SISTER TO PRETENDER TO MONTEGRIN THRONE ASKS RELIEF FROM A DEBT FOR OFFICE RENT

MRS. M. B. DODD GOPCEVIC AND MILOS M. GOPCEVIC.

"M. B. Dodd Gopcevic, housewife," of Lakeport, Cal., has filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court, alleging that her liabilities are $5,100 and her assets nothing.

The petition in bankruptcy does not state that M. B. Dodd Gopcevic is the wife of the famous Milos M. Gopcevic, the street car gripman who married an heiress, Miss Harry Floyd, now dead.

Milos Gopcevic and Marion B. Dodd were married in San Francisco on June 16, 1910.

Miss Dodd was at that time prominent as the only woman steel operator on the Pacific coast.

KAISER'S DAUGHTER IS MARRIED TU-DAY

Day Dark and Overcast, But Crowds Were Out—Brides Dress Was Wonderful.

BERLIN, May 24.—The wedding day of the only daughter of the German Emperor and Empress, the Princess Victoria Luise, opened pleasantly as far as the weather was concerned.

From an early hour the streets were alive with people watching the constant passing of brilliantly uniformed attendants on the many royal personages including the British, German and Russian emperors gathered here for the ceremony.

The bride wore a wonderfully worked gown of silver brocade with a court train of the same material, embroidered with a myrtle and orange-flower design and lined with ermine.

The bride's veil, which like her entire toilette, was of German manufacture, was composed of a two-yard length of lace on which eighty Silesian girls had worked day and night for six weeks.

Before she was robed for the ceremony, Princess Victoria Luise took a short drive in Berlin and was cheered vociferously by immense crowds assembled in the neighborhood of the palace.

NINE MILLION STURDY YOUNG BRITISHERS SALUTED THE FLAG

Empire Day Celebrated in the Old Land—The Lord Mayor, Wearing Official Robes, Unfurls Union Jack Amid Ringing Cheers of School Boys and Girls—Much Patriotism Shown.

LONDON, May 24.—Children who live under British rule in all parts of the world saluted the flag yesterday in honor of Empire Day.

To-day is Empire Day, but as the schools are closed, the children had a foretaste of patriotism. The great event in London to-day will be a parade in Hyde Park in the afternoon.

The Lord Mayor reminded his youthful hearers that the British Empire was the greatest Empire the world had ever seen serving under one flag and under one King.

PLEASANT TIME AT ST. ANDREW'S

The young men of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church choir entertained the lady members of the choir at a banquet and concert in the parlors of the church last evening.

Miss Jennie Lee read some very original poetry. One of the boys was heard to murmur—it is awful.

The very pleasant evening was brought to a close by singing God Save the King.

Will smoking be abolished on the Brantford street cars? A drastic change has recently been put into effect in Hamilton, following legislation secured to abate complaints from ladies and others in regard to smoking on the street cars.

On the Hamilton radial, smoking will be allowed in the proper apartment, but the conductors have been ordered to prosecute anyone passing a bottle around or drinking on board.

A Plain Colonial Cement House
Designed By Chas. S. Sedgwick, Architect

This house is planned with a wide front, the main house being 36 ft. and the piazza at the side 12 ft. making 48 ft. width by depth of 28 ft. and estimated to build for $3,500. It sets low to the grade and the stories are 8 ft. 6 in. and 8 ft. in height with the roof cornice brought down close over the second story windows.
It is a sunny and pleasantly arranged house with a large living room across the main front and a porch and vestibule entrance at the left. In the centre of the living room is a wide fire-place with recessed book shelves on either side, and at the right a wide opening into the living room. At the rear is the kitchen with a convenient pantry connecting with the dining room. The stairs are liberal in size and on the combination order with grade entrance to the basement underneath and short section of stairs from the kitchen connecting with the main platform. The piazza or sun room at the left is connected with the living room by wide French windows and is 12 ft. in width by 14 ft. in depth, enclosed with glazed windows and screened.
The second floor has three large bed rooms and one small bed room, each provided with ample closet space. A large bath room is provided and stairs leading to the attic which is used for storage purposes. There is in addition a sleeping porch above the main sun room connecting with the main hall. There is a good basement under the entire house with laundry, heating rooms, etc.
The main floor is designed to be finished in Mission oak or fir and the second floor in birch. The exterior walls are cemented with a "pebble dash" finish, and all of the trimmings stained dark brown and the roof the same.

Furnishing To-Day's House

A beautiful long living room is always a source of delight to a woman, and its possibilities of attractiveness are great, and such good effects can be attained with comparatively small outlay.
The walls all down stairs in to-day's house and the hall of the second floor will be a light pinkish tan, the rug of both living and dining room to be of a much darker tan.
In the centre of the living room we will place a long rather narrow table, between the two front windows a low broad couch, and between the two side windows a desk. In one corner of the room there will be a great wing chair while near the fire place will be drawn two deep easy chairs. Near another window will be a small stiff upright chair, while tempting near we will place a small sewing table. The top of this can be conveniently used for magazines and books. In the space near the entrance into the hall, a tall clock would add much to the cheerfulness of the room.
For the upholstery of the large pieces of furniture we will select a linen tapestry of tan background as near as possible the shade of the walls. This should be well covered, and we will select one which has great dull blue passion flowers with many shades of green leaves with touches of dull browns and a very soft old rose. The blue of the key note of the room, upholstering the stiff chairs in the same shade of blue, and make dozens of sofa cushions all of solid dull blue. For the windows use a fish net bordered with a simple lace, and over these hang soft silk curtains of the dull blue now for the note of contrast you can use either a dull yellow or dull pink. These shades can be given by flowers in the window boxes, lamp shades and pieces of pottery. Have old brass andirons and fire set for the chimney place and if possible a brass club fender upholstered in dull blue leather.
The dining room we will do the same as the living room. But the sun

Hamilton Man Offered $92 Per Foot For Land Which Brought $50 Few Years Ago.

J. S. Boothman, real estate broker of Hamilton was in this city on Thursday, looking over some East Colborne Street property which he bought recently. He was offered $92 a foot for the property, which ten years ago changed hands at less than $50 a foot. Mr. Boothman considers Brantford real estate a good investment at current prices.
Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Mathews of Toronto, will spend the week-end with friends in the city.

MUSIC and DRAMA

At the Apollo.

The Apollo for this half of the week has a fine romantic story, "The Wives of Ireland," and at Jamestown: a Lubin, "The Mayor's Waterloo" a comedy, and a thrilling Selig, with some splendid pictures of horse-racing and driving, "A rough drive with Nitro-glycerine." The act is exceedingly artistic, a deep baritone, and a mezzo-soprano. Their songs, dialogues and duets are very good, indeed.
At the Grand.
At the evening performance of the Franklin Stock Company, at the Grand Opera House to-night the holder of the lucky number will receive a ten dollar bill.

Second Dragoon Notes.

The eighteen-month-old child of C.
R. Gilham, Brantford township, near Paris, had a close call from death.
The little tot was playing around the yard when it stumbled and fell head
first into a large milk pail containing some eight inches of water. When found the child was unconscious and thought to be dead. The mother,
however, applied first aid methods,
and after working over the little one
for half an hour restored it to consciousness. It is now doing fairly well.

vice of the company, is known from coast to coast.

The King's Plate, the most coveted trophy run on the Canadian turf, will be the big attraction of the opening of the Ontario Jockey Club's Spring meeting at Woodbine this afternoon. It is the bright particular feature of a programme pronounced by many as the best ever produced at this famous old racing ground. The running of this race, which is made up of the best of the Canadian breeds that have been shown in recent years. Not since the race was first inaugurated away back in 1860 has so much interest been attached to its running. In previous years the condition of this fixture, called for starters to be maidens at the time of the running of the stake. In keeping with the times, the Ontario Jockey Club changed the conditions last year so that winners of two-year-old races were not barred from starting, the only provision being that they should carry a five-pound penalty, and this year's Plate finds three of the ten programmes winners last season. Hearts of Oak, whose sensational form last season earned for him the title of the champion two-year-old Canadian bred of the season, will undoubtedly be the public choice. And he has every reason to be entitled to this honor. He was a great horse in 1912 and he has come back this Spring showing sensational speed in his trials for the Plate. Those who have watched his preparation for the race have simply gone wild with enthusiasm over his showing. He is pronounced by horsemen and trainers as being a second St. Bass, whose mile and a quarter in 1911 when he won, marked a record performance for the Plate. Hearts of Oak was beaten but three times last season; once at Woodbine, when in a six furlong race; another time when he got hung up in the barrier at the start and finished third to his stable companion Ondramida; and again by Anster, to whom he was conceding a ton of weight.

Hearts of Oak will run coupled with Ondramida as the Giddings entry, and will be ridden by Jockey J. Wilson, a lad who is rated as one of the best boys in the saddle to-day. The colt's best trial for the Plate has been a mile and a quarter in 2:11 4-5. In this work he finished in resolute fashion. The Giddings stable's other candidate, Ondramida, is by no means out of the race, and it would not be surprising to find them finish one, two. Jockey Gray has been engaged to ride the filly.

The Seagram and Brookdale stables are also represented by two starters in the Plate, Voivode and Maids of Honour will carry the colors of the Waterloo turfman, while Elfin and Crystianoga will represent the Messrs Dymont. Butwell will have the mount on Maids of Honour, and this means that she will be in competent hands. Montour will ride Voivode. Robert Davis' candidate, Gold Bud, started in last year's Plate.

