TY COBB IS BATTING WAY INTO NOTICE

Twelve Hits in Last Six Games

Speaker Strong as Leader of Americans, Hornsby Holds First Place in Nationals—Today's Grand Circuit.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Ty Cobb cracked out twelve hits in his last six games, and boosted his batting average in the American League to .341 as compared with .322 a week ago. This Speaker, Cleveland manager, continues to top the regular who have participated in fifty or more games, with a mark of .417. Babe Ruth of New York leads in runs with 129 and is out in front in total bases with 298. He stands fourth in batting with .387, being topped by Jackson of Chicago, who has .392, and Sisler of St. Louis, runner-up to Speaker, with .404. Ruth has forty-one home runs up to the completion of these averages which include Wednesday's games. Rice, of Washington, with forty-three thumps, remains far ahead of his rivals in base stealing. Other leading batters—E. Collins, Chicago, .359; Rice, Washington, .352; Meusel, New York, .351; Cobb, Detroit, .341; Jacobson, St. Louis, .337; Hendrix, Boston, .337; Weaver, Chicago, .335; E. Smith, St. Louis, .333; Judge, Washington, .329; Felch, Chicago, .327; S. O'Neill, Cleveland, .327. Roger Hornsby failed to swell his average as leader of the National League batters in the last week, and retained his mark of a week ago, .372. Batters of Boston, pitched overhead, has become the runner-up to Hornsby, with an average of .358. Roush of Cincinnati is next with .353, and Nicholson fourth with .332. Williams, Philadelphia slugger, tops the circuit drive hitters with thirteen. Carey of Pittsburgh is showing the way to the base with thirty-eight thumps. Bancroft of New York is the best run-getter, with sixty-eight. Other leading runners—Smith, St. Louis, .325; Williams, Philadelphia, .323; Koussich, Brooklyn, .324; King, Cleveland, .323; Young, New York, .322; Holcher, Chicago, .318; Stock, St. Louis, .317; Groth, Cincinnati, .316; Myers, Brooklyn, .316; Wheat, Brooklyn, .313. Grand Circuit. Cleveland, Aug. 14.—Eight events were on the closing day's programme of the Grand Circuit racing at North Randall today. All except the unfinished Leader $3,000 purse for 2,000 pacers, which had one heat to be raced, were to have been decided on the two out of three heat plan. A free-for-all pace and a trot for the 2,050 class were the features. The former drew four entries, Gladly B, Goldie Todd, Louis Gratian and Sanoaro. Seven, including Baron Coganite, Charley Rex and Don De Lopez, were named to start in the trot. Two divisions of the 2,14 pace, carried over from yesterday's card because of rain, a three-year-old trot with fifteen named eligibles, a 2,15 trot with fifteen named overleaves and a pace for the 2,10 class, in which nine were named, completed the card. (Continued on page 2—fifth column.)

Many Canadians Attend the Opening Ceremonies Today

Events Start Tomorrow—No Entries From Germany, Austria or Russia—King of Belgians Makes Presentation Address—The Countries Represented.

Antwerp, Aug. 14.—(Canadian Press Despatch)—The Olympic stadium, in which many of the events of the 1920 Olympiad are to be staged, was opened today. In addition to the members of the Canadian Olympic team, a large number of Canadians and Anglo-Canadians came from London and elsewhere to witness the brilliant ceremony. Every formality was observed, and the spectators included royalty and the famous and fashionable of many nations. The ceremony was staged with a setting of flags, banners and fluttering pennants against a background of white stone, cement and wood. Despite the scenic effects, however, interest of the great assembly centered in the actual Olympic contestants—athletes from 30 nations—who paraded the arena and who tomorrow will begin their tests of strength and skill. The spectators were as cosmopolitan as the contestants, the flags flying from the official, diplomatic or consular boxes proving that many countries were represented. Some banners that had hoisted at the sixth Olympiad at Stockholm were missing. Among these were the German and Austrian, and the Russian, none of these countries being represented this year at the games. The vacant spaces were filled by flags of nations that have achieved independence through the war, such as Poland and Czechoslovakia. The latter Olympic committee, and by a number of other officials of the Belgian or Antwerp city government and the Belgian Olympic committee. There was also tremendously impressive singing by a Belgian choral society. Cheering was continuous as the athletes, bling in from the open space just back of the stadium, were formed up, nation by nation, swung into the arena and headed by the members of the international Olympic committee. The general order of march was alphabetical, though the Belgians, alphabetically first on the list, courteously took last place in their capacity of hosts, Canada, Australia and the other overseas dominions followed their ally, the Belgians, who officially presented the stadium to Baron Pierre de Coubertin, president of the international Olympic committee, and by a number of other officials of the Belgian or Antwerp city government and the Belgian Olympic committee. There was also tremendously impressive singing by a Belgian choral society.

HON. W. L. MACKENZIE KING ON TOUR DOT THE EMPIRE WITH STATIONS FOR WIRELESS Chain Proposed by Imperial Committee About 2,000 Miles Apart—Would Handle Service of About Ten Million Words a Year—Governed by Commission.

OTTAWA, Aug. 14.—(Canadian Press)—An empire chain of wireless stations, free from private monopoly and possible class interference, is the prospect held out by an imperial wireless telegraph committee, headed by Sir Henry Norman, according to exchanges just received here from the committee. The report of the committee states that by the adoption of a plan which it puts forward a series of connecting stations can be established and maintained at an initial annual cost of not more than $100,000. This sum, the report goes on to state, would secure a system vital in its strategic and commercial potentialities. The main recommendation includes— That the scheme be established connecting the communities of the empire by geographical paths of about 2,000 miles each. That the scheme be governed by a wireless commission of about four members, and that its execution be entrusted to the engineering department of the post office and the corresponding dominion and Indian authorities. The committee holds that an imperial wireless scheme established in this manner would afford reliable expeditious and economic communication for commercial, social and press purposes throughout the empire and that it would meet essential imperial strategic requirements. The total estimated annual traffic for the whole service would be about 10,000,000 words, producing a revenue of $282,000, of which $208,000 would be receivable by the imperial government.

