

GRANDSTAND DISASTER

Glasgow More Serious Than Reported

Only One Already Dead and Many Others Fatally Injured—Game Went on.

Special to the Daily Nugget.
Glasgow, April 7.—The casualty list from the disaster at the football ground here Saturday, when a number were killed or injured by the collapse of the grand stand, was completed today. The disaster resulted in the death of 21 and the injuring of 250. Of the 200 of the latter so seriously injured were taken to an infirmary for treatment, where 150 still remain. A large number of deaths will undoubtedly result. A strange circumstance of the disaster was that the players and spectators on other parts of the ground knew nothing of the seriousness of the accident and the game was played to a conclusion, resulting in a draw.

Murderous Officers

Special to the Daily Nugget.
London, April 7.—Former Trooper Bush, of the Veldt Carbineers, now at Liverpool, states that the convicted Australian officers of that corps, since disbanded, murdered from 35 to 40 people. As an instance of their cold-bloodedness the trooper relates how three Dutch children, two brothers 10 and 12 years respectively and their sister, arrived at the carbineer's camp for food. The girl and one of the boys were wounded maliciously. The uninjured boy took his little brother on his back and was carrying him away when a second shot killed both. The girl died shortly afterward.

HAS MADE CONFESSION

Dumbill Implicates Two Others
Says Meat From the Robert Kerr Was Secretly Disposed of to Butchers.

Joseph Dumbill, the young man who attempted suicide a week ago Saturday afternoon by shooting himself through the head, is still alive and what is more strange is, there is every show of him recovering, notwithstanding he has lost an eye and a spoonful or two of brains. Today he was dressed and unaided walked from his bed to the operating room. A few days ago he did not know but what he was liable to die almost any time, in consequence of which he sent for Mr. Troughton, general manager of the Pacific Cold Storage Company, to whom in the presence of witnesses he made the statement implicating himself and two others in a scheme by which the company had been defrauded out of a considerable sum of money through the surreptitious sale of meat. His accomplices he stated were A. Beckwith and a man named Borden. Their arrangement was that Beckwith, who was the day watchman on the cold storage boat Robert Kerr, was to issue the meat upon a requisition of Dumbill, who being an employee would attend to the handling of it, and Borden would sell it. Dumbill, pending the arrival of Mr. Troughton, was acting manager. According to the statement made he was to receive 15 per cent. of the money realized, their peculations, he says, amounting to about $1,900. The would-be suicide further stated that it was his fear of detection that prompted him to make away with himself.

South Africa gets twenty-four scholarships in all, nine for Rhodesia, twelve for Cape Colony and three for Natal. Australasia gets twenty-one, Newfoundland three, Bermuda three, and Jamaica three.

Arthur Borden, the third man, was on his way outside, but was intercepted at Selwyn yesterday and placed under arrest. He will be brought back for trial at once. Beckwith, who was mate of the Robert Kerr last year, denies the story of Dumbill and says he is crazy.

Gov. Ross' Return Delayed

Among the officials doubts are being freely expressed as to whether Commissioner Ross will be able to return to the city before the opening of navigation, as was his original intention. In the wire that was received from him Saturday no intimation was given of the probable date of his departure. When Comptroller Lithgow, who returned last week, was in Seattle he wired the commissioner if he should wait for him there and the reply came back for him to proceed as he did not know when he would get away, a circumstance that will probably account for the article appearing in the Seattle P.-I. of the 24th which stated that Mr. Ross was leaving for the north on the City of Seattle in company with Mr. H. T. Wills. Should he leave Ottawa this week and stop a day in Regina and also in Victoria it would be well toward the latter end of the month before he could get here, a season of the year when traveling over the ice is not the most enjoyable pastime imaginable. The commissioner arrived in Dawson last year on April 9, at a time when the trail was quite wet and in bad condition.

Indian Village Entirely Washed Away

Special to the Daily Nugget.
Portage La Prairie, April 7.—The Sioux Indian village near this place was destroyed by floods. The water came through the village a week ago and on Tuesday the natives moved their belongings to high ground. Nearly all the houses have been swept away and their contents lost. This damage is most seriously felt so far, but it is hoped that the worst of the trouble from floods is over. The town of Souris is completely isolated. The valley of the Souris river two miles wide is flooded many feet deep and the water is still rising. Fifty residents of the flooded Portage La Prairie district are isolated in a school house, waiting for the waters to recede. The town of Melita is cut off by floods.

PROGRESS IS SLOW

Regarding Negotiations For Boer Peace

Owing to Distance Separating Peace Commissioners From Generals Commanding.

Special to the Daily Nugget.
London, April 7.—Owing to the great distance separating members of the Transvaal mission from Steyn, former president of the Orange Free State, and Gen. Delarey, negotiations between Boer leaders in South Africa looking to the conclusion of the war make little progress. It is expected, however, that Schalkburger and his colleagues will leave shortly for a more convenient centre from which to conduct negotiations.

A careful computation of the scattered strength of all Boer commandoes places the number at from six to nine thousand.

