CHAPTER III.

"To-night? Ah, yes, you are thinking about Lady Verabou's. Are you going?"

Percy hesitated a moment, then nodded.

"Yes," he replied; "Charlie and I will put in an appearance to remind you the last thing of your morning engagement."

"I shall not forget it," she said. Then she rose. "Have you admired my flowers?"

And she looked at the vase on the table.

Percy Chester stared straight at them as if he had never seen them before.

"Y-es," he said, "very pretty."

"And rare," she said. "They were sent to me by some unknown friend, who will never get any thanks for them, even if I should discover him."

"That is the proper way to receive anonymous gifts," he said, with a smile; "and, now, where is that boy?"

"In the conservatory with mamma," and she glided toward the open door.

He followed her, his eyes taking in the grace of her every movement, the perfect fit of the morning robe, and the wealth of the hair bound in a tight, shining knot at the back of her small, shapely head.

"No, they are not here," she said; "mamma has taken him to see the new puppies. Do they not smell exquisite?" and she waved her lace handkerchief toward a vase of flowers.

"I am afraid flowers are lost up on men; women alone are capable of appreciating them; this kind of earth's jewels, as well as the various other kinds. Now see," she ran on, in softly modulated music; "isn't that better than the crown ruby of a sultan?" and plucking a slip of dark crimson geranium, she held it up for a moment, then stuck it in the bosom of her dress. "Could anything be more beautiful?"

Percy Chester looked at the flower, then up at the face, and thought he could have answered the question emphatically.

"I am fond of flowers—most men are; but I can't grow geraniums and tiger lilies on the window sill, and

Girl a Nervous Wreck at Eleven Years of Age

Was Tired Out, Pale and Sallow—Would Tremble Till the Bed would Shake—Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Cured Her.

In the schools of to-day there is found an alarming proportion of weak, nervous children who have little chance of developing into healthy, useful men and women. Nature requires the assistance of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to help them over a trying period and set them on their feet.

There would be fewer wearing glasses if the nerves were invigorated less irritation in the school and home, more robust health and a greater pleasure in the school tasks.

This letter bears a cheering message to parents whose children are weak, puny and nervous. It shows you what may be expected from the use of this great restorative.

Mrs. Stephen Hartman, Italy Cross, Lunenburg Co., N.S., writes: "My little sister at eleven years of age became nervous, irritable and seemed all tired out. She had no appetite, was lifeless and drowsy, and that is all the garden I possess. I have to depend for my buttonholes on Covent Garden."

"You shall not this morning," she said, with a sudden girlish laugh, and choosing a bright spray, she bound it round with a leaf and held it out to him. "There, you could not have a better bloom from Covent Garden."

"No," he assented, looking down at her with that same dangerous earnestness. "I would not exchange this for twenty imperial rubles," and he held it in his hand for a moment, looking at her.

"You will not get the chance," she said, with a little move. "Can you not fix it?" she added, with ingenious interest, as he laughed at his buttonhole, after the manner of men. "Oh! mind, you will crush it. May I?" and with the same air of unconscious innocence she put up her tiny white hand and gently imprisoned the flower in its place.

A thrill ran through Percy Chester's frame as he felt the gentle pressure of those white hands, and looked down at the Circe-like face wrapt in a tender earnestness. What a glorious thing would it be to have that face and hands for his own—his very own! It was a dangerous thought, and one that he would have done wise to have cast from him; but as she stepped back for a moment to regard her handiwork, and then raising her eyes met his full of the warm, earnest admiration and longing, blushed with a beautiful tinge of dainty crimson, the desire grew stronger, and Percy Chester knew that he was more than half in love.

"Where can mamma be?" she said, suddenly. "I am afraid your cousin has been persuaded to accept of a puppy! Mamma has been trying to get rid of them to her too complaisant friends. Yes, here they come, and, as I thought," and her low, musical laugh broke out again, bright and fresh as a girl's, as Lady Devigne appeared in the doorway, followed by Charlie Merivale, carrying a woolly lump of the canine species.

"Look here, Perce," said the boy, exuberantly gratified, "Lady Devigne has given me one of her retriever pups. I said you wanted a dog—you do, you know," here a queer smile on Percy's face stopped.

"All right, Charlie, I'll take all due care of it for you."

"I said he would!" exclaimed the boy, in an undertone of grateful triumph to Lillian Devigne. "He never refuses me anything! I believe he'd take care of it for me if it were a young lion. Isn't he a brick?—I beg your pardon," he broke off in confusion; but, quite recovered the next moment by Lillian Devigne's smile, added quietly, "there's nothing too good to be said of dear old Perce!"

"Dear old Perce" was, at this moment, listening to Lady Devigne's account of her last butler's misconduct in the matter of a certain favorite wine, and so did not hear Lillian Devigne's answering remark.

"I think you are quite right in loving him," she said, and the boy, unsophisticated as he was, looked up at her downcast face with a nervous glance.

Then he tucked his lionine under his arm, and stood, hat in hand, to say adieu.

"We shall meet again to-night," said Lillian Devigne, smiling, "and to-morrow," she added, in an undertone, as Percy came across to her, his great stalwart figure seeming to fill the dainty little drawing-room.

"Whither am I drifting?" he asked himself, as he coaxed his cob to take the dog-cart down St. James' street on her four feet, instead of her hind ones only—"Whither am I drifting? I'll be off to Scotland—to Ireland—Jericho. Confound that Italian fellow! Why should he make a woman tremble in her drawing-room? Why—but it's no business of mine, and—will you oblige me, Polly, by going down the road in a more ladylike way? You'll shy us all into one of these windows directly, and run over somebody; I wouldn't mind if it were that Italian fellow! Whoa, my mare!"

TO SAVE EYES

Is the Object of This Free Prescription—Try It if Your Eyes Give You Trouble.

