Gainst Rescue But To Lose His Wife After All

Kept Her Afloat By Holding Hair In Teeth

INCIDENT OF LOSS OF MONROE

Mrs. Harrington Died After Being Rescued—Brave Wireless Operator Gave His Life For Woman Passenger—Inquiry To Be Held

(Canadian Press) New York, Jan. 31.—Six survivors of the disaster to the steamship Monroe reached here early today from Norfolk. Among them was Thomas Harrington, of Bridgeport, Conn., accompanying the body of his wife, who died after being taken aboard the rescue ship Nantucket.

Representatives of the Old Dominion Line met the survivors here, and aided them in every possible way. Harrington swam in the cold water supporting his wife by holding her hair in his teeth. "I am too weak to talk," he said. "All that I know is that my wife is dead."

Mr. Harrington is on his way to Norfolk, Conn., where his wife's parents reside. Forty-one lives lost. The final tragic summary written, showing that forty-one lives were lost, ninety-nine lives saved, as a result of yesterday's disaster at sea, interest here today centered up to the accident.

The versions of the officers of the steamer Nantucket, which crashed into and sank the liner Monroe, of the Old Dominion Line, and of survivors, have been told. It now remains for the federal government officials to determine the cause and other facts connected with the collision.

Officers of the Nantucket, which limped into port here yesterday with the rescued from the Monroe, finally last night checked up the list of victims and the rescued. The revised list showed that of the forty-one persons whose lives were lost, nineteen were passengers and twenty-two were members of the crew.

Of the ninety-nine persons saved, thirty-nine were passengers and sixty were members of the crew.

Preliminary steps for beginning a federal investigation were taken early today as the result of instructions from the department of commerce in Washington, to the local steamboat inspection service.

Robert Dapley, inspector of hulls, and Edward W. Brey, inspector of boilers here, will conduct the inquiry. Scope of the inquiry.

Assistant Secretary Sweet of the department of commerce yesterday ordered a sweeping inquiry. It will be directed along three lines, as follows:

Whether the masters at both vessels are very positive that precautions to prevent the tragedy, including the slow speed headway and continual use of fog horns, had been used.

Whether the terrible death rate among the passengers of the Monroe was due in any way to a lack of discipline among the wrecked ship's crew.

Whether the two vessels were in proper position prior to the collision.

The question of a possible panic on the part of the crew is one to which the federal authorities will direct their attention. Survivors, however, declare that little, if any, panic followed the collision.

All praise the crew for their excellent behavior. Some of the survivors, worn out by exposure and the hardships of restless nights on hospital cots, while others were on the way to their homes today. Some of them recounting their horrible experiences of yesterday, gave graphic descriptions of the collision and the events that followed. The Nantucket, which lay in her berth at the dock in a badly battered condition, was a solemn reminder of yesterday's sea tragedy. She was viewed by hundreds of the curious.

Newport News, Va., Jan. 31.—When the Old Dominion liner Monroe, which went down to the bottom of the sea yesterday after she had been rammed by the Nantucket of the Merchants and Marine line, was commissioned eleven years ago, it was found that she carried too much weight on her upper deck to be thoroughly seaworthy, and within six months after she was completed she returned to the local shipyards to have all the weight possible taken from her superstructure.

To that end, a large observation room was removed from her hurricane deck, several hatches were taken off the forecastle deck, her mainmast was removed, her smokestack shortened ten feet and her foremast cut down, leaving her with a single stack.

This relieved to some measure the unusual roll of the ship in a sea, but because of her great free board that roll could not be reduced to what is regarded as normal. However, she was considered perfectly seaworthy in every respect and had had but few accidents in her long service on the coast, and had weathered many a terrible gale.

ROGERS WIRES MAYOR OF PORT ARTHUR FOR AID

Grampian Passenger Says That City Is His Home

DETAINED TEMPORARILY

Immigration Officials Hold Him Until He Can Show That He is a Canadian Returning Home

Although the dominion immigration officials have received no request from the authorities on the other side of the Atlantic to hold up George Rogers, a third cabin passenger on the Allan Line Grampian, which arrived last night, Rogers has been detained here until he can procure evidence that he is a returning Canadian, as he says he is.

"We have been changing these conditions, re-organizing the whole system, separating into departments who know their jobs, and having their duties absolutely defined. Now there is somebody who can blame it on. We have, I think, accounted for that one important thing that we have men capable of looking after the different departments, each department reports to him, and the general superintendent knows what he is expected to do, and he knows that he is responsible for doing it."

"In making these changes," added Mr. Gutelius, "we have endeavored to rob the big railroads of their best men, and I think I may say we have partly succeeded."

Has Plan to Raise Titanic

Denver Architect Would Use Submarine and Powerful Magnets—Hopes to Recover Bodies and Re-fit Steamship

(Canadian Press) New York, Jan. 31.—A despatch from Denver to the Tribune, says: To raise the Titanic, recover the bodies from its hold, and again fit the ship for sea, is a scheme which Charles Smith, a Denver architect, hopes to carry out this year. For several months Smith has been drawing plans of submarine boats, scoops and other apparatus to be used in raising the Titanic. His scheme is first to locate the ship. He then intends to lower a submarine, carrying seven persons, by means of a steel cable. The submarine would be attached to a ship on the surface, and communication would be had by means of a telephone and electric signal bells. The submarine would be operated by electricity, furnished through cables

STRUCK DEAD IN MONTREAL STREET

Boy Had Found Tin Box; It Exploded

COMPANION HURT

Tried to Pry it Open With Knife and Fell Dead—Strange Case Has Baffled The Police of The Canadian Metropolis

(Canadian Press) Montreal, Jan. 31.—One boy was killed instantly and another seriously injured last evening, when a small tin box, which they had found in the street, exploded and burst. Denville Gilbert, aged thirteen, son of Napoleon Gilbert of 810 Mazarin street, who had the box in his hands, was struck dead when it exploded, while twelve-year-old Dauboise Diviere, a companion who lived next door, had his right arm badly burned.

The police are baffled in their attempts to ascertain what were the contents of the box and how it came to be left in the street. The Diviere boy told them that, playing in the street yesterday afternoon near his home, young Gilbert and himself found a tin box tightly sealed. It was very small and there was apparently no cover. For some time they played with it, speculating as to its contents, and then Gilbert tried to pry it open with a knife. There was a terrific explosion and, staggering back with his right arm badly scorched, Diviere saw his little companion stagger and, without a word, fall to the ground dead.

MAY FORCE BRITAIN'S HAND

London Paper Commends President Wilson's Course but Says Financial Chaos Threatening Means Wait May Be Too Long

(Canadian Press) London, Jan. 31.—The Saturday Review in a moderately worded survey of the United States and Mexico, comes to the conclusion that President Wilson's policy threatens to force Great Britain to take some action, the form of which, however, it does not indicate.

The paper defends President Wilson's delay in taking vigorous action in regard to Mexico. It declares that he has acted in accordance with the traditions of America and of his party in refusing to recognize President Huerta but not recognizing President Huerta's policy, nevertheless, that Great Britain and the other European nations acted soundly in recognizing the present government of Mexico, because it seemed that he would be able to enforce financial and industrial order."

Hamburg-Americans In For a Hard Battle

THE WAR ON THE ATLANTIC

British and Continental Steamship Companies Join Forces Against Common Enemy—Southampton and Queenstown Figure Prominently in the Struggle

(Canadian Press) New York, Jan. 31.—A cable to the Tribune from London says: From the way in which events shaped themselves at yesterday's shipping conference in Liverpool, it would appear that the Hamburg-American line will now find ranged against it practically the whole of the other British and European shipping interests concerned in the Atlantic passenger trade, whose resources are now thrown together for the purpose of fighting the common enemy.

The combative Hamburg-American Line would doubtless be prepared for opposition in its attempt to capture a greater slice of American trade, but the welding together of the British and continental forces, in which today's conference resulted, means that its hopes of success in the struggle are rendered extremely remote.

