LINK WITH CULLODEN.—There has just occurred the death in Lochbroon, Ross-shire, Scotland, of Mr. Murdoch Macleay, in his 93rd year, a man whose grand-uncle was an eye witness of the battle of Culloden and had often described it to him. This grand-uncle had been sold to clear some sheep off the ground, and spent the rest of the day watching the battle, in which his brother was fighting. Murdoch Macleay himself was schoolmaster at Lochbroon for well-nigh half a century, and was census taker there on eight occasions. He was registrar and session clerk, loved his garden, his bees and his fishing rod. His father served in the Irish rebellion, and his brother, Captain William Macleay, died in India. The family once were owners of the small estate of Auchlach, which is now part of the Novar estate. Deceased was a distant relative of the McLeays of Watford.

McManus—McKinnon

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Sacred Heart Church, Parkhill, on Wednesday, Jan. 16th, 1913, at 10 o'clock, a.m., when Miss Florence A. McKinnon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKinnon, Parkhill, became the bride of Mr. Joseph A. McManus, proprietor of the Taylor House, Watford. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her away. Miss Madeline Quarry played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bridal party proceeded up the aisle. The bride looked very charming in a lovely white satin gown. The skirt was slightly draped and the bodice was ornamented with beautiful pearl trimmings. She wore the conventional bridal veil, fastened to the head by a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white rose buds. Miss Mary McKinnon, of Detroit, was bridesmaid and was daintily dressed in pink crepe, meteor and chiffon with a touch of black. She wore a large black picture hat, lined with pink and with pink osprey and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Donald McKinnon, of Parkhill, brother of the bride, supported the groom. Rev. Fr. O'Neil conducted the ceremony and sang nuptial high mass. About fifty guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKinnon Mill St. The popular young couple were the recipients of a great number of beautiful gifts. They left on the three p.m. train on their honeymoon for Toronto, Hamilton and Eastern points.

The bride's travelling costume was of navy blue broadcloth with white corduroy vest and white heaver hat with pink trimmings. Hugh Montgomery, of Toronto, Hamilton and Eastern points, M.P.P., and wife were among the guests.

WARWICK.

Don't miss Grace church A.Y.P.A. box social on the 31st.

The annual meeting of the Maple Grove Cheese and Butter Co. will be held in the factory this (Friday) afternoon at 2 o'clock.

In another column is published a by-law of the township respecting snow fences. All residents of Warwick should read this by-law as it is now law and will be enforced by the Council.

On account of the old bridge on the fourth line south, near the town line, being out of repair, the council closed up part of the road and placed a fence across the road. Some person removed the fence, thus opening up a dangerous piece of road for those having to travel that way.

BOX SOCIAL.—A box social under the auspices of the A. Y. P. A. of Grace church, 4th line, Warwick, will be held in the school room on Friday evening, Jan. 31st. A select program will be rendered and a good time is anticipated. Each lady or girl is requested to bring a box of refreshments with name attached. The boxes will be distributed by lot. Admission—Gentlemen, 25c.; boys, 15c.; ladies and girls bringing boxes, free. Come everybody, old, young, middle-aged, and enjoy a pleasant evening.

A literary and debating society has been organized on the 2nd line, S.E.R., to meet each Thursday evening in the school house of S.S. No. 11. On Thursday of last week a programme was given consisting of readings, recitations, music and a debate, the subject of which was "Resolved, that fashion does more harm than tobacco." The decision of the judges was given in favour of the affirmative side. The subject of the debate for next week is "Resolved, that books are more educative than travel."

The special evangelistic services in connection with the Methodist church, Warwick, are continuing this week with increasing interest. Large crowds of people are availing themselves of the opportunity of coming out to enjoy the cheerful services of song and praise. The old-time gospel is being preached with all its simplicity and men and women, young and old, are surrendering their lives to the power and control of the Holy Ghost. Several of the brethren are coming to the assistance of the pastor in this great evangelistic effort. Rev. H. E. Currie, preacher, is a very able and impressive sermon on Wednesday night last. Bro. Wm. Young, a lay-preacher, of Warwick Village, has also very ably assisted with his gospel services. Mr. J. C. Blake, of Lyons, Ont., a very able local preacher and devoted Christian worker, was with the pastor on Sunday and is continuing with him through the week. The services on Sunday were especially interesting. The morning service was a decision day service for the Sunday school and about sixteen boys and girls, along with some older members of the school, came to the altar and gave themselves to the Lord. It was an occasion of great rejoicing for both parents and teachers to see these young people making a decision for Christ. A similar service was held at Uttoxeter, where also a large number of the young people came to the front of the church and decided to enter upon the Christian life. So far these services have been a decided success, the church membership has been graciously blessed, and opened to greater activity in the spiritual life, and many souls have been won for the Kingdom of God.

