A. was left to a committee to report at the next meeting, on May 2. After plans had been talked over and displans had been talked over and displans the seeming months of cussed for the coming months of wheeling, the following officers were KILLED BY A TROLLEY.

Winnipeg, April 25.—The 6-year-old daughter of Wm. Handbury, contractor, of this city, was killed by a street car Saturday afternoon while playing on William street with a number of larger children. When the car was yet 200 feet away from them the larger ones ran across the track. The Hanbury girl hesitated for a moment, but was beckoned by the others to follow. Just as the car was within a few feet of her she made a rush across, and would probably have escaped had she not fallen, and before the car could be stopped she was terribly mangled. She died before she could be conveyed to the hospital.

MADE STRONG AND HEALTHY THROUGH

Sarsaparillian Resolvent.

Every drop of the Sarsaparillian Resolvent communicates through the blood, sweat, uring and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life; for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula consumption, syphilis, uncured or badly treated evenereal in its many forms (send 10c for illustrated book, "Radway on Venereal"), glandular diseases, ulcers in the throat, mouth, tumors, nodes in the glands and other parts of the system, sore eyes, strumous discharges from the ears, and the worst forms of skin diseases, cruptions, fever, sores, scald head, ring worm salt rheum, erysipelas, acne, black spots in the flesh, tumors, cancerous growths, female complaints and all weakening and painful discharges, night sweats, nocturnal losses and all wastes of the life principle are within the curative range of this Wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of those forms of disease its notent power to cure them. If the patient, daily becoming reduced by wastes and decompositions that are continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood, and this the Sarsaparillian will and does secure, a cure is certain for when once this remedy commences its work of purification and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving and flesh and weight increasing.

Scrofula From Birth.

Scrofula From Birth.

Scrofula From Birth.

Dr. Radway—Dear Sir. It is with pleasure I take my pen in hand to inform you of the great cure effected by your medicine called Sarsaparillian Resolvent. I have a girl three years old last September who has suffered with scrofula ever since she was two years old. It fact, the doctor told us she was born with it. We had our best local doctors with her, and it seemed like all hope was gone, for they told us if the disease settled on her lungs she could not be cured. This frightful disease scated or seized upon her lungs severely. I began to think that our little girl could not live very long, our physician's medicine doing no good. In the meantime I received a copy of your medical publication called "False and True," which you sent me. After seeing the accounts of so many cures effected by your treatments, I at once resorted to them, and by the time she had used one bottle she was most well. The ulcers that were making their appearance on her body are entirely gone, her lungs almost healed, or at least she has quit coughing. She has begun on the second bottle, and I believe by the time she uses all of it she will be well. She had a very bad cough. I am yours with respect, SAMUEL B. BARKER, Flat Top, Mercer County, W. Va.

"LIFE A BURDEN."

Dr. Radway—Dear Sir: For a long time past I have been suffering in the most distressing manner from a long train of symptoms which have baffled the skill of all the medical men down here, and which I feared, if not arrested in their progress, would terminate in the total prostration of my strength. Loss of appetite and desire of stimulating and artificial means of suggestions are suggested and artificial means and desire of stimulating and artificial means of sustenance at irregular times, want of healthy sleep and consequent depression on arising in the morning rendered life quite a burden to me, until a friend induced me to try your medicine. So I got a bottle of Radway's Sarsaparillian and a box of Radway's Pills and took them according to directions. I soon found relief. I got three boxes and three bottles more and I am in better health than ever before. I remain your humble servant, ARTHUR D. WRIGHT, Unionville, Mich.

THE MOST ECONOMICAL! THE BEST! One bottle contains more of the active principle of medicine than any other preparation. Taken in teaspoonful doses, while others require five or six times as much. Sold by druggists. Price $1.

Municipal Ownership Spreading. Students of current events in the United States are struck by the spread of the municipal ownership movement. A great impetus was given it by the violent agitation in Chicago, following the attempt of the street railway companies to buy up the city council. Mayor Harrison, of Chicago, and Mayor Jones, of Toledo, made municipal ownership their chief election card, and both were triumphantly returned. In Detroit, the purchase of the street railways has already been determined upon, and a commission of three prominent citizens, one being Governor Pingree, will negotiate the transfer. An expert, engaged by the city, is now valuing the property. Buffalo is going in for the civic ownership of gas. Tammany has also declared for municipal ownership for Greater New York in the widest sense. It may well be feared that Tammany is moved to this less by principle than interest; less by progressive instincts or a philanthropic desire to benefit the public than by an appreciation of the enormous patronage which would be involved in the control of public utilities.

