Indian Bible

Reverend Joseph M. Cataldo S. J., of Pendleton, Ore., has translated the New Testament into the Nez Perce language. This work was in preparation for five years. The publication of the book marks the golden anniversary of his labors in the wilds of Eastern Oregon and Idaho, among the Indians. Father Cataldo speaks several of the aboriginal languages of the Western and Alaskan Indians, and is master of the Nez Perce tongue.

Taking into consideration the fact that there are over 300,000 inflections of the active verb, besides fifty-one tenses, and not counting subdivisions or multiplied forms used as mediums of expression, it is easy to appreciate the difficulty of the tongue and to realize the gigantic task undertaken and accomplished by Father Cataldo in mastering it.

Incidentally, the fact that a Catholic priest takes so much labor to give the Nez Perce Indians the New Testament in their own tongue should furnish food for thought to those of our non-Catholic brethren who imagine that the main purpose of the Catholic clergy is to keep the Bible away from the people.

Save Us, For We Perish

The cry of "Save us, for we perish," is a very real one in the Philippines. A Sacred Heart missionary, Father Nijsters, of Surigao, says that up to now they have been preserved from starvation, and are trusting in Divine Providence for the future, but conditions could hardly be worse. The credit which the Sacred Heart community had with some Manila merchants has been exhausted, and the Belgian Fathers, themselves poor enough, as may be imagined, have lent a helping hand to their still more destitute brothers. All the priests have been warned by their superiors to cut down expenses to the last point, but there are some things which even a missionary cannot do without. On account of recent droughts the natives are suffering from poor harvests and their parish offerings are smaller than ever. All of which shows that the Philippines form no exception to the general rule of hard times.

Dante Society

In commemoration of the six hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the birth of Dante, which came last month, a Dante society has been organized under the auspices of the Catholic University of America at Washington. The general object of the society is to promote the study of the Italian language and literature, and in particular, the works of Dante, and it will seek to attain this object by special lectures on the life and writings of Dante, by the publication of books and papers dealing with the same topics, by the foundation of reading circles, to be visited by lecturers authorized by the establishment of a Dante library at the University and by such other means as may be deemed appropriate.

Can God Reveal Mysteries?

My neighbor cannot see my thoughts, but I can by words, by signs or by writing, make them known to him. He sees or hears the signs I give him. He understands from them what my thoughts are, but he does not see or feel or hear the thoughts themselves. They are not visible, they cannot be felt, they cannot be seen. Yet wonderful! I can reach his mind and put it in communication with mine. Now, suppose I am a learned chemist, and my neighbor knows nothing at all about chemistry. I tell him about a great experiment I have just made. He will never grasp fully the nature of the experiment no matter how much I try to explain the matter to him. Yet he knows something about it after I have talked to him. Without me he would never have known even that little. He lacks the training, the necessary preliminary knowledge and the means for carrying on the tests I have made. To him, chemistry is an unexplored land. My experiment is a natural mystery to him; it is something he could never discover for himself, and which, in spite of my telling him about it, he cannot fully understand. And we are all of us surrounded all our lives by such natural mysteries, truths we can not enter into completely, yet which other men can reveal to us in some fashion.

God is a pure spirit infinitely wise and powerful. He created man and knows perfectly every part of his makeup. He gave man an intellect so that he might be able to understand at least a little of whatever can be known. Hence God, if He wills, can tell man something about His own great thoughts, something about His infinite beauty and perfections, even though man's mind is unable to comprehend these things. To cease being man and become God that can never be. So man can never fathom the mysteries that God understands so well. And since God is a pure spirit and man is a spirit "housed in a hut of clay" through the windows of which he must get his ideas and knowledge, man cannot see God, cannot read His thoughts, cannot even guess at those thoughts, or discover fully just what sort of a Being God is. So there are supernatural truths and facts that man could never suspect to exist, much less understand, if God did not reveal them. These are mysteries in the strict sense of the word.

