RIGA MENACED, RUSSIANS REACH CRITICAL STAGE IN THEIR RETIRING MOVEMENT

Crossing of Dvina by Enemy Means Loss of Gulf of Riga to Russians and Shorter Road to Petrograd for the Enemy.

ARE THREATENING LEFT FLANK OF GERMAN ARMY

Military Critics Interpret Past Week's Operations in the West as Preliminary to Long Expected General Offensive by British and French.

London, Sept. 3.—The Germans in their official report today, claim to have carried by assault, the fortified bridge-head at Lennewa, on the Dvina river between Friedrichstadt and Riga. This is considered, for the Russians, the most critical point on their whole front, for should the Germans succeed in crossing the Dvina the Russians would be compelled to evacuate Riga, and their position between the Dvina and Vilna, and even southwest of the latter city, would be jeopardized.

However, the Germans do not yet claim to have crossed the river, which is being defended by a reinforced army, under the command of General Ruzsky, who has proved himself to be one of the greatest strategists of the war, and who brought the previous German advance to a stop on the Bura river in front of Warsaw. It is believed by military critics that the Russians will make a stubborn defense on the Dvina, the opinion being expressed that should they fall the German fleet would gain command of the Gulf of Riga, and by landing troops at Pernau would considerably shorten the protracted march to Petrograd, which is understood to be the ultimate objective of the German higher command.

In view of the importance of the battle raging along the Lower Dvina the fighting elsewhere loses some of its interest, for wherever they are the Russians must keep their eyes on this corner of the map.

Grodno, which the Russians evacuated, apparently proved an empty shell to the Germans, as they captured only 400 prisoners, after street fighting. To the northwest of Vilna, the Russians are on the offensive, and while the Germans say the Russian counter-attacks have been a complete failure, it is said in Petrograd that the counter-offensive seriously threatens the German left flank and communications with the army of Lieut. General Von Eichhorn.

Preliminaries to Big Drive in West The Russian center is still fighting through the marshy districts. However, every day they are taking a toll of their pursuers. The Russians also are offering resistance to the Austro-German offensive in Galicia, and southeastward of Lutsk they hold a front of some fifty miles, intersected by hills, woods, and rivers, which afford a splendid cover for a defensive army.

There is still some doubt as to what the Austro-German intentions are in the southeast, military critics being divided on opinion as to whether there will be an advance on Kiev, or whether an attempt will be made to project a wedge between the Russian armies and Roumania, which would make it a serious matter for the Roumanians to refuse passage the German demands for a free passage of munitions over Roumanian railways for the Turks, who are reported to be very short of shells necessary to prevent the Allies conquering the Gallipoli peninsula.

Concerning the operations at the Dardanelles no news has been received.

QUARTER MILLION PEOPLE CHEER CANADA'S PREMIER ON HIS ARRIVAL IN MONTREAL

Demonstration Unparalleled in History of Metropolis—Triumphal Parade Through Streets Thronged with Cheering Thousands—Back with Truer Sense of Unity of Empire Than Ever Had Before, Sir Robert Says—His Message From Men in the Trenches.

Montreal, Sept. 3.—Sir Robert Borden was welcomed to Montreal tonight, on his return from England and the battlefield in France, with a demonstration of patriotism and affection that probably never has been equalled in this city. Not less than a quarter million of people turned out to give the Premier a reception, the warmth of which must have touched him deeply, surfeited, as he has been, with public attention. From the moment Premier Borden alighted from his special car at Bonaventure station until he arrived at Fletcher's Field, the scene of a speech-making, his progress was one prolonged triumphal parade through deep ranks of citizens. Notwithstanding that there was a remarkably large crowd at Bonaventure station on his arrival, the Grand Trunk railway company's arrangements were so well made that there was no delay, and no undue crush in the Premier's vicinity. Up Windsor street to St. Catharines street, and thence to Sherbrooke street, and along Sherbrooke to Park Avenue and to Fletcher's Field, stood cheering thousands, and still many more thousands were awaiting his arrival in the large open space known as Fletcher's Field at the foot of the mountain. From a temporary platform in front of the Grenadier Guards armory Sir Robert addressed the throng. Probably few were able to hear him, but they all saw him and that seemed sufficient to arouse their enthusiasm, and they were unstinted in their applause. The local garrison had turned out in full force, and the soldiers formed a guard of honor to the Premier.

ed since the report last Wednesday from General Sir Ian Hamilton, commander of the British forces on the peninsula. The continued successes of the Austro-Germans in the east leads many writers to the conclusion that the sustained bombardment of the German lines in the west means an early move by the Entente Allies. The critics point to this, the thorough redistribution of the British and French armies, and the shelling of seabZruga some days ago, as heralding something at least preliminary to a general offensive.

His Message From Men in the Trenches

His message was one of confidence in the outcome of the war, and he expressed a sincere belief in ultimate victory for the British Empire and her Allies. "I come back to Canada," said the Premier, "with a truer sense of the unity of our Empire than I ever had before. After seeing Canadians and men of every part of the Empire at the fighting lines, I come back to you with this message: They are determined that the great cause for which they are fighting—a cause which involves your liberties and the liberties of the whole Empire and the allied nations, as well as the future destinies of the civilized world—that cause shall be made good on the field of battle, and this war shall never terminate until the cause of the Allies is crowned with complete victory."

"That is the message I bring back from our men at the front," declared Sir Robert, in ringing tones, "and I told these men, when I saw them doing their duty, that I had a like message of determination from the people of Canada—that those at home were as true in their purpose to fight this battle through to a victorious conclusion as were he men in the lines."

This stirring message was received with loud and prolonged cheering. The Premier's speech was in response to a formal address of welcome from the city, read by Alderman St. Pierre in the absence of Mayor Martin. It pointed out that the demonstration was absolutely non-political, and that the citizens of the Canadian metropolis of every class, creed, nationality and color joined heartily in receiving Sir Robert.

The Premier, who was joined at the station by Lady Borden, reviewed the troops from a temporary platform in front of the Royal Victoria College, Sherbrooke street, the troops being under command of Col. Wilson. It took an hour for the soldiers to pass, and then followed the gathering on Fletcher's Field. There was considerable band music, patriotic airs being the prevailing ones, with "O Canada" apparently the most popular of all.

A short stop was made at St. Johns, Que., while the Premier and his party were on their way to Montreal, and a public reception was given by the St.

British ship from U. S. to England with Lumber, torpedoed off Queenstown

San Francisco, Sept. 3.—The British ship William T. Lewis, owned by Hind, Rolph & Company of San Francisco, was sunk today off Queenstown by a submarine, according to a message received here by the marine department of the Chamber of Commerce. She sailed from Everett, Wash., March 29, for Sheerness, England, with a cargo of lumber. Captain Menzies and the crew of thirty abandoned the ship and the vessel was believed to have sunk, the message said. The entire crew was picked up by the Danish motor ship Australia.

SIR SAM GIVEN GREAT WELCOME AT OTTAWA

Thousands Greet New Knight —"Canadians Doing Duty Fearlessly and Well," he Says of Boys at the Front.

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—Major General Sir Sam Hughes, K. C. B., minister of militia, was given a rousing welcome by thousands of people of Ottawa, who gathered at the Central Station to meet him on the arrival of the train from New York at noon. Just as the train was approaching the station the band of the Governor General's Footguards struck up "There's No Place Like Home." Before the train had come to a dead stop General Sir Sam jumped briskly from the private car, looking the picture of health, and literally wreathed in smiles. He left the station through cheering crowds.

The new knight had difficulty in getting through to his motor car outside. Just as he was about to take his seat the people made insistent demands for a speech. "I have just one message from the boys at the front and the boys in England," he said, "and that is 'Love to all the people in Canada.' 'They are doing their duty fearlessly and well.' Then the minister was whisked away to militia headquarters.

There were no formal arrangements for the welcome, but a number of cabinet ministers and other officials were present.

MATE STABBED TWICE BY SAILOR AT PARRSBORO

Special to The Standard. Parrsboro, Sept. 3.—Gunnar Jockimsen, mate of the Norwegian bark Lalla Rookh, now loading deals in Parrsboro Roads, was stabbed twice yesterday afternoon by one of the crew who had refused to obey orders. The mate was trying to enforce obedience when the sailor drew a knife and stabbed him in the back and thigh. The wound in the back would undoubtedly have been severe if the knife had not struck the back bone. The other wound is in the muscles of the leg and is very painful. The sailor has been lodged in the town lock-up awaiting trial.

NO MORE MONEY TO TURKEY FROM HER ALLY THROUGH ROUMANIA

London, Sept. 4. (4.15 a. m.)—The Rumanian government has stopped further export of cereals and the transit of gold through Rumania, the effect of the decision being that Germany will be unable to send more money to Turkey, says the Bucharest correspondent of the Times. The government will advance sixty per cent. of the value of the crops to producers to avoid a crisis.

BLAMED PILOT FOR ACCIDENT IN ST. LAWRENCE

Fine of $100 for Error of Judgment in Connection with the Grounding of Steamer Romera, Aug. 16th.

Montreal, Sept. 3.—All blame for the accident to the steamship Romera, in the St. Lawrence river August 16th, is thrown on the pilot, Arthur Lachance, in the judgment of the Dominion Wreck Commissioner, Captain L. A. Demers, which was given out today. The pilot is fined $100 for his "error of judgment."

The Romera ran aground on the north shore of the river St. Lawrence, between Cape Dog and Cape Salomon. The investigation was held in Montreal August 6th, before the wreck commissioner, assisted by Captain Francis Nash and Captain James Black, acting as nautical assessors. The shipping federation of Canada was represented by Mr. F. E. Meredith, K. C., while Mr. L. A. Ducles, K. C. appeared on behalf of the pilot.

The profits amount to over a million dollars, almost double the profits for last year. Dividend and loan payments amount to fifteen per cent., against only six per cent. last year.

FIVE THOUSAND PEOPLE AT KING SQUARE MASS MEETING HEARD STORY OF EMPIRE'S NEED FOR MEN.—READY RESPONSE.

Fully Fifty Young Men Applied but Many Rejected by Medical Officers—Nine Selected to Join 64th Battalion—Massed Bands and Selected Speakers Combined to Make Noteworthy Function Successful.

NINE RECRUITS FOR A START

Nine men were enrolled as the result of last evening's great demonstration. Many more applied but were rejected by the medical officers. The nine who passed were Arthur Smith, Leeds, York, England, 117 St. Patrick St.; William Pym, Harcourt, N. B., 105 Erin St.; Thomas Ferris, Coldbrook, N. B., 112 Charlotte St.; Otto Logan, Boston, 20 Nelson St.; West St. John; John Griffin St. John, 100 Erin St.; William Lawton, St. John, 4 Short St.; Frederick Rayner, London, England, Brunswick House; Wilbert Giggey, St. John, 230 Millidge Ave., and William Short, St. John, Erin St.

The recruiting was in charge of Lieut. Col. B. R. Armstrong, Capt. Millar, Major (Dr.) Skinner and Dr. Loggie.

A great throng assembled in King Square last night to take part in the patriotic campaign having for its object the stimulating of recruiting and which resulted in securing nine recruits. There probably were more than five thousand people present. It was noticeable that a large proportion were women, but there were hundreds of earnest men in the crowd, and one and all seemed to realize that the object of the gathering was one of supreme moment.

Weather conditions were in every respect satisfactory and with the scores of electric lamps, flags and streamers in and about the square the scene was one that could not fail to be impressive.

FOUR BANDS.

There were four bands engaged in connection with the rally, the 62nd, which met at the Armory and marched by way of Carmarthen, Mecklenburg and Sydney streets to the square; St. Mary's band which mustered at Haymarket Square and proceeded to the square via Brussels, Union and Sydney streets; Carleton Cornet band, coming from the West Side and proceeding along Prince William, King and Charlotte streets; and the City Cornet band which met at Scott's Corner and marched via Main, Mill and King streets. A very large number followed this band.

PATRIOTIC MESSAGES.

Many banners bearing patriotic messages to the people in the streets were carried in front of the bands as they marched through the streets to King Square, and later were carried around the square, so that all might see them. Some of the inscriptions were: "Your job is O. K. when you return," "Fill up the ranks quickly, boys," "Will you make a better German than a Britisher?" "Enlist now, and be honored for life," "Join your pals in Europe," "Mother Britannia is calling up her boys," "Take up the sword of justice now," "Your home is in danger, protect it," "Remember the Lusitania," "Come along before it is too late," "How will you feel when the boys come marching home?" "Are you doing your bit?" "Join now and make it peace by Christmas."

During the day, in response to the general request, flags were flown both by mercantile houses and private residences, the general display being in every way creditable. In the interior of some of the stores and in many homes there were flag adornments, showing that although the occupants were unable, it may be, to join the throngs in the thoroughfares the patriotic idea was present in a genuine way.

AN ORDERLY AUDIENCE.

