The dreary song came to an end at length; then it was followed by two so-called sisters, who, in short skirts and large picture hats, discoursed of the joys of country life in a peculiarly aggressive Cockney accent.

All Walter's apathy had vanished, as he turned to the stage and scrutinized the scowling and carefully so far as the scowling capacity, Valdo felt the Englishman could judge, Valdo felt the Englishman with a foreign name, but a genuine foreigner, presumably of Italian birth.

The performer fluttered down again from the wings as lightly as a feather, and he had risen, and a tremendous outbreak of applause followed. When the dim hall lights were turned on, the stage manager came forward, and the audience was invited to give their applause to the artist who had just performed.

Valdo would have declined the offer, but already Walter had seen the opportunity was too good to be missed. Though he did not assent to the artist's proposition, he was quite convinced that the artist was a man of some talent, and he was indirectly concerned in it.

They made their way behind the stage to a dingy little room, the back of the stage was in a turmoil. It was almost impossible to see for the dim light.

Walter caught his lip in his teeth. It was hard work to conceal his surprise, no question as to the identity of the intruder. Strange as it appeared to be, Walter recognized the features of Mrs. Delahay. There was no mistaking that white, stern face. It was only for a moment, but that moment had been enough for Lane.

SOUTH AFRICA A LAND OF MANY PLAGUES

The Jigger Flea for Humans and the Tsetse Fly for Cattle.

Profound Depression Throughout Rhodesia and Central Has, Apparently, Lost All Confidence in the Country.

Rhodesia cannot be a particularly nice place to live in, according to the opinion of John Glickman, a Russian who has spent a great many years in Southern and Central Africa and knows the country thoroughly. Mr. Glickman says that there are three main plagues in Rhodesia, which are the tsetse fly, the jigger flea, and the mite.

There are a number of ancient ruined cities in Rhodesia, which are said to be of Phoenician origin and date from the time of Solomon. They are supposed to have been built by the Phoenicians, who were a great nation in the time of the Bible.

From Mr. Glickman's account, there must be quite a number of pests in Rhodesia, which are not only a nuisance, but are also a danger to the health of the people. The tsetse fly, for example, is a very dangerous pest, which is found in the lowlands of the country.

It was stated today by immigration officials here that the figures would show a falling off of between 30,000 and 40,000 for the year up to now, as compared with the number coming during the same part of last year. The falling off was very marked during the first three months, amounting to nearly 15,000.

A nursery rhyme concert in aid of work of the mission hand was given by the young people of Brunswick street church last evening. There was a large attendance, and the characters were represented by Irene Williams, Kenneth Christie, Kay, Willis Stammers, Kenneth Christie, Fred Chipman, O. Golding, Alexander Golding, Sidney Chipman, Gladys Scribner, Marion McLean, Harold Vail, Louise Colwell, Nellie Olive, Douglas Olive, Grace Cameron, Helen Garter, Wendell Belyou, Albert Belyou, Alden Worden, Albert Belding, Irene Garter, Frank Smith, and Misses Stilwell, Smith, Blanche McKay, Wilson and Vera McKay.

FOR 5 YEARS EACH SPRING

FACE AND SCALP ERUPTIONS

TROUBLED THIS LADY TILL ZAM-BUK CURED.

Miss Mary Levesque, 317 Stadacona St., Halifax, N.S., writes:—"I have found Zam-Buk an excellent remedy for skin eruptions. Up to this Spring I was bothered for almost five years with a red rash, small pimples and sores on my face and on the scalp thro' the hair. Nothing I used would clear this rash from the skin until I began using Zam-Buk. This salve has effectively and I believe permanently taken off those unsightly pimples and sores from both scalp and face. I shall recommend Zam-Buk to all my friends."

For healing sores and all skin disease Zam-Buk is without equal. It is good for rheumatism when well rubbed in. Price also paid to Zam-Buk for removal and druggists, 50c. or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

SCHEME TO DAM THE TORQUE NARROWS GOES OVER FOR YEAR

Storm of Opposition to Bill Which Lumbermen and Advocates of Fish and Game Protection Say Will Do Incalculable Damage.

Fredericton, N.B., May 21.—The house met at 4.50 p.m.

A number of bills received their third and second reading.

