Hostilities Have Begun

An Armored Train Has Been Destroyed by the Boers.

And It Is Feared Much Loss of Life Will Result.

Active Steps Taken to Defend Mafeking.

Text of Britain's Reply to the Boers' Ultimatum—The Transvaal's Formal Declaration of War.

Cape Town, Oct. 12.—9:45 a.m.—A dispatch from Vryburg says that an armored train has been destroyed. It is feared that much loss of life will result.

The news has been officially confirmed.

NON-COMBATANTS REMOVED.

Mafeking, Cape Colony, Oct. 12.—As the Boers, in strong force threaten this place the situation is so serious that all non-combatants have been notified that they will be taken away at the expense of the imperial government and housed in Cape Town. A railroad train carrying 300 women and children were escorted by a detachment of Col. Baden-Powell's force as far south as Vryburg, where the Cape Railway becomes responsible for the safety of the passengers.

LAING'S NEK.

London, Oct. 12.—The second edition of the Standard says that a dispatch from Ladysmith, dated yesterday morning, says that it is again reported that the Boers have occupied Laing's Nek, the young burghers insisting upon the occupation despite the more prudent counsels.

Telegraph wires connecting the Free State have been cut, and an immediate advance of the Boers is not anticipated.

ROYAL IRISH FUSILIERS AT DURBAN.

London, Oct. 12.—Albertina, which, in a dispatch from Durban, was reported to have been seized on Thursday by the Boers, is a station in the Free State, on the Harrismith line. Harrismith is equipped and officered directly by Natal troops. Durban advises received here say that the Royal Irish Fusiliers have arrived there, and that military headquarters are being removed to Ladysmith, whither Gen. Sir George Stewart White, Gen. Sir Archibald Hunter and Gen. Symons, with their staffs, have already gone.

MR. HOFMEYER'S APPEAL.

Cape Town, Oct. 12.—Mr. Hofmeyer, in his appeal issued under the auspices of the Afrikaander Bond, asking for subscriptions for the relief of the widows and families of burghers killed in the Transvaal, says: "Notwithstanding strenuous efforts to preserve peace, war has been virtually declared. There are few Afrikaners not bound by ties of relationship and friendship with the inhabitants of both republics, and natural sympathy should express itself in legitimate form, and do what can be done. To take weapons and join the work of warfare, their duty as British subjects forbids, and accordingly he appeals to each person to contribute the utmost."

BRITAIN'S REPLY.

London, Oct. 12.—The following is the text of the British reply to the Boer ultimatum: "Mr. Chamberlain to Sir Alfred Milner, high commissioner, sent 10:45 p.m., Oct. 10, 1899: "Her majesty's government have received with great regret the peremptory demands of the South African Republic, conveyed in your telegram of Oct. 9. You will inform the government of the South African Republic in reply that the conditions demanded by the government of the South African Republic are such as her majesty's government deem it impossible to discuss."

THE TRANSVAAL'S DECLARATION.

Johannesburg, Oct. 12.—War was declared yesterday. The formal declaration occurs at ten o'clock this morning. Judging from the present circumstances, the Boers are preparing

PROTECTING THEIR FINANCES

Assistant Engineer Ironside to Look After Outside Work.

Board of Works Acknowledges to a Great Blunder—It Was a Mistake Not to Have a Street Commissioner.

The board of works met last night with Ald. Douglass (chairman), Ald. Parnell, Wilkey and Reed, Engineer Kirkpatrick and Secretary Bell present. The chief item was the passing of a motion made by Ald. Parnell to instruct Assistant City Engineer Ironside to look after outside work for the balance of the year. Mr. Ironside was formerly street commissioner, and performed the duties which the members now wish him to attend to. It was decided early in the year to get along without a street commissioner, and Mr. Ironside was assigned office duties. A mistake was made, which the committee now realize. Therefore, he is asked to resume his former position without the name of street commissioner. The matter came up in connection with a request by Ald. Wilkey that a return be made of the inspectors' wages on the mosaic tile walk now being laid on Dundas street, between Waterloo and Wellington streets, he made. It was taking a long time to lay the walk, he said, and the cost to the ratepayers would be correspondingly high.

The inspectors put in their own time," said Ald. Parnell, "and I am informed that their wages run from $20 to $25 a week. There is no one to look after them. Nobody knows anything about them. I am not saying that they are not perfectly honest, but the business of the department should not be run so loosely. The decision not to have a commissioner was an irretrievable blunder."

Engineer Kirkpatrick said the inspectors were seen every day. Ald. Parnell replied that in former years the time was always checked. Ald. Garratt—Look after the contractor. The inspector has to be paid until the contract is finished.

Ald. Parnell moved that Mr. Ironside, for the balance of the year, be instructed to devote his whole time to looking after the street work in charge of the engineer's department. Carried.

