WINDSOR TO MONTREAL

One Car For Live Stock and One For Soil, Seeds and Best Crops.

The Canadian Pacific Railway and the Ontario Department of Agriculture have arranged to send two instruction cars over the C. P. R. lines from Windsor to Montreal, including the Goderich, Owen Sound and Coldwater branches. One car will be for the transportation of live stock—heavy horses, beef cattle, sheep, swine and poultry—to be used in demonstrating desirable types and instructing the farmers and stock raisers in the judging. The other car will contain illustrative and demonstrative material covering the following:

- "Seed Improvement."
  - "Identification of Weeds."
  - "Testing of Seed."
  - "Drainage."
  - "Soil Moisture."
  - "Alfalfa."
  - "Insects."
  - "Dairying."
  - "Poultry Raising," etc.
- The train will start at Windsor on the 15th inst., and will spend a whole day at each of the forty-one places to be visited, the trip concluding on July 11. The itinerary has been so arranged that the department hopes to visit the various points at a time when the busy seeding time will have passed and before having begun.
- A competent staff of instructors will be on the demonstration car and in charge of the live stock from 9 in the morning until 5.30 in the evening. Evening lectures, illustrated with lantern views and covering such subjects as "Live Stock Improvement," "Poultry Raising," "Destruction of Weeds," "Improvement of Seeds," etc., will be given at each of the places.
- The work is under the direct management of Geo. A. Putnam, superintendent of institutes, department of agriculture, Toronto.

WANT MOTOR BUSES TO REPLACE TROLLEYS

Foster and Church Think They Would Solve the Rapid Transit Problem.

Motor buses for Toronto have lodged in the minds of Controllers Foster and Church as a part of the opposition to bringing the present rapid transit service under municipal ownership. They advocated in the board of control that further enquiry be made into motor bus service for the rapid transit, with a view to eliminating the idea of a trolley service after 1921, or even earlier. The enquiry is to be made.

Dates for payment of taxes were fixed as follows: For first instalment, July 25; second, Sept. 13; third, Nov. 10. Toronto Housing Co. was given authority to make its $40,000 bond issue. The board will arrange a conference with Premier Borden on Monday to expedite the work in the harbor improvement plans. An increase in pay was given the scavengers, from $13.50 to $14.50 per week. The pay of the caulkers, leaders, machinists and blacksmiths in the waterworks branch was also increased $1 a week, as well as the elevator men in the city hall.

Mayor Hockley nominated P. W. Ellis for reappointment to the city hydro commission, but withdrew it when Controller Church declared that the understanding was that Hon. Adam Beck would first report upon the recent disturbance among some of the employees.

Making the "Grand Tour." Think of it! The British Isles spread out before you in the form of the three-leaved clover, Scotland representing the top leaf, and England and Ireland corresponding to the lower leaves on either side. Such is the mind's eye picture which fancy draws for those who seek recreation novelties, and with just such a picture is summer beckoning you away to other climes. Scotland is noted for the abundance of historic features which it territory encompasses. Here will be found the venerable and majestic cathedrals around which Scotland's traditions linger, the famous castles, the romantic and chivalrous associations, the birthplace of the lovable and secure-knocking bard, Robert Burns, and the poet Sir Walter Scott, the picturesque and beautiful capital of ancient Scotland—Edinburgh—"Europe's Holy City," together with the Giant's Causeway, the grandest and most sublime work of nature, as a prelude to the pleasures which a trip to Europe besides being within easy reach of the elegant Blarney castle, with its Shandon, and unrivaled Lakes of Killarney, the never-failing attractions in Ireland. That such a trip is not the exclusive privilege of the rich, but a delightful and practical expedient for persons of moderate incomes is demonstrated by the Anchor Line, which affords the means at the minimum expense. The new twin-screw steamships of that line, which make the trip in 7 1/2 days, have at a bound given the line additional prominence which, together with the excellent cuisine, service and solicitude for the comfort and welfare of all classes and passengers, has made for it a following peculiarly its own. All Anchor Line steamships are equipped with Marconi wireless telegraph. An illustrated book of tours can be had free by addressing the agents, Henderson Brothers, 17 and 19 Broadway, New York.

UNIVERSITY ALUMNI. The annual meeting of the Toronto branch of the University Alumni Association will be held at McConkey's on Friday evening, May 16, at 6.15 o'clock. Election of officers, reports, etc., and a very interesting address on "Social Reform and the New Century" by Dr. Stephen Lennox of McGill. ## JUST ARRIVED FROM ENGLAND

Monster Tape Worm From W. Blackwell, 4 Sunnyside, Earls Barton, Northamptonshire, Eng.

This Monster Tape Worm, About Thirty Feet Long, is Added to Prof. Mulveney's Collection of Over a Thousand Others, and is Alongside of the One That Was Sent to Him From Ireland: Can Be Seen at Prof. Mulveney's Office, 167 Dundas Street, Toronto, Ont.

How People Feel When They Have Tape Worm

Tape worm is bred from a parasite. This parasite is a creature male and female in size. It is of pea shape, having two, four and six suckers. It lays the eggs, which are only connected together with slime. They develop and form a body, which is the worm. Each point is an individual, having a sucker or mouth. The worm grows much longer than the bowels where it is located, and sometimes a whole colony of them are found, enough to fill a quart of solid worm, and when put in a bucket of water would apparently fill it. It is the hardest task in the world to destroy this parasite without doing injury to the individual who may be so unfortunate as to have it, as the parasite clings to the bowels, freeing itself from the body of the worm, and remains there to breed another. It is an internal demon, and causes its victim to suffer all the symptoms of disease imaginable. The cleverest physicians are led to believe the patient is suffering from some other disease, as nearly every person has different symptoms. Some have been treated for cancer of the bowels, consumption of the bowels, constipation of the lungs, chronic dyspepsia, nervous prostration, melancholia, hypochondria, hysteria, inflammation of the bowels, appendicitis, and other complaints, when one or more of these internal demons were eating their lives away.

Do Not Be Discouraged Is My Advice But Try Prof. Mulveney's Cure

I have been troubled with tape worm for years. I am not going to try to tell you of the misery I have come through, but for the sake of those who may be so afflicted I am going to tell you how I got rid of it, for this is the most important part of it. At nine o'clock at night I took a tablespoon and a half of Epsom salts, as I worked till eight in the morning, as I work at night. At eight in the morning I took Prof. Mulveney's Cure; two hours later I took a 1/2 bottle of castor oil; 1 then drank two teacups of real hot water, with a pinch of salt to the cup. This was at ten o'clock. The next day I ate nothing but bread and butter to eleven, then again at a quarter to twelve. At twenty-five minutes worm came away. You have no idea the joy it brought to my mind to be relieved of this monster. For I had tried ten or a dozen times previous to trying Prof. Mulveney's remedy. I am quite willing to let others know what Prof. Mulveney's remedy has done for me.

Frank Hubert, 280 Evelyn Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Toronto, April 26, 1913. This is to certify that Prof. Mulveney's Tape Worm Exterminator expelled a monster tape worm from my system in less than an hour without previous starving or sickness, and I am pleased to be able to recommend his remedy to others, as it does all he claims it to do, and you are at liberty to use my name in advertising.

