

COUNTRY YARN!

SOCKS AND MITTS.
WE HAVE ON HAND—
1300 lbs. Grey Country Yarn;
700 " White do. do.;
1000 Prime Country Socks;
500 Prime do Mitts.

For sale cheap.
EVERITT & BUTLER,
WHOLESALE WAREHOUSE,
55 and 57 King street.

OAK AND PITCH PINE TIMBER

For Ship Building purposes, constantly on hand.
WHITE PINE BIRCH, &c., &c.
R. A. GREGORY,
Office—FOOT OF SIMONS STREET E. - - - Portland, St. John, N. B.
References—GUY, SEWART & CO., R. G. JERRETT & CO.
DR. J. E. GRIFFITH, Dentist.
Office, corner Germain and Duke Streets,
OPPOSITE VICTORIA HOTEL,
SAINT JOHN, N. B.

MARITIME WAREHOUSING AND DOCK COMPANY!

Storage in Bond or Free. Cash Advances
On all descriptions of Merchandise. BANK STERILISED CREDITS granted to Importers.
Application to be made to
T. W. LEE, Secretary.
JAMES D. O'NEILL,
MANAGER OF
OIL-TANNED LARRIGANS!
Women's, Misses' and Children's BOOTS and SHOES!
IN SEWED KID AND GRAIN LEATHERS.
FACTORY, No. 1 ROBERTS WHARF, ST. JOHN, N. B.
July 12/17

MISPECK MILLS, St. John, N. B.

HOMESPUNS,

IN GREAT VARIETY
All Wool Twilled Flannels and Tweeds!
ALL AT GREATLY REDUCED PRICES!!
Also, First Class
COTTON WARPS.

These above named Seasonable Goods are all of SUPERIOR QUALITY, manufactured from the very best material, and warranted to give satisfaction.
Orders from the Trade respectfully solicited.
J. L. WOODBOTH, Agent.
Need's Building, Water Street.
St. John, N. B.

BUFFALO ROBES!

The subscribers are now receiving their stock of
Buffalo Robes!
DIRECT FROM SASKATCHEWAN.
They request Customers who were disappointed last year to place their orders at once, as the quantity being limited, the Skins will be distributed rapidly.
T. R. JONES & CO.,
Canterbury Street.

One of the hypocrites of the "Reform" management is the formal sending out for tenders for printing. No notice even being taken of the tenders sent in from parties not on the subsidy list. St. John printers have tested the matter by sending in tenders, with samples attached, at rates barely covering the cost of material and labor, and never heard anything from them, never knew who got the contract, never knew what price was paid for the work, and have, therefore, ceased to notice these formal calls.

TOBACCO!!

WHOLESALE.
IN STOCK—3000 PACKAGES—INCLUDING:
EVERY DESCRIPTION OF
PLUG, TWIST AND FINE CUT TOBACCO!!
Of Domestic and Virginia Manufacture.
IN BOND OR DUTY PAID.
As Inspected respectively Sold.
JOHN D. ROBERTSON & CO.,
221 Water Street,
PROVINCIAL INSURANCE CO., of CANADA.
ESTABLISHED 1849.
Capital, $500,000. Annual Income, $250,000.

Insurance effected at Rates proportioned strictly to risk, and at Moderate Premiums.
Private Dwellings, Furniture, and isolated Risks at Special Rates.
SAMUEL W. JOHNSON, Agent,
17 Prince Street, St. John, N. B.

The Daily Tribune.

