

SUBMARINE FIRED ON THE ANCONA WITHOUT WARNING BRITISH STEAMSHIP CARIA, 3032 TONS, SUNK TODAY

"WAKE UP, WASHINGTON!" SAYS NEW YORK HERALD ON ANCONA SINKING

Goes Over List of Indignities Suffered by Wilson Government, and States Tide of Public Wrath is Rising—Other Papers Comment—Austrian Flag Disguise to Hide Germany.

New York, Nov. 11.—Commenting on the sinking of the Ancona, The Herald this morning under the caption "Wake up Washington," says: "The Ancona infamy is but one in the grand scheme. Germany assumes that this government can be kept asleep. Why not? The Lusitania is forgotten and fled away in Mr. Lansing's pigeon hole. Any yet a doubt arises. True the Zealandia, which is suspected of having been the German officers who broke parole at Norfolk, was not searched by the United States navy, which should long ago have been after this suspected ship. True the Lusitania is forgotten and equally true that Captain Boyed and Captain von Pappen still insult this country with their presence. But the government shall be given the benefit of the doubt. Something may happen to wake it up yet. "But one thing is certain: The tide of popular wrath is rising surely, higher and higher with each speakable outrage that must be laid at the doors of the Teutonic allies. They are equally blood guilty and there is surely a limit, if not to official, to public patience. "SUSPECTS GERMAN. "The Tribune says: "The mere fact that an Austrian flag was displayed will not serve to silence the suspicion that the work was that of the German submarines known to have passed Gibraltar recently and traceable by their operations in the western Mediterranean. "Conceivably, then, we have to deal with a second Lusitania; possibly we have to deal with Austria, probably with Germany. Yet it is equally just to reckon that the Ancona, was warned and attempted to escape. In this situation there is nothing to do but to wait for the facts. "One thing, however, must spring to the mind of every American. The circumstances that are known recall vividly and painfully the similar circumstances when American women and children were slaughtered in the channel—and from that hour to this Germany has neither disavowed the act nor agreed to pay indemnity. "We all know why now. It is perfectly plain that the president has never been ready to press the Lusitania case because he has found that pressing it might lead to a German refusal to disavow and thus shatter the pretty but fragile fabric of his great diplomatic triumph in the matter of the Arabic. "GOVERNMENT WEAK "A government which shuts its eyes to the murder of its citizens, whether through fear or other reasons, cannot permanently expect to escape trouble and exposure. To have permitted the Lusitania massacre to stand all these months has been for Mr. Wilson a political blunder which is the end in itself, but this is a small thing compared with the cost of his country now and hereafter in life and in honor. "The World says: "In its slaughter of innocents, the sinking of the Ancona by an Austrian submarine resembles the Lusitania massacre. In other respects the two cases seem to have nothing in common. The Lusitania was torpedoed without warning. The Ancona was apparently trying to escape. If this proves to be the fact no diplomatic complications between the United States and Austria can arise out of the destruction of the Ancona, even though American lives were lost. "The question remains what emphasis America is willing to give to this declaration. If Mr. Wilson intends only to open a more or less politely conducted academic discussion about blockades and peoples' rights, then everything assuredly will remain unchanged in practice. It might happen, however, that the note will intensify the resistance of really free Americans against British guardianship in an unexpected manner and that the president then will see himself compelled against his will, to pass from words to deeds. No doubt in such a case he would have the support of maltreated European neutrals.

GERMANS SUBMARINE FIRED SHOTS WHILE PASSENGERS WERE GETTING OFF

Story of Sinking of S. S. Ancona Shows That Austrian Sub Started Panic by Firing Shots to Overhaul Boat and Then Made Panic Worse by Firing to Hurry Passengers Off.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Paris, Nov. 11.—The Ancona was attacked by two submarines, both flying the Austrian flag, says a Havre despatch from Cape Bon, Tunis. "SHIP WAS WARNED. "London, Nov. 11.—The Italian steamer Ancona was not sunk without warning, according to information obtained from survivors landed at Malta by the Reuter correspondent and cabled here. The Austrian submarine which overhauled her after a long stern chase gave the commander a brief respite to permit the removal of passengers, but the indescribable panic which began among the emigrants on board as soon as the underwater craft was sighted was responsible for the loss of many lives. In a mad rush for safety, men, women and children overwhelmed the boats, several of which were overturned before they could be lowered. Many of the occupants fell into the sea and were drowned. "Passengers' rage, the correspondent says that shots fired by the submarine, apparently to hasten the loading of the boats, added to the panic. "The Reuter despatch which contains the first connected story of the sinking of the Ancona on Monday afternoon, twenty hours after she had left Messina, Sicily, follows: "MOSTLY WOMEN AND CHILDREN "We left Naples with a fairly large number of passengers, intending to sail direct to New York, but soon after leaving port received a wireless message directing us to stop at Messina for more passengers and cargo. The people aboard were mostly Greeks and Italians with large families on their way to the United States to settle there. The majority, therefore were women and children. We left Messina at 5 p.m. The captain, having been warned of the presence of enemy submarines, took all possible precautions. At exactly 1 o'clock on Monday afternoon we sighted an enemy submarine at a great distance. She came to the surface and made full speed in our direction, firing as she did so a shot, which went wide across our bows. We took this to be a warning to halt. "WILDEST PANIC. "Immediately there was the wildest panic aboard, not only among the women and children, but among the men as well. Women screamed and children clung desperately to their mothers. Meanwhile the submarine continued to shell us, gaining rapidly. The fifth shot carried away the chart house. "The engines then were stopped and the Ancona came slowly to a standstill. The submarine, which we could see plainly, was an Austrian, came alongside. We heard the commander talking to our captain. In a somewhat curt manner we were told the Austrian had given us a few minutes to abandon the ship. Meanwhile the submarine withdrew a little distance. "We turned to the boats which began to be lowered without loss of time, but the passengers were in a pandemonium. Men, women and children seemed to lose their heads completely. The submarine, presumably to accelerate our departure, continued to fire around the vessel. There was a rush for the first boats lowered and in the confusion these were overturned before they were free from the davits, the occupants falling into the water. Many were (Continued on Page 4)

HUN PAPERS QUITE SATISFIED WITH NOTE PRESIDENT WILSON SENDS TO BRITAIN.

WANTED TO RESIGN. By Special Wire to the Courier. LONDON, Nov. 11.—Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, told the House of Commons this afternoon that he himself had expressed a desire to resign at the time Viscount Haldane left the cabinet. "But for a crisis in the public affairs I would have done so," said the foreign secretary. "Sir Edward declared he regarded Lord Haldane's resignation as a loss to the public service. He said he regretted there had been no opportunity to utilize Viscount Haldane's services in the foreign office.

TAGEBLATT EVEN HINTS THAT FROM WORDS AMERICA WILL PASS ON TO DEEDS.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Berlin, via London, Nov. 11.—With a more complete summary of the American note to Great Britain at their disposal, the German newspapers comment upon it at greater length. The general tone is one of satisfaction that President Wilson used such energetic language, but doubt whether corresponding results will follow. "The Lokal Anzeiger regards the note as worthy of a place beside those sent to Germany as regards the gravity of the language and the exhaustiveness of the complaints made. "We hear in," says The Anzeiger, "the unvarnished truth about Great Britain's rape of neutral trade, her disregard of all international law and her shabby manner of conducting war at sea. This picture of the real British character, drawn by a neutral pen, will be valuable for all time whatever practical results the Americans achieve with their protests and complaints. "The Tageblatt says the note is in such proper language as is usual between the United States and Great Britain, but that for the present there are only sharp words and nothing more although there is no reason to doubt that the Americans are very serious in their complaints. "Great Britain has placed under guard," it adds, "not only the trade of sincerely neutral countries, but that of her help-free Americans against British guardianship in an unexpected manner and that the president then will see himself compelled against his will, to pass from words to deeds. No doubt in such a case he would have the support of maltreated European neutrals.

