TROOPS SOON IN ENTIRE CONTROL

Only One Town in Nanaimo District Unprotected

REFUGEES RESCUED

Soldiers Scour the Hills For People Who Have Fled From Strike Riots in British Columbia, to Shelter of the Forest

(Canadian Press)

Nanaimo, B. C., Aug. 16.—Quietness prevailed yesterday in the coal situation on the island. Early in the morning, three companies of Seaforth Highlanders from Vancouver, were landed at Union Bay to take over the situation at Cumberland, where the strike first originated.

About the same time, a force composed of the 8th Regiment regulars and militia, 200 strong, were detailed at Ladysmith, where a mob of strikers and rioters has been in control all week, dynamiting houses, beating strike-breakers, and running them out of town. In Nanaimo, there were stationed 800 regulars, and militia, and the only town in the strike zone not under military protection is South Wellington.

Arrangements are being made to perfect the stations and then every mining town on the island will be in the hands of the militia. In the presence of the troops, the strikers have so far made no lawless demonstrations.

Yesterday a car containing twenty-two refugees—men, women and children—was rescued by the troops on Thursday from armed strikers at Extension, was sent down from the danger zone.

At present one hundred soldiers are scouring the hills around Extension for refugees in the woods, who are afraid to leave the cover of the forest. One woman, only a few days confined, was found in the woods, where she had been twenty-four hours without food.

Manager Cunningham with his wife, who escaped from the strikers into the hills, and who could not be found, have arrived at Alberni on the west coast on an eighteen day journey. The wife is the mother of an old child. These unfortunate women were so scared that half of them disappeared at sight of the militia and have not yet been found.

It is rumored in town that the strikers last night, made a train a train protected by militia, but the attack was not made.

News came in that the mob at South Wellington had started a raid on Chinese quarters. Police were at once rushed out, but no news of what happened has yet come. The military was stated that a party of strikers was caught trying to dynamite a railway bridge at Cumberland. Previous attacks failed to destroy the bridge, although much damage was done.

More Rioting

Vancouver, Aug. 16.—Further rioting took place yesterday afternoon at a district when several strike breakers came into collision with a number of strikers. Missiles of all kinds were freely hurled and shots fired. The military were obliged to take active part in the affairs and eventually order was restored to some extent.

One of the local papers at Nanaimo, which has been threatened with suspension and which suspended publication, issued an editorial this afternoon and made violent attacks on its contemporaries, accusing them of being responsible for the strike and subsequent rioting. As to who gave the orders calling on the militia, there is much discussion. Frank Sheppard, the member for the district, denies all knowledge of the matter while the local magistrates disclaim any responsibility.

WINCE THE THIRTY SECOND HEADS RUBBER COMPANY

Beulah, Aug. 16.—Prince Henry XXXII of the Junior branch of the Reuss family, as just founded a limited liability company to manage rubber plantations that he recently purchased in German East Africa. The company is presided over by the prince, and another member of the board is the prince's teacher in commercial affairs, Herr Elffe of Hamburg. Apparently the plantation is not giving every satisfaction, as it is now desired to engage in the cultivation of other products besides rubber. Last year as much as $25,000 worth of rubber was collected, but there was some difficulty in disposing of it. Prince Henry of Reuss is one of the younger princes of this name. He was engaged in business, but this is his first serious venture. He is now thirty years old.

PRESENTS THE BORDEN INSULT TO WORKMEN

Mr. Verville Addresses Large Meeting of Labor Men in Halifax

Halifax, Aug. 16.—Addressing a large audience of workmen in St. Patrick's Hall last night, Alphonse Verville, M. P., said that labor representatives intended in future to watch more closely the proceedings of every Canadian legislator so as to assist in improving the condition of the workers.

He regretted the announcement that the Borden government would not add technical education and he strongly resented the insult cast on Canadian enterprise by the insinuation that Canada could not build her own warships if she desired.

C., now a real estate dealer here, and Robert Burton, a young salesman, were arrested on suspicion, pending the investigation of the case. Haskamp is a man of great wealth, the owner of several properties in British Columbia, and humane officer resulting in charges against the girl had been kidnapped and held captive in a house at Hawthorn, a suburb, was discredited in part by the girl's own story. She declared she had been kidnapped by a man, who had been incriminating several men, according to the police.

Haskamp was arrested in his apartment, he refused to open the door for the police and it was broken down. He declined to make any statement and was taken to an attorney at once.

NEW YORK DEADLOCK STILL CONTINUES

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 16.—New York's two governors continued today with increased bitterness their conflict for sole possession of the chief executive chamber and functions.

The proposal of Sulzer that he and his rival lay their respective claims before the courts for speedy settlement, came to grief last night. Lieut-Governor Glynn, who says he is acting governor by virtue of Sulzer's impeachment, notified Sulzer that he had no intention of asking any courts save the court for the trial of impeachment to decide the question.

"Loyal" Unionists Try To Involve King George In Revolutionary Act

Seek to Press Him to Take Drastic Step Against Home Rule Bill

Condemned as a Mischievous Plot—Canada to Have Visit From Brilliant Young Postmaster-General—Important Campaign Follows Medical Congress

(Times' Special Cable)

London, Aug. 16.—Movement has arisen among the Unionists, but unacted by the leader of the party, to put pressure on the king to secure another verdict from home rule, the owner of the country by dismissing the ministry and dissolving parliament on the day of the bill. Two peers are getting a petition to the king. They rely on the precedent of William IV. and Lord Melbourne in 1834.

That this movement has reached some importance may be judged from the fact that it is openly discussed by authorities as varied as the Spectator and Mr. Spender, editor of the Westminster Gazette.

Even the Spectator, a pronounced Unionist organ, denounces the plan as a mischievous movement to make the king commit a revolutionary act. Mr. Spender says: "This talk of royal interposition is a talk of royal interposition. It is a talk of royal interposition. It is a talk of royal interposition."

The main effect of the medical congress has been to produce a widespread interest in the question of prevention of the spread of venereal diseases. The government has promised an inquiry and various popular newspapers have for the first time opened their columns to a discussion of the matter. Proposals for state regulation of vice cannot pass into law here, owing to the strenuous opposition of the churches. The local government board today published a special report on the venereal disease. The report is a long and important one, and it is expected that it will be mostly departmental details rather than of public interest.

GIVES UP HIS TITLE FOR LOVE OF ACTRESS

German Prince of Twenty-Eight to Wed Vienna Stage Favorite

Vienna, Aug. 16.—Prince Nikolaus of Thurn und Taxis, who is closely connected with the Vienna Court through his relationship with the late Empress Elizabeth, has made a declaration here and in Munich, where his family resides at present, that he renounces all his titles and dignities.