Municipal ownership is in the air, and it is likely to sweep over all the large American cities and many smaller ones. There is great danger that it may be overdone or worked to death. Unless integrity, prudence and executive ability are enlisted in the public service, the movement will be disastrous. It is a very interesting experiment, and will put the governing capacity of the American people to a new and severe test.

Giving Spring the Go.By.

Nature seems to have left spring entirely out of her economy this year. Winter, lingering, chilled the marrow bones of March and then abruptly cleared out, whereat summer rushed in just as abruptly, playing havoc with the ordinary routine of life. Fashion has jumped from fur jackets into shirt waists with the dexterity of a lightning change artist. The usual evolution begins with the Easter rig and advances through the various et ceteras to the full perfection displayed by the summer girl; but the process is too rapid this year for comfort. It is the same in physical nature. There have been none of the soft transitions and variations by which winter blends gradually into summer. We haven't had the freshening gales, the April showers, the tempered sun, and the other nice Government winning 35 of them. Ten things that are supposed to mark the season and the gap between oysters and ice cream. Nature hasn't done a thing to inspire the spring poet; which is one cause for gratitude. Here in London the April showers are not missed, because the watering carts make far more mud. It may as well be owned that the average spring in this country is a poetic bluff. Summer either begins where winter leaves off, like this year, or we have an intervening period called spring, which is a weak, amorphous thing, alternately shivering or roasting. The autumn is Canada's real glory. It can be backed against anything in Arcady.

Literature and Action.

Sir G. Trevelyan has deserted politics for literature, and, of course, he glorifies his new mistress, and proclaims the superiority of the literary life. According to this authority, the man who elevates himself to literature has to renounce the showy reward open to the politician, but he receives great compensation. He can make his work artistically perfect, he can enjoy the pleasures of composition, and then he has e chance of "survival." There may be quite a bit of truth in this if a man has not to make a living and spend his strength in producing "pot-boilers," which have little artistic perfection or perfection of any kind. But there is one thing certain, it would be a great weakness to the empire if too many of the men of ability and leisure were to desert political and military service for the calmer pursuits of literature. So we are glad to note that Sir G. Trevelyan's son does not feel himself called to follow his father's advice. The Spectator thinks there is danger in such advice, as we need the men of action at all times and everywhere, while we could easily dispense with a great many of the "literary men." This is no doubt true, and as the same journal points out, we are dependent upon one another, and the scribbler could not give visibility and circulation to his productions without the man of action in the form of the printer. The writer of the Spectator's article does not belaud his own craft, but with due humility gives the palm to the men of action. "Save in the case of the greatest, who really enlarge men's brains, we cannot but hold the honest politician, the constructive civilian, the upright judge, the mer- almost elbowed French influence out least as great as the author, who, in his books, printed as they are on the th rotten paper of modern times." This is rather cynical in tone, and is heavy 18 on both the authors and the paper that 18 they spoil. It is a many-sided subject, and no doubt the warmth of the journalist's remarks spring from fear that 18 Sir George's advice will tend to increase the number of those who, without possessing any great genius, think ure of usefulness may come to all faith- power.

The Southern Horror.

The inhuman excesses of the Georgia whites in torturing and mutilating two negroes, burning one of them alive and hanging the other, must sadden and shame the American people. We may be thankful that we have no such racial troubles here. The relations between the two great races in this country were never more cordial, but there can be no possible analogy between the conditions here and in the Southern States, where there is a total ethnological division. The gap between the whites and blacks today seems even wider and deeper than in slavery days, when the element of personal affection between masters and servants was largely existent. The traditions of slavery have sunk so deeply into the minds of the Southern whites that they cannot conceive the idea of the social equality of the negro. The South has been overtaken by that Nemesis which is shown by all history to follow sooner or later every crime, national, as well as individual. The sins of the fathers who planted slavery on American soil are being visited upon the children, and future generations will continue to feel the

It is difficult to say, owing to prejudiced reports, whether the molestation of white women is so frequent as to excuse the panic which, whether real or pretended, is said to prevail. In fact, it is impossible for outsiders to realize the exact state of affairs in the Southern States, and fix the degree of culpability resting on both races. But common humanity should demand some guarantee against a repetition of the Georgia horrors which have made the world shudder. The governor of the state suggests a large addition to the constabulary, so that there may be a sense of security in all parts of the state.

The occurrence must be regretted by no one more than by decent and patriotic Americans who feel that it sharpens the cynical advice that the United States should do some missionary work at home before attempting to civilize other races abroad.

