MANY ILL FROM FEVER AT SIMCOE

Epidemic is Still Spreading,
Although No Deaths Are Reported Today

MANY RECOVERING

Simcoe, Oct. 22.—(From Our Own Correspondent.)—Engineer Waita resumes his place at the pumping station this morning. Linton Kirkwood has been in charge there for the past week, the whole Waita family having been down.

Harry Hammond is off work with the epidemic, and has a rather severe attack.

Harry Shirk and James McKnight are able to be down town from the North Ward. Shirk, sr., was quite ill yesterday.

W. L. Jones is among the number sorely afflicted.

There were no deaths at the hospital yesterday and at the pumping station was considered the worst case, was last night reported improving.

Robert Rawling, Charles Smith, two Carter children, and the Coates' babe were discharged yesterday and taken to their several homes.

It is expected that four others will leave to-day.

Mr. Martin of the High School staff was yesterday reported on the mend.

Miss Margaret McKnight of the Public School staff joined the hospital staff yesterday.

Mrs. Harrison Stringer provided night supper for the nursing staff on Saturday.

Mrs. J. D. Christie followed this splendid example yesterday and any others desirous of continuing the service should give warning ahead to secure a date.

Chairman Crab of the Hospital Board called at 10 o'clock last night with the statement that there had been one death in town yesterday, that of Mr. Revinal Little of the North Ward.

Mrs. Little contracted the disease at Castleton. No new cases were reported to the local physicians yesterday and it is believed that the epidemic wave has passed its maximum in Simcoe.

No Connection With Norfolk House. Though situated in the Norfolk House annex, there is no connection between the public house and the hospital. They are separated by a solid wall and sealed fireproof doors. Patrons of the house have nothing whatever to fear.

He Came Farther. The old man Taylor, after spending one week on remand, appeared before Magistrate Guntton yesterday, pleaded guilty of the theft of $2 worth of hay and gave a lien on his team of horses as a guarantee of the costs. He had refused to answer to his summons. The case was adjourned for a week for his convenience and a second time the Crown witnesses turned up in vain.

Meanwhile Taylor got on to Mt. Eglin. A warrant for arrest brought him back, but the witnesses were out of town, some of them at Port Burwell, and Taylor refused to be detained in preference to the prospect of additional costs later on. Some two weeks ago we predicted that Taylor would come farther and pay more.

Another Defiant. Arthur Garvey was picked up by Dominion Policeman Attelear and

BRITISH LEADERS' TRIBUTES TO NAVY

Appropriate Messages Sent On Occasion of Trifalgar Day

London, Oct. 22.—On the occasion of the annual celebration of Nelson Day, the Navy League received today messages from leading public men.

"On the courage, skill and endurance of British seamen depend, and always have depended, the issues of the great war," wrote A. J. Balfour, secretary of state for foreign affairs.

"But for them, our continental allies would have been severed from all external aid."

Admiral Sir David Beatty said: "On this anniversary of the triumphant establishment of British supremacy, the grand fleet sends greetings to the Navy League."

A message from Sir Douglas Haig, commander-in-chief of the British armies in France, read:

"The heart of everyone in the British army goes out with mine to all officers and men of the royal navy and mercantile marine. Words fall me in expressing adequately the gratitude and admiration for our comrades of a sister service. Thanks to their triumphant efforts, we remain mistress of the seas and supplies of all kinds, not merely for our own empire, but also for our allies, have not for a moment ceased to flow."

Admiral Viscount Jellicoe wrote: "The events of the present year have emphasized to an exceptional degree the supreme value of seapower, not only to the British Empire, but to the Allies' cause as a whole."

It is a power alone that has made it possible to bring to and maintain in the main theatre of the war or the western front that great United States army which has turned the scale of battle. It is sea power also that has made possible the recent great victories in Palestine and Macedonia."

To The Editor of The Courier

Buffalo, Oct. 18, 1918.

Dear Sir,—It is with profound regret that the writer learns of the death of two of the men who were numbered in the Rotary dinner at which I spoke. Mr. Gordon Scarfe's death comes in the nature of a genuine personal loss, as we had been given a great deal before and after the accident that hastened his death. Mr. Jarvis I did not know, as well, except that he was an enthusiastic admirer of mine, he had splendid ideas with reference to the strengthening of the relations existing between the British Empire and the United States, ideas that were of great value to both countries. The real tragedy in the death of these men was that they both were young, both were useful citizens of the great Dominion, both eager for righteousness, both took and gave so much to life, their death is felt by those far beyond the boundaries of Brantford. My sincere sympathy goes out to their loved ones and their friends. I am, very truly yours,

JOHN Mc F. HOWIE.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

MUST RAISE THE LOAN TO MARKET THE WHEAT

Great Dependence of Grain Growers on Success of Present Campaign—How it was Done Last Year

No class of men in the Dominion is more directly interested in the success of the forthcoming Victory Loan than the grain growers. Notwithstanding the decrease in the 1918 yield per acre throughout the West it is expected that there will be available for export to Great Britain close to 100,000,000 bushels, which at the price fixed by the Government will bring to the grain growers no less than $225,000,000 in real money.

