

TRIES TO END LIFE IN DESPONDENT FIT

Determined Effort of John Sullivan Balked by Motor-man.

The effects of poisonous liquor which induced a fit of despondency, drove John Sullivan, 41 years old, to attempt suicide yesterday afternoon by hurling himself in front of a North Belt street car at the corner of Oxford and William streets.

The car was stopped before the wheels passed over Sullivan's body. He was in a semi-conscious condition. He was picked up uninjured, although as if under the influence of a narcotic drug. He was taken to Victoria hospital where the stomach pump was used to restore consciousness.

Sullivan appeared in police court this morning charged under the criminal code with attempt to commit suicide. Upon his refusal to answer the questions of Magistrate Graydon, he was remanded to jail for one week. The man had been drinking some form of liquor which resembled varnish, police declare. In court this morning he was still under the influence, although he spent all of last night at the hospital.

The North Belt street car was travelling at a slow rate of speed when Sullivan threw his body on the tracks. When the brakes were jammed by the motorman and the car came almost to a halt, Sullivan rolled over several times, trying to force his body beneath the wheels.

Motorcycle Officer Morley Leach, who responded to a call sent to police station, placed the man under arrest, but took him to the hospital when he realized Sullivan's condition of ill-health.

NICKLE SLATED FOR HYDRO POST

Attorney-General To Succeed Sir Adam Beck, Declares Toronto Newspaper.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Aug. 25.—The Evening Telegram today has the following in its news columns:

"That two members of the present Ontario cabinet will be dropped before the government goes to the country after its first term in office is learned from most reliable sources. The most important office for which a new incumbent will be sought is that of attorney-general. Sir Adam Beck, who has been in several close touch with the premier and other members of the government who have enjoyed their confidence on former occasions, is the true reason for the delay in appointment of new hydro commissioners is that means might be discovered to effect the transfer of Mr. Nickle from his present post to the chairmanship of the hydro commission with as little jar to machinery of the government as possible. Consequently the rumor gained strength today that Mr. Nickle's appointment to the commission has passed the stage of mere likelihood."

"For the other position Conservatives who have been lifelong public ownership advocates are divided in their allegiance between Chief Engineer Gaby and C. A. Maguire, former mayor of Toronto, the unqualified choice of the organization representing the hydro municipalities. It is considered unlikely that Mr. Gaby's present position will be disturbed by the government. He has rendered and still is rendering a great service to the institution he serves, and is intended to show him some sign of recognition for this service it will take some other form than elevation to the commission."

The crew of four were trapped on the burning schooner, and it was only after heroic efforts that they were taken off by the firemen, just before the gasoline tank exploded, blowing a hole in the side of the vessel, and nearly catching four firemen who were working on the ship. Blazing gasoline spread over the St. Lawrence for quite a distance, but the firemen stuck to their posts until midnight, when, with the vessel partially scuttled, and her forward end resting in thirty feet of water, it was figured that she was out of danger.

TRADE WITH INDIA VERY PROFITABLE

Commissioner Advises Canadian Industries To Share It.

England's profit on her Indian trade, according to H. A. Chisholm, Canadian department of trade representative, speaking at a chamber of commerce luncheon at Smallman and Jackson's today amounts to £1,000,000 per week.

Mr. Chisholm's object in visiting London is to meet manufacturers and business men here with the purpose of developing Canadian trade with India, the English end of which is so well established. The commissioner stated that already Canada has a growing trade with India, including the following lines: Canned food, medicinal preparations, wire fencing, oil engines, tacks, silk hosiery, rubber goods, canned strawberries, chocolate, cigars, hammer saws, lanterns, bronze powder, refrigerators, saw milling equipment and other machinery.

By way of comment upon Japan, which country he visited for two weeks on his trip to Canada, Mr. Chisholm declared it to be "in a poor way" as a result of the recent earthquake. It is an accepted fact that the earthquake prevented Japan from going to war with the United States, whilst the postwar classes regard the quake as "the punishment of the gods" for "the national sin" of thinking of going to war.

Two Kinds of Trade. "Trade in India," stated Mr. Chisholm, falls largely into two classes—first, the bazaar trade amongst the second Indian trading centers, and second, the sale of machinery for the railways, the railways by representatives or salesmen of the British house direct to heads of the factories or to heads of departments in the railroad.

"Because Europeans spend the summer months in England or in the hills, little business is carried on in the summer months. The bulk of import trade between them. Business hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. with lunch served in the offices. All possible detail work is left to natives, who do the work being checked up by junior English clerks."

"Indian merchants squat in their small hovels, wearing only a loin cloth, and they are not interested in money and money changers, and behind their safes, frequently containing $100,000 or $150,000 in currency and notes, because they do not take the banks with their money. Representatives of the British wholesale house, who are known as brokers, pay daily visits to these native banks, and they are required to where to be shipped from and to what point it is to be delivered, and then hand in those orders to their firm. The native rate of exchange is the entire responsibility of disposing of the goods purchased himself to smaller buyers and consumers in the interior. The native merchants are very astute buyers, though in the main quite honest, more so than Japanese merchants."

Letters Not Much Good. "Methods of trade in India are such that no large amount of sales letters or advertising will accomplish much there. The connection has to be established in a personal way. The business has to be secured by working in."

"One Canadian line which sells to India is that of bronze powder, which is sold to paint idols for different festivals throughout the year. This line amounts to $150,000 and more each year, a Montreal company having the bulk of the business."

"Little is heard of the work of missionaries amongst the business classes, but Ghandi himself is a disciple of Christ. He, however, disposes of Christianity by the testimony of western Christians, and withal knows much more of Christ than does the average Canadian."

LEFT LONDON FOR DETROIT BEFORE TUNNEL WAS BUILT

In a close-mouthed voice the opinion that the plans, already under way for electrical development of water power in and around Bombay will five or ten years revolutionize the life and trade of the whole country.

While in town Mr. Chisholm had conversations with a number of local manufacturing houses and wholesalers who are interested in either inaugurating or augmenting trade with India and the British West Indies, in which country Mr. Chisholm is the representative of the Canadian federal department of trade and commerce.

Committee On New Hotel Arranges For City Drive

First Gun Fired in Campaign to Aid Million-Dollar Structure.

McHALE CHAIRMAN

10,000 Voters To Be Visited
by Canvassers During Next Few Days.

The first gun was fired in the election campaign for London's new million-dollar hotel when there came into being last night the London hotel campaign committee, composed of representatives of three service clubs, commercial travellers' association, chamber of commerce and the stockholders of the Benson-Hines Hotel Company.

The campaign committee decided first and foremost to undertake a city-wide canvass preparatory to the bylaw voting, one week from this coming Saturday, and secondly to have the officials of the Hockenbury System, Incorporated, Pa., come to the city to discuss the advisability of securing that company to assist in the subsequent campaign for the 25 per cent capital of the hotel to be provided by local stockholders.

J. J. McHale, president of the Kiwanis club, was chosen chairman of the campaign committee, the man of the campaign committee, a favorable vote on the two bylaws, the first to transfer the McHale hotel site on Dundas street from the city to receive $25,000 on the deal, and the second to grant a fixed assessment of $200,000 on the new hotel for a period of ten years.

Other officials and chairmen of sub-committees were named to assist Mr. McHale at following: Major Gordon Ingram, vice-chairman; W. H. Wood, secretary; John S. Moore, treasurer; Mayor G. A. Wenig, advertising; E. E. Harley, transportation; Richard Glass, voters' lists; Clarence May, financial lists; W. R. Vendall, speakers and educational committee. A committee of honorary presidents was named to include Frank White, M. P., Major Hume Cronyn, C. S., Hyman and Mayor Wenig. The team captain will be Mr. McHale, with a day or two, assisted by Mr. Wood, and R. H. Dowling, president of the chamber of commerce, who acted as chairman of the organization meeting last night.

The plan calls for the securing of the list of voters from the city hall, in process of preparation by City Clerk Sam Baker, of those entitled to vote on the two bylaws, to the number of 10,000 or more, and have the public utilities commission of fees prepare individual cards for each voter, to be given to the team captains, to the number of about 400 each. Five men are expected to compose a team, making about 30 voters for each man to canvass within the ensuing 12 days.

Advertising Plan.
The Benson-Hines stockholders have already made an arrangement for advertising, which will be made use of for advertisements in the daily newspapers, and also for billboard advertising under the direction of the advertising committee. The Federal Advertising Agency has offered its services in assisting with the advertising campaign. It will be the duty of the educational committee, under Mr. Vendall, to inform the ratepayers of the details of the hotel proposition, chiefly by the bylaw proposition, and by the theatres, service clubs and other organizations, though the attention is not to hold public meetings, depending upon the personal canvass almost entirely.

have to be made in the meantime to take care of the constantly increasing enrollment from this district, and the department is expected that the new collegiate seems to offer the most feasible solution. Details of the plan will be discussed with the department by the chairman today.

NEAR HAS DEVICE FOR REMOVING PAINT

Engineer's Rotary Brush Is Tried Out With Success
On Bridge.

City Engineer Near is conducting experiments with a new device recently invented for the quick and easy removal of paint from iron work.
Designed primarily for the smooth-
ing and polishing of concrete work,
the machine consists of a small
motor, secured by straps on the back of the worker, and a rotary disc of carbide, and it has been found that by substituting a wire brush for this disc paint on ironwork is very quickly removed,
leaving a clean, smooth surface as an excellent foundation for the new coat of paint. Experiments with it on the York street bridge are reportedly having given very satisfactory results. The machine is being kept here on trial for a few days, but whether or not the city will decide to purchase one will depend to some extent upon the number and variety of uses to which it can be put.

