FLOTILLA OF GERMAN MERCHANTMEN CAPTURED

KING ANNOUNCES NEW NAME FOR THE ROYAL HOUSE

"HOUSE OF WINDSOR" IS NOW NAME OF BRITISH ROYAL FAMILY; DROP 'SAXE-COBOURG AND GOTHA'

With Unanimous Consent of the Privy Council His Majesty Casts Off Family Title of German Origin.

London, July 17.—King George today, at a meeting of the Privy Council, announced the new name of the royal house and family to be "The House of Windsor."

The Privy Council, at which the King announced the change, was held at St. James' Palace. It was the most important and largest attended since the coronation. The attendance included Premier Lloyd George, Foreign Secretary Balfour and other members of the Cabinet, the Archbishop of Canterbury, former Premier Asquith and all members of the Colonial Government who are now in London. The Privy Council unanimously indorsed King George's announcement and the proclamation putting it into effect was published this afternoon.

King George is of the House of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha. It was recently decided to drop titles or names of German origin.

The King's Proclamation.

King George's proclamation, changing the name of his house to that of Windsor, says:

"We out of our royal will and authority, do hereby declare and announce that as from the date of our royal proclamation our house and family shall be styled and known as the house and family of Windsor, and that all descendants in the male line of our grandmother, Queen Victoria, who are subjects of these realms, other than the female descendants, who may marry or may have married, shall bear the said name of Windsor.

Wipes Out German Titles.

"And we do hereby declare and announce that we for ourselves and for, and on behalf of our descendants, and all other descendants of our grandmother, Queen Victoria, who are subjects of these realms, relinquish and enjoin the discontinuance of the use of degrees, styles, dignities, titles, and honors of the Dukes and Duchesses of Saxony and the Princes and Princesses of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, and all other German degrees, styles, dignities, titles and honors and the appellation to use or to them heretofore belonging or appertaining."

"In the Nieuport sector," the communication adds, "one of our raiding parties encountered a large party of the enemy in front of the German positions. After a sharp fight our troops drove the enemy back to their lines and bombarded them in their trenches."

GOUIN MAY DEMAND QUEBEC BE EXCLUDED FROM SERVICE BILL

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Montreal, July 17.—Is Sir Lomer Gouin, the Liberal premier of Quebec, destined to play a part in the conscription issue. Those in touch with Liberal headquarters here say there is something astir, and their conversation leads one to believe that an effort is being made to have Sir Lomer call a special session of the Legislature to draw up a formal memorandum to be presented to the British Parliament. Some say the memorandum would ask the British House to refuse an extension to the Borden Government; others say it would ask that Quebec be excluded from the operation of the conscription bill, as its representatives in Parliament opposed it almost to a union.

F. Pardee is said to have had recent interviews with Sir Lomer, and a minister of the Quebec cabinet who was asked what truth there is in the story said: "Something along these lines is being considered."

ACCEPTING LOVER WHO HAD DONE HIS "BIT" CAUSE OF TRAGEDY

Man Who Killed Bridegroom Had Been the Bride's Sweetheart.

Montreal, July 17.—An insight into the events which led up to the shooting at Arnprior yesterday, when Bruce M. Leitch, a returned soldier, was killed, his bride of ten days mortally wounded, and their assailant, Nicholas Bennett, a jealous lover, wounded dangerously by the revolver used to shoot the other two, were given by the family of Mrs. Leitch. They stated that she had been receiving attention from Bennett for several years, and her marriage to Leitch a few days ago came as a surprise and a shock to them. They thought she had acted unwisely, and one brother said that, although it might seem a hard thing to say, he was sorry for Bennett.

Bennett is a son of Nicholas Bennett of Maissoneuve, and was a machinist. He was a quiet fellow.

Leitch was a soldier, and that he had done his bit appealed to the girl.

BENNETT IN BAD SHAPE.

Renfrew, Ont., July 17.—William Bennett, the 19-year-old Montreal man who in a fit of jealousy shot his former sweetheart and the man she married at Sand Point, is in the hospital here under opiates most of the time, and the attending physicians do not expect that he will recover. Mrs. Leitch is under medical care and expert nursing at the hotel in Sand Point, and is reported to have passed a fairly good night. She was resting a little this morning, and there are hopes for her recovery.

WILL USE BRANT HOUSE AS CONVALESCENT HOME

Hamilton, July 17.—Official announcement was made today by the military hospitals commission, that it is taking over the Brant House at Burlington as a convalescent home for invalided men. The Brant House is to be remodelled at once, and will provide accommodation for probably 500 men. It is an ideal location on the lakeshore. Vocational training will be a feature of the new institution.

U. S. SENATE FAVORABLE TO AVIATION MEASURE

Washington, July 17.—The senate military committee, after 45 minutes' session today, unanimously ordered a favorable report without amendment of the $640,000,000 aviation program bill, passed last Saturday by the House.

RUSS MINISTERS RESIGN OFFICE, FORCING CRISIS

Grave Cabinet Trouble Again Appears at Petrograd.

OVER UKRAINE'S RULING

Three Members of Ministry Have Handed in Their Portfolios.

Petrograd, July 16.—Two demonstrations against the Government resulted in the firing of shots in the Nevsky Prospect at midnight, as a result of which a number of persons were killed or wounded.

The firing apparently was the result of stray shots, which brought on a panic, in which the demonstrators turned rifles and machine guns on each other. Quiet was restored after a few minutes. The demonstrations were organized by the Bolsheviki, the majority faction of the Social Democratic party.

Petrograd, July 17.—Three members of the cabinet have resigned and a special session of the Council of Ministers has been convoked in an effort to avert a crisis. Their names are A. I. Shingaroff, minister of finance; Professor Manuiloff, minister of education, and Prince Shakovsky, head of the department of public aid. The resignations of these ministers followed a sharp disagreement over questions involving the Ukraine, an extensive region in Russia, embracing part of the territories of the old kingdom of Poland.

Premier Lvoff has requested the ministers to meet at his private residence, when the cause of the dispute will be considered. It is known he will attempt to prevail on them to withdraw their resignations. The split in the ministry occurred last night at a ministerial conference called to consider a report submitted by M. Tereschtenko, minister of foreign affairs, and M. Tseretelli, minister of posts and telegraphs, as a result of their negotiations concerning the Ukrainians.

Cause of Crisis.

After the report was read, the cadet ministers promptly took exception to the form of a declaration drawn up by Mm. Tereschtenko and Tseretelli, and agreed to the fact that these ministers without the authorization of the Government took it on themselves to commit the Government to a definite policy regarding the Ukraine.

Tereschtenko and Tseretelli, the cadets maintained, simply had been chosen delegates to find a possible basis of an agreement in the Ukraine, but had not been given the power of making a declaration in the name of the Government.

In addition to this cause of complaint the cadet ministers criticized the text of the Ukraine declaration, first because it abolishes all power of the temporary Government in the Ukraine; second, because it did not specify of what territories the Ukraine consists or make clear how it shall be governed.

The Opposition View.

The Opposition members of the cabinet assert that only the legislative body had a right to determine the future form of the government of Ukraine, whereas, according to the declaration of Mm. Tereschtenko and Tseretelli, the Ukrainians appeared to be proceeding informally to draw up their own Government. In view of these objections and further minor faults found by the cadets, they propose the postponement of the publication of the Ukraine declaration until after further conferences, stating moreover, that in any case it would be impossible to publish the full text of the declaration since the question of the Ukraine could only be definitely settled by a constituent assembly, and that it was impossible for the Government to make a final declaration on the subject.

Mm. Tereschtenko and Tseretelli, on the other hand, flatly insisted upon the immediate publication of the declaration, adding that the form might be altered if the sense were kept intact. When the vote was taken the two Lvoffs in the cabinet and the Socialists declared themselves in favor of the declaration as already drawn without correction or alteration. Opposed by the majority the cadet members then resigned.

Mm. Prokopovitch and Charhousky have been appointed ministers of commerce and education, respectively.

GREAT ALLIED VICTORY ALONE CAN BRING REVOLT IN GERMANY, SAYS FERNAN

New York, July 17.—A sweeping victory by the Entente Allies, sufficient in its effect to arouse the German people to a realization that they have been deceived is the only thing that will bring about a revolution and the overthrow of the Hohenzollerns, according to Prof. Hermann Fernau, a German journalist and author of J'Accuse, a pamphlet published in Switzerland at the beginning of the war and suppressed by that government.

"I consider a revolution in Germany possible only in event of a sweeping military victory by the Allies," Fernau is quoted as saying in the interview.

INGERSOLL BOY KILLED AT RAILWAY CROSSING; HIT BY G. T. R. FREIGHT

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ingersoll, July 17.—Charles Stephenson, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stephenson, Canterbury street, was struck and instantly killed by a Grand Trunk freight train at the Mutual street crossing at five minutes to 12 today. The lad was on his way to the Nut Works, carrying his father's dinner. He stopped at the crossing while a westbound freight was passing. It is believed he was standing on the eastbound tracks and failed to hear, owing to the rattle of the other train, the approach of another freight from the west. He was struck and hurled a considerable distance. He was dead when picked up. Employees of the Nut Works hurried to the scene of the accident, and identification of the boy was made by the father. An inquest will be held.

TO HELP WIN WAR GOVT. MAY SETTLE FOODSTUFF PRICES

Food Controller Hanna Says It Will Be Necessary In Order To Feed Canada and Send Supplies To Allies.

Montreal, July 17.—Hints that some form of compulsion and price-fixing might be necessary to conserve the food supplies of this country and the United States, so that the home populations could be fed and the necessary exportation take place to the Allies as well, were thrown out today by W. J. Hanna, Dominion food controller, in the course of an address before the Canadian Club at the Windsor Hotel.

MUST STOP WASTE.

Mr. Hanna explained that waste in foodstuffs in this country must be stopped, as Canada and the United States must export an enormous amount in addition to what is normally sent if the Allies are not to go hungry, and through hunger to lose the war. With normal sources of and her allies must rely to a great extent on Canada and the United States.

The total requirements of the Allies in wheat were 1,105,000,000 bushels. The production of Europe was 645,000,000 bushels, leaving 460,000,000 bushels to be exported from North America. It was estimated that the United States and Canada would have for export 300,000,000 bushels, so that 160,000,000 would have to be made up. The figures in beef were equally disturbing. If the shortage was not made up our cause would fail.

Canada must help by production, shifting of foods for consumption and elimination of waste. The producers had done well and consumers must now do their part. If each consumer would reduce his consumption of wheat, beef and bacon by one-third they would have the answer. If all would do it they would have the answer twice over. But in spite of all they could do many would not. Let each man who will commit himself to one-third and dive up to it, and it will be done. That meant no sacrifice. Instead of wheat theer was cornmeal and oatmeal and other things that most of them once knew well. Use vegetables and fish freely and serve smaller portions. Make dishes of left-overs. Shifting of consumption would do a great deal, but the elimination of waste

STRANGE HE SHOULD BE WANTED BY SIR ADAM

Inspector Dando Invited to Do Government Inspection Work.

It is stated at the city hall today that Inspector Dando, who is acting as inspector for the Richmond street pavement, is wanted by Sir Adam Beck to go to Chippawa to do some inspection work for the Government there.

When it is understood that Mr. Dando was in charge of the foundation work on Richmond street, about which Sir Adam has complained so much, the wonder grows that Sir Adam would care to have a man who is supposed to have passed such inferior concrete.

However, Mr. Dando will not go, and he insists that the concrete laid on Richmond street is of exceptionally good quality, and he declares that the tests will show that fact to be true.

GERMANY NOT ANXIOUS FOR ARGENTINE BREAK

Berlin, via London, July 17.—Germany hopes that the affair of the torpedoing of the Argentine steamer Toro will be settled amicably, according to a semi-official note. This statement denies that relations had been broken off. the Government saying that it had not yet replied to the Argentine note.

Dr. Luis D. Molina, Argentine ambassador to Berlin, telegraphed his Government last night that Germany's answer to Argentina's demand would be delayed several days, owing to the change in the chancellorship.

German Troops Made a Strong Attack in Champagne Sector.

Paris, July 17.—German troops made a strong attack on the French positions in the vicinity of the Teton, but were driven back, leaving a number dead, according to a statement issued by the war office today.

The statement follows:

"Intermittent cannonading occurred on the Aisne front, quite spirited in the region of Craonne, Chevreux and Ailly.

"In the Champagne the Germans made another serious effort on the Teton. Their assaulting waves, caught under our fire, were compelled to return in disorder to their departing trenches, leaving a number of dead. We maintained our gains of Saturday.

A Spirited Attack.

ENEMY'S NERVES GETTING FRAYED FROM MANY STARTLED ATTACKS; EXPECTING NEW BRITISH BLOWS

ON HIS WAY HOME, HAVING 15 WOUNDS

Advertiser Illustrations

LIEUT. W. T. BARTLETT, who has experienced a miraculous escape from death when fifteen German machine gun and grenade bullets entered his body at head, arms and legs, has written his father, P. H. Bartlett, of this city, that he expects to be home within the course of a week. He says he is making swift strides toward complete recovery, and congratulates himself every day that he is alive, when almost every man of the patrol which he was leading the night of the sustaining of his wounds, was killed. Major McCrimmon, senior officer of the battalion of which Lieut. Bartlett was acting company commander, is loud in the praise of the young Londoner, who he says is deserving of great credit for the manner in which he assumed command of a large body of men in an emergency.

After receiving his wounds, Lieut. Bartlett lay for hours in a shell hole until he regained consciousness.

Furious Assault Is Made On British Outpost—Air Thick With the Planes.

[BY PHILIP SIMMS, U. P.]
[Special to The Advertiser.]

With the British Armies in the Field, July 17.—The enemy's nerves are getting frayed on the western front. Along the entire line the Germans are effervescing in startled little attacks, showing they are "jumpy" and fearful of something that may be impending somewhere.

Today's report showed the German artillery active, a more than usual number of enemy raids, and the air literally seething with machines. Ypres was completely inundated by gas shells. Everywhere the Boches are making desperate efforts to regain mastery of the air.

"Sausage" Shot to Bits.

Early today five balloons were unsuccessfully attacked near the British front lines. One was set afire by the German airplane which attacked it. A German balloon "sausage" was brought down by retaliatory attacks by British airmen, being shot to pieces. There was heavy battling in the air almost everywhere.

Nerves Badly Shaken.

South of Lombartzyde early today the enemy staged a typical attack of this "nerve shake" type. German marines furiously assaulted British outposts, driving them back about 200 yards. In the sand dunes section particularly, the Germans seem uneasy over an impending British drive to retrieve land the Germans recently won. The German marines evidently thought the British outpost was part of a general attack being launched to regain this territory.

Berlin Says Russians Have Evacuated The Town of Kalucz

Withdraw Before Pressure of Germans On the West.

Berlin, July 17.—Via London.—Russian forces which recently captured the Galician town of Kalusz, the headquarters of the Austro-German army, evacuated that town yesterday, according to the official statement issued today by the German army headquarters' staff.

The statement says that Rhineland regiments captured the woodlands to the north of Kalusz. As the Germans were approaching from the west the Russians evacuated the town and retreated to the southern bank of the River Lomnica.

Petrograd, July 17.—The war office announces that Russian troops have abandoned Kalusz in Eastern Galicia, but have secured the crossing of the Lomnica River. The Russians drove the enemy from the village of Novica.

SOUTH AFRICAN FEELING IS OPPOSED TO REPUBLIC

Capetown, South Africa, July 17—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—An indication of the growing disfavor in which the Hertzogite Republican agitation is regarded throughout the country is afforded by the action of a large and representative meeting which took place today at Breadasdorp, a typically Dutch country district. The meeting resolved unanimously against the Republican propaganda. The speakers expressed gratitude for the protection of the British flag, under which, as the principal speaker put it, "we are a republic, so far as freedom is concerned, in everything save the name."

ATTEMPT WILL BE MADE TO RAISE WRECKED SHIP

Quebec, July 17.—Under orders to proceed to the Newfoundland coast and attempt to refloat the wrecked American liner Kristiansfjord, stranded on the coast of Newfoundland, the wrecking steamer Lord Strathcona, of the Quebec Salvage Company, left Quebec harbor at 7:30 Monday evening for the scene of the wreck, with wrecking schooner G. T. D. and all the pumps, plants and paraphernalia used to raise ships.

Swamped With Votes

The contest manager fully expected to publish the standing of the candidates in The Advertiser's prize contest today, but is unable to do so, as his staff was still counting votes when the paper went to press. It is hoped that the count will be brought up-to-date so that a standing will be published tomorrow.

There will be many surprises when the next standing is announced and this will not be complete by any means, as thousands of votes were handed in Saturday that will not be registered until well on in the week.

Candidates should make this their banner week, as the extra vote offer and the additional inducement of $100 in cash prizes is certainly worth working for.

HIGHLANDERS THRILL NEW YORK'S HEART; GREAT WELCOME TO KILTIES FROM FRONT

Canadian Pipers and Soldiers Get Reception Greater Than Joffre or Balfour.

New York, July 17.—The 200 Canadian Highlanders who are in New York to stimulate "British recruiting week" received another ovation from New Yorkers today when they left here to spend the day at Newark, N. J. This is the only day during the week that the men will leave the city. Each day's program will keep the visitors before the public as part of the campaign to obtain recruits. The Highlanders planned to reach Newark this afternoon and march to the city hall, there to be formally welcomed by Mayor Raymond. A trolley trip about the city was to precede a recruiting meeting. They will then be the guests of the city of Newark for dinner, followed by a second recruiting meeting, when they will return to New York.

A Fine Welcome.

The newspapers publish detailed accounts of the glowing reception given the Highlanders on their arrival yesterday.

The Sun says: "There have been events, events with thrills crowding them, in New York recently—what with the coming of Papa Joffre and his Frenchmen and the arrival of Balfour and his Englishmen and the receptions to the Italian and the Russians—but it would have been very difficult to find more spirit in any welcoming ceremony than was observable yesterday when the Highlanders in their kilts, their plaids, their brooches, their sporrans and their feather bonnets marched up Broadway while the pibrochs sounded like a million angry bees swarming and thousands of men and women rushed to the skyscraper windows to look down and to cheer the big Highlanders. All day, wherever they went, the streets were crowded, and always ahead of the wild, high music rolled waves of cheering.

Pipes Stir the Heart.

There is something about the Highlander, perhaps the fierce challenge of his music, which stirs the heart, and there was something about the visitors who arrived yesterday, perhaps the known fact of their desperate fighting in France, which was more moving to the spectators in the streets than would have been any other spectacle except the sight of departing American troops.

BOER JOINS.

New York, July 17.—Wounded while fighting in the Boer army against the British, Henry Craemer, now 38 years old, enlisted in the British army today. He asked for Gen. W. A. White, in charge of British recruiting here, and refreshed the general's memory regarding the charge at Ladysmith, and the officer's subsequent interrogation of Boer prisoners. "I was one of them," Craemer said. "I don't hate the English any more, and I want to fight against the Germans." Craemer was accepted for the cavalry.

OFF TO CAMPS.

Boston, July 17.—British recruiting officers in this city have begun sending men who have been accepted for army service to training camps in Canada. Official advices from Ottawa announced that hereafter men enrolling for service in the Canadian forces would be permitted to choose the province in which they wished to be enlisted.

HOSPITAL NOT LIKELY TO BE PLACED UNDER CONTROL OF COUNCIL

Aldermen Sidestep Motion Passed While They Were Asleep.

ASSESSMENT LAID OVER

Finance Committee to Make Report on Martin O'Sullivan's Case.

The question of placing the management of Victoria Hospital under the control of the city council, instead of the hospital trust, will not likely be voted on at the municipal elections in January. The council at the regular session last evening decided to reconsider the motion authorizing the vote. The bylaw will come up for consideration at the next meeting, and will be voted down, according to the present mood of the aldermen.

The matter was brought up by Controller Little, who pointed out that the motion authorizing the vote had passed the council, when the majority of the aldermen were of the opinion that it was merely a notice of motion. Thirteen of the members of the council voted for a reconsideration. Controller Little gave notice that at the next meeting he would move that the bylaw authorizing the vote be repealed. This will require merely a bare majority, and it would seem that Victoria Hospital would remain under the present system of management.

Discuss Licenses.

The license bylaw created some discussion, and some amendments were made. J. K. McDermid appeared, and protested against a tax on slot vending machines. He stated that the profit on this business was very slight, and the council decided to cut off the tax.

E. W. M. Flock appeared on behalf of the theatre and moving picture managers, and asked that the license fee be reduced. The schedule proposed provided for a tax of $100 for the theatres of 500 and less capacity, $200 for less than 1,000 capacity, $300 for less than 1,500 capacity, and $400 for more than 1,500 capacity. It was decided to make the schedule $80, $160, $150 and $200 for the various classes. The license fees for concert halls of more than 1,000 capacity were reduced from $200 to $120. It was decided to charge a license fee of $11 for public garages. The question of taxing wheeled vehicles was brought up, and the bylaw given two readings. It will be referred to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board for its consideration before being dealt with. This was the advice given by City Solicitor Meredith.

Was Laid Over.

There was quite a gallery, expecting that Controller Shaw's motion to dismiss Assessor Martin O'Sullivan would be discussed. However, it was laid over until the next meeting, pending the report of the finance committee.

There was a squabble over the audit matter, Ald. H. B. Ashplant objecting to the form of the report submitted by the auditors. Controller Saunders took him to task, saying that the criticisms of Ald. Ashplant through the press were unfounded.

"Controller Shaw and myself may not know as much about auditing as Ald. Ashplant, but we are certainly not looking for the job for ourselves or any of our friends," declared Controller Saunders. "Ald. Ashplant is sore because the auditors, when he was chairman of No. 1 committee would not allow him to use a rubber stamp to certify to the accounts, but compelled him to write his name."

Ald. Ashplant stated that the London and Port Stanley audit should have been completed before this. It was the intention to have the first half year's audit of the road completed in time for the annual statement, but the auditors refused to get the work done. However, he did not have any support to his amendments.

A Great Saving.

Controller Shaw paid his respects to Engineer Willis Chipman regarding the storm sewer construction. He presented a brass casting to the council, which Mr. Chipman had recommended to the board of control to purchase at $2.30 each, with 42½ per cent. duty added, and the express charges to be paid. The same castings were purchased in London at 0 cents each, saving the city $275.

"Such a man as that should not have a job with us for five minutes," he declared. "I consider this an outrage."

Ald. Cunningham and Ald. Keene moved that Mr. Chipman be dismissed from this city service, but this was ruled out as new matter, and will stand as a notice of motion to be taken up at the next meeting.

