Ethel M. Dell's New Novel.
Miss Dell's new novel opens up a fresh field of romantic feeling, and she works it with the rapid skill and vigor which have put her in the front rank of novelists of the emotions.
"The Obstacle Race" is run by a heroine of sympathetic character, a young woman disillusioned with the world of fashion and frivolity, who endeavors to return to the less complex and more honest and human ways of life. The obstacles are the associations and entanglements from which it is so hard to fling away. With the aid of a great lover she ultimately conquers the last obstruction.
A dramatic narrative, worked out upon a delightful stage with the aid of a large and interesting company of actors—one of Miss Dell's most enthralling novels.

The Shadow of the Future.

He, a true old Darby, worried for his Joan. Those few years of rest that the animal part of humanity so longs for are to be denied these two, and Mary sorrowed silently for them both. Ah! if Sydney had been there now, with her bright, fearless power of lifting them out of their troubles, her happy insistence, baseless though it might seem, that there were better times coming, what a ray of gladness she would have been among their dark domestic clouds! How Mary could have soled her own tormented nerves on that lost companion's trustful buoyancy, and oh, what a rest it would have been!

But that source of sympathy was inaccessible. Even a letter was impracticable, for Mrs. Alwyn, when forwarding Sydney's last tender but sadly uncommunicative little note to Miss Dacie from Zurich, had by accident or design omitted to inclose her own address, and thereby cut off response for a time at least. So, alone with her grinding daily anxieties, Mary spent July and August unable to get much of their sunniness into her own system, since all their fair gifts seemed besmirched with ever-present cares; a file of unpaid bills tormented her, week in, week out, and the very roses on the house-walls seemed to shake their fragrant heads at her, and say reproachfully, "Now, don't presume to enjoy the sight of us, Miss Mary! If you must think of something sweet, think of all those groceries you owe for, and find a way to settle Mr. Tabor's account, do!"

Over the road to that desirable end she puzzled, till two upright puckers established themselves permanently between her brown eyebrows, and not till nearly Michaelmas did the faintest solution of the difficulty present itself. Then it was only of the stop-gap description, but, being better than none, she stuffed quills over it, and adopted the device which till now story-books only had made her acquainted with. It happened that on one September afternoon a stranger to Holyingham arrived there by rail, and going through the principal street, drew out his watch by the post-office, to see if his and local time tallied. It was just five o'clock, a fact proclaimed additionally by an outburst from a building hard by of national schoolboys, one of whom, with a joyful yelp of freedom, backed on the traveler's elbow, jerked the watch on to a wall in the opposite hand, and smashed the crystal face to fragments. Before the owner understood the accident the originator had bolted, so nothing remained but to look up a shop where the damage might be repaired. Some score yards off, gilt letters on a shop door blazoned forth that "W. D. Samuels" had for fifty years traded at that spot as goldsmith, optician, etc., and smaller type made known that old gold or silver could be there purchased or taken in exchange. Here the stranger then entered, and handed his watch over the counter for treatment, announcing that he would wait while a new glass was put in.

"That," said Mr. Samuels, screwing his trade badge into one sharp eye, and examining the dial carefully, "wouldn't take me two minutes, sir; but I'm sorry to say the rim is injured. I can't put that right under a day. You—see, sir?"

The gentleman did see, with considerable disgust. The injured chattel was an old favorite. The notion of trusting it to an unknown tradesman was unpalatable. He hesitated, mentally objurgating the little rascal who had caused him the annoyance, then made up his mind.

"I'll have it attended to in town," he said. "Just put it up in a box for me; and have you any silver concern—second-hand will do—that will keep time the few days I'm down here?"

Mr. Samuels' amour-propre, ruffled at the second, he had many of the articles requested in stock. Might he trouble the gentleman to step behind his desk? Here were fifty hanging up, extraordinarily reasonable, from which he could make choice. So round the tall rail-topped desk went the customer, as if there enduring Mr. Samuels' alternate eulogiums upon an ancient specimen of the turnip tribe and a superfluous fort-lated-back Geneva, when another individual entered the shop; and with a muttered "Excuse, sir," Mr. Samuels returned to his counter.

The new customer was a lady this time, and her business not to buy, but to sell. To Mr. Samuels' credit be it said, however, this in no way lessened his civility. On the contrary, he was politeness itself; but he spread courtesy as soft as down over a bargain as hard as adamant. No one could be surrier that he that lovers of this class had gone out of use, and reduced the watch, nervously submitted to him, to just the worth of the gold in its case. And no doubt it did seem strange to any one not in the trade that chains should drop to a quarter their first value after less than twenty years wear; but that was the unfortunate truth. He hadn't made it, and he couldn't mend it, or, he was sure, to oblige Miss Dacie he would. And these seals? Oh, out of date; only fit for melting! A spade guinea? Diamonds? (The old dealer's eyes would have glistered if long habit had not made him careful.) "Why, it was sparkling, no doubt, and"—twisting it on the end of his thick thumb—"good; but the stones—oh, they were small, and the setting antiquated."

"It was a great-unt! she left it to me, and the watch too," poor Mary Dacie faltered. "We always thought them valuable."

"And they are," agreed ready Mr. Samuels; "very—valuable, indeed, from a—a-association; but as a matter of business I couldn't give more for the lot, Miss Dacie, than—"

Than about a third of what she had humbly hoped! Pained chagrin nearly unhinged her. But if she turned back from the half-completed ordeal, those wretched bills would gal her worse than ever. So she did her best to answer lightly, though all the shop looked blurred and misty for a minute.

"Then, if you can give no more, Mr. Samuels, I suppose I can get no more. I have another watch at home" (a schoolgirl's treasure, price forty shillings sixteen years before); "and I scarcely ever wear rings, so these are of little use to me. I must take your offer. You did say guinea, did you not?"

Mr. Samuels had, indeed, used that magnificent term, but he fully intended slipping through the transaction in five-per-cent. lowerlier form. But there was an anxiety about the question that overrode his cupidity; also, he perceived that one of the seals was worth treble what he at first suspected. So with an air of generosity he conceded the odd shillings, unlocked his cash-box, paid out the sum, and, with the sincere assurance that he should be pleased to do similar business with her at any time, bowed Miss Dacie forth. Five minutes later he, with a deeper reverence, let out the stranger, who had emerged from behind the desk as soon as the lady left.

"It's an odd thing—very," said the old jeweler to himself, peeping after the gentleman as he strode off out-of-townwards; "I don't know his face, nor his name, but I do know he's the right sort to deal with. Thirty per cent, with no baggage and no highfalutin' to be sneezed at in these times!"

An hour after this episode Mr. Vaughan was roused from his coffee and the "Vigil" that served as scholarly sauce to his plain fare by an unexpected guest, and got up to welcome Richard Drayton right heartily.

"Dropper from the clouds!" he cried. "I'm glad enough to see you; but why this sudden appearance after months of never a line? Come—explain."

"Work, sir—work," said Mr. Drayton, giving up baggage and overcoat to the rectory housekeeper, and taking the seat and coffee his host pushed toward him. "I think I may boast I've not passed a lazy day since I left you twelve months ago."

"So! That sounds well. But"—when they were alone—"what has come of your labor? A certain person got out of my sight once for nigh twelve years, and came back no better off than when he set out. Eh?"

"True, sir, so far as cash goes; and I've not much more to show for my industry this time."

"Ah!" the rector looked disappointed. He knew his old pupil a worthy, and would fain see him a successful man.

"But, unless I'm much mistaken, I shall have before long. I used to get chaffed abroad by men cleverer and bolder than myself for missing opportunities of fortune by waiting too long to make sure of my way; and the habit sticks, I suppose. I must make sure of good foundations before I set to building."

"Well, then, let me hear about your foundation, Drayton;" on which invitation the younger man discussed with his old tutor the particular paths which had opened out since they met, seeming to disclose, at no great distance of time, means of property in comparison with which his inherited income was a mere bagatelle.

The Pearl and Romance.

Rulers of great domains and poets have made the pearl something to conjure with in that great portion of the world which seeks high value in small things. The queens of Egypt, Julius Caesar and the late Czar of Russia were its idolaters, while lines are to be found in the works of Shakespeare, Lord Tennyson and Robert Browning, not to mention the names of a vast array of lesser writers, extolling its beauty and its worth.

As to the prose of the pearl scientists have discovered that its nucleus is a worm parasite. To protect itself from harm and irritation the mollusk covers the intruder with a secretion, commonly known as nacre. It applies the nacre again and again as if it feared the organism would escape from the prison. Because of these successive coats defective pearls can be peeled by skillful workers and their value often greatly enhanced; but, if the operator's knife slips, the gem may be damaged beyond repair.