The engineer will be instructed to have the road roller used in proper condition for the winter. The much-discussed petition for a mosaic tile walk on Simcoe street was up again.

Ald. Wilkey moved to recommend that the bylaw for a mosaic walk be rescinded, and that the proposed construction of a cement walk be advertised.

A petition from T. J. Low and others for an addition to the West London sewer was filed.

J. A. Thomas' petition for a cement walk on Witley road was considered. Council will be recommended to have the walk laid.

The engineer will report regarding a claim from Mrs. Sarah A. Henry, for damages for injuries received through an alleged defective sidewalk.

The cost of the Berinton street sewer will be charged to the sewer debenture fund.

Action was deferred on the petition of the Canadian Park Packing Company for permission to connect a drain with the Dundas street sewer. Mr. R. K. Cowan appeared in support of the petition.

Three tenders for the construction of a sewer on Talbot street were received. Ben Johnson's, at $200 and 22 cents a foot for side drains, being the lowest, was accepted.

A meeting of the sewer committee followed, at which the calling for tenders for "filling in" at the boys was discussed. It was suggested that new tenders, to include provision for the free course of water be called, and the matter was referred to City Engineer Graydon to call for same if he approves of the suggestion.

A VACANT PULPIT

Termination of a Most Successful Thirteen Years' Pastorate.

On Sabbath last Rev. Mr. Moffatt, by direction of the Presbytery of London, declared the pulpits of the North and South Westminster Churches vacant, thus terminating the 13 years' pastorate of the Rev. E. H. Sawers, who this week removes to his new and lighter charge at Brucefield. He leaves a grand record of work among the two congregations in Westminster. Unfailing in his attention to the calls of his flock over whom he was placed, he was ever ready with kindness of heart to help all who called upon him in times of trouble, whether of his own charge or not, and never failed to keep his Sabbath appointments. The distance between the two churches was some four and a half miles, and more than once in winter he took a shovel to work his way through the snowdrifts, but it was said was never once late for service. During his pastorate there have been added to the communion rolls no less than 400 names; baptisms, 220; funerals attended, 230; marriages, 55, and nearly $50,000 in cash raised between the two churches, of which about $18,000 went to schemes of the church outside the bounds of the congregation. Thoroughly imbued with the missionary spirit himself, he laid special emphasis upon this department of the church's work, and it was grandly carried on by the intelligent zeal and appreciative sympathy of members and adherents. The special plan pursued was based on the sound theory that a well-informed people could be trusted freely to sustain the spread of the Gospel and its advantages to others. To promote this knowledge and bring the people together in a social spirit, a great missionary gathering was held annually at the North Church, with its beautiful grounds and adjoining grove, where addresses were given by workers from the home and foreign fields, and others, interspersed with appropriate music and a luncheon at midday. This "mission feast," as it was called, became a historic occasion, attracting hosts of people from far and near. No comparisons were asked for on these occasions, but the missionary givings of the churches wonderfully increased, while all other schemes were correspondingly well, or better, sustained. In this regard these congregations attained an enviable position in the presbytery. It is also worthy of note that two young men of this charge were inspired to go out as missionaries—Rev. W. Gauld, of the South Church, to Formosa, and Rev. James Menzies, of the North Church, to China.

Though strongly aided by his people, the burden of his arduous work gradually told upon his strength. More than once calls had come to him from other fields, and finally, with the consent of his people and the presbytery, believing that the change would be the means of his complete restoration, thus extending for many years the spiritual helpfulness of his ministry, the transition to the church at Brucefield came about. Naturally, under these circumstances, the severance of the pastoral tie has been keenly felt. On the eve of his departure the local Women's Foreign Missionary Society, over which Mrs. Sawers had presided, and the Christian Endeavorers presented each a token of their affection and best wishes for their future well-being.

ROSE HAD A THORNY PATH

Had Three of His Neighbors Before the P. M.—Numerous Assault Cases—Police Court News.

Wm. Smith, colored, was charged at the police court this morning with having assaulted Wm. Rose, a neighbor, on Saturday night last. The complainant said he was going to a store near by, when Smith threw a stone at him and threatened to kill him. The stone just missed him. Smith denied the story, and his wife swore that he was in the house at the time the stone was thrown. Smith was fined $2 or three days.

Wm. Ford was charged with using insulting language, and threatening violence, to Rose on the same evening. The complainant said his wife was over at Ford's, and he went after her, when Ford threatened to knock his brains out and swore at him. He was found that Ford would not hold his peace in two surities of $100 each.

Mrs. Ford was also charged with using insulting language to Mr. Rose. Complainant stated that Mrs. Ford called on her husband to kill him, and called him a number of vile names. He also told the court that at one time when Mrs. Ford was living in the same house with him he was poisoned. He was not sure, but suspected Mrs. Ford of having put poison in some strawberries.

