ALLIES LAND TROOPS AT ENOS, A TOWN IN WEST EUROPEAN TURKEY; BRITISH ATTACKING IN WEST

BRING TURKEY TO HER KNEES BEFORE HELP CAN ARRIVE

Believed Allies Have Surprise in Preparation for Central Powers— Capture of Enos and Strumitza Give British and French Two Towns of Strategic Importance—Bulgarians Finding Serbs Strong Barrier—Heavy Fighting in West, but No General Offensive— Russians Aggressive Along Greater Part of Line.

London, Oct. 18.—The Entente Allies have effected a landing at Enos on the Aegean Sea in European Turkey close to the Bulgarian border and have seized the railway at that point, according to a despatch from Athens to the Messagero, of Rome, transmitted by the Central News.

London, Oct. 18.—The reports that the Allies have occupied Strumitza and landed at Enos, which was recently transferred from Turkish to Bulgarian rule, has caused a more optimistic feeling throughout the allied countries. As to the progress of the near eastern campaign, it is known from both Serbian and German accounts that Field Marshal Von Mackensen's army is meeting with greater resistance than was expected, and although it is probable that the Serbians eventually must fall back on stronger strategic positions in the north, the fact that the Allies are bringing heavy forces against the Bulgarians, and so placing them that the Bulgarians will be compelled to divide their armies, gives hope here that the Germans may be balked in their latest attempt to reach the sea and bring assistance to the Turks.

All along the line the Serbians and their Montenegrin neighbors, who are also being attacked, are offering very stubborn resistance to both Austro-Germans and Bulgarians and while they have given up a number of towns and positions they have not yet reached the line on which they expect to make their stand. The Bulgarians, so far as can be learned, have made progress only in the Ziotokopka Valley, near the River Morava, north of the town of Vranje, where they blew up a bridge. There is no confirmation, however, of the report that they cut the railway in this district, the bridge which they destroyed being a small wooden one near the railway. The Bulgarian force which penetrated the valley is not a large one.

Bring Turk to Knees Before Help Can Reach Him.

On the other hand, it is pointed out, the capture of Strumitza is of real strategic value, as its occupation permits the defense of the southern end of the railway and compels the Bulgarians to keep a force there. Enos, of value, as although not a good landing place, its occupation threatens Dedegatch, which has a great harbor and is fortified and mined. The civilian population has already left Dedegatch, which is entirely in the hands of the military, under German officers.

The Italians, according to the latest reports, will not send a contingent to the Balkans, but co-operation of their navy in the Aegean, where an allied fleet has already gathered, is looked for. The point at which the Russians will strike has not yet been disclosed. The expectation is, however, that the Allies have a surprise for the Central Powers, and that steps are being taken to bring Turkey to her knees before assistance can reach her.

There has been plenty of heavy fighting on both the eastern and western fronts, but in neither case, has either side attempted a general offensive. The Germans are still making a great effort between Riga and Drinsk and have met with some minor successes, but thence to the Roumanian border, where there has been any fighting, it is the Russians who are attacking and they, too, claim some gains.

Much the same conditions prevail on the western front. The British have been attacking east of Verdun, according to the Berlin report, while the Germans attacked the French near Soches and the French took the offensive in Champagne, Lorraine and the Vosges. None of these attempts is making any marked alterations in the positions of the armies.

Bulgaria and Greece in League?
Berlin, Oct. 18.—(By wireless to Tuckerton)—The Overseas News Agency says today:

"Advices from Saloniki through Budapest state that the Bulgarian minister to Greece, in advising Premier Zaimis of Bulgaria's declaration of war against Serbia, gave expression to the friendly sentiments which Bulgarian held toward Greece.

"Premier Zaimis expressed his thanks for the readiness of the Bulgarian government to help provide for Greece in a way which would be necessary in the event of a blockade of the Greek coast. The Greek premier added that the two nations had misunderstood each other, but from this time on would march in the same direction."

Berlin Hears Dardanelles Operations Are to Be Abandoned.

Berlin, Oct. 18 (via wireless to Tuckerton)—A special despatch to the National Zeitung, "from the Russian border," says:

"Your correspondent learns from a well informed source, that the abandonment of the Dardanelles campaign by France and Great Britain already has been decided upon. Russian circles interested in this matter have been informed that the Allies will not suspend operations on the Gallipoli peninsula all at once, but will gradually withdraw troops from there. "Military circles of the Entente Powers are fully convinced of the hopelessness of the Dardanelles undertaking in its present form."

The correspondent adds that another reason for the abandonment of the campaign is that the troops are needed for service in Serbia.

Germans Admit Serbians Offered a Strong Defence

Berlin, Oct. 18, via London—Telegraphing under date of October 17th the Lokal Anzeiger's correspondent with the German forces operating in Serbia says:

"The German and Austrian operations are proceeding successfully along the whole front. The Germans, by an extended enveloping movement, compelled the Serbians to evacuate Pozarevac almost without a struggle, although the defenses of the city had been so strengthened and the advanced positions prepared for keeping the Teutons at a distance that the Serbians evidently had planned making a long stand here.

"After the evacuation the Serbians retired to the heights southward and southwestward, which also were strongly fortified. On the following day heavy fighting occurred there. The contour of the country offered great difficulties, there being few roads. The Serbians made a stout resistance on the whole line, but suffered great losses under the bombardments of the German heavy artillery. Especially on the mountain of Vranjevo did the enemy fight desperately, but finally, after long resistance, he yielded this strong elevated position to one of the Brandenburg regiments."

The Lokal Anzeiger's correspondent, in describing the spirit of resistance shown by the Serbians, says they did not abandon the plateau behind the mountain after the Germans had won the important heights, but continued holding the ground, fighting under greatly unfavorable tactical conditions, until they were slowly pressed back.

Other correspondents also emphasize the bravery and resistance of the Serbians, who they say, often hold positions until hand-to-hand encounters become necessary to force their abandonment.

The Lokal Anzeiger's correspondent says that at some places the civilian population, even women and children are participating in the fighting.

EACH PROVINCE WILL NAME A COMMISSION

To Co-operate with Central Body at Ottawa in Matter of Employment for Returned Soldiers.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—The conference between the military hospitals and the representatives of the different provinces which convened here today did not conclude its work, but will continue its sittings tomorrow and further consider plans for employment of returning soldiers.

After considerable discussion the principle of the proposal for the appointment of provincial commissions in connection with the work was reached. It was decided to leave the character and numbers of the different committees to the various provincial governments.

