CITY NAMES THE TERMS.

Makes No Concessions to Residents of Section 8.

Municipal Board Will Have to Do the Adjusting.

Electors In Annex Will Vote In Wards 1 and 7.

The Annexation Committee yesterday afternoon fixed the terms, which it will urge the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board to incorporate in the order for the annexation of the district east of Sherman avenue. A conference will be held with the township people on Friday night. It is not expected that they will agree with the conditions fixed, and it will be for the board when it meets on Nov. 2 to adjust the matter. No provi sion is made in the terms decided on by the city for any concessions to the rate the city for any concessions to the rate-payers of school section 8, whose efforts payers of school section 8, whose efforts to be incorporated as a police village, the city contends, is successfully blocked by the annexation order. These property owners, however, believe they have a very strong case. They expect the board to deal fairly with them. What they will demand is a ten-year township assessment at the city rate. The terms fixed by the committee yesterday were as follows:

tion Committee a sub-committee of the Finance Committee had a session to discuss the redivision of the city into wards. Some of the aldermen favored a new ward, embracing all the district to be annexed east of the present limits of Ward 7. The chief objection to this was that there would be 24 aldermen was that there would be 24 aldermen and four controllers next year. To avoid this, next year the ratepayers in the annex south of King street will vote in Ward 1 this year, and those north of King street in Ward 7. This would leave the Council free to submit a by-law to the people in January, providing for the reduction of the number of aldermen from each ward to two, which with a new ward would make a Council of sixteen aldermen. The other scheme is to make four big wards, with three aldermen from each.

The Police Have Hard Case in Dental Supply Robberies.

they failed to begin an investigation of a robbery at Dr. Robertson's dental office. until 36 hours after the robbery was re-ported. Detective Inspector McMahon ported. Detective Inspector McMahon was on dusy that night when the doctor called up. The doctor stated that the only thing he knew to be missing at the time was a bag, which he described. Within less than an hour of the time the robbery was reported every pawnshop in Hamilton was yisited by the Inspector himself in a search for the handbag, and the proprietors warned to be on the watch for the thief. The doctor, the night he reported the robbery, requested that the premises be watched that night and Sunday night, and this was done. Dr. Robertson told the officer yesterday that he had no complainta to make about the way the police had handled his report.

The police say that the burglar is a man who has worked in a dental office, probably in Buffalo or Detroit. Two years ago he mads a wholesale raid through the Province, and, in Toronto, rifled scores of dental offices.

After making a clean-up here a week ago Saturday he went through the ental offices in Buffalo on Sunday. He picks out only the best stuff, and most valuable work, displaying his experience. The fact that hardly any of the stuff can be identified again makes the chances of his capture slim unless he is caught red-handed.

ARE AFTER PHYSICIANS.

Will Prosecute Those Who Fail to Report Cases.

Two More Health Inspectors Will be Required.

Rates on Baths and Closets to be Reduced.

Trouble is brewing for the doctors who do not obey the law, and report cases of infectious and contagious diseases. Dr. McGillivray has been structed by Chairman Crooks, of the Board of Health, to prosecute physicians who are negligent in making reports. This action followed the discovery of five cases of typhoid fever on Canada street, which were not reported at the health office. J. H. Collinson, president of St. George's Society, who called the attention of the city officials to the matter, wrote a letter to Dr. Mc-Gillivray to-day in which he freed the health department from any blame, as no report had been made there. Mr. Collinson is rather inclined to blame the hospital doctors for not reporting the Board of Health, to prosecute physi-Collinson is rather inclined to blame the cases. He stated that he was quite confident the matter would be well looked after by Dr. McGillivray. The doctor admitted to-day that there was a lot of typhoid in the city, but he does not think there is any occasion for alarm or people boiling drinking water.

Don't "treat" the police. It's mis-

As soon as the new annex comes into amilton the city will be asked to ap-pint two more health inspectors. The As soon as the new annex comes into Hamilton the city will be asked to appoint two more health inspectors. The doctor says this will be absolutely necessary. Sixteen years ago the board had four inspectors. Now it has only three. One of these is kept busy at the smallpox hospital, and the other two lave more work than they can handle. The doctor was forced to-day to press have more work than they can handle. The doctor was forced to-day to press Relief Officer McMenemy into service, when he required an inspector to go to Canada street. It is believed another case of trohoid has developed there as a result of the unsanitary conditions and the residents along the street are becoming alarmed. Five new cases of typhoid were reported yesterday.

The most important item on the Board of Works' long order sheet tonight is the programme of new road work for next year. The streets it is proposed to pave, with an estimate of the cost, have been decided upon by a sub-committee, and the board will be asked to approve of these.

John Mills was granted a permit to-day for three frame houses on Chest-nut avenue, between Cannon and Barton streets, to cost $2,800.

The first definite move made by the sub-committee revising the waterworks by-law was the decision yesterday atternoon to strike $1 each off the bath and closet rates, making the bath rate $1 and the closet rate $2. This means a loss in revenue to the city of $20,27. Aid, Morris, Lees, Milne, and Chairman Clurk were appointed a deputation to go to Toronto and see what has been done there about revising the water rates. They will likely visit Toronto on Taursday.

Stuart street, York street, from Queen west to the cemetry, King street west from Queen to Margaret street and Locke street. The aldermen say the company seems to be quite willing to go ahead with the work, but the question seems to be money. However, an intimation was given that enough funds were in sight to go ahead with the work.

Mr. Coleman will figure out with City Engineer Macallum and Secretary Brennan the city's proportion of the cost, and when this is ready another meeting will be held.