CECIL RHODES' WILL.

The will of Cecil Rhodes marks an entirely new departure in the matter of rich men's philanthropies. The purpose he evidently had in view is broader and more comprehensive than any other of the marvelous benefactions undertaken by modern millionaires.

Natural causes have already led up to a degree of intimacy between the United States and England, which writers of a half century ago scarcely conceived to be possible.

The provisions of Cecil Rhodes will contemplate supplementing present commercial and social relations by an intellectual intimacy which will increase the feeling of cordiality and mutual esteem so noticeable of late years.

The intentions of the great empire builder as expressed in his directions to the executors of his estate, are in every respect worthy of the man. His views were too broad to be bounded by international lines.

LIQUOR PERMITS.

As was published exclusively in Saturday's issue of the Nugget, the matter of dealing with the importation of liquor into this territory will hereafter be left exclusively in the hands of the Yukon council.

This announcement means the accomplishment of a much needed reform, which public opinion in the community has long demanded. The system of issuing permits has never found favor, except among the few who were fortunate enough to secure them and even among permit holders themselves objections have often been raised.

In the future, the importation of liquor should be carried on in a much more satisfactory manner than has been the case heretofore.

The permit system had nothing to commend it.

Some day or other, and that within the not distant future, the federal government must address itself seriously to the task of constructing—or at least of aiding in the construction—of a Yukon railroad.

Tremendous stretches of country, capable of supporting a large population and in every particular worth the cost and exertion of opening up, are now lying idle and not contributing a dollar of their untold natural resources to the enrichment of the Dominion.

Peace negotiations are in progress in South Africa but Kitchener and De Wet are still paying their respects to each other through the agency of steel and lead.

The rumor that Fred Wade had been appointed to the commissionership of the territory came nearer to creating a stampede out of the country than the Treadgold concession ever thought of doing.

Dawson complains of the continued cold weather, but it helps increase the size of the winter dumps and consequently from the miner's standpoint is not altogether undesirable.

Public notice has been issued by the city authorities calling upon all good and loyal citizens to clean up their back yards. To be absolutely effective the notice should guarantee at least 48 hours of sunshine before the 15th.

The galaxy of millionaires who are to represent Uncle Sam at the King's coronation must pay their own expenses. Undoubtedly they think the honor easily worth the price and double it if necessary.

Winter is all right in its way, but there is such a thing as having even too much of winter.

Enforcing the Law.

Chicago, March 24.—With the consent of the defendants, Judge Grosscup, in the Federal Court today, issued the temporary restraining order asked for by the Interstate Commerce Commission against railroads entering Chicago. The order holds good until June 13, until further orders from the court.

SHOES

RUBBERS and RUBBER BOOTS. For Men, Women, Boys and Children.

J. P. McLENNAN. 233 FRONT STREET.

The railroads affected by the injunction are the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis, the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago, the Michigan Central, the Illinois Central and the Chicago & North-western.

Before entering the order Judge Grosscup said:

"But for the compliance of the defendants I should have required the fullest possible hearing. The matter is one of extreme importance and not to be decided without the most mature deliberation."

"Personally," said he, "I believe freight rates should be as steady and equal as postage rates and that no discriminations should be made. The person who turns over freight to a common carrier for transportation should be made to feel that he will enjoy the same rate as every other shipper. The kind of traffic on which these bills are based is much more complicated than mail matter and the rates, therefore, should be subject to that much stricter regulations. But the question here is, what power the government has to enforce the provisions of the interstate commerce act. If this application for an injunction can be maintained it will make the courts of equity the masters of the maintenance of the rates. Such a finding might also prove to be the vitalizing principle of the act."

"If any departure from the established rates is made by any of these railroads during the pendency of these orders the court will take great pains to seek out the offender and provide against further violations." It is believed that the railroads named agreed not to contest the petition for an injunction at this time, in order that other roads eventually might be brought into court and compelled to live up to the provisions of the Sherman law and the interstate commerce act.

In addressing the court before the counsel for the railroads said no opposition would be made. Judge W. A. Day, for the government, declared that fewer men than can be counted on the fingers of the two hands enjoyed a monopoly in freight rates in the United States when grain, the products of the stock yards and the interests affiliated with them were to be shipped. The railroads, he said, ignored all law, and while the cutting of rates went on prior to the year 1901, during that year the companies became so bold that they openly and brazenly billed the freight at illegal rates, as the government would show. While the regular rate on packing house products was published at 23 cents the government was prepared to show that the favored shippers were given a rate as low as 15 cents, illegally maintaining such tariffs, while all the rest of the people of the country were denied them. Judge Day further declared that the same practices prevailed on all traffic generally used for the ordinary necessities of life. He declared such practices to be in open defiance of the laws of the land and a great restraint upon trade.

Beet Sugar Industry.

