SOLIGNUM.

A Remarkable Test! Locally made by Messrs. W. & G. RENDELL.

To test Solignum as a preservative for Wood against the attacks of Worms, we tried a piece of 2 x 4 Spruce, about two feet in length, by painting one-third with Solignum, leaving the balance clear wood, this we suspended by a wire through the centre, in the water about one foot from the bottom, immediately over a pile of stones the remains of a sunken wharf (which is the place where our Wharf Shores are eaten off first) for Three Months. On taking it up at the end of that time we found some half-dozen small holes only a very short distance in the clear part of the wood, which shows the liquid had penetrated through the whole piece and the worms had hardly begun boring before coming in contact with it.

Last year as a test of some brands of Copper Paint we handle, we had a similar piece of wood treated at both ends, leaving the centre third clean; this was in exactly the same place as the piece for the Solignum test for Three Months and Three Days, when taken up the painted ends were perfect but the centre was riddled with worm holes.

Both these pieces of wood are to be seen at our Office by those interested in the preservation of Wharf Piles or any other wood work.

THERE is, perhaps, no country or climate more beautiful than England, as seen in one of its rural landscapes cloudless summer's dawn. The very feeling that the delightful freshness of the moment will not be entirely destroyed during the whole day, renders anticipated flery advance of the sun in southern or tropical lands. Exhilaration and gladness are the marked characteristics of an English summer morning. So it ever is, and so it was hundreds of years ago, when accured the advents we are about to narrate. How lovely then, on such a morning as we allude to, looked that rich vale in the centre of Gloucestershire, through which the lordly Severn flows! The singing of the birds. the reflective splendor of the silvery waters, the glittering of the dew as it dazzled and disappeared-all comhined to charm sound, sight, and sense, and to produce a strong feeling of joy. But the horseman, who was passing through the graceful scene, scarcely needed the aid of any external object to enhance the pleasurable sensation that already filled his breest The stately horse on which he sat, seemed, by its light steps, and by ever and anon proudly prancing, to share in the animation of its rider. But the baron will have each advent of his future son-in-law welcomed as an approach of state. "Grammercy, Sir Baron," observed the knight, as after passing through a crowd of domestics, he grasped his host's hand upon the threshold, "one would imagine me Richard of Engand himself, or rather Saladin, that greatest and most gaudy of Oriental Soldans, to see this pompous preclude to my disjune with your lovely

"Thiss will indeed be too much Ralph," observed the lady; "a mon arch, his queen, and his court, to come to this out-of-the-way castle to honour the wedding of a lone damsel like myself; I can hardly suppor the idea of so much splendor

"Fear not, my beloved," replied the knight, "Richard is homely enough, and all good nature. Morever, it is but a return of civility: for I it was who accompanied him to the altar where he obtained the hand of Berengaria of Navarre; the office was a dangerous one then, since I incurred by it the wrath of Philip of France. And why, dearest, should not every magnificence attend our nuptials? It is the outward emblem of our great content-a mark, like those gorgeous ceremonies that accompany the festive prayers of the Church, which tell the people of the earth of a joy having something of the gladness and glory of heaven in it.'

Be it as you wish, my too happy. May God bless and pro-

Thus passed this bright day, until the approach of dusk imperatively compelled the enraptured lovers to seperate. The knight had urgent business to settle, early on the morrow, at his own castle, before setting out for London, to announce to the and to beg from the monarch the fulfilment of the promise he had made, to be present in person with his ney lay in a friendly and peaceful country, it was not the habit in those days to be abroad much after dusk without an efficient escort.

Sir Ralph reluctantly quitted petrothed: he made his escape moreover from the baron and the chapain who prayed his further tarrying to share in another flagon of Rhenish about to be produced. The horse and dog were at the porch, and, in a few minutes, the knight had passed the drawbridge, and was in the same fa road again.

"I have known Sir Ralph from his birth," observed the baron to the chaplain, "and I love him as my own son. The king may well come here to see him wedded; for he has not a nobler, brayer, or more generous knight within his realm."