Mr. Hazen, in reply to Mr. Sprout's enquiry regarding the sale of rails by the I.C.R. to the Central Ry., said an order-in-council was passed to guarantee payment to the government of Canada for these rails upon condition that the crown should have a lien upon the rails and an order upon the I.C.R. for the price of coal delivered by the Central road and a deposit of bonds of the company to the amount of the price of such rails. A second order-in-council raised the condition in regard to the coal payment. The first order-in-council was dated Sept. 5, 1902, the second Jan. 5, 1905. There was no record that Hon. Wm. Puley was present when those orders were passed. No rails were purchased on behalf of the government nor had the government any knowledge as to who tallied the delivery of the rails. He then presented a large number of bills making up the items of account which he said would be held in the executive council chamber for inspection by any member of the house. The account of the rails was delivered to the provincial secretary when the rails were furnished during 1902 and 1903. The account seemed also to have been tendered to the government in Jan. 1907, and to this government in May 1908.

Hon. Mr. Grimmer, replying to Mr. Sweeney, said that Mr. W. W. Melville, of Peel, had not been appointed to any office in his department nor so far as he could ascertain to any office under the crown.

Supply was made the order of the day for tomorrow. Hon. Mr. Fleming submitted the report of the Moncton hospital. The municipalities committee had under consideration the bill to fix the valuation of certain properties in the parish of St. James, to provide for lighting the streets in five districts, No. 1, in the parish of Lancaster in St. John county; also to amend the law relating to dissent for rates and taxes in the city and county of St. John; also to authorize the building of sidewalks in the several parishes in the city and county of St. John and recommended the same to the favorable consideration of the house. The bill in amendment of several acts relating to the general public hospital, St. John, was also under consideration and stood over until tomorrow.

The corporations committee met today. The bill to incorporate the Northern Pulp and Paper Company was taken up. Mr. Tweeddale explained that the bill was an ordinary application of a company for incorporation to manufacture lumber, pulp and paper. He understood there were some objections to the bill and he would reply to these when they were stated.

H. B. Hanson appeared, representing several interests. He claimed this bill was similar to one presented last session in regard to damming the Miramichi and which was very properly thrown out. An act had been passed by the legislature enjoining the policy that the government should retain the control of all water powers. This was a great public franchise and was liable to inflict, if carried out as proposed by this bill, incalculable damages upon the lumber and fishing interests of the province and the act was so drawn that no damages could be collected from the company. The company should be asked for a deposit to show they would be held in the account to the province. There was no capitalist mentioned in the application and no proof that the enterprise would be started. It was well known that the salmon was our greatest game fish and that the Torque was the only spawning grounds left on the whole St. John river. To close it off from the fish would ruin the salmon fishing industry of not only the whole river, but also the Bay of Fundy.

Henry Hilyard had never seen this bill advertised and only knew of it by chance. He and other lumber operators in St. John would be greatly damaged if the obstructions contemplated by this bill were placed in the Torque river. To show the effect of these dams he said that this spring 3,000,000 feet of logs had come down in the ice which had been held back last fall by the Winding Leafes dam and it cost their owners $5 to $8 per thousand to recover them. The dam at Plaster Rock was also a serious damage. W. T. Whitehead, representing the owners of 3,000,000 acres of lumber land on the Torque, said that his clients were entirely opposed to the bill.

Albert Gregory, representing Stetson Cutler & Co., said his clients had lately bought 300,000 acres on the Torque solely to support their St. John mill. They considered they would be liable to great damage from the passage of this bill. They had tried to get Mr. Stewart to withhold his application until it had been decided that there was water enough on the Torque to supply a pulp mill and an engineer was now on the ground making an examination. The bill asked practically for rights of expropriation which the legislature had already ruled should not be given to a private corporation.

Col. McLean, speaking for some of the proprietors of fishing interests, said they were informed that if the dam was built fish could not get up the river.

Mr. Wilson said he had been asked by the salmon fishermen of St. John to protest against the passage of the bill.

J. F. Window, representing the N. B. F. F. and G. P. Association, opposed the bill and read a letter from the department of marine and fisheries to the late premier stating that the government should not permit the passage of the bill.

