BLACK TIES A FAD OF THE SUMMER.

So smart are black neckties this summer that it is almost impossible to buy a black window tie in any of the shops. Even the boys' counters have been depleted. These black ties are run through heavy Irish lace collars and stocks in various ways. Sometimes the tops of turnover lace collars are turned over the black tie and a pet bow tied in front. In this instance a bow of black taffeta ribbon is used with a Puritan collar of tuckered tinstone and Irish lace, the ribbon passing through openings in the collar.

CLOSE CALL FOR TARIFF BILL IN U. S. CONGRESS

Passes By Only Twelve Majority—Mann Declares Canada is in the Position to Dictate—Twenty Republicans Against Measure

Washington, July 31.—The house tonight adopted the conference report of the tariff bill, 195 to 183. The Republicans shrined in their delight over the final outcome, and "Chairman Payne was the central figure of an admiring and congratulating crowd of colleagues.

Twenty Republicans voted against the report and two Democrats for it.

The vote was the climax of an eleven-hour session, conducted through most oppressive heat, and enlivened by a dozen or more speeches of more or less fiery nature. The temperature did not decrease a whit from going to the capitol to witness the closing scene.

The day opened with what appeared to be part of an organized filibuster against the conference report, when Mr. Mondell, Wyoming, demanded the reading of the lengthy document. This reading proceeded for almost an hour and a half when, with about two-thirds remaining to be read, Mr. Mondell permitted the debate to go on.

Chairman Payne defended the report and appealed to his Republican colleagues to support it, prophesying at the same time that when the bill was enacted into law it would meet with the approval of the country.

Mr. Clark, the minority leader, and many of his colleagues, denounced the bill and chastised the Republicans for failing to support it, or for not protesting against it. He denounced that particular schedule and declared that Canada would take such action regarding pulp wood and news paper as to place an almost prohibitory price upon paper in this country.

Mr. Mann declared that congress is confronted with the situation where the Canadian government has reached the conclusion that possibly, if not probably, the dominion would be justified in absolutely forbidding the exportation of raw material.

Continuing, Mr. Malby declared that the newspapers were repeating marvelous dividends from their investments. "No one inquires how healthy they are," he said; "and no one inquires how little a poor paper maker is making."

Under the maximum and minimum clause, he said, the charge of $1.57 a ton on wood pulp would be increased to $6.57 a ton.

"That maximum," he exclaimed, "is sure to go into effect between Canada and this country and until Canada removes her restrictions on the exportation of the pulp."

Mr. Mann said that all Canada needed to do was "to stand pat" and say "you have got to have our paper and pulp in some form. You will take it in the form of paper from us."

Canada, said Mr. Mann, is as wise and as keen as the best leaders of the Republican party.

"They will know," he asserted, "that they hold the whip hand."

Should Canada prohibit the exportation of wood pulp, Mr. Mann argued that the price of pulp wood and pulp in Maine and New Hampshire would be raised. He declared that instead of the revision of the tariff reducing the price of print paper, the threat of three cents a pound or $60 a ton would soon be past history.

Mr. Mann vehemently denounced the senate. "I am tired," he said, "and I am weary of the constant demands of a few senators. Let them vote as they please. It is our duty to stand by what we believe to be right."

Mr. Malby, New York, said that the Illinois member was placing his personal judgment against that of every man who had tried to build up the paper industry in the United States.

Although paper-making was fourth among other industries, he said, the returns were miserable. He predicted that if the bill passed there would be no money put into paper manufacturing in the United States.

Mr. Clayton, Alabama, said a parallel case was just and justly being made and yet a tariff was levied on cotton bagging for the benefit of the manufacturer.

CHAPTER VI.
Wherein Warden Sels a New Course.

Warden's theatre-going that evening resolved itself into a stroll in the park and an early return to his chambers. Before going out, he had thrown a towel over the calabash, and told the porter not to touch anything in the sitting-room. The plan was effective; the man of Oku created no disturbance.

Oldly enough, the young officer was now beginning to understand the mesmeric influence which Evelyn Dune and Peter Evans acknowledged instantly and with this admission came the consciousness that the negro's mask lost its power unless actually in evidence. Hence, now the vapors and misty fancies of the preceding hours interfered with his rest. He slept soundly, rose betimes, and ate a good breakfast—suddenly, again, these of a sound mind in a sound body.

Yet he might have been puzzled if called on to explain why he deliberately placed the gourd in a sponge-bag, and put it in his portmanteau before returning to the Isle of Wight. His action was, perhaps, governed by some sense of the fitness of things. If it were ordained that the pre-emptive of the dead and gone M'Wang should again sit in the world during a period when the fortunes of his country were at stake, it was not for Warden to disobey the manifest edict. He was not swayed solely by idle impulse. In bringing the head to London he meant to please the only people who knew its existence; he ignored their wishes not because he felt a tugging at his heart-strings when his thoughts reverted to the wretched history of Domenico Garcia. The instant he arrived at this decision it occurred to trouble his mind further.

Before going to the station he made a few purchases, and, being near Pall Mall, thought he would secure any letters that might happen to be at his club. Among these he found a pressing invitation from Lady Hilbury asking him to call when in London. Now, he was, in a degree, a protégé of her lordship. Her husband was a former governor of Nigeria, and her friendly assistance had helped, in the first instance, to lift Warden out of the ruck of youngsters who yearly replete the ranks of officialdom in West Africa. It was more than probable that Sir Charles and Lady Hilbury would be out of town and a note written at their residence would show that he had visited them at the earliest opportunity.

To his surprise, Lady Hilbury was at home, and insisted that he should stay for luncheon.

Behold, then, Warden installed in a cozy morning-room, exchanging gossip with his hostess, and his parcels and portmanteau given over to the butler's care. He was irrevocably committed to an afternoon train when Lady Hilbury electrified him with a morsel of news that was as unexpected as any other shock that had befallen him of late.

"By the way, an old friend of yours is staying with me," she said—"Mrs. Laing—you know her better as Rosamund Miller, I fancy?"

Warden schooled his features into a passable imitation of a smile. Mrs. Laing—the pretty, irresponsible Rosamund, Miller—was the last person he wished to encounter, but he was quick to see the twinkle in Lady Hilbury's eyes, and he accepted the inevitable.

"I shall be glad to review the acquaintance," he said. "It was broken off rather abruptly—at Government House if I remember aright."