In the old days pearls were regarded as living objects which would die if not properly cared for. Gems that had lost their lustre were classified as diseased, and remedies were prescribed for them. Usually the fair owner was advised to wear the ornament next the skin, as it was held that the jewels pine away when neglected.

Recent a California judge ordered a $100,000 pearl necklace "returned back to health." He had conferred with laydieries who pronounced the gems "stuck." They told him the ornament needed light and air, and more than anything else, the vitalizing contact with the soft warm neck of a woman. The experts predicted that the necklace would continue to "starve" unless it received the suggested treatment. The judge then ordered the piece to be worn throughout one month each year, and added:

"After the hearing of said petition many requests to wear the pearls have come to the court from trained nurses and other women claiming to be in such perfect health that they would be able to preserve the lustre. These requests have been fully considered by the court, but, after seeing the petitioner's wife, Mrs. James B. Blum, I am convinced she is sufficiently sound in body and health to wear this necklace and preserve the lustre of these pearls."

The divers for pearls have a hard life. Those of Ceylon and the Persian Gulf grease their bodies, stuff cotton in their ears, close their nostrils with a clip, and go down with a basket or net at the waist. They remain beneath the surface from sixty to eighty seconds. If attacked by a sword fish, they must hide and outstay him. Sharks, devil-fish and rock-cod are other enemies; the last lies with his mouth wide open and grimly waits for his victim to step in. Divers do not welcome the use of a suit supplied with an air-line, and the majority of pearls are obtained in the old-fashioned way by nude or semi-nude men.

The largest known gem to-day lies in the Boreford Hope collection in the South Kensington Museum of London. It has a length of two and a circumference of four and one-half inches, and weighs three ounces. The finest pearl, "La Pellegrina," has its home in a museum at Moscow, though it was born off the coast of the East Indies. Insignificant in size, it is perfectly round and possesses a lustre which causes it to seem transparent.

The transparent jewel is a birthstone, a comparative newcomer as it were. The older generation of June children wore agates; but a few years ago the American National Retail Jewelers' Association endeavored to overcome some of the confusion that existed at that time, rearranged the list of birthstones, and replaced the agate with the pearl.

Pate favored a young farmer who, on a certain summer day, went "pearling" on a tributary of the Mississippi River. It led him to make a momentous decision that changed his style of living.

He had dredged and dredged. Hundreds of nigger-head mussels, scientifically known as unio, had closed tightly upon the spider-hooks. In mid-afternoon he had taken his catch ashore and proceeded to "open" the shells by hand. If he had boiled them for ten minutes, as most of the other fishers did, they would have burst open, but the process would have damaged any pearls they contained.

The sun sank lower and lower. The cows on his lonesome farm were waiting to be fed and milked; the horses, pigs and chickens were hungry, too. He looked at the pile of nigger-heads yet to be opened. Feeding by lantern light was no joy. He saw a man lounging nearby.

"Hey, pard," he called, "I'll take fifty cents for this bunch here. I got to be gone."

The man approached and eyed the shells. "They ain't wuth mor'n forty," he said.

They hanted back and forth, but both were obstinate. The would-be seller refused to come down in his price and the would-be buyers refused to increase his offer. Soon the man walked away. The next shell the farmer opened contained a pearl which he sold for a thousand dollars.

The farmer never knew that the buyer disposed of it for two thousand or that a jeweler made it into a pendant for which he received five. He would not have cared much anyhow, for the small fortune from the sale of the pearl meant that he could soon claim his sweetheart as his bride.

A YOUTHFUL ATTRACTIVE DRESS FOR MANY OCCASIONS.

3666, and Skirt 3569 are chosen. The Waist is cut in 6 Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. The Skirt in 6 Sizes: 24, 26, 28, 30, 32 and 34 inches waist measure.

Any of the materials now in vogue may be used for this model. As here shown black satin was used with applied motifs of old blue taffeta. Pongee or linen, with embroidery, or organdy or dotted Swiss with drawn work or hemstitching is attractive. To make the dress for a 38 inch size will require 3 1/2 yards of 42 inch material. The width of the skirt at the foot is 2 1/2 yards.

This illustration calls for TWO separate patterns which will be mailed to any address on receipt of 15c P.O.R. EACH pattern in silver or stamps.

A POPULAR STYLE FOR GROWING BOYS.

Pattern 3677 was employed in the making of this design. It is cut in 4 Sizes: 3, 4, 6, and 8 years. A 4 year size will require 2 1/2 yards of 28 inch material. The pattern provides two styles of closing on the trousers; the side closing being preferred for smaller boys.

Serge, flannel, tweed, velveteen, corduroy, linen, drill and singham are good for this style.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 15c in silver or stamps.

Religious and Religious Propaganda.

Religious Propaganda--Dail Eireann Reply Expected To-day--Much Rioting in Belfast--Wide Search Being Made for Missing Ship.

RELIGIOUS NAME.

LONDON, Aug. 29. Religious trouble in Malabar, India, arises, it is stated, from religious fanaticism. The intense hatred of Mohammedans of Arab descent, Europeans and Hindus. Of Home Rule they know nothing. They are virtually as barbarians, religiously, as they are to bloodshed, as they live for their religion, and are willing to die for it. Close observers here express the belief that the spread of propaganda of native nationalists. To this agitation added reports of great trouble in Turkey and the caliphate of the Caliph of Constantinople. This propaganda has been spread not only in the Malabar region, but throughout the Northwest frontier of India. The ever-turbulent tribesmen of the Malabar region in the Moplahs in the past have nothing in their frenzied attitude at the time of the projected uprising in the Punjab at the end of war some of the most serious documents were issued, and Europeans were to be expected to the last person.

STILL OPTIMISTIC.

DUBLIN, Aug. 29. The public Ministry met to-day, together and also with their colleagues, concerning the Irish situation. It was officially announced at six o'clock this afternoon that no reply to the latest communication of Lloyd George would be sent to London to-night. Officials at Dublin Castle and other persons interested in the issue of the negotiations seemed unperturbed to-night over the delay in replying. It was admitted at the castle, which generally has received early news of any negotiations. Dail Eireann is to make, that it was not known what the latest reply of De Valera and his followers would be. Optimism, however, prevailed at the castle and among a large section of the public. It is considered probable that the reply drafted by the Cabinet may be altered to some extent on the advice of persons outside the Dail Eireann.

BELFAST TRUCE BREAKERS.

BELFAST, Aug. 29. Rioting and bombing occurred in North Queen Street and along the new Lodge Road, Belfast, during the late hours to-day, and it was necessary to send armoured cars to patrol the locality. Two cases of bullet wounds were treated at hospital, one man having been shot in the back.

DISCUSS SILESIAN QUESTION.

GENEVA, Aug. 29. The solution of the Silesian question, which has puzzled the ablest diplomats of the Allied Nations for many months, was taken up here to-day by the Council of the League of Nations. Viscount Ishii of Japan, A. J. Balfour of Great Britain, Leon Bourgeois of France, Paul Hymans of Belgium, Marquis Imperiali of Italy, Wellington Kee of China, Count Quinones de Leon of Spain, and Gaston De Cunha of Brazil, all members of the council, were present.

RIOTING CONTINUES.

DUBLIN, Aug. 29. Rioting which broke out in Queen's Street and along the new Lodge Road at dinner hour to-day, was renewed this afternoon with great force, which made the streets extremely dangerous for pedestrians. A visitor was shot and died before reaching hospital. One youth was wounded.

LIUT.-GOVERNOR CLARKE DEAD.

TORONTO, Aug. 29. His. Hon. Lionel H. Clarke, Lieut.-Governor of Ontario, died shortly after 3 p.m. to-day, following a long illness. He was appointed to the position in November, 1919.

INTERNATIONAL COURT.

GENEVA, Aug. 29. Twenty-eight nations have ratified the International Court, provided for under the covenant of the League of Nations, thus assuring the permanent establishment of the court. Ninety candidates have been nominated for judgeships.

SEARCHING FOR SURVIVORS.

PORTLAND, Aug. 29. Four vessels abreast early to-day prepared to scour the Pacific Ocean over a wide expanse for survivors of the Canadian Importer, freighter, which has been missing since last week, according to a radio from Commander Wesch, of the coastguard cutter Snohomise, who is directing the search. Commander Wesch declared he was confident the Canadian Importer, which last week was helplessly adrift in a water logged condition, has foundered.

STILL Afloat, SAYS CAPTAIN.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 29. That the steamer Canadian Importer, which has been drifting disabled 600 miles off Northern California Coast for the last ten days, is still afloat, is the opinion of Captain Wingate, of the steamship Canadian Winner, expressed in a message to local officers of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, received here this morning.