PARIS, Aug. 14.—France has not yet determined to aid materially General Wrangel, as, according to an announcement from the ministry of foreign affairs, Premier Millerand and Lloyd George agreed at the Hythe conference that such aid was not to be undertaken except in certain eventualities. It is considered that France will not act until after an exchange of views with Great Britain. The foreign office yesterday issued a denial that France has been even encouraging Poland to wage war with the Bolsheviks. France had urged Poland to keep within her ethnographical boundaries and to realize that her dangers lay westward rather than eastward. Paris, Aug. 14.—Belief that General Wregand of the French army will not accept the offer made to him by the Polish council of national defence to take supreme command of the Polish forces, is expressed in an announcement printed by the Temps yesterday. The general, who is in Warsaw as a member of the French mission, the announcement adds, will remain adviser to the Polish government.

ONTARIO BOARD APPROVES THE ONE-MAN CAR Toronto, Aug. 14.—Discussing the one-man cars for street railways, Vice-Chairman of the Ontario Railway Board, said yesterday that the board had given them their unqualified approval. It is said that this decision was a result of the board's investigation into the expense in connection with street railway operations. They have been found very satisfactory," he said, "and in several small places have gone far in cutting operating costs. The board has approved the type are now running in St. Thomas, Cornwall, Guelph, Port Arthur and Calumet, and in addition to the lessened cost of operating, they are much more comfortable for passengers. The board approves of the one-man cars for the Toronto city line and believes that they will be a success."

BRITAIN AND THE SOVIETS Paris, Aug. 14.—Conditions which Great Britain has stipulated as a basis for recognition of the Russian Soviet government are given in a Moscow despatch received here. Cessation of hostilities and the others are repatriation of prisoners, an understanding concerning reparations for damages to property of private citizens, and acceptance by Great Britain of the 1918 Bolshevik treaty, retaining assumption of commercial relations between the two countries. M. Tchitcherine, Bolshevik foreign minister, adds the despatch, has advised Leo Kamenoff at London that the Moscow government considers these conditions as the basis for peace negotiations between Russia and Great Britain.

At several other cities along the seaboard a sympathetic strike has been called. Of course, comments the newspaper, the question of Ulster will be subject to discussion.

Wrangel's fleet has bombarded Otskhov, on the north side of the entrance to the Dnieper estuary, for the purpose of opening a passage up the river for light gunboats.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "my friends the dabbles across the street nodded to me this morning. They are very nice and stately. One of them, a queenly figure, leaned graciously towards me and spoke in these words—'Do you remember what this place looked like before we came? It was just like this vacant lot. There are scores just like it, all over the city. Members of our family and relatives would be glad to make them beautiful but they remain like the vacant farms in the country.' Would you not think we would be welcomed to these empty spaces? We could do so much to delight the children, and to clothe the nakedness of neglected nooks and corners. Is it not pathetic that we offer our services in vain? We could do so much for your city." "When a flower speaks," said Hiram, "it's always with white to listen." That there is a sense that these empty spaces are good many people. They'd rather see vacant lots travelling around wearing flowers from the milliner shop than see a bull flower garden at the side of a dirty street—Yes, sir."

MOTHER STABS HER LITTLE ONE THROUGH HEART

"Angel Told Me to Send Child to Heaven," Says Woman She Uses Carving Knife—Doctor Testifies at Inquest That Slayer Had Been Mentally Unbalanced for Some Time. Anitville, L. I., Aug. 14.—Mrs. Mary Talbot Petersen became insane and stabbed to death her ten-month-old son, Edward, Jr., with a silver-handled carving knife. The mother is now confined in the Riverhead jail charged with murder in the second degree. A little after 6 o'clock in the morning Edward Petersen, engineer at the Broad Street Hospital, Manhattan, the husband, kissed his wife and infant son and started for work. He had no sooner left the house when his wife arose, and, according to the police, went to the kitchen where she obtained the knife. She returned to the bedroom, where the infant was sleeping, and it is said, stabbed the boy in the left side. The blade pierced the heart and lungs, leaving a gash four inches deep and an inch and a half wide. The woman then returned to the kitchen, where she left the knife. A few seconds after the weak paternal grandmother, hearing the cry of the infant, ran upstairs and found it covered with blood. She carried the child downstairs and across the street to Father James Irwin, pastor of the Catholic church, who summoned Dr. Charles C. Murphy. The child was dead within fifteen minutes after it was found by the grandmother. Coroner Dr. E. S. Moore held an inquest. Dr. Murphy testified that he reached the scene some time ago and that the mother was mentally unbalanced and had recommended that she be sent to an asylum. "An angel appeared to the child first," Mrs. Petersen said. "Then the angel appeared to me and told me to send the child to Heaven, where all good soldier boys go." Beyond that she was silent. It is said that no member of Mrs. Petersen's family was killed in the war.

HIGH HONOR BY POPE TO A NEW BRUNSWICKER

Regina, Sask., Aug. 14.—The decoration of Knight Commander of the Order of St. Gregory the Great was conferred upon Hon. W. P. A. Turgeon, attorney-general for Saskatchewan, by His Grace Archbishop Ledesma during high mass at the Holy Rosary Cathedral in Regina recently. The order is conferred upon persons who have distinguished themselves by moral or intellectual qualities, or by a long record of useful citizenship. Not more than three other persons in the dominion at the present time share honor conferred on Mr. Turgeon.