Southampton and Queenstown have figured prominently in the struggle regarding the Boston service of the Hamburg-American Line, which culminated yesterday in the announcement that the German company had decided to revert to the Hampshire town as its British port of call.

Some time ago, when large type ships declined to embark passengers at Queenstown the rumor got abroad that the Hamburg company had decided to make use of the Irish port and the subsequent confirmation of the story was regarded as a vindication of the port's position in Atlantic trade.

EFFICIENCY IN THE HOME

Is the American housewife facing a great revolution? Is the efficiency idea, which has already revolutionized many industrial plants, now going to attack that last stronghold of tradition—the American Home?

Signs point that way. The idea of motion study, standardized conditions of work, scientific management of servants, had simply to be announced to strike a responsive chord among intelligent home-makers. Efficiency is in the air, and has permeated to the kitchen no less than to the counting-room, and to general home-making—even to woman herself.

No one disputes that the home is the last of great industries remaining un-organized. Every other great division of the work of the world has become more or less emancipated from personal drudgery, from the ancient apprentice system from unstandardized work and pay.

For this reason those who formerly gladly entered the ranks of household workers have been attracted to many other professions. According to figures compiled by the Business Bureau, families employing servants number only 8 per cent of the population, which means that the average American woman does the bulk of her own house- work.—From "Putting the American Woman and Her Home on a Business Basis," by Christine Frederick, in the American Review of Reviews for Feb- ruary.

TEMPERANCE GAINS

Summing up the situation in regard to the liquor traffic a Toronto prohibi- tion paper says:—

"The roll of prohibition states now practically includes Maine, Kansas, North Dakota, Georgia, North Carolina, West Virginia, Mississippi, Tennessee, Oklahoma and Arkansas. Ohio has just wiped out 8,000 bar-rooms by a new liquor law. Illinois won twenty-three victories last November out of twenty-eight contests. From across the ocean comes news of prohibition victories in Norway, where large towns are voting out the old Gothenberg system. The British parliament has passed a law keeping every public house in Scotland closed until ten o'clock on every morn- ing and giving the people local option power. France is considering a sweep- ing measure of liquor restriction. In Australia and New Zealand gains are being made. Canada leads the van. The province of Prince Edward Island has no license. In Nova Scotia there is no lawful liquor selling outside the city of Halifax. There are only 187 licenses left in the whole of New Brunswick. Struc- ture prohibition in 859 parishes. Half of Manitoba is dry. Saskatchewan has started a banish-the-bar campaign. In Ontario 619 municipalities have already lined up on the side of prohibition."

Cause of Inefficiency in Housework
 By watching myself any others at work I have been able to group the causes of 80 per cent of the inefficiency of modern housework:

- 1—The worker does not have all the needed tools or utensils at hand before her when she begins to work; therefore,
- 2—She wastes time and effort walk- ing to, hunting for, or fetching ingredi- ents, tools, or materials she neglected to have at hand when she began the task.
- 3—She stops in the middle of one task to do something else quite unrelated.
- 4—She lowers the efficiency of good work by losing time putting tools or work away, generally due to poor man- agement of kitchen, pantry and closets.
- 5—She uses a poor tool, or a wrong

IN MISERY AT MEAL TIME

Indigestion Can Be Cured by the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

If your digestion is weak you can- not derive proper nourishment from your food. The pain and distress you suf- fer is a protest from your stomach that it is unable to do its work. It is then that you lose all appetite, have dull head- aches, acute pains in the chest and ab- domen, heartburn and other distressing symptoms.

You cannot cure indigestion by the use of laxatives, and pre-digested foods only make the stomach more sluggish. Indigestion can only be cured by giving tone to and strengthening the nerves that control the stomach. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured indigestion times with- out number, because they purify and en- rich the blood. In this way they im- prove the appetite, dispel the torments of indigestion and enable you to derive benefit from the food you take. The following is proof of these statements:—

"I have been suffering from indigestion for several years. I had taken three boxes of the Pills until I had taken eight boxes, when the trouble had disappeared, and I have to thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for restoring my health after I had practically given up hope of ever being well again."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

6—She loses time because she does not keep sufficient supplies on hand, and because she does not keep her tools and utensils in good condition.

"Eat More Bread"

Of course you should "eat more bread"—and less meat—but be sure your "bread" contains all the body-building material in the whole wheat prepared in digestible form. The only "bread" that fulfils all these requirements is

It is made in Canada of Canadian whole wheat steam-cooked, shredded and baked. It is a natural, elemental food and is not treated or compounded with anything. Its purity, cleanliness and food value stand unchallenged, being endorsed by the highest health and dietetic authorities in Canada and the United States.

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with hot milk or cream will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work. Try Toasted Triscuit, the Shredded Wheat wafer, for luncheon, with butter, cheese or marmalade.

A WONDERFUL REMEDY

Orange Lily is daily curing the most obstinate cases of Female Dis- orders. Failing of the Womb, Leu- corrhoea, Painful and Suppressed Menstruation, etc., etc., are all of them relieved from the start by its use. And a few weeks' or months' treatment accomplishes a complete cure. This remedy is a positive scientific preparation and is based on the discoveries of Pasteur and Lister. It is a purified treatment that is, it is not taken internally, but is applied directly to the suffering parts, and it therefore, acts with all the certainty of the known laws of chemical action. As it comes in direct contact with the diseased tissue, its antiseptic and nerve-food properties cannot help have a beneficial influence. I receive from 25 to 50 letters daily, speaking of the benefits and cures it is performing, and so sure am I that it will do what is claimed for it that I will send, absolutely free, a 50c box to every suffer- ing woman who will write for it. Price $1 per box, which is sufficient for one month's treatment. Address: MRS. FRANCES E. CURRAN, WINDSOR, ONT.

RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. Mary Nugent
Yesterday, at her home, 106 Marsh road, the death of Mrs. Mary Nugent, wife of Patrick Nugent, in the employ of the I. C. R. took place. Besides her husband, Mrs. Nugent leaves two sons and one daughter and one sister to mourn. The sons are Frank E., clerk with the C. P. R.; John E., barber, in business at 298 Brussels street. The daughter is Miss Annie L. The sister is Isabelle Colgan of the Mater Misericordiae Home.

Jacob E. Chase, of Union Corner, Carleton County, died last Saturday morning, aged 89 years. Deceased is survived by a widow, formerly Rebecca Barton of the Range, Grand Lake, Queens Co., and one brother, George A. Chase of Woodstock. George Chase, of Upper Gagetown, is a nephew and an aunt, Mrs. W. A. Troop, resides in St. John.

The death of Edward B. Winslow, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Winslow, occurred at the home of his parents in Woodstock on Thursday morning. Deceased was in his twenty-first year and had been ill for some months with tuberculosis. He was a brilliant scholar, and graduated from High School at the head of his class. Soon after leaving school he entered the employ of the Carleton Place, where he served his apprenticeship as a printer. In the winter of 1911 he secured a situation as foreman of the McDowell Times, at Keystown, Ala., which position he held until a few months ago, when he was forced by illness to resign.

At the time of the great floods in Ohio, "Ted" was one of the first to enter the stricken city of Dayton, and it was there, in his efforts to assist in relieving the sufferings of the homeless, that he contracted the heavy cold which resulted in his early death. Beside his

AUSTRALIAN BOYS' FARMS.

How Lads Are Efficiently Schooled for Farm Work.

The authorities in several Australian States have established training and experimental farms, where youths may obtain both practical and technical instruction in agricultural pursuits.

Many young men in New South Wales today are indebted to what is known as the Drednought Training Farm in that state for having given them a start in life with a sound training. The boys are town boys—many of them were sent out by the Central (unemployed) Body for London—and get a three months training free, in milking, ploughing, fencing, clearing, bush, carpentry, smithy work, orchards, poultry, pigs, sheep, and horses. They are then given £2 bonus, if of good conduct, and found work.

