NOT A WORD ABOUT MAYOR

Public School Board Meet but Make no Reference to Charges

Central School Closed for Great Fair Starting on Night of Oct. 24—Other Matters

Those who attended the special meeting of the Public School Board last evening in the hopes of being treated to a display of pyrotechnics upon Mayor Cowan's charges were doomed to disappointment. No reference was made to his worship or his arraignment, and the business of the Board was transacted as quietly and as though such incidents as Mayors and charges and investigations had never been heard of.

There were present: Chairman Morley and Trustees Dr. McKeough, McArthur, Drader, Robertson, Lenfestey, Heyward and Bensen. On motion of Messrs. Bensen and Drader it was decided to close the Central school during the great School Fair, which will be opened by the Minister of Education on the evening of October 24th and extend for the balance of the week. Elaborate preparations for this function are being made and the occasion promises to be unique in Maple City educational history.

It was decided to advertise for tenders, to be in by Tuesday next, for heating the new addition to the Central school, with and without boiler.

On motion of Dr. McKeough and Mr. Heyward the managers were empowered to interview the Steam Heating Company regarding heat for the new wing now and probably the remainder of the school next summer.

The McKeough school managers were given power to have the smoke pipes on the furnaces repaired and a sufficient supply of wood was arranged for.

GOOD EXHIBIT

Westlake Bros. Carry off First Honors for the Finest Collection of Photographs at the Peninsular Fair.

Of all the many beautiful and creditable exhibits at the Peninsular Fair this year, there were none that are more universally admired or more favorably passed upon by the judges than the magnificent and artistic showing of portraits and photos made by Westlake Bros. of this city. The exhibit was a worthy one and one that would stand high in competition with more extensive exhibits made at far larger exhibitions than the Peninsular Fair.

Outside of the merit of the work itself, this firm deserves great credit for the artistic manner in which the exhibit was arranged. In this respect great taste was employed and the effect was none the less striking by the presence of innumerable red cards marked "First Prize," which were added to it by the judges during the exhibition.

About two hundred pictures were shown and awarded the first prize as the finest collection of photographs on the grounds. Westlake Bros. have been established in Chatham for four years and each year they have been successful in carrying off the first prize at the Peninsular Fair.

The large work was especially good a special prize was awarded for a large portrait of W. R. Landon, which was remarked upon as an artistic gem. Other large portraits which were favorably passed upon were those of Mayor Cowan, Matthew Wilson, K. C. Judge Woods and Mr. Turnbull. Two enlarged sepia portraits, one of Miss Belle Smith and the other of Will Stevens, and one of Miss Ruby Johnson, in water colors, were much admired by delighted visitors.

Messrs. Westlake Bros. are to be complimented on their splendid and successful work.

HE WAS CHARMED

A number of young people from the Park St. Methodist Church assembled at the home of Miss Pearl Dennis, Raleigh street, last evening and presented Lyman Fead with a gold watch charm.

Mr. Fead, who has been connected with the staff of the Standard Bank here, is leaving shortly for Harrison and the presentation was made as a token of the esteem in which he is held by the friends he leaves behind him. Mr. Fead made a fitting response, saying he would always look back with pleasure to the time he has spent in Chatham. After the presentation a very pleasant social time was spent in music and games.

There is something wrong with the person who complains of conditions which could be changed by a little effort.

There is no profit in relating our sorrows. Everybody we tell them to has got one that he thinks weighs more.

CHILD DRANK THE POISON

Infant Son of Isaac Cofield Drained Bottle of Laudanum

Dr. McRitchie Saved Life After Two Hours of Effort—A Very Narrow Escape

(Special to The Planet.)

Etobicoke, Sept. 29.—A serious case of accidental poisoning occurred here yesterday shortly after 11:30 o'clock, by which the little 2-year-old son of Isaac Cofield nearly lost his life.

The baby was left for a few moments playing alone in the room. It succeeded in climbing a chair and reaching the laudanum bottle on the shelf above. The bottle contained over half an ounce of the deadly opiate and the child fell over just as its mother re-entered the room.

No time was lost and a rig was hurriedly dispatched to McKay's Corners, where Dr. T. L. McRitchie was summoned. Before the arrival of the doctor the child appeared in a very hopeless condition, but with the stomach pump and proper antidotes it was soon put beyond danger, some two hours after the deadly draught was taken.

TRACK RECORD WAS BROKEN

Chairman Glassford Pulls Off the Finest Races Ever Seen at the Fair

Irene D. Establishes New Record—Splendid Work of Attril Bells—Capt. Miller's Success

To Chairman John H. Glassford, of the Speed committee of the Peninsular Fair, belongs the credit of presenting the Fair patrons with the finest series of speed contests in its history. The races on both days were far excellence and thousands gathered to witness them, enthusiasm at times knowing no bounds. Everyone was delighted and Mr. Glassford deserves all of the many eulogies extended on his splendid work.

The genial chairman has also other reasons for congratulation. Irene D., the speedy mare which he developed himself in Chatham and sold this spring, broke the track record, travelling in 16 1-4. Moreover he drove his own stallion, Attril Bells, to victory in three straight heats in the 2.18 trot or 2.22 pace. Attril Bells is a magnificent stallion. He is bred from the greatest sire of speed on the turf and has only had this season's work. Mr. Glassford, who weighs some 200 pounds, drove him himself and nosed out in three splendid finishes amid the greatest enthusiasm.

The running race was also very interesting to Kent people. Glenmore, the winner, although now a Petrolia horse, was raised by S. S. Arnold, of Glenora, brother of Bartley S. B. Arnold, of this city. Mr. Arnold yesterday ran Donnie D. a colt and a full brother of Glenmore, to a splendid second, the young colt pushing his brother for all he was worth.

Captain Miller, owned by J. C. Saint, of Wallaceburg, also won a fine race—in fact every contest was magnificently fought out.

The summaries:

THE CHAMPION HOLDS TITLE

Sprinter White Claims MacIntyre Cup and Bows Gracefully to Speech Calling Crowd

Claims His Victory by Default—Bureoed the Book Makers—The Great Event of the Fair

Standing statuesquely, daintily doffing his silken chapeau; with his Adonis-like, living-picture racing regalia tucked gallantly under his left arm—seeking gallantly to satiate the thousands who clamored madly for "a speech"—Champion John Wesley White, sweet singer, speedy sprinter and successful solicitor, presented a picturesque and memorable setting in the judges' stand at the Fair yesterday afternoon. (At least, this is the way Mr. White described it to The Planet when he called this morning.)

"I claim the MacIntyre cup by default," declared Mr. White. "There was no one there to contest the fat man's race with me and so I appealed to the judges. I was invited up to the stand, while Mr. Corey made the announcement that J. W. White, champion of the west, was there to defend his title, and as no other competitors appeared, to claim the cup. I stepped forward and graciously raised my hat, and the crowd cheered me repeatedly and the ladies waved their handkerchiefs. They called on me for a speech, which I delivered in my modest style, and taking off my hat, had to bow repeatedly."

It would seem from Mr. White's account that he was entitled to the cup by default.