The grain growers responded to the appeal for more production by putting in nearly 2,000 more acres of wheat than last year. It is unfortunate that in these stressful times, there should have been a reduced crop year, but the fact that they responded to the urge to produce more indicates their hearty support of the Government's war policy. The circumstance that $225,000,000 will pour into the pockets of the grain growers on the delivery of this year's crop is a great deal towards strengthening the country's financial position.

Britain Wants Our Wheat.

This is how the Victory Loan figures in the possibilities of the future: It is through the Victory Loan that the wheat crop is financed. Great Britain wants our wheat as she wants many other of our products, and under the necessity of continuing at high pressure the many war services she is not in a position to pay for the wheat at once. The Dominion Government must provide the cash which goes into the pockets of the western farmers, and it is done through the Victory Loan.

It is the policy of the Government to supply the grain growers with the possible financing of this year's crop. Two million people living west of the great lakes primarily and all the people of Canada to a less extent are interested in the question. They cannot afford to let the wheat fail and it will fall, at least partially, unless the people of Canada place such a sum at the disposal of the Finance Minister as will be able to meet all financial contingencies.

In the fiscal year, 1915, our farmers exported animal and agricultural products valued at $209,000,000. During the last fiscal year they exported no less than $740,000,000, the largest agricultural exports in the history of the country. The advances made by the Government last year permitted not only the prompt disposal and movement of the wheat crop but it put millions of dollars at the disposal of the pockets of the western farmers. This is a stimulating effect on the business life of the Prairie Provinces. There was never so much money in circulation.

There is only one market for this year's surplus wheat, and that is Great Britain. The success of the forthcoming Victory Loan will make possible the financing of this year's crop. Two million people living west of the great lakes primarily and all the people of Canada to a less extent are interested in the question. They cannot afford to let the wheat fail and it will fall, at least partially, unless the people of Canada place such a sum at the disposal of the Finance Minister as will be able to meet all financial contingencies.

This is the situation in a nutshell.

INDIVIDUAL FLYING

Formation flying is almost impossible at night. A squadron usually receives orders to hold itself in readiness several hours before hand and the machines are loaded, warmed up and drawn out of the hangars. When final orders arrive they take the air individually and at successive intervals, generally three to five minutes apart, each machine its motor humming sullenly, rolling momentarily into the flare of the field lights, which throw its least details and the faces of its occupants into high relief. A sharp signal from the field officers, a wave of the pilot's hand, the sound of the motor grows suddenly heavy and the huge ship glides slowly and majestically off. The same procedure follows for each of the remaining machines.

HOW AIRMEN HURL DEATH TO THE FOE

Bombing Vividly Described—Huge Machines, to Carry Three Tons of Explosives, Now Building

By a U.S. Bombing Instructor.

To-day bombing, after a comparatively slow development at the start, has come into its own. In numbers and interest it outweighs all other forms of the service. It counts in its list of pilots and observers many of the most famous names in Allied aviation. It has become a tactical and strategic arm of paramount importance, carrying destruction and dismay from the remotest and most distant battle line to the towns and factories of the far interior.

The bombing plane operates in all altitudes, from 500 feet or less to four miles or more above the earth, and work which the days leave unfinished the nights complete. It is the latest and most powerful plane built, nearly equal in speed and climbing ability to the best of the pursuit machines. Heavily loaded for offense and armed for defense, it combines the best elements of other arms.

The efficiency of the service depends in the first instance on the directing headquarters, which must possess an exact knowledge of the objectives and must exercise a judicious choice of those which at the particular moment are most interesting from the standpoint of the military situation. In the second instance it depends on the mobile organization of bombing units, and on the methods, permitting them to concentrate rapidly in that sector where their presence is needed, and to carry out prescribed raids without delay and in spite of the weather. On the third instance it depends on the precision with which the bombs are dropped.

With the present bomb sights and methods a good team should never make an error of more than 250 feet at 20 matter what altitude. This question of precision is one of training, combined with a morale which insists on obtaining over and over the same results achieved in practice at the rear.

