CONFESSION WILL CLEAR UP MYSTERY

Says He Killed The Schumacher Girl In 1909

ARRESTED FOR LARCENY

Could Keep His Dreadful Secret No Longer—Murdered as She Laid Flowers on Her Father's Grave

(Canadian Press) Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—The identity of the perpetrator of the brutal murder of Anna Catherine Schumacher in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery in Rochester, N. Y., on August 7th, 1909, was established here early today, it is believed, when Jacob Wolfson, arrested for larceny, confessed to having committed the deed.

After his arrest on the charge of larceny and forcible entry, guards noticed that he seemed to have something on his mind, but refused to talk. Finally the warden asked for pencil and paper, and wrote a note addressed to the district attorney containing the simple statement that he had killed a girl in a cemetery at Rochester and that her name was Schumacher.

His alleged confession, as repeated by detectives, was substantially as follows: Wolfson worked in a suburb of Rochester and had to pass the cemetery on his way home each day. Several times he saw the girl at a grave laying flowers upon it.

"I flirted with her and she smiled 'ck' at me," Wolfson confessed. "The first day I saw her leaning over her father's grave, and went up and spoke to her. I walked up to her and held her hand, and she looked at me and smiled. I then tried to run away. I grabbed her by the arm and began choking her. She screamed, but no one heard, and then I grabbed her around the waist and strangled her. She then died."

Continuing his story, Wolfson said then attacked her and after that dragged the body to the woods of the cemetery. I dug a hole large enough to see the body in it, and covered it with dirt and leaves.

"No one knows how I suffered for days. I could keep it secret no longer."

MIMIC WARFARE ABOVE THE CLOUDS

Part of Swiss Army Has Been Manoeuvring Among the Highest Peaks of the Alps

Geneva, Switzerland, Sept. 22.—An interesting programme of mimic warfare above the clouds was brought to an end today by 600 mountaineers forming part of the Swiss army, who have been manoeuvring for some days among the highest peaks of the Alps.

The final movement in the plan of campaign was an attack on an imaginary enemy in occupation of the Eiger, a mountain 9,625 feet high. The battalion of 600 hardy Alpinists descended this morning from the Jungfrau Joch, 11,440 feet high, where they bivouacked in the snow throughout a night. They executed a forced march across the great and perilous chert glacier during a driving snow storm without the loss of a single man in fatigue, and concluded the splendid day by storming the Eggishorn heights.

SECOND DAUGHTER QUEEN OF SPAIN DEAF AND DUMB

Like Second Son—Royal Mother Broken-Hearted—Praying For Intercession on Their Behalf

(Canadian Press)

Manchester, Eng., Sept. 22.—Relative of the Queen of Spain has been shocked by the news that the second daughter of the queen will be "like her second son, both deaf and dumb," says the Manchester Guardian. It is feared that the little Spanish princess is totally deaf and unless this can be corrected she will probably never be able to speak. The pessimistic reports of the royal physicians and specialists have nearly broken the heart of the queen. She goes constantly with her children to the convents of the religious orders in and near Madrid to ask for prayers of intercession on their behalf, particularly of late for her young daughter.

Conservation of World's Food Supply

Over Two Thousand Delegates at Big Convention in Chicago—500 Foreign Representatives

Chicago, Sept. 22.—More than two thousand delegates are in Chicago ready to attend the opening tonight of the International Congress and exposition of refrigeration at the Union Stock Yards pavilion. Among them were about 600 representatives of foreign governments, who came direct from Washington, where they were received by President Wilson.

Important questions regarding the conservation of the world's food supply will be considered by the congress, but the initial programme will be taken up with the inauguration of the exposition. The largest refrigerator in the world has been constructed at the amphitheatre by the government. It contains more than two dozen rooms, and is in charge of experts from the department of agriculture, who will demonstrate the correct method of refrigerating foods. Women will be given daily lessons in household economy.

LESS BIG GAME THIS YEAR ON NORTH SHORE

Moncton, N. B., Sept. 22.—(Special)—According to reports from North Shore camps, big game hunting is poorer this season than last. Whether the heavy shooting of last year had anything to do with it or not is a much discussed question. One feature of the present season is the apparent plentifulness of partridge. Rabbits, which were nearly wiped out four or five years ago, by some disease which appeared to have swept over the province, are again plentiful.

2,500 BULGARIANS STARVING TO DEATH ON AEGEAN ISLAND

Assertion Made That Bulgarian Merchant Was Stoned and Placed in Cholera Detention Camp

(Canadian Press)

Sofia, Sept. 22.—The Greek contention that Spirfo Suradoff one of the wealthiest of Bulgarian merchants in Saloniki, died of cholera, is officially denied here, the claim being made that he was placed in the cholera detention camp after having been stoned. Bulgarians assert that this procedure is common with the Greek authorities, whose object is the extermination of all Bulgarians, especially those of wealth and education. Officials in Sofia make the further charge that 2,500 Bulgarians are dying of starvation on a desert land in the Aegean Sea.