SALARY NOT THE ONLY REASON

Official's Comment on Exodus of Teachers from Saskatchewan. Regina, Sask., Aug. 14.—Calling attention to the serious nature of the exodus from the teaching profession now taking place in this province, the director of the Teachers' Exchange of Saskatchewan Department of Education, shows that there are several considerations besides those of salary which are operating to the detriment of the profession, and consequently to the interests of the children's education. "Even at salaries of $1,600 and $1,850 a year, with free house and fuel," says Mr. McNeely, "we find that teachers are leaving the profession for more remunerative work where living conditions are more favorable than are found in many rural districts. Lack of good boarding accommodation, lack of interest on the part of trustees and ratepayers and the short term of engagement are also playing their part in forcing good teachers to take up other work. A teacher cannot do efficient work in any district unless she has the co-operation of the trustees and the ratepayers and can safeguard her health and keep her energy by having good living quarters. She must also have good equipment and a comfortable place in which to do her work."

MATTER OF BASIC DAY FOR ENGINEERS

Toronto, Aug. 14.—The following statement has been handed out by A. J. Hills, assistant to the president of the Canadian National Railways, with the purpose of removing some misapprehension regarding his evidence before the railway board at Ottawa, in the matter of the basic five-hour day for engineers. The Canadian Northern Railway systems exhibit showed a comparative wage table for each class of employees and to show the full percentage increase, the reduction in the length of the basic day was noted. The chief commissioner's question was with reference to this note, and was— "I should like to know if I correctly interpret an statement. Is it a fact that passenger trainmen are only working five hours a day?" Mr. Hills' answer was— "Passenger engine men, in the recent schedules, base their day's work on a five hour day. Our wage table was designed to show the increase in compensation for a day's work, and as the generally accepted measure for a day's work as compared with other employees with some exceptions—has been 100 miles, the pay per hundred miles was used in preparing this data for the comparative table for each employee as has a special basis of pay of twenty miles an hour. This explains the note which raised the chief commissioner's question. It was explained later on in the evidence that trainmen in passenger service have a speed basis of twenty miles an hour but that their day's work is based on 150 miles, and that they also have a daily and monthly minimum and a mileage rate. They receive overtime when the speed of twenty miles is not maintained."

WOMAN MURDERED

Wife of Russian Is Killed on Saskatchewan Farm. Regina, Sask., Aug. 14.—Mrs. P. Oikhorov, wife of E. P. Oikhorov, a Russian, was murdered at her farm home twelve miles south of Kamsack on Thursday. LUMBERING IN WEST

Calgary, Alta., Aug. 14.—Reports received from various parts of the country by lumbermen in Calgary indicate that lumber manufacturing conditions are progressing favorably, and labor and other contributing agencies are better than they have been for some years. There is still considerable complaint about the car service and the inability to make shipments across the border. Local yards are stocking up with lumber of all kinds, looking for a busy season in the fall, and in many directions there is already a movement in the way of bigger business.

ENCOURAGING DAIRYING

Saskatoon, Sask., Aug. 14.—As a measure for encouraging the development of the dairying industry in the province, the Saskatchewan government is purchasing 100 good young grade dairy cows and heifers in Eastern Canada at an estimated cost of $100,000, for resale on easy terms to bona fide dairy farmers in the various dairy centres of the province.

NO PLEBISCITE NEEDED. It is said the city council may ask the people to vote on the question of harbor commission. This is not at all necessary, since the people never asked for harbor commission. If the city council does submit the question to the people it is to be assumed it will recommend or refuse to recommend adoption of the scheme—and give its reasons therefor.

MUNICIPAL HOUSING. The city of Boston has legislative authority to spend $15,000,000 in a municipal housing scheme, and the city council has voted to go on with the work. It is found that, while capital is available for commercial and industrial building enterprises, private capital is not anxious to seek investment in housing. Of the city council plan the Bangor Commercial says:—

NO FOG IN THIS CASE. Who says the city of St. John does not know what it wants in regard to harbor improvement—or, rather, what the trade of Canada demands? The city knows perfectly well what it needs, and so does the government. There is need of more grain conveyors at West St. John, and better facilities on the east side for the traffic of government railways and steamships. And there is the breakwater.

THE LEISURE TIME PROBLEM. Addressing the Moncton Rotary Club this week, Mr. Lloyd Wood of Edmonton offered some suggestions that are worthy of attention. WOE IN THE WEST. A deadly blight is sweeping along the Western Slope, and men give up weeping and say farewell to hope. And heartless wives and daughters beneath those azure skies look out upon the waters with hard and stony eyes. The children, they are waiting, their little bosoms sore, while in the dust they're trampling the boys they use no more. There's mourning in the catch their's growing in the hall; the future's bleak and drab in the eyes of one and all. The daughters of affliction are crouched beneath the stars, and in the choicest diction they curse their stranded cars. The tourist shakes his talon at heaven with a snort, for when he's buy a gallon he only gets a quart. In vain the plate is waving his wad of good the sign is hanging from stations everywhere, with travelers haranguing the dealers in despair. CANADA—EAST AND WEST

DOMINION HAPPENINGS OF OTHER DAYS. THE AUGUST. When Montreal was surrendered to the English in 1760 part of the terms of the capitulation was that the French were to be returned to their own land as quickly as possible in English ships. The English were sorry to find ships sufficient for the work and it was not until late in the year that the fleet could set sail for the old land. Then a succession of fearful gales swept the river and the Gulf of St. Lawrence in the "August" was caught in the full force of the hurricane with a large number of soldiers and their wives and other settlers on board. She had been painted by a church writer as a "floating Babylon" and the fate that befell the craft the same author saw the judgment of Heaven.

