IVANHOE.
(BY SIR WALTER SCOTT, BART.)
CHAPTER XXIV.

Her first care was to inspect the apartment; but it afforded few hopes either of escape or protection. It contained neither secret passage nor trap-door, and unless where the door by which she had entered joined the main building, seemed to be circumscribed by the round exterior wall of the turret.
The door had no inside bolt or bar.
The single window opened upon an embattled space surmounting the turret, which gave Rebecca, at first sight, some hopes of escaping;
but she soon found it had no communication with any other part of the battlements, being an isolated bartizan, or balcony secured, as usual, by a parapet with embrasures, at which a few archers might be stationed, for defending the turret, and flanking with their shot
the wall of the castle on that side.

There was therefore no hope but in passive fortitude, and in that strong reliance on Heaven natural to great and generous characters.
Rebecca, however erroneously taught to interpret the promises of Scripture to the chosen people of Heaven, did not err in supposing the present to be their hour of trial, or in trusting that the children of Zion would be one day called in with the fullness of the Gentiles. In the meanwhile, all around her showed that their present state was that of punishment and probation, and that it was their especial duty to suffer without sinning. Thus prepared to consider herself as the victim of misfortune, Rebecca had early reflected upon her own state, and schooled her mind to meet the dangers which she had probably to encounter.

The prisoner trembled, however,
and changed color when a step was heard on the stair, and the door of the turret chamber slowly opened,
and a tall man, dressed as one of those banditti to whom they owed their misfortune, slowly entered and shut the door behind him; his cap, pulled down upon his brows, concealed the upper part of his face, and he held his mantle in such a manner as to muffle the rest. In this guise, as if prepared for the execution of some deed, at the thought of which he was himself ashamed, he stood before the affrighted prisoner; yet, ruffian as his dress bespoke him, he seemed at a loss to express what purpose had brought him thither, so that Rebecca, making an effort upon herself, had time to anticipate his explanation. She had already un-clasped two costly bracelets and a collar, which she hastened to proffer
to the supposed outlaw, concluding naturally that to gratify his avarice was to bespeak his favor.

'Take these,' she said, 'good friend, and for God's sake be merciful to me and my aged father!'
These ornaments are of value, yet are they trifling to what he would bestow to obtain our dismissal from this castle, free and uninjured.'
'Fair flower of Palestine,' replied
the outlaw, 'these pearls are orient, but they yield in whiteness to your teeth; the diamonds are brilliant,
but they cannot match your eyes;
and ever since I have taken up
this wild trade, I have made a vow
to prefer beauty to wealth.'
'Do not do yourself such wrong,' said Rebecca; 'take ransom and have mercy! God will purchase your pleasure—to misuse us, could only bring thee remorse.' My father will willingly satiate thy most wishes; and if thou wilt act wisely, thou mayest purchase with our spoils thy restoration to civil society—mayest obtain pardon for past years, and be placed beyond the necessity of committing more.'

'It is well spoken,' replied the outlaw in French, finding it difficult probably to sustain, in Saxon, a conversation which Rebecca had opened in that language; 'but know bright lily of the vale of Beaul that thy father is already in the hands of a powerful alchemist, who knows how to convert into gold and silver even the rusty bars of a dungeon grate. The venerable Isaac is subjected to an alchemic, which will distil from him all he holds dear,
without any assistance from my requests or thy entreaty. Thy ransom must be paid by love and beauty, and in no other coin will I accept it.'

'Thou art no outlaw,' said Rebecca, in the same language in which he addressed her; no outlaw had refused such offers. No outlaw in this land uses the dialect in which thou hast spoken. Thou art no outlaw, but a Norman—a Norman, noble perhaps in birth—Oh,
be so in thy actions, and cast off
this fearful mask of outrage and violence.'

FREDERICTON JUNE 3 1880.