"Poor Rosamund! That was her mother's contriving. She never really liked Laing, but he was what people term a 'good match,' and he has at last justified that estimate of his worth by dying and

TROOPS HALT PROCESSION OF U. M. W. AT GLACE BAY

Glance Bay, Aug. 1.—Saturday's procession proved to be the most striking event of the trouble at Glance Bay. The programme of the U. M. W. was published for some days and on Friday steps were taken at Dominion and attempted at Glance Bay to prevent the procession from taking place. The reason offered was that Saturday was pay day and that a large public gathering on that day would be dangerous to the peace.

The United Mine Workers were at first inclined to consider this objection and asked a modification of their plans, but later they alleged that the draft of the by-law passed at the emergency meeting of the Dominion town council and the requisition sent to Mayor Douglas, were both prepared in the office of the Dominion Coal Company, so they decided to proceed with the programme as announced.

At the head of the U. M. W. procession from Glance Bay rode four Glance Bay policemen in a carriage, followed by a band of about 100 infantry were held in reserve a distance in the rear. These men were brought in on a special train and when the procession moved off they were taken to the other side of the town, as it was thought that the strikers might attempt to get into the town by another route. In all there were about 200 soldiers stationed in various parts of the town and General Drury was present in person to direct the operations.

Returning to Glance Bay, a meeting was held at the rear of the rink on an open site. Fully half the men dropped out on the way back and it was a comparatively small crowd that was finally addressed by the speakers.

The first speaker was District President McDougall. He discussed the situation and declared that the hand of all the authorities was against the strikers.

The rest of the speech was devoted to a recapitulation of the situation and a warning to the strikers to return to work. He discussed the situation and declared that the hand of all the authorities was against the strikers.

ARREST PORTER ON THE AUSTIN

Colored Man Suspected of Recent Thefts on Steamer

Boston, Mass., Aug. 1.—The mystery of the series of robberies on the steamer Calvin Austin, of the Eastern S. S. Company, plying between this port and St. John (N. B.), by which the past two years the boat and its passengers have lost thousands of dollars, is believed by the police of this city to have been cleared up with the arrest today of Thomas W. Wright, aged 21, a colored porter on the steamer.

During the past two seasons the steamship company has used many devices to forestall the thief, Canadian police officers traveling on the boat and private detectives have been employed but all efforts have proved fruitless. When the Austin left Boston last week, however, on the trip just ended today, Inspector Patrick Gattis, of the bank squad of the Boston police sailed on her, having given up one week of his vacation for the purpose of solving the mystery. On the return trip suspicion was fastened on Wright with the result that when the boat arrived today he was arrested.

Upon being taken to the police station he recovered more than $800 worth of booty from the stateroom in Roxbury. On the other side of the advertisements in the paper that in the last 35 days he had deposited in a Boston bank about $250. He is held in the police on the specific charge of the largest of two watches. He will have a hearing tomorrow.

Mr. A. Good Fellow on Vacation Money

"Wouldn't the good old summer time be all to the merry if our vacations didn't cost anything?" questioned Mr. A. Good Fellow after his pal, who was perusing the Sunday paper with him, called his attention to one of the advertisements in the summer resort section. "Well, I just guess yes! This vacation business is a funny thing, anyhow. You save and accumulate and economize—if you happen to be a thrifty, nonspensive person—all the year round, and then go off somewhere for two weeks and blow it all up to place an almost prohibitory price upon paper in this country."

Mr. Mann declared that congress is confronted with the situation where the Canadian government has reached the conclusion that possibly, if not probably, the dominion would be justified in absolutely forbidding the exportation of raw material.

DOCTORS CONDEMN OILY LINIMENTS

The Public are Warned to be Careful of These Strong Smelling Oily Liniments Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick greasy liniment is the best thing to use in the treatment of rheumatism, neuralgia, and other painful conditions. Doctors say, however, that these oily liniments are not only ineffective, but they are also harmful to the skin.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormous high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For this reason they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use will result in the skin becoming dry, cracked, and inflamed.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows that a thick liniment can't penetrate, can't sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment, such as "Nerviline," to be superior to any of the white ammonia liniments. In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, neuralgia, and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary white liniments. The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache and such minor ailments. Nerviline will cure a headache, a neuralgia, a sciatica or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsement of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.

Any good druggist or dealer can supply the large 25c. bottles of Nerviline.

Fix Up Your Veranda in Summer

The most popular place just now in city and country is the veranda. It is used more today than ever before. Part of the veranda should be screened off as a dining room, or a little balcony porch built out from the second story for sleeping purposes. The desire for breathing fresh air is becoming more and more a part of the race. The most desirable treatment of the floor of a porch is to paint it. The color should be selected with regard to footprints and a slate color is the best. Two coats should be given the porch when new, and it will last a couple of years before repainting is necessary. It should be washed every few days, and a little milk in the water will give it a glossy appearance. The furnishings of the veranda or porch can be as simple or as elaborate as one wishes. This is the day of porch furniture and one can carry out almost any scheme he has in mind. A good plan is to select the coolest corner of the porch and furnish it, as a sort of reception room, with articles which will not be ruined by bad weather. The first thing to consider is protection from the sun. This can be done by means of vines of Virginia creeper or ivy, but an even better and cooler way is to have screens of Japanese matting which can be let down or rolled up at will. If rugs are desired, let them be of old-fashioned ragrugs or the new Crex essay arrangement of sleeping quarters. Rugs, chairs and tables should be of hickory because of its durability; or the wicker furniture with its easy chairs and chairs with footrests and a basket at each side for books or sewing. A table of the same material is quite an addition and is useful in serving afternoon tea. You have now an excellent place for receiving your friends in warm weather and a social place of gathering for the family in the evenings.

The rest of the porch need have but little in the way of furniture. A hammock in some convenient place, or one of the delightful Davport hammocks is almost a necessity. An entrance lamp of wrought iron adds much to the artistic effect.

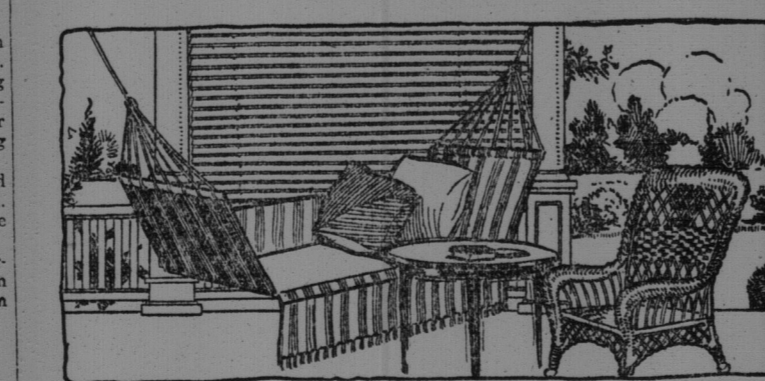

For table covers, sofa pillows and hammock cushions use a wash material. Make the pillow covers so that they will button on. In this way they can be easily slipped off and laundered.

