to the belief that some mysterious fate

FEAR ANOTHER N.W. M. POLICE TRAGEDY

Three Men Missing Since November 3 Went to Northern Wilds to Arrest a Man On Girl's Charge

Trappers Report Finding Two Rifles On Trail of the Officers Would Likely Take—Ottawa Views the Story With Some Suspicion—Think They May Have Met Foul Play.

(Special to The Telegraph.)
Ottawa, Dec. 29.—Reports just received by Comptroller Forrester of the Northwest Mounted Police lead to the belief that another tragedy has been enacted in the wilds of the north.

The report states that a police patrol consisting of Sergeant Harper, Constable Stevenson and Richard Harrington, a packer which left Saskatoon Lake
in the Grand Prairie district on November 8 on its way to the Porcupine River, has not returned, and that grave fears are entertained for the safety of the members.

The finding of a gun and a rifle by the trail in the vicinity of Moose Mountain creek, about the middle of December by two trappers, leads the suggestion of tragedy to the long continued
absence of the patrol.

The patrol left the post at Saskatoon
Lake in the afternoon of November 8 on an individual assignment to the vicinity of the Porcupine River. The journey was uneventful and the party less country and the fog for the party had to be packed. For this purpose Harrington accompanied them. Despite the distance and the difficulty of the journey however its patrol expected to complete the round trip and return within two days.

At headquarters on Saskatoon Lake
no word has been received of them.
On November 11 the members of the patrol were seen near Moose Mountain Creek. They pulled out from there expecting to get back to that point in a week's time. On December 15 a party of trappers in the district reported the finding of a gun and rifle at a point on the trail which the patrol would be expected to have taken. The weapons were similar to those carried by the patrol and little doubt is expressed as to their identity.

Turning Over

The New Leaf

As the New Year approaches one naturally thinks of good resolutions and new leaf to be turned.
Here is a suggestion for turning over a new leaf that may bring you success and happiness.

If you have not been a reader of advertising, take today's Telegraph and Times and turn over the first leaf that will get your eyes focused on the advertising.
If you do not see anything
there that appeals to you—turn the next leaf.

Do it tomorrow—the next day—
and the whole year.
You will be surprised at the good it will do you.

You will know now and spend less than ever before, for when you buy you will buy with that little yellow card that makes a difference of one hundred cents
in your service.

Turn over a new leaf—to the advertising page.

MONTREAL BATTLED BIG FIRE WITH LITTLE WATER

Firemen Laid 7,000 Feet of Hose

Two Buildings and Sixty Automobiles Among the Property Destroyed—Loss
Estimated at $285,000—
One Fireman Injured.

(Canadian Press.)
Montreal, Dec. 29.—Two three-story buildings were gutted, sixty automobiles were destroyed and damage estimated at $285,000 was done this afternoon by a fire which occurred at the corner of Ontario street and Providence Lane, in the northeast section of the city.

The firemen with only one stream of water, owing to the break in the city's main conduit, which has caused a water famine since Christmas night, fought for an hour and a half at the end of which time the buildings were in ruins.

During the course of the blaze one fireman was injured, and the brigade laid 7,000 feet of hose with two engines relaying to bring the pressure of the single stream up to efficient strength, the longest hose laid in the department's history.

The firemen succeeded in preventing the flames from getting down to the tank containing 2,000 gallons of gasoline six feet under the basement of the doomed structures. There was an adequate supply of dynamite on hand to demolish the building if the fire got beyond control. When the fire broke

LIVELY FIGHTING IN MEXICO SOON

Rebels Plan to Drive Huerta's Troops From Northern Country—Garrison of 1,200 in Laredo Menaced by 5,000 of Revolutionary Army—American Troops Ready to Take a Hand if They Cross the Border.

Washington, Dec. 28.—Confirming private rumors, official reports reached the state department today of renewed insurgent activity in northeastern Mexico with the announced purpose of clearing out the federal forces from the remainder of Mexican states. Today the Constitutionalist forces are reported to have 2,000 men under the command

LONDON DISCUSSES C.P.R.-C.N.R. MERGER

GREAT LIBERAL MEETING IN NEW GLASGOW

Dr. Clarke, of Red Deer, J. H.