Consul White Cables State Department From Naples to That Effect.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Naples, Nov. 11.—Via Paris—Another boat with 37 survivors of the Ancona has reached Cape on, Tunis. The names of occupants of this boat have not yet been received. "OFFICIAL REPORT. "Washington, Nov. 11.—The state department received a cablegram from United States Consul White at Naples today saying that the Societa Italia says 347 passengers and crew of the Ancona are reported as saved out of 496 and that the steamship officials believe that more will be reported saved. The department also received a message from Ambassador Page, giving some brief details. "Consul White's cablegram dated at Naples last night and received here early this morning, follows: "The Societa Italia now report that the following American citizens were aboard the Steamship Ancona: "First cabin, Mrs. Cecille L. Griel, Steerage, Alessandro Patattivo, wife and four children; Mrs. Francesco Mascolo Lamuria and minor child and Pasquale Laurine and that 347 passengers and crew were reported as saved out of 496. The steamship company are confident that more will be reported as saved."

BOSTON, PHILADELPHIA AND CHICAGO PAPERS CONDEMN ACT

The Horror of Sending to the Bottom Innocent Women and Children Would Appal the World in Any Other Period but This.

By Special Wire to the Courier. New York, Nov. 11.—American press comment, published here to-day follows: "The Boston Herald—The first thing we want in the Ancona case is an exact and comprehensive statement of facts. We want to know if there were any palliating circumstances which, under international law, justify a submarine in sinking a merchantman without giving passengers a chance for their lives. It seems clear that the ship was carrying American citizens, thus putting it in the same class as the Lusitania, so far as America's relation to the tragedy is concerned. The horror of sending to the bottom innocent women and children would appeal to the world in any other period than this. Now we look on it with measurable calm, only inquiring as to the technical compliance with the precepts of international law over which President Wilson had supposedly brought Germany to terms. "The Philadelphia Public Ledger—The details of this sickening tragedy are not yet quite clear, but enough is known to condemn forever those responsible for it. The Ancona did not carry munition of war, she carried no troops, there is no suggestion that an attempt was made to ram the submarine that attacked her. It was nothing but sheer brutality that sent her helplessly to the bottom of the sea. There were Americans among those who were thus sent to their doom—Americans who were exercising their undoubted rights in travelling on an Italian ship; Americans for whose protection the government of the United States is responsible. What will be the answer of the administration to this latest crime against the nation and all humanity. Is the Austrian Government to escape with a disavowal and an apology. Must there be more futile notes, more inclusive debates about "sacred principles?" "The Chicago Tribune—So far as we know, no pretense has been made by Austria-Hungary that any sort of blockade was attempted of Italy's ports. Germany is not even at war with Italy. An attack by a German upon Italian ships would have this unusual circumstance. The destruction of an Italian passenger ship by an Austrian submarine would be an extraordinary vicious disregard of humane considerations. Whether the destroyer were German or Austrian, the case will be abnormally bad.

MAKING ALL EFFORTS TO FIND OUT NOT TOLD TO STOP

U. S. Doing All Possible to Discover Number of Americans Lost on Ancona.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Washington, Nov. 11.—Secretary Lansing announced today that the state department was making every effort to gather information and details on the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona. The department does not know the source of information contained in consular dispatches, and dispatches from Ambassador Page at Rome and is yet unable to determine how many Americans were lost. It is entirely without official advice as to the circumstances of the sinking or the nationality of the submarine which shelled and torpedoed the ship. Dispatches from Malta, Bizerta, Rome and Naples all contain fragments of information. "Statements will be taken from survivors, wherever they may land and the United States will gather all possible information before taking the matter up with any foreign government.

NEW WAR COUNCIL

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Great Britain's new war committee of the cabinet, during the temporary absence of Field Marshal Earl Kitchener, it was officially announced today, will consist of Premier Asquith, Arthur J. Balfour, first lord of the admiralty; David Lloyd-George, minister of munitions; Andrew Bonar Law, secretary for the colonies, and Reginald McKenna, chancellor of the exchequer.

RUSSIANS ASSUME A GENERAL OFFENSIVE—FRENCH NOT IN POSSESSION OF VELES—SERBS SAID TO HAVE AGAIN ATTACKED BULGARS.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, Nov. 11.—An acute revival of the submarine issue, chiefly in the Mediterranean, accompanied by a general offensive activity by the Russians on the eastern front makes the war news read to-day like a repetition of history, six months old. "Along the southern extremity of the Russian line, to the west of Czartorsk, where desperate battles have been underway for several weeks, the Russians claim a considerable success which is said to have resulted in breaking the Austro-German lines and to have culminated in a retreat, during which numbers of fleeing soldiers were drowned in addition to leaving 2,000 Austro-German troops as prisoners. "In the Riga area the Russians maintain they are more than holding their own. West of Riga, the Russians have consolidated the positions they recently won, and they lay claim to the occupation of several villages which had been in the hands of the invaders. "Less change is reported from the Balkan front than at any time since the new campaign began. It is now definitely established that the French are not in possession of the Serbian town of Veles, a daring cavalry raid, which apparently reached at least the environs of the place, being responsible for the erroneous report that the place had been wrested from the hands of the Bulgars. "It is unofficially reported that both wings of the Bulgarian forces invading Macedonia are menaced by the Anglo-French advance, while the Serbians are said to have resumed the offensive in the region of Babuna Pass, where they recently won an important success. The Serbians are making a stand here, and it is also reported that they have established communication with the French. This report, if true, insures the temporary safety of Monastir, where a condition approaching panic has been prevailing. Monastir has a large Bulgarian population and it was feared some of the inhabitants might join the bands of Bulgarian irregulars which on several occasions lately have threatened the city. "The London newspapers continue to devote much space to the sinking of the Italian steamship Ancona. Many of them editorially express the opinion that the attacking boat was a German submarine, and they arrive at the unusual conclusion that the United States is more concerned in exacting reparation than any other nation.

ACQUITTED ON GRAFT CHARGE

By Special Wire to the Courier. Paris, Nov. 11.—Louise Le Gasse and Emil Le Borgne, two ship owners, who were tried by court martial on a charge of having sold the government a large quantity of spoiled codfish, have been acquitted.

St. George's Cross for Nurse

For the second time in Russian history a woman has been awarded the officers' Cross of St. George. Unfortunately, Myra Ivanova, sister of mercy upon whom it was conferred, did not live to receive it. At a critical moment during a battle she heroically led a charge of infantrymen, whose officers had been killed, and enabled them to defeat the enemy. During the achievement she received a mortal wound.

The first female recipient of the Cross was the famous Trooper Danilova, who fought in the war of 1812, and she received the award, not as a woman, but as the officer Alexander, under which name she served; therefore, strictly speaking, the late Sister Ivanova was the first woman thus honored.