"Truly, Sir Baron, he is endowed with much excellence," replied the oriest: "I do greatly admire his strong denunciation against the Templars and other warlike orders, who olerate the protracted existence of that hand of murderers in the east who have their daggers ever pointed against the sons of the Church. Sin talph speaks on this subject like true soldier of the Cross.

"Very true," retorted the baron, "ye wish our chevaliers would cease to think of foreign broils and questions and attend to affairs at home. This Rhenish is perfect; after all, wine is the only thing really good that origin nates beyond our seas."

Their discourse had scarcely pro ceeded further when it was suddenly interrupted by the loud howling and barking of a dog. The baron and the chanlain started un. "It is Leo. Si Ralph's dog," exclaimed the former-"what in God's name can be the mat ter?" and the two rushed out.

The Lady Alianore, at her orisons above, heard the same terrible how and bark. She instantly descended to the courtyard; as she came there, the outer gate was opened, and Leo, the knight's dog, flew past the wardou and ran to the feet of the lady. The animal's mouth was blood-stained, and his glaring eye-balls and ruffled cres showed the extent of his fury and de

Sealing News.

We learn from Mr. Jno. S. Munn, of Bowring Bros., that the firm had a wireless yesterday evening from Capt. skin to Mr. J. W. Morris, Supt. of the A. Kean of the Florizel stating that the shin is down in the Straits, where the ice is very heavy. She is after the old fat but there is very little doing, and she is caught in the flow off Red Bay, just above Blanc Sablon. She is in company with the Beothic, and both ships find nothing to do, so that they will force their way home possibly in a few days and may come through the Gulf on the hunt for the old seals. days. It is rumored around town to-day that the Bellaventure is with the two ships above named. Messrs. A. J. Have you tried this, and that, and the other remedy in vain, and are you feeling disheartened and discouraged? If so read the following instances of Zam-Buk's healing power, and apply it to your case:

"I had an ulcerated leg for several years. The ulcers spread all round the limb, thich was swollen to nearly twice its normal size. Several doctors treated me, me suggested amputation. None did me any good. Zam-Buk healed the sores!" o says Mrs. Gilmour, of Princess St., Kingston. Or, real this:—

"My mother tried many things for abscesses and eruptions, but in vain. In Zam-Buk she found a complete cure." So says Miss A. Coggill, of Wapella (Sask.). Sufferers from these "Hidden Skin Troubles" of any nature should profit by ach experiences as this. Zam Buk is seen at its best when applied to cases which

Address all applications for samples and retail orders to T. McMURDO & CO., St. John's, Nfld.

Over and over again Zam-Buk has performed a miracle of healing when applied to sores and skin injuries which have refused to heal under any other form of treatment. Why not let it heal your trouble? Immediately Zam-Buk is applied to a sore or wound or diseased portion of flesh it commences its work in two directions. It anoints the exterior, and its antiseptic properties prevent any germs and bacilli from creating trouble. Then the herbal essences and juices so finely purified and concentrated, penetrate the subjacent layers and stimulate the weakened or diseased cells to active, healthy operation. These cells then put forth their "Building" products and replace the diseased outer layer with fresh and healthy tissue. By degrees the whole diseased surface is thus replaced by new healthy skin.

In this way Zam-Buk cures cuts, burns, bruises, ulcers, abscesses, itch, eczema,

An address on the 20th entury Prodigal Son was beautiful illustrated by lantern slides, show ing the gradual downfall of the young man led astray by the love of a life of debauchery. The lecturer made clear that the most prevalent sin in the city was intemperance, which had wrecked the lives of many promising young men. He referred to he curtailing of the liquor traffic b arly closing. Money was too ofter spent on alcohol that should be spent on food and clothing. The death rate amongst infants is largely due to in emperance. Mr. H. J. Earle, of Fogo accompanied the hymns on the plane I'wo young men signed the ple-lge.