Thousands of people suffer from eye trouble because they do not know what to do. They know some good home remedy for every other minor ailment, but none for their eye troubles. They neglect their eyes, because the trouble is not sufficient to drive them to an eye specialist, who would, anyway, charge them a heavy fee. As a last resort they go to an optician or to the five and ten-cent store, and oftentimes get glasses that they do not need, or which, after being used a few months, do their eyes more injury than good.

Here is a simple prescription that every one should use: 6 grains Non-Opto dissolved in 3/4 glass of water. Use three or four times a day to bathe the eyes. This prescription and the simple Non-Opto system keep the eyes clean, sharpen the vision and quickly overcome inflammation and irritation; weak, watery, over-tired eyes and other similar troubles are greatly benefited and often-times cured by its use. Many reports show that wearers of glasses have discarded them after a few weeks' use. It is good for the eyes, and contains no ingredient which could injure the sensitive eyes of an infant or the aged. Your own druggist can fill this prescription for you. Valmas Drug Co. of Toronto will fill it for you by mail. Try it, and you will know what real eye comfort is.

A City Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Non-Opto is a very valuable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists, and it is one of the best eye preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family."

He nodded.

"Yes," he said.

"I feel like a conspirator," she continued, as he held her hand and seemed reluctant to release it; "quite like a conspirator. I hope mamma—"

Before she could finish the sentence, the footman opened the door and announced:

"Count Hudspliel."

At the name a thrill quite distinct and well defined ran through the hand within Percy Chester's, and, to his unutterable surprise, the half-smiling, serenely sweet face suddenly flinched, as it were, and broke down into an expression of fear and evasion.

It was only for a moment; but ere it had gone and left the face smiling again, but still pale, Percy felt her hand close slightly in his, as if it was a wild idea of his, but it came and dwelt with him—as if she were appealing to him for protection.

There was no time for words, even if words were possible; he turned aside, paused for a moment to shake hands with the tall, thin, dark-faced gentleman at the door, and then he was outside, followed by Charlie.

And so they walked to the Alban, where Percy's dog-cart awaited them. Charlie, engrossed by his puppy, and Percy by his mystery; for it was a mystery why so high-bred and lovely a woman as Lillian Devigne should tremble and wince at the announcement of Count Hudspliel's approach.

Had Lillian Devigne expected her clever ingenuity to the uttermost in devising some scheme whereby she could secure the interest and attention of Percy Chester, she could not have hit upon a better one than chance had given her; for if Percy Chester had one soft, weak spot in his nature, it was his love of and readiness in yielding protection to anybody that pleaded for it at his hands.

If Lillian Devigne was charming and bewitching and dangerous when she stood close to him, and fingered with her white, soft hands about his heart, she was ten times more dangerous at that moment of her tremendous fear and half-unconscious, half-spoken plea for protection.

"Whither am I drifting?" he asked himself, as he coaxed his cob to take the dog-cart down St. James' street on her four feet, instead of her hind ones only—"Whither am I drifting? I'll be off to Scotland—to Ireland—Jericho. Confound that Italian fellow! Why should he make a woman tremble in her drawing-room? Why—but it's no business of mine, and—will you oblige me, Polly, by going down the road in a more ladylike way? The Eastern Trust Company.

A few reasons why an estate can be better administered by the Eastern Trust Company than by a personal executor or administrator:—

1. The Company affords the estate absolute security; it has a paid-up capital of $931,000.00, and a reserve fund of $229,200.00.
2. It has a long experience in the work of administering estates; it is incorporated for this business of acting as a trustee, and, unlike many other trust companies, it does no other.
3. Its existence is perpetual. Your estate, in the event of the death of a personal executor or administrator, must look around for a substitute, and the work of administration is impeded during that time, and the new executor is unfamiliar with the policy of his predecessor, and confusion results. This company's existence is perpetual, and there is a continuity of policy in its administration that the death of its officers does not break.
4. It possesses the confidence of governments, universities and prominent charities and administers their funds.
5. A number of other advantages which will appear in due course.

LIGHT, HEAT, COMFORT!

The proprietor of one of the best known multiple shopping systems is credited with saying, "Give me any old shop, in any old street, and I'll guarantee to make it in twelve months the most widely known and best frequented shop in the district." He was asked to explain. Holding up three fingers he said, "I believe in the trinity of LIGHT, WARMTH, COMFORT. I should dazzle the moths until the candle drew them, I should bring them into a warm, comfortable shop, filled with a soft, pleasing radiance, and the rest is—well, mere child's play."

Mixed metaphors, perhaps, but expressive. Now we can more than imagine the kind of shop this well-known individual would open, for we pass it in almost every town—always a landmark to the street. No one fails to notice it. There is an indefinable air of welcome and invitation as one stands for a moment on the pathway and lets one's gaze travel inside it. The subdued, restful lighting effect, that so charms because of its very unobtrusiveness, the absence of dark corners, the intangible feeling that if one would step inside one would be sure of experiencing a delicious sense of warmth and comfort and cheerfulness—all these are part of its appeal. Truly a shop with an individuality.

We cordially invite all progressive business men to visit our showroom and see our latest Lighting and Heating Appliances, by the adoption of which the ideal outline in the above extract from a London paper may be easily secured. Our new RADIO X Lamp and GASTHEAM Radiators fill all light and heat requirements.

The Governor, St. John's:
Around Verdun the German attacks have developed with increasing intensity. The enemy's losses are great, and his gains comparatively small. On the British front activity has also increased, and there have been several small infantry fights, especially on Vimy Ridge where the Lancashire Fusiliers took two hundred and fifty yards of the enemy's trench. In Italy massed Austrian attacks on the Adige Valley. Near Rovereto the Italian front has been withdrawn at certain points and the Austrians claim to have numerous prisoners.

In Mesopotamia the Russians are advancing toward Mosul. A force of Russian cavalry have joined General Gorring whose forces have pierced the Estian position on the Tigris. A seaplane raid occurred on the Kentish coast on Saturday and three persons were killed. One of the raiders was destroyed. BONAR LAW.