HODGINS RECOMMENDED FOR ALLOWANCE BOARD

A. C. Hodgins has been officially recommended to succeed the late J.
D. Drummond on the Middlesex allowance board for the mothers' allowance board. County officials stated this morning that when Reeve Hodgins appointment follow the recommendation, it will be a popular one, as Mr.
Hodgins has staunch friends on the commission as well as throughout the county.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Woodstock, Aug. 25.—The barn and outbuildings together with the season's crops and farm implements on the farm of J. Couch, East Zorra, were totally destroyed by fire last night. The blaze was caused by the explosion of a lantern in the driving shed where men were engaged filling
the tank of an engine with gasoline.
Estimated damage $8,000, partly covered by insurance.

GAS PRICE DOWN FIVE CENTS IN YEAR

Latest Decline of One Cent Is Due to Increased Production.

The fact that the Canadian market is governed by that of the United States and the fact that crude oil production has increased slightly,
have caused a drop of one cent a gallon in the price of gasoline in Ontario, local oil company managers said this morning. It is now selling at 26 cents, plus the tax of 3 cents.
The higher grade, which only two companies handle, is selling for 29 cents, plus tax. Oil prices remain stationary.

The increased production of crude oil caused a cut in price in the United States, which took place some weeks ago. The Canadian market is just adjusting itself, and the gasoline users are benefiting. The price prevailing in the States is 20 cents, plus the tax, which is imposed by some states. This price is for the smaller gallon. For the imperial measure this rate is equal to 25 cents, thus the price is but one cent higher in Canada.

"We have been higher than the United States right along, and are just coming into line with them," said Reginald West, manager of the Canadian Oil Companies. "It is pretty hard to forecast the market, though there is a probability that the price of gas may be still lower."

"I don't think the increase in production justifies the drop," said James Good, manager of the Super-petroleum stations. "There seems to be no real cause for the drop other than competition. Of course, we are glad to see the price as low as it may go.
It will probably bring increased business."

Asked whether the Standard Oil
did not set the price for the independent producers, Mr. Good said that the Standard or the Imperial in Canada noted a price, and most of the other companies followed it.

"I haven't the courage to predict
the future price of gasoline," stated
Stanley Day, manager of the Imperial Oil Company, when asked if his company was anticipating a lower price.

"There has been a general softening
in the price of crude oil, not that the production has increased greatly, but from one of those peculiar trends which hit our business.
Gasoline fluctuates, as does any other commodity, only to a greater degree.
It is a most difficult thing to predict
the future price," said Mr. Day.

At this time last year gasoline was selling at 31 cents. The price now is 26 cents, but that includes a tax of 3 cents, so in reality the price has declined 5 cents in a year.

FORMER PARKHILL MAN DIES IN PLANE CRASH

Body of Captain Fraser Hill
Will Be Buried in Arlington Cemetery.

Special to The Advertiser.
Washington, Aug. 25.—Mr. and Mrs.
Henry R. Hill of Winnetka, Ill., today arrived here to claim the body of their son, Capt. Fraser Hill, native of Parkhill, Ontario, one of two men
instantly killed and their bodies burned beyond recognition Sunday afternoon in an aeroplane crash at White Sulphur Springs, W.Va.

The bodies were brought here and plans are being made to give them a military funeral with burial in the Arlington National cemetery across the Potomac river.

The other man killed was private
Earl C. Norris of Whitesburg, Ky.
Capt. Hill, born in Parkhill, February
4, 1893 was supply officer of Boling
Field, Whiteside and nationally known golfer. He and Norris had flown to White Sulphur Springs Saturday afternoon, and there were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B.
Paine.

About 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon,
Hill and Norris took off and the plane climbed into the air. It was seen to turn and plunge to the green
hills and burst into flames.

The flames and intense heat held off physicians and rescuers and the bodies were found from the scene of the crash which was witnessed by several of Capt. Hill's friends and scores of golfers on the links said
the engine exploded.

HENSALL UNITED CHURCH HOLDS SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL

Special to The Advertiser.
Hensall, Aug. 25.—The Hensall United church held a large and successful social on the Carmel church grounds last night. At the conclusion of a very fine program for which Rev. A. Sinclair acted as chairman, supper was served on the lawn. The auditorium of the church was filled to capacity.

The program consisted of the following numbers: Orchestra selections; hymns; Onward Christian Soldiers; chairman's address; orchestra selection; solo, Sam Rennie;
cantata; address, Postmaster G. J.
Sutherland; orchestra selections; and the National anthem.

The social was one of the happiest affairs held in the village in some time and augurs well for the spirit of union resulting from the formation of the United church of Canada in June last.

SPEEDERS LOSE WHEN THEY FIGHT OFFICERS

Evidence of Motorcycle Speedometers Sufficient To Convict Three.

Three speeders attempted to fight
their case in police court this morning, but the evidence of motorcycle officers who noted the registration of accurate speedometers resulted in their convictions.

John Dale was paced by Motorcycle Officer Aitken for two blocks on the Wharmcliffe road on Sunday, and although he declared he was not exceeding 20 miles per hour, the police constable declared he was travelling at 30 miles. He was fined $10 and costs.

Although Arthur Leff felt positive
his car was incapable of attaining a rate of speed of 34 miles per hour, he travelled at that rate for four blocks
along the Wharmcliffe road near Duchess avenue on Sunday, according to police. Accepting the story told by the motorcycle speedometer, Magistrate Graydon imposed the minimum fine of $10 and costs.

Three other speeders pleaded guilty
and were each fined $10 and costs.

GIRL PLEADS FOR HALF-BREED COLLIE

Life Is Spared When She Promises It Will Not Run
at Large.

The life of a half-breed collie dog
was at stake in this morning's police court, when Humane Inspector George Tustin charged the animal with viciousness. Mabel Kew, the dog's owner, appeared in its defence,
however, and upon her assurance that in future the animal would not be allowed to run at large the case was dismissed.

The dog bit a small boy last week
and the injury proved so serious that the lad was removed to Victoria hospital for medical aid. Miss Kew replied by the French with heavy porters by aviation and cavalry units.

EXPRESSMEN STRIKE.
Canadian Press Despatch.
New York, Aug. 25.—The hundred expressmen of the two chief transfer companies in the city cut work at midnight and forced stations using the only two railroad stations on Manhattan to haul their trunks in taxicabs.

The strike was declared to enforce demand for an eight-hour day.

CARS CRASH; DRIVERS ESCAPE.

Motor cars driven by William Samner, R. R. No. 1, Wilton Grove, and collided at the corner of Wellington street and Foxbar crescent this morning. Although both cars were badly damaged, the drivers escaped without injury.

TIME NOT YET SET TO PAY OUT RELIEF

Home Bank Depositors Grow Uneasy As Money Is Held Back.

It is considered unlikely by market
branch officials of the Bank of Mon-real that payment of the federal government relief to Home Bank de-positors will commence next week.
A story to this effect was published in Toronto papers, but neither official denial or confirmation has been forthcoming.

It is pointed out by the local bank
officials that no official instructions
have as yet been received as to whom,
or how, the money is to be paid out.
All that is known is that the Bank
of Montreal, who of its own voluntary advanced 25 per cent to the de-positors some time ago, will handle
the payments.

Some of the depositors are becoming weary by the long delay and say they are making provision for their heirs to receive the money. U.
A. Buchner, head of the local de-positors association, is at present in Winnipeg.

GOOD CORN CROP LIKELY IN ONTARIO

Government Reports Average
Hay Crop, While Grain
Is Fair.

Threshing is now general over the whole of the province, according to government reports which have come to hand. In Western Ontario the report mentions threshing is well advanced and a satisfactory yield reported in most cases where the grain
has been threshed.

In speaking of the shortage of hay
in this district the report hints at coming winter and the result of an extraordinarily heavy hay crop in eastern and northern Ontario.

Pasture has improved since midsummer, states the report, but local farmers state that the pasture is drying up rapidly at present and that the milk yield is much below normal
for this season of the year.

The provincial report in summary
shows fair to good grain crops
throughout the province, an average winter wheat crop, and a fair to good corn crop, providing no unforeseen takes place. The ravages of the corn earworm are not mentioned in the report, which leads local agricultural officials to believe that the infestation of the borer is somewhat less this year.

MONTREAL CATHEDRAL SCENE OF MANY THEFTS

Altar Cloths and Sacred Vases
Have Disappeared in Mysterious Ways.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, Aug. 25.—Christ church Cathedral here has been robbed of altar cloths, altar vases, water taps
and even a purse in a series of petty thefts recently.

No clues to the identity of the thieves has been obtained although an electric working on the building
one day surprised a man bearing
off a brass vase from the chancel.

The man dropped the vase and fled. While a lady who had been worshipping at the altar, was distressed by the loss of her purse containing about $5 in cash and some personal belongings was taken from a table in another part of the edifice. The thefts have been going on for a week or so, the thief even wrenching off water taps in the sanctuary.

DRUSE REBELS REPULSED BY FRENCH SOLDIERS

Associated Press Despatch.
Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 25.—Advisers
from Syria through French sources
state that 1,500 Druze rebels marching on Damascus, have been repulsed by the French with heavy losses. The French troops were supported by aviation and cavalry units.

The great number of spectators rose
indignantly when the soldiers wearing the old familiar tin helmet and
stained khaki, along with the possible members of the Chiba Royal ho-
pital for invalid soldiers, the boy
scouts and the soldiers of today
joined in singing Abide With Me.
While plain wooden crosses representing a war cemetery were dimly showing in the background.

ESSEX FARMERS TO VISIT LONDON

Annual Motor Tour Will Proceed To Guelph Via Middlesex.

Announcement has reached the local department of agriculture offices that the Essex farmers annual motor trip will include London in its itinerary. The trip which has become the event of the year with the Essex men was instituted four years ago by Justice Millar, district representative
at Essex Center.

The schedule to be followed in this year's tour calls for an early start
from Essex Center on Monday August 31, when the party will motor direct to Chatham. Here they will be joined by delegates from Kent county who will accompany them during the trip. From Chatham the party will motor to London via the north route, stopping here on the market square at 11 o'clock. Those from Middlesex and Elgin counties who intend to join the party will gather at the market square. A departure from London is slated for 11:30 the next stop being Woodstock
for luncheon at 1 o'clock.

