SAINT JOHN, N. B., MAY 18, 1925.

LOYALIST DAY.

Saint John, which is fortunate beyond most cities in the inspiring character of its history, to-day celebrates again—and all too quietly—the landing of the Loyalists who came here in 1783, and whose influence upon this community and this province has been great beyond measure.

INFORMAL ENTHUSIASTS.

Mr. John Townie of Iowa gains honorary notoriety because on Thursday last he broke through a little cove of attendants surrounding the exhibits at the Wembley Exhibition, and ran out his hand toward King George and exclaimed: "How do you do, your Majesty?"

IT ALL DEPENDS.

A tariff commission, it appears from the American experience, is damned by high tariff men for not recommending more protection, by low tariff men for recommending too much, and ignored by the party in power unless its recommendations square with the administration's policy.

Another Man Who Won the War.

Admiral Fiske's assertion that he won the war in spite of all that President Wilson and Secretary Daniels could do to stop it, only needed the atmosphere provided by an intelligent and a cracker barrel and a group of old veterans to get more fun out of a war than Admiral Fiske is getting out of this most recent one.

Read News To Keep Young.

"I read the news to keep young," Chauncey Depew told the reporters much upon whose ox is gored, or, as one philosopher has said, "every man is a protectionist in his own business and a free trader in other people's. Not every man is so, but most are."

For every flag seen flying in Saint John this morning there should be hundreds blazing in the sun in honor of the Loyalists.

Odds and Ends

"You never know what you'll find among the odds and ends."—From "Notes by a Wavaler."

Sir John A. (Toronto Globe.)

Some anxiety is expressed by a recent biographer lest the proper place of a man like Sir John A. Macdonald be not realized by future generations. It is contended by Adrian Macdonald in his new book, "Canadian Portraits" (Lyleston Press), that Macdonald's personality, "so full and rich, is being completely lost in the confusion of constitutional history." He pictures "an unvalued grave in a village cemetery, two or three lines of granite tablets that are all too seldom of the obelisk, a page or two in our histories from which the schoolboy gathers that 'Sir John A. Macdonald put through Confederation and the Pacific Railroad,' and a few stone tablets in the parks for the sparrows to light on."

A STORY WITHOUT WORDS

"Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star." (Boston Monitor.)

For years children have innocently prattled, "Twinkle, twinkle, little star, how I wonder what you are, up above the world so high, like a diamond in the sky." This justifiable curiosity, however, the latest information concerning the stars by no means satisfies.

AN OLD-FASHIONED REMEDY. STYES on the eyes are painful. Also they detract very much from the appearance. There is an old-fashioned remedy for styes which is said to be very effective. Any mother can prepare this remedy in a few minutes' time. Put a teaspoonful of black tea in a small bag, pour on it enough boiling water to moisten it. Then place this poultice on the eye while it is warm. Another lotion for styes may be made of camphor, one ounce, and muricic of morphia, one grain. Tincture of iodine is an effective remedy. The lids should be held apart by the thumb and index finger of the left hand while the iodine is painted over the inflamed part with a fine camel's hair pencil. Do not let the lids come together until the part touched is dry. A few such applications in 24 hours is sufficient.

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON.

MRS. CUCKOO PROMISES TO DO BETTER. Nancy and Nick and Doctor Bill all listened carefully to Mrs. Cuckoo's story. "Yes," said she, "we have to borrow the nests of our friends to lay our eggs in, because we are in England such a short time that we have no time for nest building. In four months our children have to be big enough and strong enough to fly away to Africa with us—a thousand or more miles to spend the winter. Otherwise they would freeze." "I never thought of it," said Doctor Bill. "I never thought of it that way before. But do tell us what happened to you, Mrs. Cuckoo? How did you get hurt?" "Well," said Mrs. Cuckoo, "when I got to England I began to look around for a place to bring up my family—or places. I mean, for I lay about seven good-sized eggs and one small nest, wouldn't begin to hold them. "So I found Mrs. Yellow-hammer's nest with one egg in it. She was out, so I laid an egg beside her and left it. I always choose a nest with one or two eggs in rather than an empty one, because I know that the mother will return soon and take care of my egg along with hers. "Then the next day I found a chat's nest and laid another egg in it before Mrs. Chat got back. "Then I found a sparrow's nest—a field sparrow. The next one was a tit-lark's nest, and I think I also found a wren's nest. "What happened then?" asked Nick, who had never heard anything like this before, although he knew a lot about birds. "Well," sighed Mrs. Cuckoo. "I'll tell you. The other birds never knew the difference and sat on my eggs as well as their own, and after a bit my little cuckoos hatched out along with all the little sparrows and wrens and chats and titlarks and yellow hammers and linnets and what not. I was very proud of them because they were so much bigger and fatter than the others, and ate ten times as much. "They were cute, too, the little rascals. "They went on Mrs. Cuckoo proudly. "What do you think they did? When there wasn't enough food for everybody, each of my children managed to get the other little birds on their shoulders one by one and give them a pitch out of the nest. "After that they got all the food for themselves because the mother birds never seemed to know the difference and kept on feeding them. One young cuckoo fills a nest anyway—there isn't room for more. I am very proud of my children."

BILIOUS and SICK HEADACHES ARE CAUSED BY CONSTIPATION

Once you allow your bowels to become constipated you will become troubled with bilious and sick headaches, and for relief you must help your liver to remove the poisonous bile that is circulating in the blood and upsetting the entire biliary system. For this purpose there is no other remedy so equal.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER-PILLS

Mrs. L. G. Nethercott, R. R. No. 1, Chatham, Ont., writes: "I was awfully troubled with constipation, and sick and bilious headaches accompanied with severe vomiting spells which made me very miserable. I tried different remedies, without relief, but since taking Laxa-Liver Pills the headaches and constipation have disappeared, and I am very thankful for what they have done for me."