On Monday evening, Jan. 20th, the Rev. R. Stevenson, pastor of the Congregational church, had a narrow escape from drowning. He was on his way from Watford to take part in the proceedings at the new Calvary Baptist Church when the affair happened. Mr. Stevenson was driving along the 4th line, Warwick, in order to get to the Townline, where the new church is situated, and not being aware that the old wooden bridge between the 6th sideroad and the townline had been condemned as unsafe, he crossed it and descended into what is known as the flats. He found however, that it was altogether impossible to go on, as the whole road was completely submerged under water, and while trying to turn around, his horse plunged into a deep hole up to the neck. Mr. Stevenson had then to get out and do his best to extricate the horse and buggy, being anxious all the time lest the buggy should topple over into the ditch. After considerable difficulty and careful handling, he found himself once more on terra firma, but in a miserable condition, being wet to the skin. He had with him in the buggy a number of valuable musical instruments and, as the water found its way into the buggy box, they have been partly damaged. Among the different experiences and escapes which Mr. Stevenson had while a missionary in the far west, he does not remember any of a more exciting nature than the one he had last Monday night.

Forest had 37 births, 18 marriages and 23 deaths in 1912.

Thomas Johnson, probably the oldest man in Lambton, died at his home, 15 1/2 lot 1, con. 5, Plympton, last Saturday, 11th inst., at the advanced age of 90 yrs., 2 mos. and 17 days. The deceased was of English birth and has raised a family of 13 children, of whom 8 survive. His wife, aged 85 years, is active and in the enjoyment of excellent health. The funeral was held Monday afternoon. The remains were interred in the Wyoming cemetery.

GORGEOUS NIGHTROBES.

Velvet and Silken Ones Used to Be Worn in the Daytime. In the middle ages night robes, as a general thing, were unknown luxuries. Under the Tudor royalty and nobility had them made of silk or velvet, and, as the old books say, "hence no washing was necessary."

A nightrobe of black satin bound with black taffeta and edged with velvet of the same color was daintily fashioned for Anne Boleyn. More luxurious still was one owned by Queen Bess. It was of black velvet, fur lined, and greatly offset by fowing borders of silk laces. And in 1508 her majesty gave orders that George Brodgram should deliver "threescore and six best sable skyttes, to furnish us a nightgown." Four years later her highness orders the delivery of "twelve yards of purple velvet, friezed on the back syde, with white and russet silke," for a nightgown for herself and also orders the delivery of fourteen yards of murrey damask for the "makinge of a nightgown" for some one else.

Nightgowns for ladies of a later period were called "nyght vails." In Queen Anne's time it was the fashion to wear them over the customary dress in the streets in the daytime, when out on a pleasure walk. And, as was fitting, ladies who indulged in night-caps had them also made of silk or velvet, with "much pretty garnishing of lace and glifflering cords," and the fair ones made presentation of costly caps to each other as tokens of respect or affection.

More Bovine Than Prodigal. Corporal Nugent had returned to Kansas City, Kan., after a long absence, and the farmer who delivers eggs twice a week at the Nugent home recognized in the corporal a strange individual, but an undoubted member of the family, judging from facial appearance. It happened a few days ago that the corporal was alone in the house when the farmer delivered the eggs. The farmer was desirous of saying something pleasant of course. "I suppose," he said, "that you are the prodigal son."

"No," said the corporal gravely. "I am the fatted calf."—Kansas City Star.

Japanese Royal Composers. The imperial family of Japan, like the Hohenzollerns, has produced some musical composers. At the reception given by the mikado in 1894 to celebrate his silver wedding a dance was played which, according to the program, was "composed 1,800 years ago by the Emperor Yomer. It represents the joyous flight of a bird of paradise in the golden age." Another dance was "composed 987 years ago by Prince Atsumi."

Much Better. Small Edgar while out walking with his mother hesitated at a muddy crossing. "Well, why don't you go ahead?" she asked. "I was just thinking," replied Edgar, "that it would be better to go afoot."—Chicago News.

The Way. "I should think they could easily run a funny department in the Congressional Record." "How would they do it?" "Why, look at all the jokers they have in the bills."—Baltimore American.

Not the Same. Wifey—Big checks for dresses will not be in demand this season. Hubby—Thank heaven! (But the big checks were demanded just the same.)—Exchange.

CHOP STUFF.

Petrolia maids and matrons are talking up a hospital benefit dance. There were 310 entries at the Lambton Poultry Show at Thedford last week. A large departmental store is one of the possibilities of the near future in Leamington. Sarnia Temperance Alliance will begin a campaign for license reduction in that town. Reuben Alexander, who lost his life by accident lately, was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Alexander of Enniskillen.

Mr. and Mrs. David Smith, Bosanquet, celebrated the fortieth anniversary of their wedding New Year's Day. Twenty-one relatives were present. Rev. J. E. Hawkins, who has resigned from the pastorate of the Central Baptist Church, Sarnia, was presented with a purse of gold and a dinner service. In this age of motor cars, steam and electric railways and all, few would care to start out on a journey of 27 miles on foot. It was up to John Dutot, of Colchester, to accomplish this feat, when he started out on the morning of December 20th, and walked from his home to Leamington; from there he went to Kingsville; thence seven miles west to the home of his sister, Mrs. Jas. Bailey, in Colchester South. He refused several rides and reached his destination in 7 1/2 hours after leaving.

The death of Mrs. Alex. McDougall occurred in Sarnia on Sunday morning, December 29th. She was in the 80th year of her age and for several years had not enjoyed her usual good health, but was critically ill only a few days prior to her death. She is survived by her husband, one daughter and three sons, also one sister and one brother. For many years Mr. and Mrs. McDougall lived on the twelfth line of Enniskillen, but for the past sixteen years they have resided in Sarnia.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by all Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Which kind of a culvert does your waggon cross?