After leaving Woodstock the party will visit the model dairy farm of Dent and Son. The next stop is Brantford where the party will be received by Lieut.-Governor Cockshutt. A trip through the "cockshut"
plant at Brantford is contemplated providing the party travel up to schedule.

From Brantford the party will go direct to Guelph where the members will be billeted at the Guelph Agricultural College. Two days will be spent in the Guelph district, the party leaving Thursday morning for Toronto.

At Toronto the party will be welcomed by the minister of agriculture and after visiting the parliament buildings will go to the National Exhibition for two days.
Mr. Finn states that several local farmers have signified their intention of joining the Essex party here and will accompany them during the remainder of the trip.

THOUSANDS APPLAUD TATTOO AT WEMBLEY

Final Scene Recalls the Sacred
Glories of Flanders Fields.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Aug. 25.—The tattoo staged at the British Empire exhibition at Wembley last night for the first time
is likely to be talked of the world over.

The 40,000 spectators were fairly wild with delight over the evolutions
of the soldiers to the accompaniment of massed Guards bands or pipes. An especially wonderful performance was given by recruits of the air force, who had had only three months' service.

The final scene in the tattoo recalled the sacred glories of Flanders fields and was almost too poignant
for many of those who witnessed it.
The great number of spectators rose
indignantly when the soldiers wearing the old familiar tin helmet and
stained khaki, along with the possible members of the Chiba Royal ho-
pital for invalid soldiers, the boy
scouts and the soldiers of today

POLICE FIND CLUES TO BRUTAL MURDER

Richmond, Cal., Authorities Aroused as Portions of Woman's Body Found.

Associated Press Despatch.
Richmond, Cal., Aug. 25.—Convinced that severed portions of a human body found late Sunday and yesterday in the marshes near this city are those of a young woman murdered, police and sheriff's officers of three counties worked together yesterday in an effort to discover other portions of the dismembered body and to establish the identity of the supposed victim.

First evidence of what police now believed unquestionably was a brutal murder, was discovered late Sunday
by C. H. Thomas and his young son Rogers who came upon a woman's severed ear while gathering tule stalks in the marsh. A police posse yesterday found near the spot a section of human scalp with blonde hair
wrapped in an Oakland newspaper dated July 3. A short distance away searchers found a section of a human finger evidently part of the cheek.
Not far away were picked up two pieces of a woman's black walrus
bone the letter "B" in gold leaf.

A hatchet with what appeared to be bloodstains on the blade and a single blonde hair clinging to it was found in a deserted shack bordering the marsh.

The possibility that the supposed victim may be Mrs. Bessie Loren, 28, trained nurse of Oakland,
who has been missing since Aug. 19,
was being investigated.

BALLOONS TELL OF CENTENNIAL

Children To Release Them
During Playgrounds Festival Tomorrow.

The federal square and Dundas street will present an animated spectacle tomorrow afternoon, when 1,500 children of the city will assemble to parade to Thames park playground for the annual playgrounds festival.

The parade is timed to form on the federal square at 2 o'clock and each of the children taking part will be provided with a toy gas balloon, bearing publicly announced messages to the city's centennial celebration next year. These balloons will be released and a prize will be given to the child whose balloon is returned from the greatest distance.

Arriving at the park the children will participate in an interesting and varied program of games, dancing and novelty singing games. There will also be a gymnastic display and a game of bicycle polo.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 25, 1925.

Mr. Nickle is Right.

Attorney-General Nickle has sent word to Windsor putting a stop to any move for the giving of a so-called "truth serum" to a prisoner held there in connection with the death of Clayton McMullen, and sane public thought will say the attorney-general is right.

The serum is supposed to have the effect of making a person tell the truth whether it is the desire to do so or not. It is purely an experiment of the most fantastic variety, and a Canadian court of justice is certainly not the place for such an experiment to be carried on.

The laws of the land demand that a person tell the truth in court. A witness is bound by a solemn oath to do so, and if it is found that he falsifies his statements, there are severe penalties for perjury. That gives very good protection, and also the means for dealing adequately with offenders.

The idea of squirting some sort of a serum in a man's veins before he gives evidence smacks of procedure that might be followed in some U. S. courts, where all manner of slobbering sentiment is allowed, and where the stern business of bringing out the facts is largely obscured by the inroads that modern nonsense have made.

Regards It As Dangerous.

The Hamilton Herald takes occasion to warn Mr. Meighen about the statements made by J. L. Gauthier when he appeared with Mr. Meighen at Conservative picnic in London. The Herald says:

"Among the few Quebec recruits who have enlisted under the banner of Mr. Meighen is Joseph Louis Gauthier, a former Liberal. He was one of the speakers at the recent Conservative picnic in London. At that gathering Mr. Gauthier said that in the face of danger threatening from the west, it is the duty of the people of Ontario and Quebec to join hands, for their economic interests are identical. Present-day Liberals, he declared, have forsaken the banner of Laurier for the red flag of the Progressives, and he denounced the Progressives of the prairie provinces as 'reds,' communists and dangerous radicals."

"Mr. Meighen would do well to check the exuberant rhetoric of his too ardent lieutenant. If Mr. Gauthier talks in the coming election campaign as he talked in London he is likely to do more harm than good to the Conservative cause. The western Progressives are almost all farmers, Canadian farmers, even those in the prairie provinces, are not 'reds,' and to denounce them as such is not unlikely to cause resentment among farmers generally."

When it becomes necessary for the independent press to warn Mr. Meighen of the company he is keeping, it may yet dawn on either himself or his backers that he is starting out prepared to pay too great a price for the return of the Conservatives at Ottawa.

The idea of Mr. Meighen bringing Mr. Gauthier from Quebec to London to try and drive a wedge of suspicion and distrust between east and west shows the length to which he is prepared to go in order to become premier of Canada. There are many Conservatives who were quick to see the danger in the policy of Mr. Meighen.

Could Develop a Great Industry.

The way in which the flow of Canadian wheat and flour to the United States market has been choked off by an increasing tariff is shown in comparative figures just issued at Ottawa. Prior to May 27, 1921, wheat and flour entered United States free of duty. Then came the demand of the farm bloc that it be stopped, and wheat was taxed 35c per bushel and flour 20c per cent; that rate existed from May, 1921, to September, 1922, when the Fordney tariff gave the U. S. growers protection of 42c per bushel on wheat and $1.04 per hundred on flour. A ten-month period in the years 1921-22-23 shows the effect on exports of wheat and flour.

WHEAT.

1921	$98,151,146
1922	16,650,661
1923	12,464,543
1925	4,253,801

WHEAT FLOUR.

1921	$12,126,915
1922	3,983,017
1923	2,175,096
1925	47,919

There can be only one inference from all this—United States does not want Canadian wheat or Canadian flour. The reason is that if Canadian wheat could enter the U. S. market free of duty, it would monopolize it; there would be a restricted demand for the western U. S. crop, because it is of inferior quality.

That ought to point very definitely to the lesson that Canada should regard her wheat crop as a peculiar natural resource that has enough quality to dominate the world market. It should be milled here to as great an extent as possible, its quality zealously guarded to keep it from being mixed with softer foreign grains, and sold under the guarantee that it is a Canadian product throughout, grown here, milled here, packed here.

Instead of that we find a movement which seeks to give to United States centers all the advantage of having produced this quality of wheat, for, because of freight and boat rate inequalities, wheat can be laid down cheaper in Buffalo than at Canadian points of equal shipping distance.

United States does not want anything to do with our wheat or flour, except to use some of it as a matter of convenience to bolster up its softer flour in milling. We need a firm, definite policy that will meet and handle the situation, and Canada is the only country we need to consider in drafting that policy.

A Critical Time on Farms.

The manner in which the Canadian west takes in its crop and calls on the rest of Canada to help in the work is more spectacular than the same operation in Ontario, but saving the crop is just as urgent a business here, although we are apt to lose sight of the fact that it is often done only by excessively long hours by the men who are carrying on on Ontario farms.

There are many farms in Ontario today where an extra harvest hand would be welcomed, but he is not forthcoming. The only thing left to do is for the farmer and his hired man, in many cases with some help from the women in the house, to go ahead and complete the task. He doesn't appear on the front pages like the thousands of harvesters who crowded the station in Toronto on the way west, in fact, we hear very little of him, but he is putting in every possible hour of daylight in a big effort to gather in his crop, an operation that is the winding up of his whole year's work in that line.

If some of the men around town are convinced that their hours are too long, we suggest that they follow a farmer who is carrying the burden of a farm alone or with a hired man during the cutting, drawing-in and threshing season.

Port Talbot Development.

The famous Talbot property at the port bearing that name on Lake Erie has been sold to a group of Detroit men, who will proceed with its development as a summer resort on an approved and somewhat exclusive scale. They have picked an ideal and a historic spot, and can see the possibilities of its future.

The use to which it will be put is somewhat widely removed from the idea in the mind of Colonel Thomas Talbot, the forceful founder of the place, who in 1803 started to give point and direction to its settlement and destiny. To him, Talbot settlement was a place where British people, weary of United States, should come and work the land, build roads and live. He never had any idea of getting people from the republic to come to Talbot settlement for anything that looked like a vacation. That's one of the differences between 1803 and 1925.

In a way it's another chapter in the American development of Canada—this time of old Ontario. It suggests, perhaps, that we have become satisfied with the phrases that tell about Canada's glorious future, and have failed to realize that the glorious future is right here, all about us, waiting for initiative and confidence to make that future start its existence right now.

Better Make Certain.

Reader sends in a query about a toadstool he picked. It doesn't peel easily and has a ring around the bottom. He wants to know if it is good to eat, or how to find out.

This is one point on which a paper would hesitate, to the point of becoming obstinate, before giving advice. It was Dr. John Dearnness, one of the best known authorities on fungi, who stated only a few days ago that there were no set rules, no printed matter that could be used, so that the amateur could go out safely, gather up the growth and eat it in perfect safety.

