Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters

made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of WALKER'S Bitters?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of WALKER'S Bitters in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, in Bilious Diseases.

If men will enjoy good health, let them use WALKER'S Bitters as a medicine, and avoid the use of alcoholic stimulants in every form.

W. W. McDONALD & CO.,

Wholesale and General Agents, San Francisco, California, and cor. Washington and Charlton Sts., New York.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Grateful Thousands proclaim WALKER'S Bitters the most wonderful Invigorant ever contained in the sinking system.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Stomach, Gout, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Liver, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swelling, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Gleet, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Throat, &c., &c. In all these, as in all other constitutions, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Letter from a German Statesman of the Highest Position.

A private letter just received from a German statesman of the highest position throws a very curious and instructive light upon the present and the future of the Eastern Question.

The good people of Paris and their friends are always thinking of us. As a matter of fact, in this present question, it is Russia which most preoccupies us.

The Municipal Election which is to be held on Tuesday next is the general topic, not only in this County, but in every rural Parish in the Province.

It must be admitted that this is a very cold and cynical view of the affairs of Europe, but it is an ominously practical view of them; and the rulers of Germany have shown themselves of late years to be the most practical of men.

There is great alarm in diplomatic circles to day because of the belief that Lord Beaconsfield is resolved to go to war with Russia on behalf of Turkey.

The outlook for a good crop this season is propitious, although it is as yet early to estimate amount of harvest, the grass never looked better, starting at least twenty days earlier than last year, and with frequent rains, has come along surprisingly.

FOR MUNICIPAL COUNCILLORS.

T. T. Odell, Robert Stevenson.

The St. Andrews Standard.

Saint Andrews, May 23, 1877.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTION which is to be held on Tuesday next is the general topic, not only in this County, but in every rural Parish in the Province.

BURNED TO DEATH.

On Sunday last a telegram was received here, of the burning of C. F. Clinch & Son's store at Musquash, during Saturday night, and that Mr. Berton Ginch had perished in the flames.

VOTERS for Municipal Councillors should be careful to have the names of the two Candidates for whom they may vote, written or printed on white paper.

St. John papers of Saturday, state that the schooner Charity, King, from St. Andrews for St. John, when off Pisiquid, on Monday evening the 14th instant, was struck by a squall and thrown on her beam ends.

DEATHS.—During the past week, two of St. John's old citizens passed away.

Circus.—Howe's London Circus and Bannan's Great Show, are to visit the Maritime Provinces during the summer.

The grand musical event of the season was inaugurated in Music Hall, Boston, on Wednesday evening in the opening exercises of the fourth triennial festival of the Handel and Haydn Society.

THE CENTENNIAL MEDAL FOR PARKS' COTTON YARNS.—The medal for Cotton Yarns, awarded by the British Judges to Messrs. Wm. Parks & Son, at the Centennial Exhibition, is one of which the recipients have good reason to feel proud, as the goods which they sent there, and for which the medal was awarded, were not specially prepared for the purpose of exhibiting them.

ANOTHER CONFLAGRATION.

The greater portion of the business locality of Woodstock destroyed. Woodstock has been scorched by fire. At about 2 o'clock on Thursday morning 17th, the alarm was given, it was found that Mr. Richard Clark's harness shop, on Main street, was on fire.

Correspondence.

Ma. Editor.—An extraordinary production over the signature of "Vox Populi" appeared in the St. Stephen Journal, which reminds me of the old fable—the mountain was in labor and brought forth a mouse.

The Fire at St. Stephen.

We briefly alluded to the fire at St. Stephen, in our last issue, but having since visited the scene, and witnessed the great destruction, we avail ourselves of the graphic description of the loss given by the Journal.

The following is a list of the principal buildings burned.—On the north side of Water Street, the Ross building, the basement occupied at the time of the fire by Ross Bros. Jewellers, and Huntley, Bates, & Co., Confectioners, the upper flat being used as a dwelling.

On the south side of Water Street three succumbed to the flames, T. M. Bay's building, occupied by him as a store, and dwelling; Brook's tin shop, Carter's Meat Market; F. H. Todd and Son's large store; the Chipman building, basement occupied by E. P. Barnard as a grocery store, and W. B. Wetmore's wholesale liquor establishment, over-head the Town Council Room, Chipman's office, Erb's Photographic Saloon, &c on the opposite side of the Public Landing were destroyed, the three railway buildings including Smith & Hamilton's tin-shop & factory, also the Railway Depot, Lovejoy's office and iron-rod Mill, all the buildings on the south side of Water Street as far east as the Repair shop, twelve wharves on the bank of the river with over a million feet of lumber on them, and a small schooner, belonging to it is said to a Mr. Thompson Deer Island.

On the east side of King street, were reduced to ashes, Breen's building, occupied by Mr. Breen, as a store and hotel, and Mr. Carroll, as a saloon and dwelling house; W. Johnson's two buildings; Mrs. Quinn's two buildings; Mr. Kane's livery stable; the lock up; Mr. Fraser's, Mr. Kelly's and Mr. Cleland's houses on the south side of Water street, below Mr. Breen's, Mr. Foster's livery stable, the Reform, Club Room Young's Furniture store, the F. Murdoch buildings, Mr. McWhitty's blacksmith shop, the old Bley house, the houses of Messrs. McWhitty's, Youlton, Wm. Cone, P. Branniff's house, and 17 tenement houses in Branniff's Row, and the Railway Repair shop.

