The Imprisoned Heiress
—OR—
The Spectre of Egremont.

CHAPTER XV.

Her acquaintance with mankind was exceedingly limited. With the exception of Lord and Lady Egremont and Toplift, there was not a human being to whom she had ever spoken. Her governess had taught her all the accomplishments she had acquired, and directed her reading, so that she had acquired an unusually thorough education. Toplift was also an excellent nurse, a faithful attendant, and was well skilled in the treatment of ordinary diseases. She was practiced in the use of the needle, and her hands had fashioned the quaint garments worn by her young charge after the style of those depicted in the portrait of the Lady Jasmine.

The governess, thus combining all necessary and desirable qualities, and possessing in addition a rare discretion, shared the secret of Almee's existence with her employers, and shared it alone.

With the exception of these three, no one on earth knew or suspected aught of the Lady Almee.

It was no wonder, then, that the poor young prisoner had pined for the sight of other faces, for the sound of other voices, for the fresh green fields she had never seen, for the woods of which she knew nothing except what she had read of, and for the flowers growing in the brown, damp earth, and giving forth fragrance and displaying varied beauty to the delighted senses.

As beautiful as all these, had been to her the sight of Lord Ashcroft.

She had read a great deal of poetry and history, and had arrived at tolerably correct ideas of life and society. As might have been expected, she had beguiled her loneliness by sweet dreams of a brave, handsome lover, who would some time remove her from her prison, and take her out into the gay, glad world, where she might enjoy the pleasant breezes, the soft sunshine, the woods and the flowers.

The manly beauty and noble countenance of Lord Ashcroft.

What makes a good baby

When Baby cries it is Nature's way of telling you that something is wrong—probably it is a question of food.

Viol, by getting rid of digestive troubles and by supplying a properly balanced diet containing all the vital principles, makes baby's life happy. A Viol Baby is "good as gold"—good in temper, good to look at, good in its firm flesh, fine limbs and healthy colour.

VIOL

Forty million prescribed portions of Viol were given in 3,000 Hospitals and Clinics last year.

VIOL LTD., HARLOW LANE, BIRMINGHAM, ENGLAND.

"It cannot be, Almee," said her ladyship, resolutely.

"But why not, mamma? Tell me, why not? I am not hideous or ill-formed. I like my looks better than those of the Lady Alexina."

"Alexina!" exclaimed her ladyship. "Where did you ever see her?"

The young prisoner looked up in surprise at the startled tones of her visitor, and answered:

"I saw her to-day in the yacht, through my glass. Can't you let me see her, mamma, and speak with her? Perhaps she would love me and be my friend."

"Do not love you, Almee, my beloved!" said Lady Egremont, with a remorseful tenderness, as she fondled the shining hair of the young girl. "You were rightly named 'beloved,' for papa and I both love you, and so does Dorcas."

"Then take me away from her—let me be free. I am like that pretty bird in a cage that I used to have, and it pined away and died. I feel almost as if I should die here, too."

"I wish you might!" muttered the countess, inaudibly.

The next moment she redoubled her caresses, with a sort of horror at her momentary thought.

"Will you not let me be free, mamma—not even to save my life?" asked the young girl, eagerly.

"I cannot—not even to save your life, Almee. You ask impossibilities!"

"Then what is to become of me? Must I remain concealed here until my hair grows like papa's, and must I die here? Will there never be any change for me?"

"Yes, child, you will soon have a change," answered the countess.

"What is it to be?" cried the child, with hopeful accents.

"You looked out at the yacht to-day, Almee, and saw its occupants. Did you notice among them a tall, fair gentleman?"

"Lord Ashcroft?"

"You know his name, then? Ah, I forgot to question you about your visit to his room;" and the countess spoke anxiously. "Did you enter his presence?"

"Yes, mamma."

"Was he awake? Did he see you?"

The maiden replied in the affirmative.

"Oh, this is terrible!" ejaculated the countess, wringing her hands. "I had not thought—Almee, tell me, did you speak to him?"

"No, I had not time," answered Almee, simply. "He looked at me and I looked at him, before I could speak. Dorcas came into the hall, and so I left him. He thought me the ghost of the Lady Jasmine. I know he did."

"It is well, then," said her visitor, recovering her calmness. "He will not see you again, and will soon forget having seen you at all."

"But what has he to do with the change that is coming to me?"

"Much—everything. He is the lover of Lady Alexina, and will soon marry her. He will then be Lord of Egremont, and we shall go elsewhere. Of course, we cannot leave you behind us, Almee. The home to which we shall go will not have the advantage of haunted rooms, and papa and I feel that we must be freed from all apprehension of your discovery. So we have decided to put you into a convent, where you will be happy in the companionship of the holy sisters."

"But I will not go," declared Almee, with unexpected spirit. "I have been shut up enough. I will not go into a convent. I will escape, and appeal to Lionel."

"Lionel?"

The maiden's eyes fell before the stern, startled look of the countess.

"Lionel?" repeated her ladyship.

A soft pink flush stole into the pure cheeks of the young prisoner, and her bosom rose and fell in a manner betokening extreme agitation.

Why Glasgow?

The newly-published "Dictionary of Place-names" has shed interesting light on the origin of the names of some of our cities and towns.

How many people know that Dublin is derived from dubh linn, meaning "black pool," or that Cork is a contraction of the old Gaelic word corcoch, which meant a swamp?

Nottingham was once called Snottingham, the place of caves. Merthyr Tydfil was derived from the name of a Welsh chieftain's daughter who was put to death on a site that is now the centre of the busy mining town. Tiverton used to be Tivy-ford-ton, meaning the town by the two fords; while Tewkesbury comes from Theoc the name of a hermit who lived in the neighbourhood.

Rut land is a corruption of a word meaning red land. Glasgow seems most likely to have come from glas, the Celtic word for green, and ghy, meaning dear. But what a difference between the "dear, green place," of centuries ago and the second city in the Empire of to-day!

A Luxury in the Home

It is a real pleasure to wash in Ivory Soap. This fine cleansing, soothing toilet soap does all that the most expensive soap can do, yet it costs far less than most toilet soaps. Truly, has it been said that a cake of Ivory is a luxury in the home, for the delightful, natural fragrance of this pleasing soap makes it a real pleasure to use. There is a certain distinctiveness about Ivory Soap that other soaps lack. You will love to wash in Ivory and all the family will like it too. Ask the grocer for Ivory and try a real sensible, and economical toilet soap.—oct.13,m,t

New York Jury

FREES YOUNG WOMAN WHO SLAYED HUSBAND AFTER HE HAD BEATEN HER.

New York, Nov. 29.—(United Press)—Mrs. Antoinette Brishetti killed her husband last Thursday after he had beaten and choked her, and has been cleared of the charge by a grand jury which refused to indict her.

Holding her three months old baby in her arms, Mrs. Brishetti told the grand jurymen a tale of numerous beatings, one of which destroyed her eyesight when in choking her, her husband ruptured a blood vessel in her left eye.

A week ago the husband announced he was going back to Italy. "If you and the baby want to come with me," Mrs. Brishetti said her husband told her "to go out on the street and earn some money."

When she pleaded with him to change his mind he beat her and she crept into the bedroom, got his revolver and shot him three times, and then called the police. Now freed of the murder charge, Mrs. Brishetti plans to remain here with her baby.

DOOMED.

The doctor looked at Thomas Tooth and said, "It grieves me sore to hand you out the ghastly truth but you can't live much more; within a year, O luckless youth, you'll reach the other shore." The news was broadcast through the grad, soon all the people knew; their hearts were aching for the lad whose trip would soon be through; his doom was sealed, his fate was sad. If doctor's words were true. Now that was forty years ago, or maybe forty-three; the good, old doc is lying low beneath the willow tree; the men who journeyed to and fro, no more on earth we see. Now faces throng the village street, new names are on the signs; the villagers we use to meet are sleeping 'neath the vines; in yonder churchyard, grim retreat, they sleep by eights and nines. But Thomas Tooth still walks the pave and has for forty years; for him long since the village gave free rein to sighs and tears, as he was destined for the grave before his healthy peers. He still proceeds with languid gait, and does not pause to die; "We'll have to shoot him soon or late," the undertakers cry, "or he will

Herriot Declares "Clerical Offensive" and Communist Violence Will be Suppressed

Dominion Coal Company Miners Will Discuss Wage Scale—German Elections Held Yesterday—Store of Rare Liquors Raided in Chicago—Mysterious Mr. A is Named.