It is a knowledge that comes from practice. A person goes out with one who knows certain varieties that are all right; he becomes acquainted with them and touches no other. Later on he may learn of others that are edible, and these he adds to his list, but he can't tell by looking at a strange variety if it is good or not, so he leaves it alone.

The greenhorn who wants to gather mushrooms or toadstools had better hitch his fortunes up with some friend who has been out before, one who knows from experience that a certain growth is all right, good, and perfectly safe. It is well to build quite a little hedge of safety around the first operations, otherwise, there is a chance that they may be the last.

Note and Comment.

Being shrewd means getting credit for the work done by others.

The leading national problem is: "Can I make the old tires last out the season?"

A party of veterans from Toronto visited London on Saturday. They enjoyed the change immensely.

Since the short skirt came back two defunct optical concerns have been revived to the point of paying dividends.

A man in Pembroke has one tomato plant that has 120 tomatoes on it. Some canning factory will probably establish a branch there.

The mayor of Stratford says 40 names are being considered in connection with two Senate vacancies in Ontario. Many are calling, but few are chosen.

Dr. Crane says if we keep on riding we shall eventually be a generation minus arms and legs. Not quite right, because the fellows who walk are getting that done to them, too.

If Mr. King wants a cheerful note for some of his political addresses, we suggest this one from the South Bend Tribune: "It is not often that the money of any other country goes above the American dollar. It evidences the soundness of business conditions in Canada and the increase in export trade."

The Day After

John Henry came to have a fight, to swat his fist upon my chin, because I'd dared to grab my pen and write a chapter unto him.

Just yesterday I wrote a yarn about John Henry and his wife, and tellin' of the things I knew that happened in their summer life. How he had been a lively jay and carried on in ways not nice, how he had kicked his heels aloft and pushed them through the dashboard twice.

And how when she had been away she had a retinue around, nor had she pined away at all a-listenin' to the sad waves' sound.

The story struck me fairly good as tellin' how these folks performed, and likewise lettin' of them know the public was quite well informed.

John Henry come in here today, he had a scintille in his fist, and threatened how he'd wipe me out and scroll me on the has-been list. What right had I to speak about about the things what he had did, insinuat' how his guests they sometimes walked, more often slid.

I was just makin' trouble then and blazin' up his peaceful life, and flixin' things he'd have to face and make them square unto his wife. If I would mind my own affairs why he'd be mindin' of his own, it was no other person's right to cast reflections on his home.

Well, after he had gone I worked, quite glad I'd seen the last of him, when after thumpin' on the door John Henry's wife come struttin' in.

And did you ever hear the like, the way she jumped about the place, she said she'd like to have an axe and hew a section from my face. John Henry's wife she's fair to see, she's got the atmosphere of spring, but I was thinkin' in the storm I'd rather see some other thing.

John Henry's words was fierce, I know, but they were flat and out of date, when stuck against the way she worked when chantin' on her hymn of hate.

It was most strange, at least she said, if she could not go off to rest, without me blazin' in the sky that she was flirin' like the rest. I don't mind all the things she said, but most of them was powerful bad, and she could make the clinkers fly when she be boilin' up and mad.

So after this I'm goin' to quit reformin' lives of married folks, who want to kick their heels a spell and have their little summer jokes. I'm not for risin' an attack from out John Henry's summer shoes, and they can henceforth hit the sky and be as giddy as they choose—ARK.

25 Years Ago Today

A despatch from Salt Lake City tells of the death of Joseph P. Noble. The service was attended by 30 of his children, 84 of his grandchildren, and a number of his great-grandchildren. Mr. Noble has had six wives, 47 children, of whom 33 are living. He was a Massachusetts shoemaker when Brigham Young went to his native town in 1832 and converted him.

Suggestion About Future of Headley Goes Into Some Details in Connection with the Plan. Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—Subject, of course, to what testamentary disposition may have been made, the suggestion that "Headley," home of the late Sir Adam Beck, be preserved as a public memorial, is one deserving most favorable consideration. Beautiful for situation in this steadily-growing city, its setting for an institution is admirable, and the advantages of its preservation will be more and more appreciated as time passes. In addition to use in keeping documents, drawings, etc., relating to the inception and development of the great hydro enterprise, it would afford ample space for the establishment of what London and Western Ontario has long hoped, viz., a museum and art gallery. For years, splendid collections of geological and historic interest, like those of Dr. Woolverton and others, have been growing. Suitably assembled and displayed, their extent and educational value would prove a veritable surprise and delight. Again and again the desire has been expressed for the beginning of a public, permanent collection of paintings and other objects of art, with some of the now world-famous pictures of Paul Peel as a nucleus. A son of London who has brought distinction to his native city, a fitting recognition on our part has been long overdue. In the production of works of art, London has had a lengthy and creditable history; and examples would doubtless be available from the brushes of Griffith, Davidson, Judson, Chapman, McEvoy, Bell-Smith, Hunt, Glen, Miss Bradshaw, Miss Carlyle, Miss Healey, and others, and also by St. Thomas Smith, and other distinguished Western Ontario painters. Once begun under suitable auspices and direction in a worthy center like Headley, the collection would speedily grow by contribution and acquisition, and become a rendezvous for lovers of things beautiful, as well as curious, ministering to the civic pride and aspirations of the people. London, Aug. 22, 1925. W. T.

Reunion of the Zavitz Family

The accompanying poem was read at the Zavitz picnic, held at Springbank park, on Wednesday the 19th, where 557 of the Zavitz descendants or name registered at their second reunion. Other relatives and visitors swelled the company to near 700. The Zavitzes have been quite a prolific race and they migrated into Canada back in 1784.

THE ZAVITZ REUNION.

Most everybody wonders
What makes this Western land
This South and West Ontario,
So glorious and grand.

I've lately learned the secret,
And let the news be hurled
From this day, and from this place,
To all the wondering world.

What wrought this transformation?
Let all the nation know:
'Twas the influence of the Zavitzes,
Who came here long ago.

Some others may have helped a bit,
We'll give them all their due;
But we, we took the grandest old
And made a grander new.

The best from all of Europe came
To Pennsylvania;
And there they sorted out the best
To come to Canada.

They brought the best from Holland's
Dunes,
From Alsace and Lorraine,
The best from Germany and France,
The best of Dutch and Dane.

The best that dwelt by Rhine and Rhône,
'Twixt Zuider Zee and Po,
They brought it here and planted it
From Bertie to the Eau.

One Zavitz came to Bertie,
To Wainfleet one did go,
One brother braved the Western winds,
And settled near Rondeau.

They came here to the wilderness;
They knew no fear or foe,
They spread their light and culture
From Bertie to the Eau.

They hewed homes in the wilderness
Wherever they did go,
The smoke curled over their humble
huts
From Bertie to the Eau.

They swung their babes in birchen
boughs,
They swung them to and fro;
In fancy I can see them swing
From Bertie to the Eau.

They tilled the ground among the stumps
With wide-horned oxen teams;
And with their oxen drove to church,
And dreamed their heavenly dreams.

They carried wheat for twenty miles
Or more upon their backs;
And carried home the precious flour
Through winding Indian tracks.

But, thus they grew a thrifty race,
Extracting bliss from woe,
And left a famed posterity
From Bertie to the Eau.

If anybody doubts my word
Just let him view this host.

And then must needs agree with me
That 'tis no idle boast.

The poet, could he see this sight,
Would change his warlike lay:
'Twere worth ten years of martial
strife
One glance at this array.

We're not a horde of soldier men
Equipped for murderous deed;
But peace men, brave and sober men,
The Lord's own chosen seed.

This is our watchword, O! my friends,
As year by year goes by:
Inscribed with, "Love for God and men."

We'll lift our banner high,
—Edgar M. Zavitz, Coldstream, Ont.

Bobby Coon Is Greatly Interested In Mrs. Turtle's Actions on the Roof

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

The night after Peter saw Mrs. Snapper the Snapping Turtle digging a hole in the roof of Jerry Muskrat's house in the rushes at the edge of the Smiling Pool, was moonlight. Peter had gone on up the Laughing Brook into the Green Forest. There he met Bobby Coon. Bobby was fishing. Of course, Peter stopped to pass the time of day (or should I say the time of night?) with Bobby.

"What's the news, Bobby Coon?" asked Peter.

"There is no news," replied Bobby Coon. "I haven't been awake long enough to have heard or seen anything like news. What is the news with you, old Longears?"

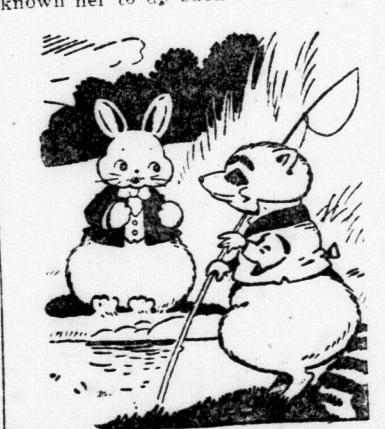

"I don't know of any real news myself," replied Peter. "Then he happened to think of Mrs. Snapper, the Snapping Turtle. He knew that Bobby Coon is wise in the ways of his neighbors, and it popped into Peter's head that Bobby might know what Mrs. Muskrat's house for, can you?"

"Well," said Peter, "she dug into it as if she were trying to dig a hole through and get inside. But I guess it was too much of a job, for after a while she gave it up and filed that hole up again. She was there most of the afternoon."

Bobby Coon looked more and more interested. "Did you say she dug a hole?" he inquired.

"That's what I said," replied Peter. "She dug a hole big enough for her to get half-way into. I can't imagine what she wanted to get inside of Jerry Muskrat's house for, can you?"

Bobby Coon shook his head. "No," said he. "I can't, Peter. I never have known her to do such a thing. What part of the roof of that house did you say she was at work on?"

"What's the news, Bobby Coon?" asked Peter.

replied Bobby Coon, scrambling ashore from the old log on which he had been sitting watching for a fish to come within reach.

