Notes From The Collegiate Halls

Lawn tennis on February 3rd, is a record, at least for the collegiate institute. Two good games were played, one during the noon hour and one after three o'clock.

The girls of the basket ball club journeyed to Woodstock yesterday afternoon to play a league match with the collegiate girls of that city. The return match will be played next Friday afternoon in St. Mary's Hall.

The boys' hockey team played the Galt collegiate team in Galt last Saturday and succeeded in holding the G.I.C. to a tie, three goals each. The Paris boys play in Kitchener today, but our boys hope to maintain their lead.

Mr. J. A. Houston, M.A., one of the provincial high school inspectors, paid his annual official visit to our collegiate this week. He met the board yesterday afternoon, and discussed with the members plans for an extension to and a remodeling of the present building.

The members of the Industrial Committee met members of several other interested boards at the collegiate last Tuesday evening. The committee was reorganized for the year, plans for extending the premises were discussed, the evening classes in session were inspected, and incidentally some of the weaknesses of the lighting system were observed. Inspection committees were appointed to take turn in visiting the various night classes, to ascertain the character of the work done in the various departments.

Women to Share in Work

DECISION TO ADMIT THEM REACHED AT COMMITTEE OF PEACE CONFERENCE

Paris Feb 7—Women will be admitted as delegates to the permanent international labor conference which is in process of formation here. This was decided upon at a meeting of the international labor legislation committee, held today under the presidency of Samuel Gompers, head of the American Federation of Labor.

The question of pro rata representation in the conference as among representatives of governments, employers' organizations and workmen's unions was also discussed.

Shipbuilding To Go On

NONE, HOWEVER, SINCE ILLNESS OF HON. MR. BALLANTYNE

Ottawa Feb 7—Questioned regarding a statement appearing in certain papers to the effect that the Government would stop building ships as soon as 50 vessels had been launched Alexander Johnston, deputy minister of marine and fisheries said that he knew nothing of any such decision on the part of the Government.

Contracts for 45 vessels had now been let, he stated and the decision as to the awarding of further contracts rested with the Government. It is understood that no contracts have been given out since the illness of Hon. C.C. Ballantyne, minister of marine and fisheries.

According to word received at the department, Mr. Ballantyne is now out of danger and gaining strength slowly. It is likely that he will be well enough to go South about the first of next month.

A Premier Fire Ins. Co

were the largest in the Company's history in any single year. Taking the two years 1917 and 1918 together shows an average annual cash surplus of nearly $300,000 while the average yearly cash gain for the past ten years was $214,141.

We sometimes hear persons ask: what advantage is it to the City and community to have an Insurance Company in our midst. I answer that the Economical has performed excellent service. It may surprise some persons to learn that this Company has employed in its field work two hundred and fifty agents scattered all over Ontario whose earnings form part of their living expenses besides the Staff at Head Office whose time is wholly employed in the interest of the Company.

In this City two substantial buildings valued at $100,000 have been erected. The Head Office erected two years ago is one of the most substantial and comfortable Insurance Offices in Ontario.

The Economical through its judicious loans has served an excellent purpose in assisting Industries, Corporations and Individuals at reasonable rates of interest not only in this City but to places and persons outside of our limits. This loaning is the more pleasing to all concerned from the fact that not a dollar has been lost in the past forty-seven years and that now exceed half a million dollars.

Another question is often asked: To what do you attribute the success of the Economical more especially of late years. Many reasons might be noted but two stand out prominently. One is that money well invested creates more. Twenty years ago, the Company possessed over $100,000 which was of material help as a foundation on which to build our future structure.

But a stronger reason than the Cash Reserve came into existence about this time. It was the greater care exercised in the acceptance of risks. We were asked to point to one single item that is necessary to the success of a Fire Insurance Company I would say: Watch the entrance door of applications Carelessness in this respect must produce disaster. Watchfulness is absolutely necessary.

To secure safety and help in obtaining satisfactory risks, we require reliable trustworthy agents. We believe our field men or agents are giving us helpful service which is going far to build up the Economical. This Company like all ventures of its kind, has learned lessons from its kind. These experiences have taught us one necessary word at least—"Caution" which is one of the foundation stones of proper insurance.

In our report, we refer to earnings in ten year periods from 1878. It should be explained that during the first six years of the Company's existence only one Assessment was made for each of the three year periods so that the Company received only two Assessments in the six years. It was because of the loss of these four yearly assessments that no money was made. This light assessment created for the Company an excellent reputation as a cheap insurance Company but as we look back now, it does not seem to have been a wise policy.

The yearly earnings in ten year periods from 1878-88 were $3,173; 1888, $6,134; 1908, $14,500; 1918, $42,141.

Our present efficient Manager Mr. Schmalz, has occupied his present position since 1902 during which period our Company is having its greatest success.

Mr. Devitt's report of inspection and details is a very useful document and will bear close examination. Forty-Seventh Annual Report and Financial Statement For The Year Ending December 31st 1918.

The Inspector's report was presented by Mr. A. H. Devitt, the Inspector, and on the motion of Mr. Fennell and Dr. Lackner it was adopted. The report follows:

Inspector's Report

The President and Directors of the Economical Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

Gentlemen:—

I beg to present the Annual Report of the Inspector's department for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1918.

The gross amount of claims paid, amounts to $76,710.89, re-insurance collected, $3,362.28, making the net loss $73,348.61.

The following classified list of losses, covering the last four years will be found interesting for comparison:

1918—140 Mercantile $43,931.04; 60 Hazardous $24,953.22; 88 Isolated, $7,826.63.

1917—119 Mercantile, $27,777.12; 51 Hazardous $23,646.21; 111 Isolated, $9,074.11.

1916—136 Mercantile, $36,531.97; 67 Hazardous, $33,195.10; 133 Isolated $20,934.28.

1915—104 Mercantile $28,832.09; 55 Hazardous, $32,923.39; 101 Isolated $21,684.47.

Totals 1918—288—$76,710.89; 1917—281—$60,497.44; 1916—336—$90,613.35; 1915—260—$74,439.95.

The causes and origin of the fires as reported to us or ascertained by the Fire Marshal's department, are as follows:

64 unknown causes $40,555.82

3 incendiaries $5,100.00

31 adjoining and adjacent buildings $3,946.90

9 conflagrations, listowel and Pembroke $3,661.03

27 Sparks from chimneys, smoke stacks, cupola, etc. $3,576.83

3 Electric motors, testing, etc. $2,539.00

1 breaking gasoline tank on auto $2,500.00

21 Lighting $2,314.69

27 Overheated stoves, furnaces and pipes $2,218.28

6 gas heaters and irons $1,943.87

19 Matches, children, mice, etc. $1,562.34

1 boiler house $1,500.00

9 Smoking $1,019.82

7 defective wiring $866.19

2 Burning grass and leaves $819.00

9 Lamps upsetting $544.74

1 picker $499.75

2 sparks from passing locomotives $303.80

2 gas burners $232.00

3 explosion $222.70

15 chimney fires $211.85

1 Oil vat $143.37

3 vulcanizing $100.76

4 candles $91.07

3 friction $46.93

1 phosphorus in chemical works $38.45

3 electric irons and heating $25.75

3 grates $25.27

1 on stock of a country store, $2,500;

1 on stock of hardware and tin shop $2,000; 1 on garage $2,500; 1 livery stable $2,000; 1 summer hotel $2,000; and 1 standard hotel $1,950. The Hazardous class includes 2 saw mills $3,000; 2 planing mills $2,500; 2 flax mills $3,000; 2 cheese factories $1,600; and 1 flour mill $2,500. We were fortunate in not having a single total loss in the isolated or residential class.