There were no incidents in connection with the rally, so far as could be noticed, that lent unpleasant interest. The crowd was orderly throughout, and except for here and there a little hustling and jostling unavoidable on such an occasion, the rally was an orderly one. (Continued on page 2)

PROPOSALS OF ENTENTE POWERS WILL BE ACCEPTED BY SERBIA

Athens, Sept. 3, via Paris.—It is announced here that Serbia has accepted, in principle, the Entente proposals for territorial concessions to Bulgaria, with the reservation that the new Serbian frontier remain in contact with Greece in some part.

The Greek chamber adjourns tomorrow until October 14.

UNOFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED IN NISH

London, Sept. 3.—A despatch to Reuters Telegram Company from Nish says it is semi-officially announced in the Serbian capital that Serbia's reply to the demands of the Quadruple Entente powers has been drafted, and will be presented at an early date.

BULGARIA WAVING, DECISION SOON

CALLED FOR RECRUITS AT GREATEST DEMONSTRATION IN HISTORY OF LOYALIST CITY

A large marquee had been erected on the north side of King Square where men received information respecting conditions of service with the colors. Although the number of those offering was not so large as some had anticipated, it is thought, that the incidents of the day will result in many more men coming forward at an early date.

From the platform erected on the triangular plot on the north side of King Square, with flags of the allies depending from the rail, and amidst large and small flags, including the Union Jack, of course, earnest addresses were given by selected speakers, and their remarks were listened to with an eagerness that left no doubt on the minds of those present that there is an urgent need for recruits amongst the men of the Maritime Provinces to frustrate the diabolical schemes of the Teutonic military hosts who strive to subject honest people to intolerable conditions.

Speeches were given by Mayor Frink, Rev. T. Harrison, of St. George, Major Gray, Rev. M. E. Conron and Lieutenant Brooks. Many prominent citizens, including Lieut.-Col. E. T. Sturdee, who had a seat on the platform, were attentive listeners to the remarks of those who had come to give their views on the situation, and to impress upon the younger men, their wives and sweethearts the urgent need for donning the uniform of the King.

The Proceedings.

E. A. Schofield, after the 62nd Fusiliers Regimental Band had played "God Save the King," and three mighty cheers had been given for His Majesty, stated that he wished to correct an error published in one of the evening papers, that the 64th as well as the 65th were recruited up to strength. With the 60th it was true, but the 64th Battalion at five o'clock today had only 738 men and 1150 were needed. He made this statement in order to correct any misapprehension which might run in the minds of the public, and all recruits signed on during the evening would go to the 64th Maritime Province Battalion.

The chairman then introduced His Worship the Mayor as the first speaker.

Mayor Frink.

The chairman then introduced His Worship the Mayor as the first speaker.

Mayor Frink said in part:

It seems hardly necessary for me to explain this affair as the conditions which exist in the present world struggle, and the carrying on of the campaign have been well brought out in the city press. I was exceedingly glad when the chairman announced that the 64th Battalion had not yet been recruited to strength, as was erroneously stated in one of the evening papers. The 64th requires 400 additional men and there can be no doubt in my mind that the regiment will be filled, if I am a good judge, as I look over this vast assembly. I will not enter into the plans of this campaign as due notice will be given in the newspapers. No doubt you know that these meetings were called for one express reason, that of a likewarm feeling which pervaded the minds of the people as regards recruiting. The men of the committee thought it was their duty, their real duty and their whole duty, not only to remove that feeling but to do their part in the conservation of those ideals which have been entrusted to us, and I feel confident that they will do it. (Cheers.)

"To the men in the rear, those who have by chance fallen below that which is expected of them, this is not the time to talk but the time to do. The people who made this spot history, who built this fair city, were not shocked at adversity but smiled at it with a sense of security that was only obtained by sacrifice. The men who are responsible for the Empire of ours, who for the past one thousand years have sacrificed their lives for the name of England, did it so that we could enjoy it, and we will enjoy it another thousand years if you, young men enlist. This is not a dream, but a reality." (Loud applause.)

E. A. Schofield, the chairman, then said a few words with regard to the object of the meeting. He said the fact that New Brunswick and St. John were not supplying the required number of men that they should, was the months against the power of Hell. In less than twenty minutes that famous old regiment had stormed the heights and held the British line. Such tales of heroism should stir the hearts of our young men to a breaking point.

Three Appeals

"I wish to make three appeals, first to the young men. When the cry came across the water, your country needs you, Canada everywhere was seized with a spirit of patriotism. However, there is something greater than honor. The highest form of patriotism today is the call of your country. When international peace exists, when the bugles cease to blow, and when the guns cease to roar, then we may have greater expansion and development, but now common civilization calls you tonight to enlist. We have been building a civilization for years past. Are we going to sacrifice it to the mad Hun? Common liberty calls you. What would it mean to have German culture and ideals for the liberty long nourished and cherished by our forefathers? That would tear one bough from the old British oak. The King of Heaven calls you. Am I making an unworthy statement if I say God calls you, as he marshals the souls of men around His throne? As His Son died to make men more holy, we will die to make men free. The call comes direct to you young men. Answer the call.

The Mothers and Sisters

"Appealing to the mothers and sisters, I wonder if they realize what the call means. Do they realize that fair Belgium, with its beautiful femininity, teaching other nations higher and better sociality. Quoting an American author, in one week the position of women was reduced to that of a show-god. Although pitiful, it is absolutely true.

"When your sons are called to don the khaki, to defend the virtue of Belgium, I call on you in the name of the sorrowing sisters that ravaged land, to send your boys to protect their honor and virtue.

To Citizens Generally

"In appealing to the citizens at large, I wish to say that it grieved me to learn through the press of the unjust criticism which has been raised against their stay in your city. I have gone through the scenes of warfare and battle and I have seen suffering in its worst forms and I say keep your criticism until the war is over. Taking Tommy Atkins into the man and head for head he will compare with any other gathering of men in the world. Let us take him just as we have him. Although an absent-minded beggar and full of faults, let us take him as he is. He is not out to do something and he has left his little one beyond him.

Major Day.

"When I was at a university in Berlin, Sept. 1, via London, Sept. 3.—Despite the fact that a decision of the Bulgarian government regarding the Macedonian question is generally considered imminent, as it is realized that all sides that the time is not far distant when this issue must culminate in more than diplomatic conversation, there are no signs of excitement here, the capital remaining in its usual quiet state. At the foreign office this afternoon the following statement was made to the Associated Press correspondents:

"The Bulgarian government is engaged in formulating its reply to the Serbian government, although Serbia's statement has not yet been received, being given in this by an intimation recently given by the Quadruple Entente. Meanwhile the Bulgarian government is continuing its negotiations with the Turkish government concerning the cessation of the Lyptuz, Adriatic-Dodecanese railroad line and certain adjacent territories of great strategic importance. The prospects of a quick and satisfactory settlement are good although hitherto the Turkish government has required much time in reaching decisions on matters contributory to the main issue.

"The Bulgarian government is not inclined to embark upon an adventurous career. Statements to the contrary, purporting to come from Bulgarian sources, are made by political opponents of the government, who are using them among the people for internal political reasons. Now, as

BULGARIA BARGAINING WITH TURKEY AND GOVERNMENT'S POSITION EMBARRASSING

Majority of Statesmen Favor Going in With Allies, but Government Undecided Which Side's Terms Will be Most Advantageous—Won't be Satisfied with Less than Whole of Macedonia.

Geneva, Sept. 3, via Paris.—Information reaching here from Bucharest, by way of Zurich, represents the situation in Bulgaria as becoming more unsatisfactory, owing to the indecision of the government, which is attempting to conserve the country's neutrality and at the same time satisfy its national ambitions. A majority of Bulgarian statesmen favor a rapprochement with the Quadruple Entente, Serbia and Greece. In view of the state of public feeling, and the news from Nish, that Serbia is willing to make territorial concessions, the Bulgarian government finds it embarrassing to continue its policy of neutrality.

It is set forth that German diplomatic agents have been unable to give Bulgaria sufficiently satisfactory guarantees concerning the furnishing of ammunition and other supplies.

Relations between Bucharest and Sofia are strained.

Still Bargaining With Turkey

Sofia, Sept. 1, via London, Sept. 3.—Despite the fact that a decision of the Bulgarian government regarding the Macedonian question is generally considered imminent, as it is realized that all sides that the time is not far distant when this issue must culminate in more than diplomatic conversation, there are no signs of excitement here, the capital remaining in its usual quiet state. At the foreign office this afternoon the following statement was made to the Associated Press correspondents:

"The Bulgarian government is engaged in formulating its reply to the Serbian government, although Serbia's statement has not yet been received, being given in this by an intimation recently given by the Quadruple Entente. Meanwhile the Bulgarian government is continuing its negotiations with the Turkish government concerning the cessation of the Lyptuz, Adriatic-Dodecanese railroad line and certain adjacent territories of great strategic importance. The prospects of a quick and satisfactory settlement are good although hitherto the Turkish government has required much time in reaching decisions on matters contributory to the main issue.

"The Bulgarian government is not inclined to embark upon an adventurous career. Statements to the contrary, purporting to come from Bulgarian sources, are made by political opponents of the government, who are using them among the people for internal political reasons. Now, as

Wants All Macedonia

Bulgaria, it is learned, wants all of Macedonia, and not only those parts made the subject of recent notes by the Quadruple Entente, but the whole of the province that Bulgaria craves. These parts by making war upon Turkey, while the proposals of the central powers never went further than to assure the free passage through Bulgaria of materials needed by Turkey. It is argued here that while the proposals of the Entente, would, if accepted, involve the shedding of Bulgarian blood against Turkey, those coming from the other side do not necessarily demand this from a nation still keenly mindful of its losses in the recent Balkan wars.

"All Macedonia" is the slogan now of all circles in Bulgaria, although the country is still divided into two camps as to the best method by which the goal may be reached.

Duke Johann Albrecht of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, former Regent of Brunswick, who recently was in Constantinople on a diplomatic mission, is now in Sofia, accompanied by a British foreign office expert, on Balkan affairs.

From a reliable source it is learned that no change in the present situation is likely during the next eight days.

FORTY-TWO SUBMARINES SUNK BY BRITISH NAVY

New York, Sept. 4.—A special to the Times from Washington says: "Up to three weeks ago the British navy alone, without regard to the navies of France and Italy, have sunk or captured forty-two German submarines. This information is contained in a personal letter from Field Marshal Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British army in Flanders to one of the best known men in America, who is an old friend of Sir John. It indicates that Germany has lost at least half a hundred submarines since the war began. French destroyers are known to have sunk several submarines, and Italy may have accounted for one or two.

"The number mentioned in Sir John French's letter is only two short of the full number of German submarines built and building on July 1, 1914, as officially announced by the American bureau of naval intelligence. But it is estimated that by using new shifts of men every three months. Even this minimum may have been reduced. It is regarded here as certain that Germany has launched many submarines since the war began.

"News that about fifty German submarines have been sunk goes far toward explaining the complete change in the German attitude toward this phase of the war. Recently editorials have appeared in German papers warning the people that too much must not be expected from the submarine campaign. These editorials seemed to pave the way in the public mind for the concessions decided on toward the United States. But it seems now that they were also intended to soften the shock to be expected when German submarine losses were finally announced."

Lieutenant Brooks.

"It is our duty to fight for country in the circumstances now before us. Germany is trying to get the upper hand of us. She has already conquered Belgium. Why are we called upon to fight? Because we are a part of the British Empire. Surely everyone must realize that the Empire is worth fighting for. I was glad to hear the news some time ago that Australia, New Zealand and South Africa and India had taken a hand in this conflict. Every young man should now engage to do his part in upholding the honor and welfare of the Empire."

Massey Bands.

The proceedings, which began at 8 o'clock, ended soon after ten, when the combined bands played the National Anthem and the crowd dispersed in an orderly fashion. E. A. Schofield, with the aid of a megaphone, announced the speakers. Ice cream was supplied the bandmen by the People's Dairy without charge, a treat which the musicians desire to acknowledge with thanks.

Grace Cunard and Francis Ford, the Great Favorites, in Our Brand New Serial Drama

IMPERIAL—"The Broken Coin"

THE ADVENTURES OF KITTY GREY IN THE KINGDOM OF GRETZHOFFEN

ALTHOUGH "The Grey O' Hearts," "The Master Key" and "The Black Box" were immensely successful serial stories in Imperial Theatre, even more successful things are precisely assured for "The Broken Coin" which commences this week. It is truly amazing the popularity attained by this story already in the larger cities, particularly because Francis Ford and Grace Cunard, the favorite players in the "Facile Love" series once again assume the stellar roles. Week-end continued stories have been very popular in our theatre and it has been deemed advisable to continue them in spite of the fact that we are using the highly literary Viagraph serial "The Goddess" each Monday and Tuesday. "The Broken Coin" has no scientific complications or deep, confusing sub-plots, but is a clear, understandable and very engaging narrative that will appeal to everybody, both old and young.

AN IMPRESSION AFTER THE VICTORY

(Reprinted from the "Aberdeen Free Press" of May 14, 1915.)