DOES the road you use pass over rickety, dangerous wooden culverts, that are constantly in need of repairs and often washed away entirely? Or is it carried safely across the low places by modern, everlasting culverts? Build your CULVERTS OF CONCRETE

which not only cannot be washed away, but actually grow stronger with age and use.

Every farmer owes it to himself to insist that the money he pays for road-taxes be spent to the best advantage. As a ratepayer, he is entitled to the best roads that can be made with that money. When culverts are washed out, and the road rendered impassable, he not only suffers inconvenience but may also be caused financial loss by inability to get necessary supplies in time for spring planting. And at best, with wooden culverts, part of the money that should be used to make better roads must be spent every year for repairs.

PLYMPTON

James Stewart, of the 12th line, who has been in London for several weeks past, died there on Monday, aged 91 years. Deceased was born in the county of Monaghan, Ireland, about 1831. He came to Canada when eighteen years of age, and located at Hamilton, where he was employed in the lumber business.
In 1850 he moved to Lambton, and purchased 100 acres of land on the 12th concession, Plympton township. For 60 years he was a continuous resident of the township, and ranked among the oldest and most honored citizens of the county. On Sept. 28th, 1894, he was united in marriage with Mary Ann Beattie, at Oakville, Ont. Four children were born of this union, two surviving, namely, Mrs. Wm. Straghan, of Sarnia, and Miss Agnes Emma Stewart, also of Sarnia. Mrs. Stewart died March 31st, 1880. The remains of Mr. Stewart arrived here Wednesday afternoon, and the funeral took place from the C.T.R. depot to Beechwood cemetery. Service at the grave was conducted by Rev. Cannon—Forest Standard.

Well Paid.

John Kirby, of Stratford, Ont., writes:
—"I used the Homestead High Grade Garden and Vegetable Fertilizer on my root crops and say I had the best crop of roots ever grown on my farm. I was certainly well paid for the money I invested in this fertilizer."

Homestead Fertilizers are manufactured at the Michigan Carbon Works, Detroit, Michigan, who will send free to any farmer their book on fertilizers with a handsome calendar postage paid. They want agents where they are not now represented. Address, Michigan

Corey—Gurd

At Christ Church, Petrolia, the marriage was solemnized of Kathleen Whitmer Gurd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Alfred Gurd, to Mr. Harrison Edward Corey. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Canon Craig, of London, Ont., assisted by Rev. Wm. Hill, rector of Christ Church. Miss McAlpine presided at the organ, and during the signing of the register Mr. John Peat sang "The Crown." The bride, who was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. John Archibald Kerr, wore a gown of white duchesse satin, the corsage of which was draped with Limerick lace and caught with orange blossoms her bridal veil being arranged in a Juliette cap, and wore the groom's gift, a diamond pendant. The bridesmaid, Miss Jessie Gurd, sister of the bride, and maid of honor, Miss Minnie Cryser, wore pink champagne, made pannier style and large white hats; they carried old-fashioned nosegays of pink and white sweet peas, and wore ear-rings, the gift of the groom. The groom was assisted by Mr. Curtis Parkinson of Montreal.
After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Corey left for New York, from which port they sail for Egypt and the Continent. The bride travelled in a light brown ratine cloth, with velour hat to match.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are made according to a formula in use nearly a century ago among the Indians, and learned from them by Dr. Morse. Though repeated attempts have been made, by physicians and chemists, it has been found impossible to improve the formula or the pills. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are a household remedy throughout the world for Constipation and all Kidney and Liver troubles. They act promptly and effectively, and

Cleanse the System

SOMETHING MORE THAN A PURGATIVE —To purge is the only effect of many pills now on the market. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are more than a purgative. They strengthen the stomach, where other pills weaken it. They cleanse the blood by regulating the liver and kidneys, and they stimulate where other pill compounds depress.
Nothing of an injurious nature, used for merely purgative powers, enters into their composition.

PIE IS GOOD FOOD.

Even if the Paste is Soggy, Chewing Will Kill its Terrors.

"In its proper place," says the New York Medical Journal, "pie is not only a palatable but a nutritious staple, an excellent vehicle of carbohydrates and fruit. It is not essentially indigestible and demands only proper mastication and insalvation to insure lack of discomfort."

In other words, if we chew pie as persistently as we chew the rag about the indigestibility of pie we shall find it as sweetly digestible as it is blandly delectable.

"Pie crust," this authority goes on to say, "is only flour and lard, the latter being replaced usually by chicken fat by those who object to any form of pork. Delicacy of manipulation is required in the making of the crust, and such delicacy depends paradoxically upon great digital strength, for only the strong have a genuine lightness of touch."

Thus is explained the armor plate crust so often the product of the deff but weak "manipulation" of slender, pretty and youthful brides as compared with the flaky, sea foamy kind turned loose by older and stiffer fingered mothers. But wait a moment. We can eat and even live in comfort upon our sweet girl graduates' pies after all, for the paper continues, "A soggy, paste, however, made by frail fingers, is only aesthetically objectionable, for resolute chewing will deprive it of its terrors."

Now, however, comes the crux of the pie matter. We customarily "top off" with pie and cheese after we've had a hearty dinner and enough, but if we eat lightly and then have pie or make pie and cheese answer for a whole meal there is not the slightest ill effect from it.