Denver, March 24.—The Republican says: The American Sugar Refining Company has made the first move to take up the beet sugar industry in Colorado. Henry E. Niese of New York, superintendent of construction and refineries, after two weeks spent in investigating the situation in Colorado, has returned to New York. Two companies to operate in Boulder, Larimer, Arapahoe, Jefferson, Morgan, Washington and Logan counties have been incorporated with a combined capital of $1,000,000 and Mr. Niese has secured options on lands suitable for beet culture and for the erection of sugar refineries. These lands are those which independent beet sugar companies were examining with a view to purchase.

Coal for Portland.

Portland, March 24.—A syndicate composed of J. R. Bell, president of the First National bank of Sterling; A. G. Van Patten, a capitalist of Van Patten, Ill.; G. S. Bell, E. I. Woods, B. Jameson and E. Bell, announces that arrangements have been completed for the construction of a railroad from the Nehalem coal fields in Clatsop county, Oregon, to Seaside, the terminus of the Astoria & Columbia River railroad, and that within six months coal will be shipped to this city from their mines. The syndicate has a tract of 400 acres in the coal belt.

Reciprocity in House.

Washington, March 23.—There is a bare possibility that the fight over the question of Cuban reciprocity will be transferred to the floor of the house during the coming week. The probabilities, however, are that the reciprocity resolutions introduced by Mr. Payne, the floor leader of the majority, after the action of the Republican caucus last week, will not be called up until the following week, though upon this point no decision has been reached as yet by the leaders.

The present program is to take up the army bill after the disposal of the Moss-Rhea contested election case on Tuesday. Several days will be consumed in general debate on this bill, as the Democrats are inclined to use it as a text for speeches in opposition to the policy of the administration in the Philippines. It is a foregone conclusion that Mr. Rhea will be unseated when the vote on his contested election case is taken on Tuesday.

Yale in a Dilemma.

Yale finds herself between the horns of the dilemma in which Harvard and all the larger universities are caught and, like them, is employing makeshifts to put off a final decision. On the one hand they raised the requirements for admission to their academic courses the college proper, until the age of the student at entrance is between 18 and 19 years. On the other hand, they have built up an elaborate superstructure of professional schools with courses three and four years long. In consequence, the properly equipped graduate is not launched until he is pretty close to his thirtieth year. Harmful that is preposterous and harmful.

There is a waste of time here without doubt. It may be in the years that precede the preparation to college; it may be in the later education. No university, however, will at present make concessions in the standards it has set for either the college or the professional schools. It is the college course itself that is made to suffer. Not even Harvard has had the courage to frankly cut out a year and require but three years for the bachelor of arts degree. Instead, various subterfuges have been employed which a little stretching of the regulations permitted, to aid in cramming into three years work that should be done in four. Students are invited to take in college courses that will help them in the professional schools, to take extra courses and so on.

The ideals of academic education are lost sight of under the pinch of utilitarian demands, and the college course, like the old college life, is being crushed out. In urging students to begin their professional training in college, Yale is simply following in the wake of the other universities.—New York Sun.

Italy After Tripoli.

Rome, March 24.—The military expedition whose objective point is believed to be Tripoli, is now being fitted out at Italian ports. Ten large steamers suitable for carrying troops have been chartered by the government. These are being fitted out as transports and when they are ready will be capable of carrying thousands of soldiers.

A large amount of ammunition has been stored in the arsenals all ready for instant use. Few leaves of absence are being granted and those are only for short periods.

Tripoli, one of the border states bordering on the Mediterranean, long has been regarded by Italy as her legitimate sphere of influence. France, too, has looked upon the state with longing eyes and has sent many exploring expeditions into the interior with the idea of making it ultimately French territory.

Killed by His Wife.

Washington, Ind., March 23.—During a quarrel at the supper table this evening, Liberty Kempf, a well-known business man, brutally choked his wife. The woman managed to get a revolver and fire five shots at her husband, one bullet penetrating the brain. He died in a few moments. The wife told her story to the police and has not yet been arrested.

Killed in Battle.

London, March 24.—A dispatch to the Morning Leader from Sofia says that fourteen Turks and over thirty Bashi Bazouks were killed in the recent conflict between Turkish troops and Macedonian revolutionists at Sova, near Kastoria, European Turkey, during which the Turks surrounded the village and overcame the rebels.

Is Now a Man-of-War.

Philadelphia, March 23.—The big battleship Retvizan, which has just been completed for the Russian government at Cramps ship yard, was officially added to the czar's navy today and the regular routine of a man-of-war began on the ship.

No Truth in It.

Washington, D.C., March 24.—Official contradiction has been received at the state department of the report that Powell Clayton, Jr., son of Ambassador Clayton and former military attaché to the United States embassy at Mexico, was forced to leave his post because of his refusal to fight a duel. The report to the department shows that instead of being involved in the Christmas brawl which was supposed to be at the bottom of the challenge, Capt. Clayton had really quitted the City of Mexico August 8 last. He was the recipient of a banquet before his departure, which brought together in his honor many people in Mexico prominent in official and social life.

"Genuine Havana Cigars."