It is estimated the dirt in the Klondike, when washed up will yield nineteen or twenty million dollars this spring. The Saginaw News, which fought earnestly against the hostile duty on Canadian lumber imposed by Congress, finds its course amply vindicat-

ed. It says: "We spoke at that time, not from the standpoint of a believer in fair trade regulations, justice to the people and opposition to every form of legislation for the benefit of a particular class, but from the standpoint of the protectionists themselves, the standpoint of self-interest, selfishness and greed We pointed out that for this particular section of the country, such a lumber schedule was bad, not only for the masses who pay the tax imposed, but for the industry in whose interest the tax was ostensibly laid. We were met with the assertion that Canada did not dare retaliate. But she did dare, and now we find our own government compelled to resort to our reserve hand in the game—the imposition of still more retaliation on our part to meet the retaliation against us."

There is a remarkable parallel between the teaching of Mohammed and some of the modern preachers of the United States in regard to the righteousness of war. Said Mohammed:

"I, the last of the prophets, am sent with a sword, that those who advance my faith enter into no argument nor discussion, and slay all who refuse obedience to the law. The sword is the key of heaven and hell, and all who draw it in the cause of faith will be rewarded."

Said Rev. Dr. Wayland Hoyt, of New York city:

"Christ is the solution for the difficulty regarding national expansion. The only thing we can do is to thrash the natives until they can understand the war. I believe every bullet sent, every cannon shot, every black whipped, means righteousness. When we have conquered anarchy, then is the time to send the Christ there."

The present war in the Philippines is justifiable, as the Americans had to choose between two alternativesmaintaining law and order and leaving the islands and the foreign population to the mercy of the natives. But there is no justification for Mr. Hoyt's language glorifying bloodshed for its own sake.

Great Britain May Give Up the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty.

New York, April 25 .- A special from Washington says: Although willing abrogate the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, Great Britain has made it plain to the United States that she expects an equivalent in return for This equivalent will be expected during the negotiations of the American-Canadian commission, which is to resume its sessions in Washington in August next. It is apparent that Great Britain proposes to use the proposition to abrogate the treaty to further her own aims in connection with the settlement of the Alaskan boundary and reciprocity questions. Great Britain is determined to make every effort to secure an outlet for her Northwest territory through Alaska, and the United States is not willing to give it to her. be, therefore, she will suggest that in return for such an outlet she will surrender all her rights in the Nicaragua Canal. President McKinley and Secretary Hay have determined not to enter any negotiations with either Costa Rica or Nicaragua respecting the Nicaraguan Canal until the new Isthmian canal commission has submitted its report.

Large as a Silver Dollar. Hot

Coffee Scalds Breast and Hands. Skin Comes Off with Clothes, All Remedies Useless.

CURED BY CUTICURA

My little boy was two years old when he reached upon the table and spilled a cup of hot coffee all over his left hand. It had gone through to his breast, and before I could remove his clothes it had burned his breast, and the skin came off with the clothes, and he has to-day a soar as large as a silver dollar on his breast. I applied a great many things. The burn was a very ugly one, hard to heal. I was requested to try CUTIOURA (ointment), which healed up rapidly, but before I used a half a box of CUTICURA it was well. Oh, I think CUTICURA is the salve above all others.
Nov. 20, '98. Mrs. R. CARTY, Needles, Cal.

BABY'S SORE HAND CURED

I was obliged to keep the first three fingers of my little boy's hand done up all the time, as it was a raw sore, beginning to extend down toward the paim. We consulted three different physicians, each a certain length of time. A gentleman recommended CUTICURA remedies. I purchased CUTICURA SOAP, CUremedies. I purchased College A. Resolvent, put aside what I had been using, and began with them. Wells they cured that hand.

NEW YORK MONEY MARKET. Henry Clews & Co.'s circular, dated York, April 22, says: The money market has settled into a condition of greater ease, which appears likely to continue until the fall months. The treasury has so arranged its withdrawals from the depository banks in connection with the payment to Spain as to cause the minimum of disturbance. The withdrawar of $1,000,000 a week is a comparatively light affair, when it is considered that the government's excess of payments over receipts will cause the return of part of the money to the banks. The money markets of the interior are generally easy, and stiff rates here would be apt to bring currency this way all the more

A Bicycle Agent Skips From Hamilton.

Charged With Stealing $700 in Cash and Checks-A Young Lady Elopes With the Fugitive.