Giving Impressively.

There are diversities of giving as well as of gifts. To give a little with a grand air sometimes seems to make more of an impression than to give much modestly. The world has not changed in this respect. Samuel Pepys wrote in his "Diary" in 1600: "There was a great number of merchants and others of good quality (at a dinner) on purpose to make an offering (to two newly married servants), which when dinner was done we did, and I did give 10 shillings and no more, though I believe most of the rest did give more and did believe that I did so too."

Advice to Bore.

A successful after dinner speaker said:
"I owe my success to the fact that I'm always brief and to the point. I once asked Senator Depew how long an after dinner speaker ought to speak.
"About two minutes—unless by that time he has struck rich ore," the senator replied. "And if he hasn't struck it he should at once stop boring!"—

A LINIMENT FOR THE LOGGER.—Loggers lead a life which exposes them to many perils. Wounds, cuts and bruises cannot be altogether avoided in preparing timber for the drive and in river work, where wet and cold combined are of daily experience coughs and colds and muscular pains cannot but ensue. Dr.
Thomas' Electric Oil, when applied to the injured or administered to the ailing, works wonders.

WATFORD, JANUARY 24, 1913.

BROOKE.

Miss Annie Leitch, who has been visiting her friend, Miss Mabel McGugan, has returned home.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Kearney, who has been sick for some time, is not doing so well as expected and on Tuesday returned to Sarnia hospital.

J. E. McVicar, the new reeve of Brooke, polled the largest vote for reeve that was ever polled in the history of the township. His vote was 325, against 242 for his opponent, Mr. Munro.

Edward and Hugh Kennedy, of Brooke, arrived here last Tuesday to see their brother, M. Kennedy, who is seriously ill at his home on Prince street. Hugh returned home on Tuesday, and Edward is still here.—Forest Free Press.

The Brooke Women's Institute held their January meeting at the home of Mrs. Margaret Campbell, Rokeby. There were thirty-five ladies present, and a pleasant afternoon was spent. Miss Hand and Mrs. R. Clarke, of the Alvinston branch, gave a report of the convention recently held in Toronto. Their reports were very interesting and were highly commented on by the ladies. Miss Amy McLean gave a paper on New Years resolutions. Recitations were given by Pearl McLena and Reta McPhail. Lunch was served by the hostess, after which the ladies were called to the lawn and the group was photographed by Miss Annie Leitch. The next meeting will be held on Feb. 13th at the home of Mrs. George Campbell, 12th line.

The North Brooke Debating Society held a very successful meeting on Friday evening, Jan. 10th. The president, Archie A. Fisher, occupied the chair and called the meeting to order. The subject which was under discussion, for the evening was "Resolved, that a woman is more companionable to a man than a library." The speakers on the affirmative side were Miss L. Coristine, H. Dolbear and E. Shugg, while Miss N. McEachern, Mrs. J. W. Hawes and E. Zavitz defended the negative. All the addresses were delivered in splendid style, each speaker bringing out many interesting and amusing points. The negative side were declared the winners by the judge, D. McIntyre. The Society will meet again on Friday evening, Jan. 24th, when a literary contest will be held. Miss M. Fisher and N. McVicar are the captains for the evening, and both are striving to make the evening a success. All are cordially invited to attend, as a treat is certainly in store for those who do.

The regular meeting of the East Brooke Farmer's Club was held in S. S. No. 10, Brooke, on Thursday evening, the 14th inst. The school was filled to its capacity. A number of important subjects were discussed, among them being the advisability of having traction ditchers placed on the free list. Mr. Porter, of Petrolia, district representative, gave a very instructive address on the uses and benefits of a Farmer's Club. Mr. Augustine, of Cairo, also addressed the meeting in the interests of the Farmers' Institute. Mr. Howard Woods favored the audience with a solo, and Mr. Ray Smith gave several selections on the mouthorgan. On Tuesday evening, Jan. 22nd a literary debate will be held. The subject for debate is "Resolved, that the franchise should be extended to women." The affirmative leader is Mrs. Donald McDonald and the negative leader Mrs. Earnest Powell. Everyone welcome.

Toronto, Jan. 21.—Receipts at Union stockyards today were 174 cars, with 3,212 head of cattle, 137 calves, 1,295 hogs and 1,034 sheep and lambs. Trade was slow and the market 10c to 15c lower on good butchers and 15c to 25c on common. Sheep were steady, but lambs a little easier, except for choice quality. The hog market is 25c lower and weak. The run of cattle was very heavy and included a large proportion of light common butchers, and these proved a drag on the better qualities. Choice heavy steers were again not plentiful, and were the only class not affected by the general decline of the market. About three loads of heavy steers sold at $7.00 to $7.15. Cows were easier and off 25c.

Robt. Hillis, Holland, Man.:—We are having a fine winter here, little snow and no mud. It has been chilly the past week, the mercury going down to 40 below zero. Enclosed find $1.00 for your paper. This is something I could not do without if it was $5.00 a year, as I like to know what is going on in my native land.

Mal. Dewar, Sarnia:—Enclosed please find $1.00 for Guide-Advocate for 1913. We do not seem to be able to get along without it, as that would be like a Scotchman trying to get along without his porridge.