It seems, according to bacteriologists, that "genuine Havana cigars" are being made in Chicago out of American tobacco leaf by the use of the microbe which gives to Havana tobacco its peculiar flavor. Securing some of these bacteria from a real Havana leaf, the Chicago manufacturer began to propagate them in beef tea. He takes the American tobacco, puts it through what is known as the "sweating" process, and while in the sweat the Havana bacteria are injected into it. In other words, the Chicago man is securing for American tobacco the real Havana flavor through the use of the Havana bacteria.—Chicago Herald.

Will Soon Begin Work.

Chesaw, March 23.—S. H. Dahl was in last week from Westby, Wisconsin. Mr. Dahl is a heavy stockholder in and represents the Badger Girl Mining Company, which owns the Lone Pine group of claims two miles south of Chesaw.

After a thorough examination of the property Mr. Dahl said that work should start in the very near future and that in all probability his company would build a mill this summer. Several thousand dollars have already been expended by the company in developing the Lone Pine, which is considered one of the best mines in the camp.

Awful Deterioration.

In Larned a Pop publishes the following notice: "I hereby announce myself a candidate for councilman of the Fourth ward, subject to the action of any convention that wants a man who can stand up and talk for his rights; and if no such convention is held, then I am a candidate anyway." And this shows how the Populist party has deteriorated. A few years ago no Pop would have dreamed of seeking office who couldn't talk just as well sitting as standing.—Kansas City Journal.

LARGEST TUNNEL

Is Simpon Now Under Construction

Will be Twelve Miles Long and Runs From Switzerland Into Italy.

The railway tunnel under the Simpon pass between Switzerland and Italy is the biggest thing of its kind yet attempted. A quarter of a century ago such a project would have been quite infeasible. It differs from the Mt. Cenis, Mt. St. Gothard and Arlberg tunnels not only in being a continuous rock tunnel, unconnected with the outer air by a single vertical shaft.

Its length will be 19,731 meters—more than twelve miles—as against 15,000 meters for the Gothard, 12,800 for the Cenis and 10,300 for the Arlberg. On the other hand, it will be only 687 meters—less than 2,300 feet—above sea level, whereas the altitudes of the others range from 3,800 to 4,600 feet. This low elevation avoids the steep grades of the other lines and secures for the approaches comparative immunity from snow blockades and avalanches.

At some points the tunnel will be more than a mile below the surface of the mountain. This fact at once suggests one of the difficulties met with in the prosecution of the work. The temperature of borings, in level countries, rises a degree for each fifty-five feet of descent. In mountain borings the increase is less rapid, but the most favorable estimates predict a temperature of 104 degrees F. for the deepest part of the tunnel.

In the central part of the Gothard tunnel, where the temperature was only 88 degrees, the men could work only five hours a day and had every third day off.

In the Simpon workings the temperature is lowered and the air, vitiated by human exhalations and the smoke of explosives is renewed by means of ventilating pumps of 500 horse-power, which furnish 3,600 cubic feet of fresh air per second. The tunnel is being worked from both ends at once. On June 30 the Italian end had attained a length of 5,000, the Swiss of 4,000 meters. The work is therefore nearly half done. It was begun August 1, 1898. The date fixed for its completion is May 1, 1904. The cost of actual construction is limited to $14,000,000, but auxiliary and unforeseen expenses will probably bring the total cost up to $16,000,000. The Mt. Cenis tunnel cost, in proportion to length, just half as much again.

The workmen employed number 3,500. The method of construction is original and ingenious. Instead of a double track tunnel, as the Mt. St. Gothard, there will be two single track tunnels, about 60 feet apart. These are being pushed forward simultaneously, but only one of them is being enlarged to its ultimate dimensions, lined and finished. The other serves for the present as a working tunnel, for ventilation, drainage and the removal of rock.

The tunnels are connected, every 200 yards, by a transverse gallery. The large tunnel will at first be operated alone, and the small one will not be enlarged until the traffic shall warrant the outlay. Hence it has been thought necessary to provide for the meeting of two trains on a single track road through the bowels of the earth by uniting the tunnels at their middle points, to form an underground station, where passengers, while waiting for the other train, may look up at the roof and shudder at the thought that it is a mile thick! Hydraulic drills working at pressures of from 70 to 120 atmospheres are used in the Simpon workings. The rock is mostly gneiss and soft schists, which permit a daily progress of five or six yards. There is hydraulic mining of another sort, too, for after each blast the debris is washed away by powerful jets of water thrown against the face of the workings. This use of water, while it adds to the humidity, greatly lowers the temperature of the air. Also, it saves time for the removal of rock, and the removal and replacement of drills takes much more time than the actual drilling. As it is, the drills work only eight hours in twenty-four, and they would work fewer hours and the daily advance would be much less but for this ingenious use of water.

Men and materials are transported by trains of cars drawn by locomotives which enter the small tunnel, cross through the transverse galleries and make their exit by the large tunnel. With this exception the work is done by water power derived from the Rhone on the Swiss and the Diveria on the Italian side. The former supplies 1,550, the latter 1,700 horse-power, and in the future these rivers will furnish the power which, converted into electrical energy, will operate the tunnel railway.—Ex.

