British Millions Go To the Polls Today

BRITAIN IS AGAINST MAIN TURK DEMANDS

Telegraphs Memorandum to French and Italian Governments

Unfavorable to Plebiscite in Thrace, Change of Syrian Frontier and Abolition of Capitulations—A Bit Better is Report on Constantinople Situation.

(Canadian Press Cable)

London, Nov. 15.—The British foreign office, it was said in an authoritative quarter today, has telegraphed to the French and Italian governments a memorandum in which Great Britain declares that the main Turkish demands which are to come before the Near East Peace Conference at Lausanne are not regarded favorably by the British Government.

Great Britain stands by the agreements previously made with her allies, she regards unfavorably the three main Turkish demands, namely, a plebiscite in Western Thrace, recolonization of the Syrian frontier in favor of Turkey, and abolition of the capitulations.

London, Nov. 15.—Although the British cabinet has taken a distinctly favorable turn, it has not been able to reach a unanimous decision on the main Turkish demands which are to come before the Near East Peace Conference at Lausanne.

To Police Own National

Constantinople, Nov. 15.—Rafet Pasha, the Nationalist governor of Constantinople, yesterday conceded in principle the right of the Allied powers of occupation to exercise police control over their own nationals.

Belgium to be Represented

Brussels, Nov. 15.—Belgium will be represented at the Lausanne peace conference whenever economic or financial questions in which Belgium is interested are taken up.

American Representatives

Washington, Nov. 15.—U. S. Ambassador Child at Rome and Mr. Crew at Bern will be the American observers at the Near Eastern conference at Lausanne.

MEETING RE CONTRACTS ARRANGED

It was announced this afternoon by C. O. Foss of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, that arrangements had been made by Mayor Fisher for a meeting between the City Council and the hydro commission to discuss the proposed contract.

PENSIONS IN CIVIL SERVICE IN PROVINCE

Matter Taken Up at Meeting in Fredericton—Dr. G. G. Melvin President.

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 15.—The members of the New Brunswick Civil Service Association in annual meeting here today took up the question of taking steps to procure legislation providing for a suitable pension scheme applying to civil servants of the province.

Bonar Law Has Some Hope of Getting Working Majority

The Betting Seven to Three Against the Conservatives Pulling Out With Eighty Members More Than Others—Excerpts from Some Last Minute Speeches.

(Associated Press)

London, Nov. 15.—The electorate of Great Britain swarmed to the polls by the millions today in England, Scotland, Wales, and Ulster to elect the fourth parliament of the reign of King George V.

Bonar Law Expects Majority

No eleventh hour development has lessened the uncertainty of the result. The few prophets who venture forecasts as to the result of the election are unanimous in their prediction that it is therefore something of a surprise to find that the Prime Minister Bonar Law, in his final speech at Glasgow yesterday, discarded his native caution and declared that he had "very considerable confidence" that the electors would give him a working majority on which he could depend.

Betting Odds

Gamblers betting on the election results in the London insurance market yesterday had to pay a rate which indicated that a majority of Conservatives and Independents would be elected.

Fear Labor Organization

At the last parliamentary election, it was estimated that only about sixty per cent of the electors went to polls. Opponents of Labor fear that unless laborites will benefit, since their organization is believed very strong in the industrial areas.

Early Hydro Action With Mayor Fisher at His Post

COMMISSIONERS, AT MEETING TODAY, ALSO FOR PROMPT DEALING WITH CONTRACT

Mr. Scheidhelm's Report Presents a Different Aspect When Interpreted by Him Instead of the ex-Mayor—A Useful Morning's Work at City Hall.

Although the City Commissioners, at a special meeting of the Commission this morning, were not disposed to agree with a suggestion made by Mayor Fisher in his inaugural address that the contract for the Musquash current be signed today, there was an expressed disposition on the part of the members to bring the matter to a successful conclusion with the least possible delay.

Accordingly it was decided to notify the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission that the council was prepared to discuss the contract at the earliest possible moment.

The Mayor, presiding at the meeting, included in an interesting outline of his proposed policy. It included an intention to administer a proposal towards tax reduction and economic administration which found favor with the commissioners.

F. W. Scheidhelm, one of the firm of engineers engaged by the city by ex-Mayor McLellan, was present and asserted that his report did not intend to convey the impression that a steam standby was necessary. He also declared that the Musquash power should be used for the benefit of St. John.

All the members of the council were present as well as many interested listeners to the proceedings.

The Mayor's Address

On rising to speak, the Mayor said that he was anxious to get on with the city's business with as little delay as possible. He was glad to be back again in the City Hall and to be in contact with the other members of the council.

He proposed to have all meetings open on time and the co-operation of the other members. He also proposed to press to the people his appreciation for the honor they had done him in electing him as Mayor of St. John and to thank those who had supported him.

Taxation

Introducing the policy which he hoped to follow, Mayor Fisher said that in his opinion the taxation in the city was excessive. He proposed to reduce the rate of taxation to a level which would be just to the citizen and would not be a burden on the citizen.

Regarding the bill of Messrs. Mead and Scheidhelm, the Mayor said that he had been looking into the matter and was of the opinion that it was a very good bill and that it would be a great benefit to the city.

He said that the council should be authorized to sign the contract and that he would be glad to see the contract signed as soon as possible.

German Cabinet Has Gone To Wall

Wirth's Day is Considered Done and Decision of United Socialists Hastens Resignation of the Government at Berlin.

Berlin, Nov. 15.—The German cabinet headed by Chancellor Wirth has fallen. The ministerial resignations, filed last night, were precipitated by the decision of the United Socialists not to participate in a coalition ministry which included members of the German people's party.

But the friends of Chancellor Wirth were not oblivious of the feeling that he had outlived his usefulness and now has become a victim of a policy of indecision and inactivity which found its culmination in the government's failure to make a practical arrangement with the Allied Reparations Commission during the course of its recent visit to Berlin.

Staggering Bill The City Has to Pay

Scheidenhelm Report Costs $7,116.75 and Commissioners Get a Shock—Partner Figures to the Tune of $1,800—Tidy Sums for Others Engaged in the Work!

The last act of H. R. McLellan in the eleventh hour of his tenure of office as Mayor was to take the breath away from every one of the members of the City Council by announcing that it had cost the city $7,116.75 for the report from Messrs. Mead and Scheidenhelm, electrical engineers. This amount will pay the cost of five folios of typewritten matter relative to the Musquash development, each bound in a limp leather cover with gold lettering thereon. While taken completely by surprise, the commissioners felt that there was no way out of the matter except through the Comptroller's office, so they ordered the balance due paid.

The amount voted for engaging an expert was $5,000. The engineers' bill was for $6,835.20; other expenses incurred amounted to $281.55, making the total $7,116.75.

Here is the document presented to the council by Mayor McLellan on behalf of Mr. Scheidenhelm:

In tabling the bill, the Mayor asked the council to consider the necessity of retaining the services of Mr. Scheidenhelm. He explained that when the engineers were here for the first time, Mr. Scheidenhelm expected to have his report by Nov. 8 or 4 and estimated that the cost would be $3,000 to $4,000, but when the bill was received it was found that the appropriation of $5,000 had been exceeded by $2,116.75.

Mr. Scheidenhelm, who was in the ante-room, was called in and explained the report ran up in cost more than had been expected. He said that it was usual for a consulting engineering firm to charge 200 per cent. of the cost of help, but in this case, this procedure had not been followed. In fact, he added, the bill was about $2,000 less than it would be ordinarily. The usual practice was, he said, to pay 100 per cent. of the salaries to the help and apply the other 100 per cent. to the payment of overhead costs and profit.

Commissioner Thornton also expressed surprise, particularly of the charge made for Mr. Mead's services, twelve days at $150 and that for other office help. He had anticipated that the highest cost would be $125 a day and did not expect it to run over that.

Turning to the Mayor he said: "And you criticized the expenditure of $5,000 for the Ross report?"

He was of the opinion that the expenditures of $8,750 and $1,800 for Messrs. Scheidenhelm and Mead would be a reasonable return for the services rendered.

The Mayor said that he had anticipated that $5,000 would cover the cost, and when he found that it had been exceeded by nearly $3,117 he thought he would be "stuck" for that amount. He had consulted the solicitor, however, who told him that the city must pay the bill.

Commissioner Bullock said that the engineers had been engaged for consultation on the proposed contract, but in view of the amount of the bill, he could not vote to retain their services.

To Mr. Thornton, Mr. Scheidenhelm said that if he was retained for advice on the proposed contract the charge would be $100 a day and expenses.

To Commissioner Frink he said that although it was the rule to charge double for office help, in this case the rule had not been followed. Both Messrs. Wood and Veeer were paid $30 a day, but the charges had been $40 and $35, respectively, to the city.

Another reduction, he said, was made in charging only twelve days for Mr. Mead, whereas he had spent fifteen days on the job; also no charge was made for the expenses of his trip from Madison to New York.

In answer to a question by Commissioner Frink, the Mayor said that he had no arrangement with the engineers regarding the expenses of the other people, but he understood that their expenses would be added.

To Dr. Frink, Mr. Scheidenhelm said that about two-thirds of the firm's work was done with private corporations. If asked to guarantee the cost, he said, they would do so if the work could be laid out and they knew exactly to what it led. He doubted if they would have been able to do so in this case.

Commissioner Thornton — "Would you reduce your bill $1,000?"

Mr. Scheidenhelm — "We have already reduced it $2,000. If the limit had been fixed at $5,000, I doubt if the firm would have entered."

Dr. Frink — "When you found that cost would exceed $5,000, did you notify the Mayor?"

Mr. Scheidenhelm — "No."

Commissioner Wigmore pointed out that Mr. Mead's services and expenses alone amounted to about $2,000.

Mr. Bullock declared that the whole affair was not business. He said that

Too Busy To Bake

The strain and drain of getting ready for Christmas is here again with about everything up to Mother—Mother, who rises to every occasion with such an undying spirit that the folks feel themselves leaning on her strength as something without limit.