WIFE COMES TO AID OF HUSBAND'S SLAYER, ON TRIAL FOR HER LIFE

Mrs. Ruth Cantelmo Ready to Prove That Spouse Was Cruel Man.

By GENE COHN.
PATERSON, N. J., May 18.—The court record reads: People vs. Mildred
Sage.
But they are placing on trial here a dead man whose body lies in Potter's field.
Two women charge that he was not fit to live. One is his wife and one the girl for whom he left his wife.
Thus to the many peculiar problems of social geometry, is added one in which the opposing angles of a triangle meet to form a straight line to freedom.
According to the traditions of fiction, trama and life Mrs. Ruth Cantelmo should be the embittered and revengeful antagonist of the attractive Mildred
Sage.
Instead she is the plying and sympathetic friend of the girl on trial for the murder of Samuel Cantelmo. If Mildred Sage escapes prison she can thank the wife of the man she killed.
Mrs. Cantelmo is the chief witness for the defense. She will brand the dead man as a brute and thus help to prove that it was brutality which led Mildred Sage to fire four shots into the man whose common law wife she had been for several years.
"I knew Mildred at school," comments Mrs. Cantelmo. "She is a nice girl and she shot straight with me. She fell in love with my husband, without knowing he was married. When she found it out she did the square thing.
She sat down and wrote me a note telling me she had just found out about his marriage and saying she would give him up. But I had had plenty of him. I wrote back and told her we were welcome to him. I kept her note and will produce it at the trial to help her."
"Why do I help her? Because I know the kind of man my husband was."
The shooting took place in a tea-room at Little Falls, N. J., which had been run jointly by Miss Sage and Cantelmo.
After leaving high school the girl started a tea room in her home town. The enterprise prospered. She decided to branch out. Then she met Cantelmo and fell in love with him.
Previously Cantelmo had worked in a factory at Red Bank, N. J. There he had met and married Ruth, brown-eyed and motherly factory girl.
"He was bending over with a knife at her throat," is the melodramatic

Mildred Sage on trial for her life at Paterson, N. J.

N. B. PREMIER IS SATISFIED WITH PROGRESS MADE

Hon. P. J. Veniot Speaks in Montreal Regarding Grand Falls Plans

NO FEAR OF MARKET FOR POWER, HE SAYS

Away Today to Ottawa to Confer With King and Others in Cabinet.

MONTREAL, May 17.—Hon. P. J. Veniot, premier of New Brunswick, will leave Montreal tomorrow for Ottawa, where he and Hon. Ivan C. Rand, attorney-general, and Hon. J. E. Michaud, member of the New Brunswick government without portfolio, will have conferences tomorrow with Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, the prime minister, and other members of the federal cabinet.

Following the adjournment of the sessions in Montreal, the International Joint Waterways Commission on Saturday at noon, Premier Veniot and counsel for the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission went into conferences with representatives of the various interests which will be affected by the Grand Falls development and with whom agreements have been in the course of completion. These conferences continued all Saturday afternoon. All agreements for settlement of the various claims, which have been under consideration, will, it is believed, be completed within a short time.

PROGRESS SATISFIES HIM.

Premier Veniot in an interview with the Canadian Press this evening, expressed himself as "very well satisfied" with the progress that had been made, both at the public session of the Joint Waterways Commission and also at the other conferences which have been held in Montreal, but he declined to make any statement as to the probable date of the actual commencement of development operations at Grand Falls.

DOESN'T FEAR FOR MARKET.

As to the market for the power to be developed at Grand Falls, Premier Veniot said he only wished that the initial development would be 100,000 horsepower instead of from 50,000 to 60,000 horsepower, for he said there was no fear for the market. Referring to statements which have been published respecting the liability upon the province which the government's hydro plans would entail by way of increasing the funded debt, Premier Veniot pointed out that the net funded debt of New Brunswick is under $30,000,000, seven or eight millions of which is provided for by way of interest and sinking fund without taking one cent of the yearly ordinary revenue of the province.

SINKING FUNDS PROVIDED.

Every dollar of the balance of the province's debt, except for the Saint John Valley Railway indebtedness, is being amply provided for, he said, by sinking funds sufficient to liquidate the whole at maturity. That the financial standing of the province was excellent, he said, was evident by the price secured for New Brunswick's latest bond issue.

"The Grand Falls development project," the premier stated, "will be no burden on the ordinary revenues of the province, as the earnings will be sufficient to meet interest and sinking funds as well as maintenance, operation and depreciation costs."

TO HELP INDUSTRY.

"This has proven true in the case of the hydro development which the province has already carried out at Musquash, notwithstanding false representations which have been made in certain newspapers, which were evidently acting in the interests of the opponents of the policy of public ownership which the government has adopted. I am fully convinced that the development of Grand Falls will stimulate industry to such an extent that new Brunswick will benefit from industrial activity such as was never dreamed of before. The undertaking, to my mind, is the only commercial salvation for our province."

MANY MEET IN WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS

Dr. H. A. Farris, Home From Montreal, Tells of Large Canadian Convention.

The value of public health campaigns has been so well recognized by men in whose business public health is a factor of commercial value that an important insurance company, the Sun Life, is financing a tuberculosis case finding campaign at Three Rivers, Que. When the company tendered a luncheon to 150 of the delegates to the Canadian National Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis in Montreal last week the company freely offered considerable financial aid for further public health work along similar lines.