Greenwood Camp.

Seattle, March 24.—It is announced in Greenwood, B. C., according to the Rossland Miner, that a deal involving the sale of two groups of mineral claims, situate near Greenwood and Rock Creek, respectively, has been closed. The price has not been made public, but it is generally understood to be about $50,000 in all, and that a large cash payment has already been made. The purchasers are Stephen H. Jones and S. Ely, of Duluth, Minn., for themselves and other capitalists with whom they are associated in this enterprise. The properties they have purchased are the Arlington-Burns group, in Deadwood camp, about two miles from Greenwood, and the Riverside group, on the main Kettle river, about four miles above the confluence of Rock creek with that stream.

The Arlington-Burns group consists of the two claims named. They adjoin the Buckhorn and lie about half a mile south of the Mother lode and Sunset mines. The late E. A. Bielenberg did a lot of trenching and other surface prospecting on the Arlington and Burns exposed in some of the open cuts much rock freely mineralized with iron and copper, but as the deepest prospect hole sunk on these claims is only forty-three feet in depth, the occurrence here of a permanent ore body has not yet been proved. Bunches of gold-copper ore of good grades were, however, met with in the underground workings of the adjoining Buckhorn, and since the surface indication are strong and distinctly favorable there seems to be good reason to look for the eventual discovery on this side of the gulch of ore in sufficiently large quantities to make it well worth while to extensively develop the Buckhorn, Arlington, Burns and several other claims that lie in proximity to them.

The Riverside group comprises the Riverside (which is crown granted), Emmeline and Badger fractional claims. The Wagon road from Rock creek up the main river and the west fork passes close by, and the line run by the surveyors of the route of the proposed Midway-Vernon railway also touches the group, so that the claims are always accessible by wagon road, the grade of which down to the Midway railway station, distant about sixteen miles, is generally easy, and, too, there is a prospect of the railway being constructed ere long. It is stated that about $5,000 has already been spent in development on the Riverside and Badger, and that this work has proved along a distance of 500 feet the existence of a vein of high-grade silver-gold ore varying in width from one foot to five feet. About 1,500 tons of ore have been blocked out, and assays have yielded returns from a few dollars up to $155 per ton, with values chiefly in silver. The sample assay of a carload shipped to the Granby smelter is given as $31, while that of another car, sent to the B. C. Copper Company's smelter at Greenwood, returned $41 per ton.

To Avoid Strike.

Shamokin, Pa., March 23.—From an official source it was learned today that an effort will be made tomorrow to adjourn the joint convention of districts No. 1, 7 and 9, United Mine Workers of America, without committing the delegates to a strike declaration.

At a meeting which began at 11 o'clock last night and continued until this morning the special committee appointed on Saturday formulated a resolution which the leaders hope will satisfy both radical and conservative delegates. The committee, which consists of President Mitchell, District Presidents Nicol, Fahey and Duffy and the three district vice presidents, held another session tonight. Tomorrow the report of the committee will take the form of a resolution, the principal clause of which, it is authoritatively stated, will recommend the appointment of a committee to present to the operators the demand of the convention.

Incorporated in the report are a number of resolutions adopted during the week, in addition to those made public by President Mitchell. All of these resolutions, it is stated, contain a strike declaration effective April 1, but they are made subject to the resolution of the special committee report, which so far as could be learned does not declare for a strike. All of the demands made in the scale committee report are also embodied in the resolution, but the statement is made that only two of these—an eight-hour working day and the weighing of coal wherever practicable—will be insisted upon if the convention adopts the resolution. Should the report prove satisfactory the convention is expected to select a committee composed of others than officers of the union.

In the event of operators refusing to recognize the committee, it is within the province of the district presidents to declare a strike after receiving the sanction of the national executive board. When asked tonight if the above statements were correct President Mitchell did not deny them but declined to discuss the subject. The entire matter now rests with the delegates, and it is possible the convention may not approve the resolution.

University Ideals.

In his lecture at Toronto University a recent Saturday afternoon, Prof. Halliday Douglas, of Knox College, speaking on "University Ideals," dealt with the three aspects of a university, first as the field of mental training, second the atmosphere and fellowship in which the student rounded down his corners, and third, its national significance. Graphic pictures were given of the Scottish University life as well as of English universities, and the university life of the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries. Professor Douglas argued that what Canada needs is a combination of the inspiration of Scottish universities, with the thoroughness and residential features of the English institution, as well as a liberal supply of money. The university, he thought, should provide brilliant men with the means and leisure to work out their theories.—Toronto Star.

Words of Reproof.