Night bombing is unfortunately largely dependent upon atmospheric conditions. Certain objectives furthermore are difficult to locate at night, though fairly dark, yet permit flying. On the other hand, at night, anti-aircraft fire is much less intense, and up to the present time the defensive activity of enemy aviation is entirely negligible. Consequently the night bombing machines need not be particularly adapted for comb work, and may concentrate upon carrying capacity. Each team operates individually and may make one or several trips over the objective in order to obtain a good shot which, for the most part, is generally very high, and, as an enemy machine passes the lines, are visible from a great distance and serve as guides. The rocket from the trenches on dark nights, and the searchlights which flash of artillery may help to find our lines, and finally the system of flares and searchlights within our own lines, defining the aerial night routes, supply the necessary points of reckoning upon which to take the course of their objective and return to their aerodrome. Also, when the night light service is in action the corresponding system of lights, which is fairly permanent, is of invaluable assistance.

Navigation is accomplished by means of maps, compasses and, when possible, the stars. As their experiences increase, however, teams constantly strive to reduce their dependence upon such aids by familiarizing with the sector in which they are operating. Nevertheless the use of maps remains indispensable, particularly for distant raids, and in the great night jiggerernauts, such as the Humber-Pago, the navigation officer, seated in his compartment, surrounded by maps, charts, compasses and other meteorological instruments, directs the course much as a liner is piloted.

Formation flying is almost impossible at night. A squadron usually receives orders to hold itself in readiness several hours before hand and the machines are loaded, warmed up and drawn out of the hangars. When final orders arrive they take the air individually and at successive intervals, generally three to five minutes apart, each machine its motor humming sullenly, rolling momentarily into the flare of the field lights, which throw its least details and the faces of its occupants into high relief. A sharp signal from the field officers, a wave of the pilot's hand, the sound of the motor grows suddenly heavy and the huge ship glides slowly and majestically off. The same procedure follows for each of the remaining machines.

The summits of the highest mountains do not give an impression of solitude equal to that experienced by those who fly at night. Deafened by the roar of his motor, his eyes straining into the night world, the fiercer proceeds upon his mission, the sole moving point in the tenebrous infinity. On crossing the lines and at the noise of the rader's motors, all the enemy's lights for a radius of 15 miles or more are extinguished. The sharp rattle of a machine gun and the cough of the anti-aircraft gun announce that the enemy is getting into action. Bullets whistle, shells burst, the enemy's searchlights put forth their long fingers, creep about the sky, cross and re-cross, clothing the heavens in a Scotch plaid of mingling rays. The machine flies straight ahead. Its mission is to find its objective, launch its bombs upon it and return as quickly as possible to the artillery defence of the enemy is dangerous only if concentrated. If the ray of a searchlight catches and follows it, it zig-zags or sidesteps back into the darkness.

HIDE AND SEEK

When the objective is small and well defended, the aviator, blinded by searchlights, plays hide and seek with his hunters. He withdraws, returns, withdraws again, and waits for his chance. Old hands at night bombing never lose their calm. They know that the defence is always a little behind the attack. When the objective is large the aerial defence can do nothing. If the barrage is concentrated at certain points of its circumference, the machine slides steps them and returns upon the target from another quarter. Though the circle of defence be complete, the barrage cannot nevertheless occupy all altitudes. If the shrapnel is bursting between six or eight thousands and descends to five thousand. Whether he goes above or below, it is of little importance. The target being large, he is sure to get a hit.

The bomber who places his shells in a factory under full activity, who destroys a munitions depot, or burns the warehouses of an important station, finds full recompense in the spectacle he leaves behind him. His apotheosis is written in flames which spread over the earth and mount triumphantly into the air. Such conflagrations will rise thousands of feet and burn hours after they have been started.

Relieve Your Rheumatism For 25c.

NR does it by improving digestion, assimilation and elimination—the logical way.

NR Today—Relief or No Pay

There are three vital processes of human existence—the digestion of food, the extraction of poisons from it and the elimination of the waste.

Let anything interfere with these processes—let them be interrupted or improperly carried on, and sickness is the result.

Poor digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn often means impoverished blood, weakness, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which pollutes the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of the digestive system, and leads to the development of many serious diseases.

Rheumatism, due to some interference with the process of elimination, is a waste of time and money. THE SITUATION.

The hammering of the enemy on a fifty-mile front continues in Belgium and Northern France. The process is proceeding with satisfactory results, although the foe is putting up a bitter struggle. In this regard the general public should eliminate the idea that with so-called peace proposals emanating from Berlin the Hun is becoming less vigorous in his fighting tactics. In fact, all the authorities agree that his retreat movement has been conducted with much skill and that with shortened lines there is a stiffening of the defence.

The civil population of Flanders is now being released at the rate of tens of thousands daily and the work of ministering to the needs of these long-suffering people is stated to be handled in admirable fashion.

An American attack upon a comparatively small scale brought about the capture of some strategic points.