I regret to state that as usual a very large portion of our losses had their origin from unknown causes. Undoubtedly a number of these should be under the head of overheated stoves and furnaces or defective chimney construction, were the truth known. The amount given under this latter head is smaller than usual although the number is greater which is accounted for by the variety of fuel used during the hard coal shortage.

On the estimates of the Commission of Conservation in the last report on the Fire Waste in Canada, it shows our average loss per capita to be $2.73 per annum compared with $2.26 in the United States and 64 cents in England. Considering the tremendous increase in fire losses in Canada during the year 1918, from $21,000,000, in 1917 to $35,000,000, in 1918 an increase of $14,000,000, our Company has done remarkably well to keep our amount down to the average and show the handsome profit on the year's work.

The Board of Directors and the Management are to be commended on their wise selection and distribution of risks to make this splendid showing possible.

Respectfully submitted,

A. H. DEVITT, Inspector.

Mr. L. J. Breithaupt expressed his thanks for re-election to the Board of Directors, on which it had been his privilege for thirty years to act. Mr. Breithaupt alluded to the growth of the company including its assets which had mounted to over 4-3 of a million dollars. The company had some safely through the war period and was able to keep up its good showing. Now that the war is over continued prosperity was looked forward to by him. He was confident that there was a big future ahead for the company.

Thanks To Agents.

On the motion of Mr. Pattinson and Mr. Schmalz thanks were expressed to the agents for their work. The former said much of the success of a company depended upon the agents. In a five year war period a profit of $40,000 to $50,000 a year was a very creditable one.

Mr. Schmalz stated that the Company always tried to secure the best men as agents. The staff of agents were prompt business people he said as he knew from experience in dealing with them.

Mr. L. Peine of New Hamburg, one of the Agents, thanked the members for the vote of appreciation. Among other things, Mr. Peine said that he was glad a suggestion had been made by the president that the increase in lines of insurance had been considered favorably. This was something he had advocated for some time.

The company had a splendid showing. The figures showed that they could adopt an increase in the lines of insurance.

The New Solicitor.

Mr. H. J. Sims, the new solicitor for the company was called on. Among other matters, Mr. Sims was glad to note that the Company invested many of its funds locally. Not a dollar had ever been lost. The Company was a good advertisement for Kitchener. He predicted another good year for the company.

Mr. Carl Kranz, speaking as an agent, said he was glad to be able to represent the Company and that he appreciated the vote of thanks.

Mr. George C. H. Lang, vice-president, replying to Mr. Peine, stated that it was unwise to increase the lines, and he could not agree with the argument that the figures showed that this could be done. Of course an increase here and there of a $2,500 policy to $3,000 or $3,500 was not objectionable. But a big general increase could not be made.

Mr. Pattinson also agreed with Mr. Lang.

Sample of Debentures Issued by The Waterloo County Loan and Savings Company

As so many Depositors and Investors are becoming interested in the Debentures of The Waterloo County Loan & Savings Company, we are taking the opportunity of publishing a Sample Cut of a Debenture, with information relating to the terms of issue, interest rates, etc. The Company's debentures are issued for terms of one to five years in amounts of $100 and upwards, each debenture having the Company's Seal attached and the signatures of the Officers duly authorized to sign. They are practically the same as time deposits, representing monies lodged with the Company for a definite period.

Debentures written for periods of one or two years bear interest at the rate of 4½ per cent. per annum; those written for three years or upwards bear 5 per cent. Half-yearly interest coupons are attached.

Close to eight hundred of the Company's Debentures have now been issued. Many of these are written in the name of one person; others are issued jointly in two names. Quite a favorite method is for a man and his wife to have a Debenture written in the two names, so that either one can withdraw the funds. Quite a number of Lodges, Societies, Insurance Companies and other bodies are holders of these debentures, and on account of the excellent security behind them, they are becoming widely regarded as offering a convenient method of depositing money, for short terms, at very fair interest rates. There is also the advantage in transacting business with a local institution of being able to realize one's money in case of necessity more easily and promptly than if placed in many outside investments, even though the latter may yield slightly higher interest returns. The policy of The Waterloo County Loan and Savings Company is "Absolute security with reasonable interest rates."

A short time ago one of our Customers, who having transferred $2,000 from his 4 per cent. Savings Account to a 5 per cent. Debenture Account, remarked how glad he was to obtain the additional $20 interest,—the high cost of living made it very useful. So it is with numbers of others; the interest which they receive from their 5 per cent. Debenture Accounts assists very materially in meeting the increased cost of everything.

Debenture Accounts may be opened at either of the Company's offices.

INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION

Another factory is to be added to the city's respectable list of industries. It is a branch of the Gem Crib and Cradle Company of Gardner, Massachusetts, which manufactures a high-class line of children's furniture, including cribs, cradles and baby walkers, in both wood and steel.

Mr. F. Brandt, a practical furniture man, is to manage this Canadian branch, as well as that of the local agency of the Lloyd Manufacturing Co. He is to be commended for his efforts in landing the Massachusetts concern. Furthermore, he expects to see the Lloyd Company establish a branch in Canada and will exert his influence to have it located in this city.

Some degree of credit for bringing another American factory to Canada also belongs to the Protective tariff. Under free trade, the Gem Crib and Cradle Company would probably have built an extension to the parent factory and continued to supply the Canadian market from Gardner.

American manufacturers who enjoy a considerable trade in Canada and who perceive the advisability of having plants in this country, are likely to reap benefits that were not apparent when they moved in. Great Britain will, it is averred, introduce a Protective tariff, though the rose may be called by another name, and when it does so, arrange to give the Dominions, a preference in its markets. The Dominions, in turn, may grant trade preferences to each other. It would then follow that American concerns will, to a greater extent than at present, locate branches in Canada.

This city has not only a large number, but also a large variety of industries. In the making of furniture, leather, rubber and felt footwear, tires, shirts and collars, it is a leader. The Buffalo Forge Company, Jackson & Cochrane and others have also witnessed continued growth since their establishment, attesting that business conditions here for iron-working establishments are good.

Like attracts like. When an American concern comes on a prospecting trip to Canada, and visits this city, the reports given by our home manufacturers go farthest in convincing them of its desirability as a manufacturing base. These can then exert an influence in securing new industries.