Hamilton, April 25 .- W. F. Mitchell, Hamilton, and district agent for the Goold Bicycle Company, of Brantford, has skipped out, taking with him the total receipts for last week's sales and collections for this district, amounting to over $700 and several checks. It has been learned the Mitchell left here on the midnight train for the west Sunday night, and it is suspected that a young woman with whom he had been on exceedingly friendly terms is keepon exceedingly friendly terms is according him company. Mitchell belongs to Guelph, where his parents, who are highly respectable people, reside. He came here some few months ago from St. John, N. B., where he had been managing the agency for the Goold Bicycle Company, and had lived at the Waldorf Hotel ever since. Among his creditors are the hotel people, to whom he owes about $75, and many others. Mitchell is a fast bicycle rider, is well known, and will be easily recognized.

It appears that the Goold people had become dissatisfied with the way Mitchell conducted himself here, and Mr. ley, of the Goold concern, came to Hamilton on Saturday last and dis-charged Mitchell. The keys were to have been handed over on Monday, but between Saturday night and yesterday morning the office was entered and the safe rifled of over $700 in cash and checks. As Mitchell was the only one who had the necessary keys and knew the combination, he is charged with the theft. Mitchell was known as a high-flyer, and frequently gave champagne suppers to the boys. He has a wife residing in St. John, N. B., but posed as a bachelor. The regrettable feature of the affair is the fact that a well-known young lady, whom he had been keeping company with, eloped with him. She is of very respectable parentage here and held a good position in the employ of the Bell Telephone Company. Among Mitchell's many dupes is Dr. Fred Roseburgh, who parted with a diamond ring, valued at $225, to Mitchell on Saturday, and from whom he received a check for $200 in payment, only to learn from the bank people that there

AT LAKEWOOD thor in Convalescence.

Getting Better Every Day-His Rides in Wheel-Chair and Carriage in the Bright Sunshine Through the Healthful Pinelands. Lakewood, N. J., April 25.-A small, square-built man with firm chin, a black, stubby mustache, a pair searching eyes, a pallor and thinness of cheek that tell of long weeks in a sick room, and a restful posture in a rubber-tired wheel chair with rightly buttoned light top coat barely hiding the muffler about the throat to ward off the suggestion of chill in the morning air, and you have one picture of Rudyard Kipling in Lakewood. By the invalid's side, chatting or in silence, and following with her eyes the pointings of the knotted stick carried by the man in the chair, walks Mrs. Kipling, plainly showing in her face full content with her husband's present stage of convalescence.

The propulsive power behind the chair is a tall, dark-visaged man in golfing regalia. This is Frank N. Doubleday, the publisher of Kipling's writings. Lakewood always has its ingroyne, $5,000: Port Elgin, construction of pier and dredging, $25,000; Port Stanley, repairs to pier and dredging, $13, ling has made rapid gains in strength, and, though he is going carefully, he is handling himself more independently each successive day. On Tuesday afterentire militia. City corps will drill noon he was carried into the hotel and had disper served in his apartment. Last night he was seen with his party cludes pay for men and horses, supplies in the lobby, hands deeply in pockets, walking easily and slowly, entirely unassisted and in the best of spirits. This is a pretty fair record for days of convalescence. Reports which come from his rooms to the office tell only of healthy fatigue after exercise, a good appetite and relish for food, and sound sleep at night. Since his first day at the Laurel House he has come down regularly to his meals, the roomy private dining-room of the hotel having been placed at his disposal. A couch has been placed in the room. Mr. Klipling remarked pleasantly that now he could eat until he was tired and then rest.

During the first day or two of his stay here he kept his room closely, only leaving it to take outdoor exercise, but now he comes down more and more frequently to the public rooms, where he neither avoids nor invites the attention of those about him. The billiard room seems to be a favorite spot for him, the cause of the liking undoubtedly being a display of water color paintings exhibited there by a visiting artist. The daily programme of the Kiplings is seldom varied. Their breakfast is at the regular hour, and the invalid is under little if any restriction as to diet. A short smoke follows the breakfast, and then the wheel chair is taken out and the party starts for a morning visit to the children and an airing of an hour or more along the sidewalks of sunny streets and avenues. The children, Elsie and John, with their governess and nurse, are at the Hovey cottage on Madison avenue, near the lakes, where they have a broad carpet of velvety lawn on which to romp. After the return from the outing to the hotel apartments there is a little readof $9.500, which will be warranted by ing and resting until dinner, and some-

Quartet of Cases in Which Londoners Are Interested.