Mrs. Alice Robertson, No. 200 Chestnut street.

Toronto, March 31, 1913. Arthur Rooney, 72 Huron street, says: "I have suffered 14 years from tape worm and am pleased to say one dose of Prof. Mulveney's famous Tape Worm Exterminator relieved me of over 25 feet, head and all, and I am much pleased to recommend his wonderful cure to others."

Arthur Rooney, 72 Huron street.

GOOD LABORERS COME TO ONTARIO

Farmers Reap Benefit of New System For Placing Immigrants.

The Ontario immigration department at the parliament buildings has reason to congratulate itself this year on the class of farm laborers who are coming in to settle on the farms of the province. This is instanced by the agreement of farmers who seek assistance thru this department to accept the employment of men on the basis of a year's contract.

The attempt was made a year ago by Supt. H. A. Macdonnell to have this system adopted because of the good quality of the laborers brought in, and also there was a demur at the time, as the scheme has worked out to the general satisfaction of the employing farmers. The men whom they have received have done so well that they agree to follow the plan in future without complaint.

JAPAN NOTIFIED OF JOHNSON'S DECISION

Attitude Toward Alien Land Bill Is Communicated Unofficially.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(Can. Press).—Governor Johnson's decision to sign the California anti-alien land bill despite Japan's protests was unofficially communicated today to Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, as a matter of information, with the understanding that Secretary Bryan, who is in New York today, may later present Governor Johnson's answer officially with such comment as he may wish to make in behalf of the federal government.

When the ambassador has received Secretary Bryan's formal communication it will be necessary for him to communicate it to the foreign office at Tokio and receive instructions for preparing a rejoinder, so that probably a week will elapse before the negotiations can move another step.

EXPECT AMICABLE SOLUTION.

TOKIO, May 15.—(Can. Press).—The Japanese foreign office is optimistic as to the outcome of the controversy over the California alien land ownership legislation. In reply to an enquiry this morning it was stated by a high official:

"The negotiations between Japan and the United States are progressing satisfactorily. We expect to reach a friendly and permanent solution of the difficulty."

Trades and Labor Council

LIBRARY BOARD WAS UNDER FIRE

James Simpson Says Some Members Are Nothing But Fizzles.

MISS CARRUTHERS' NOTE

Teacher Objected to Statements Credited to Labor Council's Representative.

A sensation was created at the meeting of the Toronto District Trades and Labor Council last night when a letter was read from Lillian A. Carruthers of the Toronto public school staff in which she charged Thos. Banton, the representative of labor on the Toronto Library Board, with casting a slur on the school teachers of Toronto. She alleged that Mr. Banton, in a deputation which had waited on Hon. Dr. Pyne, minister of education, in regard to the proposed change in library boards, giving teachers a bigger representation, had intimated that teachers did not have sufficient business ability to sit on library boards.

In her letter Miss Carruthers intimated Dr. McKay of the technical school, as a teacher against whom such an assertion would be a libel and insult, and declared that it was particularly unfortunate that the matter had arisen in view of the fact that the Women Teachers' Association, with a membership of 300, were negotiating for a charter of affiliation.

Miss Carruthers concluded by demanding that the labor council disapprove of the attitude taken by their representative against the teachers, and especially his assertion that the teachers lacked sufficient business ability, "Unfair Control."

Mr. Banton, who appeared before the council to answer the charge, denied absolutely that he had made any reflection on the business ability of teachers, and that Miss Carruthers was mistaken in thinking he had. He had declared that organized labor was not in favor of teachers being placed in control of the library board, and he still contended that having six teachers on a board composed of nine members was giving them an unfair control.

Hon. Dr. Pyne had stated that there were a number of books on the shelves of the library that should never have been allowed to get there, and this as an argument in placing the teachers on the board. When it was taken into consideration that a staff of trained men and women have full charge of the selection of books, a task which the members of the library board could not attempt unless prepared to give all their time to it, and that the library board confines itself solely to business management, the absurdity of such an argument could readily be seen.

Was This One? Fred Bancroft stated that he had obtained a book on workers' compensation at the Toronto library, and wondered if Dr. Pyne considered that as one of the books unfit to be on the library shelves.

The declaration was made by Joseph Marks that the present library boards of the province were composed not of the men best suited for the post, but of those who possessed the most political influence in obtaining the plum. He considered having six teachers on the Toronto board would certainly be an improvement over such men as these.

Warm Criticism. Probably the worst criticism ever made against the Toronto library board was launched by James Simpson, who declared that Judge Banton, A. E. Huestis, Thomas Self and men of that stamp were not fit to represent the working class public as Toronto school teachers for the post, but Judge Falconbridge had proved himself the biggest fizzle that ever worked on the minds of the public.

He would sooner trust the interests of labor in the hands of six teachers and three laymen than in the hands of such men as Judge Falconbridge and such men as Judge Falconbridge.

After a good deal of discussion it was decided to hand over Miss Carruthers' letter to Mr. Banton and let him send his reply to her.

state department is informed, and it is feared by the government representatives here that an act such as the supporting of California against a demand such as was made by the Japanese nation will result in the ministry being overthrown and a war ministry substituted. The action of the Japanese government in making the demands regarding the California law is said to be one of self-preservation more than anything else; that the government knew that the ground it takes in the controversy is untenable, but that the pressure from the masses is such that the play had to be made.

TORONTO WATER BAD LONDON TRUTH'S TIP

Intending Visitors Should Be on Guard Is Paper's Advice.

LONDON, May 15.—(C.A.P.)—For the benefit of likely visitors to Canada, particularly to Toronto during the summer months, "Truth" this week prints a warning that visitors to Canada should have to beware of indulging in water drinking when they are in Toronto. Many of the larger Canadian cities have water supplies which are not above suspicion, but Toronto has distinguished itself in a special manner in consequence of having used Lake Ontario, both as a source of water supply and also as a receptacle for sewage, without placing the risk of one and outlet of other far enough apart.

THREE DOLLARS FOR EVERY DAY

That Figure Is Favored For All Civic Employees in Toronto.

UNION SHAVES WANTED

Labor Men Will Patronize Only Union Barber Shops in Future.

That all civic employees be paid a minimum wage of $3 per day was the recommendation of the municipal committee of the Toronto Trades and Labor Council, made to that body last night by James Simpson. It is to be at once forwarded to the mayor.

Mr. Simpson pointed out to the trades council that an effort to increase the wages of the civic scavengers and street cleaners from $13.50 to $14.50 a week had been unsuccessful, on the ground that such action would tend to raise the tax rate.

In the report of the committee it was claimed that if, instead of adding to fees paid for licenses of various kinds and thus indirectly making the working man bear the burden, the city adopted a system of taxing unearned increment on land values, stocks and other investments, the question of the tax rate would not jump up so large.

"Send the recommendation to Controller Foster and Controller Church," shouted one of the members. The recommendation was also adopted to continue the representations to the city council to urge upon the Ontario Legislature the advisability of enacting legislation giving municipalities local option in taxation.