How about a little of that Christmas gratitude right now—while she is working away steadily and without stint. Why not ask her if she can't balance up a bit by taking a little holiday from bread-baking, and so find out for herself if she won't save more than the strength she is spending at both ends of the day.

Robinson Bread offers these two savings—it frees her for profitable things half an evening and morning at least once a week. It costs less in money—and has more in it, as most everybody knows by now. Find your favorite among should be sufficient to cover any cost of discussion of the proposed contract. He moved that the matter of further consideration of the contract be taken up at the next meeting with new mayor. There was no second.

Mr. Thornton moved that Mr. Scheidenhelm's services be dispensed with, with the understanding that he would be available if required.

Mr. Scheidenhelm said that he would remain for today and discuss the contract if they wished without charge to the city.

Mr. Frink remarked that, as the mayor-elect had declared that he would sign the contract, and as Mr. Scheidenhelm had advised against signing the contract, he did not see any advantage in having Mr. Scheidenhelm remain in chair, as he was not a British subject. He said that he was of the opinion that there was no difficulty in that regard, but thought it wise to investigate the protest.

The ex-mayor then shook hands with each of the commissioners and left the committee room.

that—Mayor McLellan, backed by the most eminent hydro experts of the continent, says that St. John under this contract has not sufficient safeguards and that there is not sufficient power at Musquash to permit the commission to carry out its contract.

But Mr. Rive is peeved about another matter. Prohibition as enforced by the Foster government is opposed to "damn it eternally." Here is another damn—but no matter. Mr. Rive says prohibition cannot be enforced, and that we should have a law such as Quebec has.

Mr. R. M. Rive is peeved. This is very regrettable. Mr. Rive, who now lives in Moncton, was in St. John last week, and had a most shocking experience. He attended the meeting in the Imperial at which Premier Foster spoke, and could hardly believe his ears when the Premier took a partisan stand on a matter that was purely civic.

THE PEOPLES MONEY WASTED. The Scheidehelm report cost St. John the sum of $71,116.75. The proponent of this bill was the valiantly retiring mayor. The commissioners appear to have been misled in this matter. They seem to have understood an engineer was to be engaged to advise them in regard to the terms of the contract for hydro.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

By Edward N. Davis

Lesson No. 155

POINTS TO REMEMBER.

Remember that:

When erecting the antenna for your portable receiving set, be sure that the bare wire does not come in contact with the wet leaves of trees, thereby causing partial grounding of the apparatus.

Vacuum tubes should never be removed from their sockets in an amplifier without first turning the rheostats to the off position.

Do not expect too much from a loop antenna system. Ordinarily much better signals are obtained by the use of a single outside wire 15 feet or more off the ground and about 100 feet long.

When the storage battery ceases to carry the load of three tube filaments without cutting out much more of the filament rheostats than is ordinarily necessary, the battery should be placed on charge.

A slight readjustment of the tickler coil is sometimes necessary when the inductance of the plate circuit is changed by inserting an additional pair of telephone receivers or when the primary of an amplifying transformer is inserted in place of the telephones.

There is no simple device available which will tune out or eliminate static. Static may be reduced insofar as it affects the receiving system by the use of certain complicated circuits but engineers have yet to overcome this obstacle in the way of 100 per cent reliable radio communication.

In addition of one or two more blocks of "B" battery on the plates of amplifier tubes which are usually employed in amplifiers marked 40 volts plate, is sometimes as effective in increasing the signal strength as connecting step of amplification. Be sure the tubes used will stand the additional voltage before making this increase.

When using two sets of telephone receivers on the same receiving set, best results are obtained by using telephones having the same resistance and preferably of the same make. The telephones should be connected in series.

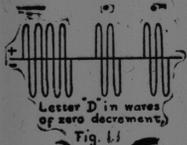

Ordinary flashlight batteries of the three cell type may be employed by connecting a sufficient number in series to give the required voltage to operate the tube plate circuit.

Radio waves are divided into classes, continuous or undamped waves and discontinuous or damped waves. Figure 1 represents the form of wave emitted by an unmodulated continuous wave radio transmitter.

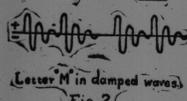

Figure 2 represents the form of wave train emitted by a spark transmitter, the signal being made up of disconnected or discontinuous trains of waves in which the amplitude of each oscillation is a certain fraction of the amplitude of the preceding oscillation.

Theoretically, a train of damped waves never entirely dies out, but when the amplitude drops below a certain value the effect on the receiving station is practically nil. For a wave train having a decrement of .2 the maximum permissible under the law, there would be 23 complete oscillations before the energy in the waves has diminished to 1 p. c. of the value at the start of the wave train.

Letter D in waves of zero decrement, Fig. 1.

Letter M in damped waves, Fig. 2.

Transmitters having the spark gap directly in the antenna emit waves of very high decrement and are therefore not permitted under the law. The smaller the decrement of the transmitter the sharper the tuning possible at the receiving station and the less chance of interference from stations tuned to other wave lengths.

The resistance and inductance of a circuit affect the decrement so that increasing the resistance or reducing the inductance will increase the decrement. This means that it is desirable to increase the primary turns and reduce the capacity in the series condenser when receiving through interference on a two or three circuit receiver.

A CANADIAN'S VIEW OF ALLIED DEBT TO THE U. S.

Regards Money Loaned by Republic as a War Contribution

WAS USED IN COMMON CAUSE

T. B. Macaulay Points Out That Materials Purchased With Loans Were Used to Prosecute War After United States Had Entered Conflict; Paid For Shells Which Saved American Lives.

The question of the Allied debt to the United States is a most interesting one at present. Lloyd George and others have spoken rather pungently about it from time to time. Here is reproduced an article on the subject published by the Washington Star some weeks ago, the views being those of T. B. Macaulay, president of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada.

In view of the renewed interest in the Allied debts, a presentation of the Canadian point of view may be permitted. I suggest that we approach the question with a judicial mind, eliminating sentiment, and applying to the facts those principles which would govern an American court in a similar case between individuals.

The Allies and Canadians consider that they have fought for all nations that did not desire a Kaiser-ruled world, and that the United States, therefore, had a stake in the war even from its commencement. Had Germany won she would have had control of all Europe, all Africa and most of Asia. She would probably have made an alliance with the rest of Asia. Her eyes were already fixed covetously on South America, and with the vast resources then at her disposal, what would she have cared for the Monroe doctrine? The United States would have had to face the rest of the world alone. I do not suggest that she ever, for I do not suggest that the United States owes anything for the early years of the war. I begin with the day she herself declared war, April 6, 1917.

Not Close to Life. Even if the United States had an interest from the beginning, it does not follow that she should have acted at once. Her people needed time to understand the issue. Her distance must also be remembered. If a fire broke out in a city block, the interest of the neighbors is in proportion to their distance. The houses immediately adjoining are in greater danger than those a few doors removed. In this case the conflagration began in central Europe.

Greatest tonic medicine in the world but at once spread to the adjoining houses, France and Russia. Between them and the United States there were other houses, Britain and the British dominions. In the absence of a league of nations to act as general fire brigade, each nation had to decide for itself whether it should join the freighters, and, if so, when? Being furthest removed, the United States was naturally later in co-operating. By the time she did come in the flames were raging in all the adjoining houses, and some had already collapsed. There was danger that they might make a clean sweep. Whether she could have intervened earlier is hardly for outsiders to say. We may, however, ask what would have happened if she had intervened at the time of the Lusitania accident? The war would have been shortened by two years, millions of lives and tens of billions of dollars would have been saved, the condition of the world would not be what it is, and these debts would not exist. This, however, is of sentimental interest only. We must begin with her declaration of war. How did these debts arise? For a year after the entry of the United States the tension was at its height.

Each nation had to utilize to the utmost every resource it possessed. The United States required time to raise, equip, train and transport her armies. During that terrible year the Allies had to hold the enemy back with little assistance from her in manpower. France, the British empire and Italy kept 6,000,000 men in the field. The United States could not yet supply men, but had a plethora of wealth. Each contributed what it could—the Allies supplies and food, or rather funds to purchase them. It was a time for action rather than for commissions to discuss mutual obligations, so that the acknowledgments which the Allies gave took the form of notes. These are the debts which the Allies are now asked to pay. Supplies were the one form of assistance which the United States could render from the moment of her entry. American manufacturers were already turning out artillery and munitions on a large scale. The government furnished these indirectly. Their claim now rests on the fact that they supplied the cost of the materials instead of the materials themselves, is the difference very great?

Dollars vs. Lives.

Had the American armies been then in France these munitions could have been used by them. Because they were not, yet there these shells were fired by Allied troops against the common enemy, must they also be paid for by France and British taxpayers? Should not Americans rather rejoice that by these supplies they were able to take an effective part in the struggle?

The services of the men placed by the Allies in the fighting line were given to the common cause. The lives sacrificed during that year were given, for, alas, they cannot be restored. Should the contribution of the United States be on a different basis, a mere loan to be repaid? Are dollars more valuable than lives? Our next question is why did the United States advance these sums? Reasonable self-interest is the basis of all business transactions, and I think we will agree that it was also the prime motive actuating the various countries. France had no option, for she was invaded. Britain's bond to defend Belgium was powerfully seconded by self-interest, for it was better to fight with France as an ally than to fight later alone. In like manner it was better for the United States to fight with 6,000,000 veteran troops as allies than afterward to fight alone. I do not mean that there was no altruism in the motives of the United States and Britain, for there was, but as the events transpired in time, we realize that self-interest was in every instance a dominant factor. It was a case of helping others—and one's self.

Held a War Contribution.

France and Britain threw every available man into the field because it was to their interest to do this. Britain also advanced huge sums to her Allies because it was to her interest that they should make a strong resistance to the common enemy. She certainly did not make her loans as commercial transactions. Why did the American government make advances? For the same motives that actuated Britain. It was to her advantage that the Allies should make an effective resistance while her armies were getting ready. Had she not done this the war—her war—might have been lost before she could strike a blow. To claim that these advances resemble ordinary commercial loans is to ignore facts. They were advances to associates to be used in the joint enterprise for the benefit of all; and they were made because it was to the advantage of the American government to make them. Incidentally, they were made under the supervision of the U. S. Treasury Department.