McElachern vs. Gordon-Judgment on appeal by defendant from the order of the senior judge of the county court of Elgin directing the issue of a writ of causa against the defendant for unsatisfactory answers upon his examination as a juugment debtor. Held, that an assignment for benefit of creditors does not deprive a judgment creator of the right to examine a juagment debtor. On the merits the plaintiff is entitled to the order. Appeal dismissed with costs. E. D. Armour, Q.C., and W. L. McLaws (St. Thomas), for plaintiff. Gibbons,

Q.C., for defendant. Re Jones and City of London-Judgment on motion heard at London to quash bylaws 1,133 and 1,134. The two former were fined number of tavern licenses to 36, but was $5 or one month in jail, and the latter not acted upon. Bylaw 1,134 provided was allowed to go. Richard Young, a for the year beginning on the 1st of drunk, was discharged. Col. Smith, of Orillia, a retired British officer, apuntil the bylaw should be altered or until the bylaw should be altered or repealed, and limited the number of licenses to 36. Motion dismissed upon all the grounds with costs. Talbot Macbeth, London, and Weekes, London, for the applicant. T. G. Meredith, London, for the corporation.

Patmore vs. Crane-Judgment on appeal by plaintiffs from judgment of Boyd, C., at the trial at London, dismissing the action with costs. The action was for the price of a carload of wheat which the plaintiffs alleged they contracted to sell to defendants, and which they forwarded, but which the defendants refused to accept. The contract was by telegraphic messages. The GEORGIA'S DISGRACE defendants refused to accept. The conchancellor held that the defendants were an unreasonable time in shipping the wheat, and the defendants were justified in saying the contract was at an end. The plaintiffs contended that it was the duty of the defendants to furnish the cars, the contract being for delivery f.o.b. cars, and the delay, if any, must be attributed to defendants themselves. Appeal dismissed with costs. Hellmuth, London, for plaintiffs; C. Millar, for defendants.

Re Dyer vs. Evans-Judgment on motion, heard at London, by the judgment debtor for an order of probition to the judge and clerk of the seventh division court in the county of Middlesex, and to the primary creditor and the garnishee to prevent the enforcement of a judgment obtained by the creditor against the garnishee in the division court for payment of $53 out of a debt of $105 due by the garnishee to the debtor, upon the ground that after the judgment recovered, but before the payment of the amount, the debtor made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors, which, it was said, had the effect of superseding the judgment recovered by the creditor against the garnishee by virtue of R. S. O., ch. 147, sec. 11.

The assignee made an application in the division court matter to the county court judge under sec. 200 of the division court act, R. S. O., ch. 60, for an order discharging the debt due from the garnishee to the debtor from the claim of the creditor, upon the ground that it had been superseded by the making of the assignment, but the application was refused. Held, that as the judge had jurisdiction to determine the motion under sec. 200, probition did not lie. Motion dismissed with costs. J. S. Robertson, St. Thomas, for the appli-cant. Talbot Macbeth, London, for the

A DINNER PILL. - Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. COL. INGERSOLL'S PROTEST. New York, April 25.-Col. Robert G. Ingersoll says of the lynchers in Georgia: "I suppose these outrages-these frightful crimes-make the same impression on my mind that they do on the minds of all civilized people. I know of no words strong enough, bitter enough, to express my indignation and horror. These horrors were perpetrated in the name of justice. The savages who did these things belong to the superior race. They are citizens of the great republic. And yet it does not seem possible that such fiends are human beings. They are a disgrace to our country, our century, and the human race. Let me say that what I have said is flattery compared with what I feel. When I think of the other lynching-of the poor man mutilated and hanged without the slightest evidence, of the negro who said that these murders would be avenged, and who was brutally murdered for the utterance of a natural feeling—I am utterly at a loss for words. Are the white people insane? Has mercy fled to beasts? Has the United States no power to protect a citizen? A nation that cannot or will not protect its citizens in time of peace has no right to ask its citizens to preced it in time of war.'

VANCOUVER'S SENSATION. Vancouver, B. C., April 25.-A great sensation was caused yesterday morning by the arrest of Theodore Lud gate, representative of Messrs. Stewart & Wells, of Chicago, and his workmen, whom he took out to Deadman's Island to build a sawmill there. The city claims the place for a park. Ludgate claims to have leased it. Mayor Garden warned him off, but Ludgate defied him. Hence the arrest.

LIFE SAVED-Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good.

E. N. HUNT, 190 Pundas Street

Steinwood, a handsome estate, was the property of Mr. Gordon Rylands, who, save for a month or two during the year spent in London, resided entirely there with his daughter, Marian. To prevent, however, the enemy of dullness getting possession, Steinwood ever had guests, which at the present time consisted of his nephew, Royland Gower, who made his uncle's house his home during the absence of his father, the Honorable Herton Gower-who was gard it as sacred." absent on a diplomatic mission to the court of Spain—and of Captain John Darnley-just from Africa-and his

As the little party reached the house the sound of the first dinner-bell made them hasten to their respective rooms. Marian, having placed herself under her maid's hands, said somewhat abruptly: "Janet, do you know Gwyn Rebna?"