Union Shaves. The barbers favoring early closing secured the recommendation from the Trades and Labor Council that the members of organized labor in Toronto do not patronize any but union shops displaying the union card. This is a direct blow at the Independent Barbers' Association, who are fighting the early closing law and who are non-union. This recommendation will be forwarded to all the Toronto unions.

For the first time in the history of organized labor in Toronto, a letter was received from a United States firm, who are contracting for a job, asking the union scale of wages applying here. The letter was from the E. J. Carlin Construction Co. of New York City, and was as follows: Secretary Toronto District Labor Council: Kindly send us at your earliest convenience the prevailing rate of wages for mechanics and laborers in all trades, together with the number of hours per day.

We are to submit a proposition for general contract for the new terminal freight station to be built for the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. at Toronto, and as we are strictly a union shop, we would much appreciate the courtesy of your sending us the desired information. The request of this firm was agreed to and a committee appointed to obtain the information for them. It was pointed out, however, that a few weeks' time might make a considerable difference in the hours and scale of wages obtaining in a number of the building trades of the city.

DELEGATES APPOINTED FOR BIG CONVENTION

Simpson, Bancroft and Marks Will Attend Meeting at Ottawa.

Three delegates to the eleventh annual convention of the Labor Educational Association of Ontario, which convenes at Ottawa, May 24, were appointed by the Toronto District Labor Council last night. James Simpson, Frederick Bancroft and Joseph Marks were the men chosen. The call to the convention stated that the question of forming a provincial federation of labor would be taken up. Thomas Stevenson of the Typographical Union was appointed corresponding secretary to succeed James H. Belantyno, who resigns owing to the fact that he is leaving for the city for an extended period.

A representative of the teamsters stated that as a result of the organization meeting to be held in the assembly hall of the Labor Temple next Thursday evening, the delegates to the convention of the railway and freight teamsters, but also to bring into one body all the teamsters working in Toronto.

DEATH RATE LOWER

According to Medical Health Officer Dr. Roberts' report, that was handed out yesterday, Hamilton's death rate per thousand is considerably below the rate per thousand of the province this year, although it was exactly the same last year as the provincial rate. Hamilton seems to be getting off fortunately in this matter of infectious diseases of a malignant type.

MORE LIGHT NEEDED ON TRAIN FATALITY

After taking evidence for more than two hours, eight Crown witnesses adjourned the Henry Oliver inquest until May 21 to allow more witnesses to be summoned. The result of the trouble already taken to place the blame for Mr. Oliver's death is that the derailment of the Windsor express train at Woodbridge is as much a mystery as at the time of the accident on Sunday.

Five or six witnesses testified last night that the track was in perfect condition at the time, while Engineer Flood and Conductor Painter both testified that after the train left Woodbridge it was travelling no faster than thirty miles an hour. They also stated that they were not trying to make up time.

One of the Windsor express train, C. P. R. Express No. 3, and when the engine was derailed he was so badly scalded that he died a few days later. The engine was badly smashed and before the next session of the jury a broken investigation will be made of the broken parts of the mogul.

Naval Bill Goes to Senate, Borden Has 33 Majority; Nationalist Vote is Divided

control of public expenditures. The issue was between government by executive and government by parliament. The senate had the great issue of the highway bill last session to vindicate the principle of parliamentary control, and the Liberal view dominated that body, the outcome would be thrown out at this session and the highway bill as well.

"Like Horses of the Sun." Mr. Germain concluded by asking the government to accept his amendment and to place in the estimates for this year ten million dollars for naval aid, which could be supplemented year after year.

"The Liberals," he said, "desire to see parliament follow the counsel of the member for South York, Mr. Macleod, so that on the great issue of imperial defence the two parties in Canada might run, like the horses of the sun, all abreast." (Applause.) Mr. Germain's amendment was to strike out clause 2 of the bill and to appropriate the $25,000,000 for dreadnoughts parliament should vote the money from time to time, and subject to the control of parliament.

No Pact With Nationalists. The prime minister briefly replied. He had over and over again answered Mr. Germain. What, if everything that could be done under the pending measure could be done under the Naval Service Act, why were the Liberals opposing the measure with such stubborn and defiant opposition?

Mr. Borden denied that he was at all responsible for the naval question being contentious and political. He had introduced the bill in a spirit of moderation and conciliation, and he unit with the government in passing the bill. He denied the oft-repeated charge of a secret agreement between the Conservatives and Nationalists, and challenged the statement that he had ever declared in favor of a permanent policy of contribution.

Vote on Amendment. The house then divided on the Germain amendment, and the same was defeated by the following vote: Yeas, Messrs. Bland, Buchanan, Carvell, Carroll, Charlton, Clark (Red Deer), Delisle, Devlin, Fortier, Gauvreau, German, Graham, Guthrie, Hughes (Kings, P.), Kyle, LeCompte, Lapointe (Kamouraska), Lapointe (Montreal, St. James), Laurier, Law, Lemieux, Loggie, MacNutt, Macleod, MacKenzie (Calgary), Macleod, Murphy, Neely, Oliver, Poad, Pappineau, Pardee, Power, Proulx, Reid (Restigouche), Richards, Seguin, Simpson, Thomson (Qu'Appelle), Turgeon, Verreille, Warnock, White (Victoria, Alta.), Wilson (Laval),—48.

Nays—Messrs. Aguirre, Ames, Armstrong (Lambton), Bull, Barker, Beattie, Bellemare, Borden, Cameron, Bennett (Simcoe), Best, Blain, Borden, Boulay, Bowman, Boyce, Boys, Brabazon, Bradbury, Burnham, Clarke, Clarke (Wellington), Cochrane, Cochrane, Coderre, Crockett, Crouthers, Donnelly, Edwards, Elliot, Fisher, Fowler, Gauthier (Gaspé), Girard, Green, Gunder, Hender, Hon. Hughes (Victoria, O.), Jameson, Kemp, Lator, Lancaster, Lavallee, Lewis, Macdonnell, Maclean (S. York), McKay, McLean, Macleod, Macleod, McNeil, Meighen, Merner, Middlebro, Morrison, Nantel, Nicholson, Northrup, O'Brien, O'Brien, Perley, Porter, Rainville, Reid (Greenville), Robitaille, Rogers, Schaffner, Sevigny, Sexsmith, Sharpe (Lisias), Sharpe (Ontario), Sheppard, Smith, Stebbins, Stevens, Stewart (Lunenburg), Sutherland, Taylor, Thompson (Yukon), Thornton, Walker, Wallace, Weichel, White (Wentworth), Wright,—55.

Borden Challenges Lemieux. Hon. Rodolph Lemieux offered an amendment that the proposed work should be done under the naval service act of 1910. He said that the Government was obliged to repeal the naval service act because of the agreement between the Borden and Laurier, Nationalists. He pleaded for a Canadian navy to consist of Canadian ships manned by Canadians as opposed to Mr. Borden's policy of perpetual contribution.

Mr. Borden challenged Mr. Lemieux to show that he had ever declared himself in favor of a permanent policy of contribution. Mr. Lemieux replied that this interference was fairly dictated by the policy of the government and from the declarations of some government members. Personally he denounced the policy of contribution as a policy of "cant and tribute."