A. F. L. CABLES LLOYD GEORGE.

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 29. The Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor, at a brief meeting on Sunday, sent a cable message to Mr. Lloyd George, British Premier, urging him to continue the truce with Sinn Fein in Ireland, until after the forth coming disarmament conference in Washington, no matter what the outcome of the present peace negotiations with the Irish Republican leaders.

Found Ship in Heart of City.

San Francisco discovered an old wooden ship under the streets of its business section recently. Contractors, excavating a deep foundation for a new skyscraper with steam shovels, were hindered in their work by strange massive timbers found thirty feet below the surface. They had accidentally stumbled upon the preserved remains of some strange buried craft. The bronze-sheathed and copper-bolted hull measured one hundred feet in length by thirty feet beam, and great interest was aroused by the puzzling location of the relic a mile from the water. The city's history revealed, however, that it was the "Euphemis," a bit of whose historic and romantic existence is as follows: In the days of '49, when the mad stampede around the Horn to the new California gold fields was on, numerous ships were abandoned by their crews at the end of the journey, and left to rot on the mud flats of San Francisco Bay. But, in forming the municipal government of the fast-growing city by the Golden Gate, the first town council bought the Euphemis, and converted it into a prison ship. Those were "rough" days in San Francisco, and this, the first jail the city could boast, was tied to a wharf, and soon filled up. An old sketch of the scene at this part of the water front reveals another ship, the Apollo, converted into a saloon and lodging house. As the city grew and forced the waters of the bay back from the spot by filling in the shallows, the novel spectacle was formed of a strange ship sticking up out of ground in the heart of the city, surrounded by substantial stone and brick structures. During the next fifty-six years, the city attained great size. Then it was suddenly half-levelled by a great fire. And had it not been for the necessity of a deep foundation for the latest edifice to rise over the spot, seventy-two years after the Euphemis became a jail, the old hull would have slumbered on for another fifty or one hundred years. As it was, the contractors experienced considerable difficulty in removing the mud and sand-laden skeleton with modern steam tackle, but made a small fortune out of the sale of the heavy copper and brass junk found on it.

Add a cupful of chopped ripe olives to cream of celery soup.
Grate a little nutmeg over custard pie and chill before serving.
Grated orange rind colors and flavors frosting very temptingly.
Scrambled eggs are nice served on toast, or with hot minced ham.
Carrot-soup is good flavored with a little onion. Serve with croutons.
Cold cereal is delicious sliced, fried and served with honey or jelly.
Be careful not to repeat a flavor in planning the courses of a dinner.

Garnish steamed fish with slices of hard-boiled egg, lemon and parsley.
Squash au gratin is good. Prepare as you would macaroni au gratin.
Pork scraps may be fried out and used for creamed fish instead of butter.
Add two tablespoonsful of chopped red or green pepper to corn pudding.
A little piece of red pepper boiled with cabbage makes it less indigestible.
Your cake will be deliciously flavored if you blend two or more extracts.
For ice cream use one cupful of sugar to four cupfuls of milk or cream.
Surprise the family by baking the chickens pie in little individual dishes.
Four courses are sufficient for the simple dinner served by the hostess.
A most enticing fruit paste is made with wild crab apples and quinces.
Baked fish is especially good when stuffed with oysters and cracker crumbs.
Currant jelly sauce is usually appropriate with desserts flavored with bananas.

Russia as a Possible Market.

Newfoundland has yet to enlarge her trade boundaries, if she would be a competitor in the markets of the world for the produce wrested from the depths of the seas. And it has yet to be proven that Newfoundland's fish foods are of an inferior quality, according to methods of cure, than those of any other country which sends men to toil at the harvest of the ocean. True we have not departed to any great extent from old-fashioned ways such as were in vogue centuries ago, and we still cure cod by means of the heat of the sun, and pack herring as of old. But notwithstanding our aloofness from modern principles of preparing fish for food, the original cure still hold good, and when care and attention is taken, there is no better article leaving the stores of any fish country than that which goes out from Newfoundland. But we have not expanded. The markets which took our fish for hundreds of years, are continuing to take them, and but little exploitation of new avenues of sale have been made. To-day opportunity opens her doors. A country whose inhabitants number almost more millions than Terra Nova can count thousands offers itself as a potential purchaser of our fish in unlimited quantities, or at least if not unlimited, up to the last quintal or barrel that we can supply. Such an offer is bound to contain future possibilities. Russia wants Codfish, four hundred thousand quintals marking the first purchase complement. Russia wants salted or pickled herring. Newfoundland can fill both orders up to her productive limits. The question of financing seems to be the obstacle, and in dealing with a new and strange market the motto festina lente (hasten slowly) should perhaps be adhered to. At the same time there can be no great harm done in determining just exactly how far we can go in opening up trade relations with the Russian Government. Manufacturing countries are making every effort to capture trade with the Soviets, and if the industrial geniuses of Europe and America are of opinion that a valuable trade with Russia can be built up and continued, why should Newfoundland hesitate to essay a venture regarding the disposal of her sea products. New markets are necessary to our future wellbeing. Primitive conduct of business has to be abandoned and more modern ideas introduced. The ports of Russia are open to the world, and Newfoundland's chances to enter therein are equally as good as those of others. A demand is being made for such food articles as we can supply. Let commercial acumen and financial keenness find a way by which this country can become a factor in catering to the needs of one hundred and eighty millions of people, who are to quote those who know—"the greatest fish eaters in the world."

LEAVING HALIFAX. S.S. Rossland leaves Halifax today for New York.

Under New Management

We take the following announcement of a change in management from the columns of the current issue of the Twillingate Sun, and beg to express the hope and wish that under its new Editorial control the Sun will shine as brilliantly as in the past. That the late Mr. W. B. Temple will make good in the new position he has taken goes without saying. "The Sun has again changed hands, Mr. W. B. Temple having decided to try his luck in the land of the Maple Leaf. We have taken upon ourselves the responsibility of running a newspaper, and have thereby saved perhaps a total eclipse. The Sun has had three partial eclipses during its generation; first, during Mr. Jabez Thompson's career, who sold out to the late Mr. George Roberts (late Magistrate here, father of the present purchaser), who also sold later to Mr. W. B. Temple, who had been doing service at Glenwood as operator and mail clerk, and the Sun has now taken another jump to its present owner, who expects in a weak manner to still keep the banner unfurled. We are not professing to be able to handle the printing business or editing a paper as well as the late editor, although we served at the printing end of it 14 years ago, but we will do our utmost, trusting for the co-operation and support of the general public of Twillingate and elsewhere. The Sun has progressed at the hands of Mr. Temple and gained popularity abroad, being more highly circulated and more prosperous, both before and during the war, when news was looked for from every direction. So the good old Sun is still afloat, and if the winds of trouble do not blow too hard, we expect to keep her on her course a while longer. We do not suppose we will satisfy every mind on some points, but we expect to be frank, and as far as possible, give all the particulars where necessary, for the well being of all to whom the Sun may be of interest."

Hymeneal. CASHIN-FOX.

The wedding of Mary, only daughter of Sir Michael and Lady Cashin, to Mr. Cyril J. Fox, M.H.A., took place at 10.30 this morning in the Oratory of Our Lady Mercy, Military Road, Rev. Dr. Carter officiated. The bride was given away by her father, and the bridesmaid was Miss Mary Morris, daughter of Judge Morris, a classmate of the bride, while attending the Grumby Schools, London. The best man was Mr. Chas. Fox, brother of the groom. The bride was attired in a handsome tailor-made costume of tan cloth, and carried a bridal bouquet of white roses, and wore a black picture hat, trimmed with a large white spray. After the ceremony, which was attended by the immediate friends of the couple, a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served at "Cambrell", the residence of the bride's parents, over one hundred guests being present at the festivities. At 1 p.m. the happy couple left by private car for Doyle's, where the honeymoon will be spent. On return they will take a trip to New York. The Telegram joins with the host of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Fox in wishing them many years of matrimonial bliss.

For a Worthy Cause.

The Garden Party, advertised elsewhere in our columns to-day, to be held at Lawley's Grounds, Forest Road, to-morrow afternoon, is for one of the most worthy causes to which money can be given. The Labrador School and Orphanage is a monument to the energy and labor of Rev. Henry Gordon of the Cartwright Mission, who is devoting the best years of his life to the spiritual uplift of the people on the bleak and barren coastline of Newfoundland's dependency. Believing that education is the first step in training the children to comprehend the glories and the goodness of the Creator, Mr. Gordon has labored for the establishment of an institution, in which the first principles will be instilled into youthful minds, thus sowing the seed which will eventually fructify and bring forth the pure blossoms of spirituality and religion. The money to be expended on this grand object must necessarily be raised by such methods as appeal to the public, and at to-morrow's Garden Party, an opportunity will be given all who attend to assist the cause which Mr. Gordon has at heart. Make it then a financial success and let every man and woman, boy and girl give as they are disposed in their hearts, "not grudgingly or of necessity." Help the Labrador School and the Orphanage.