When the conference began Sir Robert and Senator Loughheed explained to the delegates its objects and the plan submitted by the commission was discussed. Briefly, the plan proposes provincial commissions to co-operate with the central commission at Ottawa, with local committees to attend to vocational training, technical education and general employment, while the back-to-the-land movement may, to a considerable extent, be given effect to.

The preliminary conference opened in the privy council chamber at noon under the presidency of Senator Loughheed, Sir Robert Borden extending a formal welcome.

The provincial delegates are: Ontario—Premier Hearst; Quebec—Hon. Walter Mitchell and Hon. J. L. DeCarrie; Manitoba—Premier Norris; Saskatchewan—Premier Scott and Attorney-General Turson; Alberta—Hon. Charles Mitchell; New Brunswick—Premier Clark; Nova Scotia—Hon. E. H. Armstrong and Prof. Sexton.

TRADE FOR SIX MONTHS OVER A HALF BILLION

Canadian Trade Figures for Half Year Ending Sept. 30th are Decidedly Encouraging—Big Increase in Exports of Domestic Fisheries Last Month.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—The total Canadian trade for the six months of the fiscal year ending September 30th last was well over half a billion dollars, according to the official statement issued by the Hon. J. D. Reid, Minister of Customs, today. The figures show a very satisfactory advance over the corresponding six months of 1914, which were $500,634,000 as against $559,529,000 for the six months just ended or in round figures a total increase of trade of $59,000,000. The trade for September just ended was as follows:

Merchandise entered for consumption, $38,026,000; domestic exports, $46,129,000, or a total of $84,155,000. This is a considerable advance on September 1914, when the imports were $36,567,000 and the domestic exports $31,796,000 or a total of $68,363,000. The export of manufactured goods for September was very heavy—reaching a total of $9,244,000 compared with $5,188,000 for September, 1914. Of agricultural products $11,129,000 worth were exported last September as against $7,478,000 for the corresponding month last year. The export of domestic animals and their produce was also heavy, being $10,188,000 against $7,063,000 for September, 1914.

It is interesting to note there is a substantial increase in the export of domestic fisheries for the month of September, the total being $2,750,000 against $1,900,000 for September, 1914. The importation of foreign goods for September last was $15,746,000 compared with $13,991,000 for September, 1914. For the six months ending September last Canada imported of free and dutiable goods $213,588,000. During the same period she exported $246,392,000 so that our value of exports were considerably greater than our imports. On the whole the showing is a very satisfactory one, the duty collected for the six months just ended being $44,418,000 compared with $42,857,000 for the corresponding period of 1914.

SIR EDW. CARSON RESIGNS FROM BRITISH CABINET

Understood He Disapproves of Policy Being Followed in the Balkans and Confiding Whole National Policy to Small "Inner Circle"—Redmond Foreshadows Crisis and Says General Election is Regarded as Possible.

London, Oct. 18.—Sir Edward Carson, Attorney-General, has resigned from the British cabinet.

The resignation of Sir Edward Carson, the first open manifestation of the divergence of views known to exist among the ministers, is the result, according to an authoritative source, is not because of controversy over conscription, but owing to conditions in the near east.

Sir Edward, so far, has made no personal explanation of his resignation, but it is understood he disapproves of the policy which is being followed in the Balkans, and of the method of confiding the whole national policy to a small "inner cabinet."

It is expected there will be exciting debates in the House of Commons this week, as severe attacks on the government are planned by members of the House in connection with the general military policy, especially in the near east. Sir Edward Carson, prior to the outbreak of the war, was the leader of the movement against Home Rule for Ireland which for a time threatened civil war in the province of Ulster. At that time he was the Conservative member of parliament for Dublin University, and gained great notoriety for his speeches attacking the government and the sympathizers of Home Rule and threatening in case the King signed the Home Rule bill to aid in setting up a provisional government in Ulster. He was the first to sign the covenant of resistance to Home Rule and led the Ulster Volunteers in the formation of the Ulster Volunteers.

When the present coalition government was formed last May, Sir Edward was given the portfolio of Attorney-General. Some of the English newspapers expressed the view that this appointment was a mistake, in view of his previous antagonism to the government. The most notable cases with which Sir Edward has had to deal since his incumbency of the Attorney-Generalship were the Board of Trade's inquiry into the sinking of the Lusitania and the proceedings before the prize court for the condemnation of American meat cargoes, which had been seized by the British government on the ground that they were destined for Germany.

Recently there has been unofficial talk in London of Sir Edward being at odds with other members of the ministry over conscription, the Balkan situation and the Dardanelles expedition. The Attorney-General did not attend any of the cabinet meetings held recently.

Redmond Sees Crisis.

Dublin, Oct. 18.—Presiding at the Nationalist convention yesterday, John E. Redmond said that a grave political crisis might arise any day. The position of the coalition government, he declared, was precarious. It was threatened by internal and external dangers. A conspiracy existed among men ready to sacrifice national unity. In the face of the enemy, to further their own predilections and theories. It was common talk, said the Irish leader, that a general election was possible, but Ireland could boast that she was not responsible for these dangers.

SIR THOS. BOWRING DEAD

London, Oct. 19.—The death has occurred of Sir Thomas Benjamin Bowring, director of T. C. Bowring & Company, ship owners of Liverpool and London.

Sir Thomas Bowring was born at St. John's, Nfld., in 1847. His wife was the daughter of James Howe, of Brooklyn. Sir Thomas represented his firm as resident partner in New York from 1870 to 1891. He was knighted in 1912.

CARRIED NEARLY HALF MILLION BUSHELS OF GRAIN.

Fort William, Ont., Oct. 18.—The steamer W. Grant Morden, of the Canadian Steamship Lines Limited, established a new world's record for grain cargo this afternoon when she cleared from here for Tiffin with a cargo of 476,250 bushels of wheat.

SIR EDW. CARSON

London Press Regrets Resignation; Others are Expected to Follow

London, Oct. 19.—Much regret is expressed in the London morning papers over the resignation of Sir Edward Carson as attorney-general, and there is lively apprehension expressed that it is not impossible that his giving up his portfolio may be followed by other resignations.

The Times says Sir Edward's action was taken on what he holds to be the fundamental question of policy, and that it is understood he is by no means alone in his attitude towards the conduct of the war.