E. J. MacIntyre gave The Planet a statement regarding the matter. "Mr. White was in to see me bright and early," he said, "to demand the cup. But Mr. Corey, to whom I appealed, told me that the champion never even went over the track, and, as other claimants appeared, I have not yet been able to deal with the case."

THE RECEIPTS

Peninsular Fair Took in Over $1,500—Beat Last Year's

R. G. Fleming, treasurer of the Peninsular Fair Board, this morning handed out to The Planet the statement of receipts as follows:—

First day, gates and grand stand, $1,098.95.
Second day, gates and grand stand, $415.15.
This is some $72 better than last year.

TAKE CARE OF THEMSELVES.

Otherwise New Ontario Hotels Will Lose Licenses.

Toronto, Sept. 29.—Referring to liquor selling in New Ontario, Provincial Secretary W. J. Hanna said:

"If the liquor people are alive to their own interests they will not only strictly observe the law themselves in New Ontario, but will see to it that others do likewise. The matters referred to by Dr. Chown in The Christian Guardian have been brought to our attention from different sources. "As to new hotels going up, I can only say that they have not the promise of a license in any case, nor have they any likelihood of getting one."

Ontario Printers Organize.

St. Catharines, Sept. 29.—The master printers of Ontario, in large numbers, met in convention at the Welland House yesterday afternoon and unanimously decided to organize a national guild. The members of the Canadian Press Association met in the morning. In the afternoon the newspapermen and job printers met together. There was a strong feeling among those present that the organization if formed should become a Master Printers' Section of the Canadian Press Association. A committee was appointed to arrange details of organization.

Verdict in Worrell Inquest.

Toronto, Sept. 29.—The coroner's jury returned a verdict touching the death of fire Captain Worrell last night, and said the jolting in the Brown Milling Company's building was not properly constructed and that there should be a better system of inspection of buildings by the fire department.

THE MAN WITH A KNIFE.

Toronto World.
Carrying a knife seems to be second nature to an Italian, and using it in a moment of passion is second nature also. An ordinary fine or a term of imprisonment is not a sufficient restraint on such characters. The Italian, or any other person, who carries a knife contemplates circumstances under which he will be prepared to use it, not only for purposes of defence, but for purposes of attack. The presence of the weapon on his person is, in other words, an indirect contemplation of murder, and two or three years in the penitentiary should be the least in the penitentiary offence. British law is all the protection any person in this country requires.

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR AND OFFICE-HOLDERS.

Toronto telegram.
A general official massacre of Liberal office-holders in Ontario would be an outrage.
Ontario is guarded against the perpetration of such an outrage by the unwillingness of Hon. J. P. Whitney and his colleagues to surrender to the spoilsmen of their party.
Ontario is guarded against the perpetration of such an outrage by the unwillingness of the Conservative party to require the basest of service from its leaders.
Ontario does not want to be guarded against the perpetration of an outrage by the interference of the Lieutenant-Governor.
The constitution compelled the Lieutenant-Governor to let the Ross Government do exactly what it pleased to do.
The same Lieutenant-Governor is working under the same constitution, and he must let the Whitney Government do exactly what it pleases to do.
The Ross Government, which technically represented the people, which was in a minority at the polls and commanded only a small majority in the Legislature, could choose its own judges, staff of election trials, give away power franchises, in short could do as it pleased, without let or hindrance from the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario.
The Whitney Government, which actually represents the people, which had a large majority at the polls and commands a great majority in the Legislature, must be allowed to do as it pleases without let or hindrance from the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario.
The same constitution that forbade the Lieutenant-Governor to be anything but a cipher when the Ross Government was in power, will not permit the Lieutenant-Governor to be a Czar when the Whitney Government is in power.

DEATH OF JOHN MASON

An old, highly respected and at one time prominent citizen of this county passed away Saturday at the home of John Mason, who died at the home of his brother, Edward Mason, in Orford.
The deceased was born in the north of Ireland in 1836, coming to this county in 1857. For some time he managed the Lee farms on Talbot street, then followed farming on his own account, and in the early 70's embarked in the grain and milling business at Highgate. For many years he carried on an extensive business, entering the council of Orford and attaining the reevehip in 1880. Finally meeting with financial reverses he abandoned the mill, and during his later years followed farming in Camden. Last winter he contracted a heavy cold which was followed by pneumonia. Although he recovered it left him very weak and sapped his vitality to such an extent that soon after he was compelled to go to the home of his brother, where he gradually wasted away.
Mr. Mason was a well-informed, keen and forceful man of a kindly disposition who made a host of friends, and during his residence in Orford was very popular. Many will learn with regret of his death. A Conservative, he took an active part in the politics of Kent, and in 1878 was president of the riding association.
He was a widower, although twice married, first to a daughter of the late Henry Lee, then to Miss Sherman, of Thamesville.
Three daughters survive, one married to a Toronto gentleman, Edward Mason, of Orford, and Dennis Mason, of London, are brothers.
The funeral, which took place to Trinity Cemetery on Tuesday, was very largely attended. Rev. Mr. Brownlee, rector of the Church of the Advent, officiated.—Ridgeway Dominion.

TELEPHONE TALKS.

TO TELEPHONE USERS AND THE GENERAL PUBLIC.

"We have already shown that the Bell Telephone Co. of Canada has discharged its obligations to the public during the past twenty-five years, by steadily exploiting the telephone in the field of its operations, upon a sound financial basis. Also that it has been giving the advantage of connection with its extended system to local telephone systems, where their lines and equipment were such as would give reasonable satisfaction, and where such organizations were not in competition with this company's service. It is the policy of this Company to seek the co-operation of such local systems, and to lend them any reasonable encouragement and assistance.

But there are those who demand compulsory long distance connection with competitive systems. To compel such connection would be confiscation. It would expropriate the use of an essential part of the Company's property, in order to enable competitors to destroy the success and commercial value of the whole.

We claim that compulsory connection with competitive telephone systems would not only be an injustice, but would result disastrously to the telephone service of the country.

We propose to devote two or more of these "Talks" to a presentation of reasons in support of these two points, and we bespeak the thoughtful consideration of our claims in this regard.

The members of the William street Baptist church will hold a social evening on Friday, Sept. 29th, at 8.15, in the Sunday school, to welcome Rev. Mr. Hoyt and Mrs. Hoyt on their return from Europe. Members of the congregation are requested to accept this invitation.

Mr. Coffman, of Harwich Township, was perhaps the oldest exhibitor on the fair grounds. He is 84 years old and is in excellent health, and had a large number of exhibits this year in fruit and vegetables.

The annual meeting of the ladies of the Home of the Friendless will be held in Harrison Hall, Monday, October 2nd, at four o'clock. The public are cordially invited to attend.

The profit of a gold mine depends, not on the amount of rock crushed under the stamps, but upon the amount of gold which can be extracted from the rock. In a similar way the value of the food which is eaten does not depend on the quantity of food which is taken into the stomach but upon the amount of nourishment extracted from it by the organs of nutrition and digestion. When these organs are diseased they fail to extract the nourishment in sufficient quantities to supply the needs of the body, and the result is that the organs cannot work without nourishment. The result is heart "trouble," liver "trouble," and many another ailment. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acting on every organ of the digestive and nutritive system, restores it to health and vigor. It cures diseases of the stomach, which originate through the stomach in which they are "originated." Golden Medical Discovery contains neither alcohol nor narcotics.

