SEES BIG DEFICIT

Berlin, Nov. 19.—Chancellor Stresemann announced yesterday that the state owned and state operated railways in Germany will have a deficit of $200,000,000 this year. This great deficit is due mainly to the loss of the Ruhr and Rhineland railways, and vividly reveals that the prosperity of the German state railways was the result of two immense tonnage producing districts.

Anglo-French entente appeared to have weathered another crisis today when it was learned the Ambassadors conference reached a virtual agreement on a compromise.

The compromise dealt with proposed action toward Germany regarding expulsion of the former Crown Prince and reimposition of allied military control. The ambassadors were to meet again at six p. m. it was learned. Premier Poincare was to submit the proposed compromise between the British and French viewpoints to the cabinet today.

Andrew Hood of Charlottown Gets Heavy Sentence For Liquor Selling.

Boston, Nov. 18.—An unprecedented sentence of 21 months and $1,000 in fines for liquor violations was given Andrew C. Hood of Charlottown in the Superior Criminal Court. Judge King of Brockton imposed sentence following Hood's conviction in five liquor cases.

In one of the cases, Assistant District-Attorney Henry P. Fielding introduced evidence that a 14-year-old youth had come from church on Sunday to sell liquor for Hood in the latter's kitchen while Hood remained on his piazza as a police spotter. After arguments in Hood's behalf by counsel and after hearing from Sgt. Mitchell, lately transferred to the traffic squad, Judge King decided to affirm the lower court sentences from which Hood appealed from time to time.

GERMANY TO PROTECT WILHELM

Chancellor Makes Fiat Declaration in Speech to Reichstag.

COURT TO DECIDE

BY CARL GROAT United Press Cable. Berlin, Nov. 19.—Germany will not surrender the former Crown Prince even if France takes military action.

Chancellor Stresemann made his fiat declaration in a speech at a party caucus of members of the Reichstag. He declared Federal courts must deal with the leaders of the recent Munich rising. Germany's refusal to submit to reimposition of military control by the Allies despite French demands was also emphasized by the Chancellor in his bid for the support of his party.

"Many persons assert that parties no longer exist and demand a nationalistic dictator," the Chancellor said. "If a dictatorship came about it would be the most important form of Government conceivable," he continued, concluding that if he was to remain Chancellor he must have unquestioned support from his party.

(By Canadian Press.) Berlin, Nov. 19.—Chancellor Stresemann in the course of a lengthy defence to his party's executive has tonight said that he would not resign if the Crown Prince's return to Germany.

"We are threatened with further penalties on account of the return of the Crown Prince. I hold it, however, better to suffer new French brutalities than to bear the reproach that the last German who fought in the great war should remain exiled abroad, far from his family." Cheers greeted the Chancellor's statement.

Six Passengers Had Limer to Themselves

New York, Nov. 19.—Three stewards accompanied each of the six men and women who comprised the complete passenger list of the National Greek liner Gladstone, formerly the Themistocles, when she docked on her last trip from Patras. The six, all Greek-Americans and each a third-class passenger, had the big vessel to themselves, with the service ordinarily accorded a passenger list of 2,000 concentrated upon them.

The passenger death was due to the fact that Greece's immigration quota has been exhausted for this fiscal year.

Teacher Likes "Cigs" Too Well

Orient, N. Y., Nov. 19.—The high school in this Long Island community today is without a teacher of Latin and French.

The post was held by Miss Dorothy Scholze, 21, of Providence, R. I., a Barnard graduate. But word came to the Board of Education that Miss Scholze liked both cigarettes and knickerbockers—against both of which Orient is prejudiced. So Edward F. Dewey, secretary of the board, undertook to deliver salutary advice. He admitted that he was unable to complete it; that Miss Scholze had promptly resigned in the middle of his discourse, professing to see no connection between French and cigarettes or Latin and knickerbockers.

ASK 20 CUTTERS

Two Hundred Cruising Vessels Costing $8,000,000 on Program.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The U. S. Treasury Department has completed plans for halting rum runners, under which it will request Congress for appropriations aggregating about $28,500,000, with which to double the strength of the coast guard and establish boats along the eastern shore line to check the smuggling.

With the backing of President Coolidge, treasury officials will declare to Congress that they can effectively stop the operations of rum runners if granted the money required. The President, it is believed, will probably urge favorable action on the proposal in his first message to Congress.

Use Cruising Cutters. The programme proposes the purchase of twenty cruising cutters at a cost of $10,500,000; two hundred cruising motor boats at about $8,000,000; one hundred small speed boats at about $1,000,000, and the addition of 144 commissioned officers, 320 warrant officers and 2,071 enlisted men to the force. If the plans are granted congressional sanction, the guard will consist of 2,397 commissioned officers, 712 warrant officers and 7,122 enlisted men.

British Museum Gets Odd Bequest; Wealthy Rothchild's Flea Collection

London, Nov. 19.—The scientists of the natural history department of the British Museum are delighted at a remarkable bequest from the late Nathaniel Rothchild, the largest and nearest complete collection of fleas in the world. It comprises several thousand specimens, each preserved in a tiny bottle.

Only a wealthy enthusiast could ever have gathered such an exhibition, for no government would be willing to spend the money which it cost Mr. Rothchild and no scientific institution could afford to do so.

Mr. Rothchild often commissioned exploring expeditions to find specimens of fleas infesting certain animals or birds in far parts of the world and he is credited with having once financed an expedition to Greenland to obtain fleas of the Arctic seal.

Major Austen, of the Insect Department of the Museum, said the collection contained specimens of nearly all the distinct kinds of fleas in the world and that it was particularly valuable for the study of their disease carrying properties.

Prof. Hartmann, vice president of the Franco-Anglo-American League against Cancer, maintained that the disease is not incurable and that "if patients succumb in large numbers no matter what treatment is followed, it is because, generally speaking they are subjected too late to rational treatment."

F. L. Hoffman of New York said cancer is a disease of civilization due to abnormal life and bad habits, and that it is very rare among the primitive races. He estimated that 3,000,000 persons die from cancer yearly throughout the world.

DECISION OF POINCARÉ STIRS PRESS

Speech of Premier Interpreted as Declaration on Ruhr Policy.

DEMAND IS MADE

Fear Expressed That Great Britain is Asked to Do the Impossible.

(By Canadian Press.) Paris, Nov. 19.—France's determination to continue "the occupation" until the treaty of Versailles has been executed and protection assured, as expressed by Premier Poincaré in his speech at Neuilly yesterday, applies only to the Rhineland and the bridgeheads, according to an official Foreign Office statement issued through the Havas Agency today. The statement adds that decision concerning the Ruhr will be dependent upon agreement with Belgium.

The statement read as follows: "Certain newspapers seem to not have understood the exact sense of the words the Premier pronounced yesterday when in an address at Neuilly he declared: 'France also is determined not to evacuate the territories occupied by virtue of the treaty until all clauses signed at Versailles have been completely executed.'"

Print Premier's Remarks. "These words concerned the occupied territory on the left bank of the Rhine and the bridgeheads. It goes without saying they could not apply to the Ruhr, concerning which no decision could be reached without a previous accord between France and Belgium."

NAKED NYMPH NOW FACES THE WORLD

Formerly Had Back to Public, But Sculptor Registers Protest.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The nude nymph who stands before the court house here faces the whole world now. When the bronze statue was recently erected in the face of much protest, it was placed so that the unadorned lady had her back to the block—to assuage the wrath of certain people. A little lawn stands innocently by her side.