Altogether at least 100 buildings were burned down. Between 80 and 90 families, about 200 people, were turned out of house and home, and a large quantity of goods and other property destroyed.

Hermia's House-Cleaning.

"But you see, Lena, it's something that has got to be done," said Hermia Vane, nodding her head.

Dr. Electus Vane who had been mouldering in Holmsworthy churchyard these six years, with the blackberry vines and wild buttercups running riot over his grave—being a great lover of Shakespeare, had called his daughters Hermia and Helena. They were old names, and of course required an explanation for almost everybody—explanations were sometimes a little awkward.

Helena was romantically inclined and gloried in her nomenclature. Hermia set her pretty teeth together, and wished she had been called Prudence, Naomi or any other hundred sort of an appellative.

Upon this sunshiny April afternoon, Helena Vane sat with a book in her lap upon the door-step, making quite unconsciously to herself a picturesque little tableau, under the evening shadows of the great maple which was just showering down the last of its crimson blossom banners to make room for the cluster of tender young leafage; for spring had come slowly the Holmsworthy way that season, and everything was late. Hermia with her sleeves rolled up, had just finished the dinner dishes.

"Some one must wash dinner dishes," said Hermia, "and Helena does so late kitchen drudgery."

"I'll do 'em dear," said old gramma-mamma Vane, an apple-cheeked old lady. "Run along to your sewing. I hate to see your pretty white hands in the dish water."

"You, indeed," cried Hermia. "Not as long as I am here. Why, what are we young folks made for, if not to wait on old people?"

"Helena does not reason so," said the old lady a little bitterly.

"Oh, well, you see, Helena is intellectual and writes poetry. Now, I haven't the brains for that sort of thing even if I cared for it—which I'm ashamed to say, I don't—and so, it stands to reason, you see, that I should be dish wash."

Accordingly, Hermia had washed the dishes and ranged them in neat order on the scoured shelves, and now had come out to have a little domestic chat with Helena.

"Got to be done? Of course it has got to be done," retorted Helena impatiently. "And why can't we hire some one to do it?"

"Money reasons, Lena—money reasons," savagely answered Hermia Vane. "We can't afford it."

"Oh what a degradation it is to be poor!" sighed Helena, lifting her turquoise blue eyes to heaven. "Hermia, why in the name of Midas and Croesus, and all those rich heathens we read about didn't some old rich millionaire fall in love with us when we visited Alice Cope, last winter in Philadelphia? Girls in novels never go anywhere without picking up at least about a half dozen beads."

"But we're not girls in novels," laughed Hermia.

"There was Mark Hazeltine, you remember him, don't you Hermia? That young man with the splendid dusky eyes and white teeth."

"I remember," said Hermia, blushing in spite of herself.

"I know he fascinated one of us or both. Just think how often he used to come to Alice's. If we could have remained a little longer, I feel certain he would have become a foggy conclusion. And only think—"

"What nonsense all this is!" impatiently cried out Hermia. "And what on earth has it to do with our spring house cleaning? There are all the lower rooms to be white washed, the cellar to be cleaned, the west bedroom to be repapered, and—"

"And who is to do all this hard, housemaidly sort of work?" demanded Miss Vane with a shudder.

"We, of course Helena, since we can't afford to have it done."

"I shant touch it!"

"Then I must," said Hermia, with the cool independence which was a part of her nature, "with what help grandmamma can give me."

"Hermia, have you sunk so low as to be a mere household drudge?"

"I haven't yet sunk sufficiently low," Hermia laughingly retorted, "to lie in the dirt so long as I'm physically able to justify my surroundings."

A golden mid-April day! The violets making a blue carpet along the sunny side of the orchard wall; the primroses writing their hieroglyphics adown the course of the gurgling stream; and Helena practicing a new song with her blue ribboned guitar, in the parlor, while Hermia, in the shed at the foot of the garden, was mixing a prodigious pile of white wash, and singing as merrily as if the lumps of lime were balls of embroidery floss, and her brush a dainty needle, weaving its life in and out of silken canvas.

She was dressed appropriately to her work, this enterprising young damsel, with a crash apron tied around her trim waist, and an impromptu Normandy made out of a pocket handkerchief of a pretty pattern, perched on her head, concealed the whole of her bright hair, except where one or two stray curls had escaped, and hung like wondering spirals of sunshine on her blue-veined brow. And if Hermia had only known it she never looked prettier in her life.

"And now, grandmamma, I believe this caldron of foaming suds is ready," said Hermia gaily, and if you'll take hold of the handles just to steady it, you know—I'll do all the lifting. We will begin operations at once."

While old Mrs. Vane and Hermia were toiling slowly up the back garden, walk with the whirring tub between them, an elegantly dressed young gentleman, with diamond studs in his shirt, straight, cameo-like features and dark blue eyes, fringed with long lashes, was advancing briskly up the path.

"I think this must be the house," said Mr. Mark Hazeltine, "as nearly as I can guess from the confused directions of that old idiot at the railway station. And—"

But the current of his soliloquy was cut short by the sudden appearance of a bright face in the door, Helena Vane herself in pale muslin, with blue fillets of ribbon in her hair, a sash picturesquely looped at the side, and spotted slippers, like a dream of Cinderella.

