PRESIDENT MCKINLEY DIED AT 2.15 A. M.

A FRIGHTFUL STRUGGLE WITH DEATH

From Four o'Clock in the Afternoon Up to Midnight the End Was Expected Any Moment, But the Spark of Life Lingered—Stimulants Were Used Until the President Asked to Be Allowed to Die—Story by Bulletins.

MIGHTY STRUGGLE WITH GRIM DEATH

The Great Constitution, Aided By Stimulants Kept the Heart Moving.

Millburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—Before 6 o'clock it was clear to those at the President's bedside that he was dying, and preparations were made for the last sad offices of farewell from those who were nearest and dearest to him. Oxygen had been administered steadily, but with little effect, in keeping back the approach of death. The President came out of one period of unconsciousness only to relapse into another. But in this period, when his mind was partially clear, a series of events of a profoundly touching character ensued down stairs. With tear-stained faces, members of the cabinet were grouped in anxious waiting. They knew the end was near and the time had arrived when they must see him for the last time on earth. This was about 6 o'clock. It was an awful moment for them. One by one they ascended the stairway—Secretary Root, Secretary Hitchcock and Attorney-General Knox. Secretary Wilson also was there, but he held back not wishing to see the President in his last agony. There was only a momentary stay of the cabinet officers at the threshold of the death chamber. Then they withdrew, the tears streaming down their faces, and the words of intense grief choking in their throats.

Asked for His Wife.
After they left the sick room the physicians rallied him to consciousness, and the President asked immediately that his wife be brought to him. The doctors fell back into the shadows of the room as Mrs. McKinley came thru the doorway. The strong face of the dying man lighted up with a faint smile as his hands were clasped. She sat beside him and held his hand. Despite her physical weakness, she bore up bravely under the ordeal.

The President in his last period of consciousness, which ended about 7.40 o'clock, breathed the words of the beautiful hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee," and his last words were "I am ready." He was then taken to an extreme number. By 10 o'clock the pulse could no longer be felt in his extremities, and they grew cold.

Then his mind began to wander, and soon afterward he completely lost consciousness. His wife was propped up by the administration of oxygen, and the President finally expressed a desire to be allowed to die.

About 8.30 the administration of oxygen ceased and the pulse grew faint, very faint. He was sinking gradually, like a child into an eternal slumber. By 10 o'clock the pulse could no longer be felt in his extremities, and they grew cold.

THE STORY BY BULLETINS.
Short and Crisp Description of the Struggle Against Death.

Millburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—(4 p.m.)—The President's physicians report that he is only slightly improved since the afternoon. The pulse and temperature remain the same as at that hour.

5.30 p.m.—Col. Brown just hastened to the telegraph office and despatched a telegram. He said there has been a change for the worse. The President's condition is very, very bad.

5.45 p.m.—The President is dying. The physicians have sent for those nearest him, and have announced that they are dying. The President's family have been summoned to the bedside. Col. Brown says: "There is no hope. He is dying."

6.15 p.m.—The President's physicians say his condition is grave at this hour. He is suffering from extreme prostration. Oxygen is being given him. He responds to stimulation but poorly. Pulse 125, respiration 40.

6.21 p.m.—Secretary Cortelyou came to the door at 6.21, and announced that the President was still alive.

6.30 p.m.—The President's physicians report that his condition is most serious, in spite of vigorous stimulation. The depression continues, and is profound. Unless it is relieved, the end is only a question of time.

At 6.30 it was announced that the President does not respond to the oxygen, and the physicians have announced that unless he does respond to stimulation it is only a matter of a short time.

A messenger from the house at 6.57 announced that the President is still alive and there is no hope. The entire staff of physicians is at the bedside.

7.00 p.m.—The President is unquestionably dying.

THE DECEASED PRESIDENT.

THE INCOMING PRESIDENT.

THE WIDOW.

can, Abner McKinley and Mrs. Dean, Judge W. R. Day, Col. Myron Herrick, Col. Brown, J. G. Millburn, Harry Hamlin, John Scattergood, Lieut. McKinley and George P. Sawyer.