Mrs. Ford denied him to prove his assertions, and denied the story of using foul language. The complainant had frequently called her foul names and swore at her. This was the reason her husband interfered. Rose said he would be willing to forgive the defendant if she would keep her tongue from abusing him.

Mrs. Ford acknowledged that she called the complainant a "lying old hypocrite," but denied saying anything more.

A number of witnesses were called who testified to hearing Mrs. Ford use unbecoming language to Rose. Judgment was reserved.

George Fountain was arrested yesterday, charged with having assaulted his wife, who was the complainant. The police court this morning Mr. Fountain decided to give him another chance to reform, and did not prosecute. The prisoner was discharged.

Christopher, 17-year-old youth, was charged with assaulting a 9-year-old boy named Howard Bryce. Mrs. P. Bryce was the complainant, and asked that Cleugh be bound over to keep the peace. This was done. Cleugh struck the boy in the face on the Hamilton road.

Pte. Millie, of D School, was up on a charge of assaulting Mrs. Harriet Dibleycombe, by striking her. Case charged for a week.

Wm. Dudge and H. Prebble rode their bikes on the sidewalk. They were allowed to go.

Hugh McCurdy, who holds the record for the greatest number of times before the magistrate, was up again, with the same old trouble, too much liquor. He has been up 72 times. Several days of hard labor was the sentence of the court.

Wm. Anderson was up, charged with insanity. He was remanded until Monday.

AMUSEMENTS

THE LYCEUM COMPANY.

The Lyceum company of players will present Shakespearean drama for three nights here, commencing Oct. 16. Large and appreciative audiences have attended every performance since the opening of the present season, and better staging and costumes have not been seen outside of the metropolis for some years. Mr. Edouard G. Oze, of New Orleans, and Miss Hortense Zile, who are making a continental reputation for the excellence of their work, are strongly supported by people of almost equal experience and clever and smooth-running productions are the result. The company opens in "Hamlet," followed by "The Merchant of Venice" and "Othello," and in these three evenings with Shakespeare the London public will enjoy fine performances.

The death occurred on Tuesday of Wm. H. Essery, of the township of Mossa. Mr. Essery was in his 68th year. He had been ailing for some time, but was not seriously ill, and the end came rather suddenly from heart failure.

Alvinson Free Press. The township of Brooke lost another of her sturdy sons on Wednesday, in the person of James Alexander Elliott, who died at the age of 33 years 6 months and 2 days. Deceased was born April 2, 1866, at Dorchester Station, in the county of Middlesex. He leaves a wife and three young children.

The Equitable Mining and Developing Company of Ontario, Limited, was organized for the purposes set forth in its charter, being the powers granted under the Ontario mining companies incorporation act, a synopsis of such powers being as follows:

"To open, develop, work, smelt and manage iron and other mines, to acquire by purchase or lease, other legal title, mines, mining lands or mineral properties, to construct, maintain on the property of the company, or property controlled by the company, buildings, stores, etc., and to do all such matters and things as shall be incidental or necessary to the due attainment of the objects of the company."

The company is at present operating its mine of high-grade hematite iron ore, situated in Frontenac County, Township of Storrington, and in the report of an investigation by Professor A. B. Willmott, M.A., B.Sc., of McMaster University, of one deposit only, he speaks as follows:

"I examined the iron location on Lots 18, 19 and 20 of the X Concession of Storrington.

"The ore occurs as a somewhat horizontal bed of hematite in the Potsdam sandstone, which here forms the summit of a low ridge of crystalline limestone. The top of the hill is about 100 feet above the lake, which is part of the Rideau Canal. The ore bed dips slightly to the northeast, about in the direction of the ridge, which is N. 30 degrees E. The ore occurs near the summit of the cliff at the south of the opening, and reaches the water level some 500 feet northeast, on the boundary of the property. The iron deposit is thus in a most favorable position for easy and cheap mining and for transportation.

"The extent of the deposit is, by its nature, determined by the length and breadth of the hill and the thickness of the

FOOTBALL.

PETROLIA WILL DEFAULT.

Secretary Spry, of the London R. F. C., received a letter this morning from Petrolia informing them that the latter club intended defaulting. The decision of Petrolia puts London in bad circumstances, as they have gone to considerable trouble and expense in advertising the game, and have sold a great many tickets. The tickets have, however, will be good for Thanksgiving Day, a game with a strong team being arranged for that day.

IRISH TEAM AT MONTREAL.

Montreal, Que., Oct. 12.—The Irish football team, who played their first match in America in this city yesterday afternoon, defeated the United Service by a score of 2 to 0, making one goal in each half. They showed their best skill to be in dribbling and kicking at which they excelled, but on the whole their performance was rather a disappointment.