Fireman George Bolton of the central fire station asked the council that he be given an increase in pay or promoted. He pointed out that he had been in the department for fourteen years, had saved the city the necessity of securing an additional fireman by turning out to every fire, when his predecessor in charge of the fire engine went out only when the engine was in use, and also that he had saved the city about $50 in repair work. The matter was sent to No. 1 committee.

Has No Power.

City Solicitor Meredith informed the council that it had no power to prohibit citizens from keeping bees, nor was there any authority given it to control the industry. If a nuisance was committed, the proper course would be to go to law.

The trades and labor council wrote, opposing the suggestion that firemen be reduced one-fourth their pay when on sick leave. This will be taken up by No. 1 committee.

Ald. Ashplant wanted to know who was assisting the auditors in their work. He wanted information from Mayor Stevenson, Controllers Saunders and Shaw, and other members, but Mayor Stevenson informed him that he would secure the information at the earliest possible moment.

The council decided to amend the procedure bylaw, placing the tax collection department under the control of City Treasurer James S. Bell. There was no opposition to this motion.

Ald. Manness and Ald. Moorhead drew the attention of the council to the condition of certain streets in the north and east sections of the city. They pointed out that the gravel about to be taken out of Adelaide street for the pavement could be used to advantage on these thoroughfares, and the council agreed with them. The matter was referred to Controller Moore and City Engineer Brazier to arrange. Ald. Harley wanted Victoria street fixed up, and the engineer will look into that.

Hotel Assessment.

The question of a fixed assessment for standard hotels, and the sale of temperance beer, was laid over for consideration at the next session.

City Solicitor Meredith informed the council that under the recent amendments to the municipal act, the London and Port Stanley Railway was exempt from taxation on land, buildings and assessment. The communication was sent to No. 1 committee.

Hon. I. B. Lucas, attorney-general for the province, notified the council that one-half the fines collected for criminal cases were to be paid over to the city. This will mean an increase of revenue for the city, the exact amount to be determined later by the auditors.

The council authorized the taking of other samples of concrete from the Richmond street pavement, to be sent to the School of Practical Science, Toronto, for testing. City Engineer Brazier informed the council that the samples taken out were selected by Controller Shaw, and not by himself or the contractor. It was found that the cement was green when broken, and as a result the test might not show 10 per cent. of the real strength of the pavement. The samples made from the mixing machine were taken by an outside engineer for information, and were not to be considered as substitutes for the regular foundation. It was decided, on the suggestion of Controller Shaw, to saw out other pieces of concrete, and send them down to Toronto. The cement has properly set now, and the tests would show approximately the strength of the mixture.

No Need for Vote.

City Solicitor Meredith informed the committee that the council could pass a motion to issue debentures to the amount of $15,000 to pay off the loan given to Victoria Hospital by the county of Middlesex without a vote of the people. Notice would have to be given, and that was all that was required. The communication was forwarded to the finance committee.

Fifty per cent. of the grants made by the council to the various charitable institutions will be paid to them at once.

Controller R. W. Shaw and Ald. F. E. Harley presented their report on the street lighting agreement with the utilities commission, and it was adopted by the council as follows:

1. That apparently, there was no request from the council to place lights on each pole on Queen's avenue; that Mr. Pocock stated at the time they were erected that these lights would not be charged for, but at some time, perhaps, when the engineer reported the number of lights, they were included, and paid for by the council.

2. That on August 16, 1915, Mr. Buchanan reported on the street lighting costs to the council. This report was laid over and on September 20, 1915, Mr. Pocock appeared before the council and stated that the increased candle power of the lamps and the street intersection lamps suggested by Mr. Buchanan "would cost the city nothing extra." On October 1, Mr. Meredith advised that a letter be written by the commission, stating "that for three years there should be no additional charge to the city for the candle power provided for by the new lamps, and that the work and materials would be done and provided for by the public utilities commission at their own expense" instead of an agreement (see minute 1577 of board of control, 1915).

Letter From Manager.

On October 4 Mr. Buchanan wrote a letter accordingly: "The council is requested to pay only the present rates, with no extra charge for the additional large candle C. P. lamps at street intersections" (see minute 1596, board of control, 1915).

On October 18, 1915, Mr. Pocock stated to the board of control that the utilities commission would renew the agreement for three years, from November 13, 1915 (See minute 1671).

The commission appears to be quibbling as to the meaning of these statements.

3. Your committee, therefore, recommend:

(1) That the Queen's avenue and other lights not authorized by the council be paid for.

(2) That the 193 Span lamps be not paid for, as per agreement, October 18, 1915.

(3) That the 40 series lights be reduced to at least $16, the price charged for Span lights.

Fireman Thomas Tozer was appointed a lieutenant at the central station, to succeed Lieut. James Puthergough, who resigned.

A plebiscite will be taken next January on the payment of grants to the following institutions: Sisters of St. Joseph, $500; Protestant Orphans' Home, $700; Aged People's Home, $500; Salvation Army Rescue Home, $400; Children's Aid Society, $1,000; Victorian Order of Nurses, $600; Travelers' Aid Society, Y.W.C.A., $200; St. Joseph's Hospital, and the Salvation Army Rescue Home, capital account.

Application for grant for dependents of those killed at the front were passed to the relatives of Charles Sidney Brown, John Henry Hobbs, Johnston Douglas Kirkpatrick, Lawrence George Long, Joseph John Walters and Clifford Stanley Shoebotham.

Next to its unique flavor, the great economy of Salada Tea has been the reason for its enormous sale.

LONDON DOCTORS TELL OF TERRIFIC HEAT ON MESOPOTAMIAN FRONT

Turks Good Fellows and Willing to Help Hospital Workers.

Professor James H. Bowman of 509 Ontario street has just received interesting letters from his son, Dr. Thornley Bowman, and his son-in-law, Dr. Gordon, both of whom are now engaged in hospital work in Mesopotamia after long service on the western front.

Dr. Thornley Bowman is at Baza, and Dr. Gordon at Amara, close to Kut-el-Amara.

Both speak of the intense heat, it being then 109 in the shade when the letters were written some weeks ago, and the real hot season was just starting. It is now likely about 120.

They speak of the numerous cases of sunstroke and of typhus fever. Nearly all the cases handled are those of Turkish prisoners, Arabs and natives of the district. As many as five cases of typhus develop in one day, Dr. Bowman states.

He declares that the Turks are good fellows, and always willing to lend a hand to help in any way they can.

In the big hospital the British Government has installed a complete electric lighting system and also an immense ice-making plant. The ice is used especially in the treatment of the numerous sunstroke cases. Dr. Bowman says that the British soldiers are remarkably free from disease.

"It is so hot here," he writes, "that between 10 in the morning and 4 in the afternoon I would not dare to venture out without an ice pad."

IRISH PICNIC TO BE HELD AT PT. STANLEY ON 9TH OF AUGUST

Expected That Over 10,000 People Will Attend.

The Irishmen's picnic will be held at Port Stanley on August 9. This was the decision unanimously arrived at at a meeting of the members of the Irish Benevolent Society last night in the Tecumseh House.

The vote was taken only after a thorough discussion of the advantages of both Port Stanley and Springbank Park, but the members were of the opinion that the offer of the London Street Railway, the Springbank Amusement Company and the concessionaires at Springbank, amounting in all to about $1,650, was rather over-estimated and that it would scarcely be probable that 10,000 people, as estimated, would be carried to Springbank.

On the other hand the offer of the London and Lake Erie and the London and Port Stanley Railways and the concessionaires at the lakeside, based on a minimum estimate of the number of people likely to be carried, would amount to $1,091, and the members feeling that with good weather the latter figure would be greatly exceeded decided in favor of the Port Stanley offer.

It was also decided on motion of J. F. Nolan, seconded by J. H. Fowler, to hold the annual banquet of the society in the cafeteria on the beach.

The various committees are busily at work on the details of the big picnic, and although the program of events has not yet been completed, it is beginning to look as if there will be some real surprises in store for the crowd.

While the members were determined to curtail expenses where possible, no pains are being spared to make this year's picnic bigger and better than ever, and judging by present indications it certainly will be.

BOYS RETURN FROM ANNUAL CAMP; HAD AN EXCELLENT TIME

Combined Work and Play During Two Weeks.

The annual outing for the boys of London held under the auspices of the advisory committee on boys' work has ended, and the forty youths from the various churches of the city have returned to their homes. The camp this year was held at Fishers' Glen instead of Lakeside, the location in previous years.

Not an accident marred the two weeks' vacation, and every camper was highly pleased with the outing. The program for this season's camp activities was a novel one, including both work and pleasure. The mornings were spent in work on the farms in the vicinity and at a canning factory in Vittoria, a town a short distance from the encampment. The afternoons were used for boating, swimming and various camp games, while the evenings where whiled away around roaring camp fires. Services were held on Sunday conducted by R. E. G. Davis, boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and Mr. Chadwick, who acted in that capacity several years ago.

The camp was in charge of R. E. G. Davis, who was assisted by Rev. C. W. Foreman and W. H. Gatecliffe.

HOSPITAL RATES AGAIN JUMPED TO MEET H. C. OF L.

New Schedule Will Go Into Effect on 1st of August.

Owing to the increasing cost of necessities and living in general, the Victoria Hospital trust at the meeting Monday afternoon decided to advance the rates as follows: General wards, $1 per day, semi-private wards $1.25 per day, private wards $2.50 to $4 per day. This schedule becomes effective August 1, and means an all-round advance of about fifty cents a day in each room. These rates are still far below those which other hospitals are charging.

Accounts for the month were passed totalling $15,222, and the cash receipts amounted to $6,785.17.

The monthly report showed 254 patients admitted, 254 discharged, 19 births, 22 deaths, 193 patients treated during June, and 122 cases in the free dispensary.

WHO HAS A SLOGAN FOR LONDON?

Returned Soldiers' Picnic Is Your Opportunity for Fame.

At the returned soldiers' picnic on July 20, a novel feature will be the slogan contest for prizes offered by the London Advertising Club.

A prize will be given to the returned soldier or soldier's wife composing the best slogan for the city of London; and a second prize will be awarded the originator of the second best entry.

The following samples of slogans are given by way of suggestion to those competing:

"Cleveland, Sixth City."
"Hamilton, the Ambitious City."
"In Detroit, life is worth living."
"Invest your son in Des Moines."

Believing that the city should have a slogan of its own, and because of the appreciable value slogans have proven to possess for other cities, the London Advertising Club is hoping that this contest will produce a slogan that will be permanently adopted by the city, and for this reason, all slogans submitted should contain, if possible, a reason why citizenship in London is a valuable privilege.

Contestants will write a slogan, or as many as they desire, with name and address on a piece of paper, and inclose it in an envelope marked "Slogan Contest." The entries will be received at the picnic and selection will be made the following day.

The judges will be Mr. T. P. Elliott of Smallman & Ingram, Limited, Mr. Gordon Philip, publicity commissioner of the city of London, and Mr. T. H. Yull of Federal Advertising Service.

STORY HOUR TO BEGIN WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

The "story hour" for children, to be given in Victoria Park and the Normal School by the Educational Chapter, I. O. D. E., will commence at 2 p.m. on Wednesday. The stories will run along educational lines and will be found very interesting by those attending. Members of the Janey Canuck Chapter will be in charge. These story hours will be conducted every Wednesday throughout the summer months.

NOTORIOUS 'YOCUM,' ARRESTED HERE, HAS ESCAPED IN STATES

Broke Out of Jackson Prison and Fled.

CONSIDERED DANGEROUS

He Tried To Pull Gun On the Local Detectives When Captured.

Albert Kindy, alias Harvey Yocum, who was arrested in this city in April last, and later handed over to Detroit authorities, escaped on Sunday night from Jackson Prison, where he was sent to serve a term of from one to five years for attempting to rob a branch of the Detroit Savings Bank last February.

Another prisoner, Jerome Newman, escaped at the same time.

The convicts entered a storeroom in the prison with the aid of a skeleton key, climbed into the garret, sawed a hole in the cornice and slid down a rope. A woman living near the prison said she saw the escape.

Kindy was once held by the Detroit police in connection with the slaying of Patrolman Emil Schmidt on his beat on Grand River avenue February 20.

Kindy was arrested here following complaints of certain persons who had replied to newspaper advertisements inserted by him, in which he promised to sell a $240 motorcycle for $60 to be paid for by paying down $10, and the balance in installments.

In this way he is said to have collected over $1,500 from persons in Western Ontario towns. He was arrested at a house on Park avenue by Detectives Egelton and Down, but was taken only after he was overpowered and an automatic revolver which he had drawn was taken away from him.

He was regarded by the local detective force as one of the most dangerous criminals taken here in years.

He waived extradition after some days' argument by Detroit detectives.

MAJ. J. H. THORNLEY AWARDED D.S.O. FOR SERVICES AT ARRAS

London Officer at Present in English Hospital.

Word has been received here that Major J. H. Thornley, a son of Mrs. May F. Thornley of this city, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Order for his work during the battle of Arras in March last.

Under what circumstances the honor has been conferred it not mentioned in the letter.

Major Thornley was an electrical engineer employed by one of the large power companies at Niagara Falls prior to his enlistment with the 33rd Battalion.

After the 33rd was broken up in England he was assigned to duty with the 5th Canadian Light Railway Construction Battalion.

He was wounded along with a number of others at Arras, and is at present convalescing in an English hospital.

AGAIN REMANDED

Three Boys Go Back to Jail for Another Week.

Three boys, ranging in ages from 10 to 13 years, appeared in juvenile court today for sentence, all having pleaded guilty to stealing $60 from Ginsberg's grocery on Sunday night, July 8th.

They were remanded to jail again for another week.

The trio gained entrance to the store by climbing over the transom. According to their admissions at the hearing a week ago the crime was planned for some days and executed according to schedule.

COUNCIL CARRIES ON

Has Not Adjourned for Dog Days as Usual.

The city council did not adjourn last night for the dog days, as has been the custom in the past, and as a result the regular sessions will be held.

The next regular meeting, however, does not come for three weeks, so the weary aldermen will have an opportunity of resting a bit. There will be no meeting of the board of works this evening.

The other committees will not meet until week after next.

PICNIC AT SPRINGBANK

The members of the choir of Dundas Centre Methodist Church, together with a number of friends, held a very enjoyable picnic at Springbank on Saturday afternoon. Rev. W. E. and Mrs. Pescott, and the honorary president and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Heaman, were among those present. A baseball match was a feature. The special sports, in charge of A. C. Deacon, W. C. Clark and Heber Gibson, were a great success, consisting of many original and interesting events, which were keenly contested. The social committee consisted of Miss Ollie Suhr (convener) and Miss F. Line, Miss M. Carrie, Mrs. F. Webster, Mrs. H. Gibson and Mrs. James Gay. Mrs. J. Parnell Morris contributed to the enjoyment of the day by her efforts.

The truck in passing over his foot severed the large toe. He will be on station duty for some weeks at least.

BAND DOING WELL.—The playing of the band of No. 1 Special Service Company is causing much favorable comment of late. The band accompanied two drafts to the depot on Sunday, and also met the returned soldiers on Monday. By mistake, mention of its services was omitted in Monday's report of the troops' departure.

MAY BE TRANSFERRED.—In cases where men already enlisted for the infantry or other branches of the service requiring the highest medical standard are found not to be up to that standard, but equal to the standard required for forestry or construction battalions, transfers may be made direct to such units, instead of first transferring such men to special service companies, C. E. F., according to an announcement in camp orders.

DEMONSTRATIONS FREE. — The canning demonstrations which are being given this week in the Lord Roberts School by Miss Towell, an expert secured through the department of agriculture, are free to all members of the Women's Gardening Association, under the auspices of which the short course has been arranged. Stickney and Signaller R. Jenkins. The following have been transferred to No. 1 Special Service Company: Ptes. F. Ross and W. H. Allen, and Co. Sergt.-Major J. E. Dunbar, and Ptes. W. Fawcett, W. Knowles, A. E. McLeod, S. Northeast, C. Stinson, W. H. Watts and A. J. Wright.

FORM IS CHANGED.—"Have you ever served in any naval or military force?" This is one of the questions to be answered by the recruit when filling out his attestation paper for enlistment in the Canadian Expeditionary Force. The question formerly read "Have you ever served in any military force?" and the word "naval" has been inserted, in order to ascertain whether the man joining has had experience in the navy, as well as in the army. Each man signing the attestation form is to initial this change in wording, to show that he has understood the question.

Delamere, officer commanding the Central Training Depot, will command the parade, and the program of sports will be under the Military Y. M. C. A. Athletic Association.

FELLOW PROFESSOR SPEAKS HIGHLY OF DR. A. A. LIVINGSTON

Says New Western University Teacher a Leader.

GREAT ITALIAN SCHOLAR

Prof. Gerig Regrets That Columbia University Loses Him.

President Braithwaite of the Western University has just received a letter from Professor John Gerig of New York giving testimony to the capability of Dr. Arthur Livington, now of Columbia University, who has recently been appointed professor of romance languages at the Western. Professor Gerig is himself one of the leading romance men at Columbia, an author of reputation, and widely recognized in the United States as an authority in his department. He was interviewed two or three times last spring in New York by Dr. Braithwaite in reference to the best available man for the Western. Such a letter as the following, therefore, speaks volumes in favor of the distinguished teacher, author and scholar under whose direction the students at the Western will have the privilege of studying.

Columbia University, New York City, June 29, 1917.

President E. E. Braithwaite, Western University, London, Ont.

My Dear President Braithwaite,—I desire to take advantage of this opportunity to congratulate you on obtaining the services of Professor A. A. Livingston in Western University. In my opinion you have secured the most promising man in our department—one who is rapidly becoming the leader of thought in his line of work in this hemisphere. Although only about 33 years of age he has published two books—both written in Italian—which have made a great impression in Italy, and about 100 articles. He was editor of the Italian department on the New International Encyclopaedia, for which he wrote a model sketch of Italian literature. He writes the annual review of Italian literature for the New International Year-Book, has written several articles for Warner's Library, has published articles in practically every Italian review of importance, and is preparing a great work on Giordano Bruno, besides numerous other brief publications. You will find, likewise, that he is a remarkable teacher. Full of enthusiasm, he inspires all of his classes. Personally he is thoroughly sincere and honest—a more upright and less self-interested man cannot be found. He is somewhat eccentric in his ways, but that does not detract in the least from the charm of his personality. You will find him a most interesting thinker on a wide range of subjects.

PROFESSOR A. A. LIVINGSTON.

For my part, I shall miss him very much—for I derived much benefit from my conversations with him. I consider his departure the greatest loss our romance department has suffered since it was established thirty years ago; and by his acquisition Western University becomes one of the big forces in the romance field. Yours very truly,

JOHN L. GERIG.

GROWERS EXPECT FINE POTATOES FROM PATCH ON TIPPERARY FLATS

With Such a Name Land Cannot Fail to Establish Record.

Tipperary flats of local fame, just over the Ridout street bridge, has become true to traditions attached to the Irish name. In a word, it has become the potato garden of energetic employees of the hydro building, a few hundred yards from it.

"Whenever I see a potato I think of an Irishman," said one employee, "and whenever I see Tipperary flats, just over that bridge, and realize that potatoes are being grown there, I cannot help but think they will be the best on record. Put spud seed in Ireland and you get potatoes that are potatoes. So I expect to have the finest in the land within a couple of weeks."

About seven separate gardens of individual growers, comprise the large patch in which the men have planted their seed, and according to the growers the only section of Ireland in the city is bound to produce a type of tuber unsurpassed in this country and only equalled in Erin Isle.

One man, doubting the fertility of the flats, declared that the spuds would be no better than any others of the home-grown variety, and to prove his statement he spent an hour after 6 o'clock picking bugs off the vegetables of his own garden.

He was met by an Advertiser reporter after the job was over.

"Look at them," he said, "Two hundred and thirty-six altogether, and they try to tell me my potatoes will be as good as those grown in Ireland."

CHANGES AT CAMP

Army Service Corps Horses Occupy a New Stable.

With the completion of the permanent buildings which have been under construction for the past month at Carling Heights Camp, a number of changes are taking place at the camp. The stable building, which it was expected at first would be occupied by the horses of the 63rd Battery, has been taken over by the Army Service Corps, and the horses of that unit have been transferred from the stable of the Canadian Engineers to the new building.

The Army Service Corps "lines" are also being moved from the former position west of the A. S. C. orderly room, and the men's tents are now east of the Army Dental Corps Building.

One of the other new buildings has been occupied by the paymaster of No. 1 Special Service Company, and another by Major Cameron, officer in command of the forestry and railway construction depot.

T. H. MADDEN DEAD.

SARNIA, July 16.—T. H. Madden, aged 95 years, died at his home, 457 George street, on Sunday after a short illness. The funeral will be held from the family residence on Tuesday, July 17, at 8:45 to the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

Elizabeth Grey, wife of Charles Forran, aged 38, is dead here. The funeral arrangements have not as yet been completed.

Advanced To Death Smile On Lips and Cigarette In Mouth

Lieut. Elliott Set Men a Fine Example in Charging Foe.

A typical example of the manner in which a certain type of Canadian young man meets death is graphically described by an English officer writing to Mrs. May Elliott, formerly of this city, condoling with her on the loss of her son, Lieut. L. Elliott, who was killed in action less than four months ago.

The writer was examining a section of "No Man's Land" in charge of a scouting party when he saw what looked to be an officer half lounging over a piece of uprooted ground.

Thinking he was wounded or stunned, the English officer approached the figure to render aid, but discovered, after an examination, that the man was dead. A cigarette, partially smoked, was between his lips and a smile that denoted the suddenness of his death and the absence of any pain, lurked around his mouth.

The apparent youth of the dead officer and the peculiarly undismayed expression upon his face, led the Englishman to take a personal interest in the manner by which the Canadian received his death wound.

"He advanced, leading a platoon, with the remainder of his company, to the attack," the writer said, "lighting a cigarette and encouraging his men with a confident smile before doing so. He met death when half-way across "No Man's Land" with that smile and unconcern of one entering with airy ecstasy the eternal joys of a great adventure."

The young officer was identified by two of his mother's rings, which were upon his fingers.

LOCAL INSPECTOR NOT WARMLY WELCOMED IN COLD STORAGE PLANTS

Owners Fail to See Need of Visit—Reported to Have Refused Permission.

There is the possibility of a conflict between local authorities and the cold storage plants in this city.

The council some time ago decided to have Inspector McCallum prepare statistics as to the amount of goods in warehouses, the prices paid, etc., and Inspector McCallum has sent out circulars and called on some of the plants for this information.