A few days ago the sculptor, P. C. Jennew, dropped into the Capitol for a visit. It pained him to see his work of art shunning the public gaze. So he went before the Fine Arts Commission, which selected the site, and protested vigorously.

Later workmen brought out their paraphernalia and turned the lady around. The statue was erected in honor of the late Joseph J. Darlington, a prominent attorney here.

EVANGELIST HEARD
IN TWO ADDRESSES

Rev. Dr. Crossley Speaks of
Four Types of People

Powerful and appealing addresses were delivered yesterday by Rev. Dr. H. T. Crossley who opened the Waterloo street Baptist, Zion and Exmouth street Methodist, Tabernacle Baptist and Coburg street Christian churches the music of the evangelistic campaign are to be held each night in Exmouth street church.

Dr. Crossley in appearance was as youthful as when he visited St. John 28 years ago and he lost nothing of his old time vigor. His address made a profound impression and at its conclusion a great many of his old friends came forward to shake him by the hand and extend hearty greetings.

Last night Mr. Leonard led the large choir and himself sang two solos and, with Dr. Crossley, took part in a duet "The Old Account Settled Long Ago".

For his theme last night Dr. Crossley took the first psalm and told of the four notable characters described in the psalm which might be found in St. John. There was first the moralist, who was a fine type as such and because of his serene and beautiful exterior was frequently mistaken for a Christian and will not make another trip before the spring. He will be tied up in the hardest types to reach and he was expected that the saintly character of the psalm which was making of Christ but they were more apt to be hypocrites than was the most flagrant sinner.

The second type of which Dr. Crossley spoke was the sinner, who, although from 10 to 100 times over was more apt to be reached by Christian teaching. It was the experience of Dr. Crossley that the sinner was more readily converted than was the moralist and he was more ready to enter into the Kingdom of God than did the moralist.

The sinner was the type of which Dr. Crossley spoke and such he described as irreverent, casting lots at religion. He gave a striking illustration to explain the condition of skeptics. He told of the experience of Dr. Maxwell while he was in the city of Montreal. Several young men who had been attending the evangelistic meetings and were being urged to give up the homeward way by singing irreverent portions of the hymns at the service and one young man in particular was a worse offender. His companions rebuked him but he continued and the next day he was passing the preaching house while driving a pair of spirited horses he replied to query as to where he was going by shouting "To Hell!"

Hardly had he spoken when the horse sprang forward and he was jerked backward. He fell head first on the hard road and was killed. The terrible consequences of irreverence could not have been more fully demonstrated, said the speaker.

As the fourth type of man Dr. Crossley described the blessed, who walked not in the counsel of the ungodly. He depicted the state of the Christian whose life was peace and whose end was joy everlasting.

GIVES ADDRESSES
EDUCATION SUNDAY

Dr. George J. Trueman, M. A., Ph. D., spoke at Centenary church yesterday at both services. In the morning Dr. Trueman spoke on the religious influence, which he said was gained in the home and from the mothers. His references, he said, were taken from young men who were offering for the ministry and who had given testimony to being led to their high calling through consecrated mothers.

Dr. Trueman urged the people of St. John to see the need of saving to the Methodist church the best minds and the young men with thorough consecration to God's work in the church. He did not hesitate to ask for money from men who were not sending out sons to preach. Their obligation was clear to assist those who were giving up monetary comfort to make the world better and safer to live in, he said.

In the evening, the general education and the advantages at the Mount Allison institutions were cited with interesting emphasis on the needs of colleges all over Canada. Yesterday was Educational Sunday in the Methodist Church of Canada and was marked by a special collection or subscription to be paid any time before May, 1936. The large congregations responded well to Dr. Trueman's appeal and many signed subscriptions. The allotment for Centenary by the General Conference is $300.

BISHOP SUPPORTS
Y. M. C. I.'S DRIVE

His Lordship, Bishop LeBlanc, added impetus to the membership drive of the Y. M. C. I. by sending out a letter to each of the St. John Catholic churches which was read yesterday morning. The letter urged the interest of all in the campaign, and recommended the Catholic men and boys to become members of the Institute.

This report was one of several given by the various committees at the regular weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. I. yesterday afternoon in their rooms in Cliff street. Dr. John P. Nugent spoke with enthusiasm of the amateur athletic meet of Friday evening in the Arena and of the encouragement it had given to the promoters of amateur sport.

In the absence of Dr. W. P. Broderick, president, Harry Pike, secretary, was in the chair and conducted the meeting which was well attended.

Books and reading formed the subject of discussion at the meeting of the Girls' Council of C. G. I. T. members held on Saturday evening in the Y. W. C. No. 2 of a Series

PRESBYTERIANS!

Do you know the Full Meaning of the Proposed Bill for CHURCH UNION

The four main provisions of the Bill are plain and simple. They are as follows:

- (1) It would create a new corporate body, to be called the United Church of Canada.
- (2) It would merge in this new corporate body the entire Presbyterian Church in Canada—its name, its ministers, its members, and its property.
- (3) It would provide that, within six months, a congregation may vote itself out of this new corporate body.
- (4) It would provide a commission to decide as to the equities of congregations voting themselves out in the general property and funds of the Presbyterian Church.

WHAT THE BILL MEANS:

- (a) If this bill becomes law, then the Presbyterian Church in Canada passes out of existence—her very name is abolished. Canada would be the only civilized country in the world in which there is no Presbyterian Church.
- (b) All the ministers and members, all the property and funds of the Presbyterian Church would, by law, become the property and form part of the United Church.
- (c) This would mean coercion, for many ministers and members of the Presbyterian Church would be compelled by law to become members, and become subject to the discipline of an organization in which they do not believe and which they do not desire to join.
- (d) A congregation must vote itself out within six months or ever after remain part of the United Church. If a congregation does vote itself out—it is out in the cold with a vengeance, for there will be no Presbyterian Church in Canada with which to unite.
- (e) Should a bare majority of a congregation at a meeting held within the six months, decide to remain in the United Church, they would keep the whole of the property and funds of the congregation. Thus, if a congregation of 401 members voted as follows: 201 to stay in and 200 to withdraw, the 200 would have no claim whatever either on the congregational property or on the general property of the Church. That is: a bare majority of one at a meeting, where many through sickness and such like causes cannot attend, may create this crisis and perpetrate this injustice— from which there will be no appeal.
- (f) This Bill, if it becomes law, will certainly create a serious disruption in the Presbyterian Church in Canada, for there is a very large body of solid, determined Presbyterian people who will absolutely refuse to be incorporated by law, against their will, into any non-Presbyterian organization.

These are the outstanding features of this Bill, and they show that Union, at this time, is out of the question. If Union can only be accomplished upon the terms of this Bill, then surely every true and loyal Presbyterian must conclude that Union should not now be consummated.

From the windows of the third floor of the hotel, escaping means of the building, Mrs. Brewer, who after a o'clock this morning when she awoke rapidly through the third story of the building, Mrs. Brewer, in bed from sleep by dense smoke, collected her four young children lying asleep and carried and dragged them from the hotel, escaping by means of the back staircase. All the lodgers in the building got out safely although several had chilling escapes. The hotel was damaged to the amount of about $5,000. Mrs. Brewer and the lodgers lost much of their effects, including the total loss to probably $7,000.

The fire is supposed to have been caused by the explosion of a lamp in the hall on the first floor of the three-story brick building. Everyone in the hotel at the time on the third floor was asleep, but one lodger who was in bed on the second floor was awake. So rapid was the spread of the flames that the lodgers had no time to save anything but the clothing they were wearing. Three lodgers, all men, escaped by means of the life-saving ropes coil, up in their rooms. The others had time to leave by the stairways.