According to the Daily Chronicle the question of conscription did not come to a head at yesterday's cabinet meeting, as matters arising out of the Balkan situation, especially the enigmatic attitude of Greece, occupied the ministers the whole of the time. The Chronicle says the conscriptionists have not abandoned their intention to force an early decision on the question, and before the week is out there may be sensational developments, unless wiser counsels prevail. The newspaper adds that ministers resignation are freely talked about, and says the very existence of the coalition government may soon be in jeopardy.

Asking where an alternative government is to come from the Chronicle contends that even if the conscriptionists should succeed in forming an administration they would be without a majority in parliament, and have at least half the nation arrayed against them.

The Morning Post, the leading Conservative newspaper, says editorially: "Sir Edward Carson resigned on the Near Eastern question. The government, against his strong advice and urgent counsel, allowed that question to drift, and Sir Edward Carson, who had strong convictions on what he regarded as the right policy for the country, refused to share the responsibility for the results of postponing or evading a decision. We cannot quarrel with him for taking the momentous step. On the contrary no man of intellect and courage could remain in a government which daily with and postpone its decisions from day to day on issues where delay is dangerous and may be fatal."

"We trust, now that Sir Edward Carson has resumed his freedom, he will use means to force upon the government some sense of the dangers to which they are bringing the country by their refusal to look facts in the face."

NEW COAST TO COAST SERVICE INAUGURATED

C. N. R. Special Arrives at Vancouver, Opening Line—Party Delighted With Trip and Excellence of Line.

Special to The Standard, Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 18.—Inaugurating the through service of Canada's newest Transcontinental railway, the heaviest passenger train ever drawn from coast to coast, in America, reached Vancouver this evening with parliamentary special consisting of 15 sleeping and dining cars.

The train left Quebec at 1.30 o'clock on Tuesday last week, carrying one hundred and fifty guests of the Canadian Northern Railway. The party included the members of the House of Commons, the Senate of Canada, representatives of Canadian and U. S. newspapers, and a group of officers of the railway company headed by Sir William Mackenzie. In this notable incident in the history of transportation the outstanding feature is the completeness with which engineering science has overcome the natural barrier dividing east and west traffic and created a line of railway which, it is contended, is unequalled in the matter of grades by any through system in America. One other fact which impresses itself on the traveller is that this new Canadian Northern is not a scenic route in the mountains. The Yellowhead Pass does not compare with either of the routes followed by the C. P. R.

The Canadian Northern is a commercial road primarily intended for the railway route to the coast, and this end has been achieved. According to statements made to this party by officials of the railway company it is asserted on the Canadian Northern that it will be more easily handled than on any other transcontinental road with equal motor power. Trains fifty per cent. heavier can be drawn over these rails than can be hauled on other Canadian lines, and even in the mountains there are no pusher grades.

An Excellent Roadbed
This question of grades is the one that has caused the most trouble on the visitors. With an average of five-tenths and a ruling grade of seven-tenths of one per cent. it is believed that the cross-country transportation problem has been solved. There is no certain, there is no officers of the road but deserves congratulations on the fact that with one of the ordinary light engines they have hauled a passenger train of this magnitude, and, measuring practically one-quarter more of a mile in length, from one coast of Canada to the other without delays of any sort and with absolutely no difficulty. The train consisted of eight sleeping cars, three private cars, one baggage car and one entertainment car, has gone the entire length of the Yellowhead Pass with one engine at a steady rate of forty miles per hour. In addition to this feature the members of the parliamentary party have been greatly surprised at the roadbed and the excellent engineering which has been put into the road. It was to the majority a surprise to realize that there had been completed a piece of a third transcontinental railway built up to the highest standard in every respect, at a cost of making a very strong bid for its share of the east and west traffic. Even among those who have followed most closely in parliament the political activities of the Canadian Northern there has been the heartiest admission of an imperfect realization of actual conditions and gratification in the opportunity this week afforded of obtaining more personal information that the trip to the Pacific coast has been made under most agreeable conditions has had, of course, materially assisted in producing this satisfactory state of mind, for Sir William Mackenzie and members of his staff have spared no trouble or expense in catering to the comforts of their guests.

The parliamentary press excursion train left Quebec and Montreal simultaneously on Tuesday, October 12, the sections finally uniting just west of Capreol Junction in Ontario, from there to Luceerne, in B. C., fifteen cars were hauled, one additional which has brought the reception committee from the Pacific coast being there added. Visits on the Route.
On the route west numerous stops were made, and every possible opportunity given of seeing the new country served by this line. In Quebec and Ontario breathing spells were largely devoted to examinations of the railway company's work at divisional points, but at Port Arthur the triumphal progress really commenced. There a civic committee entertained the visitors with an auto ride to points of interest. Many among the party were pleased to meet Manager MacLean, of the Prince Arthur Hotel and

GERMANS DRIVEN FROM SEVERAL POSITIONS; THIRTY OFFICERS AND OVER 1000 MEN TAKEN

Petrograd, Oct. 18, via London, Oct. 19.—The official communication issued by the war office today follows:
"In the region of Riga, on the River Aa, north of Mitau, enemy elements which advanced beyond Herzogshof were thrown back across the river."
"On the Drinsk front, after the attacks repulsed yesterday, the enemy remained passive throughout the day. Only near the village of Pochilni did he make attempts to dislodge us from trenches in the occupied section. We repulsed both these attacks. Artillery fighting continues. Between the Demenen and Dzwiaty lakes there has been an important success during the night. The Germans were shelled, with enormous losses, from positions north of the village of Nourvintz, on the southern shore of Lake Dzwiaty. We captured prisoners and machine guns."
"On the Upper Niemen, above Deltatich, we carried, by assault, the village of Chicheryn."
"South of the Pripet region and on the Middle Strz our troops yesterday gained an important success during the occupation of the village of Siolechitzky, above Rafalovka. We captured thirteen officers, including two battalion commanders, and five hundred men."
"Detachments of our cavalry charged the enemy near the station of Podcherevitch, west of Rafalovka. Thus far thirty officers and over a thousand men and some machine guns have fallen into our hands."
"We have occupied the village of Kozlinitz, below Cartoryak."
"By simultaneous attack from the north and south our troops occupied the village of Novoselki, on the Strz, above Cartoryak, and its bridge-head. After we had repulsed an enemy counter-attack we took over eight hundred German and Austrian soldiers and a number of bomb throwers and some telegraph stores."
"At dawn yesterday our troops got into the village of Kulkovitch, above Novoselki. Thus far we have captured over a thousand prisoners and many machine guns and bomb-throwers."
"On the Caucasus front there were no engagements on the 16th."