Wm. Parker, Kelliker, Sask.:—Enclosed find $1.00 for paper. We would not like to be without it. We have had fairly good crops, no frost, but considerable damage by hail in some localities. Nice sleighing since first of Dec. and little zero weather until New Years, when it dropped to 45 below for a couple of days. We wish the Guide-Advocate a prosperous year.

RE POST OFFICE AND ARMORY

EDITOR GUIDE-ADVOCATE:
 For some time I have been in touch with the Government re the sites for the post office and armories. On looking into the matter of granting free sites, the corporation would be put to much inconvenience and expense. A special Act of Parliament would have to be passed by the Provincial Parliament, which would take up considerable time, thus causing the matter to be held up indefinitely. The expenses incurred would also be considerable, along with the other general expenses. I have gone into the matter carefully with our local representative, Mr. Armstrong, who placed my request before the Minister of Public Works. I have now in my possession, a letter dated Ottawa, Jan. 17th, which states that the Minister of Public Works has looked into my request and will appropriate the sum of $200 towards sites. He also states everything will be straightened out at once and the work will be proceeded with as quickly as possible. The Government has been very generous with the town and it is to be hoped that everybody will work in harmony.

A BY-LAW RESPECTING SNOW FENCES

Township of Warwick

Whereas Municipal Councils have under the provisions of The Consolidated Municipal Act, and under The Snow Fences Act, power to pass a by-law regulating the kind of fences to be erected or maintained bordering upon any public highway;

And whereas it has been found that all fences other than wire fences cause an accumulation of snow so as to impede or obstruct travel;

Therefore the Municipal Council of the Township of Warwick enacts as follows:

1. That all fences bordering on any public highway within the Municipality of the Township of Warwick, hereafter erected, shall be fences known as "Wire Fences" and that no wooden or board or picket fences or fences of any kind excepting consisting of posts and wire which border on any public highway, shall hereafter be erected within the Township of Warwick.
2. That all fences which border upon any Highway in the Township of Warwick, which are not wire fences and which cause an accumulation of snow or drift so as to impede or obstruct the travel on the public highway or any part thereof, shall (after written notice is given by the corporation to the owner or occupant requesting him to do so) be taken down by the owner thereof or by the occupiers of the lands enclosed by such fence and a wire fence substituted there-of, subject however to the provisions contained in the said "The Snow Fences Act" as to making compensation to the owners or occupants thereof.

This by-law shall come into force and take effect from and after the final passing thereof.
 Finally passed this 16th day of December A. D. 1912.

"FEEBLE STOMACH"

Causes Digestive Weakness and Poisons the Entire System.

"No one can have suffered more than I did with stomach trouble," writes Phil E. Pascale, well known at St. Andrews Corners. "My doctor told me my indigestion and sleeplessness were due to poisons in the blood. Certainly my condition was desperate, and it seemed from the despondent feelings that swept over me that I would lose my reason. I happened to read about Dr. Hamilton's Pills and bought five boxes from the druggist. Such body-cleansing pills I never used; they were mild and yet quite strong enough to drive all the humors out of the blood. My stomach gained strength rapidly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I improved so much that in eight weeks I could eat and digest all ordinary food. Depression and weariness passed away and I am, thanks to Dr. Hamilton's Pills, enjoying robust good health."

No remedy for biliousness, indigestion, headache, sick stomach, or constipation that compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Refuse substitutes. Sold in 25c. boxes. All dealers, or The Catarthozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

A THEORETIC MEDDLER

He Needed a Lesson, and He Received It

By F. A. MITCHEL

Professor Van Winkle, an authority on brain diseases, had a theory that the greatest liberty should be granted to insane patients. The professor claimed that shutting up a patient aggravated the disease. It happened that the college in which Van Winkle lectured was located in the same town with the state lunatic asylum, and, as was natural, considering his specialty, his opinions on the treatment of the insane confined there had great weight with the townspeople, from whom they were reflected upon the board of directors of the asylum.

Dr. Swinburne, the superintendent, not only had the confidence of the staff of doctors and nurses—indeed, all the employees—but was very much beloved by them, and they were always in terror lest some visitor to the institution witnessing a necessary severity should, with the aid of Professor Van Winkle, cause the doctor to be reprimanded and that he would resign. Finally this very thing happened. A mother saw her son put in a strait jacket. She complained to Van Winkle. The professor "talked." The directors fulminated a law against unnecessary severity and recommended the use of patients, so far as possible, for whatever work about the institution they were fitted. When these orders were received by Dr. Swinburne he handed in his resignation.

During the professor's visit he was given every facility for the performance of his work. The staff were not disposed to regard his presence there unfavorably. He had been there about half an hour when he was shown to a padded room wherein was confined a man who showed no signs of mental or any other disease. The professor asked him why he was there.

"I can't understand," replied the patient. "Why I am detained here. The management might better avail themselves of my services and save some of the money they have been wasting. I was for years chef in one of the largest hotels in America and could do all the cooking required here. Instead of that I am being driven really insane by being confined alone with no occupation."

Nothing could have conformed more nearly to the professor's theory.

"Why don't you give the man a chance?" he asked of the attendant who was conducting him.

"He has been under surveillance, professor," was the reply, "and we have about concluded to grant his request. What do you think about it? If you say the word we will put him in the kitchen at once."