Let us imagine a case between individuals. A banker and a farmer own large adjoining farms. They put in a drainage ditch for their joint benefit. There was a great rock ledge to cut through and the work was costly and dangerous. The farmer supplied and paid the large number of workmen required. The banker supplied money to purchase tools and blasting powder. The banker now demands payment of the cost of the materials he supplied and allows the farmer no credit for the men he employed. Were not the services of the workmen as important as the tools and powder? The farmer needed tools, but tools were useless without workmen. What would you say if you were that farmer? Would not a court hold that the parties were equal? The banker's debtors are already associates; that this was not an ordinary loan, but an advance to be expended in the work in which both were interested, and that if the farmer had expended more than the banker he had a complete offset and owed nothing.

Co-Operation in the Field.

Even when the American troops did arrive in force and began to take their glorious part in bringing the war to a conclusion, they were still very deficient in artillery. In many cases they advanced under the protection of a screen of shells from French or British artillery. This was ideal cooperation. It saved untold thousands of American lives and brought victory. Yet much of this artillery and of those shells had been purchased in the United States, and their cost forms part of the so-called debt.

In killed and seriously wounded France lost in the war 2,100,000; Britain, 1,500,000; and Italy 1,000,000. In men actually killed, the Allies lost

Ironized Yeast Brings Marvelous Beauty to Skin

Science Now Proves How Complexion is Quickly Beautified

There is nothing in the world today which is producing such a sensation as Ironized Yeast. Pick out anyone who has healthy, glowing skin, and you have picked out an individual whose blood is rich with vitamins and iron. This recipe of Nature, "Ironized Yeast" is now being used by thousands of men and women with startling, yet perfectly natural results. Ironized Yeast—vitamin-ironized, containing iron in the form in which it exists in the human body, is not a mere mixture of yeast and iron, but is Ironized Yeast, a substance all by itself. Mindless, that great beauty robber, gives way to a lily-purity which nothing else on earth can produce. Pimples, blackheads, spots, eruptions? They become practically an impossibility. Rosy cheeks, firmer and younger-looking skin, more radiant purity, waxy softness—all natural! Imagine your favorite cream and powder. Beve this it is lovely. To have it, a modern miracle! Begin taking Ironized Yeast today. There is only one Ironized Yeast in the world, sold by all druggists at $1.00 a package. Each package contains 20 tablets, each tablet is sealed. They never lose their power. Harold F. Richards & Co., Ltd., Toronto, Sales Agents. Get ready to be supremely happy.

"Ironized Yeast Has Cleared My Skin Quickly and Gladly"

2,850,000. The United States lost 80,000 killed. Canada lost 52,000.

Prior to the war the wealth of Britain was estimated at $85,000,000,000. She now has a debt of about $35,000,000,000, or say 40 per cent.

France's wealth was estimated at $65,000,000,000, or nearly 80 per cent.

The United States has an estimated wealth of $220,000,000,000, with a war debt of $22,000,000,000, or 10 per cent.

If the amount now claimed be repaid, her debt will be reduced to $12,000,000,000, or a little over 5 per cent.

The Allies, from the day each entered the struggle, applied all their resources in men, money and munitions to the prosecution of the war, giving everything they had without stint. Should the United States, with her vast resources, contribute practically nothing for a year after her entry? Was she not as wholehearted as her associates?

During the Napoleonic wars Britain made heavy advances to her allies, and these were freely cancelled. There is no reason why a nation should properly contribute more financially than the others.

Counter Claims of Allies.

To sum up: These advances were made after the United States entered the war; they were made exactly as were the contributions in men or money of the other associates; there is no reason why contributions of one associate should be treated as loans while those of the others are not ordinary loans, for they were made for expenditure for the benefit of all the associates and because the United States desired those expenditures to be made. If these advances be treated as mere loans, the United States made no effective contribution to the joint war for a year after her entry, and has not borne her reasonable share of the joint burdens; and, finally, the Allies have counter claims which should be a complete offset.

These claims have no basis in equity, and as to law, I submit that if the United States too highly to have a dispute, and agrees to pay rather than furnish her national honor in the eyes of any one.

These views are held by many of your most eminent citizens, including such an outstanding legal authority as

Justice Clarke of the United States Supreme Court. I quote from an address made by him:

"Consider what our condition would have been with Germany victorious. * * * Such is something of the abyss into which we should have been plunged if we had not joined with the Allies and made victory possible."

"What saved us from the immeasurable calamity of such a war? It was the French, British and Italian soldiers who held the battle line in Europe for the year that was necessary for us to train and equip and transport to France the great armies which, thank God, proved sufficient to cast the deciding weight into the wavering balance of war. No amount of money can pay for such a service."

More than a million soldiers of our Allies were killed, and another million gravely wounded during that fateful year. * * *

Heed the Battle Line.

"Our first and indispensable service, the only one that we were able instantly to render, was to furnish to our all but financially exhausted Allies the advances to enable them to hold the battle line until we could come. What was the money loaned for, and what was it used for? Supplemented by other billions, which the Allies themselves provided, the money was used to purchase the cannon and ammunition, the clothing and food that maintained the six and a half millions of soldiers who for that year of unparalleled carnage held back the common enemy, not less for our country than for their own."

"In length of service, in loss of life, even in money spent, the sacrifice of our Allies was so much greater than ours that we shall never be able to convince them, or to convince impartial history, that these loans, used in the common cause, should in justice be returned to us by our prostrate friends."

"The war was the noblest joint enterprise in the history of mankind, and our country discharged the part assigned to it in such a high fashion that the glory of it will be the most precious possession of those who shall come after us for centuries unless we despoil them of it by yanking America the Slylock among the nations by the collection of these debts."

"I protest, however, against this phrase being applied to my American friends, for I know well that if they appear to take that position it is because of ignorance of the facts."

"To make payment, the nations must impose crushing taxes on their people. * * * condemned to pinching poverty year after year to pay a debt which not one of them believes to be morally or justly due. * * *

"We should tell the truth to the country. We should say to the people that these loans are neither a moral nor a just obligation, because if they were paid we should not have borne our just share of the burden of defending the great common cause."

Surely the opinion of this great American jurist should have weight. The allied peoples do not ask a donation. They ask only justice. It should, however, be realized that this claim is one of the principal obstacles to the rehabilitation of Europe and of the world. The lessening of the burdens of taxation in countries, where they are of crushing weight is a first essential. But for this claim there would already have been a wholesale cancellation of inter-related debts and probably other adjustments. Payment of these debts would mean a further addition to the taxes in Britain of from 8 to 7 per cent. as all increases from $100 up.

It is sometimes said that cancellation of these debts would encourage Europe in further war expenditures. This is certainly not true of Britain. As for other countries, how can their action be influenced by insisting on a claim which they consider unjust and do not intend to pay? In any case, would that create a debt if none now already exists?

And now I rest my case. The judgment of the American people is sound, but they must hear both sides. My own conviction is that when they understand the facts they will demand that the government cancel these claims gladly, and without condition. They will pay their way.

Famous Old Recipe For Cough Syrup

Easy and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less. Get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 10 ounces. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time. It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dratted cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute relief or money promptly refunded. GOING BACK TO BRITISH GULIANA.

The Jesse Chipman Mission Circle of Portland Methodist church held a delightful birthday party last evening at the home of one of their members, Mrs. Roy Beakie, Pausie row. An interesting account of her work in British Guiana was given by Mrs. Geo. McLeod, formerly Mrs. Geo. McLeod, a former member of the circle. It was keenly enjoyed. Mrs. McLeod and her husband, New Geo. McLeod, and little daughter, have been visiting friends and relatives here and will return soon to continue their work in British Guiana.

MONCTON SKATING MEET.

Moncton Transcript: A meeting of the Moncton Skating Association will be held Thursday to arrange details as to the proposed golden jubilee skating meet here this winter. On Monday evening a meeting was held and the Ways and Means committee reported that in their opinion the citizens would have to loan co-operation so that the M. S. A. could finance. In connection with the proposed meet the Amateur Athletic Association have responded nobly and have offered the use of their grounds.

JUNIOR B. Y. P. U.

A Junior B. Y. P. U. was organized in Waterloo Street Baptist church last night with good attendance of the little folk. The officers are: President, Margaret Hamilton; vice-president, Etta Kershaw; secretary, Audrey Gregg; treasurer, Harold Gregg. The first three named constitute an advisory committee, and Frank Boyce, Tennyson Brown, Percy Mott and Annie Boyce were appointed as a look-out committee. "The Men Who Dressed" is a subject to be taken up under the membership of J. W. Mott. Luncheon served by the Guild. Motte concluded a pleasant evening.

ST. ANDREW'S CURLERS

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Curling Club was held last evening and was one of the largest and most enthusiastic in years. Officers were elected as follows: President, C. F. Sanford; vice-president, D. W. Ledingham; secretary-treasurer, C. H. Ferguson. Details with reference to the visit of the Scottish curlers here in January were arranged. The following new members were introduced: J. Bruce McPherson, A. F. Blake, Fenwick McKelvie, Frank Wyman, J. H. Marr, Rev. H. B. Clark, James J. Brittain, T. S. Fenwick, Robert Aird, Sydney Jones, Don Arscott and R. E. Smith.

ENJOYED WHIST DRIVE

The weekly whist drive of the Last Car Club was held last night at the home of Mrs. and Mr. Nickson, 198 Paradise Row. Miss Nickson and Mr. Angel were the hosts of the evening. Two new members were admitted to the club and given a hearty welcome. The prize winners in the games played were Mrs. Peatman and J. Macdonald. Consolations were awarded to Mrs. Mofford and B. Nickson. Further plans were discussed and arrangements for a box social and dance to be held at the last of the month. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening and a hearty vote of thanks was extended to the host and hostess of the evening.

MARBLE COVE FOR SKATING MEET

This is Proposal of the St. John Power Boat Club at Executive Meeting.