THE readers of this journal are hereby informed, that Fredericton is the Capital of New Brunswick, and that York Point, and Marsh Bridge, and Reed's Castle, and MacEvoy's, and the old Bell Tower, and Partridge Island, all remain just as they were!

THE NEWFOUNDLAND RAILROAD, AND ITS BEARING ON OURSELVES.

From time to time we have told the readers of the STAR that the Newfoundland Government was about arousing itself to the demands of the age and building a railroad across the island, commencing at St. John's, and terminating at St. George's Bay on the Gulf coast. It is not very probable that our New Brunswick readers cared very much whether the Newfoundland people ever built their railroad or not, for all they knew about the island was that she is a coy Vestal standing in all her haughty independence at the mouth of the Gulf, and refusing with scorn every offer of a Union. They had read in their geographicals that while we are broiled by a heartless sun through the summer months, she bathes her feet in the cool waters of the North Atlantic, but on the next page they were told that fogs hang over her like eternal drapery, and that in the spring time when flowers peep out in this genial land of ours that terrific icebergs "grate harsh thunder" by the cottage door of the fisherman, and overwhelming storms deal destruction round the land. Naturally, therefore, might they ask, What do we want to know about Newfoundland or its railroad?

We shall tell them; and our project is not visionary nor of the growth of one night like most of the projects now-a-days that set stump orators ridiculously mad. When we saw but the delicate dawn streaks of this project in Newfoundland we informed our readers promptly of our hopes, and lingered as much on details as the unformed character of the project at the time warranted. Now the scheme has assumed not only shape but life and force, and Newfoundland stands with her arms bared—determined to push it to its conclusion. Than that she will push it to its conclusion to us there seems nothing more likely, for she has a race of men who, while not so easily moved as their neighbors, when once in motion are not so easily stopped.

The road is not intended solely for local purposes, for that were madness, but it is to supply the unformed link in the great high road of travel between the old world and the new. It is here the subject not only touches us, but becomes to the people of Fredericton and of Miramichi one of the very deepest importance.

A few years from now two hundred and eighty miles of railroad will span the Island of Newfoundland. The road will commence at St. John's, where the Ocean Steamers sailing between Great Britain and Ireland and ports on this side with land freight and passengers for various parts of Canada and the Northern States. The other end of the line will be St. George's Bay, and at that point freight will be transhipped across the gulf, and passengers will re-embark for the other side. A line of steamers, which will no doubt be supplied by some such gentleman as R. R. Call, will ply across the Gulf landing on this side at this is the question!

Where the freight and passengers brought across the Atlantic will be landed is to us the important theme. Let our readers consult the Geography, and see if they think, when we state that some-where near or at the Miramichi will be the point, that we can be very far mistaken. Fancy what such a fact—and there is nothing to-day more probable, as there is no other scheme so practicable—would mean for us. Fancy steamers arriving nearly every day at St. John's, N. F., and landing freight and passengers which would be sent by rail across the Island, by boat across the Gulf, and a large portion of both up through a railroad which would then pass up the Miramichi Valley, down the Nashwaak to Gibson: thence across the St. John by a bridge and go on to the various points in the States via the Fredericton Branch and the St. John & Maine Railway. Note the route by the map from St. Georges Bay across to Newcastle and see if there is one so practicable. Some have proposed a point on Nova Scotia, but this idea seems to be ridiculous, for it would appear like courting the dangers of the Newfoundland coast and the storms of the Gulf to no purpose. Others have proposed Pasbebiac Bay, but those who have done so made the proposal from the map, not from a knowledge of the Coast. Others again whom you could not pay to keep out of print have labored through columns showing the advantages of Shippegan. People living in this Province need not be told that is the very worst, and most ridiculous proposal of the lot.