BIG WIRE ROPE MILL GONE BY FIRE ROUTE

Over Half-Million-Dollar Blaze at Trenton, N.J.—Origin Unknown.

BIG WIRE Rope

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 11.—The big wire rope mill of the John A. Roebling Sons Company and a number of nearby dwelling houses, were destroyed by fire, which started about 1 o'clock this morning and was still burning, although under control four hours later. For a time the six storey wire mill, which recently had been overhauled and new machinery installed to manufacture gun barrels for the Midvale Steel and Ordnance Company, which it was said, was being shipped to the European theatre, was seriously threatened. Its roof caught fire several times but upon each occasion, the firemen succeeded in extinguishing the flames. An official statement as to the damage wrought by the fire was obtainable, but rough estimates placed it at about a half a million dollars. The burned rope mill was a new structure, and all its machinery and equipment also were new.

The origin of the fire, which started in the rope mill, had not been determined at an early hour to-day.

If it had succeeded, the effect on the war would have been decisive, and it was worth the risk.

TURKS PLACED UNDER ARREST

Had Copies of Prohibited and Violently Anti-British Paper.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—Back of the arrest of four Turks yesterday on a charge of having prohibited publications in their possession, the police believe is something more far-reaching—a plan to have Turks resident in Canada convert their assets into currency for the purpose of forwarding it to Turkey to aid that country in its fight against Great Britain and her allies. The men under arrest are—John Shibley, 536 Yonge street, Geo. Hacken, 202 Queen Street east, Ameen Batri, 1471 Yonge street, and Alexander Seycourt, 2006 Dundas St.

For some time the police have been aware of the fact that large quantities of a prohibited and violent Turkish paper, published in New York under the title of "Al-Bayan," have been smuggled into the country, and distributed amongst the Turkish and Mohammedan residents. An investigation followed and the search was narrowed down to Toronto. Detectives Maurer and McConnell were assigned to the case by Toronto Detectives Kennedy and late yesterday afternoon the four prisoners were taken into custody.

At the time of their arrest late issues of the "Al-Bayan" were found in their possession when searched by the police. It was said that an investigation showed that the copies of the prohibited publication were smuggled into Canada in bundles of other papers.

ITALY WILL INSIST UPON REPARATION

So Thinks London Times, While Rome Says Ancona Sinking is Worst Yet.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, Nov. 11.—Commenting editorially on the sinking of the Steamship Ancona, The Times describes it as "the blackest outrage since the Lusitania case in the Lusitania case."

WHAT ROME THINKS

Rome, Nov. 10.—Via Paris, Nov. 11.—Commenting upon the sinking of the Ancona, The Tribune says: "It was even more barbarous than the sinking of the Lusitania for the passengers were not warned against sailing before they boarded the steamer, as in the Lusitania case."

The Idea Nazionale says the Ancona case recalls the Lusitania, but that it is graver and more ferocious as the submarine fired hundreds of shots against the Ancona to save torpedoes as it is difficult to get fresh supplies of torpedoes in the Mediterranean, thus using the most inhumane methods and making escape precarious.

The paper urges immediate measures for the destruction of supply depots in the Mediterranean for submarines.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR, THICK, WAVY, FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Immediat?—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy fluffy, abundant and appears as soft lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after an application of Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggly, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair. But what we please most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair, growing all over the scalp.

Not All Pro-German.

London, Nov. 11.—A Stockholm despatch to The Times says: "While it is undoubtedly true that the preponderance of sentiment here is pro-German and anti-allies, this sentiment has been exaggerated. What is true is that the anti-German party certainly are pro-German and that the Germans, through their intelligent and persistent propaganda have dominated most of the channels of publicity to such an extent that even if a majority of the population favored the allies, it would be difficult for their views to find expression."

The steamer France was a vessel of 4,025 tons gross. She was built in 1897 and owned by the Societe Generale des Transports Maritimes a Vapeur of Marseilles. The steamer has been generally used in the Mediterranean and South American trade. She was at Algiers Sept. 22 last.

Women's Institute

The regular monthly meeting of the Mt. Pleasant Women's Institute was held November 8th at Mrs. J. C. Biggar's, with a goodly number of ladies present. The meeting opened by singing the opening ode, the president presiding, after which roll call was responded to by asking a riddle. The minutes of last meeting were read by Miss Edie and approved. The ladies decided to continue their Red Cross work, and a committee was appointed to look after this work. The secretary was instructed to settle outstanding accounts and to purchase $10 worth of yarn for the knitters. The ladies decided to have a Red Cross tea every two weeks to raise money for Hannelette, etc. The offer of the guild room, which was offered by the warden of the English church for Red Cross work, was gratefully accepted, and the ladies will meet every Thursday for sewing, etc.

Miss Ruth Edie rendered a very pleasing solo. Mrs. Morgan Harris gave a very interesting paper on travelling, which was much enjoyed. Mr. Cole rendered selections on the piano. The hostess served dainty refreshments. The next meeting of the institute will be held at the home of Miss Garret, and will take the form of an historical meeting. All ladies welcome.

Eight Teams Tied.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, Nov. 11.—Eight of the teams in the six day bicycle race are now tied for the lead. Indications are that a new record for the track will be made as they came up to the start of today's concluding twenty miles ahead of the previous mark for three days riding.

Milwaukee delinquent stores and groceries will defy the Sunday closing law made by the city.

WITH THE SOLDIERS

Within the last day or so 118 uniforms have been received for members of the Battery and 40 for the 38th battalion. Men who have hitherto been seen in the ranks in civilian clothes will all now soon be outfitted.

The officers of the 84th who are located in the Y. M. C. A. will play a game to-night against a team from the rest of those who reside in the institution.

The boys of the 84th have taken to Brantford's splendidly equipped Y. M. C. A. like ducks to water. In their off hours the large quarters assigned to them are crowded and they indulge in games of indoor quoits, etc., in the large vestibule.

About forty more men of the 84th reached Brantford yesterday. They had been on outside signal duty.

Col Stewart is in Toronto to-day arranging among other things to have more men sent here.

The officers of the 84th are anticipating a march for the men to Paris some time in the near future. It is expected that the ladies there will entertain the men at dinner.

Since the arrival of the 84th, in the city, recruiting seems to have had an added stimulus. Five new men were recruited yesterday, and the recruiting station yesterday and were accepted, all signing up with the 38th Dufferin Rifles as follows:

Harry Pinney, English, age 26, single, bench hand, 78 Brant street.

Clement Coles, Canadian, age 20, single, merchant, 62 Northumberland street.

Augustus Melligan, Canadian, age 18, laborer, single, 123 West Mill St.

Robert Kennedy, English, age 22, laborer, single.

Wilbur McArthur, Scotch, age 19, laborer, single, 20 Huron street.

Major Southam, who is with the 40th battery at Toronto, arrived in the city to-day and arranged to take 80 men away from here who have enlisted with the 32nd Battery. Trumpeter Walters has already left to report at the Queen City.

HAPPENINGS WITH THE 34TH.

A and B Companies of the Battalion arrived to-day at Toronto about 1.30 p.m. and entrained at the Exhibition Camp Station for their winter quarters at Oshawa under command of Lt.-Col. Stewart. It is expected that some time to-day after seeing his men safely quartered at Oshawa, there were no casualties on the line of march and the health of the men is good.