New Glasgow, N. S., Dec. 28.—One of the most enthusiastic and interesting political meetings ever held in Pictou county was that called for tonight in the Academy of Music here. Two thousand were crowded to the doors and a more attentive and appreciative audience could not be desired. As the chairman of the meeting, R. M. McGregor, M.P.E., remarked it is plainly evident that the spirit of Liberalism is very much advanced in Pictou county.

The speakers were Dr. Michael Clarke,
M.P. of Red Deer, Alberta, John H.
Sinclair, M.P. of Guelph, Ontario, and E. M.
McDonald, M.P. of Pictou. The address of Dr. Michael Clarke was a treat specially enjoyed by a Nova Scotia audience, and the masterly handling of the trade and navy questions by the brilliant Canadian will be long remembered by every one within range of his voice.

THE WOMAN'S CORNER

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL (Domestic Science Lecturer)

Write to McKellar

A recent report from cold storage men shows that thirty-three million dollars are now held in storage and that a large part of these must be moved immediately.

This report is encouraging to housekeepers everywhere who have watched with interest the boycott started by housewives in New York City and eagerly joined by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the President of the United States, Mrs. William J. Bryan, and wives of nearly all cabinet members.

With fresh eggs selling at sixty-five cents a dozen in city stores and storage eggs at thirty-seven to forty cents, it is the duty of every woman, who has her family's welfare at heart, to take an active part in this campaign.

In Chicago, the school children have joined the movement for lower priced eggs and when conditions are such that one little one has the necessity of buying their little mite to lower high priced food, it is time that gambling in eggs and butter be stopped.

It is doubtful if any city or state can permanently check the evil methods of the cold storage "combine," but the federal government can. Representative D. McKellar, of Tennessee, has introduced a measure in the House to regulate cold storage shipments in every state.

You can boost this McKellar bill and get your friends to help and this will be much better than starting boycotts that deprive you of the food that you need and should have.

Regulation of cold storage food is properly a national matter and Congress can handle it by placing a definite time limit upon the storage of food. We have no greater blessing than that of cold storage, but nothing is so much abused as cold storage.

So great is the evil power of the interests that control our food products that Congress may not be able to act in this matter, but this aim of the McKellar bill is so reasonable and good that every one should do their best to make it a success.

TO EVERY WOMAN'S HUSBAND, SON AND BROTHER. No man is greater than his resolution. Success, like charity, must begin at home. Society does not help those who do not help themselves.

The world method of teaching your children to be successful is to let them know that you are their best friend. You are not their enemy. You are not their competitor. You are their helper.

Make kitchen aprons with a flat seam, stitched on both sides, to three inches right or wrong, and time will be saved both in washing and in looking for the right side of the apron.

ST. JOHN, N. B., DEC. 31, 1913.

THE CHANGE OF VIEW.

The man who advises others to go to war should be willing to go himself. It is within the possibilities that a few years hence no man who does not first prove his willingness and his fitness to take the field, will be permitted to advocate war, or to make speeches or write articles likely to provoke war or preparation for it.

If it is not worth examination that much of the newspaper writing about "foreign politics" today in Canada consists in an effort to convince Canadians that some nation, or some group of nations, is preparing to strike Great Britain and the Empire? This generation is plagued by a set of alarmist writers who forever represent some great power or other as crouching for a spring.

We have had much good, bad, and ordinary writing in support of armaments of late years, and we have come to take it for granted that sort of literary endeavor is a habit with us.

Peace being better than war, men of our day are listening to those who say that if half the money and effort spent on war and preparation for war were employed in advancing the cause of international peace, the world would soon be ready to disarm, and to maintain only an international police force to discipline the undisciplined or the temporarily disgraced. This world of ours wants nothing so much today as that the armies should go to work in the fields or the factories, and that the money and the brains and the muscle we have devoted to preparation for war should be given to preparation for peace, comfort, and well-being. Ten years ago all this sort of talk was dismissed by the war school and their press as "an idle dream."