An incident which awakened a good deal of discussion during the first Dufferin visit to Montreal was a speech in the McGill Normal School, in which Lord Dufferin advised the teachers that they were yet to be to address themselves to the task of rendering their pupils polite, well-bred, deferential and respectful to their parents, to their elders, and to their superiors. His excellency had noticed the peculiar precocity of children on this side of the water, and he insisted that while there was no quality more creditable than self-respect, yet the very idea of self-respect excludes self-assertion and rudeness. At a later date Lord Dufferin spoke of another form of rudeness which was becoming popular on this continent—the reference to eminent persons particularly ladies, by pet names. Some of the American papers were speaking of the daughter of President Grant as "Nellie," and of Lady Dufferin as "Harriet." "It seems to me," said his lordship, "to be a monstrous sacrilege and quite incompatible with the dignity and self-respect due to the daughters of our land, and with the chivalrous reverence with which they should be approached even in thought, that the tender, love-invented nomenclature of the fireside should be banded about at random in the mouths of every empty-headed Tom, Dick and Harry in the street whose idle tongue may chance to babble of them. The women of this continent are ladies as refined, high-minded, and noble-hearted as are to be found in any country in the world, and the sooner we get rid of this vulgar solecism the better."—Toronto Star.

Canada.

God of the ancient days,
God whom the nations praise,
Our country save,
For Canada the best—
Queen of the new-born west,
Land that we love best,
Thy grace we crave.

May our Dominion be
Home of the brave and free;
In Thee who trust!
Make Thou our worship pure,
Our union firm and sure,
Our government secure,
Our counsels just.

Lead us, O mighty God,
In paths as yet untrod
Where we must go,
Long may our native land,
Obeying Thy command,
Among the nations stand,
Its light to show!

To Thee our country brings
Its tribute, King of Kings,
From shore to shore,
On Canada the best,
Queen of the new-born west,
Thy choicest mercies rest
For evermore.

Faith in the Colonies.
A suggestive fact disclosed by the literature of the day is the faith of English writers in the future of Canada and Australia. This is strongly brought out in an important book by Benjamin Kidd on "The Principles of Western Civilization." It lays stress upon the paramount importance of the western commonwealths in determining the trend of future progress.

Another Englishman, who is equally impressed with the energy of the English-speaking race outside England, is Archibald R. Colquhoun, whose "Mastery of the Pacific" will be published by Heinemann in London soon. The proof sheets reveal a deliberate attempt to prove that the Pacific has become as important as the Mediterranean was in ancient times, or as the Atlantic became after the voyages of Columbus and the wars between England and France for the control of the New World. The book has chapters on the marvelous possibilities of Canada, Japanese progress, the empire in the Far East, and the development of German enterprises in China and the South Seas.—Toronto Star.

Rossland Ore Shipments.

Rossland, B. C., March 22.—Shipments of ore from Rossland for the week ending tonight show another increase, with two additional properties rejoining the producing list. The Rossland Great Western had shipped ore since the first of the year, but this week it sent out tons, while the War Eagle started shipping today, with sixty tons being sent out. The Le Roi mine shipped 5,500 tons, the Le Roi No. 1, 1,300 tons. Total for the week 8,610 tons, and for the year to date 71,743 tons.

SWATTED HIS LANDLADY

Portland Hotel Guest Cultivates a Skate

Which Results in Marked Face, a Dark Brown Taste and $5 and Costs.

With marks on his face that caused it to bear a resemblance to an imperfect map of the Koyukuk country, J. M. Peterson stood in the lonesome box in Magistrate Macaulay's court this morning to answer to the charge of having been drunk and disorderly at the Portland hotel at five o'clock yesterday, Sunday, morning, when all nature should have been wrapped in the long, unstarched, cotton flannel robes of night. Peterson lifted his voice to such a pitch as to not only disturb the guests of the house but so as to be heard on the street by a policeman as he wended his way along his weary patrol to see that the silent watches of the night ticked regularly. On entering the hotel the officer found Peterson cursing and abusing the landlady, the latter volunteering to the officer the information that her disorderly guest had "swatted" her one with such force as to knock her through space and down stairs. Even after the arrival of the officer Peterson had declined to go away back and sit down and the officer had consequently "harvested" and taken him to the lock-up. Peterson pleaded guilty and in extenuation of his acts, said he had been in Dawson two years and that during all that lapse-of-time the prisoner's box had never before contained him. A fine of $5, with trimmings added, was imposed and with his scratched face and dark brown taste, Mr. Peterson emerged from the court room into the crisp morning ozone.

WORKMEN ARE CAREFUL

Engaging Their Services for Pay Only

Will be Comparatively Few Men This Year Whose Wages Are Unpaid.