AT 80 MAKING HIS LAST VOYAGE

Capt. James W. Porter a Native of Maitland, N. S.

(Boston Globe)

Capt. James W. Porter, commander of the four-masted American schooner Esther Melbourne, now at this port, has the distinction of being the oldest skipper engaged in commercial trade. He will be eighty years old on his next birthday, which will be in October. The veteran seafarer carries his age lightly, and is apparently capable of many years more of active service, although he has decided to retire from the sea upon his arrival at New York next month. He lives at 388 Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. His wife died five years ago. He has one grandson, twenty-five years of age, who is with one of the American packing concerns in Argentina.

Captain Porter was seen at the office of his agents, John G. Hall & Co. on State street today, and told briefly his career since he decided to follow the sea. He is a native of Maitland, N. S., and from early boyhood loved the sea. Although he had been around boats most of his life, his first real sea experience was in 1856, when he shipped before the mast on the schooner Breeze, sailing out of home port. Since then he has followed the sea continuously, most of the time in the offshore trade. He moved to the United States in 1876, and for forty years has been a citizen of this country. For upward of forty-two years he has been in command of vessels, and is regarded as a very skillful navigator.

The Esther Melbourne, of which he is now master, was formerly the schooner STAGE CARPENTERS ASKING FOR $81 A WEEK NOW.

A serious situation may arise in Montreal theatres if members of Local Union 56 of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Moving Picture Operators seriously back up their present demands with the co-operation of the Actor's Union for it was announced this week by the managers that the demands of the men were too high and they did not even intend to treat with the employees until the demands were brought down within reason.

The situation will affect the vaudeville and burlesque houses, for the most part. In houses where there are more than two shows, a day, seven days in the week, the men are asking $81 a week for carpenters, assistant carpenters, electricians, property men and flymen $76.

HUNTING SHARKS WITH THE BOW AND ARROW

Ventura, Cal., Aug. 14.—(Associated Press)—Hunting sharks with bow and arrow is the latest sport to be introduced in Ventura county. Dr. E. K. Roberts and Harry Van De Linder reported exciting experiences after a day at Point Magu, passed in hunting sharks in this manner.

In many instances, they said, the sharks started out to sea with the arrows sticking in their bodies and it required some time on the part of the hunters to overtake them. These sharks are not man-eaters, which are not known so far north.

Ward, who started Wall street in the early eighties, became the partner in business of General Grant, formerly resident of the United States, and was later the defendant in a sensational trial for fraud. His failure ruined the Grant family. The Journal gives this sketch of Ward: There came to New York in 1877 a pale, slim young man who introduced himself as Ferdinand Ward. He secured a place at the New York Produce Exchange at $1,000 a year. He seemed to be a bright young man. Within three years he had married the daughter of the cashier of the Marine National Bank and was on terms of intimate friendship with the president of the bank, J. D. Fish. His ability to make and hold friends was remarkable.

faith in Ward was complete. It appeared that everything Ward became interested in succeeded. The first cloud appeared in May, 1884. One Sunday afternoon Ward called on General Grant. He explained that the day before Mr. Tappan, the city chamberlain, had drawn on the clearing house opened on the following morning, because he said: "We have $800,000 there and it would embarrass us very much if the bank should close its doors."

Long after midnight Ward came in, saying he had been out to see some capitalists. He had failed to raise the required money, but seemed to be undisturbed by his failure. He promised to meet Grant early next morning, but during the night he disappeared. He left a note to his wife saying the Marine Bank would fail the next day. It did fail. Grant and Ward failed, too, and the whole Grant family was ruined—completely ruined. Horses, carriages, real estate, and even the general's souvenirs, war trophies, swords, etc., were sold to pay the loan from Mr. Vanderbilt. Mr. Vanderbilt returned these latter to Mrs. Grant, and eventually they were deposited in the National Museum. Every effort was made to involve General Grant in the criminal efforts and every effort failed.

money for investment. He would then set aside part of this fund for dividends, and by paying these large dividends regularly, the investor was induced to leave the money in Ward's hands. These large dividends attracted other funds and the victims streamed into Ward's office, anxious to do the same thing. Fish was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment and Ward to ten years. General Grant was hurried to his grave by the financial distress that the failure of Grant and Ward brought on him, though the immediate cause of death was epithelial cancer.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF JEWISH PLANS

The amalgamation of the two Jewish synagogues in St. John is now in the process of completion, it was announced yesterday, and a provisional committee of twenty members, appointed by the two congregations, are arranging for the transfer of property, the securing of a charter, and the raising of a fund to wipe out the existing debts on the two synagogues. It is expected that at the first meeting of the amalgamated congregation the amount necessary will be raised.

The name of the new congregation will be the Saarei-Zedek (The Gates of Justice) and they will worship in the building recently acquired at the corner of Wellington row and Carleton street. The building is now being prepared for occupancy. The synagogue on the other side of the street will be used for a Hebrew school and Sabbath school classes. It is expected that a new rabbi will arrive ere long to administer to the united congregation.

PLAN BRINGING CRESCENTS HERE

Baseball fans throughout the city will be interested to learn that the manager of St. Peter's baseball team is arranging to bring the Crescents, champions of Halifax City League, here in the near future for two games. He is also corresponding with other teams with a view to having them come here to play St. Peter's. The game is scheduled for the afternoon, and owing to the inclement weather and the condition of the grounds will be a heavy rainfall it had to be called off.

THE LATE ROBERT A. LOGAN

A Fredericton despatch to The Times announced the death of Robert A. Logan at the home of Mrs. Emily Logan, North Devon, after a lingering illness, at the age of seventy-nine years. Mr. Logan was one of the best known men in New Brunswick, being for forty years a prominent bridge builder. For ten years he was inspector of the Canada Eastern Division of the C. N. R. and for nine years he was structural superintendent of bridges under the Conservative government and had 226 bridges in York county to look after, and his work was entirely satisfactory.

