WANT ARTICLES ON NOVA SCOTIA SUBJECTS

Publicity Bureau Offers Prizes for Essays on Nova Scotia

The Directors of the Nova Scotia Publicity Bureau take pleasure in announcing a competition which is open to persons over 18 years of age. Prizes totalling the sum of $375.00 will be paid by the Publicity Bureau for articles which, in the opinion of competent judges, will help to induce people living abroad to visit Nova Scotia.

A unique feature of this competition is that the choice of subject is left entirely to the competitors, the only stipulation in this respect will be that the subject chosen must relate to Nova Scotia. Possible subjects include an historical episode or stirring or heroic action; a phase of industry such as fishing, or apple growing; a phase of sport such as trout and salmon fishing, tuna fishing, sword fish harpooning, or moose hunting; scenic attractions; life in a woodland; seashore camp; description of a motor tour through the Province; the high tides of the Bay of Fundy; our French Acadian people; the Highland Scotch of Nova Scotia; the ancient fortification of the Province, such as Annapolis Royal or Louisbourg. Other subjects will occur to interested readers.

The rules governing the competition are as follows:

1. The sum of $375.00 is offered in prizes—a first prize of $100, a second prize of $50, five prizes of $25, and ten prizes of $10, each for the best articles suitable for publication abroad dealing with some interesting phase of Nova Scotia life, industry or history.

2. The idea underlying this competition is to secure articles which when published abroad will help to attract prospective tourists to Nova Scotia. Accordingly while literary merit will be considered to some extent in awarding prizes, the quality of publicity value will be, of course, paramount. Thus work of amateur writers will stand just as good a chance of a prize as will that of the professional writer.

3. The competition is open to any resident of Canada, the United States or Great Britain, over the age of eighteen years. Residents abroad must, however, write from first hand knowledge of this Province.

4. Contribution must be received at latest by October 15, 1925, addressed to the Publicity Director, Nova Scotia Publicity Bureau, Province Building, Halifax, Nova Scotia.

5. The length of the article should not be less than 1000 words nor more than 2500 words. Each story must be typewritten and should show on the first page the number of words which it contains. Typing must be on one side of the paper only.

6. Each article must also be accompanied by a declaration that it has never before been published in its present form.

7. Competitors may send in any number of articles.

8. Each article sent in competition must bear a Nom de Plume and must be accompanied by a closed envelope bearing the Nom de Plume on the outside, and inside the name and address of the sender.

9. These envelopes will not be opened until the awards have been made.

10. All articles submitted become the property of the Nova Scotia Publicity Bureau and will not be returned.

11. The judges in the competition will be: Dr. A. Stanley MacKenzie, President of Dalhousie University; Dr. H. P. MacPherson, President of St. Francis Xavier University; Dr. E. H. Sexton, Principal of Nova Scotia Technical College; Major J. S. Roper, Director Nova Scotia Publicity Bureau; A. J. Campbell, Secretary Nova Scotia Publicity Bureau.

The decision of the judges must be final and it will be impossible to enter into correspondence in regard to the decisions.

NEW UNIVERSITY HALL COMPLETED

Handsome Building at Acadia Will be Dedicated Next Sunday

The new Hall of Acadia University has this week been opened to the public and will next Sunday afternoon be dedicated with appropriate ceremony to the glory of God and to the increase of sound learning. It is a building of which Acadia and the citizens of Wolfville may well be proud and it will, no doubt, be visited and inspected by hundreds of enthusiastic friends of Acadia during the coming convocation season.

White College

When plans for the new hall were under consideration a couple of years ago there arose a spontaneous and almost universal call on the part of former students and friends for a University Hall, to be built on the site of the old College building destroyed by fire in December, 1920. There was about that old College on the Hill a whiteness, a stateliness and an indefinable something that was typical of Acadia as old grads were wont to remember it, therefore it was that President Patterson met with the request almost everywhere for a University Hall that would call to remembrance the old days and the old associations. The Board of Governors acceded to this request and upon a foundation of grey granite they erected a magnificent new building of Benedict Stone. The Hall, though much larger, is on the site of the old one, and while it has enough of the general features to remind one of the former structure, it possesses character and architectural distinctiveness that is entirely its own.

The interior of the building is in keeping with the architectural standards of the exterior and is designed to meet the requirements of the institution. The corridors, halls and classrooms convey to the most casual observer a sense of amplitude, while a closer survey discloses the thoroughness and taste with which the building is finished to the last detail.