A significant incident is to be found in the fact that Maximilian Harden, addressing several thousand people in Berlin on Sunday, made the statement, "The Kaiser must take up his cross of concluding quickly necessary peace and accepting whatever is hard." Moreover, he was loudly cheered in making that announcement and none of those in authority dare to lay a hand on him.

Thirty-four days after launching an offensive in Serbia the Allied troops are bringing freedom near to Rumania and have cut an important route to Turkey. The French, who are operating in conjunction with the Serbs and Italians, have reached Vidin, a Bulgarian town on the south bank of the Danube, and are taking immediate steps to stop navigation of the river at this point.

GERMANY'S LATEST.

On all sides Germany's latest answer is regarded as absolutely evasive and utterly inefficient.

It is prefaced by the hope that "the President of the United States will approve of no demand which would be irreconcilable with the honor of the German people"—just as though the men in control of the Fatherland ever had any idea of that quality—and then with regard to the charge of malicious and wanton work the plea is advanced, "For the covering of a retreat destruction will always be necessary." This first official admission of "retreat" is the only true note in the whole document.

The statement is further made that "in order to avoid anything which might hamper the work of peace," orders have been issued to all submarine commanders not to destroy any more passenger vessels, but guarantees cannot be given that all will receive them in time. Suppose they do. Would the abandonment of that criminally murderous form of campaign give Germany any special cause for consideration?

The effusion closes with the announcement that the constitution of the Fatherland is now undergoing a fundamental change, and the people are coming into their own in the matter of representation. Does any sane man believe that any such program is in earnest, or that the populace are in readiness to be freed from the domination of their war over lords?

Finally the whole tone adopted is that Germany can still tread on equal terms with the Allies, but this can never be. She must admit defeat and get only such terms as those to which a conquered and utterly discredited nation is entitled.

BIG GUN TAKEN.

By Courier Leased Wire London, Monday, Oct. 21.—Allies forces, which have swept the Germans from Belgium and Flanders, captured the big 15-inch cannon with which the Germans have been bombarding Dunkirk during the past year. The gun was undamaged, according to an official statement issued at the War Office.

French detachments which crossed the Lys have repulsed a violent enemy counter-attack and succeeded in improving their bridgeheads east of the river.

The second British army is on the bank of the Escaut from Baillet to Helchin. In spite of enemy resistance it has advanced more than 1,500 metres between the Escaut and the Lys.

Friends of Mrs. Charles Benwell will learn with regret that her serious illness from Spanish influenza.

THE LOAN WILL GO ON

The decision to go ahead with Canada's Victory Loan, despite the influenza epidemic, is a sensible one. The visitation of this plague is proving most severe throughout the Dominion with lamentable results, but the loan is an absolute necessity, not only to help conquer the Hun plague, but also to help the industrial wheels moving and to pay the farmers for their crops. The average man hasn't time to bother with the fundamentals of economics, and he possesses a confident idea that there is always plenty of cash on hand for those who have things to sell. As a matter of fact, without the previous Canadian loans and the one about to be offered, there would, to a very large extent, be manufacturing and agricultural stagnation.

For the farmer, the 1917 loan was able to finance the only purchaser who could buy his excess products, namely Great Britain.

For the Canadian manufacturer also it continued to make available the best export market he had ever possessed, and to carry out his war orders.

Great Britain having borne a tremendous burden of war for four years, cannot be expected to finance her war purchases in this country.

The United States is perfecting a vast war machine. Her financial resources are required for that purpose and to place credits at the disposal of the Allies. It is necessary, therefore, that Canada should raise the funds required, not only to carry on our normal and war activities, but also to advance substantial sums to Great Britain for her purchases here.

Residents of Brantford and Brant County not only owe it to themselves from patriotic reasons to subscribe up to the top of their ability in connection with the new flotation, but also from the more sordid consideration of keeping matters moving and in addition securing a thoroughly sound investment. Let the response be hearty and unconfined.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Germany's clumsy effort to talk like a sucking dove, hasn't served to side the wolf underneath.

The Hohenzollern outfit talking of "honor," is about equal to a courtesan boasting of virtue.

The Kaiser is reported to be spending more and more of his time in prayer. Perhaps with his head bowed he hopes to miss seeing the handwriting on the wall.

The Detroit Free Press is willing to bet at great odds that the Crown Prince will never sit on the throne. It is a safe wager. The thing that is going to keep him busy is looking after his bruised shins among the thrown.

The Provincial Secretary has issued instructions that public meetings may be held in connection with the Victory Loan, and in this, said secretary has done wrong. With churches and schools closed to prevent the spread of contagion, why should an exception be made for any cause? Does the Secretary imagine that the Spanish influenza microbes would be considerate enough to avoid loan gatherings?