INTERNATIONAL MATCH.

Toronto, Oct. 13.—When play was stopped yesterday in the match at Rosedale grounds between Prince Ranjitsinhji's eleven and the Gentlemen of Canada, it was pretty well established that the visitors could beat the Canadian team by an inning and perhaps a little to spare, and that without the aid of the redoubtable Ranjitsinhji, who is still somewhere on the way between Philadelphia and Toronto, and it is hoped, may arrive in time to bat today.

The Canadians went to bat first, and were out shortly after 2 o'clock for 87 runs. In the afternoon the Englishmen piled up 216 runs with a loss of seven wickets. Some of the hitting of the Englishmen was phenomenal, and drew tremendous applause from the 2,000 spectators. Jessop sent the ball twice over the grand stand, and once out of the grounds, two of the hits being in one direction.

For the home team the batting of Counsell, Logan, McGivern, Boyd and Cooper was especially careful, and Counsell and Cooper, who went in first, and stayed until 25 had been put together, gave a fine exhibition of defensive play.

The hitting of the Englishmen began disastrously. On the very first ball, which was by Cooper, Priestly was caught out by Boyd. The first four wickets were taken for 57 runs, as against 43 for the first Canadian four, and things looked not so bad, but when Jessop came in with his mighty forward stroke the hopes of the home team fell. He put 66 to the credit of the English score. Stoddart, who is not out, has put on 40, but his play is by no means so bold as Jessop's. Stoddart piled up his total by a one and a two here and there, while Jessop smashed his way through by hard hitting. McGivern, who worked as captain, in placing his men, and at the bat, was praised by everyone, and his contribution of 21 to the score and not out, brought him the congratulations of his opponents. ESTABLISHED BY JOHN CAMERON IN 1853.

The Cleveland Strike.

The Chicago Tribune, which is one of the ablest and steadiest newspapers in the United States, has the following editorial article on certain matters connected with the Cleveland strike. As the matter is of interest and importance, carrying more than one plain moral, we give our contemporary's article entire. Says the Tribune:

"The public is too often left in confusion concerning the real merits of industrial conflicts. Accordingly, any intelligent and conscientious statement on such a subject, though partial, is of value. The Rev. Albert B. Christy, claiming the intimate relation of pastor to a large proportion of the striking street car men of Cleveland, writes in a recent independent of the 'psychology' of the late strike in that city, approaching the subject from the standpoint of the employees.

"The trouble, he affirms, arose from a demand last January under a changed management of the 'Big Consolidated' system, for faster time, more trips, and a cessation of the customary rests. Overwork, violations of the speed ordinance, and increased accidents followed. The public heaped blame upon the men, but their complaints to the management only resulted in discharges, first of individuals and gradually of the members of their committee. Finally, in March, with fourteen of their members under arrest for violation of the speed ordinance, some for manslaughter, and after 'as many children had been killed,' a union was secretly organized—secretly, for fear of discharge—and later the men quit work to enforce attention to their demands. Instead of conference methods, however, or the acceptance of proposed arbitration, their act was met by the claim that they were no longer employees, and by the operation of the cars by new men under police protection.

"As to deeds of violence, Mr. Christy asserts that of nearly 4,000 arrests only 10 were strikers, and 9 of these were discharged from court, two are under trial and two were fined for annoying neighbors. He also insists that violence was not committed by the strikers, but that certain circumstances point to the complexity of the company's agents in the explosions, of which there were no less than eighteen, though only two resulted in bodily injury. The boys, from which the strike enters every home and store until all the body politic is affected, he deprecates, but he defends it in this 'condition of war' as the logical weapon of the men whose 'vested rights' in their own purchased homes and in their situations had provoked no public act of protection, while the police had stood guard over their employer's property.

"This statement of Mr. Christy's, with the questions of fact which it raises, emphasizes the need for some regularity, constituted and practical method of bringing to light the truth about such conflicts. As an electric light is often worth a policeman in disorderly part of town, so the turning on of the light upon situations of this kind is one of the most important services which can be rendered toward the cause of industrial peace. It would seem that boards of arbitration should either make better use of the powers which they possess for this purpose or secure some extension of them. The public, as the party which must furnish the police and the militia, as well as suffer the enormous inconvenience caused by such civil strife, has a right and a duty to know the truth."