Hon. Mr. Hazen thought it would be a mistake for the committee to recommend the bill to the house at the present time, and without further information. The bill seemed to be opposed by nearly every lumberman connected with the river. It involved damage to private lands it would also apply to crown lands. It would be necessary to see the plans of the dams, etc., before its effect upon the fishery interests could be decided. There were also the matter of retaining control of the water powers of the country for the people.

Mr. McKinnon thought if this bill meant the opening up of the country and the encouragement of industries without injury to other interests it should be considered. If we were to prevent the use of pulp wood, pulp mills must be built in the province.

Those Allen, speaking on behalf of the Torque Salmon Club, said the effect of pulp mills upon salmon in the rivers of the United States had been to destroy them. It would be impossible to erect a dam at Torque Narrows high enough for power purposes that would permit the passage of fish. The acid water from a charge from a pulp mill would kill young salmon and prevent older fish from entering the river. The dam would be built on the Torque river and the Torque Salmon Club which had a lease of the whole Torque river for $50 a year to oppose it but the interests of the people of the province should be considered. If the province was to progress its industries must develop. The dam at Plaster Rock had created an industry which had built up a small town and done more for the Torque country than all the fishing interests had.

He considered that the lease to the Torque Salmon Club was a great injustice to the people in that it prohibited them absolutely from exercising the rights which they should enjoy. The river should be controlled by the government and not licensed granted, which would bring thousands of fishermen to the province where only one came now. Members of the club went up on the Serpentine the principal spawning ground, and pulled out hundreds of fish which they shipped away to the great damage of the country and without giving any return therefor.

He claimed that the works proposed under this bill would not hurt the fish, which must be protected. This bill was for the encouragement and enterprise of the country and the committee should not oppose it.

The further consideration of the bill was laid over until next session.

C. P. R. WITHDRAWS FROM ARBITRATION

Action is a Protest to Board's Decision to Enquire into the Grievances over the Whole System.

Winnipeg, May 21.—After occupying several days in vain attempts to reach an understanding in regard to its jurisdiction, the arbitration board appointed under the Lemieux act to adjust the difficulties between the Canadian Pacific Railway and its mechanical staff, this morning presented a majority report declaring the board had jurisdiction over the entire system, both east and west of the Great Lakes.

This view was taken by Chairman McDonald, master-in-chambers, of the Kings bench, who was appointed by the department of labor after the two had failed to agree on a chairman and by Mr. Somerville, representative of the men.

On delivery of this decision, Grant Hall, superintendent of motive power on the C. P. R., addressed the court and announced on behalf of the company, that they would withdraw.

Messrs. McDonald and Somerville are continuing the sitting and the hearing of evidence of the unions interested.

North Sydney, N.S., May 21.—The Express of Ireland, the first inward bound mail steamer to call at this port for landing passengers and mails, arrived this morning after a good passage from Liverpool. She made the run to this port in 5 days 12 hours, 55 minutes. She had on board 1,292 passengers. It is expected the mails will reach Moncton about 9 o'clock Friday morning.

A HEAVY ATTACK ON THE ROSS RIFLE

Col. Worthington in Federal Parliament Says Canadian Arm is Very Defective—Sir Frederick Borden Replies.

Ottawa, May 21.—On motion to go into committee of supply Col. Worthington brought up the question of the government's dealings with the Ross Rifle Company. He said he had no desire to embarrass the government nor to injure a Canadian industry but the evidence went to show that the Ross rifle was being placed in the hands of the militia.

Col. Worthington read a large number of expert reports of tests made with the Ross rifle who had found faults in the weapon. The great cry in favor of the Ross rifle had been that it would be made wholly in Canada and that in case of being cut off from communication with Great Britain, Canada would be able to make her own weapons.

As a matter of fact, he claimed, Canadians had been living in a fool's paradise, for from seventeen to twenty of the component parts of the Ross rifle were made in the United States. The minister had denied this in the house but these parts were being imported at the very time when he made that denial.

Col. Worthington said there had been "unbusinesslike" dealings with the company not only in giving them a valuable free site but also in making advance payments before the rifles were completed or delivered. The location of the factory at Quebec was said to be in order to have it under the guns of a fleet, but what fleet was not specified. It would be helpless before the guns of a hostile fleet.