Mr. Middlebro of North Grey read from Hansard to show that the prime minister had repeatedly declared the present bill was an emergency measure that represented no policy and that he had never declared himself to be in favor of a permanent policy of contribution.

What of Canadian Navy? Mr. Sinclair (Caledon) said there were only two possible policies. One was the Canadian navy and the other was contributions. He challenged Mr. Borden to get up and say that he favored a Canadian navy. The prime minister, Mr. Sinclair asserted, said that he did not favor a Canadian navy, but he did not favor a policy of contributions either. He said that if he did not favor a Canadian navy he must favor a policy of contributions, and that was the policy that we would not build up a naval organization in this country within the next twenty-five or fifty years meant that the government intended to adopt contribution as a permanent policy.

The house then, divided on Mr. Lemieux's amendment and the same was defeated. Yeas 49, nays 94. Carvell Scents Graft. Mr. Carvell (Carleton, N.B.) alleged that the present bill was a first-class piece of legislation from the standpoint of a grafter. He pointed out that a dishonest politician could easily graft a million dollars on the construction of a battleship.

Also he did not accept the present government of leaving such intentions unexpressed. He said that the government had no feasible excuse for the government not calling for tenders for the construction of the ships, the same as they did for the battleships.

Mr. Carvell then moved an amendment, which provides that all work done under the act be done by contract awarded under tender. Mr. Borden, in reply to Mr. Carvell, declared himself as favoring the tender system, but said that it was possible that it would be carried out in a hasty manner. But one or two of the ships might be built at the royal dock yards, which would exempt the necessity of calling for tenders.

No Provision for Tenders. Mr. Germain said that although the prime minister had declared that the tender system would not be departed from in the construction of some of the ships, he had taken great care not to incorporate that provision in his bill. Mr. Borden: "For the reason I have just given, some of the ships will be built at the royal dock yard. If that is done the public will be amply safeguarded."

The Carvell amendment was defeated. Yeas 54, nays 95. Carroll Back to Charge. Mr. Carroll (Cape Breton) then moved the amendment which he tried to move the other day in committee. It provides that, whenever practicable, the contractors and constructors shall purchase steel and other material for the construction of the Dreadnoughts in Canada.

Mr. Carroll said he was opposed to the bill because he believed the ships ought to be constructed in Canada. If the bill was to pass, however, some provision should be made for having at least eleven million of the thirty-five millions expended in this country. This huge vote should be utilized to encourage the steel business, the lumber business and the nickel business in Canada.

Canada Lacks Facilities. Mr. Borden said in reply that there were no facilities in Canada for manufacturing armor plate or the steel plates and anchors used in constructing hulls for big battleships. For the steel companies in Sydney to equip a plant which could roll the steel plates necessary for hull construction, an expenditure of five million dollars would be necessary. As the total quantity of steel plates required for the hulls of these three ships would only amount in value to 75 per cent. of that amount, it was unlikely that any business concern in Canada would undertake to supply them. So with armor plate. The plant necessary to turn out the armor plate for these vessels would cost two million dollars, while the armor required for the vessels could be purchased for half that amount.

Mr. Carroll's resolution had a happy sound, but it was without substance and could not be accepted by the government.

Anxious to Build Ships. In conclusion, Mr. Borden denied that he had ever stated that we could not build ships in Canada for twenty-five or thirty years. What he had said was that we could not have a naval organization such as the British Government had built up for many years to date. Personally he was anxious to encourage the steel ship building industry, and the arrangement with the admiralty contemplated that orders should be given by the British Government for the construction of smaller vessels in Canada. The demand that we should undertake the construction of these three Dreadnoughts in Canada was without justification. We could only at best do 20 per cent. of the work in Canada, while the cost to the country would be increased by $14,000,000. Was it not better to raise $25,000,000 and build the Dreadnoughts in England, than to raise $49,000,000 for the construction in Canada? Of the $15,000,000 only about $8,000,000 was for the armor only?

No Election Needed. The prime minister was followed by Mr. Lanctot, who spoke in French, and then Hon. G. A. B. Macleod, minister of agriculture, addressed the house briefly on the naval question. He said the government's bill had the enthusiastic support of the government and people of British Columbia.

Mr. Burrell said there was no justification for the demand of the opposition for a general election. There was nothing to indicate that the government did not retain the confidence of the people. In 1911, the Laurier government had good cause to fear that the Conservatives would be elected, and the present bill, including Col. McLean, prominent Liberals, including several members of parliament, came out strongly against the agreement. Had any Conservative refused to support the naval policy of the present government? Certainly not, but on the contrary, many Liberals were in favor of the present bill, including Col. McLean, the member for Queens and Sunbury.

Judge McKenzie of Cape Breton replied, and the house then divided upon the Carvell amendment, which was defeated: Yeas 58, Nays 102.

The total vote on this division increased to 160 as compared with 131 on the first division on the government majority increasing from 38 to 44. All the Nationalists who voted, voted against the amendments. Those not voting were Mr. Achim, Barrette, Lamarche, Monk and Manderson.

Laurier to Attack. At the evening sitting, Sir Wilfrid Laurier moved the six months' hoist. It was seconded by Mr. Guilbault, Nationalist, who explained that he was opposed to the Borden and Laurier policies alike, believing that no policy should be entered upon until the people were consulted.

Sir Wilfrid was in good form and supported his motion in an eloquent address. He said that the strenuous opposition of the Liberals was justified because the government was turning its back upon all our traditions and policies alike, believing that no policy should be entered upon until the people were consulted.

Mr. Sinclair was in good form and supported his motion in an eloquent address. He said that the strenuous opposition of the Liberals was justified because the government was turning its back upon all our traditions and policies alike, believing that no policy should be entered upon until the people were consulted.

Mr. Borden looked nonplussed for a moment and then drily remarked that, although Mr. Lemieux had spoken a number of times on the naval question, he had not contributed anything of importance to it.

He then scathingly characterized the Laurier naval policy as one of delay. Sir Wilfrid, he pointed out, had advocated delay at the imperial conference of 1902 and 1907, and he was still advocating delay.

MANY BRICKBATS THROWN AT HOCKEN

Chairman Hiltz declared Mayor Hocken's recent criticism of the board of education contained statements which were absolutely false. One was that there was an excess of $6000 seats in the schools, whereas there was an actual shortage of 5000. The only vacant rooms were in new schools, where the growth of population would soon fill them. The cost of each scholar was stated to be $40, but this was about twice the actual cost for the public school scholars last year. As chairman of the board of education, he wished to express the opinion that it would be in the interests of the city if the mayor would confine himself to the duties of his office, and leave the responsibility for conducting the schools to the board of trustees elected by the ratepayers for that purpose.

More Hot Shot. Hot shot was poured into the mayor and controllers by Trustees Fairbairn, McTaggart and Lewis. The scheme to establish a consulting council was voted down by 3 to 4. Principal Bryce's appointment as principal of the Duke of Connaught School was canceled by a vote of 7 to 6, and Principal Ritchie given the appointment. The change was the result of a vigorous plea for justice for Principal Ritchie, made by Dr. Conboy, he having served the board twenty-three years, compared with Principal Bryce's eleven years.