Mrs. Brewer and her youngest child, Constance, aged four, were asleep in the same room. Arousing her children, Mrs. Brewer seized Constance, whom she carried in her arms, and dragged Elaine and Kathleen along with her, the boy being able to walk before his mother. The party rushed through the smoke-filled hallway and succeeded in reaching the stairway without receiving burns, although Mrs. Brewer's face was blackened by the dense smoke. The family was cared for by neighbors. Mrs. Brewer is the widow of Nehemiah Brewer. She carried $3,000 insurance on her furniture.

The fireman soon responded to an alarm from Bell, located on the St. John Hotel, Edward the St. James Hotel, Patrolman L. E. Hughes pulled the hook 115 a. m. The fire from the lower floor ran up the stairway area to the top floor which was completely ransacked and wooden floor somewhat damaged. There was a heavy water loss on the first and second stories. The blaze was out in half an hour. For a time flames issued from the roof.

FOR BETTER ENGLISH

The most notable thing about Miss Archibald's method of teaching correct English is its simplicity. It is a method of daily drill in the use of correct English. Conscious of her own failure in teaching in the ordinary way, Miss Archibald was casting about for something that would supplement the ordinary instruction in grammar.

A RAPID INCREASE

The speed with which divorces increase in number continues to excite animated discussion in the United States. The debate has been going on for many years, but it does not produce the remedy. In 1916 there were 112,086 divorces recorded, but last year the number was 148,254.

Sometimes it is asserted that the obliging record of the United States in the matter of divorce is due to its large proportion of foreigners among the population. This is denied flatly by Mrs. Katherine Fullerton Gerould who writes on the American divorce problem in the October Atlantic Monthly.

The Province of Quebec, in September last, opened a school for forest rangers, at the Berthier Nursery, and the first course has been concluded, with sixteen students. These will now be employed for six months in practical work on the staffs of large lumber concerns, or with the Provincial Department of Lands and Forests, and in the spring will return to the school. They will pursue their studies in the school and the forest for two years, and will then receive diplomas.

The Soldiers Settlement scheme in New Brunswick has worked out very well. While some failures have occurred the proportion is small, and the scheme has proved to be well worth the experimental cost.

Press Comment

Things have got to be a pass in this country that there is no other alternative. Our present survey of our manufacturing industries shows that what a desperate state they have fallen. And although no one pretends that protection alone can restore them completely to their old prosperity, it can at least remove the one cause of their distress which is removable.

GOOD FOR THE C. N. R.

The announcement that the Canadian National Railway has made a gain of $18,383,567 in gross earnings since January 1, last, is a matter of popular rejoicing for the Canadian National is the people's railway. The discouragement which naturally greeted the report, is giving way to confidence in the future of the Government system.

SCOTCH FISHER GIRLS

The Scotch fisher girls who are now at Yarmouth are an interesting feature of the East Coast ports all through the autumn. To see their nimble fingers preparing fish for brine is a revelation in human quickness. One snick of the sharp steel and the herring is opened, cleaned, and passed into the basket. On a single fish they will make a pleasant scene and not unprofitable occupation, but early and late come the fisher girls, and the work is done in less time than it would take an ordinary individual to pick up a fish from a basket.

CO-EDUCATION

Co-education has not been such a success in the school system of the United States that it should be perpetuated. The indications are that more and more parents are realizing the causes for which separate schools for boys and girls are being established. The High Schools of British Columbia are concerned. The "Haley" experiment in the classes of boys and girls has been tried to a limited extent at the Victoria High School, and the results were good.

After all, co-education was instituted as an experiment. It is very much an experiment still, and has by no means proved the success anticipated. It constitutes one of the gravest underlying causes for the criticism of our educational system.

TO LAY A CABLE BETWEEN ISLANDS

The Canadian Government is making arrangements to lay a cable from Deer Island to Indian Island, which are about half a mile apart. The straits between the two islands are now in Passamaquoddy Bay making a survey. There are cable connections of two miles for telephone purposes between the northern shores of Eastport and Deer Island. From the latter island are cable connections to Wilson's Beach, Campobello, and another connection between Eastport and Campobello in the middle of the straits. Cables also reach North Head, Grand Manan and Gannet Rock. The cables are of great value during the herring and lobster fishing seasons.

GIVES LECTURE ON THE PAPACY

Rev. Father Hill, C.S.B., gave an excellent address before St. Peter's Y. M. C. A. at its meeting yesterday afternoon in its rooms in Douglas avenue. The address was on the subject of the Papacy and there was a good attendance of members. Father Hill's subject was "The Papacy and its effects on modern civilization." He showed that the principles enunciated in Magna Charta were those which the Papacy had always upheld and aided to secure, while the principles exemplified in the Bolshevik revolution and socialism of Russia had been discontinued by the Papacy.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ASSISTED IMMIGRANTS

To the Editor of The Times—Sir—Why should the citizens of Canada be taxed to pay for the transportation of England's poor, when thousands of native Canadians are obliged to leave their homes in order to earn a living, and other thousands planning to follow as soon as circumstances will permit? If those prospective immigrants are not paupers why is it necessary for the Canadian Government—which is the people's—to contribute towards paying their passage? One can readily understand why the transportation companies are interested in the project. They will receive the passage money for dumping the immigrants in Canada, and in the near future the railroad fares for transporting them or an equal number of native sons to the United States.

THE FLAG OF OLD ENGLAND

All hail to the day when the Britons came the past, And planted their standard, with sea-foam still wet, Around and above their spirits will hover, Rejoicing to mark how we honor it yet.

CHURCH HONORS ITS 95TH ANNIVERSARY

Portland Methodist Pastor Recalls History in Excellent Address.

In celebration of the ninety-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Portland Methodist church special services were held yesterday, when Rev. Ne MacLauchlan, a former pastor, recalled the history of the church and Rev. J. A. Goodwin, the present pastor, delivered an inspirational address.

Portland Pastor

REV. H. A. GOODWIN.

A few years later fire swept away the building, leaving the congregation without a place of worship. At this period the membership increased to the number of 203 and the membership of the Sunday school to 284 with 83 teachers.

For 1,000 people and in it love, harmony and prosperity prevailed until an agitation for the introduction of a new organ, proved more than the proverbial fly in the ointment.

At the close of Mr. MacLauchlan's address the handsome tablet was unveiled and Mr. Goodwin read the names as follows: J. B. Strong, 1828-30; Albert Desbriens, 1830-32; William Goodwin, 1832-34; Arthur McNutt, 1834-36; Richard Shepherd, 1836-38; Enoch Wood, 1838-41; George Miller, 1841-43; William Temple, 1842-43; Michael Pickles, 1843-45; Arthur McNutt, 1845-47; Frederick, 1847-49; 1849-51; Sampson Busby, 1847-49; William Smith, 1848-50; William Smithson, 1850-52; William Goodwin, 1852-54; John Prince, 1851-53; Ingram Sutcliffe, 1853-55; James R. MATING IN THE WILDS

BY OTWELL BINNS

Hubert Stane, discharged convict, saves the life of Helen Yardley as he travels toward a dangerous waterfall. Gerald Ainley, one-time friend of Stane, is in love with Helen, who is the niece of a governor of the Hudson Bay Company.

CHAPTER IX

Under the Greenwood Tree Slowly, and with pungent taste of raw brandy in his mouth, Hubert Stane came to himself. The first thing he saw was Helen Yardley's white face bending over him, and the first sound he heard was a cry of sobbing gladness.