BOSWELL - GAMMAGE

A very happy event was celebrated in the East End last Wednesday evening when Miss Evelyn Gammage was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Nathaniel Boswell, night watchman for C. Austin & Co. Miss Clara Gammage, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while R. P. Henderson, B. A., of Brantford, performed the honors of the occasion as groomsmen.
The bride was attired for the event in a grey silk with white chiffon trimmings, while her maid was becomingly robed in cream crepe de chene. Elder Richards, pastor of the B. M. E. church, securely tied the nuptial knot in the presence of a large number of guests. The newly married couple will take up their residence on Hyslop street.
Among the many guests present were a number from the Austin Store, including Misses Guttridge, Carrie Guttridge, Kime, Stevenson and Thompson, and Messrs. Killop, and McIntyre. J. W. Humphrey was also among the invited guests. The event was a very pleasing one and many wishes were expressed for the future happiness and prosperity of Mr. and Mrs. Boswell.

DISPUTE OVER BOUNDARY.

Canada Taking Steps Through Quebec to Have a Settlement With Newfoundland Re. Labrador.

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—Feeling that it is desirable to have the boundary between the Province of Quebec and Newfoundland's coast strip along the Labrador Peninsula clearly defined, the Quebec Government, with the approval of the Federal authorities, will shortly take steps to have the subject threshed out in the courts.

Newfoundland has for some time been issuing timber licenses in the interior of Labrador. Premier Gouin's intention is to have some of this timber seized after which the courts will be asked to say whether the island has any right to issue the license under which the lumbermen operate.

The case will be tried first in the Superior Court and no doubt appealed to the judicial committee of the Privy Council.

Over a year ago Canada proposed to Newfoundland a reference of the Labrador boundary dispute to the Privy Council, and enquired whether the island was prepared to accept the ruling of this highest tribunal in the British Empire. The island Government never even replied to the question.

Canada admits Newfoundland's claim to the coast strip of Labrador from Cape Chidley, at the entrance of Hudson Straits, to Anse Taubion, in Belle Isle Straits. The dispute is as to how far the island colony's jurisdiction extends inland.

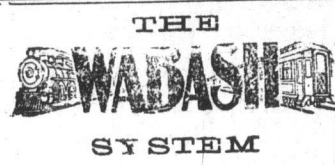

Newfoundland counts her coast strip up Lake Melville, while Canada asserts that the latter is simply a salt water lake entirely within our limits. Ordered Logs Seized.

The dispute arising out of Newfoundland's claims to territorial rights on Hamilton Inlet, on the coast of Labrador, came to a sensational climax yesterday, when the Quebec Government ordered the seizure of the logs cut under authority of the Newfoundland Government. The order of the Quebec Government, issued yesterday, brings the matter to a head and is likely to arouse considerable resentment in Newfoundland.

EXPLOSIVE SEA SHELLS.

One Explodes With Formidable Noise Like Dynamite Bomb.

Nature has made many kinds of bombs in the shape of sea shells which open with great force and project the contents to a considerable distance. There is a seashell which explodes with a formidable noise and suggests a veritable dynamite bomb. Not long ago a young lady wandering on the shore of Mobile Bay picked up a handful of shells left by the tide. Among them were the shells of a small marine snail, the largest of which were not more than a half inch in diameter. She dropped them into her pocket and forgot all about them. Some days afterward she noticed a unpleasant odor which came from her wardrobe. On taking the shells from her pocket one of them dropped to the floor and exploded with a sharp noise loud enough to be heard in an adjoining room. She tried another with the same result. The shells were then examined by a scientist, who found the mouth of each firmly encased by a membrane of greater or less thickness, formed by the drying of the animal's slime. This had probably occurred soon after removal from the moisture of the beach, and the inhabitants of the shell dying, the gas of decomposition had entirely filled the air space. On exerting a little pressure a loud explosion was produced, the shell fragments flying in all directions. Out of a dozen shells only two failed to explode. The condition most successful in making the experiment seemed to be removal from the beach in hot, dry weather, which caused the slime to be exuded in great quantities than usual and dried rapidly.

What the Siamese Eat.

Siamese food principally consists of dried, frequently rotted, fish and rice, done in curries which comprise a little of about every kind of condiment, and especially a very popular sauce called namphrik, a chutney-like and thoroughly mixed thing made of red pepper, shrimp, garlic, onions, citron, ginger and tamarind seeds. The only reason the fish being putrid is because the natives like it so, for fish are plentiful in the rivers and fishermen numerous, though their ways of catching are rather amusing and antique. The favorite method, borrowed from the Chinese, is beating the fish with long bamboo sticks to frighten the fish into an eight or ten foot net, which is lowered into the river from a framework on the bank by a system of wheels and ropes and pulleys, and hoisted up again when the catch is complete. A recent traveler says that when the fish in the carry chanced to be dried instead of decayed, he found the decoction decidedly palatable. In fact, a really good curry is in a class apart, and one must go to India or the Far East to get it to its best. Sometimes the natives eat pork and oftentimes chicken, but for the most part rice and fish constitute their chief diet, supplemented by the fruit of the country, of which there are many kinds—mangosteen, mango, pineapple, banana, orange, bread fruit, and that most healthful and serving of all Siamese fruits, the papaya, which grows back from the water and is a greenish oval amelon that suggests cantaloupe when opened.

Chinese Superstition.

China is still in many ways centuries behind the rest of the world. As evidence of this a story is told in regard to the Chinese viceroys who direct the affairs of the Province of Chihli. Although he has usually been considered one of the more progressive of the Chinese rulers, the following is told of him: At Wuchang the country roads were in very bad condition, particularly in crossing a hill near the town which was known as the "serpent's back." During the viceroys' absence some of the under officials attempted to improve the road, and in so doing cut down the mass of the hill, lowering the level of the road. Thus a useful public work was accomplished. On the viceroys' return he was taken ill, and according to the story his personal physician persuaded him that the "serpent" was angry at the wounds made in him by lowering the road. Chang accepted his illness as punishment for attacking the serpent, and gave orders for the immediate filling up of the cuttings. This was done, and the great man got up of his illness. "And the plague was stayed." If this is true, it shows a superstition among prominent Chinamen that we should hardly have expected in the twentieth century, particularly with a Viceroy who has been brought so closely in contact with foreigners.

Mexico's Sacrificial Stone.

In the museum in Mexico City is the great sacrificial stone upon which human beings were offered to the Aztec gods. It is four feet high, eight feet in diameter, of circular form with a hollow in the middle where the victim was laid; with figures in relief elaborately cut on the top and sides. It is said to be the best specimen of sculpture among the antiquities of Mexico.

Custom demanded that the captive or other victim to be sacrificed should fight seven of their best gladiators. If he won the victory over all of them his life was spared, but if vanquished, he was placed on an stone and his head taken out and offered to the gods while still palpitating. Six priests dressed in red, with green plumes on their heads, held the victim down while the knife of the chief priest found the way to his heart, cut it loose and offered it with many prayers, to the idol of the Aztecs.

Good Photographs of Corpses.

