FIFTEENTH YEAR

MACWHERRELL TO HANG OCT. 1

THE MINISTER OF JUSTICE REFUSES TO SIGN WARRANT FOR HIS EXECUTION

Mr. John Thompson has gone over the evidence carefully and sees no reason why the execution should be given another trial. Walker's trial to go on this month.

Walker MacWherrell, who brutally clubbed to death James Williams and his wife Eliza on the Middle-road, Toronto, on Dec. 14, 1885, will be hanged by the neck until he is dead in the courtyard of Brompton jail on Monday, Oct. 1.

Consent Attorney MacFadden on Saturday last received a telegram from the Deputy Minister of Justice, stating that Sir John Thompson had carefully gone over the evidence produced at the trial and the report of Mr. Justice Ferguson, the presiding judge, and saw no reason why a new trial should be granted.

The prisoner's counsel will now endeavor to secure a commutation of the sentence of MacWherrell to imprisonment for life, but there is a strong probability of his efforts being successful, as there ever was a view where the full penalty of the law should be meted out to a murderer, it should be carried into effect in the case of the murderer of the Williams couple, as a more brutal slaughter than that of the Middle-road has never been recorded in the criminal annals of Canada.

MacWherrell was originally sentenced to be hanged on August 1st, but Mr. E. Robinson, his counsel, secured a number of affidavits from witnesses who did not testify at the trial, and the Cabinet not having time to go into the merits of the case, owing to the fact that Parliament was in session, the case was referred to the provisions of section 937 of the Criminal Code, 1892, which provides that on Oct. 1, expressly referring to the statement given by him to the press that the evidence was "Merely to give time for full consideration of the case, and that no inference was to be drawn therefrom as to the ultimate decision."

Notwithstanding that the review was granted MacWherrell is to be hanged on Oct. 1, unless the review is successful. It is believed that the review will be successful, and that MacWherrell will be hanged on Oct. 1, unless the review is successful.

Had the Minister of Justice granted a new trial to MacWherrell he would have been tried with Walker on the same day. It is believed that the review will be successful, and that MacWherrell will be hanged on Oct. 1, unless the review is successful.

TOBACCONIST GLOVER RUNS AFTER A BURGLAR CLOTHED UP IN HIS NIGHT SHIRT.

But Missus His Quarters

A few minutes before 6 o'clock Sunday morning James Glover, tobacconist, 205 Queen-street east, was aroused by a noise in his store, feeling quietly down stairs, he saw a burglar disappearing through the open front door, and saw the burglar had filled his valise with cigars and passed it out to a companion who was doing his best to follow the valise when Glover appeared on the scene.

Glover followed the thieves for some distance in his nightshirt along Ontario-street, shouting, "Police" and "Burglars," as loud as his lungs would allow. No police appeared, and giving up the chase, Glover returned to Queen-street, where his wife was waiting with a quantity of clothing for him. After donning these, he searched out a police officer, but the burglar had long since disappeared with his booty.

LAD HIM OUT WITH A MALLEE.

Two Sergeants of the Field Battery Envoys in a Row Which May Have Serious Results.

At 10 o'clock Saturday evening Charles Wildfield and John Smith, sergeants in the Toronto Field Battery, were involved in a quarrel which resulted in the infliction of a severe injury to the face of the latter. Wildfield was sent to the general hospital, where he is in a more or less serious condition. Smith may be put under arrest.

FOR FAIR VISITORS.

A Well-Known Establishment Has Something New to Offer. Visitors to the Exhibition, and especially those of the fair sex, will be interested to know that the fair will be held each day this week in the handsome fur show rooms of W. & D. Dineen on the corner of King and Yonge-streets.

This celebrated fair is prepared to receive all visitors between the hours of 9 a. m. and 10 p. m., and display the new London and Paris styles in furs, and the latest in American and European hats.

W. & D. Dineen make no exhibit at the fair, but it is hardly necessary for them to do so, as every well-informed visitor who wishes to purchase hats or furs will call at the big store on the corner.

Since the Fair was opened the number of strangers who call at Dineen's has far exceeded the record for the same week last year, and the fair will be a most successful one.

This week preparations have been made for an enormous trade, and no matter how large the crowd of visitors every article will be promptly and attentively served.

No other firm has the same prestige as W. & D. Dineen. Hats and furs being that name are guaranteed for style and quality.

King and Yonge-street—254 Yonge-street.

LIQUOR AT THE FAIR.

Officers Seize a Large Supply of Whisky and Beer.

While patrolling the Exhibition grounds Sunday morning Inspector Hall noticed a wagon containing some suspicious-looking bottles, and on a closer inspection he found the east end of the grand stand, kept by the liquor dealer, J. J. O'Connell.

The inspector began an investigation, and found the parcels to be sacks containing bottles of whisky and beer.

Securing the search a little further, he found a large quantity of whisky and beer in the boots in bottles and kegs. The liquor was confiscated, and the wagon was summoned to answer for keeping it.

Be Careful in Drinking.

We again impress upon our readers the necessity of drinking upon East Kent only. No other brand can lay claim to the high qualities that have made Holliday's famous brand so popular with discerning patrons.