It is frequently predicted that grown-ups will see the day when this community has a population of 40,000. The "craven fear of growing great" does not exist. Ours is a progressive people. Yet desires must be backed by effort. Cities don't grow: they are built.

We have a number of large concerns. These are apt to overshadow the modest beginners. The day is not so far distant when the announcement that John Smith was about to establish a factory employing ten persons at the outset and aiming to make it make fifty within three years, would have caused the Progressives to throw their hats in the air.

The city stands in need of the former civic enthusiasm and the spirit that took thought for the small firm and encouraged it along until it was able to navigate. The big fellows can, once they are established, take care of themselves.

Looking forward ten years, what, next to a broad industrial policy, would most assist in making this a greater manufacturing center? In our opinion, there are three factors:

1. An industrial building, where young firms could lease factory space.
2. Technical education.
3. Repatriation of our boys and men who have gone abroad or to other centers.

The idea of the city securing an industrial building, where young concerns could lease quarters according to their needs and retain them until able to build factories, is becoming increasingly important. Mr. Brandt stated, in an interview, that when the Lloyd Manufacturing Co. were obliged to vacate their Courtland Avenue premises, it seemed that they would be obliged to remove from the city. Had the community possessed an industrial nursery this would not have occurred.

The new Crib and Cradle Company would have been pleased to have been able to lease manufacturing quarters until ready to build a factory.

There are other young firms in the city which would, were it in existence, avail themselves of such a building. Firms from the other side, looking for a location, would find it a magnet, since they are not all prepared to build during the first year or two.

If it be granted that an industrial building is needed, then the city itself should provide it, since it would be content to have the rentals cover the principal and interest on the debentures and the maintenance charges. It could give its industrial tenants factory space at cost.

Point 2, Technical education, would take the boy of fourteen, learn his inclinations and bent of mind, direct him to the trade or vocation he seems best adapted for and then ground him in its principles or technique. Given a technical course, he would not only make better progress when he entered a factory or shop but afterwards become a more skilled mechanic.

Point 3 takes into consideration the fact that the intelligence and industry shown by the natives of this city is nowhere in Canada excelled. In the past, hundreds, if not thousands, of ambitious young men left the city to locate in Toronto, Hamilton, London, Buffalo or Detroit. Later on when the community has found placement for all of its sons who went overseas, and a further increase of dependable employees becomes necessary, it could not do better than initiate a movement to get as many as possible of the boys back.

To reach 50,000 it will become necessary to think in bigger terms. The old saw has it: "to make an omelette call for the breaking of eggs."

TAXING THE MAIL ORDER HOUSES

At the coming session of the legislature, an application will be made to have large city mail-order houses taxed on the business they do in outside places.

Together they transact yearly a large volume of trade in the towns and villages of the province. It runs into many millions of dollars. The largest of them has a turnover estimated at $30,000,000, and the bulk of which is gathered from other municipalities than the one in which they are located.

Individually smaller cities, towns and villages tax their merchants for the privilege of doing business. The larger they become the more taxes they pay. None escape local taxation. Even the peanut cart pays a fee.

As a rule the merchants of every progressive center are distinguished for the interest they take in promoting growth; and furthering education and other activities, having for their object the advancement of the community's welfare. When subscription lists are being circulated, they are the first to be called on.

The mail-order houses are said to do as much business in some places as the home merchants combined. They do not now contribute a cent to the cost of local government, for the privileges they enjoy. They do not pay anything toward street building, water supply, sewage disposal, schools, parks, and buy no light nor power. As rapidly as their profits permit, the larger ones are engaging in manufacturing as well as merchandizing. The cities in which they are located alone benefit from them.

It is asserted that they are the chief beneficiaries of parcel post. This department of the national service is operated at a loss and the annual deficits are made up from the revenue derived from letter postage. Thus the general public is taxed to give them cheap delivery.

The Retail Merchants' Association, noting these points, will apply to the legislature for remedial legislation. It is proposed to tax them on the basis of the volume of business they do in each place. This tax to go to the various municipalities.

As the matter stands to-day, mail-order houses have a big advantage over the merchants of the smaller centers. They are exempt from taxation in all but one municipality and the country as a whole help to pay their delivery charges. Were they to continue to go soot free they would in time submerge the merchants in smaller places.

The Retail Merchants' Association has a good case, when they ask that if the mail-order concerns are to dance in other towns they help pay the bill.

With Fingers! Corns Lift Off

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift any corn or callus right off. Try It!

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug freezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.
Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn or callus and instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it off with the fingers. Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.
Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet, shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.
Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus catch you.

THE CEMETERY QUESTION

To the Editor:
A correspondent under the name of "An Old Citizen" there by trying to conceal his identity and his pernicious principles proceeds to offer his previous advice to the Council and cast an aspersion on them of which I am the chief target. "Although no names were mentioned I being Chairman of the Cemetery Committee and as such have to do with the selection of grounds for the new cemetery. As usual 'An Old Citizen' forgets to conceal all the marks of identity by failing to conceal his ears and I am in hopes in the future that he will refrain from such tactics to express his displeasure with the Council. When he insinuates we are influenced by speculators he manifests the principles that a non-deplume seeks to hide.

In seeking a site we have many things to consider and the selection is no small task. In selecting a cemetery great care should be taken to provide for the health of those living as well as those deceased. But the Schaefer and Hamel sites are objectionable because of their location to the South of Kitchener and Bridgeport as the prevailing winds would carry the effluvia from the cemetery over both places. This may seem superfluous but any close observer must admit its application as the whole surface of the earth is emitting an effluvia or aura of electro-magnetism as well as gases of all descriptions. I ask if it would be wise to bury corpses of an epidemic such as prevailed recently so near the city. The germs of diseases are so infinitesimal that it takes a powerful microscope to detect them and being confined in a porous soil there would be no barrier for their escape into the air and thus prolong or start a fresh attack when conditions were favorable. No doubt it will appear as a residence for the soul; regard it as a temple wherein to commune with the divine and we will have accomplished a thousand fold better service than by worrying ourselves with a dead and useless body.

Our mothers wives sisters and daughters would do well to study the new psychology which teaches the great truth: "There is no death there is no dead only a transition from a lower to a higher plane of expression."

This may seem ridiculous to some but we will have to comply with nature's laws or suffer the consequences. Eyes we have and see not. Ears we have and hear not. Let us use our reason and try to find the why for living and we will be the better by doing so.

Don't try to hide your identity behind a non-deplume it is useless. We can deceive more people but not

A Broken Wedding Ring

By Bertha M. Clay

"Yes: we have heard the cause of your mother's departure from England—and a very painful one it was," Sir Basil said the general.

Leah looked up at him; all her so shone in her eyes.

"Let us help you to forget the shadow which has fallen over your house and your life," she said; and his face brightened.