A very appetizing sandwich for porch picnics is made with crackers, cream cheese and stuffed olives. Take the cream cheese and mix it with the olives, which have previously been chopped very fine. Spread this between two of the crackers. No butter is needed.

Another delicious sandwich is made of bread not too thinly sliced and lightly buttered. Between the pieces put a slice of tomato and a very little bit of mayonnaise dressing. Spread this between two of the crackers. No butter is needed.

A salad which is especially adapted to summer time is made of fruits. Cut in pieces, the size of a square of cut sugar, four apples, four bananas, one pear, three oranges and one grapefruit. Place lettuce leaves in your salad dish and pour this mixture on them. Then put over the whole French dressing and add a marshmallow cherry or two. This will serve eight or ten people.

A good sponge cake is made with 3 eggs, 1 cup of sugar, 1 cup of sifted flour, 1/2 cup of water and 2 teaspoonsful of baking powder. Flavor with lemon or vanilla. Beat the eggs separately. Put in the yolks with the cup of sugar and beat until light, then add the 1 cup of sifted flour and 1/2 cup of water. Next put in the flavoring. Finally the baking powder. Bake in a moderate oven.

BUDGET AND TARIFF

"Gentlemen, I see no sign that this country is being converted."

This statement by Prime Minister Asquith, relating to the fiscal situation in England, was made a week ago in the course of a speech delivered in London.

The same paper that reports his speech tells of the election of a Liberal in the High Peak division of Derbyshire by an increased majority, and notes that this was the fourth of what might be termed "the budget elections" in which the Liberals had held the seat.

Mr. Asquith, at the opening of his address, pointed out that "the growing requirements of national defence, with the simultaneous increase in expenditure, demanded by both the conscience and by the interests of the community for purposes of social reform, has brought about a gap in the exchequer of almost all the great nations, which is beyond recent precedent."

All these nations he pointed out were confronted by the same problem, and were seeking to solve it, and there should be no recourse to a transitory expedient such as making good the deficit of any single year.

In other words, the chancellor of the exchequer "in his modification of existing taxes and will more in his selection of new taxes should be guided not merely by their actual and immediate need, but by their power of increasing and developing productiveness in the years that lie before."

"Mr. Asquith vigorously contended that the adoption of a tariff would not remove the difficulty, and he vigorously defended the proposed budget, with its new taxes, its modification and enlargement of old taxes, and its dealing with the national debt. After going fully into these matters he said that the only alternative to the budget was a tariff, and he declared that the experience of other countries would not commend such a system to the English people. What he says on this point is of special interest, and we quote it in full:

"I don't know what the friends of the tariff think of their prospects and position in the world at this moment. Two great countries—the two greatest commercial rivals we have anywhere in the length and breadth of the globe—have been trying their hands on tariff fabrications during the course of the last three or four years. Germany, as you know, has had in operation, I think it is for two years, a full-blown scientific tariff. But the German deficit is much greater than our own. It has already caused the downfall of one of the most powerful ministers in Europe, and they are now looking about, so far as I can judge, with a good deal of heart-searching and heart-burning for a quarter from which they are to make good the huge gap which, despite their scientific tariff, they still find in the national exchequer. If we look on the other side of the Atlantic they have just completed the revision of the Dingley tariff. It is not for us to speak disrespectfully, still less to find anything like pleasure or complacency, in the troubles, the struggles, or the misfortunes of our friends and neighbors. But when we are told that the sovereign remedy for fiscal and financial troubles here is to create in Great Britain what has been created in Germany, and which has been re-created in America—a general tariff—I think we are entitled to look at the experience of those two countries. What is the case with the new American tariff? As far as I can make out it is universally condemned by the whole of the American press, and is regarded by the American people themselves as a triumph of particular interest over the general interest—(op-please)—for they see trusts and monopolies re-entrenched and reinforced in their long and too victorious campaign against the consumer."

"Gentlemen, I see no sign that this country is being converted. I am satisfied that unless a wide and even a revolutionary change is brought about in public opinion here, you cannot carry a general tariff through the British House of Commons. But if you are to adhere to Free Trade, where and when and how are you to provide the resources you need unless by increasing indirect taxation and placing fresh burdens upon the shoulders of those who are least able to bear them? In this Budget no class escapes its share."

RHODES SCHOLARS

In an article in the North American Review Dr. George R. Parkin deals with the Rhodes scholarship system at Oxford, which has now been in operation for five years. We quote a portion of a review of this very interesting article, from last week's Literary Digest:

About ninety young men from every state of the Union (the United States) are now pursuing studies at Oxford. In addition are eighty others who have completed three-year courses, and returned to this country. Under the Rhodes Trust there have been at Oxford representatives from the British colonies and the German Empire. The total men of all countries brought together under the trust during the year 1908 was 189. They formed about a twentieth part of what is perhaps the most representative gathering of students to be found in the United Kingdom.

Nowhere else in the world, says Dr. Parkin, can be found in any place, for purposes of common study, a body of students so typically characteristic of all the material which goes to make up what we call the Anglo-Saxon race. Dr. Parkin dwells upon the central idea of Cecil Rhodes in founding these scholarships, which was that England, Germany and the United States might thus co-operate in carrying forward the work of civilization. Rhodes believed that great good would result from a mutual understanding between these various peoples, his agents in promoting it being picked young men from each of these countries. Under his will, for all time to come, nearly 200 scholars will be educated together annually at that most ancient and famous seat of learning, Dr. Parkin doubts whether there be in the world today anywhere 'any scheme more nobly planned for the realization of a large and generous object.' He believes that any young man must be a poor scholar indeed who, after three years at Oxford, 'is not touched with some of the divine fire, the devotion to world's service, which burned in the spirit of the founder.' Dr. Parkin says he has often been asked what it was that Oxford had to give to an ardent student which he cannot get as well or better at a home university. Under the Rhodes fund there is first at Oxford an opportunity for 'three years of additional training at a famous centre of culture, with freedom from the pecuniary anxiety which so often interferes with the efforts of aspiring students compelled to fight their own way.' Dr. Parkin is inclined to give most importance to the influence exerted at Oxford in providing 'a wider point of view in an old-world centre of training.' In a political sense alone, the American derives great benefits from finding himself 'in close touch with the politics of an empire which covers one-fifth of the world, embraces nearly one-fifth of its population, and illustrates, in its extraordinarily varied system, every form of government from extreme democracy to paternal and almost autocratic rule."