THREE KILLED WHEN ELECTRIC TRAINS CRASH HEAD-ON

New York, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Three persons were killed and more than twenty injured early today in a head-on crash of two Long Island railroad electric trains at College Point, Long Island.

Of the injured, one, it is thought, would die. The dead are—Condor George Borek, Motorman Fred Loder and Motorman Charles Hoblen.

Most of the injured were mill-hands on their way to work. The crash occurred on a curve not far from the station. The trains, running nearly forty miles an hour, rounded the curve from opposite directions almost simultaneously and the crash was inevitable. The steel cars buckled, but didn't telescope. This fact doubtless saved many lives.

The Pennsylvania railroad issued a statement saying that the accident had been caused so far as could be determined by the operator at White Stone Junction allowing the train bound for New York to leave the double track before the other train had cleared. The road's statement places the total number of injured at forty-three, of whose hurts were serious, perhaps fatal.

DEATH OF IRISH BARON

Dublin, Sept. 22.—Baron De Freyne died today at his country residence, French Park, County Roscommon, at the age of fifty-eight years, after a long illness. He was a long time honorary colonel of the 5th Battalion Connaught Rangers.

The successor to the peerage is the Honorable Arthur Reginald French, his only son by his first marriage. He was born in 1870, and became an officer in the Royal Fusiliers. He afterwards resigned his commission in the British Army. He comes into possession of 80,000 acres in the County Roscommon.

Axe and Pistol Duel

Aberdeen, Miss., Sept. 22.—In a fight in which one used an axe and the other a revolver, Dr. H. F. Broyles, Mississippi state senator, and E. F. Hendricks, of Selmer, Tenn., a timber man, killed each other near Greenwood Springs. According to reports to officials, Broyles started to repair a dam when Hendricks intercepted. As Hendricks fired at Broyles with a revolver, Broyles struck him on the head with an axe. Both fell dead. Broyles was a bullet through the heart and Hendricks with his head split open. The men are said to have been unfriendly since a timber deal about a year ago.

BALKAN WAR MAY BREAK OUT AFRESH

Albanians All Ready To Invade Servia

(Canadian Press)

Belgrade, Sept. 22.—The situation is grave along the Albanian frontier, where Albanians, armed with modern rifles, are assembling for the purpose of attacking Servia. Albanian agents have entered Servian territory and are endeavoring to stir to rebellion those Albanians who heretofore have been at peace.

It is believed here that the hostile preparations are due to foreign intrigues against Servia and Montenegro. As a consequence Servia feels bound to repulse the attacks of the powers compelling which the action of the powers compelling her to abandon, as it is necessary to repulse the attacks on Servian territory, to attack Greece.

Cologne, Germany, Sept. 22.—The correspondent of the Cologne Gazette at Constantinople telegraphs today says that he has gained the impression during conversations with several foreign ambassadors to Turkey that they believe it quite possible for the Turkish and Bulgarian armies to come to an agreement to operate jointly against Greece, if that nation refuses the conditions of peace proposed by Turkey.

The responsible Turkish government newspaper Terjiman-I-Halkak advances the same idea.

General Michael Savafor, a commander-in-chief of the Bulgarian army, who is in Constantinople, declined to discuss the matter for the present.

Greece and Albania

Vienna, Austria, Sept. 22.—The Greek authorities at Koritsa in Albania, today seized the American mission schools there where instruction is given to nearly 100 Albanian girls, according to a telegram received here from Avlona, the principal seaport of Albania on the Adriatic Sea. They have also arrested and persecuted a large number of Albanians who recently returned to Koritsa from foreign countries, releasing 2000 from detention only when the Albanians had promised to join in the agitation for the incorporation of the district in Greece.

The British consul at Monastir has entered a vigorous protest with the Greek government on behalf of the Americans. The whole affair forms part of the Greek terrorism of the Albanian population with the object of compelling them to agree to the inclusion of the whole of southern Albania in the Kingdom of Greece.

Last week Greek officials at Koritsa endeavored to take forcible possession of the American mission school building, but the housekeeper in charge refused to hand over the keys upon which the Greek soldiers beat her mercilessly and then carried her off to prison.

NOTED FRENCH AVIATOR AND HIS WIFE FELL 100 FEET FROM AEROPLANE AND LIVED

Etampes, France, Sept. 22.—The noted French aviator, Henry Farman, had a narrow escape from death yesterday. His wife was with him in his aeroplane, which, when at a height of 100 feet was seen suddenly to dart towards the earth. The machine struck with great force. Farman, although not rendered unconscious, suffered a serious injury of the leg. His wife's arm was fractured at the elbow.