TO FIGHT COMMUNISTS.

PARIS, Dec. 6. Premier Herriot pledged his Government to fight Communists violence in France, in a declaration before the Chamber of Deputies to-day, during a stormy session that brought into sharp relief the openly declared intention of communistic influences to accomplish a revolution by force. Premier Herriot put what he called "the clerical offensive" on the same basis, describing both movements as hostile to the republic. "We will combat these manifestations of violence with all our force," he said.

TO DISCUSS WAGES.

GLACE BAY, N.S. Dec. 6. The conference between the Dominion Coal Company and the mine workers for negotiations of a new contract is expected to begin Tuesday or Wednesday. The company, it is understood, is looking for a reduction of around fifteen per cent., while the mine workers, as decided on at their recent convention, will seek an increase of 25 per cent. for fatal workers and a readjustment of the rate for contract men. The present contract expires January 15.

THE WORLD COURT ISSUE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. A readiness to bring the world court issue before United States Senate as soon as the appropriation bills and agricultural legislation have been disposed of was made Saturday by Chairman Borah of the Foreign Relations Committee.

WHY THE STOCK.

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 6. A band of hijackers raided a $3,000,000 board of the liquors in the United States Army warehouse here and stole rare whiskeys and wines estimated at a value of $800,000, early last Sunday, according to Robert R. Levy, United States Marshal. The robbery, discovered on Monday, was kept secret until last night while Federal agents questioned more than fifty soldiers and other Government employees, some of whom were supposed to guard that store. Fifteen steel doors were cut away and padlocks and bolts smashed by the raiders to give the impression investigators said, that there had been no inside assistance.

VESSELS WRECKED.

BUFFALO, Dec. 6. The Lake freighter Midland Prince was driven on a reef in Port Colborne Harbor and the tugs Home Rule and Joseph H., towing the steamer, were sunk in a Lake Erie gale last night. No lives were lost.

ROMANIA TO DEPORT UNDESIRABLES.

BUCHAREST, Dec. 7. The Rumanian Government is preparing to deport 100,000 undesirables under the recent law granting powers to maintain order. A large number of Russian suspects who cannot well be sent home will be required to live in a restricted area.

GERMANS VOTED YESTERDAY.

BERLIN, Dec. 7. Germany went to the polls to-day to elect a Reichstag and a new Prussian Diet. The three Liberal Parties, Socialists, Clericals and Democrats, led by Chancellor Marks, have centered their efforts on the defence of the Reich.

flicted wound was not seriously hurt. Before the ship sailed the captain reported that the men refused to work and offered to pay for their deportation, to which the local authorities agreed.

HORSE SALE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7. Consignees realized $270,000 on sales at the 13th annual old glory auction of the first four days when five hundred trotting horses went under the hammer. The highest price, $18,000, was paid for Tilly Brooks, winner of every race in which she participated on the grand circuit last season.

Hoover Inveighs Against Waste

U.S. Commerce Secretary Urges National Thrift and Economy. Washington, Nov. 30.—(United Press)—Nationwide elimination of waste is as important as nation-wide conservation of natural resources, Secretary of Commerce Hoover declared in his annual report to the President, made public here yesterday.

Elimination of economic waste, Hoover said, would not only maintain American standards of living, but would raise them. He said the work of the Department of Commerce was particularly devoted to this campaign against waste.

"The greatest waste is periodic slackening of production and resultant unemployment," the report said. "The outstanding event of the year was the improvement in agricultural prices," declared Hoover.

Next in order of importance among the year's developments Hoover put "the beginning of sound policies in German reparations leading to a hopeful measure of economic recovery in Europe," and "the complete recovery of our own industry and commerce."

Hoover said the Dawes plan might be expected to bring about a "European stabilization" which would mean a "revival in world trade and increased consumption of commodities in which the United States is bound to have its share."

He recommended legislation to consolidate the functions of the Department of Commerce, to encourage commercial aviation and to protect and regulate the growing radio industry.

Sir Hall Caine's "Eternal City" Filmed

A love that was born in a little village and culminated, after many vicissitudes, in the aristocratic halls of Rome, amid luxury and splendor is vividly told in "The Eternal City," which is coming to the Star Theatre to-night. George Fitzmaurice produced this first National picture in Italy, with a cast that includes five stellar players—Barbara La Marr, Lionel Barrymore, Bert Lytell, Richard Bennett and Montagu Love.

Miss La Marr and Mr. Lytell play the parts of Donna Roma and David Rossi, sweethearts in a village in rural Italy. The war separates them, and when David returns he discovers that his fiancée apparently is in the toils of Baron Bonelli, the most powerful and unscrupulous man in all Rome.

He does not know that Donna had believed him dead, and that her relations with the baron did not justify the ugly social circles. Determined upon revenge, he set about the task of bringing the baron to justice, and succeeds only after a series of thrilling adventures.

It is based on the famous novel by Sir Hall Caine, and is being presented by Samuel Goldwyn.

Hr. Main Had Brave Son

AT POLAR REGIONS WITH MACMILLAN'S PARTY.

American Press Gives Praise to Thos. McCue, Soldier-Sailor, of Maryvale, Who Was First Mate of Expedition.

(By CAPT. LEO C. MURPHY, Bell Island.)

When Capt. Donald B. MacMillan steered his scarred eighty-nine foot schooner "Bowdoin" up the Sheepscot to Wiscasset, Maine, recently, after some fifteen months in the Arctic, a stalwart son of Hr. Ma'n District was one of the most active members of the Explorer's party.

MacMillan, who is already laying plans for an expedition next year, has many fine words for his first mate, Thos. McCue.

The latter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCue, of the Post Office, Maryvale, C.B. (District of Harbour Main) and, according to the "Hartford Times," McCue, the sailing master, a Newfoundland man, who knows the Northern shores with a degree of accuracy, which makes the charts almost unnecessary, just naturally figures he belongs to the Polar regions, and is going back to the Arctic just as soon as he can get there.

"The Portland Evening Express" has this to say about our Newfoundland representative:—

"The man who has perhaps the most interesting history of the group outside of Commander MacMillan himself is McCue. He is a native of that section which also has the distinction of having produced another great Arctic hero, Captain Bartlett, who for so many years was Peary's right hand man in his exploration work. McCue was born in Maryvale, in October 21st, 1889, and has been a sailor and fisherman practically all of his life. MacMillan met him in 1920 when he went with the Lamson Hubbard Company's ship to Labrador. McCue was then a cook on the Thetis, and MacMillan realized at once that here was a man who would be of great service to him in his exploration work. He is an expert sailor, a whaler, a sealer, and he knows the North and its people, as well as its dangers, and how to avoid them."

Tom, it might be said, served with "Ours" in the Great War, and was a member of C Company. He was one of the first to land at Gallipoli, and his many friends, who have happy memories of Sgt. McCue, at Winchester, will hear of his success with pleasure.

Underwood and Underwood publish an excellent photo of the group, with the title, "Avast, Belay. Hurrah for Baffin Bay." "Here," says a writer, "is the cook and the captain bold; the bo'sun tight and midshipmate not for on the schar. Bowdoin cheerfully faced fifteen months of Arctic loneliness."

"Iceberg perils in the North Atlantic are likely to be greater next year, if the big glaciers reported by the Eskimos continue to move south," says our friend, writing home, "but these are not the only sensations of that strange area where the Eskimos are now learning to play Mah Jong and can hear the latest music by Radio."

Dear Sir—An article appeared in the Daily News on Nov. 20th headed, "The School for the Blind," and contained statements that were incorrect and very misleading. As the article was a personal attack on Dr. Campbell and myself, I immediately wrote Major Howley, the present Acting Secretary of the Institution, drawing his attention to the article and requesting him to correct the misstatements and give the public the facts. As Major Howley did not reply or take any notice of my letter, I feel that my silence might be construed as an admission that the charges made against me were true, and for the information of the public I wish to say that although my name appears as one of the Directors on the letter-heads of this Institution, I have taken no active part in its running, and have had nothing whatever to do with the large expenditure referred to.