The Spacious Auditorium

The auditorium provides seating for a little less than two thousand, while several hundred more could easily find accommodation in the spacious aisles. The finish throughout is of fine oak. The seats are opera chairs of excellent quality and very comfortable. They are provided with hat-racks and every chair is furnished with a book receptacle. The aisles are covered with rubber matting and the lighting is modern and complete. The Class of 1925 presented the University with a handsome brass plate electrolier and four side lights—a gift which will perpetuate the memory of the outgoing class for many decades.

The platform has seating accommodation for about a hundred and, in addition, a temporary platform extension has been constructed which can be set up for musical festivals and other functions where more stage room may be required. The Engineering students of '25 and '26 have presented the institution with an oak lectern and a set of three oak platform chairs of their own design and workmanship—another of those generous student benefactions which will long and gratefully be remembered.

The tinting of the ceiling and walls is restful to the eye, and the simple lines, with the heavy cornices leave an impression of simplicity and dignity which will make the assembly hall in itself, apart from any programme, a place of genuine restfulness and delight. At the South entrance two upward steps bring one into the foyer and thence, without an additional climb, into the auditorium, from which no less than twelve exits are provided. The acoustics, as they have so far been tested, are well nigh perfect.

Class Rooms and Offices

The new building provides the University with twelve additional class rooms, varied, yet ample in size, well lighted and ventilated. The rooms of the fourth floor are all lighted from above and include a Geological Laboratory and a Geological Museum, the latter extending over the entire width of the East end of the building. On the second floor a room is set apart for the special use of the Faculty, Senate and Board of Governors and is designated "Faculty Hall".

For the administrative staff there is, in addition to the President's office, situated over the front entrance, a suite of three offices which furnish accommodation for the Registrar, the Bursar, the Secretary to the President and the Secretary to the Bursar. The Superintendent of Buildings has a private office in a room adjoining. The vaults are so constructed as to be entered from the administrative offices.

In addition, there are eight offices set apart for the Provost, Deans and members of the faculty. Another room is assigned to the Students' Council.

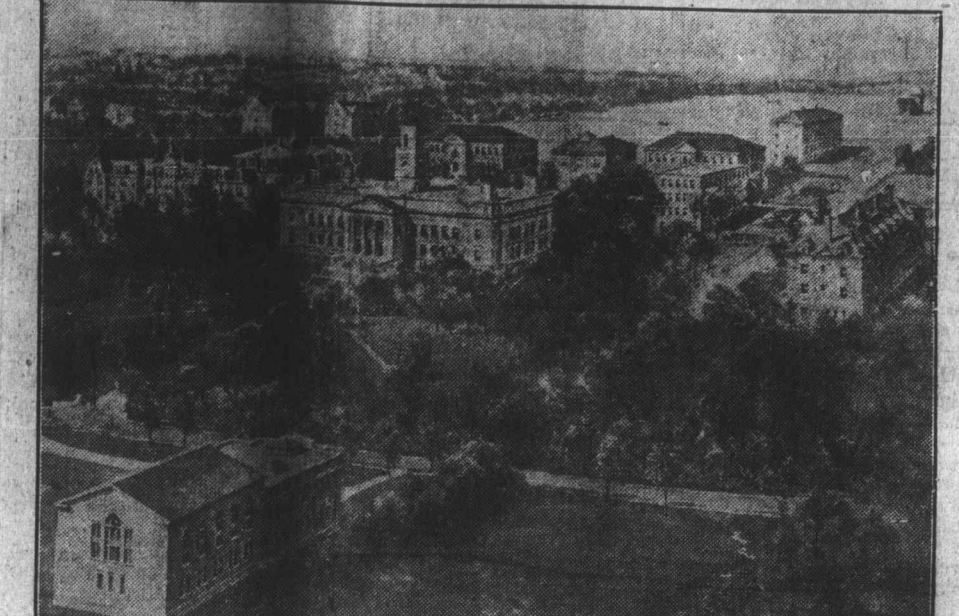

The corridors, class-rooms and offices are finished in Nova Scotia birch with mahogany coloring. Few people realize that this country furnishes such a magnificent wood, the rare and delicate natural graining of which stands out through the mahogany finish. The lower floor is finished in Douglas fir and the corridors of the floor are lined with steel lockers of modern design for students' clothing. The different floors are provided with drinking fountains and lavatories.

The heating is a forced water system and has worked admirably during the winter months. The interlocking tile of which the inside of the building is constructed aids materially in the solution of the heating problem.