Now, it seems to be a contradiction to say that God can reveal supernatural mysteries. If they are mysteries, they cannot be understood by men; and if they cannot be understood by men, how can they be revealed to men? Cardinal Newman has an excellent illustration, which may help to clear up this difficulty.

Here is a man blind from birth. Try to describe grass to him. How will you begin? Show it—but he is blind! Tell him it is green. He does not know what you mean. Green—What is color to him? He never saw the blue of the heavens, nor the red sun-set, nor the yellow corn—only the darkness of unending night is his.

Put some seed in the man's hand. Tell him—he can hear—how the warmth of the sun—he can feel—and the moist earth join hands to open the tiny seed and let the grass blades come forth from their hard little prisons. Bid him place his hand upon the ground and feel how soft the grass makes it. Tell him it carpets the wide meadows and the steep hills that it waves and bends as the wind sweeps over it. Tell him that the air is heavy with the scent of fields newly mown. Put blades of grass in his hand that he may discover their shape. Bid him place a blade on his tongue and note how jagged its edges are. Ah, how much he now knows! But the beauty of green hills is never to be a joy to him. Still he knows how delightful the hills and meadows must be with their wide stretches of soft, yielding, sweet-scented grasses.

Man can feel, see hear and understand the things in this world of sense, and through these signs, through the language of human tongues, he can catch feebly at God and His beauty and truth and terrible power. And so God says—"Can a woman forget her infant so as not to have pity on the son of her womb? And if she shall forget, yet will I not forget thee" (Isaiah 49: 15). "God so loved the world as to give His Only Begotten Son." (John 3: 16). "If I shall what my sword as the lightning, and my hand take hold on judgment; I will render the vengeance to my enemies, and repay them that hate Me. I will make my arrows drunk with blood, and my sword shall devour flesh." (Deut. 32: 41). "Who hath numbered the sand of the sea, and the drops of rain, and the days of the world? Who hath measured the height of heaven, and the breadth of the earth, and the depth of the abyss? Who hath searched out the wisdom of God that goeth before all things?" (Ecclesiasticus 1: 2). "I and the Father are one." (John 10: 30). "The heavens were opened to Him, and He saw the Spirit of God descending as a dove, and coming upon Him. And behold a Voice from heaven, saying: This is My Beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased." (Matthew 3: 16).

If you will not believe that God can instruct us in knowledge too deep for our minds to grasp, explain this:

How does baby come to know that mother is his mother? That she loves him? He cannot speak; he cannot understand her words. But he understands her eyes. The varying inflections of her voice are music to him, revealing mysteries untold. Her frown is as the storm cloud over the meadow lands and the placid river. And if baby were always to remain as he is—laughing and playfully catching at mother's smiling face, clutching at her soft hair and those eyes that speak—speak the wonderful language of her love—then, would not he be like us, babes forever in the tender arms of God who is smiling through all the beauties of earth about us, frowning in anger through the storms and the lashing sea, speaking of mysteries through the living voice of His human messengers and in the still, soundless voice within our souls?

Man—we (this matter concerns us too greatly not to apply it to ourselves), we are indeed superior to dumb beasts. Our souls are faint images of God. Yet we are infinitely below Him. We are little children with heads too small to hold even the wisdom of this earth, and still not too small to catch at the thoughts of God when He stoops to whisper them to us in our own small language. We are blind creatures struggling up toward the light and beauty of the inaccessible and all-loving Father. Surely God who knows us so well, since He molded our frames and put our restless spirit in them, can teach us some of His wonderful knowledge, something of mysteries that we cannot fully comprehend.

The Mission Bells

To us of today, some of the romance of the golden age of California clusters around the Mission bells and lingers in the oft-times half-dispated bell-towers of the old Mission establishment. We have all seen or heard of the beautifully plain and solid San Gabriel campanile, a typical Franciscan structure, with its sweet-toned, venerable bells. It was the memory of the music of the Angelus bell that caused Bret Harte to write those well-known lines:

"O solemn bells! whose consecrated Masses Recall the faith of old; O tinkling bells! that lulled with twilight music, The spiritual fold."