ITALIAN TROOPS FORM THEIR LINES OF DEFENCE.

ROME, May 22.
The Austrian artillery of all sizes and ranges, with the monster 305 millimetre gun predominating, has transferred the battle front between Adige and Brenta rivers into an inferno. Notwithstanding the snow-capped mountain barriers, the Austrian infantry are being launched in waves, which military observers say may break against the formidable resistance of the Italians. The Italian troops have now formed their lines of defence and are holding all passes and peaks, from which the Italian officers say, the forward movement of the Austrians has not only been successfully arrested, but the Austrians have been dislodged from several strategic positions taken in the first rash of the offensive.

The newspaper says that Premier Asquith may propose a temporary government for Ireland by an advisory board, consisting of Irishmen belonging to both parties.

French position on the eastern spur of Hill 304 on the Verdun front, and maintain them against repeated counter-attacks, which is said to have cost the French great losses.

BRITISH FORCE DEFEATED.

Constantinople advices to the Overseas News Agency, reports the defeat of a British force in a battle with rebellious tribesmen in the province of Darfur, in Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. It is stated that the British sent two transports with English and Hindu troops to the port of Sudan, in the Red Sea, whence they advanced and attacked the tribesmen, and that they were defeated by the forces under Innam of Darfur.

TREATMENT OF PRISONERS.

LONDON, May 22.
Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of War Trade, stated in the Commons this afternoon that representatives of the United States Government had been refused permission to visit some of the industrial camps in Germany, where British prisoners were employed. The Minister added that the treatment of prisoners in Germany was somewhat better than formerly, though the situation in some of the working camps and industrial establishments left much to be desired. A suggestion made by Rowland Hunt, Unionist member, in a question that German prisoners in England be subjected to most rigorous treatment short of actual cruelty, would not be lost sight of, Lord Robert Cecil said, but the Government was anxious to avoid reprisals, if possible.

FISHING VESSELS DESTROYED.

LONDON, May 22.
The number of British fishing vessels destroyed since the beginning of the war by Britain's enemies, was given as 570, by Francis Ackland, Financial Secretary of the Treasury, in the Commons to-day. The number of lives lost in those vessels is 500. Fishing has gone on as usual within the necessary restrictions.

ROUMANIA'S NEW MINISTER.

NEW YORK, May 22.
A News Agency despatch to-day from Paris, says that M. Blondel, the French Minister of Roumania, is to be succeeded by Col. De Saint Lualaba, now Adjutant Resident General of Morocco, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs announced to-day. Rumors were in circulation in Washington on Saturday that the French Minister to Roumania had been recalled, and that the Allies were distrustful of Roumania's attitude because of her newly-negotiated commercial treaties with Austria and Germany.

EVIDENCE CONTINUING.

LONDON, May 22.
In the Irish enquiry, Viscount Midleton gave further evidence of the warning he had given Baron Wimborne, then Lord Lieutenant, Lansdowne and others, of the impending danger; he had told the Under Secretary for Ireland that the situation was so bad that Redmond was in danger of his life. Wimborne, in giving evidence, said he declared he imagined the charge that would be brought against the Irish Government would be one of supreme blindness and irresolution in dealing with the propaganda and hostile demonstration of Sinn Feiners ever since the departure of the Irish Division to the front at the end of last summer. He said that the Irish garrison had been inadequate, and in March of this year he urged on General French the desirability of sending a division of troops to Ireland. Early this year the police reports showed that the Sinn Feiners movement was growing, and Lord Wimborne said he then suggested deportation or internment as a remedy. Wimborne caused a stir in the room when he said that the Admiral at Queenstown had received information that Casement had departed from Germany, that his ship was accompanied by two submarines and might be expected off the Irish coast about Easter Sunday, and that this information, he said, had not been communicated to the Irish Government. The commission will hold the next sitting on Thursday in Dublin.

LYNCH'S CHANCE.

LONDON, May 22.
Regarding the Lynch case, the Foreign Office said to-day that General Maxwell, commanding the force in Ireland, had sent a telegram to Asquith which asserted that Lynch participated openly in the rebellion, having been seen frequently in Irish uniform in Liberty Hall during the fighting. Court-martial sentenced him to death, but General Maxwell, after receipt of the request from the American Embassy, reviewed the sentence and commuted it to ten years' imprisonment. It is believed that General Maxwell left a way open to the Premier for further commutation of sentence, but it is not known what action Asquith will take.

TRIALS PROCEEDING.

DUBLIN, May 22.
It was officially announced to-day that in addition to the sentence of death imposed on Lynch, a similar sentence was imposed upon Peter Gallingham, but this sentence has been commuted to five years' penal servitude. A number of other persons were also sentenced to various terms of imprisonment. The court martial opened to-day the private case of John MacNeill, President of the Sinn Fein Volunteers, who was formerly a civil servant in the four courts of Dublin, but is now Professor in the Irish University.

QUEBEC ELECTIONS.

MONTREAL, May 22.
Cousineau, leader of the Conservative Opposition in the Quebec Legislature, was defeated and only three Conservatives, so far as is known, were elected to-day. This, with the three elected by acclamation, gives the Conservatives only six members in the next House.

ST. PIERRE BULLETIN.