Lost His Own Life

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 22.—In an effort to save a drunken man from seemingly danger, Daniel Shea was killed by falling between a westbound college car and its trailer near the Dundas Street Bridge. Shea started to get off the car when it was in motion to keep a drunken man from being struck.

A Lie Can't Live in the Light

The great modern light that never dims is newspaper publicity.

Advertisers are rigidly careful as to the statements they make through the columns of good newspapers like The Telegraph and Times, because they know any other course would be fatal.

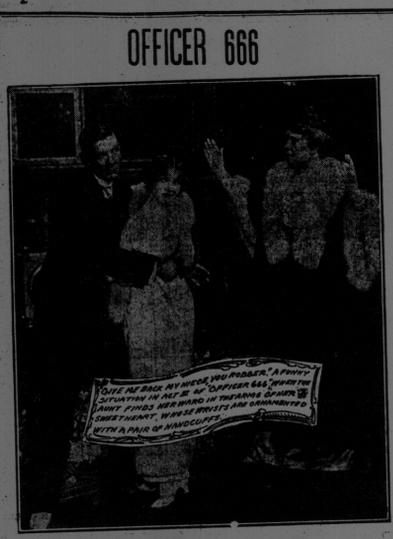

They advertise to build reputation for service—and the first requisite of service is truth telling in word and deed.

Modern business is done in the open.

Every safeguard is given to the buyer. He is not looked on as a transient of today, but as a friend to be made for tomorrow.

Newspapers watch their advertising as carefully as they do their editorials.

You get a certain degree of insurance when you patronize a merchant who frankly comes into the light and gives you his reasons for wanting your patronage.

OFFICER 666

When Officer 666 climbs up on the balcony of Travers Gladwin's handsome Fifth Avenue residence to ascertain the reason for a light that shines suddenly from its second story window, he has no inkling of the exciting chase he is about to have in his efforts to grasp the handcuffs on the wrists of an internationally famous dress suit burglar, whose particular hobby is priceless paintings. Otherwise, this famous sleuth would have phoned headquarters, for the shiny wagon with the noisy gong attachment. How much trouble Officer 666 gets himself into by not having this thought before he confronts the aforesaid crackman in the very act of cutting Gladwin's celebrated collection of old masters from their frames, and how the thief, though apparently trapped, with every avenue of escape cut off and a battalion of policemen searching every nook and cranny of the surrounding house, escapes, is told in the three thrilling acts in which Augustin MacHugh has written this farce, Officer 666, which is announced for presentation at the Opera House next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Officer 666 is a fascinating farce. It is a play that radiates all the mystery of Sherlock Holmes, and the fun of Charles' Aunt, yet which may be enjoyed without creating that uncomfortable feeling of obsession that compels an apologetic glance at one's seat mate. On the contrary, Officer 666 is redolent with the atmosphere of clean thoughts written through a highly interesting plot, the tense moments of which excite the imagination, at the same time compelling laughter that is all the more honest because called forth without the slightest suggestion of coarseness or ambiguity.

Hampton, N. B., Sept. 21—The first ordination to the Anglican priesthood ever held in the Episcopal parish of Hampton was held this morning in the chapel of the Methodist, Hampton Station. The candidate was the Rev. A. Fenwick, of Upland, and the celebrant was Rev. J. A. Richardson, Bishop of Fredericton, who was assisted by Rev. A. J. Crowfoot, rector at Hampton; Rev. Mr. Leroy, rector of St. Martin's; Rev. Dr. J. B. Campbell and Rev. Milledge Walker.
Life Beyond Death was the subject of a thoughtful lecture delivered yesterday afternoon in the Congregational church by Rev. J. A. Morrison, Pr. D. D., of the Carleton Presbyterian church. The large congregation followed with close attention the words of the lecturer, as he massed the evidence in support of the life beyond.

Rev. F. J. Lynch, of the Wycliffe College, Toronto, occupied the pulpit in St. John's church yesterday morning and preached at the evening service in St. John's (Stone) church in the evening. He spoke to large congregations and was heard with great pleasure.
Yesterday marked the fourth anniversary of Rev. F. S. Porter's connection with the German street Baptist church as pastor and he preached an appropriate sermon at the morning service, taking as his text verse twelve of the 17th chapter of Jeremiah: "Glorious high throne from the beginning is the place of our sanctuary."
Max Wertsch is a clothing merchant. His pretty daughter Frances was married to Louis Testa, general manager of the Naples Film Company, a week ago. But Wertsch could not forgive them for Louis is a Catholic and his daughter a Jewess. So he went to the film gallery, got Frances out on the pretense that her grandmother wanted to see her and carried her to his home. Testa got out a warrant charging his father-in-law with kidnapping. The case came up for hearing today. The husband proved she was nineteen. The husband then had to tell all about himself and handed up to the judge documentary evidence that he is an Italian count.
The magistrate dismissed the case against Wertsch and the bride was turned over to her husband.