Every resident of this Golden State and every traveler through this land of brightest dreams is familiar with the way-side bells hung from iron posts that mark the ancient trail, "El Camino Real," the royal road, that stretched from San Diego's Harbor of the Sun to Sonoma's valley of the Seven Moons, a distance of seven hundred miles says a writer in the Los Angeles Tidings. The Mission bells have always been a perennial source of inspiration both to bard and painter; and their chiming voices have been the subject of song and story for many a year. At the founding of the Mission, the good Padres used to raise the Cross, hang the bell usually from a limb of an oak-tree, build an altar, and unfurl the royal standard. Perhaps the most striking picture of California is that showing the Padres and their dark neophytes swinging the Mission bell; or that of Father Serra listening to the music of the Angelus; or, perhaps, later in the night, catching the melancholy tones as they summoned the faithful to pray for the dead at the Toque de Animas, or "De Profundis."

Was Constantly Troubled With Boils.

HAD NINE ON HIS ARMS AT ONCE.

Boils are caused by bad blood, and unless the blood is made pure you cannot expect to get rid of them. Ointments and salves will do you no good. You must get at the seat of the trouble by using a good internal blood purifying medicine such as that grand old remedy Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mr. Samuel Becker, Tatamagoose, N.S., writes: "Last summer I was constantly troubled with boils. I had nine on my arms at once. I thought it was caused from bad blood so I got two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters, and before the first bottle was done I began to feel a great deal better, and before the second one was finished I did not have a boil, nor have I had one since. I cannot recommend B.B.B. too highly. Burdock Blood Bitters is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont."

Confirmation Itinerary.

His Lordship, Bishop O'Leary returned to Charlottetown Friday afternoon having completed his Confirmation Itinerary and Pastoral Visitation for this year. During the Itinerary his Lordship held Confirmation in all the parishes and missions east of Charlottetown, twenty in number, commencing at Tracadie on Sunday July 4th, and concluding at Iona on Friday 23rd, as already stated. Including Charlottetown, he confirmed 1,439 persons. For the most part the weather was fine and the country looked very beautiful. In every parish, pastor and people extended a most cordial welcome to his Lordship. The people turned out in immense numbers, practically whole congregations in some places, and escorted his Lordship to the church, and from one parish to another. In every church visited his Lordship was presented with an address of welcome, and in some churches with more than one. It was a grand demonstration of Catholic faith and piety and of love and respect for our Chief Pastor. All this was most gratifying to the heart of his Lordship. He was accompanied in the Itinerary by Rev. Dr. Hughes.

America's Latest Note.

The text of President Wilson's latest note, in reply to Germany's insolent, evasive and insulting declaration regarding submarine warfare, presented in Berlin on Friday was made public at Washington the same night. This note informs the Imperial German Government that any repetition by the commanders of German naval vessels of acts in contravention of American rights, will be regarded by the United States as "deliberately unfriendly." Germany is told that the United States will continue to contend for the freedom of the seas, "from whatever quarter violated, without compromise and at any cost."

In official and diplomatic quarters the President's communication is regarded as the strongest and most emphatic pronouncement that has come from the Washington Government since the beginning of its correspondence with the belligerents of Europe. Assuming that Germany has already admitted the illegality of her practices by attempting to justify them as against Great Britain, the United States in this note expresses the belief that Germany will no longer "refrain from disavowing the wanton act of its naval commander in sinking the Lusitania, or from offering reparation for the American lives lost, so far as reparation can be made for a needless destruction of human life by an illegal act." "Illegal and inhuman acts," says the note, "however justifiable they may be thought against an enemy who is believed to have acted in contravention of law and humanity, are manifestly indefensible when they deprive neutrals of their acknowledged rights, particularly when they violate the right of life itself."