It was stated that some of the owners had refused to make returns to the city, and would not allow Mr. McCallum to enter the premises.

The explanation is that the whole information regarding the cold storage plants can be obtained from the Dominion authorities, to whom sworn statements are sent regularly. They cannot understand why the dual inspection is a necessity.

The matter will come up before the council at an early date.

Inspector McCallum refused to give information regarding the matter.

RETURNED SOLDIER MAY BE NAMED AS SOLICITOR FOR CITY

Proposed Appointment Not Made at Stratford.

STRATFORD, July 16.—The question of returned soldiers entered into the discussion of the city solicitor's appointment at the council tonight, and a bylaw for the appointment of W. G. Owens received only one reading, Ald. Ireland objecting to further action.

A special committee of the whole council recommended the appointment of Owens at a salary of $700, succeeding R. S. Robertson. An amendment was made to the report that the name of Major J. C. Makins be inserted, by Aldermen Ireland and Roberts. This was defeated by a 9 to 2 vote.

Major Makins went overseas as second in command of the 71st Battalion, but only reached England. It was stated tonight that he would return early in September. The name of Pte. J. M. Riddell, now in France was also mentioned.

The bylaw for Owens' appointment was given one reading, Aldermen Ireland and Roberts opposing. Alderman Ireland blocked the second reading.

Civic Reception.

A civic reception will be tendered the returned soldiers on the evening of August 4 to mark the third anniversary of the declaration of the war. The park board will raise a flag on the new staff in Riverside Park the same day.

Chief Kappele, and Alderman Davis were appointed delegates to the fire chiefs' convention at Port Arthur.

A report of the joint committee recommending a crossing over the G. T. R. tracks between Nile and Romeo streets, was adopted. The estimate of the G. T. R. engineer for an overhead structure was $14,700 and $12,250 for a pedestrian subway.

Mayor Monteith was instructed to call a public meeting to organize the Stratford branch of the Ontario resources commission, to be the centre of the county branch. The object is to organize to provide labor for the coming harvest, and for the next year or two.

A bylaw for debentures for $20,000 for an addition to the substation was given one reading, and sent to the finance committee for scrutiny.

Wants Coal Yard.

A petition containing upwards of 2,000 names urged the city to establish a municipal coal and wood yard. This together with a petition from some storekeepers asking for a bylaw to close shops at 1 o'clock Wednesdays was referred to the council in committee. These with the solicitor's bylaw will be taken up by the aldermen Thursday night, to report at a special council meeting Friday.

The finance committee will deal with further action on patriotic fund grants.

The aldermen on Thursday will also discuss an expenditure of $3,600 for a new road roller for repairing pavements.

TO HELP WIN

in hotels, restaurants and in homes in Canada would work an enormous saving.

Co-operating With United States.

Mr. Hanna then spoke of the organization work done so that Canada and the United States could work in co-operation.

The committee on hotels and restaurants would have a story to tell in a few days. One of the questions to be settled would be would their recommendations be for voluntary adoption of food conservation or will they be for compulsion? There was a strong case for compulsion if the letters he was receiving were any indication. Distribution was an important factor, and here waste was rampant. Some one may have to deal with this before they were through.

LAID OVER TEMPORARILY.

SARNIA, July 16.—Plans for the erection of workingmen's houses, which were discussed by the builders' exchange a short time ago, have been shelved until the labor and money market return to a more normal condition. Numerous private dwellings are being erected in the city, but their erection as an investment and for rental is still very slow. In the opinion of the members of the exchange it is impossible at the present time to do very much, and contemplated plans will be laid over.

CRUTCH RACES AND ONE-HANDED BOUTS FEATURES OF SPORT

Great Program Arranged for Returned Men.

FAMILIES WILL COMPETE

Numerous Events for Mothers, Wives, Sisters and Children.

How long would it take you to go a hundred yards if you had to make the journey on crutches? A number of returned soldiers will endeavor to establish a record for this event at their picnic, to be held at Port Stanley next Friday. The race promises to be one of the most interesting on the long program, and according to reports there will be some speedy work as some of the men, through long training in ths mode of locomotion, can cover the ground at a rate that would put a March hare to shame.

Those men who have lost an arm in the service of their country will have an opportunity to bag some of the prizes which local organizations are offering. There will be sparring in barrels, the contestants requiring only two qualifications — that they have served in France, and that they possess the use of one arm only. There will be a 100-yard dash, open to all returned men. A wrestling match will be open to all returned soldiers also.

Novelty Contests.

Other events will be a time race and an automobile contest. Carpenters will have an opportunity in the nail-driving contest, and another interesting event will be "retailing the army mule." There will be 75-yard dashes for boys under ten years of age and boys under fifteen years of age. They will be open only to the sons of returned men or boys whose fathers have fallen in battle. A boot and shoe race will be open to all returned soldiers' sons as well.

The part of the program in which the wives, mothers and sweethearts of returned men will participate promises to be interesting. Daughters of returned men and girls whose fathers have fallen in France will take part in a biscuit-eating contest. There will be a time race open to all members of the C. E. F. Chapter, I. O. D. E., and a flag race open to boys and girls between 9 and 10 years of age, the sons and daughters of returned men. A scramble race will be open to girls between the ages of 9 and 13 years.

Coat Race Opener.

A coat race will open the program, and will be contested by soldiers' wives and war-widows. Girls between 10 and 14 years of age will participate in a potato race, and a nail-driving contest will be open to all women whose husbands have served in the 7th Regiment. A matrimonial race will be another feature. Returned soldiers will take part in this as well as their wives or sweethearts. Daughters of returned soldiers, over sixteen years of age, will contest honors in throwing the ball.

A baby show will be an event of the afternoon. There will be a prize for the largest family on the picnic grounds, the father of which is a returned soldier. There will also be a prize for the mother having the most sons at the front.

Tickets will be distributed to all who are going, and will probably be ready by Wednesday or Thursday. These will be accepted as railroad fare, and will admit the bearers to the various amusement devices at Port Stanley, the incline railway and the dance hall.

BRANTFORD WORKER DECLARES ONTARIO IS PRUSSIAN-RULED

Sends Letter Backing Stand of Montreal Mayor.

SAYS PAPERS IGNORE HIM

Monster Meeting at Quebec Metropolis Shies at the National Anthem.

MONTREAL, July 16.—Refusing to sing the British National Anthem, and substituting for it "O Canada," the 15,000 people who listened to anti-conscription speeches on Fletcher's Field yesterday were persuaded to cheer the name of King George before dispersing by Mayor Martin, M. P., who called the meeting.

A point made by the mayor in his speech was that people in Ontario had wired him, objecting to the military service bill. One of the telegrams which Mayor Martin read to the crowd was signed C. L. Henderson, Brantford, Ont. Henderson, after his signature, added the words "Irish-Canadian."

The telegram addressed to the mayor was as follows:

"A voice from Ontario, permit me to congratulate you on your stand against conscription and upon the freedom of the press in the Province of Quebec compared with the censored press of Prussian-ruled Ontario. No wonder Ireland demands a republic since home rule in Canada has been made a mockery by order-in-council. The voice of the people must be expressed at the polls, since they are denied the freedom of the press.

"If Canada is to remain within the Empire, Ontario, like Quebec, is against conscription. The masses, not the classes, must rule."

Mayor Martin continued: "The prime minister today wants to put us back centuries. He cannot do it in the Province of Quebec, even if they let him do it in the other provinces. I receive letters every day from the Province of Ontario. They want me to organize anti-conscription meetings in Toronto."

IGNORED BY PRESS.

BRANTFORD, July 16.—Asked at noon today why he had sent such a letter to Montreal to be read to the French-Canadians, C. L. Henderson stated that he had been unable to secure an airing for his views in Ontario. He specifically charged that the Toronto and London newspapers refused to publish letters giving his views on the situation. He added that he strongly favored the holding of an election, but, failing this, believed that the matter should be referred to a referendum. The present Parliament had not authority to enact or enforce such a measure, and no legal right to endeavor to enforce it. They were in power only because of the war, because their term had long since expired. The people should be allowed a voice in the matter.

Henderson is employed in the toolroom of the local plant of the Steel Company of Canada. He has sent letters to the local press on this matter, and is said to be a radical Socialist.

SENDING DELEGATES.

KITCHENER, July 16. — Three delegates will be sent to Toronto on July 24 to attend the convention which has been called by the organization of resources committee. The object is to send representative women who will assist in organizing on the broadest manner to co-operate in the prevention of food wastage and encourage thrift.

SARNIA POLICE SEIZE TWO HUNDRED LOAVES SHORT-WEIGHT BREAD

City Bylaws Are Now Being Rigidly Enforced.

SARNIA, July 16.—A quantity of shortweight bread, totaling nearly 200 loaves, was seized by the police today and brought to the police station, and will in all probability be donated to the hospital, under the provisions of the city bylaw. The loaves averaged from one to two ounces below the standard weight, and were the property of W. W. Tuck, local baker.

TACKS BOTHER CHAUFFEURS.

COURSE IN CANNING COMMENCES TODAY

"Putting the can in Canada," is a slogan which a clever member of the Woman's Gardening Association has suggested for the three-day short course in vegetable canning to be held under the auspices of the society. It opens this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Lord Roberts' School. Miss Towell, graduate of MacDonald College, Guelph, an expert sent by the department of agriculture, will give a series of demonstrations in scientific methods of canning vegetables for winter use. A fee of 25 cents, which entitles to membership in W. G. A. for the remainder of the season, will admit any woman to the whole three days' course. A large number have already enrolled.

FOUR SMALL BOYS ADMIT ROBBERIES

KITCHENER, July 16.—Magistrate Weir today had four lads, aged seven to eleven, before him on a charge of burglarizing the hardware store of John Fennel & Son, Reshaw's fruit store, and Nickloff's barber shop, from which had been taken $100 in valuables.

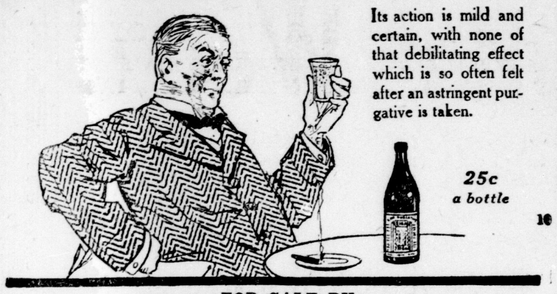

They have pleaded guilty and a lad of seven in relating the facts of the escapade said that he stood guard at the hardware store so as to warn his companions of the approach of the police.

The lads live in the west ward, and a neighbor's lad, a chum of one of the youngsters, seeing them with considerable money, notified P. C. Belevins on Sunday, and in company with Sergt. Grasser went to the homes of the lads and rounded them up.

The magistrate will deal with them in the juvenile court, and in the meantime has given them over to the care of Inspector Miller of the Children's Aid Society.

STRIKE IS SETTLED; MEN GET INCREASE

SHEDDEN, July 16.—The fifty M.C.R. men who struck four weeks ago for $2.50 per day returned to work today. A compromise was reached, by which $2.47 is accepted.

The two school teachers for the public school will be Miss Campbell of Lawrence Station for the junior room, and Miss Beattie of Belmont for the senior room.

The Shedden junior ball team motored to Fingal on Saturday and played a return game, and were defeated by the Fingal juniors by a score of 8 to 9. Owing to the heavy rains the ground was in bad condition. A number of overthrows was the result. Another game will be arranged for the near future.

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

Nine-Tenths of All Stomach Trouble Said To Be Due To Acidity.

A Physician's Advice on Cause and Cure.

A famous physician whose successful researches into the cause and cure of stomach and intestinal diseases have earned for him an international reputation, said in the course of a recent lecture that nearly all intestinal troubles, as well as many diseases of the vital organs, were directly traceable to a deranged condition of the stomach which in turn was due nine times out of ten to excessive acidity, commonly termed sour stomach or heartburn, which not only irritated and inflamed the delicate lining of the stomach, but also set up gastritis and stomach ulcers. It is interesting to note that he condemns the use of patent medicines as well as of medical treatment for the stomach, stating that he and his colleagues have secured remarkable results by the use of ordinary bisurated magnesia, which, by neutralizing the acidity of the food, removes the source of the trouble. He contends that it is as foolish to treat the stomach itself as it would be for a man who stepped on a tack to rub liniment on the foot without first removing the tack. Remove the tack and the foot will heal itself—neutralize the acid and the stomach troubles will disappear. Irritating medicines and medical treatments are useless, so long as the contents of the stomach remain acid; remove the acidity, and there will be no need for medicine—the inflamed lining of the stomach will then heal itself. Sufferers from acidity, sour stomach or heartburn should get a small bottle of bisurated magnesia from their druggist, and take a teaspoonful in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after meals, repeating in fifteen minutes, if necessary, this being the dose which the doctor has found most efficacious in all cases.—Advt.

JILTED LOVER KILLS BRIDEGROOM, SHOOTS BRIDE AND HIMSELF

Returned Soldier Killed While on Honeymoon—Bride and Assailant May Die.

ARNPRIOR, July 16.—Bruce M. Leitch, aged 25, a returned soldier of Montreal, is dead, his bride of a week is dying, at a hotel at Sand Point, and William Bennett, aged 25, of 375 Notre Dame street, Montreal, is dying in a Renfrew hospital.

Leitch, who was on leave from a Toronto convalescent home, was spending his honeymoon with his bride at Sand Point, near here. Bennett, who had been rejected by the girl, who was a Miss Gertrude Lillian Standring of Montreal, learned of their whereabouts and arriving in Arnprion waylaid them on a road and killed Leitch in cold blood, then shot Mrs. Leitch through the right lung and face and himself through the head.

The three were found by a hotelkeeper of Sand Point, lying in the roadway, at whose place Mr. and Mrs. Leitch had been staying.

UNLESS RAIN STOPS, FINE CROPS OF HAY WILL BE TOTAL LOSS

CLANDEBOYE, July 16.—Rain has impeded the farmers cutting hay throughout this district and the small acreage that has been cut down will be a total loss if weather conditions don't change. Mr. Eslie Hodgson, who finished cutting twenty acres of sweet clover July 4, and which was one of the finest crops seen throughout this district, will probably have a total loss. The bean crop, of which a much larger acreage than usual had been planted, promises to be very poor, some of the farmers plowing them up.

The annual strawberry festival of St. James' Church held on the lawn of Mr. Leo. Hodgins, was a splendid success, the proceeds amounting to about $150.

The weekly race meets, held on Ira Bice's track, had to be put off Saturday owing to the rain. This is the fourth week that the race fans have been disappointed.

RESIGNS AS PRINCIPAL UPPER CANADA COLLEGE

TORONTO, July 16.—After fourteen years as principal of Upper Canada College, Henry W. Auden, M.A., offered his resignation to the board of governors, and it was accepted at a meeting of the executive today.

W. S. Jackson, who has been connected with Upper Canada College for forty years, and who recently resigned, has been prevailed upon to assume the duties of acting principal until the successor to Mr. Auden can be installed.

W. L. Grant, M.A., of Queen's University, was today offered the position by the executive. Mr. Grant was educated at Queen's University, Kingston, and at Oxford. He was resident master at Upper Canada College, and also at St. Andrew's College, Toronto. Returning to England, he was Beit lecturer in colonial history at Oxford. That position he resigned in order to become professor of colonial history at Queen's University.

CHAS. JENVEY WAS DEREHAM PIONEER

INGERSOLL, July 16.—Charles Jenvey, aged 83, of Dereham Township pioneer, and one of the county's best known residents, is dead at the house of his son, George Jenvey, King street.

Soon after his arrival in this country he came to Ingersoll, and later proceeded to Port Burwell.

He spent two years in Port Burwell and then returned to Dereham Township where he engaged in farming, which he followed until 1886, when he opened and operated a brickyard at Springfield, where he remained for 27 years. In 1893 he removed to Toronto, where he remained until a year ago, when he came to Ingersoll and had since made his home with his son. He was a Methodist and for 25 years was superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school at Springfield. Three sons and two daughters survive as follows: Arthur of Decatur, Mich., John of Birr, Montana, and George of Ingersoll; Mrs. Agnew and Mrs. Stroud of Toronto.

BLAZE AT INGERSOLL.

When Marriage Is a Failure

Surely marriage is a failure when its essential purpose, the raising of a family of children, proves impossible. In the childless home the married pair, though sometimes more or less unconscious of the fact, grow disappointed and lonely. Lacking the best tie to hold them together they are likely to drift apart, hence many separations and divorces.

If every wife, whose physical state prevents motherhood, would but try that great remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, there would be far fewer childless homes.

Keep a little delatone powder on your dressing table and when ugly, hairy growths appear, make a paste with a little of the powder and some water, apply and let remain on the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. This treatment is quite harmless and rarely more than one application is required, but to avoid disappointment care should be used to buy the real delatone.

LIBERAL CAUCUS FOR UNION GOVT. IS SUGGESTION

Man Who Called Meeting Gets Term Extension Motion Delayed.

MAY CALL IN ROWELL

Another Meeting Later in the Week Will Finally Settle the Issue.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, July 16.—Two caucuses in the morning had an echo in Parliament this afternoon, and the outcome may be a union government.

The resolution to extend the term of Parliament has been postponed for a day. Premier Borden moved the resolution when the House opened.

A. K. Maclean asked that it be held until after third reading of the compulsory service bill, as action on that measure might affect his attitude toward extension.

Sir Robert Borden agreed to defer action on extension until tomorrow, and meantime consult with his associates as to any further delay.

It was A. K. Maclean who called the caucus of the conscriptionist Liberals this morning.

It was attended by twenty men, the east, the west and Ontario being represented. Chief Liberal Whip Pardee was elected chairman. The meeting lasted one hour. The gathering had before them the offer of Sir Robert Borden to form a union Government. The chief business of the meeting was to decide if any of them would enter the Government, and to decide the still more difficult matter of which of them would enter with the support of the others.

Another Meeting.

When they emerged from the meeting, the members declared that Mr. Pardee as chairman was the spokesman. When the spokesman was approached he declared that he had nothing to say, but that there would be another meeting later in the week.

This is taken to mean that some decision was reached, but it will be communicated to Sir Robert Borden, and that the meeting later will be for the purpose of considering the reply of the prime minister.

In Conservative circles it is believed that there will be a reorganization of the cabinet announced within a short time, and that the new cabinet will be found to contain several gentlemen who were present at the meeting this morning and possibly some outsiders, presumably N. W. Rowell, K.C., of Ontario, and Premier Murray of Nova Scotia.

Then it will be a case of deciding whether there will be an appeal to the people or an effort to apply the conscription law without such appeal. The Conservatives were in caucus and are understood to have reached an agreement by which there will be some modification of the clause in the conscription bill providing for the exemption of divinity students.

Extension Move Put Off.

The deduction after the Liberal caucus was that the conscriptionist Liberals had come to some agreement upon a proposal that might be placed before the Government for acceptance.

It did not get to the prime minister before the opening of the afternoon sitting, for when Sir Robert rose to move the address to the British Parliament for amendment of the British North America act to extend the term of the Canadian Parliament for another year, A. K. Maclean asked that action be deferred until after the compulsory service measure had been disposed of by the House.

Though Mr. Maclean called the meeting of the Liberal 28 in the morning, he professed to speak for himself alone, and he said, "the ultimate disposition of the compulsory service measure may affect me personally very much in reaching a conclusion upon this measure."

Sir Robert Borden replied that he would have been very glad if the wish had been communicated to him a little earlier, that he might have consulted with his colleagues upon it, but he would come to the House prepared to move his resolution, which had been on the order paper for months. However, without making promise of further postponement, he would let the extension resolution stand until tomorrow.

Some Feeling Evidenced.

There followed evidence of the fact that there is some feeling among the members on the Liberal side.

"I should like the House to understand that, so far as I am concerned, the suggestion of my honorable friend from Halifax has no support from me," said Hon. Mr. Oliver, with considerable emphasis.

"I desire to say that is my position also," said the Hon. Charles Murphy.

"Make it unanimous," said Mr. Nesbitt.

"I may add," said the premier, with a smile, "that it really has not any support from me either." There was a good deal of laughter on both sides.

"But when an appeal is made to me," Sir Robert continued, "by a gentleman in this House, who suggests that it would be fairer to let the matter stand for a day or two, my natural good nature impels me to yield. May I express the hope that the wish expressed by my honorable friend from Halifax (Mr. Maclean) has not been prejudiced in the eyes of the Government in any way, by the opposition of my honorable friend from Edmonton (Mr. Oliver)." There was a good deal of laughter over this interruption.

Dr. Pugsley said that he had come especially to discuss the extension resolution, and thought that the sooner it was settled the better.

Sir Wilfrid Agrees.

The incident was closed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. "May I be allowed to say that, while I am ready to go on—my opinion is made and I do not think any delay will change it—still, when an honorable gentleman of the importance of my friend from Halifax makes such a request of the Government, I am very glad that the prime minister agrees to it. We must remember that this is a free parliament and that every member is free to express his opinion."

So the resolution was set over. It is understood that it will be moved Tuesday; that the prime minister will state the reasons he has for desiring the extension, but that it will not be further pressed for some days.

The remainder of the sitting was devoted to consideration of the bill consolidating and revising the railway act. The discussion was of a most technical nature. The amendment by which the rates of the Government railways will be brought under the operation of the railway board was held, as it was found that the law respecting the Intercolonial should be first amended.

MARSIL WILL DENOUNCE COMPULSION DESPITE LAW THAT COMMONS WILL PASS

Montreal, July 16.—Two anti-conscription meetings were held here tonight, one at Cote Des Neiges, addressed by Lancrede Marsil and Lorenzo Robitaille, and the other in Lafontaine Park, where the suggestion of Harry Levitt, an English-speaking Socialist, that all the anti-conscriptionists in Parliament resign in order to prevent the conscription bill from becoming law, met the noisy approval of a large gathering which was comprized chiefly of boys, women and girls. At the Cote Des Neiges meeting, Mr. Marsil declared he would continue to denounce conscription in spite of any legislation passed at Ottawa. Mr. Robitaille said if the people voted for conscription he would be the first to obey the law, but if there was no election and the Government attempted to enforce conscription there should be a general strike, and the people should withdraw their money from the banks.

Sydney Blandford, minister of agriculture, retires, and it is understood will shortly be appointed high sheriff. The departmental aides without seats in the cabinet are: William Woodford, minister of public works; John Stone, minister of marine and fisheries, Woodford being Government and Stone Opposition supporters.