W. Bell of Paris, Ont., was recently refused a position here by the management committee, because he was 41 years of age. The committee held a private meeting and reversed their decision, and Mr. Bell was last night appointed to the staff of the Parkdale Collegiate.

unable to commence for some moments owing to the tremendous applause which greeted him. Mr. Borden said that although Sir Wilfrid Laurier was denouncing him for not appealing to the people on the issue of the navy, Sir Wilfrid himself had in 1910 on two occasions, voted against an appeal to the people on his naval service act. The Liberals had also in February of this year voted for the expending of $35,000,000 to aid the naval forces of the empire. This statement elicited a muttered remark from Hon. Rodolph Lemieux. Whereupon Mr. Borden asked him to repeat it.

Rebuked Lemieux. Mr. Lemieux—"I won't say it to you." Mr. Borden looked nonplussed for a moment and then drily remarked that, although Mr. Lemieux had spoken a number of times on the naval question, he had not contributed anything of importance to it.

the only thing the city council had ever done for the board had been to delay the purchase of sites until they had cost the citizens four times as much as they could otherwise have been bought for. A report was read from Superintendent Bishop, showing that the annexations of the past three years had added twenty new schools, or one-fifth of the total.

I believe this subject has already come under discussion in the column, when we spoke of the evils of feeding little babies irregularly.

The consequences of eating between meals are far-reaching. If a child is well and strong no immediate results are seen...

Water should be taken between meals, but nothing else, unless you know the child is really hungry.

Gold and Silver Cakes

A RECIPE that will serve for making both gold and silver cake is most useful to the busy woman who often has but a moment to select a recipe and stir up a cake.

Here is such a one: Half cup of butter, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 2 1/2 eggs, lemon flavoring.

This recipe will serve also for a plain layer cake, so first I will give directions for mixing these ingredients for that.

Beat the butter and sugar to a frothy cream. The mixing bowl may be filled, for a moment, with hot water to expedite this process, and it does not harm to warm the sugar slightly, but the butter must be cold.

As to the kind of sugar to use for cake making, I will say that my experience and that of my pupils, tends to show that granulated sugar produces a coarse grained cake.

After the butter and sugar is blended add the eggs; these should be beaten separately, and for the plain layer cake be mixed and added together.

Now sift in half the flour, (it should have been previously sifted with the baking powder and salt) add half the milk or water, then the extract will be the exact quantity needed.

For the Silver Cake, use the whites of the eggs and mix the cake with a half a cup of cold water as this makes a finer grained, whiter cake than mixing with milk.

I will be very glad to answer any questions regarding cake baking that my readers care to ask me.

WILL BUILD CHINESE Y.M.C.A. TO CHECK GROWTH OF CHINATOWN

Site Has Been Acquired and a Twenty Thousand Dollar Building Will Be Erected.

Toronto is to have a Chinese Y. M. C. A. that will cost $20,000. A lot worth $9000 has been acquired and $8000 is already raised for the building.

There are some 1700 Chinese in the city and the number will probably increase. The citizens interested in a Chinese Y. M. C. A. want for basic results an increasing conversion of Chinese to Christianity, and the prevention of a Chinatown in Toronto.

It is anticipated that the Chinese will be gathered together at the Y.M.C.A. instead of herding together for community amusements and pastimes in one section of the city.

These colonies are largely made active by the Chinese coming for pleasure from every part of the city. The preventing of further growth of Chinatown tendencies would be welcomed by really interested, as the colonies are a distinct menace to values in districts affected.

Whether working for oneself or for others, no man or woman can do efficient work unless the health is in good condition.

Competition is keen these days, and success goes to those who are energetic and ambitious.

Most workers, whether their work is manual or mental, find themselves handicapped at times by a run-down condition of the system.

SAID GOOD-BY TO MRS. M'D. DENISON

Local Suffragettes Gave Departing President a Rousing Sendoff.

WORLD'S CONVENTION Toronto Suffrage Leader Will Represent Canada in Budapest.

Roses, red and glowing, telling of the warm wishes of those who tendered them, filled the arms of Mrs. Flora M'D. Denison, as she stepped aboard the train at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, on route for New York.

This was the initial step in a long journey by land and sea, which will only find its ultimate object when Mrs. Denison finds herself with the great group of representative women, who meet at Budapest, Hungary, in June.

Mrs. Denison goes to represent the women of Canada, who have pledged themselves to the suffrage cause. As president of the National Society of the Dominion, she takes with her greetings from the Canadian body, and her departure was brightened by the group of representative women, who surrounded her at the station, to present their flowers and wish her bon voyage.

Optimism was written large over the face of Mrs. Denison as she said a few words to the World prior to the call of "All aboard."

"I am sure it is impossible," was her statement, and this she said, is the slogan which rings today in every country and camp where the suffrage movement has made a stir.

Mrs. Denison accompanies his mother. He, too, has a special mission. He goes to represent the Men's Suffrage League of Toronto at the international convention at Budapest at the same time as that of the women.

On Sunday Mrs. Denison will be entertained in New York and will address the State Suffrage Association.

A handsome sheaf of American beauty buds was presented Mrs. Denison by Dr. Stowe-Gullen, on behalf of the Canadian Suffrage Society.

Among others present were: Mr. Denison and Mr. Munns, corresponding secretary Canadian Suffrage; Dr. Margaret Johnston, Dr. Margaret Gordon, Dr. Brown, Mrs. Prenter, Mrs. Taylor, Miss Perry, Miss Amereaux, Mrs. Campbell Melvor, Miss Melvor, Mrs. Elliott, Dr. Isabella Hays.

BIG DONATION TO FOREIGN MISSIONS

Dunn Avenue Methodists Hand Over Cheque for Forty-Five Hundred Dollars.

"Here's a cheque for $4500," said Treasurer I. J. Birchard of the Parkdale Methodist Church yesterday, as he handed the order for that sum on the bank to the Methodist foreign mission committee.

We are a thousand dollars ahead of last year," said Mr. Birchard to the World. "Dunn Avenue Methodists have raised $25,000 for current funds, and about $7000 for missions and other benevolent purposes."

Rev. Mr. Caswell, pastor of Dunn Avenue Church, will go to Winnipeg. He will be succeeded by Rev. Hiram Hall of Fort William.

MASTER FREDERICK COHEN'S PIANO RECITAL.

Master Frederick Cohen, the youthful and talented pupil of Mr. F. S. Weisman at the Toronto Conservatory of Music, gave a recital on Wednesday evening that attracted one of the largest audiences of the season to the concert hall of the institution, and was a brilliant success particularly.

The young artist was heard in compositions of well contrasted styles, and in the classic sonata op. 7 of Beethoven, the poetic nocturne and etude of Chopin, and in the Hungarian rhapsody of Liszt, appeared to be fully at ease and capable of executing and interpreting each number with judgment and true remarkable efficiency of technique.

Next week, at second piano, a number which elicited hearty applause from the critical and appreciative audience. Master Cohen's appearances in public will shortly be looked for among Toronto's best local offerings.

