**A LARGE STOCK OF goods, only one of which Mr. Kethro condescends to notice. In order to understand this matter properly we must quote from the Advocate of August 30th, what Mr. M'-Guire did say. Referring to the alteration of the Prayer Book by the Ritualists he notes the change of the calendar so as to include the names of many Romish saints, &c., and Farm Produce, Stock, Farm Utensils. TUBULAR & SQUARE LANTERNS the substitution of priest for minister in the Rubric connected with the absolution."-Passing from the Prayer Book he goes on to speak of "a tampering with the word of God" by substituting at instead of in, in Phillipians 2nd, 10th, the reason being that it | TEMBER, at 10 a.m., of bowing at the name of Jesus in the Creed 506 bushels Oats, 100 barrels Potatoes, etc. and elsewhere during the service." This changing of the Bible to suit the Prayer Book "took place in the days of Archbishon Laud, the Romanizer of the Church of England." If we turn to our bibles (Phil. 2nd, 10th,) we find the word at (which should be in) put there by the translators of the Bible who were but newly cut loose from ALL THE HOUSEHOLD EFFECTS, Rome and had not given up all their Romish | Consisting of Furniture, Stoves, Kitchen practices; hence the necessity for a new translation not made to conform to any Prayer Book, or license any bowings and genuflexions, and strange to say, Mr. Kethro | 1 Singer Sewing Machine, a lot of Books, and adds amen to his own condemnation by writing to the Advance that the disputed word is in the Market word is just what Mr. M'Guire said it was. himself, and not only this but blinded by to write in the public papers that a minister preached falsehoods. How very charitable for him to add insult to injury by calling Mr. M'Guire a pounder (not an expounder) of the gospel. What a barberous joke on such a serious subject! But Mr. Kethro wants to be left to God while he calls Mr, M'Guire to account himself. What prime conceit .-Why not leave Mr. M'Guire to God, surely he is able to judge him too? I shall not follow the subject further, CALL AND INSPECT enough has been said to convince Mr. Kethro that when he again rushes into print to be sure he is right, then go ahead. REVIEWER.

It would be well for this knight of the Prayer Book to continue on dressing up ministers. Let him keep a keen edge on his razors and it may partly atone for the dullness of his wit. The Thistle and the Rope-Walk. 'Such a mite as I can do no good, is the general impression of our boys and girls, when they are urged to do what they can for the good work .-

But smaller, humbler instruments than you God has made use of to do CANADIAN TWEEDS, great works in this world. A great army, many years ago, invaded Scotland. They crept on stealthily over the border, and prepared to make a night attack on the They are the cheapest that has been Scottish forces. There lay the camp all silently sleeping in the starlight, never dreaming that danger was so near. The Danes, to make their advance more noiseless, came forward barefooted. But as they neared the sleeping Scots one unlucky Dane brought his broad foot down squarely on a bristling thistle.

A roar of pain was the consequence which rang like a trumpet blast through the sleeping camp. In a moment each soldier had grasped his weapon, and the Danes were thoroughly routed. The thistle was from that GROCERIES time adopted as the national emblem of Scotland.

By the harbor of New London there was once a long, old rope-walk, with a row of square window-holes fronting the water. In the time of war a British Admiral was cruising off that coast, and had a very good chance to enter and destroy the town. He was once asked afterward why he did not do it. He replied that he should have done so 'if it hadn't been for that formidable long fort whose guns entirely commanded the harbor.' He had been scared off by the old rope walk! SALTER BRI K STORE!