President Patterson, the architect, Leslie R. Fair, A.R.A., the contractors, Messrs. Rhodes Curry & Company, are to be congratulated on the completion of an edifice which bears every evidence of foresight, design and workmanship; but they, and those associated with them, are more to be congratulated upon the building that bears unmistakable evidence of faith in the future and which is designed to make possible a future worthier than the past.

In order to succeed you must have push. You can't even run a lawn mower without it.

ACADIA UNIVERSITY BUILDINGS

The new building in the centre will be dedicated next Sunday.

WOLFVILLE GIRLS WIN BASKETBALL GAME AT KENTVILLE

KENTVILLE, May 18.—Kentville and Wolfville girls' basketball teams competed for honors at a return game at Community Hall Saturday evening, before an interested number of enthusiastic fans. The game was fast and a number of thrills were handed out. Wolfville proved the stronger team, their combination work being better, but both squads played well. Every girl on the teams played their position with vigor and alertness, and brilliant work was put over by Helen Ingraham and Annie Fitch of the Wolfville team, and Muriel Williams and Winnie McGill of the Kentville team. The score at the close was 22-12 in favor of the visiting team.

Miss Brown Wickwire, Kentville, and W. I. McDonald, of Wolfville, refereed satisfactorily. The line-up was as follows: Wolfville—Helen Ingraham, Gertrude Phinney, Annie Fitch, Wattle Stackhouse, Virginia McLean, Edna Doyle, Marion Eaton.

Kentville—Muriel Williams, Winnie McGill, Harriet Steadman, Nora Dennison, Frances Harris, Naomi Cohen, Lenore Steadman.

At the close of the game the visiting team were guests of the home team at Acadia Tea Rooms.

"SEA HAWK" SILLS GETS A NEW ROLE

The first appearance of Milton Sills, noted screen star, since his triumph in "The Sea Hawk", is as a minister of the gospel. The picture is Edwin Carew's "Madonna of the Streets", in which Sills is co-featured with the famous Russian actress Nazimova.

"Truly," says Sills, "the present day movie actor leads a versatile life. Eight or ten years ago an actor was classified either as a society leading man or a rough Western type and never allowed to step out into a different role. The demand for varied entertainment has changed all this. In "The Sea Hawk" I was an English nobleman exiled in disgrace who became the terror of the sea in the sixteenth century. I appeared as a galley slave, bronzed by the sun to the waist.

In "Madonna of the Streets" I am a refined and polished mission worker catering to present-day British society. And in my next picture I am liable to appear as a hard-working American business man or even, who knows, as a cowboy of the West.

"Life to a screen player is filled with interest. He is made versatile by the ever changing demands of the American public, and the old saying that variety is the spice of life holds true here."

"Madonna of the Streets" is an adaptation of one of the most popular books of the English novelist W. B. Maxwell. It was published under the title of "The Ragged Messenger". The photoplay marks the first screen appearance of Nazimova in two years.

This picture will be the attraction at the Orpheum Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday.

The mule is holding its own, says a contemporary, but he always finds something to kick about.

PUPILS' RECITAL AT ACADIA CONSERVATORY

An interesting recital was given last Saturday evening in Alumnae Hall, Acadia Conservatory, by pupils of the Piano-forte Normal Department of the Conservatory, conducted by Miss Vera Olt, under the supervision of Miss Rachael Johnson. The program was as follows: German Folk tune—"Who are You?" Elizabeth Forbes

French Folk tune—"On the Bridge of Avignon" Rowena Spencer

Reinecke "At Twilight" Shirley Elliott

Porter "Dancing on the Green" Keith Warren

Burgmuller "Little Ballad" Gordon Wheelock

Chadwick "The Cricket and the Bumble Bee" Margaret Fullerton

Dennee "The Chase of the Butterflies" Martin Mitchell

Beach "Minuet, Op. 36, No. 1" Bernice Alexander

FISH EVANGELIST COMING

Mrs. Evelene Spencer, who is recognized by the United States Bureau of Fisheries as the foremost authority on "Fish Cookery" on the American continent, has accepted the invitation of the ladies of St. Robert Borden Chapter, I.O.G.E., to lecture and demonstrate "Fish Cookery" at Wolfville. Mrs. Spencer will give free lectures in the Lecture Room of the Baptist church on Friday, May 29th, and Monday, June 1st, at 3:30 p.m.; and demonstrations on Tuesday and Thursday, June 2nd and 4th, at 3 p.m., in the basement of the Baptist church. All are welcome.