"I shall be only too happy, Miss Hutton," he said, "to return to the lo eliest of h— I have longed to be here. Yet the memory of that night will never leave me." His whole face changed.

"My mother lived fifteen years after the accident happened; but the shock her system had received killed her at last of interest and sympathy, filled with tears, and, as he saw them, his heart warmed to her. How long it was since any one had shed tears for his old sorrow of his!

"It must have been a terrible shock for you both," said Leah.

"Yes, I was only a boy, but I worshipped my sister. You cannot tell how deeply attached I was to her. I think the love of a sister is one of the greatest joys of earth."

Why did the fair face near him grow so pale? Why did the graceful figure shrink and tremble, the hand that held the scarlet flowers suddenly fall, nerveless and helpless? Was it another coincidence that he should value so highly a sister's love?

"For years afterward" he continued "I often awoke with that terrible scream of agony in my ears. If ever I was inadvertently left in the dark, I saw the flying, terrified figure surrounded by flames. But I am cruel to trouble you in this fashion. I must learn to forget."

"You do not trouble us," said Leah, and she did not know how much of sweetness had crept into her voice.

"I should think," she added, "that it would be far better for you to talk about it than to brood over it silently."

"Perhaps it would," he answered gratefully. "You must forgive me this once. I came here this morning because I could not remain in the house. It was haunted by my sister's presence."

"If I were in your place, Basil," said the general, "I would have plenty of friends about me. Stay with us to-day and tomorrow we will drive over and see your gardens and conservatories. We have a pleasant party, and I think you will enjoy yourself."

"I shall be delighted," she said, simply, a faint flush dyeing her face.

"So shall I," replied Sir Basil. And that was how the first day of Leah Hutton's earthly paradise began.

CHAPTER XVII.

Half an hour passed, and they were still talking under the veranda on the western terrace. It seemed to Leah but a few minutes, and yet what a change had been wrought in the time.

Quite suddenly and almost unconsciously to her, the whole world had changed for her—her life had grown complete. But a little while before her heart had been desolate. Despite the brilliancy with which she had been surrounded, there was a sense of chill and loneliness of unrealized wishes, of vague hopes, of ungratified desires—a sense of the emptiness of all things.

It had vanished as snow before the sun, and a sweet harmonious sense of the fullness of life had taken possession of her. She could have stood forever by the passionflowers, looking at Sir Basil and listening to him, but the general remembered the duties of his position.

"You will stay for the day?" he said. "One of the grooms can ride over to Glen for anything you may want."

He did not know that his niece, whom the noblest and wisest in the land had failed to win, was waiting with the keenest anxiety to hear whether their guest would accept her uncle's invitation.

"Leah," said Sir Arthur, "perhaps Sir Basil would like some refreshment after his long walk. You walked from Glen, I believe."

"Yes, I came through the woods," replied the young baronet. "I envy you those woods and the river."

"I will take my advice, Sir Basil," said the general, "you will have some claret-up. For a warm morning like this there is nothing like it. I will join you in a few minutes—I have to see my nephew."

When he had had some refreshment, he will join the party on the lawn. With a smile for his niece and a bow for his guest, Sir Arthur hastened away, leaving them alone together.

I seemed to Leah as though the air thrilled; her heart beat fast, her hands trembled; all the rest of the world had fallen from her, and she stood alone with him.

"This is a beautiful old place," he said. "I like the river. What fanciful lights and shades there are on it!"

The calm, quiet words brought her down from an exalted frame of mind to commonplace life.

"It is indeed lovely," she said. "Do you like boat ng? I am very fond of it. I have a pretty little boat of my own and I spend many hours upon the water. But I must not forget my uncle's instructions. You must come and have some refreshment."

She replaced the trailing sprays of the crimson flowers which she had held all the time in her hands. She did nothing in the least degree unusual yet every little incident was vividly stamped on her mind. With the strange new light about her, she walked by his side down the long terrace. She took him into the drawing-room.

"Bring some light refreshments—also some fruit," he said to a servant; and when her own hands she offered him some delicious grapes.

She remembered every word he uttered, every glance, every movement of his; and when she had taken what he wanted she looked at him with anxious happy eyes.

"Shall we go on to the lawn now?" she asked.

"I am quite at your service, Miss Hutton. Have you a large party at Brentwood?"

She looked at him again with the same calm gaze of one who has forgotten everything then remembered suddenly, and blushed as he had seen no other woman blush before. The first thought that occurred to him

Cross, Feverish Child is Bilious or Constipated

Look! See if tongue is coated, breath hot or stomach sour

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a happy, playful child again. When the little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

Gray Hair Becomes Dark and Beautiful

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea And Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time remedy improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Every body uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Amazing Power of Bon-Opto To Make Weak Eyes Strong

Doctor Says It Strengthens
Eyesight 50 per cent in One
Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Victims of eye strain and other eye weaknesses and those who wear glasses, will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription and many who once wore glasses say they have thrown them away. One man says, after using it: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would pain dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me. A lady who used it says: 'The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without glasses.' Another who used it says: 'I was bothered with eye strain caused by overwork, tired eyes, which induced severe headaches. I have worn glasses for several years, both for distance and work, and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the type writing on the machine before me. I can do both now and have discarded my long distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me.' It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by the use of this prescription at home. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and let it dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start, and inflammation and redness will quickly disappear. If your eyes bother you even a little it is your duty to take steps to have them treated. It is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Notes: Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Yes, the Bon-Opto prescription is truly a wonderful eye remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely used by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice on patients whose eyes were strained through overwork or mist. I can highly recommend it in case of weak, watery, itching, smarting, itching, burning eyes, red, inflamed vision or for eyes damaged from exposure to smoke, sun, dust or impure air. It is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family. Bon-Opto, referred to above, is not a patent medicine or a secret remedy. It is an ethical preparation, the formula being printed on the package. The manufacturer guarantees it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is sold in this city by

Young Lady Tells of Work in France Miss E. Bergey Returned From Overseas

In choosing a subject about my work in France it is always rather difficult to know what people would rather hear about.

The magazines and papers have so much to say about the war and different experiences of the war that we all get fed up on it as the boys say. So most of my reports will be on my work with the reparities in France was so varied so I never found it monotonous and I was always so busy that I never had time to get homesick.

We originally started to France to do child welfare work, but very few people did in France what they thought they would do as there was so much to do that everybody just "pitched in" and worked where it was most needed.

After arriving in Paris and going through all the red tape (of which there is not a little) I was assigned to the A.R.C. children's hospital at Evian.

Germany was at that time returning French and Belgian civilian prisoners through Switzerland at the rate of 1000 a day 500 a train load these people nearly all had skin diseases as a result of filth and vermin and poor food.

Evian lies in the Southern end of Lake Geneva near the Swiss border and is a more beautiful and restful spot could not easily have been found to welcome these people back to their own country after three years of being under German rule.