In my last article on the Canadian Scottish I tried to give some impression of how the 16th Battalion spent Christmas. Much has happened since, but let me pass from that raw, cold February morning, when in the darkness they marched out of Salisbury Plain on the last stage of the journey — let me pass to the night of April 22, when the order was given to stand to arms. It will be fresh in the memories of all who read the official report issued from the War Office, how two battalions, the 10th and the 16th, were ordered to attack the enemy occupying trenches south of a wood about three miles east of Ypres; how imminent the danger was of the enemy breaking through the Allied lines; and how, comparatively speaking, a handful of Canadians at great sacrifice put the enemy to flight, thus saving one of the most delicate situations in the great battle of Ypres. I say this is all fresh in the public mind, and it were needless to enlarge on the wide and far-reaching results. Sufficient to say had the enemy succeeded, there would have been lost many weary months of constant vigil. My object is rather, on an Aberdeen to Aberdeen, to pay tribute to those nameless heroes of the Canadian Scottish, some of whom were sons of Bon-Accord.

One is apt, of course, with grief fresh upon us, to dwell too much on the pathetic side, and to miss altogether the lesson that this human sacrifice means. It is not so very long ago when Canada was accused of want of loyalty to the Motherland. There was a certain amount of truth in the accusation, fanned undoubtedly by the rejection of the Navy Bill. What happened then? When England declared war on Germany, the voices of the strife were hushed—England was at war—Canada was at war, and millions of dollars were voted for war purposes without a division. Men in all walks of life volunteered for service, and these were rushed in almost record time from all parts of the Dominion to the concentration camp in Eastern Canada. It only required the supreme test. What part then will this sacrifice of blood play in the knitting of the Dominion to the Homeland? With nations just as with individuals, when all goes well we are apt to drift. It is only when we share the burden of a great sorrow that we draw closer one to the other. The charge on the night of April 22 will do more for closer unity, devotion, and loyalty, than all the speeches ever penned or delivered. Canadian and English are now blood brothers. The roll of honor is heavy, but the fruits of sacrifice will be rich.

On the Monday after the fateful 22nd, I was taken with numerous others from the Base to reinforce the Battalion. And here was an ordeal. You were afraid almost to ask who were spared. Never shall I forget the look on the faces of the men who in providence came out unscathed. It was a look of distress mingled with pride—distress for their fallen comrades, pride when they remembered what they had accomplished. After the charge I spent five days and five nights in the support trenches, and there you have ample opportunity of seeing what manner of men make up the Canadian Scottish. You would naturally think that, after what they had endured, nothing could save them from nervous collapse. Nothing of the kind! Over all is the spirit of cheerfulness and pluck which never deserts them. As one fellow said to me, "This is no time for the pulling of long faces." The loss of their comrades and the endurance and memory of that never-to-be-forgotten night only stimulates for further effort. The tales of heroism I have listened to would fill a column—the wounded helping the wounded and dying; officers mortally wounded buying up the men to victory. To Colonel Leckie and that gallant band of officers under his command great tribute is due. When the time comes when deeds are recorded, their courage and bravery will be read with glowing satisfaction throughout the Empire. The fact that eighteen officers were either killed or wounded out of one battalion will bring home the magnitude of the struggle. But it was victory, and although we mourn as those who have no hope. The Dominion who sent them will send others like unto them. It was just the Canadian Scottish gift to the Empire.

Grateful praise is due also to Dr. Gillies and his staff for the untiring care of the wounded. Between three and four hundred received first-aid at their hands that night—an almost insurmountable task. The quickness with which the wounded were dispatched to the various hospitals reflects honor on those responsible for the ambulance work.

Looked at broadly, we deplore the sacrifice; but it is after all to be deplored? What is our life compared to the great heritage of freedom we shall leave to generations unborn. To the youngest of us it is only "as a watch in the night." In this terrible crisis there can only be one point of view—self-abandonment. Then will war and its horrors appear in an altered guise. And if, perchance, this article should be read by those who are still living in ignominious ease while their fellow-countrymen are fighting like Paladins and dying like heroes, let us trust it may move them to activity. The memory of those fallen heroes will some day shine as a reproach. The very existence of their country is at stake while they stay at home. Can't they see the vision? While I write this I have no copy of Henley's poems by me, but these lines, which I perhaps quote incorrectly, sometimes haunt me:—"What is that voice of strange command That's calling you and calling me? Calling, until you cannot stay, Over the hills and far away, Before this war is over every man eligible for the fight will have to abandon his own petty concerns—he must gird himself. Ultimate triumph will assuredly come, but it will only be brought about by unbounded zeal and the hard path of sacrifice. And so, if I have in any way paid tribute to the Canadian Scottish, it is done in humility, admiration, and reverence, and to the memory of those brave fellows who have gone before us in the battle. Under the wide and starry sky, Dig the grave and let me lie; Glad did I live and gladly die, And I laid me down with a will. This be the verse you grave for me: Here he lies where he longed to be; Home is the sailor home from the sea, And the hunter home from the hill.

WHAT YOU MAY DONATE TO PATRIOTIC AUCTION

Anything saleable will be appreciated by the promoters; Good reports at yesterday's meeting.

In anticipation of the visits of the canvassers in the interests of the Patriotic Auction next week, citizens have been making inquiries as to what the nature of the gifts sought should be. The promoters in reply say that they will be pleased to receive anything which is of commercial value, that is, which can be converted through the medium of the auctioneers' persuasion into the little dollars which will go to make up the $50,000—the object of the event—for the needs of the Patriotic Fund.

The auction will continue for six days and nights. Besides St. Andrew's rink, it is the belief of the executive that greater space will be necessary for the storage of the goods contributed, and because of this it has been decided to ask for the loan of the Queen's rink for the week. The goods will all be classified before sale and several auctioneers, four at least in the four corners of the rink, will be occupied simultaneously in the vending of their wares.

The co-operation of the river steamship companies has been secured and free transportation of the country produce expected will be had, while it is expected that the same arrangements will prevail on the railway lines. The I. C. R. have promised to carry the goods free provided the C. P. R. will do so, and the hope is expressed that the request will be granted. Excursion rates will prevail to the city, for it is intended to go beyond the local scope in the conduct of the affair, and make it more provincial and general in its aspect. These and other encouraging reports concerning the preliminaries of the auction were reported at an enthusiastic meeting of the executive here yesterday.

French Naval Air Squadrons' Operations Not Confined to France Only

Have taken part in defence of Suez Canal and Bombardments in Adriatic, besides brilliant attacks on enemy's naval bases along Belgian coast.

Paris, Sept. 3.—The French ministry of marine gave out today a note outlining the operations of the naval aeroplane squadron since the opening of hostilities.

"The marine aviation service has made continual progress, showing marked development from day to day," the note says.

"It has operated not only in France but in Egypt, where it aided in the defense of the Suez Canal, on the Syrian coast, where it aided effectively the blockade operations and in the Adriatic, taking active part in actions in the Gulf of Trieste.

"In the north of France our aeroplanes kept watch over the shores and seas. Their particular objective has been destruction of the enemy's submarines; also bombardment of the enemy's commissary bases at Bruges, Zeebrugge and Ostend, and apprehension or destruction of Zeppelins.

"Last week, notwithstanding heavy artillery fire and the glare of rockets, our aviators dropped during the night more than three hundred 90-millimeter bombs on German naval bases along the Belgian coast, besides taking an effective part in the bombardment of Monthulst forest on August 25. All the machines returned although several of them were damaged severely.

"In Egypt and Syria and at Venice our hydro-aeroplanes have shown great activity. Engagements occurred recently with Austrian hydro-aeroplanes, which were put to flight. One of them was pursued as far as Pola by a French machine."

To the Boy Scout whom I consider has sent in the most correct sentence, I shall award a GLENDIEN WATCH as First Prize.

When framing a picture it's a good plan to paste a piece of brown paper over the back to keep out the dust. If this is done by pasting the paper in the ordinary way, a lot of creases will be left, and the paper will not fit properly.

A better method is to wet the paper all round. Now paste these edges, lay the paper over the back of the picture, and allow it to dry. When dry, the paper will be quite tight and smooth.

Before investing in real estate consider deeply whether your investment will bring better returns than a bank deposit and you will find that no investment on earth can compare with wisely chosen real estate for quick and sure returns.

Did you ever hear of a man losing the money he placed in real estate? NEVER.

Did you ever here of a man losing all his money in a business enterprise? VERY OFTEN.

A man can easily lose all the money he invested in business or in financial operations but it is a human impossibility that a man lose the money he invests in REAL real estate, for a lot of land cannot be stolen, it cannot lose the value it has already reached, for it is not exposed to the fluctuations of the market, financial panics that cripple business and crush industries.

Look around St. John and see all the building lots now being offered for sale — ask the price — look at the location — determine the probabilities — THEN — come out and look over the Hatheway property. Satisfy yourself which is REAL real estate — then buy the best.

$100.00 buys you a share in the Hatheway Partners — it insures you getting a good building lot which is high, dry, and entirely suitable for a building site — you may get the old Hatheway Homestead valued at $5,000 — a small house valued at $1,200 — a big barn valued at $1,500 — or one of the lots fronting on the Manawagonish Road valued at $500.

"We are fighting for a worthy purpose, and we shall not lay down our arms until that purpose has been fully achieved"—H. M. The King.
TO THE PEOPLE OF THE EMPIRE—Every fighting unit we can send to the front means one step nearer peace.

THE RECRUITING CAMPAIGN

As the result of the great demonstration on the King's Square last evening, nine young men inscribed their names on the roll of honor, passed the medical examination and will don the uniform for their King and country. Many others applied but, it is understood, were unable to pass the medical tests. This fact is not to their discredit. On the contrary, the men who offered but were not accepted showed that they possessed the true spirit as well as their more successful brothers. Undoubtedly many other young men who heard the simple but earnest addresses and had the Empire need forcibly brought home to them will come to the conclusion that they are not doing their complete duty unless they also offer their services.

It is unfortunate that the Times, last evening, gave publicity to a report that the 64th Battalion had been recruited to strength. It was not possible to correct the erroneous impression before the meeting and it may be that it had some effect on the enlistment. However, there can be no excuse this morning for young men neglecting to make the sacrifice on the ground that the ranks are filled.

Tonight will see another meeting on the same historic square and if last night's interest can be taken as a standard of comparison there will be a large audience and keen enthusiasm. The roll of recruits should be appreciably augmented. The citizens' committee, which is devoting so much valuable time to the effort to swell the ranks of the battalions to be sent forward from the Maritime Provinces, will continue their labors next week and they should be successful.

The need for men is now well understood, the necessary information regarding remuneration and allowances can be obtained from recruiting officers and others and the sole factor needed to make the campaign the most successful of the sort ever attempted is proper interest on the part of the men it is desired to reach.

First of all young men are wanted, physically fit and willing to go overseas on the Empire's service. Preferably they should be unmarried and free from family ties, but experience has shown that the majority of men offering in the first, second and third units sent forward from this province were married men. If such men apply they can be assured that during their absence on active service their loved ones will be well cared for.

The next ten days should see such a patriotic revival in this city and province as will result in the speedy enrollment of the men required for the 64th Battalion and a good start made toward the next unit. So far Nova Scotia has supplied the majority of the men in the 64th, but this is not altogether the fault of the young men of this province. It must be remembered that the 40th Battalion from Nova Scotia was quickly raised, while in the 55th progress was not so rapid for the reason that many men were drafted from that battalion as overseas reinforcements and for other purposes. Consequently many more than the required number of men actually signed the rolls of the 55th. The 64th is still more than 400 men short of the required number, so there is ample opportunity for all who are willing to answer the call of duty.

THE PATRIOTIC FUND.

Every battalion and regiment sent to the front increases the claims on the Patriotic Fund, and while the campaign for recruits to fight the Empire's battles will be carried on with vigor until the units to be sent from this province are completed, it is of equal importance that the resources of the Patriotic Fund shall be augmented to a degree which will at least meet the additional claims upon it. During the past two or three days the fund has been increased by several good subscriptions on the monthly payment plan. The estimate has been made that each man sent to the front costs the Patriotic Fund $15 per month. This opens up a new avenue for subscriptions which might be utilized to advantage.

Possibly, many residents of the province feel that they cannot afford to keep a soldier in the trenches and generosity on such a scale is not necessary as yet. To date the subscriptions from New Brunswick have averaged about 40 cents per head of population. It should not be a difficult matter to raise this to $1 per head. The suggestion has been made that in order to systematize the gifts, employees in business establishments, offices or factories could pledge themselves to monthly payments for, say one year. Each circle could then appoint a collector for their own subscriptions and the amount realized could be turned over to the treasurer of the fund. In this way it would be a short time before the fund would be assured of a regular income.

This plan need not interfere with the subscriptions of individual citizens of the wealthier class, who could very well follow the excellent example set by two gentlemen during the past two or three days and make contributions monthly of sufficient money to keep one or more soldiers at the front. A few days ago Mr. G. S. Mayes, of West St. John, sent to the Patriotic Fund his cheque for $75, stating that he would contribute that sum each month during the war. Yesterday Mr. J. A. Likely followed the example. These gentlemen by their most recent subscriptions have made it possible for ten men to go to the front with the knowledge that those at home will be well cared for. Many other wealthy citizens could do the same thing.