Dr. H. A. Farris, superintendent of the Saint John County Hospital, who is a member of the executive of the national association, and attended the meeting, considered this attitude on the part of the insurance company to be one of the most hopeful signs of the times.

TALKS OF CONVENTION.

Speaking of the convention last night, Dr. Farris said that it had been most successful and the attendance had been probably the second largest in the history of the association. The sessions were held in the Mount Royal Hotel Thursday and Friday and the delegates were taken on a trip to Three Rivers to see the methods in the case-finding campaign there.

Among the papers read at the convention was that of Dr. Jost, health officer in Nova Scotia, who gave a remarkable talk on statistics and charts concerning the tuberculosis death rate in Nova Scotia where the rate is on the decline. Dr. Ferguson, from Saskatchewan, struck a popular note when he made a strong case for the general practitioner, advocating more dependence be placed on the general practitioner in tuberculosis campaigns.

TRAVELING DIAGNOSTICIAN.

Dr. Brink, traveling diagnostician in Ontario, gave an interesting talk on the work which he is doing in Ontario, having a traveling diagnostician as consultant for the general practitioner, Dr. Farris said, was fairly unanimously conceded to be the best method of dealing with tuberculosis.

ON THE EXECUTIVE.

Dr. Latt, of British Columbia, upheld the contention that climate is of very little value in the treatment of tuberculosis, although he thought there might be some few cases in which climate might have some beneficial effects.

Dr. Farris was re-elected a member of the executive and Dr. L. G. Pinault, of Campbellton, was added to the executive. Dr. Parfitt retired from the presidency and Dr. Rousseau, dean of Laval University, was elected to head the organization for the next two years.

considerable difficulty in parking the many automobiles. The north and south sides of the King square were filled to capacity. A number in Market street and several owners found it necessary to park in King street east

The Amount of Energy You Command Depends on the Foods You Eat

SUCCESS today depends, more than ever before, upon vitality—upon the amount of energy you command. And the chief source of energy and vitality, say health experts, is your daily food.

Yet—and this is what doctors stress most strongly of all—food may have just the opposite effect if it does not come to you in the proper form. The most nourishing foods may become your chief source of lack of energy and vitality, of "break-downs", of even acute or chronic disease. The important elements which they contain, which should build you up and renew your body cells, may be contained in them in such a form that it is almost impossible for your body to make use of them. The carbohydrates, as these precious elements are called, must come to you prepared for quick, easy digestion.

In Grape-Nuts you get the nourishment of whole wheat and malted barley—abounding in carbohydrates—in the most nourishing form of all. Grape-Nuts is slow-baked for 22 hours, during which the carbohydrates are transformed into dextrins—a form in which they are ready for instant assimilation.

Grape-Nuts is ideal for breakfast or lunch. Its crisp, crunchy kernels—its rich, full flavor—will stimulate your appetite and add zest to the whole meal. Serve Grape-Nuts with milk or cream just as it comes from the package. It costs very little—four teaspoonfuls, sufficient for each person, costs less than one cent. Sold by grocers everywhere in wax-wrapped packages—always fresh and crisp.

LOYALIST DAY IS PULPIT THEME

Rev. C. G. Lawrence in Trinity Speaks of 142nd Anniversary

School Holiday in Saint John—Three Memorials in Remembrance.

On this day 142 years ago the United Empire Loyalists landed on these rocky shores and with steadfastness of purpose began the arduous task of making new homes in a strange land. Their ardent devotion to their King sent them forth from a settled land what is now the United States, to brave the hardships of pioneering in what was then almost a wilderness. To honor the memory of these Loyalist founders of Saint John today is a holiday in the public schools of the city.

Four memorials have been placed to remind both citizens and strangers within the gates of the city's founders. One is the boulder recently placed by the Historic Sites and Monuments Committee of the Dominion and located in Market square, the landing place of the Loyalists.

The second is the fountain at the head of King street which commemorates the Loyalist women who suffered extreme hardships with untold bravery. Upon the fountain the Saint John High School Alumnae has this year placed a laurel wreath as a tribute of remembrance. The third is the Chimes in Trinity church, the fourth is a tablet in Trinity church erected by Loyalist Chapter, I. O. D. E.

Apart from the school holiday the only observance of Loyalist Day planned for this year is the "Loyalist Day" evening of the Women's Canadian Club at which Dr. Archibald MacLellan, of Dalhousie University, Halifax, is to be the speaker, taking as his subject three movements in Canadian literature with special reference to the influence of the Loyalists.

Following the established custom, the service in Trinity, the church of the Loyalists, yesterday morning was specially commemorative of them. Rev. C. Gordon Lawrence, the rector, himself a descendant of the Loyalists, took for the theme of his sermon the story of Jacob in the wilderness using a stone for his pillow and after seeing the vision of angels erecting an altar to God. Mr. Lawrence compared the lot of the Loyalists to that of Jacob, saying that they also had made a serious break with the past and could not return whence they came.

LITTLE SETTLED.

The Loyalists, he said, had found themselves in what was almost an unbroken wilderness and they were very lonely. The great majority of them had been well to do, highly educated and refined. Many were graduates of King's College, which is now Columbia University, of Harvard. Indeed Archdeacon Raymond had said that there were at that time more graduates of Harvard in New Brunswick than in all the States of the Union.

URGES IMITATIONS.