RUMANIAN BORDER IS REACHED

Allied Troops Block Danube And Cut Route to Turkey

SPLENDID STROKE

Paris, Oct. 21.—A French official report on the Balkans operations, issued to-night, shows that the Franco-Serbian forces are in touch with Rumanian territory on the north bank of the Danube. Rumania is still under German and Austrian occupation, but Mackensen is believed to have moved the bulk of his forces from Rumania into northern Serbia with the object ultimately of holding the line of the Danube to prevent an Allied invasion of Austria. The Allies are heading for Orsova, where the frontiers of Rumania, Serbia and Austria meet, and where the river navigation is difficult. The French have blocked the Danube, the most valuable route that remained open for the transmission of war supplies from the Central Powers to Turkey.

The text of the statement follows: "On October 20, thirty-four days after launching their offensive, the French troops reached the Danube, in the region of Vidin, and took measures to prevent all traffic on the river. An enemy monitor was forced ashore on the north bank under our artillery fire.

"The same day Allied forces occupied Zaitchar. Their advanced elements are within ten kilometres of Laratchin, on the Morava. Serbian troops are in contact north of Aleksintz and Krushevatz (in Serbia) with German forces strongly entrenched."

There was no issue of the Aurora. This week owing to the fact that the entire staff is incapacitated by influenza.

Social Equality—"A Father" writes, "A young man is paying attention to my daughter who is much beneath us in social position, what do you advise?" You are probably giving too much value to your social position. Some of the greatest scoundrels occupy exalted social positions, and some of the best men are in lowly walks of life. If the young man referred to is honorable and industrious, you should think twice before forbidding your daughter to receive his attentions. If he is disreputable, no matter what his social position, you ought to use all your influence to sever the connection between them.

PARIS HAS 'FLU' UNDER CONTROL

Situation Reported to be Well in Hand—No Deaths Yesterday

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL NEW HEALTH OFFICER

From Our Own Correspondent.

Paris, Oct. 22.—At a special meeting of the Council and Board of Health, the following were appointed as a Board of Governors for the Emergency Hospital: Mr. John Penman, (chairman), Mayor C. B. Robinson and Warden E. Pitts.

The following ladies comprise the management committee: Mrs. Sinclair, Mrs. Dunn, Miss Craig, Miss McVicar and Miss Robson. Secretary, Miss Nellie Smith, assistant, Miss Stewart Jones. At the council meeting, Dr. W. J. Forde was appointed medical health officer in place of Dr. Lovett, deceased.

The treasurer was also empowered to borrow money to carry on the needs of the hospital. There are some 25 cots in the institution, and about all are filled now. It would seem that the epidemic is now well in hand, no deaths being reported yesterday.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Woodson passed away on Sunday from an attack of influenza, and was buried this afternoon.

Mrs. Garwood of Paris Station was laid to rest yesterday afternoon. Deceased was in her 32nd year and died from pneumonia following a few days' illness from influenza. A husband and two sons survive.

All that was mortal of the late Joseph Martin was laid to rest this afternoon in Paris cemetery. He was another victim of the prevailing epidemic. Deceased was born in Birmingham, England, and was in his 30th year. He had resided in Paris for 13 years. In 1911 he was married to Miss Elizabeth Richardson, who survives him. Deceased was a talented musician, and was a member of St. James' Ministerial troupe.

By the bursting of a high-power press at the shell works yesterday morning, one man was badly cut about the head and hand. He is being treated in the emergency hospital. Two others received minor injuries.

It is reported that during the night, Mr. W. A. Shannon took a paralytic stroke. He has not been well for some time.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

THE POSSIBILITIES OF IRRIGATION

Wheat on one of the Veterans' Farms, near Tilley, Alberta. Wheat surprises a person most when travelling through the irrigated areas of Southern Alberta. In the country of crops that can be successfully grown there, their abundant yields, and their excellent quality. Wheat, oats, barley and flax, the standard crops of the Canadian West grow there and give as heavy yields as anywhere else on the continent. Alfalfa thrives as it does nowhere else in Canada, and is liberally making fortunes for its growers. By the use of water the crops of clover and the many varieties of nutritious tame grasses are multiplied manifold. In the garden vegetables of all kinds, including those that are associated with hotter climates, such as tomatoes, melons, squashes, grow in the open so well as to indicate great possibilities in this direction.