This child, Lillian May Freeman, she says, was adopted by a family named Jones, living in Hamilton, about 15 years ago. Since then she has heard nothing of or from her daughter. The action brought by Geo. C. Thomson on behalf of J. W. City Solicitor Wadbefore Judge Monck. City Solicitor Waddell appeared for the city and argued that sufficient protection was afforded for all but frisky horses, and the city should not be held liable in such cases. Mr. Thomson said that sufficient protection should be afforded for all. The fence at the spot where the accident occurred was of very little use for when the horse backed against it, it broke and the horse went down the mountain side for considerable distance. Mr. Waddell argued that the damage had not been as much as the plaintiff was suing for and called witnesses to bear out his contentions. Judgment was reserved.

David Manion, 113 Ferguson avenue. drove his rig across Mrs. Gleason's lawn. He admitted it when arraigned for trespass. He was fined $2.

Yesterday afternoon County Constable Jess gathered in Harry Taylor. 228 Duke street, and Joseph Marks, Chicago. The youths were arrested for crap shooting outside the Jockey Club Gates. When they were arraigned this morning the charge was altered to vagrancy. A. M. Lewis. for the defence, commented on the charge being altered. However, they both pleaded not guilty. His worship contended that games of chance were no worse outside the Jockey Club grounds than they were inside. The case was dismissed.

Henry Holton sued Frank Holden for $9.50 wages due. He got judgment for the amount.

"Undoubtedly!" Gordon assumed a puzzled air. "Undoubtedly! I do, for I assure you, my dear girl, I am at a loss to understand your words—at least I cannot see what unpleasant truth you can have to explain, unless—unless"—he came a step nearer to her, fixing her with his coal black eyes, and magnetizing her beneath their power, as a snake magnetizes its victim—"unless"—he pronounced each word very slowly—"it be to proclaim to the world a story that will not redound to your own credit or reputation. I suppose you have got that old madness in your brain again—that wild, improbable story that you married me because you wished to save iny life, having seen me commit a murder at some vague and mysterious time. Really, my dear Katharine, I had hoped that this lunacy would have been cured. Of course, great allowance is given to a woman when she in the state of mental distress that you were in when you became my wife; but there is a limit to everything, and when it comes to your declaring you must tell the truth"—his eyes searching hers still more fiercely—"why, then, my girl, it is time that I, too, turned and said that I would give my version of the matter, which is, after all, a very simple though not exactly a pleasing one, for any girl to own. Shall I tell it to you now? Listen!"—nearer and nearer he went toward her—"if the world asks me why you became my wife, I shall an 'swer this: that I did it to make an honest woman of you; that you had loved me not wisely but too well. and honest woman of you; that you had loved me not wisely but too well. and I would give my version of the matter, which is, after all, a very simple though not exactly a pleasing one, for any girl to own. Shall I tell it to you now? Listen!"—nearer and nearer he went toward her—"if the world asks me why you became my wife, I shall answer this: that I did it to make an honest woman of you; that you had loved me not wisely but too well, and that, in order to save your reputation. I sacrificed myself most generously, and gave you my name. You understand that, Kattie: it is quite clear to you, isn't it? You see now that any story of yours I shall immediately declare to be an hallucination of your brain, brought on by the mental trouble you had suffered. I don't want any mistake, my dear girl. I want you to see and understand clearly that if any truth is told, it is you and not me who will suffer the most!"

He clinched her wrists again as he finished; and, uttering a broken cr yof horror and despair mingled, the unhappy girl sunk nerveless, prostrate at his feet, utterly crushed beneath the flendish cruelty and wickedness of those wicked words.

"If I could die! If I could die now!" she thought, wildly, to herself. She was alive to the full horror of the moment. Weak, sick, faint as she was, no merciful swoon or oblivion came to her rescue; no dark cloud crept over her brain and wrapped her for a time in unconsciousness. Her limbs had given way; the power to stand up proudly and defy this villain was taken from her; but the weakness did not touch her brain. She was sensible, keenly, awfully sensible, to the terrible position in which she was placed; and even in this moment she was not selfish in her sorrow, for her generous woman's heart found time to beat sadly as thought the full the poor, weary, heart-broken spirit struggled back to-life again—a life where the full men to beat sadly as thought the full the poor, weary, heart-broken spirit struggled back to-life again—a life when the full the poor weary, heart-broken spirit struggled back to-life again will life the world was one to the watched her.

"She thinks to deceive me!" he muttered to himself. "Poor fool! An escape will not be so easy, as she will find! By Jove. I never bargained for a jeal-ous woman as an ally, nor for a lover to play into my hands. Katharine is the sort of being who will tear out her very heart for the man she loves. Curse him!"

An expression of intense satisfue this passed over Gordon's face as he saw her crouched on the floor at his feet.

"It is as well we should understand our positions at once, isn't it?" he said, with a ring of trimphant pleasure in his voice. "We shall have no more nonsense in future, no more theats about telling the truth, for we know what we have got to expect, don't we? And I think it would be advisable if you were to get up from that very unnecessary and uncomfortable position; it might give rise to unpleasant remarks if a servant were to come in. Allow me to assist you to a chair."

He drew the girl to his feet as he spoke, and would have supported her to a seat; but Katharine recoiled from him, and staggered into the big armethair without his aid.

His brow darkened, then cleared. "Never mind, I can wait. I have won so far; the rest must follow," he muttered between his teeth.

And Katharine, in that pause, was thinking wildly, desperately.

"Let me be calm. I must temporize, then I must get away, any where, to the uttermost ends of the world, to escape from him?"

Poor girl! She had her woman's wita to aid her, but she was not match for such a nature as Gordon Smythe's. She little knew that her silence and calmness were translated as rightly as though she had spoken out her thoughts.

Gordon had been all ittle amazed at this invitation, but in the very first mother delay.

"Now we are going to be sensible, aren't we? Commend me to you, Kattie, for a clever woman. You were simply wasted in Ledstone, a second-rate, dirty, provincial town."