A meeting of the executive of the St. John Power Boat Club took place last evening in their club rooms at Marble Cove, with Dr. J. H. Barton, Commodore in the chair. It was decided that the club offer their services to the management of the International Skating Meet to be held in St. John and that Marble Cove be proposed as a location for the sports. It was also decided that a body of water would be an ideal one for sports of this nature, on account of its approaches and hilly sides which form a natural amphitheatre and keep off considerable wind; that being centrally located it would also mean that a good deal of time would be saved and a lot of unnecessary travel done away with.

A social committee to carry on the social activities of the winter season was elected as follows:—E. S. Hansen, chairman; T. G. Ballantyne, H. Belyea, H. G. Black, E. J. Harshaw, G. D. Sweeney, D. L. Thorne and H. B. Trivitt. At a meeting of this committee, it was decided to hold their first smoker on November 27, and the first club dance of the season on the evening of December 1. It was also decided to form a girls club to assist in the entertainments during the winter.

FOR UNION

Presbyterian Synod of Manitoba Reaffirms Repeated Declaration.

Winnipeg, Nov. 15.—(Canadian Press)—The Presbyterian Synod of Manitoba yesterday adopted a resolution reaffirming its repeated declaration in favor of organic union with the Methodist and Congregational churches and further declared that it was the conviction of the synod that in harmony with the resolution of the general assembly of 1921, immediate steps should be taken as may be deemed best to consummate organic union as expeditiously as possible. An overture to the general assembly at Fort Arthur next June setting forth the outline of the synod, will be proposed.

PRESS COMMENTS ON CITY'S VERDICT

Regarded as a Warning to New Brunswick Power Company to Stand Aside.

(Frederickton Gleaser)

The hydro fight, which occupied the attention of the people of St. John for some months, ended yesterday in the election of G. Frederick Fisher as Mayor and the passing of Harry McLellan from office before the expiration of his term for which he was elected less than a year ago. If Mr. Fisher as Mayor carries out his programme, he will better conditions in St. John which the administration and the apparent assurance of the New Brunswick Power Company made intolerable.

The recall election in St. John yesterday resulted in the defeat of Mayor H. R. McLellan by a little over one thousand majority. The new Mayor is G. Frederick Fisher who previously served the city as commissioner. The campaign was a lively one and the result will occasion little surprise. Mr. McLellan was elected to the majority in April last on a platform of no track or trade with the Power Company. He proved himself to be a wobbler and the machinery for his recall was set in motion. Now he has been held in plain language that his services are no longer required. The citizens of St. John want cheap light and power from the government owned plant at Musquash and they are going to have it. If the New Brunswick Power Company is well advised it will not make any further attempts to block the chariot wheels of progress.

EARLY HYDRO ACTION WITH MAYOR AT HIS POST

It is notified that it was desired to discuss the contract with them and that a date was set for the discussion should take place.

Mr. Bullock thought that, as the commission was selling off goods, its intention was to be anxious to do business as soon as possible.

On the Mayor's suggestion, Commissioner Bullock advised the amendment to clause adding the Electric Commission to arrange the date as early as possible.

The amendment carried.

NEW LIGHT ON REPORT OF SCHEIDENHELM.

At the request of the city engineer, the council went into committee to hear Mr. Scheidhelm, who had expressed a desire to say a few words to the council.

Mr. Scheidhelm said that he was here today to answer any questions which might be asked by the council. He had been in the ante-room while the different matters were being discussed and he had heard several remarks about which he would like to make a statement.

At the first place, he declared, his firm did not recommend that the city should enter into a contract with the power company, but rather the proposed contract should not be signed without providing being made for some form of auxiliary power. It was not intended that this must necessarily be steam power.

He also wanted it made clear that the firm had not recommended an investigation into the Musquash development.

Regarding the bearing of the N. B. Power Co. on the report, he said that the question as to whether the city was to take over the power company or not was for the city to decide. But he felt that the power at Musquash should be used in St. John for the benefit of the community, but the position of the power company might make a difference in the terms of the contract.

"If you are certain," he said, "that for the period of the proposed contract—which I understand is for twenty or thirty years—the position of the city will be one of not having to rely on the power company and of being in competition with the power company, then I would not advise the city to enter into a contract on some specified ground. It would be the choice of the client either to accept that advice and refuse to sign or to take a chance and sign against the advice of the lawyer. If he refused to sign the proposed contract he might ask the lawyer to suggest under what conditions he would sign. In any case the friendly relations existing between client and lawyer would not be affected.

In connection with the matter of auxiliary power, Commissioner Frink pointed out that the Premier had assured the city that, if the Musquash was not sufficient to meet the demands of the city, the government would provide the additional power from the Lepreau or the Magaguadavic within eighteen months after notice. Commissioner Thornton—"Yes, but not at 12 cents.

Mr. Wignmore said that under the contract the city would get 15,000,000 kilowatt hours at 12 cents and after that at cost. He thought that Mr. Scheidhelm should be asked to remain over tomorrow.

The Mayor said that there was no reason to fear from the proposed contract. He felt that any little difficulties which might arise would be rectified by the government.

Commissioner Frink suggested that as Mr. Scheidhelm was in the city, he might meet with the Mayor this afternoon and discuss the proposed contract informally. The Mayor replied that he would be pleased to do so if there was anything further Mr. Scheidhelm would wish to say other than what had passed between them yesterday.

The committee arose and went into council and adjourned.

APPLICATIONS IN HEALTH CASES ARE REFUSED

Judgment in the Matter of Kings and Sunbury Counties.

Treasurers Set Out That They Did All They Could to Meet Order of Judge Barry—Crown to Ask for a Mandamus to Compel Payment.

(Special to Times)

Frederickton, N. B., Nov. 15.—The two municipalities of Kings and Sunbury disregarded orders issued by His Honor Judge Barry of the County of Kings' Bench for the payment of amounts apportioned for the administration of the public health act. In the case of Kings the amount was $7,500 and in the case of Sunbury $4,800. The treasurers of the two municipalities, G. O. D. White, K. C., of Kings and A. B. White of Sunbury are the defendants, it being required to show cause against a rule nisi for writ of attachment. There also is the point as to whether or not the treasurers have been guilty of contempt of court.

The public health act as it stands affords no means for attachment of the warden of a municipality which refuses to assess. In addition to the step being taken now the Crown can have recourse to mandamus to compel payment.

Kings County Case.

The King vs. G. O. D. Oty, treasurer of Kings County, ex parte Hon. W. G. F. Roberts, Minister of Health, was the first case called. Mr. Oty on his own behalf argued that he was not guilty of contempt of court in the fact that the money for the payment of the amount ordered by Mr. Justice Barry was not in the county treasury, the council having refused to assess for other purposes and he contended that they should not be applied to any other purpose such as the payment of the public health administration costs.

Mr. Oty presented an affidavit of W. S. Wilkinson, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Hampton, to the effect that application had been made to him by the warden and treasurer of the municipality for a loan of $7,500, the amount ordered paid, or for $12,500, the amount assessable last year, the application in each case being refused.

Mr. Oty also presented his own affidavit and correspondence to the effect that upon receiving advice from P. J. Hughes that arrangements had been made whereby the necessary loan could be obtained through the Bank of Montreal at Frederickton he had so informed the warden of the municipality and that the warden was content to let the matter rest upon the bank at Hampton having refused to make the loan. Mr. Oty argued that he had done all in his power and that he could not touch money in the treasury for other purposes without misappropriation.

Mr. G. Teed, for the municipality, followed a similar line with regard to the action of the council he contended that, under the act as in effect in 1918-19, the council had the right to vote more of the amount required for public health purposes, or any part of the amount as it might see fit. Under amendments of 1921 there was no such right.

P. J. Hughes, for the Crown, argued that there was no right on the part of the Municipal Council to do anything but vote the amount required for public health purposes. So far as the contention of Mr. Oty with regard to amounts in the county treasury earmarked for other purposes, he contended that under the order of Judge Barry such should be taken to pay the amounts required for public health administration. There would be no misappropriation, it being the duty of the municipality to supply funds.

Mr. Hughes also contended that the power of issuing a writ of attachment lay with the appeal division. This contention was questioned from the bench, the statement being made by the several members that Mr. Justice Barry would apply the attachment. Mr. Hughes urged that the statute specified that it must be the higher court which would apply it.

The King vs. A. B. White, treasurer of Sunbury County was heard today. R. B. Hanson presented affidavits to show that it had been impossible to raise the money. Arrangements had been made for a loan at the Royal Bank, Frederickton, on condition that the council at a special session vote in favor of making the appropriation at the next regular meeting. The special session was held but the council voted it down on 6 to 5.

Rule Refused.

The court refused the rule nisi for writ of attachment in both cases. The chief justice, Sir Douglas Haen, gave judgment, Judge White and Judge Grimmer followed with judgments to a like effect. The matter of costs is to be considered. P. J. Hughes for the Crown in both cases, gave notice of motion for Friday next for mandamus to compel payment on the part of the two municipalities concerned. The court said there was no objection.

MANY ONTARIO FARMERS MOVE TO NEW YORK STATE

Brockville, Ont., Nov. 15.—As a commentary on the immigration situation in this country, it is interesting to note that this year up to the present 188 settlers from Canada have entered the United States at the port of Morris-town opposite here, exceeding by 94 the record of the entire year 1921. The port of Morris-town has led the St. Lawrence immigration district this year in the numbering of settlers entering. Many are farmers who have disposed of their properties in eastern Ontario to resume farming in New York State, while others have been attracted by industrial opportunities over the border.

DON GAS MASKS, AVERT EXPLOSION

Employs in Harlem Gas Works Mend Broken Pipe Seal - Two Nearly Asphyxiated.

New York, Nov. 15.—Gas pouring out of the broken seal of a pipe in the purifying room of the Standard Gas Light Company at 118th street near the East River, where scores of men were at work, nearly asphyxiated two, and caused danger of an explosion which might have been attended by heavy loss of life.