7.23 p.m.—The President is unconscious. The end is but a short time away.

7.40 p.m.—The President became unconscious at 7.40, and now at 7.40 is barely alive.

7.48 p.m.—Dr. McBurney arrived at 7.48 a.m. His carriage came at a gallop.

7.50 p.m.—Under the effects of stimulants the President has revived at 7.50, and called for Mrs. McKinley. She is with him now.

8 p.m.—"Not twenty minutes more to live," was the announcement from the Millburn house at 8 p.m.

Rev. Dr. C. V. Wilson, of Tonawanda, formerly pastor of the President's church at Canton, reached Millburn house shortly after 8, and demanded admission.

Hon. Charles G. Dawes, the Comptroller of the Currency, who enjoys an intimate acquaintance with President McKinley, arrived in Buffalo early this evening, and reached the Millburn house shortly after 8 o'clock.

Secretary Cortelyou and Mrs. McKinley have been with the President for some time. An announcement from the house at 8.50 stated that the President is in extremis. A message at 9.20 announced that the President is being kept alive with great difficulty by the use of oxygen. It is added that the case is now more desperate.

9.27 p.m.—The pulse has left the President's extremities and he may live until midnight. Consciousness seems to have finally left. In his most recent lucid moment the President comforted Mrs. McKinley.

9.30 p.m.—Attorney-General Knox and Chauncey M. Depew have just been admitted to the Millburn house.

9.32 p.m.—Secretary Cortelyou has just sent a message out to the newspapers, stating that he cannot now leave the house, as the President is in his last moments.

presence not being necessary as the President still lived.

8.53 p.m.—The administration of oxygen has been suspended for some time. The President before he finally lost consciousness bade his wife a tender farewell. He was then heard to murmur words of the hymn: "Nearer My God to Thee," probably his last words.

10.10 p.m.—The last period of consciousness spent with Mrs. McKinley at the bedside of her dying husband. She bore her affliction with superb fortitude.

The President's last words were addressed to his wife: "God's will, not ours, be done."

National Guard Assembled.
The 60th and 74th Regiments of the National Guards have been assembled in the barracks to be in readiness should the large crowd assembled at police headquarters make any hostile demonstration. There has been no indication of a disposition on the part of the crowd to riot, and the assembling of the National Guard is simply a precautionary measure.

10.40 p.m.—Dr. Mann said the President was still alive, and might linger for an hour longer.

10.45 p.m.—The crowd on Delaware-ave. near the mansion, grows larger, and the police and military sentries have their hands full in preserving the lines.

10.50 p.m.—The rooms in the rear of the Millburn House, brightly lighted, have just been brilliantly illuminated. There is much activity in that part of the mansion.

The portion of the house which has just been brilliantly illuminated is the part occupied by President McKinley.

10.56 p.m.—The awful suspense continues. The relatives and distinguished visitors are still gathered in the main drawing room awaiting the announcement of the end.

10.59 p.m.—The President is alone with his physicians and nurses. His extremities have long been cold and for over two hours he has been unconscious.

11.05 p.m.—A messenger from the house announces that the President's vitality is marvellous. Conditions remain unchanged, and death may come in one minute or not for an hour or more.

11.07 p.m.—Dr. McBurney said it was possible the President might live several hours. He is scarcely breathing, the circulation has ceased in his extremities and they are cold.

11.12 p.m.—Dr. Mann has just added: "The President is powerless and is dying. He may live an hour."

SOLID FOOD DID THE FATAL WORK.
New York, Sept. 13.—The World has the following special from Buffalo:

From a medical expert of high standing who followed the developments of today most closely the World late to-night obtained this statement:

"Within six days from the time he was shot the President was declared out of danger and was fed for the first time. For this he had been given beef juice, a teaspoonful at a time, before this, that perhaps nutritious fluid can hardly be called food."

"Yesterday he was allowed to take a cupful of chicken broth and a cup of coffee and a piece of toast. This toast was previously saturated with beef juice."