CANADIAN STEAMER SINKS A SUBMARINE IN MEDITERRANEAN

TORONTO, July 16.—To the steamer Meaford of the Farrar Transportation Company, Limited, Toronto, belongs the honor of being the first Canadian freight vessel to sink a German submarine. Official information from the marine department of the imperial authorities conveying the circumstanees under which Captain C. Dusting of the Meaford, which has figured in several adventurous trips, accomplished the act, reached George E. Fair, a managing director of the company, today.

So far as known, the Meaford is the only Canadian freighter engaged in the transatlantic service, which has sunk a submarine. The Meaford of Welland Canal size, is under charter to the French Government for twelve months, for transatlantic service and service on the Mediterranean.

"Am pleased to report that we sunk a submarine by gunfire 50 miles southwest of Sicily in the Mediterranean."

This was the substance of the report of Captain Dusting, conveyed by the authorities at Gibraltar to the imperial authorities at London, the latter according to the information to hand, having since officially verified the report.

The Meaford was on her way from Swansea to Bona on June 12, when the crew of the vessel sighted a submarine some distance off. The submarine gave chase, and while manoeuvering for position the gunners on the freighter opened fire and sent the submersible down before she had time to retaliate. The vessel reached Bona the following day and discharged her cargo.

AMERICAN ARMY OF 125,000 MEN SOON TO DEPART FOR EUROPE

Whole National Guard Is Federalized for War Service.

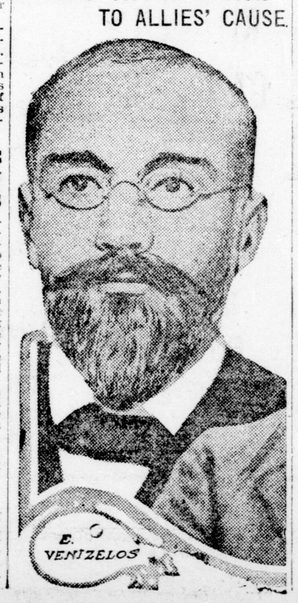

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Mobilization of the National Guard for war service began today. While no orders for embarkation of state troops for France will be given until after August 5, when the entire force will be formally drafted into the United States army, there are indications that some divisions will be regarded as ready to board transports soon after that date.

The first clause of President Wilson's proclamation providing for the federalization of the National Guard for the war, became effective yesterday. Under it all guard units from New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota, and Nebraska went on the federal payroll from that date.

Actual concentration of troops in their home armories or state camps began today. Approximately one-half of the total strength of the National Guard, or more than 125,000 men, is included in the force assembling.

Departure of the guardsmen for France, it was intimated today, will be governed by the shipping problem. War department officials regard many divisions of the state troops as virtually ready now for the intensive training behind the fighting line in France, which will prepare them for their place in the trenches.

CLINTON GAVE GENEROUSLY FOR FRENCH RELIEF

CLINTON, July 16.—The contributions for the French war relief fund from Clinton and district total $677.31. The canvass here was in charge of the Women's Patriotic Society and the Young Ladies' Auxiliary, and was a thorough one.

The tag-sellers met with a willing response, ladies, women and children all contributing freely.

Over two thousand flags were sold.

The four captains from the senior society were, Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Seely, Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Axon.

Their lieutenants from the junior society were, Miss Cleta Ford, Miss Hattie Courtice, Miss O'Neil and Miss Elizabeth Childley.

During the afternoon a garden party was held on Wesley Church lawn, the Clinton kilty band, under the leadership of Mr. Fred Mutch, giving their services gratis.

At the close of the day the ladies found they had realized $550.

The other societies belonging to this centre have also been busy.

Although these organizations are small, they have many untiring workers.

U. S. IS UNDERTAKING GREAT NITRATE PROJECT

War Department Saves Three-Quarters of an Appropriation.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Secretary of War Baker announced today that plans for the production of nitrate from atmospheric nitrogen would be conducted on a cost of about $4,000,000, and that water-power would not be used. Sites have not yet been selected.

It has been assumed ever since the great nitrate project was proposed that a vast supply of water-power would be needed. Consequently sites with water-power have been supposed to be the only ones likely to get consideration. Congress appropriated $20,000,000 for the project. Apparently the entire expenditure contemplated by the war department is one-fifth of that sum.

Inflamed Eyelids

HEAT and fullness of the lids, feelings as though there were sand in the eyes—these are the symptoms of inflammation and granulation of the eyelids. Besides the discomfort and suffering there is danger of the sight being permanently injured by the scraping of the granules across the surface of the eye.

By its soothing influence Dr. Chase's Ointment allays the inflammation, and by its lubricating effects keeps the lids soft, and thereby removes the friction which causes irritation. Relief is obtained at once, and with a little patient use of this ointment complete cure is effected.

NATIONALIZATION OF RAILWAYS.

THE following points were made by the chairman of the Grand Trunk, Mr. A. W. Smithers, in his reply to the proposal to nationalize the railways of Canada, including the Grand Trunk.

1. The Grand Trunk was the pioneer railway of Canada. It was commenced in 1853.

2. It was built by British labor, British engineers and British capital.

3. All the iron material and plant came from England.

4. Great obstacles were overcome in building and operating it.

5. The Grand Trunk kept pace with all improvements introduced in the past 65 years.

6. Since 1835 every bridge including the St. Lawrence and Niagara River bridges have been rebuilt.

7. One thousand one hundred miles have been double tracked.

8. Speed, safety and comfort have been insured by laying down 100 pound rails, and double tracking the road from Montreal to Toronto and Chicago.

9. Heavier rails, more powerful engines, larger and better freight and passenger cars have been provided until the railway compares favorably with any on the continent.

10. The new station at Ottawa and the Chateau Laurier are a credit to the capital.

11. Financially it has always stood on its own feet. While many American roads failed to meet their fixed charges the Grand Trunk always did.

12. It maintained its credit on the London money markets.

13. In June, 1915, with the world war in full blast, and the Germans bombarding Scarboro, the Grand Trunk within five hours raised $12,500,000 on its own credit.

14. The common stock of thirty millions has never paid any dividend and preferred stock only intermittently.

15. Since 1895, the present board raised for capital in England $150,000,000 at a little over four per cent.

16. Its capital now is about $430,000,000, nearly all held in England.

17. The money received, either directly or indirectly from the government, or from municipalities to aid branch railways, afterwards acquired by the Grand Trunk, is less than ten per cent of the amounts received by other transcontinental railways.

18. The Government and the management of the Grand Trunk negotiated the building of the Transcontinental and Grand Trunk Pacific.

19. Speculation engendered by building the roads very materially increased the cost.

20. The circumstances beyond the control of either brought the Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern into financial difficulties.

21. All the transcontinental railways on the continent were built in advance of their requirements and passed, through financial crises. The prosperity they brought in time made good.

22. The Government proposed if it takes over the Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern to discriminate against the Grand Trunk.

23. The Government proposes to foble with the old Grand Trunk, which would be utterly unjust and without precedent in Canada.

24. The Grand Trunk made its largest traffic record last year, and in addition helped the Government in making munitions.

25. The majority report may injure the Company's credit.

26. The world war was not considered by the committee, but it disarranged many things. It was difficult to obtain material, but notwithstanding that there was less congestion on the Grand Trunk than other roads. They overcame the obstacles caused by the war fairly well.

27. Those, not connected with railway management, cannot adequately estimate the difficulties caused by the war, such as carrying troops, munitions and war supplies, the loss of men joining the armies, the increased cost of engines, cars, rails and supplies of all kinds. The railways of Great Britain, France and Canada have given devoted service.

28. Owing to the extraordinary stress of the times, some arguments which might be used, have from patriotic motives been omitted. Mutual good feeling exists between the people of Canada and the Grand Trunk.

POLICE PROTECTION.

CHIEF OF POLICE WILLIAMS has given out a statement showing that London has fewer police for its population than most cities of the United States and Canada. That would be a pleasant state of affairs if the present force were doing all the necessary work effectively. But it is not, as since last year crime has increased 40 per cent in the city, the greatest trouble being petty thieving.

The chief's appeal for more men should not go unheeded, but should be given careful attention. There is reason to believe he did not paint the situation in its worst colors. Report has it that during certain hours half the city has not a policeman patrolling its streets, a condition which is a standing invitation to burglars and house-breakers. Whether this is due to a shortage of men or lack of proper organization and system in the work could be ascertained, and measures taken accordingly.

Summer is a bad time to have portions of the city unguarded. Many people are away on holiday and their houses are nearly all left to the care of the police. If this protection is lacking, there is every probability that the fact will become known to the dishonest and homes will be ransacked.

The question of improvement in the force should be taken up immediately, and if more men are really needed they ought to be provided. If system is at fault it should be corrected.

Increase in crime, however, is not confined to London. In some parts of the United States, notably Illinois, it is even more marked. In the penitentiary of that state there are said to be 1,000 more inmates than there were before the war. In Montreal, offences among juveniles have jumped 40 per cent since the beginning of the year. There is an inclination to blame this condition on the war, the absence of so many fathers at the front leaving the children without the beneficial parental restraint to which they have been accustomed.

It is rather curious that the increase in children's offences in Montreal corresponds with the total increase in this city, and that the main trouble here is with petty thieving. Possibly there is a close connection between the instances, and youthful offenders are at the bottom of many of the thefts here. London has its share of married men at the front, and, therefore, of partially unrestrained children, and it may be that others than policemen could do much to improve the city's crime record. It is not to be supposed that the children of soldiers are worse than others, but perhaps they are more venturesome or daring, and, being without the fear of father's slipper or strap, they take chances. After all, fear of punishment is the great deterrent, whether those concerned are children or adults.

A WONDERFUL ACTION.

THOSE who see nothing more to the "movies" than a pandering to the cheapest kind of mawkishness should suspend their judgment until they have seen such an actor as Henry B. Walthall, who first became universally famous as a screen actor in "The Birth of a Nation." They should not only see this distinguished actor in one production but in many, and they will agree that the screen drama when acted by artists who apply an understanding and delicate sense of fitness can be wonderful, thrilling, the truest of art.

The real student of the drama is heartily sick of the "handsome" men of the movies, the strutting poseurs who become sublimated matinee idols, receiving hundreds of "mash notes" and appearing only in the idealized "heroic" roles which deal in absolute virtues and exaggerations of life. They have made for a false conception of life, as does the frothy novel. They attract the swarms, perhaps, but gradually it must come that such masters of the art as Mr. Walthall will take the supreme positions. He and a few others like him are a saving grace of the motion picture world, where so much of the hackneyed and the fulsome is "played up." He has the rare charm of the rather sadly sympathetic character. His plays deal with life in its believable portrayals. They do not lack the fibre of real manhood, but they do not make life a grotesque thing of sugar-coated sentiment. And they carry a moral like sermons that come from inspired lips, or great thoughts that come from the pens of thinkers.

The average moving picture play as produced by one of the popular stars as compared with a play produced by Mr. Walthall, is like plated ware to the solid. There is deep thought and heart searching in a Walthall play. There is no strutting and no parade of the actor. The character stands forth in colors sombre and bright as the capable mind may direct the skilled hand. Those who talk of the old-time actors and deplore the removal from local theatres of the traveling companies, should not despair while Walthall challenges their perceptions and makes them know that the illusion of the screen is no less a marvelous accomplishment of man than the illusion of the stage in its greatest days. One feels like speaking up about this marvelous actor because his fame is a quiet fame, and he sets his star on high. Those who believe they know real acting when they see it are his friends.

HOME-MADE LIGHTNING CONDUCTORS ARE USEFUL

In a "public service bulletin," which deals with the fire losses in Ontario during the first five months of the current year, the Provincial Government emphasizes a statement made by the fire marshal that lightning has not caused fire to one barn which was equipped with lightning rods. This is interesting, but as there is such a tremendous demand for iron, steel and copper for war purposes, there is only a small supply for the manufacture of these rods, so an emergency substitute is suggested which is said to give excellent results for two or three years. The instructions for making this conductor and comments on it follow:

There is much virtue in a common wire as a lightning conductor. The ground wire on poles of a telephone line is proof of this. Were it not for these ground wires, a lightning flash would burn out and destroy the telephone instrument, and probably the house as well.

An emergency lightning rod can be constructed from any wire found about the farm. Barbed fence wires, guy wires, baling wires, woven fence wires, clothes line, anything of continuity and of metal laid over the building crosswise or lengthwise, or both, so long as it is over the building at its highest point, and carried to the ground, and there connected to any kind of metal rod, one-quarter inch or more in size, driven into ground three feet or more to permanent moisture, will provide such emergency lightning rod, and will last for two or three years until the wire begins to rust out. Never mind about the high points and glistening ornaments. Insulators also are unnecessary.

The ground rods can be made of old brace rods, end gate rods, or of iron pipe found around the farm. The important part is to get the wire grounded in permanent moist earth. The connection of the wire to the ground rod can be made by wrapping the wire around the rod securely.

If you have no rods three feet or more in length, shorter ones can be used by digging a hole part of the way, then drive the bolt or rod to permanent moisture, wrap the wire around same and make a rough box to cover the wire that is underground.

A double strand of wire over the building will render better service than a single wire. Wires running down and grounded at the four corners of the building will render even greater protection than if only grounded at each end of the building.

If a building has a metal roof, the four corners of the roof may be grounded by running a wire from each corner or the roof to the rod driven into the ground where it is attached to the Wire fences should be grounded every few rods by driving an iron rod into the ground to permanent moisture and connecting the wires of the fence to same. (If the ground is soft enough a No. 8 wire can be pushed into the ground three or four feet to permanent moisture, and will serve instead of the iron rod.) This would prevent much of the loss caused by the killing of live stock from a lightning stroke which follows the wire fence.

In erecting the emergency lightning rod, it is important that the wire should extend to the highest portion of the building, either along the ridge or to the top of the cupola, if there is one, thence running to and terminating at the ground where it is attached to the ground rods.

Even greater protection may be afforded by twisting the wire so that it will stand upright from the roof about one foot in the air, at each end of the ridge, although this is not absolutely necessary.

Material To Be Used—If new wire has to be purchased, No. 8 gauge galvanized wire is desirable. No. 16 wire twisted in a strand may be used. If barbed wire is used at any place on the building, it is preferable to place it on the ridge, or top of the roof.

In gathering up wire around the farm for this emergency lightning rod, it may be found necessary to splice the wires. To make a good connection, what is known as the Western Union splice should be used.

The emergency lightning rod here outlined is only designed for what it purports to be, an emergency protection. If standard copper or iron rods can be provided, all the better. But in these times of great necessity let all of the farmers of Ontario provide at least this emergency wire protection from lightning losses. These losses are scandalous, because so easily prevented.

IN THE COVE.

By Martha McCulloch Williams.

Jess came to the party so late that playing was in full swing when she stepped inside the big room. She was intentionally late — much care and thought and time had gone into her splendors. Two full days her hair had stayed in papers so that it might fall in perfect ebon curls upon her white shoulders. She had sat up most midnight making the lace draped about them. It had been provoking—she knew her eyes would show it—but the thread had not come until the last possible minute, and she was bound to show some part of all she had learned at school.

Half the cove had criticized her for going to the school—the other half had been too stolid even for scorn. Learning was a name, nothing more—fit for preachers perhaps, but for real folk a waste and a weariness. So, indeed, she had found the book part—but doing things had been pure delight. Now, though she had been in her backwoods mountain home but three months, the place began to look different. There was actually a fence about the yard, with a stile leading over it—a stile of hewn logs well laid up. Jess had somehow coaxed Dad and Buddy into making it, proving to them that a fence was necessary—a tight fence and strong—if she were to have any luck with her chickens, not to say her garden.

They were placable giants, and capable of fierce industry when they so willed. Both had expected Jess to come home high and full of airs. At first they had been almost sullen. But certain improvements in fare, in general comfort, conjoined to her comradely alertness, had worked on her side. Moreover, she had not whined nor fretted at coming back a year ahead of time. Maim had died suddenly — of course, it was right that Jess should care for her mankind. She had set hand so willing to hard and heavy tasks her mankind had fallen into a way of helping—rather shamefacedly, to be sure, but in ways that made her wonder. Dad and Buddy could not help but be proud of her.

This even before they saw her in party array. There has been no thought of mourning—Maim had not believed in it—to the scandal of the neighbors. "Black's for buryin'—let the livin' wear rejoicin' clothes," she had said. Jess wore them, beautifully. Her soft, dull red woolen frock with its creamy lace frills became her marvelously. Even without the help of it, she was the handsomest girl in the room. Buddy said so to himself, his eyes the while ranging the throng, which stared at her as barnyard fowls might stare at a parroquet suddenly strayed among them.

One did more than stare—young Boyce from over at Lumberton, stranger to the Cove, even to the mountains. Heretofore he had watched others play on plea of ignorance. Now as Jess was seized and led out in the classic game of snap he thrust himself eagerly forward, hoping also to be snapped in. The game makes man and maid stand facing, holding hands, thus forming "the stump" around which another man and maid chase or flee from each other. Caught, the captive becomes part of the stump, thereby making the game highly fluid. Belleship was reckoned by snapshots, notwithstanding which fact even the plainest got at least one chance on the floor. It was the victor's privilege, after placing the captive properly, to snap thumb and finger at the next choice, always snapping somebody of the opposite sex.

Wild Magpie Dinny duly snapped young Boyce. Though she was nimble as a weasel he caught her in five rounds, but forebore to kiss her, as he might under the rules of the game. She got white with anger over the omission, but locked steely fingers with her laughing partner. Jess, released, started to walk, but Boyce snapped her masterfully—and led her a chase, indeed, before she laid hands on him. "I'll never run from you in anything else," he whispered, his lips almost at her ear. Buddy noted it with darkling eyes. He was jealously careful of his sister—Boyce had the name in Lumberton of being free with the girls. That shouldn't happen to Jess. Buddy watched hawklike the progress of the game. Boyce held Magpie's hands tight enough, but had eyes only for Jess, darting and circling about him, eluding nimbly the pursuit of Dan Dinny, Magpie's bachelor cousin, who was so slow and bashful he rarely came to a party.

Still he played the game—and for all it was worth. Catching Jess at last, he gave her a resounding smack, saying with a grin: "I knowed ye wanted it when ye fotched me out yere. All the gals does—seein' they cain't git kissed no otherways."

"You'll take that back, my friend," Boyce said through set teeth. Dan grinned sheepishly. "Meanin' the buss? I don't keer, and she's willin'," he said, nodding toward Jess, who stood scarlet and angry.

Next minute Dan lay flat on his back, seeing stars evoked by the impact of a scientific fist on the point of his jaw. At the same second Boyce was in the grip of a giant. Buddy roaring out hoarsely: "Understand, I'm the fighter fer our fambly. You come outside and let's settle things."

As they moved to the door Dan got up heavily, hate distorting his face. With a whoop he was after them, brandishing the knife he had whipped out of some hiding-place—a murderous blade whose handle already bore two notches. No man moved to check him. He had, to their minds, fair and full cause of quarrel. Boyce, a rank outsider, had chosen causelessly to resent an old familiar privilege of their sport. He deserved to pay the penalty of his rashness. All they would do was to see he had fair play.

Jess knew what was in their minds. Her own was suddenly illumined. She had been sure she hated Boyce, but there was no time for thought. Outside a climbing full moon gave clear light, weirdly supplemented by leaping flames of lightwood burning in a big iron pot, and smoulders of the cooking logs a little behind. Thus she saw her brother and Boyce locked in a wrestler's hug. Not unequally matched, since for Buddy's brute strength Boyce had science and condition. Oblivious of all else, they strained and heaved. Dan was lurching toward them, knife high, gurgling rather than speaking: "Buddy le' go! Le' go! Lemme send that carrion whar hit belongs—ter the buzzards!"

The wrestlers did not hear, or, hearing, did not heed. Buddy had twice lifted Boyce clear, intending to throw him flat. Twice he had been balked by a catlike twist as he made to release his adversary. Now Boyce had got a strangle-hold and was using it cruelly, blood drummings in his ears shutting out Dan's threats. He was lost unless he heard. Jess darted toward him. Dan thrust out a huge foot, tripping her deftly. But like a flash she was up—had thrown herself protectingly in front of Boyce and thus caught in her own white shoulder the thrust Dan aimed for Boyce's throat.

Silence fell like a pall over the babble. Boyce caught Jess as she was falling, laid her down and staunched as best he might the welling blood. After a look at it Buddy laid hold on Dan to throttle him. Other hands tore his away, their owners saying significantly: "We'll do better'n that, Bud—give him all he deserves." Jess heard and understood. Dan would be lynched. Faintly she tried to rise upon her elbow, crying weakly: "Don't, don't, neighbors! Don't do murder! This is—just an accident."

Then she fainted dead away, but her protest saved Dan. Her hurt, though severe, was not mortal. Long before it was fully healed all the Cove knew and rejoiced that as soon as he was strong enough she would be taken first to Lumberton, then on to a far fine house, where the elder Boyces would be more than happy to welcome her as a daughter.

DIARRHOEA

Diarrhoea arises from many causes such as change of diet, change of water, change of climate, catching cold, the eating of unripe fruits or anything that will cause an excess of bile.

On the first sign of any looseness of the bowels it should not be neglected, but should be looked after immediately, for if not diarrhoea, dysentery or some other serious bowel complaints may ensue.

Miss Florence Harfield, 325 Lauder avenue, Toronto, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with a violent attack of diarrhoea. I suffered terribly with it for four days and nights, and finally I became so weak I did not think I could stand it any longer. My sister advised me to try a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I did so, and after I had taken three doses I felt a whole lot relieved. I kept on taking it, and by the time I had taken six doses, the diarrhoea had completely stopped. It did not leave me constipated. I think it a wonderful remedy, as it is so quick to act. I will recommend it to all my friends."

There are so many spurious "Strawberry" preparations sold that you should see that the name, "Dr. Fowler's" is on every bottle you buy. Price 35c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ADVERTISING IS NOT A WASTE

[Figures given out by the Association of National Advertisers show low percentages of advertising costs when compared with gross receipts.]

The favorite plaint of the businessman who has fallen asleep by the wayside is that advertising is a huge economic waste; that millions of dollars are spent and wasted in artificial attempts to stimulate selling, to the ultimate injury of both buyer and seller. At first glance, and to the man who has not really studied the subject, this argument may appear logical. The only trouble with the logic is that it does not square with the facts. Most people know more things that are not so about this subject than any other under the sun.

"Let us see how much the big advertisers spend," says Alan C. Reiley, president of the Association of National Advertisers, in discussing this matter. "The average man hears talk every day about the millions and millions spent for advertising, and he finally gets the notion that somehow or other the buyer has got to pay for it.