Until now it has been almost impossible to make a satisfactory photograph of a corpse because of the deterioration of the eyes immediately after death. Now Bertillon removes that difficulty. He has proved that by dropping three or four drops of glycerin into the eyes the latter resume and maintain respectively their natural color, light effects and looks in general. "Add a little rouge to the lips and you can get a photograph as true as life," says the doctor. The discovery is important for the police, inasmuch as it makes possible the identification of victims of murder or accident.—Paris Math.

CHANCE BROUGHT A FRIEND.

And Edith Sindel, a North Bay Girl, Is Released From Buffalo Jail.

By a strange working of fate Edith Sindel, 18 years old, of North Bay, Ont., who disappeared from Toronto several months ago, when sent to the city for treatment at a hospital for tonsillitis, was on Saturday released from No. 3 police station, Buffalo, N. Y., where she had been detained since August 28th. The cell department of No. 3 is detached from the station house proper and projects into an area which is overlooked by the back windows of rooming-houses and boarding-houses. The tenants of those places had noticed for some weeks past that a girl would press her face against the prison bars and look earnestly out into the open space. Her sad, wan face attracted the attention of several of the boarders, and some of the female occupants became interested in the girl's case.

The police had made no secret of the facts leading up to the holding of the girl. On Monday, August 28th, Leonard Darch was arrested on the complaint of Edith Sindel, who was working here as an hotel employee, who charged that Darch had tried to induce her to lead a life of shame that he might share in the profits. Darch was sent to the penitentiary the succeeding day for a term of six months. He was released on bail, and Capt. Collins had learned that Edith Sindel had left her home in North Bay to go to Toronto, and had not returned and had never communicated with her parents. It was decided to hold the girl till her parents were heard from because of the dangerous situation the girl's ways might bring her to. A letter was sent to the Sindel home some days ago.

The other morning Fred Phillips, who rooms in a house adjoining the station house, chanced to see the girl's face at the cell window, and made enquiries about her. Learning who she was, Phillips said he had known her parents for some time. He went to the station-house, and after convincing Capt. Collins that he knew the girl, was permitted to see her. The girl was dumfounded when she saw Phillips. He told him her story in a tearful voice. He promised to furnish the transportation back to North Bay if the girl was released. His offer was accepted by the police and the girl left for Toronto Saturday afternoon to go from there to her old home. Phillips is a cutter by trade and has been travelling through the country. He has not been in North Bay for five years.

The crown of womanhood is motherhood. But uneasy lies the head that wears the crown or anticipates this coronation, when there is a lack of womanly strength to bear the burdens of maternal dignity and duty. The reason why so many women sink under the strain of motherhood is because they are unprepared.

"I unhesitatingly advise expectant mothers to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. J. W. G. Stephens, of Mills, Northumberland Co., Va. The reason for this advice is that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best preparative for the maternal function. No matter how healthy and strong a woman may be, she cannot use "Favorite Prescription" as a preparative for maternity without gain of health and comfort. But it is the women who are not strong who best appreciate the great benefits received from the use of "Favorite Prescription." For one thing its use makes the baby's advent practically painless. It has in many cases reduced days of suffering to a few brief hours. It has changed the period of anxiety and struggle into a time of ease and comfort.

The proprietors and makers of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, of Buffalo, N. Y., ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

ENVELOPES.

Why Some of Them Are Colored Blue on the Inside.

"Why are these envelopes made blue on the inside?" asked a man looking at a specimen which a wholesale stationer held in his hand.

"For a very simple reason," was the reply. "One of the most important results in the making of envelopes is to prevent transparency. Many white papers are so transparent that by careful scrutiny the contents of an envelope made of such material may be determined. For instance, let us put a sheet of paper with writing on it into this envelope. We will now seal it and hold it to the light thus. There, you can not only see the bank check, but you can also read many of the words on the sheet of paper. This can be prevented either by getting a thick and high priced envelope which is not transparent or by taking a cheaper grade of paper which is blue on one side. We sell thousands of packages of blue envelopes—that is, envelopes which are blue on the outside—but people do not like them on account of their color. So to get over the difficulty and still make an envelope that will hide the contents and not be high priced the manufacturer uses paper which is blue on one side and white on the other. One factory in this city turns out more than a million of such envelopes daily, and their sale in large cities is enormous."

DRIVING BEHIND OXEN.

Bullock Traveling in India Is Both Common and Comfortable.

"Nowhere else in the world," says Dr. Francis E. Clark in Everybody's Magazine, "is bullock traveling so comfortable and so common, probably, as in some parts of India. The bandy is often fitted up in very comfortable style, and though the springs might be improved, the comparatively slow pace of the oxen makes them less important to one's comfort."

"The patient little white oxen trot along at a rate of three or four miles an hour, and especially if it is the evening and the refulgent Indian moon is shining down upon you, if the nightingales are singing and the fragrant jasmine is blooming in the hedge-grows, you think that India is not so far removed from paradise after all."

"But, after a night of such travel, when you come out in the broad light of disillusioning day upon a collection of filthy mud cabins and see the naked children hungry and famished, the gaunt specters of men and women mauling the uncooked grain dealt out to them by generous hands—in too much of a hurry even to cook the food which they crave—you revise your opinion and make up your mind that India, in famine time, is nearly the inferno than any other country in the world."

PECULIAR FIRES.

The Manner in Which Many Disastrous Blazes Originate.

Dust is a wonderful producer of fires. There have been instances in post-offices where the dust of the mail bags suspended in the rear of a close room exploded with terrific force. Dust explosions are of frequent occurrence in flour and drug mills. The origin of many fires in tailor shops may be traced to the so called dry cleaning of clothes. A rag dipped in naphtha is frequently used in removing grease spots from garments. The rag soaked with inflammable fluid is thrown upon the floor. When the shop is closed up and the air is confined the naphtha soaked material will of itself generate fire. Bales of cotton placed in the hold of a ship are often the cause of disastrous fires. Frequently a spark from a cigar finds a resting place in a cotton bale, where it smolders for weeks. The dark hall in tenement houses is the indirect originator of fires. Greasy matting or small heaps of paper lie about. A match not extinguished or a cigarette stub is thrown down, and a blaze results.—Fire and Water.

He can easily find out by sending them.

The Word "Pirate."

"Pirate" is a Greek word coming directly from "pelirates," which means, etymologically, "one who tries" or "attempts"—in other words, an adventurer. "Adventurer," too, is a word that has lost respectability, but not so far as "pirate," which acquired its special sense at least 2,000 years ago. "Pelirates" and the Latin "pirata" are known only in this sense. Cicero defines the pirate as the common enemy of all.

"I suffered for several years with Dyspepsia. Nothing I ate would digest without giving me great pain. I could not get any thing to relieve me till a friend of mine advised me to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. One box cured me and I have had no return of the trouble since."

Such is the experience of Miss Lizzie Watling, 177 King William street, Hamilton, Ont. It should come as a message of hope to thousands of Canadians. It is only one of thousands of similar statements that prove conclusively that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets never fail to cure indigestion and Dyspepsia of all stages.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets digest the food themselves. They do the stomach's work and give it a chance to rest and recuperate. They are thus a natural cure.