Track conditions will necessarily cut some figure in the result. The Brookdale stable's Elfin, by Sain, is said to be a good mudder, and her chances may be improved in the event of the track being heavy. Indications, however, are for pleasant weather and a fast track, which ensures a true run contest.

Canadian League

OTTAWA, May 24.—The Senators took another game from Guelph yesterday by an 8 to 5 score. The game, which started out as a good battle, turned into a burlesque at the finish. Kubat started on the mound for the Senators and lasted to the third when he was replaced by Lill Harris hit, Witte's errors of Shaughnessy's fly and a sacrifice brought in two runs in the first for Ottawa. Brady's hit, Behan's two-bagger and Schuyler's single evened it up in the second. Callahan's two-bagger and Robertson's single gave the Senators another in the second. Guelph went ahead by scoring one in the third and in the fourth. Ottawa again evened in the fifth and sixth. With two men on, Shaughnessy hit to short, Harris being called safe at the plate on a very doubtful decision by Umpire Schuyler to second and finished on the mound himself, making a joke out of the remainder of the game.

The Senators got four runs in this innings while Fryer's two-bagger brought Schaeffer home.

OVERTIME TO WIN FOR THE SAINTS.

Peterboro Are Defeated in Ten Innings—Rowan Scored Only Run For Petes.

PETERBORO, May 24.—The Saints tallied one in the second and the locals had to wait till the ninth to get it back. Hilliard hit to right, sending Rowan home. In their half of the tenth the visitors scored a brace on Gurney's two-bagger, a boot by Brant and singles by Fergie and Craven. Then Baker struck out Swartz and McNeal. Byrne singled and Chapdelaine fanned. The Petes had 26 men left on bases in the last two games.

Miss Ada Diefenbacher of Waterloo, is the guest over the holiday of her sister, Mrs. W. A. Kinzie, Terrace Hill St.

THREE HITS ONLY FOR THE DUTCHMEN

Chaput Pitches Grand Ball for the Cocksney—Scores a Shut-Out

LONDON, May 24.—London won the second game from Berlin yesterday, when Pitcher Chaput let down the "Flying Dutchmen" with three hits by the score of 1 to 0. The French pitcher's record during the last two games is remarkable, as he only allowed five hits in the 18 innings, scoring shut-outs in both games. Bramble, the opposing pitcher was found for hits when they were playing the sacrifice game, and aided by errors, enabled them to score the four runs.

Many of them have been articles of infant wear, dainty little bits of frill work, even satiny, lace-lined hysingies and oaken cribs. Dealers in baby apparel from abroad have been among the donors. One enterprising firm sent an Italian lace spread with the baby's name and date of birth interwoven.

An interesting ceremony will take place next Wednesday evening, in the gymnasium of the Y. W. C. A., Hamilton, when the Girl Guides will have their colors presented to them. It was hoped at first that Lady Pellatt would be able to be present for the occasion, but she has been unfortunately prevented. The girls will give an exhibition of drills and other work of the Guides. I. O. D. E. DANCE AT THE ARMORIES

Most successful in every particular was the dance given under the Regimental Chapter of the I. O. D. E. at the Armories on Friday evening of this week—over five hundred being in attendance, the floor in excellent dancing condition, and the Regimental band under the direction of Mr. Frank Johnson, providing excellent music.

The affair was a rather unique one, as never before in Brantford has a really public dance been given, and the price of admission was so low that it left it open perhaps to criticism. That was unnecessary, however, from beginning to end the whole evening was one of enjoyment, nothing that the most fastidious could object to.

The illuminated crest of the Daughters of the Empire, and also the Regimental crest were in evidence above the platform where the band were placed in a large flag, suspended from the officers' gallery—and a buffet supper in charge of the ladies of the Chapter with Mrs. Bruce Gordon as convenor, served throughout the evening. Small tables and chairs also being placed for the better convenience of the guests.

The money realized is to go towards the endowment and furnishing of a cot, or if possible, a ward, in the Brantford General Hospital—for the sick of the Regiment. Official returns are not in yet, but as soon as possible will be published—in the meantime the Dufferin Rifles Chapter, I. O. D. E. are to be heartily congratulated on the success of the evening and the splendid work they are taking up.

At a meeting of the Hod Carriers and Builders' Laborers held Thursday night in Union Hall, the members considered the advisability of asking for an increase in wages. A committee was appointed to look into the matter and report at a general rally to be held on the night of June 5. The Hod Carriers are at present receiving 40c per hour and the excavators and concreters get 25c.

A modern watch movement is composed of about 150 distinct parts, and correct time-keeping depends upon unity of action of all these parts. The balance wheel of your watch vibrates one hundred and fifty-seven million times in two months. Do not frown because it asks a drop of oil once a year. Ordinarily at the end of six months the oil begins to deteriorate, then changes occur. A watch should be cleaned and re-oiled at suitable intervals, say twelve or eighteen months at farthest. Can we be of service to you?

DUNNVILLE GAS FIELD IS GREAT

A Big Find is Reported—Brantfordites are Interested in Prospects.

Brantfordites are said to be interested in the natural gas expansion as told in the following despatch from Dunnville:

The Dunnville natural gas basin is expanding has already been proven.

For nearly two weeks, Mr. Thomas J. McCutcheon, the well known contractor and natural gas producer has had a "wild cat" well drilled to the proper depth but shrouded in mystery. When he drilled deep enough and discovered that he had a large well he shut it in to acquire more territory. This well is located on the Lyburner farm, Canboro road, about four and a half miles west of Dunnville. The natural gas in this locality, and the consensus of opinion among gas experts was that Mr. McCutcheon was merely separating himself from some of his lease change.

Last Saturday afternoon this mystery well was opened to the public and through the courtesy of Mr. McCutcheon, the writer was taken by auto to this great well. Mr. McCutcheon himself acted as chauffeur. One turn of the gate valve made the well size and snort like a railroad locomotive blowing off its whistle.

This gas levitated hoared louder and louder until the noise became so deafening that the cows were glad to beat a hasty retreat.

The well was brought under subjection and treated to a mercurial test. The mercury was put into a glass tube, which was put over the two inch pipe. The volume of gas forced the mercury up five and two-tenths inches, after which it was figured by a mathematical set of tables which are as accurate as a Fahrenheit thermometer. This well was found to have a production of one million one hundred thousand cubic feet in 24 hours, making one of the largest gas wells ever drilled in the Dunnville field. He has 3000 acres of territory under lease, almost solidly blacked. The only man who has anything around him is Wm. J. Aikins, the well owner.

Forty years in use, 20 years the standard, preserved and recommended by physicians for Women's Ailments Dr. Martell's Female Pills, at your druggist's.

should know it. The husband said if she did so he would kill her.

Mrs. Louisa Garratt of Bow road, wife of a tobacco traveller said she had known the couple for several years by the name of Lothouse, this name being used by the husband for trading purposes. Witness gave evidence as to being in the house when the pair quarrelled. Witness saw the husband pull something out of his pocket then heard a report and saw smoke. Deceased ran up the steps and fell down on the pavement. Witness raised her head and spoke to her but got no answer. The police came and deceased was removed on an ambulance.

After further evidence the jury returned a verdict of willful murder against the husband.

GETTING GRAY? USE SAGE TEA TO RESTORE NATURAL COLOR OF HAIR.

Says Sage Tea Mixed With Sulphur Restores Natural Color and Lustre.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, and when it is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair, says a well-known local pharmacist. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and even to-day this simple preparation has no equal. Millions of women and men, too, who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive use only Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Nowadays we are not bothered with the task of gathering the sage leaves and the busy mixer of the same. Simply ask at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of the ready-to-use preparation, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Customers like this best because it darkens so naturally; so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it contains ingredients which take off dandruff, stop scalp itching, even like it. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; stop scalp itching and in two or three days it is restored to its natural color.

What delights the ladies with "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" is that besides beautifully darkening the hair they say it brings back the gleam and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Clermont Shut Hamilton Out on Friday--Great Distress in Ambitious City Over Red Sox Visit There

HAMILTON, May 24.—The Red Sox yesterday afternoon determined to repeat yesterday's performance, and they did it right, applying the whitewash to the Jungle Kings in the tune of 6 to 0.

Yankees Were The Surprise Of The First Inter-sectional Series

CLEVELAND, May 24.—The eastern clubs in the American League have completed the first inter-sectional series of the season, and are on their way back home with fewer scalps hanging to their belts than came off victors, having won thirty games to twenty-eight for the eastern teams.

The White Sox proved to be the strongest foe the invaders encountered. Chicago won eight and lost only five of their games to the teams from the other end of the circuit.

The Athletics proved to be the most consistent winners among the eastern teams. Mack's machine won seven and lost eight while in the west.

Boston, Washington and New York each lost eight and each won only five of their games to the teams from the other end of the circuit.

SPORTING COMMENT

Doubling Thomases who feared the Red Sox were doomed for the bottom rung of the ladder should certainly take heart after yesterday's returns from Hamilton.

London and Brantford are tied for fourth place, but Hamilton is snipping white Ottawa is ascending the ladder, close to St. Thomas.

Bill Baker must be a wonder this year. He beat Peterboro in ten innings yesterday, facing the good pitcher Tracy.