"I will assume the responsibility of your doing so," replied the inspector. The patient was at once let out of confinement and went below while the professor continued his inspection.

There was great relief felt by the staff when the great mental experimenter finished his work and was ready to depart. While standing in the hall waiting for his carriage to drive up to the door the patient he had released from the padded room in the white apparel of a cook stepped up to him and whispered in his ear that if he would come to the kitchen he would show him something he should see. The professor went with him to the kitchen. They had no sooner entered than the patient locked the door and put the key in his pocket.

"I don't propose," he said, "that any of these villains who have kept me a prisoner shall interfere with my showing you what miserable rotten stuff they have been feeding us. If I gave them a chance they would come in here and on pretense that I show signs of relapse take me back to that mad room. Mad room! That's what it is—a room in which to make some people mad. Come here!"

Now, the locking of the door was in itself not especially grateful to Professor Van Winkle, but when he saw the chef getting excited he felt a cold chill run down his back. He went with the latter to the enormous range, capable of cooking meals for a couple of hundred persons. There was a hot fire within, and the noon meal was being prepared. On the range a large cauldron of soup was boiling.

"How many cooks do you suppose they had here when I came in?" the patient asked excitedly. "There were

HERE IS GOOD ADVICE TO TAKE

It will help those who have Kidney and Bladder Trouble. There are other "old enemies" similar to the one mentioned in this testimonial. Kidney and Bladder Troubles are always enemies to good health. As soon as you start to take GIN PILLS these ailments begin to disappear. It is the same in cases of Lumbago, Sciatica and like complaints. This letter illustrates the benefit of GIN PILLS.

Winnipeg, Jan. 6th.
"I have been a sufferer from Lumbago for some years past and during Christmas week had a very acute attack which confined me to the house. About the latter part of April, I met your Mr. Hill and mentioned my complaint to him. He advised me to take GIN PILLS. I have been taking them at intervals during the early part of the present winter, and up to date have had no return of my old trouble—in fact, I feel better than I have for years and think that my old enemy has vanished for good and all."

ten cooks, and each cook had an assistant. Besides these fifty cooks and assistant cooks, there were twenty scullions. Just think of it—a hundred cooks and scullions to get the meals for not over 150 persons, and the people of the state taxed to pay 'em! I seized this—taking up a cleaver—and drove 'em all out."

Professor Van Winkle had a theory as to the management of lunatics when they became dangerous. It was to humor them. The chef was growing more and more excited, and the professor thought it high time to invent some way of getting out.

"What door did you drive them through?" he asked.

"That one," said the chef, pointing to a door opposite the one through which they had entered.

"Let us go and find them," said Van Winkle, starting for the door. But when he reached it his heart sank within him. It was locked. Turning, he saw the chef holding up the key, laughing and dancing.

"You didn't think I would let 'em come back, did you? Not I. Suppose the whole lot of 'em should come down on me armed with carving knives. I'd have to cut their heads off with the cleaver." And he brought it down fiercely on a huge block used for cutting meat on.

The professor looked at the windows with a view to bolting through one of them. The sashes were all down and before he could get one of them up the maniac could split his skull with the cleaver.

"If I ever get out of here alive," said the caged man to himself, "I'll stick to my studies and let others work out my conclusions in practice. I've had enough of this. This fellow is mad as a March hare."

"Come here!" thundered the chef, "and see what kind of meat this devil Swinburne feeds us on."

Van Winkle obeyed, and the man, opening the door of one of the ovens, pulled out a pan containing a large roast of sizzling beef.

"Smell it!" cried the chef.

Van Winkle, not daring to disobey, bent over the roast.

"Close!"

J. W. McLAREN, Watford

Van Winkle bent lower. The maniac put his hand on the other's head and rubbed his nose on the beef. When he permitted his victim to arise, a red spot appeared on the top of the professor's nose.

"You've come here to make an inspection and you've got to do it. You can't smell anything unless you poke your nose into it. What do you think it is?"

"Roast beef. It smells very bad," stammered the terrified scientist.

"Roast beef! Why, man, that's not roast beef; it's unicorn."

"Certainly it is."

"And it's rotten."

"Very rotten."

"Not fit to eat."

"Indeed it's not."

"What'll I do with it?"

"Throw it away."

"No; I'll burn it to a cinder." And above the meat back into the oven, he shut the door with a bang.

"Do you know, professor, what kind of meat I believe in feeding insane persons on?"

"No."

"Human meat. There's something in human meat to nourish humans. Why not? The waste is replenished by the same tissue that is lost. These crazy persons suffer from a want of brain food. What's so good for the brain as the brain. If I could give all these sufferers in this asylum one dinner of brain food I could cure 'em."

"Suppose," said the professor, trembling—"suppose we go out and get some brain food for them."

"Go out? Why should we go out when we've got it right here? You, who have done so much for brain sufferers will certainly do one thing more."

"What?" faltered the professor, knowing well what the man meant.

"Give your brain to the cause. It would be worth a dozen common brains. Its theories would be taken in to the system as well as the organic matter. Like cures like. Come, lay your head down on that block. I'll take it off with this cleaver and boil it in that cauldron."

The professor, white as a sheet and trembling at the knees, looked about for an avenue of escape.