"Miss Vane can you pardon this intrusion?" he began, lifting his hat.

"Oh, Mr. Hazeltine, I am so glad to see you!" cried Helena, extending both her hands.

The same moment Hermia and the pail of whitewash appeared around the corner of the house. In her surprise at the sight of an unexpected visitor above all others—Helena dropped her end of the tub, coloring scarlet as a rose.

"Oh, my dear, cried old Mrs. Vane, trying but in vain to save it. There goes your white wash!"

"How do you do, Mr. Hazeltine?" said Hermia, recovering her self-possession, and advancing with proffered hand.

"My sister is—ahem—practising for a maquerade," stammered scandalized Helena, "and—"

"It's no such thing!" retorted Hermia, blushing more vividly scarlet than ever. "I am not masquerading at all Mr. Hazeltine. I'm in real earnest I'm going to whitewash the back kitchen."

"But can't I help you?" said Mr. Hazeltine laughing. "I used to be a good hand at the brush in my school-boy days."

"I've no objection to your trying," said Hermia gravely. "But you'll have to cover up your fine clothes."

"I'll risk the fine clothes," said Mr. Hazeltine resolutely.

"Hermia! Hermia! are you crazy? protested Helena, turning pink and white by turns. "Go change your dress at once and come down to the parlor."

"Not until I've done my whitewashing," insisted her elaborate twin sister. "Remember Mr. Hazeltine it is your own offer!"

And Mr. Hazeltine, looking into the sapphire depths of those sparkling eyes stood to his heels.

"My own offer?" said he. "Of course it was; and I shall feel much honored by its acceptance."

And to Helena Vane's infinite disgust Mr. Hazeltine spent the whole morning in the kitchen disguised in a paper cap and a piece of old sheet helping Hermia to whitewash the ceiling.

"Hermia," cried Helena when Mr. Hazeltine was gone, and contrived to obtain audience of her sister, "I'm ashamed of you!"

"And Why?"

"To let Mr. Hazeltine into the secret of our poverty."

"If he despises us on account of our poverty," she said, "his friendship is not worth having. I shall not play the hypocrite to accommodate any man."

"He will never come again!"

"I beg your pardon, Lena, he is coming to-morrow."

And sure enough Mr. Hazeltine, made his appearance the next day quite ready for another job of work, as he himself expressed it.

"But you are not in earnest, Mr. Hazeltine?" Helena pleaded.

"Yes I am. I never enjoyed myself more than I did yesterday. With Miss Hermia's permission I'll see the house cleaning through."

"You'll be no use at all with the scrub brush hand broom," said Hermia, mischievously; but I have no objection to your helping paper the little West room when we get the paste ready."

It was nearly a week before they got to the west room, but Mr. Hazeltine came every day. And when they had put on the last strip of bright colored bordering, Mr. Hazeltine laid away his paper cap.

"Hermia," said he (they had grown to be great friends during this al fresco sort of life) "I've a question to ask you."

"Well?"

"Don't you think we work together nicely?"

"Pretty well, considering," laughed Hermia.

"Would you object to me as a life partner?"

"Not at all."

"Then may I consider myself accepted?" he asked eagerly.

"Yes," she answered with a half blush and half a smile.

That was Hermia Vane's last job of house-cleaning.

Helena is single yet. She says she can't comprehend the men for the present age.

Admiral Hobart Pasha.

Admiral Hobart Pasha, of the Turkish navy, whose exploit in running by the Russian batteries at Galatz has been told in the cable dispatches, is well known in Washington. He was one of the most successful and most annoying of the blockade runners of the American civil war, in which service he was employed by the formerly wealthy but recently bankrupt London firm of Alex. Collier & Co. Hobart was a captain in the British navy, and took advantage of a leave of absence granted him by the British Government to go into the blockade running business for Collier & Co. When this matter came to the knowledge of the Lords of the Admiralty he was suspended from his rank in the British navy. Thereupon he entered the Turkish service, and, besides being invested with the rank of admiral, was made a pasha by an imperial firman. He next became conspicuous checking the rebellion in Crete, where his knowledge of the blockade running business was of great service to him in preventing the Greeks from furnishing supplies of arms and ammunition to the insurgents. By a subsequent decree in council of the Lords of the Admiralty he has been restored to his rank and number in the British navy.

Certain Moral Idiots.

Everybody is acquainted with persons who, in their ordinary conversation, constantly and as a habit violate the truth. It is done, obviously, in sheer wantonness, when there is nothing to be gained by it, and when the motive is preceptible. One of these persons will begin a conversation with a palpable falsehood which does not even glorify himself, and when he must be aware, cannot be believed by the person to whom he is talking. That a man should lie for purposes of profit, or even with the intent to exaggerate his personal importance, is perfectly comprehensible; but why a person should, as a rule, set truth at defiance without the smallest provocation and apparently without any sense of shame at the reflection that his mendacity is perceived by the listener, is a very difficult question.