This spot was so quiet you would hardly realize that there was a war although on a cold still morning you could hear the cannon in the distance. These reparities were mostly old men and women and children.

Some mothers with families. The children the boys up to the age of 14 none over unless they were in some way physically or mentally disabled and the girls up to the age of 15 or 16. Everybody that could be of any use to Germany was kept and only the ones that could not be used sent on so they would not need to feed them.

It was one of the sights one will never be able to forget these trainloads of human freight come. As the train pulled into Evian, you could hear them singing and they were waving the French colors from every window.

The kindly hands helped them off the train while the band played to welcome them back to their own country.

The older people were taken in "cannons" furnished by the A.R.C. as were the sick and disabled.

Some of the people were carrying bundles of every description. Some had dogs or pet sheep or goats or may be a bird in a cage and even chickens. But it must be remembered that they carried all their earthly possessions with them. It was amusing at times to see what they carried.

I remember an old lady, distinctly several of us went over to her but she was loathe to let us do it as it contained something too precious for our hands.

Finally however she yielded and let us carry it. It was so heavy that the car could not take it and we had to carry it on our backs. It was a iron cooking utensil, several crocks and some old crockery dishes. We asked the old lady why she carried these things so far and her reply was that she had these things since she was married and valued them almost as sacred.

At the big municipal casino the were all seated at long tables and served a good hot meal the first for several days. While they were eating these rows and rows of tables the American nurses and the Marcellines at the first they all stand up in a body. They have not heard their national anthem during their three years of exile, and it was a very impressive sight to see them all singing a number of times on the way.

We met the fleeing refugees. They came on foot with their live stock, their donkey carts, hand-carts, wheelbarrows. This long string of refugees on the road here and there we saw families resting and partaking of food by the roadside. We also saw traffic going into the opposite direction to the front, cavalry, artillery, tanks, etc. it all seems very unreal now.

We finally reached our destination about midnight, the town of Beauvais, about 12 miles from the front. Nearly all the civilian population had evacuated it and every conceivable building had been turned into a hospital, there being 14 in all. No lights were allowed in this town. So we made slow progress. Our chauffeur having to stop and ask the Military Police the way. As our chauffeur did not speak French and the M.P.'s no English it was rather difficult to travel. However our orders were in French so we finally landed at the hospital. We had just driven in the gate when a signal for an air raid was given. We were ushered in the operating room which was the only room in the hospital that had lights as it was shaded so none showed. There were two of our American surgeons and two French surgeons operating. We could hear the drone of the biplane above us. The anti-aircraft guns were keeping up a continual barrage. All at once it seemed as if our hospital was rocking, the lights all went out and we were left in complete darkness with our unconscious patients. In a few minutes after order was restored we searched for some candles and oil lights when we went on with the operations. Now we could hear the all clear signal also the newly arrived ambulances with their wounded; also civilians were being brought in wounded by a bomb; also word was brought that two of our ambulances had been struck and the drivers had been killed, the wounded being thrown out on the street. It was an awful night we had all our beds filled and had the wounded lying in stretchers in the corridors and in every available place. All the lights were out, the water was shut off; all we could do was to go around and speak to the boys on the stretchers; they were thirsty and hungry. We could not give them any water as we had none. It certainly was the strain every effort to get back to their beloved country that when they reach there they are contented just to lie down and die.

A good many of the children are sick when they arrive a great many having skin diseases due to vermin and filth. In fact most of them only needed good food and cleanliness and kindness to coax them back to health.

We had to cut the hair of all the children in order to get rid of the vermin and many a poor little girl's heart was broken because her curls had to be sacrificed. But she usually was appeased after we showed her the new outfit of clothes she was to have and a nice new doll.

These children had to be taught how to play again as they had forgotten, but after a few weeks of good care and kindness they showed themselves to be just as mischievous as our Canadian children.

A great many of the children that came back were orphans or had been separated from their mothers and were orphaned by the war. Some were so small that they were not able to tell their names and it will be a very difficult problem to ever trace their relatives again.

Twice a month on Sunday morning convoys containing 500 Belgian children one of boys from 2 to 14 and one of girls from 2 to 15 or 16. These Belgian children were generally in better condition than the French children as they had been taken care of by the Belgian sisters and priests and were now being sent to the Southern end of France where Elizabeth, the Belgian queen, had founded schools for them.

After being at Evian four months was called back to Paris to help teach French girls to do infant welfare and dispensary work mostly among the French refugees.

The poorer districts of Paris were very much congested and housing conditions were unspeakable, many of the condemned buildings having to be used to house refugees. Needless to say among all this congestion there was much sickness among the children. It was not unusual for a mother and 8 children to live on one small room.

The air raids had begun making our problems still greater. During the raids the mothers took their children to the cellar for safety some of these children were at the time suffering from pneumonia, bronchitis, measles, tonsillitis, and coming in contact with the others in the cellars would infect whole districts. Needless to say our mortality was great.

Then the long range gun began to shell Paris, it seemed to us our problems were getting more than we could possibly stand. These children and mothers had gone through so much that some of them had been driven from their homes and now in Paris the air raids and long range guns!

The children were nervous and high strung. They were sent out of Paris. By this time our refugees were again coming into Paris by thousands from the north and west. We nurses spent our days with our dispensaries and families and in the evening went to the depots to meet the incoming trains of refugees to see them, hot, soot-covered and sandwiches before they were again sent on to different parts of France. We usually stayed until one or two o'clock in the morning.

Both the stations where these refugees were coming in had been bombed and during the raids while we were working we all silently prayed that the stations would not be hit again, so that some of them had been driven from their homes and now in Paris the air raids and long range guns!

Chocolate— a food

It is now universally admitted that chocolate is a food—a sustaining food.

During the war millions of tons of chocolate were sent to the front.

Our Canadian soldiers early found that eating chocolate was not only pleasing to the taste, but restored vitality and gave renewed energy.

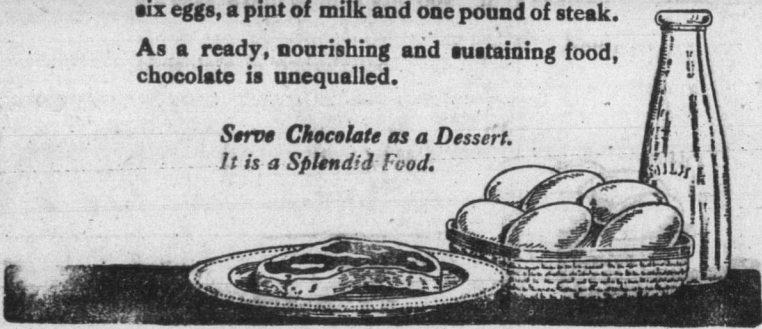

Brigadier-General L. W. Waller of the U.S. Marines, referring to the food value of chocolate, said—

"I never went into a campaign without chocolate. I always have a few cakes in my haversack when I go into action. Men fight like the devil on chocolate. Seasoned soldiers take it on the march with them."