A romantic love affair is the reason of whose age is twenty-eight. He serves in the German navy as a first lieutenant.

The prince told his mother, whose second husband is Prince Max of Rathenau, a short time ago, of his intention to give permission, and the prince has now resigned his title, as well as his commission, and has received part of the large inheritance which will one day fall to him, to help him in the foundation of his new life as a farmer.

The Prince Regent of Bavaria has given the prince the hereditary title of Baron von Hochstadt. This romantic story will, however, now find its conclusion in the marriage of the ex-Prince in England.

Rev. John McNeill, of Toronto, a preacher, is making a brilliant success as summer supply in the City Temple, London's leading central free church. His sermons are attracting widespread notice and praise.

The Medical Congress

The main effect of the medical congress has been to produce a widespread interest in the question of prevention of the spread of venereal diseases. The government has promised an inquiry and various popular newspapers have for the first time opened their columns to a discussion of the matter.

The Fredericton premier pitcher so far has been Condon who is credited with nine wins and but one defeat. Of nine victories he has won three from the opposing teams; he has only one game he had it over Fredericton.

Before he left the team the other day Ahearn had won eight games and dropped but five. Four of his wins were from Bangor at the beginning of the season. He lost two from St. Croix and two from the Greys. He dropped one game each to Bangor and St. Croix and one to St. John.

TURNED KAISER'S FACE TO THE WALL

Now Herr Schatz Must go To Prison

SEEKING THE OTHER SIDE

Application of Emperor's Words Brings Four Months Term—Socialist Leader's Estate $150,000—Monte Carlo at Baden-Baden

(Canadian Press)

Berlin, Aug. 16.—Whether or not it is high treason to turn a bust of the German emperor with his face to the wall has been settled by the sentencing of Herr Schatz of Saargrund to four months in prison, and he had the luckless Schatz who pined that yet a certain reason for his act.

It may be remembered that the people of Alsace have recently been giving his mangled face at them, metaphorically speaking, and that Alsace might find itself incorporated with Prussia, unless it learned to behave itself. Prussians themselves, by the way, resented the implication that their kingdom was a penal establishment—but that is another story. In sending his paternal admonition to Alsace, the emperor concluded with the words that the people had to far seem only his good side, but that he would see to it that they were not so. That was enough for the enterprising Schatz. At an evening meeting of a French socialist society to which he belongs, Schatz, in these words of the emperor, and then, advancing toward an imperial bust that was on the shelf, he remarked: "We will see the other at once," and turned it with its face to the wall.

It is said that Herr August Bebel, Socialist leader, left an estate of $150,000 of which a large part is bequeathed to a society for the relief of the poor. He also conferred on his party the right to publish his writings.

Declaring that Baden-Baden was unable to attract the Americans and English as the other cures and resorts did, because there were no facilities for establishing a municipal authority to manage the cures, the municipal authorities have granted a concession to a company for establishing a miniature Monte Carlo, where the Americans and English may wait the effect of the waters and at the same time give them a chance to win back some of the money which they have lost at the hotels and doctors have taken away from them. It is expected that this will bring a much greater influx of visitors.

LEAVE TONIGHT FOR BOSTON
Three Local Men to Attend 11th Annual Rexall Convention
Three of Chas. R. Wasson's assistants, J. Hollie Wasson, Harry W. Myers and Roy D. Mayes will leave on the Boston boat tonight to attend the Rexall 11th annual convention, which opens in that city on Monday, August 18. Touching on the Rexall form of cooperation of which the convention plan is one, Mr. Wasson said: "People ask me how I can offer high-grade goods at such low prices; where I get such a lot of new merchandise; and why it is that I have the newest novelties and the latest wrinkles in store before anyone else. I would be glad to take the credit for these things to myself, but frankly I owe much of my good fortune to the fact that I am a member of the United Drug Company. This company was started in Boston seven years ago, by Louis K. Liggett. At that time there was no such thing as co-operation in the retail drug business. Individual druggists manufactured their own remedies, good, bad and indifferent; bought their goods in small lots at high prices; and fought each other tooth and nail. Mr. Liggett saw that if the buying and manufacturing power of the leading druggists could be combined, and a standard policy adopted for all their stores, the result would be increased business and better service for the public. "Beginning with forty of the biggest retailers in this country, he formed the United Drug Company and began to manufacture a line of honest household remedies, based on tested formulas, the sale of which was limited to one drug-gist in each locality. These remedies were made by skilled chemists from the best materials and to further protect the public, each remedy was sold under a positive guarantee of satisfaction or money back. Furthermore, Retail Remedies were not patent medicines; their formulas were published in book-form so that before buying a remedy, a customer could see just what it contained. "In 1908, the company's business was confined to one building with 80,000 square feet of floor space. Today, it is operating laboratories, factories, mills, warehouses and branches, throughout the United States, Canada and Great Britain, and requires a total of over 1,000,000 square feet of floor space—or more than 25 acres—for the manufacture of its exclusively Rexall Store products. "You see, the United Drug Company is purely co-operative. Since there is only one Rexall Druggist in each locality, we are partners and not competitors. When my assistants get to Boston they will meet and be on friendly terms with druggists whom I have met at other Rexall Conventions, and who are coming to this meeting every state in the Union, from all the provinces of Canada, and from England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales. During the meetings, and in informal talks between wholes, criticism will be made of each other's methods, and suggestions offered that will be welcomed."

S., Aug. 15—Ben Atkinson, proprietor of the Minto hotel, and one of the best known citizens of Sydney, was killed this morning by being thrown from his buggy. Miss Edna May McQuarrie, twenty-three years old, daughter of Allen McQuarrie, died in South Boston yesterday. IDEAL HUSBAND DEFINED
Kansas College Girls Post List of Requirements. Kansas college girls have fixed the standard for the "ideal" young man, the possible husband, and throughout the state in the college Young Women's Christian Association buildings there is posted the list of things that go to make up the Kansas ideal man. Here they are: Height, 5 feet 11 inches. Weight, 150 pounds. Chest, 40 inches expanded, 34 inches contracted. Waist, 30 1/2 inches. Must make a good appearance, but need not be handsome. Must be careful of personal appearance, but not a dandy. Must be jolly, accommodating, considerate and a true sportsman. Must be a good conversationalist, but not a flatterer. Must reverse and respect the aged. Must show courtesy to men and women. Must not smoke, drink nor be found guilty of attendant evils. Must not recognize a different standard for men and women. The physical qualifications were the averages taken from the reports of hundreds of girls of the state, each girl being asked to submit 10 measurements of what she considered her ideal man. The nine commandments for the ideal young man were chosen from hundreds of statements of girls who were asked to specify the requirements each would make, and nine items most mentioned in the letters were the ones taken as the average ideal young man.—Kansas City Correspondence in (Phila.) Public Ledger. The United States congress contains his Kalmianole of Hawaii, son of the late King Kialakau and Queen Liluokalani. He is known in Washington as "Prince Cupid," and makes, on the average one speech a year.