The article of Dr. Parkin states that during the past year the distribution of students among the Rhodes scholars has been as follows:—In jurisprudence, 45; in natural science, 25; in letters, 20; in history, 20; while in other departments there were from five to ten, with smaller numbers in such special departments as oriental languages, medicine and forestry.

The conference report on the United States tariff bill had a close shave in the house of representatives on Saturday night, but it was squeezed through. Mr. Mann of Illinois appears to think that Canada stands to gain immensely from the tariff and 'print paper schedule, but this is doubtful.

Universal interest is felt in the experiments to be made with the aerodrome at Camp Petawawa. If the machine can be operated successfully, Canada will not be far behind other nations in the conquest of the air, and may even outdo them with the Bell invention.

A notable gain in customs revenue for July, following former gains, indicates a steady improvement in business conditions in Canada. There is a gain in revenue of over three and a half millions for the first four months of the fiscal year.

A SUSSEX INCIDENT

Sussex, N. B., Aug. 1.—Led by a dog to the place where a servant lay in a semi-conscious condition, a large crowd of persons saved the woman from probable death.

The woman was a servant of Mrs. Stone's of Boston, who is visiting J. Albert McArthur of Sussex. She is said to be frequently seized with epileptic fits. She left Mr. McArthur's house about 10 o'clock last evening to take a short walk.

About 3:30 o'clock this morning she was found in a semi-conscious condition, between two piles of deals near the railroad track. Only through the dog which accompanied her was she found. He seeing the crowd passing barked at them, and directed them to the spot where the woman lay.

STRIKING ADDRESS BY REV. MR. TITUS

Illusions of Life Subject Before Every Day Club

Some illusions in life was the subject of a stirring address by Rev. George Titus at the Every Day Club last evening.

Another illusion is that of looking after No. 1 and caring nothing for the welfare of others. Man was created for a higher and nobler purpose.

Still another illusion is that of the young men who are indifferent to the work of the club and of the churches, and believe that this is not the best work, but that it is more manly and courageous to go out with the boys and have a good time.

The Christ-life is the highest life for any individual. The speaker said it was not a question of this church or that church. He would go so far as to say that it is possible to live the principles of the life of Jesus without being identified with any church, though such persons are few.

Some boys in a boat lassoed a deer that was swimming in the river at Bath, Me., and after forcing the animal to tow them for a short distance allowed it to escape.

The orders of the new board of management of the I. C. R. doing away with the night operators at Rothesay, Calhoun's and Memramook went into force Sunday night. Henceforth these stations will be closed each night at 7 o'clock.

On Saturday evening James Fenton, who had escaped from the provincial hospital, was recaptured in Main street. He was taken to the North End police station and later handed over to one of the keepers of the hospital.

Half a dozen more swings and a croquet set will be added to the Every Day Club playground equipment tomorrow. The children are having a delightful time there during the holidays. The grounds are open to all children. Today ground hockey and basket ball are being played.

Delegates to the Baptist convention at Halifax from Aug. 20 to 23, from German street church, are Mrs. W. E. McIntyre, M. Colwell and Mrs. N. C. Scott. The delegation from Charlotte street church, west end, is composed of D. C. Clark, H. C. Smith and Rev. M. E. Fletcher and wife. The delegates from the other churches will be named this week.

WHARF COLLAPSES

Francis Kerr Leses Lot of Coal in South End Accident.

About 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon three sections of the Francis Kerr coal shed at the foot of Charlotte street collapsed, taking with the flooring more than 700 tons of coal which was in that part of the shed at the time. When the collapse occurred men were busy filling the bins with American anthracite coal from the schooner Preference then lying at the face of the wharf. It is thought that the vibration and shock of the falling coal caused a weakening of the wharf which finally gave way, sending spilling, flooring and coal to the mud below. There was no warning to the workmen of the collapse, which caused a report; like that from a cannon. Fortunately nobody was inside at the time.

Mr. Kerr said last evening that he would amount to about $2,000. Asked if he would give any cause for the accident, Mr. Kerr said that he was hardly in a position to say unless perhaps that there was some crevice in the rock below into which the spilling had been forced by the weight above. Ever since the wharf had been built a sharp lookout had been kept for any sagging but none had been discovered up to the collapse.

Miss Florence Ready The many friends of Miss Florence Theresa Ready, third daughter of James Ready, of Fairville, learned with regret yesterday of her death, which occurred on Saturday after an illness of about three months' duration. Miss Ready was very popular where she knew her and her bereavement will be sincerely mourned. Besides her parents she leaves six brothers and three sisters to mourn.

OF CHRISTIAN WORKERS East Northfield, Mass., Aug. 1—More than 2,500 people attended the meeting of the general conference for Christian workers here today. This conference is believed to be the first religious conference in the world and was founded by the late Dwight L. Moody, the famous evangelist in 1878. Today's meetings consisted of twelve sessions, opening with an evangelistic service and continuing until nearly midnight.

OF COURSE Miss Katherine—My sister Jessie, is going to marry Mr. Hill. He comes of a very old family, I believe. Mr. Kiddie—No doubt. I've often heard people use the expression "As old as the Hills."

MURDER OF NEW YORK CHINESE CONSUL NOW

New York, July 31—Dr. Luk Wing, Chinese vice-consul at New York, a graduate of Lehigh and Yale Universities, and husband of an American woman, was mortally wounded at his office in a lower Broadway building this afternoon by a man of his own race, who gives voluble, but confused and contradictory reports of himself in pidgin English.

Dr. Wing died tonight in St. Gregory's Hospital. He had been shot in the back with a revolver and the bullet, entering below the shoulder blades, lodged in the lower left lung. No attempt to probe for it was made. Mrs. Wing, who is ill herself, was driven to the hospital in time to be at the bedside. Her husband recognized her and smiled before the end came, but at no time was he strong enough to make an ante-mortem statement.