The President sweeps away all the extraneous and irrelevant matters with which Germany has sought to confuse the discussion and gets straight to the point at issue between the two Governments, and warns the German Government of responsibility for war or peace with the United States. This he does in the following significant words which he concludes the note: "Friendship itself prompts it to say to the Imperial German Government that repetition by the commanders of German naval vessels of acts in contravention of those rights must be regarded by the Government of the United States, when they affect American citizens, as deliberately unfriendly."

Canadian Trade.

The Canadian trade statistics issued from the departments in Ottawa indicate that the country is rapidly recovering from the disruption caused by the war and the consequent commercial depression. For the month of May the total trade of the Dominion was $30,023,321, as compared with $78,938,999 in May of the last year. For the first two months of this fiscal year, 1915-16, the total trade was $145,244,352, while for the same period last year it was only $135,868,244. The period last year was in the antebellum months, so that it is evident conditions are becoming normal. What is particularly gratifying is that the balance of trade is in our favor. For May the imports were $34,300,808, and exports $42,080,486 and for May and April of this year the imports were $62,782,448 and exports $70,772,375. Our exports of manufactures shows a great increase; in May 1915, the amount was $16,121,159, as against $5,997,277 in May last year. The period of great exportation of agricultural products is yet to come and the future for a great trade balance in our favor is excellent.

Fully five thousand of all classes were present at the meeting held in Massey Hall Toronto a few night ago, to stimulate recruiting for overseas service. Sir John Hendrie, Lieutenant-Governor, presided. The principal address was by Sir George Foster, acting Premier of Canada, who stirred his audience to great enthusiasm. Hon. W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, announced that the Ontario Government had set aside $500,000 to provide 500 machine guns for the Canadians at the front, no matter what province they came from and for recruiting purposes.

Sir Robert Borden, R. B. Bennett, M. P., and Sir Max Aitken accompanied by a staff officer of the War Office and a naval attaché, left London the other day for France and were met at Boulogne by Field Marshal Sir John French. Before leaving London Sir Robert conferred with Sir Edward Grey regarding Hon. Dr. Beland, M. P., ex-Postmaster-General of Canada, who is held as a prisoner of war in Germany he having been in Belgium when the war started. The utmost efforts will be made to secure his release.

The Charlottetown Guardian has issued an illustrated supplement of some 70 pages, handsomely gotten up and bound in pamphlet form. It contains a vast amount of information about the men, the products and the resources of Prince Edward Island. "The Garden of the Gulf," and the numerous engravings of our men and institutions are excellent. We notice that in the names of a few of those whose pictures appear the initial letters are not the same as we have been accustomed to. Further reference will be made to this very interesting publication in a future issue.

Progress of the War.

London, July 21—A series of great battles, the result of which will seal the fate of Warsaw, is being fought to the north, west and south of that city. Having successfully retired to positions on the rivers and being well flanked by fortresses, the Russians have turned and are fighting desperately to stem the Austro-German on slaught. To the north, on the River Narwe they delivered yesterday three fierce counter-attacks from the fortresses of Rozan, Pultusk and Novo Georgievsk. The Germans, who had taken one out work of Rozan, repulsed these counter-attacks, according to the official report received from Berlin tonight but apparently have been unable to make any further progress southward. Immediately to the west of Warsaw, on what is known as the Blonie-Grojec line, the Russians have suffered a reverse and are retreating toward the Vistula. Further, south, the army of Gen. Von Woyrich is making progress toward the same river, which has been reached at one point.