"In an organ that had been so seriously wounded this first step toward a resumption of the daily routine of nutrition involved a momentous experiment."

"To determine with accuracy the very minute when the crippled organ is equal to the renewal of its function—when food will not be an irritation and an additional burden—is the most delicate duty of the physician."

"In this case the experiment was not a success."

"Evidently the stomach is NOT so far recovered as to be equal to the duty of digestion."

"It is to be hoped that this is the worst possibility—that the stomach has merely not recovered its normal force; and that a failure to digest the food given early yesterday is the only source of the unsatisfactory conditions reported in the bulletin of 8.30 p.m."

"Hitherto it has been believed that there was no injury to the intestines, but it must be remembered that we do not yet know what has become of the bowels."

SIGHTED OFF HALIFAX.
HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 13.—The Ophir bearing the Duke of Cornwall and York and Royal party has been sighted.

THE ROYAL PARTY IN CANADA.
ASPY BAY, C.B., Sept. 13.—The Royal Yacht Ophir, with the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York on board, passed here at 6 p.m. All reports well.

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 13.—(Special.)—The swift destroyer Quail of the British North American squadron ran into Aspy Bay, a small telegraph and signal station on the north shore of Cape Breton, at 6.45 this evening, and reported that the royal yacht Ophir had passed up the gulf at 6 p.m. All were reported well on board the royal ship. The passing of the fleet was known on shore, for the report of the royal salute fired by the cruisers Intrepid and Indefatigable as they met the Ophir was distinctly heard at the telegraph station. The Quail immediately left to rejoin the convoying fleet, which is composed of the armored first-class cruisers Niobe and Diadem and the second-class cruisers Intrepid and Indefatigable. The Ophir is due at Quebec on Sunday.

A BITTER NEWSPAPER WAR.
Will Follow on the Death of President—Yellow Journalists Assailed.
The Canadian public are not generally aware of the bitter newspaper war that has sprung up in New York since the shooting of the President. Mr. Hearst of the New York Journal is named in paper after paper as being worse than the assassin. But the Journal's answer is to the point. It refuses for the present to discuss that issue, its only present concern is the life of the President. It says: "The Democratic newspapers have not taken advantage of the disturbed state of the public mind to present their side of the question, to say some true and very apt things that they might have said. They have not said that if there is any discontent among the masses, it is the arrogance and extortion of the trusts that have made the discontent, and not the newspapers, which have merely related the facts." One of the most bitter newspaper struggles known to history is about to rage through the United States. Even The New York Evening Post, its being assailed by the papers that support the trusts.

MOBERLEY BELL IN TORONTO.
The Manager of The London Times and His Wife Guests of Dr. Parkin at U.C. College.

Delivered address to the boys of the Club's Dolar Mixture.

Mr. Moberley Bell, manager of The London Times, accompanied by Mrs. Bell, arrived in Toronto on Thursday night and leaves today. They are the guests of Dr. Parkin at Upper Canada College.

Yesterday Mr. Bell addressed the boys of the college in the large hall, and related some interesting reminiscences of his boyhood and subsequent career. According to what he said, he got his position on The Times by showing them how they could shorten the time it then took to get their mail from Australia. From that he rose to head the management. Mr. Bell is a tall, portly man, with forceful manners and a loud, deep voice. In the afternoon Dr. Parkin and Miss Parkin invited a number of prominent men and women to meet their guests and a very sociable time was spent for a couple of hours.

Mr. Bell was in Buffalo Thursday, and met all the members of the McKinley cabinet. He was introduced to them in a body, and they were brought into the room where the cabinet are holding their sessions in Buffalo. Mr. Bell then addressed the members of the McKinley cabinet, and they were all very friendly to him. He said that he and his colleagues were confident of the President's recovery.

ROOSEVELT WENT HUNTING.
Vice-President in the Woods and a Party Looking for Him.

