GOLD ON THE TOBIQUE.

Has the "Giberson Mine" Been Found?

A report from Perth says that Elwood Giberson went into that town with his pocket full of nuggets and declared he had found it the lead to the "Giberson mines," the affair creating a sensation.

Ever since George Giberson, who about sixty years ago was a provision merchant at Andover, found some large nuggets in the bed of the Tobique while carrying provision in tow boats to lumbermen in the woods, prospecting parties have scoured the country to try and find the lead to what was considered to be a wealthy mine. Some people believe that Giberson had found the whole mine in his 66,000 worth of nuggets, but the great majority were not of this opinion.

Edwood Giberson is a great grand-son of George Giberson and his strike is considered a strange coincidence. He will not tell much about his alleged find, except, he says, that it is located about 54 miles from Plaster Rock on the Tobique.

Fatal Runaway Accident at Perth.

Mrs. Edward Carle, aged thirty-eight of Somerville, Mass., was thrown from a carriage in a bad runaway Friday evening and instantly killed, and her mother, Mrs. James Paterson, of Perth was rendered unconscious while a sixteen months old babe Mrs. Carle carried in her arms, was unharmed.

The accident happened about four miles from Perth about 6.30. The occupants of the carriage were Mrs. Carle and her mother, Mrs. James Paterson, and the former who is the mother of five children, carried her youngest, a little girl of sixteen months, in her lap. The horse had apparently taken fright and locking the wheels threw out both ladies with great force. Mrs. Carle struck on her head and was killed instantly and her mother, a person of advanced years, was rendered unconscious for more than an hour.

The child, however, was uninjured and it was its cries that attracted the attention of two men passing by. Investigation resulted in the finding of Mrs. Carle with life extinct and Mrs.

Paterson unconscious and the little girl close by. The body of Mrs. Carle was taken to the home of Mrs. William Paterson, at Kintore, and Mrs. Paterson was taken to the home of Mrs. Alex Paterson.

The affair is particularly pathetic because Mrs. Carle who is the mother of five young children was visiting her mother at the time.

New Hotel at Riverside.

The Reformed Baptists have decided to build a hotel at Riverside Camp Ground at Robinson's Mills to be ready for use at the coming Camp Meeting beginning August 2nd, if workmen can be procured. The building is to be 35 x 70, two stories high, with an addition of 20 x 30 for kitchen and serving room, the upper story to be finished for sleeping rooms.

The committee to carry out the work is Rev. M. S. Trafton, Rev. S. A. Baker and Rev. J. H. Coy. A number of carpenters and handy men can find employment by applying on the grounds after July 15. The committee will be assisted by J. H. Seely of Blaine and Joseph Smith of Bridgewater.

Engineer Wm. Weeks Killed.

As a result of a freight train running into a landslide on Monday, Engineer William Weeks, of the O.P.R., received injuries from which he died.

The accident occurred a few miles north of Grand Falls when the train was coming south from Edmundston at a good rate of speed. At the place where the accident occurred there is a soft bank of earth at the upper side of the track and recent rains caused this to slide on to the road.

The engine was overturned and Weeks was pinned beneath the cab. Soon as possible he was extricated and taken at once to Grand Falls for surgical care. He died a few hours afterward. Mr. Weeks was very well known along the line and leaves a wife and family at Woodstock.

One car also went off the rails but the regular trains were delayed only about two hours.

H. M. Stevens, Somerville, was able to come to the village on Monday, the first time since the middle of April.

A pitiful story of mother love is told of the fire that destroyed the Commercial hotel. In a nook in the building two pigeons had built a nest and were rearing their young. During the fire the mother bird covered the fledglings with her own body and remained there until she was consumed. She could have flown to safety at any moment and it seems almost beyond belief that she did not. But efforts to drive her away were unavailing. The male bird perched on the cross-arm of a telephone pole within a few feet of the nest and remained there until his feathers were singed. Since then he has perched in the same spot, leaving it only for a short interval at a time.

A Lost Opportunity.

Fifty six per cent of the pulpwood cut in Canada during the year 1911 was exported to the United States. This is the fact shown by statistics collected by the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior.

The total quantity of pulpwood cut in Canada during 1911 was 1,520,227 cords. The quantity exported amounted to 847,939 cords, while the remaining forty four per cent (672,288 cords) was manufactured in Canada.

The value of this pulpwood was $3,340,592 (an average of $6.29 per cord). Had the wood been retained in Canada and manufactured here it is estimated that the value would have been increased to about $15,000,000.

Had Canada manufactured into wood-pulp all the pulpwood she produced, she could have had enough to supply a hundred and twenty two mills of the average size of those operating in Canada, instead of the fifty four she now has. Quebec could have supplied sixty per cent more mills than she is now doing, and New Brunswick could have doubled the number of her mills.

But the mills in Canada produce sufficient paper for all needs of the home market and high tariffs prevent shipping. Had the reciprocity agreement gone into effect it would have been a short time only before all pulpwood would have been manufactured at home, since the paper can be shipped far more cheaply than the pulp wood.

Smith—Kearney.

At the home of the bride's father, Burdus G. Kearney in Upper Kent, on June 26 a pretty wedding occurred when his second daughter Bessie B. was united in marriage to Owen Smith of Upper Wicklow by the Rev. G. A. Giberson.

The bride looked charming in a dress of gray voile with hat to match. The bride was given away by her father, the bridesmaid being her cousin Miss Celia Giberson. The groom was attended by his brother, A. Smith.

A large number of relatives and friends were present and after a bountiful repast the bride and groom drove to their home in Upper Wicklow where a large number of friends had gathered and gave them the usual serenades. The bride and groom both have a host of friends who wish them a long happy married life. The bride received a number of beautiful and costly presents. Among the out of town people present were Miss Rebecca Gray of Limestone and Geo. V. Kearney, wife and family of Fort Fairfield.

The Hudson Bay Instinct!

Nature marks some spots on the earth's surface as destined to be great cities. The Hudson's Bay Company which at one time owned a large portion of Western Canada, with instinct born of untrammelled commercial necessity, many years ago selected those places as trading posts for its great domains. Among the places chosen were Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton, Vancouver and FORT GEORGE.

The first four now have rail transportation, and are numbered among the Greatest Cities of Western Canada.

Property that could have been purchased before the railroad arrived at from $200 to $400 per lot is now worth from $5,000 to half a million dollars per lot.

Fort George

the remaining Hudson's Bay post, will in a few months also have rail transportation—one railroad forging ahead from the East and West, and another to make a junction point at Fort George, coming from the south.

This former trading post is even now a metropolitan little City—three Banks, Churches, Stores, and in a few days will have a daily paper.

From present indication a

City of 10,000 People will Welcome the Arrival of the First Train.

Sunset and sunrise are not more certain than the infallibility of the Hudson's Bay Company as a guide to the location of big cities.

FORT GEORGE

is a place where big money has been made already—fortunes will be made there in a few years. Now is the time to invest—before the railroads get there.

Lots can be purchased on the installment plan—$10 down and $10 per month without interest until paid; or 10 per cent discount for cash down.