Katharine shuddered. He could even dare to speak of Ledstone thus —Led stone, the place where—Gordon took no notice of the shudder. "You require bright scenes, blue skies, and cheerful society, and you shall have it. I have often heard you desant to my mother on the charm and beauty of continental life. Well you shall go back to that life, my girl, and a shoroughly jolly one you shall find it. His eyes fastened themselves savagely on her wan, lovely face, and a mad sort of feeling surged up in his heart, as he realized that with all his brutality, all his strength, his wicked power, he could never be master of the girl's soul; he could never be anything but hateful and degraded in her eyes.

He turned away with a short, unconfortable laugh. Conscience will assert itself sometimes, and, brief-lived though it was, a wave of self-disgust passed through Gordon Smythes' breast as these thoughts came. But that feeling soon passed, and old, evil ones sprung up in

The object of the bill is "the prohibition of gambling on loss by maritime perils."

If any person effects a contract of narine insurance without having a bon fide interest either in the safe arrival of the ship or the safety of the cargo it will be deemed to be gambling on loss by sea dangers. The punishment will be imprisonment with hard labor for six months or a fine of $500. Further, the gambler must forfeit to the Crown any money he may receive under this gambling contract.

"That the present is a fitting occa sion for directing the eyes of the world to the condition of Canada, consequent n an unbroken Century of Peace. The circular which enunciates this

"William Mulock."

Sir William, it seems, with the breath of battle again in his nostrils, is president of the Canadian Peace and Arbitration Society, and he and his friends ask help to make the proposed celebration of the century of peace an assured success, and so help to secure another century of it on the great lakes and in the countries adjoining. Sir William fighting for peace may be only a dim reflection of the earlier Sir William fighting for conomy or hewing.

William fighting for peace may be only a dim reflection of the earlier Sir William fighting for economy or hewing his ruthless way to reform through networks of red tape, but even so the spectacle is an agreeable one.

The ultimate design of the society is "to preserve Canada from militarization." The immediate purpose is to petition the Government of Canada, "either alone or jointly with the Government of the United States," to arrange for a national or international commemoration of the peace of a hundred years, which has followed the adoption of the Rush-Bagot convention to keep war vessels off the lakes.

Hitherto, it has been tacitly assumed that the suggestion made by Hon. Mackenzie King at Harvard was in a fair way of being adopted by both Governments, but the issue of this petition is probably designed to make assurance doubly sure. It would seem also, however, as if the leaders of the Peace Society thought Canadians of late quite too much given to ruminating militarist projects and pondering the possibilities of armed conflicts being militarist projects and pondering the possibilities of armed conflicts be tween mighty empires.

SOME UP-TO-DATE HELPS FOR THE KITCHEN.

Singularly enough, the things very woman doesn't know" at "every woman doesn't know" about a kitchen and its accessories are many There are little contrivances and inven There are little contrivances and inventions constantly being manufactured that are a boon to the housewife—if she discovers them! For though women do much visiting, they entertain each other in parlors and libraries and dens—seldom, do visitors go poking their noses into their hostess' kitchen. And then, toe, women nowadays are not given to discussing the kitchen. And so the little helps that do much to lighten labor are often unused simply because they are unknown. they are unknown.

Have you ever tried to lift a pan one of the onen—a good sized roast, for instance—and the oven was so hot and the pan so heavy it nearly broke your arm off? Well, for such emergencies there is a little contrivance callad a "hot pan lifter." It fits over the edge of the pan, clamps the side firmly and has a little handle, but is so strongly constructed it will lift the weight and make it easier for you.

Does your milk come to you in glass bottles? And have you had difficulty in removing the cream that settled at the top? To do that for you there is a small funnel-shaped dipper, holding about a teaspoonful which is most convenient. It will get the cream off the milk beautifully!

Have you ever seen those "hot corn holders?" You buy them by the pair—two little dagger-like affairs whose handles are miniature ears of corn. They are about two inches in length. You stick the dagger parts in each end of the

Does your egg beater slide all over the bowl while you are beating the eggs? There are little clamps made for just this purpose. Fasten the clamps to the kitchen wall or table, simply slip in the top of the egg-beater—then do the beating! You'll be surprised how much easier the work will be.

If you ever have occasion to steam silk or velvet at home you will appreciate this little "silk steamer." It is a small arrangement which slips over the spout of the tea-kettle and has a long narrow opening at the top, over which the material is easily passed and quickly

He was formerly Viceroy of Shang Sha and was made a Grand Council or in 1907.

He has been described as one of the most influential men in China, but on various occasions his actions have been reactionary, and he has shown opposition to progress, particularly when foreigners were concerned therend. He was Director-General of the Hankow-Sec Chen railitroad, and he took a prominent part in the negotiations concerning the loan to China by foreign interests of $30,000.00 for the construction of this line. A CRAZE.

(Montreal Gazette.)

At Hamilton a committee of the City Council has recommended that a contract should be made with the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission for 1,000 horse-power of electric current, at a price higher than the local independent company asked for the service. The situation agrees with some others that have come under the public notice. The desire for public ownership of things private enterprise is well looking after is a craze, not a business development.

SELLING OR STORING?

To hold, or not to hold Canadian wheat for a higher price is a question which is engaging many of the farmers of the antry at present. In many of the new r sections of the country where the settlers are depending upon the year's prouction for their immediate require will sell early, and feel thankful that farmers, however, have a choice, and to them the decision is a matter of some mportance. The increase to be obtained by holding the wheat must be considerable to make the storing profitable. It generally estimated that the expense of carrying the grain six months roximates six cents a husbel: some eckon on more than that. There will probably be many individual farmers who will sell enough to satisfy their immediate needs, and be their own wheat speculators as to the remainder. olding of the grain will necessitate considerable bank borrowing, and some postponement of settlement of obligations. It would not, however, be with ut its advantages in preventing periods of congestion of storage room and of transportation. Quite aside from the question of a few cents a bushel profit or loss, the presence in the intry of a considerable quantity of grain in the farmers' hands in spring would appear to be something not to be regretted. Of course, if this reserve were obtained by failing to liquidate obligations or by neglecting utilize favorable opportunities to realize thereupon, it would be a very dif-

A CORN DISEASE.