While there are other funds made necessary by the war, all of which are meritorious, it must not be forgotten that the Patriotic Fund is the most important of all. If the young men of the province are to answer the call to service provision must be made whereby those at home who, in times of peace were supported through their efforts, will not suffer while their bread-winners are on the King's business.

DRY BONES.

The Ottawa Journal says: "With the approach of crop marketing Liberal papers are again turning their eyes longingly to the 'market of ninety millions.'" Says a local contemporary:

"The western situation is likewise one illustrative of the evils of a restrictive market. The 'funnel' is pointed in one direction and the output must flow in that direction because of our artificial tariff restrictions. If Britain doesn't buy our wheat the United States cannot."
"With 350,000,000 bushels of wheat for export—more than our entire crop—it is hard to see why the United States should be anxious to buy our wheat. All this talk one hears of a better market for Canadian wheat in Chicago than in Winnipeg is childish. There are bound to be periods when wheat prices are higher across the line, but just remove the tariff, send our crop down to Chicago, and the American price would fall as flat as German beer."

OFFICERS FOR HIGH

SCHOOL ALUMNAE

Annal meeting held—Treasurer's report shows many donations for Patriotic purposes.

The following officers were elected at the annual meeting of the High School Alumnae:

President—Miss Jessie Lawson.
First Vice-President—Miss Alice Walker.
Second Vice-President—Miss Hazel Smith.
Secretary—Miss Vivian Freeze.
Treasurer—Mr. Gordon Lingley.
Additional members of executive: Miss May Ward, Miss Louise Best.

The treasurer's report showed that during the past year the Alumnae had donated $400 to various patriotic purposes—$200 to the Patriotic Fund, $100 to two beds in Dr. Murray MacLaren's Hospital, and $100 to the Belgian Relief. Red Cross work and school work had also been undertaken and accomplished.

MOVING PICTURE MEN WILL PROTEST AGAINST CITY COUNCIL'S ACTION

In granting bargain rate to Travelling Show which will take thousands of dollars out of the city.

Proprietors of the various moving picture theatres in the city are very much annoyed at the action of the city council in granting a license to the circus now exhibiting on the Barrack Green at a reduced figure. It is stated that though the price of licenses for shows such as this is placed at a reasonable rate, the present organization has been permitted to do business at ten dollars a day, which figure is claimed to be ridiculously low in view of existing conditions.

This feeling will take the form of a protest, which is anticipated will be formally made to the council today. The picture men in their argument set forth that the theatres of this city employ more than one hundred residents of St. John, and pay out in wages every week much more than one thousand dollars. They have been doing business in a very dull season at a loss. Some of them are unable to show a cent of profit during the past four months, and this condition has been due, in a large measure, to the fact that the theatres have co-operated to the best of their ability in the numerous activities of a patriotic nature which have been promoted by St. John people, and which, while of national importance, have tended greatly to reduce the earnings of these theatres. It is stated that this circus is drawing from five thousand to ten thousand people every day, and that the proportion of the receipts which will be handed to the local organization, under whose auspices the affair is held, is so small as to by no means make up to the city for the goodwill of the theatres.

It is shown, too, that other towns have found it advisable to offer such remarkable bargains to travelling shows of this nature, and in view of the fact that this organization will, in the opinion of the picture men, take away from the city more money than all the theatres combined have earned in the past five months, it is felt that no reduction from the regular rate should have been granted. The picture men do not feel that their protest can have any effect in the present instance, as the license which is doing them so much injury has already been granted, but they wish to put their views on record in order that there may be no such injustice as they claim has now been brought about in the future.

WORK DONE BY THE PATRIOTIC ORGANIZATION

Three-fourths of Patriotic Fund business of Province handled by St John Branch.
The St. John branch of the Patriotic Association has been doing about three-fourths of the total business of the province. At the present time it comprises the City and County of St. John, Counties of Kings, Queens, Albert and of Westmorland. Up to the first of September it included Victoria County. Up to the first of August it included Madawaska, and previous to that it took in three or four of the other counties in which branches have since been established, drawing their money direct from Ottawa, and taking care of the families in their particular counties.
Last month the contributions to the fund amounted to $4,088.42.
At the end of September the amount remaining to the credit of the fund of the Province of New Brunswick will have been reduced to a very few thousand dollars. At the present time the calls of the whole province amount to probably $17,000.00 per month, of which the section controlled by the St. John branch calls for about $17,000.00 per month. It is estimated that it will require under the present conditions at least $200,000.00 for the present year to provide for the needs of the province, and should the recruiting be increased as rapidly as is anticipated, undoubtedly very much more than this amount will be needed.
The amount contributed during the first year of the war in the whole Dominion was four and one-half millions, or an average of about 65c. per head. The average amount contributed in the Province of New Brunswick was about 40c. per head. This was much lower than the general average, but was not the smallest average of the provinces of the Dominion. In the City of St. John the average contributions amounted to about $1.50 per head. St. John contributed about one-half of the total amount collected in the province. These figures of course refer to those amounts which should be recouped, and which there have been some subscriptions made which have not yet been returned.

How the Fund Stands.
Previous to Dr. Barnhill's motion, C. B. Allen, secretary of the Patriotic Association for the St. John district, had made a report on the condition of the fund. Particulars of the information given by Mr. Allen are found elsewhere in this paper, but from his remarks it was clearly shown that the fund is urgently in need of further contributions, and that a very large amount will be required during the present year. It was on the suggestion of John E. Wilson that Dr. Barnhill added to his resolution authority to the committee to add to its number, as Mr. Wilson believed that all fraternal organizations and other bodies should be given opportunity to co-operate with the executive.
Lieut. Gov. Wood who was an interested listener at this meeting, said that a year ago he would have been inclined to ridicule the idea that one hundred and fifty thousand dollars would be required by the New Brunswick Patriotic Fund in the first year of the war, but because of close observation of the administration of the fund in New Brunswick he had, of necessity, changed his views, and believed that a great deal more would now be required. SYSTEMATIC CANVAS TO AID THE PATRIOTIC FUND
First Steps Toward Organization of Permanent Committee Taken at Meeting Held Yesterday Afternoon.

At a meeting held in the Board of Trade rooms at four o'clock yesterday afternoon the first formal action towards the permanent organization of a committee which will carry on a systematic canvas in aid of the Patriotic Fund was taken. This was a meeting of the original committee of one hundred called by Judge Forbes as chairman of the Patriotic Association Executive, and was attended by quite a number of citizens as well as by numerous members of the Ladies' Auxiliary who had been holding their regular fortnightly meetings in the same building.
Judge Forbes briefly outlined the purposes of the meeting referring to previous sessions which had been held leading up to this affair. He touched on the needs of the Patriotic Fund and on the suggestions which had already been made and asked the meeting to proceed to the permanent organization of a committee to carry on this campaign.
Dr. P. Barnhill in a brief address moved that a permanent committee to consist of representatives of the Board of Trade, the Knights of Columbus, the Automobile Association, the Rotary Club and the Patriotic Association, with power to add to their number, be appointed to form an executive, which will devise and carry out the best possible plan of raising money for the Patriotic Fund. This motion was seconded by Senator Thorne and unanimously adopted.
What New Brunswick Must Do.
Senator Thorne in seconding the resolution spoke of what had already been accomplished, of how this province had contributed with a fair measure of generosity in men and money—but that in view of the importance of the struggle in which the Empire is engaged it was absolutely necessary that a great deal more should be done. Persons of all classes have contributed to the cause of the Empire, but even greater sacrifices must be made. New Brunswick has done something, but it will be a disgrace if this province falls in the future to amply provide for the families of those at the front. Naturally there are a great many men of comfortable means or even of some wealth throughout New Brunswick who should make every possible sacrifice and who will not doubt do so when called upon. During the past year the ladies composing the numerous organizations created for patriotic purposes have done magnificent work. They have devoted their time and their labor towards ends of the utmost importance, and there is no doubt but that their efforts have been warmly appreciated. In view of the fact therefore that the Patriotic Fund, which is of supreme importance, must take first place, it is imperative that we devote our earliest attention to this and, secondly, to the Red Cross.

Committee Chosen.
The committee appointed by the Board of Trade consists of Messrs. R. B. Emerson, J. Hunter White, W. K. Ganoz, with the president, J. A. Likely and the secretary, R. E. Armstrong.
The Patriotic Fund executive have selected Senator Thorne, Dr. A. P. Barnhill, L. P. D. Tilley and the secretary-treasurer, C. B. Allen. Senator Thorne has been chosen chairman of this joint executive.
The Rotary Club will meet at once and will select its representatives and the Automobile Association will do the same.
The Knights of Columbus have chosen as their members the following: W. J. Mahoney, Henry McCullough, Jas. Daley.
This general committee which will aid to its members by representatives of other organizations will be called together early in the week by the secretary, R. E. Armstrong.

S. D. SCOTT'S FAMILY DOING ITS PART IN CAUSE OF EMPIRE
Former editor of The Standard writes interesting letter to Senator Thorne.
In a letter from S. Dunn Scott of Vancouver, former editor of The Standard, to Senator Thorne, received a few days ago, Mr. Scott says among other things: "War of course is the main thing here. About seven thousand men have gone from the city and neighborhood and twelve hundred families are visited by the Patriotic Guild. You will perhaps have heard that Capt. Geo. Bowie, who was to have married my daughter Alice had been returned, was killed in France. He was a fine, honorable, capable fellow, a first-class architect with just one weakness and that one with which you would sympathize—he was a most enthusiastic Free Mason."
"George had been an officer in the militia, but he joined as a private, became a sergeant at Valcartier, lieutenant in France and was promoted to captain on the battlefield after he had done fine work in command of a detachment when his superior officers had fallen. He was killed by a sniper while sketching and making plans for some trenches."
"Our boy Cecil is a driver in the Second Artillery Brigade and has had some exciting days and his corps has lost heavily, but up to three weeks ago he had escaped unharm. His younger brother Gordon is at Shorncliffe in the 29th Battalion, and Sidney, who is employed on the New-Advertiser, says he will enlist in the next contingent. The youngest Morley, now asked eighteen years, would go if he were encouraged and if the war lasts as long as seems likely, I think we must make up our minds that all Canadians must go who are able to do."

CAR TRACK CASE STILL UNSETTLED

Proposals submitted at meetings yesterday but no agreement reached—Another conference today
Although the difficulty between the city and the St. John Railway Company was the subject of conference yesterday an arrangement has not yet been reached.
A conference was held in city hall yesterday morning at which Mayor Frink, Commissioner Wigmore and Commissioner Potts with Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, city solicitor, represented the city and Fred K. Taylor, K. C., appeared for the railway company.
At that conference proposals were made by Commissioner Potts and Mr. Taylor. Mr. Potts' proposal was that the street railway company should take over the public works department employees and street plant and finish the Main street work, the men to be paid by the railway company. After the dispute had been decided by the courts the city would be willing to pay whatever proportion of the expense of such work the court ordered.
Mr. Taylor's proposition was directly opposed to that of the Commissioner of Public Works. He thought the work should be done by the city and the city's expense. Then when the courts ruled on the matter the company would abide by the ruling and bear whatever portion of the expense the court directed.
Commissioner Potts declared himself to be opposed to the railway company's proposal, while Mr. Taylor recorded an equally unfavorable impression of that put forward by the commissioner. Neither gentleman was disposed to leave his position and the matter will be again considered at a conference to be held this morning. Mayor Frink and Commissioner Wigmore at yesterday's meeting seemed to favor the proposition made by the company.
His Worship said, after the meeting, that the company did not disclaim their liability to bring the rails up to grade and when asked what was the difficulty between the city and the street railway said that the whole affair was a matter of expense, as to who would pay the bills.
What Mr. Taylor Said.
Mr. Taylor said, when approached: "We wish the city to proceed with the work as in former cases and if the courts decide that we shall bear part of the expense, we are willing to do so. The amount of work which the public works department would wish us to do on Main street from Douglas Avenue to Adelaide street would entail the expenditure of some $4,000. If this work was continued down as far as Kennedy street I should think that it would cost in addition about ten times that amount. The old tracks on Main street were laid properly in concrete only a few years ago, under the approval of the city engineer, and we cannot see why the city should now wish a slight change of the grade."
Mr. Taylor further stated that to operate the service between Douglas Avenue and Indian town under existing conditions would be almost impossible to operate the Indian town division apart from the rest of the service, as we have been compelled to do by the midnight activity on the part of the city was not our wish and we are seriously contemplating whether we shall continue to do so."

WOMEN CAN HARDLY BELIEVE
How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
Eldon, Mo.—"I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."
S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.
Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.
It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it? Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

THE FOOTBALL OUTLOOK IN BRITAIN DISCUSSED

Our Edinburgh correspondent wires that the question of parliamentary interference with the class of football proposed to be played in Scotland during the coming season is set at rest. Mr. Hogge, M. P., for East Edinburgh, who is fully conversant with the circumstances of the game in Scotland and with the resolutions of the Scottish league that they should proceed with league football on Saturdays and public holidays, restricting the payments to professionals to one pound per match, and insisting that every professional should follow some other occupation in response to a suggestion from Edinburgh, laid the circumstances before Mr. Tennant, under secretary of state for war, and that gentleman has replied to Mr. Hogge to the effect that after careful consideration he has come to the conclusion that nothing more can be done with regard to Scottish league football, and that it is better to let the matter rest where it is.