When the Salvation Army was established in Fredericton thirty-four years ago he was among the first to join the ranks and he had been a faithful adherent until the time of his death. He was known for his honesty and integrity and respected by all who knew him.

Since the death of his wife some years ago he made his home with his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Emily Logan. He is survived by two sons, S. Herbert, of North Devon, and George, who went west a few days ago on the harvest excursion, a half brother, Joseph Logan, of St. John, and two half sisters, Mrs. Jesse Myers of St. John, and Mrs. John McCormack of West Somerville, Mass. The funeral was conducted by the Salvation Army and interment at Sunny Bank.

SAY COAL EMBARGO WILL BE MODIFIED

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 14.—The embargo on the export of coal recently declared by Hon. F. B. Carvell, fuel commissioner and chairman of the Dominion Railway Commission, is to be modified so as to permit at least some exporting from the province of Nova Scotia, according to statements of miners' union officials and operators last night.

Nominates Mayor of Brantford, Brantford, Ont., Aug. 14.—The independent labor party last night nominated Mayor McBride, M. P., for the federal riding of Brantford. The nomination was accepted by him subject to ratification by a general meeting of the party to be held in September.

WATER IS CUT OFF FROM SOME HOUSES

Water is cut off from some houses in the city because of the health condition in the city. The water department has been notified by the health department that the water supply to some of the houses has been shut off with the result that flushing of closets and sinks is impossible. He said that tenants had complained that any plumbing work should be done by the landlord and that the latter had apparently in cases disregarded the regulation.

T. M. Burns, secretary of the board of health, told a Times reporter this morning that in cases of this kind the landlord would be held responsible for the sanitary condition of the premises. He said that any case against either the tenant or the city, it was not within the province of the board to interfere. Commissioner Jones said that the citizens for the most part were carrying out the instructions of the inspectors but that stringent action had to be taken with some who refused point blank to comply with the law, or disregard it altogether.

The officials of the water department say that in cases where the water has been turned off, the service will not be restored until the regulations have been complied with. On the other hand the secretary of the board of health says that if unsanitary conditions result they will proceed against the owner of the property.

Y. M. C. I. BOWLERS TO MEET TEAM LED BY WALSH

Plans are already being made for the reopening of the Y. M. C. I. bowling club. Murray Jarvis, who was in charge of the alley team which participated in the Brunswick-Bulls-Coleman trophy series on Black's alleys for the championship of the maritime provinces and eastern Maine, is arranging to have the high men of last season's house league meet Archie Walsh's quintette of East Boston pin artists. Walsh, who is one of the best candle pin bowlers in the world, is at present summering at his camp near the Cedars on the St. John river, and he has agreed to get a team together for the occasion. George Magee, who is with Archie, will be a member of the "Hub" team. He was formerly manager of the Y. M. C. I. alleys and very popular in this city. The game will take place early in September. The alleys have been gone over thoroughly and are in first class condition.

Distinctiveness In Home Furnishings

There is a widespread demand today for furniture that creates for the home that atmosphere of refinement—furniture that immediately impresses the visitor with the unusual charm and attractiveness of the home. No one wants a commonplace home. It's a home that bespeaks distinctiveness—that truly reflects one's personality, that everyone desires. And what else can so completely attain that desire, as sensible, distinctive furniture does!

Discrimination in selecting that quality of furniture to suit the demands for not only homes that are the last word in luxury, but for cozy, comfortable little cottages as well, has been an important influence for the repeated patronage that this store enjoys. Customers come in again and again, not always with the intention of buying but to see the beautiful new furnishings in the latest and most distinctive designs. And not to be disregarded, is the intrinsic worth of this better quality furniture—furniture that is built to endure and which you appreciate and enjoy in after years.

King Alfonso of Spain Joins Motley Throng In London Spanish Club

News Matters of a Week in Empire Metropolis—Slump in Theatre Attendance—Some New Plays—Lord Chelmsford's Successor.