Michael McDonald, who for twenty-seven years has been special watchman at the Chinese consulate, identified the murderer tonight as Wong Sze Cheung, who, he says was formerly a steward on the United States battleship Indiana. The man himself, who was at first thought to be a Japanese, gave his name to the police as Matsuda Wong, and said he lived at No. 1212 Duttonwood street, Philadelphia, though until, recently he had been employed as a cook at Galen Hall, an Atlantic City hotel. He came to New York only yesterday, he said. He is under-sized and cropp-haired and wears American clothes.

No rational motive for the murder has developed. McDonald says he believes the man is crazy. During the six years he has been in this country he has been in and out of the consulate at intervals, importing whomever he could find for a position or for a loan.

Nobody witnessed the shooting. Dr. Wing had offices on the fifth floor of No. 18 Broadway. Tenants on the seventh floor say they heard a shot and rushed down stairs to find the vice-consul and his assassin scuffling in the hallway at the foot of the stairs. Men on the fourth floor who were moving a safe heard someone above them shout: "Help! I've been shot."

Awarding figure with a convulsed face rushed past them before they rightly knew what had happened. He was the assassin. One of the men launched a kick at him on general principles, but he was not caught until he reached the street, when two policemen who knew nothing of the trouble above but were impressed by his agitation and haste, gathered him in.

The revolver, with one exploded shell and a mis-fired shell in it, was found in his coat pocket. Quong Yick Nam, the Chinese interpreter, who figured prominently in the Elsie Sigel case, quizzed the prisoner at length tonight. He talks freely to anyone but his captors and broken answers to questions seem to bear out McDonald's theory that the man is deranged.

The residuum of fact in his conflicting statements is that he had a grievance against the vice-consul because his application for aid had been refused. Although he complained of being in want and had slept last night in the municipal lodging house, the police found $44.65 in his clothes. He denies that he fired in self-defense. He says he was being forcibly removed from the consulate when he resisted and the vice-consul drew a revolver. They fought for the weapon, he declares and he got it and fired point-blank.

An early theory that the murder was prompted by the well-known hostility of the vice-consul to the Chinese Tong and their incessant wars, is not thus far supported by any finding of fact. There is nothing to indicate that any of the complications uncovered by the murder of Elsie Sigel bear on the present case.

Dr. Wing married an American girl, sixteen years ago. There were no children of the marriage.

HAPPY DAYS OF R.K.Y.C. MEN ARE ENDED

The Royal Kennebecasis Yacht Club "Happy Days" cruise for 1909 ended yesterday with the customary divine service A. Morrison, D. D., of Chicago, formerly of St. David's church, this city, and acting chaplain of the club. Last night practically all of the yachts were at their moorings in Millisville and the cruise had passed into a pleasant memory.

Yachtmen who made the trip to Bellisle and Grand Lake are unanimously of the opinion that the cruise was the most successful yet held. Barring the slight accident to the Vagabond at Jemseg not untoward incident marred the success of the outing. The Vagabond accident was a slight one, a heavy squall took the mast out of her but the damage was quickly repaired and the yacht with Vice-Commodore Merrill, rejoined the squadron after a day's delay.

The squadron arrived at Carter's Point from Oak Point on Saturday night and anchored. This morning the yachtmen assembled on John Frodham's beautiful grounds and the closing service was held at 11 o'clock.

Music was conducted by D. Arnold Fox and the service of praise was heartily supported by the large assemblage of worshippers. Rev. Dr. Morrison took for his text Mark x:21: "Then Jesus beholding him loved him." After introducing the subject of Christ and the rich young ruler by apt reference to Hoffman's celebrated painting, he compared this interview from the gospel page with that classic story of Socrates and his pupil, Alcibiades. In the course of a closely reasoned sermon the preacher showed that God cares for every individual man and further that all human life find its completion in God. It is this consciousness of God over us in all human life that strengthens men for duty, blesses them in their pleasures and perfects the experience of religion in the soul.

After the benediction the members of the club were suitably addressed by Commodore Thomson. He said in brief: "We have been greatly favored with beautiful weather today, all in harmony with the words of our opening hymn: 'Summer suns are shining over land and sea.' All nature is rejoicing under the warm rays of Old Sol and our hearts go out in gratitude to Almighty God for His goodness to us. We also render thanks for His guardianship to us during the cruise, and that serious accident has occurred to any member of the squadron. Our thanks are due to Dr. Morrison for his kindness and brotherly love conducting the services today and I can assure him we greatly appreciate the fine sermon he has given us."

"You will be pleased to learn that our beloved chaplain (or sky pilot as he has called himself) Dr. Lindsay Parker, is now at Robbsey, I had a chat with him last Sunday, and you will be pleased to learn he is much improved in health. He still has some periods of depression caused by nervous prostration, but the doctors tell him he has nothing wrong organically, so we can cherish the hope that he will yet be restored to health and that we shall again have our jolly chaplain with us on our cruises."

"To Mr. Frodham I beg to express the thanks of the R. K. Y. C. for the use of his beautiful grounds for this service with your permission the collection will be left to the executive committee to be given as they may think best."

"In regard to myself, I would remind you this is the first annual cruise I have missed since I became your Commodore. I hope next year circumstances will be different. I now declare this the tenth annual cruise of the R. K. Y. C. ended and the squadron will disband."

THOUSANDS LOSE HOMES IN FIRE

Japanese City is Visited By Disastrous Conflagration - Loss is Millions.

Osaka, Japan, Aug. 1.—Confusion prevails as a result of Saturday's disastrous fire. Thousands of persons are homeless and hunger is staring many of them in the face.

The number of casualties has not yet been determined, but hundreds of injured persons are crowding the hospitals. The last estimates are that 20,000 buildings were destroyed, including banks, government edifices and factories.

The conflagration lasted more than 25 hours and today a narrow section presents a deplorable sight. The streets of the city are very narrow and the houses mostly of wood construction.

An area over four miles square, containing some of the city's handsomest structures, including the Buddhist temple, the largest in the world, was entirely burned over before the fire was brought under control.

Another example of the marvelous merit of Dr. Hamilton's Pills comes from Kingston, where E. J. Handson was stricken with the stone.

ROXBURY BASEBALL TEAM MAY BE BROUGHT TO ST. JOHN

Talk of A Labor Day Visit—A Half Hour With the Baseballists, Athletes, Oarsmen and Race Track Followers.

The Roxbury team, one of the best non-professional baseball aggregations in Massachusetts, may arrange games in St. John for Labor Day if the financial inducements are sufficient.

Evidence baseball fans of 30 years ago who saw Paul Hines make his famous triple play at the Messrs street grounds there, are up in arms over the recent statements to the effect that Hines' play was not in reality a triple play unassisted, another player aided him in making the third out.