The appearance of a large number ser of the disease known as pellagra, and which has long been known to medical literature, has aroused a good deal of interest in United States health cir cles and created considerable alarm a strange new kind of "leprosy." the disease is one to be vigorously met. when Casal described it under the name of Mal de la Rosa, because of its charac teristic erythenea or rash. The name pel Jagra was given to it by Frapolli, of Milan, and means a roughness of the skin ("pelle"-kin, "agra"-rough.) A bulletin of the United States Public Health Service says:

The disease has been and still is a verifable scourge to certain parts of Europe. It seems to have followed close upon the introduction of maize culture from America, first in Spain in 1700, and later in other parts of Europe. The original homes of maize (America and Asia) have, however, escaped, probably by reason of climates better adapted to maize culture. The pellagra zone is small when compared with the area over which maize is cultivated, yet pellagra does not occur except where maize is grown and extensively used as food by the poorer classes.

Without quoting full data, some idea the poorer classes.

Without quoting full data, some idea of the extent of the disease may be gained from the figures which follow:
Triller states that there are (1906) 30. 900 pellagrins in Roumania; that in certain parts of Italy as much as 30 per cent. to 50 per cent. to 60 per cent. and that in 1899 there were nearly 73,000 sick with the disease. the thousand of the rural population. Tuczek states (1893) that in Spain 2 per cent. of the rural population are affected; that in 1884 there were 10,000 pellaed; that in 1884 there were 10,000 pellagrins in Italian hospitals and insane asylums. He also says that about 10 per cent. of the pellagrins in Italy are michally affected. Sandwich states that he has seen over 500 cases in the five years from 1893-98 in his wards at the Kasr el Ainy Hospital at Cairo. The distance was not reported in Egypt till 1893.

generally believed to be found in Indian corn. Pellagra is in corn-using communities, studies of Balardin in 1844 led him to conclude that it was due to spoiled maize or a smut or fungus on the grain. We know the powerful na-ture of the drug produced from a simirve (ergot) and medical science to-day is in a much bet ter position to estimate its causal significance than it was one hundred years The corn of America is much freer from fungoid growth than that of the European continent, and it is thought that has tended to comparative immun ity from such outbreaks.

. The first case in the United State was reported by Sharwell, on board ship in New York harbor in 1902. In the same year Harris reported one in Geor Searcy, of Alabama, in 1907, described an epidemic of pellagra occurring in the Mount Vernon Insane Hospital (for the colored insane of Alabama.) There were 88 cases and 57 deaths. He states that a few cases of such a disease had been noted there as long ago as 1901, but that their real nature was un recognized. A mortality, under hospital conditions, of 65 per cent. shows the dis ease to be a very fatal one. One case has recently been seen in Texas and several in the Carolinas, before this outbreak In Chicago. Now it is said there are over one thousand cases in North Caro-

.If the cause of the disease is to be traced to diseased or smut corn, the prudent course would appear to be to avoid cating or coming in contact with the inciting cause. Every farmer is familiar the appearance of such fungi While they are under suspicion it would be well to treat them as really danger ous, and carefully prevent them from contaminating the grain. That is a precaution easily taken

THE NEW READERS.

In the October number of the Cana dian Magazine Mr. Arnold Haultain pre sents some criticisms of the new Public School Readers of which we have heard so much inspired and interested praise and read so many columns of puffery, Mr. Arnold's conclusion is that the series of Readers "reflects more credit upon the publishers than it does upon compilers." The mechanical work is good and cheap; a cheapness made pos sible by paying nothing for copyright privileges to authors and publishers, all eing obtained as donations, and by the Government bearing all the cost of compilation, typesetting, proof-reading and manufacture of the electroplates and charging it to the Province. The price of the books represents the cost of paper, press work and binding only-if part of that cost is not charged up to the advertising account of the firm who took the contract. But having borne testimony to the cheapness of the books, their size and the quality of binding and paper considered, Mr. Haultain is unable to continue his favorable criticisms. He finds the ethics of the selections unobjectionable; indeed it would be astonishing if the compilers, with the world of literary riches to select from, had chosen the immoral. But of the purely literary and educational value of some of the selections he is inclined to doubt. These books are intended to educate the literary taste of the pupils; yet in the choice of matter, Mr. Haultain says, due care has not been taken. The Readers "abound in selections from writers now living or but so very reeently passed away, that time has had no opportunity of sifting the excellent from the medi ocre." Moreover, there is no order of classification, the various selections be ing jumbled together in a veritable hodge-podge. There are in the Fourth Reader not half a dozen helpful explan atory notes to help the pupil; there is a deplorable lack of dates, and there not so much as an index! Beautiful gems are excluded to give place to mat interlarded without regard to their time as to the author. Sonnets appear with and what Mr. Haultain characterizes as "vulgar errors" in the use of English grammar are not few. Even so small a matter as the placing of the illustra apparently been settled by the grab bag method with results such as might hav been expected.

In addition to these defects, surel serious enough, there has been an almost entire crowding out of the industrial especially the agricultural element to make way for the purely "literary." Arnold strongly objects on the ground that not only is it wrong from but it tends to cultivate the tastes of the youth away from the farms and give a false view of life by exalting literature above labor. On the whole, the intelligent scrutiny.