All the argument is in favor of a point at, or near the mouth of the Miramichi. It is not likely Ocean steamers could be induced to tempt the hurricanes on the Newfoundland Coast in winter, or that smaller steamers would care to brave the dangers of the Gulf. Nor do we think this is the opinion of the Newfoundland Government. But navigation over the Short Route would commence from the 1st to the middle of April, and continue till say the first of December. This would give seven-twelfths of the traffic of the year to the Newfoundland road, and over half that would pass over our Miramichi and Nashwaak Railway through Fredericton. The freight and passengers in the Ocean Steamers would be destined for all parts of Canada, and for many parts of Maine and Massachusetts. That portion for the American cities would pass straight through by the Miramichi and Nashwaak road, because the route would be almost as a bird flies. Those bound for the Upper Provinces, or for the North-west would take the Intercolonial north, those wanting to reach St. John and Nova Scotia would go by the Intercolonial south.

This is the merest outline of the scheme with its bearings upon ourselves, and when we laid it before our readers last winter, we were sneered at and the article styled a mere bait to enlist the northern members in the interests of the Parliament Buildings for Fredericton. Now this project, even in its local bearing, can no longer be called a delusion. We fancy we hear the click of the pickaxe and the hum of the crowds reclaiming our native Island from barbarism, and raising it to the proud rank to which it is entitled, and which it will very soon attain. The legitimate landing point of the Gulf steamers is Newcastle or thereabouts, and that point we have little doubt will be selected. We do not venture to dictate to our friends across the Gulf, because we have every faith in their intelligence, through proper representation to decide for themselves. Only let us say this to them: for their own sakes let them be careful about the advice they take. A school of engineers has already possessed their ear whose idea of railroading is such, that they would rather cut through a mountain than go around it, because it would make "a curve in the road." At the head of this school stands Sandford Fleming who is so well known by his works that his ideas have at last become uncurrent. He recommends making a point on Cape Breton as the proper terminus of the Gulf Steamers. Of a piece with him are those who write to the press some advocating Anticosti, and others Shippegan, and others Pasbebiac. Let the common sense, and the great abilities of men like Hon Ambrose Shea, like the Colonial Secretary, like Mr Speaker, and the North Star's editor decide this matter with their advisers. We can do no more than what we have said.

It were useless to say more on a part of the subject we cannot control, so we turn homewards. Here indeed something can be done. First we see Mr. Gibson, full of energy and fertile and happy in expedient. We see this road destined to be an object of great moment to him; therefore we count on the force of his energies towards the accomplishment of the local part of the scheme, Northumberland should be deeply interested, and above all the people of Newcastle should stand to the front. Her energetic men should husband their energies and lay their plans; her popular representative, the Surveyor General, who seems bent on tracing history scrolls over the Province, that will outlive himself, in union with his sterling colleague Mr. Davidson, and the other two members, should stand firmly for the common interests of their County. Before such a question, York should and could be as one man. There is a great incentive here for some of her rising politicians. Men grown old in the service and weary of their harness ought not to be expected to enter in with the spirit and the vim of 20 years ago, but the struggle is worth the ambition of those who yet have to earn their laurels. Mr. Blair no doubt, would like to make York to New Brunswick, what Paris was to France in the days of the Louis—and should Mr. E. L. Wetmore some day condescend to put himself at the head of the people—having grown rich and exceedingly corpulent on the proceeds of libel suits—he might find something far more worthy of his ability and his scholarly logic than trying to prove an old pair of brass spectacles were not brass. Mr. Zebbin Everetth, too, the only original and thoroughly fifth wheel to the York County Coach might in his own way do a very great deal towards promoting the interests of the county which so liberally patronizes his hardware. Another bright and particular (rising) star, Mr. Wilson, would find a field to, in this direction, for his genius. But who ever goes in or whoever stays out; whether Mr. Blair enters the soon-to-be reconstructed Government or not, or whether Mr. Wetmore will consent to deliberate at his country's councils, or Mr. Everetth to sit down upon the lap of some other member, it matters less—the one great, grand aim for York, is to endeavor to accomplish in every way and by every means, an object of such momentous importance to the county in which we live. While ever the STAR can maintain itself above the horizon it will be found doing its best for its own particular locality; and in this respect it shall frequently put its first foot foremost.