From Our Own Correspondent. London, July 22.—The most fortunate club in London at the present moment is the Spanish Club, which has enhanced and completed its reputation for originality by electing a king as an ordinary member. With the enrolling of King Alfonso, I should think that its list of trades and professions must now be complete. Its members include bishops, painters, writers, actors, addressers, cooks, and this variety does not merely decorate the members' list but is every day to be seen among those who use the club. King Alfonso heard of it for the first time from the man who shaved him at the Ritz Hotel the last time he was in London, and he went to see it. At that time it was housed in the upper part of a somewhat slum-like warehouse in a street off Oxford street, but in spite of its dingy exterior, it was made bright and magnificent within by the decorations of one of its artist members, which even on the duller day had the effect of making you feel you were in the sun-baked brilliance of Madrid. Now, alas, having grown prosperous, it has moved to Cavendish Square, where it is strictly surrounded by doctors and dentists. I have not myself been to the new building. It seemed better for those of us who were English members not to intrude when the king was there with his own people, but it will be disastrous if the atmosphere of complete equality and Bohemianism disappears. Now it is difficult to imagine impromptu Spanish dances got up by Spanish working men and women on Saturday evenings, which was a feature of the old club, taking place in its new and much more English surroundings. So far as I know, Spain is the only foreign country that has a club of this kind in London, unless one counts the American club, to which you belong if you are a diplomat or an oil magnate, but which would not, I think, welcome you with open arms if you were a lift man. "Jackey" Fisher. People are still talking about the late Lord Fisher. He was extraordinarily well known to the people of London, not merely by the familiarity of his portrait in the papers, but because he went about a great deal, and was a very striking figure in the streets, generally affecting the kind of square hat to which Winston Churchill gave such an undesirable prominence. For some time he lived in Berkeley Square, and it is only recently that he took the flat in St. James Square where he died. Most of his time after the death of Lady Fisher was spent with the Duke and Duchess of Hamilton, to whom he was one of the trustees, and his famous and explosive "Reminiscences" were mainly dictated at their place at Dalkeith, in Scotland. The Theatre Slump. The theatres still continue to lament the slump, and one play is following after another. I am still more convinced than ever that empty seats are not due to a disinclination to go to the theatre itself, but simply to a disinclination to go if it is going to cost a lot of money without any entertainment in return. The successes still continue to be successes, and plays—to take a list of very widely different types of work—like "The Southern Maid," and the "Grain of Mustard Seed," the "Skin Game," and "Mary Rose," are still packed every night. Of the competitors who are anxious to join the select band of successful survivors, the latest comer is Reginald Berkeley, whose play, "French Leave," is being produced at the Globe Theatre. Other plays are in the offing. Denis Esdail has succeeded in inducing Granville Barker to come back as a producer, and is trying his luck with a translation from the Spanish, "Gerald du Maurier," has begun the rehearsals of a play by Mr. Besier, whose work has not been seen on the London stage for some time, and who has already to his credit a classical play in which Mrs. Brown-Foster made some success, and the famous play about Mrs. Patrick Campbell, "The Lady Patricia," in which the author, who wrote it in a moment of irritation, and which has a skit on the actress herself, had the tables neatly turned upon him by Mrs. Pat playing it and making it one of the successes of the season; the only time, I suppose, in which an actress has deliberately parodied herself on the stage. The title of the new play is not yet fixed, but its production will be early in September. In September also we are to see a new play by Sir James Barry, with Miss Gladys Cooper; a new Irish play, produced by Mr. Pagan, with Miss Sara Allgood and Miss Marie O'Neill; a new production by the same manager of "The Merry Wives of Windsor" with Arthur Whitby as Falstaff; and Temple Thurston's spectacular play "The Wandering Jew" which is to be produced for the first time in Manchester in the middle of next month. Chelsea Revelry. The fashionable season is dying its usual lingering death, and dances and dinners are becoming daily fewer. As a contrast, Chelsea, deserted by so many artists during the war, is gradually recovering and during the last week some studio "rags," reminiscent of the carefree and haphazard entertainments so very popular before the war, have been given by artists to just a few intimate friends. Lord Chelmsford's Successor. I hear that Mr. Montagu is said to be making strenuous efforts to create an atmosphere favorable to the appointment of himself as viceroy when Lord Chelmsford retires. It seems hardly likely, after recent events, that Mr. Montagu will be chosen. Another alleged candidate is the Lord Chancellor. It has been all along understood that Lord Haig would have the refusal of the office if he wanted it. I don't doubt very much whether he does want it. One of the difficulties of India at the present moment is that keen candidates for high posts are not suitable, and suitable candidates are not keen. It seems certain, anyhow, that Lord Rawlinson will be the commander-in-chief in succession to Sir Charles Munroe. At the Zoo. Except in the matter of monkeys, which were largely increased in numbers owing to their use for experimental purposes in the making of poison gas, the Zoo was sadly depleted during the war. But the ravages wrought by Armageddon at Regent's Park have already been marvellously made good. Only in the bears is there still a notable shortage. The lion house has been well recruited, thanks to the generosity of Indian princes, and the new specimens are very fine animals. There is a young lion which still has to wear handcuffs to keep his desperate energies under some control, and a tiger which sits up, as thin as a razor, looking with primal appetite at all the plumpest babies, until their mothers grow nervous and hurriedly leave for some non-carnivorous region of the Zoo where the animals are strictly vegetarian. He has only just arrived. He is a beautifully striped full-grown pup. The gardens are more ornate with flowers and palms than ever, and the crowds are more proletarian. Taxi Awnings. Quite a continental note has been introduced in the West End streets during the last few days by the appearance of taxi-cabs with gay belted awnings. The cabs are, of course, open ones, with collapsible roofs let down at the back. The awnings extend from the permanent front part of the vehicles to uprights at the back, making admirable sun-shelters for the passengers inside, and at the same time giving them the advantage of any breeze that is going in London these July days. The general appearance of these awning-canopied taxis in the streets is decidedly festive and bright. The old hansom used to be called the London gondola. But I must say that the modern taxi, with its well-appointed interior, its swift gliding movement, the bunch of real fragrant flowers in the flower vase, the debonair little flag or mascot in front on the bonnet, and the striped awning overhead, tassels dangling in the air, much more answers the description. Tragedy of the River. Some of the up-river boatmen are now actually charging so much as ten shillings an hour for ordinary stiffs on a week day. As to the truth of this I can personally vouch, notwithstanding the recent protest by boat proprietors against the charges of profligating which were said very naively to be "ruining the Thames." And in the cab I am acquainted with where this exorbitant sum was demanded it was not merely a "dry-one," but a serious tariff grievance insisted on. It is no wonder that a few old boatmen up the river, who behave with some honesty in their exactions from the public, complain bitterly that their business is going to the dogs. So deserted is the once crowded river at its favorite spots that the boatmen are almost driven now to ask ridiculous sums, although they may have almost all their boats lying idle. Trade has been so far alienated, since the former river folk find themselves systematically cheated in this way that when a patron does appear he is fleeced per force. The only remedy seems to be the institution of a proper tariff by the river authorities, as is done elsewhere sometimes, any infringement of which risks the waterman's license. This would be in the interests of the public no more than of the boatmen themselves.