J. L. STEWART, Editor.
FRIDAY EVENING, OCT. 23.

St. Stephen School Difficulties.
St. Stephen is never happy without its faction fight. A railway row, a school difficulty, or some other kind of a quarrel, generally agitates its people. Now that it has two papers each faction has a journalistic outlet for its feelings, and peace is past expecting. The schools are the subject of the present difficulty, or, rather, they have been made the pretext for a fight that is absolutely routine for the happiness of the people. A teacher turned little barfoot out of a public school, the father resented it, and the Board of Trustees sustained the teacher by ordering "that all the children whose parents are unable to provide them with shoes be admitted to the several schools barfoot," thus making barefoot the sign of pauperism. Trustees who could pass such a kid-glove order deserved to be taught better, but, perhaps, it should have been left to the Board of Education to teach them their duty. The Town Council, however, dismissed the members of the Board appointed by itself for their action on this matter, and for other reasons not very clearly expressed in the committee report on which the order of dismissal was based. The Journal sustains the Council in everything, and the Courier is equally enthusiastic in support of the Trustees. Of the four gentlemen appointed in the place of the Trustees removed two have refused, one has accepted, and the other, being a dealer in school books, etc., hesitates. As the examinations are at hand there is very little time for reorganizing the Board. The Courier says: "The disorganization of the Board, at the present time is particularly unfortunate, and we cannot account for it on any other basis than that of local rivalry. The Council is resolved, at all hazards, to retard and impede the progress of Free Schools in this town. And then, to show its sense of the importance of reorganizing the Board, and to prove that it is not, like the Council, open to the charge of retarding the progress of free schools in the town by aiding in the work of disorganization, it gives the following assistance towards getting the school machinery again in running order:

There are few men who want to be made a "jack at school." We are in a position to state that several other gentlemen have been named for the appointment under the circumstances; and we would not be surprised to hear that some of these gentlemen would be glad to take the work of disorganization, if it gives the following assistance towards getting the school machinery again in running order:

There are few men who want to be made a "jack at school." We are in a position to state that several other gentlemen have been named for the appointment under the circumstances; and we would not be surprised to hear that some of these gentlemen would be glad to take the work of disorganization, if it gives the following assistance towards getting the school machinery again in running order:

There are few men who want to be made a "jack at school." We are in a position to state that several other gentlemen have been named for the appointment under the circumstances; and we would not be surprised to hear that some of these gentlemen would be glad to take the work of disorganization, if it gives the following assistance towards getting the school machinery again in running order:

There are few men who want to be made a "jack at school." We are in a position to state that several other gentlemen have been named for the appointment under the circumstances; and we would not be surprised to hear that some of these gentlemen would be glad to take the work of disorganization, if it gives the following assistance towards getting the school machinery again in running order:

There are few men who want to be made a "jack at school." We are in a position to state that several other gentlemen have been named for the appointment under the circumstances; and we would not be surprised to hear that some of these gentlemen would be glad to take the work of disorganization, if it gives the following assistance towards getting the school machinery again in running order:

There are few men who want to be made a "jack at school." We are in a position to state that several other gentlemen have been named for the appointment under the circumstances; and we would not be surprised to hear that some of these gentlemen would be glad to take the work of disorganization, if it gives the following assistance towards getting the school machinery again in running order:

There are few men who want to be made a "jack at school." We are in a position to state that several other gentlemen have been named for the appointment under the circumstances; and we would not be surprised to hear that some of these gentlemen would be glad to take the work of disorganization, if it gives the following assistance towards getting the school machinery again in running order:

There are few men who want to be made a "jack at school." We are in a position to state that several other gentlemen have been named for the appointment under the circumstances; and we would not be surprised to hear that some of these gentlemen would be glad to take the work of disorganization, if it gives the following assistance towards getting the school machinery again in running order:

There are few men who want to be made a "jack at school." We are in a position to state that several other gentlemen have been named for the appointment under the circumstances; and we would not be surprised to hear that some of these gentlemen would be glad to take the work of disorganization, if it gives the following assistance towards getting the school machinery again in running order:

There are few men who want to be made a "jack at school." We are in a position to state that several other gentlemen have been named for the appointment under the circumstances; and we would not be surprised to hear that some of these gentlemen would be glad to take the work of disorganization, if it gives the following assistance towards getting the school machinery again in running order:

There are few men who want to be made a "jack at school." We are in a position to state that several other gentlemen have been named for the appointment under the circumstances; and we would not be surprised to hear that some of these gentlemen would be glad to take the work of disorganization, if it gives the following assistance towards getting the school machinery again in running order:

There are few men who want to be made a "jack at school." We are in a position to state that several other gentlemen have been named for the appointment under the circumstances; and we would not be surprised to hear that some of these gentlemen would be glad to take the work of disorganization, if it gives the following assistance towards getting the school machinery again in running order:

There are few men who want to be made a "jack at school." We are in a position to state that several other gentlemen have been named for the appointment under the circumstances; and we would not be surprised to hear that some of these gentlemen would be glad to take the work of disorganization, if it gives the following assistance towards getting the school machinery again in running order:

IN MEMORIAM.

D. PALMER HOWE.
[This beautiful tribute to the memory of our late Ottawa correspondent is from the pen of one who knew him and the sad story of his sufferings. It will be warmly welcomed by the many friends and admirers of the deceased.]
Yes, they are over, all the saddest days,
All the slow eases, all the dreary ways,
All the dark groping through his theory maze,
Perished the hopes that never her, could bloom,
Vanished the dreams that cheer'd the night's dull gloom,
Buried the dreamer in his lowly tomb!

How rare see 't this winter's winds any blow,
How high soar my joy in the drifts of snow,
They cannot chill the dust that lies below,
O Post heart and Post brain, at rest,
You long, too long, seemed the weary quest,
North's voice was so loud—'to sleep is best!

But for the spirit's wing, at length unbound,
It must be that some clearer air is found,
Some grander Present the poor Past hath
And in that Present, closer to thy Source,
The all-wise energies shall gather force,
And strike into a higher, wider course!

O Friend, O Brother, vast the thoughts that
Ere this high authority M. B. S.
My flow of some falls broken while I sing,
That to you and me the whole world bring.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries in a New Role.
The Minister of Marine and Fisheries in a New Role.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 23, 1877.
The Minister of Marine and Fisheries in a New Role.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 23, 1877.
The Minister of Marine and Fisheries in a New Role.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 23, 1877.
The Minister of Marine and Fisheries in a New Role.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 23, 1877.
The Minister of Marine and Fisheries in a New Role.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 23, 1877.
The Minister of Marine and Fisheries in a New Role.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 23, 1877.
The Minister of Marine and Fisheries in a New Role.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 23, 1877.
The Minister of Marine and Fisheries in a New Role.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 23, 1877.
The Minister of Marine and Fisheries in a New Role.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 23, 1877.
The Minister of Marine and Fisheries in a New Role.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 23, 1877.
The Minister of Marine and Fisheries in a New Role.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 23, 1877.
The Minister of Marine and Fisheries in a New Role.

Common Council.

The Common Council met Wednesday afternoon.

A loan of $2,500 was authorized to complete repairs on Prince Wm. street; the Mayor was empowered to make arrangements to increase accommodation on the North and South Wharf for trading vessels; and it was ordered that new fire alarm boxes be placed on the corner of Mill and Pond streets, Union street, Erin street, and at the Bell Tower; that tenders be advertised for supplying the fire department with hay, oats and coal; that James Millar be ordered to remove the posts in front of his house in Britain street; that a plank sidewalk be laid on the east side of St. John street, between Princess street and Jardine's alley; that a recommendation of the Street Committee, compelling the removal of the marble slab in front of J. H. Murray & Co.'s store, King street, be not complied with; that the report of the Underwriters favoring the establishment of a salvage court be adopted; that the place where excavation is being made on the east side of St. John street, be taken in reference to the petition of the Water Commissioners for more pay; that a large number of bills be paid; that the lessee of lot 24, East side, be granted a committee to confer with the Mayor.

A petition from the Secretary of the Board of Underwriters asking the Council to offer a reward for the apprehension of the parties who have caused recent mischief in the game between the Shamrock and Invincible base ball clubs was a very good one, and resulted, as was expected, in a victory for the Green Stockings, by a score of 23 to 21. The Shamrocks are evidently the champions of St. John.