PARIS, May 22. (Official.)
On Perry at Bac we successfully exploded two mines on Hill 108. In Champagne an emission of asphyxiating gas by the Germans in the zone comprising Souain to Somme Road and Saint-Hilaire to St. Souplet Road did not give them any result; the wind suddenly changed and the gas was taken back over the enemy's trenches. On the left bank of the Meuse infantry fighting continued during the night. In the Avoucut Woods our grenadiers scored some points and occupied several blockhouses evacuated by the enemy. In the region west of Mort Homme, fighting was particularly fierce, several attempts by the enemy to enlarge its progress were stopped and shattered by curtains of fire and by mitrailleuses fire. A very spirited attack launched by our troops enabled us to recapture part of the ground lost Saturday night on the right bank. The Germans several times launched counter attacks against the captured Haudromont positions taken by us yesterday. All attacks were stopped by our cross-firing, the enemy sustaining heavy losses. At Vaux village frontier a small attack was executed by us, this enabled us to capture a German trench. At Eparges several German mines were exploded without causing much damage. In Verdun region our aeroplanes attacked observation balloons. Six of these balloons were brought down in flames. During an air due one of our pilots brought down a German machine in Eparges region and two other German machines attacked by ours fell, one to the German lines near Lancourt Fosse, the other in our lines at Fontenoy. This morning enemy aeroplanes threw bombs on Dunkirk. During the nights of 20th to 22nd several operations were executed by groups of bombing aeroplanes. Shells were thrown successfully on Metz-Sablons railway station, on munition depots at Blaches and Chaplote on the Bivonnes in Azannes region and on Jimetz village, where an important commanding post was installed. Two of our dirigibles sprinkled with bombs the railway station and railway lines of Breuille and Dun.

McGuire's Bread.

The old iron bake pot our mothers did bake in. The pan which they used when they mixed up the dough. Are the most forgotten, they're long been forsaken. Which many to-day loved in childhood we know.

The bread which they baked—it was sweet, it was pleasant, Healthy and strong sure it made all our sires. That bread it was praised by the rich man and peasant. That same kind of bread is now made at McGuire's.

'Twill drive away care and it cures melancholy. 'Tis sweet to the taste and 'twill strengthen the mind; Just try but one slice and you'll feel rather jolly. And I guess all I say in its make-up you'll find.

There's hundreds go home with their wives from the Nickel. At night time and then they will sit round their fires. With a sweet cup of tea all their palates to tickle. And a nice slice of bread that was baked at McGuire's.

Just try this bread, you'll do nothing more wiser, McGuire's got an expert—a beauty to bake, I'm thinking 'twould soften the heart of the Kaiser. If he eat a slice of McGuire's Dandy-Cake.

So look for a loaf and you will be enjoying. Such bread was baked and was eat by your sires; Thousands to-day in the city are buying. The good solid bread that is baked at McGuire's. May 22nd, 1916. JAMES MURPHY.

Nova Scotia Man Swears By Them.

HE CURED HIS BACKACHE WITH DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Donald A. McArthur Gives His Experience With Dodd's Kidney Pills and Tells Why He Recommends Them to Others.

South West Mabou, Inverness Co., N.S., May 22nd. (Special).—"I suffered for three years with backache and two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me completely."

This straight and simple statement by Mr. Donald A. McArthur, a well known and highly respected resident here is just one more evidence of the great work Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing in this neighbourhood. That Mr. McArthur's trouble was from his kidneys is shown by his other symptoms. His joints stiffened, he was troubled with heart fluttering, he felt heavy and sleepy after his meals and he had pressure or sharp pain on the top of his head.

All these vanished with his backache when he used Dodd's Kidney Pills. That's why Mr. McArthur is recommending them to others. He says: "I now recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all sufferers. I certainly believe they will do for others what they have done for me." Dodd's Kidney Pills are no cure-all. They simply cure sick kidneys.

British force in Mesopotamia, shows that the forces of Lieut. General Gorring, operating on the south bank of the Tigris, have now virtually reached Kut-el-Amara. This region is now being cleared of Turks up to the junction of Slat el Hal River with the Tigris at Kut to the east of Kut-el-Amara. The Turks still occupy Sannayatte. The official communication issued to-night concerning operations in this region, as the General Lake reports that on May 20th the right south bank of the Tigris was clear of the enemy as far as Slat-el-Hal, except for a small rear-guard covering the bridge over Hal. Some 50 yards below its junction with the Tigris, our main force by this bank have reached the line of Magasis Dujailam on the left bank. The enemy is reported as still occupying Sannayatte position. The weather is intensely hot and trying, the temperature during the last few days being over 100 degrees in the shade.

ITALIANS DRIVEN FROM POSITIONS.

BERLIN, May 22.
The Italians have been driven from the entire positions of Lavanne Plateau. The Austrian War Office announcement to-day said that the Italian defeat was steadily becoming more serious. The Austrian lines have been pushed forward rapidly, several additional positions of strategic importance having been captured. The number of Italians taken prisoners has increased to 23,883.

Tag Day.

To-day is Tag Day, and a band of ladies were out bright and early to tag with appropriate emblems all who contribute to the Red Cross Fund. The ladies are attired in the white costumes of a hospital nurse bearing the hospital red cross. As this mode of collecting funds affords a means by which all young and old, wealthy and poor, can contribute something, we have no doubt that a goodly sum will be collected by the ladies to-day. This morning Mr. P. H. Steer, the Treasurer of the Red Cross Fund, acknowledges the receipt of $7,733 up to last night. With to-day's collections, and the efforts of to-morrow, we have no doubt that the amount of Ten Thousand Dollars, which is the sum aimed at will be considerably exceeded. To-morrow is Empire Day a most suitable time to bring to a culmination this effort on behalf of those who are wounded or fall sick while fighting for the Empire. To-morrow the Scouts hold their sports on St. George's Field, and a committee of ladies will serve refreshments there and devote the proceeds of the sales to the Red Cross Fund. At night the play "Milestones" will be staged in the Casino. There are for the benefit of the same Fund. Our leading amateur actors and actresses are taking part in the performance and quite apart from the commendable object of the Fund, the drama and the players will afford a good night's entertainment. With the collections already in hand and the means taken to gather in more to-day and to-morrow, and with everybody doing what they can, we have no doubt we shall be able to announce on Thursday that a good round sum has been added to the Red Cross Fund.

In aid of Empire Day Red Cross Fund.