Col. Worthington, in conclusion, moved a resolution "That the dealings of the department of militia and defence in connection with the adoption and manufacture of the Ross rifle as an arm for the defence of Canada, have displayed deplorable inefficiency, have been characterized by gross extravagance and improvidence, and have impaired public confidence both in the alleged efficiency of the rifle and in the management of the department."

Sir Frederick Borden, in reply, accused Col. Worthington of bringing the arm of the militia to the low level of party warfare but doubted his ability to persuade the militia of his patriotism in attacking a rifle with which they were armed.

After dubbing Col. Worthington a "monomaniac" the minister turned to the charges that Ross rifles are defective and dangerous and declared that the 42,000 now delivered every rifle was serviceable and fit for use, in Canada if necessary.

"There are defects I admit," said Sir Frederick. "Many of them could be prevented by more careful inspection but hardly any public inspection could cover all the weaknesses. I am not claiming that the rifle is perfect. There is no perfect rifle in the world."

The minister closed by declaring that the opposition's attack was the vain imputation of a diseased mind.

"Go it easy," said Mr. Foster.

"Well, I will say a base desire to injure the government, let alone the government and myself."

The government are beyond injury now," was Mr. Foster's parting shot.

Sir Frederick stated that Ross rifles

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause in congestion, pain in blood pressure—nothing so common. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has prepared a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—cures blood pressure away from pain centers, its effect—charming, pleasant, delightful, gentle, though mildly, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you have palpitations, nervousness, it's blood pressure—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 15 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnormal blood pressure.

Brush your fingers and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does, it's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents and cheerfully recommend

A NOTABLE ADDRESS

While great progress has been made in some directions in the province of New Brunswick, its agricultural population has stood still for the last thirty years. This statement, made by Dr. James W. Robertson, at Fredericton yesterday, may be coupled with another in which Dr. Robertson said that he, personally, would rather make his home in New Brunswick than in the west. Why is it that the agricultural population of the province has not appreciably increased in thirty years? People have been leaving the land to go to the cities or to the west, and others have not taken their places. Dr. Robertson offers a remedy. If the west beguiles young people, change the system of education. Give them information and demonstrate to them the possibilities of New Brunswick. In this connection he points out that by the simple process of spraying to prevent damage from insects and blight the potato yield can be increased 40 to 110 per cent. In Quebec by a process of seed selection an average increase of 28 per cent. in the yield of oats was obtained, and 27 per cent. in spring wheat. In nine years the yield of wheat was increased 13 bushels to the acre; oats, 18.9 bushels; and barley 22 bushels, without any expenditure except of intelligence. The figures applied to New Brunswick would increase the crop value $335,000.

Dr. Robertson advises that illustration plots be placed here and there through the province, merely to demonstrate seed selection, spraying and crop rotation. These would be an object lesson to the farmers round about. Poultry raising should be illustrated in like manner, as well as fruit growing. The province is especially well adapted to sheep husbandry and to dairying. As an encouraging fact Dr. Robertson points out that thirty years ago Denmark was the poorest nation in Europe, and is today, in proportion to area and population, the wealthiest. The change was wrought by education and enterprise along agricultural lines. New Brunswick is far larger and more wealthy in natural fertility, and should be able to do what Denmark has done.

With regard to the right kind of education, Dr. Robertson insists that the children should be taught to do things, by teachers specially trained. With regard to legislation affecting agriculture, he believes encouragement is better than effort to force people to do things. He would encourage men to establish illustration farms, encourage good schools and school gardens, and in every way ask the people to make the most of their own province. He hoped to see in New Brunswick a school or college for agriculture, with a department for household science and opportunities for manual training throughout. This, with the illustration farms, school gardens and other educative agencies would ensure a prosperous and contented rural population which is the best of all national assets. Judging from the summary of Dr. Robertson's address it would be an excellent beginning of an educative campaign for the government to have printed copies of a full report of the address scattered throughout the farming community of the province, through the medium of the agricultural societies and in other ways. A movement for betterment should be begun by arousing general enthusiasm and securing general co-operation, and Dr. Robertson's address is so suggestive and so optimistic in tone that it should, coming from one of his special knowledge and experience, have great influence—especially when backed by the assurance of the government that everything possible would be done to encourage a spirit of progressive enterprise in agricultural development.