Help your stomach and it will help you. If you would eat what you like when you like use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

FELL IN TRENCH

A Horse Belonging to Geo. Jamieson had a Narrow Escape From Injury

The firemen had rather an exciting time this morning about one o'clock. The Chief was called up by telephone and asked to go up King street to Lethbridge's livery stable, as there was a horse in the trench dug by the Electric Railway Co.

When the firemen arrived on the scene they found the horse in the trench, and it was some time before they could get it out. They finally did so, however, and the animal escaped without any serious injury.

The horse belonged to Geo. Jamieson and was one of a team attached to a double-seated rig. The team had been taken out of the barns unknown to the owner, by a young man who was by no means in a fit condition to handle horses, with the above result. Some of the harness was broken but the rig was not damaged.

"The Electric Railway people are very good to us," remarked Chief Prichard, "and they grant us crossings wherever we ask for them. There is no excuse for any sober driver allowing his horses to fall in the trench."

FINISH MONDAY

The electric line between Wallaceburg and Chatham will, in all probability, be completed for running on Monday night. The work has been splendidly pushed through.

ANOTHER RUNAWAY

John Maggs, Murray St., was the victim of another runaway accident yesterday. His horse became frightened at an automobile and again made a dash for liberty. Mr. Maggs was thrown out and this time his injuries were so severe that he is confined to his home to-day as a result.

Last Saturday night Mr. Maggs was thrown out of his buggy near Blenheim and sustained a cut across his head that required several stitches.

HOW ABOUT IT

"There is a little matter on which I am not thoroughly posted," remarked W. N. Morley, chairman of the Public School Board, this morning, "and maybe if you make it public some light may be thrown on the subject."

"I would like to know, as a ratepayer, if the Mayor can consult the city solicitor without the knowledge of the Finance committee on matters not directly pertaining to his office."

KILLS CHARLES MARTIN

Who Was Attacking His Daughter With Baseball Bat.

W. Harrington, a Former Newmarket Resident, Commits a Murder in Detroit Which the Law May Justify—Says He Is Sorry He Killed Martin, Though the Latter Got No More Than He Deserved, He Says.

Windsor, Sept. 23.—At an early hour yesterday morning, W. Harrington, formerly of Newmarket, Ont., was taken into custody by the Detroit police, charged with having caused the death of Charles Martin, a boarder in his house.

According to the story told by witnesses of the affair, Martin and another boarder in the house had been drinking heavily, and about midnight Wednesday night Martin attacked Miss Kitty Harrington, aged 16, as she was passing through the back yard into the house. The girl screamed, and Harrington, who was in bed, rushed out with a heavy baseball bat in his hand. In the full light, he saw his daughter lying in the yard, while Martin had his hands on her throat. Without a moment's hesitation, Harrington brought his club heavily down on Martin's head. His skull was crushed like an eggshell. Then the police arrived on the scene and took principals and witnesses into custody.

Sorry He Killed Martin. Harrington says he is sorry he killed Martin, but thinks he got no more than he deserved. A coroner's jury has been empaneled, but it is probable no proceedings will be taken against Harrington.

The first tragedy was followed by a minor one in the Harrington home a few hours later, when Miss Harrington, who is an exceedingly pretty and intelligent girl, gave birth to a baby boy. She declines to say who is responsible, but stoutly denies that Martin, who was killed, had anything to do in the matter. Harrington admits that he knew of his daughter's condition six weeks ago, and places the blame upon Martin.

Harrington is only 36 years old, and besides his wife, has a family of seven children, of whom Kitty is the senior.

Was This Man Murdered?

Ingersoll, Sept. 23.—The Town of Ingersoll is excited over the murder in the finding of the body of Isaiah Wright, colored, floating in the River Thames yesterday morning.

Chief of Police Wright scents foul play and yesterday afternoon caused the arrest of George Hartnell, George Benson, and Thomas Wilson. Ewart Bell and John Campbell, all of whom were drinking with the deceased when he was last seen alive on Friday night last.

The accused were brought before Magistrate Morrison last evening and were all remanded for a week, pending the result of a post mortem examination to see what caused Wright's death.

All were taken to Woodstock Jail for safe keeping.

While murder is talked of, accidental death is a plausible enough solution of Wright's end.

Fifteen Years For Murder.

Winnipeg, Sept. 23.—Fred Foote, who murdered Mat Gannan, Mayor of Spooner, in Beaudette, some months ago, following a long series of border outlaws was sentenced to 15 years in Stillwater Penitentiary, on numerous counts.

Committed For Trial.

Toronto, Sept. 23.—The two Italians accused of the Marlow murder at Mimico and the four others held at witnesses were yesterday remanded a week without pleading.

Squaw Offered Money to Testify.

Brantford, Sept. 23.—The trial of Joe Bennett, accused of the murder of Betsey Jacobs, made considerable progress yesterday. The leading feature of yesterday's proceedings were the admission upon cross-examination of an Indian woman who swore she had offered money to testify on behalf of the prisoner. In addition to this surprise was sprung when the prisoner himself took the box and told his story in a clear manner. His account was substantiated by witnesses, who preceded him.

The Crown directed their efforts entirely to the complete negation of circumstantial evidence. At the conclusion of the Crown evidence, Mr. Heyd, counsel for the prisoner, claimed that no case had been made, but his objection was over-ruled.

The efforts of the defence were chiefly to prove an alibi. This was done by the prisoner's testimony that he was at the time of the tragedy. This was corroborated by the woman who lives with Kick.

A verdict will probably be reached to-night.

Galicians Use Knives Too.

Winnipeg, Sept. 23.—John Perlin, a Galician, was sentenced yesterday morning by Magistrate Daly to two years in the Provincial Penitentiary for stabbing a fellow countryman in the neck with a knife during a street row. "This use of knives and revolvers must be discouraged by severe punishment," said the magistrate.

Struck Wife With Chair. Belleville, Sept. 23.—The police are looking for Henry Renfrew, who Wednesday night struck his wife over the head with a chair, besides otherwise maltreating her. A warrant is out for his arrest. A girl named Ethel Howell of Deseronto was brought here yesterday to serve three months in the County Jail for theft.

Leamington Man Arrested. Detroit, Sept. 23.—Robert Russell, who is proprietor of the Ryall Hotel in Leamington, Ont., is under arrest at Bowling Green, Ohio charged with adultery. Russell left Detroit on Tuesday night for Toledo with the wife of W. D. Ireland, a roofer of this city.

Russell is Mrs. Ireland's uncle by marriage. He had been paying a good deal of attention to the woman for some time, and Ireland had begun suit against him for $20,000 damages for the alienation of his wife's affections.

The Last Load.

Boston, Sept. 23.—(C. A. P.)—The last party for the season of 200 of Dr. Barnard's children left for Canada Wednesday.

THE LOCAL BUDGET

P. Baughman, of Windsor, is spending a couple of days in town.

Thomas McCallum, of Somers, was a Chatham visitor yesterday.

Colin Reed Jr., and Geo. Swallow-well, of Bothwell, called on Chatham friends yesterday.

Mrs. George Pratt will be at home to her friends at her residence on Park St., after the 1st inst.