"I wonder if Mr. Average Man ever stops to realize that these millions spent in advertising sell hundreds of millions worth of goods—goods that could never be sold so cheaply in any other way. And it is this immense saving in selling cost that helps to make lower-priced goods.

"'Millions spent for advertising' sounds big, but 'hundreds of millions' worth of goods sold by advertising' makes the actual amount spent for advertising look small.

"What is the exact ratio of advertising to sales anyhow? This is something that every buyer would like to know.

"I am glad to be able to tell the public. The Association of National Advertisers has collected some valuable facts and figures on this subject. Listen to a few of them:

"The advertising of one of the leading paint manufacturers of the country averages 3 1-3 per cent. of their total sales. In other words, for every dollar's worth of paint they sell they spend 3 1-3 cents in advertising. This is about equivalent to the price of a postage stamp and a cent's worth of paper for every dollar's worth of goods sold. Another big paint and varnish manufacturer spends from 3½ to 4½ per cent.

"Next take clothing. We have obtained figures concerning two of the biggest clothing manufacturers in the country. One spends 1½ per cent; the other 2 per cent. An equally prominent shoe manufacturer spends 1½ per cent.

"'But shoes and clothing are necessities,' you may say. 'How about the luxuries?'

"All right. Take one of the most popular luxuries in the world—candy. One of the best-known candy manufacturers in the country, and one of the biggest advertisers, spends 5 per cent.

"Then take the big automobile and tire manufacturers, with their full-page and double-page spreads. Surely now the percentage figures will begin to jump. Will they?

"You will be surprised when I give you the figures for two of the most famous automobile builders in the country. One is 2 per cent; the other is 3 per cent. Also two of the leading tire manufacturers; one spends 2 per cent; the other 2 per cent. All four rank among the biggest advertisers in the country.

"These figures are authentic, and when you consider the enormous volume of the automobile and tire business, you will see that the small percentages are ample to provide for the wonderful publicity.

"And when we come to the big department stores—where, at one time or another, every buyer buys. You can see them fairly eating up the newspapers with their big spreads. But if you expect to find big percentage figures here, again you will be agreeably disappointed. The figures possessed by the Association of National Advertisers shows that the average department store's advertising does not cost more than 3 per cent of its total business.

"The fact is that the great majority of all nationally-advertised articles—articles which are familiarly known in every home in the country, which are famous for their quality as well as their immense distribution, belong in the 5 per cent or under class.

"And let this final point be remembered: Even if this advertising represented a direct advance on what the buyer would otherwise have to pay, this would make little difference in the price of the goods. But it does not. And why not?

"Because advertising is the most efficient method of marketing ever developed by business enterprise; therefore its effect is to decrease, and not to increase, the sum total of selling cost. This is a simple fact about advertising that every buyer of advertised goods ought to know."

LOOK AHEAD.

[Woodstock Sentinel Review.]

The people of the United States seem to be facing the situation seriously. It is absolutely necessary that we in Canada should do the same. We must not rest satisfied with what has been done. Instead of congratulating ourselves on the fine achievements already to our credit, our duty is to look ahead and give our whole consideration to what remains to be done.

RECIPE: Keep on hand a syrup made up of one half cup of FRY'S Cocoa, one cup of sugar, one cup of warm water. Stir until smooth. Then boil for 5 minutes and chill and add one half teaspoonful of Vanilla Extract. To serve, allow two tablespoonfuls of this syrup to a glass with a little chopped ice and fill with cold milk. Stir well.

Try this cooling, delightful FRY drink. You'll want it often.

Many Uses For the Tomato

Outside of such staples as potatoes and beans there is probably no vegetable that is more prized and more generally used all the year around in one form or another than tomatoes.

Tomatoes grow easily, but they have an enemy that you must be on the watch for—a large green worm so nearly the color of the plant he feeds upon that it is hard to detect it in spite of its size. This must be knocked off and destroyed or sprayed with arsenate of lead.

Tomatoes can be used in more ways than any other vegetable. For canning one must choose perfect fruit in good condition. Dip them in hot water for a few minutes and then remove the skins, cut them up and place in an aluminum or porcelain lined kettle and add a level teaspoonful of salt for each quart. Bring slowly to a boil, stirring frequently, and boil for at least half an hour.

If you are using the screw-top type, immerse the jars, tops and rubbers in boiling water. Remove the jars one at a time, place a rubber around the neck and fill with the boiling hot tomatoes. Take the top of the jar from the boiling water, being careful not to touch the inside with the fingers for fear of introducing spores into the jar, and screw it on tightly. Invert the jar and let it stand in this position until cold. Have everything sterile that is put into the jar. When using a spoon, fork or cup with the tomatoes first immerse it in boiling water.

Another method of canning tomatoes is to take off the skins and drop the tomatoes, as nearly whole as possible into wide-mouthed jars. Pack them in until the jar is full and add one level teaspoonful of salt to each quart. Put on the rubber and top and fix the spring to leave the top loose and allow the steam to escape during the boiling.

In the wash boiler or sterilizer set as many jars upon the false bottom as the boiler will conveniently hold and pour in enough cold or tepid water to come about two inches up on the jar. It is not necessary to have the jars completely immersed during the boiling; the steam does the cooking. Put the top on the boiler and set it on the stove; bring to a boil and sterilize for one hour. Remove the top of the boiler, allow the steam to escape and press down the spring at the side of the jar. This will clamp on the top and prevent any outside air from getting in.

In the vast majority of cases this one sterilization is all the treatment that is necessary, but it is not always safe to rely on it.

As relishes and flavorings there are numerous ways in which tomatoes may be used. This year it is not recommended that the green tomatoes be used for chow-chow and other pickle combinations, as it is better to let everything mature and ripen so that the supply will go further to meet the great demand.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY AIDS

MAE MARTIN.

Dearie: Yes, I believe men all recognize a "made" complexion. Throw away your powder and rouge, and use a plain spurmax lotion. Then you will have a complexion of which you can feel justly proud, because it will be real as well as beautiful. To prepare it dissolve four ounces spurmax (which you may get from your druggist) in one-half pint witch hazel or hot water. This lotion cannot be detected when on, and its regular use banishes lines, blotches, pimples, blackheads, and sallowness. The spurmax lotion is delightful for spring months, as it protects the skin from the winds.

Dora: You can make your eyes sparkling and clear by this simple home treatment: Dissolve an ounce of crystos (get at drug store) in a pint of water. One or two drops in each eye every day will be all that is necessary to make them feel strong and look bright. If the lids are red or inflamed, try soaking daubs of absorbent cotton in the tonic, and laying them on each eye.

Juanita: The sagginess of skin which you write about is disfiguring, and you will soon be wrinkled past help if you neglect it. But try this simple treatment, and I'm sure it will work wonders. Mix an ounce of almozoin (from the drug store) in one-half pint cold water, and add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. This cream jelly will cause the skin to contract slowly until the healthy firmness is restored. Keeps your complexion clear and free from blemishes. Also removes blackheads.

Eugenia: Your yellowness doubtless means that your liver requires a regulator, and I would suggest a plain kardene tonic. This will cleanse the blood and give tone and strength to the liver and kidneys, and when these organs are in a healthy condition you will be free from the bilious attacks, the obstinate headaches, and the pains in small of back and groin. To prepare this tonic I get one ounce kardene from druggist, and put it into one-half pint alcohol (never use whisky), then add one-half cupful of sugar and hot water to make a quart. The dose is a tablespoonful before meals. The kardene tonic is excellent to clear the skin of pimples, blotches, and sallowness, and its timely use frequently saves doctors' bills.

Chloe: I have found the most beneficial shampoo for the scalp and hair can be made at home by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. This is unusually soothing and cleansing to the itchy, dandruff-laden scalp, and quickly corrects over-oiliness and other scalp-upsets. My shampooing with canthrox has restored an even color, rich gloss, and soft fluff to my hair, which was becoming dull and brittle. It seems to have encouraged a vigorous and luxuriant growth.

P. S.: The styles point to a continuation of the slim figure effects, and as you show signs of an added waistline you should take steps to reduce your weight. Make this preparation at home, and before each meal take a tablespoonful: Get four ounces of parnotis from your druggist, and dissolve one and one-half pints of hot water. Strain and cool the mixture before using. This is inexpensive, and will be welcome to the woman who does not want strenuous diet or exercise.

Lorraine: Your faded hair is not necessarily dying, though it is in danger. Here is a home-made hair tonic, costing little, which I know is of great value to scalp and hair: Into one-half pint alcohol put one ounce quinzoin (which I get from the druggist's), and add one-half pint water. This gives you a full pint. I have found it very soothing, and it banishes the dry, harsh, unhealthy condition of the scalp, invigorating the hair roots so a beautiful growth is certain to result.—Advt.

"Oor Ain Fireside."

"Sea-Shell" asks for the name of "Bluebird's" kiltie, and same has been sent her. Also asks if anyone can tell her where words and music of an old Scotch song, "Oor Ain Fireside," may be secured.

Before the Wedding.

Dear Miss Grey,—1. What is suitable for a wedding luncheon—not too expensive?

2. What are the duties of a bridesmaid?

3. Should the bride wear her engagement ring during the ceremony? If so, when should it be removed?

4. How long before the wedding should the invitations be issued?

5. Could you give me a few suggestions of games and decorations for a shower? BUNNIE.

Ans.—1. The very simplest and usually most informal way is to serve refreshments in buffet style. A prettily laid table is supplied with plates or baskets of sandwiches, small cakes, pieces of wedding cake if liked, and any other dainties you wish. Coffee or tea may be poured at one end by a woman friend (usually one chosen by the bride's mother), and ice cream may be served from the other. Where expense is a consideration, just to serve ice cream and plain cake is refreshment that is very suitable.

2. The bridesmaid attends the bride to the altar, stepping to the rear at the bride's left as the latter joins the groom. She removes the bride's glove at the "ring" part of the ceremony, holds her bouquet if necessary; and signs the register as a witness.

3. No, the engagement ring should be removed before the ceremony, and slipped on again after.

4. Two weeks or ten days before the date set.

5. There would be no nicer decorations than cut flowers here and there through the house. For games a heart hunt may begin the evening. Have them cut out of red paper or bristol board and hidden all around the rooms. Give ten minutes or fifteen, to see who finds most. A second game might be played with sets of alphabet letters, such as are used for anagrams. Have four players at each table and see who can make the most words out of "Sweetheart" or any other word of length you may choose.

A rather unique way to announce the engagement is by a "love tangle." Each guest is given an end of red cord and told to follow it, winding as she goes. The hostess could use a side room for this, arranging the tangle carefully before the guests arrived. Each finds her cord crossed and recrossed many times by the cords of other guests, and here and there a lovers' knot that must be untied, in the end, however, all are found to lead to dainty white cards, heart-shaped, and with the initials of the bride and groom-to-be written prettily thereon. Set the girls at writing an essay on "My Ideal Husband;" allow fifteen minutes, and give a prize if liked, for the best or wittiest.

If the "shower" articles are light in weight they may be piled into an open umbrella, that has been previously covered with white crepe paper), and the latter hung from the centre light. The guests may all be called to another room to get in shape for a "grand march;" the "umbrella" is quickly suspended, someone strikes up the Wedding March, and the guests "battle" the bride-to-be in beneath her "shower." Lunch may be simple or elaborate as you wish.

Poisoned With Ivy.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would be grateful for a suggestion for poison ivy cure from you or any of your readers. Also might I have a recipe for salad dressing? A reader of long standing. EMMA GRIT.

Ans.—Last year two readers advised remedies for the cure of poison ivy, and I am reprinting these. "W. A. R." sent this:

"Someone asked for a cure for poison ivy. I found the following very effective: Dissolve dessertspoonful boracic acid in water and bathe parts frequently. After bathing dust with dry-powdered boracic acid; make a fresh solution every day.

I used this for my little girl and although quite a few years have gone by she has not been troubled with poison ivy since. The doctors say it comes back very often."

And from "Old-Timer" we received this advice:

"Take plantain leaves and either bruise or steep them and wash with the juice or tea; it is a sure cure."

I hope you will try the remedies with benefit. Two dressings for salad, one French, the other with cream, are:

Salad Dressing, No. 1.—One-half cup sugar, 1 cup vinegar, 2 teaspoons mustard, 1 egg, pepper and salt to taste, teaspoon flour wet in a little of the vinegar. Mix well, place over fire and cook until creamy and thick. When cold add half as much sweet cream; will keep for some time. This makes a lovely, smooth salad dressing.

Salad Dressing, No. 2.—(French)—Mix 1 saltspoon salt and ½ saltspoon pepper, add 3 tablespoons salad oil, and very slowly mix in 1 or 2 tablespoons vinegar; a few drops at a time is best. If preferred, more vinegar and less oil may be used. Pour over the salad and serve immediately.

"Sennacherib's Invasion of Judah." II. Kings, xviii., 13-xix., 37.

Golden Text—"God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." Psalms, xlvi., 1.

4. Verses 17-22—Judah had paid Sennacherib a ransom of about $1,000,000 as a condition to withdraw his army, and after the money was in his possession he immediately made a demand on Hezekiah to surrender the whole country to him. How would you characterize Sennacherib's action?

5. Verses 23-25—When a man tries to settle a dispute with another by threats, what does that indicate as to the character of the former?

6. Verses 26-29—In doing business with a bully, who makes his propositions with threats, what is the best attitude to take?

Some Choice Recipes For the Summer Time

Pineapple Pudding.

One-quarter of a pound of canned pineapple, one-quarter of a pound of flour, one-half a cupful of butter, one cupful of milk, four tablespoonfuls of sugar, three eggs, two tablespoonfuls of the pineapple syrup and one teaspoonful of vanilla extract.

Put the sugar, butter and milk in a saucepan to boil; remove the pan from the fire and stir in the flour; replace the pan on the fire and cook for eight minutes, stirring all the time. Remove from the fire, add the yolks of the eggs, one by one, stirring each in thoroughly; then add the pineapple, cut up in small dice, the syrup and the extract. Whip the whites of the eggs to froth, and add them last and very gently. Pour the whole in a plain mold, buttered inside and dusted with sugar; cover with a buttered paper, and steam gently for one and one-quarter hours. Serve with syrup sauce, mix in a saucepan two tablespoonfuls of water, one tablespoonful of sugar, one-half a teaspoonful of vanilla extract, and one tablespoonful of cornstarch. Stir till it boils and cook for ten minutes, and serve round the pudding.

Asparagus With Eggs.

Boil a bunch of asparagus 20 minutes, cut off the tender tops and lay them in a deep pie plate. Add butter, salt, pepper. Beat yolks and whites of four eggs, separately to a stiff froth, add two tablespoonfuls milk or cream, one tablespoonful warm butter, pepper and salt to taste. Pour over the asparagus mixture. Bake eight minutes or until the eggs are set.

Rhubarb Fanconettes.

Two and one-half pounds of rhubarb, one cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of strained orange juice, one heaping tablespoonful of powdered gelatine, the grated rind of two oranges, one cupful of whipped cream, flavored with one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, and sweetened to taste, and a number of individual pastry shells. Cut the rhubarb into one-inch pieces. Place in a baking dish in layers, sprinkling sugar between the layers, add two tablespoonfuls of water and the grated rinds of the oranges. Place in a moderate oven, cover and bake for one and one-quarter hours. Dissolve the gelatine in the orange juice, and when the rhubarb is cooked remove it from the oven and add this mixture to it. Let it get perfectly cold. When ready to serve, fill the shells with the rhubarb mixture, heap with whipped cream and decorate with finely-chopped nut meats.

Chocolate Trifle.

Thinly-sliced sponge cakes, chocolate wafers, fruit juice, eggs, milk, sugar, flavoring, preserved cherries, chopped walnuts.

Place alternate layers of thinly-sliced sponge cakes and chocolate wafers in a deep glass dish. Pour over this just enough fruit juice to soak the cakes. Make a custard of one beaten egg to each pint of milk. Stir constantly over a slow fire until the custard thickens. It must not boil. When cool sweeten and flavor to taste and pour over the cakes. Garnish plentifully with preserved cherries and chopped walnuts. Place it on ice until you are ready to serve it.

Cauliflower a la France.

Cook a medium-sized cauliflower in salt and water until almost done. Make a sauce as follows: One tablespoonful of olive oil, one teaspoonful of butter, one small onion, one cupful of milk, half a cupful of water cauliflower was soaked in, one clove of garlic and sprig of parsley. Cook onion in oil and butter until a light brown. Add flour, milk, water, a little salt, and cook slowly three minutes. Put cauliflower in granite dish; pour over sauce, cut parsley and garlic in fine bits, a sprinkle of cayenne pepper and cover with Parmesan cheese. Bake in slow oven until delicate brown.

Braised Celery With Gravy.

Choose some nice white stalk celery, cut off the tops, trim the outside leaves and point the roots. Let this celery remain in running water for some time to free from sand and earth between the leaves, then parboil for fifteen minutes, immerse in cold water, drain and tie in bunches in a saucepan with sliced onions and carrots, moisten with white stock, and cover with slices of larding pork, or, what is better still, the fat from a loin of veal. Let simmer gently for two hours, drain, dress on a dish, and pour over some rich gravy diluted and reduced with some of the stock in which the celery was cooked.

After-Dinner Croutons.

Make a paste of two parts rich, creamy cheese, one part butter, a little finely-chopped parsley and a dash of cayenne pepper. Cut bread into slices one-quarter of an inch thick; cut each slice into four small triangles; dry them in the oven slowly until they assume a delicate brownish tint; spread with the paste and serve.

Fruit Charlotte.

One pound of cherries, bread, vanilla, butter. This may be made with cherries or any dried or canned fruit desired. Cherries are specially good served in this way. If prunes are used, soak one pound, pit and sweeten them. Line a buttered pudding dish with slices of bread and butter. Pour in the fruit, and flavor with vanilla. Cover with more slices of bread and butter, and bake. When done, serve with cream and sugar.

Sago or Tapioca Jelly.

Four ounces of sago or tapioca, two pints of cold water, the rind of an orange or lemon cut very thin, the juice of two lemons or oranges and one and a half ounces of sugar. Wash the tapioca and soak in one pint of water overnight. Put into a pan with the other pint of water and the orange or lemon rind, bring to a boil; simmer till the tapioca looks clear; remove the fruit rind and add the orange or lemon juice and sugar and a spoonful of brandy or Marsala, if liked. Pour into a wetted mold and turn out when cold. Serve with custard or cream. The above is nice made with the juice of any fruit in season.

French Rice Pudding.

Three ounces of rice, three ounces of sugar, one pint of milk, four ounces of sultanas or dates, two ounces of suet, two ounces of candied peel, two eggs, salt. Wash the rice and put into a pan with the milk, bring to the boil, and simmer gently till the rice is tender and the milk absorbed. Stone and cut up the dates if used, or clean the sultanas, shred the peel, grate the suet and beat up the eggs. Mix the above with the rice and milk, add the sugar, put into a well-greased basin, cover with a buttered paper and steam four hours.

Too Much Food in Summer means clogged liver and sluggish brain; too little food means flabby muscles and starved nerves. The man on the job must keep his brain clear and his muscles responsive. The way to do this is to eat Shredded Wheat Biscuit, the food that contains everything in the whole wheat grain prepared in a digestible form, including the outer bran coat which is so useful in keeping the alimentary canal clean and healthy. Two or three of these crisp, little brown loaves of whole wheat with milk make a nourishing, strengthening meal. Ready-cooked and ready-to-serve.

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

Look at tongue! If feverish, bilious, constipated, take no chances.

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

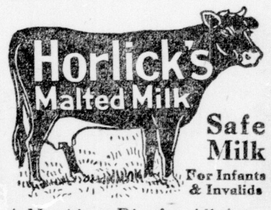

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

ZIM QUITS RIDING UMPS; BAWLS PLAYERS

Heine Hands Evers Some Classy Repartee.

Heinie Zimmerman, "The Great Zim," is trying to keep out of trouble this season, and to date he has succeeded admirably well. It was not until the National Leaguers had swung into the month of June that Zim got into an altercation that resulted in his being canned from the playing field, and then his protests were mild to what they used to be in the days of his Cubhood, when he seldom missed a week beating the rest of the team to the showers.

Zim is naturally a quick-tempered player and a hard loser. He fights for everything that he can get in a ball game, and the worst thing in the world, in his eyes, is to be called out on what he thinks is a bad strike. But McGraw has tamed Zim to a noticeable degree, and he is watching his step this season.

While Zim was laid off the umpires he has lost nothing of his love for repartee, and any time a player on an opposing club tries to pass him the buck he has a quick comeback. In one series between the Giants and Boston, Johnny Evers tried his hand at it and got a tart answer.

"Hey, Zim," yelled Evers, "have you ever got all your fines paid yet?"

And Zim blurted out:

"Is that you, Jawn? It's a surprise. Haven't you gone crazy yet? I thought they'd a copped you before now."

GRAND TRUNK NINE WALLOPED CANUCKS

STRATFORD, July 16.—The Grand Trunks won a 12 to 3 victory from the Canucks at the local flats tonight and deserved their win. Both Dolan for the Canucks and Flanigan for the Grand Trunks were hit hard, but the former hurler received miserable support, while his opponent was well backed. The Canucks were also weakened by the loss of Edwards and Ferguson, who have enlisted.

The teams were:

Canucks—Whaling, Schneider, Lavelle, Dolan, Moore, Clifford, McBride, Rutherford and Miller.

Grand Trunks—Gibson, Sproat, McKenzie, Flanigan, Fury, Dillon, Bart, Seebach and McDowell.

Umpires—De La Franier and Durand.

INSANE PATIENTS HAVE RING BOUTS

LIMA, July 15.—As part of a "Sane Fourth" program, insane patients at Lima State Hospital engaged in boxing bouts. Three bouts were held as the wind-up to a program of running races, athletic games and other contests.

Kid Wiggins, formerly a boxer of Toledo, now an inmate, boxed a fast draw with Bobbie Hunter, former Cincinnati amateur boxer. Orville Stockey, 15, one-time boxing champion on the battleship Kansas, put up a great scrap with Nicke Rackenbaugh, 25.

The wind-up bout was between two hospital guards, Dewey Ferrter and Jim Vaughn, and went to a draw. About 900 insane patients and nurses witnessed the bouts.