formerly of the Dufferin, St. John. In Winnipeg a whole day was spent in making the Canadian Club luncheon and other entertainments. Regina was reached early in the morning, but not too early for the enthusiastic residents of that city to be on hand with a warm welcome and a great deal of "booster talk."
At Saskatoon, later in the afternoon of the same day, F. MacLure Schlander appeared on the scene in charge of a numerous committee which made the very best use of the little time available in which the visitors were at their mercy.
North Battleford was next favored with the parliamentary party, but as the train did not stop there, the opportunities of seeing the town were not altogether favorable.
Edmonton was reached at six o'clock on Sunday morning and Senators, old and young, who had not turned up, bed at such an unholy hour for years and years, hurriedly slipped into their clothes and without waiting for their breakfast hustled out to look at a prairie town asleep. Two hours were devoted to Edmonton, sufficient to bring realization to the citizens of enjoying unobscuredly a notable honor. Running down from Edmonton to Luceerne during the afternoon hours, the party, at important stations and crowds of cheering people to whom the inauguration of this service means much were on hand to welcome this train and at Luceerne the British and Mackenzie gave their congratulations on the completion of their great work. The programme on the coast called for a trip to Victoria on Tuesday, with luncheon and other functions in Vancouver Wednesday. The return journey will commence Wednesday night and on the run east the route followed will be different from that taken to the west and will adhere more closely to the main line.

Artillery Stops Threatened Attack By German Infantry

Paris, Oct. 18.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads as follows:
"After an intense artillery preparation, menaces of infantry attacks were manifested in the German trenches at Bois-de-Hache and the Valley of the Souchez, where large masses of enemy effectives were gathered. Our artillery by an energetic and effective barrier fire and our machine guns, prevented the adversary from debouching."

"On the left bank of the Aisne, to the south of Pommiers, our patrols discovered an enemy ambush, and brought back prisoners."
"In Champagne the bombardment of the enemy has been very active against the Tahure Hill and the ravine of La Goutte. Our batteries in replying on the trenches and bivouacs behind the enemy's front, caused an explosion of a large munitions depot."
"In the Vosges, spirited combats with Grenades are reported on the crests of Schatzmannelle, and violent cannonading on both sides, in the region of Hartmannsweilerkopf and in the valley of the Thur."
"The Belgian communication reads: "There has been an intermittent bombardment of our positions. Our artillery destroyed an enemy observation post."
Athens, via Paris, Oct. 19.—There is heavy fighting in the Ristovac-Vranja district of Serbia, according to reliable news from Saloniki, the Serbians have been strongly reinforced. Beyond Vranja telegraphic communication is interrupted.

SUSPICIOUS VESSEL HELD UP ON PACIFIC

American yacht with name painted over and American name substituted for that of German commandeer.
Bogota, Columbia, Oct. 18.—An American schooner Academy, reported detained near Buenaventura, Colombia, and carrying an unusually large crew, is being detained by government near Buenaventura, a Colombian port on the Pacific, under suspicious circumstances.
According to the Colombian officials the vessel's papers are irregular. The German name of the master of the ship, it is asserted, has been erased from the papers and an American name substituted for it.
The yacht was searched but nothing was found to indicate the mission of the crew. The vessel will be detained until her legal status has been established.
Known in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Oct. 18.—The American schooner Academy, reported detained near Buenaventura, Colombia, sailed from here June 21 in ballast with a crew of nine men for Callao, Peru. Her master was Captain L. J. Behn. The Academy was a white painted schooner of 57 tons, 80 feet long, with a beam of 25 feet and a depth of five feet. Normally she carried a crew of about six men. Shipping records show she was purchased in 1915 by Captain William Peters of San Francisco, who was not well known in shipping circles here.
The vessel has been running to the South Sea Islands and Mexican ports. Washington, Oct. 18.—British agents in this country recently reported they believed some yachts were being outfit in California waters and on the Atlantic coast, to be manned by German crews to attack tank ships carrying fuel oil from the Mexican fields for the British navy. Their report was soon discredited by the disappearance of the German sailors from the cruiser Kron Prinz Wilhelm in a yacht from the Norfolk Navy Yards. A small yacht which outfit at Pensacola, Florida, also was the subject of investigation. Another, they reported, was being prepared for sea in the Gulf of California.

NOT A PARTICLE OF DANDRUFF OR A FALLING HAIR
Save your hair! Double its beauty in just a few moments.
25-cent "Danderine" makes hair thick, glossy, wavy and beautiful.
Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.
Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.
A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incalculable lustre, softness and luxuriance.
Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.
WRECK BLOWN UP.
Sch Mary Curtis, lost in one of the recent gales, with all on board, has been destroyed by the coastguard cutter Acushnet, which blew up the obstruction with gun-cotton and tri-nitro mines.

A NATIONAL STOCK TAKING.

The task before the Commission appointed at Ottawa on Saturday, that of a national stock taking of Canadian resources, and the outlining of schemes for their development, is so vast and so comprehensive as to demand ability of the highest standard. At the same time no more useful undertaking was ever attempted in this country and it is evident that in its selection of Commissioners the Government has been guided, primarily, by the importance of the duties to be discharged.

The order-in-council authorizing the appointment of the Commission emphasizes the importance of stimulating production in Canada. While the term is not restricted to effort along agricultural lines it is natural that agriculture should receive much attention and in connection with opportunities in that sphere the warrant of appointment suggests that investigation be made of the following:

- (a) Improved methods of production with a view to a better return to the producer;
- (b) Assisting this purpose by proper instruction and demonstration;
- (c) Increasing the acreage under production;
- (d) Attracting immigration of a type which would aid in ensuring a large and permanent agricultural population;
- (e) Stimulating and encouraging co-operation among the producers; and,
- (f) Providing cold storage and abattoir facilities.

It is also pointed out that the great area of territory embraced within the Dominion creates unusual problems which affect:—
(a) Distribution of products in our home markets and the trade thus created between the several provinces and their various communities;

(b) The transport of products to our national ports from which they shall eventually reach their destination abroad; and,

(c) Their transport to the market of destination abroad.
Another question suggested for the study of the commission is the marketing of food products, including consideration of the time at which, and the methods by which, this is accomplished. The commission is asked not to overlook the value of co-operative efforts among the producers and the importance of reducing the present great discrepancy between the price received by the producer and the price paid by the consumer.