Peter stared at him. He couldn't understand this sudden interest on the part of Bobby Coon. "Tell me, Bobby Coon, what is the idea?" he asked. "I don't see any sense in going down there now. Mrs. Snapper isn't there. Besides, if she were there what difference would it make? I watched her all afternoon and I don't know now why she dug that hole and then filled it up again. I've just come up to the Green Forest and I don't want to go back down there again. What do you want to go for, anyway?"

"Oh," replied Bobby, trying to speak carefully. "I just thought I'd like to see the place where she had been digging, but it doesn't matter. Did you say it was on the side of the roof nearest this bank or on the other side?" Already Bobby was shuffling along down the bank as he spoke.

COSTUME SLIPS ARE ELABORATE

Evening Frocks of Gold or Silver Are Worn With Them.

By ALLEN LAMONT.
Special to The Advertiser.
Copyright.

New York, Aug. 25.—Everyone makes a slip occasionally, but the people who make costume slips as a business are doing a more elaborate job than ever before. The new "four reaux" as the French dressmakers call them, are very different from the simple straight slips devoid of all ornament and worn under a light or slashed dress. Now they might almost be worn as dresses themselves.

They are often composed of two shades of chiffon or silk voile, which in these transparent materials gives a lovely touch of color when worn beneath a beige or gray georgette dress. The slips also are frequently decorated with lace or embroidery, and they are often made with flared and volants or pleated when worn under a slashed dress. In order to give freedom of movement the back and front breathers are often overlapped.

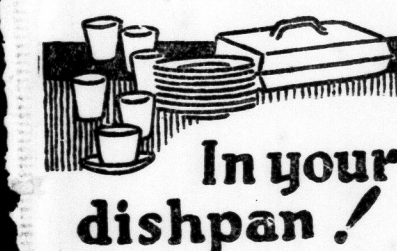

One of the latest trends of fashions in evening frocks is to wear a dress composed of gold or silver net over one of the satin or lame "four reaux" or slips. The gold net is composed of extremely large meshes, and is decorated with large flowers of velvet of a dark shade posed irregularly over the frock.

A rabbit skin to wrap Baby Bunting in no longer is an inexpensive garment. For now rabbit is made to take on the appearance of chinchilla, and has improved its price as well as its social position. The rabbit skins are beautifully selected, matched and worked in chinchilla fashion, and the cloaks of this material from abroad seldom sell for less than $400 without counting duty. The lining is usually mole gray cloth and the cloak may be worn inside out if desired.

In order to "high hat" the less fashionably gowned, it is necessary today to wear a high neck. Jumper frocks are in the ascendant for fall, and most of the jumpers are made with high collars, which button close about the throat, either in front or at either or both sides. The buttons, usually of metal, themselves form a trimmings for the frocks. The pockets in the jumper are placed well to the front and low.

Can a Girl in Her Twenties Be Happy With a Widower of 70?—Uniform Divorce Law.

Dear Miss Dix—I am a business girl not yet 30 years old, and am thinking of marrying a widower of 70. His children object to the match. So do my parents. I have a good home, and can earn my own money. Do you think that I would be happy, or would I soon regret my act? I will not go any further in this matter until I hear from you.

JOLLY GIRL.

Answer:
I don't think you will ever again sign yourself "Jolly Girl" or "Jolly Woman" if you make this match. Why, the man is old enough to be your grandfather, and a girl could possibly be sentimentally in love with her grandfather!

What promise of happiness can such a match offer you? To begin with, you start out with a nice family you can't get a step-mother younger than themselves. And I know of no other thing that can so completely poison life as to be at odds with your near relatives.

Then you will find, when you are married to your old man, that you have absolutely nothing in common with him. You will both look at life from two entirely different standpoints. You will have different tastes, different opinions, different standards of conduct, different interests. He will live in the past. You in the future. He will want to reminisce about the things that happened in the year you were born, and you will want to talk of the latest play the latest book.

Perhaps your elderly sweetheart seems well preserved, and no objection to trotting around with you to places of amusement. That's only a place of synthetic youth on which widowers do themselves up when they go a-courting, and it only lasts until they get married again. Then they go a-courting, and it only lasts until they get married again. Then they go a-courting, and it only lasts until they get married again.

Don't believe the foolish old proverb about being better to be an old man's darling than a young man's slave. All old people are tyrannical and selfish and self-opinionated, and don't that they have a right to do as they please, and you will find that you will have to do his way, and as he says, and yield to him on every point.

He will think it outrageous that you want to go out in the evening or to dance, or to have any of the pleasures of your time of life, because these things do not interest him any more, and he will tell you that wives in his day didn't gad around in places of amusement, but stayed at home and looked after their husbands.

And ten to one he will be close about money with you, for tight-fistedness is also a vice of age, and he will tell you that his sainted Maria never had but one dress a season.

Furthermore, you will spend the balance of your life rubbing rheumatism and doctoring and coddling a querulous old man, and why any girl who can make her own living wants that kind of a job is more than I can understand.

I can imagine no reason for a girl in her twenties marrying an old man, except for money. And if that is what you are contemplating doing, let me advise you to ask a stiff price, and get it. Times old men out their young widows out of their wills.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—Do you think that the United States should or should not have a uniform divorce law? I don't think it should, but I am open to conviction on the subject.

Answer:
I am strongly in favor of a uniform divorce law throughout the United States. It is absurd that you can be legally married in one state and a bigamist in another, and that one state should sanction a marriage, and another forbid the same. Also, it gives rise to many complications affecting the legitimacy of children, and the inheritance of property.

Of course, I recognize each state's right to deal with the matter individually, but it seems to me that in this enlightened age they might agree on a divorce law that would be acceptable to all.

Personally, I am in favor of rigid marriage laws, and of liberal divorce laws, because if we make it harder for people to get married, and require them to give more thought and consideration to the subject, we will do away with the necessity of so many divorces.

In many of our states it is still possible for girls of 12 and boys of 14 to get married. In nearly every state boys and girls who have been

STARVED HEARTS

By MILDRED BARBOUR.

CONCERNING THE ACTION AND THE CHARACTERS.

STEPHEN LANE, wealthy, middle-aged, despotic, rules with a tyrant hand his young wife, BARBARA, who sold herself into a loveless marriage, and who, whose father's marriage he had opposed some twenty years before and whose guardianship now devolves upon him. He broke up her boy-and-girl affair with DUANE FARLEY. Farley turned for sympathy to Barbara, who, under known to Farley, fell in love with him. Lane, sent abroad, with business and professional ruin as the only alternative.

JULIAN BARTON, Madeleine's real love, whose suit was sponsored by ANN ORDWAY, lifelong family friend, who loved Lane deeply, despite his faults, but whose lack of beauty kept her from him. Lane sent Barbara and Madeleine to California, where the latter meets

HOWARD CHANDLER, fascinating, drifting, and marries him to escape Lane's tyranny.

CHAPTER I.

"Barbara died last night. Come at once," Stephen Lane called in a trembling voice.

Madelon re-read the telegram incredulously. "Barbara dead? Impossible! It was some cruel trick of Lane's to make her come home."

"Ain't there no answer?" the messenger boy shifting impatiently from one foot to the other, inquired sharply.

She held out her hand for the blank he shoved at her, and scrawled the dirty end of pencil, and scrawled a few words.

Then she went back to her interrupted breakfast. But her desolate foot was so full of grief that she was groping in a mist of unreality.

Barbara could be dead! She was so young, so alive even under that frozen exterior, so beautiful! She looked around her pretty breakfast room, at the sunlight streaming in through a ruffled curtain, shining on her polished copper pitcher, on the low vase of jonquils in the center of the table.

Surely death had not been so cruel as to take all that from Barbara, Barbara, who loved the warm sunlight so! She couldn't believe it. She wouldn't!

Chandler's death had left her unmoved. Despite her efforts to force grief into her heart, she had kindled a new fire. She could not out of her consciousness the welcome knowledge that she was free at last of her unhappy bargain.

But this—this was horrible to think of! Barbara had been much more than she had ever realized. They could have had these happy years together if Lane had not been so cruel. He had taken it all from her now!

Mindful of the time if she would make the train she had mentioned in her answering wire, she sprang up and rang for maid and gave her a few brief directions.

Before the hastily summoned taxi was at the door, she was ready to go. She slipped on her coat, her bags closed and waiting. She drove to the school and acquainted Miss Guilbert with her sorrowful errand. An hour later she was on the train speeding westward.

It was night when she reached Stephen Lane's home. The steps were dark except for a light in the entrance hall.

She shuddered with the thought of what that darkness portended. She unconsciously her eyes went to the wing that had been Barbara's. By the light on the corner, she could see that the curtains were closed. How many times poor, beautiful, unhappy Barbara had stood by those windows staring out at the life that drifted gayly up and down the street!

Masters, impulsive as ever, admitted her and ushered her into the library, where Lane was waiting.

She sat down, and she saw that some subtle change had passed over him. He seemed older, his erectness was less evident. He was much grayer. No trace of emotion showed in his face, though his greeting was kindly, almost gentle.

Madelon kissed his cheek impulsively. Kicked tears had sprung to her eyes. "Poor Uncle Stephen! I'm so terribly, terribly sorry! How did it happen?"

Lane shook his head sadly. "She wasn't ill at all—that was a mistake. It was her heart. She passed quietly in the night. Her maid found her this morning."

He sat down suddenly, motioning her to the chair opposite. It was the chair in which Barbara used to sit, silent, immobile in the shadow. "An old man, Madelon!" he said.

on a drinking party, and who are half-asleep, can wake up a clerk at 2 o'clock in the morning, get a license, and go to a marrying parson or a justice of the peace, and get married. Nobody could expect these marriages to hold, and they furnish a large percentage of the divorce cases. If it took as much formality as it does to get a marriage license as it does to get a divorce, it would be better all the way around.