"The Newfoundland Training and Employment Institution for the Blind" was incorporated in 1920, with Sir Edgar Bowring Hon. President; W. G. Gosling, Hon. Chairman; J. V. O'Dea, Hon. Treasurer; John Weir, Superintendent and Secretary, with the following Directors:—Mrs. L. Paterson, O.B.E., Miss A. Hayward, M.B.E., Hon. A. Barnes, Hon. A. Campbell, M.D., Major J. M. Howley, and Sir M. G. Winter.

Why Dr. Campbell and I were selected for attack is best known to the writer of the offensive and misleading article referred to.

By publishing the above you will greatly oblige.

Yours faithfully,

Press opinions on Mr. Baldwin's Cabinet have been with few exceptions of a very complimentary nature. The Observer considers it as "little short of the strongest combination which could have been devised." "It is not only among Unionist journals," says the Scotsman, "that the line of approbation is so strongly marked; Liberal journals, both London and provincial, are hardly less enthusiastic." The Times, while speaking favourably of the Cabinet, expresses regret that it does not contain a greater proportion of the younger element, and hopes that Mr. Baldwin "will find opportunities before long to stimulate the flow of promotion at the bottom by clearance at the top."

Regarding the leader himself, the feeling expressed by the press is non-committal, but for the most part is tinged with optimism. Mr. Baldwin has not been in the public eye sufficiently long to make any definite opinion as to his qualities of leadership possible. His choice of colleagues has created a most favourable impression, but what is uppermost in every one's mind is his spectacular victory within a year of his equally sensational defeat.

Speaking at the Lord Mayor's Banquet recently, Mr. Baldwin gave a broad outline of his policy, and if he can direct his party along the lines laid down, he will not only gain for himself a high place among the prominent men who from time to time have directed Britain's destiny, but he will also have ensured for the country a rest from political contests, and a period of peace and prosperity.

"The real redemption of the people must come from themselves," said the Prime Minister. "The instruments of redemption are the fruits of productive labour, and there can be no other fruits, and there can be no other task for statesmen than to make an environment in which the workers—by which I mean employers and employed alike—can utilize their gifts for productive labour to the utmost."

"We shall do all in our power to ensure that the children of our people shall have a fair chance of growing up into healthy men and women. We shall seek for peace through all the world.

"What the Government will not do is to attempt to control the industries of this country, and we shall do all we can to prevent others from obtaining that control. We believe that by a change of the basis of our system we should fall into a pit of poverty and misery hardly to be visualized by our workers and never experienced by them."

The Labrador Boundary Conference

It is announced that the Prime Minister, Hon. W. S. Monroe, the Colonial Secretary, Hon. J. R. Bennett, and the Minister of Justice, Hon. W. J. Higinis, K. C., are leaving by Thursday's express to take part in a conference on the Labrador Boundary, which is to be held at Montreal on December 16th. It is understood that the Hon. Sir P. T. McGrath, whose knowledge of this question is exhaustive, will accompany the delegation. The other parties to be present at the conference will be representatives of the Federal Government and the Government of Quebec.

The delegates are undertaking a difficult matter fraught with important consequences, and we trust that the Government will make haste slowly in deciding upon their course of action.

On Saturday we made a reference to the holdings of private individuals in the Labrador, and it may be of public interest if the actual amount is stated. According to Low's reports the disputed area consists of 110,000 miles. Licenses for practically the whole of the area with the exception of certain portions in the vicinity of Nain have been applied for since 1909. In all some 25,000 square miles are held under timber licenses, among the largest of which is one for 6,000, and there are several others of 1,000 square miles. In the issuance of licenses no stipulation was made regarding the question of titles.

In another column will be found a letter from the Hon. A. B. Morine, in which he calls attention to an error made in our article on Saturday in referring to the western boundary of the Newfoundland Labrador. We are very glad to receive this information. The "error," which is taken from a copy of the Reports of the House of Assembly, is probably due to the inference that the bearing is polar, and not Magnetic north.

Revenue Collections

The following is a comparative statement of duties collected at St. John's from July 1st, 1924 to December 6th, 1924:—

1922	$2,716,421.84
1923	2,631,746.74
1924	2,940,023.02

The increase in the revenue this year as shown in the statements previously published is again in evidence. The amount collected to-date at St. John's exceeds that of 1923 by $308,276.28, and of 1922 by $223,601.18.

The Labrador Boundary

A CORRECTION FULLY APPRECIATED.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—A serious error occurred in your editorial on Saturday last with reference to the boundaries of Newfoundland-Labrador. You say, "the western boundary is defined, and, roughly speaking, consists of a line drawn due North from Blanc Sablon to Cape Chidley, and corresponding to the water-shed." The only extant definition is contained in the draft of Letters Patent, dated 1876, constituting the office of Governor of this Colony. That definition is as follows:—"All the coast of Labrador, from the entrance to Hudsons Straits to a line drawn north and south from Blanc Sablon on the said coast to the fifty-second degree of north latitude." The fifty-second degree of north latitude followed eastwardly from the junction of a north line from Blanc Sablon reaches the sea-coast just north of Chateau. A line drawn due north from Blanc Sablon would simply run into the water near Cartwright, and would not extend within hundreds of miles of Cape Chidley.

The truth is, the description is a hard one to follow, and seems to be inaccurate, but a map issued in Canada some years ago shows the Eastern Boundary of the Province of Quebec as the line drawn north and south from Blanc Sablon to the fifty-second degree of north latitude, and then westwardly along the fifty-second degree for about three hundred miles, from which point it goes off in a north-west direction, passing west of Ungava Bay, and reaching the easterly cape of Hudson Bay, which may extend to be the real entrance to Hudsons Straits. A very strong argument upon this point was made by the late Governor MacGregor. Until quite recently whatever may have been the unaccepted rights of the Dominion of Canada East of this boundary line of the Province of Quebec, the Province itself had no claim whatever. A few years ago an Act of the Parliament of Canada made the Eastern boundary of the Dominion, whatever that might prove to be, the Eastern boundary of Quebec Province.

Aside from the question of what, of old time, was considered the entrance to Hudsons Straits, Newfoundland bases a claim upon the meaning of the word "coast." Her contention is that the coast of the coast draws to it by International Law authority over all the territory which is drained by rivers running to that coast, that is to say, that the height of land is the boundary of Newfoundland-Labrador. I venture to draw your attention particularly to this matter at the present time. Nothing should be said or allowed to go uncontradicted which might tend to weaken Newfoundland's claims. My own feeling is that her rights in the Labrador are tremendously important, and ought to be fought for with all the power at its command.

Yours truly,
 ALFRED B. MORINE.

In Memoriam

On St. Andrew's Day, Nov. 30th, in the Hospital at St. John's, William James Lockyer, Priest, and Canon, passed to his rest. To the majority of Church people in Nova Scotia, and to many in Newfoundland, the name of William James Lockyer is as familiar as it is honoured. It is the name of one who held the Faith, loved the Faith, and maintained the Faith. He truly loved the Church, and gave his time, talents, substance for its service. A few days before he died, he wrote concerning the proper care of Church windows, the procuring of which had been committed to his care. Last summer he used all his influence to prevent the incursion of certain wandering preachers, who would try to rend asunder the Body of Christ in Trinity East and Trinity. On the same day as he was stricken down, he came over from Trinity, and offered to help the Parish Priest of Trinity East. On his return, he remarked that he felt unwell. That same night he had a seizure. To us who knew him at Trinity, the Canon was ever—even in his retirement—a devoted priest and a beloved friend.

The news of his passing came as a shock. We had so much hoped to see him return to us. It is not too much to say that the news was received with a deep sense of sadness and personal loss by the community.

The burial took place on December 3rd at Trinity. The body was conveyed from St. John's to Trinity on Tuesday, and was placed, after the preliminary prayers for the Departed were said, in the Mortuary Chapel, which owes so much to the devoted care and labour of the late priest.

Early Wednesday morning a Solemn Requiem was said. The Lord Bishop of the Diocese, who had accompanied the body from St. John's, and many old friends of the deceased, were present. Rev. George Hall, of Brooklyn, B.B., and Rev. F. P. Law of Trinity East came to do honour to the dead. Rev. E. P. Hiscock was celebrant. In the afternoon the burial took place. Every seat in the Mortuary Chapel was occupied for some time before the service began, and in spite of the inclement weather, amongst those assembled were seen a number who had crossed the water from Trinity East to pay their last tribute of respect and affection.