The habitual liar not only do this, but if their veracity is called in question, or their attention is directed to the nature of the obligations imposed by the Ninth commandment, they become indignant and resent the imputation as hotly as if they had sworn fealty to Truth forever, and were shocked at the impeachment of their honor. The better plan usually is to receive the falsehoods in silence, for an attempt to refute them will probably provoke the invention of a swarn fortifying fib.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Gossip About Fashions.

ENGLISH ETIQUETTE FOR DINNERS, PATENT POCKETS, STYLES OF HANDKERCHIEFS, ETC.

English etiquette demands the observance of two rules in connection with dinners which it is the worse possible taste to violate in any country, many delinquents to the contrary notwithstanding. They are that all dinner invitations shall be answered at once—no waiting to see if a pleasanter enjoyment presents itself, and that the guests shall be punctual at the hour specified. That the success of the party depends largely upon these is self-evident.

The next important matter lies with the host or hostess, to settle beforehand the correct precedence, and if there is none, to consider which couple best suit each other. There is several methods of arranging the order in which the guests are to go down; one is for the host, before the dinner is announced, to introduce each gentleman to the lady whom he is to take to dinner; but this has its inconveniences, and the wiser plan is thought to be for the hostess to despatch the guest herself when the host has given his arm to the lady he takes down. Once arrived in the dining-room (the host should tell each couple as they appear where they are to sit. An experienced hostess always takes special care not to seat husbands and wives opposite each other.

One thing should never be forgotten. Every gentleman must place the lady he escorts on his right hand. He should always, when desired to take her to dinner, offer his right arm. Ladies and gentlemen enter the room singly, not arm-in-arm, and the ladies retain their gloves until they are seated, putting them on again before leaving the dining-room.

Owing to the unsafe condition of ladies' pockets, which enable the light-fingered gentry to carry out their nefarious calling with ease and profit, there has been introduced in London a so-called duplex, or pickpocket pocket. This invention consists of a double pocket secured inside the ordinary one, and this again secured by a fastener, to which chains are attached and sewed inside, thus making it impossible for it to be cut or for any pickpocket to gain access.

The color called mandarin plays a conspicuous part in spring novelties. It has found its way into parasols, dresses, neckties and other additions to the toilette. Cream satin waistcoats bordered with lace, having a mandarin bow at the side and fastened at the back, are quite new and are exceedingly dainty. There are also collarettes of lace or blonde, over which falls a fringe of pendant blooms, such as cats or daisies, which are most becoming.

Cambrie handkerchiefs, with colored borders, as well as colored silk ones, are now transformed into breakfast head-dresses, which are large and slightly fall in the crown. For more dressy occasions, silk buttons and small flowers ornament the crowns. Uniformity of color has given way to contrasts, and the newest head-dresses are of two or more hues. In all that regards color in the new fashions the most bizarre effects are produced; as, for instance, green is trimmed with blue, rose and garnet are found together, and blue is placed in close proximity with certain vinous shades, such as reddish violet.

Even garters of the popular colors are now made. A pair costing five hundred francs, included in an imported trossseau, consisted of a rucho of Alencon lace, fastened with crystal buckles and studded with pink straw-colored bows.

Madame Jenny Lind Goldschmidt writes thus prettily and quaintly about her husband and to an American friend: "He is a sincere Christian, and to me the most self-sacrificing husband. Few are like him. This I say because it is so, else I would not speak about him. He is my truest."

ADVICE TO GIRLS.—An exchange says "Why will girls run away to get married? We give it up," answers the Louisville Courier-Journal. "But we know a lot here who would be glad enough to stay at home or jump at the chance to walk off and get married. The boys ain't around asking like they did. It takes more money to run one of them now-a-days than it does to run a steamboat, and they can see more fun with a steamboat. Ah! girls, it's your own fault swap off your silks and satins for lawns and calicoes; shut up the piano and dive into a wash-tub; throw away your fancy needle work and tackle are dhot stove in the kitchen. Instead of receiving Brown, the banker's son in the parlor, keep your eye skinned for Bill Burns, the blacksmith's son, as he goes home from work; kiss his dirty face thro' a broken pane of glass in the kitchen window, and after a while, when he learns his trade and you know your business, get married, go to house-keeping by yourselves help each other, live happy, raise a family that will be an honor to your names and a credit to themselves, die happy, and the angels will not turn their backs upon you up there."

THE TURK AS A BUSINESS MAN.—The story goes that, some years ago, a French diplomat went to see a prominent Turk in the finance administration at Constantinople, and said to him: "Look here, how about that interest which falls due in four days? How do you expect to pay it? You haven't got a penny at your disposition just now, your creditors in my country will be intensely dissatisfied if they are not paid. What's to be done?" "Well," said the Turk "we must put it off until some future date;" "But this is one of those things which cannot be put off," urged the diplomat. The Turk arose with great dignity and said: "My friend, learn that there is nothing which cannot be put off except the day of one's death." That is Turkish doctrine, and the Moslem smile when you endeavor to teach him anything different.

A CURIOUS STRUCTURE is rapidly raising, or rather sinking, in England. It is a church designed to accommodate the crowded fishing population in one quarter of the city. Land being very difficult to procure, it was determined to build a church under the street. The floor of this underground edifice lies thirty feet below the surface of the road, and is reached by descending a flight of stone steps. In front of the church is a long parallelogram, 132 feet by 50 feet. The altar is at the north end, opposite the base of the stairs. The structure is to have an organ in the west aisle, which will be divided from the nave by columns of Bath stone. Attached to the church is a vestry room, also subterranean. The cost of the building, £2,000, is borne by a clergyman of Brighton.