"A little, miss, by sight; but Gwyn Rebna aln't given to gossiping."
"Proud, I suppose?" remarked Martan, with a covert sneer. "She is, I believe, a beauty."

That she is, and no mistake, miss; and though she do carry herself so erect, she ain't proud, not a morsel." "I heard a rumor today," proceeded the young mistress, averting her eyes from her reflection in the glass, "that she was engaged to be married."

"Lor', no, I think not, miss. There's lots who'd gladly marry her; but Gwyn Rebna doesn't seem a marryin'

"Really; I will wear my lace fichu with the red knot of ribbons. will do. There is the second bell." What were the ideas in Marian's mind to give rise to such a question? She would hardly have dared to have put the interrogation to herself, or have answered it if she had. She only knew she loved her cousin Rowland, and had suddenly, intuitively, taken a hatred to Why? Because he had so spoken of her on the beach, because Marian Rylands was jealous of any woman he praised.

Mr. Rylands was one of those easygoing gentlemen who never let care disturb them. He was happy in seeing others happy, and the only return he asked his guests to show for his hospitality was that they enjoyed it. He was not a bad conversationalist, and could make conversation; thus the dinner passed off well, though Captain Jack had his spirits rather dampened by finding himself again put aside by Marian for her cousin.
"Is she a coquette?" he muttered.

"Does she know how I love her, and is she playing with me? No, I'll not be-

The soliloquy took place in the hall, where he lingered on quitting the dining-room, doubtful whether to enjoy a cigar or join the ladies. The latter won the day. Though Marian's presence tortured him, it was "pleasing pain," so he strolled to the drawing-room.

His humor was not improved by discovering Rowland and his cousin singing duets at the piano, while Lil sat apart, busy on a pair of slippers for

The gallant captain, feeling in no sociable mood, entered a small room adjoining, flung himself on a couch, and surrendered himself to reflection and pulling his whiskers.

If any man believed himself in love, or most supremely wretched, it was Captain Jack at that moment. Suddenly a tiny hand was laid on his shoulder, a roguish face was bent down to his, and his sister's voice said:

"'Prithee, why so pale, fond lover?--Prithee, why so pale?'

Dear! What a Knight of the Rueful Countenance you are!" 'Don't jest, Lil," exclaimed the captain, putting his elbows on his knees, and his face on his hands. "I am the wretchedest man in the world." "This is the second time you have been that, my inflammable brother, since you returned from Africa." "I tell you I love her to distraction,

"And she doesn't care a fig for you, Jack. She loves Rowland."

"Who doesn't care a fig for her," interpolated the officer.

'True, but," proceeded Lil, sitting down by her brother, and crossing her hands over his snoulder, "who also considers himself the most wretched man in the world, and that is better English than yours, Jack."

"What do you mean, Snow?" asked the officer, looking at his sister. "What cause can he have to be as wretched as "You are full of quotations, Lil, but secret. She guessed now why Rowland had just left her. It was, no doubt, to see Gwyn. She drew the window curtains quickly aside, and was in time to behold her cousin striding off in the direction of the cliff path.

CHAPTER II.

Could Marian Rylands' eyes have followed Rowland Gower, as did her thoughts, she would have found good reason to believe Lil Darnley's declaration. With a quick, springing step the young man made his way to the cliff path and descended once more to the beach.

It bore a very different aspect now to what it had a few hours ago. In the west, black rock was piled, while rugged masses flew over the starless sky, where sailed a week-old moon. The latter cast but a pale, fitful gleam, which made the steep cliff path rather dangerous to descend; but Rowland Gower's eyes being turned inward, the light or the darkness made small dif-

His brow was contracted with anxious thought. He had reaanxious son. What was he—the only son of a man holding a high political folly? what madness? Madness!-no, never in his mind did he call it that, or folly. Abruptly halting, he bent his eyes on the beach, which had just then into the city are in practically the same come into view.

Her round chin was resting on the palm of her hand; her large, dark, liquid eyes, full of power and purpose, were directed seaward, while the breezes blew her thick thair about her smooth cheek. She had not heard Rowland's step. Perceiving this, with a smile, forgetful of father, of position, of that dire perplexity, he stole down within a foot of her, then whispered:
"Dear Gwyn."