Peterboro, Berlin and Guelph are hitting the chutes. These teams look very much like in-and-outers, and might be considered out of the race already.

The Red Sox scored their first shut out yesterday. Clermont is to be congratulated.

If the Red Sox can beat Billy Rose to-day they can win the pennant, but Rose needs better support than Teed got yesterday.

Slemm and Wagner had the only stolen bases in yesterday's game at Hamilton.

Shortstop Tyson accumulated six errors in his shortstop for Hamilton yesterday. That ought to help some of the local fans forget around here when a Red Sox has a bad day.

The Woodbine opens to-day and all the pari-mutuel five per cent. Call it a rake off or what you will, the machine system of betting seems to be putting the racing game back where it can still be called the sport of kings.

Cleveland for some years has not occupied such a prominent position in the American League race as this year. Apparently a couple of improvements in the field with better hitting have made the Naps some club.

Brundage got two hits yesterday. "Our Dopester," on the other corner should insist upon his being fired.

Here is the Courier selection for the King's Plate race to-day, Ged-dicks at stable for the guineas. Gold Bud for the place and Seagram to show. Watch our dope.

Bramble, the Berlin pitcher who nearly always beats Brantford is not pitching as good this year as usual.

What Hamilton Thinks Of Our Base Ball Club

(Hamilton Herald). (The Spectator).

After yesterday's entertainment at the Tiger lot, we have come to the conclusion that Knotty Lee and his band of striped warriors cannot stand the game against Amby Kane and his Dykeville squad with a one-game lead over St. Thomas; to-day they are tied up again, and while they are jockeying for the premier position, "Shag" and his Senators are liable to slide past the pair.

Too much Ray Collins and a little too much Umpire Daley resulted in a Hamilton defeat at the cricket field yesterday, when the Brantford Red Sox opened the first series with the "Umps" Daley putting a 5 to 2 victory.

Bill Baker must be a wonder this year. He beat Peterboro in ten innings yesterday, facing the good pitcher Tracy. If he keeps that work up, St. Thomas should get a barrel of money for him.

Sermon by CHARLES T. RUSSELL, Pastor Brooklyn Tabernacle.

EVIL OF SATAN'S MONSTROUS LIE

Pastor Russell Says Satan Is Father of Lies—Quotes Jesus' Assertion.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 18.—Pastor Russell's address to-day on Satan's great lie was a remarkable one in several ways. He really told his audience that they had all been believing Satan's lie. And he really told spirit mediums that they were the mediums, not between the dead and the living humans, but between humans and demons—the fallen angels. And yet the Pastor said all this in such a kindly, sympathetic manner that surely none could take offense. Evidently no offense was intended, but merely the presentation of what the speaker assuredly believes to be the teaching of the Bible.

He opened his address by noting the fact that the common conception whereabout is wholly false, built not upon the Bible, but upon human tradition, human imagination, handed down from a darker day. The Pastor believes in a real, personal Satan, and believes him to be Beelzebub, the prince of demons. In other words, he believes the Bible to teach that Satan is an angel of higher rank than ordinary angels and possessed of superior powers. Hence he outranks those who are with him, and perforce is their leader, or prince.

That Satan is not in some far-off place with his fallen angels, torturing millions of the human family in furnaces, the Pastor made very clear. He showed that nothing of the kind is taught in the Scriptures. On the contrary, they teach that Satan and his host, since the Deluge, are under restraint, confined to Tartarus, our earth's atmosphere. They cannot wander around the universe, as before. Satan is very literally, therefore, "the prince of the power of the air," and his associate demons are members of this aerial, or spirit power, malevolent as respects everything that is of God and righteousness, and friendly to the forces, of such of humanity as renounce the works of the flesh and the Devil and seek to walk in the footsteps of Jesus.

That the serpent in Eden, the serpent used as Satan's tool, Satan himself was originally the only rebel. His associates, the fallen angels, were not with him in his rebellion until sometime afterward. The Pastor would not say that the serpent could not speak under a satanic impulse or obsession or hypnosis, but he inclined to believe that the serpent was under its actions. He quoted the proverb which declares that "actions speak louder than words." He thought that this was probably the secret of his power with mankind. If men knew that they were being led captive into sin at the will of Satan and his fallen hosts, they would rebel against him. In order to hold humanity as far as possible his slaves, he realized that he must seduce them by fostering ignorance and superstition. He must alienate them from God. Therefore he caused them to think of God as a terrible being, unworthy of their love and confidence, one whom they might fear, but could not worship in spirit and in truth. As a basis for this great scheme of human enslavement and obsession, Satan used his original lie. For now four thousand years he has sought by every means in his power to instill that lie into the minds of all humanity in every land. He has his demon host to co-operate with him, and his power to appear darkness, and darkness appear light, to deceive mankind.

How wonderfully he has succeeded the whole world is witness today. Notwithstanding the fact that man's five senses tell him that the dead are dead, the masses believe to the contrary—that the dead are more alive than before they died. Notwithstanding the consistency of God's Word, "Thou shalt surely die," and the inconsistency of Satan's lie, "Ye shall not surely die," the whole world is so discouraged that he determined to die with his wife, loving her so much that he would rather die with her than live without her.

Satan's object in telling this lie, in deceiving our first parents, was made very clear by the Pastor. From other Scriptures he pointed out that Satan for some time had been saying to his heart that he would like to have and to exercise still higher powers than those which he possessed. He would like to be "as the Most High." He would be a sovereign, who might work out his own plans. He had no thought of supplanting the Almighty, but had the pride to suppose that he could manage the universe better than God could, and that if he had a small section under his control, he would demonstrate this and put the Almighty to the blush.

When man was created, Satan's opportunity for exercising his ambition seemed to have come. Man possessed a power which the angels had not, and was commissioned to fill the earth with a population and to bring it to Edenic perfection. Satan saw his chance. By capturing the first pair and making them his subjects and alienating them from the Almighty, he would capture a race, and eventually be the prince, or ruler, of this world. It was to carry out this program that he deceived our first parents and started his great lie. When Satan perceived that his subjects were perishing and becoming imbecile, mentally and physically, he thought to circumvent the Divine penalty by introducing fresh vigor into the human family. This he did by seducing some of the angels. Originally angels apparently had the power of materialization—of taking human form, or any other form that they might choose. Satan's program deflected some of these from their loyalty to God and to their nature, and induced them to materialize and live as human beings and rear human families, by taking human wives. The Pastor pointed out the Scripture which described this deflection of the angels. This, he said, must have progressed for centuries, according to the Bible account. The angels "sons of God" saw the daughters of men that they were fair, and they took unto themselves wives of all that they chose. There were born unto them children, "men of renown," intellects, and giants physically. The virility of the angels grafted upon the human stock, produced a race in some respects superior, but in others very inferior. Begotten and born in opposition to the Divine will and in a rebellious attitude of heart, these giants were brutish, devilish. Soon the earth was filled with violence. The impaired race of Adam, enslaved mentally and physically, were rapidly being demonized also. So far as the record goes, only Noah and his family were of pure Adamic stock and loyal to God. Then the time came for the Deluge, which God had foreknown, and had withheld until this time. In it God swept away both the progeny of the angels and the impaired Adamic stock. None of them, therefore, have any share in the redemptive work of Jesus, and hence none of them will have any part in the resurrection and restitution, which God has promised, and which is accomplished by the glorious Messiah during the thousand years of His Messianic Kingdom. They merely perished—were blotted out in the Deluge as natural brute beasts, as St. Peter declares of all willful sinners of Adam's race.—2 Peter 2:12.

"The angels which kept not their first estate—who followed the lead-ership of Satan—were cast to Tartarus—our earth's atmosphere—and there are restrained for a time that they may not roam throughout the universe. (Jude 6.) They are restrained also for a time from materializing in human form—Satan like-wise. Thus Satan's plan for empire failed. But still rebellious in spirit, God took up a new line of battle against God. He would be content to use humanity as his tools, even though they were imperfect and dying. He should be able to speak by his would embitter them against God, and defeat God's plans on behalf of humanity.

Satan realized that the secret of his power with mankind must lie in his deception of them. If men knew that they were being led captive into sin at the will of Satan and his fallen hosts, they would rebel against him. In order to hold humanity as far as possible his slaves, he realized that he must seduce them by fostering ignorance and superstition. He must alienate them from God. Therefore he caused them to think of God as a terrible being, unworthy of their love and confidence, one whom they might fear, but could not worship in spirit and in truth. these have a mental disease, but are controlled by outside influences. The Pastor urged all to accept the testimony of God's Word—that death is the penalty for sin; that the death of Jesus is the redemption-price from the curse of death, and that the resurrection of the dead, the raising up again to perfection of life, is the salvation of the Bible. Not only would this help us to come near to God, through a better understanding of the Bible, but it would help to free us from the various snares of the Adversary.

Furthermore, he found in the Bible intimations that in the very near future these evil spirits would be permitted to break over their restraints and that all not properly fortified by the truth on the subject would be liable to be specially ensnared by Satan's lie. He would not prophesy what this time would be, nor just how it would come, but he did warn his hearers. He urged all to come out from the influence of Satan and his slanders of God, and to enlist under the banner of Jesus as servants of truth and righteousness.