TO CORRESPONDENTS. "Watching." Such accusations as you make in your communications, would have come with better grace and more force had you made them over your own signature, or preferred them to the official head of the Department concerned. Anonymous charges, bordering on libel are not usually accepted by the press for publication, and we think the only correct way out of the matter is to hand your correspondence over to the authorities for investigation of the allegations.

Inter-Town Football.

GRAND FALLS WIN FIRST GAME. Grand Falls defeated the City team yesterday by a goal to 6 in the first game of the inter-town football series. The game was excellent throughout and was played under ideal weather conditions. No scoring was done in the first half, both teams putting up a splendid exhibition. It was not until 15 minutes of the second half had elapsed that the first goal was scored. Burt of Grand Falls doing the needful. The City team were urged to greater efforts by this, but their wild shooting when near goal lost them several fine opportunities. When only a few minutes were left, Half-man managed to secure the Grand Falls' second goal and the last for the game. It is expected that the St. John's team will do better in to-day's game.

Episcopal Appreciation.

Capt. Field and Purser White of S. S. Prospero have each received a letter from His Lordship Bishop White, who was a passenger on their boat last trip, expressing his appreciation of their services to him on the voyage. Both officers are very popular amongst all who have travelled with them and in his letters, His Lordship only expressed what others who know them, think.

To Collect Payment.

The Municipal Council is now taking steps to see that motorists will not be able to evade the tax, either in the city or outlying settlements. These steps take the nature of a systematic check of all cars registered at the Municipal offices. The names of all delinquents, including those who have used their cars for part of the season and are now storing them will be handed over to the police.

McMurdo's Store News.

TUESDAY, AUG. 30. Acme Corn Silk has from the very best of the crop, a prompt and effective relief for corns and callouses, and owing to its simplicity in use, has become one of the most popular, as it is the lowest priced, corn preparation in the market. It may be used for any sized corn, and is simplicity itself in application. It merely needs to be attached like a piece of court plaster, and left on the spot for 48 hours, when after soaking the foot well, the corn will often come out bodily. A second application rarely fails to remove the corn. Price 10c.

A New Line-Up.

In to-night's game between the Feildians and Highlanders the line-up of the former team is almost completely changed owing to several members of the original team being either away or indisposed. The new line-up is: Goal, H. C. Hayward; backs, Wilson, Hunt; halves, Clouston, R. Chafe, Jerritt; forwards, J. O'Leary, Dickenson, E. G. Ewing, E. E. Ewing, Payne.

Shore Fishing a Failure.

A business man who recently arrived in town from the West Coast declares that the Shore fishery this year is an absolute failure. The bankers, on the other hand, are doing very well and are getting full trips. Things are particularly bad in Fortune and Hermitage Bays. In the former place he said that people were actually starving. Bait was scarce for a time, but is very plentiful now near Hr. Breton and Bay de Peau.

Building a Bridge.

The latest illustration of the Government squandermania is the reported allocation of $11,000 for a Bridge at Hr. Breton. In conversation with a gentleman who has a thorough knowledge of that town and the conditions prevailing there, a Telegram reporter was told that the bridge was entirely unnecessary, and that whilst a certain amount of work would be provided while it was being built, the whole amount of the allocation would be swallowed up by materials alone. His lowest estimate for the cost of this bridge is $25,000. Is this the way the Minister of Justice is attempting to hold the support of his district?

Coastal Boats.

CROSSBIE. S.S. Suva called on Pogo Mall Service this morning. GOVERNMENT. S.S. Portia called West at 10 a.m. S.S. Prospero in port. Sailing to-morrow on Northern Coastal Service. BRIDE. Aggie left Placentia yesterday on Marshoon route. Gladie left Billie's Island last evening, outward. Gladie leaving Placentia to-day, on S.W. Coast Service. Home North of Flower's Cove. Kyle at North Sydney. Meigie left Twillingate at 8 p.m. yesterday. Sagona at St. John's. Malchoff left Britannia at 6 a.m. outward.

A Serious Charge.

William Dodd, a 14 year old messenger, who lives at Oxen Pond, was this morning charged before Mr. McCarthy, J.P., with cutting and wounding Edward Preston, a boy of about the same age, and doing him grievously bodily harm. Dodd, through his counsel, Mr. W. J. Higgins, K.C., pleaded not guilty. Bail was allowed in $1000 and two sureties in the sum of $500 each. The victim of the stabbing is now in hospital and is recovering.

OF MRS. J. J. MULLALLY. She did not pose within that paltry light. The public gaze where lesser woman strive. Her home, her husband, were her chiefest care. Her shrine the hearth where joys domestic thrived. Ever she strove to keep that flame alive. With which pure womanhood enrich the earth. She lived so all her energies were spent. That grace and love around her might have birth. Angels of God, whose post it is to guard. The homes of men and weave the charms of peace. The hearthstone round; grant her the sweet reward. For souls reserved, 'mid bias that shall not cease; Whose wisely virtues claimed their neighbor's praise. And blessed their husband's lives with perfect days. D.C. Aug. 30, 1921.

10-DAYS MESSAGES.

STRICT CENSORSHIP.

MADRID, Aug. 30.
The censor refuses to permit the publication of extracts of articles printed in Madrid newspapers, and telegraphic news is also forbidden.

MAY GET AUTONOMY.

KINGSTON, Ja. Aug. 30.
In view of the agitation for a wider measure of representative Government and improvement in the Colonies generally, it is learned here that the British Government has delegated to the Parliamentary Under Secretary to pay an official visit to the West Indies in December, and negotiations are being made to urge upon him that the Status of Government not only be raised, but that a sum of at least five million dollars be arranged to carry out improvements on the island.

READY TO DEFEND REPUBLIC.

BERLIN, Aug. 30.
German organized labor, comprising 11,000,000 members belonging to General and Independent Federations, and Chancellor Wirth yesterday declared the "go to the front" defense of the Republic. Majorities of Independent Socialists also sent deputations to the Chancellor (insisting that both parties demand that Government proceed without favor or against elements responsible for anti-Republic demonstrations and machinations, to which the assassination of Herr Erzberger is attributable.

FOUR BODIES RECOVERED.

HULL, Eng., Aug. 29.
The body of Air Commodore M. G. G. of the British Flying Force, who lost his life in the disaster of the last week, was discovered from the wreck of the dirigible late this afternoon. Three other bodies were also recovered by indefatigable salvagers from the wreckage, those of the Campbell, Supt. of the Royal Air Force, C. W. Duffield of the National Physical Laboratory and Chas. S. L., an American rigger.

TRAVELLING THE SILESIAN SKIN.

GENEVA, Aug. 29.
The Council of the League of Nations has accepted the task of solving the question of the disposition of Upper Silesia. Viscount Ishih, as president of the Council, so informed Premier Briand of France, after to-day's session of the Council. Discussion of the subject, however, will not be started before Thursday, councillors meanwhile studying the voluminous documents of this tangled case, which were distributed to them to-day.

LAW AND ORDER PREVAILING.

DUBLIN, Aug. 29.
Telephone communication between Dublin and Belfast was impossible to-day, as all wires had been cut. At Dublin Castle, however, it was said that the situation in Belfast at eight o'clock this evening was well in hand.

THE PRINCE AND INDIA.

LONDON, Aug. 29.
At the present moment there apparently is no idea that troubles in India will affect the approaching visit of the Prince of Wales to the Indian Empire. An official list issued to-night contains a number of ruling Indian princes and other personages, who will be attached to the suite of the Prince during his visit.

HUNGARIANS RESIST AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, Aug. 29.
Austrians have met with resistance from Hungarians in their occupation of Burgenland, a little strip of West Hungary awarded Austria by the Peace Treaty, according to reports reaching here.

MOLLAHS LOSE 400.

SIMLA, India, Aug. 29.
General staff report from Malabar, dated Sunday night, said disturbances occurred South of Ponnani. A messenger has arrived at Calicut with 6,000 tons for Rotterdam, called yesterday reported to be quiet. Official communications of Saturday from Calicut said the column returning from Lalapuram came into action with rebels Friday at Pukkatpur. Casualties of the Mollahs were about four hundred killed, while the British losses were two men killed and six wounded, including one officer.

HELD AS GUARANTEE.