She turned with a start. The rich color leaped into her cheek as though a light shone on it. It was the light

TWO WOMEN MURDERED IN

THEIR SLEEP. Murphysboro, Ill., April 25 .- The bodies of two women, who were murdered while they slept, have been found in the house of E. M. They were clad in their night clothes.

tity leaves the body because of wound or hemorrhage of the lungs the result is death. Life depends on the blood because the blood carries to all parts of the body the nutritive elements necessary to sustain it.

What if these nutritive elements are absent? What if they are supplanted poisonous, effete matter and disease germs? The first result is disease—partial death. The final result is the same as from loss of blood. All disease is traceable to impurity or weakness of the blood and that is the reason the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures so many different diseases -it purifies and vitalizes the blood-makes it rich, red and healthy-fills it with nutriment

"Ten years ago a patient of mine was badly affected with that dreadful disease, scrofula. Her mouth and throat were in an awful condition, and there were lumps on the outside below the jaws the size of a hen's egg. Other doctors said it was a fatal case. I felt confident that none of my remedies would benefit her any. It came to my mind that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was recommended for such cases, so I gave it to her as directed. Five bottles cured her and she is well to-day. She is married aow and has three healthy children."

The railroads connecting Chicago with New York appear to be living on the crater of a volcano that is sizzling and just ready to erupt. This refers to the rate situation as produced by the action of the Michigan Central in offering to the western connections a basing rate as low as that used over the differential lines. This was offered to the transcontinental roads about 60 days previous to its tender to the other western connections, and the transcontinental roads accepted the rate and have been using it ever since. The other western roads have not yet accepted it, and are afraid to for fear of getting themselves into a rate war. The action of the Michigan Central is sharply criticised by the differential lines as a breach of agreement, because the for-mer rate was fixed by arbitration, and, they claim, no party to that arbitration has any business changing the rate without referring the matter back to the authority that created it. This appears very sensible at first, but there are considerations that alter the case materially. The differential rate was gratited because of certain inabilities on the part of the line that was permitted to charge the lower rate. Its equipment, terminals, roadbed, etc., were such that it could not compete on even terms with the standard roads. Now, if these conditions were changed without referring the improvements to the arbitration committee, why should not the Michigan Central take the same course with its rate? If the equipment and other parts of the differential line have been improved, why should it any longer enjoy the differential? The Michigan Central claims the same liberty to change its rate as the other roads have to change their condition, and as one was done without reference to the arbitration committee, why should not the other? The passenger rate situation is just now in a very nervous state, and no one can tell when on open war will result. The Boston and Albany have a new locomotive, which is expected to prove a record-breaker for speed. Thus far it "done" 70 miles an hour with such ridiculous ease that it is expected to exceed the estimate of a mile every 40 seconds rather than to fall short thereof. The best type of speedy locomotive that stands on the rails today is probably the machine that draws the record-holding Empire State express of the New York Central, old "999." "999" tips the scales at 62 tons, but the Boston and Albany monster weighs 85 tons without its tender, and 126 tons with that appendage. The train with which "999" makes its average of 53.58 miles an hour weighs 243 tons. The new steam Hercules has reeled off 70 miles an hour, and is expected to do much better with a train aggregating 310 tons. The "999" had a maximum safety boiler pressure of 190 pounds of steam to the square inch, but this Boston and Albany engine carries 220 pounds. The cylinders of "999" are 19x24 inches, but those of its new rival are compound 22x34x36 inches. The diameter of the driving wheels of the "999," 7 feet 21/2 inches, exceeds those of the new machine, 6 feet 2 inches, but the formers has but double drivers, while the new engine has three, thus more than compensating in power for what is lost in speed by reducing the diameters. The storage capacity of the big tender was calculated on a basis of several hundred miles without re-stocking, and when she pulls out of Boston each afternoon, except Sunday. at 4 o'clock, for her run to Springfield and back, she carries 4,500 gallons of water and eight tons of coal

The opera has passed through a finishing polish, which has brought it up to a high pitch of perfection. Daniels, who has ever been noted for his original business, has incorporated much that is new in his part, and the result is that the many, many laughs which punctuated the performance last year have been innumerably increased. Daniels is a very hard worker. He is never satisfied with his part as it comes from the maker. It may be good so far as it goes, but his unique humor sees many places for improvement, and he puts his humor to work immediately. The results for those who, in addition to tuneful music, beautiful girls, and excellent singers, enjoy an abundance of clean, contagious fun, are always gratifying.