Mrs. Spencer's work includes lectures and actual "Cooking Demonstrations". The former consist of very instructive talks on food, diet and health. The lecturer comes to us fresh from the largest research laboratories of the United States, where she has been in personal touch with the leading scientists of the day.

The cooking demonstrations are of particular interest to those who are responsible for the feeding of a family. There is an old prejudice against the use of fish because it is difficult to cook, unpleasant to handle and leaves "the fish odor" on utensils as well as through the house, but all these are overcome by "The Spencer Method" of cooking fish, and cooking is made a pleasure rather than a hardship.

No one should miss these demonstrations, or, as one woman described them, "Free Domestic Science Courses".

INCREASED SERVICE BETWEEN YARMOUTH AND BOSTON

S.S. "Northland" and S.S. "Prince George"

The Boston and Yarmouth S.S. Co. announce the service between Yarmouth and Boston will be increased to four trips per week, commencing Tuesday, June 2nd, leaving Yarmouth on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays at 6:30 p.m.

R. H. Graham, barrister of New Glasgow, has been appointed to the Supreme Court bench of the Province of Nova Scotia, succeeding Justice Russell who retired in October last.

DR. DEWOLFE RESIGNS PRINCIPALSHIP OF SEMINARY

The news of the resignation of Rev. H. T. DeWolfe, D.D., from the position of principal of Acadia Seminary, which he has filled with such marked ability for the past twenty-four years, is heard with some regret by the friends and members of the faculty of the university and with pain his present position and his successor has been chosen. Wolfville people will be very glad of the assurance that he is to remain a resident of this town, where he is highly esteemed. A man of excellent executive ability and an eloquent and able platform speaker Dr. DeWolfe is a citizen whom we could ill afford to lose.

THANKS FROM MINER'S RELIEF COMMITTEE

Mayor Chambers has received the following letter from Mrs. McPherson, of the Glace Bay Relief Committee, acknowledging receipt of food and clothing sent from this section:

Dear Sir,—While I know our Publicity Committee acknowledged the receipt of the lovely car of provision and clothing for relief some weeks ago, I wish to thank you personally and the people of Wolfville for their great share, as well as all the people up the Valley who contributed toward it. It was very much appreciated by our people and helped the committee in their work of relief. I am sorry not to be able to report an end to our trouble. Each week we find ourselves looking for the end; yet it is very quiet as usual. The U.M.W. have taken over the relief of their people but find themselves with not nearly enough funds to carry on with. The old committee are being asked to do not belong to the Union, also their clothing. With many thanks to the people of Wolfville and the Valley in general for their kindness, I remain, Yours sincerely, M. L. McPherson.

GASOLINE TANKS

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN
Dear Sir,—At the last meeting of the Town Council, according to your report of the proceedings, permission was given to erect two more gasoline tanks on Main street. These tanks under any circumstances cannot but be regarded as a necessary evil and in many well directed towns they are not permitted to be installed on the street. Instead, dealers who wish to do this kind of business are obliged to locate the necessary appliances upon their own property as does any other merchant. Be that as it may, however, it does not seem necessary that Wolfville should require more of these tanks than the four which now exist on our chief business thoroughfare and more or less impede traffic and menace the comfort of pedestrians.

It seems that under existing conditions any person who is willing to undertake the sale of gasoline may have the necessary equipment installed without cost by the company selling the gasoline. This being the case it may be that in a few years our main street may be studded by these ill-smelling and by no means attractive receptacles. We have a decidedly pretty town which we cannot afford to disfigure.

CITIZEN.

GRADUATING RECITAL

The auditorium of the Baptist church was well filled on Tuesday evening when Mr. Gregory Doane H. Hatfield, who has completed the teacher's course in expression at the Acadia Conservatory of Music and Fine Arts, gave a recital that was greatly enjoyed by those present. Mr. Hatfield is a most pleasing reader and always popular with a Wolfville audience. His program on Tuesday evening was as follows:

L'Envoi . . . Rudyard Kipling
Sea Fever . . . John Masferrer

BAPTIST WOMEN MISSIONARY WORKERS

The annual meeting of the United Baptist Women's Missionary Union will be held this year at Amherst on August 23th to 27th. This was decided upon at a meeting of the executive held last week at St. John, at which Mrs. H. T. Wright, of Halifax, was present and as acting convenor suggested the program for the convention. Mrs. W. G. Clarke, of Fredericton, presided, with twenty-seven members present. The applications of three young ladies to be appointed for home mission and social service work were considered and referred to a committee which was given power to engage their services. Besides raising more than $8,000 during the past three months for missionary work there was raised $25,000 in the past six months for the Acadia University extension appeal. Among the Nova Scotia delegates attending, besides Mrs. Wright, were Miss Hume, of Hantsport, and Mrs. Beals and Mrs. Sippell, of Wolfville.