MR. WILLIAM ELDER, M. A., delivered the oration at the anniversary of the Alumni Society, Mount Allison. Mr. Elder's subject was, "Educational Culture, in its enfranchising influences." The oration is described as being marked for its intrinsic value and eloquence, and in his peroration the lecturer compared the disappearing of prejudices to the breaking up of great ice-bound rivers under the influences of the sun.

SOME of the St. John newspapers come in at the "heel of the hunt" to denounce the immorality of such degrading exhibitions as those of the Duclos Folly Company. Long ago the STAR called attention to this—and did not wait either till the company had performed to administer its rebuke. The press should join hands in stamping out immoral public performances.

THE last monthly return of every port in the Dominion, shows an increase of revenue over the corresponding month last year. In spite of the Opposition papers trade is reviving!

IT is not a little encouraging to know that before long we will likely have a Cotton and Silk Factory established in our quiet little city. The N. P. will not be blamed for this.

SIR LEONARD TILLEY will likely pay Fredericton a visit to-morrow, remaining perhaps over Sunday.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING.

THE NATURE OF THE TRANSACTIONS OF OUR CITY COUNCIL—WHAT A CIVILIZED CITY OF THE 19th CENTURY CAN SWALLOW—THE BUSINESS CONSISTS OF SEVERAL OF ONE SEWING MACHINE, THE SALE OF ONE STALL AND A DISSERTATION BY AN ALDERMAN ON A POINT OF ORDER.

Another of those unfortunate meetings for the City was held yesterday evening at the usual time, at the usual place and under the same appalling circumstances. His Worship, who so loves to disport himself as an Alderman, presided over the resolutions and general city factum, occupied the Chair; the Aldermen were all present: The minutes were read, and then the Auditor's report for May.

Roads and Streets, $280.00; Fire Department, 244.44; City Hall Account, 25.82; Contingent, 44.90; Public Works, 27.50; Administration of Justice, 24.44. Total, $646.90.

Alderman Wheeler moved that $32 issue to the Clock Window. It is not stated if the Window was paid for making the Clock strike wrong two days of last week.

The same obstructionist also brought in a bill styled the "Tail End of the Illumination account for Mr. J. G. McNally. It is a little surprising why such an account was kept horded away among the crockery archives till this hour of the day. The Bill should have been unceremoniously quashed.

Alderman Ritchie on behalf of the Alms House Management presented a report and moved for a cheque for $400 in favor of Elias Clarke, Esq., the head of the department.

Burchill presented a grievance from James and John Fitzpatrick, who had sustained damage by overflow of city water drains, praying for remuneration.

Alderman Gunter moved the petition on the table. Ald. Wheeler was on hand to second this motion. It was carried. Thomas Paisley through Ald. Smith, asked the Council to erase his name from the poll-tax book—Daniel O'Brien, Thomas Byrne, and William McDonald made similar requests.

Ald. Wilson then moved that the two night policemen be paid each $30 per month instead of $29 as now. The humanity in this notion put the cloak over Mr. Wilson's slight deviation from consistency. The motion stood yeas—Wilson, Smith, Moore; nays—the balance of the Council.

certain small portion of the City Hall to Elias Estabrooks for the sum of $15! Fifteen Dollars!—that is fifteen hundred cents—(what a pocketful)—or equal to fifteen thousand mills!

After lengthy deliberation and divers speeches on the responsibilities involved, the "clerk," whom Ald. Gunter will persist in pursuing, was authorized to renew the insurance on the Engine House.

Ald. Wilson then moved that the two night policemen be paid each $30 per month instead of $29 as now. The humanity in this notion put the cloak over Mr. Wilson's slight deviation from consistency. The motion stood yeas—Wilson, Smith, Moore; nays—the balance of the Council.