A LAMBS' CLUB STATEMENT PUTS BLAME ON M'GRAW

Declares He Grievously Injured Member, Was Very Violent and Provoked Row.

A New York despatch says that William H. Boyd, a leading man in Broadway productions, was the actor who vanquished John J. McGraw, manager and part owner of the Giants, in a bout at Hittouff's in The Lamb's early on last Sunday morning, so it was learned on reliable authority.

Mystery, however, continued to surround the manner in which John C. Slavin, noted as a funmaker in Broadway musical comedies, had received the injuries that an hour or so later—about 7:45 a.m.—caused his removal unconscious from the sidewalk in front of the apartment house in which McGraw lives, to St. Luke's Hospital.

Detectives said that William Meagan, taxi driver who took McGraw, Slavin and Winfield Liggett from The Lamb's to McGraw's home, had told them that the discussion before the Giants' manager went up to his apartment was not as friendly as originally had been represented. They said, in fact, that the weight of evidence was that sharp words had been exchanged.

It was made clear by all investigating authorities that no evidence had been found upon which anyone might be accused of having struck Slavin. There seems little doubt that he had left The Lamb's in good health and spirits and in full possession of his faculties.

The fact that he was found soon afterward unconscious on the sidewalk in front of the McGraw apartment, suffering from concussion of the brain, a straight abrasion across his forehead, and what doctors at the hospital said was a simple fracture at the base of the skull, increased the puzzlement of those interested in solving the tangle.

The house committee of The Lamb's issued a statement that ran: "At the time of this altercation on Sunday morning no one was in the grill room with the exception of one-half dozen persons at the most and there was no celebration—just friendly talk."

"Mr. McGraw came into the club and mistook a certain member for a man with whom he had a difference; he grievously insulted this member, was very violent and abusive and provoked a quarrel in which the club member was on the defensive."

"After the difference had been settled, Mr. Slavin endeavored to persuade his friend, Mr. McGraw, to leave the club, and he—with Commander Liggett—put Mr. McGraw into a taxi and took him away from the club. Mr. Slavin had at no time any part in the altercation except as a peacemaker and left the club in a perfectly normal condition."

It was said by members that McGraw had been suspended from the club for three months as a result of a fight he had had with Walter Knight, an actor, and that last Sunday morning was the first time that he had been in The Lamb's since that occasion.

Added information from the police included an amended statement from Meagan, the taxi driver, and a statement hitherto not made public, by an elevator boy in the McGraw apartment house.

He told the police that he had heard "loud noises" outside of the entrance, as if some men were having a wordy fight. Detective Love, according to this new story, was being told by Mrs. McGraw that her husband was in bed and could not be disturbed when McGraw appeared.

When the detective told him that Slavin had been taken unconscious to the hospital, where it was feared he had a fractured skull, McGraw answered, according to this account: "That's too bad; he's my pal. Where did he get it?"

McGraw at the same time exhibited a discolored eye and a forehead that was badly bruised and swollen. McGraw was quoted as saying: "That's where I got hooked and kicked in the eye."

ON MUSEUMS

(H. Belloc in Illustrated London News.)

A wise woman told me in my youth a fable which I have always remembered; one of those fables which animals talk. It seems that a mule carrying an Italian statue on its back and scrambling with difficulty down the Italian side of a Lombard pass astonished his muleteer by saying when he got to the bottom (it was in 1815, in the settlement that followed):

"My dear sir, it may astonish you to hear that by a curious coincidence I am the same mule who carried this same statue over the pass the other way, for Napoleon, only ten years ago; and it does seem to me very hard upon us mules that we should have to spend our time carrying heavy marble statues first over the Alps and then back again. Why not leave them where they are? The mule having thus spoken shut his muleish mouth, and forever after held his peace."

The mule was right. It would be far better for the world if things were left in the places for which they were meant. I never see a beautiful thing in a museum without a feeling of irritation, for it is put into the very place and least fulfils its function, and nine times out of ten it is not in the climate or society for which it was intended.

How R.R. Rate Increase Will Touch Family Purse

No one can hope to avoid paying his share of the railroad worker's wages and the cost of new railway extensions and improvements, by merely refusing to travel. "Every pound of food eaten, every ton of fuel burned, every garment worn and every stick of timber entering into the construction of homes will contribute its share" to the gigantic total, reasons the Washington Post, which estimates that it means a per capita tax of $12.00 on every man, woman and child in the United States for higher freight rates alone, and perhaps $15.00, when all the increases are taken into consideration. In view of such estimates THE LITERARY DIGEST believes it worth while to gather for its readers the views of leading authorities in various important industries on the precise effect of the new rates in their respective fields. In some cases the statements were found in newspaper interviews, in others they come in response to direct telegram and telephone queries. At any rate, this summary of opinion has been incorporated in an interesting and instructive article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for August 14th, 1920. You will wish to read it.

FAVOR REFERENCE ON HARBOR ISSUE. When the matter of harbor commission was brought up by the present council, Mayor Schofield said it would be made the first business of the council until it was disposed of one way or another. On Tuesday last a further hearing into the matter was delayed until next Monday, when the mayor said he was waiting for a communication on the matter. Last night the mayor said he did not see any particular reason for discussing the matter on Monday. Both Mayor Schofield and Commissioner Thornton have said that a plebiscite should be called, irrespective of the view of the council regarding harbor commission. An investigation of conditions at Montreal was made recently by Mayor Schofield and a report upon his trip will probably be presented to the council some time this week.

NEW YORK GUARDS AGAINST PLAGUE

Health Department Throws Barrier Along Waterfront to Stop Rats — Piers Cleaned and Shields Used.