North Creek, N.Y., Sept. 13.—Vice-President Roosevelt started at 4 o'clock this morning from Takahara Club with guides on a hunting trip thru the forests. On receipt of the despatches stating that President McKinley was critical, men were immediately started on a 6 o'clock train to Buffalo. He had a full day's hunting, and was back in Buffalo at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, and that would bring him here about 4 o'clock.

Mr. Wilcox said in explanation of Mr. Roosevelt's being so far out of touch: "The Vice-President was at all times very optimistic, and when he went away he was absolutely positive that the President would recover and that the convalescence would be rapid. He certainly never expected today's occurrence."

PREMATURE REPORTS.
Washington, Sept. 13.—A premature announcement of the President's death was given out at the White House by Chief Operator Montgomery shortly before 6.30 o'clock, and was repeated a few moments later. In explanation, it was stated that the operator at the Buffalo end of the White House wire had handed a bunch of official messages announcing the President's death, and immediately began ransacking them for the name of Roosevelt. The message when they were recalled and word given to recall those news.

There's a difference between cheap dental work and the cheapness of fair prices for the best—and time will prove the distinction. Our large practice enables us to divide a fair compensation for our time among many patients, giving each the benefit of the best work at prices far lower than the half-employed practitioner finds it possible to charge. This idea means something to you. The prices illustrate:

MAYOR SCORES COMMITTEE

Says Reputation of Citizens' Representatives Was Injured Before Equalled. Editor World: To call of this would be unfeeling, seeing the mismanagement that has occurred. There has been more confusion, noise, ill-temper and abuse in the making than was necessary in a chorus three times its size. The trouble with the orchestra ought not to have been the making of the chorus. The charge of 25 cents for the practice music was a petty affair that irritated and annoyed without doing any harm. The chorus was put to expense in any case in getting the attire necessary for the occasion. The Mayor's Committee on the Reception of the Royal Chorus is a body of men who are to be paid, too.

THEY GAVE THEM A SLAP IN THE FACE

Board of Control Will Meet Reception Committee and Citizens This Morning. "I do not think such an insult has ever been offered by a public body to its constituents before," remarked Mayor Hibbard in a meeting when he touched upon the regulation of the Citizens' Reception Committee by the Civic Reception Committee. The Mayor thus expressed himself after detailing a history of the relations of the Citizens' Reception Committee and the Civic Reception Committee, and his remarks came upon the report of the Reception Committee, which was sent on to the Board of Control.

THE CITY CONTROLS THE SITUATION.

The manifold inconveniences, discomforts and hardships which the people of Toronto have had to put up with at the hands of the Toronto Railway Company during the past five years can all be remedied during a single session of the City Council. It is not necessary to apply to the courts to redress the many serious grievances under which the citizens labor. Law suits are expensive and slow, and up to date they have proved absolutely worthless for the enforcement of the rights of the people under their agreement with the Toronto Railway Company. The enforcement of that agreement has been entrusted to two bodies. The first of these is the court, the second is the City Council. The aldermen do not yet seem to realize that important powers have been placed in their hands to ensure the carrying out of the provisions of the agreement. A landlord does not need to go before a judge to distrain the goods of a defaulting tenant. He can take the law into his own hands and seize the property of the tenant. The City Council has more summary and drastic powers than a landlord to ensure the performance of the duties imposed upon the Toronto Railway Company by the agreement of 1891.

We take the broad ground that the opening up of new street car lines will cause 75 per cent. of our grievances against the company to vanish. The City Council possesses the right to order the opening up of such lines. There is no dispute as to our authority to have new lines opened up either by the Toronto Railway Company or by such other company as we may authorize in the agreement to prevent the city itself competing against the company in such routes as the latter refuse to establish. The city has failed ignominiously in all its endeavors to have the agreement enforced by the courts. We do not believe the aldermen have been sincere in their fight with the company in court. They have used the amagities, the delays, the uncertainties of the law as an excuse for withholding the company against the performance of its obligations.