Mr. Lawrence referred to the Loyalists as having kept in touch with God as they entered the new land and said that in Saint John, Kingston and Annapolis the erection of a church was their first consideration. As Jacob had made stones his pillow and of stones had erected an altar to God, so the Loyalists had turned their hardships into blessings

PREACHER COUNSELS STUDENTS TO RETAIN MIGHTY CONVICTIONS

Spirit of Individual, Quickened by Power of God, World's Greatest Need, Says Rev. D. R. Sharpe in U. N. B. Baccalaureate Sermon

FREDERICTON, May 17—The baccalaureate sermon of the University of New Brunswick was delivered this morning at the Brunswick street Baptist church by Rev. D. R. Sharpe, M. A., B. D., in the presence of a congregation which filled the edifice. Rain which fell heavily in the morning retarded the proceedings to some extent.

The usual academic procession was formed prior to the service and marched to the church in academic costume. The members of the faculty, class of 1925 and undergraduate body sat together.

The pastor of the church, Rev. G. C. Warren, pronounced the invocation and assisted otherwise in the service.

IS U. N. B. GRADUATE.

The preacher is a graduate of the University of New Brunswick in arts of 1908 and of Newton Theological School in divinity of 1911. He was pastor for some time at Moose Jaw, Sask., and for some years was superintendent of Baptist Home Missions for Saskatchewan. Recently he has taken up work in Cleveland, Ohio.

Rev. Mr. Sharpe was introduced by the pastor and prefaced his sermon with a few words of greeting to the class of 1925 and of reminiscence of his own college days.

AGE OF TRANSITION.

He took no text but announced his subject "The character the age demands." He pointed out that the present was the age of transition, of change in the home, the marriage relation, the Bible, the Church, the school, the college, business, the social order. The acid test "does it serve" was being applied to each. The outworn was being discarded, that which served was being retained. The individual would be judged by his desire and capacity to service to his fellowmen and great characteristics would be required. Personality would be one of those outstanding, said the speaker, who declared that in its account of every great movement. Each would succeed just in the proportion as he was great in terms of personal worth and in the save from blue ruin, pessimism and from blind and foolish optimism. There should be no evadance of the difficult. The age called for a faith that sees, a courage that dares, a will that executes.

To succeed it would be necessary to form judgments in life in accordance with the standard of the spiritual rather than the material. The most successful person in a community was the one which has the most in the way of sterling character, who has the most manhood, who knew how to give himself away in unselfish service for his fellows, said Rev. Mr. Sharpe. He was a success whether rich or poor. Material property was not to be despised, but it is not the criterion by which man should be measured. The men faithful to the highest ideals was the success and the man faithless to these same ideals was the object failure.

RECOGNITION OF GOD.

The preacher proceeded to emphasize the necessity for the recognition of God. The successful man must put God above gold, character above cash, personality above property, life above livelihood.

In the home it would be the same. The happiest home was not that with the greatest material comforts but the one of which love reigned.

WORLD SITUATION.

"Look at the world's situation," said the speaker. "Labor and capital standing over against each other with eyes bloodshot with hatred and jealousy, tearing at each other's throats for supremacy. Race is set against race; east against west; rural against urban; alien against countryman."

"The church, the school, the home, a proper social and economic order along with many other factors, will do much, but I venture to suggest that the great force of all will be the individual spirit whose life is quickened by the power of God and who lives his or her life in the light of the principles of the great Teacher of Nazareth."

A person would be great in the proportion on which he was morally and spiritually strong, in which he combined in his own life those elements which fit for the performance of God-given tasks.

SPIRIT OF BROTHERHOOD.

The spirit of brotherhood, of sympathetic understanding, of good will and of love which is really Christianity would be necessary for real success in life. Real triumph in life would be produced by religion. It was not the special passport for a selected few nor a special form of insurance guaranteeing immunity from suffering in hell and joy in heaven. It was what Jesus meant when He said, "without Me you can do nothing."

True religion would do much toward solving the problems with which the world was confronted.

"As Joffre said to his men, 'March as far as you can; when you can no longer march, hold your ground, you are to die.' So the Great Captain of men's lives said to each one to march as far as possible in the face of every known wrong, every political evil, every economic ill, every social injustice," said Rev. Mr. Sharpe.

Then when one could no longer march the ground was to be held against compromise.

CALL TO MANHOOD.

Rev. Mr. Sharpe's eloquent peroration follows:

"So young friends, I think I hear matchless words from the great Captain of men's lives as He stands over you today. He is calling to you, 'March just as far as you can in the face of every known evil; just as far as you can against every political wrong, every economic ill, every social injustice, every bit of intellectual snobbishness, every religious sham and hypocrisy—march just as far as you can against hate, jealousy, war, intolerance and every evil, no matter how well organized or how deeply entrenched. And then when you can no longer march, hold your ground, be true, refuse to compromise, do not sell out, and when you can no longer stand die, for it is better to die a victor than live a coward."