The W. P. A. has appointed a Committee of Ladies to sell refreshments at the Sports, May 24th, at St. George's Field. All who can are requested to send donations of cakes, sandwiches, lemonade, ice-cream, etc., to the following ladies: Messdames Edens, V. P. Burke, Herder, C. Hutchings, Holway and C. P. Ayre on or before Tuesday, or to the field on Wednesday morning. Owing to the large number of appeals being made at present, the ladies have decided that this shall be the only appeal they will make.

Enquiry Into Serious Charge.

The preliminary enquiry into the Hussey rape charge was continued yesterday afternoon and the forenoon. Three more witnesses were examined. The accused was released on renewed bonds. The enquiry will be continued on Thursday.

Private Green Addresses Epworth League

AT GOWER STREET.
 Last evening the members and friends of Gower Street Epworth League were given a splendid address by Private Gordon Green who related his experiences since leaving here with A. Co., October, 1914. In a manner most descriptive, he outlined the various places he had visited since leaving old Newfoundland. He took his audience across the briny deep to Salisbury Plain, Ayr, Edinburgh, Stob's Camp, Aldershot, on board ship to Alexandria and Cairo and further on to the front line of trenches on the Gallipoli Peninsula. He spoke highly of the manner in which "Ours" compared with other regiments when in battle. The work of Lieut. Donnelly and his men at Caribou Hill was worthy of the honours bestowed upon them, in which their country so proudly shared. Private Green was out in that terrible storm that assailed such havoc among the men. The meeting was presided over by Mr. W. G. Currie and was of a patriotic nature. Mr. W. H. Peters sang "Keep the Old Flag Flying," while Private Green rendered a duet: "Keep the Home Fires Burning." The music was supplied by Corporal Nosworthy and Pte. LeMessurier. At the close a vote of thanks to the soldier speaker was proposed by Mr. Geo. Peters and seconded by Rev. Dr. Fenwick. Private Green is still suffering from the effects of exposure.

An event of much interest to people of Placentia Bay, West, took place at St. Francis Xavier Church, Bay Haven, on Wednesday morning, May 18th, at early mass, when Miss Margaret Connell of Trinity, was united in marriage to William Flynn, of Bay Haven. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Francis Cacciola, in the presence of immediate relatives of the family. The bride was becomingly attired in a costume of navy serge with chamotis cloth. Miss Ella Rogers was maid of honor, and wore a gown of white crepe de chine, trimmed with apple blossoms. Mr. Bernard Murphy acted as best man to Mr. Flynn. At the monthly meeting of St. Joseph's Institute, Sunday, May 14th, the following Resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Amanda Howell Passed Away at Hospital

After a prolonged period of illness and suffering, she passed away at Hospital yesterday Amanda Howell. She was twenty years of age, just blossoming into womanhood. Deceased belonged to Bonne Bay. It will be remembered, and the historic event is still fresh in the minds of not a few, of the terrible ordeal she went through five years ago when she lost her way in the forest while journeying from her home in Bonne Bay to Rocky Harbor. She was found by a search party almost naked, after having been exposed for twelve days to the bleak winds of October, 1911. The awful exposure and suffering that this poor little girl—she was only 15 years old at the time—can scarcely be imagined. The victim entered the General Hospital here and had both legs amputated, that course being deemed necessary to save her life. Subsequently she contracted tuberculosis and was obliged to enter St. George's Hospital, Signal Hill, for treatment. Mrs. Winslow, the Matron, proved a kind and warm-hearted friend to Miss Howell, as when the latter was on the mending hand and preparing to go home Matron Winslow, who was on her vacation, accompanied Amanda to Bonne Bay on the S.S. Portia. Unfortunately, however, that dread disease, consumption, had gained such a hold that cure was impossible. Last fall she re-entered the Hospital, and gradually but surely she declined and the end came yesterday morning.
 Mr. W. M. Clapp, member for the District of Bonne Bay, has had the body embalmed, and is forwarding it to the late home of the deceased for interment. To the sorrowing parents and other relatives and friends of the deceased young woman general and sincere sympathy will be expressed and in which the Telegram deeply joins.

TO-DAY'S Messages.

10.30 A.M.

ENEMY AEROPLANE DESTROYED.

ROME, To-day. A naval flying squadron defeated and burned an enemy aeroplane in the Upper Adriatic last night says a semi-official despatch.

TORPEDOED WITHOUT WARNING.

LONDON, To-day. The British Admiralty referring to a report sent out from Berlin to the effect that survivors of the British steamer Cymric, which sank on May 9, asserted the sinking of the vessel was due to an explosion of her boilers, declared the statement entirely unfounded. On the contrary, says the Admiralty, the Cymric was torpedoed without warning. Previous accounts from British sources as well as despatches to the State Department of Washington from the American Consul at Queenstown said the Cymric was torpedoed.

GREEK STEAMERS SUNK.

LONDON, To-day. Lloyds despatch says the Greek steamers Anastasios and Coronos, of 1901 tons, were sunk.

FRENCH AND ITALIAN SHIPS SUNK.

LONDON, To-day. The French steamer Languedos and the Italian barque Erminia were sunk, according to reports received by Lloyds. The Languedos is 1412 tons gross. Shipping registers do not report the recent movement of the Erminia of 1544 tons gross tonnage. It sailed from Savona on May 11 for Philadelphia.

SUNK BY MINE.

STOCKHOLM, To-day. The Swedish steamer Rosalind, 877 tons, from Copenhagen to Stagnid in ballast was sunk by a mine off Stockholm Skerries. The crew were saved.

QUEBEC ELECTIONS.

MONTREAL, To-day. Elections were held in fifty-three ridings of Quebec Province to-day, forty-nine Liberals and four Conservatives were returned. Twenty-three Liberals were elected by acclamation and three Conservatives. With eighty-one seats in the Legislature the standing of the two parties is as follows:—Liberals, 72; Conservatives, 7. There were two deferred elections in Madeline Island and Gaspe.

MUST HAVE WOMEN ON FARMS.