Bartholomew Barry, night foreman at the plant, was overcome by gas fumes when he sought to repair the broken seal. Frederick Bradshaw, another employe, was overcome. Gas began to fill the building. Several other employes jammed gas masks and went to work on the broken tap. For a time it was ascertained, there was danger that gas would escape in such a volume that a spark from a chimney might cause a widespread explosion.

Calls were sent to hospitals, to the police and to the Consolidated Gas Company, which furnishes pulmonary. While workmen were repairing the leak, Policemen Bure and others dragged Bradshaw and Barry to the street. Both were unconscious, but they were speedily revived by the application of the pulmonary. Both were reported to be completely recovered.

BOY KILLED, DRIVER SAVED FROM MOB

Bronx Police are Compelled to Draw Pistols to Protect Negro Truck Chauffeur.

New York, Nov. 15.—A crowd of several hundred men and women menaced Morton Van Allan, a negro truck chauffeur, when he ran down and killed Daniel Canham, eleven years old, of 464 East 182d street, at Hawthorne avenue and 187th street, the Bronx. Van Allan, who is twenty-three and lives at 1308 Brook avenue, the Bronx, was driving a coal truck along Hawthorne avenue when a touring car coming out of a side street made it necessary to swerve toward the curb to avoid a collision. The front wheel of the truck passed over the boy, who was playing in the street.

The child died a few minutes later. His cries aroused the feelings of a crowd which gathered, and only the timely arrival of Patrolmen McGrady and Stearns of the Bronx Park precinct saved Van Allan from a mob. Threats of lynching were heard, the patrolmen drew their revolvers and forced a way for Van Allan. He was taken to the station. Witnesses of the accident said that he was in no way to blame for the accident.

DEANERY S. S. ASSOCIATION

The St. John Deanery Sunday School Teachers' Association met in the Church of England Institute, Princess street, last night, with the president, Kenneth Armstrong, in the chair. A paper on "The Interest of the Parents in the Work of the Sunday School" was read by H. Fisher Miller, and Mrs. Edwards, of St. Jude's church, gave a paper on Sunday school work. Discussions followed and the need for the parents' interest in the work of the Sunday schools was emphasized. The following suggestions were made: That the parents visit the teachers and discuss the work of the children; that the adult Bible classes assist in the work among the children; that an effort be made to reach the younger members of the congregation through the regular church services. Refreshments were served by the ladies of St. Paul's church.

TRAPS TWO WILDCATS

New London, Conn., Nov. 15.—Amos George, caretaker of Senator George F. McLean's game preserve, reports the trapping of two wildcats near Sillabury. The first was caught on West Mountain Thursday night. It was the largest ever caught in this district, and Senator McLean estimated that it would weigh not far from thirty pounds. Mr. George with some friends was soon hunting Friday night when the dogs led them to one of his traps, and the party found the dogs in fierce combat with a smaller cat, evidently just caught. This animal weighed eighteen pounds.

A Prominent Physician's Recipe for Bran Bread

Clip out this advertisement. Then have your grocer send you a package of Tillson's Health Bran and make the most delicious and most healthful Bran bread you ever tasted.

ALL physicians will tell you that Bran is invaluable as a daily food for young and old—that it keeps you regular and healthy. They will tell you to use the natural Bran, not treated or cooked Bran. Here is one physician's recipe:— 1 1/2 cups Tillson's Health Bran; 2 cups flour; 1/2 cup brown sugar; 1 level teaspoon salt; 4 level teaspoons baking powder; 1 cup milk; 1 egg. Beat egg well; add milk; add dry ingredients and bake in moderate oven one hour. Add 1 cup raisins, chopped dates or walnuts, if desired. Make Bran Bread often; eat it regularly, but be sure to make it with pure, natural Bran, Tillson's, not the cooked or treated Bran. Tillson's is just the bran coat from the cleanest and plumpest of wheat—sterilized; that's all.

FURTHER HOLD-UP IN BRIDGE MATTER

City's Share in Construction Still Matter of Doubt - Other Matters Before the Council.

At a regular meeting of the City Council yesterday afternoon the proposal for the city to pay one-third of the cost of the reconstruction of the C. P. R. bridge in Chesley street, the amount being $700, was sidetracked and it was decided to allow the matter to lie on the table. Repairs to the pontoon supporting the landing stage at the Eastern Steamship Company's wharf were authorized.

A letter was received from L. D. Howard, of the employment service of Canada relative to the payment of the province's payment of the cost of furnishing the St. John office of the employment service. Commissioner Thornton said Premier Foster had said that the government would stand behind any statement which had been made by him.

The resignation of Miss Dorothy K. Lowe, secretary to His Worship the Mayor, was read and on motion accepted. It will take effect today.

An application from the Jones Electric Supply Company to erect an electric standard in front of the Dufferin Hotel annex in Charlotte street, was referred to Commissioner Frink, as was also an application for permission to erect an electric sign, received from Short's Pharmacy, 63 Garden street.

Reporting on a letter from Hon. F. B. Carvell, chief commissioner of the Board of Railway Commissioners of Canada, Commissioner Frink referred to Mr. Carvell's explanation that, if the city demanded the construction of the bridge on the present street lines, the city must pay one-third of the cost, $700; if not, the C. P. R. will be permitted to construct on the present lines.

He moved that, in view of this ruling, the commission be advised that the city accepts its terms, payment for the city's share to be taken out of next year's appropriation.

Commissioner Thornton expressed the opinion that it was not fair for the city to pay a part of the cost of work for the C. P. R. He said the railway had been encroaching on the street for years and now that the bridge had to be rebuilt, the C. P. R. should conform to the present street lines. He opposed the motion, saying that the council should have the Solicitor's opinion. Commissioner Frink observed that the ruling was in favor of the city, from which there was no appeal. Mr. Thornton moved in amendment that the report lie on the table. This was seconded by Commissioner Wigmore, who was opposed to the city paying any of the cost, remarking at the same time that the street should be widened. The amendment was carried, only Dr. Frink opposing it.

Commissioner Bullock presented a report from the Chamberlain regarding the purchase of the R. G. Andrew house in West St. John for $2,800 plus tax arrears of $214.89. The council confirmed the purchase.

Mr. Bullock was authorized to dispose of the property or, failing this, to rent. He preferred selling for $8,000, but had an offer of $30 a month. Mr. Bullock also presented a report from the city engineer to the effect that the pontoon under the gangway at the Eastern Steamship Company wharf was leaking and in need of repairs, which he estimated would cost $950. He reported a surplus of about $1,000 on the amount for Red's Point wharf repairs and his recommendation to use this amount in recalking the pontoon carried.

In the matter of a lease of three lots of land in Dukes ward to Simmons, Ltd., for manufacturing purposes, Commissioner Bullock reported that the company was paying $50 and he thought that, in view of the fact that manufacturing had not been started according to the terms of the lease, $30 a lot should be asked. He had suggested that the company to this effect, suggesting that when the plant was started the rental might again be reduced to $50. The company asked for a copy of the suggested new lease, he said. The matter was referred to the

ORPHAN DEAD, 5 ILL AFTER EATING RAT POISON

New York, Nov. 15.—One child died at the Memorial Hospital, Prince's Bay, Staten Island, another is in a critical condition and may die, and four others are seriously ill as a result of eating rat poison which they found in an ash barrel. All six were inmates of St. Michael's Home on Fresh Kill Road, Greenridge, Staten Island, a Catholic institution for orphans.

The dead child was May Davis, 10, Elizabeth Appleby, 10, is in Memorial Hospital with slight chance of recovery, Helen Fisher, 10; Annie Devaux, 5; Evelyn Desmond, 10, and Annie Galerio, 7, are seriously ill at the dispensary of St. Michael's, but hopes are held out for their recovery.

While the children were playing they discovered what they thought was something that a reasonable purchaser would take and it was not reasonable to expect the city to take over a plant of the nature indicated.

NEGRESS FINDS $5,000 BAR PIN IN GUTTER Goes to Police Station to Ask Aid in Tracing the Owner.

New York, Nov. 15.—Falling to find the owner of a $5,000 bar pin she had picked up last Wednesday afternoon from the gutter in front of 36 West

Fifty-seventh street, Winifred Jones, a negress of 349 Warren street, Brooklyn, employed as a dressmaker by Joseph & Co. at 20 West Fifty-seventh street, walked into the West Forty-seventh street station last night and turned the pin over to Detective William Moore. She asked Moore to help her restore the pin to its owner.

Detective Moore examined police records of reported lost and stolen jewelry and found that on March 29, 1919, Dreicer & Co., jewelers on Fifth avenue, reported the loss of a bar pin at Madison avenue and Ninetieth street, the description of which fitted the one found by the woman. It is a platinum, set with fifty half-karat diamonds and three large sapphires, one at each end and one in the center. Moore gave the pin back to the woman and told her to go to Dreicer & Co. today. "I just happened to glance down at the curb when I was walking home from work and saw something shining there in the trash," she told Moore. "I looked in all the papers that day and the next day, and not finding any trace of the owner, I thought I'd better tell one in the center. Moore gave the

—they had to watch her lips

WHEN Helen Davis, famous mezzo-soprano, sang in direct comparison with the New Edison Re-Creation of her voice, at the Imperial Theatre last Monday, the audience had to watch her lips to know when she had stopped singing! No other phonograph in the world could meet such a test successfully. As the deep, rich notes of the singer filled the theatre with glorious music, it was but natural to expect a decided contrast in the comparative sound of a mechanical instrument. But the artistic New Edison William and Mary cabinet beside the singer was no ordinary phonograph. It was indeed a Re-Creator of the living voice—the ONLY phonograph that could sustain this exacting test.

The NEW EDISON "The Phonograph With a Soul"

The Official Laboratory Model used in Monday's remarkable test is exactly like those in our regular stock. We will gladly give you a guarantee that any Official Laboratory Model will sustain this test. Come in and learn more about the matchless realism of the instrument. And do you know that you may have such a New Edison for a very small cash outlay? Let us tell you about it.