BUILT FOR SLEEP

She tried Lux for dishwashing —now she uses it as a toilet soap, too

(Letter received from a lady in Ontario)

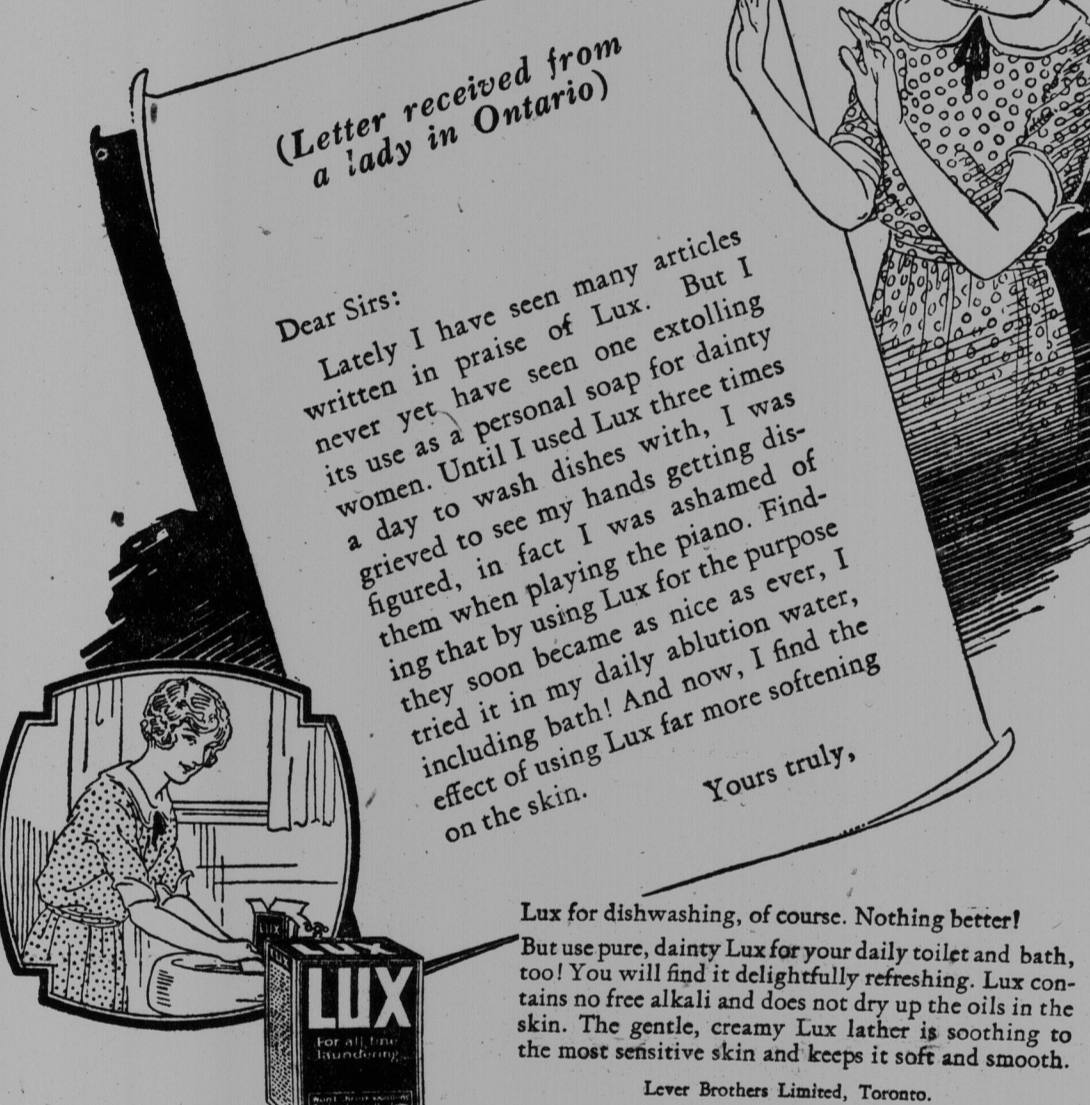

Dear Sirs:

Lately I have seen many articles written in praise of Lux. But I never yet have seen one extolling its use as a personal soap for dainty women. Until I used Lux three times a day to wash dishes with, I was a day to wash my hands getting disgraced, in fact I was ashamed of them when playing the piano. Finding that by using Lux for the purpose they soon became as nice as ever, I tried it in my daily ablution water, including bath! And now, I find the effect of using Lux far more softening on the skin.

Yours truly,

Lux for dishwashing, of course. Nothing better! But use pure, dainty Lux for your daily toilet and bath, too! You will find it delightfully refreshing. Lux contains no free alkali and does not dry up the oils in the skin. The gentle, creamy Lux lather is soothing to the most sensitive skin and keeps it soft and smooth.

Every growing child craves candy. Active little bodies demand sugar. But children's candy must be pure—and they should not overeat on sweets. Life Savers, the little candy mints with the hole (life saver shape) answer this problem in just the right way. They are china-hard and deliciously flavored. This means that Life Savers are eaten slowly. Children suck them to make those wonderful flavors last longer. Little tummies are not upset. And there is no sticky, sugary debris to cling to teeth and start decay. They're safe and wholesome. You may consciously be generous with Life Savers for they are the ideal candy for little folks.

Six flavors are displayed at all good stores so you may help yourself: Pep-o-mint, Wint-o-green, Cinnamon, Lic-o-ri-c, Clo-ve and Pe-let—Life Savers, Limited, Prescott, Ont.

THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, SAINT JOHN, N. B., MONDAY, MAY 18, 1925

60,000 SEE POPE PERFORM RITE OF CANONIZATION

Blessed Sister Therese of the Infant Jesus Sanctified at Rome

SOLEMN CEREMONY HELD AT ST. PETER'S

Governor-General of Irish Free State is Amongst the Witnesses.

ROME, May 17.—All the religious solemnity at the command of the Roman Catholic Church was displayed this morning at St. Peter's on the occasion of the canonization of Pope Pius in the presence of more than 60,000 persons of the ceremony of Sanctification of Blessed Sister Therese of the Infant Jesus, Carmelite Nun of Lisieux, France. Sister Therese was beatified in 1923.