Jesus declared Satan to be the Father of lies. This corroborates the thought that never until Satan started the course of sin was there any need for lies. All of God's dealings with the angels and their dealings with each other have been along the lines of simplicity, truth, purity, holiness. The first use for a lie was when Satan determined to exalt himself as the god of the earth. It was to alienate our first parents from the Almighty that Satan lied to them, assuring them that disobedience to God would not bring the death penalty that God had declared. Ever since then, sin, as Satan has given temptation to misrepresentations, bearing false witness, etc.

Selfishness was the foundation for the first lie. And selfishness continues to invite falsehood, even among those who see clearly how despicable falsehood is. And each falsehood seems to call for another to help justify it, and to cover up the selfishness which prompted it. It is the Apostle who urges those who become Christians to put away lying, saying, "Lie not one to another." As Satan stands as the Father of lies, and God, on the contrary, stands as the Father of Truth.

Our Lord not only said that Satan is the Father of lies, but intimated that the lying spirit is at Satan, as being to some of those who opposed the Truth. Ye are of your father, the Devil, if his works ye do. "He was a murderer from the beginning and abode not in the Truth, as always the Truth, is the personification of Light, Truth, even as Satan personifies darkness, error, falsehood.

The conflict between light and darkness, truth and error, has progressed for more than six thousand years. God's Word is always the Truth. He prayed, "Sanctify them through Thy Truth; Thy Word is Truth." Satan's falsehoods are always injurious; hence the promise is, "I shall take His great power and reign. He will bind Satan, the Prince of Darkness, that he may deceive the nations no more."

Here we have another corroboration of the fact that the great deceiving power amongst mankind for six thousand years has been a spirit, not a man. No wonder that under this domination of Satan we have had what St. Paul calls a reign of sin and death. No wonder the Bible declares that in the Divine standpoint the world has been in darkness! "Darkness covers the earth; gross darkness the heathen." Jesus came, and brought light into the world. But men love darkness rather than light because their deeds are evil; because sin has gained such a hold upon them, because it is easier for them to remain under the blinding influence of Satan than to come under the blessed light of the Gospel of Christ in the present time. It costs something now to be a follower of the Prince of Light, an opposer of the Prince of Darkness, whose realm is world-wide.

How glad we are that the morning of the new Day is so near! As Jesus explains (Matthew 13:43) "Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the Kingdom of the Father." Himself and His elect Church, gathering from every nation and denomin-ation, will constitute the glorious ruling Power of the New Dispensation. Jesus likens His Kingdom to the sun, earth and drives away its mist, so will the Sun of Righteousness arise and all the ignorance, superstition, falsehood, and bring to all mankind a true knowledge of God. The light of the knowledge of the glory of God shall fill the whole earth, as the war which covers the great deep—Isaiah 11:9; Habakkuk 2:14.

Daring and Credulity.
Martin Frobiher's adventures in search of the Northwest passage form a curious mixture of daring and credulity. With the piratical instinct of the true Elizabethan, Frobiher was determined to forego exploration in quest of phantom gold. One of his sailors had brought home a piece of black pyrite, which the goldsmiths of London declared to contain no gold, but which an Italian quack valued highly. The Italian's advice being preferred, Frobiher's aid's icy moun-tains and brought home 200 tons of rubbish that much tarnished the credit of latter days.

A schoolmaster in the country delivered an address to the scholars, of which the following passage is an example:
"You boys ought to be kind to your little sisters. I once knew a bad boy who struck his little sister a blow over the eye. Although she didn't fade and die in the early summer-time, when the June roses were blooming, with the sweet words of forgiveness on her pallid lips, she rose, and hit him over the head with a rolling-pin, so he couldn't go to school for more than a month, on account of not being able to put his hat on."

MRS. AVA WILLING ASTOR REJECTS PROPOSAL OF MARRIAGE OF COUNT

London society is much interested in the report that Mrs. Ava Willing Astor, who divorced the late Colonel John Jacob Astor, who perished in the Titanic disaster, has rejected a proposal of marriage from young Count George Festetics. Mrs. Astor said that she intends again to wed again. The Count is a chamberlain at the Austro-Hungarian Embassy at London. Mrs. Astor says she intends to return to New York in July for a long stay, probably through the fall and winter. While in New York she will be with her son, William Vincent Astor. He is, by all reports, greatly attached to her and to his sister.

VERSAILLES FETE TO ECLIPSE SHAKESPEARE BALL IN MAGNITUDE

Royal Academy Exhibition Turns Out Uninteresting

Mainly a Display of Portraits and Most of These of Persons Totally Unknown in Society or to the Ordinary Spectator and by Unknown Artists.

TWO "PROBLEMS" BY MR. COLLIER AND MR. BUNDY

(Special Dispatch.)
 LONDON, May 24.
 IT is said that once that the one hundred and forty-fifth exhibition of the Royal Academy of Arts at Burlington House is not a popular academy. That was what the newspapers said of last year's academy, but this one is even less popular. A mere glance at the walls makes one wonder what is happening to English art. It is said that there is a slump in art nowadays; that all the money available is being spent on the acquirement of old masters, which are now realizing such fabulous prices. It is true that there are many fine examples of the work of such well known portrait painters and landscape artists and subject painters as Professor Sir H. von Herkner, Sir P. Burne-Jones, Mr. William Llewellyn, Mr. J. J. Shannon, Sir E. J. Poynter, Mr. John Lavery, John S. Sargent, Sir Luke Fildes, Mr. Joseph Farquharson, the Hon. John Collier and others, who are old friends, and some by welcome newcomers; but it is on the whole a most uninteresting exhibition.

It is mainly an exhibition of portraits—portraits of distinguished personages and beautiful women by noted artists, but in a great measure portraits of persons who are totally unknown to society or to the ordinary spectator, by unknown artists, so that one marvels how they ever got a place on these walls.

On the other hand it is perhaps good for some of the less known landscape and subject painters that there is a pleasure to turn from there to look at pictures which under other circumstances might have passed almost unnoticed.

To take the portraits first, interest will naturally centre on the much talked of picture by Mr. John Lavery of the King and Queen with the Prince of Wales and Princess Mary at Buckingham Palace. It was expected that this would prove the feature of this year's exhibition. To say it is a disappointment is putting it mildly. Some may say they recognize the King in the group, but it would be hard to see any likeness in either the Queen or the Prince and Princess. On the other hand, the portrait of the King by Mr. Arthur S. Cope, painted for the United Service Club, is an admirable portrait, perfectly lifelike and a credit to the painter. That by Mr. William Llewellyn of the Queen, also for the United Service institution, depicting her majesty in court dress, with a diamond necklace, is, however, only a moderately good presentation and is hardly likely to find many admirers.

Of the portraitists none is so successful as Professor Herkner. He is represented by a half dozen portraits of interesting well known persons. Including Sir Berkeley Moynihan, F. R. C. S., with hands in the pocket of his jacket; Lord Shuttleworth of Cawthorne, admirable in the strong expression of the mobile face; Mr. Justice Gregorie Deane, Viscount Morley, in his doctor's robes; Dr. Arthur Hertz and Sir Frederick Macmillan, interesting, too, is Francis Olaf of Norway, by Mr. Herbert Stanley, a bright, sunny picture of the popular little Prince of Norway that brings a pleased smile to the spectator.

In the portraits of women, none is more successful than Mr. Solomon J. Solomon. Those of Mrs. Gladstone, Mrs. Newman, and Mrs. Melbourne, are well-nigh perfect specimens of this art. Both are clad alike in black velvet dresses, with purple scarves thrown lightly over their shoulders; both are posed alike, leaning on the pedestals of pillars with a leafy background. Sir E. Burne-Jones is represented by two portraits—Sir Edward Elgar and Mr. Richard Ward—and Mr. J. Shannon adds to his great reputation by five portraits, notably Mrs. E. Wynne Chapman, in white and blue spotted muslin dress, standing under a tree. Her smile is charming; and the animated, smiling of Florence, daughter of Mr. C. W. Henderson, a three-quarter length, are beautifully portrayed; but Lady Ashby St. Leger and her son, the child leaning over his mother's knees, is one of the most attractive picture portraits in the exhibition.

Mr. John Lavery is more successful with his portrait of Lady Gwendolen Spencer Churchill than in his royal group; and a couple of mountain scenes, "The Summit of the Jungfrau," and "Japanese Switzerland," show him at his best.

The late Francis Paget, D. D., Bishop of Oxford, is shown by Mr. Sydney P. Hall in his robes as Chancellor of the Order of the Garter, and two other fine, strongly expressed portraits by the same artist are General Sir Dighton Probyn and the Rev. Douglas Macleane, Canon and prebendary of Salisbury Cathedral. Bernard, son of Mr. H. C. Brassey, M. P., by Mr. Ralph Peacock, is an admirable picture portrait. The boy is seen in white sweater and knickers, and bare limbs, standing by a stream with fishing rod, apparently cut by himself from a tree; and Mr. Onslow Ford is represented by only one, Lord Wellington, High Steward of Cambridge University.

Another interesting portrait is that of Sir Frederick A. Eaton, secretary of the Royal Academy, seated at his desk in his office, by Sir E. J. Poynter, who has also a portrait of Sir Edward White, and three other works all in strong contrast to each other. One is "The Vision of St. Andrew," a reclining figure hidden in the dark forest foreground, and the "vision" a nude figure descending in a circle of blue light in the background; another is "At Low Tide," a rocky figure of a nude girl sitting on a rock in a cavern; and the third is an exquisite water color drawing entitled "May Day on the Lake."

