Daily Tribune.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 1, 1873. VOL. II Then the Globe, in the delirium of disappointment, said, "Sir John can't live forever—he will soon die, and then"—but Sir John very ungraciously declines to die just yet, and now the Globe makes a dying effort, and in tones of mingled threat and whine, wails out its agonizing prayer to the Governor General "O! kind sir this Sir John wont be beaten or resign or die; he's an awful bad man, full of gouging and guile; oh, don't let the sassion be prorogued. If he gets a fair trial he will escape this Paclic net, for lo, he is a slippery cuss; but we have got popular feeling aroused, and if—boo hoo!—you will give us—boo hoo!—a little time, we'll manage to get a—boo hoo!—vote against him, and then, O Lordy, won't we have—Boo Hoo!"

Mr. James I. Fellows—Sir: I am pleased to inform you that my health is improving under the use of your Hypophosphites. Excessive tax of the brain had so exhausted my body that I could neither work nor enjoy myself, and it was with difficulty that I could sleep at all. I tried rest, and active exercise, various medicinal remedies, and the most popular physicians, and accidentally heard of your Syrup in New York. I purchased three bottles at Caswell & Hazard's, and until Lused that nothing relieved me. Now 1 can eat well, sleep well, work well, and feel well, and have good reason to consider your syrup a most surprising and capital restorer of the mind and nervous system, and advise all who have much brain work to take it. TENDERS For White Birch Logs FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD, nothing has ever been offered which can compare with this Extract of Sarsaparilla. It is found a great promoter of bealth, when taken in the spring, to expel the humors that rankle in the system at this season of the year. Many complaints have their o izin in the spring, and fin the causes above mentioned, for which no better remedy has ever been devised. By its use multitudes can spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system strives to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find its inpurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find its obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better a slth, and live longer, tor cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pashulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO.

himself or his brother Coroners, with whom he must share at the end of the quarter as they must share with him. It is a ghastly business; but there is room for decency and conscientiousness in it, which would not leave a responsible powhich would not leave a responsible position in a grade no better than the Thames "water-rat" or "mudlark" turning a penny and living on the human flotsam and jetsam of the river.

The case of the late Herald reporter, Mr. James W. Coulson, is one strongly Mr. James W. Coulson, is one strongly in point. A week ago to-day he disappeared. On Saturday morning last his body was found in the East River, at Forty-Fourth street. It was bloated and Forty-Fourth street. It was bloated and disfigured beyond recognition, so far as the face was concerned. The body was brought to the Morgue, and Coroner Kessler immediately commenced operations by summoning a jury from among the patients of Bellevue Hospital. A letter and portion H. L. SPENCER, Medical Warehouse. 20 Nelson street, St. John, N.B. of an envelope were found in one of the pockets of the deceased, which when dried displayed the avocation and name of the unfortunate young man. It would be imagined that when this clew to iden-At JACKSON'S, be imagined that when this clew to identification was at hand the inquest would be adjourned, so as to let an inquiry be instituted into the facts. Nothing of the kind. It is alleged, indeed, that the Deputy Coroner thought this corpse seemed to be of a higher class than those usually "found drowned" (as if men were murd "found drowned" (as if men were murdered or drowned by classes); but whatever truth there may be in it, Coroner Kessler saw to it that the corpse was only looked on as a respectable, inasmnch as it was a corpse that furnished an inquest. There were eleven corpses in all to be passed upon that "rather busy" Saturday, and a verdict of "death from supposed drowning" was made out, "name unknown," and Coroner Kessler passed on to the next. On Monday a reporter by accident saw the letter referred to in the Coroner's office, and at once discovthe Coroner's office, and at once discovered the identity of the unfortunate young man, which the sight of the body and clothes confirmed. This case proves a shameful neglect, if no worse, on the part of Coroner Keseler. Then, indeed, he made some show of an inquiry, but as our report will show it was as shamefully incomplete as could be. Is there a measure off gentility which a corpse must present to the Coroner before he can do any more than he did in the first instance with the body of James W. Coulson, or is it ra-ther that; with an indecent, consciencether that; with an indecent, conscience-less haste, he would hurry any dead body to the Potter's Field, lest a law-ful inquiry would interfere with busly following his "luck" in other quarters? A man died at the Park Hospital, and his body was opened at the Coroner's order before it was cold. Is this brutality or that shameful perfect or, the indecent before it was cold. Is this brutality or that shameful neglect, or the indecent haste of both cases, what a Coroner is bound to exhibit? The body of A. T. Stewart, if similarly found, would most undoubtedly be treated in the same way if it had lain sixty hours in the water, and he had not been missed, as is very possible. The mystery of poor young Coulson's death is dark as ever. The Coroner made no attempt to unravel it. Murder lies in wait at dark corners and stalks in the open day; Mr. Coulson was last seen miles from where his body was found. No attempt has the Coroner made to trace him afterwards. This is a dan-BOWES & EVANS, No. 4 Canterbury street. 15 Puns. NEW CROP MOLASSES, for july 19 HILYARD & RUDDOCK. to trace him afterwards. This is a danger that lurks on the path of every citizen. The law does not, whatever its intention, prevent foul play before death. The Coroner, in his haste to add another inquest to his list, makes no effort to search out even the name of the dead; in the present case a direct clew was in his Landing this day ex Arinna, from New York: 500 Bels. COAL, Mad to life's history, Glad to death's mystery, Swift to be hurried, Anywhere, anywhere Out of the world. There, a knowledge is assumed of th life quenched in the river; but how vain the guess work over the lives of those whose bloated, disfigured corpses ar taken up daily from the waters that wash around Manhattan Island; that receiving such pitifully scant attention from those misnamed the "proper" authorities, are urried away to the Potter's Field under the "open" verdict of the coroner's jury? Yet, each time that the eye, skiming over the morning paper, finds scant paragraph beginning— Jas. Stewart & Co. 10 quarter casks PAISLEY WHISKEY. leared up-a life gone out that some-10 quarter casks f PAISLEY WHISKEY.

A passing sigh may be given by those who watch in vain for the return of one they love; but the world passes heedlessly by the slab at the Morgue where the dead reposes, and the corpse, horrible as it may seem, becomes a merchandise. In the pages of Dickens there is scarcely anything that makes the blood curdle like the scene at dusk on the