Every news item you send THE ACADIAN makes it more interesting to you and others.

HON. SENATOR W. B. WILLOUGHBY

called the attention of the Government to the matter of rural credits, and the necessity of legislation this session to give effect to some scheme to provide cheaper money for Western farmers, both on long term and short term credits. He says the question of rural credits is of great significance to Western Canada, and that part of the Dominion deserved very favorable consideration owing to certain conditions which exist there and in other parts of Canada.

POLITICS THE BANE OF MARITIME PROGRESS

JUST what is the matter down in these provinces by the sea is a question that has agitated the inhabitants at many times in recent years and particularly during the past few months. Numerous causes have been assigned for the lack of progress that has been made and the meagre extent of prosperity enjoyed, any of which might be responsible for present conditions. An upper provincial journal when discussing the question declared that the weakness of the Maritimes resulted from too much attention given to politics at the expense of a desire to extend development and the establishment of suitable industries. It was claimed that because of party zeal on the part of our representatives their influence in parliament was of little consequence and little regarded. Because they can always be depended upon to answer the party whip the leaders have no reason to listen to their demands.

Looking the situation over carefully we are inclined to the opinion that this newspaper has "said something" which should be duly regarded. Take for example our own province. Nova Scotia since confederation has sent to Ottawa outstanding men who have contributed very largely to the political affairs of the Dominion, and yet the claim is made that Nova Scotia has not been fairly treated. Had these representatives, some of whom at least were statesmen, but served their native province as well as they served the country at large Nova Scotia would scarcely have failed to take the prominent place among the provinces of Canada which it so richly merits.

In the present parliament Nova Scotia has practically solid support for the party in power and if there was ever a time when our claims should have received consideration it might reasonably have been in these years. We do not advocate an unfair advantage, but with the government experiencing such difficulty to carry on as has been the case since 1921, if our "solid sixteen" had been willing to place duty before party they should not have found it difficult to get for their constituents what was justly due.

How it works out was well illustrated in the vote on the budget last week, when the full quota of Nova Scotia members assisted in voting down the Progressive motion calling for a "revision of the tariff downward", after having been elected because promising in their pre-election statements to support such a policy. THE ACADIAN is not for the present taking sides on the tariff question, but if the people of Nova Scotia regard it as in their best interests that a policy of "tariff revision downward" should be in operation why should their representatives vote against it in order to save the party.

BETTER SUPERVISION NEEDED AT "DUMP"

RESIDENTS of the east end who passed the "dump" on their way to and from church on Sunday must have been anything but pleased with the conditions existing in that conspicuous and yet far from attractive section of the town. If among these were included any member of the Council he could not fail to have borne in upon him a realization that some one had blundered. Fortunately for the reputation of Wolfville the day was for from pleasant and less than the usual number of visiting motorists passed along Main street to have their senses offended by what they saw and smelled. The accumulation of rubbish dumped and left uncovered certainly presented a spectacle that was far from creditable and if necessary added additional emphasis to the claim that THE ACADIAN has made over and over again that a better supervision of this institution of our town is necessary.

There is no objection to the amount of material deposited or to its quality, provided it is properly placed and covered with earth in such a manner as to insure that it will not be offensive. During the present season up to the past week this has been fairly well done but on Saturday, due perhaps to the fact that it was difficult for teams to get to the edge of the dump, a quantity of empty cans and other refuse was left out in front and occasioned good cause for complaint.

Citizens are anxious that the work of filling up this cavern and is using it to become a credit instead of a reproach should proceed as rapidly as possible, and with this end in view those who have waste material of any kind might very profitably be encouraged to use the dump. The work, however, should be carefully supervised. One day in the week might be selected at which time only it would be permissible to have material taken to the dump, and at which time some one should be on hand to see that the work was properly done.

It is devoutly to be hoped that on no other Sunday nor for that matter on any other day during the coming summer should such a condition as existed last Sunday be permitted to obtain.

LENGTHY SPEECHES SHOULD BE PROHIBITED

IT IS more than a coincidence that at Washington as well as at Ottawa there is an agitation in progress for a limit both in number and length of the speeches of representatives. It indicates a conviction born out of experience that legislative bodies waste too much time in mere campaigning. No complaint is made that representatives are too much disposed to devote excessive and needless attention to public business, but rather that they neglect national issues in order to carry on their partizan battles.