The management committee of the football league held a meeting in Liverpool to appoint referees, etc. Afterwards the committee was entertained to dinner by the Everton football club. W. R. Clayton, in proposing the toast of the League Committee, said: "Today, according to some critics, we ought to be interested. I believe that football is a great institution and is a benefit to mankind. Football has and will provide mental and physical rest for the worker. If football was ever necessary it was necessary now when workers required recreation at the week-end." Mr. Clayton paid a tribute to the work and the organization of the league management committee.

Mr. McKenna, in replying, mentioned the trade of abuse that football had gone through and said: "We still declare that it is in the interests of the country that football should go on—without compulsion of clubs and without paid players." There had been a suggestion, Mr. McKenna went on, that illegal payments would be made by clubs to players. He honestly did not believe that any such thing would happen, and if by any means it should be he hoped the perpetrators would be immediately put out of football for all time.—London Sportsman.

CLOSING LETTER OF N.Y. MARKET BY E. & C. RANDOLPH

(Published by McDougall & Cowans.) New York, Sept. 3.—The railroad stocks became strong and active for a short period around mid-day, but the rise in them did not encourage buying, and the market betrayed renewed weakness in the late trading. The short lived advance in the railroads was based on the recovery in the price of exchange, which encouraged the belief that liquidation for European account might be suspended. A low rate of exchange is an inducement to foreigners to liquidate their American securities in this market, and a rise in the price of exchange by lessening that inducement might result in a reduction of the amount of liquidation, but the violent rise in exchange was not maintained, although the price did not get back near the low level of a couple of days ago, and is not likely to fall to it again in the near future. Temporary loans of moderate amount have been obtained here by London to tide over the period until the conference to be held within the next week or two endeavor to arrange a permanent solution of the difficulty, but if the conference fails to accomplish that result, renewed pronounced weakness in the exchange market may be expected. It was noteworthy that when the railroad stocks were strong, the industrial failed to respond except one or two specialties like Colo. Fuel, Pressed Steel Car, for whose advances there may have been special reasons. In connection with the rise in Norfolk and Western, it was said that the Co. is earning at the rate of 15 per cent. on its stock and that dividend may be increased from 6 per cent. to 7 per cent. The market was active and weak at the close. Total sales 516,000. Bonds $2,376,000. E. & C. RANDOLPH.

EARLY SENSATIONAL RECOVERY IN EXCHANGE FOLLOWED BY REACTION

High rate for demand sterling was 4.72, low 4.64 and closing 4.67—Erratic movements of exchange unsettled market. New York, Sept. 3.—The first half of today's market session was a record of diminishing activity and lower prices except for irregular advances in such specialties as Crucible Steel, Westinghouse, American Can and some less prominent war shares. This unsettled movement was mainly attributed to the highly erratic fluctuation of foreign exchange here and abroad, rates on London making another sensational recovery from recent abnormal lower levels, but reacting later. In the afternoon a sudden inquiry for the railway shares sent these issues up 1 to 3 points, greatest gains being made by the coalers. This movement was associated with the respite of two months in the enforcement of the reduced anthracite rates recently ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Only a part of this advance was restrained at the end, profit-taking reducing some of the largest gains to fractions. The total business of 496,000 shares was the smallest of any recent day. Gossip was busy with the international credit situation, and it was generally recognized that corrective measures were under way. It was rumored that negotiations for a British loan of about $600,000,000 were in process of consummation, but the bankers likely to promote such huge undertakings vouchsafed no information. It was intimated, however, that the American securities recently received from England, by way of Halifax, and which are likely to be added to from the same sources, are to be used as the nucleus of a loan. Today's high rate for demand sterling was 4.72 and the low 4.64, closing at 4.67. Continental rates moved in sympathy. Foreign selling played no important part in today's operations, the rise in exchange causing a withdrawal of being made by the coalers. Nevertheless Americans were lower by 1 to 2 points in London. The Bank of England released about $8,000,000 more foreign coin, presumably for shipment to this country. Forecasts point to another large cash gain by local banks tomorrow, with an expected expansion of the reserves to the largest total yet reported. Rates for time money remained unchanged, despite the light demand. Bonds were irregular, with reduced "future" sales. Total sales, par value aggregated $2,430,000.

UNCLE WIGGLY'S WHITE SHOES.

By HOWARD R. GARIS
(Copyright, 1915, by the McCure Newspaper Syndicate).

"Well, are you going, Uncle Wiggly?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"It is very hot, you know, and the muskrat lady housekeeper, of the rabbit gentleman, as he came down stairs to breakfast in his hollow stump bunslon one morning.

"Going? Going where?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"If you mean automobiling or airshiping, I'll say no, thank you. It's too hot."

"Oh, no! I meant are you going to the seashore again?" asked Nurse Jane.

"It is very hot, you know, and the cake of ice, which Neddie Stubtail, the bear boy, kindly got for us is all melted. So I thought perhaps—"

"Seashore! Seashore!" said Uncle Wiggly to himself, sort of dreamy-like.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggly!" cried Nurse Jane. "What are you thinking of?"

"Thinking of? Why, the seashore, to be sure!" the rabbit gentleman exclaimed. "The seashore with its shells and soft slumbering simoons. That's what we'll go to. To the seashore we will go, we will go, we will go to the seashore we will go, my fair lady!"

"I guess you're thinking of London bridge is falling down," laughed Nurse Jane, as Uncle Wiggly walked up to her and did part of the carrot sandwich dance. "It is too hot for that," said the muskrat lady. "But when will you go to the seashore?"

"Right away," Uncle Wiggly answered. "That is, as soon as I can polish my white shoes."

"White shoes?" cried Nurse Jane. "White shoes?"

"Yes," answered Uncle Wiggly. "White shoes. You see, to be stylish and proper down at the seashore beach I'll have to wear white shoes and white trousers and a white shirt, and all that. Now I have a nice white shirt and trousers, but the other night I was caught in a mud puddle rain storm. In my white shoes, and they are all dirt and sand, so I must whiten them."

"How?" asked Nurse Jane.

"By putting whiterash on them. That will make them as white as snow, and when I go hopping up and down the boardwalk every one will know that I am stylish and proper at the seashore."

"All right," said Nurse Jane. "Then I think I'll go get me a red, green, blue, yellow, pink, purple bathing cap, so that when I get out swimming in the waves I'll look like a flower garden, and some of the Mesquards will come to save me if I get carried out by a big wave."

"Fine!" cried Uncle Wiggly. "It will be great at the seashore."

"So he went to the store to get some whiterash to make his shoes look nice and clean, and Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy the muskrat lady, went to buy herself a flower-garden colored bathing cap of rubber. Though being a muskrat, water did not hurt her fur, but she just wanted to wear a colored rubber cap to be stylish. I suppose."

"Well, Uncle Wiggly got his bottle of white shoe polish at the store, and bringing it home, he went out on the back porch of his bunslon to whiten his shoes, which had rubber soles, just like the eraser top of a lead pencil, only different of course."

"Uncle Wiggly shook up the white stuff in the bottle until it looked just like milk and then, with a little sponge, he began spreading it on his shoes. They began to turn white at once."

"Oh, I shall look very stylish and proper at the seashore," thought Uncle Wiggly. And then he sang a funny song about a little girl selling sea shells on the seashore and if she hasn't gone away she's on the seashore selling more."

The rabbit gentleman had finished putting the white stuff on one shoe and he was sort of holding it up in the sun to see if it had any black spots on it—black spots on the shoe, I mean—when all at once, Uncle Wiggly heard a sort of barking cough behind him, and, turning quickly, he saw the fox—the bad old fox.

"Ahem!" said the fox, as politely as he knew how, which, I am sorry to say, wasn't very polite. "Ahem! How are you today, Mr. Longears white?"

"Well—really now, I'd feel a good deal better if you were to go away," said the rabbit gentleman. "I don't want to be impolite but—"

"Oh, pray don't mention it!" said the fox. "I'm not used to politeness. But I came to get you. Then I'm going away."

"Come to get me?" Uncle Wiggly exclaimed. "Why, I didn't expect you."

"I know you didn't. That's why I came. I'm going to take you away with me."

"Oh, are you? Well, I—I don't want to go," said Uncle Wiggly.

Uncle Dick's Chat With the Children

My Dear Nephews and Nieces—

I have been very interested to see how you all filled in the missing things in the last contest. Many of you showed that you require to take more notice of details whilst others proved to be quite clever with their pen or pencils, and filled in the missing parts to be filled in so that those of you who did not manage to win the prize, may know where you were wrong.

One of my nieces has sent me in a very good suggestion, which I intend to carry out. She writes me as follows:

"It would be nice for all the pictures painted by your nieces (and nephews) to be made into scrap books, to be sent to the hospital for sick children. Some of your nieces (and nephews) could stick them in the books if you sent them the pictures. It would amuse the poor sick children. Geraldine."

I am sure you will agree that this is a very good idea, so I shall be glad if any of my nephews or nieces will please send me their names and addresses, saying they are willing to make scrap books for the above purpose. I will then arrange to send a batch of the pictures for them to use. Next week I shall give you more instructions as to how to make the scrap books.

In a week or two I shall have a most interesting suggestion to make to you, as to my hundreds of kiddies helping towards making a somewhat happier Xmas for the many poor boys and girls whose fathers are away fighting. I shall tell you about my scheme early as it will perhaps take two or three months in which to prepare. However full particulars later.

Now I hope you will all try hard in the contests this week. Remember that although you may have already won a prize, you are not debarrd from winning another if your work merits it. Try your best in the new contest I am giving you. I shall soon be giving you a list of most interesting and new things in your Corner, so keep watching, and don't forget to let me have your letters.

With best wishes to all my kiddies,

From Your

Uncle Dick

Things Worth Knowing

Buckled Wheels

Occasionally a cyclist has the misfortune to buckle a wheel of his bicycle. This renders the machine difficult to handle.

If the front wheel gets damaged, stand the bicycle up on the back wheel and hold the handlebars so that the machine runs on the back wheel alone. If the back wheel gets buckled, grip the handlebars with your left hand, and with your right take hold of the back step or stay, and lift the back wheel off the ground.

You will find these quite useful methods of moving your cycle. Both ideas will serve just as well in the case of punctures or cuts in tyres.

Camp Gait and Paper Holder

A novel salt and pepper box, which any Scout can make for himself, is as follows:

All that is needed is a piece of bamboo cane and twoorks. Choose a piece of bamboo with the joint in the centre, which you can easily cut from a whole cane.

One side you can use for salt and the other for pepper, and it is as well to label them. Theorks act as stoppers at each end.

Cycling Hints

Chains should be lubricated with thick oil or grease. They should never be allowed to get rusty or dry. Occasionally the chain should be thoroughly cleaned by rubbing well with a stiff brush dipped in paraffin oil.

Saddles often get squeaky, and the best way to do away with the noise is to turn your machine upside down, and oil the springs well. Also oil the leather where rivets pass through of metal touches.

Oiling should be a regular habit with the cyclist. Always use clean oil, and don't forget to close all caps of the lubricating holes after oiling.

Brakes must always be kept in order. See that the brake blocks are adjusted properly, and that all nuts are tight.

Tool Bags are supplied to carry the cyclist's wants. Be sure yours is stocked with a repair outfit and the necessary spanners, etc.

Frames look much nicer if they are kept clean. Beeswax and turpentine make a splendid polish, and will smooth out all scratches.

Answers to Letters Received by Uncle Dick

Willie Brock—Many thanks for the good coloring of the children's heads, which I consider very good, but you have made the boys' hair rather too light.

Geraldine Corey—I am glad you received your prize alright. As you will see I am publishing the correct things missing, as you ask. I think your suggestion as to the making of scrap books from the pictures sent in for the injured and sick children a very good one, and as you will see in my letter I am asking for the names of nephews and nieces who may wish to do same.

Harold Le Clair—I am pleased to get more boys to join the Corner. You are not greedy, go on trying to win the prizes. Yes, you all will, no doubt, find the Corner very interesting this winter.

Isabel Jamieson—I am pleased to welcome you to the Corner Isabel, and trust you will go on trying to win a prize, and be successful soon.

Harry Waite—You have made a very good attempt in the "missing things" contest. Yes, I shall send you another picture in the next issue, but never. I shall have a lot of very interesting things to tell you all soon.

Maud Humphrey—I received your letter, and am glad you got the prize alright. I quite understand why you used pencil, but in future just use the picture in front of the fire, until it gets quite warm, then try the ink, it will most likely not run then.

Glady's Courthard—Have you entered for the contests before, Glady's? I don't remember your name. I trust you will continue to enter the contests, and enjoy the Corner.

Florence Holder—As mentioned in last week's Corner, I was very pleased to get the beautiful pin cushion, to be sold in aid of Red Cross Society. I have done this and the result is published in another column. You certainly deserve special praise for the work as it was splendidly made, and showed great consideration, and thoughtfulness.

