CHAUTAUQUA OPENS HERE AUGUST 15

Guarantors are Reminded of their Responsibilities—Public Should Secure Seats Early

The big seven days Chautauque program commences at Florenceville, August 15; Hartland, August 15 and Woodstock, August 16. To have three Chautauques in three towns so close together is rather a heavy undertaking and it is up to every guarantor to do his utmost to sell the required number of tickets. There may be some who have forgotten that they signed the guarantee to the Chautauque. Everyone who signed should remember that they are under an obligation, and that selling a proportionate number of tickets does not relieve them of the responsibility.

From now until mid-August everyone should talk Chautauque and fan the flame of enthusiasm.

In Hartland tickets will be on sale next Tuesday and thereafter at the following places: D. H. Morgan & Son, Bank of Montreal, Hatfield & Co., F. E. Sayre, Hartland Drug Co., W. H. Thornton, Hartland Clothing Co. Hartland Chautauque tickets will also be on sale at the stores of J. W. Boyer & Co., Victoria, G. E. DeWitt, Waterville, W. F. Anderson, Lakeville, G. A. Clark, Stickney, E. B. Estabrook, Coldstream, G. W. Hatfield & Son, St. Andrews, Judd McGee, Lower Brighton, G. G. Barter, Avondale, Perry Fitzgerald, Glassville, Mrs. Perley Wason, Windsor.

You may buy tickets from any of these parties or of A. W. Kyle, secretary, Hartland, and book your seat early. You may phone or write for reservations.

Tickets are not transferable and may be used only by the purchaser. Those who purchase in advance are guaranteed a seat; there will be no waiting or anxiety for a holder of a season ticket; each retains the same seat throughout the course. The cost of a season ticket is $2.50, while those who purchase single tickets after the opening date will be required to pay 50 cents for each evening entertainment.

PROGRESS OF TRUSTEES' ASSOCIATION

For the information of those who may be wondering what the new Trustees Association has been doing I may say that we at once took up the question of having the Teachers' Association hold the new schedule in abeyance for a year with B. C. Foster, President, Fredericton. We presented this matter on the ground that the majority of the country districts are in real difficulty with regard to financing at the legal rates imposed last January; that the whole matter in the cause of much discussion pro and con—neither trustees nor teachers being clear as to which schedule they are bound; that the new rates should not be imposed until after the Provincial Convention of Trustees at Fredericton where the salary question could be taken up jointly with the teachers; and finally, but by no means least, the teachers would have a great deal to gain and nothing to lose by this concession, for they have confessed their helplessness to move the Board of Education to increase their grants, but by standing in well with the Trustees Association which will so largely represent the whole public sentiment of the province, the above Board will very quickly see that something must be done at once.

In order to expedite matters Berton C. Foster was invited to Hartland to discuss the situation. He spent about two hours here on Wednesday with the Secretary and meeting as many of the Association as could be got together. He showed a very superficial acquaintance with the subject as it affects the country districts, but promised to see what could be done. The secretary felt that probably the matter would be dropped unless persistently pushed and embodied above consideration in a telegram to which he received an answer that the Teachers' Executive would be consulted at once and the result made known through the press for the information of Trustees and Teachers.

J. S. King, sec-treas. Trustees Assn., Carleton Co.

RIDEOUT-McKAY

A marriage of much interest was solemnized at the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. E. A. Tribes, Hartland, on Wednesday, July 13, when Burt Bipperville Rideout of Somerville was united in marriage to Miss Jennie Elizabeth McKay of Florenceville.

The bride was becomingly attired in a travelling suit of navy serge with hat to match. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left by auto for Fredericton. After a short honeymoon trip they returned to reside at Somerville where the groom is an energetic young farmer.

Miss McKay has been an efficient teacher for some time and has many friends who wish the young couple a long and happy wedded life.

DIDN'T GET PIANO; HEAVY COSTS INSTEAD

The Queenston Heights episode was re-enacted after a fashion on Tuesday when a man accompanied by several assistants came from Mars Hill and proceeded to take the law in his own hands—or, rather, to ignore the laws of Canada. The object of this man was to seize a piano which he said was his, but which the laws of this country protected against any claims he had. He secured the services of a certain provincial constable, who also is a "holy roller" by faith, and proceeded to the home of a man at Middle Simonds where the piano was. On pretext of wishing to use the Simonds man's phone the constable was admitted to the house before his real errand was known. Soon as he entered the door he told the others to follow and the men laid hold of the home of contention and hustled it out and on to an auto truck that had been powerless to do anything to prevent the seizure except to telephone the Police Magistrate at Hartland. This proved very effective for the magistrate hastily swore in three constables—Frank L. Dickinson, G. M. McLeod and Clayton Craig, and they started in pursuit. The truck was overhauled near Connell and there ensued a very lively scrimmage. Constable Dickinson was the chief operator and tackled a man of very sound build who is said to be the big brother of Mars Hill. He resisted arrest so strenuously that a complete knock-out was necessary. The religious provincial constable also showed strong resistance. All were brought to Hartland and the piano was replaced in the house from whence it was taken.