Johnny Evers, who has been at the other end of some great throws by John Kling, and who has been watching young Archer very closely, says: "Just watch this fellow Archer throw. He is a better pitcher than Kling, and that is saying a good deal. He has shown big improvement since he has been with the Cuba Archer in a Canadian who was released by Hugh Jennings of Detroit last season."

With the New York Giants the sacrifice hit is practically a thing of the past. Four weeks ago McGraw surprised his players by telling them to drop that ancient landmark of the game and to "bust the ball in the eye." They heeded straight to the mark, and as a result, they won 16 out of 18 games. They only time they sacrifice now is when a runner is on second and they want to move him up to third so that a long fly can score him.

The Western Canada Baseball League is not paying and is shaky. There is a proposition to divide the league into eastern and western sections.

Time was when John Clarkson and Mike Kelly sold for $10,000 and the public gasped. They believed this to be the high tide for baseball stars, but today it is a minor league price. Last year Marquardt, an untired pitcher, sold for $11,000. "Cy" Young represents an outlay of about $10,000 for the Cleveland club; Roger Bresnahan, according to Stanley Robinson, stands him $75,000, he having traded four men worth $20,000 and guaranteed Bresnahan $25,000 for three years' work.

James C. Rice, of Toronto, who is coaching Columbia university crews, has been offered a new contract covering a period from Sept. 15, 1909, to Sept. 15, 1913. He will be prohibited after October 1, in accordance with an amendment to the university's by-laws, from coaching for five years or five years after he came to the university as a rowing coach in 1906, and his first crew, in June, 1907, was beaten three feet by the Cornell varsity eight. In 1908 and 1909 his men again were second in the main race.

Chas. B. Robinson, chairman of the "Back of Montreal" Water Sports committee, is in receipt of a communication from Tom Eyck, of the Ottawa Rowing Club, who had the Ottawa Rowing Club championship series on Saturday by 8 to 2 on the Shamrock grounds.

FOUR OARED RACE AT SEASIDE PARK The four-oared boat race at Seaside Park Saturday evening excited a lot of interest and a very large crowd of people watched the event from the bluff along the shore. The crews were in fine condition, the contest was keen and the spectators appreciated the efforts of the rowers heartily. The course was marked off by stake boats. The crews were Silliphant, Bury, Rolston and McLaren; Rose, O'Leary, Daley and Belyea. Aid. Poter was referee, George South and Col. P. M. Hunt, of Milford (Mass.), were the judges. The officials went over the course with the racers. The boats were close together until they turned the stake boats, there not being half a length's difference between them at any time.

They rounded the boat together and bent away for the finish. Gradually, but surely Silliphant, Bury, Rolston and McLaren drew ahead of the others and in spite of repeated shouts of encouragement to Rose, O'Leary, Daley and Belyea, won by about two lengths.

THORNE CUP IS WON BY DR. MAGEE

Dr. J. M. Magee, president of the St. John Golf Club, won the Thorne cup on Saturday afternoon. The Thorne cup is a spirited contest. There was a fairly large list of entries and the best scores were unusually low.

This match is a twenty-seven hole, medal play, from scratch. Dr. Magee's total was the best that has ever been recorded in the Thorne cup contest, two of his rounds being done in thirty-seven and thirty-nine.

Andrew J. Jones and J. T. Hart had a thirty-seven-one over bogey—but their totals were not so good as the president's. The course was in good shape, having been much improved this season, but it is unusually dry and some of the players found the short game uncommonly difficult on that account. The run being greater than usual.

Halifax is to play next Saturday. This is the annual match, held by the St. John club with local clubs. The St. John club will lack some of their best men who are out of town, E. A. Smith and H. N. Stetson among them. Play in the Ives cup proceeds this week.

LONGBOAT WAS EASY FOR SHRUBB

Toronto, Aug. 1.—AIF Shrubb won the twelve mile race from Longboat at Scarborough on Saturday. The race was held under the auspices of the Toronto Yacht Club. Longboat was vomiting and quit at the end of seven and three-quarter miles. Shrubb won the race in 1:10.34. Longboat was vomiting and quit at the end of seven and three-quarter miles. A match was then made between Shrubb and AIF Shrubb for Tuesday next for ten miles.

Halifax Regatta Halifax, N. S., Aug. 1.—(Special)—The regatta at Halifax, N. S., on Saturday afternoon, was greeted by an ideal day and a large crowd. The regatta was held under the auspices of the M. P. A. A. and the newly formed Maritime Provinces Rowing Association. It was intended by the regatta committee to hold the regatta on the 1st of August, but as the weather was so good, it was decided to hold the event under the double sanction. FOULKES IS CHAMPION Montreal, Aug. 1.—Capt. Foulkes of Ottawa has regained the right to be called the champion tennis player of the Dominion, which he lost to Southwell last year. In the final in the men's singles championship of Canada, he defeated Vessey, of Montreal, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1.

BIG POTATO CROP (Woodstock Sentinel) E. J. Briggs, of Bellevue, was in town Saturday last. He called at the Sentinel office with some samples of Carleton Co. potatoes, which for size and beauty surpasses anything we have ever seen at this time of year. The seed for these potatoes were planted just six weeks previous. Mr. Briggs says that the crops are looking excellent and the farmers will have a bumper one this year.

Rheumatism and Kidney Troubles ARE QUICKLY, SURELY "FATHER MORRISCY'S No. 7."

It is doubtful if any other form of disease causes so much acute suffering as does Kidney Trouble, with the Rheumatism which results from it. In treating the sick of his parish Father Morriscy soon found this out, and he set himself at once to find a safe and certain remedy.

He succeeded, and has left us a prescription, known as "Father Morriscy's No. 7," which has already relieved and cured thousands.

The Kidneys have been called the "sweaters" of the body. Their work is to take out of the blood the worn out tissue and other impurities which it gathers up from different parts of the body.

Campbell, Dec. 8th, 1905. I can testify to the fact that with Kidney trouble that six hospital doctors told me that it was not possible for me to live. I was bloated so that I could scarcely walk, my usual weight being one hundred and ninety pounds and I was bloated so as I weighed two hundred and thirty. I went to see Father Morriscy and after using his medicine for eight days I went to work and have been at work ever since, and I am glad to say that at present I am in perfect health.

Respectfully,—DAVID FAHEY. Pitou, N.S. FATHER MORRISCY MEDICINE CO., LTD. I can testify to the benefit derived from Father Morriscy's cure for Bronchitis.