We have printed the foregoing for the purpose of once more emphasizing The Advertiser's opinion that the only remedy for strikes in connection with public franchises—or almost any other strikes, for that matter—is compulsory arbitration. In New Zealand, under the compulsory arbitration law, strikes are unknown. Since the law came into operation, testifies W. P. Reeves, author of the statute, "there have been no labor troubles in New Zealand." Our Province of Ontario has an excellent arbitration law—excellent except in one respect, namely, the lack of a clause compelling the respective parties to accept the finding of the arbitrators. That defect will doubtless be remedied at once on the meeting of the Ontario Legislature a few months hence. As soon as the Ontario law is thus amended, there can be little doubt that it would at once be invoked, in which case, and at which time, if not previously settled between the parties voluntarily, our long-drawn strike will come to an end, in spite of either side, or of both.

There never was any method of settlement of this London street railway strike to be compared with arbitration, or mediation, or the exercise by both sides of the principles of the Golden Rule. From the first appearance of the dispute, The Advertiser has persistently advocated arbitration, or mediation, or give-and-take, as it does today. So far as can be seen, however, each party to our local controversy stands firm, without any sign on either side of yielding.

Very well. If that be the situation, attention must now be determined directed to the amendment of the Ontario Arbitration Act within a few months, when the Legislature meets. The act is almost complete as it stands, and only requires an addition of a half-dozen lines, as in New Zealand, to make acceptance of the award obligatory instead of voluntary. Then any such long-continued conflict as we have had in London will be rendered impossible in future, either here or elsewhere in Ontario. If that be the outcome, as we are persuaded it would be, the experience of this city, though unpleasant, will be worth ten times all it will have cost.

The story that fourteen cars of Missoni poultry have been shipped to the British in South Africa looks like an advertising dodge for the American bird. Tommy Atkins isn't fighting the Boers on chicken broth. Besides, if the British war department wants poultry, it has no business to pass Canada by.

The Imperial Spirit.

It is to be regretted that a few of the more unscrupulous of the Canadian yellow journals are endeavoring to stir up racial and sectarian cries and trying to prevent that unity of sentiment that should prevail in the Dominion, and happily has prevailed for the past three years, at least. The divisive tactics of these yellow journals have been adopted merely for a party purpose, to serve which they have thrown patriotism to the winds. They are trying to undermine Canadian nationality by setting race against race and creed against creed, and they are seeking to blacken Canada in the estimation of the mother country and the Empire by imputing disloyalty to a large portion of the Canadian people and to a Government which has done more for Imperial solidarity than any other Colonial Government past or present. Such tactics are deplorable at this particular juncture, when the Empire has special reason for showing a united front to the world. While Great Britain is perfectly able to deal with the situation in South Africa, there is no telling what complications the war may lead to. More than one of the continental powers look with unfriendly eyes on England and may try to pluck some advantage out of her present difficulties. One happy omen is the fact that Great Britain has placed her consular service in the Transvaal in the hands of the United States, just as the United States entrusted Great Britain with the same good offices in the Spanish-American war. This indicates that the trend of sympathy—at least official sympathy—from the United States will be on the right side, which will have a restraining influence on anti-British policy in Europe. The time is coming, however, when the British Empire can pursue its destiny without regard to others. Canada, Australia and South Africa will some day rank with the greatest powers, and in friendly alliance with one another and with the mother country, will make a family of nations supreme in the world. To aid in fulfilling this Imperial ideal, Canada must be united in feeling and purpose.

"The Women With the Plow."

The Doukhobor colonies in the Northwest have shown a heroic spirit in refusing charitable aid when they lack the very necessities of life and a hard winter is staring them in the face. Mrs. May Fitzgibbon, of Toronto, recently visited the Doukhobor settlements and, under the nom de plume of Lally Bernard, has graphically described them in a series of letters to the Toronto Globe. These letters inspire one with profound admiration for the Doukhobor character. Amid sorrow, sickness, privation and the loneliness of a strange land, they have worked with a desperate but uncomplaining energy to put roofs over their heads, and to plough the soil before the winter overtakes them. They have shown not only marvelous industry, but equally marvelous skill in the erection of their homes. In many instances logs had to be drawn from a great distance, and where timber was not obtainable, houses neat and substantial were built of mud bricks and clay plaster, and ovens and household utensils were fashioned from the same material with great ingenuity and handicraft. The Doukhobors have been compelled to live this season on the most meagre fare, and Mrs. Fitzgibbon found much sickness and suffering from this cause. It was pitiable to see the little ones wasting away for the want of fresh milk and nutritious diet. The noble conduct of the Doukhobor women claims a tribute which Mrs. Fitzgibbon eloquently pays. Many of the Doukhobor men were obliged to take work on the railway or on distant farms to earn a little ready money before settling down on their own land next year, and in consequence comparatively few men were left to engage in the work of building houses, tilling the soil, felling trees and carrying supplies. The brunt of this fell on the women, and bravely they met the emergency. They undertook the severest labor in the fields and villages in an unflinching spirit, knowing that not a day of the short summer season could be spared. Recently some sneering allusions were made to the fact that Doukhobor women had been "hitched to the plow" and some very uncharitable inferences were drawn. Mrs. Fitzgibbon thus alludes to this incident:

"It was near the village of Oospenie that the famous photograph of Doukhobor women harnessed to the plow was taken, a picture which was the cause of endless discussion as to the brutality of the Doukhobor men, who harnessed their women to the plow and treated them like cattle, as I am told. It is needless to say that that story had a very different solution to the one given to the world at large. The women of the Doukhobors are not in the habit of drawing plows or of building houses, but, like many others of their sex, they are capable of rising to the occasion, when they distinguished themselves as many of our pioneer ancestors have done in days gone by. The season in that part of the world is very short, and the supply of horses and oxen was very meagre. The men of the village had been obliged to bring logs for the houses from a great distance, and many of them are working on distant farms. Flour ran short. The distance to Yorkton meant a tramp of at least 35 miles, and the return meant the carrying of large sacks of flour on the women's shoulders. A 'women's council' was held, and it was decided that the only cattle available were to be sent to Yorkton, and the women declared they would pull the plow. There was not an hour to be lost; they knew that the lives of their children and husbands depended on the effort they were willing to make, and a splendid effort it was. In days to come one of the Russian artists in their midst will paint a picture which will be a source of pride to the descendants of these women who shouldered their burden with the same steadfast courage with which they have borne many others. The fact that there are so many women than men must be borne in mind, as it will explain how willing these women of the Doukhobors are to lessen the burden of a master of necessity, the men are called upon to bear."

Everything we have learned about the Doukhobors since their arrival—their industry, manual skill, courage, fortitude, and not the least, their sturdy rejection of aims—confirms the most favorable expectations. They are manifestly good material for Canadian citizenship.

Mr. Kruger seems to talk like Moses and act like Mephistopheles.

Perhaps Mr. Kruger thinks he is obeying the golden rule laid down by David Harum: "Do unto the other fellow as he would do unto you, and do it fast."

The death of Baron Farrer removes the most prominent free trader of the Cobden School. Few men were better informed than Lord Farrer on financial, commercial and economic subjects. His pen was busy to the last.

The Statistical Year Book of the Dominion for 1898 has just been issued. It is as usual packed with information concerning Canada, political, financial and commercial, and represents a vast amount of painstaking work by the Dominion statistician, Mr. Johnston.

We purchase $30,000 worth of manufactured products from the United States, and sell $30,000 worth of raw materials to that country—Toronto Mail.

Not to speak it profanely, this is untrue, and the Mail knows it.

Owing to the demand for troop ships, thirty sailings from Montreal have had to be canceled. As a result, freight rates have gone up, and ships are even hard to get at that. The popular delusion that war is good for business does not hold true in this case.

While the tail-twisters in New York were applauding the Boers, a shipload of mules left New Orleans for the British in South Africa. Comparing the two incidents, the British seem to have the advantage. One donkey in South Africa is worth more to either side just now than a thousand in New York.

What Others Say.

More Troops Than at Waterloo. [Hamilton Herald.]

A dispatch says that General Sir Redvers Buller will command twice as many British troops as Wellington commanded at Waterloo. At that battle Wellington's army numbered about 20,000, only 30,000 of whom were British. This means that Buller will have an army of some 60,000 with which to beat the Boers, overawe the disaffected Afrikaners of Cape Colony and Natal, and crush any possible uprising of the native tribes.

The Orange Free State. [Montreal Gazette.]

There has been no dispute between Great Britain and the Orange Free State for twenty years. The country has a customs union with the Cape, and the Cape Government operated the railways in its territory. Its last president, Sir Henry Brand, was proud to wear a British title. British subjects living in its territory were treated almost as citizens. The relations were such as might have gone on for years. The only cause of disturbance, and the forces of the two countries set in array against each other, is a new illustration that sentiment is stronger than interest. Blood is thicker than water.

United States and the Boers. [New York Journal.]

The editor of the Journal has been requested to sign a petition to President McKinley urging him to interfere between England and the Boers, to use the influence of the United States to prevent England from interfering in Boer arrangements.

He believes that interference by England is legitimate, that civilization and progress demand it. This belief is based on the following facts: The Transvaal, which really reflect the personal wishes and religious prejudices of Paul Kruger and a few other Dutchmen, forbid any Catholic to share in the law making for the country. England demands that this discrimination against Catholic cease.

The Transvaal laws forbid any Jew to share the law making power. England demands that this discrimination against the Jews cease.

There are 200,000 whites in the so-called Boer Republic, but only 60,000 are Boers.

The Boers declare that they are "merely asking the right to live."