Wheat, of course, is the dominant crop there as it is in those areas of Western Canada where irrigation is not practised. Oats, barley and flax are also grown extensively. The yields of all these grains compare very favorably with those in any other part of the west. Crops of wheat this season that have been profusely irrigated are averaging thirty-five bushels to the acre. Some crops will thresh as high as forty bushels or more to the acre. The yields of other grains are equally as good.

and excellent flavor, cantaloupes, plowed up gives considerably larger yields. It makes possible the development to the highest degree of the live stock industry. Horses, cattle, sheep and pigs all like it. Combined with oats, barley, the clovers and grasses which grow abundantly in Southern Alberta, alfalfa enables the irrigation farmer to give his stock the best balanced food possible. He is thus able to get the most milk from his cows, the most wool from his sheep, and to have his cattle, pigs and lambs ready for market in the earliest possible time. No wonder there is prosperity wherever alfalfa grows.

The advantage to the farmer of a great diversity of crops cannot be too greatly emphasized. He is able to make his plans for the future with greater certitude. He can devote his chief attention to crops that remunerate him best. He is not greatly influenced by the fluctuations of the markets, and when any of his products are down others are likely to be up. It thus makes for greater stabilization of his efforts, and assures him of a regular and steady income year after year. A farmer who grows on an extent that any other crop grown on the land after it has been

ONTARIO TROOPS CAPTURED SERIES OF FRENCH TOWNS

Villages on Right Flank of Canadian Lines Taken Saturday

By Courier Leased Wire
With the Canadian Forces, Oct. 20.—(By J. F. B. Livesey, Canadian Press correspondent)—After capturing a series of villages on our right flank, including Lorchow, a Western Ontario battalion yesterday entered Denain. The line was then established east of Escandria, Pernaing to the east of Windignies Hamange. Good work has been done by the Canadian independent force of motor machine gunners and cyclist corps who, pushing out east along roads, except our right, and in the Pouchain, which the enemy had made the pivot of his withdrawal, found the resistance offered was not very formidable. A fringe of machine gunners had been left by the Germans, of whom a certain number were captured.

Town was maintained with the enemy throughout the day, but it is quite possible his main forces have miles away. Owing to the continued dense fog turning it has been impossible to take aerial photographs or to air scouting. We have gone fifteen miles forward in the past two days. Practically all the blind luck is on the side of the Germans. Our difficulties are accentuated by the large number of prisoners blown up by the enemy in the roads through the territory captured and the many bridges destroyed. In repairing these we have had the willing help of ten or twelve thousand civilians released by our advance. Everywhere the villagers are welcoming our troops with manifestations of joy.

The Canadian Red Cross is rushing up lorry loads of comforts for the afflicted population. It is merely guesswork as to whether the enemy intends to hold Valenciennes. If he does we are now on the western fringe of the great forest of Vieogne, which would be a natural line of defence.

To visit to Douai shows that the city has not been destroyed, but sacked. A half-hearted attempt was made to burn down a part of Grand Place, but as a whole, the buildings are intact, including the wonderful old Hotel Deville (town hall) with its superb middle age decorations and frescoes, but here the hand of the Hun is evident, because many historic pictures have been removed from their frames, and his various business departments he tramped on the floor in ruin. Everything movable has gone. In the Cathedral the rich tapestries litter the aisles and the striped lead from the roof lies in piles awaiting removal. A clean sweep was made of the city. Even these things not worth removing or too bulky have been trampled on and broken. Perhaps to provide sacks to remove foot leather beds have been emptied and their contents removed. The shell of the city is left, but the contents have gone. It is a city of echoing silence, peopled only by starving cats.

WINDSOR CHURCHES ORDERED CLOSED

Border City Places Ban on All of the Public Gatherings

By Courier Leased Wire
Windsor, Ont., Oct. 21.—There were 33 new cases of Spanish influenza reported this morning, making 33 cases over the week-end. Two deaths occurred yesterday. Wilnot Warder of Waterville, and Joseph Eron, Sandwich West, succumbed to the disease. All churches were closed yesterday and a ban has been placed on all public gatherings for an indefinite period.

Improved in London.
London, Ont., Oct. 21.—The "flu" situation here shows a slight improvement. Over the week-end here there were eight deaths, directly due to the epidemic, but so far as can be learned from a canvass of the city, morning and hospital reports this morning there has been no increase in the number of serious cases. There are still a great many "colds" about the city and as is the case with other places there is a great lack of nurses here. Amongst the soldiers' families of the epidemic has been detected. In four days there has been but one death, while the discharges continue to the hospital.

Fewer Deaths in Montreal.
Montreal, Oct. 21.—New cases of influenza reported in Montreal since Saturday afternoon amounted to 1,112. The deaths were 130. The number of new cases shows a slight increase over Friday and Saturday's returns, but the deaths are fewer.