"Oh!" cried the girl. "You must be still, Mr. Stane. I am afraid you are rather badly hurt, indeed I thought you were killed. I am going to do what I can for you, now that I know you are not. Your leg is broken, I think, and you have other injuries, but that is most serious, and I must manage to set it, somehow."

"To set it?" he began, and broke off. "Yes! I am afraid I shall not prove a very efficient surgeon, but I will do my best. I hold the St. John's Ambulance medal, so you might be worse off," she said with a wan smile.

Without more ado she departed, taking with her an axe, and presently through the stillness of the forest there reached him the sound of chopping. Lying as he was on the flat of his back, he couldn't see the leg, and desiring to do so he made a great effort and sat up. As he did so, he groaned heavily, and incontinently fainted.

He was still unconscious when the girl returned, and after one quick look of alarm she nodded to herself. "A faint!" she whispered. "Perhaps it is just as well."

With a knife she ripped the breeches leg right up the seam, then with the aid of moss and a blanket, she reached him the needed to set the broken leg.

At last she gave a sob of relief and stood up to survey her handiwork. The splinting and the banding looked terribly rough, but she was confident that the fractured ends of bone were in position, and in any case she had done her best.

After that she busied herself with building a fire, and after heating water, washed the wound on Stane's forehead, and carefully examined him for other injuries.

first time that her blouse was badly torn. Half of one sleeve was ripped away, and there was a long tear through which he caught the gleam of a white shoulder. Her skirt he saw was in no better case. She caught his glance and laughed.

"I'm a perfect Cinderella! It will take me hours to sew up these rents."

"Do you think it is worth while?" he asked with a faint smile. "I'm not much of a tailor myself, and I should look at that job as wasted effort!"

"But what else can I do?" she demanded. "I can't get in a taxi and run down to Bond street on a shopping expedition."

"No," he answered slowly, "but you might look in the pack you carried today. There's a habit there that I better suited to the woods than the tent, my own have."

"Divining that his advice would be accepted he turned to a fresh subject. "Where are you going to sleep?"

"I ought not to have given me the tent," he waved a hand airily. "Outside. There isn't much room here. Like R. L. S. sleeping out with his donkey I shall discover a new pleasure for myself."

"I am afraid you will find it an exaggerated pleasure, Miss Yardley."

"Then it will be strictly for one night only," she said. "Tomorrow I shall build a shack of boughs and bark like one I watched an Indian building, down on the Peace river."

The girl went outside, and after sitting for quite a long time looking in the fire, retired to the couch of spruce which she had prepared for herself, and almost instantly fell asleep.

Four hours afterwards she awakened suddenly and looked around her. A rosy glow through the trees proclaimed the dawn. The forest was wonderfully still, and there seemed no reason whatever for the sudden awakening. Then a stream of meaningless babble came through the canvas wall of the tent.

She sat up instantly, and listened plainly, the patient was delicious, and had broken through her sleep. Three minutes later she was inside the tent, her brow puckered with anxiety.

Stane lay there with flushed face, wide-open eyes that glittered with a feverish light. For the moment he was quiet, but whilst she still stood wondering what she should do, the drummer broke out again, a mere babble of words without meaning, some English, some Indian, in which she found only two that for her had any significance. One was Gerald Ainley's name, and the other the name of the

Your Health

BY DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON

Keeping away from fret and worry is a great aid to health and physical condition. The person who frets and fumes over imaginary ills from imaginary causes will not have the buoyancy of spirit that should walk with him every day on the way to health and long life.

You may become a nervous wreck through causes that are easy to diagnose but difficult of treatment by any physician. Mental disturbances, such as fret, worry and pretense which bring on nervousness, have a direct and serious effect on digestion and health. They go hand in hand with indigestion, stomach disorders, headache, sluggish liver and diabetes. In fact, one may speak of work as a short circuit of nerves to the brain. It burns out the vital tissue and gives no return for energy wasted.

This worry and nervous flinching about fret, envy, excitement or hate must be put aside by your own power of self-control and determination. To bask in the sunshine of contentment is a mental and physical condition well worth while and one that all should try to cultivate.

The trouble seems to lie in making up your mind. When you have done this in regard to any task that seems to have been set for you, you can lie down to sleep and pleasant dreams, as the sailor does even in a storm. The mind cure is all right in one sense at least. If more people would train their minds to endure the tasks set for them success would be theirs without worry or envy.

WOMAN STAGE MANAGER! WHY NOT?
She Shows She Can Handle Details—Yet It's Only Stepping Stone to Higher Achievement

(By Marian Hale)

New York—Just when you think there can't be any new job for women to tackle, and when you despair of locating any more women pioneers to write about, along comes the exception.

The only woman stage manager has just appeared on Broadway—Regina Mermel by name. She's young, pretty, determined and has ideas.

"It's just a means to an end with me," she explains, between jumps, for her job consists in attending to all the difficulties of 42 people besides herself.

"It's not as if I'm going to do it," she says. "I'm going to do it."

Then it developed that being a stage manager is not the height of Miss Mermel's ambition.

"I'm going to devote my life to the theatre, but what I want to do is to found a children's theatre, to be run on the lines of the one in Moscow where plays for children will be put on by the very finest actors obtainable."

One year she was a playbroker. "I learned all I could about selecting plays, about prices, royalties, copy rights and all that," she tells me. "Then last year I played in 'The Fool' and studied things from the actor's point of view. Incidentally I learned that if you are two inches too short for a part, it doesn't make any difference how well you could act if you won't get it."

"This season I decided I must learn the technique of the back of the stage. So when I heard Richard Bennett was managing 'The Dancer,' as well as acting in it, I went to him and told him my ambition."

Bennett didn't counsel conservatism, he was open to reason. Stage managing is a detail job, and women are supposed to have a way with details. So he made her the assistant manager of his show.

"But he did think the stagehands and electricians might object to taking their orders from a woman," he says. "They said they were perfectly agreeable to taking directions from me, and they have co-operated with me at every step."

"Some of her duties consist in getting all the actors ready on time, ringing up the curtain, being ready to prompt or jump into a part if necessary, keeping order in the wings, maintaining discipline and at the same time keeping the members of the cast happy and contented."

"But it's a good job for a woman," she insists. "Women have the necessary patience and tact. But there's no glory in it, and no chance to shine."

REGINA MERMEL

Salads and Dressings

The first requisite for a successful salad is crispness and coolness of all ingredients, of course, but to my mind the condition of the lettuce tells the story.

As soon as lettuce comes from either market or garden, put it into a large pan of clear cold water and let stand at least an hour. Shake the water from the leaves and toss into a cloth big enough to hold the lettuce loosely. If needed immediately gather the corners of the cloth firmly in one hand and whirl as vigorously as possible. It need not be for an hour; pin the bundle in a shady, breezy spot. This makes delicious crisp lettuce that does not wilt in the dressing.

If one is fortunate enough to own one of the wire baskets now on the market for this purpose so much the better.

If lettuce is allowed to stand on it after washing for two or three hours to chill, it is just that much better in the salad.

These dressings are particularly good over head or leaf lettuce:

French Dressing

One half teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon powdered sugar, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon mustard, 4 tablespoons olive or a good vegetable oil, 2 tablespoons vinegar.

Mix dry ingredients and stir in vinegar. Add oil slowly, beating constantly. All ingredients and utensils used in mixing the dressing should be thoroughly chilled. Serve immediately after mixing.