A passionate and revengeful temper rendered a man unfit for advice, deprives him of his reason, and robs him of all that is great and noble in his nature.

One does not desire to be personal, but if the younger man who sat in the chair where a lady had left a dish of maple candy to cool at the festival the other evening will retain the saucer he will save himself further trouble.

TORPEDOES.

The development of submarine warfare has been so rapid of late that it is hardly possible to forecast what potent influence it may have on the war now being waged in Eastern Europe. While England, France, Italy, and in fact nearly all the European naval powers, have been building huge engines of war, of a tonnage, armor, and artillery never heard of before, the torpedo has been gradually perfected, and threatens, at least under many circumstances, to neutralize them. A torpedo may be regarded as a gun which dispenses with a gun carriage, and which, without the vast and expensive agency of a great ship, inflicts as formidable a blow as that of the heaviest artillery.

The original inventor was David Bushnell, born at Westbrook, Connecticut, 1742. He not only devised a torpedo, but a submarine rowing boat, intended to convey it to the bottom of the vessels to be attacked. His practical experiments, however, which he was enabled to carry out with the assistance of the private purse of George Washington, did not prove successful, and the invention sank into oblivion until the commencement of the present century, when Robert Fulton, an American sejourner in France, offered a similar one to the French Government. After considerable parleying, it was rejected, and Fulton sold his secret to the British Admiralty for $75,000. The so-called Catamaran Expedition, an attempt to destroy the French fleet of battle ships and transports off Boulogne, turning out a failure, Fulton returned to the United States, and, during the war of 1812, tried in vain to blow up several of the English blockaders. The rage of the British commanders knew no bounds and the proceedings were termed "un-Christian," "the invention of a fiend," etc. Cousin John Bull has a frightfully short memory at times!

In 1829, Colonel Samuel Colt commenced experiments with a submersible torpedo exploded by a galvanic battery; and after many disappointments, he succeeded on October 18, 1842, in destroying the big Volts in New York harbor, in the presence of 40,000 excited spectators. So far only vessels at anchor had been attacked; but on April 13, 1843, Colt blew up a brig of 500 tons under sail on the Potomac river, he himself being the operator, and at the time at Alexandria, five miles distant from the explosion.

The first European government to adopt the invention was Austria, who laid down a perfect electric torpedo net for the defence of Venice. Russia followed suit, and during the Crimean war protected the entrance of Cronstadt as well as that of Sebastopol harbor by an improved system of ground torpedoes, which kept the English fleet at a respectful distance. The American civil war for the first time clearly demonstrated the tremendous effect of the invention, and at the same time changed its character from a purely defensive to an offensive weapon.

Galled by the soon established superiority of the United States navy, which gradually sealed up all the important Southern ports, the Confederate Government organized a special torpedo service corps; and after sinking torpedoes in every available approach, they proceeded to build small steamers constructed to carry spar torpedoes. These torpedo boats, with an easily comprehensible Biblical allusion were called "Davids," and were in several instances used with much pluck and perseverance as a terrible effect. The United States soon imitated the David, and in 1864 the late Commander Cushing, U. S. N., succeeded in destroying the Confederate iron Albatross, lying at anchor in the James river. Since then the electric apparatus for torpedoes and the torpedo itself have been vastly improved, and numerous new inventions have been introduced, all of which, however, may be classed under the following five heads: Ground torpedoes, spar torpedoes, Harvey (towing) torpedoes, Whitehead (fish) torpedoes, and the Lay torpedo.

It is very satisfactory to find that the policy adopted by the Canadian Government for the management and cultivation of the North West Territories is proving very successful, and promises to be attended with the happiest results. There is peace among all the inhabitants; the Indian tribes are contented; the land is being cultivated; and the Legislative Council, which recently closed its sitting several regulations are adopted for promoting the growth and prosperity of the whole region. Amongst these special importance is attached to laws for the administration of justice, for the regulation of deeds, for the protection of the buffalo, for the establishments of ferries, for the prevention of gambling, and for the promotion of other needed reforms. All these things tend to develop the resources of the country, and give security to the people, and will thus contribute to the future wealth and power which the North-West is sure to attain.

The St. Andrews Standard.

Saint Andrews, May 30, 1877.

First Municipal Election.

A public meeting was held in the Court House yesterday for the purpose of nominating Candidates for County Councillors. Alex. T. Paul, Esq., was unanimously elected chairman, and having been duly sworn, declared the meeting open for nominations.

The following is a very brief outline of the proceedings, which, through the excellent management of the chairman, were conducted with his usual ability. Wm. Whitlock Esq., in proposing Robt. Stevenson Esq., said—Before nominating the gentleman he intended, he wished to make a few remarks. He had been for many years associated with Mr. Robt. Stevenson both in a public and private capacity, and knew him to be a man of integrity and honorable views, and thoroughly acquainted with all the Parish business; but said he, he is a Magistrate, and in the opinion of these would-be reformers incompetent to fill any public office. He himself had been a Magistrate for 25 years past and sees all dignified in the contemptible slip I hold in my hand, as a set of unprincipled scoundrels, which I do not think the record of our lives merits. He then nominated Mr. Stevenson.