Burchill, who is always to the front when anything for the credit of the city comes up, moved that a Bill be drawn up to present the Legislature at next session, providing for the change advocated by Ald. Smith. Carried.

On motion of Ald. Ritchie it was decided to appoint a special committee to decide on the quantity of taxes Contractor Lawlor's men should pay en masse.

Chaque issued for payment of teamster, $25 for past month. Burchill moved that cheques in advance, by way of encouragement, should issue to Captains of different regiments. Lost of Mrs. J. G. McNally. His property likely is well covered with insurance.

Gunter submitted the official and sanctified assurance of the Police Magistrate that Geo. Biggs had been duly sworn in a policeman on the 5th of May. Cheques for paying police issued.

His Worship read a communication from the Clerk, in re one Collins—who hasn't much fame—who had been paid $400 in favor of Elias Clarke, Esq., the head of the department.

Burchill presented a grievance from James and John Fitzpatrick, who had sustained damage by overflow of city water drains, praying for remuneration.

Dioecesan Church Society. A meeting of the Church members was held at the Temperance Hall last evening to meet a deficiency of $5,000 in the Dioecesan Society funds. The Most Rev. the Metropolitan occupied the chair. He delivered the opening address and stated His Honor the Lieut. Governor regretted he could not attend through temporary illness, but enclosed $50. His Honor the Chief Justice who could not be present sent in a cheque also for $50. At His Lordships call, Mr. Fenely moved the following resolutions which Rev. Mr. Edwards seconded:

Whereas, His Lordship the Bishop of the diocese, in a pastoral letter, has plainly set forth the grave financial difficulties of the Dioecesan Church Society, and has clearly shown that the present emergency demands the prompt and hearty assistance of all the members of the Church.

Resolved: That it is the duty of all the Churches in New Brunswick to put forth every effort, first, to meet the present deficiency, amounting to upwards of five thousand dollars, and, second, by increased annual subscriptions, to provide for the continuance of existing missions and for the extension of the Church in new and poor districts.

Resolved: That this meeting strongly recommend that public meetings be held in the several parishes, missions and districts of the diocese, for the purpose of raising such and such like members of the church as can be procured to undertake the duty.

Queens County Notes. [From our own Correspondent.] During the last few fine days, which we have first enjoyed (the thermometer up to 91° in the shade on Thursday 27) the farmers fairly set to work sowing and planting. It is gratifying to see how through the suggestion of the STAR many are scattering their fields with the golden grain. In anticipation of the Colorado marauders the potato fields are like to be no so extensive as usual, though however will fill the place thus vacated.

Bruin always suffered when visiting Bagdad village but never so as last week. Benj. Envoys captures three full grown geese, follows, one on Monday, one on Wednesday and one on Saturday nights. He says there is one "old settler" he has to trap yet and he thinks the fowls may be opened and the shanty room at peace in Bagdad common.

The "Star" still continues to oppose the "Soulanges" on the Washademoak and though she can boast of capital to back her the "Soulanges can pride herself on the majority of patronage so liberally bestowed by the Washademoak people.

Dr. W. Gaylord Smith is making a tour through Queen's lecturing at various points on Brigham Young and the Mormons. Your correspondent was one of a very few who listened to one of these lectures last night. The audience was so small as to render the oratory, if such exists in the Dr. It was a failure.

WELLAND CANAL.
NOTICE TO BRIDGE BUILDERS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned (Secretary of Railways and Canals) and endorsed "Tender for Bridges, Welland Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the Western mails on TUESDAY, the 31st DAY OF JUNE next, for the construction of swing and stationary bridges at various places on the line of the Welland Canal. Those for highways are to be a combination of iron and wood, and those for railway purposes are to be of iron.

Plans, specifications and general conditions can be seen at this office on and after MONDAY, THE 31st DAY OF MAY next, where forms of tenders can also be obtained.