LONDON, To-day. Francis Dyke Ackland, Financial Secretary of the Treasury, speaking in the Commons on Agriculture to-day, made a somewhat disturbing statement. It was imperative, Ackland said, that farmers should drop their prejudice against employment of female labor. The breakdown of home supplies was only available if the labor situation did not grow worse. The danger point of a greatly decreased production had already been reached. Even as things were going, it was now feared England could not hope to maintain last year's level. If more men were swept into the army from farms, she could only escape famine by diverting importation of foodstuffs to ships which are so urgently needed for transport of munitions; and Ackland concluded we are unable to say whether there will be ships to divert in that way. During the course of the debate following Ackland's speech, Rowland Edmund Prothero, Oxford University, expressed the opinion that sooner or later the Government would be compelled to put the country on rationing in order to economize food supplies. He urged the Government to grasp the serious situation forthwith.

GOOD HEALTH IN TRENCHES.

MONTREAL, To-day. Dr. Wilfred Grenfell, C.M.G., the noted Labrador Missionary, recently returned from the war, in an address before the Canadian Club in Montreal, to-day, referring to the splendid efficiency of the Army Medical Corps, said, that in spite of trench feet, typhoid and other troubles, the actual condition of the health of the men of our army to-day is exactly twice as good as it would have been if they were living in their own homes in Canada.

OFFENDERS SENTENCED.

DUBLIN, To-day. Following upon the officially announced sentences by the military court martial who are trying offenders against the Crown, in the recent uprising, has been confirmed. Sentence of death being committed to ten years' servitude; Jeremiah Lynch, ten years' servitude; Peter Gallagher, Thos. Desmond Fitzgerald, William Partridge, John Corcoran, five years' servitude; Patrick H. Fahey, three years' servitude; William Hussey, Michael Fleming, senior, Michael Fleming, junior, one year's servitude.

NEGOTIATIONS IN PROGRESS.

AMSTERDAM, To-day. The Neuste Nachrichten publishes a wireless despatch from Madrid, which says negotiations are in progress there between the Pope and King Alfonso and President Wilson for the purpose of arranging an armistice among the belligerent nations with the object of discussing peace terms.

VIOLENT FIGHTING.

PARIS, To-day. Fighting continued, with extreme violence on both banks of the Meuse and along the Verdun front the whole night. Two German positions on Hill 304 fell completely, the War Office announced this afternoon. The French made further gains within Fort Douaumont. The Germans now hold only a small angle in the northwestern corner of the fort. The battle around Hill 304 was especially severe. In attacking the positions on the west side of the hill, the Germans used liquid gas. The official statement says the Germans penetrated one of the French trenches, but were dislodged at once. On the east side of the Hill the Germans attacked at intervals, but were not permitted to reach the French lines.

BUDGET OF WAR NEWS.

LONDON, To-day. Hard fighting is still in progress between the Austrians and Italians in Tyrol, the French and Germans in the region of Verdun and the Germans and British around LaBasse. The great offensive of the Austrians against the Italians in Southern Tyrol continues unabated. At several points the Austrians seem to be gradually throwing back the Italians toward their own territory to the Southeast of the Lavoigne Plateau. Vienna says the Italians have been dislodged from all their positions, and adds the Austrians have captured Pima Martriolo and the heights immediately to the front, from the summit as far as Astach (Austria) Valley. In the region of Verdun both French and German claim successes for their troops at various points. An interesting point in the latest French official is the statement that the French have penetrated Fort Douaumont, north-east of Verdun, which the Germans stormed and captured on February 25th, four days after the commencement of the assault on Verdun from which all attempts to drive them out proved futile. The Germans, however, still hold the northern part of Fort Douaumont. Violent attack also has notted the French and German positions on a front of about a mile and a quarter, east of the Village of Douaumont, northwest of Verdun. The British army has begun its retreat towards Bagdad. Evidently orders have been given to concentrate in that locality, in view of the new Russian menace from the northeast.

PRINCE OF WALES RETURNS TO THE FIGHTING LINE.

LONDON, To-day. The Prince of Wales has returned from Egypt to the British fighting line in the west. He recently visited the Italian front.

TURKS RETREAT TOWARDS BAGDAD.

LONDON, To-day. The Daily Chronicle says the Turkish army has begun its retreat towards Bagdad. Evidently orders have been given to concentrate in that locality, in view of the new Russian menace from the northeast.

recently surrendered are still being held. The captured British who have been reinforced by Russian cavalry have now reached the region immediately south of Kut-el-Amara with the intervening territory between them and their objective is clear of Turks, except for a small rear guard near the junction of Shatt-el-Hai and Tigris River.

RISK OF PEACE INCREASES.

LONDON, To-day. Underwriters yesterday charged fifty per cent to insure against the declaration of peace between Britain and Germany before January 1st. The rate indicates that underwriters are of opinion that prospects of early peace are better than two months ago, when the rate for the same risk was only 30 per cent.

BRITISH LOST TRENCHES.

LONDON, To-day. The British official statement of the campaign in the western zone reads: After a heavy bombardment, all yesterday (Sunday), becoming more intense in the afternoon, the enemy attacked our positions at the north end of Vimy ridge and succeeded in penetrating our front line trenches on a front of about 1500 yards. The depth of the penetration varies from 100 to 300 yards. To-day our artillery subjected the German positions to a heavy bombardment. On the remainder of the front we sprang mines. Near Rochincoort and Hohenzollern redoubt and the quarries, there was mining activities and also near Neuville, St. Vaast and south of Fleurbaix. Artillery on both sides have been active opposite Lens and east of Ypres. We obtained direct hits on enemy battery east of Blairville. Yesterday enemy aeroplanes were active and many were engaged by our machines. Eight were driven off, though none was brought down. One of our reconnaissance machines was forced to land in the enemy lines.

SEAMEN ALL—We gladly welcome you and your good ship "Cranley" to the Port of St. John's. We welcome you for a two-fold reason.