J. R. Baillie Esq., in a few well chosen remarks nominated T. Y. Odell Esq., as a proper person for County Councillor.

Mr. S. Billings nominated Mr. W. D. Hart, for a County Councillor, "not being a Magistrate." Mr. Nathan Trevellick, nominated Mr. Robert Glenn, "not being a Magistrate."

Mr. W. P. O'Brien nominated Mr. Robert Dunsmore.

The Candidates then addressed the electors, Mr. Dunsmore being the first speaker, and observed that it was the wish of many friends that he should offer as a Candidate, he had come out at a late hour, and felt he could not be elected, and thought it his duty to "step out," that this would be an introduction and he might come forward at another time.

Mr. Stevenson next spoke, alluding to his residence in the Parish for over 50 years, that he had at various times held different Parish Offices and served the people faithfully. He also referred to the changes effected by him in reference to the Commons Lands, every foot of which, he knew, and long before he was appointed a Justice of the Peace, he had resolved to obtain redress for the tenants, and accordingly had a bill drawn up which had passed the Legislature, empowering the Justices to sell the lands to tenants who desired to purchase. The Act proved beneficial to the Town, as by its provision the land was not to be sold at a less sum than would realize 6 per cent. on amount of rent. That he had paid a rate of $13.10, and the amount realized and interest paid $18.20. This did not look like reducing the revenues of the Town as had been falsely asserted. The same system has been adopted in P. E. Island and Lower Canada.

Mr. Odell addressed the Electors at some length with considerable effect, stating his reasons for offering, being the largest taxpayer, and also desirous to reduce the taxes, as he had essayed to do at the Sessions. He had never been charged with extravagance either in his own or the public business; had held various Parish offices in connection with Mr. Stevenson, and had found him honorable and attentive, and hoped that all who voted for him (Mr. Odell) would also do so for Mr. Stevenson. He did not wish the ticket split but "vote for Odell and Stevenson." His taxes had increased from $9 to $40, and at the rate they were increasing, he feared they would drive the people out of the county.

Mr. Hart said he had not come forward at his own wish, but at the request of a large number of ratepayers at a public meeting. He had not solicited a vote, and added that if Mr. Odell was the largest taxpayer, he was the largest employer of labor in the town.

Mr. Glenn said he had been called out at a respectable public meeting of ratepayers which was open to every one, he also declared that he had not asked any one for a vote. The Press was not with his party, and after some further observations, indulged in some chaff at the Standard's expense, which it can well bear in these exciting times, and take in good part.

A poll was opened at 11 o'clock, when voting commenced briskly. The following is the result as declared by the Sheriff after the votes were counted.

The Sheriff declared T. Y. Odell and Robert Stevenson elected to fill the office of County Councillors.

Cheers were then given for the Sheriff and the Candidates.

The following persons have been elected. Councillors:— St. Croix—Russell, Ridoout, St. Patrick—McLaughlin, Stevenson, St. David—Cotterill, Moore, Dumbarton—Hill, Emerson, Lepreux—Hanson, Baker, Clarendon—McMongle, Magee. What is to become of us? a large majority of Councillors are Magistrates.

A correspondent enquires—"Is our Rural Cemetery to be made a cow pasture and farm, is it not disgraceful that the repository of the dead, is thus sacrilegiously treated? The writer adds, 'I will publish a statement of facts over my own signature, if the Directors do not attend to the matter at once.'"

The opinion expressed in last week's issue, based upon public feeling, that 'St. Andrews would return Messrs. Odell and Stevenson for County Councillors,' has been confirmed.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTH DAY was observed here by firing a Royal Salute at the Fort under direction of Capt. Bolton and Lieut. Hall. The Union Jack was floating in the breeze from the Public Buildings. Very few stores were closed. A game of base ball was played at the Point, by some of our young townsmen and the day passed quietly.

The tug "Utopia" is being fitted up by Mr. George Elliot, and is to be ready to make her usual trips between St. George and St. Andrews, to connect with the Belle Brown in course of a few days. This will be a great accommodation to St. George and St. Andrews people, and we trust the enterprise will be amply rewarded.

New Post Office.—An office has been established at Bartlett's Mills, Parish of St. Croix, J. C. Bartlett, Esq., Postmaster. This will be a great accommodation to residents in that vicinity.

The Very Rev. Dr. Hannan was on Saturday last consecrated R. C. Archbishop of Halifax. Archbishop Hannan occupies his high position possessing the esteem and good wishes of the people of Halifax, of all denominations, who join in expressing their gratifications, at his elevation to the prominent and responsible position to which he had been nominated. A very full account of the consecration ceremonies, which were very imposing, is given in the Halifax papers of Monday.

A TRILING MISTAKE.—The following little incident is worthy of record: In the House of Peers, during the examination of the magistrates of Edinburgh, touching the particulars of the White's Mob, in 1736, the Duke of Newcastle having asked the Provost with what kind of shot the town-guard, commanded by Porteous, had loaded their muskets, received the unexpected reply, "Oh, just sic as one shoos ducks and fools wi'!" The answer was considered as a contempt of the House of Lords, and the poor Provost would have suffered from misconception of his patriots, had not the Duke of Argyll (who must have been exceedingly amused) explained that the worthy chief magistrate's expression, when rendered into English, meant to describe the shot used for ducks and waterfowl.