KING WHEAT ON THRONE THROUGH VICTORY LOAN

Financial Arrangement to Advantage of Grain Growers

On this point Sir Thomas White, Minister of Finance, said: "A very considerable portion of the western wheat crop will be financed this year from the Victory Loan. The crop could not be moved unless the Dominion Government furnished a considerable amount of money by way of an advance to the British Government. As a result of negotiations between the Dominion and British Governments it has been arranged that the entire United States Liberty Loan drive, their biggest financial effort of the war, has been conducted under very serious influenza conditions and carried to a triumphant over-subscription. It was felt that the public would appreciate the difficulty which the epidemic had created and respond to the cause even more enthusiastically than if conditions were normal. On the basis of the foregoing facts and conditions, the decision was made to postpone the campaign as scheduled. The drive will therefore open on Monday next, October 23rd. Sir Thomas White said: "The influenza epidemic will be the means of preventing the 2 million bushels of wheat from being sold, but will not interfere with the sale of the Victory Loan. The prospects are of the very best and I am confident that the west will do its full share."

VICTORY LOAN NOT TO BE POSTPONED

Campaign Will Proceed as Per Schedule Despite Influenza

By Courier Leased Wire
Toronto, Oct. 21.—At a meeting of the Victory Loan Dominion Executive held this forenoon it was unanimously decided that despite the prevalence of influenza there should be no postponement of the campaign. In view of reports from a number of provinces and districts that the epidemic was seriously interfering with the sale of the loan, the question of possible postponement has had the consideration of members of the executive during the week. To-day's meeting was called specially to definitely decide the issue.

While there was no disposition to minimize either the extent or the distressing nature of the epidemic it was felt that more harm than good was likely to result from postponement. The main factors against postponement were: "The immediate need for the money to be raised by the loan for war purposes; the uncertainty as to how long it will take for the epidemic to die out in the various provinces; no two of which are affected alike at the same time; the fact that the year preventing thorough work by canvassers; the additional expense involved and the loss of that momentum of interest in the loan which is already abundantly manifested. The chairman, Mr. E. R. Wood, reported that he had telegraphed every province asking for a survey of the situation from a medical standpoint with an expression of opinion from the health officers as to when conditions might be expected to be better than at present. In some localities where the epidemic has been worst the last few days produced a noticeable improvement. Reports received by telegraph from nearly every province were uniformly optimistic.

UP TO KAISER SAYS HARDEN

Emperor Must Take Up His Cross and Conclude a Speedy Peace

Amsterdam, Oct. 21.—"We are at one. When a fortress can no longer hold, it is no dishonor if the commander surrenders. The Kaiser must take up his cross and conclude a speedy peace and accept whatever is laid. Let the Kaiser declare himself ready, and let him fight himself with new Germany as he has done before." This attitude was expressed by Maximilian Harden, addressed to several thousand people in Berlin on Sunday, was loudly applauded. Herr Harden, whose plain-spoken language in Die Zukunft, of which he is editor, has caused a suspension of the journal on several occasions, was particularly scathing in the remarks of his address, which he made without hat or hindrance. His remarkable declaration respecting surrender and the Kaiser's cross followed a review of the situation, in which he pointed out that Bulgaria was occupied, Turkey's fate was sealed, and Austria-Hungary was a mere puppet.

Sporting Comment

A HOLLOW VICTORY

This Toronto Car anyone tell us how they got that way? After their glorious achievement on Saturday, beating a team crippled by influenza, their recognition, the Hillcrests returned to their home stamping ground attended by verbal brass bands and hailed by a reception committee of sport writers. In not one of the Toronto papers is mention made of the manner in which the Toronto team made Cather Lenington limp to the plate in the tenth and take his turn at bat when he was unable to stand on his feet. If Toronto is satisfied with the manner of her victory, let it go at that. But others see differently. The Hamilton Herald, which has never been accused of blind partisanship for Brantford, says: "Hillcrests? Toronto had a fine chance in the winning of Saturday's final O.L.A.A. game to show themselves true sportsmen, but they preferred to be congratulated by the 'Gather Lenington' of the Pratt & Letchworth team, was injured in the eighth inning when sliding into second base, and when his turn came to bat at the tenth he was unable to walk to the plate. The game was delayed fifteen minutes while an effort was made to have Hillcrests continue to a slight change in the batting order. Finally, after Lenington's injured foot had been bound up, he hobbled to the plate, and struck out still while Scott struck him out. He couldn't stand up without the aid of the bat. "It was small business on the part of the Toronto team to refuse to allow some other member of the team to hit for him. The Brant had only nine men in uniform, and rather than make the injured chap struggle to hit for the team, it was with some justice that the Hamilton Herald does the proper thing to agree to a change. They were leading by 2 to 0 at the time, and none of the other hitters on the team were more liable to upset the score than Lenington if he had been free of injury. "The Spanish influenza epidemic in Brantford hit the Pratt & Letchworth team hard, and it was with difficulty that they managed to secure a full team. They didn't have another player eligible, and under such circumstances it was hardly left for Hillcrests' management to do but to concede a point, even if it was against baseball rules. "In amateur sport the element of sport is supposed to predominate. Victory is not expected to be secured at any cost. This seems to be what is expected in professional hockey, but not where the game is played for the fun that is derived from it. Had the Hillcrests agreed to the change in the batting order they would have been doing exactly what amateur sport calls for. But they steadfastly refused to do anything to help their opponents, and they were bound to the big crowd that, after all, the amateur are just as eager to take advantage of any opportunity that presents itself, so long as it means victory. "What team that has an amateur sport boast of?"