The assisting artists were Miss Ada Fellows, pupil of Mr. J. J. Lautz, and Miss Laura Baker, pupil of Mr. F. E. Birchard.

It is a pretty serious thing for a man to threaten his wife so that she disappears," said Magistrate Denison to W. J. Neil yesterday.

Neil was charged with threatening to kill his wife, but the case was remanded as the lady did not appear.

He claimed it was all talk and said he had been looking for her all over the island to bring her home.

The court considered the case serious, however, and bail was fixed at $1000.

ANSWERS

So very many personal letters have been sent to me on this and that and the other, that it will be utterly impossible to reply to them, other than thru this department. However, I am trying to supply information on different plants, as the need comes to me from my own garden.

While many people have different flowers from my stock, at the same time, a vast number of plants are common to all gardens, and I can only, at present, reply from my own personal experience.

M. S. Spencer avenue.—Regarding your question re "rockeries," I am preparing a special paper on the construction and requirements of such, which will appear shortly. Show a package of the following seeds, in separate "flats" at once, and cover with glass, to hasten germination and growth: Purple rock cress, golden tuft (described the other day), moss pink, portulaca, and English daisies.

H. C.—No; it is not too late to prepare window boxes; but it will be hardly worth while for you to raise your own seedlings for these boxes this year. For a south window, try the following plants for your box: Parrot's feather and weeping lantana, to be placed in the front edge of the box. In the second row plant a dozen thick bunches of old-fashioned Scotch or grass pinks, which are so delightfully sweet scented. Behind the pinks (which must be thinned out if they grow too thickly, but their stiff, clean, gray-green grass-like foliage is so attractive, and should form a close wall of gray), plant forget-me-nots very thickly. At first they will be lower than the pinks, but only for a short while, as the tall sprigs of pale blue flowers will tower high above the pinks; after these have flowered until they look straggly, shear them down close to the roots again, and in a week or two they will flower as profusely as ever. Some dark red geraniums for a background, between which a couple of maurandya vines may be inserted to climb up and trail over the shutters. If there are any, if not, plant two dracaena, tall, spiky palm-like plants. This will make a lovely box. I have, planted one for myself, and expect great satisfaction with it.

G. S. College street.—Directions for whole oil soap solution were given in full detail last week, one day. Look it up.

The Ontario Government grants $500 a year to the society for the reformation of inebriates, and the city $300. The business is contributed by the citizens. The society is publishing an appeal to the public for contributions. R. H. Coleman, 1170 Yonge street, is treasurer.

MILITANTS KEPT "ROLL OF HONOR"

Interesting Revelations Made at Trial of Six Militants.

LONDON, May 15.—(Can. Press).—Six militant suffragette leaders and a male adherent of the "cause" were committed today by Henry Curtis Bennett, the magistrate at Bow street police court, to take their trial at the Old Bailey sessions, on charges of conspiracy under the Malignant Damage to Property Act. All of them pleaded "not guilty" and reserved their defence. Bail was allowed on the usual undertaking being given by the prisoners that they would refrain from all participation in militancy pending their trial.

The amount of the bail ranged from $4000 in the cases of Miss Alice Lake, Miss Laura Lennox and Mrs. Beatrice Saunders; to $15,000 in the case of the analytical chemist Clayton.

The militant suffragettes, "roll of honor," entitled "The Crimes Record Book," created profound interest when it was produced at Bow street police court during today's proceedings against the suffragette leaders. Miss Harriet Rebecca Kerr, Miss Alice Lake, Miss Rachel Barrett, Mrs. Beatrice Saunders, Miss Annie Kenney, Miss Laura Lennox and the analytical chemist Clayton, occupied the prisoners' enclosure.

Packages of some 1400 convictions for suffragette outrages, in which 459 persons were concerned, were entered in the list exhibited, which was accompanied by receipts for money paid to some of the perpetrators.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst's conviction on the charge of inciting others to commit the bomb outrage which destroyed Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George's country house at Walton Heath, was among the entries, as well as all sorts of trivial disturbances arising from deputations of women to the houses of parliament.

NO OTHER WAY By Gordon Holmes

(Continued From Yesterday.) The dining room and drawing room faced the channel, or to be exact, looked out on a row of shrubs and trees backed by the corrugated iron roof of the boat shed. These were evidently the dead man's sleeping apartment, but they did not invite close enquiry. A staircase climbed two sides of a spacious central hall, and up this Clancy skipped nimbly. Pursued by the detective he did not invite close enquiry. A staircase climbed two sides of a spacious central hall, and up this Clancy skipped nimbly. Pursued by the detective he did not invite close enquiry.

Clancy was startled. He would be the last to deny it. For an instant his heart stood still, and his wrinkled face assumed an ivory tint. He was never ashamed of betraying fear or emotion of any kind, because he held that the man who said he did not know the meaning of fear must be either an exceptional person or a fool. Moreover, he was proud of his imaginative faculties; for, without them, he could never have attained his remarkable celebrity in his profession.

So he shook now visibly for a second or two, and was still pale when he began to chuckle at the trick his excitable nerves had played him. "It was that confounded wire motion along the walls and passage that upset me," he growled. "The clang of herself, the fact was somewhat peculiar. Passing into the dead man's study, he found evidence in plenty of scholarly tastes and habits. A Greek lexicon lay open on the table, a number of commentaries on the Gospels were piled on table and floor, and a well-filled pipe-rack explained the lingering and pungent smell of tobacco. Oddly enough, there was no sign of a cigarette, whereas a tobacco-jar on the mantelpiece contained a quantity of a rather fragrant mixture. Clancy promptly appropriated some part of the jar's contents. The brand, at least, could be identified, and that might lead to discovery of the store that supplied it. Indeed, before night came, the detective had learned that Kyrie bought his weed locally, and never smoked cigarettes.

He picked up a waste-paper basket, cleared a space on the table, and began a detailed scrutiny of the scraps of paper that nearly filled it. There were circulars, torn letters, bills, roughly jotted memoranda, as to the meaning of certain Greek and Latin words (a few of these Clancy retained, as he believed they were in the dead man's handwriting), and other odds and ends; but nothing of any real significance.

In the neighboring bedroom the detective's close search was equally fruitless. Beyond the small, the scriver of the cigarettes he had to confess that he had advanced not an inch in his investigation. He was standing in the gallery that ran round the hall, when a queer noise of scraping and rattling sounded among the boards at his feet, and instantly the dead echoes of the house awoke to the loud peal of the bell.

Clancy was startled. He would be the last to deny it. For an instant his heart stood still, and his wrinkled face assumed an ivory tint. He was never ashamed of betraying fear or emotion of any kind, because he held that the man who said he did not know the meaning of fear must be either an exceptional person or a fool. Moreover, he was proud of his imaginative faculties; for, without them, he could never have attained his remarkable celebrity in his profession.

So he shook now visibly for a second or two, and was still pale when he began to chuckle at the trick his excitable nerves had played him. "It was that confounded wire motion along the walls and passage that upset me," he growled. "The clang of a bell is not mysterious in itself, because someone has pulled it, just as I did; but I was not ready for the wig."