The Masonic Fraternity of Halifax will have a big day on the 6th of June, that being the time appointed for the dedication of their new hall situated on Grandville and Salter Streets, amongst other amusements provided for the occasion, Mr. A. B. Wilford, of the Fisheries Establishment of Bedford, will give an exhibition, which will be both novel and interesting, showing the development of a salmon, from the spawn to the full grown fish. Our Masonic friends will leave no stone unturned to make this occasion worthy of the craft.

A GOOSE'S FIGHT WITH A BULL.—A hoary throated bull near this village, noted for his fierceness, accidentally stepped on one of a brood of goslings recently which a stately gander was holding watch and ward over with great solicitude. Straightway the gander attacked the bull, and seizing him by the tail with his beak, his wings lashed the animal's flanks with the greatest fury. In vain the bull wheeled about to reach his antagonist, the gander wheeled with him, all the while retaining his hold upon the bull's tail, and showering blows with his powerful wings with telling effect upon the bull's legs, until he fairly roared with pain and terror. At last the gander, apparently thinking that his adversary had sufficient punishment, let go his hold and the bull took to his heels with the liveliest speed, only stopping when he reached the farthest corner of the field.—Middleton Argus.

FOREST FIRES.—For several weeks desolative fires have been raging through the forests in North-eastern New York; also in the mountains surrounding Bennington, Vt., also in New Hampshire and in Canada at various points. In many cases, villages, mills, depots, and other railroad property have been consumed. Thousands of acres of forest are being burned over. Many bridges have been destroyed, and fences have been removed from enclosures, sitting at liberty numerous herds of cattle. In portions of Canada the smoke is so dense as to darken the day, and the whole wooded country north and west of New York is enveloped in a dense smoke.

Thompson & Glendon have, we understand, secured the contract for constructing the railroad from the Aroostook river to Grand Falls, 19 1/2 miles; the whole to be completed, ready for trains to pass over by the coming fall. Sentinel.

Very seldom for the last forty five years has the Gleaner had occasion to report an occurrence in Clatham of a like nature to that which took place on board the Barque Sunderland on Sunday evening last, by which a man named Joseph McKenna came to an untimely end at the hands of a companion. About 2 o'clock six sober men went on shore to take a walk, they walked for about half an hour, on the street they met a person who took them to some house where they all sat down, and this person was sent out for liquor, which was only too readily obtainable Sunday as it was, after drinking nine bottles it is not very surprising that some of them would be in a quarrelsome mood, and what in their sober moments would not be considered as an offence was in this case so considered, resulting in fight and the death of one of the parties.

An inquest was held on the body of the deceased by Coroner Benson, and a verdict of manslaughter returned against Thos. Campbell, who it seems by the evidence had no previous ill feeling toward McKenna but was incited to commit the deed by the provocation received from the hands of McKenna as well as the effect of the liquor, which they drank while on shore. Campbell has been committed for trial at the September Circuit.

When so much is being said about the Southern Policy of President HAYES, it is well to realise clearly what that policy is, and what so far has been accomplished towards the solution of the educational problem in the Southern States. As explained by the President himself, his sole aim is to treat the South with justice and humanity. Such a policy is needed, and will succeed; and, as now presented by official supports, the prospects of elevation in the South are preeminently encouraging. In almost every State a surprising progress is being made in the number of both schools and scholars, and in the efficiency of the instruction imparted. In Virginia the pupils of the public schools have increased from 58, 974 in 1870, to 184,485 in 1875. In Georgia there were in 1871 only 42,914 white, and 6,864 colored pupils, whereas in 1875 the numbers were respectively 105,999 and 59,359, or a total of 165,349. In Tennessee out of 290,000 pupils, 25,000 and in nearly every other State there is the same evidence of advancement. The result is that happier influences are at work upon the community, and, aided development of his policy, he will be instrumental in producing a wonderful transformation in the South during his tenure of office.

The cashier, Chapman and President Tracy, of the Farmers' and Mechanic's Bank, were sentenced, the former to six and a half years imprisonment for deceiving the comptroller of currency, and the latter to five years for swearing to a false bank statement. The bank lost $600,000 by the crimes of these officers.

Senator Morton publishes a letter, in which he says that a majority of the Senate shall, at the next session, be of opinion that Kellogg, of Louisiana, was lawfully elected as United States Senator, he will be entitled to his seat, notwithstanding events that have since occurred; unless Kellogg should voluntarily withdraw, the Senate will have to decide the question as it stood at the time of adjournment.

Russian Aggression.