Discussing the outlook for the coming summer a prominent operator remarked to Nugget reporter on Saturday that the situation looks exceedingly satisfactory. "There are more men employed at the present time than at any other period for two years," said he, "taking the district as a whole, and what is more to the point, a larger per centage of them will receive their wages than has ever before been the case. "Two years ago when the clean-up came around and the settlements for labor employed on a bed rock basis were made, hundreds of men received little or nothing for their winter's work. "The courts were filled with labor cases in which laymen, principally, were defendants, and in nine out of ten of the suits which were brought, the men failed to get their money—simply because their employers did not have it to pay. "Circumstances have entirely changed since that time. Men who are working for wages come pretty near knowing that there will be enough money on the dumps to see them clear—or they don't work, and on the other hand, operators have been more than ordinarily cautious in handling their ground. Whether worked by laymen or owner a claim must be fairly good to warrant the employment of any considerable number of men. It is the custom now for a man to get his ground prospected sufficiently to know something as to what he has in sight before he begins putting on men and the consequence naturally will be that fewer men will lose the results of their winter's work. "Let me give you another tip," continued the man of mines, "watch the progress of work on the lower end of Dominion creek and see how it turns out. Three years ago you couldn't get anyone to stake down there because the creek is so wide and in other respects it did not look right to the wise stamperers of those days. Right now they are talking out some of the largest dumps in the district in that same locality and practically speaking they have only begun working. There is a paystreak down there in places that exceeds more than 2,000 feet in width, and it all carries good money. "Yes, you can put me down as saying that the country looks good to me and later on will look still better."

Very Satisfactory.
Manager Edgar Mizner of the N. C. Co. returned on Saturday from a short trip to the creeks. He found all the roads in first class condition and thinks they will remain so for some time to come. Work is progressing satisfactorily in all the districts visited and from present indications Mr. Mizner is of the opinion that the winter's operations will prove very satisfactory.

Restrained From Boycott.
Denver, March 24.—Judge Palmer, in the district court today, issued a permanent injunction restraining the Denver Retail Clerks' Union from enforcing a boycott against Harry Rosenthal, a retail merchant in this city, by stationing pickets in front of his store and attempting by this means to turn away trade.

An Experiment.
Vancouver, B. C., March 24.—An interesting case has been decided before Magistrate Wearts and South in which it was proven by Inland Revenue Inspector Miller that B. Shemano had been carrying on the illegal manufacture of whiskey for some three years and selling the same to loggers and Japanese fishermen. This whisky or sacai was made from rice. A complete illicit still was seized and 12 barrels of liquor confiscated. The plea put up by J. O. Flynn, lawyer for the prisoner, was unique. It was to the effect that in Japan it is customary for farmers to manufacture what in the English language would be called yeast, and this in some manner was mixed with food to preserve it and add to its flavor. It was the plea of the defense that Shemano was experimenting in the manufacture of this yeast when officers. The magistrates didn't believe the story and sent Shemano to jail for five months, to be liberated after the expiration of two months if he paid $100 three days from date. A delegation urged the federal government this week to place a duty of 25 per cent. on white lead to help Kootenay out. They also asked that the bounty of $100,000 which the government promised to pay at the rate of $5 a ton on refined lead if the output was 20,000, be paid in full any way on the output as it stands of 14,000, as there was no prospect of the limit of 20,000 tons being reached. This would make the bounty $7 a ton.

New Colombian.
Paris, March 24.—Senator Uribe, the Colombian consul general in Paris, says that the Colombian authorities are inquiring into the inexplicable delay in the purchase and dispatch of the warship, for which funds were sent to the Colombian Commission in Paris some months ago.

Senator Uribe said the money forwarded from Senator Arturo Brigard was duly received in installments four months ago. As warships are not purchasable from the department stores, some time was necessary to secure a vessel which met the requirements of the government. A suitable vessel for sale ultimately was found and purchased in February, namely, the Bashire, which belonged to Morocco.

The Bashire is still at Tangier, completing her outfit, and will sail for Colombia shortly.

Theatre Burned.
Sydney, N. S. W., March 23.—His Majesty's theatre was much damaged by fire last night, the interior being destroyed. The properties and scenery of "Ben Hur" valued at $14,000, were lost. There was practically no insurance on the property destroyed.

PROTEST SENT TO OTTAWA

Against the Removal of John Williams.

Miners on Sulphur Creek Object to Minister's Arbitrary Action.

A petition has been extensively circulated and signed on Sulphur creek protesting against the removal of mining inspector John Williams. The petition is addressed to the minister of the interior, and sets forth that Mr. Williams performed his duties to the satisfaction of all the men on the creek with whom he had occasion to transact business. It recites the fact that no charge of any nature had been laid against Mr. Williams and that his removal was purely an arbitrary act on the part of the authorities. The men who were concerned in circulating the petition state that the local officials had no complaint against Mr. Williams and the order for his dismissal came as a complete surprise to them. In letting him go they were simply carrying out instructions from their superiors. The petition bears the signatures of between 200 and 300 men, all of whom are mining on Sulphur creek. It has been mailed to the minister.

Murder Not Suspected.
Boston, March 23.—Police officials here state that there is no reason to believe that Mrs. Julia M. French, whose body was found on the top of the elevator of her home on Newbury street, on Thursday, was murdered. Medical Examiner Draper has stated positively that her death was the result of an accident, and the police have not been able to find anything that would controvert the medical examiner's report.

HEARD IN CHAMBERS

Both Courts in Session This Morning

McMillan, the Incendiary, Remanded Another Week—Will be Busy Week.