IT PUMPS LIFE INTO YOU
Wake up, you drug fiend, and let your reason prevail! Your experience with drugs teaches you that you must cut them aside and look for a natural method. When your health failed it seemed inherent by nature for you to look for some magic cure—something that you could take into your stomach to do the work of your digestive organs, bowels, liver and kidneys. The first dose brought you relief, but with each succeeding dose you found the effect lessened, until you do the work of your vital organs, and without them you are even in a worse condition than when you began. I can take a man like you and pump new energy into your body while you sleep, and in a few weeks you will be transformed into a giant of strength and courage. Energy is but electricity, and if you lack energy you need electricity. Dear Sir,—I purchased one of your Belts about a year ago, and I am thankful to say that I am a new man, and I cannot say enough for it. I am stronger than men half again as big as myself, and I am 24 pounds heavier than before I got your Belt.—H. G. SPARROW, Box 236, Brantford, Ont. If you feel tired and stupid with no ambition to get out and hustle; if you have spells of despondency, and a desire to give up the fight; you need new energy. The race is to the strong. Show me a failure and I'll show you a weakling, lacking in courage, strength and ambition, three essentials to the makeup of a successful man. My Belt is an appliance for infusing a powerful, but soothing current into the body without the least shock or unpleasant sensation. You can use it two to eight hours every day and waste no time—you need not be conscious that you are taking treatment. It is cheaper than a course of drugging. Get It Free CUT OUT COUPON NOW. M. L. LIBERAL PROSPECTS

Since Premier Borden has no intention of keeping his pledge to go to the country on the naval question, there is little likelihood of the general elections being held this year or next. The Conservatives will hold on to office as long as possible. When the struggle comes the naval issue will not be the most important before the electors of this country. The Conservatives would like to have another "flag election" in the provinces outside of Quebec, as they had in 1911, and their agents are doing all in their power to keep alive the prejudice which they hope will again make votes for them, when the next appeal is made. The Liberal party, however, will be in a position to make Mr. Borden and his friends declare themselves upon many questions other than that of naval defence.

The Liberal party in Canada stands for the same broad principles as the leaders of the great Liberal party in the mother country, and the leaders of the present Democratic party in the United States. They stand for the interests of the people, and not for the interests of the trusts and combines. The country will look in vain to the Conservative party for relief from tariff burdens, and for the promotion of legislation to improve the industrial and social condition of the people. The Conservatives have always been the champions of privilege, and Mr. Borden and his friends are no exception to the rule.

Mr. Oscar Straus, who has been studying social welfare legislation in England, says that British leads America in social reform movements, and he declares that the English Liberals are twenty-five years ahead of the so-called Progressives in the United States. And yet the whole tendency of legislation in the United States is toward the amelioration of the condition of the average citizen. This is especially true since the Democratic party under Mr. Wilson's leadership gained the ascendancy in both houses of congress.

The principles for which the advanced Liberals stand in England and the Wilson Democrats in the United States, the Liberal party must stand for in Canada. The Conservatives will be only too happy to take the advice of the Montreal Star concerning the navy, and adopt for himself and his party a permanent policy of contribution, then they would certainly be the duty of the Liberal party to fight again as they have so often and so successfully fought in the past the battle of Canadian autonomy. But the situation may be so changed in the next two years that it will not be deemed expedient to fight against the principle of a Canadian navy, built and manned by Canadians. In any case, however, there will be excellent fighting ground in the tariff and the British preference, and in measures for improvement of the economic and social condition of the people of this country.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is pursuing the right course in moving about among the people, stimulating their interest in the political questions of the day. He and the fighting ground in the next federal campaign, and they may be relied on to be true to the principles of that Liberalism which has done so much for the welfare of this Dominion, and which is winning new victories in the mother country and in the United States, the two countries with which Canada has much to do, and which provide her with so many examples of progressive movements for the welfare of the common people.

The prospects of the Liberal party in Canada are bright because of the peculiar combination of "imperialists" and "Nationalists" to which they are opposed, but chiefly because reform is in the air and the people throughout the country are giving very serious thought to conditions which impose too heavy burdens upon the masses. The Conservative party hope to retain power by upholding privilege and appealing to racial and religious prejudice, an appeal which certainly proved very effective in 1911; but the very people who were thus induced to vote the Tory ticket had had ample opportunity to discover that they were humbugged, and that nothing whatever has been done by the Conservatives to change the conditions concerning which their agents so diligently whispered in the ears of any who might be unwisely enough to listen to the shameful appeal.

So far as the Liberals are concerned, they should prefer to remain in opposition rather than gain power by such tactics as were resorted to by the Conservatives in 1911. Fortunately they have as their leader a man who makes the same appeal in Ontario as in Quebec, and whose record as an imperialist puts to shame that of the men who in 1909 proclaimed one naval policy, and in 1912 executed a complete somersault at the behest of men who had opposed by boosted during the election campaign that their ancestors had shot holes in the British flag. Sir Wilfrid Laurier may fitly stand in the struggle between the two parties, whether it comes next year or in 1915, as the leader of a party which has one policy for all parts of Canada, and has behind it a splendid record of achievement. Not what it has accomplished, however, but what it will undertake to accomplish when it is once more entrusted by the people with the reins of power, will commend it to the electors from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

It is not too soon to begin to formulate such a general policy as will command the enthusiastic devotion of Liberals, and win also the support of great numbers of people who were never more keenly disappointed than they have been since they voted for the candidates of Mr. R. L. Borden.

It is good news that the south side of King square is to be paved, thus completing the circuit of the square with pavement of a permanent character.

There appears to be considerable doubt as to the source of the typhoid fever cases of which there too many in the city at the present time. It should be possible to trace them to a source and have the danger removed.

The July bulletin from Ottawa reports crop conditions good all over Canada, and the weather in August has been favorable to the farmer. The country has still the promise of good crops, which will bring relief to the financial situation.

A gentleman who has returned from a visit to western cities says that the real estate situation there is not nearly as healthy as it is in the city of St. John. The like is true of business generally. Conditions are much more satisfactory in the maritime provinces than in the west.

The British parliament has been prorogued and will probably not sit again until next February. The Liberal government has come through the session with added strength, and the Conservatives under the leadership of Mr. Borden Law had failed to make any impression upon the country.