ENGLISH WOMAN'S UNORTHODOX VIEWS STARTLE SOCIETY
Somewhat startling is the view of the woman question taken by Miss Grace Ellison, the English writer, who has returned to London after an extended stay in and around Constantinople. It is far better to have four women supported and protected than to have one well cared for and three sent out to struggle and starve under present conditions.
"I believe in one of two courses: Either put us in harness or give us freedom and equality with men. England condemns polygamy without stopping to consider its advantages to womanhood, while on the other hand she turns women adrift in the world and closes to them all the professions and trades she can."
"In other words, the Englishman won't support more than one female, and he won't help others to support themselves. Only today I met a woman of 36, unfitted to work, and without a single soul who wanted to support or even materially aid her. Such a thing could not happen in Turkey, which we think to be a backward and unprogressive country, if necessary, as well as his wives."
"I visited a number of harems in Turkey, and I see no reason to pity the women alone. They are intelligent and well educated, and very fond of each other. No woman in Turkey is driven to the streets for want of womanhood. If she leads an irregular life she does it of her own free will. Society does not have her on its conscience."
"The Turk is kind and chivalrous to women. Moreover, he is consistent. He looks upon them as the weaker sex, and makes himself responsible for their welfare. He treats them as children, but he takes all responsibility from them, and cares for them to the best of his ability."
"The Englishman also maintains that woman is inferior, but he does not offer general protection to her weakness."
"The youngest hunter in Blackledge, and possibly in the state, is Richard J. Gardner who secured his license lately. He is thirteen years old and has hunted every year for four years."

"WHITE SLAVERS" STILL ACTIVE
Experience of Three Ontario Girls
GENEROUS STRANGER
Friendly Conduct of Veiled Woman in Black Subject of Investigation by Dominion Authorities
That the abortive attempt made on Tuesday to kidnap Mary Brodick, the young housemaid, is not the only one which has featured the activity of supposed white slavers in Montreal and vicinity recently, was shown in a statement made by F. B. Lambkin, special officer of the Immigration Department, detailed by the government to investigate the white slave activities in Quebec.
Mr. Lambkin says that three young girls, none of whom is twenty years old, and whose parents live in an eastern Ontario town, were accosted by a probable agent of the white slavers while returning on a train from a pilgrimage to Ste Anne de Beaupre. They were offered the customary automobile drive in Montreal, by the usual suave "Madam," but they were warned by another woman, fortunately, within hearing, and given advice which enabled them to escape the snare.
The story the girls told the authorities who investigated the case was very straightforward and made a distinct impression. They had been visiting Ste. Anne de Beaupre, and were returning on a train which would give them a four hour's wait in Montreal.
While on the train they were approached by a veiled woman in black, who asked them if they were strangers in Montreal. They replied they were, and soon entered into further conversation. In a short time the mysterious woman offered to help the girls spend their time in Montreal as pleasantly as possible, and suggested that her new-found friends take a trip around the city in her motor and visit a few places of interest. The girls at first expressed themselves much pleased with the generous offer, and their "friend" left them for a few minutes. Meanwhile the conversation had been overheard by a Montreal matron, of undoubted respectability, and she went over and spoke to the girls. She explained that they should not go out on such short notice with mere acquaintances, and pointed out the lurking dangers which almost certainly lay behind "Madam's" specious offer. She extracted a promise from the girls that they would steer clear of the woman in black when they reached Montreal, and she herself decided to notify the police.
The "woman in black" returned to discuss further details of motoring, but was surprised to be met, friendly, by the girls stating they could not make friends on such short notice.
This appears to have alarmed the woman, for from that time she was not seen again, and when the train pulled into Montreal a careful search failed to locate her. The girls and the woman whose warning saved the "little sisters," told their stories to the proper authorities.

The Mill Situation

J. A. Lively, who was delegated by the board of trade to endeavor to bring about a settlement of the mill strike, on Saturday presented a copy of the resolution adopted by the men, offering to go back to work for an increase of 15 cents and unconditional recognition of the I. O. O. F. as the mill owners. When asked after the meeting if any decision had been arrived at, Mr. Lively replied that the mill owners declined to alter their stand in the matter and refused to recognize the International Longshoremen's Association. They declared, he said, that they were gradually filling the vacuums in their crews, and it would be only a short time before the mills would be operating full blast.

What It Means

According to Worcester's dictionary, satisfaction means "the state of being pleased, contentment, comfort." We know of no way to reach this enviable state quicker or more completely than by sitting in front of an open fire of our Broad Cove Coal, or good dry hard wood, granting, of course, that you have laid in a supply of equally good hard coal for the long winter ahead.