Fourteen years ago leclined to aid such an attempt on he (Mr. W.) had presided as Churchwarden over the meeting at which Rev. Mr. Dunfield was nominated as the successor of the saintly Canon Wood, and now every one would admit that Canon Dunfield had sustain ed the best traditions of the parish. He was a preacher of exceptional ability, gifted with powers of organization, possessed of much tact and charm that endeared him to the whole congregation. His loss would be felt not only by the Parish but by the whole Diocese. They shared with Mrs. Dunfield in their sorrow, and to her and her family he felt it would e a consolation to place on record their feelings of sorrow. He begged propose the adoption of the followng resolution

"The congregation of St. Thomas's Church wish to express their deep sympathy with the widow and family of their beloved Rector. They desire at the same time to record the deep sense of personal loss which every member of his flock feels by the leath of a revered pastor. In the many years during which the late Canon Dunfield ministered to them in spiritual things, they have always 'elt that his life and ministry were narked by devotion to duty, and graced with every Christian virtue."

Mr. J. A. Clift, K.C., seconded the esolution, and in doing so paid a warm tribute to the late Canon for the affection he had won and the esteem he had gained among the parishioners. Canon Dunfield was in every respect a faithful Rector of the Par-

Mr. A. J. Harvey supported the esolution as a life-long friend of anon Dunfield

The resolution was carried by aclamation and the Chairman stated that he would forward a copy to Mrs. Dunfiel 1. Mr. H. W. LeMessurier made a motion for the appointment of a committee to consider the best means of perpetuating the memory of the late lector, and to report at the Easter neeting. This motion was seconded by Mr. Woodley, supported by Sir James Winter and carried.

The following will form the com mittee: Hon. M. G. Winter and Mr. R. F. Goodridge, Churchwardens: Sir J. S. Winter, Hon. R. Watson, Messrs. A. J. Harvey, H. W. LeMessurier, J.

A. Clift and J. Williams. The Chairman then read correthe Churchwardens and the Executive Committee of the Diocesan Synod in reference to the vacancy in the recorship. Then Mr. A. J. Harvey made the following motion: "That a vacancy having been oceasioned in the office of Rector of St. Thomas's Church by the death of the Reverend Canon Dunfield, this meeting duly convened and representing the said Parish, hereby nominates the Reverend George Ross Godden MA for appointment and induction by the Lord Bishop of Newfoundland as Rector of the said Parish, in succession to the late Canon Dunfield, in accordance with the Act of the Synod of the Church of England of this Diocese, in such case provided.'

In moving the resolution he said there was nothing truer than that "God buries His workmen but carries on His work." Mr. Godden had served for over thirteen years as Senior Curate of the Parish, and had endeared himself to all the parishioners. His opinion was that they could not do better than follow the last precedent nominate the Senior Curate He had much pleasure in nominating Mr. Godden as Rector.

Mr. John Williams seconded the motion, which was put by the Chairman and carried without a dissenting voice. The result was received with great acclamation, which testified to the popularity of the Rector-elect. The Chairman will convey the sense of the meeting to the Bishop's Commissary, Rev. Canon Temple, and as soon as the ratification of the Bishop has been received, Mr. Godden will be inducted as Rector. The Evening Telegram concurs in the congratulations which are now pouring on Mr. Godden. The work Mr. Godden has done in the past affords ample testimony of his fitness for his new duties, and we believe in the broader field which is now open to the rev. gentleman he will justify the confidence which has been unanimously reposed in him.

Mr. C. D. Bennett, Maple Grove, Megantie Co., Que., writes:—'I'l had dyspepsia very bad. The food would sour, my stomach would swell up. I suffered a great deal and could not sleep. As the result of using Di. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I am now entirely cured and can eat any kind of food. They have made a new man and a younger man of me and I cannot say too much in their praise.'

"BEAVER FLOUR" is the unfailing friend of the housewife. It saves her the trouble of keeping two kinds of flour-one for bread and another for pastry. Being a perfect blend of Manitoba Spring wheat and Ontario Fall wheat, it gives to bread the rich, nutritious properties of the former and the lighter qualities of the latter, making a large white loaf of delicate texture and exquisite flavor. Pastry, biscuits and cakes, made with BEAVER FLOUR cannot be excelled. · Ask your Grocer for it today.