King George is too wise a monarch and too thoroughly imbued with the principles of constitutional government to pay any attention to the mischievous proposal of two peers that he should intervene in the matter of Irish home rule. It is very evident that the Tories in the mother country are prepared to go to any length to embarrass the Asquith government. But they always blunder and fail.

Those who in the state of Kansas have been asking the governor of the state to proclaim a day for public prayers for rain must be acting on the assumption that God has not been aware of the conditions in Kansas of late, and that, upon being apprised of the state of affairs, He will grant relief. Such a conception of the Author of the Universe hardly seems adequate. If the cry of the suffering has not been heard and heeded, why should any ostentatious public appeal have more effect?

Mrs. Frank J. Heinicke, of Pittsburg, Pa., received on Friday a letter mailed to her twenty-five years ago by her sister. The key to which had been lost, and which consequently was not opened until last week. The letter contained an invitation to go shopping.

Much curiosity was aroused at Salem Woods by the sight of a woman sitting in the sand and sifting it through a large sieve. It was found that she had lost a ring the day before and was trying to find it. After several hours' work the ring was recovered.

LIGHTER VEIN

EUGENICALLY ALL RIGHT

Doctor—"Why did you refuse him?"

Daughter—"There was nothing in him to admire."

Doctor—"What nonsense! his lungs, heart and liver were as sound as an albatross."

"What's the matter with the train?" asked the lecturer, vexed with the speed they were making.

"If you don't like this train," the guard retorted, "you can get out and walk."

"By Jove!" said the lecturer, "I'd like to do it; but a reception committee is to meet me at my destination, and I don't want to get in ahead of time."

The red touring car struck a pedestrian, rolling him in the mud and maltreating him in general. The owner ran back, greatly excited, after stopping his car.

"Is he dead?" he asked anxiously of the medical man who was attending the victim.

"O, no!" replied the doctor, cheerfully. "He's not dead; he's merely run down."

The Judge of a Texas county was also cashier of the town bank. One day a stranger presented a check for payment and his evidence of identification was not satisfactory.

"Why, Judge," said the man, "I've known you to sentence men to prison for life on no better evidence than this."

"That may be true," replied the Judge. "But when it comes to handing out cold cash we have to be mighty careful."

Doctor—"From now you may let your husband have a glass of beer every day. You understand?"

Wife—"Yes, doctor—just one glass a day."

Doctor (a week later)—"Now, I hope you have kept strictly to that one glass per day that I allowed your husband to take?"

Wife—"Most decidedly, doctor—only he is four weeks in advance with his luncheon."

LITTLE DANGER OF FOREST FIRES NOW IN NORTHERN MAINE

Report from Chief Fire Warden — The Spruce Bud Worm Decreasing

(Bangor Commercial)

Hosea B. Buck of this city, chief fire warden for the St. John and Aroostook river waters, has returned after a trip through that territory. Conditions as far as the danger from forest fires are concerned, are excellent in that district, he says, and the number of forest patrolmen in the section has accordingly been decreased.

According to Mr. Buck, the spruce bud worm, which has done considerable damage in other sections of the state, seems to be decreasing in northern Maine.

"I found that along the St. John river the worms are not so numerous as they were last year," said Mr. Buck, "although they have attacked the trees there. They were at their height about four weeks ago, and killed most of the spruce on the new growth of this year. They only attack the tips, but after they have done their work it looks as though the trees had been struck by fire. The spruce turn brown and drop off."

"It is encouraging to note in this section that since the spruce have dropped off new growth has appeared and are now about half grown. This indicates that the stem is not killed, and the growth of the tree is only retarded."

The indications are that the cut will be a little larger than the usual this year.

CLOSING OF THE P.R.A. WEEK AT SUSSEX; THE GRAND AGGREGATE

Sussex, N. B., Aug. 15—The tents are struck and the range is again in quietness and the members of the New Brunswick Provincial Rifle Association who have been here all week taking part in the annual meet have returned to their homes, well satisfied with the results of the competition.

The programme was brought to a close this afternoon with the presentation of the trophies, which took place on the lawn in front of the bungalow. The Prince of Wales cup was presented to Sergt. B. R. Clark, of the 67th regiment, by Major O. R. Arnold, one of the pioneers of our shooting in the province. Capt. A. O. Bentley received the McLean cup from the hands of Mrs. G. S. Kincaid, of Sussex, and the presentation of the Ladies' cup was made to Sergt. S. L. Day by Mrs. J. S. Frost, of St. John.

The presentation of the trophy for the county match to the Westmorland-Kent team was made by Major J. S. Frost and the McAvity cup was presented to J. S. Knox, of Sussex, by Capt. J. Manning, R. O.

The grand aggregate medals were presented to the winners by Major J. M. Kincaid, who had the distinction of presenting the first gold medal and first money prize to his son, Major G. S. Kincaid. The Domville cup was also presented by Major J. S. Frost to the winner, Gr. W. R. Campbell, an able Association trophy, which was won by Sergt. H. M. Smith with the high score of 101, was presented by H. H. Chandler, of the association executive.

The following is the result of the matches shot this afternoon as well as the winners of the grand aggregate and the Robertson championships. The championships are as follows: The addition of the grand aggregate to the scores made in the Domville and Governor-General's matches. The first place was won this year with 448 points, which is seventeen points better than the score made by the winner last year.

PIMPLES THICKLY SCATTERED ON FACE

In Bad Condition, Pimples Large, Face Sore and Itchy. Looked Badly. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured in Two Weeks.

Munsey, Ontario.—"Some time ago my face was in a very bad condition with some kind of pimples. The pimples were thickly scattered. The tops of them were white; matter was in them. They were quite large and my face was sore and itchy and looked badly. I had to scratch to be comfortable and sometimes lost my sleep. The sores lasted about two months and I tried some ointments but didn't like them. Then I sent for some Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, used them for two weeks and it was completely cured." (Signed) Alex. R. Oke, April 2, 1912.

SCALY ECZEMA ON FACE

Clarkson, Ontario.—"My little girl, aged two years, started with a skin disease on her face, so I called in the doctor and he said it was eczema. The skin was quite red and all scaly. I washed the parts well with the Cuticura Soap and then I put the Cuticura Ointment on. You ought to see her now—as fair as a lily!" "I suffered a great deal with piles. I had them very bad, and they itched and burned so I could hardly bear it. When I got the Cuticura Ointment I tried it. Now it has entirely cured me." (Signed) Mrs. Cyrus Ward, Jan. 1, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Send to Potter D. & Co., Corp., Dept. 5313, Boston, U.S.A., for free samples of each with 32-page book.

WHAT ABOUT THE WEST INDIES SERVICE?