The object The World has in view in to-day appealing to the Mayor and aldermen is to urge them to use the machinery which has been placed in their own hands to enforce the agreement. We invoke them to exercise the original powers which they will never be satisfactory until the track mileage is increased by from 25 to 50 per cent. The Council can insist on such an increase. The World appeals to the Mayor and aldermen to start on the work of extension to-day. The first extension we suggest is the construction of the much-talked-of cross-town line. In another column we have outlined the proposed route. It is a five minute service along that route would immediately relieve the congestion on all the other lines, but principally on the Queen, King, Dundas and College-street lines. Other new routes are needed, for the present it will be better to confine our attention to one.

At its meeting on Monday, the Council should officially notify the company to lay tracks along the proposed route and to proceed to equip it with cars. Or if the aldermen think the suggested route might be improved, then the matter should be referred to the Engineer, with instructions to modify the route as to him appears desirable. This, perhaps, is the first step in the carrying out of the original provisions vested in the Council. Let the Engineer lay out the route. The next step will be the sending of the official notice to the company to do the work. If the company fails to construct the line within the time prescribed in the notice the franchise for that route reverts to the city and it can sell the franchise to the highest bidder or exercise it itself.

The only point about which any controversy may arise centres on the value of the franchise that will lapse to the city in the event of the company not constructing the line as ordered. Before offering the franchise for sale, the company would have to be certain that it has a market value. A little consideration will establish the fact that the franchise of a line such as we have outlined would either sell for a big figure, or the people would receive the benefit in the shape of low rates and large percentages. One of the conditions of sale would be an all-day three-cent fare. The value of the franchise would not depend so much on the purely city traffic as upon a combined city and suburban business, passenger and freight. The eastern suburban business alone would make the line profitable. The line would afford an entrance to the centre of Toronto and St. Lawrence Market for the produce of the bigger part of York County and the territory beyond.

The Metropolitan Railway with a direct line to the market via Church-street, and with the privilege of collecting fares in the city, would not possess as valuable a franchise as the one which the city may

Have the good fortune to acquire if the Mayor and aldermen will only do their duty on Monday. If they do their duty in the present emergency the street railway grievance will be settled for a decade.

A SAD DAY AND ITS LESSONS.

We are all Pan-American today. The content is as a brotherhood, sorrowing with the sister state in her hour of pain and suffering. The whole world has been brought closer together thru the mysterious working of Providence and the inexorable decree of fate. The passing away of Great Britain's veteran Queen did not excite more genuine sympathy and sorrow in the United States than will the tragic death of President McKinley arouse thru-out the length and breadth of the British Empire. One touch of nature has made the whole world kin. Not only has England-Saxondom been brought closer together by an interchange of a common sympathy, but the contemplation of the events which are responsible for the President's untimely death has brought to the fore the civilized nations of the world and has to face with a common danger, as diabolical as it is appalling. The world is well seasoned in old-fashioned warfare, but it staggers in the presence of an enemy that cannot be seen, and whose existence is manifested only by its deadly attacks. The greatest president since Abraham Lincoln. He was eminently a safe and cautious statesman, a man possessing the gift of common sense in a remarkable degree. His greatest care was to ascertain the mind of the people for whose government he was responsible and to execute their wishes.

Mr. Roosevelt automatically succeeds to the presidency. He will now become the most interesting figure in the United States, and probably in world-wide politics. He is a man of considerable judgment and ability, and he has been playing an original part in his new sphere. His success brings into prominence the inadequacy of the constitution to provide a competent successor in the event of the President dying, while in office. Three similar occasions in the past have occurred, but in each instance a fairly good man fortunately filled the gap. Mr. Roosevelt will no doubt come into office with a re-constructed cabinet, and it is not unlikely he may have a new policy, a new idea in regard to the continent of America, and he may regard Europe, and the world at large, from a new point of view. The possibilities that may ensue by a sudden reversion of policy are extremely momentous. But the World trusts Mr. Roosevelt will exercise the same common sense that was such a characteristic feature of McKinley's administration. He will be guided by his past and by his writings. The World is inclined to say that he is more or less tempted to pose as the man on horseback, and his idea of the man on horseback is a cross between Oliver Cromwell, Boulanger and a dictator.