Capt F. H. Stewart, Battalion paymaster has rented Col. Genet's house for the winter. Mrs. Stewart has arrived here.

The Battalion under the command of Major Scobell did a route march of fully five miles this afternoon.

Work here is being rapidly pushed ahead and all ranks feel confident of an enjoyable stay in Brantford. The men appreciate very much the elaborate arrangements and excellent treatment they received at the hands of the ladies of this city on their arrival last Monday.

The Men's Mess in the Dalhousie Street Building is still in an incomplete state, and the men are somewhat inconvenienced but the men of the 84th are not "Mamma's Darlings" and fully realize that a soldier's life can hardly be as soft as when mother did the cooking. Through a regrettable misunderstanding on the railroad switching the transport supplies between Oshawa and Brantford, the Quartermaster is seriously handicapped, until the complete messing equipment presented them everything will be orderly and becoming the usual splendid messing arrangements and esprit de corps of the 84th, under the skillful management of their popular Colonel.

The day's routine of duty commences with Reveille 6 a.m.; roll call and breakfast, 6.30; orderly room, 8 a.m.; guard mounting, 9 a.m.; parade 9 a.m. to noon; dinner 12.30 p.m.; rest, 1.30 to 4.30; tea 5.30; retreat, 6 p.m.; first post 9.30 p.m.; last post, 10.00 p.m.; lights out, 10.15 p.m.

Officers of the day—Capt. T. A. Taylor, Lieut. R. G. Watts.

Next for duty, commencing a.m. of the 11th—Captain of the day, Capt. N. G. Fite; subaltern of the day, Lt. C. O. Jolly.

The medical officers parade this a.m. had no serious cases, but the doctor was kept busy with the final dressings to the blistered feet of a few of the men who are now happily fast recovering from the long trek from Niagara camp to their winter quarters in this city.

The annual church social of the members of the church and congregation of the First Baptist Church was held last evening, about 300 being present. The gathering opened by the singing of "All hail the power of Jesus name," after which the pastor read Psalms 121 and 122, and led in prayer.

"FIGHTING MEN FIRST" CRIED OUT NURSES

When Survivors Were Taken Off Torpedoed Transport—Soldiers First.

London, Nov. 11.—The Morning Post, 3:35: A correspondent sends us a story told by the Captain of a French cruiser which well illustrates the important part being played by many noble women in the war. The Captain says his vessel was instrumental in saving a number of lives when a British transport was torpedoed some time ago in the Aegean Sea. On board were thirty-six nursing Sisters, of whom a number were drowned. When the French boats came on the scene the nurses called out with one accord: "Fighting men first." Such an instance of devotion to the flag surely deserves to live in British history.

A casualty list issued last night shows that ten women nurses of the New Zealand nursing service were lost when the transport Marquette was torpedoed and sunk in the Aegean Sea last month. Nearly 100 of the personnel of the Marquette, in all were unaccounted for, the Admiralty stated, when the sinking of the transport was announced on October 26. The Morning Post's story quoted above evidently deals with the sinking of this vessel.

St. George's Cross for Nurse.

For the second time in Russian history a woman has been awarded the officers' Cross of St. George. Unfortunately, Myra Ivanova, sister of mercy upon whom it was conferred, did not live to receive it. At a critical moment during a battle she heroically led a charge of infantrymen, whose officers had been killed, and enabled them to defeat the enemy. During the achievement she received a mortal wound.

The first female recipient of the Cross was the famous Trooper Davova, who fought in the war of 1812, but she received the award, not as a woman, but as the officer Alexander, under which name she served; therefore, strictly speaking, it was Sister Ivanova who was the first woman thus honored.

BIG WIRE ROPE MILL GONE BY FIRE ROUTE

Over Half-Million-Dollar Blaze at Trenton, N.J.—Origin Unknown.

BIG WIRE Rope

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 11.—The big wire rope mill of the John A. Roeblings Sons Company and a number of nearby dwelling houses, were destroyed by fire, which started about 1 o'clock this morning and was still burning, although under control four hours later. For a time the six storey wire mill, which recently had been overhauled and new machinery installed to manufacture gun barrels for the Midvale Steel and Ordnance Company, which it was said, were going to ship to the European belligerents, was seriously threatened. Its roof caught fire several times but upon each occasion, the firemen succeeded in extinguishing the flames. No official statement as to the damage wrought by the fire was obtainable, but rough estimates placed it at about a half a million dollars. The burned rope mill was a new structure and all its machinery and equipment also were new.

The origin of the fire, which started in the rope mill, had not been determined at an early hour to-day.

Arches and Pains of rheumatism are not relieved, but only temporarily, by external remedies. Why not use an internal remedy—Fletcher's Castoria, which corrects the acidity of the blood on which rheumatism depends and cures the disease?

PUNISH THE LEADER WHO BLUNDERED

House of Lords Member Says Leader at Suvla Bay Should be Dismissed.

London, Nov. 11.—In the House of Lords last night, Josiah G. Wedgwood, who is a commander in the Royal Naval Reserve and who has just received the Distinguished Service Order for services in the Dardanelles, declared he approved the inception of the Dardanelles campaign "even though it was a gamble." If it had succeeded, the effect on the war would have been decisive, and it was worth the risk.

TURKS PLACED UNDER ARREST

Toronto, Nov. 11.—Back of the arrest of four Turks yesterday on a charge of having prohibited publications in their possession, the police believe is something more far-reaching—a plan to have a Turk resident in Canada convert their assets into currency for the purpose of forwarding it to Turkey to aid that country in its fight against Great Britain and her allies. The men under arrest are John Shibley, 536 Yonge street, Geo. Hackem, 202 Queen Street east, Ameen Barrie, 1471 Yonge street, and Alexander Seycour, 206 Dundas St.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR, THICK, WAVY, FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes soft, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after an application of Danderine. Also try this moistening cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair. It is favored oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. ### The Situation.

The main forces of the Serbians continue to fall back on Macedonia, and they are fighting every inch of the way, but from appearances can hardly escape the Bulgarian-German nutcrackers without, at any rate, very great loss. It transpires that the French have not occupied Veles, as previously reported, but their troops and those of the British are commencing to prove more and more of a factor.

The Russian official reports still relate a reassuring condition of affairs in the Eastern theatre. The Huns have spent their bolt there, and the troops of the Czar are commencing to have their innings.

Submarine warfare is again very much to the fore, this time in the Mediterranean. German and Austrian undersea craft are both at the game, and they have a large field to work on in view of the many troops now under transportation in that region.

The Sinking of the Ancona.

The sending to the bottom of the Ancona has all the earmarks of a second Lusitania tragedy, only in some respects a little more so. The vessel, in the first place, was outward, and not inward, bound, so that any idea of contraband of war aboard was altogether out of the question. In the second place, her passenger list must have been known to consist largely of women and children.

That a warning was given is alleged, but if so, under such circumstances as to have made it an absolute farce. Shots were fired, apparently out of pure devilment, and the resulting panic was only what might have been expected under such circumstances.

The submarine displayed the Austrian flag, but that does not in any sense establish the fact that the craft was not in reality German. In any event, the whole wantonly murderous incident was eminently characteristic of the Hun.

The entire incident is simply one more evidence of the frightfulness for which the doctrine of Kultur stands.