Tried summarily before the Police Magistrate the men were allowed to go by paying all the costs of the fracas, which were made up at $110. Given their liberty the "razzies" made the gravest in their hands to get back under their own flags. The trip was an expensive one, costing the man the hire of a truck for 30 miles, and of his compatriot assistants and the doubtful aid of the "provincial constable." And then the $110—and the injured dignity, and having to listen to the grumbling of the bruised assistants all the way home.

THREE BALL GAMES HERE NEXT WEEK

On Monday evening Bridgewater base ball team came to Hartland and accepted defeat in a score of 21 to 0. Hartland team was never in better form and it was a pity that on the occasion they had not heavier opponents.

Next week Hartland will play in three league games: At Grand Falls on Monday; Perth at Hartland on Wednesday, and Florenceville at Hartland on Friday.

The games on Wednesday will probably be the most interesting played here this season. Perth is at the head of the league list and Hartland is at the foot. The game will start at sharp 4 p.m., and an effort will be made to have the stores close at that hour and let all hands have a breathing spell for once during the summer.

The three games next week should be well patronized.

STIFF SENTENCE FOR ILLEGAL FISHING

American Poacher Finds Netting Salmon in New Brunswick Waters a Costly Pastime

Last Wednesday night Fishery Officers Messereau and Boyer discovered a party of four poachers busily engaged in netting the well known salmon pool at Bristol. They lay in wait until the men came ashore when they "lit out" on them. The men took to their heels, with Boyer after them, Messereau being unable to follow in the pursuit on account of his suffering from wounds received on active duty overseas. The first man Boyer overhauled was a big fellow and not easily handled. Boyer was determined, however, and held the man down until Messereau came up, when the poacher subsided. Meanwhile the other three made a safe getaway. The officers, besides arresting the man seized the whole fishing outfit, including net, boat and automobile. In the net was a large quantity of salmon, which were freed. The man was taken to Woodstock. He refused to give his own name or that of his friends, but it is stated that a fine of $400 was paid and the man was given his liberty.

The prisoner stated that he lived in the United States—his car bore a Maine tag—and had been invited to come over to enjoy some sport at drifting for salmon. It is presumed that the other three residents of the county who knew the locality well. Since it is learned that the name of the man arrested was Phair and that he hails from Van Buren.

SCHOOL NOTES

The school Board has secured the services of Miss Jane McBeath, a 1st class superior teacher of 8 years experience, nearly all spent in superior schools where she had to handle grades 1 to 10. She will have charge of the department next to the principal.

For the next department we have Miss Anna Kingston, late of Havelock Superior School, where she has been for 5 years of her 7 years work as a 2nd class teacher.

Mrs. Anna Nixon will continue to preside over the primary department where she has been very successful. Those who have pupils in her care and who have visited her room, recognize her ability especially with the little tots just starting out.

Gage Montgomery, having shown great interest in the school work and proved himself a worker of ability, has been retained for the 2nd department.

In order to revive interest in the school library the Board has ordered a copy of the Children's Encyclopedia, or Book of Knowledge. There are 20 volumes well written in simple, easy, readable style, with everything well pictured out—the easiest way to build further instruction on the child's present intelligence. The secretary would much appreciate the gift of good magazines, pamphlets or books that would be of interest to the school.

Toronto, Ont.—"I suffered with irregular menstruation, was weak and run down, could not eat and had headaches. The worst symptoms were dragging down pains, so bad I sometimes thought I would go crazy and I seemed to be smothering. I was in this condition for two or three years and could not seem to work. I tried all kinds of medicines and had been treated by physicians but received no benefit. I found one of your booklets and felt inclined to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I received the best results from it and now I keep house and go out to work and am like a new woman. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound to my friends and if these facts will help some poor woman use them as you please."—Mrs. J. F. Peasey, 387 King St., Toronto, Ontario.

Death of Mrs. Annie L. Green Young at Madison, Me.

Madison and surrounding community was shocked Wednesday, July 6, Young, which took place very suddenly that morning. Having been in good health the day before, she spent the day busy with household duties and made a few calls in the evening. The next morning she arose and apparently finding it to be quite early lay down again and passed quietly away before anyone could realize the fact. She leaves a husband, Howard Young, of Madison, two sons, Norman L. Green of Dover and E. W. Green of North New Portland, also a niece, Edna E. Wolverton of Mars Hill, whom she cared for from infancy. Five brothers and two sisters survive, besides a number of other relatives and many friends both here and in New Brunswick, where she lived for many years. Mrs. Young was 56 years of age. She led a quiet Christian life and will be much missed among the churches at Madison. Funeral service was held Friday afternoon at the Madison Congregational church. Rev. Mr. McElaney spoke very impressively from Mark 14: 3-9, after which the service was taken in charge by the Rebecca. The floral offerings were very beautiful some of which represented the W. C. T. U., the Rebecca and the Sunshine, all of which she was a member. The burial took place at Southside cemetery, Skowhegan.

EAST FLORENCEVILLE

(Intended for last week)

Rev. Mr. Chowen, the newly appointed Methodist minister for this district, arrived with his family taking the place of Rev. F. A. Wightman who has moved to South Devon.