For some time I was a sufferer from this trouble, and could get no relief from it, until I used his medicine prescribed. On taking Father Morriscy's medicine, to my surprise I began to improve, and was completely cured. I remain,—JOHN GRATTAN.

These are exactly the same remedies as were prescribed by Father Morriscy himself. They are put up by the same druggists, from the original prescriptions left by the author. Each of these prescriptions has been thoroughly tested—for years—and has a record of hundreds of cures. Get them at your dealer's, or from FATHER MORRISCY MEDICINE CO., LTD., CHATHAM, N.B.

body. When the Kidneys get sluggish, and fail to do their work, the blood gets loaded with these impurities, which form Uric Acid—a most irritating poison. This Uric Acid is deposited in the joints, the muscular tissue, and in the valves of the heart, causing agony in every movement, —in short, Rheumatism.

"Father Morriscy's No. 7" begins by toning up and stimulating the sluggish Kidneys to clear themselves of the accumulated poison. When they once get working properly, they soon filter out the Uric Acid from the blood—the whole system is cleared of it—the joints limber up—and the Rheumatism is cured. PRICE, 50 CENTS.

Chatham, N.B. FATHER MORRISCY MEDICINE CO., LTD. I contracted rheumatism by exposure, five years ago, and was ailing for two months and in great pain when I got Father Morriscy's No. 7 Tablets, and took them for about three weeks, when the rheumatism all left me, and I have had no return of the pains since. JAMES LAB. JOHNSTONE (Expert coroner's player and prominent member of the Citrus Band, of Chatham, N.B.) Bath, N.B., Nov. 17, 1908.

I had been troubled with muscular rheumatism for twelve years, till my brother Macie advised me to go to Father Morriscy, who had cured him. I consulted Father Morriscy, and he prescribed for me. Since using his medicine I have not been troubled any more. You may use my name if it will be the means of any person using the medicine, and I hope others will receive the great benefits I did.

Yours truly,—J. W. BOHAN. FATHER MORRISCY MEDICINE CO., LTD. I can testify to the benefit derived from Father Morriscy's cure for Bronchitis.

McLEEREY IS FOUND DEAD BY HIS BROTHER

Alone in Canoe at Head of Reach, Meets Death by Discharge of Rifle. A shocking accident occurred at Jones Creek, near the head of the Reach, on the St. John River, Saturday morning, in which the late Mr. McLeerey was shot and killed almost in sight of his brother's home at which he had left his young wife only a short time before. Mr. McLeerey had gone out in a canoe to shoot ducks and while it is not known positively just how the accident occurred, it is supposed his gun was accidentally discharged when he attempted to take it from the bottom of the canoe.

It was still early in the morning when he left his brother's house alone, taking with him a double barreled shot gun and rifle. Placing both of these in the canoe he paddled for some distance. The gun was the last seen of him until he was found a short time later by his brother O'Leary. His body had fallen forward and it was found that the charge from the rifle, which was empty, had passed into one of his lungs, probably killing him instantly. So close was the muzzle of the rifle to his body at the time of its discharge that the bullet had ignited his clothing which had burned fiercely. The body was badly charred when discovered by his brother, who after recovering somewhat from the terrible shock took it to his home, and notified Coroner Gilchrist, of Greenwick.

Mr. McLeerey's untimely end seems all the more sad in view of the fact that with his wife, to whom he had been married not more than two years, he had just reached his old home on a visit from Texas where he has lived for about twenty years. He had only a few days ago received his discharge from the United States army, with which he had served as a Red Cross nurse, and after spending a week or two at the Creek, he had returned to his home in St. John, where he was to be joined by his father, the late Albert McLeerey, died last winter. His brothers are O'Leary and Ivy, who live on the old homestead at Jones Creek; Gordon and Watson, of Boston, and Capt. Herbert McLeerey, an officer on one of the St. John river steamers.

When Mr. McLeerey's body was brought to the house Mrs. McLeerey collapsed. She remained in a state of prostration throughout the day. A physician was summoned and yesterday her condition was so terrible she could not be moved. The funeral of the late Mr. McLeerey will be held at Kingston today.

HARD WORK. First Stork—You look bad. Don't you need a vacation? Second Stork—Yes. That last youngster I brought was a terror. He wanted me to land him on the moon and bawled because I wouldn't let him pull the tail of a comet. Am I just about all in.

NO ROBERTS. Brown—Don't you sometimes regret that you never learned to swim? Woodson—No. The knowledge that I can't swim has always led me to avoid deep water. Possibly it has saved my life.

SIX BATHERS DROWN

Sharon, Mass., Aug. 1.—Samuel C. Lee, of Boston, salesman for the United States shirt & Collar Company, who until recently lived at the Hotel Plaza in that city, and Chas. Hanbro, a clerk at a liquor store in Dartmouth street, Boston, were drowned late today in the mill pond at the near of the Acme Thread Company's works. Lee was unable to swim. He slipped into a deep hole and both he and Hanbro, who tried to save him, lost their lives.

Salisbury, Mass., Aug. 1.—Joseph Botwin, aged 35, of Lowell, was drowned while bathing at Salisbury Beach today. He came here today with his wife to visit his daughter, Mrs. C. Campbell, and had an hour after eating a hearty dinner, went into the water. He was attacked with acute indigestion and drowned before help could reach him.

Winchendon, Mass., Aug. 1.—August Menden, 30 years old, a baker of Gardner, was drowned in Lake Dennison today, when he jumped from his boat after it had "shipped" considerable water. He was seen from shore and Harry Scharano went out to his assistance, but Menden sank.

Chelmsford, Mass., Aug. 1.—Despite the efforts of two men to rescue her, Mrs. Fred Tisdale, of Springfield, was drowned in Hart Pond in South Chelmsford today while bathing. Mrs. Tisdale was 28 years old.

Pittsfield, Mass., Aug. 1.—Nathan Baine's bathing companion in Onora Lake, missed him after they dressed and left the lake today, and on returning to look for him, they found his body near the shore in four feet of water. Baine could not swim. He was 28 years old and was employed here as a dry goods clerk.

Mystery of Chewing Gum

Chewing-gum has been called the mysterious confection, for out of the millions of persons who use it there are very few who are aware how it is manufactured, and they really do not know what they are masticating.