"A Knight for a Day" comes to the Grand next Friday and Saturday. Miss Hilda Thomas' conception and execution of "Tilly Day" is said to justify the managerial policy of placing her in so conspicuous a position. It is said that her scenes with Mr. Ovey are irresistiably funny and her whole conduct of the character shows her possession of the spirit of genuine humor. C. L. Wherever there is suffering from piles, Bad as this case was, Zam-Buk triumphed, and Mrs. Hughes suffers no longer. It only needed a little perseverance with Zam-Buk, and in the end complete cure resulted.

Then it was she heard of Zam-Buk, and she adds: "Although I feared Zam-Buk would be like the ordinary remedies—useless—I am glad it was not. It soon proved itself to be very different. It rapidly gave me relief, and after a time cured me completely. I would like to let all sufferers from piles know what a grand thing Zam-Buk is. It gave me considerable ease, and I persevered with the treatment until I was cured. I wish I could convince every sufferer from piles could convince every sufferer from piles of the value of this great herbal balm."

cognizing their union card, which makes them one, notwithstanding tariffs or boundaries.

Upon taking the chair, President Mahon was presented with a gavel by the Woodworkers' Union of Chicago, and with an appropriate badge by Mr.

J. L. Lynch, of Chicago.

Tresident Mahon in his report stated that during the past two years there had been issued forty-three new charters. At the beginning of last year the wage question had caused the organization considerable alarm on account of the depressed industrial conditions affecting the whole country and dhreatening a reduction of wages to all classes of labor. While the street rail-way men had been threatened with a number of reductions in wages in different cities, they had been able to resist them all except in two divisions, while, on the other hand, fifty-eight divisions had secured an increase in wages ranging from one-half a cent to four cents per hour, affecting 23,832 members, and amounting yearly to an increase of about $300,000. The reduction affected in two divisions amounted to about $36,000 per year. Nineteen of the wage cases were adjusted by arbitration. In dealing with the question of hours of labor, President Mahon pointed out that fifty-five divisions are working a nine-hour work day, or not to exceed nine hours and thirty twinintes; fifty-four ten hours a day; twelve divisions ten hours and a half a day; seventeen divisions eleven hours a day; five from eight to twelve hours; one division from nine to thirteen hours, and three divisions from eleven hours a day.

isions from eleven to ofurteen hours a day.

While a number of the divisions continue to work under verbal agreements, the President emphasized the fact that a number of the divisions that had not worked under written agreements herefore had succeeded in securing written agreements during the past two years, making 125 divisions now working under contracts. In this respect President Mahon advises that this policy of securing written agreements be carried out to the fullest extent, as it settles for a specified time the question of wages and other conditions. There were twenty-five strikes during the past two years. In his opinion this record showed that strikes were gradually diminishing within the ranks of the organization, which was due to the policy of arbitration adopted in the agreements with the employers.

GOOD SHORT -STORIES

Dan Ramsay has a story of that border hostility between English and Soots which used to go to halter lengths. A Scottish drover was returning from the south in particularly bad humor with the English, having done poor business, when he saw in Carlisle a notice offering a reward of £50 to anyone who would volunteer for the unpopular task of hanging a condemned criminal. Seeing his chance to make up for his had marvolunteer for the unpopular task of hanging a condemned criminal. Seeing his chance to make up for his bad market, and comforting himself with the thought that he was unknown there, he did the job and got his fee. As he was leaving he was taunted as a beggarly Scot, doing for money what no Englishman would. But he answered with a cheerful grin, "Till hang ye a' at the same price."

The other day white piloting his town-planning bill through committee, he was frequently in conflict with the labor members, and it was not Mr. Burns who came off with the scars. To certain gentlemen who expressed a wish for the inspection of houses, after somewhat the same fashion that obtains in Paris and Berlin, he showed his most scornful face. "We don't want any army of petty functionaries," he said. "Why, every man who is not a policeman, will of petty functionaries," he said. # THE FARM

SIZE IN DRAFT HORSES. (The Farm.)

(The Farm.)

At the Canadian National Exhibition it was very easily discovered that breeders of draft horses, both commercial and pure-bred stock, are demanding more size in the stallions they buy. It was noticeable also that the importers have done all they could to bring big horses with them this year. There are Clydesdale stallions in Scotland with plenty of size and some of them no doubt could be bought. The trouble is that size with quality and individual excellence is worth a lot of money, and there is certainly no inducement for any importer to put more money into his lot than he knows he will be able to get out of it again. If the breeders are determined to have size, they must also make up their minds to pay for it. On the same line of reasoning that a good big one will always beat a good little one, a good big one always costs more money. Hence, those who buy on this side of the water must meet the importer half way. Sootchmen do not want to increase the average size of the Clydesdale breed. They say it suits them very well as it is. Our people want more size and must have it. It looks as though our breeders will have to pay longer prices if they are ever to add the bulk which they now need.

Felt That at Seventy He Was Being Pushed to the Wall.

Toronto, Oct. 4 .- "This is a beautifu world to leave; good-bye."

This is a fragment of a pathetic let ter left by Adam Kerr, aged 70, who committed suicide in his boardinghouse, 7 Caer Howell street, by tak ing poison late yesterday evening. His death occurred at St. Michael's Hospital. He had been employed as a bookkeeper at the A. S. Richardson wax-figure establishment, 99 Ontario street, and it was to Mr. Thos. Dale, of 21 Alhambra avenue, the manager, that the letter was addressed. To Mr. Dale the old man bequeathed his walking cane in another short note, saying that he would not have any further use for it.

THE LAST LETTER.