An injustice was done Miss Pratt, who met with an unfortunate accident in the chemical laboratory at the C. C. I. yesterday, in the account of the occurrence which appeared in yesterday's issue, which The Planet is pleased to correct. Miss Pratt was not in any way responsible, the accident from which she suffered occurring through her companion.

Mrs. Leatherdale, mother of Mrs.
Jos. Muckle, near Ridley, is visiting relatives and friends in the city. Mrs.
Leatherdale is really a remarkable old lady. She is in her 88th year, gets around with simply the aid of a cane, and does fancy needlework which is wonderful in one who has attained such an age—work that would be a decided credit to any young lady—and Mrs. Leatherdale does it without the use of glasses, her eyesight being excellent.

The Pere Marquette Railway have given one fare return rates to Merlin Fair on the 2nd and 3rd of October, good to return on the 4th. An enlarged prize list is offered in the trials of speed, etc. The Military Band from Chatham will be in attendance and will close with a grand entertainment in the I. O. O. F. Hall on evening. Joe Kenny and Bert Harvey, singing comedians and refines entertainers, from Toronto, accompanied by Miss Pratt, of Chatham, will give the program.

JUST RIGHT

The average man with the average "SUIT OF CLOTHES" is an unhappy object. Coat too tight under the arms, collar sets away from the neck, vest is too short or too long, trousers too tight or too loose, and many other faults. Don't be an average man.

Let us make your next suit and we guarantee you will wear it with comfort and pleasure.

EGG... ...PRESERVED

Approved by Guelph Agricultural

This is a glass having the property of dissolving in water. The shell which covers and protects an egg is neither air nor water tight and through its pores enter germs and microbes which soon render the egg unpalatable.
Glass is precipitated almost as soon as eggs are immersed in its solution and thereby the eggs are hemo-statically sealed and will keep fresh for many months.

UNIQUE PIANO HONOUR.

"To your firm belongs the unique honour," said an enthusiastic musician, speaking of the Karn piano, "of producing in Canada an instrument equal in all good points to the best American and European makers." In greater detail and with equal confidence writes W. O. Forsythe, the musical director of the Metropolitan School of Music: "The scale is very true, the tone round and rich in quality, and the touch, which is everything to the artist and, indeed, the pupil, is beautifully regulated and elastic."

In 1887 was founded the D. W. Karn Co., Limited, of Woodstock. For years the Karn instruments have been constantly improved and now perfected. The D. W. Karn Co., Limited, has steadily extended its plant, it now looms large among the factories of Canada, and stands at presents the largest and best equipped manufacture for pianos and organs
in the Dominion.

A number of instruments were shown at the Fair. The general representative for the west is James

ANNOUNCEMENTS

At The Grand—

Gismonda—Oct. 2.

The Isle of Bong Bong—Oct. 5.

(Supplied to The Planet by Press

Agents.)

In the company of the eminent classic actor Melbourne MacDowell, who comes to the Grand on Monday,
Oct. 2nd, are five or six of the best leading men in the United States, including Chas. D. Herman, L. Rufus Hill, Hal De Forrest, True S. James and others, all of whom have appeared with signal success during the long run of the Sardou plays at St.
Louis during the past season. Press and public united during that propitious time in declaring the support of MacDowell to be the best that has been seen in St. Louis, the former World's Fair city, in many a year.

The plays in which America's leading classic tragedian, Melbourne Mac-Dowell, and his company appear here will be Gismonda and Fedora, the whole of the repertoire supplied by the gifted pen of Victorien Sardou,
the leading dramatist of France, whose great fame came to him in writing around the capacities of Sarah Bernhardt such wonder-works as Gismonda, Fedora, the Empress Theodora and La Tosca. While in this city theatre-goers have the advantage of seeing a superb company amid superb scenic surroundings, in some of these plays, MacDowell is the only actor who keeps true to the tragedies of this remarkable school founded by Victorien Sardou, advanced by Sarah Bernhardt and brought to its finest culmination by Fanny Davenport, the late lamented wife of Melbourne MacDowell.

Manager B. C. Whitney will present the sparkling musical surprise,
"The Isle of Bong Bong," at the Grand on Tuesday, Oct. 3rd. This latest and greatest of the Whitney productions is a gorgeous spectacle, with an elaborate equipment of superb scenic and costume effects. It is said to be an endless chain of mirthful melody from the overture to the grand finale. John W. Ran-dome, "the man who made all London laugh," is the principal comedian, who will be favorably remembered
as the creator of the "Cincinnati Brewer" in the "Prince of Pilsen."

Prominent in the cast are Alice
York, Anna Boyd, Edith Dewey,
John W. Hendricks, Walter Ware,
Charles Parrott, and a host of other well known stage celebrities, also the gorgeous galaxy of superbly gowned show girls known as the American beauty chorus of 65 voices. There are in all over a hundred people in the production.

GIOTTO, THE ARTIST.

The Circle He Drew From Which Grew a Famous Phrase.

Giotta was a famous painter, sculptor and architect of the latter part of the thirteenth century. He was a son of a poor shepherd, but the attention of the great master, Cimabue, having been attracted to the boy by a drawing the lad had made on a fragment of slate, the young artist's fame spread rapidly throughout southern Europe. In those days it was customary for the popes to send for the noted men of their realm, more for the purpose of gratifying their desires to see such celebrities than anything else. Giotta was no exception to the rule. No sooner had the young Tuscan become famous than Pope Boniface VIII. invited him to Florence. When young Giotta arrived at the gates of the pope's private grounds, according to the account, the guard halted him and inquired concerning his mission.

The artist made the matter plain, but the guard was not satisfied with the explanation, frequently interrupting Giotta's explanatory remarks with, "I know he must be a much larger and distinguished looking person than yourself," and "Giotta, too, is a famous painter. By your walk I would take you to be a shepherd." Finally, upon demanding evidence of the artist's skill, the latter stooped and traced a perfect O in the dust of the path with his finger. Any one who has ever attempted the feat of drawing a perfect circle "offhand" well knows how difficult it is.

It is needless to add that the artist was forthwith ushered into the presence of the supreme pontiff, and that since that time "Rounder than Giotta's O" has been a favorite hyperbole to indicate "impossible perfection."

FAITH AND FACTS

By GEORGE KINGDON

Copyright, 1905, by P. C. Eastmont

"See here, Ted, I want to speak to you," said Miss Oswald.
"Wonderful!" exclaimed Steen in mock surprise. "At last she really wishes to speak with me."

"It's about Nell," explained Miss Oswald.

"Bessie," he cried in mock horror, "when one woman wishes to speak about another it is a man's full duty to shut his ears. I refuse to listen to scandal."

"It's of your own making," she said, with a trace of sharpness in her voice.
"Mine?" he cried. "Bless your heart, I never had a scandal I could call my own, not even a hair interest in the tamest and most uninteresting bit of gossip."

"It's perfectly shameful the way you've acted toward that poor child," scolded Miss Oswald.

"Bessie," he asked, "has it ever occurred to you that as long as she had no complaint—He paused to feel for the words.

"That it's no one else's business: I'll say it for you."

"No," he explained gently, "that was not just what I was going to say. I wanted to suggest that perhaps since Nellie did not complain it was just possible that she understood and that the others did not."

"Do you think," demanded Bessie, "that Nell has satisfactorily explained to herself the reason why, after being her shadow for weeks, you should suddenly drop her?"