What they really ask is the right of six men to try the law over twenty, of 60,000 to rule 200,000, and rule them justly. The Boer attitude is not a demand for freedom. It is strictly an attitude of denying freedom to others. The Boers control the country. England maintains a government by aristocracy, an aristocracy based on birth—Dutch birth.

Light and Shade.

An Ohio genius has invented an umbrella that reveals the owner's name by pressing a spring in the handle—but what's the use?

Two-thirds of the people who complain that the world doesn't understand them ought to be thankful that it doesn't.

"What is a snob, Uncle Christopher?"

"A snob is a nobody who spends time and money in trying to make people think he is somebody."

A little girl ran into a chemist's shop and asked for a penny's worth of pills.

"Anti-bilious" asked the chemist. "No," said the child; "uncle's bilious."

SUBMARINE NAVIGATION

Six Men on the Holland Rescued in an Unconscious Condition.

New York, Oct. 12.—The crew of the submarine boat Holland were taken from her senses yesterday, having been overcome by gas from a leaking reservoir. The six men comprising the crew remember nothing after the signal to stop had been given. The boat, after a series of submarine tests, came to a stop in her dock at Greenport, L. I., and as no one appeared from the inside of the vessel, men on the wharf opened her port. Gas rushed out. Rescuers descended and brought up the unconscious crew. The men quickly recovered.

FELL 1,000 FEET

Terrible Fate of Capt. Kinsman, of the Champion Mine.

Champion, Mich., October 13.—Captain Simon Kinsman, of the Champion mine, one of the best known mining capitalists in the Superior district, was instantly killed yesterday. He and Supt. Walter Fitch were coming out of the mine on a skip when it struck a piece of pipe across the rails and overturned. Fitch held on to the skip and escaped unhurt, but Kinsman fell to the bottom, a distance of about 1,000 feet. His body was being picked up in small pieces. Kinsman, aged 54, is survived by a widow and four adult children.

A DINNER PILL—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food is taken in like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healing nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. MONCTON, N. B. MRS. STERNAMAN

Has Changed Her Name to That of Mrs. Chiptman.

Toronto, Oct. 13.—Mr. C. W. Colter, Q.C., of Canaga, county crown attorney of Halimand, was at the Rossin House yesterday. In the course of conversation Mr. Colter stated that a recent rumor as to the third marriage of Mrs. Sternaman, who a year and a half ago was tried and acquitted on a charge that embraced the poisoning of two husbands, was untrue.

To avoid unpleasant notoriety Mrs. Sternaman some time ago adopted the name of Chiptman, which was that of her first husband, and the report there by rose in Buffalo that she had married a brother of his who is also living in Buffalo. The report, however, has proved to be without foundation, and the woman is said to be earning her livelihood as a seamstress in that city.

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me. I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good."

CONVENTION CONCLUDED

Sabbath School Workers Hold Interesting Afternoon and Evening Sessions—Many Excellent Addresses Given.

The London district Methodist Sunday school convention resumed its sessions yesterday afternoon at the Dundas Center Church at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. W. Holmes conducted devotional exercises, and a number of interesting and instructive papers were given. Mr. C. A. Barnes spoke on "The Requisites of a Successful Teacher"; Rev. J. Morrison, on "The Value of Oral and Ocular Illustrations in Teaching"; Mr. C. E. German, on "The Necessity and Art of Questioning"; Miss Brennan, on "Kindergarten Methods"; and Mrs. G. Stewart, on "The Lesson for Oct. 15, Taught."

The papers were all freely discussed by the members, and many useful suggestions given. In the evening, an open meeting was held, and the spacious school room was well filled. Rev. Dr. Saunders presided and Rev. Dr. Smith conducted the opening devotional exercises. Rev. J. W. Cozens gave an excellent address on "Our Past," and Rev. Wm. Quance spoke on "Our Future." Both the speakers were listened to with deep interest.

Mr. Wm. Jeffrey, who was to have spoken on "Our Mission," was unable to be present. Appropriate music was furnished during the evening under the direction of Mr. W. H. Hewlett. Solos were sung in fine voice by Miss Couke and Miss Hooper. The convention closed at 10 o'clock by all singing the "National Anthem."

Gentlemen,—Having had a wide experience in hospital work, and especially with children, I have long endeavored to find a dietary of good, pure foods, rich in nutritive and sustaining properties, adapted to use of invalids and growing children. Granose is an ideal food, not only for people in good health, but for invalids as well as growing children. It is especially adapted for the latter. Respectfully yours,

SUMMONS MUST BE GRANTED

In the Case of Bartram vs. Scarrow, or an Order Nisi Will Be Issued.—High Court Sittings.

Mr. Justice Robertson presided at the weekly sittings of the high court for London yesterday, and heard three motions.