The letter he left to explain his rash act was as follows: "This is not caused by temporary insanity or a drunken spree, as I am subject to caused by temporary insanity or a drunken spree, as I am subject to neither. I have passed the full three score years and ten age limit, and I find my memory and business faculties failing. During the last two weeks I have been thinking of the future. The old man was discovered to be in a serious condition about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Dr. P. W. O'Brien, '126 McCaul street, who was summoned at once, diagnosed the case as one of poisoning and sent a call for an ambulance. At 5.15 the police ambulance set him down at St. Michael's Hospital. There, till 6.45, when the old man died, Drs. McKeown and MacFarlane worked over him. The medical men were unable to decide from what poison he had died. It was at first thought the symptoms were similar to the control of the control in a serious condition about 5

The body was removed to the Morgue, and Chief Coroner A. J. Johnson notified. This morning he will decide whether or not an inquest is necessary.

Miss Mary Pyne has a rooming-house at 7 Caer Howell street. She said that the old man had been stopping there for the past six years. He had always kept to himself, and it was not known whether he had any relatives. The aged suicide had always, she said, been very uncommunicative, and beyond the facts of his age and vocation little was known about him. Only five cents was found in his pockets.

It Leaves the Skin Tingling With Health There is a wonderful difference in soaps. Have you ever noticed how one kind leaves the skin soft and white while another may leave it red and rough? How to Massage

Both soaps looked alike, perhaps. But the dif-ference was in the material. Let us tell you what we put into Infants' Delight, then decide if you continue with common soap.

Ceylon is an island in the Indian Ocean, and from there we bring pure cocoanut oil 12,000 miles to our factory. Then we go to France for vegetable oil, and often pay double what we might pay.

But our oil is pure enough for your table. These oils are doubly boiled and then milled by our own special process, after which they fall like flakes of snow into enormous bins.

Then they are crushed under a weight of 30 tons to press out the moisture. Next they pass through granite rollers and come out in miles of silky ribbons. Finally they are dried eight times and then stamped into cakes.

Could you imagine a more delightful soap than this? It lathers into a rich, creamy foam. It wears as thin as a wafer. It leaves the skin as soft as velvet and as smooth as satin. It is the very utmost in perfect soap.

The perfume is the delicate scent of the roses. We pay $100 a pound for pure Otto of Roses, but it requires 3,000 pounds of rose leaves to make a single ounce. The fragrance is simply exquisite—it brings the breath of a million flowers. Use a single cake and learn how delightful it really is—it costs no more than the common, so why

Dr. Marsh said he appreciated the welcome, especially as it had been extended by the chairman. He said the important question of the day was 'Did Dr. Cook or Pearv reach the pole?' He thought they had both been there, although a shorter and more practicable way than they had taken might have been tried, such as suggested by Capt. Practising under lamplight is not what cracked up to be, and although there was a good turn-out of the yellow black bunch at the Cricket Grounds last night nothing of a very satisfactory did not have reflectors on, and it was a difficult matter to see anything on the to-morrow night, when another practisto-morrow night. when another practise will be held. "Huckle" Bramer was out, and the way the big fellow worked quite convinced the fans that he will make as good an outside scrimmager as the Tigers ever had. He is always one of the first on the field and about the last to leave. The benefit of having a captain that is liked by the players is shown by the way the team is turning out and working under the direction of Ben Simpson. It has been several years since the team is as worked to prepare itself for the opening of the senson like it has this year, and if the Tigers lose on Saturday in Ot. and if the Tigers lose on Saturday in Ot tawa it will be because the Parliamen Hill aggregation has a much better team and not because the Jungle Terrors were out of condition. practices prove that the Rugby interest n Hamilton is as high as ever, and when the first game is played here there will likely be a record breaking attendance. The Tigers will certainly have as good a team this year as last, and as Montrea and Ottawa appear to be slightly weaker it looks as though the Grey Cup, togeit looks as though the Grey Cup, together with the Dominion championship, would rest in Hamilton this year. However, it will only be four days now when the big battle will come off, and the result will tell whether the Tigers are to have a walk-over in the "Big Four' or whether they will have to fight for the pennant. The Rough Riders have never been beaten on their own grounds since the Inter-Provincial was formed, and as they have a habit of playing like demons when cheered on by their own supporters, it generally takes a superior team to beat them.

Don Lyon was at the Cricket Grounds last night watching the team work out, and it was all the famous outside wing could do to stay out of the game. His fractured wrist is knitting fast, and he said last night, when speaking to the Time Sporting Editor, "I will be is the game again as soon as it gets stuck together." It will likely be a month before this happy stage is reached, and in the meantime Don will fume about and areathemize the misfortune that keeps him out of the game. Just who will be put on to fill his position for the opening games has not been decided upon. Tony Loftus would seem to be the most likely man, but he has not been attending the Loftus would seem to be the most likely man, but he has not been attending the practices any too well, and it is likely that one of the more regular players will be put on. Harry Glassford is a fast boy, and if he can stand the rough usage that he is bound to be up against in that position, he will make a good substitute for Lyon. There are several other candidates, and the team will be picked at the last practice, which will be held on Thursday afternoon.

GRIDIRON GOSSIP

While the senior Tigers are at the capital upholding the honor of the jungle town against the Rough Riders, the intermediates will be fighting a stiff battle with the Capitals of Toronto at the Cricket Grounds. This promises to be no mean exhibition, and a large crowd will likely be out to see the game. Arrangements have been made to instal a wire and the results of the Ottawa game will be announced at the end of each quarter. The Capitals have a wing line that averages 170 pounds, and a battle worth going some distance to see should result when they line up against the Tiger intermediates. Roy McGavin will play outside wing for the local boys, and Gatenby, one of last year's Varsity men, will be right half. Thompson and Clark will also be on the line-up.

Coach Tom Clancy attributes the weakness of the Ottawas in bucking the line on Saturday to the fact they had the game well in their grasp at all stages and did not really exert themselves after the first five minutes. Pepoints out next Saturday they will be unable to be here; although the selves after the first five minutes. Pepoints out next Saturday they will be unable to be here; although the will grainst a different proposition and during the week will school them particularly in line work.