July 23—The war office this afternoon gave out the following: The night was considerably disturbed at several points along the front. In Artois, in the neighborhood of Souchez, there was violent cannonading and grenade fighting. Between the Oise and the Aisne, in the region of Quenneviers, and on the plateau of Mouvron, on the right bank of the Aisne near Soupir, and on the Champagne front several artillery actions also were reported. In the Argonne there was rifle and gun firing in the region of Bagatelle, where one of our companies succeeded yesterday in seizing part of an enemy trench, thus strengthening the front to our advantage. Pont-a-Mousson was intermittently bombarded during the night. In the region of Arracourt a strong hostile reconnoitering force supported by artillery, was turned back by our infantry and artillery. In the Vosges an attempted German attack against our positions southwest of the Fays was easily repulsed. The positions we had won to the east of Metzlar on the crest of the Lingé and Barrenkopf, were subjected to a very violent bombardment. The enemy momentarily succeeded in penetrating part of our lines but was driven out by an energetic counter-attack on our part.

Paris, July 25—French troops last night stormed several powerful German defensive works between La Fontelle heights and the village of Tannois, in the Ban-De-Sapt region of the Vosges mountains, according to an official communication issued this afternoon by the French war department. The southern part of Tannois, the statement adds, was occupied by the French and 700 un wounded Germans were taken prisoners. On the remainder of the front only artillery due's took place.

London, July 24—There has been further fighting in Southern Arabia, where British and Turkish forces have skirmishing for some time, according to a British official statement issued today, claiming a success. The statement, follows: Sheikh Othman, which in the withdrawal of our troops to Aden had been temporarily abandoned, was re-occupied on Wednesday. The Turks were easily expelled and were pursued for a distance of five miles. Sheikh Othman is now securely held and the civil population is fast returning. The Turk are still near Lahel, but are said to be suffering from sickness. Our total casualties in the affair of Wednesday amounted to about 25 of all ranks.

Paris, July 25, (10.25 p. m.)—The following official communication was issued by the war office tonight: In Artois and between the Oise and the Aisne there have been continual artillery actions. On the north bank of the Aisne in the region of Troyon, as well as in Champagne, on the Perthes-Beausejour front, the mining operations have continued to our advantage. In Southern Woevre the cannonading has been intermittent. In the Vosges our troops, notwithstanding the bombardment, have organized the positions conquered yesterday at Ban-De-Sapt. The number of German prisoners has increased to eleven officers and 824 men, of whom only seventy were wounded. A number of bodies were found in the trenches. On our side only two battalions of one regiment of the regular infantry were engaged. Six machine guns have already been recovered from the conquered trenches.

Paris, July 21—The celebration of the eighty fifth anniversary of the independence of Belgium today was in sharp contrast to that of previous years. There were Te Deums in Bordeaux, Cherbourg, Havre and other cities where there are considerable Belgian colonies. At Havre flags were displayed on all houses. The Belgian cabinet attended the service at Havre. During the service the Belgian national anthem was sung by the congregation. At Bordeaux, Cardinal Andrieu officiated. The chaplain in his sermon said "the songs you have just heard are not yet those of triumph, but songs of mourning and confidence."

Paris, July 27—The French War Office this afternoon gave out a statement as follows: The bombardment yesterday of Furness and East Dunkirk was followed by a retaliatory fire from our guns on the German barracks at Westende and at Middlekirke. In the Vosges we succeeded yesterday evening in extending and consolidating our positions on the crest of Lingé-kopf, occupying a height located between the river Lingé and the stone quarries. On three different occasions the enemy delivered counter-attacks, but without success.

There is another battle in progress along the borders of Bessarabia but how this is going the official communications do not say. The French have made another bid for the Valley of the Fechs, in the Vosges. They have delivered several attacks which have been partially successful and have captured the heights dominating the valley, from the east. About the same time French armoured troops on Colmar, beyond this, and a German attack in the Argonne, which the Germans claim met with success, and another German attack in the Forest of Apremont, which the French assert was repulsed, only artillery engagements have occurred along the western front. The Italian offensive on the Isonzo continues and Rome reports further progress, particularly on the Carpo Plateau.