W. H. Bartram moved for an order nisi, calling upon Magistrate Parke and Wm. Scarrow to show cause why the magistrate should not issue a summons against Mr. Scarrow. Mr. Bartram laid an information in June last, charging Mr. Scarrow with obstructing Beech street, West London, by the erection of a stable and a fence on the thoroughfare, and thereby creating a common nuisance. The magistrate refused to issue the summons until he had consulted the crown attorney. Application for a summons had since been made by Mr. Bartram, but without avail. Mr. Justice Robertson expressed the opinion that Mr. Bartram was entitled to an order nisi, calling upon the magistrate and Mr. Scarrow to show why the summons should not be issued. The judge expressed the opinion that the police magistrate should have issued the summons, and it was his clear duty to do so. The matter was allowed to stand for ten days to permit the police magistrate to not upon the opinion of his lordship, and if the summons has not then been granted, the order nisi will be issued. No costs allowed if summons is issued.

THE DEATH OF DR. J. B. CAMPBELL

The Well-Known Physician Succumbs to Heart Trouble.

The death of Dr. James B. Campbell occurred at 11 o'clock last night, at his late residence, 380 Dundas street. Although not unexpected the news will cast a gloom over the entire community. Dr. Campbell was one of London's most widely known and highly esteemed citizens. His death was due to heart trouble. He had been ailing for the past two years, and had been seriously ill since August last. Two weeks ago the physicians in attendance gave up hopes of his recovery. When death came all the members of the doctor's family, and his brother, Dr. J. F. Campbell, of Lansing, Mich., were at the bedside.

Dr. Campbell was born in 1843, in Yarmouth township, Elgin county, his father being the late Mr. Farquhar Campbell. He was educated in the public schools of Elgin county, and at the Toronto Normal School. After teaching three years he began the study of medicine in the Michigan University, and in 1868 was graduated at Philadelphia. He began the practice of medicine at Belmont in the same year. In 1882 he received a degree from Long Island College Hospital, and in 1883 came to London, where he continued in active practice until his recent illness. He was a Knight Templar and a member of other secret societies. He took an active interest in educational matters, and was for seven years a member of the board of education, being president one year. He was also a member of the medical faculty of the Western University. In 1870 Dr. Campbell married Miss Carrie McKellar, of Belmont, who, with two children, Dr. J. B. Campbell, jun., who arrived home from Europe last Sunday, and Adah, survive.

Deceased was the eldest of a family of twelve—9 boys and 3 girls. Seven of the boys became doctors. The survivors are: Dr. W. W. and Dr. D. W., of Atchison, Kan.; Dr. Farquhar, of Kansas City; Dr. J. F. of Lansing, Mich., and Dr. George, of Detroit; Dugald, of Toronto, and A. F. of Yarmouth. Two sisters, Mrs. Dr. Thompson, of Cadillac, Mich., and Mrs. Duncan Ferguson, of con. 12, Yarmouth, also survive. The funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Johnston at 2 p.m. Interment at Woodland Cemetery.

ST. ANDREW'S BROTHERHOOD.

The second annual convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew of the Huron Diocesan Assembly, opened yesterday morning in the school room of New St. Paul's Church, Woodstock. There was a large number of delegates present, and the gathering promises to be a very successful one. In the morning a private meeting of the council members of the Huron Diocesan Assembly was held, after which there was a corporate celebration of the Holy Communion in New St. Paul's Church, conducted by the rector, Rev. J. C. Farthing. In the afternoon a business session was held and at night the general public were invited to attend the session, which was held in the schoolroom. The chair was taken by the Rev. R. Hicks, B.D., R.D., of Simcoe, who delivered a short address. The addresses of the evening were delivered by the Rev. C. C. Owen, B.A., of the Memorial Church, this city, and by N. Ferrar Davidson, of Toronto. The former spoke on "Zion in its application to the spread of Christ's kingdom among men," and the latter on "The Brotherhood and its work."

The Molsons Bank.

Profits of over 14 per cent, on the actual paid-up capital were reported at the annual meeting of the Molsons Bank for the year ending with September last. Out of the sum the shareholders received dividends equal to 9 per cent, the remainder being used to add $125,000 to the "rest" and to reduce the bank premises account by $50,000. The bank evidently benefited to the full by the increased trade activity that has marked the past year, and with the increase in the capital of half a million, which the meeting authorized, it should be in a position to profit still more in the future. With its present capital of $2,000,000, supported by a reserve of $1,625,000, the Molsons is in this respect among the strongest of Canadian financial institutions. The large earnings, continued year after year, are proof of the ability with which its affairs are directed. The shareholders have very good reason to be satisfied with their property, and its management by their representatives and officers.

The Malay language is spoken by more than 40,000,000 persons. It is said to be easy to learn, as it has almost no grammar.

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly, and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.