The service was taken by Rev. E. P. Hiscock assisted by Rev. George Harrington, a Missionary Priest of the Diocese of Quebec. Thus it happened that the Canadian Church, in the service of which the late Canon had devoted the best of his life, was represented at his burial. At the graveside, hard by where James White, Priest, rests, and in the grave where his own wife is buried, the body of William James Lockyer was committed to the earth. R.I.P.

"We found great comfort in his tender strength. And shared the vision that he gave to men. The joy and glory of the Eternal Cross. Learning to live in that same power at length. We cannot help but mourn him, even when a sense of triumph swallowed up our loss." F.P.L.

Insufficient Bells

With the fall of snow on Saturday the use of sleighs and catamaran have become general, but it is noticeable that many of the drivers do not carry sufficient bells on their horses to warn pedestrians of their approach. The police have given warning to quite a number of drivers that they will be summoned should they not in future comply with the law.

Short Circuit at Sub-Station

Shortly after 6 o'clock Saturday evening the city was thrown into darkness for upwards of two hours due to a short circuit at the sub-station. Many of the stores along Water Street were put to much inconvenience as a result. The damaged part was speedily repaired and the city was lighted again at 8 o'clock.

Wedding Bells

On Thursday, Dec. 4th, Mr. George Metcalf and Miss Ellen O'Keefe were united in Holy Matrimony at the Church of St. John the Evangelist. Topical by the Rev. A. Pittman. The bride was given away by Mr. Alexander Squires and looked very beautiful in a dress of fawn crepe de chine and hat to match. Mrs. Charles Squires acted as matron of honour and the groom was supported by Mr. Thomas Metcalf. May the happy couple enjoy many years of wedded life.

PEPYS BEHIND THE SCENES

Dec. 6th—Up and to Water Street, where meeting Mr. Povey, he to carry me to his office and to discourse of divers things. Among other matters he do tell me he has a mind to stand for Councillor in the Municipal election next year, which I did tell him he was a fool to do being that he stood to lose more than he would gain by it. He has a mind, I think, to enter politics, and do believe the Council to be the first step as indeed, it may be albeit I have great doubts; He do tell me also of another news sheet that will appear soon and the name of it the Daily Globe. This to be published at the Advocate building, and Mr. R. Hibbs thought to be one of the directors. Anon to the Board of Trade and learn there how Mr. Monroe, Mr. Higgins and Mr. Bennett do leave Thursday for Canada and will there have some discourse with the Canadians of the Labrador Boundary question. They do intend, it is said, to make no definite arrangements nor to commit this country in any way, their object being to find what views the Canadians have on the matter and what terms they would offer for a final settlement of this question. Indeed, it is 8 1/2 time the matter was settled, being that for too long a time it has been a gold mine for lawyers and will be a great relief to the people to have the matter finally disposed of. Going to the Club this night, did pass the time in watching the billiard tournament between French and Fox, but what I do marvel at is that when one of them do look like running off a big break he do spoil things by missing the easiest kind of shot, such as even I could make.

Dec. 7th, (Lord's Day)—Lay until noon when comes a message over the foan from Briggs who would have me ski with him this afternoon. So up, and about 3 of the clock, Briggs coming, we to take our skis countrywards, but the going mighty hard and little pleasure in it. Coming out, I did lose my balance coming a steep hill and did break one of my skis in the fall, to my great discontent, being that I shall be hard put to it to buy me another pair. Anon home and find my wife in a great to do and find how Sarah, our cook-mayde did break the vase which Aunt Jane did send us last year for Xmas, and she like to visit us shortly and will be sure, to ask for it. I did tell my wife, however, not to trouble about it, and that Aunt Jane could go to blazes, and yet, I am myself troubled since the woman is a stickler for small things and I did have great hopes of her.

Selling German Bonds

RESIDENT OF SYDNEY ARRESTED.

Some time ago it was reported to the police that large sales of German bonds were being made in the city and outports and it was suspected that the stock was worthless. In the issue of Oct. 8th, the Telegram reprinted an article from the Literary Digest on the questionable value of these German bonds yet a surprising number of people have been found willing to part with $50.00 of good English money for the possession of one million of these marks. The police have been investigating the sale of the bonds and this morning at Trinity placed under arrest Murdoch McLeod of Sydney, charging him with obtaining money under false pretences. The prisoner is being brought to the city by train and will arrive here to-morrow.

Saturday Night's Derailment

Whilst the incoming shore train was proceeding into Irvine's Station 9.45 Saturday night, the engine jumped the rails at the switch point, and ran along the railway ties for a few hundred feet, also derailing three freight cars. None of the train crew or passengers were injured, but the run-off hung up traffic for a period of sixteen hours. The first and second class cars remained on the rails, and the passengers were transferred to a relief train which was sent out after word of the accident had been received. The engine and freight cars were only slightly damaged, and these were brought into the city yesterday. The express which went out at 1 p.m. yesterday, was delayed about an hour on account of repairs to the rail. The derailment is being investigated.

GREAT CATHOLIC DEMONSTRATION AGAINST HERRIOT.
 GUIMPER, France, Dec. 8.

A great demonstration of protest on the part of the Catholics against Premier Herriot's revival of his anti-clerical campaign brought tens of thousands of Bretons dressed in picturesque costumes to Guimper to-day, to participate in a procession and to listen to addresses by Bishop Dupar and other churchmen. In another quarter of the town there was a smaller counter demonstration by anti-clericals. Squads of mounted gendarmes from surrounding towns patrolled the streets to preserve order. Outside the Catholic Cathedral a military force was massed ready for action in case of disorder. The Catholics, however, obeyed the order by the Bishop to maintain order, that the parade should be carried out in silence and with only men in the line. Women with their large starched headdress lined the street. The anti-clerical demonstrators held a parade in the adjoining streets. The gendarmes kept the factions separated and there was no disorder. Bishop Dupar in his address at the Cathedral told his auditors that when human law is in contradiction with divine law it is to the divine law that we owe obedience.

MORE COMMUNIST DEMONSTRATIONS.
 PARIS, Dec. 8.

Communists continue to hold the centre of the stage in France, appearing quite undismayed by the Government's repressive measures. After a meeting at the headquarters of the Labor Federation last night a group of radicals formed a procession and marched to the eastern railroad terminal, a distance of about two miles, singing the "International." Along the way they were scattered by the police who made no arrests.

GERMANY MAKES PAYMENTS.
 BERLIN, Dec. 8.

Germany paid Great Britain 17,500,000 gold marks and France slightly in excess of 1,550,000 gold marks under the Recovery Act during November, bringing the total levied by both countries for first three months of the operation of Dawes plan up to fifty million marks. The report of Seymour Parker Gilbert, agent general for Reparation payments on receipts and payments during November shows Germany was reimbursed to the extent of 215,000,000 gold marks out of the proceeds of the German external loan in accordance with the provisions of the experts plan, which absolves Germany from the obligation to draw on her budget for the first years annuity.

Good-Bye "Hello" Girls.

Telephones That Work Themselves.

Although during the past few weeks there have been numerous references in the newspapers to the new automatic telephones, there are still many people who do not realize how vast a change is involved, or the enormous amount of work it will mean for the telephone authorities.

Few people are aware that the new system is already in use in certain areas. It is operating in Leeds, Accrington, Dundee, and was installed at Epsom twelve or more years ago.

When I inspected the working of the model automatic telephone system at a certain branch of the General Post Office, London (writes the T.B. man) I was surprised at the ingenuity of those responsible for the new system, which will not be in full working order until about fifteen years' time.

The Automatic Dial.

Briefly, when an exchange is adapted to the new system, the instrument of each subscriber will be replaced by a similar instrument fitted with a dial at its base. The dial consists of a rotating plate, operated by placing a finger in a hole over a combination of letters and figures, pulling the dial round to a certain point, and releasing it.

By doing this in accordance with printed instructions that will be sent out to subscribers, it will be possible to communicate with any other subscriber without the intervention of an operator. You originate the call; and the automatic machinery, so complicated that it looks as if no mortal mind could have thought it all out, does the rest. Watching the movements of your apparatus as your call is put through, you see the mechanism climbing and rotating until it stops at the requisite number and rings the bell.

The keynote of the automatic system is the sending out of a varying number of electrical impulses. The first movement of the dial sets in motion a series of these impulses, by which means the subscriber is connected with the exchange. The next series of impulses, released by indicating with the dial the telephone number required, operates the figures and the line of the persons called is brought into circuit, his bell being made to ring.