The portraits of Mr. John S. Sargent, which in past years were features of the academy, are now absent. He is now contenting himself with live studies. Of these "Spanish Gypsies," a small canvas of a scene in Spain, with a group of gypsies, sheltering from the heat of the afternoon sun, is one of the attractions of Gallery III, where the majority of the most interesting pictures are hung.

Among other of Mr. Llewellyn's portraits besides the royal picture is an excellent three-quarter length of the Viscountess Maitland, in white satin empire dress, leaning on a pedestal, over which is thrown a blue cloak, the Lady Harlech and the Hon. Mrs. Maitland; and Sir Fildes is represented by two, Viscountess Downe and Mrs. Sofer Whitburn.

The feature of gallery VI is a life size equestrian portrait of Earl Roberts, by Adrian Jones, in which the distinguished general is depicted sitting on his charger on the top of a kopje, at the time of the South African war, while underneath his khaki-clad troop are seen firing guns.

Among the pictures by which one pleases to linger longest is the problem picture by the Hon. John Collier, "A Fallen Idol." This distinguished artist, who has a story to tell in every picture he paints, with a puzzling underlying mystery, here depicts a young woman on a high stool on the floor of a library, clinging to the knees of her bewildered husband. She has apparently just made a confession, and the question to be answered is, will he pardon her? As in all Mr. Collier's problem pictures, the question might be answered in more than one way, and "A Fallen Idol" is likely to be the most talked of picture in this year's Academy. The man's eyes seem to express at once amazement, grief, anger and pain, and the softness of a love not yet quenched. His left hand covers his wife's but, half clenched, it does not seem to denote relenting.

"The men went in for gorgeous embroideries and brocades, and the seams of their coats were sewn in pearls and other jewels. They wore tremendous periwigs—very uncomfortable. I should imagine, for a hot night in June."

Groups are being made up to represent historic personages at the various courts of Europe about 1680. The most splendid of these is that of Louis XIV. himself, arranged by Lady Paget.

The part of Louis will be taken by Count Saurmarokoff Elston, a young Russian nobleman, who has been at Oxford. The seams of his gorgeous costume will be sewn with real sapphires and diamonds. The Dauphin will be another Oxford man, Prince Paul of Serbia, the nephew of King Peter.

A very interesting quartet will be Racine, a part to be taken by Mr. F. E. Smith, K. C. M. P.; La Fontaine of "The Fables," by Mr. A. E. W. Mason, novelist; Mignard, the painter, by Mr. Benjamin Franklin, a descendant of Benjamin Franklin and stepson of Mr. T. P. O'Connor, M. P., and Moliere.

At midnight, Louis, attended by his court and attended by his bodyguard of Swiss Guards, will hold a reception of other sovereigns of the time, who will be attended by their respective courts.

The English Court is being arranged by Lady March, whose husband is a direct descendant of Charles II. Lady Drogheda is arranging the court of the Great Mogul; Lady Garvagh, a Dane herself by birth, that of Denmark and Norway; the Duchess of Somerset that of Spain, Lady Allington and Lady Maud Warrender that of Russia, and the Countess Blucher von Walsdorf that of Brandenburg, the States that has since expanded into Prussia.

COURT OF LOUIS XIV. TO BE SEEN AGAIN AT LONDON COSTUME BALL

SOME OF THE ORGANIZERS OF COURT GROUPS FOR THE VERSAILLES FETE IN JUNE

Historic Personages to Appear for Charity in Dress of 1680 at Albert Hall.

(Special Dispatch.)
 LONDON, May 24.
 NOW it is expected that the Versailles costume ball, at the Albert Hall, which will be the biggest thing of that sort during the season, will eclipse the Shakespeare ball, out of which $60,000 was cleared. As far as possible the costumes will be of 1680, the year in which the Dauphin, the son of Louis XIV., was married.

"It was the most magnificent period of costume that ever was," Mr. Herbert Rowley, the well known authority on historical and theatrical costume, said to an interviewer, "as regards both men and women. The men went in for gorgeous embroideries and brocades, and the seams of their coats were sewn in pearls and other jewels. They wore tremendous periwigs—very uncomfortable. I should imagine, for a hot night in June."

Groups are being made up to represent historic personages at the various courts of Europe about 1680. The most splendid of these is that of Louis XIV. himself, arranged by Lady Paget.

Court Season Ends in June

King, Enthusiastic Over Potteries, to Make Tour of Industrial Centres of Great Britain.

(Special Dispatch.)
 LONDON, May 24.
 THE two final courts of the season will be held on successive nights—Monday, June 9, and Tuesday, June 10. At these the assemblies will be very great, as many will attend who have been prevented from one cause or another from attending court previously this year, but who will be anxious to do so before the season closes.

The royal circle at each of these courts will be larger than has hitherto been the case, though it is hardly likely the Duchess of Connaught will be able to be present. There will be two state balls at Buckingham Palace in June, the first probably on June 13, which is just before the Ascot meeting, for which there will be the usual big party at Windsor Castle.

Horses in Art as Well as Flesh at Olympia

Exhibition of Paintings, Photographs and Models in Connection with the Horse Show.

(Special Dispatch.)
 LONDON, May 24.
 AN exhibition of paintings, photographs and models of horses, which is to be held at Olympia this year concurrently with the International Horse Show, promises to be a very attractive addition to the features of this great show.

These newly contemplated itineraries will probably be arranged for the early part of next year, and the royal headquarters will most likely be Lambton Castle, the Earl of Durham's place, and the Earl of Harewood's residence, near Leeds.

Name flowers, often employed for dinner table and house decoration. Princess Pless is called "Daisy," and her table is apt to be dressed with marguerites. Lady Hood, wife of Viscount Hood, whose name is Primrose, favors primroses. Lady Bath, the Lily Langris of old days, once had her table done with water lilies laid on a sheet of looking glass, and another Lily scored a success with pyramids of lilies—white biscuit china and his white lilies—a cool effect when the thermometer soared to the nineties. When Lord Rosebery gave a ball in Berkeley square, the ballroom, sitting out rooms and staircase were decorated with red and pink hothouse roses—primroses were not obtainable in February. One or two women who have the name of Rose use roses in water and summer, and a certain popular girl in society whose name is Ivy had a tea at which the tables were decorated with trails of ivy. A Myrtle and a Pansy used their name flowers for the same purpose.

Hornets Maligned; Really They're Pets

Little Innocents Quite Willing to Be Friendly, Says Their Earnest Defender.

(Special Dispatch.)
 LONDON, May 24.
 WASPS occasionally have been heard of as pets, but it has been reserved for Major Hurstons to do the job. Major Hurstons, of the Royal Artillery, writes in Knowledge he states that, when walking down Chiswick lane many years ago, he discovered hornets busy around four straw hives in the front garden of a cottage.

"I entered," he says, "and asked the proprietor to let me observe them. I found that he had no bees. He lifted up a hive and let me observe the queen at work. He said that he felt no danger whatever."

Major Hardy adds that he personally has "no fear whatever of these innocent and useful creatures, who seem quite willing to share our dwellings with us if encouraged to do so."

It may be recalled that Mr. Bates in his account of his experiences on the Amazon states that at first he killed hornets which flew near his face. But having observed them closely and noted that they killed them and was rather glad of their company.

It is suggested that the time may come when every well regulated household will keep its hornet to deal with flies, as it now keeps its big dog to guard against burglars.

Water Diviners Are Dealt a Hard Blow

Report on Recent Exhaustive Tests Goes Against the Men with the Little Sticks.

(Special Dispatch.)
 LONDON, May 24.
 WATER diviners are hit hard by the conclusions contained in the report submitted to the Sanitary Board and Municipal Engineering, of the committee which recently conducted exhaustive tests of the powers of seven water diviners over a carefully selected site at Guildford. On the whole, it is stated, the diviners have failed to carry conviction.

The general conclusions of the committee are that whatever sensitiveness to underground water may exist in certain persons, of which some evidence has been given, it is not sufficiently definite and trustworthy to be of much practical value.

Moreover, the lack of agreement with each other shows that "it is more a matter of personal magnetism than any direct influence of the water. The diviners as a rule confine their attention to small streams of water, and as there are few places where these cannot be found they may well show a large percentage of success."

These scientific remarks are justified when it is noted that part of the test was carried over a lawn that covered a reservoir, and that though one or two of the diviners said there was some indication of water, the basal twigs of none of them showed an agitation commensurate with so large a body of water directly beneath their feet.

In other parts of the test also the diviners, who, it is noted, showed an entire absence of agreement in their findings, though indicating "water" more or less definitely, said nothing of a large sewer on a well known spring yielding 50,000 gallons per hour.

Substitute for Petrol Now Near Discovery in London

Imperial College of Science and Technology, Which Resents Being so Little Known, Is at Work Quietly on Schemes That Have a Far Reaching Effect on World's Industries.

DELVING INTO SECRETS OF PLANTS AND INSECTS

(Special Dispatch.)
 LONDON, May 24.
 THERE is a trum that Londoners know nothing about London. Not one cockney could name correctly all the stone palaces that lie around the Imperial Institute at South Kensington. Most persons regard them vaguely as adjuncts to what is equally vaguely known as the "South Kensington Museum."