Bidders tendering are expected to have a practical knowledge of works of this class, and are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and—in the case of firms—except there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and residence of each member of the same; and further an accepted check for a sum equal to $250 for each bridge, for which an offer is made, must accompany each Tender, which sum shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the work at the rates and on the terms stated in the offer submitted.

The cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

For the due fulfilment of the contract the party or parties whose tender it is proposed to accept will be notified that tenders are accepted subject to a deposit of five per cent. of the bulk sum of the contract—at which the sum sent in with the tender will be considered a part—to be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General within eight days after the date of the notice.

Ninety per cent. only of the progress estimates will be paid until the completion of the work.

This department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

CONSUMPTION
CAN BE CURED
 IS A FACT ATTESTED BY THE HIGHEST MEDICAL AUTHORITIES IN THE WORLD.

A careful observance of the laws of health, and the systematic and persistent use of Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphates of Lime and Soda will accomplish this result. This preparation has all the virtues of these two most valuable specifics, in a form perfectly palatable, and acceptable to the most delicate stomach, and we make the most emphatic statement that it is being used with better results and endorsed and prescribed by more physicians for Consumption and the diseases leading to it, such as Chronic Coughs, Bronchitis, Scrofula, Anemia, General Debility and the Wasting Disorders of Children, than any other remedy known to medical science. The rapidity with which patients improve on this food medicine diet, is truly marvellous.

See What Physicians and the People Say About It.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne: 66 West Thirty-ninth Street, New York, September 2, 1876.
 Gents,—I have frequently prescribed Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphates during the past year, and regard it as a valuable preparation in scrofulous and consumptive cases, palatable and efficacious.
 C. C. LOCKWOOD, M. D.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne:—Gentlemen,—Within the last year I have used in my own family, and in my private practice prescribed very extensively Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphates and found it a most valuable preparation, especially in diseases of children. It is agreeable to the most delicate stomach; which renders it a very reliable agent in a nutritive remedy in consumptive and scrofulous cases.
 Oct. 12, 1879. Yours respectfully, A. H. SEXTON, M. D., Baltimore.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne:—Gentlemen,—Within the last two months I have fairly tried Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphates, and I candidly declare that it is the finest preparation of the kind that has ever been brought to my notice; in affections of the lungs and other wasting diseases, we can consider it our most reliable agent, in a perfectly agreeable and elegant form.
 December 10th, 1878. Yours truly, J. SIMONAUD, M. D., New Orleans, La.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne:—Gentlemen,—In September, 1879, my health began to fail and my physician pronounced it spinal trouble; under his care I got some relief, but my general health did not improve, and early in the winter I began to raise blood and rapidly grew worse. In May last I was taken with a violent bleeding which brought me to my bed and short breath, and a return of the spinal trouble. My physician stopped the bleeding and then ordered Cod Liver Oil and Lime; and I used various preparations, but they did me no good. I lost all hope of life and was a subject of pity to all my friends. Last September I purchased a bottle of your Emulsion and before it was all taken I was better. I afterwards bought a dozen bottles, with the following results: Coughs subsiding, night sweats stopped, appetite returned, pains in spine disappeared, strength since commencing with your Emulsion and shall continue its use until I am perfectly well. I frequently meet some friend on the street who asks, "What cured you?" and I answer, "Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, etc." I have a friend who has not spoken aloud for 12 months, and he is getting better. I gave him a bottle and he bought two more, then got a doctor, and says it is food and strength rapidly. I have advised other parties to try it, and some two or three have already tried it. I am sure I shall entirely recover.
 January 30th, 1879. Very truly yours H. F. SLOCUM, Lowell, Mass.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne:—
 About the 25th of last April I got a bottle of your Emulsion and at that time I was so prostrated that no one who saw me thought I could live longer than a few weeks at most. I could retain nothing on my stomach and was literally starving. I commenced the use of the Emulsion in small doses. It was the first thing that would stay on my stomach; I continued its use, gradually increasing the dose; and from that hour I commenced mending, and now am able to ride and walk, and am gaining flesh and strength rapidly. I have advised other parties to try it, and some two or three have already tried it. I am sure I shall entirely recover.
 I am gratefully yours, R. W. HAMILTON, M. D.