To simplify matters, only the first three letters of each exchange will be used in calling up a number. Thus Central will be CEN. Many of the exchanges will need to be re-named in consequence, for no two exchanges must have the same first three letters; otherwise confusion will result. Hammersmith, for example, has already become Riverside; Bromley is to be Ravensborne; Dalston will become Clissold; and Hornsey Mountview. All the names have a special historical or antiquarian interest.

Cannot Make Mistakes.

As for the benefits that will result, they may be summed up in increasing all-round efficiency. In the existing system both the subscriber and the operator can make mistakes, but with the automatic telephone only the caller will be liable to err. Moreover, no troubles will arise from faulty pronunciation of a word or a number. Unless a number is engaged, a call will be put through almost as soon as the subscriber touches the dial. But those who think that the abolition of the present system will mean unemployment for thousands of telephone operators are wrong. The new system is almost certain to lead to a great increase in the number of subscribers, with a corresponding in-

Obituary

MARY MERCEDES CALLAHAN.

There will be universal regret expressed for the bereaved in the death of Mary Mercedes, youngest daughter of the late Isabella and Roger Callahan, who passed peacefully away yesterday at the residence of Mr. Thomas J. Kennedy, 63 Cochrane Street, after an illness of short duration. The late Miss Callahan, who had just turned into womanhood, contracted a severe cold a few months ago, and although everything possible was done to effect a cure, other complications set in, and it could be seen that the end was near. During her illness, she bore her sufferings well and was quite conscious to the end. There will be many in the city and abroad who will regret to hear of Miss Callahan's passing. She leaves to mourn one sister, Bella, three brothers, John, in Montreal and William and Walter of this city. The funeral takes place to-morrow, Tuesday, at 2.30 p.m., from 68 Cochrane Street.

Septic Sore Throat

"The outbreak of 10,000 cases in Chicago was traced to one raw milk supply. Pasteurization would have prevented this.

"Probably the most important disease, namely tuberculosis, we have not touched yet we feel that research and careful examinations by noted men reveal an alarming condition which disseminates of this disease through raw milk has been definitely traced.

"The total number of tubercular persons examined in the Research Laboratory, New York city, was 438. Of this number 7 1/2 per cent. had tuberculosis of bovine type contracted from the cow. This number was divided into three groups:

"1. 84 persons under five years of age, of whom 22 or 26 1/2 per cent. showed bovine bacilli.

"2. 54 persons between five and sixteen years, of whom 9, or 16 1/2 per cent. showed bovine tubercle bacilli.

"3. The remainder being persons older than sixteen years. Another group of 1,038 cases, of which 101, or 9 7/10 per cent. showed Tubercle Bacilli of Bovine type, those under five showed 26 4-5 per cent. to be of Bovine Bacilli origin. Those between 5-16 years showed 25 per cent. to be of Bovine Bacilli origin.

AND DON'T FORGET—

It's too late, isn't it, to urge anyone to do their Christmas Shopping early. There was a time when if one shopped early in December one was doing one's shopping early. But in the past 25 years, Christmas has become such a colossal affair that one month will not contain it. It crams one month's shopping into the months either side of it. Into November and even back into October in preparations, and into January (and, alas, I fear me sometimes into February) in financial aftermaths. If the next 25 years sees as much of Christmas elaboration, it will take up half the year getting ready for it and getting over it.

So it's too late now to do your Christmas shopping early. But not too late to do it now. Every day you wait makes it harder both for you and those who serve you.

Put off something else, but don't put off your shopping. Do it now, and if you haven't already adopted the rules I suggest each year, here they are again:

Your Kitchen Won't Be Crowded
Go as early in the morning as possible. Leave your home work. Your kitchen won't be crowded in the afternoon and the stores will. One hour in the morning is worth two in the afternoon because shops and street cars are less crowded, because you are less tired, and because the clerks are less tired and the stocks less mixed up. Dress as lightly as you dare. You will be in the shops most of the time and not on the street and you are more likely to catch cold from overheating than underheating. Furthermore, the lighter your clothing the less you will have to carry around.

Dress For The Fray.
You wouldn't carry a pound parcel if you didn't have to. Why carry an extra pound of clothing? Have a carefully made itinerary of shops you mean to visit, with the errands in each shop listed under the shop.

When you ask for any article try to explain as nearly as possible what you want, so that the shop girl won't have to cross question you to pin you down on the details. "I want to see some dark brown silk stockings, size 9½ at not over $2 a pair" will bring you quicker service than "please show me some brown silk stockings", and will also save the clerk a lot of trouble.

The Shopping You Do Over.
If you find you are getting confused, go home as quick as you can hotfoot it or hotauto or trolley it. The shopping you do in a confused state of mind has to be done over. Go home and wait until things clear up, then you will know what you don't want, and what you do and can go back and buy the latter or perhaps order by mail. When in doubt I always take the sales person's card with description of article and order by mail after thinking things over.

Finally, try not to forget that this is CHRISTMAS shopping—you are doing.

Our Montreal Letter

(From Our Own Correspondent).
THE POLICE PROBE REVEALS MANY THINGS.

The general public in Montreal often wondered why the city was fast becoming a mecca for criminals of all kinds, that law and order had no terror for them, that Bolshevism, on a small scale, was beginning, that citizens were in danger of their lives from thugs and bandits, even in broad daylight, and that the perpetrators of such deeds, as a general rule, were never molested. The answer is quite evident from the Police Probe, which has been in progress for some weeks. From the Chief of Police down to the rank and file of that Department, some dreadful, shocking and scandalous statements are being hurled against them by many witnesses. Statements that the Metropolis of Canada was a regular Sodom and Gomorrah in immorality, with its large number of disorderly houses, ruining young girls of tender years, and the keepers of those places growing rich and prosperous with such devilish work, because the officers of the law were paid to protect rather than punish. Presents of all kinds, including cases of liquor and big sums of money, made law and order take a back seat, and crime and wickedness grow and flourish. Not only are the police mentioned in the crooked work, but some of the Aldermen are also in the fifth and rottenness. Thugs, bandits, and other criminals plied their nefarious trade with boldness and defiance because they made the "mighty dollar" speak, and secure for them, immunity from punishment. Even some of the money stolen from the Bank of Hochelaga, it was stated at the Probe, found its way into the pockets of a certain official. O ye Gods and little fishes! where are we and whither tending? Restitution or imprisonment will now be in order. The accusations are many, but the denials are the same. "The Licensed Liars" are also on the stand. When a police official demanded from a leading auctioneer, a certain amount of money to tell him where some valuable rugs, which were stolen from his establishment, could be found, then you have some idea how graft was rampant, and the observance of duty and the upholding of the law thrown to the winds. This evidence was the opening number of a very long and varied programme dealing with the powers of evil against influence, money and other Gods of worship. And the powers of evil were winning right along. Then robberies of silks and other valuable goods from places, allowing the retailer to sell silk at 95 cents a yard, sold in the wholesale houses at three dollars and a half a yard, and carrying on work like that for fifteen and twenty years, show dishonesty was on top. But this Probe has exposed many things, and public opinion must be satisfied. Up to the present two second-hand stores have lost their licenses; the Chief of Police says that he has quit the job temporarily to satisfy public opinion but "the worst is yet to come." Royal Commissions have been, as a general rule failures, spending large sums of money, wasting valuable time, and yet, notwithstanding all the evidence against those accused of wrong doing—justice was never served. When Justice Coderre sums up the evidence in this Probe there should be something done. It cannot be a case of "Whitewashing," for the public must be protected. "Graft," dishonesty, and negligence of duty, or betrayal of trust, must be punished, and law and order reign supreme.

THE FIRST ACCIDENT OF THE WINTER.

The appearance of winter brought joy and gladness to the hearts of the younger element. But to young Jean Guilbeau, of Ahuntsic, it brought an untimely end, as he was coasting down Gouin Boulevard. In company with another youngster, Guilbeau was coasting on a bob sled, he being in front with his head down. The car was moving at a moderate speed when the driver became aware of the approach of the sled. At the same moment the boys tried to swerve, but skidded, and the victim was crushed beneath the wheels, his skull being fractured.

The driver brought his car to a stop and carried the boy to a nearby drug store to which Dr. E. Gariepy was summoned. He found young Guilbeau dead.