Prior to the convening this morning of the court of appeals, though not his regular day for chambers, Mr. Justice Craig heard the argument on a number of motions.

In the case of Grottschier vs. Morrison the court was asked to order the dismissal of a motion filed last February, asking for security for costs. At the time the motion was first presented, plaintiff was out of the country and defendant sought to show that his return was extremely problematical. As plaintiff is now back in the city he asks that the motion be dismissed with costs. The order was granted, but the costs will abide the cause.

Monroe vs. Morrison et al was a motion for the payment to the solicitors of $945 previously paid into court by the defendant Jose. Order granted.

Falconer vs. Jewell et al was enlarged for one week.

Fenn vs. C. Y. L. Co. order made for summary judgment.

In re the application of Frederick ReKate, Jr., to be made joint administrator with the widow Clara ReKate of the estate of the late Frederick ReKate, Sr., the motion made a few days previously was abandoned, counsel for the heir undertaking to pay the costs. The suit was again begun by an originating summons.

Pitter vs. Williams, Chambers vs. Lewin and Lewin vs. Temple stand for one week.

Before Mr. Justice Dugas, Charles McMillan, the self-confessed incendiary who burned the Mona and Glenora, was brought up and remanded another week.

In de Lion vs. Cole a motion was argued for the issuance of a commission directed to Charles Berryman, a material witness now in Seattle. Order granted.

The peremptory list for this week contains 15 cases ready for trial, sufficient to keep both courts fully employed during the remainder of the week.

Weldy in Town.

Weldy Young, the affable mining recorder located at Clear Creek, blew into town late last night, his face bronzed and weather beaten, and his eyes more or less bloodshot from having faced a keen, biting wind for over a hundred miles. The trip overland by way of Arkansas and Dominion was made in two days, but it required 20 hours continuous traveling the first day out before reaching 7 below lower on Dominion.

"The blizzard I ran into the first day out," said Mr. Young to a Nugget man, "was something of a corker. Crossing the summit I had to change leaders a dozen times within four or five miles. As fast as one would give out I would unhitch him and put him back in the team, moving another one forward. Had to break trail for about 20 miles, which combined with a wind that cut like a knife made traveling anything but pleasant.

"The indications are that the coming summer will see a great deal of activity in the Stewart river country. Preparations are already being made for sluicing as soon as the water runs, lumber is being whipped out, boxes made and the camp is quite lively. During the winter there have been fully 75 men at work on Duncan creek and pay has been discovered at widely apart intervals on the creek. I saw $30 from 130 below discovery, as pretty gold as one would want to look at. Quite a number are prospecting on Barlow and Clear creeks and at Nelson's point, five miles below the mouth of the McQuesten, several are at work on some river claims located on the Stewart."

Among those best posted on the topography of that section Duncan creek is now believed to be really the left fork of the Mayo river. Mr. Young's trip in is one of business and he will return Wednesday morning.

ENGLISH CAPITAL

Is Not Looking to the Klondike

Many Investors Lost Quite Heavily in Early Day Speculations.

Mr. Geo. R. Clazy, the well-known mining representative, who returned recently from a trip to England, where he spent the winter, states that British capital is not looking in this direction with any particular eagerness.

"In fact," said Mr. Clazy, "moneyed men on the other side are so engrossed in other undertakings that it is difficult to interest them any longer in the Klondike. Many of them lost heavily in the early days of speculating in Klondike companies and their experience at that time has made them extremely cautious.

"No, it is not the fault of the country, which in my judgment offers still many profitable openings for capital. A variety of circumstances combined to make the early companies losing ventures and capitalists have since been very shy."

Asked as to the influence of the continuance of hostilities in South Africa on the London stock market, Mr. Clazy said that appreciable effect is no longer noticeable. The war is generally regarded as being over and so far as the commercial and financial world is concerned, South Africa might be absolutely tranquil. Every day brings the trouble nearer to a close and while the subject engages the newspapers and politicians to some extent it does not bother the man of affairs in any particular.

Public Notice.

I take this method to stop false rumors now spread in this city that I am selling out all my mining property and real estate in this camp preparatory to moving to the Koyukuk. The simple fact that I have bought a controlling interest in the Townsite of Coldfoot does not mean that I intend to sell either my business or properties, on the contrary, if any one has any Dawson business lots to sell at a sacrifice I will buy all I can get, providing, of course, that the sacrificing part is plainly shown to me.

That another great mining camp has been discovered in the Koyukuk I firmly believe, and I have backed my opinion by investing heavily there in both mines and real estate. It does not seem to me either reasonable or possible that this vast empire does not contain other equally as good camps as this, especially when good prospects and plenty of colors are to be found everywhere you see fit to try. I shall continue to do business and make my home in Dawson as long as I remain in this northern country. However, in the meantime I shall keep my eyes on Coldfoot and the Koyukuk country, because after a thorough investigation I have found out that there are many other more wise men than myself that are doing the same.