One of these institutions revolted the other day and held a reception specially for the purpose of making its objects and achievements known. It was the Imperial College of Science and Technology, which links together as in a chain, incorporated the old Royal College of Science, the Royal College of Mines and the City and Guilds (Engineering) College—and is itself a unit of the University of London.

In the Imperial College they are cultivating the germs of many a business in Guinny. The adoption for instance of an effective substitute for petrol will have an enormous effect on the automobile and many other industries. In the laboratories of the Imperial College of Science this problem is being brought daily nearer solution.

While the Stock Exchange was indulging in financial hysterics about rubber, the college was carrying on researches of the most vital kind, to insure the preservation and productivity of rubber trees. One result of this has been an enormous demand for graduates of the college on rubber plantations.

Mr. and Mrs. Havelock Ellis, After 22 Years of Married Life, Friends

(Special Dispatch.)
 LONDON, May 24.
 THE theories of Mr. Lillian Bell, the American novelist who has declared that husbands and wives should live apart, have a distinguished English supporter in Mrs. Havelock Ellis, the well known writer and lecturer, who has been married for twenty-two years, but only occasionally lives under the same roof as her husband.

Mrs. Havelock Ellis, who is a charming woman with a vivid personality, told an interviewer something of the ideas on which her marriage was based.

"We began with the idea that we would see very little of one another," she said. "We were determined not to lapse into the peaceful or off-hand 'Yes, dear' and 'No, dear' of the usual married couple. The result after twenty-two years of marriage, is that we find ourselves still eager to meet as often as possible."

"I have my quarters in town, and my husband has his. Then I have a little cottage in Cornwall, and he has one in Middlesex. We invite each other for little holidays and get the greatest possible enjoyment out of them. On one occasion we were travelling to Cornwall together and attracted the attention of some others in the same compartment, who afterwards, wondering who we were, described us to a friend. 'Oh, they must have been the Havelock Ellises,' said our friend, recognizing our description. 'Oh, no,' said the other, 'they couldn't have been married. They were so interested in each other.' "Of course, we were interested in each other. We hadn't met for two weeks, and had all sorts of things to talk about. Another delightful thing which I should miss if we lived in the traditional way is the letter that comes at least once a day. I know husbands and wives who have never had the pleasure of writing to one another since their wedding. I do not say that the system would suit all persons, but I am convinced that those of highly sensitive natures, who cannot stand the strain of continued intimacy. There are others, of course, who have not the slightest conception of genuine romantic love and never will have. My husband is a philosopher, and it is absolutely essential to him that he should be alone during a great deal of his time, while I am a social being. Think how absurd if he were always imploring me to stay at home, or if I were constantly dragging him out!

"I believe that each man and wife should work out his or her own scheme of marriage to suit their individual temperaments and without regard to present conventions. Look at the married women of to-day. Look at their faces—no hopes, no happiness. Many of them have as low an idea of love that one wonders how they can endure existence. They look on it as a sort of disease that has to be got through somehow or other. 'The best things—really the only things—in life are faith, and work, and love.'"

Here students were at work cutting up cockroaches to find the nature of the parasites inside them and delving into many other secrets of insect life. Professor Lefroy and his assistants are going shortly to spray 800 trees in Richmond Park with lead chromate, a substance which, according to his investigations, should make short work of the caterpillars, at present ravaging the tree-tops, and at the same time prove harmless to the deer.

In another department there are lumps of wood which to the layman look like material for log fires. They are specimens Guinny. The adoption for instance of an effective substitute for petrol will have an enormous effect on the automobile and many other industries. In the laboratories of the Imperial College of Science this problem is being brought daily nearer solution.

Another room is given over to the vivisection of plants, often with surprising results. The college shows every day how the sciences are interlocked. Mining engineers, for example, come here to know what woods are strongest, and how to preserve props from rotting.

Of course, we were interested in each

I am convinced that those of highly

WATER DIVINERS ARE DEALT A HARD BLOW

Report on Recent Exhaustive Tests Goes Against the Men with the Little Sticks.
(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, May 24.
WATER diviners are hit hard by the conclusions contained in the report,
published in the Sanitary Record and Municipal Engineering, of the committee which recently conducted exhaustive tests
of the powers of seven water diviners over a carefully selected site at Guildford. On the whole, it is stated, the diviners have failed to carry conviction.

The general conclusions of the committee are that whatever sensitiveness to underground water may exist in certain persons, of which some evidence has been given, it is not sufficiently definite and trustworthy to be of much practical value.
Moreover, the lack of agreement with each other shows that it is more a matter of personal mentality than any direct influence of the water. The diviners as a rule confine their attention to small streams of water, and as there are few places where these cannot be found they may well show a large percentage of success.

These scathing remarks are justified
when it is noted that part of the test
was carried over a lawn that covered a reservoir, and that though one or two of the diviners said there was some indication of water, the basal twice of none of them showed an agitation commensurate with so large a body of water
directly beneath their feet.

In other parts of the test also, the diviners—who, it is noted, showed an entire absence of agreement in their findings—though indicating "water"
more or less definitely, said nothing of a large sewer or a well known spring
yielding 50,000 gallons per hour.

THEY ARE AT THE MERCY OF A BOLD PIRATE GANG

A British Steamer Leaving Hong Kong is Captured By a Ruthless Gang—Case Reported.

Particulars were received by the General Merchant Service Guild
yesterday from their Hong Kong branch of the recent attack upon a British steamer by Chinese pirates.
The steamer, concerned was the "S. S. 700 tons, flying the British flag and owned by a Hong Kong
firm.

Mr. Sandeman in his report to the Guild, states that under the command of passengers, some sixty Chinese pirates, armed to the teeth,
boarded the steamer before she left
the wharf at 7 p.m., bound for West Star. There were altogether about 100 passengers on board, and the pirates mingled with these until such time as the vessel steamed outside
the protective waters of the colony,
the Capt. Sandeman Pass, when by pre-arranged signal, they made their attack.

They first secured the captain,
chief officer and chief engineer, whom they pounced upon and threatened to kill if they offered resistance.

Riddled by Shots
The first man shot was one of the pilots, who did not comply with the pirates' orders and the next victim was the man at the wheel, who was forced to turn the ship's head towards shore, where the pirates intended to beach her, and get clear
of the ransacking vessel.

The man at the wheel refused to obey
and riddled by shots from seven revolvers, he fell dead at his post.

The crew, chief officer of the Chinese, who is also a member of the Guild, states that he was in his cabin when the trouble commenced. He heard the sound of firing on deck
and first thought that a thief
had been discovered amongst the passengers, which appears to be a misapprehension upon opening his cabin
door, he was astonished to find a Chinaman dressed in European clothes pointing revolvers at him in a rage.

He ordered to put up his hands, and seeing that resistance was useless, had no alternative but to comply with their request. Some of the Chinamen wore European clothes and spoke English perfectly.

They hustled him along the bridge
deck to the captain's cabin, and there tied him up.

Panic on Deck
Some of the pirates obtained the key of the powder store and secured
all the cartridges, powder and rockets available. They seemed to know how to use everything and where they were kept.

Mr. Cornwall cautioned them to be careful with the powder, as there were 50 lbs. of it in a box, and he was afraid it was their intention to blow up the ship. He could not give any further details of the affair beyond the fact of hearing a number of shots fired and much screaming
and scuffling going on on deck.

An English lady missionary on board, in the course of her statements said that she thought there must at least have been 100 pirates on board the ship. The firing and fighting lasted for three hours and the scenes and cries were terrible.

One scene she witnessed was that of a young man and his mother who were passengers on the upper deck.
They were asked to deliver up their money. The mother only had three-teen dollars, which was readily handed over. They were hustled aside and told with the other passengers to move on. The boy could not move quickly enough and shots were fired wounding him in both legs.

Mr. McCartney, the chief engineer, in making his report, stated that the majority of the pirates were dressed in European clothes, and the leader who wore a white shirt
and high collar, spoke English well
and high collar, spoke English well

The Booty
He gave directions to the engineer staff, and told the chief engineer that if the fireoers did not offer
any resistance they would be unharmed. During the three hours the work of piracy was going on it was estimated that money and goods to the value of $13,000 was stolen.

After the pirates ran the vessel
ashore on Kongsu, Banks and disabled the engines, they fired rockets and boats containing accomplices
came off from the shore and they

Royal Gratitude - King Charms His Subjects at Work in Potterie

The King has addressed the following letter to the Marquis of Crewe—
"Buckingham Palace,
24 April, 1913.

"Dear Lord Crewe.—At the conclusion of our very pleasant stay at Crewe, I would ask you to make known what intense gratification the Queen and I have experienced by the friendly and enthusiastic welcome
given to us by the people of those parts of Cheshire and Staffordshire
which we have visited during the past three days. Throughout our journeys, covering upwards of 120
miles, we have received outward proofs of affection and goodwill.
Every town and village was tastefully decorated, and there was hardly a house which had not marked the occasion by some individual display.

The Children's Greeting
"We were delighted that ample arrangements had been made for the children to take part in the festivities. Every heart must have been touched by the effect of the voices of those thousands of little ones that greeted us in Hanley Park on Tuesday.

"It was glad to notice that the various boys' organizations were fully represented in the different localties, and to find in several instances
the veterans of the National Reserve
side by side with the younger generation of Territorials.