At the Coroner's inquest, his companion, Walter Nelson, while answering questions put to him by Coroner McMahon, collapsed in the stand, and was carried out in a fainting condition. Nelson quickly revived and later resumed his testimony.

SMOKING IS GOOD BUT NOT TO BE ABUSED.

Smoking is a soothing, stimulating comfort, to be indulged in freely yet not to be abused. Furthermore women may use the weed moderately as long as they get a certain amount of pleasure therefrom, and if they do, tobacco helps pacify their delicately balanced nervous system.

These statements were made by Dr. Dunstan Gray, prominent Montreal physician, who addressed the local Kiwanis Club at noon to-day on the subject of tobacco, its general history and the effects of the weed. While Dr. Gray pointed out that the smoking habit can be abused he declared that tobacco judiciously used, was a pleasing and delightful product. He scored the anti-Tobacco and anti-Cigarette Leagues and pointed to the many unsuccessful efforts made throughout history to suppress smoking.

Dr. Gray stated that as far back as man could trace tobacco had existed in some form or another. Briefly he told of its spread from the American Continent where undoubtedly it had been employed, to Spain and then to other European countries. Sir Walter Raleigh was the first to take it to England.

The speaker referred to the various means taken to suppress the weed, mentioning particularly the condemnation made by James I., of what that monarch had termed a "loathsome habit." He commented on the various forms of tobacco and the ways in which the weed was used from the American cigar to the Oriental hookah.

"Smoking is one of the charms of life," Dr. Gray declared. It had served the boys in the trenches to a good purpose.

THE STATEMENTS OF MANY CONCERNING CANADA.

In the Canadian Railroad Employees' Monthly, an editorial under the heading of "What's Wrong with Canada," appears. It says:

"Any statement by a radical is subject to suspicion. So we will confine ourselves to conservative sources as we accumulate proof that Canada and the United States are in a position to produce more than the people can consume. When the evidence is complete the reader may ask himself how it is that with such a great capacity for production there should be so much unemployment, poverty, and destitution. But to our evidence:

"Canada is blessed with more railways than she has traffic for."—Beatty, President of the C.P.R.

"We now have a plant capacity which in many lines is 20% ahead of domestic consuming demand. In order to run full, 20% of the output must be sent abroad."—Journal of Commerce.

"America is equipped to furnish goods to 140,000,000 Americans, 30,000,000 of whom haven't arrived yet. The present 110,000,000 decline to keep the machinery going full till six days a week."—Prof. Harry R. Wellman, Dartmouth College.

"Every year the Canadian people produce about three times as much as they consume. The productive machinery in Canada is adequate for double the present output."—The Ottawa Citizen.

"The productive capacity of the Canadian Shoe Manufacturing industry and the distributing facilities of the shoe trade of Canada are much in excess of the requirements of the present Canadian population."—Shoe Manufacturers' Association.

"Canada, after accepting every obligation arising out of the conflict, is stronger materially than before the war."—Sir Herbert Holt, President of the Royal Bank.

"The productive capacity of the country being far in excess of requirements."—1924 Annual Report, Ames Holden McCready.

"What the country is suffering from is too great railway mileage."—E. W. Beatty, C.P.R.

"My province is now producing enough to feed approximately 30,000,000 people. Our population is about three quarters of a million and we are not making a living out of our production."—S. G. Latta, Minister of Education, Saskatchewan.

"In normal times, economists estimate, if our industrial organization works five and a half eight hour days it will produce so much that the country can consume only four days output. One and a half day's output must be shipped abroad."—Saturday Evening Post.

Canada, with less than one half of one per cent. of the world's population produces:

4% of the world's gold;
4% of the world's copper;
12% of the world's silver;
85% of the world's nickel;
88% of the world's asbestos;
90% of the world's cobalt.—(Financial Post).

In proportion to population, and world production, Canada produces 180 times its share of the cobalt of the world, 176 times its share of the asbestos, 176 times its share of the nickel, 64 times its share of the pulpwood, 40 times its share of the lumber, 40 times its share of the cured fish, 36 times its share of the oats, 30 times its share of the potatoes, 24 times its share of the silver, 23 times its share of the wheat, 22 times its share of the barley, 8 times its share of the gold, 8 times its share of the copper. (Figures from Toronto Saturday Night.)

Figures to the same effect could be enjoyed the first skate of the season. Mild weather followed and then two days of heavy rain. The storm of Sunday was greatly felt on the St. Lawrence River, and many steamers trying to reach Quebec or Montreal were obliged to anchor.

"I FELT 'fagged' in the morning when I went to the office. At luncheon I ate my food with a growing resentment at the necessity of eating. At dinner I merely nibbled at morsels of food. I was nervous and irritable. Then I began eating yeast—Fleischmann's—and noticed my appetite returning. My face lost its sallowness, and the pimples on my skin disappeared; my grouch went the way of the eruptions."
(Extract from a letter of Mr. A. F. Lookhart of St. Louis, Mo.)

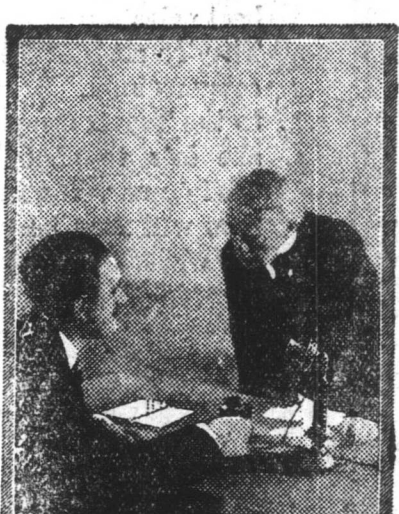

"FIVE years ago as an office worker in Milwaukee, I could answer to the description of the 'run-down, nervous, suffering woman' in the patent medicine ads. My sallow complexion was my greatest worry and I was always troubled with constipation. I had taken medicine for four years, but the doctor said that drugs could not effect a permanent cure. Two years ago I learned from the girls in the office to eat Fleischmann's Yeast. Today I am frequently complimented on my fresh complexion and am told I don't look more than twenty-two. I hold the championship record for swimming and tennis in our club. I still have one incurable habit—half a cake of Fleischmann's Yeast daily with a glass of milk."
(Mrs. Ella Fitzgerald of Ypsilanti, Michigan)

"We restaurant eaters must force greasy, quickly fried food into our stomachs in a hurry. No wonder it gets sluggish and refuses to perform its duties. And our next move is 'take one of these pills each night!' Even the best stomach cannot stand such treatment. It must soon stop functioning and instead of taking nourishment and health out of our food, it becomes semi-active and just passes it on."
"On the advice of a friend I ate my first yeast cake. Now I feel like the man who puts coal on a fire. He gets heat units, while today I'm enjoying health and vigor units, and am glad to be out of the 'glass of water and pill' class."
(Mr. Thomas Layden of Elizabeth, N. J.)

Read these tributes to its amazing power:
Then—make this familiar food work for you

These remarkable reports are typical of thousands of similar tributes to Fleischmann's Yeast.

There is nothing mysterious about its action. It is not a "cure-all," not a medicine in any sense.

But when the body is choked with the poisons of constipation—or when its vitality is low so that skin, stomach, and general health are affected—this simple, natural food achieves literally amazing results.

Concentrated in every cake of Fleischmann's Yeast are millions of tiny yeast-plants, alive and active. At once they go to work—inactivating the whole system, clearing the skin, aiding digestion, strengthening the intestinal muscles and making them healthy and active. Health is yours once more.

"I WENT fishing up North about 250 miles from Vancouver in the Spring of 1920, and had an attack of boils in a very bad form which lasted for one year and five months—from 7 to 10 at a time. I tried all kinds of remedies. A fisherman friend made me a bet that Fleischmann's Yeast would cure the boils if I took 3 cakes a day. He said he would buy the yeast cakes. In 10 days my boils began to dry up, in 4 weeks only the marks were left and no new boils coming. I lost the bet and paid for the cakes, but I have not been troubled with boils since."
(Extract from a letter of Mr. John Faulkner, of Nanaimo, B. C.)

"I AM 62 years of age, and looked like 80—a fitter subject for the Old People's Home than an active, outside insurance solicitor. Constipation had been the bane of my life. My feet could hardly carry me along, and my conversational powers were exhausted during business hours. About 12 months ago I was recommended as a last resort to try Fleischmann's Yeast. I can hardly believe it, neither can my associates—that I am the same man of a year ago. 'You look and act like a man of forty,' say my friends today."
(A letter from Mr. Russell Carolan of St. Louis, Mo.)