First, because your coming means a step forward in the material progress of our own, new the interest shipping port of Harmsworth Pulp and Paper Industries.

Second, because you, Capt. Mann, your officers and crew, are representatives of the Mercantile Marine of Great Britain, and through you we desire to show honour to all brave seamen of the Empire. What the Empire owes to the men of the Mercantile Marine, particularly at this momentous epoch of her history, is second only to what she owes to Britain's Navy. Even the "long arm" of the Navy would be shortened and weakened and its power to protect the Empire and her interests greatly curtailed but for that marvelous body of men who man the ships of the Mercantile Marine.

Through you, Capt. Mann, your officers and crew, we desire to offer our tribute of gratitude and praise to the men of Britain's Merchant Navy. We are an island people, our very existence depends upon the sea; the way to and from us lies only through the paths of the deep waters. Warner's Rust-Proof Corsets!

The season's vogue of soft materials that cling to the figure, portraying every defect, makes a careful study of the corset a necessity.

The semi-fitting frocks, for instance, are really more dependent upon the lines made by the corset than one imagines at first glance.

Our study has been to stock only such corsets as we know, through a thorough fitting test, to not only meet every style requirement but to fit, while adequately supporting comfortably.

Therefore we have selected WARNER'S RUST-PROOF CORSETS because they Shape Fashionably—Fit Comfortably—Will Not Rust, Break or Tear.

See our West Window for a Display of these well proven Corsets.

That Missing "Forgettery."

By RUTH CAMERON.

"Sometime, if you think it worth the while," writes a letter friend, "I should like very much to have your opinion on the control of thoughts."

"Have you ever experienced the desire to rid your mind of a train of thought, which, although not wholly unwellcome, is foolish, and which has become almost an obsession? If so, you can understand what I mean. Perhaps there are mental exercises which could be used to help push out the undesirable thoughts. When one is much by one's self thoughts are an important factor, and if one's work is necessarily of a mechanical nature, not requiring great concentration, the mind will wander. The question is, 'Can a person train his or her mind to wander in pleasant, profitable, and character-forming paths?'"

Eyelids But No Ear Lids

For some reason the Power that created us didn't see fit to give us ear lids to match our eyelids. Likewise it failed to give us the ability to control our minds as easily as we do our bodies.

We have no forgettery to supplement our memory.

Isn't it weird to think that you can never say, "I will forget such and such a thing," and thereupon put it out of your mind for all time? You may not actively think of the painful occurrence, the unwelcome piece of knowledge, but it is somewhere in your brain and only death can entirely erase it. Nay, who knows if even death will wipe the slate quite clean?

"Push Out" Is Good
Nevertheless, though we cannot teach the sub-conscious mind to forget, we can control our conscious thoughts to some extent.

My letter friend says, "Perhaps there are mental exercises which could be used to push out the undesirable thoughts."

"Push out" is good. That is the way to get rid of anything evil. Don't just try to throw it out with an effort of the will. Push it out with something good. Nature abhors a vacuum, you know. If your mind wanders in unprofitable paths, find it paths that will profit.

Exercise Your Mind Muscles
Read up or talk over with people you meet the arguments on both sides of big questions, preparedness, socialism, prohibition, etc., and think them over.

Teach yourself to think, instead of dreaming. Don't let your mind wander vaguely from point to point. Teach it to pursue a train of thought. Strengthen it by using your thought muscles. For instance, if you can almost think of a quotation, control your mind until it quite gets it.

And now a word of warning—don't do any of these things too much. Be able to control your mind, but don't control it too rigidly, especially at first. Let it wander some of the time. All work and no play hurts minds as well as bodies. And a tired mind is a great deal harder to rest than a tired body.

Everyday Etiquette.
"Jack carried my suit case from the train and I didn't know quite what to say," remarked Alice blushing.

"Oh you should have simply thanked him to show your appreciation of his kindness," said her older sister.

Ashamed of the Dress of Women.

The President of the Mormon Church Talks Plainly About the Present Day Female Garb.

Salt Lake City, Utah.—President Joseph F. Smith, of the Mormon Church, made a vigorous attack on present day dress of women before several thousand men and women at the Sunday school conference of the church in the Tabernacle.

"I want to enter my protest against the prevailing fashions for women," he said. "I see young women going down the streets in garb not only ridiculous, but shameful, suggestive and humiliating to the modesty of honorable men; garbs that make lustful the low scoundrels who are willing to defile anything that is sacred. To say that I am ashamed of such fashions of dress is speaking my mind very mildly."

The Slippy Stane.

Wade canny through this weary world,
An' pick your steps wif' care;
Never wif' your neebours quarrel,
But says thee what is fair.
Folk fa' an' never rise again,
Wha never fell before,
For there's aye a muckle slippy stane
At ilka body's door.

Gin your neebour chance to slip,
Ye maunna pass him by,
But len' a han', and help him up,
Dinna let him lie;
The case may sometime by your ain,
Tho' ye hae wealth in store,
For there's aye a muckle slippy stane
At ilka body's door.

There's slippy stanes wher'er ye gang,
At palace, cot, or ha';
An' ye maun wotch an' no gang wrang
Or owre them ye may fa';
For emperors an' kings hae fa'en
An' nobles many a score;
There's aye a muckle slippy stane
At ilka body's door.

BACK TO THE FARM.

"I'll buy a little farm some where," the old man says, "and tinker there, until it's time to go to sleep, down where the bending willows weep. I know a farm I'd like to buy; it's where I lived when three feet high. It's where my father used to strive to keep the family alive. 'Twas there, in bygone, golden days, I hoed the beans and husked the maize, and dreamed of triumphs I'd achieve, when I that dreary farm could leave. To dwell in cities was my aim, to cut a swathe and conquer fame, and that old sandy, rocky farm for me was quite devoid of charm. The dreams I dreamed have all come true, I've done the things I meant to do, but I am old and worn and tired, and for a long time I've desired, above all other things, to go back to the scenes I used to know." Thousands of old men talk that way; when they are bent by the years, and gray, feeble of step and weak of arm, they turn their eyes to the old home farm.

