German Gun for Waterdown

Sometime ago Reeve Smith made application to the Minister of War Trophies for a German gun for the village of Waterdown. The Reeve received a letter from the Department stating that the gun had been shipped on August 28th, and sent the bill of lading for same. No particulars were given as to the kind of gun being sent.

It was the intention of the council to place the trophy in front of the new Memorial hall, but as the hall seems to be a dead letter at present, some other appropriate place will be found for the relic.

W. C. T. U. Open Meeting

The ladies and gentlemen of Waterdown are invited to attend an open meeting on the interest of Temperance to be held at the Methodist church on Tuesday evening, September the 14th. A good program consisting of music and addresses by Mrs. Stephens, Provincial President, and Mrs. J. M. Denyes, District President. The chair will be taken by Rev. C. L. Poole. Everybody welcome and hear the proposed Referendum discussion.

The Harvest Home services held in Grace church here on Sunday afternoon last was largely attended. The church being beautifully decorated for the occasion with grain, fruit and choice flowers. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Tebbis of Burlington, and was much appreciated by the large congregation present.

While on his way to work last Tuesday afternoon Mr. Ed Beethold, telegraph operator at Grant Jet., narrowly escaped a serious accident on the snake road. A large American car struck his bicycle throwing him forcibly to the ground. He escaped with a few bad bruises and a severe shaking up. The tourists passed on without offering any assistance.

The Corn club will entertain a number of their hen-pecked male friends at a corn roast, which they purpose holding on Tuesday evening of next week at Wabasso Park. A choice program of old time games has been arranged, such as, hunt the slipper, pussy wants a corner, etc. The Waterdown Band will be in attendance and furnish music for dancing. Invitations will be issued in a few days. This will be the event of the season.

W. M. S. Meeting

The W. M. S. of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. C. Galivan Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 8th. The meeting was opened by Rev. Mr. Poole with prayer. Mrs. Poole gave the Bible lesson, a very helpful lesson on self forgetfulness of prayer. A letter from the District Organizer was read by the secretary telling of the District convention to be held at Bronte in October, and urging the ladies to do greater work this year and create a deeper prayer life in the society this year than they had in the past.

After the watch tower, Mrs. Albert Slater sang a solo. Three members gave a text of scripture that had been a help to them and why it had. The new text book "Bible and Missions" was very ably taken by Mrs. Albert Slater. After a splendid reading by Mrs. Geo. Nicholson, the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison.

Base Ball

Just a few words to let our readers know that the Beavers of Hamilton played here last Saturday, but according to the score the Waterdown team could not have been present, some other team evidently playing in their place. The black border which we ordered failed to arrive in time for this issue. We have discharged the sporting editor from our staff, and will withdraw the baseball column from the Review. We understand the Juniors also lost the championship of their league.

Before we take an auto ride Pa says to Ma, "My dear,

Now just remember I don't need suggestions from the rear."

If you will just sit still back there and hold in check your fright,

I'll take you where you want to go and get you back all right.

Remember that my hearing's good and also that I'm not blind.

And I can drive this car without suggestions from behind."

Ma promises that she'll keep still, then off we gaily start.

But soon she notices ahead a peddler and his cart.

"You'd better toot your horn," says she, "to let him know we're near.

He might turn out," and Pa replied: "Just shriek at him, my dear."

And then he adds: "Some day, some guy will make a lot of dough

By putting horns on toucan seats for women-folks to blow."

A little farther on Ma cries: "He signaled for a turn."

And Pa says: "Did he?" in a tone that's hot enough to burn.

"Oh, there's a boy on roller skates," cries Ma. "Now do go slow.

I'm sure he doesn't see our car." And Pa says, "I dunno.

I think I don't need glasses yet, but really it may be

That I am blind and cannot see what's right in front of me."

If Pa should speed the cara bit some rigs to hurry past,

Ma whispers: "Do be careful now, You're driving much too fast."

And all the time she's pointing out the danger of the street

And keeps him posted on the roads where trolley cars he'll meet.

Last night when we got safely home Pa sighed and said: "My dear,

I'm sure we've all enjoyed the drive you gave us from the rear."

Soak a porous stone in a pan of kerosene, then place it among the furnace coals and ignite it. It starts the fire easily and can be used over and over again.

Shorthorns Took First.

In the block test at the last fat stock show, held at Buenos Aires by the Rural Society of Argentina, animals of the Shorthorn breed were first and third in a class of 13, while second and third places were taken by an Angus cross and a pure-bred Angus respectively.

Pine Needles as Playthings.

In the beautiful and cleanly needles of the pine, the children had an unlimited supply for the manufacture of toys, writes Alice Morse Earle, in her "Child Life in Colonial Days." Pretty necklaces could be made for personal adornment, resembling in miniature the fringed bark garments of the South Sea Islanders, and tiny brooms for dolls' houses. A thickly-growing cluster of needles was called "a lady." When her petticoats were carefully trimmed she could be placed upright on a sheet of paper, and by softly blowing upon it could be made to dance. A winter's amusement was furnished by gathering and storing the pitch-pine cones and hearing them snap open in the house.

