

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., DEC. 20, 1889.

Christmas.

Again the glad holiday season is approaching and before another issue of the ACADIAN reaches its readers another Christmas with its festivities and pleasures will have been past.

Let the People be Heard.

We commend to the attention of our readers the letter from "Ratepayer" in another column. Such letters are always glad to give a place. We think our correspondent has hit the nail square on the head.

The College Avenue Extension.

The proposition to extend College Avenue across to Chapel Street appears to be gaining in favor. We hear it talked off in every quarter and all agree that it should be done.

A Stimulus to Large Yields.

A revolution in potato culture is likely to be occasioned by the remarkable results in the American Agricultural Prize Crop Competition.

The trips of the Minas Basin steamers have ceased for the season.

Dr Chipman's paper, which begins in this issue, will be found profitable reading.

We understand that operations on the water-works have been suspended for a time.

As will be seen by a card in another column, Dr Barss has again resumed his practice.

In another column will be found an excellent article on temperance matters in Massachusetts by Rev. O. S. Wallace.

Minard's Lipliment cures Colds, etc.

King's Co. Agl. Society.

HISTORICAL SKETCH READ AT ITS CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION BY DR. H. CHIPMAN.

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN.—Of the many professions represented here to-night, agriculture is the oldest and the most necessary to civilized humanity.

It is fitting that representatives of all the professions should meet here to-night around the farmers' table in honor of the Centennial Anniversary of our grand old Colonia Societas, inasmuch as ours is the oldest Agricultural Society in the Dominion, and because agricultural societies represent the profession upon the successful pursuit of which the prosperity of all the other professions largely depends.

The proposition to extend College Avenue across to Chapel Street appears to be gaining in favor. We hear it talked off in every quarter and all agree that it should be done.

Temperance Legislation in Massachusetts.

For years Local Option has prevailed in this state. Annually each town and city decides by vote whether the sale of liquor shall be licensed within its bounds for the next twelve months.

Lately there has been added to our temperance legislation a statute making $1000 the minimum fee for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as a beverage, and limiting the number of licensed dealers in any community to one for each thousand of the population.

The proposition to extend College Avenue across to Chapel Street appears to be gaining in favor. We hear it talked off in every quarter and all agree that it should be done.

WALLACE, THE TAILOR!

Has the cheapest line of goods in the county; a new lot in to-day. I have marked my goods away down as I am bound to do the trade. Just look at my prices now:

SCOTCH PAINTINGS at $4.50, $5.00, $5.25, $5.50, $6.00! ENGLISH PAINTINGS at $6.00, $6.50, $6.75, $7.00, & 8.00!

Fancy Worsteds Coatings!

The only line of these goods in town; something new. Look at them, they will be sold cheap for cash. Did you see my Fancy Worsteds Overcoats!

Custom Made, at only $12.00, a rare bargain. Wolfville November 15th, 1889.

CORRESPONDENCE.

MR. EDITOR.—It strikes me that the rate-payers of the Municipality of King's take very little interest in how the business of the county is done until it is too late for them to exert the influence over their representatives that they otherwise might, did they act differently.

I think when there is some great change talked of being made in the manner of conducting the business of the county, such as purchasing one poor farm for the whole municipality or building a new court house, &c., that all the rate-payers should have a voice in the matter. Of course they cannot all go to the meeting of the Municipal Council and record their votes for and against; but meetings could be called by the leading men of each Ward and these questions could be discussed. In this way very valuable opinions could be had and many ideas would be thrown out that might be very valuable to our councillors, who, no doubt, are doing the very best they can to carry out our wishes; or at least they would do so did they know what our wishes were.

BRAND'S Improved "Common Sense" SASH BALANCE

LOCKS AND LIPS

The only practical substitute for weights invented. This most durable, the cheapest and most accurate of all.

It is entirely out of sight. No rivets, bolts or screws are used in putting it together so that nothing can get out of order or need repairing. No cutting, boring or snoring of the sash, as the balance arm is made of the finest quality of steel and is finished with a fine glass. Can be used where it is impossible to use weights or other fixtures.

It is made of one piece of steel, and is unaltered by rust, and is not affected by fire. No rattling of sash as pressure against such prevents it. No rattling of weights or pulleys when sash is raised or lowered. No cords to rust, wear out and break. No rubber rollers to become flattened by using in one position for some time. No rimmy coil spring or delicate mechanism to break, wear out or get out of order. Its simplicity of construction and operation is its greatest merit.

Brand's Automatic Sash Locks (patented) and Sash Lips of upper and lower end are the best and cheapest in the market.