STEAM PLANT NOT WANTED

When counsel for the Toronto Street Railway Company were presenting the company's case before the Board of Arbitration last week it was contended that all the available assets should be taken over. A. C. McMaster, K. C., for the city, argued that one of the assets the city did not wish to take over was the steam plant. He declared that with the exception of a few hours the plant had not been operated for five and a half years, and that it took a month to get it into operation. The plant must be something that a reasonable purchaser would take and it was not reasonable to expect the city to take over a plant of the nature indicated.

Woman Drinks Iodine on Doorstep of Man Who Accused Her in Robbery—
Tells of Recent Auto Trip

New York, Nov. 15.—That Charles Auerbach, an automobile accessory dealer, who is a neighbor of Mayor Hylan in Brooklyn, had resumed friendly relations and then quarrelled with a woman he once accused of having been the decoy in a robbery plot whereby he lost heavily, was declared by the woman after she had attempted to commit suicide on the steps of Auerbach's home. The woman, Mrs. Emma Lerman Denier, said in a commotion in the quiet Bushwick section in which the Mayor is resident, when she drank iodine, after failing to induce Auerbach to admit her, and then began to scream.

Patrolman Mall of the Ralph avenue station called on Mrs. Denier at the Bushwick Hospital. Mrs. Denier was unconscious when it arrived and a police inquiry failed to show any one at 976 Bushwick avenue, on the steps of which she had swallowed the poison, knew her. Later a detective identified her as a woman he had arrested on Auerbach's complaint last April as the result of what then was described as "a distressing hold-up" across the street from the Mayor's home.

Auerbach's story at the time was that he was sitting in a car with the woman, when William Vetter of 310 Clason avenue came along, struck him, menaced him with a pistol and forced him to give up $3,000 in money and jewelry. Investigation showed that the woman, instead of occupying a handsome apartment in Stuyvesant avenue, Brooklyn, really shared rooms in the basement with her father, who was janitor there. Also, it developed that, instead of being a widow, she was merely living apart from her husband.

Mrs. Denier and Vetter were arrested and jailed. Auerbach two weeks later withdrew his complaint, and both went free. Whether he got his property back was not disclosed. Questioned by the police at the hospital after she regained consciousness, Mrs. Denier said she had been riding with Auerbach in his automobile on Thursday and they had quarrelled. She went home, she added, but could not get to sleep, and at three a. m. got out of bed and called to her brother-in-law, John Kopelman, and requested him to telephone Auerbach. Kopelman refused and told her to go to sleep. Instead she dressed and went to a near by drug store, where she purchased iodine, going from the store to the house on Bushwick avenue. She rang the doorbell at Auerbach's home and the man called out. When he learned who was at the door, Mrs. Denier said, he refused to open it. She then swallowed the iodine.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 15.—How paint has been instrumental in helping shell-shocked soldiers to regain their health, will be brought to the attention of the delegates to the Paint Congress, opening this week jointly at the Ambassador and the Ritz-Carlton Hotels. Three national associations linked with the trade are to gather at the same time—the National Varnish Manufacturers' Association, the Paint Manufacturers' Association of the United States and the National Paint, Oil and Varnish Association.

"A young soldier, a mental wreck after being buried four days by the explosion of a shell, during which time he was kept alive by compressed oxygen," said S. T. Ballinger of New York, who will have a prominent part at the convention, "was experimented on by the doctors. He was taken in a room beautifully finished in vivid red. 'I can't stand this,' he cried. He was then taken in a violet room, which produced a vibratory action on the nerves, and induced an unfavorable reaction. But when escorted to a room finished in primrose yellow, he gave a sigh of relief. I was quite comfortable now," he said. He was given free access to this room and his recovery was rapid.

Metal Dropped in Slot
Reveals Real Nature to In-

(New York Times.) The new device designed to detect the use of slugs and other worthless bits of metal as a means of releasing the turnstiles in the subway stations of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, began operating in a majority of the stations at seven o'clock last evening. The contrivance consists of metal fingers that receive the nickel or its substitute and retain it until another passenger drops a coin into the box, when it falls into the receptacle beneath.

In the square of the first box is set a piece of magnifying glass which enlarges the nickel about four and a half times, so that inspectors on the station platforms can readily see whether the thing deposited is a nickel or some substitute. James Doyle, an assistant of President Hedley of the Interborough Company, explained the device yesterday afternoon to a group of reporters gathered on the uptown side of the Fulton street station. A number of the various bogus bits of metal gathered from the boxes during the last few days were dropped into one of the boxes. The fingers caught each as it fell and it was so plainly disclosed in the bright light of an electric bulb that its true character became instantly apparent.

Mr. Doyle said that the use of the device would not require the attention of more than the usual number of inspectors or attendants, that the passengers themselves, so long as their interest in the device continues, would serve to prevent attempts to ride free, and that when this interest waned the habit of "skinning the company" would have ebbed to a negligible point. He also said that the loss to the company through the use of counterfeiters was less than one per cent, but that the saving, providing the device did all that was expected of it, would be considerable in view of the fact that the revenues of the company from its subway service aggregate about $36,000,000 a year.

LITERAL "GOLDEN RYE"

State of Oldenburg is Issuing "Rye Money."

Oldenburg, Germany, Oct. 28.—(By mail.)—A literal application is being given here to the poetic phraseology "golden grain." Operating on the principle that "rye is gold," the state of Oldenburg is issuing "rye money" on the following basis: The state needs 150,000,000 marks. In order to raise that sum notes will be issued bearing a specific value in rye. Whoever acquires one of these notes will pay whatever is the current market value of the amount of rye in which it is quoted, together with a fixed rate of interest. The notes are to be redeemable after four years. If rye is then worth ten times its present value the holder will realize ten-fold on his note, and similarly will lose if the rye market has slumped.

As rye is now selling, the note issue of 150,000,000 marks will be equivalent to approximately 83,600 centners (about 105,286 bushels) of rye. This is considered an extraordinarily small quantity compared with the usual Oldenburg harvest. It is foreseen that other sections of Germany may follow this state's example, since the local experiment represents one of the first attempts to find a stable basis of transaction in view of the market's irregular fluctuations.

Lieut. Blaney Dies Instantly
When Aircraft Hits Tree
at Hartford Meet—Mach-

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 15.—Hartford's three day meet in celebration of Armistice Day was marred on Sunday by a fatality three hours before the end. Lieutenant John E. Blaney, 29 years old, of Texas, was killed when his machine crashed to earth in flames after the left wing tip had fouled the top of one of several trees south of Brainard Field, the Hartford municipal landing. When surgeons in a waiting ambulance and other pilots reached the spot, Blaney was dead, his body being partly incinerated by flames from the cracked gasoline tank.

Major Jones of Michel Field assumed charge of the investigation. During the afternoon a brisk wind came up out of the northwest and Blaney, finishing the 25 mile relay race, was about to make a cross wind landing from the south, when his plane wing hit the tree top. Blaney was driving a De Havilland 4-B model, equipped with a Liberty motor and capable of great speed. He was traveling fast, probably 115 miles an hour, at the low altitude usually taken in a relay race, and close observation on his right side but failed to notice one taller tree on the left. His flying partner, Lieutenant Valentine, was waiting to take off and finish the race as soon as the wheels of Blaney's plane touched the ground. Valentine cut off his motor and ran to Blaney's side on his right side but failed to notice one taller tree on the left. Blaney who had been a pilot for five years and was recently in the Philippines, won the bombing contest of the meet on Monday last. When news of his death reached Major Weaver, in the afternoon, the commandant of Michel Field was very much broken up. Several of the officers at the field also felt keenly the death of the aviator. Many of them had served with him in the Philippines, and also with the A. E. F. overseas. He returned from the Philippines about six months ago. He was born at Sutton, Neb., twenty-nine years ago. His wife is living at Long Beach, Cal.

CONDEMNNS DIVORCE, MASON AND KLAN

Archbishop Michael J. Curley in his sermon on Sunday in Baltimore severely condemned the "divorce evil" the public school bill adopted in Oregon at the last election, and the Scottish Rite Masons and the Ku Klux Klan for support given to this measure. "America is becoming Mormon," said the Archbishop. "I think I would have more respect for the Mormon who marries, keeps and supports four wives at one time than the man who marries women in tandem fashion, discarding them one after another. "No Protestant Church has had the courage to stand by the teaching of Jesus Christ, 'What God hath joined together let no man put asunder.' "America, I think, has one of the most stupid populations in the world, because it allows such organizations as the Ku Klux Klan to exist. "The Masonic body is directly opposed to Catholicity and has at last thrown off the mask." The Archbishop was speaking about Masonic support of the Oregon School bill. A member of the local detective department lies in a serious condition in the St. John Infirmary, and his condition is regarded as critical. Kenneth Donahue was on duty up to 10 o'clock on Monday evening, when he returned to his home, only to be stricken with serious intestinal trouble about 1 o'clock yesterday morning. His condition became worse and Dr. G. A. B. Addy and Dr. S. H. McDonald were summoned. He grew steadily worse and last evening it was thought advisable to operate on him. He was taken to the Infirmary about 9:30 o'clock and an operation was performed.

A Different Kind of Tone Arm

THE same man—Mr. Elmer Fletcher—the American genius who invented the marvelous reproducer used on the McLagan Phonograph—also invented a different kind of tone arm.

During Mr. Fletcher's investigations and experiments, he discovered that the ordinary round tone arm was too thin and light. It vibrated too much, often causing blares and blats and confusion of sounds—particularly noticeable on the high notes of vocalists or with band records of strong volume.

He Made It
Hexagonal

As a result, Mr. Fletcher invented a new tone arm, so radically different in construction that patents were allowed on it in United States, Canada, Great Britain and other countries.

Mr. Fletcher made his tone arm hexagonal—six-sided—in form. This enabled him to construct it of heavier metal and in varying thicknesses. By this solidity of construction, all extraneous vibration was eliminated and a greater volume of tone produced.

The McLagan-Fletcher Hexagonal Tone Arm carries the highest notes and the most powerful volumes of sound reproduced from a record without a blare, blast or any confusion of sound—without any false notes or sounds that are not in the record.