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

The acquittal of Gray by a Carleton county jury on Wednesday recalls the proceedings in a court in that county quite a number of years ago. It is related by one familiar with the case that several persons proved guilty of grave offences had been acquitted by the jury, but one unfortunate, who had no friends, was found guilty of theft. When this prisoner was brought in for sentence the judge proceeded in an ironical vein to lecture him. He pointed out that before committing a crime the prisoner should have connected himself with some powerful organization, or secured a social or political "pull," or should have committed a crime of sufficient gravity to arouse the admiration of a jury and the sympathy of the ladies. That he had failed to do so was regarded by his honor as evidence of a weak mind. Indeed this was also evident from the fact that he had been found guilty. Taking into account this fact, the judge continued, it would not be right to inflict a severe penalty, but he should be given an opportunity to redeem himself by committing a crime that would be serious enough to warrant an honorable acquittal at the hands of a Carleton county jury. His honor therefore sentenced this man to a day or two in jail, and adjourned the court. It is stated that in proportion to population the cost of criminal cases in Carleton county is greater than in most other counties in the province. The reason is not far to seek. There would be less crime if it were known that punishment would follow.

PLAYGROUNDS

The visit of Mrs. Humphrey Ward to Montreal and Toronto has increased public interest in the subject of supervised playgrounds for children. Mrs. Ward was not the pioneer in this work, which was first taken up on this side of the ocean, but she has been the leader in the development of these playgrounds in London. In a report of an address which she delivered before the Round Table Club of Toronto a few days ago the Toronto World says: "Mrs. Ward's view, after earnest study of playgrounds was that an unsupervised playground was worse than the conditions of having no playground at all, the children falling to obtain the benefit from their pastimes when not well organized. The inferiority of such playgrounds was strikingly manifested in New York, where the novelist had seen a supervised and unsupervised playground side by side. Mrs. Ward devoted much attention to the work of the Passmore-Edwards settlement in London, England. The schools in the district were attended by children of indigent parents, and it was desirable to keep them as much as possible away from the home life with its temptations. Accordingly manual training classes were formed and from 4.30 p. m. the hour pupils were given instructions in wholesome and interesting pursuits. The children were very anxious to become members of these classes, and as the privilege of joining them depended upon proficiency in school work a wholesome impetus was given to their studies. There is of course no comparison between a London slum and the streets of St. John, and yet an English visitor has said of us: 'You have the beginning of well defined slums in one or two streets of your city.'" We have at all events need of supervised playgrounds for the children, and the present summer should witness further general interest in a work so well begun two years ago.

It is admitted that moose have been slaughtered in large numbers in Restigouche county in the close season. The man who kills a moose out of season side in the destruction of a valuable provincial asset. Common sense, without legal enactment, ought to be enough to protect our big game resources.

The corporations committee acted wisely in refusing to agree to this session to the damming of the Tobique Narrows. More information is needed, and it must be of a very convincing nature to overcome the reasonable objections raised by various important interests yesterday.

If Mr. Bourassa decides to oppose Premier Gouin in the St. James division of Montreal the fight will be the hottest of the campaign.

A CARGO OF SWEET-TONED CHIMES FOR YARMOUTH

The Sun says the opposition at Ottawa is cooling down. But the Sun is still "hot up."

There will be more than eight bells aboard the Dominion-Atlantic liner Boston when she sails from Long wharf for Yarmouth, N. S., to-morrow afternoon. There will be eleven of them, in fact—a complete set of chimes consigned to the Holy Trinity Church of Yarmouth, the gift of Charles A. Grant in memory of his father, mother and uncle. The largest bell weighs 1,200 pounds and the smallest is inches in diameter. The weight all told will be 15,000 pounds. The bells were cast in West Troy and reached here yesterday. The Boston will arrive this morning from Yarmouth and the chimes will be placed on board as soon as the steamer's inward cargo is discharged.