A very remarkable article has appeared in the last number of the Eunburgh Review on the development and growth of the Russian empire. It is attracting much attention in political and military circles, especially in view of the action which has been taken by the Russian Government since the article was written. The tone of the whole is not particularly favorable to the spirit and pretensions of the Muscovite Power; but it nevertheless contains facts which no student of history can afford to disregard. During the last six years, the writer says, that Russia has made greater exertion than at any former period to augment its military resources; and this, it is contended, can be for no other purpose than that of aggression. The territory of Russia is practically invulnerable; the people are not naturally of a warlike temperament; and the maintenance of such an immense army is considered as most mischievous in exhausting the country, and in deteriorating the race. Military service in Russia is considered to be a detestable form of slavery. The people submit to it as to a law of nature, because they are docile and brave, and simple minded peasants are converted by it, without any will of their own, into blood-hounds, destroyers, or victims. The whole community is crushed by the service, as military service is the primary obligation of life, and must effect every other relation of society. This is a good deal of down right plain speaking in the article, and it is quite well the whole world should understand accurately the character of the Power which is now making so much ado about the liberty, and independence, and safety, of the Christian subjects of Turkey. It looks very much like a case in which the proverb—"Physician heal thyself"—may be applied.

In Clinton county, New York, a large tract of farming country has been swept clean of buildings, fences, trees and stock by the recent fires. Crops that had been put in the ground have been destroyed, and the area utterly destitute.

Take things as they are, and make the best of them. That is the only true and practical philosophy.

The insane woman who roasted her children at St. Victor de Tring, Beaucaire, Co. Que., is named Richard. She has been sent to Beauport Asylum.

Athena, May 28. A large crowd assembled under the windows of the Royal Palace to-day. Speeches were delivered, urging military preparations and the formation of a strong Ministry. The King was absent at the time.

Madrid, May 28. The Government intend to take active measures to suppress the insurrection in Cuba. Sixteen thousand soldiers will be sent to the island from Spain the coming autumn.

London, May 28. Minister Pierepont and Consul Dodson and Fairchild and a number of Americans, residing in England, will receive General Grant at Liverpool.

The Mayor of Liverpool received General Grant to-day, and to-morrow the latter will lunch with the Mayor at the Town Hall.

A despatch from Berlin says that the steamer Essex, laden with Krupp guns for Cronstadt has foundered off the coast of Sweden.

WELLAND CANAL ENLARGEMENT.

Notice to Contractors.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for the Welland Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western mails on THURSDAY, the fifth day of July next, for the formation of a new line of canal from Marlett's Point, at Thorold, to Allenburg, including the construction of a lift lock, a gas lock, several weirs, and piers and abutments for swing bridges, &c.
Also, the enlargement of about two miles of the canal, from the Junction downward, together with the construction of an Aqueduct over the Chippa-wa River, a lock between the canal and the river at Welland, piers and abutments for bridges, &c.
And the enlargement of the canal from Raney's Head to Port Colborne, including the construction of a guard lock, weir, and supply race, &c.
The works will be let in sections of a length suited to circumstances and the locality.
Plans of the different localities, together with plans and specifications of the work can be seen at this office on and after Monday, the 25th day of JUNE next, where printed forms of tender can be obtained. A like class of information relative to the works north of Allenburg, can be seen at the resident Engineer's office, THOROLD; and for works south of Port Colborne, plans, &c., may be seen at the resident Engineer's office, Well-land.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that Tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and—in the case of firms—except there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same; and further, an accepted bank cheque or other available security for the sum of one to five thousand dollars, according to the extent of work on the section, must accompany each Tender, which sum shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the works at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The amount required in each case will be stated on the form of tender.
The cheque or money thus sent in will be returned to the respective contractors whose Tenders are not accepted.

For the due fulfillment of the contract, satisfactory security will be required, by the deposit of money the amount of five per cent. On the balance of the Contract, of which the sum sent in with the Tender will be considered a part.
Ninety per cent. only of the progress estimate will be paid until the completion of the work.
To each Tender must be attached the actual signatures of two responsible and solvent persons residents of the Dominion, willing to become sureties for the carrying out of these conditions, as well as the due performance of the works embraced in the contract.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any Tender.
By Order,
F. BRAUN, Secretary,
Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, 14th May, 1877.

BOOK AGENTS WANTED
To take orders for the magnificent new ILLUSTRATED DOMINION ENCYCLOPEDIA OF UNIVERSAL HISTORY AND USEFUL KNOWLEDGE, for so much an order Cash. Agents can make $10 a day. A magnificent work, prepared expressly for Canadian readers, and published in Canada. Don't fail to send for descriptive circular and private terms—New Book—New plan—Address, H. B. BIGNEY & BROS., 28 & 30 St. Francis Xavier Street—Feb. 28, 1877 Montreal.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of Walker's Vinegar Bitters?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Tonic of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of Walker's Bitters in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, in Bilious Diseases.

If men will enjoy good health, let them use VINEGAR BITTERS as a medicine, and avoid the use of alcoholic stimulants in every form.
Dr. J. H. McDONALD & CO.,
Druggists and General Agents, San Francisco, California, and cor. Washington and Charles Sts., New York.
Solely by all Druggists and Dealers.
No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.
Grateful Thousands proclaim, Walker's Bitters the most wonderful invigorant ever sustained the sinking system.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. Walker's Vinegar Bitters, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, It is Laid, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its efficacy than a lengthy advertisement.
Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Nodes, Gout, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc., etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, Walker's Vinegar Bitters have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.
Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Painting and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To prevent against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Itches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ringworms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scour, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.
Pia, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuge, no anthelmintic, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.
For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, as the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.
Jaundice.—In all cases of Jaundice, rest assured that your liver is not doing its work. The only sensible treatment is to promote the secretion of the bile and favor its removal. For this purpose use WALKER'S BITTERS.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