"A PHYSICAL wreck—I was irritable, nervous, debilitated. I tried the rest cure, the milk diet, and nearly every curative treatment known to science, but to no avail. I was simply depleted of nervous energy. When I heard of Fleischmann's Yeast I was skeptical of the wonderful results attributed to it. In a week's time, after using the yeast, my digestion became better, my complexion brighter, and I slowly regained lost vitality. Is it any wonder that I am a convert to the curative qualities of Fleischmann's Yeast?"
(Extract from a letter of Mr. Clair C. Cook of Los Angeles, California)

Fleischmann's Yeast is prepared for market in Nid.

Dissolve one cake in a glass of water (just hot enough to drink)
—before breakfast and at bedtime. Fleischmann's Yeast, when taken this way, is especially effective in overcoming or preventing constipation.
Or eat 2 or 3 cakes a day—spread on bread or crackers—dissolved in fruit juices or milk—or eat it plain.
Fleischmann's Yeast comes only in the tinfoil package—it cannot be purchased in tablet form. All grocers have it. Start eating it today! A few days' supply will keep fresh in your ice box as well as in the grocery.

Is Your Child Undernourished?

Your child may not be sick, but unless he is a noisy, rollicking, romping youngster—full of activity, energy and life—he is probably undernourished.

Undernourishment does not mean lack of sufficient food. It means in the food—elements in the food—elements that promote energy and growth.

Brick's Tastless

contain these needed elements in just the right degree and it is rich in vitamins—that mysterious "something" that makes children grow and keeps those of advanced years fit and energetic.

Lynch and Anderson the comedians are in a class to themselves. Misses Knowles and Fay, are the real "jazz hounds." The management of the theatre wishes to draw the attention of the public to the fact that the reserved seats are on sale beginning to-morrow at the theatre 11 a.m. to 2.30 p.m. and from 7.30 p.m. also reservations may be made by phoning 1563.

Diseases Due to Work

MEDICAL CORRESPONDENT ON THEIR PREVENTION AND CURE.
There are few occupations which do not entail some disease peculiar to the work engaged in. For instance, factory workers who follow their calling in a grim link-locked bay in East Prussia have been suffering recently from a strange epidemic which has completely baffled doctors. It begins with general weakness and severe muscular pains, which increase in severity until rigidity of the muscles becomes great that movement becomes impossible.
A likely cause of this mysterious condition is a poison-gas contained in the water of the bay. This gas, probably composed of arseniuretted or phosphoretted hydrogen, may possibly originate in the waste products of cellulose factories which find access to the bay.
In the majority of what doctors call "occupational" diseases, however, there is no doubt about their cause. In recent years the workers most severely hit by the then unsuspected arsenic have been the X-ray researchers and the production of radiographs or X-ray-pictures. Before protective screens in the form of lead screens were thought of the X-rays destroyed the tissues and blood of the operators and repaired. It destroyed more particularly their hands, afflicting them with a form of cancer.
Amongst industrial workers house painters present the most familiar form of disease due to the nature of their work. The effects of their employment are felt most immediately during the process of "fatting" or whitening the dead colours with turpentine. The exhalation produces dizziness and afterwards vomiting. Grinding the paint is the most baneful department. Here the skin is rubbed with the salts of metals, commonly with lead. The most serious results of working in paint are colic, paralysis taking the form of "lead-palsy." As the poison acts principally through the skin, washing the hands, brushing of the nails, and change of clothes should be practiced frequently.
Another class of worker who suffers from a disease peculiar to his calling is the chimney-sweep. Soot affects him in various ways, sometimes producing ophthalmia, catarrh of the lungs, bronchitis, throat troubles and deafness. But his worst enemy is a form of cancer affecting the skin in a region of the body where the effects of friction of clothes, perspiration, and soot combined assist in the development of a malignant disease. Frequent bathing and change to fresh clothing are of the utmost importance as a preventive.

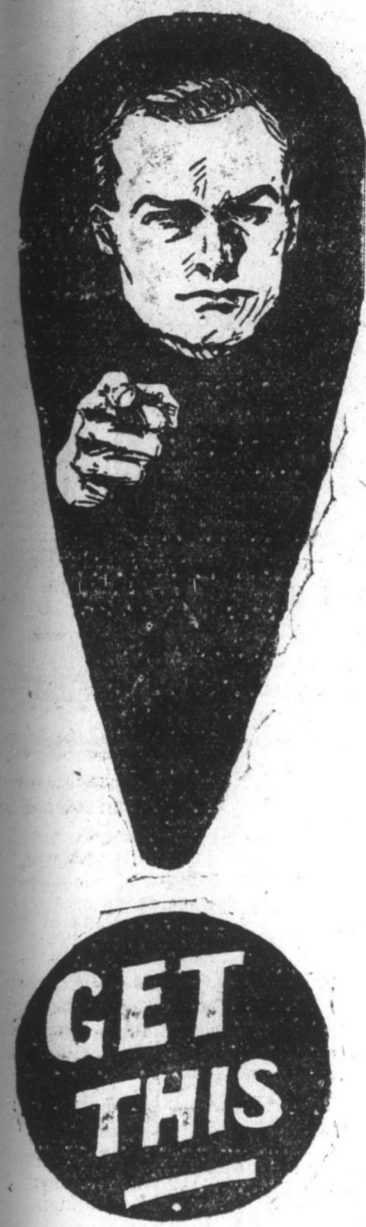

Trouble Caused by Teeth.
Again, domestic servants are subject to the well-known and sometimes chronically recurring "housemaid's toe," a swelling of the sac of the heel-cap due to constant kneeling on hard floors. When painting with lime and pressure fail to cure, puncture may be necessary.
Workers who have to do a lot of loading are peculiarly liable to varicose veins and varicose ulcers. As soon as varicosity of the veins makes appearance a crepe bandage should be worn and means taken to obviate other developments by suitable exercise and dieting.
"Throat jaw" or "lucifer disease," still prevalent among match-makers, who work in phosphorus in unhygienic conditions. It is due to rotting of the jaw-bone, which begins in the neighbourhood of decayed teeth, extending mostly the lower jaw. The tooth which falls out, and the septic condition which arises in addition to the general action of the phosphorus naturally undermine the health, causing anæmia, indigestion, diarrhoea, disease of the blood and kidneys, and hectic fever. To prevent this disease the ventilation of factories is most essential.

INTER CLUB BILLIARDS.
B.I.S. Players Leading By Comfortable Margin.

The postponed billiard game between E. Fox (Masonic) and D. J. French (B.I.S.) took place on Saturday night in the Masonic rooms. This was the best game of the series to date and both players put up a good exhibition. Right through the game the scores were very close, and at no time could anyone judge what the final outcome would be. When French was 138 Fox was 136, and at 163 the score was tied. Fox then took the lead and at 203 he was 38 in the lead, but French again caught up and at 229 he was 4 points in the lead. From this on he kept slightly in advance of his opponent. Some very fine shots were played, and the large number of spectators present were kept keenly interested right through. The final score was French 350, Fox 305. The breaks were:

D. French (B.I.S.)—350—12, 11, 11, 17, 38, 20, 28, 27, 47, 14, 13, 23—291.
E. Fox (Masonic)—305—17, 26, 13, 13, 34, 10, 32, 13, 27, 19, 15—210.

At B.I.S. Rooms.

The third game of the second round was played on Saturday night in the B.I.S. rooms, between H. Foster (Masonic) and G. Halley (B.I.S.). The game was somewhat slow, both players finding it difficult to get the balls running, and, as a result, only a few breaks were made. Throughout the whole game Foster led by a small margin, and at the end was 48 points in advance, the final score being: Foster, 500; Halley 302. The breaks were: A. Foster (Masonic)—350—14, 11, 21, 17, 10, 15, 21, 15, 19—163.

STUDEBAKER CORPORATION
October Sales Exceeded Only by Those of Ford.
N. Y.—According to an official statement, Studebaker Corporation sales in October exceeded in value those of any other automobile manufacturer in the world except Ford. Pres. Erskine has previously stated October sales were 15,099 cars, against 8,977 in October, 1923, increase of 68%, and 6,926 in October, 1922, increase of 110%.
Both November and December are expected to record breaking with plants operating at capacity.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

N. Y.—American business may look forward to the incoming Mexican administration under President Calles with the same hope for continued fair dealing as it held during Obregon's administration, in the opinion of Chairman Julius Kruttschnitt of the executive committee of the Southern Pacific.