I think that there are far too many divorces, and that divorce is not the cure-all for domestic trouble that many people, and especially many women, think that it is. I believe that nearly every marriage could be made a success if husbands and wives really tried to get along together. But when a man and a woman find that they are hopelessly mismatched, when they come to hate each other and bring out all that is worst in each other, I cannot see how it serves any good purpose to keep them bound together fighting like cat and dog, instead of letting them part and go their ways in peace.

Therefore, I think that we should have a uniform marriage law, as well as a uniform divorce law, and that both should be foolproof.

The highest marks awarded this season to any candidate in primary violin in the dominion have been received by a London girl, Miss Evelyn Henderson, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. It's the film on your teeth that makes them ugly

Run your tongue across your teeth and you can feel it. Make those cloudy teeth glisten. Begin today this new way.

EVERYWHERE are whiter teeth, teeth that gleam and sparkle.

This offers you free a 10-day test of the way that brings them. Simply mail the coupon.

What you find will surprise you. Your teeth are covered with a dingy film that ordinary methods do not combat successfully. Under it are the prettier, whiter teeth that you envy.

The great enemy of teeth. Film is the great enemy of tooth beauty. And a chief cause, according to world's dental authorities, of most tooth troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs by the millions breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

You can't have prettier, whiter teeth; you can't have healthier teeth unless you combat that film.

Ingersoll.

EACH BOOT FOUR

Special to The Advertiser.
Stratford, Aug. 24.—Ingersoll intermeddles upon the second round of the O. B. A. playoff by turning back Sarnia today, 15 to 4. The game was played before a crowd of 1,500 fans.
 Sarnia started the game by hitting Ingersoll on his own grounds on Saturday, but this proved to be the wrong strategy. Weir, the first man up, drew a pass, Henderson and Pascoe singled. Kelly bled out and "Red" Shewan doubled, went to third on a wild throw to Nab Pascoe, and scored when Ingersoll misjudged the ball. These four runs carried Wilson's retirement. Aided by the wind, and retired the side to strike-out route. Aldridge got double in the third, Morris, earned Pascoe's grounder, and Red Shewan, totalled three more runs. Four more were added in the fourth, heavy hitting and a grand slam in the ninth.
 The high light of the game, and about the only bright spot, was a grand slam by Jeffries in the eighth, scored in five ways as well. It went clear past the ice line and into the stands. It was the icing on the cake of the season. Jeffries had opened the previous inning with a double, and the game was a one-way double.
 Sarnia's other run came in the sixth, when Garvin walked, scored, and scored on an initial play and an error.

CHAPTER II.

Copyright, 1925, by London A. C.

In the preceding chapter, the author touched on changed conditions which affected football—the drive for rating teams, the organization of the alumni, the increase in popularity, interest which has been built up around the sport and the tremendous strides entailed.

If we understand these conditions thoroughly, it will be easier to understand the changes which are the other problem. During the few years the great changes have come into our football. For the first time there has been a rivalry between the big eastern teams and the big western teams. This rivalry has been the result of the increasing interest in stadia and in the increasing interest of public interest in the game. This rivalry has been the result of the increasing interest in the game. This rivalry has been the result of the increasing interest in the game.

Consider Harvard, Yale and Princeton. During the last ten years the increase in the endowment of Harvard was 5 per cent, Yale 10 per cent, Princeton 15 per cent, Wisconsin 20 per cent. The increase for the same time was 187 per cent, Minnesota 150 per cent, and Wisconsin 100 per cent. The enrollment of men in colleges eligible for football was Harvard, 2,744; Yale, 2,445; Princeton, 2,335; Minnesota, 2,200; Wisconsin, 1,636.

money and men? The situation found in two circumstances: the first, in the case of the religious institutions, with boards of trustees for the most part elected by the people. Furthermore, the trustees have large land holdings, and as time went on in early days, and were increasing in value piling up enormous fortunes.

Represents seeking votes here, that a liberal attitude toward the clergy is required and that well-supported teams have the college and attraction for the people. The clergy are no longer the contracted force of the past, and winning teams have secured a new sectional, and are now against the west. The struggle is being stimulating to the east is being stimulated to the west, and in the east as well as the west, the alumni and the community are recruited.

standards and traditions, and they had made a fair showing in the national athletic conference. But in spite of the attractive salary I felt I should be too far out of the way. I declined the offer. They procured another, perhaps better qualified for their purpose, at a salary of $16,500 a year. They organized a scouting system which procured a first-class coach; the publicity for the enterprise was handled by a competent young reporter, who was a member of the publicity committee.

Within three years the Blah college football team was at the top of the heap in this section. The attendance at the college games was no longer doubted; the town has profited immeasurably from the advertising given it by the football team.

I am told that some of the members of the faculty are now expressing grave concern about the "commercialization" of their college sports. This, I think, runs the whole story. This, I think, perfectly well what was happening, as I realized when I visited the campus with my friend, the editor of the college commerce, but he did not.

This bad incident, I believe, has a wide application to college athletics in general, and the present support, in a side public way, to be sure, it is the force of outside interest—which is often essentially commercial—in football in

of business," an old-time ball player said the other day. "You can prove that point by travelling all over the country looking for young, promising players," he added. "I've been in every minor league of any importance and I'm firmly convinced that golf is hitting baseball a tremendous wallop. Every baseball man still ridicules the statement. After one visits the golf courses, however, he is convinced that they speak over the minor leagues. It's mighty easy to find one where the youngsters are learning to play the game of golf courses, rather than heading for the ball parks."

"You don't find any trouble at all nowadays," this former star player or that player will do. They are too few and far between for most guessers. And nothing all summer but hunt for promising infielders. And if they are here, there is no fight in the young player any more. He is perfectly content. If he makes errors, or fails to hit he isn't worried a bit. Accidents to the young ball player are seen to have his mind on something else—possibly golf. All he has to do is to skip the game over with, and collect his pay twice a month.

second half of the Kent county local series here this afternoon, defeating Samia 5 to 4 after coming from runs behind in the sixth.

It will now be necessary to decide whether the Londoners will play B. A. series. Allen was in weak condition today and it is doubtful whether he will be in hand half way through several errors and bunched hits of the Kent players. The Kenters brought a big crowd with them and gave more moral support to their players than they have in the past. They won with the last ball pitched by Wallace, with Shaefer on third and Allen on first. The Kenters, who the school boy was out on a fly ball to the President's fans.

It is doubtful if the ground pitching was about even, though the Kenters were a little better. Wallace hit three more than the Dresden hitters. He was out on a fly ball. He gave to play off on neutral ground. Dresden wins they must play again in the second half of the half schedule. Meanwhile the Londoners must cool their heels.

gration, in reply to the announcement of John Hobday, superintendent of the Barnardo Boys' Home in Toronto, that the society would cease its work in Canada.

The department states that this is the second announcement which Dr. Hobday has made in this connection. The previous one was made a month ago on his return from England when Dr. Hobday was reported in Quebec papers as having said that during the serving of 1924 his society had brought 2,500 boys to Canada, that "4,000 strapping British lads" had made application to the government in England since the beginning of the present calendar year wanting to come to Canada, and that he became points out that the total number of Canada juvenile inmates in all societies during the fiscal year 1924 was 2,080, of which Hart House, the largest, had 497, of both sexes and all ages, and that for the year 1925, up to 14 years of age, was slightly over 150.

Hobday Criticizes.

Mr. Hobday criticizes the department on the ground that it was "influenced by the constant criticism of irresponsible persons." He says the department brought to Canada within the last three annual reports of the children brought to Canada within the last three past years. The department even therefore claim to have accurate knowledge of the work as well as the age of the young points of juvenile immigration, but the department has also had the report made by Hon. Markham, the attorney general, and the three delegates who accompanied her in her tour of Canada in 1924 for the express purpose of investigating juvenile immigration. The "irresponsible" persons who states the British delegates as well as the social service councils and other public bodies who must be acquainted with the work.

Will Last Three Years.

Under the existing system, the child immigrants are brought out under assisted passages provided through an arrangement between the government and immigration provisions. Prior to 1924, all children aged all passages were paid by the societies. The department believes that when children have reached the age of 14, they will have acquired the usual common law of immigration and will have

THRILLED MOVES UP TO NEW PEAK

Touche 136 on Wall Street,
With Allied Chemical Strong.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Aug. 25.—Profiting probably inspired by the upward movement of the market, Allied Chemical stock
went up to call money rates sloped
up but failed to halt the upward movement of the market which continued to display remarkable absorptive power
throughout the morning.
Chrysler extended its early gain to seven points by touching a new peak of 136. Chrysler's rise was due to rumors, Sears Roebuck, May Department Stores, and Baldwin
all early gains to 2 1/2 to 4 1/2 points.
Allied Chemical was bid up briskly to new top on reports that the preferred
stock would be returned and the dividend on the common increased. The effects of the gasoline price cutting war in the east and middle west were first felt in Pan-American "B" which dropped nearly two points before being recovered. Additional news of the group were recorded by Frisco, common, Seaboard Air Line, common,
and Western Maryland, common.
Call money opened at 4 1/2 per cent and then advanced to 4 3/4 per cent.

FIVE CHANGES IN TECH. STAFF

W. A. McWilliams Become Headmaster and Four Outsiders Join.

Five changes will be noted in the staff when the London technical and commercial high school reopens for the fall term on Tuesday of next week.

W. A. McWilliams, B.A., has been promoted to the position of headmaster of the technical department in succession to A. D. Hogg, M.A., who resigned to assume the principalship of South St. Marie technical high school, and thus there will be only four new members on the staff.

Miss F. A. Twiss, M.A., Knott's Island, North Carolina, succeeds Miss E. G. Leggett, B.A., as head of the household science department, the latter having resigned to be married. Miss Twiss comes to London particularly well recommended and after holding many important positions, both in Canada and the United States, she is the most important of which was that of a clear, well-modulated voice. Thus for three-quarters of an hour or more he held his audience, which comfortably filled the main room of the Metropolitan church, the auditorium as it is called, an unbroken spell, except for the loud ticking of the church clock, until the close of his powerful and well-modulated voice. Thus for three-quarters of an hour or more he held his audience, which comfortably filled the main room of the Metropolitan church, the auditorium as it is called, an unbroken spell, except for the loud ticking of the church clock, until the close of his powerful and well-modulated voice.