(Maritime Merchant)

There is still no news from Ottawa with regard to what the government has decided to do about the new West India steamship service. The first thing we know the winter will have come and gone and as far as the new service is concerned the country will have nothing to show for it. We do not suppose that Canada directly will be a great sufferer, for no doubt we shall be able to market most of the things we are likely to market in the West Indies, whether we have passengers ships or not, and as for Canadians who would be likely to visit the West Indies, there are opportunities to take good steamers at New York and elsewhere. Our chief regret that nothing seems to be doing is because of disappointment at the different islands at which the steamers would call. One has to live in the West Indies to appreciate what transportation means to a country and as far as the new service is concerned the country will have nothing to show for it. We do not suppose that Canada directly will be a great sufferer,

St. Kitts, or Grenada, an extra steamer with a good passenger accommodation is nothing short of a godsend. When, therefore, these islands have made a sacrifice to secure an additional service, quite naturally they are disappointed if the service doesn't materialize. We think that no time should be lost in providing this new service, or in voting sufficient subsidy to secure such boats as were promised.

An Enlarged Department for a Larger Display Ladies' Fall Costumes and Coats

In order to accommodate our rapidly growing ready-to-wear business, we have had to give over the space heretofore occupied by millinery to Ladies' Cloaks and Suits.

This department holds first place in the city for costumes and coats, and demands more room for several seasons. Now, this addition makes a worthy showroom for the splendid display of Ladies' Garments we have ready, and coming for this fall.

The best and newest that Canadian and New York designers produce, is represented, and at very moderate prices.

It will give us pleasure to show you the new style features, and if you are ready to buy now you will benefit by having the choice of a large number of exclusive styles.

Byron, throughout his stormy career, always came back to nature for relief. There was "pleasure in the pathless woods" and there was "society where none intruded by the deep sea."

But to our country road. On either side, along the river valley, a profusion of wild-flowers delighted the eye, varying in character with the nature of the soil. The red cherry, the choke-cherry, the cranberry and the blueberry, the golden-rod and the gloriosa, were very wide in this region, there were pleasing discoveries of wild-roses, and well-tended fields along the road.

Frequently there was a temptation to pause and enjoy the beauty of some bit of scenery. Birds were seen in the trees or on the wing, and a squirrel now and then challenged attention.

Wherever one goes, in the vicinity of St. John, and from whatever height he may gaze forth upon the charming scenery, he is impressed with the very large proportion of the area within the range of his vision that is covered with woods.

Pink Bread for Gourmets (Pearson's Weekly)

The latest diet craze is to have your food as highly colored as possible, and from Germany come the pale blue lobster, the invention of a learned professor named Kornfeld.

Apparently there is a scientific reason for this latest fad in diet. An eminent medical man gave it as his opinion some time ago that a person's character can be gauged by the kind of colors he prefers in his food.

There are, no doubt, great possibilities in the colored food idea, but it is to be hoped that our British restaurateurs will not feel called upon to adopt it.

TUG BOAT WORK HAS CHANGED MUCH; A CHAT WITH A HARBOR VETERAN

Captain Gallagher Recalls a Record Tow Made Through Falls—Search For Ernest Earle's Body Abandoned

"The towing we have to do these days is very much different from what we did when I first started in the business," said Captain Patrick Gallagher in speaking to a Times reporter. In those days we used to have to tow the wooden vessels which kept going in and out of the harbor continually, and as nearly all the saw mills were here at Indiantown then, we used to be called upon to tow these vessels back and forth through the falls, but things have changed.

"At the time I speak of when we used to tow the wooden vessels, I remember one day, it is just about twenty years ago, when I was in charge of the old 'Captain' we towed nine schooners down through the falls in one tow. The vessels were all loaded upon to tow these vessels two on one side of the tug and one on the other and behind us came the others, two of them on our bow, and the others behind them again. Think what a fine sight we must have made," said Captain Gallagher, "with sails all set, too. People crossing the bridge at the time all stopped to look at us."

Asked if it was a usual thing in those days to tow so many vessels at once, he said "It was never done before and never has been since and I don't know if it ever will be again." The captain produced a clipping, yellow with age, from one of the local newspapers in which the event was referred to as a picturesque sight, remarking that it should have been photographed.

"Since the days of the wooden vessels has gone," said the captain, "most of our work now is in bringing down scows loaded with lumber from the smaller mills along the river and especially since the mills in the city are closed there is a good deal of towing in that line to be done. In the winter our time is taken up chiefly in docking the big steamers, and is not such holiday work as we have had this time of the year."

Captain Gallagher has been a tug-boat captain for almost half a century and with the exception of Captain Thomas Clark, who is now confined to his house through illness, is the oldest tug-boat captain in the harbor. He took charge of the "Captain" when she was first launched and after twenty-five years of service he became captain of the Wm. H. Murray when she was built nineteen years ago, and still has charge of her. He also had charge of other boats for three or four years before going on the "Captain."

The work of searching for the body of Ernest Earle who was the victim of a drowning accident last Sunday, has been reluctantly given up as every effort possible was made up till Friday afternoon with no success even with the assistance of a diver who went up with the party for two days and went over the bottom of the river for a considerable distance round the scene of the accident. The only hope of the bereaved family is that the body will soon come to the surface and that they will be able to recover it then.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Strang, of Melville street, who have been visiting for the last six weeks in Prince Edward Island, have returned home.

Miss Bessie Williamson, of Main street, has returned home, after a visit to Boston.

EUROPE'S TINIEST STATE

When the ambassadors of Europe recently met, and agreed that the peninsula of Athos in Macedonia, should be regarded as an independent state, many people thought that they had at last discovered the smallest state in the world.

Athos, however, has an area of 180 square miles, roughly. It is a huge country compared with Moresnet, a tiny neutral state on the borders of Belgium and Prussia. Its area is reckoned in acres not square miles! Its size, in fact, is fourteen hundred acres, just a good-sized farm!

Moresnet was made a separate state in 1815, after Napoleon had been finally crushed at Waterloo. The reason that the little country has remained independent is rather curious.

As has been said the tiny state is on the borders of Germany and Belgium. It possesses what was once the most important and valuable zinc mine in the whole world. Belgium wanted that mine, and so did Germany. As they couldn't agree on the amount of compensation to the other, Moresnet remained independent. The tiniest country in the world lies four miles away from Aix-la-Chapelle, and possesses one village. There is not room for two! The total number of inhabitants is under three thousand. Recently Germany began negotiations with Belgium to acquire her tiny neighbor, though the Moresnetians say they prefer to be under Belgian rule, if they can't be independent.

A young woman from the east was conversing with a Kentuckian about tobacco and tobacco raising. She was very pretty and a good conversationalist and the young man from Kentucky was vastly interested in her until she gave him a sudden shock by announcing:

"I should love to see a tobacco field especially when it is just plugging out."—National Food Magazine.