Daisy Sears—Many thanks for your letter. You seemed to have enjoyed your book very much. They are nice stories, are they not?

Kathryn Wilson—Thanks for your nice letter, Kathryn. Now you must set to work and see if you can manage to win a watch, or some other prize.

Hilda E. Chown—Thanks for your nice letter, Hilda. I was beginning to wonder what was the matter. I don't appear to have received a letter from Bessie, when did she write it? No, you won't have so much time now. I am sorry you have not as yet been successful, but see what you can do this week.

Rogers Chown—I trust you will continue to like school, and stick in hard so as to pass into the higher grades quickly. I shall look for more attempts from you in the contests, now that you will be learning so much.

Evelyn Kershaw—I am pleased to see that you entered for the painting contest. You have made a very good coloring, but of course the result will not be known until next week.

Irene V. Thurber—You were nearly right in the "things missing" contest, but as you will see you got one mistake. You must try and succeed next time.

Dorothy Lynde—I am very pleased indeed to welcome you as a new niece, and also must congratulate you upon winning the watch, as your work was without any doubt the best, the missing parts being all correctly and neatly drawn in.

Harry Waite—You will be pleased to see that you have been successful in winning the watch among the boys who competed in the "missing part" contest, and I heartily congratulate you.

Doris Wetmore—Many thanks for your nice letter. I am sorry to hear you have been sick, but trust you will now soon recover your full health and be able to get back to school. It was kind of you to think of the poor wounded soldiers whilst you were in bed, and make them uncov'ered.

Frank Rowe—I am afraid you have forgotten to enclose your coupons, Frank, and also not given me your address, let me know where you live.

Margaret Bridges—Welcome to our increasing and merry corner, Margaret, and I trust it will not be long before you are numbered among the successful prize-winners.

George Hamilton—You have done the coloring fairly well, George, but take more care so as not to let the paint run over the edges, and thin the colors more with water, as they are rather thick.

Harry Amelley—No, if you have already won a prize or a certificate, you are not debarrd from competing again.

Scout News

Commissioner J. A. Stiles, who is in charge of the Boy Scouts' Class from U. N. B. for camp, is assisting the Chipman Troop under Scoutmaster Hamilton, in preparing for the "Survivor's Badge," and map drawing. Last Monday night the troop marched out to the Commissioner's camp, for different instruments used by engineers. They are very grateful for his able and willing assistance.

The following is an interesting account of what took place at a Boy Scout camp recently, and is published so that other scouts may perhaps receive suggestions for their camp next year:

The interest of visitors to the camp has been divided between the construction of the camp itself, with its daily routine, and the scouting activities always going on outside it. One of the many proficiency badges which may be won by a scout is that of handymen, and inside camp there was evidence everywhere of that badge being held. Beside the flagstaff stood His Majesty's post office, a letter-box constructed out of packing case and covered with dillcloth. At the flagstaff also a biscuit tin protected the clock from the weather, and the bugler for the day had as part of his duties to chime on triangle the hours and the quarters. The tidiness of the camp lines was accounted for by the placing here and there of waste paper baskets ingeniously constructed out of tent pegs and twine. Inside the general stores tent were hastily constructed racks for the most instructive features of the pioneer work, comprising the felling of trees, the stripping and sawing of logs, the construction of foot bridges across the streams, the erection of a trestle observation tower with square and diagonal lashings and lashings, the building of temporary butts with hurdles, brushwood, and rushes, and the making of camp kitchens, with trench, drain, and chimney. The skill of the bridge builders was put to the test by a cloudburst one afternoon, which in a few minutes caused the burns to rise over a foot and overflow the banks, submerging their handwork but falling in any way to damage it.

The German Troop will start its meetings on Friday next, September 10th, and all boys are requested to be present.

There will be a meeting of the Local Association next Thursday, the 9th inst., at 8 p. m. in the Y. M. C. A. A full attendance is requested, as plans are to be made for the winter's work.

Congratulations are in order to our worthy secretary, Mr. P. J. Legge, who has just bettered himself by taking a better half.

Scouts Ambulance Badge

The following is the first of a series of articles which will be found most helpful in the preparation for to get the different badges. They are written by a Scoutmaster of a smart efficient troop in New Brunswick, and Scouts should make a special effort not to miss reading any of them. In fact a good plan would be to cut them out as they appear and keep for reference.

Scouts! Have you your Ambulance Badge yet, if not "Be Prepared" by having same on your sleeve before Xmas. It will be useful in many places, and Scouts should pride themselves on being able to go anywhere, and do anything. There are a few things you will need, bandages, absorbent cotton, boric wool, lint, boric acid ointment, carroll oil, jaconet, aromatic ammonia, court plaster, iodine, Arnica, camel hair brush, safety pin, a clear head and steady hand. Next week I will explain how to treat bruises and burns.

Quartermaster.

Be Prepared

In our chat, last week, a little incident was given of a boy scout standing at the salute in the movies. This brought me one or two letters asking if it was correct to stand at the salute or "salute" when the National Anthem was being played in such a place. Now I understand that whilst there is a certain amount of doubt as to which should be done, I think the rule is to stand at "salute."

On the other hand it is much better to stand at the "salute" than to twist and turn about without any smart appearance whatever. Now boys I don't wish to appear always trying to find fault, what I say or rather write, is intended to help and encourage you. Remember that the guide is always watching the behavior of scouts, particularly when they are taking part in some demonstration, etc. Whilst some mistakes, as well as to yourselves, these there others who should take more pride in their appearance, obey orders smartly, answer questions addressed to them by others, with more eagerness and intelligence. The Olympic motto, "Be Prepared," is very interesting, and instructive, I am sure that if all the boys and girls knew what splendid books you awarded as prizes, they would try doubly as hard. Thanking you,

I remain your nice,

Kathryn Wilson.

Swimming Tricks

If you are giving a display in the bath, or at the shore you will find the two tricks described below very effective.

Mending Broken Plates

A boat is anchored so that it is side ways on to the spectators. From the boat, someone throws into the water some broken pieces of plates, scattering them widely apart, in view of the people, as they drop in the water, say the Scout, England.

The swimmer then dives in and is lost to sight for about three minutes (people are getting anxious), when he suddenly reappears where he went in, and, swimming to the spectators, shows three or four whole plates.

Now, of course, the conjurer is not under water for three minutes. He simply dives in, goes down about six or eight feet, turns round and swims under the boat until he sees a white plate which hangs from a rope on the farther side. He then comes up this rope, gets out of sight behind the boat, and after resting, takes three plates which are there for him, and swims under again, to come up about the same place where he dived.

When leaving the side of the boat for the return, it is better to push yourself under, rather than make a splash in trying to turn over.

Real Drowning

As in "Mending Plates," a boat is similarly moored. The person to "drown" is swimming very slowly, looking tired, when, on passing about three or four yards from the boat's side, he shouts "Help," and, throwing his arms in the air, sinks from sight.

On hearing the shout, several others (some perhaps in clothes) swim to the spot and try diving down in search of the drowning person.

The people in the boat urge on the would-be rescuers, but it seems in vain, when suddenly one from the boat, thinking he sees something deep in the water, cries out loudly: "There he is! Look! (pointing) Down for him, quick!"

This time their efforts are successful, and the "unconscious" person is brought to the bank or stage, and slowly recovered under the Schaefer method of resuscitation.

After sinking the "drowning" person swims under the boat as in "Mending Plates," and stays out of sight, resting, until he hears the shout "There he is!" He then swims back and meets the rescuers, who recommence diving on the word "Quick!"

This is very realistic.

ANOTHER NIECE
Uncle Dick—
you will accept me as one of your nephews. I will be very glad. I have one uncle, and I would like to have you. This is the first contest I have participated in. I hope I shall succeed in the end.

A GRATEFUL NIECE
Uncle Dick—
I have received, and already read your splendid book on sent me. It is very interesting and instructive. I am glad that if all the boys and girls who read your splendid books would award prizes, they would try doubly hard. Thanking you.

TRYING TO GET PRIZE
Uncle Dick—
I am coloring the children's pictures
each week. I have not got a prize yet, I am trying to get one. School has started now, so I won't have much time to enter the contest.

A NICE LETTER
Uncle Dick—
I received the book you sent as a present to me, and I think it very nice.
I hope very much to get a watch,
which you so kindly offer as a prize.
I must close now, hoping to hear from you next Saturday in the Standard.

How to Run a Troop.
By Ernest Young, Headmaster Harrow County School, and Scoutmaster
Dover Troop, in "The Scout," England.

Fourth Week's Work
1. Written test on the Flag. Sufficient questions:—(a) Names the Patron Saints of England, Scotland, Ireland, and Wales. (4 marks); (b) Draw the flags of England, Scotland, and Ireland, and indicate their colors (9);
(c) When were the English and Scotch flags united? (1); (d) When was the Irish flag added? (1); (e) What is the correct way to fly the flag? (1); (f)
What is the meaning of a flag at half mast? (1); (g) What does the Union Jack stand for? (1).

2. Explain the Scout Law and Motto (S. for B., pp. 48-50). Tell each boy to learn the ten Laws by heart for the next week.

Outdoor Work
(a) Test Fire-lighting for Second Class. Each boy to find his own dry in the open, not to bring a nice dry bundle from home.

(b) Test Scout Pace for Second Class. A starter is wanted who will send off the boys, at intervals of say three or four minutes each. As each boy starts, his name and time of departure are noted. At the end of the rush, his name and time of arrival are noted. Later, the two records are compared, and the Scout has passed if he has done the mile in twelve minutes, with, say, an allowance of a few seconds either more or less.

IN AID OF RED CROSS SOCIETY.
Readers of the Children's Corner will be interested to learn that the principal fund for Florence Holder, has been sold for $1.40 and that this amount is being handed over to the St. John branch of the Red Cross Society.

AN OLD BOY'S MESSAGE TO SCOUTS
Rear-Admiral the Hon. Horace Hood, C.B., M.V.O., D.S.O., of the Dover Patrol, and in charge of the Hottles of warships acting off the coast of Belgium:

"The British Empire has reached a critical point in its career. If the inhabitants of Great and Greater Britain recognize that it is the duty of every male citizen to be ready to uphold the Flag, with all their strength; and further, if they recognize that it is their duty to make, in time of peace, all preparations for this, then I believe the Empire will enter on a still more glorious phase of its history.

"But if the members of the Empire are not prepared to make this sacrifice in peace, as well as in war, then the great possessions which will pass, and rightly so, into the hands of those better able to hold them.

"I believe the Boy Scout organization, more than any other, is assuming to install these three into the coming manhood of the country."

at one time pastor of Queen Square Church, and other important charges in this province, and F. E. Island, who makes his home in Newfoundland, is visiting in Truro, N. S. He reported to be in excellent health and his occasional ministrations are highly appreciated. At a Mount A. Institute held lately in Truro, Rev. James Strothard presided and Revs. B. J.

bares gave telling, interesting, and instructive addresses.

Services Under Shell-Fire

Services are regularly held on the Lord's Day, but under trying conditions. Writing of the second Sunday in June, Mr. Halliday says, "We had a very uneasy day owing to irregular bursts of shrapnel and common shell.
About four o'clock in the afternoon
a new experience awaited us, for there screamed into the camp a type of shell we had only known from afar. It is called 'screech' because the word applies to the sound which is facetedly described by the name. It is facetedly called 'screech' by the Australians.
It comes upon us almost silently, and then, just before it bursts, there is a loud screech. The explosion is deafening, and the effect upon one's nerves demoralizing. From four o'clock till seven we had a succession of these all round the neighboring Camps. Some of the fragments threw up a burning shell trail. I should think, a hundred yards. I had announced a service for 6:30, and when I got to the place where it was to be held, I found it packed with men. It is a large enclosure, protected on two sides by banks of earth about six feet high. I have frequently spoken of the way these men sing our hymns, but on this night they surpass themselves. It was a memorable service. I had just commenced my address when two of these huge shells which I have just described burst quite close to the enclosure, filling it with smoke, but empty of men.
When they returned, a few minutes later, we proceeded with the service but, ten minutes had hardly passed when we heard the whistle of approaching shrapnel, and four shells burst in front of the enclosure. We were poor stuff, though, and did no damage. The salvo was much better quality, and the pellets simply rattled against the rock and in amongst us.
Despite the danger, a number of men remained to the close of the service.
Shortly afterwards the fire having died down, we held a Communion Service, which sixty-five men remained.
It was a real inspiration to us."

Western Missions

C. R. Sayer, General Secretary of Western Missions, in a recent letter writes: "Conditions on the Western fields can hardly be understood unless one visits the churches. I spoke in one church recently where the head of every family was out of work. Another where fifteen or more men have gone to the front, making a severe drain on their resources. Another where their girls have dropped from $4,000 a year to less than $1,000, owing to men losing their business and being out of employment. There are some nine or ten churches that are without pastors, largely because there are no funds to assist them. We never needed help more than the present.
We hope for a good harvest; but every day our hops are fading on account of the continued wet weather."

WILL WE EVER
WALK ON AIR?