It is a matter of actual scientific demonstration that one pound of chocolate produces the same amount of body-building nutriment as six eggs, a pint of milk and one pound of steak.

As a ready, nourishing and sustaining food, chocolate is unequalled.

Serve Chocolate as a Dessert.
It is a Splendid Food.

CONSERVATION OF HEALTH

AN IMPORTANT DUTY

CARE IN DIET SAVES BOTH FOOD AND HEALTH.

The Use of a Tonic to Keep the Blood Built Up and the Nerves From Being Undernourished Strongly Recommended at This Season.

Nature is always fighting to keep us well. Under normal conditions the forces of health within our bodies keep the disease germs in subjection. They are not expelled entirely, but they are kept harmless. Some indiscretion in diet and the digestion is upset; overwork and worry disturbs the nervous system, the blood gets thin and watery and the ever present disease germs assert themselves. The blood fights the body's battles, but the blood can only keep you healthy when it is rich, red and pure. That is why it is of the greatest importance that thin-blooded people, people with pale faces or those troubled with skin blemishes, or indigestion, or rheumatism, or any of the many ailments due to poor blood, should fortify themselves with a safe and effective tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills purify and strengthen the blood and bring good health and efficiency to weak, ailing men, women and children.

PALE AND WEAK.

The blood is responsible for the health of the body. If it is bad disease is bound to appear. One person may be seized with rheumatism and sciatica, another with anaemia, indigestion, heart palpitation, headaches or backaches, or unstrung nerves. There is just one certain, speedy cure—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make new, rich blood, and this good blood strengthens the whole system and brings good health and happiness. Miss Devina Laliberti, St. Jerome, Que., says: "Last year I seemed gradually to grow weak and run down. I did not sleep well, had a poor appetite, and grew pale and generally languid. I consulted a doctor who told me I was anaemic and gave me a tonic. This I took faithfully for some time, but it did not help me, and I appeared to be growing worse, and finally I was hardly able to go about the house and almost wholly incapacitated for work. While in this condition a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got several boxes. It was not long after I began their use when I could see an improvement, which first manifested itself in an improved appetite and better rest at night. From this on the improvement was rapid and I was not long in regaining perfect health. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a real blessing for all weak girls."

Do not be persuaded to take a substitute. See that the full trade mark name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," is printed on the wrapper around the box. If you cannot get these Pills through your dealer they will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mrs. W. H. Somerville will receive on Tuesday afternoon from four till six.

The Queen Anne Chapter, I.O.D.E., have donated $50.00 to the Salvation Army Campaign.

Major Beverley Bowne, D.S.O., N.C., has been gazetted to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel and has been appointed A.A. and 2 N.G.

The Future of The Red Cross Society.

Consideration of the future of the Red Cross Society has been foremost in many minds lately, and it will interest many locally to quote the following extract from the meeting recently held of the society's council members of Quebec and Ontario, presided over by His Excellency The Governor General. The Society's Peace Work.

Letters dealing with the possible future policy of the Society had been received previous to the meeting from New Brunswick and from Manitoba. These, with a cable from the Chief Commissioner Overseas, stating that the British Red Cross policy does not undertake civilian relief beyond for those suffering from the result of enemy action, formed the basis for discussion. The following is an extract from the minutes of the meeting: "The whole question was very fully considered and discussed. His Excellency, in the course of a short address, said that for some time to come the Society would still have to carry on the same work it had been doing, but that new features, such as refugee relief, had arisen, and that while the Allied Governments would help the refugees, the Society could no doubt assist in this work."

As to the future policy and work of the Red Cross, it was clear that the nations would have to meet and hold another Geneva Convention and settle such questions in the light of the experience gained during the war. Personally he felt strongly that the Red Cross should become a permanent part of the National life and a National institution, and that he had no doubt

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN.

Nourish your nerves—that is the only way you can overcome life's worst misery—nervous exhaustion. The fits of depression and irritation, the prostrating headaches, the weakness and trembling of the legs, the unsteady hand and the imperfect digestion that mark the victim of nerve weakness, must end in nervous breakdown if neglected.

Your nerves are crying out for pure blood and the mission of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is to make new, rich blood. This explains why these pills have proved successful in so many cases of nervous disease that did not yield to ordinary treatment. For example, Mr. Wilfrid Donald, West Flamboro, Ont., says: "Before I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was in a serious condition. I was not only badly run down, but my nerves seemed to be completely shattered. I slept badly at night, and when I got up in the morning was as tired as when I went to bed. I seemed to be on the verge of a nervous breakdown. At this stage I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In the course of a few weeks I felt much relief and continuing the use of the pills they completely restored my health. I can now sleep soundly eat well and am enjoying complete freedom from the old nervous troubles."

INDIGESTION CURED.

Thin pale people who complain of indigestion must improve the condition of their blood to find relief. The most active blood builder in such cases is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make the rich, red blood which quickly restores the digestive organs to proper activity, and the dyspeptic who has hated the sight and smell of food now looks forward to meal time with pleasure. Miss Edith Smith, R. R. No. 4, Perth, Ont., says: "I can honestly say I owe my present good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My stomach was terribly weak and I suffered from indigestion and sick headaches and was always very nervous. I was troubled this way for nearly three years, and in that time took a great deal of doctors' medicine, which, however, did not help me. I could not eat anything without experiencing the most agonizing pain. My sick headaches were most violent and I could not rest night or day. I was asked one day by a friend to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and consented to do so. After taking them some time I found they were helping me, and I continued to take them steadily for several months, until I found that I was completely cured. While taking the pills I gained both in strength and weight, and I feel it impossible to praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly."

future generations would cherish family traditions of what had been done for them by the Red Cross and of service rendered by their members as nurses or workers. The Society should be made a permanent and lasting institution, not only from a material point of view, but as a factor in solving social and other questions.

The opinion was expressed that it would be a great pity to the Society die out and that if it was to be continued in existence, work must be given it to do.

British Soldier And Good Fellow

"Old Bill," World's Most Popular Fighter
in "The Better 'Ole"

Now that the date has been fixed for the presentation here of "The Better 'Ole" the public are taking a very lively interest in its production for never before was a cinema production so much talked about and heralded with so great a clamor. It was nearly a year ago that the play generated from Captain Bruce Hamilton's famous cartoons was produced in London and it was quickly transported across the ocean and made as tremendous a hit in New York as it had in the British metropolis. Numerous theatrical companies are daily giving the stage play on both continents; and so mighty was the popular demand that the cinema version was soon available for presentation. It very closely follows the stage version and much improves upon it in vital particulars. No real idea of what our soldiers endured and accomplished as can the actual photographs that make up the film version of "The Better 'Ole" and every one of the scenes are true to life and actual. The reels that will be shown at the Allen here February 17-18-19, have just been given from Great Britain, for one feature that will appeal to every true Canadian is that the film is British throughout. Twin City theatre goes will shortly have an opportunity of seeing "Old Bill" the veteran entertaining and heartening his comrades in the trenches and relieving the honors of the war by his bracing optimism and quaint philosophy "Old Bill" symbolizes British pluck, tenacity and resourcefulness, and "The Better 'Ole" the play in which he is so admirably portrayed is both a tonic and an inspiration. The play is brimful of humor, but it also contains a moral, and its message will certainly not be overlooked by the public. Bill's sublimity and comrades Alf and Bert, in his reality clever camouflage; in his heart of hearts he takes the war very seriously and is determined to do his utmost to help in winning it. The play gives a realistic impression of the daily life of the soldier on active service, and this feature is even more clearly brought out in the pictures. The film portrays the humor of our brave boys who display the lighter vein of human nature under most tragic, appalling circumstances.