Paris, via London, July 21, p. m.—The following official statement was issued by the War Office tonight. In Artois the cannonade continues. A struggle is going on with aerial torpedoes and grenades around Souchez. There have been no infantry attacks, however. On the eastern edge of the Argonne the enemy succeeded in gaining a footing in a trench forming the forward salient in our lines. Between the Meuse and the Moselle there has been a violent bombardment at Tete-A-Vache, in the forest of Apremont, and Le Pretre forest. About twenty shells were thrown on Saint-Die.

Paris, July 22—The following communication was issued today by the French War Department: Relative calm prevailed generally along the front. There were some artillery actions in Artois in the Argonne, between the Meuse and the Moselle, in the neighborhood of Les Esparges and in the Forest of Apremont. During the night of the 20th and 21st there was extremely fierce fighting on the Heights of little Reich-Ackerkopf, to the westward of Muenster (in Alsace, ten miles west southwest of Colmar). An attack by us was followed by nine German counter-attacks despite their heavy losses. Two battalions of Chasseurs holding our positions held the enemy's troops and inflicted heavy losses upon them. We captured and held a trench in the neighborhood of 150 metres in length and maintained all our previous positions. To the north of Muenster our forces organized the positions they had conquered on the crest of La Lingue. In this fighting we took 107 prisoners. Our aviators dropped eight bombs of 90 and four of 150 millimetres on the station of Autry, to the northwest of Binawille (in the Argonne). In the dardanelles quiet has prevailed since our success of July 12 and 13.

Germans Hate Canadians

London, July 21—(Gazette Cable)—Another Royal visit was paid to the Duchess of Connaught Hospital at Clivedon today, the caller being Queen Mother Alexandra. Her majesty arrived late in the afternoon, with her ladies-in-waiting, and spent an hour in going over the wards and grounds, speaking with and shaking hands with several patients. She noted with interest the decoration of the Royal Cross won by the matron, Miss Campbell, of Montreal, and complimented Col. Correll and the Canadian Red Cross on the layout of the buildings, and the internal arrangements. Of nearly 200 wounded who reached the hospital from France only one was a Canadian he being R. F. Thomas, of the Second Field Ambulance, Toronto. At Givenchy, early in June, he was going to the assistance of a wounded officer when an exploded shell caught him in the leg. He said that the dressing station was shelled incessantly by the enemy. Thomas corroborated the statements made by others, that the Germans always pay special attention to the Canadians. When the Canadians reached a village near Festubert they were informed that there had been no attack on it for six months, but next day a violent bombardment began. Lady Drummond expects to open a home for soldiers in the West End of London soon.

Sorrowful Anniversary.

Paris, July 21—The celebration of the eighty fifth anniversary of the independence of Belgium today was in sharp contrast to that of previous years. There were Te Deums in Bordeaux, Cherbourg, Havre and other cities where there are considerable Belgian colonies. At Havre flags were displayed on all houses. The Belgian cabinet attended the service at Havre. During the service the Belgian national anthem was sung by the congregation. At Bordeaux, Cardinal Andrieu officiated. The chaplain in his sermon said "the songs you have just heard are not yet those of triumph, but songs of mourning and confidence."

More Italians.

Montreal, July 21.—In answer to the first call to arms issued ten days ago to Italians in Canada, two hundred and fifty men left the city this morning for New York, en route to take part in the war, waving flags and apparently delighted with the prospect of striking a blow for their country. Chevalier G. Chilesotti, consul for Italy in Montreal, said today that from this city alone, whose Italian colony numbers fifteen thousand, approximately one thousand men would be called upon at the present time, while four thousand would be about the number from the whole Dominion required to return to their country immediately. The men will leave in parties of a hundred and fifty, two hundred or two hundred and fifty, according as trans-Atlantic passenger accommodation is available. There are plenty of soldiers in Italy now," said the consul, and although the military age is only twenty and forty years, only the younger men are being called upon from Canada now—those between twenty and thirty-five. Most of the men that went today are under thirty, but some were older, and the party included men nearly forty years old, who were anxious to go."