THE CITY OF CASSANDER

War-Worn Salonika Has a Long and Interesting History

Salonika is not only interesting at the present time because the world's attention is focused on the Balkan peninsula, and because its future is so uncertain, but, like Albania, it has a history which, while it cannot compare with Albania's, is stretching back into prehistoric times, goes so far back to a great antiquity, to the stirring days of Philip of Macedonia and Alexander the Great.

Its name for twenty-two centuries has borne the love of man for his wife, since it is generally believed that the city was founded by Cassander, King of Macedonia, B. C., 316. He had married the daughter of Philip of Macedonia and half-sister of Alexander, and as a mark of affection for his wife, called the place by her name, Thessalonica.

Another event of great influence was the coming to Salonika, more than three centuries ago, of many thousand Jews, who had fled from persecutions in Spain and Portugal. They have multiplied till they now exceed 20,000 of its 70,000 inhabitants, and have completely monopolized the commerce of Salonika, and now control its local business and dominate the other races there.

The city has known almost the vicissitudes of war for many years it was the main bulwark against the Gothic and Salonic invasions, of which historians reckon six, while during the middle ages it was thrice captured. For the first time it was taken by the Greeks on November 8. What will now be its fate. In a short time we shall know.

For the first time in her life she stood at the railway station about to make a trip. She was much agitated. Gazing about, her eyes fell on the train and announced as "the friend in need."

"Young man," she spoke, "can you tell me where to get my ticket?"

"Right there at the ticket window," he replied, jerking his thumb, "through the pigeonhole."

She regarded the hole and the train announcer. Her face grew crimson at the fancied insult.

"You be a— she yelled, as she recovered her breath. "How on earth am I to get through that hole? I ain't no pigeon."

GOVERNOR SULZER

Maine View of His Case and The Story of How Impeachment Came About

(Bangor Commercial)

Whatever may be the outcome of the impeachment trial in the case of Governor Sulzer of New York, it is fair to predict that his political career has ended for he has lost the confidence of the people. The case is yet to be tried, but none of the men who have been the object of support are calling upon Sulzer to resign as his easiest course, ere have been few great cases in the it in which the accused, before conviction, appears to have so thoroughly lost the public confidence.

Governor Sulzer, until very recently, one of the big men of the country, has a large following, drawn to him principally by reason of his fight against Tammany. Mr. Sulzer denies that he has taken any illegal action, but it has already been established that contributions were made to his campaign fund were not acknowledged in his statement. The other charge he diverted to his private stock enterprises, funds entrusted to him in part, of certain political principles, claiming to be an exemplar of these virtues.

has not been proven, but has certainly been strongly borne in upon the public mind.

A large part of the confidence which the public has reposed in Governor Sulzer has been bred by his continual denunciation of improper political methods. He has seemingly set his standard high and has been unsparring in his criticism of others. Since he fell out with the Tammany machine there has been little in the way of denunciation that he has left unsaid.

Sulzer posed as better than his party, as better than the politicians, who were responsible for his elevation to the governorship of a great state, and it has been his wont, recently, to revile Tammany and Tammany leaders as dishonest, and this, too, if the evidence already brought is true, while his own pockets were stuffed with money diverted from contributions to his campaign.

What hypocrisy is here!

It appears also that Sulzer perjured himself in swearing to a statement of campaign contributions and expenses that was false. These offenses are all the more conspicuous when committed by the highest officer of the state. Whether Sulzer loses the governorship or not, his career will be a lesson to others in high places, and should teach all that hypocrisy any more than crimes cannot be indulged in with impunity.

If the charges made against Sulzer are proven he will have sunk to a level far below that of those political opponents whom he has consistently condemned, for they have not attempted to capture, but to take honest and proper living by claiming to be an exemplar of these virtues.

The influence of powerful friends and his own high office have proven unavailing to save Governor Sulzer from impeachment, indicating that the influence of high officials and money for letting off wrongdoers is less potent in New York state than in some other states, professing higher standards of morality.

A wealthy land owner in England affected with the rare Japanese garden, invited the Japanese ambassador to luncheon and afterward showed him round the gardens, and greenhouses, keeping the Japanese garden till the last as a delightful surprise.

When after admiring the beauty of all the other gardens, the ambassador was at last taken to the imitation of the gardens of his own fowery land he leaves up his hands in enthusiastic delight. "Ah," he exclaimed, "this is wonderful! We have nothing like this in Japan!"

A Bank Manager of an Important Branch of one of the Leading Banks, being under the influence of the Drink Habit, would lose his position if he did not give up drink.

He fortunately took the Gatlin Treatment in time, and after only 3 days at the Institute, returned to his position a cured man.

In a letter he writes—"The Gatlin Treatment is certainly wonderful, and instead of being dull, I now transact all my work with a clear head, and business instead of being a burden as before, is now a pleasure to me."

This Treatment for the Liquor Habit never fails to cure in 3 days, leaving an abhorrence for drink in any form.

Percy Haswell Is Rage in Toronto

Is Closing Her Fourth Successful Season There—St. John to See English Theatrical Companies

Percy Haswell, who was so popular here some years ago is the whole rage in Toronto. An exchange from there says: There is not much rest in sight for Miss Haswell this season. When that Toronto favorite completes her fourth successful season here at the end of the present month she goes straight to Cleveland, where she has leased the Empire Theatre for an indefinite run of stock productions. The theatre is to be renamed Percy Haswell's Theatre. It is all traces of its career as a burlesque house will be speedily removed. Percy Haswell's name over the door will denote that over-night is what Cleveland authorities declare.

For Miss Haswell is well known in Cleveland as it was there seven years ago she and William Farnum and their company played twenty-six weeks successfully to capacity houses, one of the most auspicious records in Cleveland theatrical history. Bruce McKee, the former Harkins' favorite here, is at the head of the New York cast of "Nearly Married," opening this week. John Wesley is with him. English Companies Coming According to an announcement made this week St. John will be among other Canadian cities to see some good English companies this season. In the belief that there is room in Canadian territory for the expansion of English managerial activity, a trio of Britainers have linked up under the name of the E. Oswald Brooks Booking Agency, with offices at 442 Birk Building, Montreal—respectively, E. Oswald Brooks, Horace Judge, and Basil Horsfall.