A Clear Passage for Tone Waves

Some tone arms have queer twists or turns that hold back and choke the sound waves. Some others have obstructions that blur the reproduction.

Examine Mr. Fletcher's Hexagonal Tone Arm. You'll find it provides an open, free, clear passage for the sound waves.

And, as this tone arm is tapered in form—gradually increasing in size—the sound waves gradually increase in volume as they pass through it, building up tone, adding volume and gaining in clarity.

Another Point

There are no loose joints on the McLagan-Fletcher Tone Arm to get out of order and rattle. And there are no parts on the reproducer that can work loose and cause jarring noises or harsh and discordant sounds. The McLagan is mechanically perfect.

The McLagan Phonograph Corporation control the patent rights for Canada and Great Britain to manufacture and use this reproducer and tone arm. The Adjustable Ring Weight, at the base of the tone arm, which gives the exact weight required for playing any make of disc record perfectly, is another exclusive McLagan Feature.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE MONEY AND STOCK MARKETS TODAY

MORE PUBLIC OWNERSHIP

Great Increase in Canada in Recent Years—Some Very Interesting Figures.

The Citizens Research Institute of Canada has just issued an illuminating and useful bulletin dealing with the growth of publicly-owned utilities throughout the Dominion. The volume of development has taken place very largely during comparatively recent years, and marked progress has been made in both the number and variety of municipally-owned utilities. For example, between 1920 and 1921 the advance is represented in an increase of capital liability from $102,370,893 to $194,196,802.

It is instructive to note the character of the utilities and the liability attaching to them. This is indicated in the following summary: Waterworks $96,539,899 Electric light and power 49,820,805 Street railways 39,823,413 Others 16,944,585

Winnipeg leads in the waterworks division with an investment of $20,642,097. Toronto comes next, with $16,684,904. Some of the other relatively expensive waterworks systems are: Vancouver, $4,748,811; Victoria, $4,181,648; Quebec, $4,100,000; Ottawa, $3,444,688; Hamilton, $2,977,405; Edmonton, $2,811,741.

Toronto has the most heavily invested in street railways, with a liability of $8,140,121, and Calgary comes next with $2,450,000. The Regina system has cost $1,886,971. Under the head of municipal light and power system, Toronto again holds first place with a charge of $10,732,920. Winnipeg is well up with $6,622,000, and Edmonton comes third with $3,115,897.

Taking the capitalization of utilities of all classes, some of the outstanding amounts are as follows: Toronto $56,738,057 Winnipeg $1,884,697 Edmonton $1,097,941 Vancouver $2,908,979 Regina $4,827,567 Ottawa $4,284,688 Hamilton $4,774,145 London $4,622,699 Victoria $4,100,000 Quebec $4,100,000 St. John $4,128,988

FINANCIAL

Initial Prices in Wall Street Slightly Mixed—Spirited Trading Early on Montreal Market.

New York, Nov. 15.—The League of Public Notaries has addressed a letter to Dr. Vissering, the President of the Nederlandse Bank, asking whether, in view of the uncertainty of the situation, it would not be advisable that mortgages and similar instruments should contain a stipulation laying down that repayment should be made in gold florins. The President replied that the high quotation of the florin was due to the large stock of gold held by the country.

Every failure carries with it a lesson, which when taken to heart, leads to success. A period of hard times is a period of preparation for good times. Errors of policy brighten the way for improvement. Business failures produce charts to the sea of success.

Unfavorable tariffs have given the live stock man a lesson. He now knows that there is only one way to make a permanent success of the live stock industry, and that is to ship our products to the world's markets, in tip-top condition. It is the old lesson—quality is preferable to quantity.

Further reductions in the retail prices of leading brands of cigarettes were announced yesterday, the action following the list made some time ago by leading manufacturers. The United Cigar Stores Company of America, the largest retailer of tobacco products in the country, yesterday announced a reduction of two cents a package of twenty cigarettes.

Montreal, Nov. 15.—(10-30)—During the first half hour this morning there was some spirited trading on the Montreal market. The market was generally higher than in the previous session, and was characterized by a realization of lower prices.

All One Way. Bridgeport, Conn., Nov. 15.—Louis Kid Kaplan of Montreal won the bridge tournament here last night. Kaplan won every round and knocked Deimont down twice. They are featherweights.

Hoppe's Fine Exhibition. New York, Nov. 15.—While Hoppe gave one of his most impressive exhibitions with the cue and ivory globe while engaged in defeating Edward Florenmann, Belgian champion, last night in the international 182 ball billiard championship tournament. He outplayed the Belgian by 600 points to 170.

ROGERS. Roger Conti, champion of France, defeated Welker Cochran of the United States, 600 to 376 in the afternoon, in the second match of the international 182 ball line billiard tournament. Conti's average was 29.71 and his best runs were 141, 103, and 85. Cochran finished with an average of 22.2-17 and high runs of 109, 102, and 73.

BASKETBALL. East St. John Won. The East St. John basketball team defeated the Central Baptist team on the East St. John floor last night by the score of 18 to 7, these two teams played a series of three games and the East St. John boys have won two.

Man of War Still Leads. Man of War is still the greatest money winning race horse ever produced in America. Twice within the last fortnight, Extremist, W. S. Kilmer's fine old gelding, has had a chance to pass the record of $249,485 set by the son of Fair Play and once time the old fellow has failed. But Mr. Kilmer and thousands of other followers of Extremist have not lost their faith in him. Last Saturday when he lost the Flincoe Cup for the first time since it was put up in 1919 Extremist was unquestionably at a distinct disadvantage.

Even though he failed to run his customary race on Saturday he finished in the money, as he has in 78 of his 90 starts. He thus added another $1,000 to his $100,000 in prize money and now has the impressive sum of $224,216, or just $25,269 less than Man of War piled up.

On the other hand, it is a well known fact that Mr. Kilmer is ambitious to see his horse not only the greatest money winner on this side of the water, but also at the top of the list for the world. To bring this about "Old Sili" must pass besides Man of War, two English horses, Langlass and Donovan, in twelve races langlass won $29,275, so that Extremist must increase his present totals by more than $47,000 before he will become the greatest purse winner that ever faced a barrier.

Racing is an uncertain sport and therefore no one can be sure that the Kilmer champion will reach this ultimate goal, but one thing about the situation is certain, and that is that he will never fall for want of the money to try. The followers every where hope that Extremist will come again as a first place money winner, if not this season then next.

"Now It Can Be Told." (Toronto Globe). "I had had experience of war, and also of speech-making, and I prefer war," said Admiral William S. Sims at Montreal on Friday, and the world at large will see the point in the utterance of this blunt French Canadian.

"Now it can be told" might be applied to the sailor who is at last released from service in the United States navy, where he has stumbled over the restrictions of discipline for many years. His limit of service is now over, though the man whose first thought when his vessel touched shore was to find a tennis court and every drop of blood of your kindred across the seas." Again, in June, 1921, speaking in London, he criticized the Stan Peck syndicalists in the United States, which led to Secretary Denby reminding him of his previous remarks "constitute a flagrant and deliberate disregard of specific instructions."

It is a home-coming for Admiral Sims in one sense, for he was born at Port Hope. His father was a civil engineer from Pennsylvania who came to Canada in the '50's and worked in the construction of the Port Hope-Peterboro line of the present Grand Trunk system, and married a Port Hope girl. About 1885 the family came to Toronto for a year and a half, while the father was superintendent of the old Toronto & Nipissing Railway. They then went to Pennsylvania, and at the age of seventeen William entered the Naval College, and has been in the navy ever since until his retirement less than a month ago.

A birthday class was held last night by the Victoria Class of the Carmichael Street Methodist Church in the Sunday school room. Among those taking part in the entertainment were Rev. E. Z. Styles, Miss Katherine Williams, Miss Estella Earle, Miss Gladys Brindle, Walter Brindle, Miss Vera Roberts, Miss Olive Estabrook, Miss Gretchen Barton, Miss Myrtle Fox and Miss Gladys Styles. Refreshments were served.

The annual crusade of the Main Street Baptist Women's Missionary Society was held last night, with Miss Bessie Babbitt presiding. Miss Etta Estabrook assisted in the devotional exercises, and Mrs. H. K. Olmstead sang a solo. Rev. Dr. David Hutchinson gave a very interesting lecture on Canadian Baptist Foreign Missions, with about fifty lantern slides to illustrate. An offering of about $20 was taken.

MARY GARDEN BEAT GAME. Won 30,000 Francs and 60,000 Francs at Monte Carlo Tables. Chicago, Nov. 15.—Mary Garden has arrived in Chicago to resume her place as one of the stars of the Chicago Opera Company and forthwith told her friends of a wonderful "system" she has perfected whereby she did not "break the bank" at Monte Carlo, but did succeed in beating the game once to the tune of 80,000 francs. On another occasion she won 60,000 francs. Systems, she said, fascinated her. She saw the players, especially the French, always figuring out systems, other occasion she won 60,000 francs. "Of course, that story about my breaking the bank at Monte Carlo was all rot," she said. "Why do you know that they have a vault there in which they keep 250,000 francs ready to lose, if necessary. Oh, absurd, no one could break the bank. "But I broke tables. At each table they start with 50,000 francs, if some one wins that much they break the table, and then the man with the green peak goes upstairs for more money. Once I won 80,000 francs. Another time 60,000."

The Hiram Mission Circle of the Centenary Church were the guests last evening of Miss Laura Baxter, Lecturer street, for their regular monthly meeting. Among those taking part in the evening programme were Miss Mildred James, Mrs. H. A. Goodwin, Mrs. R. G. Fulton, Mrs. Robert Irving and Mrs. Arthur Amland. Refreshments and a social hour were much enjoyed.

OTHERS AFTER BARNARDO BOYS

Antipodes Threatens to Divert Them from Canada—Valuable Settlers.