Then, stealing on noiseless feet to a window of one of the front rooms, he peeped out. A policeman in uniform was standing on the stretch of gravel in front of the door. He had taken off his helmet, because the weather was warm and he had evidently been walking fast. His forehead was bald and domelike, and glistened with perspiration, and he was trying to fan himself with the helmet.

"Why doesn't the idiot use a handkerchief?" growled Clancy. "Surely he has one—a red one, for choice. But why has he come bothering here? Someone has sent him. Who? If I cannot answer that question before I come on him unawares from behind that hedge, I shall feel that I am losing my grip."

CHAPTER V. Showing How Mrs. Deokar Received a Shock. He sped quietly and swiftly down the steps across the hall, along a passage, and thru the kitchen and scullery. With the dettness of a professional burglar, he let himself out thru the back door without making any sound that could possibly reach the foot of the house. Running stealthily on tiptoe until he was about to emerge from the hedge-lined path, he suddenly changed his pace to a leisurely stroll. Thus, when the policeman first heard and saw him, he appeared to have sauntered casually from out of that part of the garden.

Then he smiled. The man was mopping his head with a large and vividly scarlet handkerchief. "Hello," said Clancy genially. "Would you mind tellin' me yer name, sorr?" said the policeman. "Clancy. Have you brought a message from Mr. Stingall?" "Well, if that don't bate the band!" gasped the other. "I'm a daisy at guessing," cackled the detective.

"But, sorr, you would hardly believe what a bother it has been to find you. You were phoned for at Atlantic City and Philadelphia from New York, and then we were rung up; but the devil a one had seen you in Abscon, only the gentleman in New York insisted that you must be here. So here I am. Still, it's square you should know it at wasnt."

"Well, and what does the gentleman in New York want to have a talk with you, sorr. Will you please come wid me an' give him a call?" "Certainly. He told you my name, of course?" "Yiss, sorr."

"And did he describe me?" The policeman looked into his helmet as he half expected to discover some cabalistic symbol in its lining

If you would insure securing one of these beautiful decorations, present the coupon, which appears on another page of this paper, together with 22c. add 2c postage if it is to go by mail.

That had not been there previously. Then he put it on. "The gentleman axed me to hurry, sorr. May I ax if he was the chief of the bureau?" "Come, now, how did he describe me? Did he say I was a little bit of a chap?" "His exact words, sorr."

"With a funny face, and big ears?" "The policeman coughed discreetly."

HYDRON GALT DRIVES OUT GAS

Citizens No Longer Worry About Widening of Natural Gas Market.
 GALT, May 15.—(Special).—When first mooted a year ago, the proposition to supply natural gas to Preston, Hespeler, Berlin, Waterloo and Guelph, from the service which does duty in Galt, created consternation, the supply for existing users being inadequate. Under natural gas merger, the proposal was revived and according to today's news the project will materialize this summer.
 The project is not now viewed with any apprehension in Galt, because of the development of the hydro-electric service. The hydro is fast superseding natural gas both for heat and light, not to mention power, and the majority of citizens are delighted with the change from gas, which at best gave little satisfaction.
 The World correspondent has talked with many large and small users of natural gas, and the consensus of opinion is that with the admirable hydro-electric system growing in utility and decreasing in price, the town is largely independent of natural gas.

SCARBORO TOWNSHIP.

The well-known "Little Bridge," in Scarborough Township, collapsed, carrying with it a heavily loaded lorry of the Dominion Transport Company, which was crossing at the time of the accident. When the bridge caved in the lorry was almost in the centre of the structure. The driver, who was a Clyde model horse, in an effort to cross before the bridge was completely crushed, later, however, the crush came, and the rig and horses were dropped a distance of fourteen feet into the gully below. The escape of the driver was especially narrow, as the heavy team was almost thrown on top of him. Beyond a few small wounds and bruises he escaped being seriously hurt. Little injury was sustained by the horses, although the wagon was badly damaged. The crash and shouts of the driver quickly notified the neighbors of the accident and soon a number were on the scene. Owing to the horses being badly frightened, a great deal of difficulty was experienced in freeing them from the wreckage. The "Little Bridge" was a wooden structure which was one of the landmarks of the township. It was considered to be in good condition, but the heavy load carried on the lorry was apparently too great for it to withstand. At Locust Hill last year a similar accident occurred, which was settled by a payment of $75 damages by the Markham Township council.

STUDY OF BOYS ALL-ENGROSSING

C. J. Atkinson Told of Work of Toronto Boys' Dominion.

WARD SEVEN MEETING Residents Took Great Interest in Lucid and Instructive Address.

It was a small but an exceedingly representative gathering which assembled in the Annette Street School last night at the mass meeting held under the auspices of the Ward Seven Ratepayers' Association, to hear C. J. Atkinson of the Toronto Boys' Dominion explain the principle of the work which is being carried on, and which is arousing considerable interest in Toronto at present.
 Prof. W. J. Alexander of Toronto University, president of the association, introduced Mr. Atkinson, whose address was well illustrated by means of lantern views depicting the various departments of the local branches of the Boys' Dominion. "The study of boys," said Mr. Atkinson, "is an all-engrossing one, but they need to be studied individually; each boy is a law unto himself, and each has his own code of morals. The boys' club is an invaluable laboratory for the steering of lads in what are termed the 'difficult ages,' and it is for the betterment and straightening of the boys' life at this stage that we are working."
 He then went on to give a brief review of the life of the Dominion in Toronto. The new Moss Park building was opened on May 3 last year, and had a membership of 500 in three weeks. Before the year was over the roll had been increased to 2145 members, and the average attendance per night was about 250.
 "Each boy, when he joins, takes the oath of allegiance, as called, to obey the rules and regulations of the Dominion," said the speaker. "The Dominion itself is entirely self-governing, and the government is modeled after that of the Dominion of Canada. The boys appoint their own judges, have their own courts, and impose their own fines, and this system is in practically every case eminently satisfactory. Twenty-six nationalities are represented in our membership, and 900 of the members are of foreign parentage. It is primarily the boy from the street that we are interested in, the working boy and the boy with the leisure time. But every kind of boy is found among our members."
 A reading room is a necessary part of a boys' club building, and the one at Moss Park is very richly equipped, especially perhaps by the Jewish boys. The basement provides gymnasium and drill rooms, and between 400 and 500 boys are enrolled in various classes. The fees consist of a tax of ten cents per month per member, and the members pay for any breakages they are responsible for and provide their own sporting goods.
 A billiard and poolroom is also provided, as well as a "zoo," where the members may exercise their animal spirits as much as they desire. A barber shop has lately been instituted, and several barbers in the city give their services gratuitously to the members. The club provides haircuts and brushes and all members take pride in having their shoes well polished. In addition to this is a small laundry and dry cleaning department, with accommodation for three lodgers, and a moving picture machine, with the aid of which shows are given weekly.