The milk yield of the ninety cows is reduced by 50 per cent. by so many amateurs practicing on the animals and the value of the boys' labor hardly equals the cost of putting a man in charge of each section. Probably it would pay better, in one sense, to let the man do the work direct. The boys have an easier time than they would have on most farms. Saturday morning is devoted to riding and rifle practice, and cricket is played in the afternoons. They have the same food as the overseers, while the bathing, sleeping and recreation accommodation is excellent.

Wedding at Jewett's Mills

How to Beautify a Weatherbeaten Face

(From Beauty and Health.)

It's really a simple matter to renovate a face soiled by dirt, wind or cold. Ordinary mercurized wax, used like cold cream, will transform the worst old complexion into one of snowy whiteness and velvety softness. It literally peels off the outer veil of surface skin, but so gently, gradually, there's no discomfort, no worn-out skin comes off in patches, but evenly, in tiny particles, leaving no evidence of the treatment. The younger, healthier under-skin forming the complexion is one of captivating loveliness. One ounce of mercurized wax, to be had at any drug store, is enough to remove any coarse, chapped, pimpled, freckled, faded or sallow skin. Apply before retiring, washing it off in mornings.

Many skins wrinkle easily with every wind that blows, with heat, worry, etc. An excellent wrinkle-remover, because it tightens the skin and strengthens relaxed muscles, is a wash lotion made as follows: Powdered saxatile, 1 oz., dissolved in witch-hazel, one-half pint. This gives immediate results.

Consult Us About Your Eyes

If your eyes are imperfect, the sooner you know of the fact the better. You will then be able to take proper measures for the preservation of your sight. You may be able to see fairly well now, but it is important that you should be able to see equally well, say, one or two years hence.

If you wish to ensure future good vision, it is necessary to care for your eyes now to alleviate present difficulties, and to remove injurious strain which may exist.

The real danger lies in the fact that the eyes may deteriorate so gradually that you may never notice anything amiss until the seeing powers are seriously affected.

CAPACITY HOUSE FOR SOCIETY NIGHT AT OPERA HOUSE

The second performance of "When We Were Twenty-One," in the Opera House last evening under the auspices of the I. L. and B. Society, was even more successful than the first, and was enjoyed distinctly by a capacity audience. It was "Society Night," and the response to the invitation sent out by the members was answered by the presence of large numbers of the Knights of Columbus, the Father Mathew Association and L. Assomption Society who occupied special sections reserved for each body. The house was nicely decorated.

Too much credit cannot be given to John McKinley for the able manner in which the piece was staged and produced. He worked tirelessly for the success of the drama and that it was achieved is evident from the high class of the performance. In addition he played a role in the play with commendable ability. J. A. Kelly also deserves more than passing mention for his cleverness with the musical director's wand, for the specialties were bright and particularly attractive. All told, "When We Were Twenty-One" will long be remembered as one of the most delightful amateur successes in recent years in St. John. It closes with a matinee today and the last performance tonight.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE BOYS

St. John, Jan. 31, 1914.

To the Editor of the Times:— I see Sir—In today's "Telegraph" I see that three boys have been sent to the Boys' Industrial Home out of the six arrested. I would like to be permitted to ask the question: Had these boys no parents, six fathers and six mothers. Boys generally with fathers dead, I believe, are in the minority, in the Boys' Industrial Home.

I quote the two following cases to show where some of the boys learn their ways. About two months ago a citizen accosted me with the remark, "Do you see that woman with the baby carriage? Well I saw her take a pair of chickens and put them on the carriage." This occurred in the market, but the citizen did not notice the boy beside her, about ten years old, and the baby in the carriage. When the large point boy stole a sled, a new one, and the father painted it over another color.

It is said that in England the parent is brought to court and made to chastise the child there for there they recognise the parent responsible for the child. In Buffalo at some convention which was held in the city, the conclusion was that the parents ought to be punished and not the child. I am not aware that any few boys have been up in court. They are far too busy getting themselves educated and their parents looking after them. Thanking you for space in your valuable paper, I remain

Yours truly,
CITIZEN.

A NEW TYPE OF CITY OFFICIAL

The phase of municipal affairs that has chiefly absorbed the attention of the press and citizens of New York during the last few weeks has been the appointment, by Mayor Mitchell, of the heads of administrative departments. One of Mr. Mitchell's first announcements was his selection of Henry Bruere for the post of city chamberlain. The legal duties of the chamberlain relate to the deposit of city moneys in banks, and to other fiscal matters such as the management of sinking funds.

This office has been in times past largely an honorary one, and it has been customary for the mayor to assign it to some friend of his who also had high standing as a citizen. Mayor Mitchell however, proposes to give the office an entirely new character. His functions are to be active and energetic, rather than merely fiduciary and passive. They are to take the whole of the incumbent's time, whereas heretofore the chamberlain has not been accustomed to serve constantly in his office, like other members of the administration.

Mr. Bruere has for a number of years been one of the directors of the New York Bureau of Municipal Research. It is within bounds to say that in many respects he is better informed than any other man regarding the affairs of New York City, whether from the large point of view or from that of practical and technical details.

The city of New York is now spending approximately $200,000,000 a year. Mr. Bruere's efficient work in the bureau, in association with several other men, has recently caused the city of New York several million dollars a year. He has become one of the foremost experts in America in all matters having to do with putting efficiency into public work. He has investigated department after department, in New York City always co-operating with officials wherever possible, helping to introduce improved and standardized systems of accounting, and proper methods in the purchase of supplies, the employment of labor, and the checking up of results.

It is highly to the credit of Mayor Mitchell that he has for many years thoroughly appreciated Mr. Bruere's remarkable ability and fine spirit, and has availed himself of the assistance of the Bureau of Municipal Research, which is under the chairmanship of a great citizen of New York, Robert Fulton Cutting. Mr. Bruere's presence in the Mitchell administration means just one thing—namely, a determination to give the city the best and most efficient organization that can be brought about through zeal and intelligence.—From "New York City's Government by Experts" in the American Review of Reviews for February.

Mark Twain Story.
This story of Mark Twain is recalled. When the humorist was living in Hartford, where Dr. Doane (now Bishop of Albany) was rector of an Episcopal church, he went to hear one of the clergyman's best sermons. After it was over Mark Twain approached the doctor and said politely, "I have enjoyed your sermon this morning. I welcome it as I would an old friend. I have a book at home in my library that contains every word of it."

"Why, that can't be, Mr. Clemens," replied the rector, with dignity.

"All right," replied Mark Twain, "you shall have it," and the next morning Doctor Doane received from Mark Twain's compliments a dictionary.

THE MOVEMENT SPREADS

Tax reform is the subject of a very interesting article in this week's issue of the Maritime Merchant. Referring to the assessment system in Halifax, it is declared that under the present system it is "absolutely impossible to arrive at anything like an equitable distribution of the burdens of conducting municipal affairs; the system is too complicated to begin with and the wild guesses at property values only make matters worse."

Discussing the remedy the Merchant points out that the only tax cannot pass on to others is the tax paid on land. The man who rents out houses can unload the taxation on the tenants, and the merchants can unload on the consumer what he pays on his store and merchandise. It is pointed out also that the simpler the elements of taxation the better, and that it is quite impossible to get a fair estimate of the value of personal property in houses or merchandise in stores.

A new system is now proposed for Halifax which would gradually eliminate the tax on buildings and personally. This, from the standpoint of the storekeeper and manufacturer, the Merchant thinks should be satisfactory. It adds: "A community is well advised in eliminating taxes on improvements and personal property to whatever extent it can, for the more it does so the more direct does its taxation become, and the more clearly it is apparent just what an individual pays. But more than that, improvements are encouraged when they are not taxed. Whenever a town is convinced that it has too many dogs it taxes them, and the dogs disappear, or at least do not increase in number. Without just that intent we tax improvements, and we get corresponding results. On the other more than that, it is on the land, improvements by building and otherwise come rapidly, this is according to experience. And business and industry are encouraged when enterprise is not fined."