"I think," he answered slowly, "that she has explained the matter far more satisfactorily to herself than you have to yourself. Do you care, dear, because I seemed to have forgotten you while you were away?"

"You must not call me dear," she said coldly, "and it is nothing to me that you should have grown suddenly devoted to Nell, but as an old friend I wanted to point out to you that your actions were open to criticism."

"Only as an old friend?" she said steadily. "Do you suppose that even had we been more than friends in the first I should care to admit it after your shameful conduct?"

"It was shameful conduct, wasn't it?" he said questioning. "I guess Frank Troop thinks so from the way he is seeking to console her."

"The only redeeming feature of the whole performance is that Frank had the manliness to forgive her and avert some of the talk by paying her attention again."

"I think he likes the job," insinuated Teddy. "Nice to be a rescuer when you are doing just what you want to do."

"Does that alter the fact that you virtually froze Mr. Buddington out?" she demanded. "Mr. Buddington is a millionaire, and Frank has just enough to get along on."

"That's where the trouble comes, is it?" He looked relieved. "Just because I saved her from Buddy you think that I should marry Nell because I am richer than Frank and can give her half a million where I cut her out of the six figures."

"You put it very baldly," she objected.

"Naked truth usually is bald," he explained, "but it is the truth all the same. I never thought you would regard the mercenary side of it."

"Only because the others do," she explained. "Do you suppose that it is pleasant for me to hear an old friend criticised as you have been?"

"Do you suppose it is altogether pleasant for the old friend to have his old friend cut up as you have?" he demanded. "Don't you realize that I love you too well to care a hang about marrying Nell?"

"You love me?" she cried in disgust.

"I love you," he repeated steadily. "If you loved me you would have faith in me."

"Faith against facts?"
"Against appearances. Won't you believe me when I tell you that it is all right and that both Nell and Frank understand?"

"Can you look me in the eye and ask me to believe that?" she asked scornfully.

"With pleasure—both eyes." He came toward her and took the fair head between his hands.

"Sweetheart," he said tenderly, "by the love I hold for you and upon my honor as a man, I tell you that it is all right. Do you believe, O ye of little faith?"

Bessie studied the clear brown eyes intently for a moment, then with a cry she buried her head upon his shoulder.

"I do believe," she cried passionately, "but, oh, Ted, why didn't you tell me this before?"

"Because you applied gag law every time I tried to speak," he explained whimsically. "Every time I opened my mouth you objected, and I had to quit."

"But it was all so strange," she defended.

"It was funny," he corrected. "Do you remember that Mrs. Bradley's one idea is to get Nell married off to a rich man?"

"That's why she coaxed Buddington here," agreed Bessie.

"Well, she was going to put Frank out in the cold and give Bud all the running. Before Buddington got a chance to break in I was on the inside track, and I was rich enough to satisfy the old lady, who was not willing to risk a rupture for the sake of taking a gamble on the whole million."

"You were simply a fender against Buddington?"

"I was a thorn in his flesh," he laughed as the memory of those times came back to him. "I virtually drove him out of town and then dropped back and gave the place to Frank again."

"Ted," she pleaded, "can you ever forgive me?"

"Yes," he said promptly, "the very first chance you do anything you need forgiveness for."

A Lesson From Henry Clay.

A well known southern politician who died just before the civil war not infrequently spoke of an incident that took place in his first term in congress, in which he received a lesson in statecraft from the great Whig leader, Henry Clay.

"I was a young man and an enthusiastic Whig," he said, "and I entered congress quivering with eagerness to serve my party and to distinguish myself. I was on my feet shouting, 'Mr. Speaker' a dozen times a day. I opposed every petty motion made by the opposite party and bitterly denounced every bill, however trivial, for which it voted. Before the session was half over I had contrived to make myself personally obnoxious to every Democrat that I met."

"One day after an ill tempered outbreak on a question of no moment I turned and saw Mr. Clay watching me with a twinkle in his eye."

"'C,' he said, 'you go fishing sometimes?'"

"'Yes.'
"Don't you find that the best rod is the one that gives a little at each joint? It does not snap and break at every touch, but bends and shows its strength only when a heavy weight is put on it."

"I caught his meaning. I had seen him chatting familiarly with the very men whom I was berating. Yet I knew when great interests clashed he was the one man whom they feared."

"I set myself then to learn patience and coolness. It is the strong, flexible rod which does not break under the big fish."

The First Carronades.

The earliest mention of the use of carronades in actual warfare which I have met with is contained in the Edinburgh Advertiser for April 13, 1779, where accounts are given of an action fought March 17, 1779, in St. George's channel, near the Tuskar rock, between the British privateer Sharp and the American privateer Skyrocket. The former was armed with carronades, "short guns of a new construction, made at Carron." One of these accounts is from Captain MacArthur, an Englishman, who was at the time a prisoner on board the Skyrocket and was in a position to speak of the damage sustained by that ship.

On April 19, in the same year, a spirited action was fought in the channel between the Spitfire, a British privateer armed with sixteen eighteen-pound carronades, commanded by Captain Thomas Bell and owned by John Zullier and others, and the Surveillante, a French frigate of thirty-two guns and a large crew. The Spitfire was taken after an obstinate fight, the Surveillante sustaining considerable damage.—Notes and Queries.

The Guinea Worm.

The famous guinea worm is an inhabitant of the tropical regions of Asia and Africa, existing in ponds, rivers and swamps. It penetrates the skin of any portion of the human body without being felt and when once it finds lodgment grows to an enormous length. The body of the creature seldom exceeds in diameter that of a large pin, and it inhabits the flesh just beneath the skin. When full grown it is not less than twelve feet in length and in order to accommodate itself must wind several times around the legs or body. Should the guinea worm find a home under the human cuticle and grow to a large size there is danger of mortification setting in when the parasite bursts, as it is sure to do sooner or later. In order to guard against an accident of this character great care is exercised in extracting the unwelcome intruder. The skin is opened near one end of the creature and the body pulled out and wrapped around a small round stick. This stick is turned very slowly for days, or even weeks, until the entire worm has been extracted.

WORKING WOMEN

Their Hard Struggle Made Easier—Interesting Statements by a Young Lady in Quebec and One in Beauport, Que.

All women work; some in their homes, some in church, and some in the whirl of society. And in stores, mills and shops tens of thousands are on the never-ceasing treadmill, earning their daily bread.

All are subject to the same physical laws; all suffer alike from the same physical disturbance, and the nature of their duties, in many cases, quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, ovarian troubles, ulceration, falling and displacements of the womb, leucorrhoea, or perhaps irregularity or suppression of "monthly periods," causing backache, nervousness, irritability and lassitude.

Women who stand on their feet all day are more susceptible to these troubles than others.

They especially require an invigorating, sustaining medicine which will strengthen the female organism and enable them to bear easily the fatigues of the day, to sleep well at night, and to rise refreshed and cheerful.

How distressing to see a woman struggling to earn a livelihood or perform her household duties when her back and head are aching, she is so tired she can hardly drag about or stand up, and every movement causes pain, the origin of which is due to some derangement of the female organism.