There were Americans on board, and great indignation is voiced among many of our neighbors, but a note is about all that can be expected from Washington. It is about up to Uncle Sam, instead of preparing sharp fulminations against John Bull, who has conducted a blockade with scrupulous care, to take some firm and definite stand towards the men steeped in blood-guiltiness.

The Looming Large of the Balkans.

When the Balkan States were at war with each other not so very long ago, very few people outside of their sphere, took much interest. They put the struggle down to petty jealousies, internal and otherwise, and most of those who gave the subject any attention at all had an idea that the scope of these peoples could never amount to much more than that.

We all know better now. The world has suddenly realized that the said States control the high road from Northern Europe to the Orient, and the Germans have manifestly for some time been seized of the fact that they form a straight road from Berlin to the far East. Without seeking to analyze how it was done, the Kaiserites up to date, have undoubtedly played their cards well in the matter of securing Bulgarian support, rendering Greece inactive on behalf of her ally Serbia, and in causing Roumania to sit on the fence.

To revert to the conflict over smaller issues and the outcome thereof in the distribution of territory taken from Turkey.

"Serbia, with the smallest territory before the war received 39,000 square kilometres, of which 15,000 were fertile, and added 1,200,000 to her population.

Greece, next smallest in area and population, gained 54,000 square kilometres, of which 28,000 were fertile, and added 1,600,000 to her population.

Bulgaria, the largest in area and population, received only 15,000 square kilometres, of which none were fertile, and added only 400,000 to its population.

The above is the Bulgarian claim, and helps to explain much of the reason why she was so open to the wiles of the Kaiser and his associates.

Meanwhile the present position of affairs is as follows:— For the Allies—To hold the Balkan States intact as far as possible, as a solid wall or buffer between the Austro-Germans in the north and their imperial goal in the south: Turkey, the Dardanelles, Egypt and the East.

For Austro-Germany—To divide the Balkans as much as possible, state against state, with a predominance in Germany, favorable to the Austro-Germans aim of a direct route from Germany to Turkey and the Orient.

This shift of the Balkan issue, making it part of a great international game instead of a petty struggle of small states, has come about within the last few months. The allied powers were slow in realizing it, and their negotiations with Bulgaria and Serbia up to a recent date treated the question as the old fight over territory in Macedonia. But all the time Germany was setting the scenes in the larger drama—the winning of Bulgaria and the linking of the Central Powers to Turkey and the near East.

This is why the Balkans to-day are filling a larger part in the public eye than almost all the other areas of conflict. John Bull and his associates got in on a bad start, but they will make good before the game is over—this as well as in all other directions.

FINE RECEPTION AT AYR TO THE 25TH DRAGOONS

Paris Squadron of the Red Coats Marched to Ayr and Were Received by Address of Welcome From the Reeve—Patriotic Speeches by Major Patterson and Colonel Muir.

Yesterday the Town of Ayr tendered a most enthusiastic reception to the Paris squadron of the 25th Brant Dragoons Overseas contingent. The squadron left Paris at 10 o'clock and marched via the Galt road and then westerly to Ayr, arriving at Ayr at 12.30. The roads were in excellent condition and the magnificent country through which the troops marched evinced all signs of Canadian prosperity. Motors gaily decorated met the troops on the outskirts of the town together with the Ayr brass band. The business street and residences were decorated with flags and bunting and the people turned out en masse. After a march through the principal streets the procession proceeded to the High School grounds, where the school children sang patriotic songs and waved many flags. John B. Folseter, Reeve of Ayr, read the following address:

"Soldiers of B Squadron of the Brant Dragoons: We welcome you to our village. The high and exalted emotions of patriotism rise above all mean and selfish things, and prompts to deeds of self sacrifice, of valor, of devotion, and of death itself. That is a public virtue; it is the noblest of all virtues and the conscience of the man who knows his country's good. It is the call of the King and Country, you have responded to, and while you proceed with the noble task to which you have devoted your lives and your fortunes, let this thought enrapture and invigorate your hearts—that in fighting for the empire you are endeavoring to preserve her from the seductions of a powerful and highly organized enemy, who has transgressed the laws of nations and changed the ordinance that binds the civilized world together. The men in khaki are the real aristocrats of Canada to-day, whatever their civilian lot in life have been. The time will come when King and Country will call for no more men; but the time will never come when the conscience of the man who knows he ought to go and serve his country and hangs back will be still- ed. It will be a reproach in all the years that these men have yet to live that they let their friends do their fighting for them."

The sight of the marching troops, while it wrings the hearts of women, must steel the hearts of men to take their places by the side of those who have some with a fair complement aboard; others half empty. All drifted away from each other. One of the survivors, in describing his experience, said: "The boat in which I found myself contained thirty members of my own and three passengers, an Italian crew man and her child beside myself. I am certain fully half of those aboard perished. Some time after we entered the lifeboat, we heard four explosions punctuated with shot after shot delivered almost mechanically from the deck of the submarine, aiding to the panic aboard. Had it not been for these shots it might have been possible to restore a semblance of order. The conduct of the submarine was incomprehensible. Not one shot was directed at the ship, but they were fired all around the vessel as if to create as much terror as possible. "About eight boats got away clear,

Paris Reception Two already volunteered and whose only expressed anxiety is to get quickly to the front. We thank you for your visit to Ayr, and hope and trust that when this cruel war is over, that you may be spared to your friends, home and country. Signed on behalf of the Corporation of Ayr, JOHN R. FOLSETTER, Reeve."

Patriotic and recruiting addresses were delivered by Major W. W. Patterson of Paris, Lt.-Col. M. F. Muir of Brantford and the Rev. Seton Adamson, rector of St. James' Church, Paris. After the addresses the Brant Dragoons were drilled on the grounds and were greatly admired for their smartness and soldierly bearing. The troops were then entertained to luncheon at the parish hall of the Anglican church, the rector of the church, Rev. H. Snell, being a captain in the 29th Regiment of Infantry. He is ably assisted by Lieuts. A. Lewis and J. Gillies.

Ayr is one of the prettiest smaller towns in Ontario, being beautifully situated on the River Nith and Cedar Creek. The Watson Agricultural Implement company, The American Flow company and the Goldie Milling company all do a thriving business. The large Presbyterian church is one of the features of the town, the tall spire being seen for many miles. The new Church of England is a handsome building being recently erected. Contrary to the usual practice of school grounds, these grounds are covered with a thick carpet of grass. Mrs. Goldie, widow of the late David Goldie, presented to the school a number of pianos, and many other athletic appliances. Ayr possesses a Carnegie public library, Mr. J. G. Fair, one of the merchants of Ayr being the most interested and devoted trustee. At 3.30 the troops formed up and returned to Paris, arriving about 6 o'clock in the best of condition. The greatest interest is manifested in Ayr and South Dumfries in recruiting, and the Brant Dragoons are most popular in that vicinity.

"The shrieks of women, children and struggling men rent the air, but it seemed no help could be given. Everyone was trying to act for himself. The heart-rending screams were punctuated with shot after shot delivered almost mechanically from the deck of the submarine, aiding to the panic aboard. Had it not been for these shots it might have been possible to restore a semblance of order. The conduct of the submarine was incomprehensible. ## BATTALIONS ARE OFFERED TO OTTAWA

Toronto May Raise Twenty Before Spring, and Maritime Provinces Three.