Many ladies and gentlemen, during the afternoon, were enjoying the delightful day by walking to Lily Lake and other interesting places around the city. Very early in the evening, however, the streets presented a dull and quiet air, the usual promenaders either being at home or attending some place of amusement.

Academy of Music Theatre.
The opening night at the Academy was a great success, the house being filled in every part. The plot of "Le Roi du Tallon" is founded on a husband's revenge against one who had stolen the affections of his wife. The leading character, Count Priuli, was taken by Nell Warner, whose representation of the stage was received with loud and prolonged cheers. It is doubtful if any one ever before had in this city so hearty a reception. He fairly excited himself in the art in every line and action. It was a literary treat to see him as the outwardly cool and calculating and inwardly wild and desperate revengeful husband, in love with the instrument he had selected for his vengeance. Silent and gloomy, holding friendly intercourse with the one whose life he was determined to take, and with her, he was a study in the magnanimity in sparing the wife of his enemy, and the struggle against a passionate longing for a most foul revenge and love of compassion for his helpless victim, gave the audience a feeling, and his words and motions were watched and listened to almost breathlessly by the audience.

Miss Jennie Parker, as Clarissa DeBeauvoir, acted a difficult part well, although she had evidently not had time for the proper study of so emotional a role. She proved herself to be an actress of more than ordinary parts, and is destined to become a favorite in this city. Considering that several of the company only arrived the night before, and saw their parts first at ten o'clock in the forenoon, the piece was well acted.

"Nan the Good-for-nothing" concluded the performance, and introduced Miss Eliza Long and W. J. Stanton. It was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience, and will be repeated. Miss Long plays Nan different from any one who has filled the role in this city. She makes Nan less of a rough diamond than usual.

The bill will be repeated this evening. There will be a matinee to-morrow afternoon. The matinee singing the following season were very popular, as they give ladies and children an excellent chance to see the best plays at a reduced price.

Joseph E. Hopkins, the story woodcutting in Union st., no insurance; J. Higgins, two story corner building; no insurance.

Jan. E. Patterson, three or four small buildings in Sidney st.; no insurance. J. Hogan, blacksmith, tools and stock; no insurance.

Scott & Lawton, carpenters, a large amount of stock; insured for $600. M. Dine, blacksmith, tools; no insurance. Samuel Larter, shoemaker, tools; no insurance.

W. E. Repulke, painter, tools and stock; no insurance. Blacklee & Wilmett, painters, tools and stock; no insurance.

Wm. Finlay, flour and feed dealer, part of stock; partially insured. Sterling & Emery, builders, tools and lumber; no insurance.

Amos Fales, carver, part of stock; no insurance. T. H. Elliot, carpenter, tools and stock; no insurance. Mr. Drury, carpenter, tools, $200 insurance.

Mr. Edwards, mill manufacturer, machinery and fuel; no insurance. G. W. Fletcher, blacksmith, small building and tools; no insurance.

Thanksgiving Day.

A large number of persons went out of town Wednesday afternoon on shooting excursions, some of whom returned home last evening, having had good sport. In the city, yesterday, it was very quiet. Most of the shops except the run shops were closed, and a religious observance was observed in the town. All were orderly and quiet and very little business was done.

The laborers about the wharves kept at work, and the Market Square was covered, as usual, with teams of all kinds waiting for jobs. Services were held in most of the city churches, and were quite largely attended. The Y. M. C. A. held a service of song in their hall in the evening. Justice Gilbert took advantage of the holiday and held no court, but Justice Taylor, in Portland, held his court as usual, and disposed of two prisoners. They both went away with thanksgiving in their hearts, as all they received was caution and their discharge.

There were several boat races during the day. At Courtenay Bay three boats entered in a four-oared sweepstakes race, which was won by the John A. McPherson, entered by Albert Winchester and others. A pair-oared race for $5 a side came off in the harbor. John Pratt and Richard McCready, who rowed in one of Ogilvie's boats, won the race.