Stronach will be out this week to take his old place on the outside wing. Clancy is in a quandary which of the present outside wings to drop to make way for the big Scot. It is practically certain Nick Bawlf will turn out for practice at once, and if his form is in keeping with the quality of ball he played in 1907, he will pay full against Tigers next Saturday. With Williams, McCann, Gerard and Bawlf comprising a back division, Ottawa can boast of one of the fleetest kicking and running departments in the game. They are all colossal punters. Both Williams and Bawlf are track men and can do the hundred under eleven seconds. But it is doubtful if they have anything on it is doubtful if they have anything on McCann and Gerard when togged out in full football regalia.

Ottawa, Oct. 5.—Before leaving Ottawa on Saturday night, Harry Griffiths, who handled Saturday's game jointly with Doc Hendry, stated he would be glad to act as an official at would be giad to act as an official at the Ottawa-Tiger game next Saturday if he possibly could. Hendry, however, will be unable to be hered although the Ottawa officers would like to have had him. Griffiths will let the loos club know in a day or two whether or not be will be able to act.

COMMENT AND GOSSIP

Crompton, the young Englishman who verity of the jumps, as the local steeplethe pond by his walking and running abilities, is training at Britannia Park, with a view of getting in shape to lower the record for the jaunt between here and Toronto. He is a likely looking chap and has the physique that would indicate strength and endurance. The attempt is to be made within the next month, and the islander is confident of auccess. He shapes up well in his workouts, and some of the experts say he will come close to accomplishing the task. He has several medals and trophies which he captured in English meets.

Stanley Ketchel fights Jack Johnson 20 rounds a week from to-day at Colma, California. Ketchel says he is not a bit worried because Johnson is favorite at 10 to 4 and predicts that the odds will be much shorter when they meet. The fact that Johnson refused to agree to a forty-five round bout is the chief reason for the prevailing odds, as it is believed on the coast that the negro will be satisfied to win on points. Ketchel says that as Johnson could not stop Kaufman in ten rounds, the former will find it impossible to score a knockout in the coming mill. "The shoe will be on the other foot," says the Michigan lion, "for Johnson will have all he can do to prevent me from putting him away." Tor Johnson will have all he can do to prevent me from putting him away." Willus Britt, who is talking night and day, declares that Ketchell will stop the big negro in jig time. doubt one of the most strenuous of the season. Captain Coryell kept his men hard at it for over an hour, speeding most of the time in "bucking the ...mo" plays. The team is one of the heavisst in the "Big Four," and it looks as though it were going to depend a great deal on mass plays. When it is considered that the average weight of the wing l.ne will be about 185 pounds, such a course would certainly seem to be the correct one. The seniors lined up as follows: Full-back, Levack; halves, Norcross, Murphy and Kent; quarter, Coryelisorimmage, Russell, Lane and Heuther; wings, Grant, Taylor, Sinclair, Bayaroft Kent, Vair, Buskin and Ferguson.

It was "Jeff" Taylor's first appearance on the field this year, and he was as good as ever. He has been up at Gowganda for some time and only returned to the city on Saturday, Heuther also made his season's debut on the gudiron, and put up a good game. "Pud" Kent had the misfortune to sprain his ankle, and as a result will likely be cot of the game for Saturday, but he will be on hand again next week.

Ottawa Citizen: In a match that was brilliant in spots and loose at times the Ottawa Football Club on Saturday defeated the Montreal Amateur Athletic Club fourteen at Varsity oval by a score of 25 points to 14. It was the opening game of the Interprovincial Amateur Football Union and was witnessed by a crowd of about four thousand people. Play was too one-sided to be really exciting, for the Ottawas obtained such a big lead in the first quarter that they did not have to over-exert themselves in the remaining periods of play. Had the Montreal team bee natronger, the match would probably have been one of the best on record as the Ottawa players were in fine fettle and could have beaten almost any team. Montreal, however, were decidedly weak on the wing line. Their half-line was good and Captain Tommie Stinson at full back effected his usual spectacular palys, but the visiting team taken all round was Ottawa Citizen: In a match that was Captain Tommie Stinson at full back effected his usual spectacular palys, but the visiting team taken all round was not in a class with the Ottawa fourteen. Ottawa eased up in the last quarter, and profiting by a lucky block on one of Capt. Jack Williams' punts Montreal, in the dying moments of the game, plunged over the Ottawa line for their first aid only try. Had the Ottawa backs been as cautious in the last quarter as they were in the other three, Montreal would have been given a much bigger trimming.

Montreal Herald: The game demonstrated one very important point, that while Ottawa has a good defence, they are only mediocre in offence and not once did they make their distance on genuine line bucking. In fact, they were frequently pushed back and invariably kicked on third downs. Their method of hitting the line is not at all effective, and while they are expected to hold the Tiger line next Saturday, it is a safe prediction if they do not develop better bucking propensities during the week, they will make little progress through the line of the champions. In getting distance on straight football, Montreal was a little more successful than Ottawa, quarter-back Baillie ripping through to rive and eight varies outle frequently.

distance on straight football, Montreal was a little more successful than Ottawa, quarter-back Baillie ripping through for six and eight yards quite frequently. The Ottawa wings held firmly, however, and gave their backs the good protection it was expected they would.

The two captains, Williams and Stinson, of Ottawa and Montreal respectively, had a great punting duel right through the encounter. Stinson engineered the whole of the play behind his line, and to his running and booting can be attributed Montreal's spurt in the last quarter. He is a tower of strength be attributed Montreat's spirt in the last quarter. Ernie Hamilton, who was adis just entering his first year of fast company. Ernie Hamilton, who was admitted to good standing by the Interprovincial governors Friday night, played right half, but while he did not make any breaks, he was not a very conspicuous figure on the field. Billy Craig, a brother of the famous Jimmy, who played the other side salf, was about on a par with Hamilton. Montreal is stronger than last year by a fair percentage, but is still far short of their champion team of 1907. At home, Elliott's outfit should win a majority of their games, and as they will improve every week, it would not be an awful surprise to see them put a crimp in the aspirations of both Tigers and Ottawa on the M. A. A.