Football Commences.

The various football teams have started to take the kinks out of themselves and the League will meet shortly to outline the season's work. Last year's clubs have been depleted on account of enlistments and it is said that at least two teams will not enter this season. To offset that, however, we understand that the volunteers in training will be represented in the League this summer.

Fisherman's Gear Picked Up

The schooner Stella arrived here Saturday night from Morahan, P. B. for supplies for the fishery. Messrs. Dennis Walsh and Thomas Morey, belonging to the Stella, reports that when the schooner was coming along between Ferrisauze and Ferryland, about three miles off the land they picked up forty fathoms of rope and twine floating, with four buoys attached. Presumably it was put out to hold a trap-berth and doubtless broke from its moorings by a ground sea. The finders brought the rope here with them and would like to find the rightful owner.

What Are You Doing for that Eczema?

"Nothing; I've about given up trying to cure it."
 "That is not wise. Do as I did and you will probably be cured in a short time. I used Zylex and Zylex Soap with it and my Eczema began to improve at once. A couple of boxes cured. You can get Zylex at your druggists."
 Zylex, 50c. a box; Zylex Soap, 25c. a cake.

Those desirous of attending the above comedy at the Casino Theatre to-morrow night, thereby helping the Red Cross Fund, should secure their tickets as early as possible, as they are selling fast and there are only a few left.

EMPIRE DAY AT THE NICKEL THEATRE.

The very fine programme at the Nickel Theatre yesterday was attended by large audiences and all the patrons were highly pleased with the show. It will be repeated this evening and we feel certain will draw large attendances again. To-morrow, Empire Day, there will be one of the finest shows ever given in St. John's which will include the pictures of the Newfoundland soldiers at Ayr, Scotland. This interesting picture will be shown by request and in addition to the other high-class films. The Nickel will be the popular resort to-morrow and citizens—young and old—will be present to enjoy the show. Bert Stanley has another musical treat in store for his hearers. Be sure and attend.

Had a ship's anchor fall on my knee and leg, and knee swelled up and for six days I could not move it or get help. I then started to use MINARD'S LINIMENT and two bottles cured me.
 PROSPER FERGUSON.

A good silver polish is made with one-half pound of prepared chalk mixed with as much household ammonia as the chalk will absorb. Add about four tablespoonfuls of denatured alcohol; put the mixture in a jar that will seal sufficiently to keep out the dust.

Remember Empire Day, May 24th.

Get your Kodak ready for that day and have it loaded at TOOTON'S, the Kodak Store. We will give FREE to any purchaser of a Brownie, Premo or Kodak Camera for the three days before Empire Day. Roll of Film or Film Pack to suit the Camera purchased. If you have no Camera, purchase one now and get your Film FREE.

If Subject to Colds Here is Good Advice.

Don't load your stomach with cough syrups. Send healing medication through the nostrils—send it into the passages that are subject to colds and Catarrh. Easy to do this with Catarrhazone, which cures a cold in ten minutes. Even to the lungs goes the healing vapor of Catarrhazone—all through the bronchial tubes, nostrils and air passages—everywhere a trace of disease remains will Catarrhazone follow. You'll not have colds, nor will you suffer from sniffles, bronchitis or throat trouble if Catarrhazone is used. Get it to-day but beware of dangerous substitutes meant to deceive you for genuine Catarrhazone. All dealers sell Catarrhazone, large size, two months treatment, costs $1.00; small size, 50c; sample size 25c.

The Municipal Bill

The seventh regular meeting of the Citizens' Committee took place last night in the Board of Trade Rooms, the attendance being fairly large. The Secretary read the minutes of the last meeting which were adopted. Mr. Alex. Mews asked if any reply in relation to the committee's expenditure had been received from the Premier. The Chairman's reply was "No." Mr. Mews suggested that the bills be certified by the Chairman, and handed to the Municipal Board for payment. Mr. Summers was of the opinion that the committee's expenditure should be shouldered by the representatives of St. John's East and West, who called the first meeting of citizens in the T.A. Hall. He also proposed that the Colonial Secretary be written in relation to the matter. The Bill was then taken up, and Section 2 to Section 8 were discussed. Mr. Kelly objected to allowing landlords to rent basements in houses as sleeping rooms. Mr. Bradley spoke on the black smoke section, and proposed that the word vapour be added. Mr. Way, in speaking on the franchise, proposed that women over 21 years of age be allowed to vote. The meeting adjourned at 10.30 to meet again Thursday evening, when the Section dealing with the right of corporations and firms to vote will be considered.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

Have You Given Your Stenographer a LINE-A-TIME?

WE have sold a number of them in the last month or two, and the testimonials we have received show the greatest enthusiasm over this little Machine that saves so much for the employer and the stenographer. And were it not for the LINE-A-TIME hundreds of thousands of typists would have no prospect of relief from the nerve racking and health breaking practice of twisting their necks and shoulders, and straining their eyes a thousand times a day, over note books and record sheets. Hundreds of thousands of employers would have to go on wrestling with the problem of how to increase the output of their typewriters without requiring more "work" from the operators. The LINE-A-TIME has become widely popular with employers and office managers, not only as a money making, labor saving invention, but as a humane device that increases output by removing a condition detrimental to the welfare of the operator. THE PRICE IS $8.50.

We will gladly put in a LINE-A-TIME for a week or a month so that your stenographer can give it a trial. If at any time she does not like it, or you think it does not do all we claim for it, we will take it back and there will be no charge for the time you have had it.

We have a small quantity unsold and will not be importing any more this season owing to present excessively high freight rates.

We would advise our customers to secure their requirements WITHOUT DELAY, even though the price be high, as we figure it will be found more economical to pay a LITTLE EXTRA for NITRATE OF SODA now and secure good crops than to pay a LOT EXTRA for your hay next winter.