The Barrack Square was occupied during the entire day with bare ball players, and with athletic exercises of different kinds. The game between the Shamrock and Invincible base ball clubs was a very good one, and resulted, as was expected, in a victory for the Green Stockings, by a score of 23 to 21. The Shamrocks are evidently the champions of St. John.

Many ladies and gentlemen, during the afternoon, were enjoying the delightful day by walking to Lily Lake and other interesting places around the city. Very early in the evening, however, the streets presented a dull and quiet air, the usual promenaders either being at home or attending some place of amusement.

Academy of Music Theatre.
The opening night at the Academy was a great success, the house being filled in every part. The plot of "Le Roi du Tallon" is founded on a husband's revenge against one who had stolen the affections of his wife. The leading character, Count Priuli, was taken by Nell Warner, whose representation of the stage was received with loud and prolonged cheers. It is doubtful if any one ever before had in this city so hearty a reception. He fairly excited himself in the art in every line and action. It was a literary treat to see him as the outwardly cool and calculating and inwardly wild and desperate revengeful husband, in love with the instrument he had selected for his vengeance. Silent and gloomy, holding friendly intercourse with the one whose life he was determined to take, and with her, he was a study in the magnanimity in sparing the wife of his enemy, and the struggle against a passionate longing for a most foul revenge and love of compassion for his helpless victim, gave the audience a feeling, and his words and motions were watched and listened to almost breathlessly by the audience.

Miss Jennie Parker, as Clarissa DeBeauvoir, acted a difficult part well, although she had evidently not had time for the proper study of so emotional a role. She proved herself to be an actress of more than ordinary parts, and is destined to become a favorite in this city. Considering that several of the company only arrived the night before, and saw their parts first at ten o'clock in the forenoon, the piece was well acted.

"Nan the Good-for-nothing" concluded the performance, and introduced Miss Eliza Long and W. J. Stanton. It was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience, and will be repeated. Miss Long plays Nan different from any one who has filled the role in this city. She makes Nan less of a rough diamond than usual.

The bill will be repeated this evening. There will be a matinee to-morrow afternoon. The matinee singing the following season were very popular, as they give ladies and children an excellent chance to see the best plays at a reduced price.

Joseph E. Hopkins, the story woodcutting in Union st., no insurance; J. Higgins, two story corner building; no insurance.

Jan. E. Patterson, three or four small buildings in Sidney st.; no insurance. J. Hogan, blacksmith, tools and stock; no insurance.

Scott & Lawton, carpenters, a large amount of stock; insured for $600. M. Dine, blacksmith, tools; no insurance. Samuel Larter, shoemaker, tools; no insurance.

W. E. Repulke, painter, tools and stock; no insurance. Blacklee & Wilmett, painters, tools and stock; no insurance.

Wm. Finlay, flour and feed dealer, part of stock; partially insured. Sterling & Emery, builders, tools and lumber; no insurance.

Amos Fales, carver, part of stock; no insurance. T. H. Elliot, carpenter, tools and stock; no insurance. Mr. Drury, carpenter, tools, $200 insurance.

City Police Court.

It is not often that after a holiday so many prisoners are seen in the dock, as on festive occasions the police are instructed to pass lightly over the errand. But Justice McAvity, who presided, had thirteen cases to dispose of. The court went on just as if there hadn't been any Thanksgiving Day at all.

Peter Connolly and James Dawson were charged with fighting in St. James street. Policeman Spillivan testified that Dawson was only acting in self-defence, and, as the cold winter was coming on, at least he had been so infuriated by several witnesses, including a popular fireman who witnessed the affair. Connolly admitted the charge and was fined $10, and Dawson, unfortunately, said he was drunk, and though there was no charge against him for that, he was fined $5.