Incidental to agricultural matters, the questions of unemployment and of caring for surplus population of the cities will also be considered and in investigating both, the "back to the land" suggestions will receive attention. The commission is asked particularly to study conditions expected to arise out of the war, such as locations and employment for soldiers desiring to come to this country at the conclusion of hostilities in Europe.

Business and manufacturing, transportation problems on land and water, improved highways and public facilities of every description, and, in fact, all questions having any relation to national development come within the scope of the commission's activities so it can be seen that they have sufficient subjects to keep them engaged for many months.

The death of Sir William VanHorne deprived the government of the services of a chairman of outstanding ability. The great railway executive had already promised to undertake the work and had that been possible he undoubtedly would have brought a monumental intellect to the solution of great questions.

Senator Loughheed, the chairman named, has, however, devoted much attention to the consideration of questions of national importance and as his associates are men of established position in their respective walks in life the body should be one of the most competent ever named by any Canadian Government.

The fact that the Government has committed to recognized experts the duty of bringing about a scientific policy of all-round national development is a striking illustration of an honest desire to work for the welfare of all Canadians and for their action Premier Borden and his colleagues are entitled to hearty commendation.

THE CAMPAIGN IN GALLIOLI

Reports from German sources are to the effect that the Allies are about ready to abandon the campaign in Gallipoli and the Dardanelles. Germany, considerably, assigns two reasons for this alleged decision, one is that the operation has proven so difficult and costly that the British and French generals are convinced of the impossibility of reaching a decisive result there in a short time, and the other the need for additional troops in Serbia.

That the abandonment of the campaign has been considered by both British and French military authorities has not been denied. Lord Lansdowne, in the House of Lords, answered an interrogation on that point by saying it was "impossible for any member of the government to give any assurance whatever that the operations at the Dardanelles will either be continued or abandoned." Lord Lansdowne's reply is easily understandable for any announcement of the government's policy would be military information of the highest value to the enemy and, consequently, he could not divulge it. Whatever the government may do will be done before it becomes generally known, but the fact remains that German agents may have secured some information.

The war situation has materially changed since the attack on the Dardanelles was first undertaken. At that time there was no other avenue through which the Turks could be reached. The original attack, made by the navy, unsupported, is now admitted to have been a mistake. Subsequently troops were landed in Gallipoli with the idea of conducting simultaneous land and water campaigns. This course has been one of great difficulty and the casualty lists have been particularly heavy from that area of fighting. Should the campaign now be abandoned it would not necessarily follow that the attack on the Turks had ceased. It would be merely a shifting of operations from one field to another, where the chance of British and French success would be much greater.

Turkey is as much concerned with the campaign against Bulgaria as the operations in the Dardanelles, or in Gallipoli, and if the Allies should decide to concentrate all efforts on overcoming the Turks and Bulgarians in the Balkans the result would, in the end, be the same. If the British fleet should succeed in forcing the Dardanelles it does not appear that it would be impossible for the Turks to continue their land operations in Gallipoli. On the contrary Turkish troops would still have to be subdued and if this can be accomplished by a campaign in Bulgaria, instead of Gallipoli, the gain to the Allies will not be lessened.

It was at the wish of Russia that the movement on the Dardanelles was originally undertaken. Russian troops were then operating in the Caucasus and desired something to divert the Turks from that theatre so the Czar's forces could concentrate on the German and Austrian fronts. The Dardanelles attack caused the Turks to mass troops to defend their famous waterway and, to that extent, the Russians were relieved.

Of course the opening of the Straits would have aided Russia in getting her grain out and her supplies in, but this problem has also been well solved by other means, and there is little real necessity of fighting the Turk on a separate field. If he can be crushed by the operation against Bulgaria the desired end will be wholly attained and, at the moment, the latter area seems to offer the better opportunity. If, therefore, the German report should prove to be well founded it does not at all mean that the Turk is to be fought less vigorously, or that his ultimate defeat is less certain.

Couzens vs. Ford
(New York Herald)
Detroit, Oct. 12.—James Couzens, first financial backer of Henry Ford, resigned this afternoon as vice-president and general manager of the Ford Motor Company, because he could no longer "agree with Mr. Ford's public utterances on peace, the Allies' war loan and national unpreparedness."

In a brief statement issued at his office, just after the split had come, Couzens said today: "I could not agree with Mr. Ford's public utterances on peace, the Allies' war loan and national unpreparedness. This has been brewing for more than a week. For some time I have disapproved of the manner in which Mr. Ford has been giving statements to the press. His statements on these and other matters disgusted me. I told him so and we had it out. Couzens was a coal salesman when Ford confided to him that he had a gasoline engine that would drive a carriage. Couzens had $400 in a bank, and this, with $100 borrowed from a sister and $500 borrowed from a friend, started the Ford Motor Company, to which Ford contributed his patents. It is believed here, though no one knows exactly, that Couzens and Ford together have amassed fortunes aggregating $150,000,000 since 1902.

The Peril of Serbia
(Toronto Globe)
The report from Serbia that the people have risen en masse to resist the Austro-German invasion is reasonably certain to prove true. The Serbian noncombatants know from horrible experience last year that their fate will be no worse if they resist to the death than if they surrender. There is in existence a report by Professor Reiss of the University of Lausanne on the Austrian atrocities in Serbia which proves that neither age nor sex was a shield from the Austrian soldiery, and that devils were committed in Serbia far more dreadful than anything recorded in Belgium.

Professor Reiss is a Swiss scientist of repute, specializing in criminology. He was a witness at the trial of the Government, with liberty to disseminate the remains of victims to photograph the bodies, to interrogate Austrian prisoners, and to carry out in general all the duties of a reporter. He reports nothing but facts recorded or verified by himself. Here are some of the gruesome incidents related by him, many of them supported by the evidence of photographs:
"Near the Schipliane River the Austrians took prisoners about ten wounded men of the Third Supernumerary Regiment. The wounds of these men were dressed. When the Austrians found themselves obliged to leave their positions they shot the wounded men in order not to let them be retaken alive by the Serbs. The wounded men were found with their wounds dressed, but dead."
"Corporal D. X. of the 25th Regiment of Landwehr deposes: At Chabaty the Austrians killed near the church more than sixty civilians, who had been previously shut up there. They were massacred with the bayonet to economize ammunition. The work was done by eight Hungarian soldiers. D. X. could not bear to see this sight, and left the spot. The corpses remained on the spot for two days before being buried. Among the victims were old men and children."
"The Hungarian Captain Bosnal, of the 6th Regiment of Infantry, gave orders before crossing the frontier that everything living should be killed, from children of five to the oldest men. When the frontier had been crossed and the troops arrived at the first Serbian village the Captain gave orders that the two houses should be burned and everyone killed, even the children in the cradle. About thirty women, children, and old men were taken prisoners and driven before the troops during the fight." The Austrian soldier who gave evidence saw these civilians being killed and wounded by the bullets of the two opposing forces.