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—Gen. Sir Sam Hughes, expects that Toronto will raise twenty battalions before spring. He stated to-day that he believed this could be done easily.

Organization plans are being perfected and will be raised in whole country, and when these are completed Gen. Hughes may take a trip to the West. He goes to Halifax at the end of the week, and will visit St. John on his return.

In the meantime more offers of battalions are coming in to the Department daily.

Mr. S. A. Siddall has offered to raise one in Westmoreland, and still another is offered from New Brunswick by Col. Kedderburn.

Major Beer, who went to the front as a Strathcona Horse lieutenant, has returned to Canada and will be raised by the front, and has been given command of the new battalion in Prince Edward Island.

Another Western Canada battalion has been offered and will be raised by Major Pawlett of Moose Jaw. The 60th battalion, which is at Valcartier under Col. Dansereau, will probably be moved to Montreal for a few days.

M. Caillaux at The Hague.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Amsterdam, via London, Nov. 11.—In connection with the statements that Joseph Caillaux former French premier, recently visited The Hague. The Frankfurter Zeitung says he was accompanied by Baron d'Estournelles de Constant, who has been widely known in France as leader in the movement for international arbitration.

This is the first intimation that M. Caillaux had visited The Hague. He has not been active in France since his recall in March from a mission to South America for the government. He was injured in an automobile accident while driving with Baron de Constant in May.

Proposed Plan Open to Objection

Control of Ontario Military Hospital Should be Vested in the Government.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—Expressing the strongest criticism of the proposed plan for selecting the staff of the Ontario Military Hospital, now being organized in England, as entirely at variance with the regular military practice, and as taking the entire control away from the Province of Ontario, which has made the splendid gift, Lieut.-Col. F. W. Marlow, assistant director of medical services for the division, declared yesterday that the announcement as to how the staff would be selected will mean that a number of the most distinguished practitioners and consultants in Toronto and throughout the province will feel obliged to withdraw their names, as the arrangement is one which such medical men should not be obliged to submit to.

The plan as announced for the appointment of the staff is to have the hospital commandant and the heads of the medical and surgical wings selected from among Canadian medical officers at present in England or on the Continent, the Canadian authorities in London making the selection. All other doctors on the staff are to be nominated, according to the plan, by the Ontario Government, but with the all-important proviso that they will not be given their rank till they reach England.

In discussing the matter yesterday, Col. Marlow explained that in every unit which has left Canada, including the University of Toronto Hospital, the commanding officer has been named by Ottawa in the regular way, and he has then made the selection of his staff. Thus every officer knows what his position will be and can decide whether he desires to serve under or with certain other officers. In the case of the University Hospital, Toronto University had the selection of the staff, and this procedure Colonel Marlow considered, should be followed in the case of the Ontario Hospital, where the Ontario Government should have the appointment of the commandant, and in consultation with him the selection of the entire staff.

Failing this, it is extremely improbable that many medical men will feel inclined to give up their practices on the chance that they may receive subordinate positions to men who have not their medical standing in the community, particularly as many of the doctors who might thus be superseded already hold commissions in the Army Medical Corps.

Hotels Want Order Defined

Soldiers Are Being Refused Entrance to Hotel Dining Rooms.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—Some modification in the terms of the "out of bounds" military orders in the Toronto and London districts, or rather a clearer definition of what is "out of bounds," is likely to result from representations being made on behalf of the hotelkeepers.

It is pointed out that the military orders, supported as they are by the Provincial License Board, not only make a hotelkeeper responsible for refusing liquor to soldiers, but for keeping them out of his dining-room or any other part of the hotel premises. As a matter of law the hotelkeeper has no right to refuse accommodation to any person demanding it, except under certain conditions, and it is within the law in doing so only where the License Board so orders.

The License Board, under the special Act of last session has the power to forbid the sale of liquor to soldiers, but its power, it is stated, does not go further.

However, it is stated that the commission has no intention of preventing men in uniform being served with meals or sleeping accommodation, but the hotelkeepers have nothing authoritative to go upon, and since they will keep upon the safe side the result is likely to be unnecessary inconvenience and annoyance to uniformed men.

The alternative course to a change in the military orders, making the "out of bounds" order refer to the sale of liquor only would be for the License Board to announce that it will hold the hotelkeepers responsible only to the extent of refusing liquor to men in uniform.

The attention of the military authorities were drawn yesterday to the text of the order posted re the hotels and shops. This stated that the hotels and shops be placed out of bounds. The order, of course, was a purely military one, but is supported by the board through its control over the licensees.

LOCAL ARTISTS PLEASED LARGE GALT AUDIENCE

Galt Paper Speaks Very Highly of Delightful Concert by Brantfordites.

(Galt Reporter.)
For many weeks a matter of the most pleasurable anticipation, for a short hour one of keen enjoyment, the musical program provided by the Brantford artists for the Saturday Symphony has become a delightful memory. The attendance at the meeting held at 8:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon last was very large, indicating the fact that the artists' reputations had gone before them. Through unforseen circumstances the artists announced were not all able to be present, but their places were very nicely filled by Miss Sweet and Miss Hart.

The program was opened by a piano solo by Mr. Higgins who played Sonata Op 10 No. 1, Beethoven. Mr. Higgins' numbers on the program were among the most enjoyable, not only his two solo numbers, but as accompanist his work was greatly appreciated and added much to the enjoyment of the vocal and violin numbers. His second piano number was MacFarren's Nocturne in C minor. Mr. Higgins is a pleasing performer and his hearty applause with which his numbers were received was indicative of the appreciation on the part of the audience.

Miss Sweet sang three very charming numbers, "The Fells of Rheims," by Lecara, and "Cocacy" by Rasmussen, being two in which the very delightful quality of tone were displayed to advantage. Miss Hart's contribution to the program was "When the Dew is Falling," a beautiful number very sweetly rendered, and greatly appreciated.

Miss Sanderson contributed two beautiful violin numbers, playing Schubert's "Ave Maria" and "The Butterfly," by Hubay, the execution of both being that of a real musician.

A hearty vote of thanks was rendered the visiting friends, who returned on the five o'clock car to Brantford.

The bride, who was given away by her father, entered the drawing room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, beautifully rendered by Miss Pearl Everett, cousin of the bride, who also presided at the piano during luncheon. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful lavalliere, and to Miss Everett, a gold bar pin. The bride received many beautiful presents. The happy couple left on the 7:30 train for London and Exeter, after the good wishes of all present. After a short honeymoon they will take up their residence in Glencoe, where both are well and favorably known.

"THE HOUSE OF QUALITY AND GOOD VALUE"

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE NIAGARA SILK CO.; EMPLOYS OVER 200

The first annual meeting of the shareholders of the Niagara Silk Company Limited was held at the office of the company yesterday, when the report of the directors for the period since the organization of the company to Aug. 31st, was presented by the President, Mr. J. T. Shanahan and adopted. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year, Mr. J. T. Shanahan, President; Mr. A. J. Baker, Vice-President; Mr. Joseph Ruddy, Secretary; and Mr. Geo. S. Matthews, Treasurer.

The statement presented by the President shows that a large volume of business was done, much larger in fact than had been anticipated, and although the factory had been in a quiet operation for less than a year, the machinery and equipment has required several additions to take care of the business offering, until to-day they have almost twice the manufacturing capacity that was estimated would be required when the company was organized last year.