There are, however, two elements in the proposed Halifax scheme to which the Merchant takes objection, and there will doubtless be general agreement on the part of thoughtful readers that the objection is well taken. It is proposed to have a poll tax and an income tax. There is no good reason for the poll tax, while the income tax, as the Merchant observes, is said to be productive of perjury; and in any case such a tax in actual experience favors the rich against the poor.

It is very gratifying to learn that throughout Nova Scotia, as well as New Brunswick, this question of getting a better system of taxation is arousing more general interest, and that we seem to be within measurable distance of at least the adoption of the principle of home rule in taxation, enabling committees like St. John and Halifax to make such gradual changes in their system of taxation as will make it more equitable, and produce better results in point of revenue without increasing the burden on any individual who is now taxed enough.

POTATO DISEASES
The anxiety of the potato growers of Maine to prevent the introduction of potato diseases by the importation into the United States of potatoes from Canada had a good deal of humming about it. That there are diseases in the potatoes raised in Maine was plainly declared at a two days' meeting of Maine potato growers held in Bangor this week, by Dr. N. T. Cook, plant pathologist of the New Jersey experimental station. Dr. Cook bluntly told the Maine men that he was not there to compliment them on their great potato growing industry, but to tell them something about the diseased potatoes they ship to New Jersey. The latter state has gone into potato growing within the last few years, and Dr. Cook estimates that from thirty to fifty per cent of the loss each year is due to diseased seed. Last spring there were more complaints about Maine potatoes than ever before.

"The first complaints," said Dr. Cook, "were concerning a peculiar bacterial rotting. The complaints were made because of the large number of rotten tubers, which were mushy and had become smeared over the sound tubers."

ready some of the New Jersey growers who had previously bought their seed in Maine are ordering from New York state. In conclusion he said: "Is it not time for some concerted action for the improvement of our seed potatoes? Cannot something be done which will guarantee seed potatoes reasonably free from disease? It is very evident that inspection of seed at the time of shipment will not eliminate all of the diseases. But cannot something be done in Maine and other northern states which grow potatoes for seed, by which the purity and freedom from disease will be more certain than at present? Plans for such a movement are under consideration and I suppose they will be taken up by other speakers at this meeting and therefore I will not discuss them at this time. However, I am convinced that such a movement will result in an improvement of the industry in the states to the south and will thereby increase your market for seed potatoes."

The cancellation of the suburban train shows that St. John and Kings county need more vigorous representation at Ottawa.

A report from Ottawa says there appears to be a deficit this year of about thirteen million dollars. If this should prove correct, it will also prove that the country is saddled with a spendthrift government.

If the assurance that is now given that the work on the new wharves will be rushed to completion this year should prove to be well founded, it will mean great activity on the west side and the employment of large numbers of men.

If the charges made by Messrs. Nichols and Macnab against the members of the Quebec legislature are proven, there will be some vigorous housecleaning at the Quebec capital. Sir Lomer Gouin is affording every facility to bring out the evidence.

Hon. Frank Cochrane says the Intercolonial Railway should be run as other railways are run. Would any other railway make such an agreement as that made by Mr. Gutelius with the C. P. R. to haul freight at minimum rates between St. John and Halifax?

The bishop of London has proved that the militant suffragettes have been making false statements regarding the treatment of some of their comrades who are in prison. The suffragette movement has spent its force and will be hereafter a waning influence.

The government of South Africa has not only deported some of the leaders in the recent great strike, but vigorously defends its course in parliament, where the labor members are endeavoring to make political capital out of the incident. The struggle there is watched with deep interest in other countries.

The opposition made an effort in parliament yesterday to get from Mr. Hazen some information about the Borden naval policy. Of course Mr. Hazen was unable to supply the information. He could not even say what the government's attitude would be toward the Lesperance bill for the repeal of the naval service act.

A good many citizens appear to have a wrong impression about the effect of the proposed new paving law. What it proposes is that the man who receives the most benefit by an increase in the value of his property fronting on a well paved street shall pay a larger proportion of the cost than the citizen whose benefit is very much less.

It is an interesting fact that those political gladiators of Ontario, Sir George Ross and Sir James Whitney, who fought each other so vigorously for many years, are now patients in the same hospital. We can readily imagine that each of them from day to day will be as glad to learn of the other's improvement in health as if there had never been a political disagreement between them.

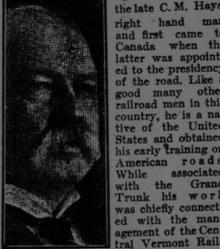

The Labor Legislation Association says that unemployment in Canada and the United States at present is extremely acute, and it proposes to ask the governments of both countries to take action to relieve the situation. The unemployed in Toronto have already suggested to Mr. Borden that a portion of that thirty-five million dollars, which he had set apart to assist British shipbuilding companies, should be utilized to provide work for men in Canada.

While grave citizens sit in cushioned pews or other comfortable seats and listen to solemn addresses on the evils that threaten our social life, and perhaps flatter themselves that they are contributing something to the sum of human welfare, the boys and girls are running about the streets forming their own opinions about these grave citizens, and also forming habits for which the influences of the street are peculiarly adapted. If each of the grave citizens would interest himself or herself in some one boy or girl, or group of boys and girls, the effect would be much more noticeable than any amount of fervid oratory or profound discussion.

BIRTHDAYS OF NOTABILITIES

SATURDAY, JANUARY 31.
This is the fifty-ninth birthday of the Hon. George E. Faulkner, of Halifax, former speaker of the Nova Scotia legislature and now a member of the government without portfolio. A man of great tenacity of purpose and thoroughgoing courage in standing by his convictions, his strength was never better illustrated than when the agitation for the municipalization of the Halifax Electric Tramway was at its height. The Tramway Company applied for power to increase their capital and Mr. Faulkner introduced a bill for that purpose. He was at once hailed as a traitor to his constituents. A public meeting was called by the mayor to condemn the action of the government. Instead of staying away as a less courageous man might have done, Mr. Faulkner appeared on the scene and took a seat on the platform. He was afforded an opportunity to dictate himself, doing it so effectively that he was given an ovation and the mountain which had been reared out of a molehill, was completely dissolved.

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 1.
E. H. Fitzhugh, former vice-president of the Grand Trunk Railway system, is sixty-one years of age today. He was the late C. M. Hays' right hand man and first came to Canada when the latter was appointed to the presidency of the road. Like a good many other railroad men in this country, he is a native of the United States and obtained his early training on American roads.

While associated with the Grand Trunk his work was chiefly connected with the management of the Central Vermont road, the New England subsidiary line of the Canadian system, and he it was that led in the fight against the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railway for entrance into Providence.

The Fisherman at Home
Dear father took a fishing trip, He has rheumatic pain And various symptoms of the grip, He never once complains, For life at present seems to hold All joy that he could wish, He doesn't mind a little cold, He nearly caught a fish.

He tells about it w' him we stand And stare with wondering eyes, It nearly chewed off father's hand, So fearful was its bite. It winked at him and tried to sing And waded a fin in play, It did a horripole and a fling, And then it swam away.

In museums I have stood around And viewed the monsters o'er, Which in the ages past were found Displaying near the shore. These curious creatures are for me, With scant importance fraught; But oh the fish I long to see, That father nearly caught.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRE

Patrick Gallagher, formerly proprietor of the Minto Hotel, Moncton, was painfully burned yesterday by a gas explosion in his furnace when he was lighting the gas there.

It was decided yesterday on motion of Premier Gouin of the Quebec legislature to grant a safe conduct to the Burns detectives from New York who are to come to Canada to testify in the investigation of the charges made against some of the house members by Messrs. Nichols and McNab, editors of the Montreal Mail.