All the hanging ornaments and lighting effects were arranged to preserve the original lines of the Basilica, which was filled with a profusion of natural and artificial roses, recalling the promise made by the saint a few days before her death—"after my death I will send down from heaven a rain of flowers."

PROCESSION ADVANCES

The procession advanced to the music of two male choirs and when a huge banner bearing the picture of the new saint appeared it was greeted with waves of applause. Then came the high dignitaries, including the prefects followed by the pontiff borne on the "sedes gestatoria," upon which he was enthroned and from which he bestowed the pontifical blessing on those assembled. The magnificence of the setting and the presence on the "sedes gestatoria" of the "fabelli"—huge fans carried on poles—gave an exotic and oriental quality to the scene.

Among those present in the royal box were many European royales.

In a specially reserved section was seated the Governor-General of the Irish Free State, Timothy Healy.

In addition to the score of cardinals residing in Rome, headed by the dean, Vanuelli, there were also present Cardinals Bourne, Archbishop of Westminster, and Dougherty, of Philadelphia, while in the procession immediately following the Pope was a group of 200 archbishops and bishops from all parts of the world.

SOLDIERS' PATRON SAINT.

Sister Therese was called "the Little Flower of Jesus" by many soldiers in the war, who took her as their patron saint. Thousands of French soldiers carried her picture in their army identification books. To them it was Therese who thrust back the Germans from the gates of Paris and saved Verdun.

She was beatified by Pope Pius on April 30, 1925.

BORN IN 1873.

Saint Therese was born at Lisieux, in France, on Jan. 2, 1873. In childhood she displayed remarkable evidence of sanctity and was possessed of angelic beauty. Many visions during her childhood and remarkable acts performed in response to her prayers are attributed to her.

By special permission of His Holiness Pope Leo XIII, in 1888, she entered the Carmelite order at Lisieux at the age of 16 years. She died Sept. 30, 1897.

Her sister, Celine, also a Carmelite nun, still lives. It is extremely unusual, if not altogether unprecedented, that saints are canonized within a century of their birth.

BLOODHOUNDS ON TRAIL OF ROBBERS

Detectives Also Secured to Combat Theft of Valuable Animals in P. E. I.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., May 17.—A pair of man-hunting bloodhounds and the services of the best detective agency in Canada was secured by the Charlottetown Fox Breeders' Protective Association, newly organized at a meeting of fox owners yesterday for the purpose of combating the constant thefts of valuable animals from the Prince Edward Island fox ranches.

Col. D. A. MacKinnon was elected president and Major T. B. Rogers, secretary-treasurer.

MODERN WORSHIP OF SUCCESS DESTRUCTIVE SWINDLE OF THE AGE

Baccalaureate Preacher at Mount Allison Says Doctrine of 'Getting On' With Specious Catchword, is at Bottom of 'Counsel of Death'

SACKVILLE, May 17.—"Believe me, this modern worship of success is the most destructive swindle with which a race has ever fooled itself. This doctrine of 'getting on' with its specious catchword 'there is plenty of room at the top' is at bottom a counsel of death."

So declared Rev. Richard Roberts, B. A., L. D. D., pastor of the American Presbyterian church, Montreal, in the baccalaureate sermon preached to the men and women of Mount Allison's graduating classes in the Charles Fawcett Memorial Hall here tonight.

ONLY ONE TOP.

There is only one top of the speaker continued, viz., the top of Calvary—the mount of sacrifice.

Dr. Roberts made a plea for service and sacrifice which impressed his audience in no uncertain manner.

"Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling. For it is God that worketh in you, both to will and to do of His good pleasure," was the text Dr. Roberts used in bespeaking work for the glory of God, and for no other end.

Possess the faith that will enhance and reinforce your faculties, clear the intellect, make imagination more sprightly; place God at the beginning of your ventures not at the end. Empty your soul of self, was his charge.

SLAVES OF THE CLOCK.

"It is part of our modern frailty that we are obsessed by time, declared Dr. Roberts. "We are the slaves of the clock. Portraits are weak in the sense of eternity and burdened by the feeling of the brevity and fragility of life and we have an obsession of haste and fever. We lack deliberateness and poise. It is curious that with all our labor saving devices, we have less leisure than our grandfathers. Under these conditions it is useless to expect goodness or truth or beauty in our work. We do not give the time to grow the pearls of character, the speaker said, in part, at the end of his address.

FOLLOW GOODNESS.

In conclusion Dr. Roberts said we may speak of the business of life as a partnership of which God is the senior partner, and with this indwelling of God one will discover that the true life is not the winning of mere tarnishable prizes of sensuality, but is following goodness, truth and beauty with a single eye, caring less for success or failure than for the pursuit, and seeking no praise or reward but the still small voice of approval that God will speak in the goal.

After the invocation by Rev. E. E. Graham, M. A., D.S.O., Rev. B. C. Borden, D.D., offered prayer, and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Richard Roberts.

REV. E. R. M. BRECKEN.

In the Methodist church this morning Rev. E. R. M. Brecken, B.A., B.D., a graduate of Mount Allison, of the class of 1902, the son of a former member of the theological faculty of the University, and until recently a missionary in China, preached to an audience that tared the capacity of the building.

He took as his subject, the Century Long, vital conflict between the ideal of self expression and the ideal of players as above, it is announced, will shortly tour the Maritimes.

P. T. EXHIBITION.

On Saturday morning a splendid exhibition of physical training was given by the academy. This consisted of bar and horse work, drills with Indian clubs and dumb-bells and pyramids. The exhibition was under the direction of instructor H. E. Jones, of the academy staff.