Miss K. F. Burrows, B.A., Fort William, has been appointed as an additional teacher in household science. Miss Burrows will have charge, under Miss Twiss, of the new household science room being opened in the night-room addition to the school, at the present moment in process of construction to be completed about the end of next month.

R. J. Currie, B.A., London, graduate of the University of Western Ontario, has been appointed to the staff as an additional teacher to do general academic work in the commercial department.

Miss G. L. Bodkin, B.A., London, until recently a member of the staff of the college institute staff, has been appointed temporarily as teacher of chemistry, the work formerly carried on by Miss Bodkin, who is a graduate of the University of Western Ontario.

H. B. Deal, principal of the technical school, now heads a staff of 32 teachers, all of whom possess first-class qualifications to carry on the work of the institution.

OFFICERS NAMED FOR OAK STREET CITADEL

Capt. and Mrs. Arthur Whitfield To Assume Duties September 3.

Captain and Mrs. Arthur Whitfield of Melford, New York, have been appointed to take charge of the Oak street citadel of the Salvation Army. They will arrive on Sept. 3, and in the evening No. 4 corps will hold a demonstration in their honor.

Captain Whitfield served with distinction in the imperial army during the great war, coming to the United States a few years ago. Prior to coming he trained in one of the army schools in England. Though only a young man, Captain Whitfield has met with remarkable success. It is for this reason he was chosen by Toronto headquarters to assume charge of the Oak street branch, the newest in the city, and where a great opportunity for extension is offered.

Captain and Mrs. Arthur Whitfield, formerly in charge of Oak street, have transferred to Barrie, two weeks ago.

ULSTERMAN TO SPEAK TO DISTRICT ORANGEMEN

T. R. Lavery, member for County Down in the Ulster parliament, Ireland, will address the London district L. O. L. in Ulster hall tonight.

Mr. Lavery, who is in the city visiting with relatives, will speak on conditions in the north of Ireland.

Rev. R. D. Mess, district minister, urges all the Orangemen of the city to attend the meeting and secure a first-hand impression of present-day affairs in Ireland.

TO EXPECTANT MOTHERS

Letter From Mrs. Ayars Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Spring Valley, Sask.—"I took the Vegetable Compound before my last confinement, when I got to feeling so badly that I could not sleep nights my back ached so across my hips, and I could hardly do my work during the day. I never had such an easy confinement and this is my sixth baby. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the 'Farmer's Telegram' and wrote you for one of your books. I have no druggist in our town, but I saw your medicine in T. Eaton's catalogue. I am a farmer's wife, so have all kinds of work to do inside and outside the house. My baby is a nice healthy girl, who weighed nine pounds at birth. I am feeling fine after putting in a large garden since baby came. (She is as good as she can be.) Yours is the best medicine for women, and I have told about it and even written to my friends about it."—Mrs. ANNIE E. AYARS, Spring Valley, Sask.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers, and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire system so that it may work in every respect as nature intends. All druggists sell this dependable medicine. Give it a trial.

NOTED DIVINE PREACHES SCOPE OF CHRISTIANITY

Inspiring Address Delivered by Rev. A. C. Hill D.D., of Glasgow.

JESUS OR CHAOS

"It is Jesus or chaos," concluded Rev. A. C. Hill, D.D., of Glasgow, in his address, "Christ and the Human Drama," to a large congregation gathered in Metropolitan United church yesterday afternoon. "It is Christianity or blank and utter darkness. Our religion is not the religion of a clan, of a locality, a nation, a country, a race or an empire. Our religion is the religion of the world. There is no other. In the last analysis there can be no other, because all religions are broken lights of that supreme, that glorious light that cometh into the world and lighteneth the life of every man."

A tall man, his hair turning gray, Dr. Hill stood erect, his hands clasped behind his back the greater part of the time, his head thrown back and speaking in a clear, well-modulated voice. Thus for three-quarters of an hour or more he held his audience, which comfortably filled the main room of the Metropolitan church, the auditorium as it is called, an unbroken spell, except for the loud ticking of the church clock, until the close of his powerful and well-modulated voice. Release Sought For Peter Smith

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.

Stratford, Aug. 24.—A petition asking the government to release Peter Smith, former provincial treasurer, on the first of October, when he will have completed one year's imprisonment, is being circulated in the city and county. It is being largely signed, both by city and county people. It has been fairly thoroughly circulated through South Perth, and is now in the city.

and counsel, then Jesus is his friend, his inspiration and his counsellor.

Has Only To Confess. "And then there is the man who has sunk into the depths—the man who has slipped into the slough of despond, but has repented. Man has only to be sorry, has only to confess, and Jesus is with him. You can't have sunk too low for him. Whenever man is seeking the truth," declared Dr. Hill, "then Jesus is with him. We meet Him on our path every day, and He challenges us as to what we esteem Him to be."

TO OPEN YEAR IN NEW SEMINARY

Formal Opening Will Not Take Place Till Some Time Later.

Brescia hall, London's Roman Catholic girls' seminary, is fast nearing completion.

Although the formal opening of the new school will not take place until October, or perhaps November, it is the intention to open the scholastic year there next month.

Residence is provided in the beautiful new building for 100 girls, and it is the confident expectation of those in charge, including Mother St. Anne, that when Brescia hall opens its doors on Sept. 21, almost the entire accommodation will be taken up.

The sound reputation established by the seminary here has made a name for Brescia hall beyond the bounds of the province, both in Canada and the United States, and consequently girls have already registered from St. Paul, Minn., Detroit, Mich., and Albany, N. Y.

With the opening of school for the fall term, thirteen teachers will have charge of the classes, in addition to which there will be the professional staff of the seminary, including Mother St. Anne, and the Sisters of the Holy Family, with which Brescia hall is affiliated.

Besides the accommodation for resident students, there is also ample provision made at Brescia hall for non-resident students, the majority of whom will attend from their homes in the city.

HAVE LAMPS CORRECTED THE ONLY SOLUTION

Secretary Bernard of Motor Club Discusses Glare Problem.

There might be a controversy for a number of years over the glaring light menace, but Secretary Eddie Bernard, of the London Motor club, thinks the only way to correct glaring lights is to go into the several stations that are making a practice of focusing lights properly and have all lights attended to.

As far as to dimming lights when another car approaches, that is like courting disaster, says Mr. Bernard. The period from the time the heavy lights go off until the dimmers come on is a blank, and then it takes several seconds for the eyes to become focused to the different ray of light. He recommends that motorists, when another car approaches, that is like courting disaster, says Mr. Bernard. S. African Couple Pushing Wheelbarrow Around World Will Visit This City Soon

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. LeRoux Have Travelled Over 8,000 Miles On Foot.

BARROW WEIGHS 180

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. LeRoux, South African world walkers, will arrive in London, en route to western Canada, in about two weeks' time.

Pushing a wheelbarrow, in which is packed all necessary kit, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoux left Johannesburg December 31, 1922, and since that date have walked through South Africa, its various native territories, Portuguese East Africa, Egypt, Italy, Switzerland, France, Belgium, Holland, England and part of Canada, a distance of 8,130 miles on foot!

Canada has made a great impression upon the travellers, second in fact only to their native land, and they unanimously agree that the Dominion is the best country they have yet visited.

"My husband is a wanderer," writes Mrs. LeRoux, explaining the reason for their travels. "And after two years of married life the wanderlust seized him again and he wanted to be off, this time on a trip around the world. His former wanderings, prior to our marriage, had taken him to the tropics, chiefly game hunting there."

Worth All the Trouble. "You are wondering why we are doing this," continued Mrs. LeRoux, for she apparently is the chronicler of the trip. "Well, to see the world and its people, to write about it, and to photograph it. We are writing a book, and from our photographs we hope to make suitable films for our home, to show our relatives and friends. It is quite a novel way of seeing the world, I can assure you, but so far it has been worth the trouble and discomfort."

Idea. "So often you will agree that we see the world more thoroughly than those people who avail themselves of touring companies."

And nothing seems just right;
A face we dearly loved has gone,
A heart that beat for us no more.
But there are loving ones who linger
Around the spot where you are laid,
Who will come and scatter flowers
On the grave Christ has made.

HOME BREW GAINS IN ONTARIO TOWNS

U. S. Investigators Find Demand Lessens in Perth County.

Special to The Advertiser
By a Staff Correspondent.
Stratford, Aug. 24.—Ontario's new 44 beer came in for considerable discussion here this afternoon, when a special committee of the U. S. Congress met with a number of civic officials and prominent men of the city to discuss its effect upon the temperance situation. The committee was headed by Congressman Grant M. Hudson, of Lansing, Mich., and the other members of the committee were Wayne Wheeler, Washington, D.C., and W. W. Waltham, of Detroit.

They were told by Chief of Police J. L. Broadley that the effect of the 44 beer here had been to reduce bootlegging, and to make people satisfied. He stated, however, in his opinion, that the beer was not strong enough to meet the situation, and that the fact that there has been a trebling in the number of home-brew permits issued in the city since the new beer had been reduced thought that the beer had reduced the craving for strong drink in considerable degree.

Sell Light Beer.
Chief Broadley pointed out that while the sales of 44 beer had been heavy, five hotels were not selling much of it as 22 beer. Dr. J. D. Monieth, M.L.A., also gave his opinion that the new beer had reduced the craving for strong drink in considerable degree.

Several aldermen spoke briefly, and the general tenor of the remarks was that the new beer was not too expensive, and that it was not strong enough to satisfy the habitual beer drinker, according to the large number of home brewers. Several speakers, taking the temperance angle, said they did not see why any such beverage was needed, but most of them took the attitude that it was a question of the desires of the people, and that they were not in the habit of interfering with the desires of the people, and that they were not in the habit of interfering with the desires of the people.