"At Dobrich, on the 16th and 17th of August, K. X. saw soldiers of the 57th Hungarian Regiment kill eleven or twelve children from six to twelve years of age with their bayonets. The order for the massacre was given by First Lieutenant Nagl. K. X. was fifty or forty yards from the soldiers who were carrying out the massacre. Lieutenant-Colonel Piskor of the 18th Regiment passed by at this moment and said to Nagl: "How can you be such a swine?" The latter replied: "You can give orders to your own detachment, but not to mine. I have orders from my superiors."
The pamphlet is full of similar sworn statements and of incidents far more horrible than any recorded above, in which Serbian women were the victims. The mutilation of both men and women before they were killed was a common form of torture. Prof. Reiss himself opened one pit in which 109 persons had been buried—many of them while still alive.

There is no good purpose to be served by a further recital to these horrors. They explain why the whole Serbian people have risen in arms. They battle, not for victory, but for self-preservation, for the lives of their children and the honor of their women.

YOUR BRONCHIAL TUBES

When a cold settles in the bronchial tubes, with that weakening, tickling cough, immediate treatment is very important. The breath seems shorter because of mucous obstructions; usually fever is present, your head aches with every cough and your chest may ache. This is no time for experimenting or delay—you must get Scott's Emulsion at once to drive out the cold which started the trouble, and it will check the cough by aiding the healing process of the enfeebled membranes. If you have any symptoms of bronchitis, or even a stubborn cold, always remember that Scott's Emulsion has been relieving this trouble for forty years. It is free from harmful drugs. MORE EVIDENCE IN THE CHINESE RAID TRIAL

It is hoped to finish the case to-day—Not all Christians.

The Chinese case in which Hop Lee and Sing Lee are charged with being proprietors of a gaming and opium den on Mill street, and eighteen other Chinese with being inmates, was resumed in the police court yesterday morning and afternoon, and was then adjourned until this morning at 10.30 o'clock. George A. Henderson, for the prosecution, testified that on June 18, 1915, Hop Lee was sentenced to a fine of $500 or three months in jail for keeping opium for other than medicinal or scientific purposes. Sing Lee who had at that time been charged with being an inmate of an opium joint, was not convicted.

Detective Barrett, recalled, testified that the pipe, which he found on the premises, was warm and quite close was a bowl, such as is used for smoking opium. Near at hand he found the little white jar, the substance in which on being analyzed by Mr. M. V. Padock, was said to contain opium.

Hum Quong stated that he had been in Canada for 19 years, 17 years being spent in St. John. He went to Hop Lee's to arrange for the burial of his brother. It was about 10 o'clock on Sunday night. I called all my friends for to contribute money for flowers. He did not get any money given to him. There was some money put in the box to buy flowers for the funeral. They were sitting around there and talking. As soon as the officers broke down the door the Chinese ran. Hum Lee and another Chinaman were providing music for the gathering.

SOLDIERS ARE ENJOYING LIFE AT MILITARY CAMP IN SUSSEX

What the Men in Training for Overseas Duty are Doing—The Food Good and There is Plenty of It

There were several visitors at the military camp at Sussex on Saturday. The soldiers all seem to be happy and well used. They get good food and plenty of it and there is hardly a complaint to be heard from anyone in the camp.

The fortnightly inspection was held on Saturday at noon and as there are well on to two thousand men to be inspected it took the colonel some time to get all around them and so some of them were a bit late for their dinner, but there was plenty of it left for them, so they did not lose anything. The buglers and bandmen are in a group of tents set apart from the others and as they were out of the line of the other tents they were the last to be inspected, which caused much uneasiness to some of them, especially to one little Scotch bugler, who at other times is almost the first to get down to the cooks' tent. He had all he could do to stand still till the inspection was over and then made a mad dash for the cookhouse for his "grub."

Enormous quantities of food are stored away by the men there; for instance, twenty-four barrels of potatoes are eaten for dinner every day and all other things are in proportion.

The Day's Work
The day begins at six o'clock in the morning when the reveille is sounded. Then there is the daily morning exercise and wash-up, after which breakfast is served. After breakfast the regular work of the day is begun. Some days it is squad drill or rifle drill. Other days it is bayonet instruction or a route march. The dinner is on at about half-past twelve. After dinner there is a short rest for about an hour when the work is continued. Supper is served at six and then the work of the day is done and the men are free, except those who are left to guard the grounds.

The town presents quite a lively appearance in the evening and one can hardly turn around without seeing three or four or more boys in khaki. Then almost every day there are some men who are allowed to go home for a few days on leave, so a person hardly ever sees the whole battalion.

On Sundays there is church parade in the morning to the different churches in the town. This parade is a fine sight, men marching at a distance of over half a mile. This nearly fills every church in the place, and of course every person in the town who can at all get out is there to see them go to church.

HARTWIG WAS BELIEVED TO BE DANGEROUS

German arrested here was taken to Amherst for safe keeping.

Three Hundred Tents
There are about three hundred tents in the camp, all in neat rows, like the streets of a city, and indeed the place is little less than a city, for there is everything there that is in a city—a photographer, a general store, several barber and shoe shine shops, and all such things, not forgetting the important, the canteen, where everything that appeals to the inner man can be obtained.

Below the men's tents, in a separate smaller camp, are the officers' tents, and the hospital tents. Here the big flag poles are placed and on the top floats the Union Jack, which is run up the first thing every morning and hauled down at sunset every night. In front of the hospital tents, on a shorter pole, but high enough to be seen from any part of the camp, is the flag bearing the Red Cross, and here come all the men who have or think they have anything wrong with them, to be treated. As soon as a man arrives in camp he is taken to these tents and re-examined to make sure that he is all right physically, after which he is taken to the tent that is to be his and given his mattress, rubber sheet, and blankets. Then he is put to work at his supper, after which he turns in. The "first post" is sounded at 9.30, the "last post" at ten and "lights out" at 10.15, after which the camp is silent, except for the tread of the sentries.