The Bishop of London, Eng., yesterday paid a visit to the Holloway jail, accompanied by other clergymen and, after inquiring from some of the suffragette prisoners confined there, said there was no truth in the reports that they were subjected to "excruciating tortures" as had been said by women speakers at suffrage meetings.

NAVAL POLICY STILL A DARK SECRET

Information Refused—Redistribution Bill Next Week—Will Run I. C. R. Like Company Roads

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—It is said that the redistribution bill will be brought down at an early date.

When asked in the house today Premier Borden could not say as to who would be the next Canadian high commissioner in London, but he intimated that the present salary of $10,000 a year would be increased so that the appointee could keep up appearances without being a millionaire.

W. F. Campbell, C. Breston, quoted from the Sydney Record saying that the tug "Alert" chartered by the government had been used to convey the Tory organizer and Tory candidate Philip McLeod, to points in Victoria where an election is pending, and he charges that there had been a quantity of liquor on board.

Mr. Hughes of P. E. Island complained that there was a vast increase in rates for freight on the Island railway.

Hon. Frank Oliver again asked what the policy of the government with regard to the navy would be.

To the question, the minister of marine replied that the question was improper, inasmuch as Mr. Borden had already declared that before a permanent naval policy had been embarked on, the navy would be advised and the people given a chance to record their decision.

PAVING LAW APPROVED BY BOARD OF TRADE

Report of Sub-Committee on the Subject—To Be Discussed by Full Board

Strong approbation of the principle of Commissioner Agar's paving act was expressed in the following report of a special board of trade civic committee which was submitted yesterday to the council of the board:

"On enquiry it is found that not only is the principle of assessing abutting property owners for a portion of the cost of permanent street paving, generally adopted by all the leading cities of Canada and the United States, but also that the proportion assessed against abutting property owners is usually much larger than that provided for in the proposed act for this city, and it further appears that it is customary to make such assessment against local property owners, whether the improvement is initiated by them or by the city authorities.

"The principle that where there is local benefit, there should be local assessment, is so manifestly fair, that there can scarcely be any objection to it. There is liable, however, to be a wide difference of opinion as to the proportion of local and general benefit derived from any particular improvement that may be proposed, and it seems desirable, therefore, that some rule should be established by law to determine what portion of the cost of any improvement undertaken by the city shall be assessed against local property owners, and the city at large.

"The only other alternative would be the reference of each case to a permanent arbitration board, which would not only be very costly but would also cause considerable delay in the undertaking of needed improvements.

"While, however, the committee is of the opinion that such a law as that proposed is correct in principle, and necessary in the interest of the community, they feel that it should not receive the endorsement of the board of trade until an opportunity has been afforded for discussion of its details by a full meeting of the board. It is, therefore, recommended that the matter be taken up at the principal subject for discussion at the February meeting of the board, to be held on Monday, Feb. 2.

LETTER SAYS THAT MILLIONAIRE IS HELD FOR RANSOM

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 31.—According to an anonymous letter received by a morning paper, Francis Lewis Clark, a Spokane millionaire, is being held for ransom of $75,000 by "blackmailers" in or near this city. Clark disappeared from Santa Barbara on January 17, after seeing his wife off on a train, and was thought to have committed suicide by throwing himself into the ocean.

JOINT AND MUSCLE PAINS BANISHED BY NERVILINE

IT CURES RHEUMATISM. Thousands of people, chuck full of the joy of living—happy, glad, bright people, that Nerviline has cured of their pains, all tell the same wonderful story of its power to drive out the aches and tortures of rheumatism and kindred ills.

"My goodness, but Nerviline is a miracle-worker," writes Mrs. Charlotte Chipman, mother of a well-known family residing at Mount Pleasant. "Last month I was so crippled up with sciatica and muscular rheumatism as to be almost unable to do a bit of housework. My joints were so stiff and the muscles got busy with this wonderful good old liniment. Lots of rubbing with Nerviline soon relieved my misery and I was in a real short time about my work as usual."

No matter where the ache is, no matter how distressing the pain you can rub it away with Nerviline. For forty years it has been curing lumbago, sciatica, back-ache, colds, chest trouble and all sorts of winter ills. Keep a large family size bottle handy and you'll be saved lots of trouble and have smaller doctor bills. Small trial size 25c. at dealers everywhere.

MORE WRATHY MESSAGES SENT People Do Not Want Suburban I. C. R. Service Altered

Ever since the I. C. R. began running trains out of St. John suburbs had the privilege of a noon-day train. It troubles them that Manager Giddeley has decided that the service is to be limited to a morning and evening train, for the people living along the line can come on the trains. If the trains are altered and return late in the evening under the changed schedule becoming operative tomorrow.

More wrathy messages have been sent to Moncton and Ottawa. It is argued that the noon suburban train should be a convenience and as such evidence of their popularity is shown daily in the large number of patrons. Many city people have built cottages along the line and each year sees a much greater number residing in the suburbs and consequently an increase in the number of passengers on the trains. If the trains are altered it will be one of the most unpopular acts yet, even under the Giddeley management.

James, chief clerk in the divisional freight office will succeed to the position of traveling freight agent. A conference relative to traffic matters was held this morning in the office of L. R. Ross, terminal agent. C. A. Hayes, general traffic manager, Mr. Tiffin and Mr. Gray were present.

CITY WILL BE REPRESENTED The All-British Exhibition in London "MADE IN ST JOHN" EXHIBIT Board of Trade Approves of Participation in Imperial Exposition in Crystal Palace, London, in 1915

Plans for one of the finest advertisements which the city of St. John has ever had being considered by a committee of the board of trade. This is a project for the organization of a made-in-St. John exhibit and a demonstration of the advantages of the port of St. John for the All-British Exhibition, which is to be held in the Crystal Palace, London, in 1915. The idea was presented to the council of the Board of Trade last month by W. C. Allison, who received from the representative of the Imperial Life Assurance Co. a letter drawing his attention to the proposed exhibition and a copy of a newspaper containing a report of the organization meeting. The proposal was favorably received by the council, and was referred to a committee consisting of Allan H. Wetmore and Frank McL. Clements for further consideration. The committee has reported in favor of the project, and at the meeting of the council of the board held yesterday they were authorized to select a committee to continue the work. As it had been suggested that the exhibit should take such a form as would enable it to be used after the close of the exhibition in the various similar displays which can be shipped to the city only in the early morning and return late in the evening under the changed schedule becoming operative tomorrow.

The suggestion originated with some of the members and was heartily endorsed by the various chambers of commerce throughout Great Britain. A committee was formed and the late Lord Strathcona was chosen as chairman assisted greatly in the preliminary arrangements, not only by his advice, but also financially. At a meeting held in the Marlborough House, London, at which the Lord Mayor presided on December 18, a distinguished gathering pledged their support to the scheme and decided to go ahead with the plans on the scale suggested.

With this explanation the report of the Board of Trade committee will speak for itself. The committee will be on the council of the board to Mr. Wetmore and the latter's reply are as follows: Saint John, N. B., January 16, 1914. Mr. A. H. Wetmore, Care Puddington, Wetmore & Morrissey, St. John, N. B.

Dear Sir:—At a meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade held yesterday, attention was called to the All-British Exhibition to be held at the Crystal Palace, London, in 1915. The suggestion was made that the city of St. John might take space, and if some of the manufacturers could be induced to exhibit at this exhibition it would bring the best of the industries prominently before visitors from all over the world. The matter was referred to you and Mr. Clements as chairman of the Industrial and Extension Departments respectively with the request that you look into the feasibility of taking space at this exhibition and preparing a "made in St. John exhibit," which could be moved from place to place as exhibitions were held on occasion of the fair.

The information required would include cost of transporting such an exhibit to the Old Country. If you will kindly get together on this proposition, and report your ideas to the next meeting of the Council, it will be appreciated.