Carrier Pigeons in 1099.

According to the poet Tasso, carrier pigeons were employed for the transmission of messages during the siege of Jerusalem in the year 1099.

A Long Drag.

Peter Thompson went to visit his son in Montreal. It was his first visit to the city, and the young man showed him all the sights, concluding with an ascent of Mount Royal. In a burst of enthusiasm young Thompson said: "See, father, isn't it wonderful down here?" "Well," said his father, "if it's so wonderful down there what did you drag me up here for?"

He Knew.

"This," smiled the fond young wife, as she passed a plate of pudding to her husband, "is cottage pudding. I made it myself." The husband tasted it. "I'd have known it was cottage pudding," he returned. "Would you?" she asked delighted. "Yes; I can taste the plaster and the wall-water."

Why We Need New Money!

This year we are spending about ten million dollars to extend our system to accommodate new subscribers.

Year by year we must spend millions so that people requiring telephone service may be accommodated!

Such huge sums of course cannot be provided out of our revenue. The only way of obtaining money in such amounts is from investors seeking profitable employment for idle funds.

Investors naturally won't put their money into any enterprise that does not promise absolute security and a sure return. Nowadays security and a handsome return on investments are not difficult to find!

Our problem then is, in spite of the high cost of everything we buy in both labor and material, to pay such a return to present investors—our shareholders—as will attract new money. This must be accomplished while, at the same time, keeping our service up to the highest standard. If the rate of return is not attractive, then the supply of new money ceases.

This is the problem of telephone companies everywhere. None of them has found any other solution than to charge a fair and adequate rate to subscribers.

Cheap Greenbacks.

Time was in Toronto when the American dollar, to-day worth $1.17 in our Canadian money, could be picked up for 40 cents. Those were the far-off days of the American Civil War, before most of Toronto money magnates had entered the world, and when Sir Edmund Walker, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, was a youth in his uncle's private banking office at Hamilton, where to handle the great influx of depreciated American money, separate ledgers were kept for it and our own Canadian currency.

The financial situation of the Northern States at that time has no parallel to that of Britain and Canada to-day. The North had not borrowed money abroad to secure the sinews of war. Uncle Sam had merely expanded his currency to an enormous extent. Early in the war most of the gold and silver in the States had been sent abroad to pay for supplies. There was nothing but paper in the country and with that and the uncertain fortunes of war, from early in the campaign American notes were at a big discount over here. During a considerable portion of the period between 1861 and 1865 the American dollar brought 50 cents and even 40 cents. At one time things looked so black for the North that in Quebec the American greenback fell to 40 cents, whereas the Confederate dollar, which hardly passed current at all in Canada, brought 35 cents. Not until about 1879 did the American dollar get to par.

Canada's Credit.

Canada's credit stands high. A reputation for sound financial methods during the war has been of inestimable benefit to the Dominion. Behind this stands also the realization of her immense natural resources and the fact that on the North American continent she is almost the sole remaining outlet for new settlement on a large scale. Within the new decade or two she will probably receive millions of the best class of immigrants, and these will make her per capita burdens light. The net public debt of Canada stands to-day at 1,500 million dollars. Seventy-five per cent. of it is due to Canadians. Weighed against her natural resources it is not heavy. It must also be taken into account that among her other assets Canada now owns and operates 14,000 miles of railway.

Happy Occasion.

Mother—What's the matter, darling?
Child—P-p-pa hit his finger with the hammer.
Mother—Don't cry about that; you should laugh.
Child—I-I-d-did.

An Actor In Khaki.

A good story is told of a young actor enlisted in Canada, and in his difficulty what was more natural than that he should turn to his profession for help, for he had been trained with the greatest actors in the land. He practiced in seclusion, and one day, when his trained recit had been drafted and a new batch had appeared, he strode to the job in the full panoply of the Cockney drill sergeant, pungent with the wit and wisdom of the Mile End Road. He never had a greater success in any part, and if his points were not applauded they were promptly obeyed.

Oil-Burning Locomotives.

Oil-burning locomotives are now used in twenty-one states, on fifty-three railroads and on 32,000 miles of track in this country. They consume 42,000,000 barrels of oil yearly.

Many a man who objects to carrying a bundle home from a dry goods store goes home from the club loaded.

Diameter of Pine Tree.

Mr. Hill, lockmaster at Buckhorn, Ont., experimented with a pine tree to determine improved growth which may be secured by proper care. Fifteen years ago, he pruned all the lower branches off a 4-inch white pine sapling, removing other saplings from its vicinity, dug up the earth around it and applied manure to its base. It is now 19 inches in diameter at its base and has a long, clean pole. Thus, during the fifteen years, the growth in diameter has averaged one inch annually. — Conservation.