New Taxes.

London, July 22—Under the present exceptional circumstances the question of future taxation on imports needs serious consideration and the government and the Chancellor of the Exchequer, will give the matter early attention," said Premier Asquith today to a deputation of bankers and merchants which interviewed him for the purpose of urging greater national economy and increased taxation on imported goods, as well as a tax on smaller incomes. The Premier fully concurred in the suggested wider application of the income tax and in the above tentative form endorsed the idea of broadening the basis of direct taxation. Premier Asquith said he was in full agreement with the deputation that the country had not gone far enough in providing additional resource from taxation for carrying on the war. He for a long time had been of the opinion that the present income tax was very arbitrary in its incidence and that it ought to begin on a lower scale. As to indirect taxation, it was obvious that if credit was to be maintained and the pecuniary resources needed for the effective conduct of the war procured, consumption of imports must be diminished and export trade maintained on an increased scale, he said. The question would be dealt with as a whole and not piecemeal in the budget, the Premier added. In parliamentary circles it is believed that the government has arranged for the issue of an order-in-council postponing the coming into force of Welsh Disestablishment until the war is over. The Welsh members, it is understood, are not opposing proposal.

MOGUL OIL ENGINES

A Mogul Engine will give you what you need—Reliable Power.
 Farm work is hard on machinery; the dust and dirt gets into it and cuts out the bearings; the exposure to rain and often snow rusts the parts; the farmer cannot afford to watch his machinery constantly, therefore, it often runs out of oil, and that's why the Mogul line of engines was designed. Every adverse condition that an engine is liable to meet on the farm has been taken care of in the Mogul line of engines. The crank case is completely re-coated to keep out dust and dirt; the governor is protected by a case, and the principal parts are of brass or enamel to prevent rust, and automatic force feed oiler and mechanically operated valves on all sizes above 4 h. p. The force feed oiler absolutely prevents the main bearings running dry as long as there is oil in the reservoir. Every Mogul Engine from 1 to 50 h. p. is equipped with a magneto and will develop 20% more than its rated horse power before it leaves the factory. If you look at all the good features of other engines and combine them in one engine, you still would not have the equal of a Mogul Engine.

Appalling Disaster

Chicago, July 24—Hundreds of persons were drowned by the capsizing of the Steel steamer Fastland, at her dock in the Chicago River, shortly before eight o'clock yesterday morning. When the boat started to tip, the officers shouted warnings but it was too late. The heavily loaded steamer continued to roll until the hawsers which held it to the dock, snapped. A moment later amid the screams of passengers, the steamer turned over on its side, and floated out into the middle of the river. Apparently scores of women and children in the cabin, were drowned without being given a chance to escape. Hundreds of other passengers were able to climb up the side of the boat which is above water, and were later taken off by rescuers. Chicago July 25—The death ship tonight had given up 820 bodies. The estimated total of those who went down to death in the Chicago river yesterday morning when the steel steamer bearing 2,408 excursionists rolled over at her dock, remained at approximately one thousand. Of the total of 2,408 persons on board at the time of the catastrophe, 1,072, including the crew of 72, have reported themselves as safe. Of the 588 thus remaining unaccounted for, it is believed 400 are alive and that 188 bodies still are in the river.

Three Lost Their Lives.