The Consumers Company can supply you every need in this respect, and it is their aim to make each load of coal a load of satisfaction as well. Consumers' Coal Co., Ltd. 881 Charlotte street, (opposite Broad street), Phone M. 2670. 9-20-22-24-26.

about 6 o'clock on the roof of his father's house, a three story brick building at 83 Carmarthen street. His frisky little playmate went perilously near the edge of the roof, and the boy in an effort to rescue it, fell headlong to the ground, carrying with him the arm chair in which he was sitting. His little sister, Pearl, was a witness of the accident and nearly fainted as she saw her brother vanish over the edge. Joseph Carleton and Fred Worden, who live in the same house, rushed into the yard and found the boy on the cellar stairs where he had landed. He was conscious. After he was carried into the house, Dr. T. D. Walker was summoned and it was found that his left arm was badly fractured, and serious internal injuries were feared. "Go and see if there are any crows on that field of corn," said the farmer to his new hand. The boy went and came back with the news that he had counted 54. "Did you drive them away?" asked the farmer. "No sir," replied the boy, "I thought they were all yours."

The Gurney-Oxford Attracts Madam To The Kitchen

THE GURNEY-OXFORD has a large following of fashionable cooks who dip into the culinary art simply for the pleasure they derive from trying dainty recipes previously not attempted. They are all most enthusiastic supporters of the Gurney-Oxford because it contains many exclusive devices that make a perfect cooking equipment.

Its oven is evenly heated in every corner to insure deliciously dainty cakes, golden brown biscuits, and light flaky pastry. A special Divided Flue carries the heat to every hole on the range. The top is perfectly smooth and clean, requiring no black lead polish.

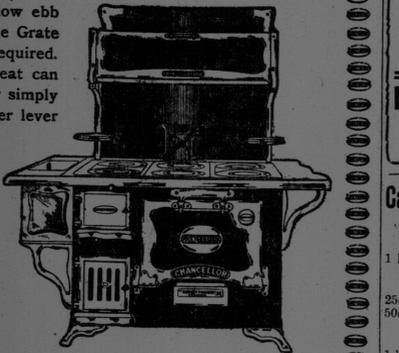

But most important is the Economizer. It is a small lever that moves around a series of six notches giving the exact degree of heat required for any particular dish. The heat of the range can be shut off and the kitchen kept cool between meals by turning the lever to a certain number.

The fire is held at a low ebb on a special Reversible Grate until a baking oven is required. Then the necessary heat can be obtained quickly by simply turning the Economizer lever to another notch.

Such control as this enables many smart women to invent some very tempting dishes which they set triumphantly before their friends. It will pay you to investigate the Gurney-Oxford.

BENEFIT FOR CANADA

While the campaign in favor of reciprocity was in progress over two years ago, the Conservative press declared that Canadian farmers did not supply the local market with many lines of produce, and therefore would have nothing to export, and would not reap any benefit from free access to the United States market.

THE COMPLIMENT

Of all the visitors who come touring through our land, there is one to whom we offer the warmest, gladdest hand; he is the gentleman from England who, with kind, ingenious smile, congratulates Canadians on being truly loyal.

LIGHTER VEIN

"I'm such a poor conversationalist," said "What would you advise me to do?" "Cultivate the habit, madam, cultivate the habit!" he replied quickly.

TO KEEP US TRULY LOYAL

St. Thomas Journal—Canadian produce will flow steadily to America under the new tariff or rather absence of tariff, and there will be nothing to take its place. No return flow, except that which is heavily taxed. Is this a condition tending to cause the people of Canada to congratulate each other? If the American government has ceased to rob the people, why should not the Canadian government do as much for the consumers in this country?

BIRTHDAYS OF NOTABILITIES

MONDAY, SEPT. 22.

Hugh Andrew Allan, eldest son of the late Andrew Allan, one of the founders of the Allan line, was born in Montreal fifty-six years ago today. He is now president of the Allan Steamship Company and is interested in various clubs and business enterprises in Montreal.

John Obed Smith, who has long been associated with the immigration department in London, Eng., was born in Birmingham on Sept. 22, 1864. He was for some time in the service of the Manitoba government, but took up immigration work twelve years ago.

There is something in his manner so innocent and frank (though he may be very probably a man of lofty rank); There is such engaging candor in his languid English eyes, As he speaks the tribute in a tone of gratified surprise!

He gives us the impression by his attitude and air That he finds us Oh! so different from what he thought we were; But chiefly he's discovered this most peculiar thing— Canadians, by Jove, you know, are loyal to the King!

Now, since to hear this always gives Canadians heart-ache, Why shouldn't we do our own English hearts would thrill responsive, I'm sure, to our own; On being told that Englishmen are loyal to the Throne.

Why don't we always tell them so the old flag flying when the time arrives? Sir Edward is not stating the case correctly. What he proposes to do is to tear the old flag down, and bid defiance to King George and the parliament of the United Kingdom. He will not find many generals to join him in that rather dangerous pastime. Sir Edward Carson is becoming a greater nuisance than Mrs. Pankhurst.