THE "NEW SCANDAL"

Mr. P. P. Gaudin and Mr. Lynch Stanton, who were appointed by Mr. Borden to investigate the building of the Transcontinental from Winnipeg to Montreal, are about to report to their paymaster, and the Conservative newspapers say that they will charge the National Transcontinental Commission, which built the road, with a carnival of financial irregularity resulting in a loss of some $44,000,000 to the public treasury.

Naturally, effective reply to the charges must await their complete disclosure, but the Tory forecast of them may as well be made now as later. The principal allegation is that hard and fast construction rules as to curves and grades added immensely to the cost of the railway.

Whatever was the source of the money expended in paying Dr. Jordan—some say Mr. Carnegie made it out of arrearage—it probably is producing better results than if it were paid out for puns and ships. To pay a thousand millions of pounds a year for the sort of peace we have now is not only to pay too much, but to commit the world to further extravagance without any promise that security is in sight.

The second general charge in the indictment has to do with "over-classification," which means that contractors were paid for rock, or for something more difficult than "common excavation," when only "common excavation" was needed.

The "new scandal" is of ambitious proportions, but if the forecast does it justice it will give the Liberal party little concern. That Mr. Borden and his friends are sorely in need of a scandal or two to occupy public attention just now is universally recognized.

STANDING UP FOR PEACE.

No doubt we ought to be suspicious of Dr. David Starr Jordan, Chancellor of Stanford University, of California, for the agents of the armament trust recently denounced him as one hired to preach peace. They meant that his salary for travel, and possibly his salary as well, is paid by the Peace Foundation.

Dr. Jordan said that at the end of the American Civil War General Sherman, the greatest general of the North, used the words: "I confess as a soldier, and without shame, that I am sick and tired of war. Its glory is all moonshine."

never can guess what the desperate advocates of peace will do next. In England last week Dr. Jordan delivered a lecture on "War and Manhood," some sentences of which are likely to stick in the minds of those who heard him.

Dr. Jordan said that at the end of the American Civil War General Sherman, the greatest general of the North, used the words: "I confess as a soldier, and without shame, that I am sick and tired of war. Its glory is all moonshine."

The test of the whole matter is this: If the duties on food and other necessities do not make the prices in the home market higher, why is there any objection to removing such duties?

THE OLD BORDEN AND THE NEW

In replying to the Christmas greetings of the American committee in charge of the proposed peace celebration, Mr. Borden sent the following: "Neither nation ever won a nobler victory than that which is embodied in this century triumph of friendship and good will over every temporary difficulty and discord."

War, the lecturer continued, was wicked, demoralizing, futile, expensive, and preposterous, and such incidents as that at Zabern, in Alsace, were making the peoples begin to see that its machinery was ridiculous.

THE ILLS OF DEMOCRACY.

President A. Lawrence Lowell, of Harvard University, in discussing the function of parties, has the following comment to offer on the Boss: "Although much has been thought of late in connection with the boss and his methods of operation, there is still abundant opportunity for some political philosopher to study his natural history, explain the real causes and limitations of his power, and expound more fully his relation to the precise conditions in which he thrives."

The boss is apparently a necessity of the bad situation. He lives because he is essential to the form which "democracy" has assumed in America. The United States people dread bureaucracy more than they are attracted to the idea of experienced public servants who retain their positions so long as they are faithful and efficient.

THE OLD STORY.

There has been going the rounds of the Conservative press of Canada—and at last it has reached St. John—an argument intended to show that the tariff has no bearing upon the cost of living. A protectionist writer in Montreal revived a very old and very simple plan of proving it.

This triumph of fiscal logic was promptly copied in a large number of Conservative journals, which accepted it without examination, or which were hungry enough for any protectionist argument to accept it even if its weaknesses were clear to them; and, the other day, this form of argument was repeated in the St. John Standard as if it had some serious bearing upon the questions which have arisen with respect to the tariff and the high cost of living.