One cannot read the addresses delivered in the protracted debate on the recent Canadian budget without being painfully impressed by the futility of much that has been uttered. Very little of the discussion has been of a constructive character, and fully three-quarters has consisted of mere repetition. The object of nearly all of it has been to score a party advantage. This is not only a subversion of the underlying purpose of parliament, but a scandalous waste of time and money that merits the censure of the thinking people of this country.

Members evidently will not take the time and trouble to so organize their speeches as to make them brief. They dilute ideas with words until they are homeopathic. Hard work and concentration on a speech would not only reduce its proportions, but add enormously to its effectiveness. In other words it is poor policy to be verbose. A speech of ten minutes, bristling with epigrams and points would be such a novelty that it would invoke and receive the close attention of listeners. Most of these speeches are intended not so much for parliament as for the constituents for whose edification they are printed and circulated at vast expense to the country, which receives no corresponding benefit. More strength to those who are working for this reform.

Answers to Last Week's Puzzle

IN QUIANT NOVA SCOTIA

(Chicago News)

In few countries of the world can you find modern and primitive life in such close proximity as in Nova Scotia, and this is one of the great fascinations of the province for the traveler and vacation-seeker hungry for unbeatn paths. In the railway towns you can buy up-to-date sport clothes and dance to the latest jazz music, while a few miles away there are villages without electric lights or a single street lamp, and where oxen haul all the carts and wagons. On a nearby road a moose or deer may cross the road in front of your motor. The guides will show you the spot where a bull moose charged a fiver, "on the right hand side goin' north," as they put it, and tipped the car over the roadside. It is but a few miles from wherever you are to the woods where deer and moose are plentiful. Not a town in the entire province is over 30 miles from one of the hundred arms of the sea.

Scattered along the shore of St. Mary's Bay for 20 miles south of Weymouth are the famous French villages. The first of the villages was settled more than a century and a half ago by a few of the French who were driven out of Grand Pre in "Evangeline Land" farther north, by the English in 1775. Many quaint old customs still prevail and French is still spoken exclusively among the villagers, while Breton costumes are often worn by the women. At several of the villages can be found the primitive wind saw-mills, the wheel so low that, as it turns, it barely clears the ground.

The queerest custom was in the town of Comeauville at the hotel with the "clothes pin register". At the roadside in this hamlet is an old fashioned white story and a half cottage nearly a century and a half old, kept as a hotel by Miss Addie Comeau, a bright and sprightly spinster, who has played the hostess for many years. Within, the house is modestly spotless as to whether his name is assisting in holding a smock, a shirt or a nightgown to the line on the Monday after his departure.

In these towns the houses and stores are strung along the road in single file, and often the lines of buildings are so continuous that it is impossible to tell where one village ends and another begins. Just back of the homes are the tiny farms and here for every kind of farm work, oxen are used exclusively. Oxen were to be seen drawing the most modern reapers, and often whole families, men and women and children, were out in the field with the great crude wagons made of poles getting in the hay crop.

THE MODEL HOME KITCHEN

"There is no room in the entire house more attractive or appealing to the home lover than a carefully planned, well equipped kitchen, shining with cleanliness," says Helen Harrington Downing, a recognized home economic expert. "Every housewife in the land, whether she is widely experienced in household problems, or a bride just starting house-keeping, is interested in having her kitchen workshop as carefully planned as the rest of the house."

"A good definition of the best kitchen is one that is so planned that the maximum work can be done with the minimum effort. It should be carefully, completely and at the same time economically equipped."

"I cannot urge too strongly that the following points be borne in mind in outfitting a kitchen: (1) Careful planning and routing of work; (2) making the kitchen attractive to the eye, restful as a place to work; (3) equipment for comfort, completeness and with the most useful tools."

Items Of Local Interest

Don't miss the special sale at Rand's. The Acadia Dramatic Society will present their play, "A Full House", at the University Hall, instead of the Amphitheatre, on Saturday evening.

Miss Ruth MacDonald, pupil of the famous New York teachers, Oscar Sander and Joseph Regneaux, will accept a more vocal pupils for the summer months. Phone 337.

Will the party or parties who took the yard in back of the store of E. Hales & Co. two hooked mats that do not belong to them please return them and save further trouble.

Mr. F. P. Rockwell informs us that running water has now been installed in the rooms of Acadia Villa Hotel, and this house is now the only hotel in the province, outside of Halifax, that has both running water in every room. The work was done by Mr. H. E. Fraser.