Mlle. Alma Robitaille of 78 rue St. Francois, Quebec, Que., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

Overwork and long hours at the office, together with a neglected cold, brought on a very serious female trouble until finally I was unable to go to work. I then thought of a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when her health was in the same condition that mine was, at straightway sent out for a bottle. I finished that and took two more before I really began to improve, but after that my recovery very rapid, and I was soon well and able to go back to work again. I certainly do your medicine for sick women worthy praise, and am indeed glad to endorse it.

Miss Clara Beaubien of Beauport, Quebec, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For several years I have suffered with Leucorrhoea, which has been a serious drain on my vitality, sapping my strength and causing severe headaches, bearing down pains and a general worn out feeling, until I really had no desire to live. I tried many medicines, but did not get permanent relief until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In two months I was very much better and stronger, and in four months I was well, no more disagreeable discharge, no more pain. So I have every reason to praise the Vegetable Compound, and I consider it without equal for the ills of women."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for all these troubles. It strengthens the proper muscles, and displacement with all its horrors will no more crush you.

Backache, dizziness, fainting, bearing down pains, disordered stomach, moodiness, dislike of friends and society—all symptoms of the one cause—will be quickly dispelled, and it will make you strong and well.

You can tell the story of my recovery to a woman, and receive very full advice free of cost. Address: Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

VIGILANT SCORES AGAIN.

Poaching Tug Arrow Gets Away, But Leaves 86 Nets Behind.

Dunkirk, N.Y., Sept. 29.—The Vigilant, the Canadian cruiser, yesterday captured eighty-six nets belonging to Capt. Hanson of the tug Arrow.

Capt. Hanson saw the cruiser coming and ran south into American waters. No shots were fired.

The fishermen are becoming scared of the Vigilant, and take no chances of allowing her to get to close quarters when they are north of the boundary line.

Public Library Burns.

Brookville, Sept. 29.—The general store of S. D. Walker & Son, the public library, and the Bell Telephone office, all located in one building at Algonquin, were burned to the ground Wednesday night, also a private residence adjoining, occupied by Mr. Thorp, whose family barely escaped with their lives. The fire broke out about midnight. The absence of a fire-fighting apparatus rendered the villagers helpless. The fire is said to be of incendiary origin. The rear door was found open by Edward Orr.

THE CRISIS IN HUNGARY

Germany Back of the Emperor-King Francis Joseph.

Hungary Looks To the Slavs—Significant Statement of the Independent Leader—Former Premier Fejervary Unable to Get Emperor to Consent to Universal Suffrage to Defeat Coalition Movement.

Vienna, Sept. 29.—Emperor Francis Joseph yesterday received in audience Baron Fejervary, the former Hungarian Premier, and Count Goltchowski, the Austro-Hungarian Minister. The next steps of the Emperor are awaited anxiously.

Baron Fejervary's audience of the Emperor proved a failure, according to an Austrian authority close to the court. The baron insisted upon a plan to defeat the Hungarian coalition by the introduction of universal suffrage, but His Majesty was not willing to accept such a radical measure.

M. Polonyi, vice-president of the Hungarian Independent party, in an interview in Freie Presse yesterday, attributed to German influence the position of the Emperor-King to the demands for Hungarian coalition. He concluded with the threat that if Hungary can no longer find support among the Germans, she must look in the direction of the Slavs.

Students Begin Rioting.

Buda-Pesth, Hungary, Sept. 29.—The excitement among the students led to riots yesterday at the university.

Three students with Socialistic tendencies, were attacked by Nationalist students and roughly handled. Afterwards, some 300 Nationalist students marched to the hospitals, visiting those who were injured during the rioting Wednesday evening.

The theology students are also joining in the Nationalist movement. A meeting of students has been called to discuss the situation.

Provinces in An Unrest

Buda-Pesth, Sept. 29.—There is no abatement of the popular unrest. The Socialists gathered last night in front of the Imperial Club, but the police prevented disorder.

Reports from the provinces show increasing support for the coalition parties.

The coalition leaders, realizing the decided anti-Magyar tendency of many influential persons, are losing no opportunity to strengthen their position. Francis Kossuth demands the union of all Hungarian parties, "for the defence" of the Hungarian constitution, and it is believed that a private meeting of deputies, which has been called for October 2, the day before the great convention, may formulate plans to secure such a union.

Cholera Record.

Berlin, Sept. 29.—The official bulletin issued yesterday announced two new cases of cholera and no deaths since noon Wednesday. The total are 256 cases and 87 deaths.

Montreal Firm Assigns.

Montreal, Sept. 29.—The Haycock & Dudgeon departmental store, which is one of the largest in the city, yesterday made an assignment in favor of their creditors.

Loss by Fire.

Brookville, Sept. 29.—John Culbert, ex-M. P., suffered a loss of about $1,000 yesterday through the partial destruction of his barn by fire. Two horses were burned.

WARDEN VESTER

Has Something to Say Regarding the Proposed Change in County Councils

(Ridgetown Dominion).

The local member for East Kent is in receipt of the following interesting letter from John Vester, Esq., Warden of Kent County, and, as that gentleman suggests, gives it publicity believing the subject dealt with one of great importance:

P. H. Bowyer, M. P. P.:

Dear Sir,—My attention has been called to a circular issued by Hon. Nelson Monteith, Minister of Agriculture, that announces the policy of the Government in reference to the construction of County Councils. It is stated that the councils shall be composed of the reeves, and mayors of towns not separated from the county, and such deputy reeves as may on further consideration be decided on. Now, sir, this question of deputy reeves is a very serious question if we are to have representation by population or representation on a financial basis. Take our county for an example. The Township of Harwich pays more county rate than the nine municipalities, as follows:

Township of Zone.....	$898.90
Town of Blenheim.....	648.47
Town of Dresden.....	598.51
Town of Bothwell.....	221.26
Town of Ridgetown.....	927.46
Town of Wallaceburg.....	735.05
Village of Thamesville.....	273.42
Village of Tilbury.....	245.66
Township of Romney.....	1115.98

$5664.71
You will see that the nine municipalities named only pay $5,664.71, while the Township of Harwich pays $6,151.21 of county rate. Now, sir, if we must have a change I hope that you will do your best to give us representation in proportion to the county rate each municipality pays or representation by population.

In conclusion allow me to say that I have been in municipal life for the last 24 years, and most of that time a member of the county council, so I have had experience in both the old council and the new, when we had 36 members and when we had 14, and I can assure you I much prefer the 14 members to the 36, it being much cheaper and the business done better and quicker and the best interests of the county being better protected. You will observe that our county is composed of 17 municipalities, which will be 17 members, and with a fair representation of deputy reeves we will have a very large council.

You may publish this if you think best. I remain, dear sir, your obedient servant.

JOHN VESTER,

Warden County of Kent.
Harwich, Sept. 28, 1905.

Mountain Splits in Two.

New York, Sept. 29.—A Rome despatch to The Herald says: A mountain near Ajello, called Pietra Calandria, 300 metres high, split in two Wednesday, owing to shocks of earthquakes, and threatens to bury the town. All the inhabitants have fled. There was a terrible cyclone at Sparandise, in the Province of Caserta. All the trees and telegraph poles were uprooted, houses were damaged and several people were killed and injured.