BUDAPEST, Aug. 29.
West Hungary has been evacuated, with the exception of the Fedorsdorf section, which is being held as a pawn to guarantee Hungary's financial claims against Austria.

MILLIONS FACING STARVATION.

MOSCOW, Aug. 29.
Leo Kamenoff, Soviet relief director, told a correspondent of the Associated Press to-day, that ten million, five hundred thousand persons in fifteen provinces of Russia are facing starvation. Food resources were about fifty per cent. below those of pre-war days, he added. According to Kamenoff, nine million persons have seed grain and four peods of grain for sowing, but as eleven peods of the latter are necessary until the next harvest is garnered, the people must have help. Continuing, Kamenoff said that seed and good medicines were imperative needs. (A peod is a Russian unit of weight, equivalent to about 38 pounds avoirdupois.—Editor Telegram.)

RACE EQUALITY DEMANDED.

LONDON, Aug. 29.
Absolute race equality, both physical, political and social, as a foundation for advancement, is the claim set forth in a manifesto to the World yesterday, by the Pan-African Congress, now in session here. The manifesto protests against colored people being treated as unprivileged, and it demands enfranchisement based on educational qualifications alone.

RIOTING RENEWED.

BELFAST, Aug. 29.
Rioting, which broke out in this city, yesterday, and continued until after midnight, began again at seven o'clock this morning. During fighting yesterday two persons were killed and six wounded.

UNITED AT LAST.

BELFAST, Aug. 30.
For the first time in its history the Great Northern Irish Railway was completely tied up to-day by a strike of engineers and firemen, who ceased work at midnight. Ulstermen and Sims Feiners are standing united in this strike, which is purely an industrial dispute, and comes as a sequel to the Government turning control of the railroad back into the hands of its owners. The main line of this railroad runs between Dublin and Belfast, and its branches extend throughout the Province of Ulster.

The Wassena, with 6,000 tons of ore for Sydney, and Stad Dordrecht, with 6,000 tons for Rotterdam, called yesterday from Bell Island.

Destitution Up North.

NORTHERN SHORE FISHERY A FAILURE.

From Capt. Wm. Winsor who recently returned from the Northward, the Telegram learns that the Northern Shore fishery is a complete failure. On the North Side of Bonavista Bay, destitution is prevailing and, in fact, times have never been worse. The Straits fishery this year has been fairly good, but the Labrador fishery is only good in spots. From Battle Hr. to Cape Harrison fish are fairly plentiful and schooners between these places secured an average voyage. Up to August 15th, the fishery from Farmyards North to Ryan's Bay was a total failure. In places up North, according to Capt. Winsor, men are actually getting poorer whilst they are engaged in fishing.

Services on Prospero.

Two services were held on S. S. Prospero during her last trip. On Sunday, August 21st, when the ship was between Tilt Cove and LaScie, services were held by Rev. A. Clayton, and was attended by all the passengers and crew, irrespective of denomination. A collection was taken during the service and $10 was obtained, half of which went to the Twillingate Memorial Hospital, and the other half to the Marine Disasters Fund. The address delivered during the service was a most spirited one and was greatly appreciated by all. On Sunday last, as the ship was nearing St. John's, His Lordship Bishop White, who was amongst the passengers, held a communion service which was attended by all the Anglicans on board.

Labrador Report.

Makovik—Fresh N. W. winds, clear, fair fishing.
Cape Harrison—Light west wind, clear, fair fishing.
Holton—Light west wind, clear, good hooking, fair trapping.
Smokey—Light west wind, clear, poor fishing.
Flat Islands—Light west wind, clear, poor fishing.
Venison Island—Light west wind, clear, poor fishing.
Battle Hr.—Calm, clear, fishing good.

Fishing Craft Arrive.

Capt. Wm. Butt's schooner arrived at Island Cove from the fishery, recently with 400 qts. fish.
Skipper Jas. Drett of the schr. Clara P. arrived at St. John's yesterday from the Straits with 220 qts. codfish, and the schr. Azanetto, owned by Clifford Shirley of English Hr. West, arrived with 280 qts.

To Form Wrestling League.

Mr. B. B. Stafford, who is well known as an amateur wrestler of no mean ability, is at present interested in the formation of a Wrestling League in connection with the local A.A.A. It is proposed to present a shield for competition between the various local athletic organizations to be won on points. Medals would go to the winner in each weight.

Facts About Automobile Insurance.

One trouble with the automobile insurance business is there are too many cheap owners of expensive cars. War is quite a dangerous game and the fatalities have been frightful; but, having been few years in the world's history that present so great a toll of death and disability as comes through the development and use of the motor. It has slain his thousands and David his ten thousands, but wait till you get the full score on Henry.—Montreal Chronicle.

Lipton Abandons Race for Cup.

London.—Sir Thomas Lipton has definitely abandoned the idea of challenging again for the American Cup, according to his most intimate friends here. He has even given up ordinary yachting in Great Britain.

Sir Thomas, when questioned, hides his decision with the statement that "he does not wish to discuss the matter at the present moment." But his yachting associates of former days refer to his decision freely. "It is mainly a question of finance," said one of them recently. "To come down to cold facts, Lipton is not rich enough to take the challenge again solely on his own account."

"There are several questions to be considered. First of all, when Lipton challenges the cup is defended by a syndicate, every member of which is probably a richer man than Sir Thomas. On the other hand, he has to bear all the expenses unaided. Then last year's race cost him a big fortune. From the time the Shamrock was first designed in 1913 until the moment when she was finally defeated and Lipton returned to England, it is estimated that the challenge cost him no less than $2,500,000.

"It requires a great deal of consideration before such a sum can be risked again. "And it must be remembered that a new challenger would be far more expensive than the last. Since 1914 materials are anything up to 500 per cent. more. Wages have risen over 300 per cent. Lipton used to be able to hire the best sailors in England for $6 weekly; now the humblest members of the crew require a minimum of $25.

"Apart from this Lipton's business, like every other in this country, has been going through a bad spell on account of the trade depression. Shareholders are complaining that they no longer receive dividends at the old rate. They complain that Lipton has not been giving the same personal attention to the business as before. If he took a long holiday from England now, and at the same time embarked on a huge new scheme of private expenditure, their voices would be heard still louder in protest.

"Finally Lipton is growing old. Great as his personal ambitions to win the cup—and he would spend every penny he possesses to do so—he knows that he could not bear the strain and anxiety of building a new challenger. "His failure last year nearly broke his heart. It followed quickly on the loss of his beloved yacht, Erin in the war, when all his prized trophies went down with the ship. The two events together have shaken his spirit. "He is a much poorer man to-day than he was seven years ago. He still puts all his thoughts on the America's Cup, but he realizes that no longer is it for him to attempt the challenge single-handed. If he were supported by some of the great yachting institutions, or if some wealthy men associated themselves with him, he might yet have another try. "Otherwise, it can be taken as an accepted fact that Lipton is finished with the cup. But he is too fine a sportsman to complain."

Warning to Motorists.

Charge to Grand Jury, President Judge Norris E. Barratt, of the Court of Common Pleas, Philadelphia, has made a charge to the Grand Jury respecting relative rights and duties of automobiles and pedestrians on city streets. He says: "People blame the chauffeurs for reckless running, but the law is of ought to be the essence of common-sense. You know as well as I that chauffeurs would not be running that way across street crossings if the owner who sits behind him did not want him to. Therefore whenever such an accident occurs and injury or death results with the chauffeur at the wheel and the owner behind it will be your duty, if you find the chauffeur guilty, to indict with him the owner who sits behind him, and who is presumed in law and common-sense and in fact to give the order that produces the mischief. "When these cases come before a jury a great deal is said about unavoidable accidents, and as has been well said so many respectable people own automobiles, so many nice people, but here in court it would seem that nice people are as bad as the other in the running of them. "I do not care how high a man's position may be in the State or the Church or science or in wealth or in manufacture, if he is following a practice that is vicious and negligent, and he hurts the humblest of fellow-citizens, he ought to be compelled to stand before this Bar and answer for it to a petit jury. "Most automobile owners are insured against accident, and in this court if the injury does not amount to death they always contend that it is merely a question of damages which ought to be tried out in a civil court. In the civil court their attitude in many cases is, it is a mere question for insurance companies and no concern of theirs at all. Some do not like the trouble to even come into court. "Insurance against accident is not to be discouraged except in so far as it destroys a sense of personal responsibility on the part of owners and chauffeurs, but insurance against Shoe Buttons in One Ear and Out Other.