Along New York's great and extensive waterfront may be found many vessels moored to piers with hawes that support about midway to the dock-head large metal disks. They are rat guards—one of the barriers the health authorities have flung against the plague which holds part of Europe in its grip and which has already extended its grim clutch to the Gulf Coast of the United States.

The plague, it is explained, is transmitted by a flea, which in turn lives as a parasite on rats. When the infected rat dies the flea moves to the body of the first warm-blooded animal that comes near, and so spreads the epidemic. To fight the plague means to make war on the rats that are the carriers.

Dr. Copeland's fight against the plague and the rats begins before the ship that has arrived from any infected port is permitted to dock. In almost all cases, except when the vessel carries food that would be injured by the process, the ship is thoroughly fumigated with cyanide gas.

Skin Troubles Soothed With Cuticura

All dead rats are examined at the quarantine station laboratory on Staten Island for signs of plague infection. It, owing to the nature of the cargo, a ship cannot be fumigated. Regulation 2 of the sanitary code is applied. The ship is not permitted to be brought nearer than eight feet of the pier or bulkhead and floating spars at least eight feet long must be used to maintain the proper distance.

The Protecting Shield. The rat shield is a metal disk at least three and one-half feet in diameter, placed on every rope and chain leading from shore to ship, which prevent the passage of rats in either direction.

Many of the piers and storehouses on New York's waterfront, it is pointed out, are mostly wooden and antiquated, offering a favorable shelter to rats, as well as unlimited opportunity to exist on stored food. The food destroyed by rats in one year in the port of New York according to official reports and the remedy is to deny the rats access to foodstuffs.

BABY COVERED WITH ECZEMA When 4 Days Old. Cross and Cried. Cuticura Heals.

"My baby brother had eczema which began when he was about four days old. It came in little pimples and then a rash, and he was covered. He was so cross that he could not sleep, and he cried.

"This lasted about two months before we used Cuticura. It helped him, so we bought more, and he was all healed after we had used two cakes of Soap and two boxes of Ointment." (Signed) Miss Almada Williams, Youngs Cove, N. B., May 22, 1918.

Use Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum for all toilet purposes.

or, in the future, use steel and concrete structures. Owners of docks and storehouses have been called into conference with the board of health and have expressed a willingness to cooperate with the board in every possible way, by notifying negligent owners to store food out of the reach, close all means of entrance by metal of wire mesh, to keep the properties clean and by siting in trapping, poisoning and fumigating.

Appeal to the Public. In addition the board of health is issuing a handbill appealing to the public to aid in the fight against bubonic plague.

"Keep all foods, grains, etc. in tightly closed metal receptacles," it continues "or line the receptacle with heavy half-inch wire mesh."

"Keep all garbage in tightly covered metal cans. Starve the rat and he will leave your premises."

"Keep the rat away from your house by concreting the cellar floor and walls and lining or screening doors and other openings into cellar or lower story with half-inch wire mesh."

Directions for trapping and poisoning the rat are given, with advice to pour kerosene on the rat to kill the plague-bearing fleas and to remove from the premises anything that may harbor rats. Fumigators using cyanide gas to exterminate rats or other vermin are permitted to operate only when licensed and supervised by the department of health because of the extremely dangerous nature of the gas.

Improvement Being Shown. The real work of exterminating the rat and the fight for better sanitation for the port and city have just begun, but conditions, according to Dr. Copeland, are bettering rapidly already.

WARNING AGAINST WASTING GASOLINE

No Need for Rationing in East Yet, Says Petroleum Institute Secretary.

(N. Y. Times)

There is no urgent need of rationing gasoline in the territory east of the Rocky Mountains, according to a letter written yesterday by R. L. Welch, secretary of the American Petroleum Institute, in reply to the inquiry of an official of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Welch said that "reckless and wasteful use" however, should be condemned, and would bring serious consequences in some sections of the country.

Advances of prices had stimulated production, Mr. Welch wrote, so that June production actually exceeded consumption. He pointed out that this excess of production was only temporary, saying: "This has not happened since Aug. 1, 1919, save in one other month, September, 1919, when production was slightly greater than consumption. I fear that production will not continue to exceed consumption during the balance of the year, because the peak of the oil industry is rapidly approaching. The change, even if temporary, is not without significance. It proves that advancing market prices for crude oil stimulate production."

"Since May there has been an increased production of petroleum, and the latest official figures issued by the United States Geological Survey, covering the month of June, show a total domestic production of 37,219,000 barrels of petroleum, or at the annual rate of 434,000,000. Last year we produced only 37,719,000 barrels of oil. This increase shows how intimate is the relationship between increased prices for crude and increased production."

"Furthermore, the importations from Mexico have increased. Last year Mexico shipped us 52,746,597 barrels of oil. Since the first of January Mexico has sent us 59,005,208 barrels and our imports from Mexico for the last month, for which statistics are available (June), were 8,118,991 barrels, or at the rate of nearly 100,000,000 barrels per annum, which is at an annual rate nearly double that of 1919.

"Efficiency in the refining of oil is becoming greater every day, and more and more refiners are putting in better processes. Furthermore, the automotive engineers of the country are responding heartily to the conditions, and I am confident that the next year or two will see a public demand for a lighter and lower-powered car than any now produced—a car which will conserve gasoline, tires

FEAR LITTLE GIRL HAS BEEN SLAIN

St. Catharines, Ont., Aug. 14.—It is believed that six-year-old Catherine Beechman of Thorold, who disappeared on the afternoon of May 24, met the same fate as little Margaret Boucock, who was murdered and her body hidden.

This theory is strengthened by the fact that a handkerchief belonging to the child has been found near where Margaret Boucock's body was discovered in a lonely, wild locality adjacent to the Welland Ship Canal. It is learned that the Beechman family has identified the handkerchief.