Call and see them in operation at

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., DEC. 20, 1889.

Local and Provincial.

COOL.—Last Sunday was the coldest day of the season. In the morning the thermometer is said to have registered as low as eight below.

Minard's Liniment Cures Diphtheria.

FORENSIC.—Between Church St. Corner and Port Williams bridge, an oil cloth lay on the ground. The owner can have the same by paying for this notice.

Stalls for Girls and Boys, all styles, at the Wolfville Bookstore.

POTATOES.—We understand that two tubs are to be loaded here with potatoes shortly. The price to be paid we believe is 50 cents. It will no doubt make times brisk.

CELEBRATION.—Christmas holidays at the College begin to-day. Last evening was a merry one among the students, the seniors celebrating the last night of the term by a turkey supper.

Have you seen those All Wool Under-shirts and Drawers for 50 cents at C. H. Borden's, Wolfville.

S. S. CONCERT.—The Union Sabbath school at Avonport intend having their annual review and concert on Sabbath evening, Dec. 29th, beginning at 7 o'clock. Judging from past efforts a very interesting and profitable concert will be had.

OSTERS.—Choice Fresh Oysters in shell. R. Prat's.

PERSONAL.—Mr H. V. DeWolf returned to Wolfville last week after an absence of about thirteen years. Mr DeWolf is engaged in the drug business in Lead City, Dakota. He is accompanied by his wife and child. We are glad to welcome him home again.

Lanterns, the latest and best, 75c at R. Prat's.

THE RINK.—The skating rink was opened for the first time this season on Monday evening. The ice was in splendid condition, and quite a number were on the ice, while the electric light added to the enjoyment of the occasion. The rink opens under very favorable circumstances and we hope to see it liberally patronized.

Xmas is near and you will want some of those beautiful presents at the Wolfville Bookstore.

PASTORATE.—The Windsor Journal understands that Rev. Wm. Newcomb, of Maine, is shortly to spend a few weeks in that town with a view to assuming the pastorate of the Baptist church, should such a change prove satisfactory to the congregation. Mr Newcomb is a native of Wolfville, and well liked wherever he has preached. We do not think the Windsor church can do better than to secure the Rev. gentleman to fill their vacant pulpit.

If you want an Overcoat call at C. H. Borden's, Wolfville.

RAND'S DRUG STORE.—We must mention the great improvement that has recently been made in the above institution. Under the hands of Mr Aubrey Rand, who has recently returned from the United States, the store has put on a bright and cheerful appearance. Mr Rand has a nice Christmas stock, as well as a good stock of drugs, &c., and is prepared to do a good business. We are glad to see this improvement and to learn that it is the intention to carry on a first class drug business in the future. We wish the proprietor success.

JUST RECEIVED.—A stock of Table Silver Ware, specially selected for Christmas trade. WALTER BROWN.

THE GLOBE.—Attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of the Globe in another part of this issue. The Christmas Globe for this season is a beauty and is said to surpass any publication of the kind heretofore sold in this country. The illustrations are all of a high order and the two large plates accompanying the issue should be in every home.

SLIPPERS!

Look at our splendid stock of Slippers,

Ladies' and Gents' Wear.

The finest display ever shown in Wolfville, at prices to suit every purchaser. Just the thing for a Christmas present.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mrs W. H. Ristine, of Waterville, died quite suddenly of diphtheria on Saturday last.—Western Chronicle.

HALIDAYS.—The public schools close for the holidays to-day. The students of the College, Academy and Seminary also leave for the holidays.

BOY WANTED.—To learn the tailoring business. Age from 16 to 20 years. A good chance for the right boy. T. A. MUNRO, Wolfville.

“Acme” Skates away down low at S. R. SLEEP'S.

Fur Caps at C. H. Borden's, Wolfville.

JUNIOR EXHIBITION.—The rhetorical exhibition of the Junior class of Acadia College took place last evening. The essays were fully up to the average and the attendance was good.

Goat Robes for sale low at WALTER BROWN'S.

BARNS CLOSED.—Turro bar-rooms are still closed. This is worth many thousands of dollars to the town, but thus far it has cost the town nothing, the fines collected being sufficient to cover all expenses.—Guardian.

Acme Club Skates at WALTER BROWN'S.

Ladies Felt Slippers, very large assortment at C. H. Borden's, Wolfville.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr Abram G. Ellis died very suddenly of heart disease at Port Williams on Friday morning last. He arose in apparently his usual health, but shortly after was taken with a spasm and died in a few moments.