Andrew Watkins was arrested for offering a boat for sale which somebody imagined he had stolen. The man said he bought the boat in Liverpool, and as no one claimed the boat or appeared to prosecute the charge, he was dismissed. James Ryan was arrested at the Golden Ball fire by Sergt. Hayes, for stealing two pairs of wool mitts, the property of Robert Finlay. He innocently said that he thought the mitts would be destroyed, and, as the cold winter was coming on, he thought he might as well have them as see them lost. The evidence of the policeman proved that he took them from a basket and hid them in his pocket. He was sentenced to the penitentiary for three months, with hard labor.

Daniel Marshall confessed to being drunk and disorderly in Union street, for which he was fined $5. From the arrest of Marshall arose a charge against William Quigg of interfering with policeman McManus while in the discharge of his duty. The plot of "Le Roi du Tallon" is founded on a husband's revenge against one who had stolen the affections of his wife. The leading character, Count Priuli, was taken by Nell Warner, whose representation of the stage was received with loud and prolonged cheers. It is doubtful if any one ever before had in this city so hearty a reception. He fairly excited himself in the art in every line and action. It was a literary treat to see him as the outwardly cool and calculating and inwardly wild and desperate revengeful husband, in love with the instrument he had selected for his vengeance. Silent and gloomy, holding friendly intercourse with the one whose life he was determined to take, and with her, he was a study in the magnanimity in sparing the wife of his enemy, and the struggle against a passionate longing for a most foul revenge and love of compassion for his helpless victim, gave the audience a feeling, and his words and motions were watched and listened to almost breathlessly by the audience.

Miss Jennie Parker, as Clarissa DeBeauvoir, acted a difficult part well, although she had evidently not had time for the proper study of so emotional a role. She proved herself to be an actress of more than ordinary parts, and is destined to become a favorite in this city. Considering that several of the company only arrived the night before, and saw their parts first at ten o'clock in the forenoon, the piece was well acted.

"Nan the Good-for-nothing" concluded the performance, and introduced Miss Eliza Long and W. J. Stanton. It was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience, and will be repeated. Miss Long plays Nan different from any one who has filled the role in this city. She makes Nan less of a rough diamond than usual.

The bill will be repeated this evening. There will be a matinee to-morrow afternoon. The matinee singing the following season were very popular, as they give ladies and children an excellent chance to see the best plays at a reduced price.

Joseph E. Hopkins, the story woodcutting in Union st., no insurance; J. Higgins, two story corner building; no insurance.

Jan. E. Patterson, three or four small buildings in Sidney st.; no insurance. J. Hogan, blacksmith, tools and stock; no insurance.

Scott & Lawton, carpenters, a large amount of stock; insured for $600. M. Dine, blacksmith, tools; no insurance. Samuel Larter, shoemaker, tools; no insurance.

W. E. Repulke, painter, tools and stock; no insurance. Blacklee & Wilmett, painters, tools and stock; no insurance.

Wm. Finlay, flour and feed dealer, part of stock; partially insured. Sterling & Emery, builders, tools and lumber; no insurance.

Amos Fales, carver, part of stock; no insurance. T. H. Elliot, carpenter, tools and stock; no insurance. Mr. Drury, carpenter, tools, $200 insurance.

Mr. Edwards, mill manufacturer, machinery and fuel; no insurance. G. W. Fletcher, blacksmith, small building and tools; no insurance.

A telegram from Digby announces the decision of Hon. Mr. Vail by a majority of about two hundred. The Recorder, speaking of the condemnation of the dock who shot and killed Captain Hatfield in Scotch Bay, says: "When they were first arrested by Sergt. Nicholas Power, of the Halifax Police Force, the Captain magisterate discharged all except Rogers, who had fired the fatal shot, on their own recognizance. These wholly surrendered themselves at the Supreme Court in Kentville. One of them, John who first had them as witnesses, found a true bill against all, they were marched into the dock, found guilty, and sentenced to three years in the Halifax penitentiary, where they will remain to-night. One of them, the Lacy Corkum, when he found how things were going, managed to escape, and is still at large. He is said to be the man who encouraged Rogers to fire the shot that killed Hatfield."