CORNWALL LIKELY TO LEAVE LEAGUE

CORNWALL, July 16.—P. J. Lally, president of the National Lacrosse Union, will have his resignation ready to forward to Desse Brown, secretary of the league, in a day or two, and Dr. W. B. Cavanagh, the head of the lacrosse team here, intimated tonight that the Cornwalls would also resign from the league. Ottawa is expected to do likewise, although nothing official has been received here to this effect. The Shamrocks' action in playing George Roberts on Saturday against the Nationals, against the order of President Lally, who had previously refused to reinstate Roberts, is responsible for the present state of affairs. The officers and players of the lacrosses club, as well as the citizens of Cornwall generally who take an active interest in the game, all support Mr. Lally in the case. Neither Mr. Lally nor Dr. Cavanagh had any comment to make on the situation tonight, stating that no new features had arisen during the day, nor were there any likely to develop, so far as they were concerned. They were both through with lacrosse for this season, and perhaps for all time to come.

ALEXANDER BEATS PITCHER REGAN IN TWIRLING DUEL

Fast Game Put On by Phillies and Reds.

JOHNNY EVERS IN UNIFORM

Former Cub and Boston Star With Phils Presented With Floral Horseshoe.

PHILADELPHIA, July 16.—Wonderful fielding, especially by Bancroft, featured the game in which Philadelphia defeated Cincinnati today, 1 to 0. Alexander and Regan had a twirling duel, which was finished in the remarkably fast time of one hour and ten minutes. The lone tally was scored in the seventh inning. Whitted then led off with a double, and took third when Roush muffed Cravath's fly. Regan threw out Stock and Whitted was caught at the plate when Paskert hit to McKechnie. Luderus' single scored Cravath. Johnny Evers made his debut with the Phillies, and was presented with a big floral horseshoe.

Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Cincinnati	0	6	1
Phila.	1	5	0

Regan and Wingo; Alexander and Killifer.

STALLINGS BRAVES TAKE TWO FROM THE PIRATES

BOSTON, July 16.—Boston started its second home series with Pittsburg today by taking two games, the first in eleven innings by the score of 8 to 7 and the second 7 to 2.

In the opener, which was a slam-bang affair, the winning run came with none out in the eleventh on Kelly's double to left, Konetchy's scratch single and Grimes' error on the late throw to first.

Barnes had things very much his own way in the second, after Boston made five runs off Jacobs in less than two innings. Scores:

First game.—	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	7	16	3
Boston	8	16	1

Cooper, Grimes and Schmidt; Allen, Ragan, Nehf, Tyler and Tragessor.

Second game.—	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	2	8	1
Boston	7	11	1

Jacobs, Grimes and Schmidt; Barnes and Tragessor.

GIANTS SMOTHER GROWLS OF CUBS

NEW YORK, July 16.—New York defeated Chicago in the opening game of the series here today by a score of 4 to 2. Vaughn pitched good ball for the Cubs, but was poorly supported. Tesreau did not allow a hit until the fifth inning, but weakened in the seventh when Chicago scored twice, and had the bases full when Benton was sent to his rescue. A barehanded catch by Robertson off Doyle in the first inning was the feature.

Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	2	6	0
New York	4	10	1

Vaughn, Douglas and Dilhoefer; Tesreau, Benton and Holke.

MR. MEADOW TWIRLS A FINE GAME FOR CARDS

BROOKLYN, July 16.—St. Louis took the first game of the series with Brooklyn today, 3 to 1. The score was tied up to the eighth, when with two out, Hornsby singled to centre, Cruise followed with another to right, Pfeffer intercepted the toss to third and threw into right field in an attempt to catch Cruise advancing to second. Johnson muffed Stengel's return, and both runners scored.

Meadows allowed only three hits, receiving brilliant support, in which Betzel and Hornsby excelled.

Score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	3	9	0
Brooklyn	1	3	4

Meadows and Snyder; Pfeffer and J. Meyers.

INJUNCTION DENIED

Jess Can Still Cavort in Wild West Show.

New York, July 17.—Application of Jack Curley for an injunction to restrain Jess Willard, heavyweight champion of the world, from appearing in connection with his wild west show, was denied in supreme court here yesterday by Justice Hendrick. Curley contended that a contract entered into by Willard and himself preceding the fight in Havana with Jack Johnson, at which Willard won the championship, restrained Willard from public appearance except under Curley's management until September next.

TOMMY BRODISON, the cleanest of sports, who died after two years illness in Victoria Hospital last night.

PROMINENT YOUNG ATHLETE DIES IN VICTORIA HOSPITAL

Tommy Brodison, One of the Best, Succumbs After Two Years' Illness.

Thomas Brodison, one of the best of London's young athletes and well known in local sport circles for the last six years, died last night in Victoria Hospital after an illness that has extended over two years.

Tommy, as he was known to a large circle of friends, first became prominent in athletics when he won the collegiate junior cross-country run in 1911, later winning the individual championship of the school. He was an all-round sport, and will be deeply missed by hockey, baseball and basketball fans.

Brodison was an active member of the Y. M. C. A., and played on a number of championship teams around the institution. He was also a member of the Harriers' Club, and played on the Western University Northern League hockey team the year it won the championship, and was also connected with the London Junior Hockey Club, playing a star game on the forward line through two seasons. Tommy also won the east end road race several years ago.

He was 21 years old. Three winters ago, while playing hockey, he was injured and pneumonia developed. Later he was taken to Byron Sanatorium. Besides his mother, Mrs. Mary J. Brodison of 827 Lorne avenue, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. J. W. Smith of Walkerville, Miss Elizabeth at home, and two brothers, Robert of Toledo and William with the C.P.R. here.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to Woodland Cemetery, the services at 2 o'clock being conducted by Canon Sage, rector of St. George's Church.

KILBANE WILL REWARD MANAGER JAMES DUNN

Jimmy Dunn, manager of Johnny Kilbane, the world's featherweight champion, was the first man to place a real money value on his protege. He did not wait for Bradstreet's or Dun's to give Kilbane a rating.

One day, in talking with Senator Sproul of Pennsylvania, the latter looked Kilbane over and said to Dunn, "You must think pretty well of your champion." "I do," quickly answered Jimmy; "he's a $1,000,000 proposition." "How do you figure that out?" ejaculated the senator. "Well, he earns $40,000 a year from his ring engagements. Isn't that the interest on $1,000,000?" The senator quickly acquiesced. Kilbane has a family and a comfortable home in Cleveland. He also has built a gymnasium, where he and Dunn put on the gloves, for the wily manager can box as well as he can count dollars.

Now, Kilbane is going to take care of Dunn when he is forced to retire from the ring. A big new market building is in course of erection at Lake and Detroit avenues, in Cleveland. It is to be a two-story structure. Kilbane has leased the billiard and bowling concessions of the building. The basement is to be fitted up in a palatial manner. There is where Johnny and Jimmy, his loyal manager, will hold forth after the world's champion decides to retire from the ring. It will be a monument and a tribute to a careful, zealous manager who has safeguarded Kilbane's interest.

CHIEF BENDER ON ACTIVE LIST.

Chief Bender, the veteran Indian, who has been a regular attendant at the Phillies' home games and who was accused by Manager Fred Mitchell of the Cubs with stealing signals from the grandstand, has come out in the open and put on a Philly uniform, announcement being made that he had reached an "agreement" on salary. Manager Moran made room for him by releasing Outfielder Claude Cooper to Louisville and sending Shortstop McGaffigan to Richmond.

HALF-MILERS STEP INTO LIMELIGHT AT NORTH RANDALL RACES

Neck-and-Neck Finishes Are Feature of a Fine Card.

CLEVELAND, July 16.—Half-mile campaigners stepped into the limelight at the opening of the grand circuit racing season at the North Randall track this afternoon.

The Edwards 2:10 $3,000 pacing stake, the feature event of the card, went to Colonel Armstrong, a half-miler and an outsider, who was given a hard fight by A Game of Chance. The two finished neck and neck in the final heat, the judges' decision being necessary to distinguish the winner. Loyal W., the favorite, failed to finish in the money.

The Forest City Sweepstakes for two-year-old trotters was a walkaway for Arrowrock, piloted by McMahon, while Miriam Guy took second money of the $2,500 stake. The best time, 2:13¼, was fast when the heavy condition of the track is considered.

The Woodman, another two-lap star, took the 2:10 trot in straight heats, while Box R., who also has been campaigning with the twice-arounds, took the 2:06 prize after a hard battle with Knight of Strathmore. Summary:

WAR-TIME PROSPERITY

INDUSTRIALS.—Business throughout the United States is rapidly adjusting itself to a war footing, and war, however great a calamity per se, spells industrial prosperity. This country is just entering upon the greatest era of "big business" it has ever known, and there will be no lull while the war lasts, and probably not for a long time afterward. From all over this broad land come the same reports—factories working night and day—orders on the books for months ahead, and new business being refused because of inability to handle it.

There is scarcely a line of industrial activity that is not profiting by present extraordinary conditions. Before this time next year the Government will have over one million men on the firing line—one million men who must be fed, clothed and equipped for fighting.

To maintain an army of one million men at the front requires an army of twelve million men at home, without taking into account the rest of our civilian population, who must live and work as usual.

Government contracts now being awarded are only the beginning—orders will be placed in increasing volume as time goes on. Profits will be all that could reasonably be asked, and they are certain. Uncle Sam is sure pay. Of the industrials traded on the Curb, which will benefit? Broadly speaking—all; specifically, manufacturers in whole, or in part, of automobiles and motor trucks, aeroplanes, munitions of all kinds, steel products, machinery, ships.

OILS.—The demand for petroleum products, particularly gasoline, continues to grow, and the independent oil companies with producing wells are adding to their earnings steadily. There are three things essential if the country's oil needs are to be met: more wells, a larger number of gathering pipe lines and increased refining capacity.

Efforts are being made to increase production along all these lines. Companies are adding to their acreage, and new wells are being drilled. New pipe lines are being laid, and the capacity of old ones increased; refineries are being enlarged.

The entry of the United States into the war is going to further strain our oil resources. Motor trucks and aeroplanes must have gasoline for motive power, and it is up to American oil companies to furnish it. Higher prices for all grades of oil are regarded as certain by well posted oil men, meaning larger earnings and increased profits for producing companies.

MINES.—Whether the country is at war or at peace, there is nothing more vital in our every-day lives than the metals. Try to think of the things you use or come in contact with every day that could not exist except for the output of the mines. No railroads, no telegraph, no telephones, no skyscrapers, no steam-heated flats in winter, no electric fans in summer, no automobiles, no aeroplanes, no steamships—the list could be continued almost indefinitely.

Prosperity of the mining companies in 1916 was the greatest in the history of the industry; the first six months of 1917 indicate that last year's record will be broken. Demand for metals is more than keeping pace for production, and all storage stocks are practically exhausted. Silver is selling at the highest price in years, and still higher prices are predicted; lead has broken all previous records, and copper and spelter prices are near the top.

The ratio of market prices of the majority of mining shares to company earnings is out of proportion, and when the readjustment comes,-as apparently it must, higher prices for mining stocks should be in order; certainly there is nothing now to indicate a decline in earnings.—Jones & Baker Weekly News Letter.

"SAFETY FIRST," WHEN BUYING INVESTMENT SECURITIES.

TANGIBLE SECURITY.—A bond to be truly a bond should have behind it tangible security, consisting either of physical property or valuable collateral, and the investor should be able to know what and where this property or collateral is. With a preferred stock this requirement may be liberally interpreted, but in so far as the stock assumes to be a genuine investment the requirement still exists.

ACTUAL EARNINGS.—A true bond must have actual present earning power rather than being issued against a property or business in course of construction, because there is so much element of chance in a construction proposition that securities issued against it are not binding enough upon the debtor to ordinarily be called bonds. To buy such securities is usually to take a big and unnecessary risk, with little or no compensation therefor.

BALANCE SHEETS.—Those who buy either bonds or preferred stocks of a company, which has not issued a balance sheet must confess to carelessness. If the company is so new that its first fiscal year has not yet expired, there is so much the more reason why the investor should insist upon knowing what assets it has to give it promise of success in business.

INCOME ACCOUNTS.—To buy the bond of a company which has not published an income account is another form of inexcusable carelessness. It is paying the price of a pearl for the oyster shell that has not yet been opened. With preferred stocks, however, such purchases are sometimes justifiable as a speculation, provided the company is frankly in its infancy, and the return offered is large enough to compensate the investor for the speculative risk assumed.

PUBLIC MARKET.—One of the surest tests of the worth of a new stock or bond is the behavior of its price in the open market. Therefore, in the case of new and unseasoned securities some sort of a public market is so desirable as to be almost an essential; but this market may consist either of listing on a stock exchange or of frequent sales and quotations made by or through bond houses large enough so that their aggregate clientele genuinely constitutes a public market. —Moody's Investors Service.

FIND A JOY IN YOUR WORK—IT HELPS THE BUSINESS.

If you would find an interest in things, think of the use they perform to humanity.

I once saw a big ugly oil tank on a freight car, and it seemed most unsightly to me.

But when I thought of all the lamps it would fill, the homes it would light up, the pink it would add to the happy faces in the family circles, and the access it would give to the heart of the world's best literature when the day's work was done, I couldn't repress a tear of loving appreciation for that old weather-beaten oil tank doing its part so nobly that all these things might be. It grew beautiful to me when I considered its use in the world.

If you would find joy in your work, think of the use it is to your fellow-men, and throw your heart into it as if working for love of mankind. If you do that, drudgery will give place to enthusiasm. When desire to accomplish anything is accompanied with the happy thought of what its completion will mean toward the betterment of man's condition in life, there is a joy in the doing not to be found in any other activity. The late James J. Hill took more pleasure out of his visions of hundreds of happy, prosperous homes in Dakota and Minnesota, made possible by the building of his great railway with its branch line feeders like the fingers on the hand, covering the uncultivated stretches of wonderfully fertile land, than he did out of the profits from traffic created thereby. He was an empire builder of unequalled sagacity and energy and achieved more in one lifetime than has any other man of his generation, but as he once said when sitting among some of his early day friends—old timers of St. Paul—in the Minnesota Club where he was wont to spend an hour after the day's work before going to his palatial home on Summit avenue, "My greatest joy is in building up something that others may occupy and develop to their prosperity."

It pays to serve others while serving our own interests and as a rule the dividends are larger than we expect.

WALL STREET CONDITIONS

The fear of drastic Government regulations has greatly unsettled holders of industrials, especially steels, which have already suffered a material recession in prices and activity. The past week has seen marked depreciation in the prices of United States and Bethlehem steel stocks, and less violent downward changes in many other kindred industrials.

This contemplated reduction in prices for steel products has, however, stimulated the demand for transportation securities which would be greatly benefited by the enforced reduction of prices, for much of the material they are now obliged to purchase for the replacement of exhausted equipment, and the rehabilitment of roadway and physical appointments, and marked advances have been made from the prices of the early part of last week—among many of the more representative railways. In view of President Wilson's widely quoted appeal "Facts are now our masters," it is not improbable that industrial prices may go much lower while railways should go higher, especially as a good crop in which corn will figure over 3,000,000,000 bushels, is now nearly assured.

The Bache Review has the following to say in part about the proposed fixing of prices.

"FACTS ARE NOW OUR MASTERS."

President Wilson, in his appeal for unselfishness in war, advocates that a just price be paid for everything the Government buys, and defines a just price as one which will sustain the industries in a high state of efficiency, provide a living for those who conduct them, enable them to pay good wages and make possible the expansion of their enterprises.

The president truly says that such expansion is necessary, as the stupendous undertaking of the great war develops, and that we could not wisely or reasonably do less than pay such prices, as they are necessary for the maintenance and developement of industry, which in turn is necessary for the great task of vigorously prosecuting the war.

The problem of fixing just prices is now in hand and the conferees should bear in mind, as the president says, that "Facts are now our masters."

It is a difficult task. A fair price in war times must provide for much more than normal profits, for there are many contingencies facing business in these perilous months.

One of them is the possibility of peace. When this does come the business man must face falling prices in his stocks on hand, and so, in figuring what a fair profit is, account must be taken of depreciation in inventories, which is certain to follow the cessation of war. This is one reason why war profits should be larger than normal; namely, to provide for sure future losses in value of stocks of goods and material on hand.

FOLLOW THE LEAD OF THE BIG MAN

Most of the world's biggest business and professional men carry large life insurance policies. They safeguard their success by their life insurance investments.

Starting with two to five thousand dollar policies when young men, they took out more every year or two as their income permitted, used their policies to raise money when needed, and by following this plan reached independence.

They had protection for their families in the meantime. They felt relieved about their future. With their responsibilities lessened they could jump into business transactions free from worry. Their life insurance enabled them to build up extensive credit —they had more confidence in themselves.

That's the way you can get your start. You can follow the lead of the big man even if you must do so in a small way. We will help you. We have a policy that is especially adapted for just such young fellows as you. It's our Twenty-Payment Life Policy.

Suppose you are 30 years old and you take out a $5,000 policy. You pay $155 yearly. When you reach 50 you will have paid in $3,100 (less the dividends returned every five years). You can then take paid-up insurance for $5,000 or you can take its cash or loan value of $2,815 for your own use.

During all this time your family will be protected. You can borrow money on your policy to back any business deal that might come up. You do not have to die to win on this policy.

Your payments are investments for yourself, as well as buying protection for your dependents. Your financial worth is increased. Write us at once for complete details about this policy. Send us your name, address and age and we will tell you what it will cost you.

MICHAELIS IS STRONG FOR PAN-GERMANISM; IN FULLEST ACCORD WITH VON HINDENBURG

New German Chancellor Approves Policy of War Lords —More Reform Rumors.

Copenhagen, July 17.—A late edition of the Lokal Anzeiger received here says Chancellor Michaelis is for the foreign policy and peace terms expounded by Field Marshal von Hindenburg and the pan-German camp. It quotes Conservative and National Liberal members of the Reichstag who attended the conference with von Hindenburg, Gen. von Ludendorff, first quartermaster-general, and Dr. Michaelis as being most favorably impressed with the results of the conference. The Lokal Anzeiger asserts of its own knowledge that Dr. Michaelis already has established relations of absolute unanimity and co-operation with these militaro-political chieftains. The newspaper strongly recommends to Dr. Michaelis and Parliament the postponement until the end of the war of the settlement of all contentious internal questions, including, naturally, Prussian suffrage reform, thereby properly rebuking what it terms impertinent interference.

To Speak Thursday.

The Berlin Boersen Courier understands that Chancellor Michaelis will accept the Reichstag majority peace resolution.

Chancellor Michaelis informed the Reichstag members that his speech on Thursday would deal with his foreign and internal policy.

A strong strain of religious devotion verging on religious mysticism is one of the outstanding characteristics of Dr. Michaelis. According to those acquainted with him, the new chancellor believes in the direct guidance and inspiration of the Deity in daily affairs and endeavors to base his actions and policy upon his interpretation of the divine will.

Dr. Michaelis' firmness of purpose is said to be due largely to this conviction. This view of life is partly hereditary. His brother became a clergyman of the most devout school and his sister married a clergyman. Newspapers of evangelical trend, like the Taegliche Rundschau, emphasize this characteristic.

ANOTHER REFORM RUMOR.

Amsterdam, July 17.—According to the Dusseldorf General Anzeiger, a bill to reform the Upper House will be submitted to the Prussian Diet with the suffrage reform bill.

AUSTRIAN HOUSE ADJOURNS.

Vienna, via Amsterdam, July 17.—The Lower House has adjourned indefinitely. The president, in concluding his speech, said: We again have freed the way for constitutional life. We have strengthened the assured position of the House. May I have strength to fulfill the great task of rebuilding the empire.

ANOTHER RETIREMENT.

Amsterdam, July 17.—A dispatch to the Frankfurter Zeitung from Berlin reports that Herr Wahnschaffe, chief of the imperial chancery, has retired as is the case when chancellors resigned.

Germania, the Catholic organ, says that Gen. von Stein, Prussian minister of war and state, resigned "owing to the attitude of Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg during the crisis."

AUSTRIA'S PEACE IDEAS.

Vienna, via Amsterdam, July 17.—Austria-Hungary's ideas on peace were made known to the constitution committee of the Reichsrath in an address by Dr. von Seydler, the premier. After referring to the unbreakable unity between Austria and her allies, the premier declared Parliament would work for "the aim for which Austria is fighting; namely, the unassailable, sacred right of her peoples to decide for themselves their internal destiny. This task, at the same time, will be a long stride in the direction of an honorable peace which we desire to create on the basis of justice, moderation and conciliation—the firm unity of all civilized peoples and their uniform endeavor to abolish those circumstances which brought about the world war. We are all longing for this peace, until then we are determined to hold on in firm co-operation between front and homeland."

HELFFERICH'S SUCCESSOR.

Amsterdam, July 17.—Count von Roedern, German finance minister, replaces Dr. Karl Helfferich, secretary of the interior, according to the Berliner Tageblatt.

QUIET LIFE FOR HOLLWEG.

London, July 17.—A dispatch to the Daily Dispatch from Amsterdam says that Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the retiring imperial German chancellor, will proceed to his estate at Hohenfinow, near Berlin, and probably devote his leisure time to historical work. The dispatch adds that Emperor William desired to offer the former chancellor a high diplomatic post abroad after the war, but that the suggestion was negatived.

A Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam says Emperor William received Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg in farewell audience.

GREECE ENTERS WAR ON SIDE OF ENTENTE GROUP, SEVERING WITH ALL CENTRAL POWERS

Army of 250,000 Men Will Be Added to 700,000 Allied Soldiers in Drive Against Berlin-Constantinople Railway.

Washington, July 16.—Uncertainty as to Greece's status in the world war was cleared away today with the receipt of official information that the Greek Government not only has severed relations with all four of the central allies, but is actually in a state of war with them. Information has reached the state department that the Greek minister in Paris has notified the French Government that Greece considers herself a full belligerent, and will act accordingly. He said it was not necessary to issue a formal declaration of war, as the Government feels it is bound by the declarations previously issued at Saloniki by Premier Venizelos, who took with him to Athens all the responsibilities and commitments of the temporary Saloniki government.

Will Lose No Time in Mobilizing.

As a belligerent Greece is expected to lose no time in mobilizing er war resources and joining effectively in the common allied operations in the Balkans. The strength of the Venizelos army is placed at about 60,000 men, and the remnants of the former regular army, while not over 30,000 now, has at times been mobilized to a total of 200,000 men, and is capable of reaching 300,000 if munitions are provided. The regulars practically were demobilized by the Allies when former King Constantine held the organization as a threat to the Allies' rear, but can quickly be called to the colors again.

Army of 250,000 Assured.