At a meeting of the Electric Commission which was held on Tuesday evening plans were laid for resuming operations in connection with the proposed new street-lighting system. It is understood that an effort will be made to have the work completed before the short days of autumn again come around.

The death occurred at Nashua, N.H., May 14th, of Mary Ann, relict of the late Rodney Russell, of Gaspereau Mountain. The body arrived in Wolfville on Saturday afternoon, accompanied by the late Mr. Fluke, a son by a former marriage, and was interred in the Church of England Cemetery. Rev. R. F. Dixon conducted the service.

The Acadia Dramatic Society were up-to-date in their selection of a play this year. "A Full House", which was presented so splendidly by them at the Orpheum Theatre on May 8th, and which will be repeated on Saturday evening, was played at Boston all last week, and is the popular Boston Stock Company, of the St. James Theatre.

Last fall reference was made in THE ACADIAN to the formation of a valley cricket club, under the name of "The Woodstock Cricket Club". The intention of this club is to give such isolated cricketers as are not numerous enough to form a club in their own localities, an opportunity to play cricket during the summer, and the new club will not interfere with any other clubs in the Valley. A meeting of the new club will be held at Annapolis Royal on June 3rd, at 8:30 p.m.

The daily cleaning which Main street has received for the past ten days has certainly caused it to present a very much improved appearance over that produced by the old method. This is particularly gratifying in view of the fact that the expense is considerably less, according to Mayor Chambers. The street authorities are giving the streets thorough clean-up this week in all parts of the town, and the pavement on Main street is being repaired where necessary.

The death of a former Wolfville lady, Mrs. Eliza L. Ford, widow of the late T. Ford, occurred at Calgary, where she has been residing since 1909, on May 17th. She was a native of Digby and was seventy years of age. She is survived by two sons, Harry A. and Ernest, and a daughter, Mrs. John Robertson, of Brookton, B.C., all of whom were with her mother at the end. The late Mrs. Ford was a highly esteemed lady, and many old friends in this town will hear with sorrow of her demise.

DELIGHTFUL WAYS TO SERVE RHUBARB

The good qualities of rhubarb are not yet properly recognized, for this delicious fruit, which comes with the first signs of spring, is not nearly so universally used as it should be. For the children it is excellent and its frequent use corrects the little irregularities which are so prevalent in the spring and often necessitate frequent doses of nasty physic or a trip to the family physician. It is a good appetizer, too.

Rhubarb stewed with plenty of sugar and eaten as a sauce creates a healthy appetite, and when one wearies of the taste of it by itself it is capable of many pleasing combinations and variations. Its susceptibility to other flavors makes it valuable as a basis for many delightful dishes.

Good Combinations In canning or preserving it may be used alone or with one part of figs, strawberries or black currants. A little lemon, orange or ginger also yields delicious results.

For the daily menus the rhubarb may be combined with rice, tapioca, dates, figs, raisins, strawberries, bananas, chopped almonds, ginger root, lemon and orange peel.

The red variety of rhubarb should not be peeled, it requires only to be well washed. The skin is entirely dissolved in cooking and the rose green color is decidedly pleasing. If you use a tiny sprinkle of soda in the cooking you need not add quite as much sugar, but use plenty of sugar and no water. Shake over the fire until the sugar is dissolved, to prevent burning. Try them and we are sure you will agree that the following recipes are delicious:

Rhubarb Baked Cut up the stalks into a pie dish, sprinkle sugar over, cover closely, set in the oven and bake 15 or 20 minutes—just enough to retain its fresh green color, like green apples.

Rhubarb Pie Prepare the rhubarb as for sauce, cover with boiling water, and let stand 10 minutes. Line the pie plate with good crust, sprinkle well with flour, turn in the rhubarb after it has been well drained, add four tablespoons of sugar and a very little sprinkle of soda and a tablespoon of flour all mixed together. Sprinkle a little flour all around near the edge of the crust. Moisten the edge of the crust, put on the top crust, press down, trim and bake.

Rhubarb Custard Pie Line a pie plate with good pastry, sprinkle with flour and put in a layer of rhubarb well sweetened. Prepare a custard as for custard pie, reserving the white of one egg for the top. Fill up the pie with the custard and bake. Whip the white stiff, whip in one tablespoon of sugar, spread over the pie when baked, and return to the oven until nicely browned.