X-ray photographs taken at Boston prove that there is an ear-to-ear passage-way through the cranium of Harry Shanley, a wounded veteran of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, who is under treatment at the Massachusetts clinic for diagnosis. Six shoe buttons which he attempted to pass from one side of his head to the other became clogged, and the photographs taken for record clearly show them. Three of the buttons have been dislodged. One passed through his ear and two through his nasal passage. Shanley's condition was said to be serious because of danger that the hooks on the remaining buttons might rupture a blood vessel. The phenomenon was caused, Shanley said, by the concussion of an exploding shell in France.

The Price.

"They say that my boy is bad," she said to me.
 A time old woman, thin and very frail:
 "They caught him robbing railroad cars an' he Must spend from five to seven years in jail.
 His Pa and I had hoped so much for him.
 He was so pretty as a little boy."
 Her eyes with tears grew very wet an' dim.
 "Now nothing that we've got can give us joy."
 "What is it that you own?" I questioned then.
 "The house we live in," slowly she replied.
 "Two other houses worked and slaved for, when
 The boy was but a youngster at my side.
 Some bonds we took the time he went to war;
 I've spent my strength against the want of age
 We've always had some, and to struggle for—
 Now shame and ruin spread the final page."
 "His pa has been a steady goin' man,
 Worked day and night and overtime as well;
 He's lived and dreamed an' sweated to his plan
 To own the house and profit should we sell.
 He never drank or played much cards at night.
 He's been a worker since our wedding day.
 He's lived his life to what he knows is right.
 And why should son of his now go astray?"
 "I've rubbed my years away on scrubbing boards,
 Washed floors for women that owned less than we,
 An' while they played, the ladies an' the lards,
 We smiled and dreamed of happiness to be."
 "An' all this time where was the boy," said I.
 "Out somewhere playing—like a rife shot.
 The thought went home—"My God," she gave a cry
 "We paid too big a price for what we've got."
 —Edgar A. Guest.

Cubs Defeat C. E. I.

The C.E.I. were easily defeated by the Cubs in last night's League Baseball, the score being 12-0. The losers were completely outclassed by the Cubs who had everything their own way. Harvey Thomas again donned the Institute uniform and despite his lack of practice, put up a good showing as catcher.
 T. Manning pitched for the Cubs and Gosse replaced Clouston as Catcher. Messrs. Chesman and Hartnett controlled the game and the following was the result by innings:
 Cubs 3 0 1 8 0 0 0 12

Commander Fenn Dead.

It will be with feelings of great regret that all who came into contact with Lieut.-Commander Fenn, R.N., during his stay here on H.M.S. Briton, will learn of his untimely death, which occurred on August 9th at Alston Court, Nayland, Suffolk. Whilst stationed on the Briton, Commander Fenn endeared himself to all, and this sudden end to what would have been a brilliant naval career will come as a great shock to all his friends.

S. S. Portia.

ENTERTAINMENT AND COLLECTION FOR PERMANENT MARINE DISASTER FUND.

On the last trip of the Portia the ship was delayed some seven hours landing freight at Grand Bank in Thursday, 18th inst., which afforded an excellent opportunity for quote a number of "round trippers" to stretch their legs ashore in the famous Bank fishery centre of the South West Coast.
 After enjoying an hour or two rambling round the town and hand shakes with old and new friends, the tourists on their return to the steamer, hurriedly arranged an impromptu entertainment, which was held in the Music Room, producing some excellent talent and proving interesting and profitable to all concerned.

Songs were rendered by Misses M. Murray (Nurse), and G. Edwards; Messrs. W. Edwards, L. Kelly, J. A. Carmichael and F. J. LeGrow, M.H.A.; Recitations by Messrs. R. Manning and F. J. Shortall, whilst Miss M. McKay danced the Highland Fling in good style.

Short speeches were also made by Messrs. Manning and Carmichael, the latter suggesting that a collection should be taken up at the close for the Permanent Marine Disaster Fund. This was unanimously carried and the collection amounted to fifteen dollars.
 On arrival at Harbor Breton several other tourists boarded the steamer and being held up for the night—bad weather—the entertainment was continued which added another seven dollars to the fund, and on arrival at Gaultois four dollars was contributed, making in all twenty-six dollars, which has been forwarded to the Evening Telegram for transmission to the proper quarters.

Lottery Drawn.

Before a large gathering at the premises of Rendell & Co., King's Road, the tickets were drawn for the bicycle and gun in aid of the C. of E. Garden Party. After twenty-five minutes drawing the gun came up to W. English, ticket No. A.966, and half an hour after the bicycle came up to A. Blackmore, ticket No. A.195. After the drawing Mr. Reg. Dowden, who was Chairman of the Garden Party, thanked Mr. Rendell in a few well chosen words.

625,000 Bottles Sold in New York Alone in One Year

Biggest Thing Of Kind Ever Seen In That State, Says Big Wholesaler.

The fact that 625,000 bottles of Tanlac have been sold in the state of New York since its introduction there less than one year ago, is a big business item that will attract unusual attention throughout the entire East, for nothing like it has ever happened before. It breaks all records.
 Mr. George B. Evans, manager of the Gibson-Snow Company, the well-known wholesale druggists, with branches in Albany, Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse, recently announced that the preparation was now selling in their trade territories alone at the phenomenal rate of approximately 500,000 bottles a year.
 "If the present rate continues," said Mr. Evans, "this state alone probably require considerably over 750,000 bottles a year. This is a tremendous figure, but I am really conservative in making this statement."
 "Tanlac is sold by leading druggist everywhere."

COURAGE.
 Teach me to bear the blow
 Undaunted, unafraid;
 Teach me to stumble low,
 Nor call too soon for aid.
 I would stand up to life
 And all that it shall mean,
 Courageously serene.

Teach me to live each day
 Full to the best I know;
 Treading a troubled way,
 Let me no hatred show.
 After the blunders made,
 After the faulty plan,
 Let me come undismayed,
 Changed to a wiser man.

Teach me to understand
 Fortune may often stray,
 Bowing to her command,
 Let me pursue my way,
 Fallen and bruised and hurt
 After the cruel test,
 Let not my faith desert,
 Still let me do my best.

Tied Child to Track.

The shocking treatment of a child by its mother at Ste. Anne de la Pocatiere, Que., is reported in a despatch, which did not give any names, but likened the case to that of the Gagnon woman of Lethbridge, who is now serving life term in Kingston penitentiary for having caused the death of her step-daughter, Aurore.
 It appears that the woman recently took a violent dislike to her twelve-year-old daughter, and, after inflicting cruel punishment upon the child, finally dragged her to the railway tracks of the intercolonial line and bound her to the rails, leaving her to her fate.
 The screams and sobs of the child attracted the attention of a farmer working in a field nearby, and he rescued her from her perilous position a few minutes before the train passed.
 When the townfolks learned of the action they reported the matter to the authorities, who investigated the case and found that the woman had displayed evidence of insanity of late, and in consequence of her violent treatment of her child, had her interned in an asylum.

Stolen Car Returned.
 A motor car which was stolen from outside a residence on Marze Street on Sunday night was returned yesterday morning, slightly damaged, and with an empty gas tank. The person or persons who borrowed the car are still unknown. This habit amongst certain joyriders in this town of taking motor cars and using them for several hours before returning them to their owners, is becoming too prevalent and strong steps should be taken to put a stop to it.

Officers and Business of N. P. A.

On Monday evening, August 29th, the N.P.A. Postal Association arranged a formal dinner at their ranks, electing their officers for the coming year, and planning much business to engage the attention of their Executive for some time to come. The officers elected for the coming year are:—

- President—Jordan Milley.
- Vice-President—John H. Clarke.
- Secretary—Fayson J. Kinella.
- Treasurer—Hubert H. Parsons.

Mr. George W. LeMessurier, the Deputy Minister of Posts, was unanimously elected Honorary President, and a hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. G. B. Lloyd, who had so ably presided over previous meetings, but who owing to much personal affairs on hand, was unable to accept the office of President, which he is so capable of filling.

The N.P.A. Postal Association is banded together for mutual protection. Their aim is to look for just and equitable treatment by the authorities and peaceable and judicious measures will always be kept in view to the attainment of that treatment. In the past the Postal official has had a very just grievance in the perception of the small wage paid for services well and faithfully performed, and he feels that whereas other clerks in other paths of life perform duties helpful to many, he does work compatible with the interest of the public at large. The Postal clerks in union will form quite a unit of strength, and will after a little while realize the benefits that must accrue from amalgamation under the banner of the Newfoundland Postal Association.—SECRETARY.

Mr. Temple's Valedictory.

(Twillingate Sun.)

It is with sincere regrets that I have to announce that this issue of the Sun will be the last under the management of the undersigned.