While it is understood the new government has not yet mobilized this army, the classes of 1916 and 1917, previously prevented by the Allies from being called out, were called to the colors about two weeks ago. Commissioner Jonnart, whom the Allies intrusted with enforcing Constantine's abdication, has reported that a Greek army of 250,000 will be raised to add to the 700,000 allied soldiers already in the Balkans.

A Greek mission may be sent to the United States, not only to negotiate for supplies for this army, but also to present Greece's situation as to the general world reconstruction after the war. For the present, it is probable Greece will be munitioned by the Allies, who have stocks already on hand, but for the future and as far as general credits are concerned, it is probable the Athens Government will wish to deal direct with this country.

Greek Populace Glad.

It is understood here that while some pro-German, anti-war spirit remains in Greece, a great majority of the people are happy that a flat decision has at last been made, and that the perils and uncertainties that have beset the nation's attempt to be neutral are ended. It is realized that Greece has a splendid opportunity to strengthen her international position, which has suffered through her doubtful policy throughout the war. Bulgaria, her traditional enemy, has occupied an appreciable section of Greek territory, and threatens to surpass Greece in her power in the Balkans, while Italy has sent troops into the northern Epirus to connect with the Allies at Saloniki and establish a shorter line of communication than the long sea route. Since Greece's entry into the war, negotiations have been under way for abandonment of part of this section by Italy.

Greece also has further territorial ambitions in the Balkans, and a solicitation for the 300,000 Greeks in Constantinople and the 2,000,000 Greeks which she claims in Asia Minor, particularly about Smyrna.

BOYS BUSY HELPING KINGSVILLE FARMERS GET THEIR CROPS IN

Lads Are Paid Every Day for the Work They Do.

KINGSVILLE, July 16.—Boy labor is of great assistance to the farmers and vegetable and fruit growers of this vicinity. Hundreds of them are employed at various kinds of work they are able to do. The stores and banks are being scoured for 5 and 10-cent pieces. The growers have found that nothing pleases the boys as much as to know that if they earn only 5 cents, that they will be paid spot cash for their labor when completed, when working piecework, or be paid every evening for their day's work when working by the day. With this method they have no trouble in getting help.

Harry Harris, son of Mrs. E. E. Harris, Kingsville, and Miss Maizie McKim of Dresden, formerly of the public school staff here prior to engagement at Windsor, were married in Windsor recently by Rev. George Jackson of Walkerville. He has enlisted in the engineering corps, and is now in training camp at Ottawa. This makes the fourth son Mrs. Harris has in the army. Three are in the engineering corps and one in the medical corps in France.

Gunner Thomas Elliott, who was recently invalided home from the front, is here with his wife and family for ten days before returning to London Hospital.

The Patriotic Society, which makes monthly shipments to the Canadian Red Cross, also to the Field Comfort Association, sent the following supplies in June: Six suits pyjamas, 6 pillowcases, 6 long nightshirts, 15½ dozen towels, 18 pairs of socks to the soldiers, and 31 to the Field Comforts Association. There were also 31 pairs of socks shipped to the soldiers in the May shipment in addition to those already reported as having been sent for field comforts.

FORESTRY UNIT MAY BE FORMED AT KITCHENER

KITCHENER, July 16.—Speculation is rife here as to what kind of a battalion will be formed here when the conscription bill becomes law. From what could be learned from a reliable source it will be a forestry unit. It is believed that this branch of the service would be a very popular one with many who are eligible

The noble six hundred from North Waterloo who are at present serving overseas are to be found in almost every branch of the service. As the majority of those who remain are busy at constructive trades it is claimed they would be able to adapt themselves much quicker to the work of a forestry battalion than any other branch of the service.

BUMPER CROPS ARE EXPECTED AROUND PAISLEY

PAISLEY, July 16.—The very heavy rains of the last two weeks have not been as injurious to the crops in this district as was anticipated. Hay, which is late and uncommonly heavy, has been in some places flattened down, but on the whole, if fair weather continues, the crop will be above the average. Peas have been hit the hardest, whole fields being entirely destroyed. Other grains on low lands have suffered some. Roots of all kinds are making great headway. Prospects for the whole so far indicate a good harvest.

STOLE FARMERS HORSE.

STRATFORD, July 16.—Thomas Pretty or Frederick Fears, of Bruce, arrested here for stealing a boy's wagon, is again in trouble. He was turned over to the Barnardo Home authorities last week and placed in a home near the city. Sunday he was missing and also one of the farmer's horses. A search party overtook him in an auto. He will be handed over to the Barnardo officials.

MAYOR OF GALT ACTS LIKE A REAL POLICE MAGISTRATE

First Time on the Bench, Soaks Drunk $200.

GALT, July 16.—For the first time since becoming mayor on January 1, 1916, His Worship Mayor A. M. Edwards today sentenced a man in the police court. Magistrate J. R. Blake, accompanied Chief Gorman to the convention of the Chief Constables' Association being held in Quebec this week, and Mayor Edwards is dispensing justice in his absence. Frank Walker, arrested Sunday, pleaded guilty to being drunk and having a bottle of liquor in his possession. On the first charge the fine was $10 or 20 days, and on the second, $200 or three months. Unable to pay the fine Walker took the jail term, the sentences to run concurrently.

This is a busy week for the Galt bowlers. Six rinks went to Preston tonight for the weekly game, while on Wednesday three rinks will take part in a tournament at St. George, and Thursday three or four rinks go to New Hamburg for a county league game. At least four, and probably five, rinks of Galt bowlers will enter the Buffalo tournament, which opens July 30.

The North Water Street Baptist Mission held its annual lawn social tonight, and the weather conditions were ideal, with the result that there was a large turnout. A splendid program was provided, and refreshments were offered at several booths.

Except for receiving the petition for a permanent pavement on Dickson street, which was sufficiently signed, there was little business of importance outside of regular routine work before the city council tonight. The necessary bylaw to construct the pavement requested will now be prepared, so that the work can be gone on with.

The Galt Kiltie Band has been engaged to play at the Catholic Church garden party in Paris on Thursday evening of this week.

5,000 AUSTRALIANS HAVE SERVED 1,000 DAYS IN WAR

MELBOURNE, July 16.—Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.—The Australian newspapers publish the names of 5,000 Australians who have completed 1,000 days' service at the front. The Victorian recruiting committee is making a special recruiting appeal. Commencing on the 4th of August new recruits will relieve veterans, enabling them to spend next Christmas at home.

The French national day was celebrated with enthusiasm throughout Australia. The collections for the French Red Cross here have reached £5,000. A dispatch from Sydney says that the Government of New South Wales has given in perpetuity to France the piece of land on which the monument of Laperouse stands. Contributions for the French Red Cross are expected to total £200,000. The collections in Brisbane, so far as ascertained, amount to £1,000.

LYONS TEACHER TOOK HIGH STANDING

LYONS, July 16.—Miss Aleta Newton was successful in obtaining 100 per cent in the teachers' training examination of the Ontario Sunday School Association, and Mrs. M. Whyte obtained 98 per cent, and Miss Erie Berdan, 74 per cent.

Miss M. Peters of Mount Brydges has been secured as public school teacher, following Miss E. Mickle, who has filled the position for the last six years.

At the reorganization of the choir, the following officers were appointed: President, Mrs. A. Ferris; treasurer, Miss E. Moss; choir leader, Mr. J. C. Simpson; organist, Mrs. Clayton Simpson. Rev. G. W. Butt, pastor, presided at the meeting.

SOCIAL AT WATFORD.

WATFORD, July 16.—The strawberry social on the lawn of B. Dawn, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church, was a decided success. A very interesting program was given after the supper. The net proceeds amounted to over $80.

CANADIAN PICTURES DRAW MORE GAZERS THAN ART AT R. A.

Crowds Throng Grafton Galleries in Old London.

TO SHOW IN AMERICA

Money From War Scenes Will Be Devoted to Canadian Memorial.

LONDON, July 16.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa agency).—The second exhibition of Canadian official war photographs was opened today in the Grafton Galleries, New Bond street, by Lieut.-Gen. Sir R. E. Turner, commanding the Canadian forces in the British Isles. The photographs show the curious modes of life of the Canadians at the front, and among the most striking pictures are those of the taking of Vimy Ridge.

Lieut.-Gen. Turner, in declaring the exhibition open, said that the average daily attendance at the first exhibition was greater than at the Royal Academy. Both collections of pictures, he said, would later be exhibited in the United States, and all the proceeds would be devoted to the Canadian war memorial fund for providing a suitable monument to Canadian soldiers fallen in the war.

Recounts Thrilling Story.

The greater part of the photographs, he explained, were those connected with the taking of Vimy Ridge. Several French attacks had previously been made in an effort to take the ridge, but were only partly successful. Early in 1916 the British took over that part of the line. When the operations of the Canadian army on the Somme were finished, the Canadians took up positions in the vicinity of the ridge, and later Gen. Byng, commanding the Canadians, thought the time had arrived when the ridge should be taken. He devoted all his energy to perfecting plans, and saw that the necessary artillery operations were carried out. At a given moment the Canadian soldiers went over the top and secured their objective. The advance was not made in massed formation, but in irregular and widely-extended lines. Lieut.-Gen. Turner concluded:

"Canada desires no thanks. We are doing our little bit as part of the British Empire, and hope long to be spared to be part and parcel of it."

SISTERS FIGHT FOR PRETTY BABY GIRL OF DEAD SOLDIER

5-Year-Old Orphan Spirited Away at Chatham.

CHATHAM, July 16.—In spite of the utmost vigilance on the part of relatives who eagerly watched all the exits of the Merchants Bank building to frustrate any attempt which might be made to spirit away pretty little Mary McCrea, the 5-year-old orphan of the late Pte. Philip McCrea, who died while overseas, the infant was quietly taken away from Mayor J. G. Kerr's office at noon today, and later spirited out of the county, it is alleged, at the instance of Mrs. Brown, sister of deceased.

Following the application in which Judge Stanworth held he had no jurisdiction in the matter, R. L. Brackin, acting on behalf of Mrs. Stover and Mrs. McCrea, also sister of the dead soldier, opposing Mrs. Brown's application, had the latter arrested on a charge of abduction.

Bail Was Allowed.

She appeared in the city police court this afternoon and was allowed bail of $500, to appear on Thursday next, also giving an undertaking that the child in question, whose whereabouts is unknown, would not be taken out of the country. It is thought that the child was hurried away to Glencoe in an automobile.

The dispute over the custody of the child arose upon the death of the mother of the dead soldier, with whom it was left. The applicant, Mrs. Brown whose residence is in Chicago, sister of the late Pte. McCrea, states that her brother had always attended the Presbyterian Church, and that if the infant is placed in the custody of the other sisters it will be brought up in the Roman Catholic faith. In the meantime the question as to who shall have the care of the child will probably be taken to the Supreme Court.

There was a large attendance. Characters were splendidly portrayed. The program was enhanced by solos by Mrs. Brown of Underwood, Miss Mackay of Tiverton and Miss Edna Carter of Paisley. Selections were also given by the Paisley Orchestra. Reeve J. S. Steele was chairman. The proceeds totaled $70. The club was organized last winter by Miss Mackay, and has already given four most successful entertainments in different towns in the county in aid of patriotic and Red Cross funds.

Miss McKenzie, con. 10, Bruce, has been appointed organist in Knox Church.

WOODBINE JOCKEY FROM TILLSONBURG KILLED IN ACTION

Pte. W. Watts Had Ridden Many Seagram Horses.

SGT. WILLIAMS GONE, TOO

Wife Has Been Hoping for Many Months He Was Prisoner.

TILLSONBURG, July 16.—Official word was received today of the death in action of Pte. W. Watts. He was in his 24th year, a prime favorite and a lover of sports, having ridden horses from the Seagram stables many times at the Woodbine, and had many wins to his credit. He enlisted with the 180th Sportsmen's Battalion, and was later transferred to another battalion in England.

After months of hoping that her husband, Sergt. George Williams, was a prisoner of war, Mrs. Williams today received official word that he had been killed in action at the Regina trench last November. At that time he was reported wounded and missing. Word came last November before the official word arrived that a soldier seen Sergt. Williams wounded, and later that that portion of the trench had been retaken by the Germans. Since the first message she has received many conflicting messages, one stating that her husband was alive and well. This was later disputed, and at that time her pay was stopped. After many communications with the war office it was again continued. He enlisted with the 71st Battalion as a private, and before that was a highly-esteemed employee of the Borden Milk Company, and held many offices in local lodges. He was an excellent ball player, being a member of the Old Tillsonburg Blues. Besides his wife he leaves six small children.

GUNNER MOSS KILLED.

GUELPH, July 16.—Official cables brought sad news to three Guelph homes today. City Treasurer J. Orr Ross received a message announcing that his youngest son, Lieut. Harvey C. Ross, of the Imperial Army Royal Engineers, had been officially reported wounded on July 11. No further particulars were given. He went overseas with a draft of officers from Toronto a year ago last April, after graduating from the S.P.S. He took a special engineering course in England, and has been at the front about eight months.

Gunner James Moss, 43rd Battery, has given his life for his country. Word reached his wife here today that he died of wounds on July 8. He was formerly a member of the Guelph fire brigade. He leaves a wife and two small children.

First to Enlist.

Gunner William Pearson, the first Canadian to enlist in Guelph in August, 1914, and who has been at the front for over two years, is reported to have been dangerously wounded on July 11. He was born in Guelph, and has always lived here.

The funeral of Capt. H. L. C. Walker of the 7th Battery, who died last week as a result of being shell shocked at the front some time ago, took place this afternoon. The members of the Guelph Great War Veterans' Association turned out in a body, and many officers were also in attendance. The funeral was one of the largest held here for some time.

SERIOUSLY WOUNDED.

LYONS, July 16.—Word has been received by Mr. George Sawyer of Lyons that his son, Pte. Harold Sawyer, has been quite seriously wounded in his hip.

ON HIS WAY HOME.

SPRINGFIELD, July 16.—Pte. K. H. Moore of Springfield Village is reported among the returned veterans who have arrived in London.

THREE VETERANS HOME.

WOODSTOCK, July 16.—Three invalided soldiers, Privates Louis Lindsay and Samuel Northeast, of the 34th Battalion, and Sergt.-Major Dunbar, of the 168th Battalion, reached home this evening. A large crowd, which included the mayor, members of the Soldiers' Aid and Great War Veterans' Association, met them at the station and gave them a warm welcome.

Afterwards they were taken in autos to the Returned Soldiers' Club rooms. Privates Lindsay and Northeast were wounded. Pte. Lindsay received a shrapnel wound in September, 1916, and in July Pte. Northeast received the wound which sent him back to England. Sergt.-Major Dunbar did not reach the front. In England he contracted rheumatism and was declared unfit for further service.

GOING OVERSEAS.

ST. THOMAS, July 16. — James White, St. Thomas, mail contractor, enlisted here today for overseas service with the 25th Regiment.

CAPT. ORR WOUNDED.

STRATFORD, July 16.—Word has been received of the wounding of Capt. Harry N. Orr. Capt Orr went overseas with the 168th Battalion. In England he reverted to a lieutenant to get to France. It is significant that the message refers to him as Capt. Orr, which would lead to the supposition of his having been promoted in France to his former rank.

Two more 110th soldiers are reported wounded in today's list, Ptes. W. A. Jarratt and Thomas G. Clark.

Pte. Clarke is a Mitchell soldier, and is in the General Hospital at Camieres with a gunshot wound in the shoulder.

JOINS CYCLE CORPS.

STRATFORD, July 16.—One recruit signed on today, and left for London with the cycle corps. He is Joseph Edward Harkness, Stratford, born Brussels, age 18 years, machinist, single.

ENFORCE LAW, IS ASSESSOR'S ORDER

KITCHENER, July 16.—The city council tonight by resolution instructed Assessment Commissioner Huehnergard to assess persons liable to income tax in accordance to the law this year, and if need be to call upon the members of the council to assist in the work. Owing to the strong objection being made to the class of midway carnivals held in the city in June, to which the Social Service, Children's Aid Society and W. C. T. U. voiced strong protests to the immorality of the shows, the city council promised a large deputation that they would rigidly investigae a midway carnival which is to appear here the week of September 8. If there are any questionable shows they will not be permitted to exhibit.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

The local market today was small but exceptionally brisk, strawberries and cherries again being the main features. The latter fruit was plentiful in its varieties and purchasers were readily found. Cherries are large and juicy this season, but surplus rains have been responsible for a slightly anaemic flavor, which is counterbalanced, however, by exceptional succulence.

Red cherries are selling at $1 per basket, white cherries at $1.25 and the black kind bring $2.25.

Strawberries were sold in considerable abundance, but brought practically the same prices as they did Saturday last, much to the disappointment of certain housewives who had expected to buy them at a minimum value. That time is past, according to growers, and prices range at present from 14c to 15c, wholesale, and 15c to 17c, retail, with little likelihood of a substantial decrease.

Butchers' meats dropped slightly in one or two lines, live hogs going from $15.25 to $15 per cwt., and fat sows dropping from $12.50 to $12 per cwt.

A few new home-grown potatoes were offered at from 80c to 90c per peck, but it is not expected that the back-yard variety will be on the market for two weeks in any quantity, as the season is three weeks behind the usual period of reaping.

Spring chickens are exceedingly small this season, but are gradually becoming more plentiful, old fowl coming down as a consequence. The latter sell at 13c to 15c per pound, and the former at 20c alive and 22c dressed.

Hay is selling at a brisk rate, but loads are not coming in as fast as they will when the farmers begin to cut, which they expect to do within a few days at most.

Every variety of vegetables was on the market at unchanged prices, and the best quality they have yet reached. Beets sold at 40c a dozen bunches; new carrots brought 50c per dozen bunches; lettuce 5c per head; cucumbers 12c to 15c each; green onions 5c per bunch; radishes 5c for 2 bunches, and asparagus 75c per dozen bunches.

Dairy produce remained stationary, the offering being very small for a Tuesday market.

MONEY.

New York, July 17.—Bar silver, 80⅝c per ounce.

Paris, July 17.—Trading was quiet on the bourse today. Three per cent rentes, 60 francs 70 centimes for cash; exchange on London, 27 francs 18 centimes.

London, July 17.—Money was in better supply, and discount rates were easy.

WALL STREET.

New York, July 17—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Gains and losses were quite equally distributed at the irregular opening of today's market, which continued to show signs of bear pressure. United States Steel was responsive to support, however, soon rising a point with Crucible, American Locomotive, Marine preferred and Malting preferred. Metals, motors and some of the less active specialties were reactionary at recessions of 1 to 2 points. Rails were again featured by Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific and coalers, at gains of fractions to a point. Liberty bonds repeated their minimum of 99 for odd lots.

Noon.—Early advices were not long maintained, prices falling bock with United States Steel, which declined from 121¼ to 120; other equipments and war shares reacting in like degree. The reversal was accompanied by pessimistic statements regarding the immediate future of the steel industry. Motors also helped to unsettle the list, Maxwell adding 5 points to yesterday's loss, and coppers were affected by price uncertainties. Apprehension as to money rates and absence of public inquiry, provided additional adverse factors. Prices improved again at noon, industrials, rails and shippings leading the recovery. Bonds were steady.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, July 17.—The stock market was quietly cheerful today. The leading features were Brazilian issues, on the resumption of payments, and Japanese bonds on redemption purchases. In the mining section, Canadians were prominent, and in other sections rubber and oil stocks were strong, while steady investment buying occurred in breweries, Australian bonds and Consols at occasionally harder prices. American securities were dull and uninteresting.

CASH WHEAT PRICES OUTSTRIP FUTURES

Flax, However, Is Strongest Feature of Winnipeg Grains.

Winnipeg, July 16.—Not since the middle of last week has there been a transaction in October wheat, the only posted future on the local exchange. There have been bids of $2 per bushel, without any offerings coming out. The attitude of holders and growers illustrates a lack in care of gossip of a fixed price or a maximum price around $1.75 for the new crop. With cash prices now 40c over the October bids, there is no disposition to sell the future.

Trading in oats was fairly active today. Trade news inclined bearishly, with a favorable crop report, and wire reports that export inquiry was falling below expectations.

Flax was the strong feature, an unsettled crusher and speculative inquiry sending bids up 5c on the July and 7½c on the October deliveries during the forenoon. Both futures weakened at the close.

October bids, basis contract, and cash wheat prices all closed unchanged. July oats lost ½c; October advanced ⅛c, and December dropped ¼c. Flax netted gains of ¾c, 1½c and 1½c.

The demand for cash wheat was fairly good today, with all grades meeting an inquiry. Government agents, millers, exporters and shippers supplied the demand.

Cash oats were in good demand. During the morning Saturday's spreads ruled, but later in the day widened on some grades.

Barley was very slow, with prices unchanged.

The cash demand for flax was unable to keep pace with the brisk advance in the future market.

Cash grain:

Wheat—No. 1 northern, $2.40; No. 2 northern, $2.37; No. 3 northern, $2.34; No. 4, $2.20; No. 5, $1.99½; No. 6, $1.80; feed, $1.38.

Basis Contract—July, $2.40; August, (first half), $2.35.

Oats—No. 2 Canadian Western, 74c; No. 3 Canadian Western, 73½c; extra No. 1 feed, 73¼c; No. 1 feed, 72c; No. 2 feed, 69¾c.

Barley—No. 3, $1.27; No. 4, $1.23; rejected, $1.11; feed, $1.11.

Flax—No. 1. N.W.C., $2.89½; No. 2, C.W., $2.85½; No. 3 C.W., $2.70½.

TORONTO.

Toronto, July 16.—Grain quotations are as follows:

Wheat—Ontario, No. 2 winter, $2.35@2.40, outside, according to location; Manitoba, No. 1 northern, $2.60; No. 2 northern, $2.57.

Oats—Canada western, No. 2, 81c; No. 3 Canada western, 79c, at lake ports for immediate shipment.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, July 16.—There was a small demand for cheap grades of wheat, screenings and oats, and a few carlots were worked, but apart from this the market for grains was stagnant, with prices for corn about 4c lower, and oats 1c lower.

Corn—American, No. 2 yellow, $1.75@1.80.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 81c; Canadian western, No. 3, 80c; extra No. 1 feed, 80c.

TROUBLES OVERCOME

Suffered All Winter With Catarrh — Is Delighted With Improvement.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, who resides on Harding avenue, Weston, and is in the employ of the Canadian Government as inspector of munitions, is another Toronto woman of culture and refinement, whose deep sense of gratitude and desire to benefit other sufferers, will not permit her to remain silent in regard to the wonderful results she obtained through the use of Tanlac. Mrs. Wilson has lived in Toronto for twenty years. Her statement follows:

"Since the early part of last winter, I have suffered a great deal with catarrh. My nasal passages felt raw and irritated all the time, my throat was dry and my head felt stopped up—just like a severe cold. I had dull, throbbing headaches that kept me awake for hours many a night.