The weather for the last week or two has been delightful, though a bit chilly in the early morning, but the men will soon be moved to their winter quarters in St. John. It is expected. At times there are lively discussions between the New Brunswickers and the Nova Scotians as to which is the better for them to go, St. John or Halifax, for neither will give in that the other place is any thing like as good as their own.

GUSTAVE HARTWIG, Suspected German Spy.

Gustave Hartwig, the young German, who was taken into custody on Saturday afternoon, was yesterday morning handed over to a military guard at police headquarters and after being handcuffed the escort took him on the Atlantic express bound for the internment camp at Amherst, N. S., where he will be closely guarded and no chances will be given him to again escape. When being taken away from headquarters Hartwig did not have anything to say but took his capture as a matter of course.

A resident of Campbell Island, who read the account of Hartwig's escape from Halifax in yesterday's Standard, and also the description of the man, said that he tallied greatly with a young man who was about Campbell Island for some days recently. It is believed that the man who was representing himself to be a salesman was Hartwig. He was making a house to house canvass selling rollers for a kitchen table, and it was a wonder to the residents that he was able to make a living as his sales were not many. The young man spoke with a German accent and one day recently a woman on whom he had called to try and sell the kitchen utensil, inquired if he was not a German. The man replied that he was not and then asked "What would the people do to me here if I thought I was a German?" The woman replied that if the men on the island had good reasons to believe that he was a German they would not hesitate in tying him to a tree and shooting him. The man did not remain any longer but hastened to the hotel where he paid his bill, took his grip and made a quick departure.

Saturday afternoon when Hartwig was taken into custody he gave a false name and claimed that he was a resident of Eastport, Maine.

Owing to the charts and the notes of soundings along the coast that Hartwig had in his possession when arrested it is believed he has been prowling along the Canadian coast for some time past making plans and taking notes of the harbors and coves, and the distances from place to place. This information would be most valuable in case submarines of the German navy should happen to pay a visit to this section.

There are at present in the city in the vicinity of two hundred Austrians who are employed here, and the majority cannot speak the English language. They report at police headquarters on the 15th and 30th of every month.

THEY SAID CHILD COULD NOT LIVE

Mother tells how Zam-Buk worked almost a Miracle.

"I wish to let you know of a wonderful instance of the healing power of Zam-Buk," writes Mrs. A. Bruhm, of West Northfield, N. S. "While my little daughter was playing around a bonfire, her clothes caught fire, and she was so badly burned that those who saw her said she could not live. We knew how fine Zam-Buk is, and at once secured a big supply and swathed the child in bandages covered with Zam-Buk. The soothing effect of the balm was greatly reduced. This treatment was continued, and in few days the child was on the way to recovery. Naturally, we kept on using Zam-Buk until the pain was finally banished. Healing went on rapidly, and at last my child was quite restored to health.

"After this experience you may rest assured that our home will never be without Zam-Buk, and I would most heartily recommend other mothers to keep it handy at all times." Is there no child, no adult, in your circle who would benefit from Zam-Buk? Remember the balm is a sure cure for eczema, ulcers, abscesses, ringworm, babies' rashes, inflamed sores, old wounds, etc., as well as for cuts, burns and scalds. Zam-Buk may be had from all druggists and stores for only 50c. box, or direct from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. Zam-Buk is so good that it has been imitated, and more or less harmful imitations are on the market; so be sure to see the name "Zam-Buk" (protected by law) on the box before parting with your money.

QUEEN SOPHIE THE MODERN JEZEBEL

Rev. Ralph J. Haughton draws interesting comparison—A Lady Macbeth

"Queen Jezebel and her modern counterpart the Lady Macbeth of the Twentieth Century," was the subject of an address by Rev. Ralph J. Haughton, in the Congregational church Sunday night. He said in part:

"What Lady Macbeth was in the life and career of her husband, that Jezebel was in the life and career of King Ahab. In the life of Jezebel we have the spectacle of a strong, fierce and wicked woman, completely dominating a feeble consort. Queen Jezebel, like Lady Macbeth, presents a serious study of the possibilities of depraved womanhood. It is the story of a paragon woman with a powerful personality whose pangs were destined to curse unborn generations.

"In the history of nations that is now being written there is another Jezebel who is striving so eagerly, not only to influence the actions of her husband, but to influence and dominate diplomacy, the fortunes and destinies of the people over whom she rules. I mean Queen Sophie of Greece. She does not seek to influence the Greek people for the best interests of Greece just now. She seeks to dominate the Greek situation for the interest of the arch-murderer of Europe, her brother, Kaiser William. It is said that she has threatened that if Greece casts in her lot with the allies she will leave the throne of Greece never to return. "If that is the spirit of Queen Sophie, it might be the best thing that could happen for the best interests of the Greek people. She is seeking to use her German influence to dominate the destinies of Greece.

"That Greece will cast in her lot with Bulgaria is unthinkable. Bulgaria and Greece have no ideals in common. Greece is the lover of freedom, humanity and religion. Venezuela, that great patriot, knows well what the German peril and the Bulgarian peril mean to Greece, and I am looking for an uprising of the Greek people in defence of their liberties and humanity and the overthrow of the monarchy with their Hohenzollern queen if the latter continues to dominate her husband in favor of the Hohenzollerns and her war-mad brother.

"The day is not far off when Hohenzollern rulers will not be tolerated by any liberty-loving people, and rulers like William of Germany, Ferdinand of Bulgaria, and Queen Sophie will be given to understand by the people themselves that Hohenzollern rule with its pangs and villainy has come to an end. May God hasten that day."

Need a Band

The great need at present is a band. All that is available at present is a few in a while, and one does not know unless he tries it, how hard it is to keep step on the grass. A statement was made that there were about forty bandmen in the camp at present and all that was needed was instruments. Of course instruments are needed but men to play them are also needed, though it is thought that if the instruments were there it would not be long before the men to play them showed up. At present there are about a dozen or so bandmen in the camp and more are needed for it is thought that when a full complement of players is there there will be so much trouble in getting the instruments. The chief need is for lead instruments, such as cornets and clarinets and baritone, though there is need for accompaniment as well.

The buglers and bandmen were especially complimented by Col. Campbell on the neat appearance of their tents and kits at the inspection on Saturday.

Of course it is not to be expected that all the men have received their full outfit yet, but it is surprising how many have received the most of their outfit long before the time they have been there. This speaks well for those who have charge of this department of the work. On Saturday all the men in two of the companies who had not had their full equipment given out to them were marched down to the supply house to get the rest of them.