Yours truly, HENRY T. HOAG, MOM.H.D. Mr. J. M. Robinson, Jan. 30, '14. President of the Board of Trade.

Dear Sir:—The "Made in St. John" exhibit, which was referred to Mr. Clements and myself, it brings up two particular lines, one, the preparation of an exhibit that might be transported from place to place in the Dominion as occasion or opportunity offered. The other, that of an exhibit in the Imperial exhibition to be held in the Crystal Palace, London, Eng., in 1915.

We do think it is feasible to take the two matters up in connection with each other, while some of the individuals would probably be exhibitors in the Dominion, the exhibit as a whole would not be satisfactory for both purposes, though after consulting a number of the manufacturers of the city, we believe that both schemes would be carried out and might be carried out to advantage.

The more we look into the "All-British" exhibition in London, the more we feel that it should be taken advantage of as a means of bringing the best of the world. The Colonial space there is to be allotted to the different governments, therefore we thought it desirable to get in touch with Premier Fleming to ascertain whether it was the intention to make a provincial exhibit and incidentally to express our belief that we thought the province should bear all expense of transportation of any exhibit that might be sent from here. He had not heard of the exhibition, but after a short explanation of the objects, expressed himself in full sympathy with the idea and stated that he would be glad to go into Rich Men Insure INSURED FOR $412,403 The largest life insurance claim paid in 1912 on this continent was $412,403, on the life of Charles Silvester of New York, Minn., and the second was $350,000 on the life of T. T. Reid, of Montclair, N. J. The largest in Canada was $143,750 to the beneficiary of Benjamin F. Pearson of Halifax, and the second $135,332 on the life of Frederick W. Thompson of Montreal. The payment of $80,212 on Charles M. Hays was third.

The above extract is from a recent issue of a Toronto paper. All those men knew the value of life insurance, and availed themselves of its benefits—and what is true of them is true of almost every successful business man.

Since you must realize the necessity of making provision for your old age, if you live, and the event of your early death, can you do better than follow the example of such shrewd, prosperous men?

AND THE PEOPLE PAY (Moncton Transcript) Perhaps the country does not know the real reason why it was necessary to take off twenty trains on the I. C. R. for some months, and set back a large number of crews, commencing on Monday. Under Liberal rule, we heard a great deal from the Tory press about official deals, but we do not hear the $21,500 a year local organ telling its readers about the $20,000 a year official, who receives $1,500 a year less than the organ, being discredited with existing private official cars. But they are not good enough for him, and so thousands of dollars' worth of property is being virtually destroyed and the pastor car "Dufferin," which has an observation end, is being ripped to pieces up in the I. C. R. shops now. It is being fitted up as an official car for the $20,000 a year manager, at a cost this year of $15,000 besides the original cost of the car, plus the cost of furniture and fittings destroyed. It will be the most luxurious official ever seen on the I. C. R. With an expenditure like this on one car for the general manager, it is absolutely necessary that some of the men in the shops should work eight hours, others be dismissed and twenty trains taken off.

Damage estimated at about $300,000 was done at Port Meyers, Fla., last night by fire. It destroyed the Lee County Cattle Packing House, the steamer Thomas A. Edison; the Lofton machine shop and several small vessels.

CARING FOR THE BLIND AFTER THE SCHOOL DOOR HAS CLOSED ON THEM

The 1913 Report of the Maritime Association—Field Society Now in the City

George W. Theakston of Halifax, secretary in the field in the interests of the Maritime Association for the Blind, is in the city calling on friends of the work done in the Halifax institution.

So, when the question is asked, as asked it naturally is sometimes, why is it necessary to have two organizations for the blind, the answer is that these two bodies are intended to serve two very different ends.

Other and older countries have, in different ways, taken up this matter of the after care of the blind as quite apart from the educational standpoint, and the experience of the older graduates of the Halifax school has taught the necessity of such aid and care being given in our home provinces.

Let me briefly sum up the general purposes of the association. First, it is to secure a fund, which will be invested in first-class securities, and the interest from which will be devoted, in the cities and towns of the Canadian maritime provinces and Newfoundland, to establishing the graduates and others in those positions where they may at once best serve themselves and the community.

Second, the association proposes to loan such small amounts, from time to time, as will enable the blind to set up in business for themselves on their own account in those lines in which they may be best prepared to follow their wisest ambition, to earn and save.

Third, to keep on the road an agent or a general secretary, whose duty it will be to watch over the graduates and the others who help lead them into those fields of labor where they will most likely succeed and serve.

The further question of establishing workshops is under consideration by the association, but what is to be done in that direction has not been definitely settled. It has not been decided whether it would be best to have one central workshop for the four provinces or to distribute the centres with one for each province.

Modern philanthropy proceeds on the principle of helping people to help themselves. The maritime association seeks to help the maritime blind to help themselves. Of course, some can only partially do this. Our cause is both a practical and a humanitarian one.

Let me thank those ladies and gentlemen, who have so generously assisted in furnishing the funds which carry on this work. The treasurer's statement will throw light on our financial standing.

Let me thank the ladies, who got up bazaars and socials for the cause. These are ways of helping which are most encouraging, both for the proceeds obtained and for the interest shown and aroused.

George W. Theakston, of Halifax, is secretary in the field, in the interest of the Maritime Association and will visit, sooner or later, every city and town in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Newfoundland.

LITERARY LETTER A Big Pile of Books—The Edwin Drood Trial in London

(Times' Special Correspondence) London, Jan. 14—Imagine a single literary work the volumes of which, if laid on top of one another would make a pile 450 feet high—a pile higher by forty-six feet than the top of St. Paul's Cathedral.

Such a literary undertaking in the world. Two volumes of this wonderful encyclopedia, which their owner, Wilfred Morgan, picked up in a second-hand shop in London are now on exhibition in the London library in St. James' Square.

The Trial of John Jasper. We are about as wise as we were before so far as solving the Mystery of Edwin Drood is concerned, although "John Jasper" has been solemnly tried for Drood's murder before Judge G. K. Chesterton and convicted of manslaughter, by perhaps the most distinguished jury ever empaneled.

Frankly speaking, this much heralded mock trial proved rather dull most of the fun of the evening being furnished by Shaw. Even he however, was not screamingly funny, his best shot being a sally with which he followed Cuming Walter's remark, as prosecuting attorney, that he proposed to call evidence to prove that Jasper killed Drood.

"Did I understand the learned gentleman to say that he was going to call evidence?" demanded the judge. "Certainly!" replied counsel.

"Then all I can say," flashed the foreman, "is that if the learned gentleman thinks the convictions of a British jury are going to be influenced by evidence, he little knows his country."

Most of the spectators, who, with the exception of the newspapermen, were all members of the Dickens Fellowship, were glad when the "trial" came to an end. The prosecution maintained that Jasper had killed Drood and then destroyed his body with quicklime, while the defence declared that there had been no murder at all but that Jasper had dreamed he had disposed of Drood while under the influence of opium. At the finish Shaw declared on behalf of his fellow jurymen that he had decided on their verdict of "manslaughter" during the refreshment interval, and G. K. Chesterton promptly "committed" the jury and everybody else except himself for corns.

Writing in the "Daily News" of which Charles Dickens once was editor, R. B. Cunningham Graham describes Chesterton's performance and make-up as the judge as wonderful.

"The wheezing voice," he writes, "the sleepy dither, the quivering with the hands on the desk in front of him, the frequent striding of the wig and spectacles, all were inimitable."

Nothing more has been heard, up to date, of the play which Leonard Merrick is to have written in collaboration with Michael Morton and to have named "The Imposter."

Jack Robinson. You have uttered that famous phrase, "as quick as one could say Jack Robinson," of course, but have you any idea who the real Jack Robinson was? Well "John Robinson" proves to have been a politician who flourished in the time of George III, and who was a great favorite of the English king. Robinson's political career was a long one, and he was a member for Warwick for twenty-six years.