As a matter of fact, chewing gum is nothing more than chicle mixed with sugar and flavoring to give it the pleasing taste. This chicle is the gum of a tree which grows plentifully in Mexico and Central America, and in recent years it has been cultivated on a large scale in Yucatan, where one company owns several million acres of the trees. The chicle tree is very similar to the India rubber tree, and the gum was first shipped to America by men who were of the opinion that they had discovered a perfect substitute for rubber. The chicle gum was found to be insoluble and therefore could not take the place of the rubber gum. (To this day there has not been an acid, spirit, alkali or other found that will dissolve the gum. As a consequence of this large shipments of the gum lay unused, and unusable on the pier docks at Brooklyn. The gum is reddish and has sort of a rubber look about it. The fact that the gum could be used for chewing purposes was discovered through an accident, one of the men who examined it placing a small piece in his mouth. He was surprised at its consistency and he invented chewing gum.

The present channel runs up in almost a straight line past the foal grounds to the cotton mill wharf. The engineers of the department are inclined to think that it may be cheaper to excavate a channel there. It will be much shorter and in their opinion will be much more easily protected than the straight channel there. Mr. Davey thinks, will be about three weeks in Courtney Bay.

HAD HIS SHARE. Mrs. B.—So you think you won't camp out during your vacation this summer? Mr. A.—No. We moved this spring, and I think I have had all the discomfort that I really need.

THE BORINGS AT COURTNEY BAY The boring operations which were carried on by the department of public works on the site of the proposed new wharf to the south of the present wharves at Sand Point were completed Saturday morning and the apparatus was moved into Courtney Bay, where work was started at once.

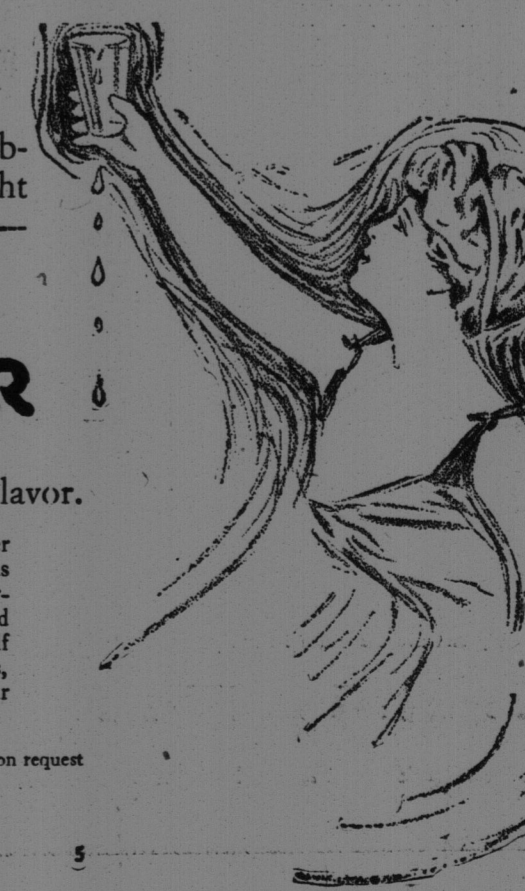

H. M. Davey, the engineer in charge, said there will be a little rock excavation to do in the corner of the berth nearest to the present wharf. No rock was found in any other part of the site. The borings have been carried on over 600 feet from Sand Point wharf. The ledge known as Blue Rock extends into the corner of one of the new berths for about 400 feet. The surface of the rock was found to be very uneven but no great amount of blasting will be required anywhere.

The object of again taking borings in Courtney Bay, Mr. Davey said, was large to get a profile of the slope of the rock near the edge so as to find out the best position for the proposed docks. Incidentally, however, an effort will be made to test the feasibility of a new channel.

WALLACE GETS THREE YEARS

"Raised" Check Case Ends— He Tells His Story—Taylor His Name.

Frank Wallace, who was committed for trial last week by Judge Ritchie, in the raised cheque case and elected to be tried by the Speedy Trial Act, appeared before Judge Forbes in the County Chambers this morning, and pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to three years in Dorchester with hard labor.

He stated that he belonged to New England, and his father's name was Charles Taylor. After dissection had separated the family, he said he swore that he would never again be known by the name of Taylor. The therefore assumed the name of Frank Wallace, his first two names, at the death of his father.

Last summer he said he came to Montreal (N. B.), and returned to Boston via Yarmouth. However, he returned to the provinces some weeks later. This time he visited Moncton and later St. John. He said he was unable to obtain employment, and was compelled to secure the clothes by false pretenses.

SAID THINGS CAME TOO SWIFTLY

McAllister and His Ticket on Conductor Johnston's Train—Police Court Matters.

In the police court this morning Frank McAllister pleaded not guilty to refusing to furnish his ticket to Rothesay to Conductor Johnston of the Halifax express on Saturday night, and being abusive to the conductor.

McAllister's version was that he, accompanied by a ten-year-old boy named Beamish, boarded the train for Rothesay, with the intention of spending Sunday with his wife and children at Armstrong's Corner.

According to McAllister the conductor requested his ticket prior to reaching Rothesay, and when he was dilatory in obtaining it from one of his pockets where it was held by some obstacle, some person struck him on the nose and handcuffed his hands behind his back with the ticket then in one hand. The conductor, he said, then ejected the boy from the train, and transferred McAllister to an incoming train at Pettitodias. A deposit of $25 was entered for his reappearance on Thursday, when the conductor returns from Halifax.

He intimated that the Beamish boy returned to the city last night, after remaining at Rothesay on Saturday night.

Joseph Doherty, who said he was drinking on Sunday morning, but was not intoxicated, also denied that he was profane in the presence of the police. The policemen, however, say that he was impertinent when requested to move. He was fined $8 or thirty days.

Albert Stackhouse, who was also drinking, but said he was not intoxicated, was fined $8.00 or thirty days.

David Ritchie was fined the same penalty.

William Baxter was ordered to obtain a license or permit to be for selling fish in the streets.

But the three-mile intermediate will also be a very keenly contested race, bringing together some very promising young runners.

DENIES RUMOR

To the Editor of The Times:—As certain persons have industriously spread the report that I have been acting as a contributor to a Moncton weekly sheet, I will be glad if you will give publication to my positive statement that I have not been such at any time or in any way. I will, moreover, challenge any person who connected with the paper or otherwise, to prove to the contrary.

BETTING ON BASEBALL

The series of championship games between the St. Peters and Marathons has aroused the betting instinct of sporting men. One fortunate plunger gathered in over a hundred dollars on Saturday, by betting on the Marathons. He found takers because there were many who expected the St. Peters to win on their own grounds.