Cheese Dressing

Two tablespoons, smooth cream

These dressings are quickly and easily made, requiring little beating. They are not rich and heavy for warm weather, but quite "tasty" and piquant enough to whet a jaded appetite.

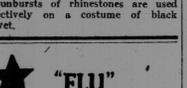

The "French dressing" is delicious with any vegetable salad and far more acceptable with a dinner salad than mayonnaise.

The other two can be used with a tomato salad, but are not friendly with a combination salad.

Breezy Briefs on Current Pastimes on Events of Interest to Fans.

The bouts in the Armories tonight are creating quite a stir among boxing enthusiasts. Frusetti, who arrived in the city from Boston last Saturday, looks to be in the pink of condition and from all appearances should give McIntyre the go of his life.

The Boston Braves through the acquisition of Bancroft have sought to overtake the other clubs in the National League at least, namely a playing manager. It is the first time in over twenty years that any club in the National League had a playing pilot.

"Battling" Siki, former light heavyweight champion of the world, will make his American debut in Madison Square tomorrow night when he will meet "Kid" Norfolk in a fifteen round bout. Yesterday he had a stiff workout and then prepared to leave for New York. He will appear before the members of the State Athletic Commission tomorrow at 2 o'clock to weigh in. He expects to be under 175 pounds the weight limit stipulated for the bout.

Golf enthusiasts in the United States are already anticipating a visit from British professionals. The two leading members expected are Arthur Havers, the present British open champion, and James Ockenden, the British professional champion. A New York promoter was recently planning on bringing Havers to the States for a special 72 hole match with Gene Sarazen, but the death of Havers' father just before the championship was scheduled to sail, caused the affair to be called off.

Boxing experts in England are keen to discover how far Descamps, manager of Georges Carpentier really has unearthed a future British heavyweight champion, says a London letter to the Times-Star. The youth in question is Johnny Sullivan, sixteen years old, born of Irish parentage. He is sturdy but cleanly built, with promise of maturing into a hefty heavyweight with great physical clan. He lacks, however, the handsome debonaire fascination of a Bombardier Wells or the charm of a Carpentier, half of whose attraction with the big-light public lies in their good looks. He is just a pleasant sort of lad, very enthusiastic about boxing. He was "number boy" and occasional emergency substitute in the ring at the Hoxton Baths when only thirteen, and has fought twenty short bouts during the last two years. His last public appearance, before being over to be trained at La Guerche in the Carpentier camp, will be against Jack Cowley at Hoxton.

Before the present rugby season opened it was predicted that Leicester would this year gather bright laurels. With Wakefield, England's scrum captain and the finest forward now playing, leading their scrum, the Tigers can with some impunity carry on with their five-three-quarter formation. The critics are still dubious about this innovation, but when you can afford it, it certainly has its points.

MINNESOTA TO HAVE $750,000 STADIUM ERECTED

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 18.—Final plans for the new $750,000 stadium at the University of Minnesota, construction of which will begin next spring, were announced by Professor Frederick Mann, Minneapolis, chief architect, in an article published in the current issue of The Alumni Weekly.

THOMSONS AT PINNHURST. Pinnhurst, N. C., Nov. 18.—St. John will be represented by two players in the Carolina tournament, which opened here yesterday. Eric Thomson, of the Riverside Club, qualified for the championship sixteen with a score of 45, 44-89 and will meet another Canadian, tomorrow. P. W. Thomson, from the same club, went around in 47, 51-88 and will represent St. John in the second round. D. C. Skinner, of St. John's, turned in a score of 110 but failed to qualify. The medal was won by F. C. Newton, of Brookline, Mass., who set a net course record for the season when he went around the course in 88, 96-71.

ST. DAVID'S WIN.

St. David's defeated St. Andrew's on Saturday night in a basketball game. The game was keenly contested, the final score being 18 to 14.

AINSMITH NOW A MEMBER OF GIANTS

Veteran, as Free Agent, Sells Own Release to New York Club.

Eddie Ainsmith, veteran catcher, formerly with Washington, Detroit and the St. Louis Nationals, has been signed by the Giants as a fourth receiver to bulwark the efforts of Frank Snyder, Hank Gowdy and Alex. Gaston. Ainsmith was a free agent and sold his own release to the Giants.

As ball players go, Ainsmith is an aged veteran. He is 86 years old and has already seen fourteen seasons in the major leagues. In 1910 he was sold by Lawrence to the Washington club, and he was nine years with the Senators, where he won chief fame as the catcher who handled Walter Johnson when the speed king was in his prime. In 1918 he was traded to the Detroit Tigers, but lasted only two seasons there before he was waived out of the American League and picked up by Branch Rickey of the Cardinals.

SAW FINE TRAGEDY IN CHAPLIN COMEDY

In Heywood Brown's novel, "The Sun Field," there is a well aimed thrust at the intellectuals who happened on Chaplin long after the rest of the public had done so. Writing of his heroine, Judith, who contributes to a dream that she was an artist and that there was an inner significance in his work, and all that. She was the first person who ever wrote that he ought to play "Hamlet." I went with her to a Chaplin film called "The Bank." It started with Charlie coming in an opening a lot of combinations on the door of a big safe. Then he swung it open and came out with a mop and pail and began to clean up the office. Later on he went to sleep with his arm around the mop, and he had a dream that it was the beautiful blonde girl who worked in the president's office. Everybody in the theatre was roaring with laughter, and it was a long time before I realized that Judith wasn't. When I tried to find out why not I saw that she was blushing with anger.

"The swing" she said. "Isn't there any such thing as compassion?" "What's the matter now?" "Can't you see it, either? This is one of the finest tragic performances ever done by man. Here's Charlie tearing all the pretensions off humanity and showing the naked hide of futility underneath, and everybody thinks it's funny. I'm going home."

WAREHOUSE TEAM WINS FOUR POINTS

Last evening on the Imperial alley, the ladies of the office staff and warehouse of the T. H. Estabrooks Co. met in battle and the warehouse representatives emerged victorious from the fray. Following is the score:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Total Avg. Rows include Anderson, Adams, Ogler, Holmes, Linton, Warehouse, Mullin, London, Black, Foley.

ZEV DEFEATED IN MEMORIAM

Zev defeated In Memoriam by a scant nose at Louisville, Ky., Saturday, in a mile and a quarter race, which vicariously decided the three-year-old championship for this season. It was one of the closest and most thrilling finishes recorded in the annals of the American turf, and many thought that In Memoriam had won. Zev's triumph was in all probability meant that he will represent the United States in the big international race at Longchamps next May.

Time for the race was 2:08 3/5, three and two-fifths slower than the track record for a mile and a quarter, made by Wood Trap in 1921, and a second and one-fifth slower than the time for the distance made by Zev in winning the Kentucky Derby.

In defeating In Memoriam, the conqueror of Papyrus and Kentucky Derby winner, not only recovered prestige lost as a result of finishing second to the Wiedemann colt in the Latonia championship but gained new laurels by taking first place as the greatest money winning race horse in the world. Mr. Sinclair received $25,000 as the winner's share of the $50,000 purse for the match race, swelling the total of Zev's winnings to $91,073 and putting him ahead of the two English cracklings, with $291,275, and Donovan, with $277,212.

Brennan Manager Threatens Suit

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 19.—Leo P. Flynn, manager of Bill Brennan, heavyweight boxer, suspended by the local boxing commission after he was knocked out by Billy Miske of St. Paul, has notified the American Legion, under which the bout was held, that if he did not receive Brennan's share of the purse, which was held up by the commission, he would file suit to recover it. Brennan's purse was said to have been about $1,600.