“Charter Oak” Stoves at S. R. SLEEP'S.

Xmas Cards, Pretty Designs, 1 cent to cents each at R. PRAT'S.

BEAN SUPPER.—The members of the Division at White Rock held a bean supper and fancy sale on Wednesday evening. We understand that the attendance was good and that a neat sum was realized.

Just opened at the Wolfville Bookstore fine lot of Silverware.

A splendid assortment of Slippers, American and Canadian Manufacture at C. H. Borden's.

OPEN AIR RINK.—We understand that the members of the Acadia Athletic Association have rented the hollow back of the Academy boarding house and intend to flood it and use it for an open air rink this winter.

See Rockwell & Co's. adv. in this issue.

CHEAP.—40 cents will buy a Nice Glass Table Set (6 pieces) at R. PRAT'S.

JOURNALISTIC.—We have received the first number of the Weymouth Free Press successor to the Times. It presents a great improvement over its predecessor, both in appearance and contents, and is a credit to its publisher, Mr V. A. Landry, of L'Escoigne. Mr E. H. Armstrong, a native, we think, of this county, is the new editor. We wish the new paper abundant success.

Bargains in Caps and Saucers at the Wolfville Bookstore.

Fancy Slipper, American Manufacture, are just what you want for Christmas presents at C. H. Borden's, Wolfville.

ST JOHN'S CHURCH, WOLFVILLE.—On Sunday next, Dec. 22, service as usual at three p. m. Subject of sermon: “The Skepticism and the Faith of St Thomas, Apostle and Martyr.” On Wednesday, December 25th, Christmas Day, there will be a Celebration of the Holy Communion in St John's Church at half past eight a. m.; also full service, sermon, and Holy Communion at eleven a. m.

For the past few days there has been a great rush to the Wolfville Bookstore for those Cheap Caps and Saucers, Vases, &c. People say they never saw such value.

DISCLAIMER.—Mr A. B. McLeod writes us from Boston disclaiming the authorship of an item entitled, “Old friends heard from,” in our issue of the 6th inst. Mr McLeod says: “I believe an item I wrote was sent for publication, but the one published is not what I wrote.” The item referred to does not mention Mr McLeod as the author, but merely as having read an address.

Men's Top Shirts 65 cents best value in the County, at C. H. Borden's, Wolfville.

Died.

COLDWELL.—At Wolfville, Dec. 16th, of typhoid fever, Wright, son of Henry Coldwell, aged 20 years.

IN THE YEAR 2889.

Revelation of Some of the Wonders of This Enlightened Age.

Like unto Babylon's Towering Spire
Miles in height, the Empire's Spire
And the Memorable Edifice
Of the Earth Chronicle.

Following an interesting extract from the "Earth Chronicle," published in the Forum entitled: "In the year 2889."

Little though they seem to think of it,
the people of this twentieth century live continually in a fairland. Surfeited as they are with marvels, they are indifferent in presence of such novelties. To them all seems natural. Could they but duly appreciate the refinements of civilization in our day, could they but compare the present
with the past, and so realize the progress
the advance we have made! How much fairer they would find our modern towns, with populations amounting sometimes to 10,000,000 souls, their streets 300 feet wide, their houses 1,000 feet in height, with a temperature the same in all seasons; with their lines of aerial locomotion crossing the sky in every direction...

Hence is sprung a pleiad of inventors, its brightest star being our great Joseph Jackson. To Jackson we are indebted for those wonderful instruments, the new accumulators. Some of these absorb and condense the living force contained in the sun's rays, and the electric energy stored in our globe; others, again,
the energy coming from whatever source, as a waterfall, a stream, the winds, etc. He, too, it was that invented the transformer, a more wonderful contrivance still, which keeps the living force from the accumulator, and on the simple pressure of a button, gives it back to you in whatever form
may be desired, whether as heat, light, electricity, or mechanical force, after having first obtained from it the work required.
From the day when these two instruments were contrived is to be dated the era of true progress. They have put into the hands of man a power that is almost infinite. As for their applications, they are numberless. Mitigating the rigors of winter, by giving back to the atmosphere
the surplus heat stored in whatever form,
they have revolutionized agriculture.
By supplying motive power for aerial navigation, they have given to commerce a mighty impetus. To them we are indebted for the continuous production of electricity without batteries or dynamos, of light without combustion, or of heat without fuel, and for an unending supply of mechanical energy
for all the needs of industry.