"Down on the block!" roared the maniac. "It's nothing more than many eminent men and women among our British ancestors have done. Think of Anne Boleyn, the Earl of Strafford, Archbishop Lawd, Lady Jane Gray, Charles I. and hundreds of others. They gave their heads for no cause; you will give yours for mental sufferers."

The maniac seized the professor by the arm, at the same time raising the cleaver. Van Winkle could stand the strain no longer. He raised a cry that reverberated throughout the building. Persons were heard trying to open the doors. Then one of the windows was thrown up, and an attendant jumped into the room, followed by others. They reached the maniac in time to save the professor, took the cleaver from the former and led him away struggling. Six strong men were engaged in the removal.

Van Winkle on reaching home, as soon as he had recovered from the shock he had received, wrote out a statement to the directors of the state asylum for the insane in which he admitted that there were cases of insanity needing rigorous treatment and that the experienced persons in charge of them were the best judges of when to apply such treatment. The superintendent's resignation was withdrawn.

The brain theorist did not again visit the institution for two years, when Dr. Swinburne had retired. In the new superintendent Professor Van Winkle met with a surprise. He was none other than the maniac chef who had so nearly chopped the inspector's head off. The superintendent smiled.

"Professor," he said, "we were obliged to eliminate your interference with Dr. Swinburne's management or lose the doctor. When you came on your tour of inspection I was then a physician on the staff, but you had never seen me and I concluded to play the part of an uncurd patient. I meant no harm. Your scientific deductions are valuable, but we must be the judges as to testing them."

Professor Van Winkle never told the story as to how he had been duped and eliminated.

AN ALPINE TRAGEDY.
He Won a Wager and Then Lost His Life Through Pure Recklessness.
"There is a regrettable modern tendency to disrespect the difficulties of some of the great Alps, especially those whose ascents have appealed to popular favor. The Wetterhorn, or Storm peak, that huge rock embattled sentinel of the Grindelwald giants, is the most notorious example of this," writes George D. Abraham in The Pall Mall Magazine. "Truly even on mountains 'familiarity breeds contempt.' It has been lightly named 'the Ladies' peak,' but with far too terrible frequency a fearful revenge has been extorted; its death roll is equalled by few of the Alps."
"The following tragedy of 1908 is typical of many others. A young English lady, aided by the best of guides, made one of the earliest as-cents of the season and innocently left a silken handkerchief fluttering in the summit breeze. This was noticed through the large telescope at Grindelwald, and a Swiss workman, roused by the sight, waded forth with that he would bring down the trophy single handed.
"He won the wager, but lost his life in the winning. Common sense prevailed to the extent of taking a companion as inexperienced as himself, and fortune smiled upon them until they most reached the foot of the Great Couloir on their return.
There the young workman untied from the rope and, waving the trophy of success in his hand, started to glissade direct down the snow slope to the glacier.
"The friend's example and advice to follow the usual descent by the rocks at the side of the couloir were utterly disregarded. At express speed he rushed downward until suddenly he saw the end of the couloir overhanging nothingness and the glacier some hundreds of feet below. It was too late. With a shriek of warning to his friend he dashed outward over the edge into space and eternity. The next day the remains were recovered.
In his right hand the unfortunate victim of his own folly clutched the handkerchief; he brought it down to Grindelwald."

Queer Presents to Royalty.
The list of strange gifts to modern monarchs contain some curious items.
King Edward, shortly after his coronation, received a registered packet from an admirer, addressed to "His Majesty the King of England, House of Parliament, England," containing a gigantic prize potato, which the sender begged him to accept. Another strange present to his late majesty was the mummified hand of an Egyptian princess, which the king kept on his writing-desk at Sandringham, and used as a paper weight.
The Kaiser, too, was greatly amused seven years ago when a letter was delivered at the palace in Berlin containing a bank-note for 100 marks and an anonymous note begging the Emperor to use the money for the purchase of warm underclothing.
"For," wrote the donor, "I saw your majesty at review yesterday, and it seemed to me that you were not so warmly clad as you should be."

Chimneys.
Chimneys are modern — that is, chimneys with fireplaces and flues.
None of the Roman ruins show chimneys like ours. There are none in the restored buildings in Herculaneum and Pompeii. Roman architects complained that their decorations were smoked up. A kitchen in Rome was always sooty. Braziers were used in the living rooms. The chimney of antiquity consisted of a hole in the soot. The wealthy Romans used carefully dried wood, which would burn in the room without soot. The modern chimney was first used in Europe in the fourteenth century. The oldest certain account of a chimney places it in Venice in 1347.