Later in Bethoven Hall of the Ladies' College an undergraduate recital was given by pupils of the Conservatory of Music.

The postponement of the closing exercises of the Academy and the Ladies' College from Monday as in previous years until Tuesday, makes with the convocation of the university, the closing dates of the three institutions all on the same day. Visitors are arriving a day or so later than in former years in consequence to take advantage of this change.

SIX YEARS SINCE 26TH REACHED HOME

May 17, 1919, Saw Big Demonstration of Welcome in Saint John.

Yesterday was the sixth anniversary of the homecoming of the 26th Battalion, New Brunswick's "Fighting 26th" which was given a splendidly enthusiastic reception on its return to Saint John in 1919. The citizens lined the streets along the entire route of march and so eager were they to get a vantage point where the returning soldiers could be seen that they had thronged the best locations hours before the train was expected to come in.

Military discipline could not restrain the popular sentiment and fathers and mothers, brothers and sisters, and sweethearts, too, were walking beside the soldiers on their tramp through the cheering crowds.

MEET NEXT MONTH

Canada Fisheries Association to Convene in Halifax—Will Visit Saint John.

The annual convention of the Canadian Fisheries Association for 1925 will be held in Halifax on June 22 and 23, it is announced in a recent letter sent out by J. A. Paulhus, of Montreal, president of the association.

Among the items on the agenda of the convention will be a cruise for members on one of the fishing trawlers operating out of Halifax, a tour of Halifax and its surrounding historical and beauty spots, a trip through the Annapolis Valley, where the fruit trees will be in bloom, a sail across the Bay of Fundy and a short stay in Saint John, where the members will inspect, among other things, the new Admiral Beatty Hotel.

RECEPTION ON SATURDAY

The grand reception in Bethoven Hall Saturday night was a happy affair for both visitors and present day students. The graduate recital of Friday evening given by Miss Gladys Renaud, was followed Saturday morning by the physical drill exercises of the academy and for the benefit of visitors the Mount Allison College players presented this afternoon their three act comedy, "The Romantic Age" in the Imperial Theatre.

Many visitors are in town, among them being Rev. Dr. Richard Roberts, pastor of the American Presbyterian church, Montreal, who will deliver the baccalaureate address tomorrow. Rev. Dr. B. C. Borden, ex-president of Annapolis Royal, N. S., and Rev. E. R. M. Brecken, late of China, who will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church tomorrow morning.

The guests at the reception this evening were received by Mrs. Hamilton Wiggle, Miss Annie Sprague, B. A., and Rev. Mr. Hamilton. A program for each of six topics was arranged as follows:

Violin trio, Misses Cabson, Reid and Wilson; vocal solo, Grace Young; reading, Grace Kirkpatrick; piano solo, Gladys Renaud; readings, Ruth Barras; violin duet, Jeanne Clarke, Florence Goodwin and Charles Wood.

PLAY PRESENTED.

The presentation of the college play, A. A. Milne's three-act comedy, "The Romantic Age," in the Imperial Theatre this afternoon, under the personal direction of Miss Ida M. Leslie, B. L. L., of the Mount Allison Department of Oratory, was notable for its fine acting. The lead was played by Albert W. Trueman, of Truro, N. S., and playing opposite was Miss Laura Welton, of Newcastle Bridge, N. B.

The cast of remaining characters was as follows: Lawton Scovill, Saint John, N. B.; Ella Rogers, Hopewell Hill, N. B.; Lucille Hodgson, Saint John, N. B.; Ernest N. Huestis, Saint John, N. B.; Dave McLeod, North Sydney, C. B.; G. W. McLachlan, Springhill, N. S.; Catherine Vites, Sackville, N. B.

Music was provided by the ladies' college orchestra, Miss Gladie Smith, director. The Mount Allison College

BRITISH EMPIRE UNDER DEMOCRATIC MONARCHY IS NEW DEFINITION FOR SYSTEM UNDER WHICH WE LIVE

King George and His Representatives -- Monarch is Democratic Man Loved by His People.

A democratic monarchy is the new definition of that which rules the British Empire. It has its head and its home in Britain and its representatives throughout its own Kingdoms and the other countries of the world.

It is titular chief at the moment is "George V., by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas, King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India." He was born June 3, 1865, and came to the throne in 1910.

King George is the ruler of Canada. The British North America Act, the Dominion's charter of Confederation, has this as its first clause in relation to executive power: "The Executive Government and Authority of and over Canada is hereby declared to continue and be vested in the Queen."

A preceding paragraph reads: "The Provisions of this Act referring to Her Majesty the Queen extend also to the Heirs and Successors of Her Majesty, Kings and Queens of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland."

These statements are explicit enough. But as a matter of actual practice Canada is governed by Canadians without regard to any other authority, except in so far as formal phenomena of certain occasions is concerned.

It is the old folks at home wonder why and wherefore Canada or some other self-governing section of the Empire does this or that in such another way, they know that it doesn't mean that the Dominion are going to cut the painter and drift off by themselves in an uncharted sea. The King worries least of all, because as a real democrat he understands democracy by within that category. A great soldier he has proved himself to be a tactician and diplomat in a sense of others, and not on his own initiative. The best tribute to his success, and the affection of Canadians for him, comes in the universal approval which has greeted the intimation that his term may be extended for another five years.

King George and Lord Byng have a mutual sympathy and liking for one another. His Majesty would be mightily pleased to affix his signature to a new contract. He knows that it would only be possible because of a request from Canada to the British Government that this be done. They both played well their parts in the Great War.