But even the assassination of the President and the question of his successor are comparatively petty questions when compared with the social problems which are being faced by the nation as a whole. Never was there so much call for an earnest searching of the heart by a great people as there is in the United States to-day. Grave social disorders threaten them, and the murder of their greatest citizen, who has been the greatest benefactor of his race, has added to their troubles. The World is inclined to say that he is more or less tempted to pose as the man on horseback, and his idea of the man on horseback is a cross between Oliver Cromwell, Boulanger and a dictator.

More than usual interest was taken by the members of the Toronto Industrial and Temperance League in the meeting held last night at the W.C.T.U. headquarters, Elm-street. The Industrial and Temperance League of the highest reputation, and the presence of the speaker, Mr. J. P. Robertson, the vice-president, Murdoch MacDonald, was called to the chair, and the meeting was addressed by Mr. Robertson, who was followed by Mr. Robertson's address, which was a clear presentation of the service without which the world is a barren and unproductive field. Mr. Robertson's address was a clear presentation of the service without which the world is a barren and unproductive field.

Old Jupiter Pluvius visited London Fall as well as the Toronto Industrial, and he was similar. Had he not called at Toronto, he would have been a very different man. Our Fall directors would have pulled out with a surplus over the preceding year. His visit to London cost the Western Fall directors several thousand, and they are also being hit hard. But when J. P. comes we have all got to receive him.

A thoughtful man is J. P. Rex of the C.P.R. Audit Office, Montreal. Any man would be grateful who had come thru what he has done so successfully. At one time not very long since, as his friends in the railway office know, Mr. Rex was in the close grip of Dyspepsia. He has shaken it off altogether. Dadd's Dyspepsia Tablets are coming into high fame in Montreal. Mr. Rex's case is one of hundreds. In all parts of the city from Westmont to Pointe-Claire, people may be found who will tell you of the good work Dadd's Dyspepsia Tablets have done for them.

Editor World: In view of the action taken yesterday by the Reception Committee of the City Council, it is probably only fair to the large body of citizens who have been gratified by the action of Mr. Cox and a part of his committee that the general public should understand the course of events in a letter from the Citizens' Royal Reception Committee.

WE HAVE STRUCK OIL

ADVANCE IN PRICE In the Shares of THE ONTARIO and CALIFORNIA OIL CO.

Whereas, owing to the result of recent negotiations and developments, it has been decided to advance the price of the Treasury Stock of the Ontario and California Oil Company, Limited, at present selling at six cents per share, to be advanced to twenty-five cents per share—such advance to take effect after the 25th day of September next.

Contracts will be let within the next few days for the sinking of twenty additional wells on the Company's Ontario properties.

Look out for some surprising results on the California properties, controlled under option for development agreement by the Ontario and California Oil Company.

The Ontario and California Oil Company have secured the option on the control of the stock of the "Blue Bonnet Oil Co." of Galveston and Beaumont, Texas, owning valuable oil lands on Spindle Top Heights, about half a mile from the famous Lucas "Gusher," which has been gushing liquid money at the rate of seventy thousand barrels per day; also three more blocks of valuable oil lands at Sour Lake, Damons Mound, and close to the Town of Beaumont—all in the very richest oil-bearing lands so far discovered in Texas.

The above advance is gratifying to the Company's Directors and Shareholders, but is only an earnest of what may be expected in the Ontario and California Oil Company, and looks small when compared with some other oil stocks, which have actually advanced from fifty cents to two hundred dollars per share.

All orders for the present issue of six cents per share must be forwarded before the above date, accompanied by the cash or equivalent, payable to J. L. FINCH, Sec.-Treas. Ontario and California Oil Company, 21 Adelaide St. East, Toronto.

Or to FOX & ROSS, Stock Brokers, Toronto.

Management Committee of Junction School Board Has a Pretty Busy Meeting.

CHANGES IN TEACHING STAFF

Presentation at Markham - Notes From North and East Points Near Toronto.