FIRPO NOW SAYS HE WAS BADLY TREATED

Declares He was Counted Out at Eight—Statement Annoys New York.

Buenos Aires, Nov. 18.—Saying that justice had been denied him in his battle with Jack Dempsey, Luis Angel Firpo arrived here last evening and told a welcoming throng that he was counted out when he was on the floor only eight seconds.

He denied he ever had intended to become a U. S. citizen, and declared the step he had taken toward that end had been taken under misapprehension. Firpo said he expected to get into communication with Tex Rickard soon regarding his next fight, which would take place in the U. S.

New York, Nov. 19.—Boxing circles are annoyed by the dispatch from Buenos Aires saying that Firpo told winners there that he was treated unfairly.

Although there were many outside his camp who did complain that Dempsey was not obliged by the referee to observe the rules of retiring to his corner when he had knocked down his opponent, and that on one occasion the champion hit Firpo before the latter was fairly on his feet, there was no grumbling from Firpo himself. Four days after the fight he gave out a statement reiterating what he said immediately after the bout, that he accepted the decision of the referee without cavil and only wanted another meeting with the champion. He said that he had read the criticism of writers relating to fouls.

TEACHERS' PLAY.

Basketball in High School circles will enter the preliminary stage on Tuesday afternoon when the Grade XI team meets the Teachers. The lineup will be as follows: Teachers—Alexander and Shaw, forwards; Fennell, centre; Frank Campbell and Bennett, defences. Grade XI—Whittrien and Rice, forwards; Humphrey, centre; Fwing and Barker, defences. This Grade XI lineup probably will be chosen to carry a High School record in interscholastic circles this year. In 1921 and 1922, St. John has won the Maritime Intercollegiate title, with two regulars, Whittrien and Humphrey, and one spare, Fwing, from last year's championship team, they expect to repeat.

CLERICAL LEAGUE.

The Clerical Bowling League will carry out the following schedule this week: Monday, the New Brunswick Telephone Company employees versus Waterbury & Rising, Ltd.; Tuesday, Canadian National Roundhouse versus G. E. Barbour Company, Ltd.; Wednesday, S. Hayward & Company versus Schofield Paper Co., Ltd.; Thursday, T. S. Simms & Co., Ltd. versus Canadian National Express; Friday, Atlantic Sugar Refineries versus Manchester, Robertson, Allison.

AMATEUR HOCKEY ASSOCIATION MEET

Will Control Hockey in the Maritime Provinces.

The organization meeting for the proposed Maritime Amateur Hockey Association will be held at Moncton on Tuesday afternoon, November 27. It was announced last night. This association will take complete control of amateur hockey in the Maritimes. G. P. Bolton, of Sussex, is chairman of the committee named to organize the association and delegates from New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and P. E. I. are expected to attend.

A meeting of the executive of the M. P. B. A. U. of C. has been called by President Corey for Moncton on the same day. The registration committee also will meet in conference with the executive and it is rumored that a well-known maritime athlete will be on the mat for alleged professionalism. The executive will meet at 8 o'clock and the hockey committee at 5 o'clock.

OLYMPICS WON.

The Olympics took four points by default from St. Luke's Juniors Saturday night. The Olympics challenge any junior bowling team in the city to a game next Saturday night.

Dalhousie Wins.

Dalhousie University vanquished St. Francis Xavier 32 to 0 in Truro Saturday, and incidentally won the maritime title and the McCurdy cup, emblematic of the championship. Murphy, a St. John boy, made a good showing with the St. Francis Xavier team.

New Notes Gathered From the World of Stage and Screen

OPERA DAYS OF TWENTY YEARS AGO IN ST. JOHN ARE VIVIDLY RECALLED

Local Theatre Man Discovers Singer Who Amused St. John People.

A visitor to Boston last week had occasion to call upon the theatrical outfitting firm of Wolf Forde & Co., and after making arrangements for his purchases was referred to the head of the firm, Mr. Wolf. Upon completing negotiations the address St. John, N. B., brought a look of surprise to the face of the white-haired theatrical outfitting.

"Are you from St. John, New Brunswick?" Mr. Wolf inquired. Upon being informed in the affirmative the Boston man said: "Why I sang several seasons with the Baker Opera Co., and other organizations in that good old city about 20 years ago and still have a number of very dear friends living down there."

The St. John man was naturally very much interested and himself recalled the glorious days of the opera companies mentioned and was delighted to find that Mr. Wolf was a tremendously able comedian such a general favorite with St. John people at that time, associated in mind with the team-work with one equally funny, Woolly. For more than a half-hour the merchant and his customer chatted merrily over old theatrical times in this city and judging from his speaking voice the St. John man came to the conclusion that Mr. Wolf could still sing a rollicking role with the same resonance and ardor that helped make him so popular a generation ago.

He has prospered greatly since leaving the stage and quite unknown to his interested customer up to the time of his personal visit business dealings had been going on with Mr. Wolf's firm for several years. The customer was glad to identify his customer as coming from this city and at once the business relations took on an intimacy mutually pleasant. Mr. Forde & Co., occupy a large building in Elliott street, Boston, and is the leading purveyor for theatrical accessories east of New York.

ROBT. MANTELL IN IMPRESSIVE ROLE

New York, Nov. 16.—"Under the Red Robe" is the third production in New York's newest and most beautiful picture house, The Cosmopolitan, once the dingy old Park Theatre, and is being set in "Little Old New York" has given way to a Louis XIII investiture which is unequalled in the history of masterpieces. Throughout the picture when the interiors of the palaces of the king and Richieu are shown, Mr. Urban has wrought with unstinted magnificence and historical verity.

The city is that, for once, Mr. Veiller has let a none too absorbing romance go beyond the proper limits. None of his centrifugal fashioning of close-knit plot has stirred the gentle current of this picture, which, with the absence of prologue and intermission, wound its way close to the midnight hour. Maybe, when sufficient tucks and pleats have been taken in its flowing amplitudes, as would cut it to the two-hour requirements of the ordinary picture theatre, it will match its scenic splendors with enlightening tale.

The beginning and the end of the picture are set in old Paris and it is doubtful if a more superb picture has been screened than the great hall and monumental stateliness in the cardinal's palace—taken from the well-known painting by Jerome—with its hundreds of courtiers and attendants in the magnificent costumes of the period. Robert E. Mantell is impressive as Richieu, and the various royalties are effectively interpreted by an all-star cast. John Charles Thomas is the tall hero, fighting on horse or on foot as the case may be with signal success. Alma Rubens is content to rely on her gowns and carriage for her share in the acting. Historically the picture facilitates as well as such photographic accumulation of crowds and costumes ever permits.

Charlie Chaplin's first venture into the movies was as a fat man. He did not get far in this guise as tried various other makeups, but they were all unsuccessful until he hit on the tramp idea.

PROMISING TALENT AMONG CITY GIRLS

Miss Mooney's Singing Gets Favorable Comment—Olive Rankine to Be Heard.

It is worthy of note that in connection with its twice-weekly orchestral concerts Imperial Theatre is extending the scope of its vocal offerings to the younger group of singers in St. John and vicinity. The very commendable singing of Bernice Mooney last week showed the general public that there are good performers amongst the 'teen age students who give promise of a high type of artistry as years of experience go by.

Induced Miss Mooney, daughter of Edward Mooney, contractor, is already a vocalist of satisfying quality, and if one were disposed to express an opinion upon her work as a student one would find little to criticize other than the quite excusable and certainly to be expected stage nervousness and restraint.