"Because of our previous relations with Calles under Obregon and our close relations with Obregon, we have no apprehensions concerning the new administration. Everything on our lines in Mexico is quiet and satisfactory and we believe it will continue so," he said.

"We have had all our claims with Mexican government satisfactorily adjusted."

STEEL EXPANSION.

Ingot Production in Youngstown District 78% of Capacity—Increasing Use of Steel Presages Continued Heavy Consumption.
Youngstown—Republic Iron and Steel added No. 4 blast furnace in the Hazelton group to active units. Additional resumptions in December and January are forecast. Industry apparently in on its way to capacity operations. Republic and Sheet and Tube each added another open-hearth furnace and the latter has placed additional pipe mill in action.
Steel ingot production is at 78% capacity, and Bessemer steel output average, 80%.
Of 127 sheet and jobbing mills, 88 are rolling, or 75% of independent capacity. Bar mill production of independents has been accelerated to 90% capacity.
Puddling mills are at capacity. Tin mills are at 80% average, with 33 of 38 independent mills rolling and 70 of 90 units in this territory of American Sheet and Tin Plate.
Hot-strip mills are at capacity, while cold-strip production nears capacity. Tube production is at 65%, and plate mills 60%.
Production is improving in the Shenango Valley. At Farrell works, Carnegie Steel is melting from 11 of 15 open-hearth furnaces, highest since March.
President Kerr of Sharon Steel Hoop, with plants in Youngstown and Sharon, states:
"Since Nov. 10 there has not been a day when the capacity did not book at least 140% of full production capacity. Bookings on some days ran as much as 300%, and averaged in excess of twice our capacity. We can count on prosperous conditions in the steel industry for at least two years."
Mr. Kerr declares that increasing use of steel in metal furniture, motor car construction, fire proofing, building and residential purposes and steadily expanding railroad requirements, presages continued heavy consumption.

ADVERTISE IN THE EVENING TELEGRAM

Was There a Murder Aboard the Rum Runner Francisca?

Was there a man killed on the rum runner Francisca, the French steamer captained by Nicolas, which arrived in Halifax on Thursday last with the story that her crew had repulsed the attack of pirates off New York? One member of her crew, hailing as a German-American, giving his name as Shussela, yesterday informed the Immigration authorities to that effect, and again last night to The Morning Chronicle the details of what he described as the death of one of the crew, Mangard, by name, as the result of a fight which he alleged the man had had with the chief mate, after the crew had been driven off the ship and were disappearing over the side of the vessel.

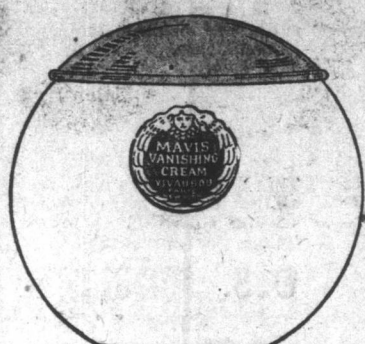

Fear to go Back to Ship.

Five Italian seamen and one German—who says he is an American citizen, members of the crew of the Francisca are at present held by the Canadian immigration authorities of Halifax charged with refusing to go back to the ship and endeavouring to enter the United States, and being on Canadian soil without proper authority. They state they fear to go back to the Francisca owing to the treatment they alleged to have received during the time they were at sea. They are willing to go anywhere but absolutely refuse to return to the Francisca. They claim they never signed articles to work on the ship and were hired on the pier head at Hamburg to go to work, but were not told what cargo the ship contained. Since sailing from Hamburg they contend they have not been in port to have the articles signed by the captain.

The story as related by these members of the crew, but especially by Shussela, who speaks very good English, is to the effect that on Saturday, November 1st, a schooner with no name visible and having aboard a double crew came alongside the steamer to take the cargo. The papers being all in order the cargo was put over the side. About 5,000 cases of alcohol.

When part of the cargo was out,

Free Samples Given Away at Nickel Theatre To-Night

For some time past local druggists have been selling a vanishing cream, that has met with the approval of all users. "Mavis" is a vanishing cream that really vanishes, and does not re-appear when the users become warm. It removes blackheads, pimples, tired lines and sallowness, and forms a perfect base for powder and rouge. So that the public may have an opportunity of judging for themselves that "Mavis" vanishing cream is all that it is claimed to be, the local agent, Mr. Frank Penney, has made arrangements with the Management of the Nickel Theatre, to distribute a number of sample boxes to-night, to be given away to all lady patrons. Mr. Frank Penney is sole agent for V. V. V. Cream, New York and Paris, one of the largest toilet preparations manufacturers in the world.

proposition unless the Power Development scheme was included. The Chicago diversion was also touched on and the opinion expressed that this matter would shortly be settled; that the United States would live up to its war rights agreement and that Chicago would be told "where to get off at."

Obituary

MICHAEL F. POWER.

With regret we chronicle to-day the passing in New York, on the 4th instant of Michael F. Power, youngest son of the late Alice and Michael Power of St. John's. Deceased left here about 35 years ago and settled in St. Louis, where for a number of years he was in charge of the Coopering Department in connection with the Rockefeller Oil Works, but returned here in 1911. Finding the climate very rigorous, however, he left again for the States and for the past few years has been residing in New York.

Mr. Power always took a keen interest in anything pertaining to Newfoundland, and was a general favourite with all who knew him. There are many who will remember him as a swimmer and oarsman of repute, and will be sorry to hear of his death. Interment was at Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden, where only a year ago his sister, Mrs. M. F. Scott, of Boston, was laid to rest.

To his sorrowing sister and brother as well as his nieces and nephews, we extend our sympathy.

To-Night's the Night at the Majestic

"IF WINTER COMES," A 12-REEL MASTERPIECE.

Come early and secure your seat is the advice of the Majestic management. The big feature "If Winter Comes" will be shown for the first time, and Emmet O'Mara will appear in Irish costume, singing favorite Irish melodies. It's the best and biggest 30 cents' worth ever given at any one time in this city. "If Winter Comes" stormed America for two years at top notch prices. The book was read by millions and the greatest newspapers of the day praised the production. Critics everywhere said the impossible was made possible when this famous story was screened. Percy Marmont as Twynning, Sabre, with his piquant sense of humor, his almost childlike viewpoint of life and his absorbing love of all mankind, runs the gamut of emotions in a way that compels admiration and just a little wonder. His scene with Twynning, the hypocrite, his enemy, when he learns that Twynning's son was the father of the child of Effie Bright, for whose death the elder Twynning sought to have Mark convicted, is a masterpiece.

Marmont enters the office with murder in his heart. Twynning, who has just heard of the death of his son at the front, is sobbing on his desk. His selfish mind lets him believe that Sabre has come full of sympathy. Sabre advances, gun in hand, bent upon "cramping down his throat" the telltale letter. But, Mark learns the violator of Effie's honor is dead.

He hesitates, then softens. The sympathetic heart in him begins to assert itself. He puts away his revolver and, though revolting at the thought, pats his arch enemy on the back with the consoling words: "There's gone, Twynning—had luck—bad luck. Fine death—died for his country—brave boy."

This is but one of the great moments in the picture. It is without doubt one of the best ever produced.

U.S. Will Fulfill Water Agreement

Chicago's Diversion Will Be Stopped, Association Believes.

St. Catherine's, Ont., Nov. 29.—(Can. Press.)—The United States will live up to its water rights agreement with Canada and the city of Chicago will be told "where to get off at," according to opinions expressed at the Canadian Deep Waterways and Power Association convention, which opened yesterday. The question of the diversion of water by Chicago for drainage purposes was brought up and the opinion was expressed that the matter would shortly be settled.

The morning's session was occupied with a discussion on the differences between the Hydro Commission of Ontario and the Association on the development of the St. Lawrence. The president and other delegates claimed there was no room for differences; that the association advocated the construction of a canal and power scheme, the cost of which would be paid for by the Power Development, and which would not cost the people one cent. They pointed out that it did not matter to the association who developed the power, but that the United States and Canadian Governments would not approve of the