Train of Thought Inspired by a Letter
About "Fruit-A-Lives"

MR. D. McLEAN.
Orillia, Ont., Nov. 28th, 1914.
"FOR over two years, I was troubled with Constipation, Drowsiness, Lack of Appetite and Headaches. I tried several medicines, but got no results and my Headaches became more severe.
One day I saw your sign which read
'Fruit-A-Lives' make you feel like walking on air. This appealed to me, so I decided to try a box. In a very short time, I began to feel better, and now I feel fine. Now I have a good appetite, relish everything I eat, and the Headaches are gone entirely. I cannot say too much for 'Fruit-A-Lives,' and recommend this pleasant fruit medicine to all my friends." DAN McLEAN.
"FRUIT-A-LIVES" is daily proving its priceless value in relieving cases of Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles—General Weakness, and Skin Diseases.

unanimously nominated Dr. Falconer for the moderatorship of the Synod which will meet in St. Andrew's church, St. John, Oct. 5.

pastorate of St. Mark's church, Sydney, N. S., and his resignation has sidered by the Presbytery of Halifax has recently arrived home on furlough and is at present with friends at Truro.

Dr. McLure has been in Honan since 1888.

some time ago. He has recovered from his illness and left the hospital about a week ago.

field for the Maritime Home for Girls, in one or more of the St. John churches tomorrow. He reports encouraging success all along the line.

The united services between St.
Andrew's and St. Stephen's churches held during July and August have been completed, and tomorrow morning and evening services will be held in each church. The united services between St. Matthew's and the Congregational church continue during September.

Rev. David Lang of Corona Presbyterian church, Denver, Colorado, formerly of St. Andrew's church, St. John, came to St. John this week to spend a few days during his vacation.
The Church and Social Questions.
In view of the thought of the people being turned by the approach of "Labor Day" to questions relating to labor and social problems generally, it may be well to recall the expressed attitude of the Presbyterian church in Canada as embodied in a statement approved in general terms by the General Assembly in 1911 as an expression of its judgment upon the ques-

Had "Cholera Infantum."

WAS WASTED TO A SHADOW

Cholera Infantum is one of the most common summer complaints of infants and many die who could be saved.
It begins with a profuse diarrhoea, very often accompanied by vomiting and the matter ejected from the stomach has a bilious appearance;
the child rapidly loses flesh and becomes weak and languid.
Mrs. W. Falls, 455 Jones Ave.
Toronto, Ont., writes: "I have used
Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for my three boys, and I do believe it saved their lives. One of them had cholera infantum so bad he was wasted to a shadow, and the doctor had given him up, but 'Dr. Fowler's' cured him and he is now a healthy boy. I would not be without it in the house."

Reliable Recipes

Grape Fruit Punch

One quart of grape juice, a pint of carbonated water, grape of one large juicy grapefruit and sugar to taste. Squeeze all the juice from the grapefruit and strain into the grape juice, sweeten, stirring until the sugar is completely dissolved, add the carbonated water and serve with cracked ice.

Apple Custard

Take six apples, remove the skin and cores, stem the apples, then make a soft custard; use 3 egg yolks only in the custard, whip the whites stiff and add a little lemon juice and pour over the apples; then pour the yellow custard over all and serve at once; this dish is delicious either hot or cold, but it is better when custard is allowed to cool before poured over apples and let stand awhile before being served. Can be made sweeter if desired.

Sugar Cookies

One and one-half cups of sugar, one cup of butter, two eggs, one-half cup of sour milk, or cream if possible, one teaspoonful of soda. Mix as soft as possible to roll. Bake quickly.

Original Breakfast Dish

Take equal parts of seasoned mashed potato and baked macaroni with cheese (left over from another meal) mix well together and press into small cakes. Fry a nice brown in well greased frying pan.

Sweet Sauce

To one pint of boiling water add heaping tea cup sugar, tablespoonful butter, pinch salt, and tablespoonful cornstarch dissolved in cold water; season with nutmeg or vanilla, boil half an hour. If good and well cooked it will be very clear.

Horseshoe Sauce

Beat one tablespoonful heavy cream until stiff. As cream begins to thicken add gradually 24 teaspoonful vinegar. Season with salt and pepper then fold in 1-2 tablespoonful grated horseradish root.

Five Minute Salad Dressing

One and one-half cups vinegar, not too strong; put in sauce pan and let come to boil. Break 1 egg into a bowl and beat light, then add 2 teaspoonfuls of sugar, 3 teaspoonfuls of flour, 1 teaspoonful of mustard, 1-2 teaspoon

Black velvet hat with a shirred brim edge. An ostrich feather is twisted into a pom-pom shape and posed on the brim edge.

Fruit Whip

One egg white beaten stiff, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup of fruit, strawberries or raspberries. Mash berries and drain off a part of the juice, beat egg, sugar, and fruit until stiff. The longer you beat the more you have. It makes a delicious cake filling.

Cheese Squares

Out of a pint of milk take enough to wet up a quarter of a cup each of flour and cornstarch, seasoned with a half teaspoon each of salt and paprika. Add this to the remainder of the milk, scalded in a double boiler. Stir constantly until the mixture thickens, then occasionally for 20 minutes. Add a quarter cup of creamed butter and a half cup of grated cheese. As soon as these are cooked, turn out into a shallow pan, and when cold cut in shapes. Lay these in a baking pan apart from each other, cover thickly with grated cheese, reheat, and broil in a quick oven.

Soups

In making soup, if your meat and bones are uncooked they should be put into cold water. On the other hand, when they have already been fried or browned, boiling water only is

MAHARAJAH TRIES TO BALK CAPTURE

MAHARAJAH OF KAPURTHALA

When the Rotterdam entered the port of Falmouth recently it became known that among her passengers were Jigjit Singh Bahadur, Maharajah of Kapurthala, a principality of India. With the Maharajah, aside from his Queen, the Maharani, are his secretary, M. M. Roy; an American girl, Miss Margaret Cullen, and a considerable retinue of servants. Fear of an attempt by German raiders to capture the wealthy and powerful Indian ruler prompted a complicated series of arrangements for his leaving New York. His party went aboard two days before the steamed from New York. All remained in absolute seclusion until the steamship was well on her way. It was obvious to the British government that the capture of the Maharajah, ruler of what is probably the wealthiest principality of India, would be an important stroke and worth the risk taken by submarines which might be employed in the project. For this reason the British consulate here made arrangements for a British cruiser to meet the Rotterdam at a point off Falmouth to act as convoy through the submarine fields of operation and to port. The Maharajah has several wives. The Maharani, who accompanied him, is a Spanish beauty, whom he married five years ago in Madrid.

Peach Pie

This recipe makes a delicious pie; put a rich undercrust on pie tin, drain canned peaches and put the fruit in the crust, hollow side up; take two eggs, pinch of salt, one tablespoonful of sugar and beat; then add milk enough to cover peaches; sweeten more if not to your taste, pour over the peaches and bake in hot oven; let cool before serving.

Hard Times Cake

Try this and see how nice it really is, eaten fresh: One cup sugar, 1 tablespoon lard, 1 egg, cream all together; cup cold water, 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon of cream of tartar, 1/2 teaspoon soda, a little salt and flavoring. Bake in layers and use any filling desired.

Fashion Notes

Touch in Tailoring

The fastidious dresser will gladly pay for exclusive design, something not actually visible on the face value of a model, but which tells in the long run likewise for cut, fine workmanship—which represents time—and that in tangible element resists a touch. The tailoring art is frequently erroneously supposed to be chiefly based on a cut and dried method of calculation, a species of mathematics. The high-class tailor of any repute has a strong appreciation for perfect figure, and although he may base his scheme on regulation measurement, the first fitting resolves into a question of eye and touch. What these two masters dictate must be, and with the true tailoring artist it is ever a pleasant task to achieve an ever to rest short of perfection, writes Mrs. Jack May in the Queen (London).

Critical Period in Life

Most people hearing their three score and ten will find if they look back that there were certain years when some serious failure of the general health occurred. These are known as the critical ages. The first occurs between the years of 14 and 16, the second about 24 or 26, the third somewhere between 40 and 43, and the fourth between 45 and 50 in women and between 50 and 63 in men says the Daily Eastern Argus.

Summer Hairdressing

To produce the Castle bob coiffure, which is so popular among young girls, the hair may be drawn back loosely from the forehead and dressed low in the neck. The device or hair which gives the bobbed effect is then arranged on a narrow black velvet ribbon band. The ribbon is placed rather low on the forehead, encircling the head, which allows the bobbed hair to cover the neck and ears. The cluster curl is a style of coiffure used either high or low. For both styles a softly constructed wire foundation covered with silk net is employed. This insures perfect sym-

Helpful Hints

To Remove Scorching

When garment is scorched with hot iron, all traces of it may be quickly removed by dampening the scorched place with peroxide of hydrogen, then press and place where the sun may shine on it.

Treatment For Pimples on the Face

Solutions of boric acid are beneficial and sometimes curative without other treatment in cases of unsightly pimples on the face. The solution should be used hot and in large quantities. A heaping tablespoonful of boric to each quart of water makes a solution of proper strength, and at least three quarts should be used. The face should be soaked well for at least ten or fifteen minutes, by leaning over the bowl and using towels wrung in the hot solution. This softens the epidermis, removes the grease and germs and facilitates the action of any local application that may be made afterward. In many cases this treatment alone cures; but it is also necessary to avoid too rich a diet, to keep the bowels open, bathe frequently and generally aid elimination of the toxic material in the bowels.

To Wash Turkish Rugs

Turkish rugs can be put in the tubs and washed like rugs. Make a soap jelly with a white soap, dissolve a good deal of this in a big tub of warm water—not hot—and put the rug in it, wash the rug well swept and shaken. The colors will come out like new after the bath.

How to Tell a Navajo Blanket

A woman travelling in the West learned from an Indian squaw how to tell whether a blanket or rug was of genuine Navajo weave. Several young Indians were having a discussion over a blanket as to whether it had been woven in New Mexico among the Pueblos, or by the Navajos. When the squaw came along she felt of the edge carefully, and said decisively: "Pueblo." It was noticed that the edge had a loose, frayed effect. In the genuine article the edge is evenly cut and firm as a board, the Indian woman explained, while the inferior Mexican weaves have an insecure and soft binding. The test is said to be infallible.

"A Standard Reader," St. John—Look over some of the clothing store adverts in this issue, I think you will get the information you require, by so doing. A better plan would be to call in at some of the larger stores. Yes, I shall be glad to have the "helpful hints" you speak of in your letter.

J. C. K. Halifax—Many thanks for your suggestions; but I hardly think they could be adopted. Use a little diluted creolin on the hand, and at night apply a little sulphur ointment, on a piece of cotton wool.

APPROACH GERMAN IN RUSSIA

Six Weeks of Time for servers For is Not Ready

(Special to New York)

London, Aug. 22.—The military movements in the east have been in progress without four months. Twice, shrewdest military observers on their successes in their attention to the war front. These, with the fall of Lemberg, occupation of Warsaw, and the advance of the Russian hosts now are 150 miles inside the capital of Poland.

Every day sees the further from their east. Every day sees the Russian winter drawing closer. The stubborn resistance which protects the front taking their toll in columns.

It must be admitted that an indefinite continuation of the war has advanced German arms to every demand put to the armies, as in Russia, creating far from their station, Belgium and France, the ability of the business of the Berlin War Office the full every natural quered territory. France, virtually are supporting munition and provision occupation. APPROACH OF WINTER MAKES GERMAN CHANCES OF SUCCESS IN RUSSIA LESS FAVORABLE

Six Weeks of Open Winter Remain Before Time for First Snows, and Military Observers Foresee Collapse of Drive if Decision is Not Reached.

(Special to New York Herald.) London, Aug. 22.—The Austro-German offensive, the most tremendous military movement in history—has been in progress without cessation for four months. Twice, many of the shrewdest military observers said the armies of the two Kaisers would rest on their successes in the east and turn their attention to the western or southern front. These predictions came with the fall of Lemberg and with the occupation of Warsaw. But the Teutonic hosts now are 150 miles beyond the capital of Poland. They are beyond Poland. There are, in fact, from 50 to 150 miles inside Russia itself, and all there are no signs of an end to the sweep.

An end there must be, however. Every day sees the invading armies further from their bases of supplies. Every day sees the rigors of the Russian winter drawing closer. Every day finds the stubborn rear guard detachments who protect the Russian retreat taking their toll of the pursuing columns.

It must be admitted that too much weight may be placed on the danger to an indefinite continuation of the German advance. The history of this war shows German organization equal to every demand put upon it. While the armies, as in Russia, may be operating far from their national supply stations, Belgium and France illustrate the ability of the business departments of the Berlin, Cologne and other headquarters to supply the full every natural resource of conquered territory. France and Belgium virtually are supporting, in arms, ammunition and provisions, the forces in occupation. And while Grand Duke Nicholas, before the retreat from the Polish salient, ordered the destruction of whatever might be turned to the use of the captor it is not too much to believe that the German engineer staff already is preparing for operation the great machine shops of Warsaw and Kovno and the smaller establishments of Lodzin, Chelm Siedlce and other important Polish towns. Lodz, for more than eight months, has been an important factor in the German industrial system.