Beer Too Expensive.
Several aldermen spoke briefly, and the general tenor of the remarks was that the new beer was not too expensive, and that it was not strong enough to satisfy the habitual beer drinker, according to the large number of home brewers. Several speakers, taking the temperance angle, said they did not see why any such beverage was needed, but most of them took the attitude that it was a question of the desires of the people, and that they were not in the habit of interfering with the desires of the people.

LAUD CO-OPERATION.
Special to The Advertiser
By a Staff Correspondent.
Sarnia, Aug. 24.—A sub-committee of four members appointed by the United States House of Representatives to inquire into the effect of the 18th Amendment, entered Ontario this morning and took evidence from several individuals here regarding the operation of the U. S. A. particularly as to the way in which its enforcement or lack of enforcement affects the enforcement of the United States prohibition laws.

The committee later left for St. Marys and Stratford, and on Thursday will have an interview with Premier Ferguson and members of his cabinet at Toronto. The committee was of the unanimous opinion that co-operative measures between the United States and Canadian governments was essential if the flow of liquor across the border from Canada was to cease. Henry Conn, R. E. Levesque, Robt. Sturtevant, representing the prohibitionists, and W. H. Kenny, representing the moderationists, were questioned here this morning.

BOOTLEGGERS REMAINS.

Kitchener, Aug. 24.—That Ontario's 44 per cent beer does not have it residents of this city, nor has it weaned the addicts to spirituous liquors from such liquors, was the evidence submitted to the sub-committee of the house of representatives of Washington, D.C., held in the city hall here tonight. Among various questions asked by the members of the congress was one, "Has it eliminated the bootlegger?" Prominent citizens declared it has not.

The Morning After—

"What's the matter with Bill this morning—he's so stiff he almost squeaks!" enquired the staff manager.
"O, they gave a kid's party at his house last night and Bill entertained them so strenuously that this morning he can hardly move," laughed the bookkeeper, as he carefully sharpened his pencil to a needle point.

"Well, he evidently doesn't know about Absorbine Jr. That's what I always use after unaccustomed exercise, and it saves me all that unpleasant and even painful stiffness the next day."

"Absorbine Jr. is just the thing—a few drops rubbed briskly into over tired and stiff muscles limbers them up, seems to inject new life into them and wonderfully refreshes them. $1.25 at your druggist."

OTTAWA SURE OF EARLY VOTE IN SPITE OF KING STATEMENT

By E. C. BUCHANAN.
Special to The Advertiser
By a Staff Correspondent.
Ottawa, Aug. 24.—Premier King's statement regarding an election and the questions before the government was the subject of discussion throughout the day in political circles in the capital. The prime minister's statement undoubtedly was called forth by the efforts of Mr. Meighen in speeches in various parts of the country to create the impression that if an election were held it would be in response to his demand.

It has been the Conservative leader's tactics to challenge the government outside of parliament to go to the country. Anticipating an election this fall, he has been endeavoring to have it appear that the government was reluctant to appeal to the people and that he was fretting for the fray. Mr. King made it clear that the government is not clear that the Conservative leader's strategy. The holding of an election, the premier has declared, depends on national reasons, not on the calculated utterances of Mr. Meighen.

The prime minister's statement, however, has not altered expectations regarding an election. It is regarded as being as certain as anything political can be. Nowhere in political quarters in Ottawa is any doubt entertained that the election is coming soon.

THAMESVILLE LAD DROWNED IN RIVER

Garland Bradder Pulls Two From Water Near Dresden.

Special to The Advertiser
By a Staff Correspondent.
Dresden, Aug. 24.—The 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, of Thamesville, was drowned this afternoon in the river opposite Craig's Island, and his younger brother, a 3-year-old lad, owes his life to a brave rescue made by Garland Bradder. Both the Williams boys were pulled out of the water by Bradder, who is only 12 years of age.

The two youngsters wandered away from their home early this afternoon, and found their way to the river bank, where they decided to go for a swim. Shortly afterwards, Garland Bradder happened to be passing that way and noticed one of the boys struggling in the water on the farther side. Quickly throwing off his coat, the lad swam to the rescue to find the other brother floating beneath the surface, while the one was still struggling feebly. After considerable effort, the brave boy managed to bring both brothers to shore.

Rev. Mr. Blackwell, who happened to be near the scene, worked for nearly an hour to revive the elder boy. Dr. McAlpine, of Dresden, and Dr. Stewart, of Thamesville, were called, but could only declare the boy to be dead.

The younger boy was fortunately rescued before allowing much water, and after resting at his home, is none the worse for his terrible experience. The parents of the drowned lad had just arrived from Holland last May, and are most highly respected in the community. Both are prostrated by the tragedy.

PLANT IMPROVEMENTS IN AFRICA'S MEAT TRADE

Associated Press Despatch.
Cape Town, S. A., Aug. 24.—The board of trade and industries has issued a comprehensive report making recommendations for the improvement of the Union of South Africa's meat trade. It urges among other things that a systematic attempt should be made to build up the meat trade with the continent of Europe, especially with Italy, leaving the British market to those countries which have specialized in meeting the demand for meat of the first grade and exporting from the union only beef classed as fair to average.

Educate Lamb In Middlesex, Present Him to Mrs. Cockshutt

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Aug. 24.—There is a milk-white, pure-bred and astonished lambkin up on Col. Danger To Business From O. T. A. Amendment Seen by Traffickers.

Special to The Advertiser.
Detroit, Aug. 24.—Attorneys for many of the larger groups engaged in the trafficking of liquor on the Detroit river bent their protection for books today seeking to prevent their clients after September 1, when their amendment to the Ontario temperance act becomes effective. It carries a sentence of from one to five years' imprisonment for violation.

All of the lawyers were unanimous in their decision that the liquor business will be suspended upon the advent of the amendment, unless some method is employed, whereby the liquor can be continued after its transportation across the border, so as to give protection to railway companies over whose lines liquor is shipped to the border. Several large exporting companies are said to be making plans for the purchase of steamers with which to bring whiskey and other alcoholic beverages across.

Should liquor be brought here in this manner, fictitious names and false bills of lading will be necessary, as liquor cannot be legally imported into or exported out of Ontario, even with the protection of a government charter, attorneys say.

STRIKE IN WALES COMES TO AN END

Dispute Over Alleged Victim-ization of Lone Man Finally Closed.
Associated Press Despatch.
London, Aug. 24.—The strike of 20,000 anthracite miners which has been in effect for the last two months in Wales, has been settled, and work is being resumed tonight. The dispute arose over the alleged victimization of one man at an Ammanford colliery. The settlement terms were accepted today by the miners' delegates in conference.

U. S. STRIKE UNBLOCKED.

Associated Press Despatch.
Washington, D.C., Aug. 24.—With the threatened hard coal strike expected to begin next week, there was no sign here today of any move by the government to block it. While there were rumors that President Coolidge has his course mapped out, if there is a strike, there is no indication of what that course would be. Possibilities of an extra session of congress which would grant the president great powers in the coal strike are being discussed.

JURY EXONERATES MRS. C.

Driver of Car That Killed Young Billy Wheatley Is Freed.

Mrs. C. J. Donnelly, driver of the car which struck and killed William Robert Wheatley, 24-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Wheatley, 229 Emery street, while playing on the street in front of his house last Tuesday, was freed of all blame by the coroner's jury at the conclusion of the inquest at the police court last night.

The jury also recommended that mothers of small children should prevent their children from using the streets as a playground. The large number of street accidents was mainly responsible for the recommendation, and it was pointed out that the majority of fatalities was due to children who were allowed to roam at will.

It was further advised that school teachers should be called upon to issue warnings to children under their instruction, so that the child would have the danger firmly impressed on his mind.

The inquest was brief, as the evidence of only seven witnesses was heard, before Coroner Dr. Robert Ferguson called upon the jury to render a verdict. They did so after 15 minutes' deliberation.

HOUSING COMMISSION MEETS WITH TROUBLE

Many Tenants Neglect To Pay the Rents For Houses Taken.

Troubles of the city in the role of landlords occupied the attention of last night's session of the London housing commission, presided over by Chairman Harry Wray. Reports were received on the present standing of a number of tenants of the commission, and in a number of instances the city clerk was instructed to confer with the city solicitor with a view to protecting the city's interests by legal process. Apparently, the commission is experiencing all the troubles of a landlord.

Some tenants have left for other parts with their rent unpaid, and in the case of several purchasers of houses, the monthly payments are far in arrears. In one instance, a citizen who purchased one of the houses under an agreement of sale, appears to have thought better of his bargain after paying about $100, and he has left the house and turned in the key. The commission debated the question of whether to allow the purchaser to forfeit his equity in the house and be quit of the bargain, or whether to take proceedings to have him carry out the terms of his agreement. The latter course was decided upon, and he will still be considered the purchaser of the house and will be required to comply with the terms of the agreement of sale, which he signed.

STUDENT ACTIONS IN CHINA DEFENDED

University Head, Former Mitchell Man, Tells of Sweeping Change.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.
Mitchell, Aug. 24.—On Sunday evening the United church was filled to capacity when Rev. J. J. Stewart, vice-president of the West China university, Chengtu, China, gave a fine address on "What Is Going On in China." Dr. Stewart was well known in Mitchell before he went to China 20 years ago. "The Chinese nation is now undergoing a tremendously sweeping transformation in its thinking, its relations to the nations of the west, and its educational, religious and patriotic conceptions," he declared. "This new impulse, unrest or national upheaval which is stirring the very heart of China is chiefly the work of the great body of Chinese students, who are endeavoring to free China from foreign control."

"These students are thoroughly conversant with western ideals and practices. They believe that western nations are exploiting China, and for proof of this point to unfair terms of the many treaties that the Chinese have been compelled to make with these nations."