BEAUTIFUL WEATHER MAKES RACING VERY ENJOYABLE

And Unusually Large Crowd Was at the Track-Howard Shean Won the Ontario Selling Handican.

THE SECOND AND I last week of the Hamilton Jockey Club's autumn meet ing opened yesterday most auspiciously.

The weather was

most auspiciously.

The weather was much brighter than that of the preceding week, and consequently an unusually large crowd was at the track. The racing provided plenty of excitement, and the steeplechase certainly was a thriller from the drop of the flag. The track was in the best possible condition, and good time was made in all the cvents. The bookies made a great haul in the fourth race. The talent put tons of money up on Hiacko and Lexington Lady, and the odds on both were quickly brought down from three to one to eleven to five. The books took all the money, however, and had but little to pay out when Howard Shean romped home by four lengths, an easy winner. In the first race Inflection, the favorite, got the first money by two lengths. The winner was well up all the time, and took the lead before a furlong had been covered. Hedge Rose was a good second, and the well backed Autumn Girl finished third.

Mill on the Floss had the second event on lee from the throw of the barrier. Mendip looked good for second money mill on the Floss had the second event, on ice from the throw of the barrier. Mendip looked good for second money until the stretch, when Bilberry came strong and beat him out. Prince Rhuperd stumbled in the back stretch, and Jockey Phair narrowly escaped serious injury. He was not stepped on, however, and was able to walk off the track. The winner was an oddson favorite.

Injury. He was not stepped on, hower, and was able to walk off the track. The winner was an odds-on favorite.

The steeplechase was nothing but a series of accidents from staft to finish. At the first jump Get Along topped and turned a somersault. Elmhurst was about two feet behind, and jumped on him, throwing Jockey Hulham, who, fortunately, was not badly injured. Franklin was not so lucky, and had to be carried from the field on a stretcher, while Get Along broke his back in the tumble and died in a few minutes after. Marksman and Waterman were fighting it out for the lead when the twelfth jump was reached, and the latter topped and threw Boyle, who also had to be carried from the field. He was badly shaken up and bruised, and was taken to the City Hospital last evening. While his condition is not considered serious it will likely be a couple of days before he is able to ride again. Marksman won all alone, and Impertinence had no opposition for second place.

The report of the death of Col. W. H. Mosby yesterday was received with much regret by race-goers. He was a well known figure on the Canadian circuit for years, and everyone who knew him was rist friend. Some years ago he was trainer for the Valley Farm racing string, and remained in charge until the stable was dispersed at the death of the late was dispersed. He horses and raced them on his own account. He had Jockey Dalton McCarthy under contract, the boy having begun his riding experience with Col. Hiacko took the lead in the fourth race, but in the stretch Howard Shean opened out and won in a romp. Hiacko got second, with Lad of Langdon third.

In the fifth event Elgin came from far back in the stretch run and just got up in the final stride. Oquettos caught Odin at the eighth pole, appeared to have the race won, and barely failed to make good. Odin, the pacemaker all the way, lasted long enough to save third. # PLAYING FOOTBALL

Signals enable the captain to transmit orders to the players in terms unintelligible to the opponents. Numbers are best. The system must be simple. Complicated signals mean a slow team.

The men must be drilled until the signals are as well known as the alphabet.

As the quarter generally gives the signals, he should originate the play. nals, he should originate the play.

An easy set of signals is one in which each play is numbered. Let "five" and 'six" send the respective half backs straight through the line from their regular positions. Even numbers will be plays on the left of centre and odd numbers, plays on the right of centre. The reverse is just as good, of course. The following illustrates the use of the plan:

New York, Oct. 5.—New York's indoor athletic season was ushered in last night with the beginning of the annual indoor track and field championships meeting of the Amateur Union. Henry Gissing, of the New York Athletic Club, took the 1.000 yards run in 2.18 1-5, ofter a gruelling finish with Bromillow, of the Irish Americans. Gissing's time was 1 2-5 seconds faster than that which won him the same race last year. Lunghi, the Italian runsecond laster than that which won min the same race last year. Melvin W. Sheppard did not run, reserving his strength for the 600 yards race to-morrow. Coe, of Bostch, and Frank, of Brown University, defeated Martin Sheridan in the 8-pound shot put. The figures, however, were four feet or so behind Ralph Rose's record of 67 feet 7 inches. Babcock, of the N. Y. C., won the pole vault for distance, with feet 10 inches, after a tedious contest with Martin Sheridan, who was not in record-rheaking form. At the end of to-night's twelve events the I. A. A. C. led with 41 points and the N. Y. C. A. was second with 33.

MARKETS AND FINANCE

Tuesday, Oct. 5.-In the meat marcet this morning the price of hogs took a decided drop. They have been $8.50 all summer, but were quoted to-day at $8.15 to $8.25. No reason was given, but some of the butchers say the demand but some of the butchers say the demand for pork is very small, and they think that is responsible for the falling off in price. Good beef is soarce and the price remains firm. There was a fair stock of produce on the fruit market, but the prices remained unchanged. Some choice late Crawfords were in and were offered for 75 cents a basket. Grapes were plentiful and the price remained low. Dairy produce was firm at the same prices. There was some flurry on the hide market when a dealer raised the price of No. 2 hides to 15 cents. Although small quantities of grain have been delivered. quantities of grain have been delivered, the prices remain firm.