Life in Twillingate has been very pleasant with many compensations. The Sun has prospered under our management, and we have met many friends. Unfortunately, while man does not live by bread alone, bread is a very necessary concomitant to making life bearable, and while a livelihood is sure, one looks for more than that. Business seems to be so bad in this country that it takes a long time to collect accounts. Mails are so slow and unsatisfactory that it is absolutely impossible to do business as one would wish, and too irksome to be always handicapped.

People must remember that the main business of the SUN is done outside of Twillingate. Three quarters of our circulation is outside the town, most of our advertising, and the greater part of our job printing. Twillingate itself has not supported the paper as it should. We have 350 subscribers in a town of nearly 4000 people! That is not good enough, and Twillingate has itself to blame—if blame there be—for my decision to look elsewhere for a living.

Twillingate business men go to St. John's for their printing, while with true simplicity I buy their goods. There have been some friends whose support and encouragement have been all mine could wish. To leave them is like tearing out one's heart. But they represent a comparatively small percentage of the total population.

Some others have been directly antagonistic and done all in their power to hamper, in spite of the fact that we have given evidence of our sincere desire to help the town.

However, that is neither here nor there. If the SUN is worth anything to Twillingate I hope that with this admonition in view it will—as a body—lend its support to my successor.

The Telephone and Fire Insurance schemes will, I know, progress under other management. The Hospital Scheme is now well under weigh and in another couple of weeks the Directors will be ready to make a move. There are men bearing the burden freely without any financial returns for their valuable time spent night after night in the best interests of this project. A little more faith on the part of the public, a little more encouragement for these men and a little less carping criticism will do more to help the Hospital.

This Hospital business means more to Twillingate than the average man realizes. It means the main foundation around which this town will be eventually built, and a perpetual source of business and trade to the place in the days to come. Twillingate began to die when—having put his hand to the plough—look back.

As to the SUN—if you want to keep it going show my successor a little more sympathy in deed than heretofore. Help him with news of your place, your section of the town. Don't wait for him to write your obituaries, your reports, and then criticize him because he has a figure wrong. He will be only too ready to help you if you help him. Back up your paper.
W. B. Temple.

The Copper Head
Fooled Him.

William Edmonds is in a critical condition, and his brother, Rev. Albert Edmonds is seriously ill from the bite of a snake, said to have been used in a religious service at a revival near Newry, Ala. Rev. Edmonds is said to have told his congregation that the "true believer" was impervious to the bite of reptiles, and invited non-believers to bring poisonous snakes in the service. A copperhead was captured and taken to the meeting. William Edmonds and the minister were bitten and immediately became unconscious.

MRS LILIAN FRENCH.

There passed away at Harbor Grace yesterday, Lilian, only daughter of Mr. Robert French, sail maker of that town, and niece of Mr. John J. French of the Telegram printing staff. The deceased young lady was of a genial and happy disposition and was well liked by all who possessed her acquaintance. Death was due to a complication of diseases, but through it all she suffered her afflictions cheerfully. The funeral takes place at Harbor Grace to-morrow. To the sorrowing relatives the Telegram extends sincere sympathy.

Beatty to Honor Unknown Dead of United States.

Washington.—Information has been received here that Admiral Lord Beatty of the British navy, will attend the ceremonies at the Arlington National Cemetery, near Washington, on November 11 in connection with the burial of the body of the unknown American soldier. Admiral Beatty has been invited by the American Legion to attend its convention at Kansas City in the autumn, and while he has not accepted it formally, it is indicated that he intends to do so unless some unexpected development should make it necessary for him to remain in England.

November 11 will be the meeting day of the Washington conference on the Limitation of Armaments and Far-Eastern Affairs, and it is believed that Admiral Beatty will be the principal adviser on naval affairs to the British delegation, which Mr. Lloyd George is expected to head.

There are indications that Field Marshal Earl Haig will accept the invitation of the American Legion to attend its convention at Kansas City in the autumn, and that he will be in Washington to participate in the ceremonies of the interment of the unknown soldier at Arlington. Nothing has been received here to lead to the belief that Marshal Haig's expected visit to America means that he will be the chief military adviser of the British delegation in the Washington conference.

Marshal Foch has already formally accepted the invitation of the American Legion and will be present at the burial of the unknown soldier. Although no information to that effect has come to Washington, it would cause no surprise if he should be designated as the chief military adviser to Premier Briand and the other members of the French delegation to the Washington conference.

Women Outnumber Men by Millions.

Fifteen million in Europe are doomed to die unmarried unless the problems presented by the superfluity of women be solved. This melancholy statement is supported by figures of international statistics published here, which show that the numerical superiority of women has increased by 10,000,000 since 1914.

The German.

After twisting, writhing and contortion, after moans and howls and protests, after trying out every possible method of evasion, the Germans have at last settled down to the payment of their war fine, and also settled down to outwork and out-compete the rest of Europe in every form of industry, and the latter determination is by far the most formidable conclusion yet arrived at. The process of disarmament seems at last to have been pretty well completed, the armament destroyed being almost beyond human belief. Armed to the teeth, was too weak a phrase to use in describing Germany's condition when the war began—for there seemed almost to be a war weapon forged for the hand of every man, woman and child in the nation—a nation threatened by no external dangers whatsoever. According to a late official statement, nearly five million rifles have been destroyed; 30,000 machine guns, and 50,000 heavy guns of various sorts from the "Big Bertha" down to the smallest field pieces. It must also be remembered that the Allies captured or destroyed some millions of rifles and many thousand machine guns and cannon during the last tremendous retreat of the German forces driven headlong by the mighty assaults of Foch's millions. Included also in the articles destroyed were 18,000 airplanes and 25,000 airplane motors. Such a work of destruction would never have been carried out by the Germans unwatched by Allied eyes. As it is, for years Allied searching parties scoured the country through and through, finding enormous hoards of arms and planes hidden in many sections, meant to be preserved for "future reference" by the wily Teutons.

The payment of the required instalments on reparation account has been begun and promises to run satisfactorily, but the efforts of Germany to involve her foes in a dispute seems to be bearing fruit; France and Britain are even now at a dangerous tension, because for some utterly unexplainable reason there still remains in the bottom of the British heart a pro-German feeling, survival of older times. Why even the shadow of a trace should remain is a mystery.

The French are a nobler race than the Germans. Their civilization is deeper and truer. They are more reliable friends. Continental Europe is much safer under the military hegemony or superiority of France than it ever was under German military domination. The Frenchman is a more honorable enemy. In short, France is Britain's surest and most reliable friend in Europe, and the permanent retention of her friendship is worth more to our Empire than that of any nation save the United States, and even the latter only after much consideration. Germany's friendship or alliance is not worth a bid because of the incurable crookedness of the Teuton and his open declaration concerning the most sacred agreement as a "mere scrap of paper." That saying alone should have "scrapped" Germany herself for all the future. Acadian Recorder.

Troops Guard Negro Slayer of White Girl.

Birmingham.—Two companies of Alabama Guardsmen and two sections of machine gunners, are guarding Clyde Thomas, negro, confessed assassin and slayer of a fifteen-year-old white girl, after carrying him on a special train from Birmingham, where he had been held for safe keeping, to Centreville, scene of the murder.

The troops slipped into Birmingham on a special train, acting under orders from Governor Kilby. Procuring their prisoners, the soldiers were back at Centreville, 76 miles away, before the residents of that place were awake. The negro will be arraigned there Tuesday on a charge of having assaulted and murdered Annie Lee Wallace a week ago. Following the negro's confession, feeling against him has run high at Centreville. Open threats of lynching have been made. Troops will remain on guard throughout the preliminary trial. It arraigned the negro will be tried immediately, the guardsmen remaining by the order of the governor.

CHIROPRACTIC--The Master-Key to Health.

THE REAL ISSUE

There is just one thing about Chiropractic that sick people are interested in and that is "Will it make me well?" My friend, the common, everyday citizen enjoys the same privilege of opinion that I enjoy. I may argue with him from now till eternity on the merit of the premise upon which Chiropractic is founded. These things we may never agree upon; yet if we both see health come to our mutual friend after he has suffered for years, and if we learn that he has been regularly visiting his Chiropractor, there can be no argument between us on the fact of what it has done for him. Witness this thing often enough and the matter of the Chiropractic premise is a lost issue. My friend may still believe that surgery, medicine, mental suggestion or diet are excellent things, yet he cannot deny that Chiropractic is effective. We find that all our arguments have meant wasted effort and lost time; but the one thing worth while, the only thing that he, as a sick man is concerned about, is that Chiropractic brings health. Whether the Chiropractor followed one curriculum or another is no longer an issue. My friend visits the Chiropractor for just one reason--to regain his health.