When the operations commenced last Fall, ladies gloves only were made, and the rush of orders was so great that for some months all the energies of the company had to be concentrated on this one line, and on account of difficulties encountered in dyeing the silk in colors, for some time only black and white was used. Later on an expensive and very efficient water purifier was installed and a model dye house erected and equipped and placed in charge of an expert dyer. This has enabled the company to produce in their plant in Brantford, right from the raw silk as received from Japan, a full line of pure silks in colors, that for perfection and beauty are unsurpassed on the continent.

With the production of colored silks satisfactorily solved, attention was directed to the production of hosiery. More machinery and equipment were added and more operators engaged, and soon a beautiful line of pure silk hosiery complete in sizes and range of colors was produced and offered to the trade, with the result that a good business has already been secured in this line.

Pure silk underwear is a real luxury to wear, and the demand was so insistent that during the past summer this attractive line has been added to the products of the mill. Again it was wear for the fair ladies of Canada which will appear for next season.

It may surprise our readers to know that all articles produced by this mill are made from pure silk, no mixture of any other material, or any filling of any kind being permitted, and all the silk used by the company is manufactured on the premises from raw silk imported from Japan, all process of winding, dyeing, dressing, cutting, sewing, etc., being done on the premises of the company in Brantford.

The Niagara Silk Company is an industry of which Brantford may well be proud. The majority of the shareholders are Brantford citizens, the employees are practically all Brantford people, and the factory itself is a model, both in building and equipment. Only goods of high grade and quality, both as to material and workmanship are produced, and already they are supplied to the best trade throughout the Dominion, another case of our good Canadian goods replacing cheaper German and other foreign makes.

ARE THESE MISSIONS OF PEACE?

Prince von Buelow in Switzerland and M. Caillaux at The Hague for What?

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Rome, Nov. 10.—Via Paris, Nov. 11.—Despite denials that Prince Von Buelow is in Switzerland on a peace mission, or that the Vatican is taking any part in preliminary peace negotiations, a Zurich dispatch to The Messenger, asserts that the former German Chancellor, has had a long interview with Father Ledochowski, general of the Society of Jesus, known as the "black pope," who came to Lucerne at the request of Prince Von Buelow. The two men are said to have been in conference several hours after which the Jesuit leader sent a long report to the Pope.

TWENTY-ONE AND THREE QUARTER MILLIONS DAILY COST OF WAR

Premier Asquith Announces These Stupendous Figures in House Yesterday—British General Staff Strengthened; Contracts Will be Watched More Closely to Reduce Prices and Help Keep Down Expenditures.

London, Nov. 11.—The war is now costing Great Britain $21,750,000 daily, Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons yesterday.

The calendar of business in the House called for Premier Asquith to ask for a $20,000,000 vote of credit yesterday, but owing to a technical mishap the vote was not moved.

However, the Premier made the statement which he had prepared to be used as an introduction to the motion for an eighth vote of credit, and he announced that he would move the vote of credit on Monday.

SHAKE-UP IN WAR OFFICE The War Office, Premier Asquith announced, already had taken steps to secure a more effective and co-ordinated prosecution of the war on the part of the allied powers by strengthening the British General Staff and establishing more intimate intercommunication.

“It is more than possible,” added the Premier, “that this organization may be still further developed.

COMMON WAR COUNCIL “I am betraying no secret,” continued the Premier, “when I say that the distinguished man who now holds the post of Prime Minister of France is anxious—and I am as anxious as he is—that we should develop the system of informal conferences, which have taken place in the last few months with great advantage, into something more definite and better organized.

“I do not place any limit on the extent to which this co-operation will be carried, and we shall be only too delighted if Russia and Italy join us for the purpose I have indicated.

With a broad-based, well-conceived and systematically worked system of that kind we have every confidence that the operations of the war will be still more efficiently conducted and co-ordinated in the future than in the past, and that the fine spirit and resources of the allies will bring the war to a triumphant conclusion.”

From April 1 to November 6 the Premier stated, the Government had spent $3,715,000,000 for munitions, food, payments to the Bank of England, and in loans, as follows: Army and navy munitions, $2,586,500,000. Payments to Bank of England, $520,000,000. Loans to allies and Dominions, $491,500,000. Food supplies, $17,500,000.

$557,500,000 ON HAND. The Government has $557,500,000 on hand, the Premier announced, which is enough to finance the war until the end of this month, when the ed of very able distinguished officers, no less than 26 of whom had had actual experience in the present war.

ANGLO-FRENCH WAR COUNCIL With regard to the relations between the British Staff and those of the allied powers, it would be a great mistake, the Premier said, to suppose that they had been living in water-tight compartments without communicating with one another.

There was a British Military Attaché at French Headquarters and a distinguished French officer in attendance at the War Office in London, while arrangements now had been made for more intimate co-operation and for the interchange of views for the military operations in the different theatres of war.

A distinguished French Staff Officer, the Premier stated, will be in daily communication with the General Staff at the British War Office, and Great Britain is sending to France officers entrusted with a like mission.

“It is more than possible,” added the Premier, “that this organization may be still further developed.

COMMON WAR COUNCIL “I am betraying no secret,” continued the Premier, “when I say that the distinguished man who now holds the post of Prime Minister of France is anxious—and I am as anxious as he is—that we should develop the system of informal conferences, which have taken place in the last few months with great advantage, into something more definite and better organized.

Government will have to fall back upon the $2,000,000,000 credit which will be demanded Monday.

WAR'S COST INCREASING. The main causes of increase in the cost of the war, Mr. Asquith continued, were the great expenditures for munitions and the advances to Great Britain's allies and Dominions.

“It is more than possible,” added the Premier, “that this organization may be still further developed.

COMMON WAR COUNCIL “I am betraying no secret,” continued the Premier, “when I say that the distinguished man who now holds the post of Prime Minister of France is anxious—and I am as anxious as he is—that we should develop the system of informal conferences, which have taken place in the last few months with great advantage, into something more definite and better organized.

The Diamond From the Sky

By ROY L. MCCARDELL

Copyright, 1915, by Roy L. McCardell

"Nothing belongs to you, not even your name, and much less this for which you stained your hands with blood!" cried Hagar hysterically. And she threw down into the open brass box with a gesture of disdain the diamond from the sky.

"But I am not guilty of the death of Dr. Lee; he was my friend," replied Arthur hoarsely. "I did kill my supposed cousin Blair, and he now lies in a grave dug for another, but not for this," and he pointed to the beautiful jewel. "I killed Blair Stanley because he spoke ill of Esther. Why have you driven her out to reproach me with what I am not guilty of? Tell me, if I am not Arthur Stanley, who is she? Is she my sister? I ask this, for by every wild deed of my reckless life in the past and for every good deed I hope to achieve I love her!"

"No matter who she is, you are not good enough to breathe the same air with her!" replied Hagar fiercely. "Make the better man of yourself that you boast you will. Make a name for yourself in place of the one you have lost and then return to me for a mother's blessing and to learn who Esther is!"

So saying Hagar, for she felt her fortune giving way, walked with dry eyes and head erect from the van. Arthur picked up the diamond from the sky. In her agitation Hagar had forgotten it, and Arthur was of the belief that his Spartan mother had left it there that he might take it and make some temporary use of it to build his fortunes with. For Arthur believed that Blair still lay dead by his hand in the grave dug for another, and with him the last male Stanley save the old earl in England had perished.