THE KINGS

The Earth swallow all that stands:
"Let us be kings of the world!"
Men cry; and hurry to build Cities that soon are hid
With treasures wrung from the earth.
Yes, we are kings! And the Earth
Laughs and opens her deep
And chills rock in their sleep,
And down to the bottomless sweep.
Lo! We are kings of the sea!
With bridges and boats we span
The breadth of the ocean,
The power and the pomp of the sea.
Yes, we are kings! And the sea
Tumbles tumultuous waves
Over the ships that are graves,
Batters the hoisting of man.
Tho' the Earth swallow all that stands:
The sea make nothing our pride;
There are three things that abide,
In which remaineth our might.
A mother's bosom, the light
In the eyes of love; and the hands
Lifted to God in the night.

PROMPTNESS.

In his day Herr Lauterstein had been a literate and intelligent student, promptness and economy were two of his watch-words. Now that he had grown old and laughed but sparingly, his habit of speech remained a smile.
"What time shall I come for my lesson tomorrow?" asked one of his few pupils.
"You come when you get ready," said the master. "But be prompt, so as not to waste my time and your own."

HIS KICK.

"Say, there's a mistake in this bill you sent me the other day."
"What's wrong with it? Is it too big?"
"No, but—"
"No mistake in the figure?"
"No, it's not that. It's—"
"What time shall I come for my lesson tomorrow?" asked one of his few pupils.
"You come when you get ready," said the
master. "But be prompt, so as not to

POETRY AND SCIENCE.

In commenting on the fact that a person may be thoroughly equipped on the scientific side of music without being sensitive to its beauty as an art, Gustav Kobbe, in his recent book, "How to Appreciate Music," quotes the witty distinction which Edmund Spenser (Stedman) draws in the "Blatant Blame" between the indications of a storm as described by a poet and the official prognostications of the Weather Bureau.
Mr. Stedman gives two stanzas:
When descends on the Atlantic the gigantic Storm-wind of the Equinox, Landward in his wrath he scourges the tolling surges,
Laden with seaweed from the rocks,
And this stanza from a later balladist:
The East Wind gathered, all unknown,
A thick sea and his course before;
He left by night the frozen zone,
And smote the Cape of Labrador,
He lashed the coasts on either hand,
And betwixt the Cape and Greenland,
Into the bays his armies pour.
All this impetuosity and fancy is translated by the Weather Bureau into something like this:
"An area of extreme low pressure is rapidly moving up the Atlantic Coast, with wind and rain. Storm centres now off Charleston, S. C. Wind, S. E. velocity, 54; barometer, 29.8. The disturbance will reach New York on Wednesday and Friday, centered to the Banks and Bay of St. Lawrence.
Damage to crops is ordered for all North Atlantic ports."

THE COST OF NEWS PAPER.

Washington, D. C., May 21.—The eastern manufacturers' association has given the committee the presentation of their side of the controversy before the special house committee investigating the wood pulp and print paper question and tomorrow a number of western manufacturers will be heard.
The committee will endeavour to finish the testimony presented today was in line with what has been given for the past several days—increased in cost of making paper and a falling off in demand for the product. The Cliff Paper Company of Niagara Falls, presented figures to show that for certain periods during the past nine years its mills were run at a loss.
The publishers are inclined to make much of the statements of the International Paper Company, showing that it is selling approximately 300 tons of paper per day for $1.88 per hundred pounds to the Hearst publications of New York, Boston and Chicago on a ten year contract beginning in 1904 and also of the statement that within the last week the Philadelphia Press has made a contract for a year at the rate of $2.25 per 100 pounds.

VALUABLE STOCK FOUND.

Providence, R. I., May 21.—A package containing 12,000 shares of Bay State Gas Company stock was picked up on the street near the New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R. station tonight.
George Leardo, a lunch room employe, found the package.
The Providence police had previously been notified of the theft of a value containing securities from a man in the south station at Boston on Wednesday.
It is supposed here that Leardo's find may be part of the contents of the stolen bag. The Boston police have been informed of the matter.

THE FLEET ON THE PACIFIC.

Bellingham, Washington, May 21.—Seven vessels of the Atlantic battleship fleet rest tonight in the harbor of Bellingham Bay after the voyage from San Francisco. The fleet was officially welcomed here by the municipal authorities and officers, and shore leave men tonight are being entertained by the people of Bellingham.

RUEF JURY DISAGREES.