 IS A FACT ATTESTED BY THE HIGHEST MEDICAL

A careful observance of the laws of health, and the systematic and persistent use of Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphates of Lime and Soda will accomplish this result. This preparation has all the virtues of these two most valuable specifics, in a form perfectly palatable, and acceptable to the most delicate stomach, and we make the most emphatic statement that it is being used with better results and endorsed and prescribed by more physicians for Consumption and the diseases leading to it, such as Chronic Coughs, Bronchitis, Scrofula, Anemia, General Debility and the Wasting Disorders of Children, than any other remedy known to medical science. The rapidity with which patients improve on this food medicine diet, is truly marvellous.

See What Physicians and the People Say About It.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne: 66 West Thirty-ninth Street, New York, September 2, 1876.
 Gents,—I have frequently prescribed Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphates during the past year, and regard it as a valuable preparation in scrofulous and consumptive cases, palatable and efficacious.
 C. C. LOCKWOOD, M. D.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne:—Gentlemen,—Within the last year I have used in my own family, and in my private practice prescribed very extensively Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphates and found it a most valuable preparation, especially in diseases of children. It is agreeable to the most delicate stomach; which renders it a very reliable agent in a nutritive remedy in consumptive and scrofulous cases.
 Oct. 12, 1879. Yours respectfully, A. H. SEXTON, M. D., Baltimore.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne:—Gentlemen,—Within the last two months I have fairly tried Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphates, and I candidly declare that it is the finest preparation of the kind that has ever been brought to my notice; in affections of the lungs and other wasting diseases, we can consider it our most reliable agent, in a perfectly agreeable and elegant form.
 December 10th, 1878. Yours truly, J. SIMONAUD, M. D., New Orleans, La.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne:—Gentlemen,—In September, 1879, my health began to fail and my physician pronounced it spinal trouble; under his care I got some relief, but my general health did not improve, and early in the winter I began to raise blood and rapidly grew worse. In May last I was taken with a violent bleeding which brought me to my bed and short breath, and a return of the spinal trouble. My physician stopped the bleeding and then ordered Cod Liver Oil and Lime; and I used various preparations, but they did me no good. I lost all hope of life and was a subject of pity to all my friends. Last September I purchased a bottle of your Emulsion and before it was all taken I was better. I afterwards bought a dozen bottles, with the following results: Coughs subsiding, night sweats stopped, appetite returned, pains in spine disappeared, strength since commencing with your Emulsion and shall continue its use until I am perfectly well. I frequently meet some friend on the street who asks, "What cured you?" and I answer, "Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, etc." I have a friend who has not spoken aloud for 12 months, and he is getting better. I gave him a bottle and he bought two more, then got a doctor, and says it is food and strength rapidly. I have advised other parties to try it, and some two or three have already tried it. I am sure I shall entirely recover.
 January 30th, 1879. Very truly yours H. F. SLOCUM, Lowell, Mass.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne:—
 About the 25th of last April I got a bottle of your Emulsion and at that time I was so prostrated that no one who saw me thought I could live longer than a few weeks at most. I could retain nothing on my stomach and was literally starving. I commenced the use of the Emulsion in small doses. It was the first thing that would stay on my stomach; I continued its use, gradually increasing the dose; and from that hour I commenced mending, and now am able to ride and walk, and am gaining flesh and strength rapidly. I have advised other parties to try it, and some two or three have already tried it. I am sure I shall entirely recover.
 I am gratefully yours, R. W. HAMILTON, M. D.