For the past twelve months Mr. Brooks has been touring Canada, getting acquainted with managers from Halifax to Vancouver, and with all the representative firms in New York City, and he feels that this agency may well call itself the only British agency capable of offering Canada as a whole to the extensive theatrical experience in British theatres, having managed three London theatres, dozens of first-class music halls, and for six years (1904-1910) owned and managed the Grand Theatre, Swansea, under the Oswald-Brooks direction. The first company to open in Canada will be Lawrence Brough and his all-English combination, directed by the late Sir Francis Bernard's farcical comedy, "The Lady of the Lake," which is scheduled to play at the K. & E. house at Montreal for Labor Day and all week, proceeding thence, by easy stages, across the Canadian continent, to Vancouver, and back again to Halifax, N. S., by about the end of April, 1914. The second will be Matheson Lang, Hatin Britton, and London company, which follows the same route, opening at Montreal in early October. The third on the list is the Thomas Quinlan English Opera Company, consisting of two hundred members, orchestras of seventy-five pieces, international stars like Felice Lynce, John Coates, and no less than three ex-Corvetts, and carries ten baggage carriages of scenery and properties. The Quinlan Company started on its second world trip last May from Liverpool, and has already played all through South Africa, leaving Cape Town July 18 for Melbourne (Australia) to fulfill an eight weeks' season in that city, and an eight weeks' season in Sydney, N. S. W., under the direction of the J. C. Williamson syndicate. From Sydney they sail direct to Vancouver, and open the Canadian tour at Victoria, B. C., January 29, proceeding across Canada, with halts only at Vancouver, Calgary, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Regina, Winnipeg, Fort William, Sudbury, Peterborough, Toronto (three weeks' season), Hamilton, London, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal (three weeks' season), St. John, N. B., and Halifax, N. S.

Arrangements have been concluded whereby many of the most prominent of British players will undertake tours of Canada under the direction of this agency, and, although no doubt the agency will have some imitators endeavoring to take advantage of its missionary enterprise.

Will clean your hair thoroughly, leave it soft, silky, glossy and full of vitality, and do it in fifteen minutes. Washing leaves the hair dry, hard, brittle, metallic and difficult to manage. Messagés Round The World After Costello

"Movie" Actress Run Over by Automobile While Acting Before Camera—Mary Fuller in Maine

A call has been sent out by one of the London music halls for Maurice Costello, a favorite picture actor. The nearest Marinelli agency can get to him is Japan. Costello is traveling around the world, making film for his firm while en route with the party.

Eleanor Woodruff, who is now with the American Pathe Company, and who was seen last winter in the Five Frankforters, was painfully injured recently while acting before the camera at Englewood, N. J. She suffered many bruises but her physician hopes for a speedy recovery. David V. Wall and Mary Pickford will be seen as leads in a four-reel adaptation of In the Bishop's Carriage. Ed Porter is the director. Mr. Wall feels that in his part in this picture he has found more genuine opportunity than in any other role during his entire film experience. Mary Fuller, Augustus Phillips, Walter Edwin and the other Edison players in Maine, are combining hard work with a great deal of fun. Miss Fuller has her own saddle horse, and divides all her spare time between riding and swimming. One film under preparation required that Miss Fuller learn to sail a boat; and, when it became known, every maid in Belfast, from the age of sixteen to fifty, placed his boat and his vast experience at her disposal. As a result, Miss Fuller has added sailing to her long list of accomplishments.

One of the most important moves made in several years, affecting the Southern California picture industry, was recorded last week when Frank A. Garbutt, H. Kullish and Robert Bosworth formed the Bosworth Co. Inc., to produce and manufacture feature films. Immediately after the formation of the company, Bosworth, who has been producing director at the Selig plan here for the last four years, signed a contract with Jack London, the noted author, for the exclusive production of a film, past, present and future. The first London release will be "The Sea Wolf" and already the schooner "Santa Rosa" has been chartered for five weeks' cruise. London's first experience with the film business was during his recent tour of the South Sea Islands in that section and developed into a feature reel. They were first shown at Critterton, New York, a short "tit" back.

Garbutt is a millionaire who occasionally takes an active interest in racing, yachting and monopolizing. He still is a prominent business man of Los Angeles. His association with the firm precludes any possibility of a financial shortage. Bosworth is credited with having an intimate knowledge of the film business and will devote his time to the direction and production of the firm's output.

of the high backed, richly carved dining chairs, and the curtains at the windows, are of Chinese embroideries in black and blue. Tall vases on the mantle carry out the design and tell their story of ancient romance. But any latent desire Miss Anglin may have entertained to invade the repeat what Husband Howard Hull is at no pains to conceal, his belief in the supremacy of Margaret Anglin as an artist of versatility.

There may be one or more who can play Electra as well as Miss Anglin. There may be one or more who can play Rosalind as well, or Lady Macbeth and the rest, but it affirms without a shadow of successful contradiction that no actress can play all five as well as Margaret Anglin can.

Philip Bartholomew's new piece, called "Kiss Me Quick," tried out in Boston this week, is a farce in three acts, depicting some of the adventures of a moving picture troupe who are posing for a photo-play country estate near New York.

"Try it on Chicago," is the principle what the outcome of this country. On the actual originator of the idea, he is reported to have said that he is a comedy for adults only. She hopes to bring it into New York. As for details, here is the explanation: "The dramatist allowed the curtain to rise on a lady's boudoir where she had time to put her clothes on, and of course, the play could not be stopped for a little thing like that."

Bertha Kalich will be seen in this city the coming season in her new play, "Her Son's Wife." Marie Tempest recently expressed herself on modern audiences: "At present," she said, "the public insist on their favorites appearing in certain types of parts, but I think in time they would come to recognize acting as an art, independent of the fact that So-and-so is a 'dear' and some one else a 'perfect duck'."

Of a former local favorite appearing in the new play "Potash and Perlmutter," in New York, Variety says, Joseph Kilgour will play the lawyer with the spouts of Latin, but the character, different from the stories, was sort of villainous.

Among the plays which Forbes-Robinson will present on his coming American tour are "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," "The Light That Failed," and the dramas of his Shakespearean repertory.

"It is all very well to have a press agent blow your horn for you," he declares, "but before he can trumpet you to fame you have got to raise the wind to furnish the power."

This is a critique which Alice Neilson received in a Wisconsin town. "The music was of the low, concert variety, with a notch in the side, against which she leaned from time to time, with telling effect."

The chief feature in the play "The Newlyweds and their Baby," at the Opera House next month, are Mr. and Mrs. Newwired, Napoleon Newwired, the Baby; and the Big Black Bear. The story is fantastic but the complications are said to be numerous and comical that an entertainment of the Joliet kind results. It appears that the museum in which he exhibits a midge, Hal or Knott Munch, has a sort of museum in which he exhibits a midge, Hal or Knott Munch. This attraction, wearing the name of the routine, runs away from the museum, talking with him the Big Black Bear, which is his constant companion. Professor Nichol, facing certain ruin if he cannot find another attraction to take the place of Major Knott Munch, learns that the son of Mr. and Mrs. Newwired looks precisely like his kidnaping the Baby, aided thereto by the unconscious Mrs. Newwired, and for a time there is a flurry of excitement over the loss of the Baby and the efforts to recover him. Everyone suspects everyone else of having a hand in the kidnaping and matters are put right only after the most hopeless misunderstandings are brought about.