Preserved Rhubarb This preserve is delicious—almost equal to the celebrated Scotch marmalade. Peel and take away the white rind and seeds from six oranges. Slice the pulp into a sauce pan along with the sugar which should be cut very finely. Do not use any of the white. Add one quart rhubarb, cut finely, and one and one fourth pounds of sugar. Boil down until you would any fruit preserve.

Rhubarb Jam Cut 3 pounds of rhubarb into one inch pieces. Add 1 can pineapple juice in pieces, cover with 3 pounds of sugar and let stand over night. In the morning cook slowly until thick. This is fine for pies, cake filling and preserves.

"The cook is leaving us to get married."

"Good. She'll soon know from some body who won't be afraid to tell how pink her cooking really is," Christian Evangelist.

NOVA SCOTIA IS A PROVINCE OF RARE ATTRACTIVENESS

Holds Lure For Tourists and Settlers

(Natural Resources Canada) Nova Scotia is Canada's "Atlantic" province. It lies at the southeasterly extremity of the Dominion, projecting into the ocean and guarding the approach to the gulf of St. Lawrence.

The province of Nova Scotia consists of the peninsula of Nova Scotia proper and the island of Cape Breton. The peninsula is about 275 miles in length and varies from 60 to 100 miles in breadth.

The natural resources of the province are rich and varied. In spite of the extensive outcrops of rock the arable lands are estimated at five million acres.

Forests originally covered almost the entire land surface and are still one of the major resources.

Canada's "Atlantic" Province—The above photograph, taken from a prominence locally known as "The Lookoff", gives a splendid view of the fertile Cornwallis valley, Nova Scotia.

Inland waterways and rural landscapes of more than ordinary merit are also beyond the scope of the enumerations. One can recall at random such famous attractions as the charming Wentworth valley; picturesque Five Islands; the College Farm at Truro; the rolling hills and winding streams of Pictou and Antigonish and Guysboro counties; the murmuring waters of St. Mary's river; the bays of the Shubenacadie; the peerless Dartmouth lakes; the intricate basket river system; or the maze of numberless forest-girt lakes radiating from the remote village of Caledonia.

Farming has attained its highest form of development in the famous Annapolis-Cornwallis valley where fruit growing has made wonderful strides in recent years. The apple crop alone now amounts to nearly two million barrels annually.

The pursuit of these industries has favoured the settlement of areas contiguous to the shore. Owing to its rough nature and scanty resources, much of the interior is still a wilderness.

Considered only from the aspect of its physical attractions Nova Scotia ranks with the most famous countries of the world. What it lacks in grandeur of massive mountain or lure of lonely desert is more than compensated for by a charming diversity of unrivaled features of lesser magnitude but greater beauty.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Here are some interesting comparisons from Printer's Ink as between the present day and twenty years ago, which, although they refer specifically to the United States, are true proportionally for Canada.

Women are spending ten times as much for hosiery as they did twenty years ago. There are at least three times as many students in colleges and universities.

There are about ten times as many automobiles running around.

There are about ten times as many golf clubs.

The public paid over fifty times as much money to see the Dempsey-Carpentier fight as they paid to see Jeffries fight Fitzsimmons back in 1902.

While the average savings account is only slightly greater, the number of depositors has doubled. The amount of life insurance in force appears to be about five times as great as it was twenty years ago.

A new Silver Trophy donated by the English Football Association to the Dominion of Canada Football Association for annual competition among Canadian clubs has arrived in Canada and will be on exhibition at Canadian Pacific stations at Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and right across the West.

An expedition which will try to climb Mount Logan (19,359 feet) in the Yukon, the loftiest peak in Canada, is to leave Vancouver in April. It will be headed by A. H. McCarthy and Col. W. E. Foster.

Agricultural products in the Province of Manitoba during the year 1924 reached a total estimated value of $164,312,867, according to figures issued by the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

The shield which was taken from the gates of Old Quebec when the city was captured by General Wolfe, and now in the possession of the town of Hastings, will be returned to the Ancient Capital.

Miss Ethel Loginska, temperamental pianist, gave another proof of her quality when she lectured a socially prominent audience for coughing in the middle of a concert at Englewood, N.J.

Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies have developed the idea of using snow shoes for horses over the heavy snow tracks of that region.

Devising a new kind of motion picture camera with a built-in motor that is almost noiseless in operation, Burton S. Moore, proprietor of the Nictan Camps in New Brunswick, has succeeded in taking about 4,000 feet of film of wild life in action which will be shown in due course on Canadian and United States screens.

Over half of last year's western grain crop was handled by the Canadian Pacific Railway according to data just issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.