When two hundred years ago
the political center of the United States was transferred from Washington to Centropolis, the Manhattan Chronicle,
founded many years previous by George Washington Smith, followed the Government and assumed the name of Earth Chronicle. From that day to this rival journals of a more modern type, it was continually in danger of collapse. Twenty years ago its subscription list contained but a few hundred names, and then Mr.
Fritz Napoleon Smith—remote descendant of the original founder and owner—bought it for a mere trifle and originated telephone journalism.

Instead of being printed, the Earth Chronicle is every morning spoken to subscribers, who, in interesting conversations with reporters, stenographers and editors, learn the news of the day. Furthermore,
more, each subscriber owns a phonograph,
and to this instrument he leaves the task
of gathering the news whenever he happens not to be in a mood to read directly from itself. As for purchases of single copies, they can at a very trifling cost learn all that is in the paper of the day, and in a few moments numerous phonographs are ready everywhere.

recount to the public in daily installments a hundred novels.
Mr. Smith conditions his reward and enters the reporters' hall. Here 1,500 reporters, in their respective places, facing an equal number of telephones, are communicating to the subscribers the news of the world as gathered during the night.
Thus the subscribers not only hear the news but see the occurrences. When an incident is described that is already past, photographs of its main features are transmitted with the narrative.

Mr. Smith passed into the next hall, an enormous gallery upward of 8,200 feet in length, devoted to atmospheric advertising.
This, too, is one of Mr. Fritz Napoleon Smith's ideas, and in time the Earth
Chronicle building a thousand projectors are constantly engaged in displaying upon the clouds these mammoth advertisements.

Next, from the advertisement hall he passed to the reception chamber, where the Ambassadors accredited to the American Government are awaiting him desirous of having a word of counsel or advice from the all-powerful editor. A discussion was going on when he entered. "Your Excellency will pardon me," the French Ambassador was saying to the Russian, "but I see nothing in the map of Europe that resembles the shape of your country. Why, why, of course; but the South for the Latin. Our common frontier, the Rhine, it seems to me, serves you well. Besides, my government, as you must know, will firmly oppose every movement, not only against Paris, our capital, or our two great professors, Rome and Madrid, but against the Kingdom of Jerusalem, the dominion of St. Peter, of which Europe means to be the trusty defender."

"Well said," exclaimed the Russian Ambassador, "that you Russians are so content with your own empire, that you extend in the world, a restriction to the banks of the Rhine to the Cossack and the Kara-Korum, whose empire is washed by the Frigid Ocean, the Indian Sea, the Mediterranean and the Indian Ocean. Then, what is the use of thrusting in a possible view of modern inventions,
a phantasmagoria capable of being projected
a distance of 90 miles, that can at one stroke annihilate a battalion; to say nothing of the plague, the cholera, the yellow fever, the belligerents might spread among their antagonists mutually, and which would in a few days destroy the greatest armies?"

Though, by a just turnabout of things here below, Great Britain has become a colony of the United States, the English are not yet reconciled to this situation. At regular intervals they are ever addressing to the American Government vain complaints. The Russian has laid claim to the of the Indies, and Australia has an independent government.

Smith stopped into his air-cabin, which was waiting for him at a window. "Where do you wish to go, sir?" inquired the coachman.
"Let me see! I have three hours," Mr.
Smith mused. "Just take me to my accumulator works in Niagara."
For Mr. Smith has obtained a lease of the great falls of Niagara. For ages the energy developed by the falls went unutilized.
Smith, applying Jackson's invention, now
collects this energy, and lets or sells it.
His visit to the works took more time than he had anticipated. It was four o'clock when he returned home, just in time for the daily audience which he grants to callers.

Finally, the fourth announced the early solution of a vexatious scientific problem.
Evolutionary remains the hold experiment
made a hundred years ago by Dr.
Daniel Faithburn. The doctor, being a firm believer in human liberation—in other words, in the possibility of our transcending
our vital functions and of calling them into action again after a time—resolved to subject the theory to a practical test.
He had chosen for the condition a man, my Dr. Faithburn was confined and laid in a tomb. Time went on. September 25, 1888, being the day set for his resurrection, it was proposed to Mr. Smith that he should permit the test part of the experiment to be performed at his residence this evening.
"Agreed. Be here at ten o'clock," an answer Mr. Smith; and with that the day's audience was closed.

Nearly all colds are slight, at first,
but their tendency is to so lower the system that the sufferer becomes a ready victim to any prevalent disease. The use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, in the beginning of a cold, would guard against this danger.
It is reported that the Tenoukanta railway has been sold to the Grand Trunk.