On one occasion he was bitterly attacked by Sheridan, who, denouncing bribery and its instigators, replied to the cry of "Name, Name!" by pointing to Robinson on the treasury bench, and claiming: "Yes, I could name him as soon as I could say Jack Robinson."

Thus originated the saying still current.

Cut This Out If you know someone who is troubled with head noises, or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand to them, and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferers perhaps from total deafness.

The first dose promptly ends the most distressing head noises, headache, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment.

BASEBALL
Montreal Money Behind Feds
Montreal Star: B. R. Hepburn, M. P. who is interested in Toronto Federal League club was yesterday on a visit to his city and before leaving announced that he had secured subscribers here for a big block of stock in the club. This it is said by him, will be managed by a company of Toronto capitalists, including Mr. Hepburn. Grounds have been secured for the club, and it will be one or three weeks before the location is definitely announced.

Red Sox to Play Yankees
New York, Jan. 29.—As a result of a recent conference between President Frank Farrell, of the New York Americans, and President Joseph J. Lannin, of the Boston Red Sox, the New York Club is likely to get two or more players from the Boston team before the season opens. Manager Chance is anxious to get infielders and pitchers, and as Boston is well supplied in both departments, the locals hope to benefit by a deal with the Red Sox. The Federal League club has been in the market for some time.

YACHTING
Chicago Prepares for Canadian Races
Toronto, Jan. 29.—On good authority it is said that a syndicate in Chicago has purchased the champion class P yacht of the Atlantic Coast for the 1913 season. It is owned by Addison Hanan and named "Josephine."
This yacht has had a most extraordinary run of success, making the best average of all her class for the season. The Chicago yachtsmen have also given Gardner an order for another class P boat, which is now being built by Wood Bros. of City Island. This will make these two new craft, their previous champion "Michigan," the "South Shore," and the old class P, "Mavourneen," or leaving the latter out, five modern class P boats from the Royal Canadian Yacht Club's representative.

It is apparent that Mr. Owen and James Andrews, of Oakville, have their work cut out for them in this new popular subscription yacht now being built for members of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club. While the Royal Canadian Yacht Club class P are numerically greater than Chicago's, only the new yacht and the Patricia are in any sense as modern as the Chicago quintette.

Jack McAuliffe and Jem Carney Shake After Twenty-Seven Years

(FROM T. S. ANDREWS)

Milwaukee, Jan. 28.—It is twenty-seven years since Jack McAuliffe and Jem Carney, a British lightweight champion, fought their famous draw at Revere Beach, Mass. Neither of these famous lightweights had ever spoken a word to each other from that time until a few weeks ago when McAuliffe was playing at the music halls in London. Dick Burge, an old English lightweight, got the two former champions together and had them shake hands, forgetting the past, and to cap the climax, he arranged a three-round exhibition between them, giving the fans a show of the old style boxing. It was always said by Carney's backers that the ropes were cut to save McAuliffe from defeat; while on the other hand, McAuliffe's backers contended that the tough about the ringside broke up the fight to save their own money, as it was too close at that time to take a chance. It was a wonderful battle and showed both men to be past masters in the art. The general opinion of sporting men of today, who recall that famous fight, is that either one of them would be too much for the lightweights of today over the marathon route. The Jem that has been following the Pacific coast promoters for some time appears to have been side-tracked for the time being. The Clabby-Petroskey work cut out for them in this new popular subscription yacht now being built for members of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club. While the Royal Canadian Yacht Club class P are numerically greater than Chicago's, only the new yacht and the Patricia are in any sense as modern as the Chicago quintette.

BRINGING IT UP-TO-DATE
If Mr. Shakespeare hadn't lived so many years ago, everything would be different. When stagecraft was clumsy art and every act was slow, he might have managed now and then to give a play a little more zip and punch and swing enough to get across today. For instance, when King Richard saw his finish drawing near, he might have done a tango step, and warbled loud and clear: "If I could grab a taxicab or a ninety H. P. racer, or a long gray space eraser, I'd run this fleet right off their legs. They be just a bunch of scrambled eggs. And the throne I own I will gladly loan to the guy who will call me on the phone. And whisper, 'King, I am coming to bring you back to me where you are, a limousine like was never seen, a hundred-mile-an-hour machine. A roaring, tearing, pedestrian scaring. Great, big, wonderful car!'"

Had turkey-trotted till he found a window left unbarred and then turned up on the balcony with Juliet in his grip. And, after five live minutes with a snappy Boston dip, Had sung, instead of honeyed words, this modern little song. From age to age the poor old play would have been passed along: "You're my one best bet, little bright eyed Juliet. What? A bear. Don't you dare with your pretty self compare. Any brain? Nothin' doin'! No, siree! You, you, you. Are the whole blame animal zoo! The game is on! I must be gone! But I swear I'll be there. If they send me to the chair, When the wedding bells are ringing, And the waiters pass the wine, For my Julie, Julie, Julie, I will always love you truly. And I'm goin' to make you mine." —James J. Montague.

MATHEWSON'S BIG LEAGUE GOSSIP

BY CHRISTY MATHEWSON THE GIANTS' STAR PITCHER

"Have no dress suit just now. If I have one union suit at a time, I think I am lucky."
Because most boys have no extra change to spare when they begin to play baseball professionally, and as to get money is usually their reason for going into it, I do not see how many are to be able to attend a baseball school unless it is so heavily endowed that it can afford to give free tuition and board. I know how much chance I would have had of persuading my parents to put up the cost of my tuition to go to a baseball school when I first started out in the minor leagues. They would have ranked me as a failure, net, and let it go at that.

Here is a little story of my own experience in baseball schools. I once had an idea that I would start a correspondence school for pitchers and supply a series of lessons, in which I would teach boys the proper and improper methods of pitching, through text and photographs. I even went so far as to prepare a few of these lessons, and the first came pretty easy, because I merely had to point out the common faults of pitching, and there was no reason for discussing the technique of the game in the first lesson. But the second came harder. There I balked. The men interested in the proposition with me urged me to go ahead.

Three or four attempts have been made lately to start a training school for ball players to develop men fit to get jobs in the major leagues. Baseball has become such a remunerative profession within the last ten years that managers are the constant targets of requests from young ball players to give them a chance. There are not enough good ball players to equip the present teams in the two big leagues, and with a third one trying to break in, it looks as if the market were going to be very short of the right sort of talent.

It is my notion that the minor leagues are the best baseball schools that will ever come to life.

WOULD COUGH SO HARD
Would Turn Black In The Face.
A cough could be one of the most dangerous kind. It leaves the throat or lungs, and sometimes both, affected if not taken care of immediately.
Obstinate coughs and colds yield to the grateful-soothing action of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, containing as it does all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree.
Mrs. C. J. Selig, Dartmouth, N.S. writes:—"My little boy, six years old, had a dreadful hard cough. At night time he would cough so hard he would turn black in the face, and at times he would cough nearly an hour before he would stop. I tried different cough syrups, but they did him no good. The little fellow was wasting away, as he could not eat or sleep, the cough troubled him so. I got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and it did him so much good I got another. Now I am only too glad to tell you how thankful I am, and to tell every mother to use nothing else."
Price, 25 and 50 cents.
Be sure you get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it. See the trade mark, the three pine trees.

LOCAL NEWS

HE STAYED.

A man visited the police station this morning intoxicated and remained. He was found sitting on the stairs leading to the court room and was placed under arrest by Detective Killen.

TEN DEATHS

At the board of health offices this week, ten deaths were recorded. The following causes were given—Pneumonia, three; heart disease, two; and laryngitis, peritonitis, endocarditis, tubercular meningitis and pneumonia, one each.

DIED IN ENGLAND.

W. G. V. Stokes this week received news from England telling of a double bereavement in the family of J. H. Stringer of the Imperial Theatre staff. It told of the death of his mother Mrs. J. H. Stringer, and also of his brother-in-law, W. Todd.