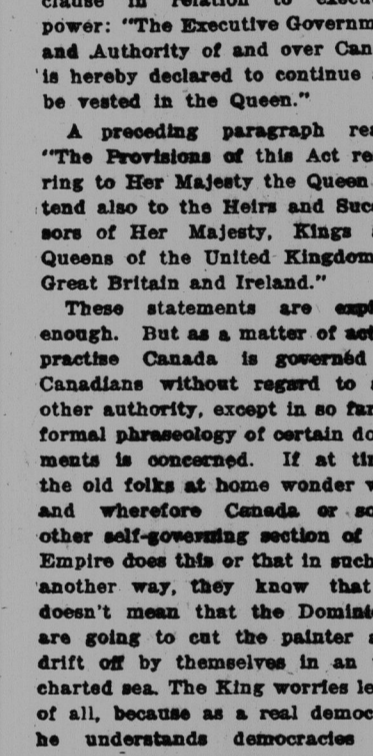

There were glimpses of him in that period that impressed themselves upon the mind of many. One thinks of a day in the fall of 1918 when he returned to London after a tour of the Western front. There was a light in his eyes that had not been there on his previous visit to the front.

cheeks, and none who stood with him thought him less kindly because of them. At Windsor, among his own tenants and in the town he loves well, one saw again how it is that the affections of the people are centred only by one of his secretaries.

The Governor-General Lord Byng has won his way to Canadian hearts in much the same way as the King has endeared himself to so many of his subjects, by a democratic simplicity which does not allow itself to become common.

quency. His name will ever be associated with the capture of Vimy Ridge by the Canadian corps, which he was then commanding. His handling of still larger armies at a later period, added lustre to his laurels.

RABINOVITCH LOSES CASE IN HALIFAX COURT

Myer Chechik Gets $309,009 Judgment in Liquor Controversy.

SAINT JOHN ANGLE AROUSED INTEREST

Rabinovitch Not on Hand, and Attachment Writ Issued.

An action commenced in the Halifax courts more than a year ago, arising out of a liquor concern partnership organized in Winnipeg in 1919, was settled in the Supreme Court there on Saturday, when Mr. Justice Rogers handed down a decision in the case of Myer Chechik versus Harry Rabinovitch. He found for Chechik, the plaintiff, to the amount of $309,009.99. Rabinovitch had previously left for parts unknown, and a writ of attachment has been issued against him.

The case was one of the most involved that has ever engaged the attention of the Nova Scotia court. L. A. Loreti, K. C., represented the plaintiff throughout, while the defendant had been represented consecutively by L. A. Forsythe, W. Jones, J. L. Ralston, K. C., and John E. Read.

SOUGHT SETTLEMENT

The partnership broke up in 1922, when Chechik applied for a just settlement of their joint account. When the case came to court the non-appearance of the partnership books and the defendant complicated the situation. A part of the action involved the alleged misappropriation of $30,000 cash allegedly by Rabinovitch a year ago, while proceedings were in progress in Halifax. It was just before a trial judge granted a writ of attachment against the defendant for failure to obey the order of the court to pay this sum into court, that Rabinovitch departed. He had previously resided in Saint John.

In the course of his judgment Saturday Mr. Justice Rogers said: "I cannot but conclude that the defendant's conduct throughout has been that of a fraudulent partner who has deliberately set out to deprive his associate of his just rights."

As Hiram Sees It
"One day last week," said The Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I had a ride in the motor of the life boat in the saw strawberry blossoms on sunny banks. I saw blue and white violets and adder-tongues. I saw the red buds of the maples and the pale green of young poplar leaves. I saw wild ducks rise from the water at Lakeside and on the Exploits river. I saw farmers in the field with plow and harrow. I saw small fields newly turned for seeding. The signs of spring were everywhere. I disliked the thought of coming back to brick walls and asphalt."
"Well, sir," said Hiram, "I don't blame you one bit. The air is mighty good these mornings in the country. If it wasn't for the dollars we'd have a lot more folks livin' in the country than it is in town. I guess we give the boys an' gals the wrong dope when we tell 'em the thing to look fer is something 'big.' Ain't what we want but what we are an' what we give that counts—but enough—B'Hen?"

FORMAL EVENT ON FOLLOWING NIGHT

Reception, Dinner and Ball on Program, Announces General Manager.

The informal opening of the Admiral Beatty Hotel here will take place on Monday evening, June 22, at a banquet for the shareholders and their wives, according to George H. O'Neill, general manager of the Canadian system of the United Hotels Company, who arrived here today from Toronto to attend a meeting of the directors of the local hotel this afternoon. "We expect to have all our arrangements completed by then, with the hotel open for business," Mr. O'Neill said this morning. The formal opening, Mr. O'Neill declared, would be held on Tuesday night, June 23, with a reception, dinner and grand ball for which invitations would be in the mail next week. The list for these invitations now is being prepared.

NOT ALL DECIDED.
Details of the opening programmes, Mr. O'Neill said, had not been fully decided yet, but this would probably be done at a directors' meeting this afternoon. Among those who will attend will be Hon. P. D. Dudley, president of the United Hotels.

Great progress has been made with the last few weeks of the hotel itself. Carpets now are being laid on the top floor, the elevators are running and furniture is rapidly moving in. The kitchen equipment is fully installed, giving the Admiral Beatty what is claimed to be the best equipped kitchen east of Montreal. Decorative painters also are rushing their work to completion.

THE STAFF.
In connection with the organization that will man the hotel, Mr. O'Neill announced this morning that the important part of the hotel system had been practically completed, and he was pleased to add that it was nearly 100 per cent Canadian.