As Arthur passed from the van he saw Esther come toward him from Hagar's side and was glad to note his fierce, stern mother made no attempt to stay her. And Esther had evidently been told as much as Hagar cared to tell her.

She called him "brother" and walked with him to the woods at the edge of the camp, and there they paused and made their farewells.

"Be a good man, Arthur, my brother, and let me be proud of you!" Esther whispered tenderly. And Arthur folded her to his heart and kissed her and strode away.

He looked back once and saw her leaning against a great tree and weeping. But neither he nor the weeping Esther beheld the dark face of Luke Lovell peering at them through the shrubbery.

It was not until next morning that Hagar sought for the diamond and found it missing. Again in a rage at Arthur burned high. Hagar hated the Stanley name and despised every Stanley possession, but she was resolved since all the Stanley line was near at hand that Esther, defrauded of every other birthright, should have the diamond from the sky.

Hagar had not wholly believed Arthur guilty of Dr. Lee's murder, even when she had first learned of his being suspected from Esther's lips when she had come for Esther to Fairfax the day before. Hagar resolved to go to Richmond, the nearest big city, feeling sure Arthur would be there in hiding, in the hope of finding him and securing the diamond from the sky for Esther, even if it were necessary to give Arthur, her own son, up to the law.

She telegraphed from the nearest railroad station, from which they took train to Richmond. This telegram was to the Blake agency, and it was sent to recall Tom Blake, the head of the concern, from Fairfax to Richmond. No suspicion in the slightest had been directed at Blair in connection with the doctor's murder, nor did any living soul in Fairfax save Blair and his mother, know of the encounter Blair had had with Arthur in the doctor's dooryard nor of the greivous duel across the open grave at midnight that had followed Blair's wild rise to defiance. Esther's good name that Arthur might not suspect him of murder and robbery, the real guilt Blair felt the burden of.

existed at all and others who believed it had been a bit of old trumpery that Colonel Stanley had found valueless and destroyed.

It was only when he came out of his hiding place after several days that Arthur dared buy and read a Richmond paper. There were no further accounts from Fairfax of the death of Dr. Lee and the flight of his supposed murderer.

Arthur also came to the conclusion that the death of Blair Stanley and his being found shot through the head in a new grave intended for another had also ceased to be a three days' wonder in the Richmond newspapers. In Fairfax, like enough, the whole countryside was still agog at this double tragedy. Arthur reasoned, but here in Richmond the papers gave no mention to it now. Their one absorbing topic was the ball to be given by Richmond's society leader, the wealthy Mrs. Berton Randolph.

CUTTING OUT THE RED TAPE IN FRANCE

Small Matters No Longer to be Referred to Head Man, But be Decided at Once.

Cuttings Out by special wire to the General... Paris, Nov. 11.—Minister of War Gallieni has struck a death blow at the traditional red tape of the army administration in a circular to civil and military heads, in which he declares too much time and paper are wasted in referring small questions all the way up the official ladder to the minister. He asserts the system must be decentralized, because war calls for rapidity in reaching decisions.

Hereafter, each official must use his own judgment, and M. Gallieni will deal only with questions which involve his responsibility as minister. The circular states that since the full initiative is thus given, it will follow that only those able to exercise it will be retained in the service and those who are incapable will be ruthlessly eliminated.

"I shall not hesitate to punish anyone who from ignorance or nonchalance, tolerates incompetence," says the war minister. "Office methods must be modernized, typewriters and manifold machines being used as extensively as possible. Following the example of business houses, soldiers and civilians should be replaced by women typists and stenographers recruited by preference from among the wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of soldiers killed or wounded."

THE BIRTH OF NATION PICTURES

Attracted a Record Attendance in This City—A Peep Behind the Scenes.

The box office receipts at the Opera House show that for the six presentations in this city of "The Birth of a Nation"—four capacity nights and two matinees—there was a total attendance of a little over 5,000.

Of the vast throngs who attended no doubt many thought that all of the various effects in connection with the fighting scenes were produced by the splendid orchestra. This was most emphatically not the case.

A Courier man had the privilege one night of a place behind the scenes and there witnessed a regular battery of all kinds of ingenious contrivances. Mr. W. E. Wuelker, who had charge was seated in front of a board of twenty switches. A small peep hole on his left served to afford him a slight glance of the rapidly presented pictures, but knowing them so well this was enough. As he pulled the various levers, electric lights indicated to the men on his staff when they "came in." Practically all were outside the range of his view—some, indeed, on the far side—but the flashing of the colored bulbs served to make them work whatever they had in charge at the exact moment. Some of the results produced were explosions, horse and wagon effects, galloping horses, shouts, cheers, rumbles and all the rest of the noises associated with fighting scenes. In all other accessory departments the show was equally complete, carrying a carload of scenery; a carpenter, electricity man, two operators in an asbestos booth, and special machinery. The large orchestra of fine musicians has already been spoken of.

It was this attention to detail in every detail which made the entire presentation such a marked success.

Mr. C. K. Nash, the manager of the enterprise, expressed it as his opinion that Brantford was the best show place of the size he had ever struck, and he is talking of a return engagement. Those attending included people not alone from all over the County but also adjacent counties.

AMERICAN CITIZENS ON ANCONA

Washington, Nov. 11.—Twenty-five Americans are believed to be on the Italian liner Ancona by an Austrian submarine in the Mediterranean yesterday, according to a despatch received at the State Department last night from Ambassador Page at Rome.

A serious question with the Austro-Hungarian Government identified with that which brought the United States into Germany to the verge of a breach is believed pending unless it is demonstrated that the conduct of the Ancona justified the submarine attack. Should it be shown that the Ancona had many to the verge of a breach it was not signalled to stop, and made no effort to escape from the submarine, it is considered certain that prompt and vigorous action will be taken by the United States.

Thus far the State Department has no advice on the disaster beyond a despatch from Ambassador Page reporting the loss of 23 American lives. The press report that the Ancona attempted to escape and was shelled for a long time before she was torpedoed is not confirmed in any despatches that have reached the State Department. Other and more complete reports are expected to-day. The casualties among the American passengers of the Ancona so far as known to Ambassador Page are: Alexander Pattavio, wife and four children, of New York; Mrs. Frances Mascolo Lamura.

About twenty third-class passengers not named. An earlier report from Naples said that when the vessel sailed Mrs. Lamura was accompanied by a minor child. It is not definitely known so far whether or not the child was lost with her.

The birth of four boys to Mrs. Gaither Drewry, Lexington, Ky., aged 30, gave her six babies in eighteen months.

Explosion at Liege.

Amsterdam, via London, Nov. 11.—Eighteen German officers and soldiers were killed and fifty wounded, says The Liege correspondent of The Echo Belgo, when a portion of Fort Machoelette was blown to pieces a fortnight ago by an accidental explosion during ammunition tests.

Riots at Opening.

Amsterdam, Nov. 11.—Via London. Riotous scenes marked the opening session of the Luxembourg chamber of deputies when radical members expressed dissatisfaction with the new cabinet headed by Dr. Lutsch with the result that the sitting was suspended, says a telegram from Luxembourg received by way of Berlin.

The forward effects of rumors are worse than the outward. They endanger the whole system. Hood's Sarsaparilla eradicates all humors, cures all their inward and outward effects. It is the great alterative and tonic, whose merit has been everywhere established.