LI-GOVERNOR OF QUEBEC

By Courier Leased Wire
Ottawa, Oct. 21.—While no official announcement is yet forthcoming the impression is growing that Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, chief justice of the Supreme Court, will succeed Sir P. E. LeBlanc as lieutenant-governor of Quebec. In the event of such an appointment, Sir Louis Davies is suggested as likely to succeed Sir Charles Fitzpatrick in the chief justiceship.

RESUME GOVERNMENT

By Courier Leased Wire
Ottawa, Oct. 21.—Information that the Belgian cabinet is losing no time in making its plans to resume the Government of the re-occupied Belgian territory, is contained in a cable received by the Belgian consular general. It states that at a meeting of the cabinet held towards the week-end, steps were taken to restore the normal distribution of Belgian money in the freed territory. After considering the military and political situation it was decided to once again formal reconstruction measures. As a token of admiration and gratitude to the army, it was decided to make more favorable allowances to the relatives of Belgian soldiers.

CAUSE OF FALLING HAIR

Dandruff is the primary cause of falling hair. This disagreeable condition of the scalp and hair follicles is due to a temporary or permanent baldness. Loss of hair may also be ascribed to the use of improper hair care, including the use of harsh soaps, and the use of hair oils which may produce gradual decay of the hair. Do not use a hair oil preparation that contains alcohol, benzene, or other harsh chemicals. The cause of hair loss is to be found in your own hair. Buy a portion of your hair care products from the hair care department of the hair care store. Lux soap is the natural color of the hair. Value being in concentrated form never spoils and lasts longer.

TORONTO OF OLD.

The Plays That Entertained City in Its Young Days.

The death in London, Ont., of Mr. A. D. Holman, is a reminder to old-time Toronto folk of the "palm days" of the Holman Opera Co. One of these old-timers has been speaking to the Toronto News of the plays and the artists that brightened the grey life of Toronto from 1887 to 1891. It was the father of the late Mr. "Alfie" D. Holman who directed the fortunes of the Royal Lyceum Theatre, which was situated in the rear of Mr. Lyonde's photograph gallery, on King street. Mr. George Holman was counted a genius in stage management and in the details of "production."

His brother, Mr. Alfred, was the treasurer, but George supervised everything outside the box office. Among the members of the company were Mr. W. H. Crane, so favorably known in the modern theatre, and Signor Pergini, the famous tenor, who in those days warbled under the less imposing name of Jack Chatterley. The soprano and the prima donna were respectively Julia and Sally Holman, daughters of the director. Mr. Crane said on a recent visit to Toronto that he had never known a more versatile young woman than Sallie. She was winsome and distinctive, appearing to advantage in grand opera, in comic opera, in tragedy, comedy and in farce.

When Mme. Testi and her company gave "La Grande Duchesse" (Offenbach) in the old Music Hall, now the Public Library Branch on Church street, Mr. Holman closed his house and took the whole company to see the new opera. Two weeks afterwards he gave a production of the work in English, which was most creditable, perhaps more creditable touch upon the infatuation of the gilded youth of that period for Sallie and Julia. "Do you remember Fred?" Mr. Crane was asked recently. "Remember him?" responded "Billy." "I wanted to kill him. I liked the girl myself." Another distinguished citizen of to-day telegraphed his father from the confines of Upper Canada College that if he could not marry Julia, he would die. The answer was laconic: "Die!" The young man thought better of it and became a lawyer. Sallie, like most players, married in the profession and howls of protest must have arisen from a flock of collegians.

It is said that Mr. A. D. Holman was the last survivor of this distinguished and artistic family.

Crisp Criticism of Gospel.

Gospel is a sort of smoke that comes from the dirty tobacco-pipes of those who diffuse it; it proves nothing but the bad taste of the smoker.

To Complete the Illusion.

She—"No, you are too poor. If I washed dishes for a man it might make him look upon me as a servant."
He—"Oh, no; you'd have to break them to do that."

Danger to Oilway Finger.

An Oilway Indian would not point his finger at the moon, as fair Luna would consider it a great insult and instantly bite off the offending member.