We had almost forgotten for the moment that great man, Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes, but a cable received in Quebec announces that the Canadian war-lord and his splendid retinue are now in attendance upon the British army maneuvers, and will presently pay a visit to Woolwich arsenal and other places of special interest to men of warlike habit. Col. Sam will have a great story to tell on his return, but even that will be nothing to the bill which will be presented for liquidation by the country. With Col. Sam in the saddle, Canada must have a war chest with the lid off.

They had been talking as they walked through the leafy groves of Cherokee Park. She had remarked pathetically, "Oh, it must be terrible to a man to be rejected by a woman."

Then after a while, with sympathetic ingenuously, she exclaimed, "It doesn't seem that I could ever have the heart to do it!" And then there came a silence between them as he thought it over— Louisville Times.

Courting Days "Would you mind resting your head on my left shoulder, dearest?" "To be nearer your heart?" murmured the beautiful girl. "Yes, and to be farther away from the cigars I have in my right pocket."

Inconscient Hubby—You really must reduce your dress bills, my dear, they are far too large. Mrs. Newlywed—How inconscient you men are. You speak just as though I made out the bills—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Her Extravagance "You never will learn the value of money," said the West Philadelphia man to his wife, after she had given a Chestnut street lead pencil vendor ten cents for a pencil. "Well," she replied sweetly, "if you'd let me have more of it I might be able to learn."

It Didn't Help "Why don't you try dieting for your trouble?" "I have tried it. All week I never ate more than a potato a day."

SITUATION UNCHANGED

Washington Surprised at the Moderation of Huerta's Message

Washington, Sept. 22.—Now that President Huerta has read his much-heralded message to the Mexican Congress, the situation remains absolutely unchanged from the point of view of the United States, according to statements in official circles. It was indicated that there is nothing in the message which calls for any action on the part of the American government, nor any change of policy.

GOVERNMENT MAY

ABOLISH SIR IAN HAMILTON'S JOB

London, Sept. 22.—The Express understands that General Sir Ian Hamilton is being considered for the position of commander-in-chief in India in succession to General Creagh, who retires in the spring. His probable promotion to the fact that the government is anxious to do away with the £80,000 a year expense which it is obliged to pay out for the ridiculous post of inspector-general of overseas forces, a post which both Lord Kitchener and the Duke of Connaught found it inadvisable to hold. It is probable that on General Hamilton's appointment the ornamental post of inspector-general of overseas forces will be abolished.

General Sir Ian Hamilton recently completed an inspection of the Canadian forces and left for England a few weeks ago. While in Canada he traveled from coast to coast, accompanied by the Hon. Sam Hughes, minister of militia and defence. He made many friends here, and after his return sent members of the touring party mementoes of his visit.

Sir Ian has been inspector-general of the overseas forces since 1910. He has a long record of active service, having served in the Afghan War of 1879, the Boer War of 1891, the Nile expedition of 1884, the Burmese expedition, and in the subsequent engagements, including the last South African War. He was Lord Kitchener's chief of staff towards the close of the war, and commanded columns in the Western Transvaal.

Sir Ian is a writer as well as a soldier; some of his best known works being "Fighting the Future," "A Staff Officer's Scrap Book," and "A Jaunt in a Junk."

CURED ECZEMA LIKE MAGIC
Suffered for Years—Tried All Kinds of Treatment—Surprised at Results from Dr. Chase's Ointment.

You can soon tell when people are enthusiastic about medical treatment by the language they use. After experimenting with all sorts of ointments in a vain effort to obtain relief and cure, the writer of this letter was astonished at the quick and satisfactory results obtained by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

"It worked like magic," she writes. Indeed, it is surprising the healing that is often effected in a single night by this great ointment. The stinging and itching are relieved at once, and cure is only a matter of time and patient treatment.

Mrs. Clements, 18 Strange street, Toronto, Ont., writes: "I have suffered from eczema for years, and after using all kinds of ointments, at last tried Dr. Chase's Ointment. It worked like magic and proved a Godsend to me. I would advise anyone suffering from eczema to try one box and be convinced." Sixty cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

"CHIEF" MEYERS, HARD HITTER OF THE GIANTS

John Meyers is another one of those big league ball players, who causes the assembled spectators at a game to put their hands up to their mouths and give an imitation of a warwhoop which sounds like a lot of Knights of Columbus on an outing when it is getting late. This signifies the crowd is hep that Meyers is an Indian. He is also generally known as the "Chief."

John Tortes Meyers is a mission Indian and is constructed along the lines of a mission furniture which was so popular a few years ago. Just when the electric light, for general use, was coming into vogue.

John Tortes used to be a rabin picker out in Fresno, California, but he did not like the job and later moved down into New Mexico where he got taken on as a government interpreter and played ball on the side. The story down there is that he did more ball playing than interpreting.