"Besides this trouble, I had indigestion and was dreadfully nervous. The least little noise completely upset me. I often had trembling spells and would shake all over. I had no appetite, and the little I ate disagreed with me. I simply felt miserable and some days I just had to quit work and go home.

"I have now taken two bottles of Tanlac and my improvement has been wonderful. The catarrh is gradually disappearing, my head feels clearer, the nasal passages are not sore and irritated like they were, and I don't have those awful headaches like I did. I am not nervous and the trembling spells are a thing of the past. My appetite is much better, and I don't suffer with indigestion any more. I just simply cannot tell you how much better I feel in every way. My husband is simply delighted with my improvement on Tanlac, and has begun taking the medicine himself."

Most of the so-called stomach, liver and kidney troubles, are due almost entirely to catarrhal inflammation of these organs. The constant coughing up mucus, dull, throbbing headaches, frequent sneezing, watery eyes, pains in the pit of the stomach, sides and kidney region, lost appetite, no ambition, depression of spirits and the persistent contracting of hard colds, are characteristic symptoms of this trouble, from which so many in all cities like Toronto suffer.

Tanlac, the powerful reconstructive tonic, was designed to bring about an astonishing improvement in your spirits, appetite and general condition, and hundreds are testifying daily that the medicine preserves your strength, gives you renewed energy, brightens your spirits, and that means, that it lengthens your life and is an unmistakable, unfailing comfort to the thousands who are suffering from catarrh and its distressing consequences.

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, under the personal direction of the special Tanlac representative. —Advt.

TOBACCO HABIT EASILY CONQUERED

A New Yorker, of wide experience, has written a book telling how the tobacco or snuff habit may be easily and completely banished in three days with delightful benefit. The author, Edward J. Woods, 549Q, Station E. New York City, will mail his book free on request.

The health improves wonderfully after the nicotine poison is out of the system. Calmness, tranquil sleep, clear eyes, normal appetite, good digestion, manly vigor, strong memory and a general gain in efficiency are among the many benefits reported. Get rid of that nervous feeling; no more need of pipe, cigar, cigarette, snuff or chewing tobacco to pacify morbid desire. July17,Aug.21

NO ABDICATION.

Peking, July 17.—Premier Tuan has decided that an abdication edict is unnecessary, as it would compromise the emperor. Chinese of the southern provinces, jealous of his success, are already endeavoring to weaken his power, asserting he intends to retain the emperor.

AMID PEACEFUL SCENES LONDON SOLDIER HEARS ROAR OF GUNS IN FRANCE

Pte. Fred Young Tells of Visit to Battle, Where William the Conqueror Won His Decisive Fight.

A visit to the famous spot in Sussex, where 850 years ago William of Normandy won the title of "The Conqueror," forms the topic of a letter from Pte. Fred Young, who, after serving with the 18th Battalion in France, is now convalescing at St. Leonards-on-Sea.

The experience was a novel one, he states, for it was possible to hear from that medieval battlefield, where the issue was decided with battleaxe and sword, the roar of the guns on the battlefront in France. Although sounds of conflict were plainly audible, the scene was a decidedly peaceful one. The scent of honeysuckle filled the air and above the music of the guns could be heard at times the chiming of a church bell.

Pte. Young's letter, dated June 28, reads:

St. Leonards-on-Sea,
Sussex, England,
June 28, 1917.

Dear Friend,—Although the town of Battle, in Sussex, is only six miles from here, we were domiciled in this vicinity for more than six months before we found a convenient opportunity to visit that historic spot at our leisure.

But last Sunday we made the grade. As you are well aware, it was at Battle that the decisive Battle of Hastings was fought in 1066, in which William of Normandy put King Harold of England out of action, and gained the title of William the Conqueror.

In these strenuous wartimes, Sunday trains are practically nonexistent, so taking the suburban street car to Hollington, we journeyed the remaining three miles on shank's pony. Main roads in England are called high roads, and the main road between Hollington and Battle sure deserves that title, for it is built along a high ridge, from which on either side, magnificent views of English south country scenery present themselves as far as the eye can reach. At one point of the journey, on the shores of the English Channel, Pevensey Bay, where William the Conqueror landed when he invaded England was plainly visible. We did not envy the folks rushing through the country in their motor cars, for they were too busily engaged in hanging on to their headgear to have any time to leisurely drink in the beauty and historic traditions of their surroundings.

At Battle Abbey.

Passing alongside woods in which King Harold's archers are reputed to have awaited the oncoming of the enemy, we at last found ourself under the shadow of the high walls of Battle Abbey, where the body of King Harold was laid to rest. The quaint old world town of Battle, looked very sleepy in the warmth of the June sunshine, and we noted groups of its inhabitants standing mournfully discussing the untimely death of Lady Webster, the owner of Battle Abbey, who had been drowned in a lake on the estate, while trying to rescue her own daughter from a watery grave. One could feel that their grief was genuine, for those English country folks had a sincere regard for the benevolent Lady Webster.

In our rambles throughout English counties, we have often remarked the pride of local tradition shown by the residents of their respective localities, but it would be hard to find any people more patriotically proud of their environments than the old-timers at Battle. We left them with the impression in our mind, that it would be easier to induce them to break the whole of the Ten Commandments than to suggest to them that the home of their fathers was not the most historic spot in old England. And, taking things big and large, they have a great deal to back up their claims.

Our circle of friends in this vicinity has widened until we are able to number our friends amongst the residents of Battle, and accepting a prearranged invitation to Sunday afternoon tea, we sat down to tea, in the shade of the garden hedge amongst congenial company. From our place of honor at the tea table in the open air, we looked across country that reminded us very forcibly of the valley and ridges at Messines and Wytschaetes, when we used to view them from Veerstraat and Kemmell Hill. But instead of high explosive shells bursting across the landscape, our eyes were delighted with English pastoral scenes. "Meadows trim with daisies pied," verdant woods, and cattle grazing peacefully on the hillsides, and we inwardly thanked God that British-Canadian valor had prevented the Hun from wreaking his vengeance on such a tranquil scene.

Heard the Guns Roar.

You will probably understand our feelings better when we tell you that our host and hostess explained to us that the continuous throb and boom of cannon that was plainly audible, was happening out at Godnoes, some sixty miles distant, and that to their mind it presaged another British advance in the immediate future, as they had heard the same kind of cannonading just previous to the advance at Messines. Before this letter reaches you, the cable will have given you the news, if their prognostication is correct. It certainly was a valued experience to sit and gaze on hills where 850 years ago men rushed at each other with battleaxe and lance to decide who were the victors and listen to the present-day roar of guns, where men hurl hot lead at each other at a distance of from eight to fifteen miles. From adjacent hedgerows the sweet scent of the wild honeysuckle filled the summer air, and for a few moments the gentle chiming of Sabbath bells in the village church near by, shut out the monotonous boom of the distant guns. It was with mixed feelings that cannot be pen described that we bade good-bye to our friends, promising to return if possible some future time.

It may have been owing to the death of Lady Webster that the historic abbey was closed to the public, so we had to content ourself with picking a few wild flowers that grew in profusion in the vicinity of the abbey walls. We have sent a few of them to relatives in Canada and the United States, and although we know that their intrinsic value is not one continental hoot, we feel that they will be prized for their historic value. Perhaps the home folks will press them and inclose them between the leaves of the family Bible. And in years to come, when we are perusing its pages in quest of our favorite scriptural passages, the sight of those withered flowers will recall memories of brave lads who fought and died for the cause of Christianity and freedom, and influenced our life for good, more than all the rhetoric of highly-paid parsons.

The News.

The news that Spain is on the verge of revolution, and that Norway is on the brink of war with Germany, is overshadowed by the press announcement of the Mesopotamia military muddle. This morning's papers announce the arrival of an American fighting contingent in France, and the cable news that Canada has just made another loan of $75,000,000 convinces us that the shadow of the poorhouse has not entirely enveloped the Land of the Maple Leaf. We note that Lord Rhonda, as food controller, has taken up the policy of severely threatening the food profiteers, where Lord Devonshire laid it down, but so far the results are that you don't get many pimples on a pound of pickled pork.

Next Sunday is July 1, the fiftieth anniversary of our glorious Dominion of Canada. In local churches, several services in honor of the event, are announced, and Monday, July 2, is to be given over to the troops in the Hastings area for military sports.

We have decided to spend our holiday in a visit to Hollington "Church in the Wood," which, we are told, is one of the most unique places of worship in the south of England. We will give you our impressions of it in our next letter.

Yours as ever, FRED YOUNG.

WESTERN HOSPITAL UNIT TAKING CARE OF MANY WOUNDED

Among Them Some Men From London.

MEN WORK VERY HARD

Lieut.-Col. Seaborn Tells of Care Given Hastings, of City.

The following letter, giving interesting information in regard to the Western University Hospital Unit, its work and patients, has been received by President E. E. Braithwaite of the university, from Lieut.-Col. E. Seaborn, commander of the unit:

Canadian Military Hospital, Meads,
Eastbourne, June 12, 1917.

To Dr. E. E. Braithwaite, President, Western University, London, Ontario, Canada:

My Dear Dr. Braithwaite,—I have only just received your letter of May 18th. I was very glad indeed to hear of the progress of the university, and esepecially of the success of the convocation. It would appear that the Western University is assuming its proper position.

As to our work in Eastbourne, I may say that we are very busy indeed, and that all the beds of the hospital are filled and patients are passing in and out of the hospital at a very rapid rate. We have received a good number of patients from the Vimy Ridge affair, but in the near future we hope for the more seriously wounded men to be forwarded to us.

The men have been required to work very hard—in fact, I believe, we have required them to do more than is usually the case in hospitals. They are, however, so comfortable in their quarters and the position is such an excellent one, and the air so bracing that they have been able to do this more easily than they might have done under other circumstances.

Behavior Excellent.

With respect to our social position in Eastbourne, I am glad to report that it is very good indeed. The behavior of all of the members of the unit has been so good and also the discipline of the patients, that the people of Eastbourne have been unable to take any exception.

You will be surprised to know that during the attack on Messines Ridge we were able to hear the cannonading very plainly, and in fact for a good many days and nights the roar was continuous.

We had a young non-commissioned officer from London by the name of Hastings, who died a short time ago of tuberculosis. We had placed him on the balcony at the eastern end of the hospital, where the sun shone brightly in the morning, and where there was shade in the afternoon, and had seen that everything possible was done for him in the way of diets and other treatment, and some of the money of our emergency fund was spent in procuring any comforts that the nursing sister could think of. He was a particularly cheerful young fellow, and appreciated very much what was done for him. He is the first London boy who has died in our hospital.

Another London Boy.

We have at the present time another London man named Gordon Zavitz, who lived at 829 Elias street, not very far from my old office, and in fact an old patient of mine. He is doing very well. He had been wounded on the Somme front, had gone to hospital in France, and returned to his battalion, was then blown up by a mine at Vimy ridge, and came to us. We were very glad indeed to see him, and he appeared to be equally well satisfied to see us. We had another London man in hospital named Fryer. This man had not been to France, but the other two of whom I spoke had returned from France.

We have named the various wards of our hospital for people and organizations in London, who had taken interest in the No. 10 Stationary Hospital. As the list is not quite complete I shall not give you information as to those who were selected. This will be done at as early a time as possible. The tablets are of thin wood painted white and lettered in black, the lettering being very good indeed. I purpose, when we leave, taking these tablets off the doors and returning them to the Western University or to the people mentioned.

Will you please give my kind regards to the members of the board of governors. Thanking you for your good wishes, I am, yurs very truly,

EDWIN SEABORN, Lt.-Col.
Officer in command of Hospital.

IN THE POLICE COURT

Herbert Johnstone, Thomas Dodd and William Capsey, teamsters, engaged in hauling gravel for the erection of the new hydro office, were fined this morning $1 each for "littering the street" with gravel contrary to a city bylaw.

"The wagons are loaded too heavily by the men at the car" explained Johnstone, who appeared on behalf of his fellow teamsters.

"I don't like to discourage a man from carrying too much of a load when he is not charged under the Ontario temperance act, or any similar liquor measure," said the magistrate.

"It's littering the street, not obliterating it," commented Crown Attorney McKillop, who was awaiting another case.

William H. Carrie, Edward Quorrian and Horace Richardson contributed $2 each for breaches of the traffic bylaw.

Peter Buchanan, who conducts a garage, was summoned to explain why he had exceeded the speed limit on Dundas street, between Waterloo and Colborne. Patrolman Tomlin timed the car between the above-mentioned streets and testified that it had made the $00 feet in seventeen seconds, which was equivalent to 36 miles an hour.

Mr. Buchanan maintained that he traveled at no such rate, but still might have gone faster than fifteen miles an hour, the maximum speed allowed under the bylaw. He was fined $5 and costs.

George Saul pleaded not guilty to driving on the wrong side of the street. The patrolman proved that he did, and Saul was assessed $2 and costs.

One drunk pleaded guilty and made the remark: "Your worship, I made a mistake."

"Mistakes are expensive under this act," commented the magistrate as he imposed a $10 fine.

CANADA'S POLICE CHIEFS CONVENED AT QUEBEC

Quebec, July 17.—Police chiefs from every nook and corner of Canada assembled here today for their thirteenth annual convention, in the course of which questions appertaining to the improvement of police methods, of cooperation between all police organizations, of the interchange of ideas and experiences, will have a practical effect on the congress.

There are close to four score police chiefs attending, and this morning they were welcomed to Quebec City by Mayor Lavigueur who, in an address, especially bore on the subject of cooperation and close unity work between the police organizations of every city and province.

Photoplay News

PATRICIA.

"The Girl Who Did Not Care," a thrilling photo-drama, featuring James Morrison and Frankie Mann, is the leading attraction at the Patricia Theatre for the first three days of this week.

The picture is one characterized by intensely dramatic situations, and highly emotional climaxes.

Patricia Theatre patrons who witnessed the film at the Monday performances were unanimous in saying it was one of the best of its kind ever shown here.

The story concerns a wealthy manufacturer, who years after his wife had befriended and helped an orphan girl and taken her into their home, is lured away by the girl and casts aside his wife, pleading as an excuse the constant melancholy in which she is wrapped as the result of the loss of their only child, a son, who they believe was drowned, but whose disappearance was caused by the girl.

The son returns, and, meeting his mother, learns of her separation from his father and its cause. Against his own inclinations, to please his mother, he goes to his father's home to inform the latter that he is alive. There he meets the woman who brought about his own disappearance and his mother's woes. She becomes enamored of him, and he, realizing the fact, determines to repay her in her own coin. He permits her to make love to him, and thereby succeeds in releasing his father from the lure of sex, and in addition effects the reconciliation and reunion of his parents.

"The Brass Monkey," a comedy film is a laugh every foot of the reel.

The Dorio Duo, a man and a woman, present a highly creditable offering in operatic singing. Their selections are well chosen, and permit of great range for voices particularly suitable for high-class vocal numbers. Lovers of the operatic should not overlook this rare treat.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday Maurice Samuels and Company will present "At Ellis Island," a big-time vaudeville act introducing six people. "The Night Workers" is the feature film attraction for the end of the week, in addition to a Mutual weekly and a Cub comedy.

For dates in the near future Manager Stewart has booked some of the greatest productions in the world. Watch for the announcements.

MAJESTIC.

Fannie Ward in "Her Strange Wedding," a Lasky-Paramount production, is the feature attraction at the Majestic Theatre again today. In this picture Miss Ward is allowed wide scope for her inimitable style of acting. Her brilliant personality is the dominating feature of a picture replete with many interesting situations. Those who saw the picture at the Majestic yesterday pronounce it one of the best in which this brilliant star has appeared.

"Her Torpedoed Love," a Keystone comedy, is one of the funniest produced by this firm, which is saying a good deal. "Her Torpedoed Love" is one thrill after another, full of bombs and battles, shipwrecks and everything but sudden deaths.

Roy Griffin, the silver-voiced tenor, was tendered an ovation at the conclusion of his songs. His number, "A Broken Doll," was exceptionally well rendered.

The augmented Majestic orchestra render a novelty concert number, entitled, "Down South," introducing various effects to produce imitations of the southland, sounds and scenes.

Taken on the whole the Majestic show today is too good to miss.

Gives Testimony To The Genuineness of Lady Jean's Title

Port Huron Woman Writes To Indorse Spiritualist Preacher.

Rev. Lady Jean Hooper has sent in a letter received by her some time ago from a friend in Port Huron, Mich., Mrs. Ben Laforge of 815 Minnie street, as an answer to the question raised by "Curious" and "Also Curious" last week in The Advertiser in regard to her right to the use of the title "Lady." It is evident from the letter that Mrs. Laforge knew Lady Jean in England. The following is an extract:

"We often talk about you. My Husband never gets tired when i am telling him about you going hunting in England and ladys and gentlemen wore red coats. i often think I would like to see those good old days here again, don't you. i am sorry there should be any one that should think that you have no right with the Title Lady, you could not help having it as it was waiting for you Before you came to the Earth Plain. It is only for meanness, but never mind the good shall overcome the eavil. you can give my address to any one. i will be very pleased to rite and tell them that i new of you years ago when i lived in Dear old Hastings England."

The letter was dated Port Huron, Michigan, March 26, 1917. In a note accompanying the letter, Lady Jean Hooper says: "If you think it necessary, I will have her (Mrs. Laforge) give a sworn statement before a notary public. As to Mr. Moyer's yesterday's attack, I will answer it in the near future. In England we never answer a letter with no name signed. I am only sending you proof on account of my friends."

MAY SETTLE STRIKE ON COMPROMISE AGREEMENT

Linemen of London Electric Company Are Considering Offer Made.

The London Electric Company officials and the six linemen who went out on strike at Friday noon last met in conference last evening, when the company representatives made an offer to the men, which the latter are now considering.

The offer, it is understood, is in the form of a compromise, and owing to a number of concessions demanded by the men and granted by the company it is rumored today that the men will return to work.

The present scale of wages is 35 cents an hour for nine hours' work. The linemen demanded 42½ cents per hour, which is the union scale of wages.

The offer submitted by the company to the men, it is claimed, is 39 cents an hour.

Since the six men went out on Friday the necessary repairs have been made by emergency linemen ordinarily employed in other departments. By the aid of these men the company has overcome any inconvenience.

CANADA PROVIDES MANY COMFORTS FOR SOLDIERS

C. W. C. A. Annual Meeting Held in London, England—Good Reports.

At the annual meeting of the Canadian War Contingent Association, held in London, England, recently, the honorary secretary reported on the splendid work of this association in Canada with the aid of the Red Cross and the Imperial Daughters of the Empire. The following articles were received during the past year: Socks, 280,000; shirts, 12,500; gauze shirts, 1,600; woolen mufflers and wristlets, 9,500. Other articles issued to the troops were all kinds of smoking requisites, soap, candies and cakes of all kinds, candles, soup, cocoa and other canned foods.

The financial statement of this association shows an expenditure of approximately $61,000 on soldiers' comforts. Everything that passes through the C. W. C. A. is a free gift from Canada to her sons. The men in the trenches are well equipped and well fed by the Government, but they like to know that the people at home are remembering them, and sending them something to vary the monotony and discomfort of the trench life. The best way to give these is through this association, the Daughters of the Empire and the Red Cross.

Letters from every part of the fighting zone and from officers commanding the Canadian units tell of their appreciation of the comforts received.

SIDEWALK RIDERS TO HAVE HEAVIER FINES IMPOSED IN FUTURE

Magistrate Graydon Issues Warning That Practice Must Stop.

"If you men and boys will persist in riding your bicycles on the sidewalk contrary to the city bylaw, I will be forced to make the penalty more severe to put a stop to this dangerous practice," said Magistrate Graydon in police court today, as eighteen persons, ranging in age from 12 to 60 years, appeared before the bench.

When the magistrate had finished the police court clerk's desk looked like a bank counter on a busy day, although he had collected only a dollar from each.

Not one offered a good excuse for taking to the sidewalk instead of the road, except that the former was a better bicycle path.

"In disregarding the rights of pedestrians to the sidewalk, you men and boys have shown a decided indifference to the law," continued the magistrate. "I issued a warning some days ago, but from the looks of this today it appears to have been taken as a joke. It will not be a joke in the future if this thing isn't discontinued. If a small fine fails to have been taken as a joke, it will even up to $50, or a term in jail will.

In giving this warning the magistrate stated that many persons had complained of narrow escapes when bicyclists, coming from behind, had missed them only by a fraction of an inch.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

FOR MARKET IMPROVEMENT.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

As a woman who has taken a keen interest in co-operation between our country cousins who bring produce to the local market and city buyers, I would like to call attention to the injustice of providing no suitable place for the country women while offering for sale that which has cost them so much labor. Should they stand in water several inches deep, in a dark cellar? Is this the best we can offer at this time when so much is being written regarding greater production?

Those who are in sympathy with a movement to provide better accommodation may telephone 3866, Mrs. T. C. Duncan, 816 Waterloo street, city.

MOTHER SAYS CIDER DID NOT INTOXICATE NORWICH YOUNG MEN

WOODSTOCK, July 16. — A breach of the Ontario temperance act of a rather unusual nature was admitted in police court today by Roy Miles of North Norwich, whose plea of guilty was subsequently withdrawn by consent of the crown attorney, who agreed to a remand of a week in order that the accused might have a chance to bring fresh evidence.

The charge against Miles was laid as a result of complaints made of drunkenness at a garden party. It was learned that Miles had taken a quantity of cider there, and that a number of young men who partook of it became intoxicated. Miles was charged with having liquor in a place other than his private residence.

After the accused had refused to take a hint that, in view of the serious nature of the charge, he might care to reconsider his determination to plead guilty, the magistrate delayed entering sentence, pending a consultation with the young man's mother, who was in the city, and who was brought to court within a few minutes. She proved to be a widow, whose husband died recently, leaving her nothing but debts, which she has been striving valiantly, with the help of her son, to liquidate. The cider the latter took to the garden party was some which his mother had diluted with an equal quantity of water, and which she intended to use for making vinegar. She said she did not believe this could have made people drunk, and they must have obtained something stronger from someone other than her son.

The crown pointed out that if she could prove that the cider was not intoxicating her son could not be convicted. In order that she might have the best we can offer at this time when so much is being written regarding greater production?

Those who are in sympathy with a movement to provide better accommodation may telephone 3866, Mrs. T. C. Duncan, 816 Waterloo street, city.