"We were deeply interested in our charming experiences at the various works in the potteries and district.

PHANTOM DANCERS.

Wonderful Development in Moving Photography.
On a well-lighted stage at the Scala
Theatre, London, men and women
appeared, danced and sang, and yet
they were not living persons at all,
but the latest and most wonderful
living pictures which require no
screen and no darkness.

For the first time in this country
was being shown "Kinoplastikon"
which gives stereoscopic figures in motion photography. "Daily Chronicle" came from the wings, performed and sang, retired to the wings,
and then came forward in the most natural manner to bow their acknowledgements of the applause. The machine, the words issuing in perfect unison with the movements of the lips.

The illusion is perfect. Instead of a theatre in darkness and a flat screen,
the figures perform on a lighter stage
and apparently advance, retire, and carry out all the natural movements of a dance, play musical instruments and sing.

This new idea in living pictures is yet in its infancy, and is capable of enormous development.

SPY'S TEMPTATION

Poverty-Stricken Bookkeeper's Lapse
A remarkable feature in the case of the bookkeeper Kohler, who was sentenced by the Imperial Court at Leipzig to seven years' penal servitude
for espionage (states the Berlin correspondent of the "Daily Telegraph") was revealed by the terms
of the judgment.

It appeared that the prisoner, while employed as a clerk by the military authorities and entrusted with plans
and documents of which he sold copies to the Russian and French intelligence departments for considerable sums, was in receipt of no
more than half a crown per day.

KING GEORGE'S OLIVE BRANCH

Is Being Held Out to Germany at The Big Festivities.

BERLIN, May 23.—King George
of Great Britain, at present the guest of the Emperor William on the occasion of the marriage of Princess Victoria Luise to Prince Ernest August of Cumberland, spoke earnestly
but briefly to-day on the necessity for the maintenance of peace in the world, in reply to an address presented to him by the British of Berlin, gathered at the British embassy.
His Majesty said: "The preservation of peace is my fervent desire, as it was the chief aim and object of my
dear father's life."

This is the first and only political note
taken during the wedding festivities
of Emperor Williams only laughter,
for which three emperors and
many princesses are gathered, seems,
according to the opinion expressed in official circles to emphasize the "significance of the royal and imperial visits as symbols of peaceful and friendly relations existing between the three powerful dynasties."

King George and Queen Mary ac-
towards were the guests at luncheon
of the British ambassador, the others
present including the Imperial Chancellor, Von Bethmann-Hollweg, and a number of the diplomatic corps.
At the same time Emperor Nicholas
of Russia was the guest at luncheon
of the Russian ambassador at the Russian embassy.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY

At a great religious rally, attended by 1,000 young men, members of the Drexel Biddle Bible classes at the First Methodist Church, Camden,
New Jersey, the spectacle was witnessed of Mr. E. T. Stotesbury, the Philadelphia partner in Messrs. J.
Bertrout Morgan and Co., seeking to awaken in the audience a desire
"to save money" by exhibiting to them
over a hundred thousands worth of gold bonds.

Pointing to the bonds, Mr. Stotesbury, who has in the course of the past season been a target of the Socialist Press, because he spent $19,000
in an elaborate dinner and dance, exclaimed: "What we have done, others can do. There is no miracle in great material success. No greater opportunities ever existed than to-day. I began in 1886 with no college education, nothing except public and private education, went in the banking business with the elder Mr.
Drexel at a salary of $16 a month."

PRINCE NOT AN OFFENDER

He is Said to Have Snubbed
Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia.

HALIFAX, N.S., May 24.—Grossly exaggerated reports of the decision of Prince Albert, his presumptive to the British throne, in playing tennis instead of going to Government House, have been called in English newspapers, an official explanation of the incident, which seems to have caused the British Ambassador grave alarm, is handed out.

It appears that there was a miscalculation by Government officials here. Instead of following the usual procedure, Lieut-Gov. Mc-Gregor called on Captain Smith first,
and the official call of the Cumber-
land's commander was delayed some days in consequence. It had been expected that Prince Albert would accompany Captain Smith when the latter made his return call, and an informal procedure, Saturday, it was decided that the Prince should only call on Lieutenant-Governor McGregor in company with his brother cadets.

Yesterday the wireless operator on the Cumberland, the vessel to which the young Prince is attached, intercepted a wireless message describing
how the heir-presumptive had "flouted" the Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia. Later the Admiralty officials in London asked for an explanation of the reports which had been cabled to England.

THE SALE OF WIVES.

Australians Warned of Dangers in a Common Practice.
At the request of Mr. Harcourt,
the Colonial Secretary, the Commonwealth Government has issued a warning to Australian women against the common practice of marrying Alghians and Pathans (natives of the north-western frontier regions of India) who visit Australia for purposes of trade or camel driving, either Sydney (New South Wales) correspondent of the "Daily Mail").

Such marriages, it is pointed out,
are contracted by the husbands merely as a "business transaction," and as a rule result in misery for the wives.
The Alghians and Pathans deceive the women with lies about the "magnitude and comforts" of their homes,
and their status in their own country
and the future of their wives there.

They are the first members of the party to set foot on American soil since the explorer gave up his life in the frozen wastes of the Antarctic. Mr. Wright associates, and buried them.

GHENT EXHIBITION.

Preparations for Grand Royal Opening.
King Albert will open the International Exhibition to-day (states the Ghent correspondent of the "Daily News and Leader"). His Majesty will be accompanied by the Queen, who has been so unwell lately that it was uncertain whether she would be able to take part in the inaugural proceedings, and Prince Leopold.

The opening ceremony will take place in the vast Palais des Fetes,
erected in the park and the only part of the exhibition that the Royal family will visit on the opening day. It is the flower show, which promises to be the most magnificent thing of its kind ever seen.

The florals were inaugurated by the Royal Belgian Horticultural society in 1868, and their exhibitions
have taken place at intervals of five years, and have attracted enthusiasts
from all parts of the world. Queen Victoria and Prince Albert visited
one of the shows in their early married days.

What was regarded as the centenary exhibition, though it was only the twentieth show, took place in 1908,
and although it was thought then that
the high water mark in flower shows
had been touched, it is anticipated that that record will be eclipsed by
the display which will be on view.

ABDUCTION

Search for Millionaire's Lost Daugh-

It is stated that Mr. W. V. Burns, the well-known American detective,
who is now in London, has been asked by Mr. Gail Borden, an American millionaire merchant, to conduct a search in Europe for his daughter, Miss Romona Gordon, who disappeared recently from a sanatorium in New Jersey.

It is stated that a few days ago
Miss Borden was visited at the sanatorium by three women, whose identity at present is unknown. It is believed that these women abducted the girl and they are supposed to be on a liner bound for Europe.

Schoolgirl's Nerves

"Oh, to be free from school life and school
series during the sunshiny spring days," is the wish of thousands of schoolgirls, to whom there could be of more benefit than outdoor exercise and an opportunity to drink in the fresh air and sunshine.
Just at the springtime, when the human system is sure to be more or less debilitated, and when at the most critical time in a girl's life,
there come also the anxiety, eye-strain and mental over-exertion consequent on the approach of examinations.

To many this extra demand on the system
comes the last straw, and the results are made known by headaches, sleeplessness, irritability,
loss of appetite, tired, worn-out feelings and
inability to concentrate the mind on the work
at hand, whether it be mental or physical.

To some there will come St. Vitus' dance, nervous prostration, or some derangement of the vital organs, which may linger to make a life of suffering and unhappiness.

The only means of averting trouble is by the use of external assistance in order to increase the supply of pure, rich blood, and for this purpose there is no treatment comparable to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Because of its mild and gentle action and powerful restorative influences in building up
the system, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is particularly suited as a treatment for girls and women.
Especially during the critical periods of womanhood, such as between the ages of twelve and sixteen, this great food cure, by supplying
an abundance of rich, red blood, keeps up
health and strength and fills the body with vigor and vitality.

Miss Cynthia Hutchinson, Hanceville, E.C., writes: "I feel it my duty to tell what a great friend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been to me. I would have written sooner, but wanted to be sure I was thoroughly cured. Before using this medicine my nervous system was so completely run down that my friends, as well as myself, thought I could never get better. All medicines failed to help me.
"A trial of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food benefited me, and I used altogether seven boxes. At the end of a month people scarcely knew me, and I improved so much. The blood was enriched, color improved, new flesh added, and I got strong and well. Several of my friends have profited by my experience and received great benefit from this treatment."

Extravagance

By HOWARD L. RANN

EXTRAVAGANCE is the habit of living a table d'hôte life on a lunch counter income. This habit is usually caused by a desire to be in that locality known as the swim. The swim is a place where women begin to send the washing out at the same time that their husbands begin to overdress at the bank. In order to get in the swim and stay there some people show no respect for a bank or for any of their wives' relatives, and soon create the seductive dertow known as insolvency.

No two people are extravagant in the same spot. One family will go without New Orleans sorghum on their pancakes in order to ride seven times in succession on a Ferris wheel at the electric park. Another family will buy meat three times a day and garnish it with real butter and bona fide eggs, and then go without anything in the library but an inherited edition of the Pilgrim's Progress, and a copy of the Ready Letter Writer. Many a man is scotching around the country in a six-cylinder automobile which eats up a quart of gas every time the wheels go round, and then economizes by working his children fourteen hours a day in a berry patch.