LARGE CROWDS SEE IMPERIAL'S SHOW

Every Picture in Program of Vitagraph vintage—"Goddess" still holds the crowd—Vaudeville bright and sparkling.

Every picture shown at the Imperial Theatre yesterday was of Vitagraph vintage. It was rather a bold stroke to present this "straight flush" bill of fare, but evidently it proved successful for a more satisfied crowd of patrons the Keith house has seldom catered to. To be sure "The Goddess" was the attraction for many and in this 8th chapter the interest is held up wonderfully. Celesta, accompanied by Freddie the Parrot, who has constituted himself the innocent girl's bodyguard, visits the home of Mary Blackstone, her rival in love. In the meantime Tommy Barclay is having his own troubles with the great trio of money Kings. The big item of the programme was "The Esterbrook Case," featuring Rogers Lytton, Charles Kent, Charles Elkas, Zena Keefe, Julia Swayne Gordon and other famous stars. Every picture shown at the Imperial Theatre yesterday was of Vitagraph vintage. It was rather a bold stroke to present this "straight flush" bill of fare, but evidently it proved successful for a more satisfied crowd of patrons the Keith house has seldom catered to. To be sure "The Goddess" was the attraction for many and in this 8th chapter the interest is held up wonderfully. Celeste, accompanied by Freddie the Ferret, who has constituted himself the innocent girl's bodyguard, visits the home of Mary Blackstone, her rival in love. In the meantime Tommy Barclay is having his own troubles with the great trio of money kings. The big item of the programme was "The Esterbrook Case," featuring Rogers Lytton, Charles Kent, Charles Elkas, Zena Keefe, Julia Swayne Gordon and other famous stars. It is one of the Broadway features which the Vitagraph Company uses in their own big theatre at high prices of admission. The comedy was presented by Lillian Walker and Billy Quirk and was entitled "Dimples and the Ring." The programme of Vitagraph films was really a splendid one.

The Partello Stock Company opened the second week of its engagement here last evening when it presented the thrilling four act melodrama, "A Daughter of the People." The Opera House was well filled and an appreciative audience greeted the good work of the players. Great credit is due the whole company for the splendid manner in which they presented this difficult play. Each individual proved himself or herself master of the part which he was booked to perform. The elaborate and well planned scenery lent much to the effect of the play.

The enterprise that characterized the first showing of the first game in the world's series between the Boston "Red Sox" and the Philadelphia "Nationals" at the Unique Theatre yesterday, reflects the greatest credit on the management of the theatre and the manufacturers of the film. This subject which is, of course, only a portion of the Universal Weekly is a very clear showing of the first game played in Philadelphia for the championship of 1915. It is decidedly worth while, and although short, is of such interest at the present moment especially to all lovers and followers of the sport. War scenes and other notes of timely interest were also pictured. "The Governor Maker," a production released under the Bison brand found instantaneous favor with the large audience present and created no end of comment for the excellent manner in which the thrilling and highly sensational story was produced. The scene wherein the fire is depicted, is possibly one of the finest of its kind that has been seen on the screen for some time. In the L. K. farcical play "A Mortgage on His Daughter," real unadulterated fun wages warm and fast. The great ruby mystery, Gold Seal feature will be shown Wednesday and Thursday.

Holden & Harron put on one of those chatty and stinging comedy acts that never fail to elicit plenty of laughter. They introduced a number of the latest songs, did a little bit of dancing and showing themselves to be first-class vaudevillians. No doubt their offering will attract a large number of people before the week is over as it is novel, bright and absolutely clean. This same programme will be continued this afternoon and tonight. The evening show will commence at 7 o'clock and end at 8:30 after which Sir Robert L. Borden, Premier of Canada, will address the citizens of St. John on matters pertaining to the war.

Tomorrow and Thursday the Imperial's Famous Players' feature will be "When We Were Twenty-One," a play made deservedly famous by Nat Goodwin. The youthful and popular star, William Elliott, will play the leading role in this production surrounded by an array of Broadway talent of unusual brilliancy. Also Wednesday and Thursday the Imperial will repeat that 1,000 foot motion picture of the "Fighting 26th," our own beloved Battalion which has so splendidly acquitted itself in France within the last few days. This picture will be a living portrait of every one of our gallant lads and will be a splendid reminder of the chaps who are fighting for our homes and our freedoms.

Elizabeth Johnson, as the baroness, and John Dugan, as the American manufacturer, keep up the well planned comedy. The remainder of the cast played their parts exceedingly well and added the success of the presentation.

According to the wise sage of old "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," a fact well exemplified at the Lyric Theatre yesterday when it was found that the special feature "Wildfire" was lost in transportation and the Broadway Universal Star feature "Jewel" was secured to take its place. Aside from the inconvenience caused to the management by the hold-up, nobody lost anything as "Jewel" is surely one of the sweetest and prettiest stories seen on a local screen for some time. It presents the capable and winsome star, Miss Elia Hall, who portrays the part of a little girl, in a manner that leaves no doubt as to the wonderful ability with which she is endowed. Her setting is the predominant feature throughout the entire five acts of the story, and it is safe to say that each and every patron was charmed with her artistic work. The supporting cast is an excellent one. The story has to do with the power of a child over the hardened old man of the world, and how by her ingenuity and sweet nature she wins his affection and creates happiness where dissatisfaction once ruled. It is not the story so much as the clever way in which it is exploited that appeals to patrons of all classes and creeds.

Special vaudeville was provided by West and Tate, who in feats of strength commanded the attention and admiration of every patron.

During the evening the "Three Winsome Harmonists," gave the audience a delightful programme of instrumental music. This trio has a splendid vocabulary of pieces and received the hearty applause of the audience.

Red Cross Campaign. A meeting of the local Red Cross Society was held in the Mayor's office yesterday afternoon. There were three ladies present. The object of the meeting was to deal with the appeal for assistance from the British Red Cross Society. It was decided to contribute $1,000 for this purpose. The ladies feel that the local branch is doing all that it is possible to do at this time and are of the opinion that the people have been asked to contribute so many funds that it would not be feasible to make any effort along these lines at this time. Royal Standard Chapter, I.O.D.E., will give a silver tea at the residence of Mrs. J. E. Moore, Germain street, on Thursday the 21st inst. Tea will be served from 4 p. m. to 7 p. m., and a silver collection will be taken at the door. The proceeds will be given to the British Red Cross.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur it Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this thorough your hair taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluff, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.