Toronto Junction, Sept. 13 - The Management Committee of the Public School Board met to-night. Mr. J. Miller, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, notified the Board that he had sent a parcel of books for the Model School Library for the use of teachers in training. It was decided that the Management Committee should make the necessary arrangements for the annual drill of the school corps, which is to take place late in October. The chairman and secretary-treasurer have had $50 placed at their disposal in the connection. In Miss Brown's senior third class at Annet-street school 60 pupils, who are likely to be added to the number to be taught by Miss O'Connell of the senior fourth class who has only 22 pupils. The suggestion was not entertained by the committee. There appears to be a little misunderstanding in regard to the appointment of teachers in the kindergarten at Annet-street school. Miss Alice Bell was appointed, but she is believed in order to take the same position. Miss Brading was subsequently sent home. At the next meeting of the Board it will likely be decided who is to be the permanent kindergarten teacher. Miss Coates has a directress certificate.

Mr. Henry Dunlop was in the branch residence at corner of Vine-street and Hosken-avenue to Mr. Byron Abbott. They have for England shortly.

The Model School Library Society has elected the following officers: Honorary president, Mr. Wilson; president, Miss Brading; treasurer, Miss Scott; secretary, Miss Wilby; critic, Mr. C. M. Bennett.

NORTH TORONTO.

Miss Eva Booth entertained about one hundred and fifty English women yesterday afternoon at her residence. Tea and sports on the extensive lawn provided a splendid time for all.

At the regular meeting of the town School Board on Thursday night Trustees Munton and Hall advocated the employment of an extra teacher at the Davisville school. The attendance of 81 pupils in the primary room convinced the board that an extra teacher was necessary, and it was decided to employ one at once.

Mr. Henry Dunlop was not so well again yesterday, and the injuries he received in the accident are showing in the action of the liver.

A special meeting of the Works Committee of the Council was held last night for the purpose of choosing a contractor for the new waterworks station. The total amount of the cost as presented by the contractor, with extras, was $4750. Councillor Brownlow and the Mayor suggested a settlement by a reduction of $100. Councillor Spittel thought the amount was not nearly large enough to take off for the poor construction, while Councillor Armstrong was prepared to settle by a reduction of only $50. The committee failed to make a compromise, and the settlement was over for a week, when it will be handled by a special meeting of the Council. Councillor Brownlow proposed for the grading and ditching of Merton-street, and the request was granted.

THORNHILL.

Mrs. R. Bailey arrived home yesterday from a visit with friends in London. Miss S. Callaghan is on the road to recovery from an attack of sickness.

The chief attendance in the village during the next few days will be for the breaking of the fifty-five disposed of by auction.

Skeptics Turn Believers and are cured. "When I read that Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder could relieve catarrh in ten minutes I was far from being convinced. I tried it - a single puff through the blowers afforded instant relief, stopped pain over the eyes, and cleansed the nasal passages. To-day I am free from catarrh." - B. L. Egan, Easton, Pa., -17.

NEEDS OF CATTLE MARKET.

Board of Control Endorses the Improvements Recommended by Property Committee.

PROJECT NOW READY FOR COUNCIL

Report Was Adopted After the Mayor Had Looked Over All the Plans.

The proposal for the improvement of the cattle market reached the Board of Control yesterday afternoon, and after the Mayor had looked over all the plans and satisfied himself that the cattle market really needed a tonic, he consented to the views of the Controllers to send the proposition to the Council.

The Mayor thought the matter might be left to another meeting of the Board. Aid. Sheppard: "You could not postpone it till Sunday night, could you?"

The Mayor: "There's a certain order of sanctity about Sunday."

Aid. Sheppard: "Well, it's got to go to the Council on Monday."

The Mayor then agreed to have the Property Committee's report on the cattle market question taken up, but it did not go far before it had been pretty thoroughly discussed. "As we have no objection to a permanent arrangement with these improvements," said the Mayor as he introduced the plan, "the municipality will do for at least 25 years."

Without the Four Acres. Aid. Sheppard: "Even if we do not get the four acres of land, we can make up for it by building out the present building and under the present circumstances it is an improvement for the year and a half."