Miss Mooney sang prettily and truthfully and was warmly welcomed by the audience. Another young contralto to be heard at the Imperial during the Christmas vacation is Olive Rankine, daughter of Police Sergeant Rankine, who is still pursuing her musical studies at Mount Allison University.

CISSIE LOFTUS IS AGAIN TRIUMPHING

New York, Nov. 16.—Cecilia Loftus, more affectionately known in several countries as Cissie Loftus, is again in the United States for a vaudeville tour. She is playing in the Palace Theatre, New York, this week, and her work is as wonderful as ever.

To excel as either actress, singer, or a gifted imitator, is considered enough as one woman's accomplishment, but Miss Loftus has reached the high point in all three fields of endeavor. Whether as leading lady for E. H. Sothern and Sir Henry Irving or in the title role of "Peter Pan," or star of several other productions, Miss Loftus has earned admiration as a dramatic artist, and as the head of comic opera companies, she surprised by her versatility; but it is through her imitations that Cissie Loftus has endeared herself to the largest public. Imitations as offered by Cissie Loftus stand the highest test of genuine work of art.

An audience that filled every available space of the large Palace Theatre—and which included Blanche Bates, John Drew, Irene Bordoni, Nora Bayes, Norman Hapgood, Olga Petrova, Sam Bernard, Hassard Short, Eva Le Gallienne, Jeanne Eagels, Helen Mencken, Lynn Fontaine, May Irvin and Alice Delysia—gave Miss Loftus a welcome and, at the finish of her astonishing impersonations of Jeanne Eagels in "Hain," Mrs. Fiske in "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary," Harry Lauder, Ethel Barrymore, Alice Delysia and Beatrice Perford, an ovation that must have made her realize how Americans feel toward her. Twenty ushers assisted in carrying flowers to the stage.

VISITING FILM MEN LIKE N. B. WOODS AND PLAN TO RETURN

L. Bache of Toronto, Canadian general manager of First National Pictures, was in town last week visiting his corporation's branch presided over by William J. Melody. Mr. Bache had not intended dropping in upon St. John but being as far east as our famous moose haunts in York county, decided to make the visit, his first one this far east. On the hunting trip Mr. Bache was accompanied by H. Q. Schwabe, secretary treasurer of the First National Pictures' Corporation of the world, and one of the outstanding figures in Hollywood.

Nathan Gordon of the important Gordon theatrical interests of Boston, was also in the party as well as Max Schumann, a partner. The quartette had a wonderful time in the woods running down our big game, of which they got plenty.

Mr. Bache reports that the other gentlemen were so excited over their exploits that they intend making it an annual affair, if not semi-annual, and the Toronto man has commissions local parties here to arrange for a salmon duff on the Cain River next May, when the New York and Boston parties will come with other friends. Thus does the fair fame of New Brunswick as a playground for well-to-do and generous tourist spread like wildfire once they get a sniff of our wonderful hunting-ground and capture some of its trophies.

BEGGARS' OPERA IS STILL RUNNING

Notice of Withdrawal Caused Such a Rush Closing is Postponed.

(From Our Own Correspondent) London, Nov. 1.—Visitors to London who run down to Hamersmith to see the Beggar's Opera when they were last in London two or three years ago may be astonished to know it is still running merrily. I fancy Nigel Placard, if he had not made a small fortune out of it, would end up by hating the thing. He has made several attempts to coax it off, and start something new and novel. The last attempt was about a week ago, when it was officially announced that the Guy masterpieces would be withdrawn at the end of the week.

The news caused such a box-office rush that it has now been decided the opera must be allowed to run on until Christmas anyway. Apparently the Beggar's Opera has become an incurable habit with lots of London playgoers. Some have attended once or twice a week regularly for years.

MARRIAGE AS IT IS

We are very proud to have the privilege of commencing publication in the December issue of the sanest, wisest novel of modern marriage we have yet seen—"Judd & Judd," by Nabhu Bartley. Mrs. Bartley is not a rabid feminist—she is an intelligent woman who sees all about the problem of marriage, knows that something must be done about it if it is to be saved. It is only by such treatment as this that progress can be made. We have had enough rancorous literature on this subject; enough flippant writings. Here, at last, is a strong, wholesome story of an average marriage, where, under conditions of people of modest income fine decent folk who want to make a beautiful thing of life, and although there are jazz people in it, we shall see how much they count.—From The Designer Magazine for December.

Mr. Murray buys more clothes than anyone else in the movies. They say she has been known to change her gown four times in one evening. No one being the limelight better than Mae Murray.

LOCAL BOY CLIMBS IN MUSICAL WORLD

Clarence Causton Now Playing First Violin in Toronto Orchestra.

In a programme of the Toronto Symphony festival of recent date the name of Clarence Causton is found amongst the first violinists. Mr. Causton, son of R. A. Causton, the well-known letter-carrier of this city, was taught his art in this city, and after playing in several local orchestras took up moving-picture orchestral work in Toronto.

The Symphony of that city is largely recruited from the orchestral talent recruited about, and it is gratifying to know that another St. John boy has been found worthy of a chair in the "first" section of so big a band.

Mr. Causton, Sr., is a talented flutist and piccolo player, being a member of one of our local bands.

NORTHERN WASTES DEPICTED IN FILMS

Motion pictures taken over the far northern wastes as far as the eighty-third degree were shown last week for the first time at a projection room in the Intercoast Building in West Forty-second street, New York. The flights were under the command of Captain Hakon Hommer, who made Spitzbergen his base. It was explained that the pictures might assist those who accompany Captain Ronald Amundsen when he attempts to fly to the North Pole next year.

It is explained in the subtitles of these pictures that one is looking upon craters, ice cliffs and mountains that have never before been seen by human eyes. Twenty-one flights were made in all, and the longest lasted about seven and one-half hours, covering a distance from Spitzbergen and return of about 700 miles. Except for one or two sequences nothing living is shown in these pictures, which take up about half an hour. Maps are included on the screen for the purpose of explaining the route taken.

Captain Hammer explained that in the first instance the flights were made with the idea of rescuing Amundsen, then in Alaska, contemplating a flying trip to the pole. Captain Hammer said that Amundsen's machine was broken down in a northerly direction and that when he turned back he was about 600 miles from the pole. He said he made flights in April and May last year, there being, of course, no daylight, the temperature averaging about zero. Captain Hammer will accompany Amundsen on his flying polar trip next year, when Dornier machines will be used. These machines are made in Italy and Germany. In the longest flight the altitude averaged more than 4000 feet for certain periods they had to go up to nearly twice that altitude to clear the high peaks.

As might be expected these pictures are only interesting because of the excursions as to where they were taken. The high mountains, and the expanse of water do not differ much from those which might be seen in any other uninhabited northern zone.

Captain Hammer was accompanied by a pilot and a photographer. It was said that the pilot after flying 200 miles wanted to continue on the journey and that the Captain had to make him turn about had to threaten him with a revolver. Captain Hammer said that no matter what the conditions they might have had, he did not wish to attempt the flight to the pole without Captain Amundsen.

Gossipy Notes of The Screen People

Samuel Goldwyn, in his recent book "Behind the Screen," pays his highest possible tribute to Mary Pickford. He thinks she knows actually more about the moving picture business in all its details than anyone else connected with the industry. She achieved this knowledge through her tremendous capacity for work.

No one picked Mary Pickford as a possible star when she first appeared in the movies. After her first picture, the management was about to discharge her, because they thought she was too chubby.