FOR SKIN DISEASES
A Treatment that Costs Nothing Unless It Provides Satisfactory Relief.
We have a grayish-white ointment with a pleasant odor that is clean to use, which we believe is the best known remedy for the relief of skin diseases. It is especially efficacious for overcoming eczema in all its various forms, ringworm, acne, pimples, blisters, insect bites, tetter, certain forms of ulcers, sores and wounds. It is strongly antiseptic, cleansing, soothing and healing.
It stops all itching and burning caused by skin eruptions.
We are so positive this ointment is unequalled that we offer it with the distinct understanding that if after having given it a reasonable trial, you are not satisfied with the results, you have only got to tell us and we will, without quibbling, return every cent paid us for it. We exact no promises or obligations whatever.
We want you to try REXALL Eczema Ointment. The first application gives a refreshing sense of relief, and because of its germ destroying power, it eradicates the germ or parasite which causes eczema and many other eruptions. It quickly allays the inflammation, gives protection to the inflamed surfaces, and helps restore healthy tissue. It is particularly active in relieving skin ailments peculiar to children. You certainly cannot lose anything by trying it.
We would not dare make this offer except we are positive REXALL Eczema Ointment will satisfactorily benefit you. Two sizes,

MAN OF MANY SUPPERS.
Court Ball Comedy of a Small German Capital.
An amusing story of an incident at a masked ball given at the capital of one of the smaller German principalities is told in Berlin. The rule was printed upon the invitation cards that every one must come either in fancy dress or in a black domino.
In one of the rooms of the court a buffet had been set out, and the attendants there soon came to remark the unusually active appetite of one guest, duly masked and cloaked, who consumed extraordinarily large quantities of the more expensive delicacies and wines. After several minutes of vigorous eating he would leave the buffet and disappear among the throng of dancers. Soon, however, he would be back again, his appetite apparently as strong as ever.
After the fourth visit at short intervals of this hungry guest the head waiter called the attention of the master of ceremonies, who waited at the buffet until the masked stranger once more returned. He was again served with a full supply of food and wine and as he turned away was positely asked to show his invitation card.
At this some confusion was noticed in his bearing and the master of ceremonies requested him to remove his mask and cloak. To the astonishment of the servants and the amusement of the guests there was revealed the shamefaced figure of one of the soldiers of the guard on duty in the hall below. The guards had found a spare domino lying in the hall and they had been putting it on one after the other during the evening, so as to be able to go boldly into the ballrooms and eat their fill at the buffet unchallenged.
So amused at the story was the grand duke that he refused to allow the greedy soldiers to be punished.—

CURE FOR SKIN SORES
An illustration of the way in which Zam-Buk cures even the most serious and chronic cases of ulcers, eruptions and sores is provided by Mr. R. H. Barker, of Glencairn, Ont. He says:—
"I would not have believed that any remedy could cure so quickly, and at the same time so effectively, as Zam-Buk cured me.
"My face became covered with a kind of rash, which itched and irritated. This rash then turned to sores, which discharged freely and began to spread. I first tried one thing and another, but nothing seemed to do me any good, and the eruption got worse and worse, until my face was just covered with running sores.
"Apart from the pain (which was very bad), my face was such a terrible sight that I was not fit to go out. This was my state when some one advised me to try Zam-Buk. I got a supply, and, marvellous as it may sound, within little under a month every sore on my face was healed. I was so amazed that I have told the facts to several persons, and I have no objection to your stating my experience for the benefit of other sufferers."
Zam-Buk is purely herbal in composition, and is the ideal for babies and young children, for whose tender skin skin eruptions are so dangerous. Zam-Buk is a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, blood-poison, varicose sores, piles, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped places, cuts, burns, bruises and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. Refuse harmful substitutes.

Labor Wasted.
"You went to a lot of trouble to train your dog."
"Yes," replied Mr. Growcher. "And it was a mistake. The only thing a man who teaches a dog tricks gets for his pains is to have a lot of people say the dog is smarter than he is."

SECTION 132 of the tobacco and cigar regulations forbids cigarettes being sold in any other way than by the stamped package. It has come to the notice of the inland revenue department that some dealers are selling cigarettes from packages, and this will not be permitted.
The inland revenue officers desire to warn all dealers that proceedings will be taken if they are caught selling cigarettes in any other way than by the properly stamped package.

PALE ANAEMIC GIRLS

Find New Health Through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

There must be no guesswork in the treatment of pale anaemic girls. If your daughter is languid, has a pale, sallow complexion, is short of breath, especially on going upstairs; if she has palpitation of the heart, a poor appetite, or a tendency to faint, she has anaemia—which means poverty of the blood. Any delay in treatment may leave her weak and sickly for the rest of her life—delay might even result in consumption, that most hopeless of diseases. When the blood is poor and watery, there is only one certain cure—that is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, coupled with nourishing food and gentle out-of-door exercise. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood, which flowing through the veins stimulate the nerves, increases the appetite, give brightness to the eye, a glow of health to the cheek, and make weak, despondent girls full of healthy activity. The case of Miss J. H. Lassalle, Sorel, Que., is typical of the cures made by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says:—"I was weak and all-run down. My face was pale and covered with pimples. My lips were pale. I suffered from pains in all my limbs, which would at times be swollen. I was hardly ever free from headaches, and I found work about the house a burden, as the least effort left me fatigued and breathless. I had no appetite, and notwithstanding that I was constantly doctoring I seemed to be growing worse all the time. One day my mother said that she thought I ought to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I de-

Those cousins out west—or back east—you don't hear from them as often now. You each have new friends, new interests. But after all, blood is thicker than water and your picture and the pictures of the other members of your family would be welcomed by them—especially at this time of the year.

PERSISTENT ASTHMA. A most distressing characteristic of this debilitating disease, is the persistence with which recurring attacks come to sap away strength and leave the sufferer in a state of almost continual exhaustion. No wiser precaution can be taken than that of keeping at hand a supply of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy, famous as the most potent remedy for eradicating the disease from the tender air passages.