When the film was shown at the Whitby Convalescent Hospital the boys pronounced it "The best yet" and stated that they hoped to see it again. Old Bill will make his debut Feb 17, 18, and 19th.

The twelfth episode of "Wolves of Kultur" shown at the Roma Theatre on Friday Sat pictures one of the most daring plunges into space ever successfully accomplished by actors and given to the screen. The episode opens with Alice and Bob cornered on a high trestle. Carter the spy, at one end and a train approaching from the opposite side.

They escape in a spectacular climb down side of trestle work. In the meantime the torpedo is being assembled in the cave. Walker returns to his house and determines to set bloodhounds on Alice's trail. Alice and Bob come upon a aerial tram line across a chasm. They determine to take a chance in the dirt car. They are halfway across when Carter unloosens end of cable and drops basket to waters below. Bob and Alice however, climb to safety and come upon the gang. They attempt to escape in a canoe, but are upset.

Bob is separated again from Alice and swims to shore. Carter plunges into river and swims to Alice finally capturing her. Alice is carried back to a very high water tower and made a prisoner at its top. Carter takes up pursuit of Bob. After a terrific fight Bob throws her to a river and continues search for Alice. Alice, apparently without hope at the top of the tower, sees Bob. She finds a rope and drops it over the edge. Carter has returned and is about to reach the top of the tower to get Alice, as Bob has begun climbing the rope. As the episode ends, Bob is halfway up the rope and Carter is at the window about to cut it.

SHE HAS THE "CAMERA" EYE
Leah Baird, the star of "Wolves of Kultur" the 12th episode Western Photoplays serial, released by Pathe is ideally fitted for the role that she portrays in this intensely dramatic story. While the scenes of the play are laid in America many of the characters are of Teutonic birth and it is with them that several of her best scenes are played.

There is a perfection of technical detail as to expression and deportment connected with her portrayal, and her emotional scenes are brilliantly carried. Miss Baird spent some time in Germany just previous to her time to the study of types. Such was that she gave excellent suggestions to Joseph A. Golden, author and director of the patriotic serial. "Miss Baird has a camera eye" he remarked recently "A character she once sees, she never forgets, but remembers all of his or her outward semblance even to the wink of an eyelid."

TITLE OF FIRST WORLD-PICTURE STARRING LOUISE HUFF IS "T'OTHER DEAR CHARMER"

It is Coming on Monday Tuesday Wednesday To the Star Theatre The title of the first World-Picture starring Louise Huff, is "T'Other Dear Charmer". It will be shown on Monday at the Star Theatre and it gives this charming young actress the best sort of a vehicle for the display of her winsomeness and superior ability. "T'Other Dear Charmer" is a really charming picture. It is a story of the present time with the scene laid in a beautiful country home of a millionaire. The outdoor scenes are of striking beauty and it is not surprising that they are when a real deal that one of the wealthy New Yorkers lent his great country estate on Long Island for the filming of this picture. Miss Huff appears in the picture as Betty Halowell, a wealthy young lady who is much interested in Red Cross work. John Bowers, who is Miss Huff's leading man in this production, is seen in the role of Tom Wentworth, a young American aviator who is back home recovering from a wound from a German machine gun bullet. While Betty is masquerading as a French maid Tom meets her and falls in love with her and then when he meets Betty as her true self, he thinks that he has really met two distinct girls, the complications come thick and fast. Above everything else, "T'Other Dear Charmer" is a charming play. It is a photoplay that you will be mightily well pleased with. It is one of the most delightful plays of the season.

FREDERICK BURTON WELL KNOWN ACTOR PLAYS IN

Especially Engaged by Douglas Fairbanks to Play Part of Colonel Bonham

Among those specially brought from New York to California by Douglas Fairbanks to appear in "Arizona" was Frederick Burton, an actor of reputation who created the part of "Bob Hicks" in George Ade's "The College Widow". This was followed by an engagement in London, during which he played "Hiram Stubbins" in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" and also produced "The College Widow".

Mr. Burton was prominently identified with Arnold Daly in "General John Reagan" with Charlotte Walker in Belasco's "Just a Wife" joint star with May Buckley in "He Fell in Love with His Wife" in Augustus Thomas' "The Member from Ozark" and he created the role of "Cousin Egbert" in "Ruggles of Red Gap" playing the same part in the film of that name.

CHILDHOOD CONSTIPATION
Constipation is one of the most common ailments of babyhood and childhood and unless it is promptly cured will undoubtedly lead to disastrous results. To cure this trouble nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild laxative which instantly regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach, thus banishing constipation, colic, colds, etc. Concerning them Mrs. Eugene Vaillancourt St. Matthew Qu., writes: "When my baby was constipated I gave her Baby's Own Tablets and am well satisfied with the result. I could strongly recommend them to all mothers for this trouble." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont.

The Picture Sensation of Two Continents

"THE BETTER
'OLE"

From the Famous Stage Success "The Romance of Old Bill" by Captain
Bruce Bairnsfather and Arthur Eliot.

Five months continuously in Toronto and still running there.

THIS is not an ordinary motion picture—it is the greatest cinema of the day, carrying a message from the brave boys who spent four long and weary years in the trenches, at times under terrific bombardment, but always fighting with grim determination that final victory might be assured for the allies.

THE Better 'Ole' is a different story of the great war—There are no thrilling battle scenes, no hand-to-hand fighting, no artillery firing—You see the daily routine life of the lads who fought so gallantly for victory.

OLD Bill, Bert and Alf, the three famous cartoon characters of Captain Bruce Bairnsfather, are famous the world over. In "The Better 'Ole' they are brought to life in the most wonderful motion picture of the war.

THE secret of the story's wonderful fascination is its close and true analysis of the spirit which animated the men in the trenches, that spirit which kept them cheerful under conditions almost indescribable. The army is full of Old Bills, Berts and Alfs with their sorrows and pleasures—pleasures that make the very word seem a mockery—but true reflections of what the daily life of the boys has been "over there." "The Better 'Ole' will do more than raise a laugh, and dim the eyes with tears at the pathos so piquantly drawn. It will make the people at home understand as never before why the great war was fought to a bitter finish and how much is due to the Berts and Alfs and Old Bills who stood as a living wall of protection for the people at home.