Men are more extravagant than women, that is than most women. Whenever you find a man who complains that his wife is ruining him by her extravagance, the chances are that he will have his chiffonier crowded to the gunwhales with purple neckties, $4 madras shirts and thread silk hose that are good for two days of hard wear. A man will think nothing of interesting $150 in a self-starting runabout with tires that cost more than a Jersey cow, but if his wife turns in a hat bill of $22.75 for the entire season he will rear up in a hostile attitude and cast a thick pall of gloom over the evening meal.

ZIG ZAG NOTES

By "The Rambler"

In the fullness of time, for he is probably always exceedingly busy, the foolkiller will turn his attention to the youthful journalist who makes personal attacks. As the pup chews anything from the baseball boots to your wife's Paris hat without discrimination but with entire satisfaction, so the young scribbler tries to "put one over." But the written letter being a delicate and dangerous weapon, the tyro often makes huge and grotesque errors with it, and he is surprised when his wit is received coldly by those he intended to impress. He gets hold of a phrase such as "deputy official scorer," and looks for a sentence with which to drape it. After awhile ideas come to him with a rush, and he accuses the "deputy official scorer" by inference begets another, so that the Expositor or "Dopester" column is filled presumably with the overflow from its baseball report. This being the first time the present "deputy official scorer" has been criticized for his scoring, except for not "giving the player the best end of it," since the inception of the Canadian League, it is hardly worth while defending him. Scoring has been a joke in certain cities on the circuit, and had the "deputy official scorer" been one of the comedians who have officiated at Guelph, he might be well advised, to take the matter to heart.

There is nothing so gratefully irritating as a suggestion of personal intention in an article, just as there is nothing so easy or effective. Better by far fence with some respectable citizen you don't know, than to write an article, you intend to show round the town as a sample of your literary ability, collecting in person the applause of the gathering.

Very soon the Dragons and the Dufferins (more power to them) will be going into camp. What a time that is! There is a lot of tremendous hard work and a lot of tremendous fun in camp. The bugle comes as an old friend. Somehow it brings a jump to the heart when it bleats out "Come to the cook-house door, boys." "Pick 'em up, pick 'em up hot potatoes," or indeed any of the calls. War is horrid, and militarism is wrong, but there is nothing finer for a young man than a couple of weeks training in camp. I have worked my self into a verisimilitude mood.

'Twas the annual camp training, It was sleeting, hailing, raining. But the boys were not complaining. Although every Spring sees the picture of some farmers' "maple sugar bush" in one or other of the illustrated papers, with the bucket hanging to the tree, etc., no one seems to have written much about the writable side of the industry. And the thing is well worth writing about. I have in my mind a "bush" just south of the peninsula. A brick furnace with two huge cauldrons. The sap was run into one cauldron from a tank by tap, and you could run the liquid from one cauldron to another, by tap. But that wasn't the part that interested me. The interesting feature was the reception days, when "the Brooks" were working down at the bush to-night and they said particular. I was to ask you. Then you could put on your heavy overshoes and overalls and mitts and muffer, and call on another and go with him. The snow would be soft and the ice treacherously unsafe. Maybe you'd go in up to your knees, but that's nothing. "Taint cold now."

Over stake fences and between the wires till you come to the bush. Great black trees standing out straight and lean against the grey murk of the snow. Branches that catch at your hat as you passed, and now and then a fallen giant of a tree, waiting to be made into "cord wood." Get a little way into the bush and yell once or twice. Comes the answering yell, "hah-ooo" startlingly clear but distant. Struggle along a bit then you can see a light "long ways off." Last you come to the clearing and a little old log cabin in close to the furnace, and you go in. The stove discarded from the farm house, is rusty and smoky; withal it has an insatiable appetite for wood. The hosts are ready for you. They have sugar, svrup, matches, and a little hard cider. Two or three are in the cabin, and a great deal of the smoke in the cabin comes from tobacco pipes, though the stove is responsible for much. You get welcome, and there's some badinage and general fun. You munch sugar or smoke, just as you please, and the conversation goes on where you interrupted it. Now here, I've got to remark that there's no talker more interesting than a Canadian farmer. What his discourses lack in excitement, it makes up in humor, and I have sat still for an hour without talking—to listen. So it goes: talk and a song or two, and you're astounded when some one casually says, "quarter to twelve." The general reply to that is, "Geel! I didn't know it was as late as that. Guess I won't bother about getting up before half-past-five to-morrow." And so, home to bed. Someone should write up the maple sugar bush properly.

Though they didn't care to sing. And the damp fell unattracted. Till my serge was permeated. What I said was punctuated. By the slyling "clipping" of my rifle-sling. "Here I'm marching, wet and weary And the whole outlook seems dreary. As a rule I'm blithe and cheery. Now I swear at everything. How absurd now it's so chilly To be marching willy-nilly With a bunch of—" "Don't be silly." Snapped the sling. "You're a quitter, and you know it." Said the sling.

"In a 'show' I might be sitting Watching moving pictures flitting. On the screen, or benefiting. By the songs the actors sing. "Live a week of ease and pleasure. Like a man of means and leisure. "Like a mollusc, that's your measure. Snapped the sling. "Exactly like an oyster," jeered the sling. Thus the sling removed my trouble. Though my boots went "hubble bubble."

In the mud, and when the "double" Came, I ran like anything. "If she wants to rain, gosh! let her. I'm all right. I can't get wetter. And I'll stick it." "Ah, that's better!" Clicked the sling. "Take the jam and chance the powder. Cheered the sling.

CITY CIRCULATION AGENT

Of Leading Montreal Daily Endorses GIN PILLS

I have been suffering from Kidney Trouble for over five long years. I had also Rheumatism in all my bones and muscles, could not sleep nights and on some occasions could hardly walk. I had been treated by some of our best Physicians but without relief and I lost one of our leading hotelkeepers, who had been cured by your famous GIN PILLS, and he advised me to try them. So I bought two boxes at my druggist's and before I had used one box I felt a big change. Before I finished the second one I was completely cured. I can assure you I can hardly believe it for if I had only known what I know now I would not have spent over One Hundred Dollars for nothing when two boxes of GIN PILLS cured me.

The game last night between the Eagles vs. Royals resulted in a victory for the Royals. The Eagles battery worked hard but owing to poor support on the field they could not overcome the Royals. The batteries: Eagles, Watt and Baxter; Royals, Komste and Gendler. Score 22-12. Umpire, Orr.

The Y.M.C.A. vs. Orioles went to a tie in a five innings game—7-7. The game was fast and at one time it looked like a win for the Orioles when the score stood 6-1, but good playing saved the scalps of the Y.M.C.A. Leonard and Simpson; Orioles, Smith and Hardagan. Umpire, Mole Livingstone.

Y vs. Orioles to break tie, Monday, at Agricultural park at 1 o'clock, sharp.

Wanted—A new first baseman for the Eagles; also a good outfielder. Cheer up you can't win every game. Smith pitched a great game for the Orioles.

Baxter was right there with that coaching stuff.

Managers, now is the time to release poor players and sign up some good ones; there is still lots of good material floating around.

Have Been An Untold Blessing. New Brunswick Woman Praises Dodd's Kidney Pills.

She Suffered for Four Years, and the Doctor Could not Help Her, but Dodd's Kidney Pills Gave Her a New Lease of Life. PORTON, Carleton Co., N.B., May 19.—(Special)—"I find Dodd's Kidney Pills the best kidney medicine I have ever used. They have been of untold benefit to me."

The speaker is Mrs. John S. Dickinson of this place. She is enthusiastic in her praises of the great Canadian Kidney remedy, and not without reason.

"I suffered from kidney trouble that started in a cold," she continues, "and for four years I was never free of it. I was treated by a doctor, but he did not seem to be able to do me much good."

"I had rheumatism and neuralgia, and my joints were stiff; my muscles cramped and I was always tired and nervous. I perspired freely with the slightest exertion. I was depressed and low spirited, my limbs swelled and I had a dragging sensation across the loins."

"Nine boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills made a new woman of me."

Are not Mrs. Dickinson's symptoms those of any run-down, worn-out woman? They are also the symptoms of kidney disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills give new life, to run-down women by curing their kidneys.

---too old to work

Maybe there's an old fellow working beside you—the house keeps him on—he's sort of pensioner. His productive years are gone. While he was a producer he never saved. If you could analyze that old fellow's thoughts, you'd find him sadly rueing the years when he spent all he made. Instead of being able to retire to a comfortable, independent old age, he is working for a mere pittance, keeping body and soul together.

Your Furs are Safe in our Vaults!

Why send them out of town when they can be stored just as well in Brantford?

Furs are so highly prized by everyone, it follows that great care must be taken to protect them from the ravages of moths. It is a fact that more furs are ruined by these pests than by actual wear.

The cold, dry air system of storage is a positive safeguard against moths. Much work and worry can be avoided by simply telephoning us at 619, and we will call for your furs and other winter apparel. You place your own valuation on each article, and we are responsible to you for that amount in case of loss by fire or moths. Our charge for storage and insurance is 3 per cent of the value—a moderate charge when it is remembered that we carefully dust each article, and hang them in a vault that is intensely cold.

Nothing is packed or folded. Everything is kept on hangers, so that the most delicate article will not become creased or mussed, and will carry no odor of moth preventatives.