Wet Season Begins.

It is to considerations of season and losses then that observers are more inclined to turn for argument that the drive is nearing its close. The last week has brought reports of the beginning of the wet Russian autumn. Rains have appeared in all the sectors from Riga to Brest-Litovsk. The roads are softening and the low land, which so frequently degenerates into swamps and marshes, is taking on the character of bogs. Any water soaked ground is difficult, if not impossible, for an army burdened with heavy artillery and transport trains. Accounts of big guns, mired and abandoned, have come already from the country east of Kovno. The current rains in not more than six weeks will turn into the first snows of winter, and November 1 will see the whole bleak theatre of operations in the grip of freezing cold. It is true armies great fought through the winter, as they did this year in the Carpathians and spasmodically along the Zuzra and the Niemen, but the movement of troops were on a scale almost insignificant as compared with that in progress today.

There is a strong conviction here that if a decision is not reached before November 1 the campaign will be brought to an abrupt, if involuntary stop and every hope the German peoples may have for victory will have been dissipated.

The most careful observers of events, keeping as accurate an account as possible in the circumstances, of the losses in the east place the Austro-German casualties since the Galician drive began at 1,000,000 in killed, wounded and prisoners, the Russian losses at fifty per cent. more. A conservative estimate of the accretions of the offensive armies from the summer levies is 750,000 men, leaving a net loss of a quarter of a million men. No figures are obtainable of Russian losses aside from those furnished by Berlin and Vienna of prisoners captured and which are generally regarded as an exaggeration, but considering the nature of the operations in which the forces have been engaged the estimate of 1,500,000 is not believed too high. It is doubtful if the Russian forces have been increased during the summer in view of the known shortage of arms and the great wastage of weapons necessarily entailed by such a retirement as they have been making.

Three More Fortresses Fall.

The week since last Sunday has been a repetition of the sixteen preceding. The momentum of the Austro-German sweep has carried them to and beyond the Bug River and to the great system of fortified positions. Three fortresses of secondary importance and one among the most formidable in Europe, have been occupied. Osowets was abandoned first. Brest-Litovsk, which is the key stone of the entire Russian defence system, resisted attacks for ten days, then the fortress works were destroyed, the garrison of

MANY STRATEGIC MOVEMENTS ARE MADE UNDER COVER OF DARKNESS

Owing to the havoc caused by modern artillery, commanders in France are now carrying out a considerable number of their most important movements under the protective cover of darkness.

The night attack is a form of tactics which is becoming increasingly popular, and night fighting has developed into quite a science. All manner of ingenious ruses are practised to enable large bodies of troops silently to advance across country and launch an unexpected attack on the enemy. The success of such tactics depends very largely on the silence with which they are carried out. During night operations troops are strictly forbidden to carry their rifles at the "slope" which is to say, across their shoulder. This is to prevent the muzzle of the rifle glittering in the moonlight above the undergrowth.

The men have to carry their arms in the right hand, but never with the left, the reason being that the bayonet is slung on the left side, and the weapon would continually rattle against the rifle, and cause a sound which could be heard for a long distance, especially if several hundred soldiers' bayonets and rifles clashed.

To cut noise down to a minimum troops during a night attack never march in step. The steady rhythmic tramp of several hundred men would be heard for miles.

Hard roads are avoided, and the soldiers march in broken step each side of the road, on the grass, if possible, two columns of men occupying each side of the highway, this formation being the usual marching formation of "fours" cut in two. Should an alarm be sounded the troops can quickly conceal themselves each side of a road, if they are marching at the side of it, and they are far more likely to escape detection than if they had to scamper noisily from the thoroughfare itself.

When advancing over country at night, troops, whenever possible, choose the direction of their attack so that they march with the moon behind them.

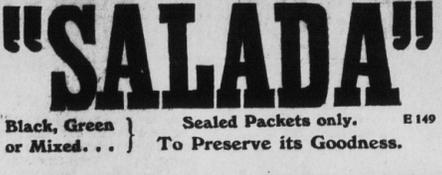

It has been discovered that objects at night are more clearly visible when the moon is in front of them than when it is behind them. A patrol scout if he has the moon in his rear, can distinguish advancing troops several hundred yards away if the night is starlit. If the observer faces the moon, however, his vision is limited to less than one hundred yards.

At night, advancing troops are protected by advance and flank patrols which sweep the surrounding country to discover the position of the enemy. These bodies of men, generally composed of four, have a most ingenious method of carrying out their hazardous work.

They move in what is known as the "diamond" formation. There is a man in front and rear and one on each side, and the ground between them is the main body to warn them of the proximity of the enemy.

In practising for night operations, as all troops preparing for war are now doing, the men have to learn nu-

A Suggestion for Efficient Economy

Throughout the Empire has gone the call for personal economy to meet the extraordinary demands of the war. Here is a timely suggestion to men who have been spending from $25.00 to $75.00 a year on barber shop shaves:

Invest five dollars in a GILLETTE Safety Razor and shave yourself at home.

The saving will not be limited to money—the time you'll gain will be even more important, for the morning shave with the Gillette need not take more than five minutes.

And the comfort rivals the economy. Though you never shaved yourself before, you'll have no trouble in getting a clean, cool, safe shave with the Gillette Safety Razor. No more waiting your turn in the chair—no more breaks in the morning's work—no more dependence on unknown barbers when travelling, for the Gillette works anywhere.

Truly, the man with a Gillette is an efficient economist. Get one yourself to-day. "Bulldog," "Aristocrat" or Standard Sets cost $5.—Pocket Editions $5. to $6.—Combination Sets $6.50 up. Your Hardware Dealer or Jeweler will show you an assortment.

NEWS IN THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD

ONLY AUTOMOBILE OWNERS INVITED

Each season brings forth its new forms of social functions which spring into popular favor. This year has been no exception to the general rule, and a unique form of picnic day for Ford owners is proving most popular in various parts of the Dominion, and more especially in the towns of Ontario.

The Ford picnic is an original idea whereby all Ford owners of a community or county hold a get-together day in the open in good, old-fashioned family picnic style, with plenty of sports, contests, music and other events suitable for such an occasion.

Invitations are sent out to all Ford owners and they are asked to bring their wives, their children, their sweethearts and their friends—as many as their cars will hold. These functions have fostered a fellowship that is remarkable.

At the annual Sports Day recently held in Neepawa, Manitoba, a Ford Picnic was held in connection, with fifty cars in the affair. Alvinston, Ontario, Ford owners last month enjoyed an outing together at Corunna on the banks of the beautiful St. Clair River. After taking a ferry boat to the Indian Village on Stag Island, most of the crowd motored to the horse races at Sarnia, turning homeward in the evening. On the entire run of nearly 100 miles, not one car gave any trouble.

Port Bruce and Port Dover, Ontario, and High River, Alberta, are a few of the other places where these Ford gatherings have recently been held with great success and much enjoyment. At Port Bruce 138 Ford cars loaded with happy merry-makers joined forces at the picnic grounds. With band concerts, baseball games, motion picture shows, booths for refreshments and other features, these gatherings have taken on the general aspect of a successful country fair.

While the picnic idea has been very popular, in some instances the Ford round-up has taken the form of a banquet to Ford owners, J. J. Duffus, Ford dealer at Peterboro, Ontario, being the host at the latest function of this nature.

These Ford gatherings emphasize very effectively the social nature of the motor car and illustrate the very vital part the automobile is playing in the social life of the people. Along with the telephone it has done a vast amount of good in making life more interesting in the farming and rural communities as well as the larger towns.

NOTES FOR THE AUTOMOBILISTS

When a tube becomes deflated as a result of puncture, or an imperfect patch, the creeping of the tube tends to tear the valve stem loose and destroy the tube.

A piece of cloth rubbed with ordinary kitchen soap is a good thing to have in the car. By rubbing the cloth against the windshield a slight coating of soap is made on the glass and any moisture falling against it tends to run off.

Radiators can be generally cleaned by the use of ordinary washing soda dissolved in boiling water. To a water pail full of boiling water add a couple of double handfuls of washing soda, forming nearly a saturated solution. This is poured into the radiator and the motor run for a short time, possibly three or four minutes, to let the soda reach all parts of the system. It is followed up by clear water, which rinses out the soda and the matter which is loosened by its cleansing action.

A source of squeaking that is rather common with a good many motors of not the latest type is a dry valve stem, most likely to occur on the exhaust side. Such a squeak often is hard to locate exactly, but a little prod- ing around with an oil can while the motor is running will quickly stop it by lubricating the dry places.

BRITAIN FLOATS TEMPORARY LOAN IN WALL STREET?

To straighten out exchange situation until Commission reaches New York—American securities recently brought from England collateral on which Loan was issued.

New York, Sept. 3.—All indications today tended to confirm a report current in Wall street that Great Britain has borrowed from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 temporarily in this market to correct the exchange rate on sterling until such time as her commission shall reach New York and consummate negotiations looking toward the flotation of a much larger credit loan here.

According to the report the collateral on which this preliminary loan was issued was brought to New York in four lots, and aggregated the approximate figures of the sum borrowed. Two of the shipments of collateral, totalling about $55,000,000, were brought from Great Britain to Halifax aboard British men-of-war, and shipped thence to New York with about $40,000,000 in gold within the past thirty days. The two other bundles of securities were said to have been brought here aboard the liners Adriatic and St. Paul which reached New York yesterday.

This loan, if made, was regarded as but a makeshift to clarify the surcharged atmosphere of the foreign exchange markets. Spurred by an un- seen stimulant, rates rallied in spec- ular manner today, sterling soaring ten cents or more at the opening of the market. They fell back later, but on the day's transactions a sub- stantial gain of three and one-half cents was recorded. Sterling closed at $4.68.

Conservative estimates of Great Britain's needs here in the form of credit placed the sum today at a minimum of half a billion dollars, with twice that sum mentioned as an out- side total. A billion dollars credit loan if floated, would not, it was thought, be raised on one huge issue. Such a sum would be too great for rapid digestion, in the opinion of some authorities. But a half billion dollar loan, it was thought, might be float- ed.

To furnish this staggering sum, it was said, the bankers of all the chief cities of the country would be called on to participate. Boston, Philadel- phia, Chicago, Pittsburg, Atlanta—in fact all reserve centers, and some cities where there are no reserve banks—would be represented in con- ference with New York, either by delegates or by correspondence. The situation would then be placed before them and they would be asked to con- tribute their share to insure uninter- rupted continuance of America's ex- port trade.

Whether Great Britain could furnish sufficient American securities at present to serve as collateral for this big loan was another question considered. It was thought that should she not be able to raise this sum, Canadian and South American securities—government bonds and even high class rail- way bonds—would be thought suffi- ciently stable to serve as collateral for a part of the loan provided the com- proller of the currency would sanction such collateral.

Today's recoveries in rates were attributed by leading bankers here chiefly to a normal return to real val- ues from fictitious low prices resulting from speculation. Once steady, the exchange market today showed few changes. Closing quotations on sterling were 4.66; on francs 5.95; on reichsmarks 80½ and on lire 6.46.

THE FRUIT TRAIN

Did you know there was such a thing as a fruit train? Neither did I until Mr. Gabel, Inspector of the Fruit Branch of the Department of Agriculture, told me of it and offered to take me with him on one of its trips. We left St. Catharines early in the afternoon, after taking on some peaches, early apples, tomatoes and berries. We stopped at the stations in the Garden of Canada, from Jordan to Burlington, gathering car loads of de- licious, luxurious fruits to be taken to fruit-hungry people in all parts of the country.

The Inspector was everywhere, with his little hammer, opening baskets and boxes to see that the fruit was not "overfaced," or, in other words, that the big ones were not on top, and all the rest little ones. At Vineland we were joined by Mr. Clement, who has charge of the Ontario Government Experimental Farms at Vineland. His business is to produce new varieties, and make experiments that the Commercial Grower cannot afford to spend the time nor money in making. The knowledge garnered by much hard work, and watchful waiting is passed on to the growers for their profit. With the Ontario Government to assist the producer and the Dominion Government to protect the consumer, the system, to an ordinary observer, seems perfect.

The Fruit Train makes its trip every day during the fruit season. It is run by the Canadian Express Company, and Mr. Hickey, Express Superintendent, is on hand to see that the packages are carefully handled, so that the "ultimate consumer" shall get one hundred cents' worth of fresh, undamaged fruit for his dollar.

TO REMOVE SCALE FROM CIRCULATING SYSTEM

When the circulating water of gas engine piston rods, exhaust valve jackets and small piping causes the rapid collection of scale due to a combination of hardness of the water and suspended matter, the use of commercial muriatic acid is very effective in softening up the scale which may afterwards be washed out. The acid should be introduced in its undiluted strength into the parts where the scale has formed and allowed to stand for four or six hours. Before applying the acid the part to be treated should be separated from the balance of the water space by disconnecting the piping and plugging the outlets. The spent acid may be allowed to flow to the sewer together with the loosened scale. The spots should be thoroughly washed out with a strong stream of water to thoroughly get rid of all of the scale. Care should be taken that the fresh acid does not come in contact with cement floors or other finish about the garage which may be injured by it.