It is at all hotels, clubs and wine merchants at the ordinary price.

Mr. Algie's Address.

With a meeting in St. Lawrence Hall last night the Canadian Secular Union closed their annual convention.

Addressed were by William Algie, Esq., Captain E. C. Adams, Montreal; George Moffatt, ex-Mayor of Orillia; and David Lomax.

Mr. Algie made a strong and eloquent speech. One of his epigrammatic sayings was:

"Men are more widely separated by the Atlantic Ocean than they are by the Atlantic Ocean. We have no need for the Atlantic Ocean."

There is a large number of men in this world who advocate temperance for the sake of the present liquor traffic, and who do not appreciate the evils of the present liquor traffic, and who do not appreciate the evils of the present liquor traffic.

IRISH OPINION IS DIVIDED

REGARDING THE ACCEPTANCE OF THE HANNAH'S GOLD.

The Begging Circular and Gifts From the Liberal Leaders Cause Discontent—Royal Staff Tenders At a Church Bazaar—Labor Leaders and Socialists.

London, Sept. 8.—The explanations of Justin McCarthy and John Dillon in regard to the circular issued in the name of the Irish party appealing for funds have the Holy Trinity society, organized as ever. The Executive Committee of the Irish National League of Great Britain assume the responsibility for the issuance of the circular, but flatly deny that they forwarded a copy of the letter to Mr. Gladstone or any member of the Ministry. Taking this denial for what it is worth, it is inexplicable in the face of the now well-known fact that 12,000 copies of the circular were distributed in the name of the Irish party.

Mr. O'Connor must have been cognizant of the fact that the circular was distributed in the name of the Irish party, and that the Executive Committee of the Irish National League of Great Britain assume the responsibility for the issuance of the circular, but flatly deny that they forwarded a copy of the letter to Mr. Gladstone or any member of the Ministry.

STRANGE SUICIDE OF A RUSSIAN HEBREW.

Found Dangling To a Sapling in the Woods Northeast of Moore Park—Thought He Should Repeat the Sacrifice of Christ With Himself as the Victim.

While cutting poles on Saturday afternoon in a thick bush north-east of Moore Park, and a little south of the Belt Line Railway, Jacob Arnold, 187 Eastern-avenue, saw the body of a man dangling from a tree. He drove to the city and notified the police of No. 5 Station, who in turn, telephoned County Coroner Armstrong.

Arnold was, through some oversight, permitted to go to his home, and accompanied by a World reporter, County Constables Francis and Edwards, with a search party, the body was found in a grove of trees, and was found to be that of a man who had committed suicide.

Wheat As Stock Food

Attention is being attracted to wheat as food for stock, every section of the United States being interested. Corn has heretofore had the preference because it was lower in price per bushel, and corn is more extensively grown because the large amount of stover added to the value of the crop, and less outlay is required for implements in harvesting. A home demand for corn as stock food has also assisted to give it the preference over wheat, hence a larger area has been devoted to corn and oats than to wheat, and greater crops of those grains have been grown. The fact that but little corn is exported, comparatively, though the corn crop is usually three times as large as that of wheat, indicates that the amount used for stock is enormous, and when it is considered that oats also find sale at home, the total amount consumed on the farms, of all grains, mostly as stock food, is perhaps greater than that used for consumption by the common family, and requires less handling and transportation.

PROPERTIES OF CORN AND WHEAT

Comparing corn and wheat analyses show that wheat contains 9.3 per cent. of protein and corn 7.1 per cent. Protein is the muscle-producing substance. Corn contains 4.2 per cent. of fat, and wheat 1.8 per cent.; of starch corn contains 63.7 per cent., and wheat 55.3 per cent. Both the fat and starch are muscle-producing and fat-producing substances. It will thus be noticed that while corn contains a greater share of starch, and wheat a greater share of protein, the starch which are suitable for producing fat, wheat excels in the muscle-making elements, yet wheat is but a little better than corn in fat, and wheat is better than corn in protein. Wheat, as it contains more protein than corn, is better adapted for horses that work for heavy stock than are growing and fattening cows that are producing milk, while corn is more suitable for rapid gain in fat. Experiments in feeding wheat to hogs at the Canada Experiment Station, showed a gain of about one pound of pork for every nine pounds of wheat fed, and the Oregon Station a mixture of equal parts of oats and wheat gave a gain of one pound for every 4.8 pounds of the mixture fed. Cattlemen contend that a bushel of wheat is equal to one and a third bushels of corn; that is, 60 pounds of wheat are equivalent to 70 pounds of corn.

METHODS OF FEEDING

It is not recommended to feed white wheat. Sheep can eat the whole grain and so can calves that are young but it is better to have it coarsely ground the grinding mills used on farms being capable of reducing it. When fed to hogs it should be ground and soaked. For cows it should be ground and fed whole with equal parts of corn and oats or the whole may be ground together. If bran is added to the ground mixture, the food will contain more mineral matter and protein, thus balancing the ration. As all grains should be fed in connection with hay and other coarse foods, wheat is no exception. The feeding of wheat to stock instead of being ground into flour.