Classes in telegraphy, wireless, mechanical drawing, wood carving, office practice, show card writing and manual training are also given under the club's auspices, and the boys do all the necessary printing and issue a paper called "The Torch." In addition to all this are the garden plots on land recently secured for the club, adjacent to the clubhouse, "a very nice" said Mr. Atkinson, "are of immense educational value."
 At the conclusion of his address a vote of thanks was unanimously adopted, and a resolution introduced by Messrs. A. B. Rice and H. M. Woodson, to the effect "that this association take steps to have such a provision for boys, if necessary, on a less elaborate scale, established in ward seven, and that a committee be appointed to report on the ways and means of such an establishment."

MAHER'S HORSE EXCHANGE.

The horse market was considerably off color yesterday, and while consignments were numerous and of first-class quality, trade was rather dull, the bidding being very drab. Local demand covered nearly all the business of the day. Prices retained their low level, though they must come down considerably more in the country before the market will be really normal. A few representative buyers were: Out of town—Sher, Willows, New Liskeard; J. J. Mackie, Hamilton; C. C. Cook, Marysville; A. D'Aoust, Sturgeon Falls; McMillan, Brox, Quappelle, Sask.; A. E. ### DEATH OF H. L. WATT.

At his late residence, 85 Willcocks street, the death occurred yesterday afternoon of Mr. H. L. Watt, treasurer of the Canada Life Assurance Company. Mr. Watt had been in poor health for some time, and had lately returned from Asheville, N.C., where he had gone in hope of obtaining relief. Mr. Watt, who leaves a widow and two children, was a member of St. George's Anglican Church.

Mr. Watt was a barrister by profession, and joined the investment department of the Canada Life in 1879, having previously obtained valuable experience as to investments and securities with a well known legal firm. He rose rapidly in the service of the Canada Life, and nine years ago, upon the office of treasurer becoming vacant, he was appointed to it. Mr. Watt was recognized as an able financier whose ability and sound judgment made his services invaluable to his company. He was a director of the National Trust Company and a member of leading clubs.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL WILL BE STUDIED

By Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, Who Goes to the Continent.

MORTALITY OF INFANTS

Ontario Health Officer Will Attend Conference on the Subject.

The Ontario Government is embarking upon extensive investigations in the matter of sewage disposal and the protection of the fresh water supplies of the province from contamination due to careless or unskilled methods. With the fact in mind that every provincial municipality located near lakes or rivers is facing serious problems of this nature, Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, chief officer of health, will visit in the summer months several places in Great Britain and the continent to discover assistance in solving the difficulties which come before his department.

In view of the action taken by the provincial board, acting in conjunction with the International Joint Commission, to examine the boundary waters and discover the prevalence of pollution, a report will be forthcoming in November. The knowledge will then have been acquired by Dr. McCullough as the most practicable manner of dealing with the general situation. Legislation improved and amended at the recent session places within the jurisdiction of the board power to force installation of whatever water systems they consider best, and if a purification plant or a sewage treating plant is thought necessary the municipality concerned will be obliged to install it without appeal to the people which has occurred in unwilling towns in the past.

Dr. McCullough will visit London first and go thence to Germany and France. He leaves Toronto during the week of July 1, and the trip will consume two months.

Before returning he will represent Ontario at an infant mortality congress in London, which draws delegates from all nations. The death rate of infants in the province is too high at the present time, and he hopes to bring home approved methods of checking it. The present death rate is 112 per 1,000, whereas that of South Australia and New Zealand is 71 per 1,000. The congress occurs during the first week in August.

BRITISH MEMBERS TO COME TO CANADA

Empire Parliamentary Association Members to Sail on July 16.

LONDON, May 15.—(C.A.P.)—The committee of the empire parliamentary association, which a fortnight ago accepted an invitation from the Australian branch to send twenty members of the association to tour the commonwealth during the forthcoming recess, has definitely decided that the trip is to be made via Canada, and that New Zealand is also to receive a visit if time permits.

The departure yesterday, the secretary of the association said: "The party, which will be thoroughly representative of the house of lords and of the house of commons, will sail for Canada on Wednesday, July 16, and spend about a fortnight there. During their stay in the Dominion the committee hopes that the Canadian branch will do everything possible to make the visit a profitable one. Who will comprise the party has not yet been ascertained, but our main idea is to let members who have not already had the opportunity of doing so, to see something of the dominion government of the party will spend about a month in Australia, returning to England about the middle of November."

LABOR OPPOSED TO AMBASSADOR PAGE

London Trades Council Passes a Resolution of Protest Against Appointment.

LONDON, May 15.—(Can. Press.)—The London Trades Council, representing 50,000 trade unionists, passed a resolution tonight expressing resentment at the appointment of Walter H. Page as American ambassador to Great Britain, on the ground that he is a bitter opponent of organized labor, and asking Sir Edward Grey, the British secretary of foreign affairs, to protest against receiving him.

A copy of the resolution has been sent to the president of the United States and Sir Edward Grey, and every trade and labor council in the kingdom has been invited to pass a similar resolution.

The London Trades Council took this action on a letter from the Allied Trades Council of Greater New York.

LOVE AND LIBERTY.

Love is not enough. There must be respect for one's personality. A most unbearable tyranny is sometimes exercised under cover of the sentiment, "I would not say this, my dear, if I did not love you so."

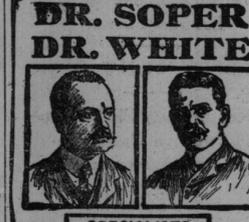

There is a good deal of the autocrat in love, and a passionate affection can easily become an intolerant martinet. To insure permanent love two people must, necessarily, also have a sense of respect for the individuality of each. We must love the beloved for himself, and not for what we want him or her to be.

Of course, certain things render love impossible. One cannot love another who outrages one's sacred convictions, arouses disgust and offends decency. In such cases there is nothing to do but separate.

But I speak of less serious causes of difference, such as divergence of opinion and of taste, and of other similar idiosyncrasies of character.

There can be no abiding love without liberty, toleration, and the acceptance of personal traits. Nothing is more fatal to affection than to find a sense of restraint in the presence of the one beloved. This inevitably grows into self-estimation.—Dr. Frank Crane in Westminster.

SAME OLD STORY WANT MORE PAY

So Deckhands on Corona Quit Work Yesterday—Matter Will Be Adjusted.

When the Corona sailed at 7.30 yesterday morning she left without her deck hands. They demanded more pay which to enjoy themselves ashore this summer. Upon being refused they all quit but two, and as freight is light at present the steady crew will not have much trouble in handling it.

One of the steamship officials stated to The World last night that he thought that the men would soon be back to work, as the difference between what they are getting and what they ask for is very small and the company would likely come to an agreement.

Something New For Something Old

HERE is a very old idea dressed up in brand new clothes. Every home in this city has something it doesn't want—something that is going to waste, something you can get money for.

Every home in this city has something it does want—something you can buy cheap and yet fill the measure of your demands. We are going to take the things you don't want and help you to find the people who are looking for them. In your cellar or in your attic you have old chairs or tables or rugs or a sewing machine which you no longer use. These things are good for a certain amount of cash, because there are hundreds of other homes that do need an extra easy chair, that can use a second-hand rug or a sewing machine if they can get it cheap enough.