San Francisco, Cal., May 21.—After being out for nearly 44 hours, the jury in the trial of Abraham Ruef, center figure in the bribery graft prosecution, against whom many indictments were returned, failed to agree on a verdict and was discharged this evening by Judge Dooley.

A FARMHOUSE BURNED AT FENWICK, KING'S COUNTY

The House Owned by Rev. J. W. Kierstead and Occupied by His Brother Burned Last Evening.

Word was received here today that the farm house at Fenwick, Kings County, owned by Rev. J. W. Kierstead of this city, and which was occupied by his brother J. H. Kierstead, was burned at five o'clock last evening, together with his household effects. The fire caught in the roof of the building, having been caused by a defective flue.

Mr. Kierstead and his son, who were at home at the time, were assisted by a number of neighbors, but all efforts to control the fire proved fruitless.

Mr. Kierstead and his son are at present stopping with a neighbor and will probably erect a temporary structure for occupancy during the summer months, to enable him to proceed with his farming operations.

Rev. Mr. Kierstead said this morning that the house was insured for about half its value, but declined to state the value of the building.

POLICE COURT

Magistrate Ritchie Issues Another Gentle Reminder About Dog Licenses.

At this morning's session of the police court, Judge Ritchie announced that only 450 dog licenses had up to the present been issued from the mayor's office, and advised the owners of canines to procure the necessary papers before the first of June, which will be dog day in the police court. His honor observed that dogs not provided with collars may be seized and destroyed.

Frank Rogers, who was charged with wandering about on Sydney street and being unable to give a satisfactory account of himself to the police, for which he was fined $4, seemed to have money to burn. Not only did he pay his own fine, but offered to pay the fine of another prisoner, who was to pay $4 for drunkenness, but this the court would not allow.

John Morgan was taxed $4, or ten days days, also for drunkenness. One other drunk, who had in his possession when arrested a cheque for $100, forfeited an $8 deposit.

The case against Padiglione Constantino, the Italian charged with using a knife on George Maurices in Paperopolis street, Main street, on Tuesday night, was postponed for a week owing to the illness of the victim, who is at the General Public Hospital.

Beef ranges from 3 to 3 1/2 per lb.; veal, 10 to 12c; pork 12 to 15c; mutton, 12 to 20c; fowls, $1.10 to $1.35 per pair; turkeys 20 to 25c per lb.; ox tails, 8c; sausages, 15c per lb.; sweetbreads, 20c per pair; potatoes, 25c per peck; carrots, 25c; onions, 20c; peas, 20c per lb.; radishes, 6c per bunch; cucumbers 10c tomatoes, 15c to 20c per lb.; lettuce 6c per head; celery 12 to 15c per head; native spinach, 40c per peck; creamery butter, 32 to 34c per lb.; dairy rolls, 28 to 30c; tallow butter 28 lb.; Honey, 25c per dozen, and candied eggs, 18c; Maple sugar from 16 to 20c per lb.; candlefish bring 15 to 25c per head and 1 1/2 cts. WOMEN ON JURIES

Every jury that tries a woman should be made up partly, if not wholly, of women; and until it is thus composed, women will never have just trials before the law.

This does not mean that the woman criminal would receive greater mercy at the hands of a woman jury than she would before a man jury. She would simply receive more justice, because men are either too hard or too lenient with a woman; and they never understand her motives, as the latest of her sex would intuitively do.

As a matter of fact, it begins to look as if it would be necessary to have women to try women in order that the woman criminal may be punished at all, for the man jury in dealing with a woman is simply galling to see. It hasn't the nerve to deal with a feminine wrongdoer the way that she deserves.

A young and pretty woman may almost commit murder with impunity, and even the old homely one reasonably safe, because the lawyer for the defense will say something about "mother" that reduces the price of the twelve good men and true to perfect pulp.

For otherwise would it be if a jury of women were sitting upon the fate of a woman who had stolen the life of a fellow-creature? They would think of the woman who had been widowed, or the children who had been made fatherless, or the other mother who had been robbed of her child, as they would of the blood-stained creature at the bar.

But they would remember, also, mercy. They would comprehend and make allowances for the motives that awayed the woman in New Orleans Pleasure.

There are many ups and downs in this dizzy old world. Some persons are blown up by bombs and some are run down by automobiles.