Amateur Theatricals at the Grand a Financial and Artistic Success

London society is rich in histrionic talent. The presentation at the Grand last night of the up-to-date three-act comedy, "A Box of Monkeys," was a remarkably clever performance, and that the players were local amateurs was apparent only from the programme. The play was given as a benefit to the Children's Aid Society, and was a success financially as well as artistically. As for the audience, it was large, fashionable, appreciative and demonstrative. The scene of the play is laid in New York, at the home of Mrs. Ondego Jhones, one of the Four Hundred. Mrs. Jhones' niece, a romping, slangy, boisterous girl from the west, is visiting her aunt to have her manners formed or reformed. Lady Guinevere Landpoore, a stately, sedate, English beauty, is also a guest of Mrs. Jhones. Guinevere has come over to acquire America's slang, and, incidentally, a rich husband. She succeeds in Both the girls find lovers, Edward Rolston and Chauncey Ogelthorpe. The latter spends much of his time disguised as a butler, and some very funny complications result. The cast: Mrs. Ondego Jhones, Mrs. J. Inkerman Hunt; Sierra Bengaline (Mrs. Jhones' niece), E. Marie Pavey; Lady Guinevere Landpoore, Ruby Michie; Parsons (Lady G's maid) Mamie Pavey; Patty (the cook), Cecilia Sippi; Edward Rolston, Walter C. Reid; Chauncey Oglethorpe, H. Macbeth. Miss Ruby Michie realized her part perfectly. She received an ovation, and the first bouquet of the evening. Soon, however, the flowers were show-ered so plentifully that there was danger of the players being swamped. H. W. Niven was greeted as the London Sothern. In the musicale that closed the performance, and in which appeared divers celebrities, there was a splendid array of charming costumes. Miss Gladys Michie, as Julia Arthur in "A Lady of Quality," superb. Miss Ina Bucke recited some of Eugene Field's child verses celightfully, and Miss Stella Regan and Mrs. W. A Soldiers' Smoker.

The non-commissioned officers and men at Wolseley Barracks held a smoking concert last evening. It is at such gatherings that the social side of Tommy Atkins' well-rounded individuality comes strongest to the front. Free from the restrictions of the parade ground, conscious of duty done, and having a good opinion of himself, takes up the business of mirth-making. The rafters ring with rollicking choruses, the floor shakes with dances that sound like a galloping troop of horse. The gathering last evening was ably presided over by Color-Sergt. Cranston Sergt. Hendry, the possessor of a good, well-trained voice, rendered a couple of barrack-room songs; Sergt. Davis recited Kipling's "Tommy Atkins" with rare ability. A number of pleasing selections, including the bugle calls used during the Cuban war, were given on Corp. Horner's gramaphone, and the general enjoyment was otherwise contributed to by Quartermaster-Sergt. Galloway and others.

Arlington Concert.

Last evening at the club rooms the Arlington Club gave a delightful concert-the last of the season-to about 150 invited guests. Whist occupied the earlier part of the evening. The programme consisted of recitations by Mr. Frank Murphy, songs by Mr. Albert Brown, music by the club orchestra, and a clever spiritualistic cabinet seance by Albert Brown and Ed. Cook. which would have shamed some of the professionals. A clever sparring match between a local boy and a Woodstock lad, which was declared a draw, proved an entertaining feature. New Books.

The Advertiser has just issued from their job department a booklet by the Gas Company, entitled "Happy Ever After," being a sequel to "Killed by Hard Work, or The Kitchen Drudge." The writer philosophizes on the drudgery of ordinary household work, and explains how happiness may be obtained by hardworked women of the present day. The solution he gives for the toils of the kitchen is the adoption of gas for cooking. Many testimonials are given by prominent citizens of the cheapness and comfort of this delightful mode of doing summer cooking, and particularly by the Famous Gas Stove, made by the McClary Manufacturing Company, and handled by the City Gas Company, of London. Thirteen dollars will install such a gas stove in any house on the line of gas mains, and when it is realized that the cost of operating only averages $2 a month, it would seem that only the unwise will fail to provide themselves with this up-to-date method of cooking. Gas is used almost universally in the United States, both by the well-to-do and more particularly by the wives of workingmen and mechanics, who profit by it, in that they save themselves a vast amount of drudgery, and also save considerable over the cost of running a wood or coal range. It is hardly worth while to compare gas to the makeshift and dangerous oil and gasoline stove, as the comparison is rather ludicrous, especially as gas is as cheap to operate as the toy oil stoves, which are only fit for places where gas can-not be obtained. The typography of the little brochure is a splendid sample of the printer's art, and reflects great credit on the ability of The Advertiser Job Department to compete in printing

Copies of the booklet may be had at the office of the City Gas Company,