Arrested for Gossiping
Marienette, Wis., Sept. 22.—One of Wisconsin's strange new laws passed by the last legislature, commonly known as the Gossip Law, was first applied today when a warrant was issued for the arrest of Peter Kosinski of Niagara.

The law provides that gossip shall be subject to legal penalties under the same conditions as slander, though with milder punishment, the amount of malice in the conversation being the distinguishing point between slander and gossip. The arrest follows the charge that Kosinski called Ross Burney of Niagara, an unsavory name in the conversation with friends in a bar-room.

KENT COUNTY MAN KILLED BULL MOUSE WITH HUNTING KNIFE

The following description of an adventure of John O'Neill of Moncton with a bull mouse appears in the Moncton Transcript: "Three men, one of whom was Mr. Warran, the game warden of Kent county, had passed along the road about five minutes ago of Mr. O'Neill. They saw a big bull mouse, and not being armed, they tried to frighten him off. The mouse was a good distance away but seemed to show fight, and the men immediately left the vicinity. Mr. O'Neill was hurrying along the road so as to get a glimpse of this big denizen of the forest, as by the cracking of the trees, he considered him to be a formidable beast. When going up a slight incline in the road, another big bull stepped out of the thicket, onto the path, about 15 yards from Mr. O'Neill. This was the big bull seen by the three men above referred to. He was greatly enraged, apparently waiting to try conclusions with the other big fellow that was musing his way. Seeing Mr. O'Neill he roared, as only an enraged bull can, and poised his immense antlers, preparing to charge. It was a battle to the death. Mr. O'Neill having no rifle to kill big game, was in a very precarious position, being alone, and not having a large tree in sight. He fired and luckily hit the mouse, directly back of the ears, which felled him to the ground. The bull soon regained his feet, still roaring and charging again, when Mr. O'Neill fired his second and only bullet which passed through the animal's lungs. The monster fell a second time but regained his feet and hobbled away into the thicket. Lighting a match O'Neill looked among his ammunition for a stray bullet, but could find nothing but cartridges. Undaunted he dropped his gun, and armed with a small hunting knife, he gave chase. He had only the light of the moon to guide him and after several minutes' search saw his victim on the ground in a position as if to rise again. On looking closer, Mr. O'Neill saw that one of the front feet was thrown back in such a way that the mouse could not quickly rise. Mr. O'Neill then sprang on the animal's back, grasped the immense antlers and quickly dispatched him with his hunting knife. The antlers have a spread of fully 30 inches in width, with 28 points.

ENCOURAGEMENT FOR THE BREEDING OF PURE BRED ANIMALS

As announced early in the season, the Dominion Live Stock Branch has this year undertaken a distribution of pure bred male animals throughout Canada on a somewhat extensive scale. In inaugurating this policy the aim has been to aid sections where pure bred sires were lacking and to encourage new communities in following an intelligent system in breeding. This form of assistance has proven very popular and during the past few months a large number of bulls and several stallions have been placed in various parts of the country in the hands of local associations formed specially for the purpose of handling and maintaining them. All animals placed remain the property of the Department of Agriculture, the local associations assuming the responsibility for their maintenance and management under the general supervision of officers of the Live Stock Branch.

Messrs. Brown, Montgomery and McMichael are appointed attorneys for the liquidation. In August F. F. White was appointed provisional liquidator of the corporation, but owing to his illness was succeeded later by the Montreal Trust Company, which is now named one of the permanent liquidators.

TO DEPOSE GOMEZ

New York, Sept. 20.—Jose Man Hernandez, the Venezuelan general more familiarly known as "El Mocho" killed on the steamer Mocho for Juan, Porto Rico, today, with care by laid plans of action whereby, it is believed, he hopes to depose President Gomez of Venezuela. These plans need a year to mature, for, although General Hernandez announced long ago that his country must have a change of government, of policies, and of persons, it was not until recently he set to work to have decided the hour for the deed arrived. This decision was largely based on communications which he received from his followers in Venezuela, who he is the leader of the National party.

Owing to the fact that practically all the ministers will be at the Baptist conference in Amherst at the time, it was thought best to have no Thanksgiving Day service this year.

Graduates of the Government Boat
James Summers, his lean form incased in a fur coat and wearing no collar, perpetrated an enlarded expression when Judge Ritchie motioned to him to stand up in court this morning. "You're charged with wandering about," said the Bench. "What have you to say?" "Please sit, I've been working," volunteered the prisoner. "Working?" The judge surveyed the fur coat and the collarless shirt with renewed interest. "Working? You're where?" "On the government boat, y'r honor." Then the Bench leaned back with a sigh of weariness. "How many people have we had in court who have been working on the government boat?" "Coulnd' count 'em," promptly responded Chief Clark. "Seems like everyone we get up here charged with vagrancy says he's been working on that boat. Wonder how many of them ever saw her?" Summers was remanded pending an investigation into a statement made that he was feeble-minded.