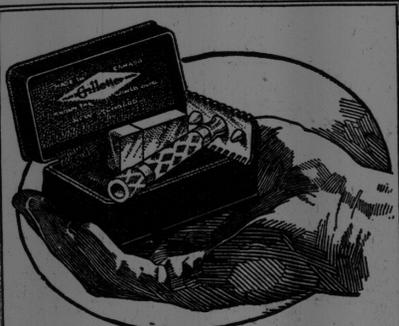

The majority of the children from the Barnardo Homes up to now, have been sent to Canada, but Australia and New Zealand are anxious to secure them, and there is a danger that Canada will lose this class of immigration if the people of the Dominion are not more appreciative, said Miss Edie Bentham in the course of an address on "Empire Builders" at the Empire Club luncheon held at the King Edward yesterday. She is traveling through Canada in the interests of the Barnardo Homes.

Miss Bentham reviewed the history of the Barnardo movement. "Canada," she said, "should take more than a passing interest in these homes as 27,000 of their splendidly trained boys and girls have settled in this country and represent one per cent. of our English born population. Eighty per cent. of them go on the farm after preliminary agricultural training in Great Britain. Miss Bentham quoted a Canadian Government immigration report to prove that there was less law breaking amongst them than amongst the Canadian born. They have been trained and aided both physically and spiritually in beautiful homes in the Old Country. Until they are twenty-one the Barnardo Homes maintain a protective interest and legal control over all their wards. Formerly they were contracted out to Canadian farmers, but this system led to great abuses. Now they are placed with Canadian foster parents who are paid to look after them. Over $800,000 was sent to Canada for this purpose last year.

Appeal for Support. Miss Bentham made a stirring appeal for greater financial support from Canada, and said the crowning glory of the Barnardo Homes lay in their assistance on the spiritual side of life. She read letters from Right Hon. Arthur Meighen and Premier Tupper of Quebec, commending the good work of the Barnardo Homes.

Sir William Hearst, president of the Empire Club, occupied the chair and there was a large attendance including a number of ladies who were invited in honor of the speaker. The guests at the head of the table were—Sir Wm. and Lady Hearst, His Lordship The Bishop of Toronto, Dr. and Mrs. Perry Doolittle, Mrs. Chas. Sutherland, Hamilton; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Somerville, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Coombs, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sutherland, Miss Constance Boulton, A. E. Gilverson, Dr. D. L. Goggin, H. Baldwin, K. J. Dunstan, W. J. Darby, F. J. Fetherstonhaugh, and J. B. Perry. On the resolution of Mr. Norman Somerville, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded Miss Bentham.

French Take to Bicycles.

A sudden revival of the French bicycle industry is reported by Consul William H. Hunt at St. Etienne. While no statistics are available, July seems to have been one of the best months in the manufacture of bicycles since the war. The renewal of interest is largely ascribed to the low prices at which these articles are being sold. There are about 5,000,000 bicycles in France, according to the best available statistics for 1921, but it is believed that the number will substantially exceed this mark in the current year. The increase in numbers, compared with 1920, is estimated at 837,583 and 1,289,267 over 1914. According to these figures, one person in eight is the owner of a bicycle in France.

TO RUN HOSPITAL LIKE A HOTEL

Syndicate of Doctors Buys Fifth Avenue Site and will Erect a $1,500,000 Private Hospital.

New York, Nov. 15.—As a site for a private hospital de luxe a syndicate of prominent New York physicians have purchased the southeast corner of 103d street and Fifth avenue. It is estimated that the structure will cost about $1,500,000. The plot on which it will be erected has a frontage of 100 feet in Fifth avenue and 175 feet on 103d street. It was held at $250,000, and sold by the Duane Realty Company, composed of August Heckscher, Arthur Brisbane, J. E. R. Carpenter, L. J. Horwitz and A. J. Smith, who acquired it in 1917 from several owners. The buying syndicate, which will incorporate under the name of the Physicians' Medical Hotel Company, proposes to erect an eight-story apartment structure of the hotel type, containing all the latest features and equipment of a private hospital of the highest order. Only pay patients will be admitted to the institution. According to Fesse & Ellman, who negotiated the sale of the property, construction work on the new building will begin at once.

PLAY PINOCCHLE FIVE DAYS.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Five days and five nights are claimed as the endurance record in long-distance pinocchle play by three Syracuse University card players.

Each started a card-playing endurance contest last Saturday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock, which continued night and day until yesterday afternoon. Frederick Orr, Harold Coles and Jerome Napoli claim to be the victors in the 120 hours of playing. The high score was 134,000 points against the next highest count of 112,000.

One man at a time from each team played for eight hours and then gave place to a team mate. The pinocchle marathons from the Hill declare that they are not satisfied with the record, however, and are going to stage another contest which they assert will last through the Christmas vacation period—seven days and seven nights.

Going to India. Fredericton Mail.—Col. Robert Innes of the Soldiers' Settlement Board, Ottawa, spent the week-end here with his half-brother, C. F. Bailey, superintendent of the Fredericton Experimental Station and left this morning for the Annapolis Valley, where he will visit his former home. Col. Innes will leave next month on a trip to India, sailing from Vancouver on the 14th. The object of his trip to the east is to confer with British officers who are retiring from the Indian army with a view to having them locate in the Dominion. Col. Innes is a son of the late Peter Innes, at one time manager of the Dominion Atlantic Railway.

"RIDES, REELS AND RUM" LISTED AS MENACE TO GIRLS

Vincent Pisarra, superintendent of officers of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, in a statement in New York said "rides, reels and rum" were the chief causes for the downfall of girls. While liquor always has played a part in demoralizing girls it has never been such a factor as at present, he believes.

Carloads every month! Eddy's Matches Maintain Their Popularity

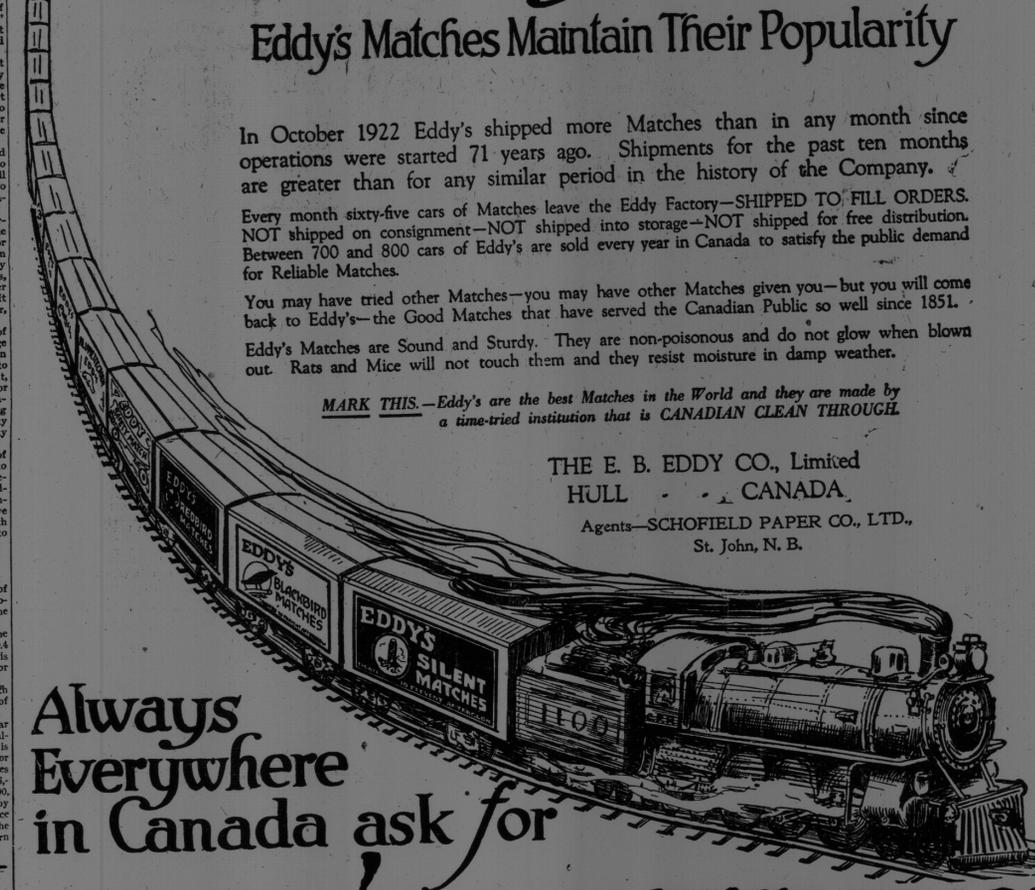

In October 1922 Eddy's shipped more Matches than in any month since operations were started 71 years ago. Shipments for the past ten months are greater than for any similar period in the history of the Company.

Every month sixty-five cars of Matches leave the Eddy Factory—SHIPPED TO FILL ORDERS. NOT shipped on consignment—NOT shipped into storage—NOT shipped for free distribution. Between 700 and 800 cars of Eddy's are sold every year in Canada to satisfy the public demand for Reliable Matches.

You may have tried other Matches—you may have other Matches given you—but you will come back to Eddy's—the Good Matches that have served the Canadian Public so well since 1851. Eddy's Matches are Sound and Sturdy. They are non-poisonous and do not glow when blown out. Rats and Mice will not touch them and they resist moisture in damp weather.

MARK THIS.—Eddy's are the best Matches in the World and they are made by a time-tried institution that is CANADIAN CLEAN THROUGH.

SAVING THE BABIES. According to the October report of Dr. C. J. O. Hastings, M. O. H., Toronto's death rate continues low. The report reads: "The general mortality rate for the first 10 months of the year was 10.4 per thousand people, a figure which is lower than any previously recorded for this period. The four chief causes of death were cancer, heart disease, hardening of the arteries and pneumonia. "Thus far, 817 deaths under one year have been registered. To get an equally low number in previous years, it is necessary to go back as far as 1916 or 1917, when the total number of babies born in Toronto numbered between 6,000 and 7,000, instead of around 14,000 as at present. In other words, a baby born today has rather more than twice as good a chance of living than he would have had if he had been born 15 years ago."