Distinctly different from the ordinary run of pictures--tears mingled with laughter--the human side of the world's greatest conflict portrayed.

You cannot afford to miss "The Better 'Ole."

Acclaimed by everyone who has seen this production to be the greatest heart interest story ever filmed.

Champions Break Even After Thirty Minutes Overtime 1-1

Sticky Ice Responsible For Kitchener's Failure to Secure Verdict. Hillman Registers for Locals.

Hillman Not Up to Standard of Previous Games. Thirty-five hundred fans witnessed the big battle last evening when the Champs and St. Patrick's played a drawn game after thirty minutes overtime.

There is one reason and only one why the Allan Cup holders failed to get the margin sticky ice held them from the middle of the second period to the finish.

In the first ten minutes of the game when the ice was in good shape the locals were by far the superior and it was only the super-play of Crooks in the nets for St. Pats that saved the Irishmen from sure defeat. Four minutes of play saw Hillman slam the puck from center ice but Crooks was there; fully seventy-five per cent. of the game in the first period was played on Toronto ice.

Hillman was responsible for several speedy attempts but was checked by the stiff defense of Heffernan and Cain who made a perfect stone wall around their net.

The speed of the game in this period was terrific and only went to emphasize the fact that Kitchener are at their best on keen ice they were the Irishmen's superiors on the hard stuff and had it held through the following periods there is no doubt that the score would not have stood a tie.

The second period saw both teams checking with great effectiveness Kitchener forcing the game on St. Pats' ice which by this time showed signs of stickiness which increased as the evening progressed.

Crooks again started in this period; his stops were more or less miraculous.

Heffernan broke loss on two occasions but was effectively checked. Heffernan was injured on the head and left the ice Eltherton and Hespeler boy taking his place who was penalized in two minutes for tripping Hillman the period ending with no score.

Two minutes and twenty seconds after play started in the third period Parkes gathered the puck in center ice carried it down and passed to Hillman who netted.

"Moose" Heffernan's Irish went higher than a kite and he made several character rushes towards the Kitchener net. Hillman was off for tripping and Moose took a stab from almost center ice and equalized.

The big crowd had the tell-tale effect on the ice which by now had softened up considerably much to the disadvantage of the locals.

St. Pats' weight counted and they took advantage long range shooting becoming the order but Hainsworth was there every time.

In the first ten minutes of overtime Hillman howled signs of exhaustion and left the ice in favour of Karges who was a great reception and acknowledged by racing the puck to St. Pats' nets; he seemed to put new life into the locals who were showing the bad effects of the soft condition of the ice.

In the second session both teams showed signs of fatigue. Long shooting was pulled by both sides whilst Moose Heffernan made occasional attempts to carry the puck through on his own. The weight of the St. Pats was telling and it was fortunate that the game was confined to the thirty minutes extra the soft ice being no friend of the locals.

St. Pats' Goal Crooks; defense Heffernan and Cain; center Farr; wings Dye and Patterson. Substitutes—Trushinski and Merrick; center Hillman; wings Parkes and Hillman. Substitutes—Karges and Master.

Referees—Tom Munro of London and Steve Vair of Toronto.

Seen or Heard On And Off The Ice

Hillman was by no means the dangerous man he was at Toronto; his performance was a disappointment to all.

Hainsworth stopped some heavy shots from Moose Heffernan who puts more power behind his shooting than any man in this year O.H.A.

A replay will be held here after the group schedule has been run off providing both teams are still in the running for group honors then.

Soft ice accounted for the result given hard ice Kitchener can skate the St. Patrick aggregation off their feet—the first ten minutes proved this.

The softer the ice became the better the chance for the Irishmen; they have the weight and were not slow in using it.

Moose Heffernan is a real hockey player and Kitchener fans applauded some of his work on several occasions.

Karges came in fresh in the overtime; he certainly can keep after a man and given the right kind of ice he pulls some pretty stuff.

Hillman played a fast game and handled Parkes pass perfectly; he failed to last however but that's not a little discredit.

Vair of Toronto made himself anything but popular with local fans; his off-sides certainly did look a little raw at times.

Hopes Women Will Adopt This Habit As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. It only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexion; instead of the gutturalities of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nervous breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

Contains no grit, shell or charcoal. Absolute cleanliness is assured, while the ingredients are guaranteed to the Government.

Germany Fears Impos

Sl

HER OFFICIALS UTTER PLAIN PROTESTS.

WEIMAR, Germany, Feb. 10. (By Frank J. Taylor)—The German government may attempt to use the Spartacists as a weapon to force the Allies into making terms of peace settlement less "severe," according to reports in circulation here today.

Government officials openly declare they will refuse to sign treaty if its provisions are "unreasonable." They intimate that the Government would resign, turning the country over to radical elements, which they believe would immediately create a chaotic condition.

Germany would thus not only be unable to pay any indemnities, but in the belief of Government officials would menace the rest of Europe with the threat of the Spartacist movement spreading. This condition, some German officials argue, would be no worse than "commercial slavery," which they foresee from the peace settlement.

The mental attitude of the military class in Germany has developed during the last two months from one of abrupt depression to defiance and general condemnation of the Entente. The change has been wrought, it is said, by "the lack of sympathy in entente countries for the present economic, social and political conditions in Germany."

German officials, who still retain the old militaristic ideas, are confident that in case the Government should turn their country over to the Spartacists, the Allies would not attempt to occupy the remainder of Germany for some time. As one pan-German is reported to have said: "The world is sick of war. There is unrest everywhere, and the Entente can't take Germany anyway."

The foreign office is seizing upon everything possible to protest to the Allies, as a part of general resistance. Count von Bernstorff has joined the "democrats" and become the Government's principal adviser on foreign affairs. He publicly accuses France of changing the boundaries of Lorraine. "It is very evident," he said

Matter of Alien Enemies

WILL BE GRADUALLY DEVELOPED

OTTAWA Ont. Feb. 10.—The question of the deportation of alien enemies from Canada is a matter of gradual development depending upon shipping and the ability to place deportees in country whence they hailed. So far as interned men are concerned measures will be taken to have them sent back just as soon as the overseas authorities can give shipping accommodation.

Recently the Government was notified that the admiralty could take 100 deportees. The authorities here chose 100 of the interned people and they have already gone. As there are only about 2500 interned men altogether a few more batches like this will remove them.

So far as other alien enemies in Canada are concerned it is pointed out that the problem is not pressing for however desirable it may be that they should be deported as a matter of fact there are a hundred willing to go for every one it is possible at present to transport. Aliens of enemy nationality who have accumulated money which they were unable to spend here are prepared to leave for their native land in very large numbers. So that by the time shipping is available and things have settled in their own land the problem for the Government will pretty well have been settled. No new order in council has been passed nor is in contemplation on the matter in the meantime.