They Won't Get Home
Frederick Lea and David Guthro, the latter with a bushy beard and a somewhat inflamed countenance, stumbled along Gibbon's wharf Saturday night convulsively chanting "We Won't Get Home until Mornin'." A cop just behind them interrupted. "I'm thinkin' ye won't be home for a couple o' months, by th' time Judge Ritchie gets through with you," he offered. In court this morning both of them pleaded guilty. "Remanded," remarked Judge Ritchie, "until I get a chance to find out who sold a couple of wrecks like you two liquor."

IS THIS EXAMPLE OF "HONOR AMONG THIEVES?"

Times-Star Receives Alleged Confession Regarding Recent Burglaries—A Friend of Travis'

The above letter, received by the Times-Star this morning, while possibly a hoax, may be a genuine example of "honor among thieves." The list of articles reported stolen corresponds with those spoken of by "J. S. R." with the exception of one item—the two pairs of boots which the self-confessed thief says he and his partner took from the wholesale branch of Waterbury & Rising.

Officials of that store, asked by the Times-Star yesterday, however, stated that it would have been quite possible for the thieves who secured the small change in the store on Thursday to have taken two pairs of boots, or fifty if they wanted them, and that the store had not missed the two pairs.

St. John, N. B., Sept. 20. Editor of Times and Star: I've been taking great interest in the John Travis case who is in jail now for breaking and entering Estey's on Dock St., well what I might say that Travis is an honest man, it was me and other man who did it. Well what he got in Estey's was 2 Suits scrips and 65 cents in Silver and we took 2 Rubber coats also Mr Estey didn't say anything about them we needed them badly. We secured a ladder on Campbell's axe factory and carried it over about 6.30 that night and broke in there at 7 o'clock sharp, we knew there wouldn't be any Police men around there that time we also got into Waterbury and Rising on Thursday night at about 12.30 we only got some small change and we took also a pair of Boots each, which I am warning now. Hoping you will let this be printed one who is sorry for Travers I remain yours truly one who got into Estey's. J. S. R.

Did You Ever Try Dulce For a Regular Smoke?

An infinite fortune in weeds is clinging to the rocks off the St. John coast according to a local man who spoke to a Times reporter yesterday.

The reporter had run out of tobacco and asked the local man for some. The man produced a pouch and offered a queer looking mixture to the newspaperman who took it and stuffed a liberal helping into his old Jimmy.

He took one puff and then removed the stem from his mouth with a puzzled look. "That's mighty good tobacco," he said "would you get it?" "That," said the local man, proudly, "isn't tobacco at all. It's dulce."

"The dulce is it?" The reporter began to cough and spit out of his pipe hastily but the donor of the tobacco stopped him.

"Don't do that," he said. "It won't hurt you. I've smoked dulce for five years. An old sailor who had been shipwrecked without any tobacco and who had discovered the fragrant smoke sent forth by this seaweed put me wise to it and I've smoked it ever since. It's better than tobacco and there isn't any nicotine or any other harmful ingredient in it."

"But how does it light so well with the salt in it?" asked the reporter. "Oh, it has to be boiled first to take the salt out and you dry it in front of a fire or in the sun until it gets jet black. The salt you have to do is crumple it up and smoke it."

The reporter went away with vague sensations of immediately securing capital for the erection of a dulce factory.

WILL STOP THE SPITTING

"Spitting in public places in St. John has got to be stopped! As I came up the stairs here today I noticed an expectation, and in the fine new Imperial theatre Saturday some great big fool began spitting tobacco juice all over the carpet. Spitting in this town has got to be stopped, and I'm going to stop it if the police will haul the offenders before me."

Thus did Judge Ritchie in police court this morning put his foot down—not on the expectation but on the violations of the spitting law.

"Who knows how many cases of tuberculosis have been caused right here in St. John by the careless and criminal habit of spitting in public places?" he demanded, glaring at the Times reporter as though he suspected him of committing the indiscretion on the stairs before referred to. "Why, men have even been spitting in the churches—in Trinity even. Just bring a man like that before me and see what'll happen to him!"

Will Investigate

Charles Wittdroft was charged with being drunk in police court this morning. "Where did you find any liquor to get drunk on Sunday with?" Inquired Judge Ritchie.

"Haw! Lord love ye, there's lots of places. I got mine at th' West End House."

"Oh! You did, eh? Well, we'll investigate that. Remanded."

A Nurse Stabbed

Malden, Mass., Sept. 22—Miss Doris Robinson, a nurse at the Malden Hospital was stabbed while on duty early today, by an unknown and supposedly insane man. The intruder had hidden in a medicine closet and when the nurse opened the door he stabbed her twice near the heart, then jumped through a window and escaped. Miss Robinson's condition is critical.

Free Pulp and Paper

Washington, D. C., Sept. 22—Free entry of wood pulp and paper was granted by the treasury today to Belgium and Denmark, under the favored nation clause of their treaties.