Nat Goodwin has announced that he has about concluded his book dealing with his numerous marriages and divorces. It is to be a large volume, containing about half a million words. The celebrated actor says that it will be the most complete work on the subject ever written and should go down into history as a classic.

Margaret Anglin Called from the Opera House Programme—Margaret Anglin has been realizing a life wish. We may not if we put it in speech class it as an ambition. She has always wanted time to do a little housekeeping. Her house at 87 East Ninety-third street, she has furnished to her own taste, and surveying it and drawing a breath of content before beginning her labors of preparation for five productions next season, she has said: "I think I have not done so very badly. Do you?" The house is characteristic of Miss Anglin's quiet, scholarly tastes. A note that is striking and unique is a Chinese dining-room. The portieres, upholstery,

Suicide of Traveler Who Tried to Journey First Class — Novel League Formed at Dijon to Ensure Greater Respect For The Dead

(Times' Special Correspondence) Paris, Aug. 15.—"Kill that Fly!" is the latest official order of M. Henson, Prefect of Police.

At the instigation of the Council of Public Hygiene war has been declared against the common house-fly, and five hundred thousand death warrants for "musca domestica" have been issued by the government.

These circulars, which set forth in detail all the dangers of the germ-carrying insect, have not only been placed in the hands of the housewife, but the heads of the administrative departments, the directors of the public schools, lycées, and colleges have likewise received copies in order that recruits for the campaign may be enlisted.

AGREED WITH BABY This Mother Found The Right Food For Her Baby Girl.

Mrs. Arthur Prince of Meaford, Ont., writes, on Sept. 12th, 1911: "Some time ago, you were good enough to send me a sample of Neave's Food. Baby liked it so well and it agreed with her, so I am using it right along and think it is excellent."

"I have a friend with a very delicate baby. She cannot nurse it and has tried six different foods, but it does not thrive at all—is always sick and troubled with indigestion. I strongly recommended your food. Will you please send her a sample?"

Mrs. Prince wrote again on Sept. 27th, 1911: "My friend's baby has grown wonderfully. I can scarcely credit it. Her next baby, which she expects in five months, will be fed on Neave's Food right from the start—she thinks it is so good."

Mothers and prospective mothers may obtain a free tin of Neave's Food and a valuable book "Hints About Baby" by writing Edwin Duley, 14 Front Street East, Toronto, who is the Agent for Canada. (Mention this paper.)

Neave's Food is sold in 1 lb. air-tight tins by all Druggists in Canada.

CATHEDRAL LIGHTING A BIG CONTRACT; THE WORK DESCRIBED

Large Globes at Entrances To Grounds—Church Interior Brilliant on Altar, Pillars, Rafter and in Organ Loft

The big contract of lighting the Cathedral in Waterloo street will soon be finished. About a month or possibly a little more, will see the work of the contractor, William O'Leary, of Montreal, and his men, finished, and the great church will be lighted as never before, and in a manner which is expected to give great satisfaction to all who visit it. Inside and outside the building lights are to be placed.
Every entrance to the church is to be furnished with improved lighting, and the outside, where the steps are located as well as at the lower entrance, is to be equipped with iron pillars on which big round globes will stand. There will be lights outside and inside each door. The whole interior is to be thoroughly illuminated, from the organ loft to the windows at the back of the altar.
The seventeen massive rafters along the ceiling, at about sixty feet from the floor of the church, will each have a case with eleven electric globes attached, each with a reflector. It will not be necessary to turn all these shafts light in force at once as the big switch-board which will be placed behind the altar and from which all lighting moves, will be directed, will be so constructed that as many lights as may be desired may be turned on at once. The giant pillars inside the Cathedral will each have electric lights about the same part as where the gas fixtures are now when established and replaced by more modern and elaborate ones for electricity.
In the choir loft there will be noticeable a vast improvement in lighting and the altar will be made brilliant, while the side-chapel, the vestry. In fact every portion of the church will receive capable attention. A test is made of each fixture when established.

The work is difficult, and in some parts dangerous, but there are efficient workmen on the job, one of them in particular having wide experience in this kind of lighting, having been with Contractor O'Leary when the latter had the illuminating of Notre Dame, Montreal, a contract which required a great deal longer time than this one, even though the local work is regarded as a big undertaking.

THE ANIMALS IN ROCKWOOD PARK

Here is the List and There is Hope That More Will be Presented—Quite a Collection

Many recent visitors have expressed their appreciation of the additions which have been made to the collection of animals in the park. The limited means at the disposal of the management, coupled with the large area of ground to be covered, and the fact that the funds have practically to be divided between the keep proper and the maintenance of the park, have necessarily restricted efforts made in this above direction, and had it not been for some of the animals presented through the kindness of some of our citizens, the collection would have been much less complete than it is at present. Prospective donors may rest assured that the park attendants will treat with the utmost kindness all animals entrusted to their care.

As is usual with such collections metallic labels which were presented by John Magee have been prepared, the work of sign painting thereon being done by John Johnston & Son. They design first the ordinary or common name; then the zoological or scientific nomenclature and then the country of origin, or native place. These labels have been fixed in a prominent position on the respective cages or enclosures in the selection of these names Dr. Bridges, Dr. Matthew, Professor Cox, A. Gordon Leavitt and finally Dr. Quigley, K. C., were consulted. It is thus believed that the nomenclature is correct and complete with the exception of that of the large native turtle which was presented by Rev. Mr. Sampson and which has not yet been decided on. The list does not include the swans, ducks and geese as they are not confined to one locality. The place of origin of the swans is the province of Ontario though one of the parents was captured in Montana—the other on the boundary between North Ontario and Manitoba.

ROCKLANDS VS. EAST END TEAMS

The members of the Rocklands who showed up well in the Intermediate League this summer, winning six straight games, and losing two through bad weather and the fact that some of their best men were not in the line-up, are anxious to test their mettle against the teams of the East End league. If games can be arranged, T. A. Ramsay, captain of the Rocklands, is endeavoring to arrange a series between the teams of the East End league and the Rocklands, and if he is successful it is expected that the following matches will be the result next week:—Rocklands vs. Alerts, Monday night; Commercial, Wednesday; Glenwood, Thursday night, and the Nationals, Saturday afternoon.