How can my friend satisfy himself that Chiropractic is effective, often where everything else has been tried? Let him investigate our National record and the record of his local Chiropractor. Our National record shows us the leading drugless healing system to-day, while in 1894 we had not been born. Our National record shows that we are legally recognized in over half the states in the Union, because your neighbor and mine demanded Chiropractic service. Why this rapid development? Because millions of sane, straight-thinking, common people found themselves getting well under Chiropractic adjustments.

Just as sick people everywhere are interested in the one question "Will it get me well"? So is the Chiropractor interested in the one issue of getting you well. He knows that his greater service to humanity in the future depends on his restoring health to you. You say "Will Chiropractic make me well"? Our answer is our record of growth and this growth is exactly proportionate to the health Chiropractic has brought.

It is your duty to your family and to yourself to become acquainted with this great health science.

Arrows show where Nerve pressure is found in the following disorders:--

1. Slight subluxations at this point will cause so-called headaches, eye diseases, deafness, epilepsy, vertigo, insomnia, wry neck, facial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, etc.
2. A slight subluxation of a vertebra in this part of the spine is the cause of so-called throat trouble, neuralgia, pain in the shoulders and arms, goitre, nervous prostration, la grippe, dizziness, bleeding from nose, disorder of gums, catarrh, etc.
3. The arrow head marked No. 3 locates the part of the spine wherein subluxations will cause so-called bronchitis, felons, pain between the shoulder blades, rheumatism of the arms and shoulders, hay fever, writers' cramp, etc.
4. A vertebral subluxation at this point causes so-called nervousness, heart disease, asthma, pneumonia, tuberculosis, difficult breathing, other lung troubles, etc.
5. Stomach and liver troubles, enlargement of the spleen, pleurisy, gall stones and a score of other troubles, so-called, are caused by subluxations in this part of the spine, sometimes so light as to remain unnoticed by others except the trained Chiropractor.
6. Here we find the cause of dyspepsia of upper bowels, fevers, shingles, hiccoughs, worms, etc.
7. Bright's disease, diabetes, floating kidney, skin disease, boils, eruptions and other diseases, so-called, are caused by nerves being pinched in the spinal openings at this point.
8. Regulations of such troubles as so-called appendicitis, peritonitis, lumbago, etc., follow Chiropractic adjustments at this point.
9. Why have so-called constipation, renal troubles, sciatica, etc., when Chiropractic adjustments at this part of the spine will remove the cause?
10. A slight slippage of one or both innominate bones will likewise produce so-called sciatica, together with many "diseases" of pelvis and lower extremities.

SPEAKING OF SPENDING MONEY.

Speaking of spending money (which I did a few days ago, regarding the joy many of us take in criticising the way the other fellow spends his) there is one funny trick a great many people have. They pick out some one thing they don't spend money for and make the justification for about half a dozen other things that they are generous to themselves about. It doesn't mean that they consciously wish it to cover all those extravaganzas. It is an unconscious trick. For instance, I have some friends who almost never go to the movies or theatre. They justify all these expenditures here are some of the expenditures I have heard them justify by economy: Their table is always covered with the latest magazines. "Of course we had a good deal for magazines, but we almost never go to the movies. They entertain a good deal." "But does it cost you $2 or $3 extra to have people to dinner, it would cost more than that to go to the theatre with the prices you have to pay nowadays." He smokes rather expensive cigars. "But I figure that if I went to the movies twice a week, as some people do, it would cost me more than the difference between these cigars and cheap ones." Magazines, Entertaining, Cigars, Silk Stockings. She always wears silk stockings, even in the mornings. "Of course I couldn't afford it if I spend as much money on the movies as some people do." There are doubtless other expenditures that from time to time are charged up to the money saved by not going to the movies or the theatre, but I don't happen to have heard them mentioned, or to recall them if I have. So it is that one economy covers a multitude of expenses. And then we wonder why we don't have more! I say "we" because I think this is a very common trick. One's own economies and the other fellow's extravaganzas always loom up the largest in one's mental vision. Wouldn't this be a great invention! "I don't see why we don't save more," says the husband. "I must make as much as so-and-so and they live in a much more expensive house." He ignores the fact that they set a much simpler table than he expects.

"I don't see where our money goes," says the wife. "Mrs. S. spends a lot more on her clothes than I do and they can't have any larger income." She ignores the fact that she keeps a maid and the S's do not. If one could only spend the same money for several purposes, life would be so much simpler and more enjoyable. Perhaps sometime someone will invent a way to do that!

ASPIRIN

Only "Bayer" is Genuine

Warning! Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting Aspirin at all. Take Aspirin only as sold in the Bayer package for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago and for Pain. Then you will be following the directions and dosage worked out by physicians during twenty-one years and proved safe by millions. Handy tin boxes of twelve Bayer Tablets of Aspirin cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages. Made in Canada. Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

THE COMMON LOT.

Ex-Kaiser Bill rears up a nd roars; he says he's taxed too much; his eloquence he vainly pours upon the stubborn Dutch. "Tis as your guest," I hear him say, "I ornament these halls; yet, dinner-waiter, every day the tax collector calls. From visitors it is not good that taxes are required, yet when I sell a cord of wood the war tax makes me tired. Three kroners on my dachshund pup, two guilders on my cat, a tax upon my mustache cup, and on my Sunday hat. Can Withelmina sit her throne and feel no deep concern, when she must know I'm taxed a hose whichever way I turn? I have to pay an income tax like any common knave; they tax my backer and my ax--I have no chance to save. I paid my poll-tax yesterday, three krones it set me back; and tax collectors ever stray around my humble shack. It isn't fair, it isn't just, for I'm the country's guest, and Holland has an awful crust to touch my treasure chest." The stolid Dutchman made reply, "We did not ask you here; and if you think the taxes high, you'll find them worse next year." Over all the world the people groan "neath taxes, in despair; and Bill, the exile from a throne, helped out the burden there. Onions are appetizing stuffed with minced ham and breadcrumbs and baked.

Obituary.

MARTHA DALEY.

On the morning of August 30th the Angel of death silently visited the home of Mr. Wm. Daley and claimed from its little circle his wife, Martha, who had been ill for a few months previous, but always held the expectant hope of getting better, "till her strength gradually gave way and her soul passed peacefully to its reward, fortified by rites of Holy Church. Besides a kind husband and one little boy, Michael, she leaves to mourn her four brothers and many relatives, to whom we offer our deepest sympathy. Her funeral took place on Sunday afternoon, the mortal remains being laid to rest in the village cemetery. The many floral wreaths and expressions of sympathy offered, as well as the large attendance which followed her corpse, testified to the esteem in which she was held. May her soul rest in peace.--Com. St. Joseph's, Aug. 24, 1921.

Bees Block

Kentucky Road.

The road from Concord, Ky., to Vancouver, has been blocked for several days by myriads of honey bees which for fifty years had used a roadside tree as an apiary. The tree fell across the highway before a high wind, and honey was scattered over a wide area. The bees refused to relinquish possession, and all travel was diverted by a route which causes several miles of additional journeying. Persons who approached the fallen tree have been routed by fierce onslaughts of the bees.

USE YOUR HEAD.

A woodpecker pecks Out a great many specks Of sawdust from his hole. When building a hut. He works like a nigger To make the hole bigger--He's sore if His outter won't cut. He don't bother with plans Of cheap artisans. But there's one thing Can rightly be said: The whole excavation Has this explanation He builds it By using his head.

So use your head when you require a good tonic and nerve builder by taking Harvey's Tasteless Cod Liver Oil. Price: $1.50 bottle; Postage 20c. extra. For sale by DR. F. STAFFORD & SON, Wholesale and Retail Chemists and Druggists, St. John's, Newfoundland.

Scalloped fish is attractive served in individual dishes. Season with lemon juice.

Libby's California Fruits

Picked at the moment of perfect ripeness. Fine, firm textured fruit, mellowed with the sunshine of the Golden West.

Picked, full-ripened, from the tree and hurried to near-by Libby kitchens to be packed in rich cane-sugar syrup at the very pinnacle of their flavor.

Whether your preference is for Peaches, Apricots, Pears, Plums or Cherries, each comes to you under the Libby brand with its full native flavor sealed in--so good that they improve the simplest luncheon or the most-stately dinner.

Your grocer has Libby's Fruits, or he can get them for you.

And don't forget Libby's Hawaiian Pineapple--genuine sun-ripened fruit, packed before sundown on the day that it is picked, preserving all its native flavor and lusciousness.

Buy it in half dozen or dozen lots. It will keep perfectly until you need it, and is always ready for tasty desserts, appealing salads, and dainty fruit dishes.