REPORTED ELOPEMENT.

Levin Kristonovich, who has been living at 692 Main street, has been making all possible effort since last night to get trace of his wife, who, he says, eloped with a young man, but thus far he has been unable to learn their whereabouts. The husband says the other man happened on to the Montreal train yesterday.

GOOD FOR THE BOYS.

Harry Kein went down from the Y. M. C. A. to the Every Day Boys' Club last evening and gave the boys three quarters of an hour of physical drill. All who took part were delighted with the instructor and the drill, and as it is to be given twice a week, with Sergeant Sullivan in charge for part of one of the other evenings each week, the boys should derive much benefit.

WENT ON SAD MISSION.

Arthur Henderson and Clifford Stephens have returned to South Franchingham, Mass., after having accompanied the body of the former's brother, John Henderson, to this city for burial. Mr. Henderson had been a fireman and while at work had come in contact with a high power wire, receiving 2,800 volts. He was killed instantly. He was twenty-three years of age and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Henderson of Groves.

DRIVING ACCIDENT

Excitement was keen yesterday in the "valley" when a horse with heavy sled attached suddenly bolted and, running down the hill from Rockland Road, collided with a light sleigh driven by Lawrence McLeod of Main street, throwing him out and smashing his car. Mr. McLeod was driving up from his sleigh in the collision, while his horse was also injured.

JUVENILE COURT CASES

R. J. Armstrong was fined $30 for employing four boys in the Victoria bowling alleys, all under eighteen years of age. Mr. Armstrong said the boys came to him and wanted to earn a little money. He said he has had cases where a mother would bring her boy to him and ask him to give the boy a job. The magistrate ordered the father of one of the boys be brought to court next Saturday, and that they would be obliged to send their boys to school.

A grant boy was also dealt with in the juvenile court. His mother said she had been sending her boy to school, but it appears that he had been at the attendance. The boy said the reason he did not want to go to school was because he had been put in the third grade and wanted to be back in the second, as he found the work too hard. Arrangements will be made with Dr. Bridges.

WAS NOT ST. JOHN GIRL

A report that Annie Walsh, who was found murdered on a barge at Bedford, Mass., was a young lady who had formerly resided in St. John, and who had taken part in some amateur musical productions while here, has been proven incorrect. A sister of this young woman has informed the Times that her sister left St. John only two years ago and since then has been in Boston and New York, and was in New York when she last heard from her.

In order to make sure that there could be no mistake, she wrote to the chief of police at Bedford asking for a description of the murdered girl and received the following description: "About thirty-five years of age; five feet six inches in height; brown eyes, straight black hair, slim build, very dark complexion, born in Truro, England, has been in Bedford for a number of years and was a worker in a cotton mill. As this description varied at every point all doubts regarding the safety of the former St. John girl were set at rest."

MUSIC IN SCHOOLS

A meeting of the teachers of grades 1 and 2 was held in the High school this morning, and plans were decided upon for the introduction of musical instruction in the schools. Professor Harrison, musical instructor of the Normal school in Fredericton, gave an interesting address to the teachers on the best methods of teaching this subject. Dr. H. S. Bridges, superintendent of education for the city, spoke of the value of music as a study for children. Plans were outlined for the introduction of the subject, and the primary teachers in each of the city schools and instruct them how to carry out the plans. Each class will be given from fifteen to twenty minutes each day for musical instruction.

COMMENDS TIMES' WORK

Rev. Dr. Moore and Rev. U. Dobson, field secretary of the Social and Moral Reform movement in the Methodist church, spoke in Carleton Methodist church last evening. Rev. Dr. Moore spoke on the Scott Act and commended the movement in St. John. Rev. Mr. Dobson dealt with the problems of city life and the need of community work, and told of the excellent work being done along this line in Regina. Rev. H. E. Thomas commended the pioneer efforts of the evening Times to promote community work in St. John and expressed confidence that it was only a question of time when the school buildings of this city would be opened in the evenings for community work.

Dr. Walker Left Large Estate

Well Up To Quarter Million Of Dollars

TERMS OF HIS WILL

Property Here and in Halifax Besides Large Personal Holdings—Court Also Deals With Will of Rev. Joseph McLeod

In the probate court today the will of Dr. James Walker of Lancaster was probated. It is dated January 17, 1913, and there is a codicil. The estate value totals $225,000.

By his will Doctor Walker gives to his wife, Catherine Amelia, the farm at South Bay, with furniture and farming contents; also a lot of land at South Bay, north of the C. P. R.; also his right in certain property in Beth, Scotland; he gives to his executor and trustee therein named the lot of land on the east side of Prince William street extending through to Canterbury, the lot on the west side of Prince William street, also the lot on the corner of Granville and Buckingham streets, Halifax; the lot in two other streets, Halifax, the lot in Queen street, Halifax, and in Gottingen street, Halifax; in trust to permit his wife's sister, Edith Raynes, to occupy the building in Gottingen street and to manage the other properties, the rents thereof to be paid to Edith Raynes and her son, Hamilton Allan Raynes, for the support and maintenance of the testator's son, John Douglas Walker.

On the death of his son he gives the properties named to his wife absolutely, subject to the right of Edith Raynes to occupy the Gottingen street property.

He gives to his wife's sister, Emily Appleby, $10,000, to Harrison Allan Raynes, of Halifax, $8,000 of 5 per cent debentures in the Town of Windsor; also $7,000 in the Royal Bank of Halifax. He directs his trustee to invest a sum sufficient to produce $800 a year which he gives to Edith Raynes. He gives to his wife's sister, Edith Raynes, $5,000, to Harrison Allan Raynes, $3,000, to Robert S. Rosborough, of Halifax, bond salesman, all mortgages which he holds on property in Halifax, which is supposed to be some $15,000; the rest of his estate he gives to his daughter, Gladys Wellwood Baker, wife of E. Parker, of St. John, bank manager, and he nominates Robert S. Rosborough as his sole executor and trustee. The will provides that all legacies shall be paid in succession.

By a codicil dated September 8, 1913, Doctor Walker gives to his son, John Douglas Walker, the amount of a deposit receipt, Bank of Nova Scotia for $12,000. The court stated that in consequence of the death of the testator in connection with the appointment of non-resident executors, it would be necessary for the executor to file a bond from a surety company in the amount of $10,000. This was accordingly done and Robert S. Rosborough was sworn in as such executor.

The real estate consists of the Prince William and Princess street lot valued at $28,200; lot on west side of Prince William street, valued at $8,000; Gottingen street property, $1,600; Queen street, Halifax, $1,400; Parish of Lancaster farm, $10,400; total real estate $50,600; personal $120,000; total estate $225,600. This is exclusive of three properties in Wellington row and other property conveyed to his wife; also properties conveyed to his son—and the testator having in his lifetime assigned to his son the mortgage on St. Andrew's church for $80,000, it is understood that the legacy to that church is void. Messrs. Barnhill, Ewing & Sanford are proctors.

TWO MORE FARMS SOLD

Alfred Burley & Co. report the sale of two farms, both in Kings county, each consisting of 100 acres, with houses and barns. The purchasers are W. P. Anderson, M. A. of Saskatchewan, and B. Swain, of Salisbury, Eng. Both are coming with their families in the early spring to New Brunswick to take up farming.

Mr. Burley also reports that there never were so many inquiries coming in so early in the season and he anticipates a good year's business. Several sales are now pending, and these he hopes to close in the near future.

THE STEAMERS

The Caraquez, of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Line, will sail tomorrow morning for the West Indies via Halifax. She will take away a fair cargo of general freight.

The Briardene, taking the Cobequid's sailing, left Halifax for the West Indies yesterday.

At 12:15 o'clock this morning the Royal Edward, from this port for Bristol, was 200 miles east of Cape Race. Steamer Kristianford, bound west, was 940 miles southeast of Cape Race.