Mary Pickford has always had a great head for business. She is considered as great a business woman as she is an actress. When she made her first success and was getting as high as $1,000 a week, she and her mother continued to live in a three-room flat in New York. She spent little money for clothes and few people ever saw her in anything but a plain blue serge dress.

Mary Pickford has always succeeded in winning the friendship and admiration of men. But few women know her well. Marshall Neilan, the director, was a great friend of Mary's, and she never reeled until she secured Neilan a chance. Now he is near the top of the directors' list. The greater part of Mary Pickford's wealth is invested in Canada, where she was born and brought up. Her mother has controlled many of her investments.

Edna Goodrich, the famous stage beauty, once the wife of Nat Goodwin, was given a contract at a very large figure, with the expectation that her husband would make an enormous hit on the screen. She failed abjectly because she could not warm up. Her personality was too cold.

Theatre Inaugurates Novel Word Contest

An interesting little contest is being quietly conducted by Imperial Theatre in connection with a long list of film bookings being mailed to patrons throughout the city. In this list there are about sixty titles of coming pictures. A cash prize has been offered to the person sending in the clearest hundred-word storylets or essays, using the titles of the photoplays for sentence-building. The use of little conjunctive words is being permitted to link up these titles in a smooth-running way and it is anticipated there will be some amusing returns for judges to laugh over. Of course the stability of the scheme is to get the people well acquainted with the subject matter of the shows that are to come.

Prescription Reliability

Faithful filling of prescriptions without recourse to substitution must depend on largeness and variety of drug supplies.

The undoubted leadership of the Ross Drug Store is kept on the increase not merely through increasing patronage, but the mind and means of justifying it. One depends on the other. A large patronage permits a large stock, a full stock permits completeness of prescription service, especially when backed by the best qualifications in diploma and experience.

BOILER EXPLODES IN WATERLOO STREET BARBER SHOP; TWO INJURED

Fred G. McCullough's Premises Wrecked; Adjoining Stores Suffer.

A serious explosion occurred in Waterloo street this morning as a result of which Fred G. McCullough's barber shop is partially demolished, his assistant Patrick O'Toole, is suffering from lacerations of his left hand, and an apprentice, Clarence McGaghey, is painfully injured. A hot water boiler was responsible for the wreckage occasioned and the injuries sustained by the barber and his assistant.

A little before 9 o'clock Mr. O'Toole and Clarence McGaghey were in the store. The former was shaving himself after having completed preparations for the work of the day. He told his assistant that the amount of water in the boiler was low and turned on the heat in the radiators, but he had no sooner entered the rear apartment than the explosion occurred. The force of it demolished the stove on which the boiler was placed; tore through the partition leading into the shop, smashed a large mirror attached to the partition, broke one of the doors through the shop and into the rear of the shop, and the main store moved from two to three inches and other damage was done to fixtures. When the explosion occurred the hot coals from the stove were scattered around the store and the woodwork ignited. A fire call was sent in from Box 12.

Mr. O'Toole's version of the accident as told to a representative of The Times was as follows: "I had just finished lathering my face and turned to young McGaghey asking him to turn on the heat in the radiators. As I went to pick up a razor the explosion occurred. I could not recall what happened but instinctively threw up my hands to shield my face. Glass from the mirror flew at my head, one piece striking my hand and others striking my hair."

"I heard the young fellow yelling 'I am killed' and I rushed into the rear part of the store. The place was filled with smoke and steam and I found him lying on the floor yelling. I picked him up and carried him out. He was apparently quite badly injured. The explosion caused by the boiler was terrible, but as soon as the amount of the front went out it seemed to be all over."

Asked if he could account for the accident he said it must have been caused by the boiler going dry. He did not think that the young assistant interfered with it.

Young McGaghey was assisted to the hospital and driven to his home in Acadia street. In the meanwhile an alarm had been sent in from Box 12 and the fire department soon arrived on the scene and extinguished the blaze.

Damage Done Next Door

In addition to wrecking Mr. McCullough's store considerable damage was done in the Progressive Grocery store situated on the corner of Peter street. The concussion scattered goods from shelves and they landed in a heap on the floor. Tomato catsup and mustard pickles receptacles were smashed and jelly and other articles thrown about.

In P. J. Gorman's next store a large Toledo scale was dislodged from a counter and landed on the floor, sustaining considerable damage. Other stores in the neighborhood were shaken, but no damage was reported.

SAYS ROOM THERE FOR MANY YEARS

REPAIRS EXCEED ORIGINAL COST

Commissioner Wigmore Speaks of Work on Concrete Main.

Good progress was made with the work of repairing the concrete main between Lake Lattimer and Phinney's Hill, on Saturday night and yesterday. Commissioner Wigmore said this morning that the work would be completed tonight. The water was turned off at 6 o'clock on Saturday evening and the work was started this morning at 9 o'clock last evening, when the water was turned into the pipe and the full pressure was on until 11 o'clock. Tonight the water will be shut off at 6 o'clock and the remainder of the repairs completed. It is estimated that the cost of the work will be about $20,000, more than the original estimate, and he would probably recommend its replacement with a cast iron pipe next spring.

JOHNNY GETS OUTFIT ON EVE OF HIS BOUT

Johnny McIntyre's hand bag, which was picked up by mistake on the platform at the C. N. R. station November 1, arrived back in the city today. Its arrival was opportune for it contains the outfit for his bout which he will meet in his bout with Frusetti at the Armories tonight. The hand bag was located at Fredericton Junction where it had been left by a member of a football team to await word from the owner. An effort to trace the bag had been made, but until this morning proved unavailing as it was thought to have been taken east.

WAS SOME JOB

There was quite an exciting time on Saturday afternoon around the discharging hoist of the C. P. R., Main street, when the big boulder which is to be placed on Market Square to carry the bronze tablet marking the site of the landing of the Loyalists was being taken from the car to be hauled to the Square.

A large crowd had gathered to watch the placing of the stone, which weighed only 14,000 pounds, on the wagon. All went well until a start was made to lower the stone, when a link of the chain snapped and down came the boulder, just missing a little dog that was standing near. A new chain was secured and the big stone lifted once more, and this time placed on the wagon. When the sidewalk was reached the wheels refused to be lifted over the rise from the yard and the teamster backed up the horses to get another start, but they were unable to hold the weight and the load ran away with them. After the wagon had been dropped another start was made and this time everything went all right.

25 Million Dollars Buying Power

Every day we are asked why our BARGAIN BASEMENT can continually sell merchandise at prices so much lower than other stores. We tell them—and here is our answer:

We are members of a very large buying Syndicate with headquarters in New York City. This Syndicate is made up of about seven hundred firms operating nearly one thousand stores, and represents a combined buying power of over $25,000,000!

It is a recognized fact that the greater the buying power, the lower the price. So when our Syndicate managers approach a manufacturer they have no trouble in getting the very lowest possible prices, getting equally as good or even better quotations than the large chain stores.

As members of such a "collective buying" Syndicate, we procure our merchandise at a much lower price than any individual store could possibly do; and this combined with our Basement policy, of quick sales at small profit brings our selling prices so low that every article offered is always a real bargain.

Another reason for our low prices for quality articles is the fact that our buyer visits the great Canadian and American markets every few weeks, keeping in close touch with all new merchandise and continually making "good buys" that mean big savings to Oak Hall customers.

Our buyer has recently returned from one of these trips, making many "good buys" for Christmas, and you'll be most agreeably surprised when you see the wonderful assortment of Toys and Christmas Novelties that we will be offering at 15c., 25c., 50c. and 75c.