No doubt we ought to be suspicious of Dr. David Starr Jordan, Chancellor of Stanford University, of California, for the agents of the armament trust recently denounced him as one hired to preach peace. They meant that his salary for travel, and possibly his salary as well, is paid by the Peace Foundation.

of the duty could not benefit the consumer in the home market at all. THAT "SCANDAL"

The Standard newspaper is disposed to stand by the alleged Transcontinental "scandal" set forth in one of its Ottawa despatches recently. It says it has a first rate scandal and that it will be defended to the last ditch.

THE ILLS OF DEMOCRACY.

President A. Lawrence Lowell, of Harvard University, in discussing the function of parties, has the following comment to offer on the Boss: "Although much has been thought of late in connection with the boss and his methods of operation, there is still abundant opportunity for some political philosopher to study his natural history, explain the real causes and limitations of his power, and expound more fully his relation to the precise conditions in which he thrives."

The boss is apparently a necessity of the bad situation. He lives because he is essential to the form which "democracy" has assumed in America. The United States people dread bureaucracy more than they are attracted to the idea of experienced public servants who retain their positions so long as they are faithful and efficient.

THE OLD STORY.

There has been going the rounds of the Conservative press of Canada—and at last it has reached St. John—an argument intended to show that the tariff has no bearing upon the cost of living. A protectionist writer in Montreal revived a very old and very simple plan of proving it.

This triumph of fiscal logic was promptly copied in a large number of Conservative journals, which accepted it without examination, or which were hungry enough for any protectionist argument to accept it even if its weaknesses were clear to them; and, the other day, this form of argument was repeated in the St. John Standard as if it had some serious bearing upon the questions which have arisen with respect to the tariff and the high cost of living.

No doubt we ought to be suspicious of Dr. David Starr Jordan, Chancellor of Stanford University, of California, for the agents of the armament trust recently denounced him as one hired to preach peace. They meant that his salary for travel, and possibly his salary as well, is paid by the Peace Foundation.

democracy is the failure of the citizen to do his duty. No mere formula of politics or scheme of government will give the average man a sense of public duty and of individual responsibility, but both may come out of the evils in public life when he realizes that they are due to public apathy, and that there is no cure for them short of political activity and independence on his part and that of his neighbor.

THAT "SCANDAL"

The Standard newspaper is disposed to stand by the alleged Transcontinental "scandal" set forth in one of its Ottawa despatches recently. It says it has a first rate scandal and that it will be defended to the last ditch.

THE LIBERALS AND ROAD BUILDING

(Toronto Globe).

A most unorthodox and unfair campaign leaflet, issued by the central bureau of the Conservative party, is in circulation in East Middlesex and the Liberal party is against it. It asserts that the Liberal party is against the highways bill, and that in 1912 when the Borden government put the highways improvement bill through the commons and presented an appropriation of $10,000,000 for this purpose, the senate killed the bill.

It is a falsehood to say that the Liberal majority in the senate killed the highways bill. The Borden government put the highways improvement bill through the commons and presented an appropriation of $10,000,000 for this purpose, the senate killed the bill.

FOOD TAXES MUST GO

(Toronto Globe).

The rising tide of opposition to the food taxes cannot be ignored by the government of Canada. Mr. Borden and his colleagues have discovered that the greatly-increased cost of living does not fall upon Liberals only, but that the most ardent Conservatives who opposed the removal of the food taxes in 1911 because they believed free trade in commodities would greatly increase our exports to the United States, lessen the cost of living, and weaken the ties of trade binding Canada to Britain, are beginning to question the wisdom of their attitude on that occasion.

CAMPBELLTON HAD BEST CHRISTMAS TRADE IN YEARS

Campbellton, Dec. 26.—An unusually good holiday season is the general verdict. Merchants say, "The best for many years." The winter thus far has been uniformly mild and free from heavy storms. Old Borden has evidently retired from business in this section of the country and the snow that has fallen has lain undisturbed.