Halifax, N. S. July 25—Three young men of Halifax were drowned, and one narrowly escaped death, by the upsetting of a rowboat in the harbor about midnight. The men who lost their lives were James Gerald Hann, electrician, 25 years of age; Clifford Long, about the same age, driver, and Frank Walsh, twenty years of age. The rescued man was Thomas R. James. The three drowned men were unmarred. These four men with several others were camping at Tuft's Cove on the eastern shore of the harbor. They had come to the city for the afternoon and evening, and were returning to camp by rowing across the harbor from Richmond in a small row-boat. Just what was the immediate cause of the accident it was difficult to learn tonight, as Thomas James the only one rescued, was in a state of nervous collapse and could give no coherent story. It was understood however that the men were shifting their seats in the boat and throwing too much weight on one side capsized the craft. Their cries attracted the attention of Frank Hann, the brother of one of the occupants of the boat, who was at the camp on the Tuft's Cove side, and a younger brother of Frank Walsh, who was also at the camp. They immediately put out for the scene of the accident, in about the middle of the harbor. When they reached the spot, Hann, Long and Walsh had disappeared and James was clinging to the upturned boat when rescued, and in a very exhausted condition.

Deus Meus Et Omnia.

While Thou, O my God, art my help and defender. No cares can overwhelm me, no terrors appall. The wiles and the snares of the world will but render More lively my hope in "My God and my all."

Beneath the Cross.

How sad, how pitiful, Jerusalem, Thy fatal blindness and ungenerous pride! They dug His hands and feet they pierced His side. Thou standing up in hateful league with them.

The Caretaker.

By Nora Ryeman, in Benziger's Magazine. "As it was, his punishment was sufficiently heavy, being dismissed with a stain on his character and loss of pension. He joined the army of broken men and shunned companionship, was ill, too, for a season."

Get the Most Out of Your Food

You don't and can't if your stomach is weak. A weak stomach does not digest all that is ordinarily taken into it. It gets tired easily, and what it fails to digest is wasted.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Even in the public street he has been jeered at. He was coming here ill, stricken, poor, when he met two lads who had known him in other days.

"I was near his pillow, Clare and said in his ear: 'We believed in you, my friend.' 'Aya, aya, I know it,' he whispered: 'God bless you both.'"

"I am God's Caretaker now, Madam," he said to me once, "and that is better than being man's. He will know how I fulfill my trust."

"Our old violinist rests in the Catholic cemetery attached to St. Joseph's Church, and I make it my pleasure and my business to place the flowers he loved on his narrow bed."

"I was chatting to them when all at once I heard sweet music. Some one was playing a violin, playing it well, too."

"A few years ago flying machines were hardly thought of, nor was Scott's Emulsion in summer. Now Scott's Emulsion is as much a summer luxury as a winter remedy."

HAD CHOLERA INFANTUM.

Doctors cannot watch their children too closely for signs of cholera infantum. This disease carries off thousands of infants during the hot summer months.

Mrs. Geo. W. Garland, Prosser, Brook N.B., writes: "Last summer my boy Joe, then a year old, was taken sick with cholera infantum. He was so bad the waste matter from the bowels looked as if it had come from a broken boiler."

"When you ask for 'Dr. Fowler's' be sure you get what you ask for as there are many rank imitations on the market. The genuine is manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. Price, 35 cents."

This is to certify that fourteen years ago I got the cords of my left wrist severed, and was for about nine months that I had no use of my hand, and tried other Liniments, also doctors, and was receiving no benefit.

A schoolboy had been late both morning and afternoon for three days in succession. When asked the reason, he replied that he had taken time to eat all he wanted for breakfast and dinner.

"You are more successful getting food than getting knowledge, I fancy," said the teacher. "Yes," replied the boy, "cos I feeds," myself, and you teaches me."

"Is Jones married?" asked the bachelor. "I don't think so," replied the benedict. The other day I heard him brag that he had never made a mistake in his life."

W. H. O. Wilkinson, Stratford says: "It affords me much pleasure to say that I experienced great relief from Muscular Rheumatism by using two boxes of Milburn's Rheumatic Pills. Price box a 50c."

Mary Ovington, Jasper Ont writes: "My mother had a badly sprained arm. Nothing we used did her any good. Then father got Hagyard's Yellow Oil and it cured mother's arm in a few days. Price 25 cents."

What punishes a lie almost immediately is the necessity of defending it by other lies.—Emile Augier.