Miss Jean Charlton and her friend, Miss Ann Mallory of Boston, Mass., are visiting at Mrs. P. R. Semple's.

Miss Evelyn Banks formerly of this part of N. B. but now living in North Brookville, Mass., with her nephew, Mr. Barry, motored through here and stopped a few days with J. W. Banks and other relatives.

Miss Grace Page, reader, Miss Hilda Page, contralto, and Miss Willa Semple, pianist, young ladies who have been attending Acadia and Mount Allison, gave a concert in Smith's Hall here. The young ladies are preparing themselves for Chautauqua work. Their entertainment was very pleasing to the listeners, and being Carleton County girls, we wish them good luck.

The base ball teams are running 50-50 in the St. John valley league. Perhaps it might be well to mention the fact that the St. John Valley league is composed of teams from Grand Falls, Perth, Florenceville, and Hartland. Perth leads. Grand Falls and Florenceville tied for second, Hartland last. Perth team seems to be the only team that can stop the leaders as they have lost only one game and that to Hartland.

PROMINENT HARTLAND BOY

The following is from the Dorchester, (Mass.) Beacon:

Probable one of the most forceful speakers among the local clergy is Rev. A. A. Rideout, pastor of the Blaney Memorial church of the Lower Mills section. No public gathering seems to be complete without his and when he speaks he attracts considerable attention and his words are listened to with enrapt attention. He has a wonderful control of the English language and his eloquence has been an inspiration to many. His utterances at the recent Memorial Day exercises of the Grand Army at Cedar Grove, where he presided as orator of the day commemorating valorous activities of the forces of the United States during its history, were very impressive, particularly to the "vets" of '61, wearing their blue uniforms, tenderly cherished by the warriors, and the be-medalled youths in khaki, who understood the significance of the speaker's well-spoken words.

GOLDEN WEDDING

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Wilnot Burt was celebrated on July 16 at their home at Upper Woodstock. Mr. and Mrs. Burt are both hale and hearty and enjoyed the happy reunion with relatives and friends. After a very pleasant afternoon spent in renewing old acquaintance and the changes in past fifty years, supper was served followed by a short program. They were presented with a purse of money and several other gifts suitable to the occasion; also telegrams of congratulation from distant friends. The party separated, wishing them many more years to gether.

BE PROGRESSIVE—ADVERTISE!

ANNOTATED THE OWNER

It is a well established fact that when Sheriff Foster and his trusty deputy, H. V. Mooers, set out on an errand they accomplish it to the complete and entire satisfaction of all concerned. Even when it is a case of arrest or replevin the victim feels like taking off his hat to the officers. This was recently the case at East Florenceville.

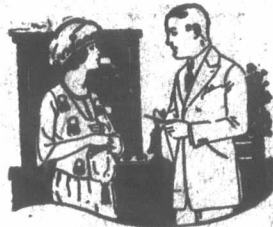

The story is this: A man at Portage Lake, Me., had an automobile stolen from him and reported the loss to Sheriff Foster. The other evening Sheriff Foster and Deputy Mooers were passing East Florenceville when they identified the car standing in front of a fruit store. They arrested the driver and the companion with him. The driver protested that he was the owner of the car. The sheriff could not be bluff; he said it was the same old story. The prisoner argued to no avail for half an hour, during the course of which time he said that he had had a score of officers looking for his car, but that Foster and Mooers were the first men that were right on the job. Here is the joke: It took the man an hour to satisfy the officers that he really was the owner of the car and that he had himself discovered the car at Bangor and was returning to his home by this route.

RAIN WELCOME BUT MARRED THE PICNIC

The rain of Tuesday afternoon and evening was just what the gardens and crops needed but nearly put the Church of England picnic out of business. The day began with only a half-promise of fair weather and this kept back the attendance. At one o'clock everything was in readiness for a good time and it looked as though the affair might be a success after all. But before a very large crowd had assembled the clouds apilled their burden in bucketsful. The occasion was damped. Nevertheless supper was served in excellent manner, although somewhat under difficulties, and all who partook were amply satisfied. The picnic was for the purpose of raising money to help pay the debt on the new church, and for this purpose the sum of $130 was netted. The rector and members of the congregation wish through The Observer to thank the people of the town who assisted them, and also those who sympathetically turned out in the rain at suppertime. "The Bird," shown in the evening at the Star, drew two fairly good houses considering that it rained a downpour all the evening.

PIGEONS SAVED AVIATORS

Bedraggled Homing Pigeon Carried Message Safely From North Sea.

Somewhere on the northeast coast of England, night was approaching under a drizzly mist, and a raw wind whipped land and sea around the lonely group of buildings of a royal air force pigeon station. It was tea-time, and a welcome hour to the little group of bronzed men in British uniform who were chatting and laughing around the small fire in the messroom. One of them was telling a story of a Portuguese commander who had mistaken a gift of two baskets of British homing-pigeons for an addition to the food supply, and in his letter of thanks to the British commander, had naively remarked that he and his staff had "enjoyed them very much indeed."

But the laugh which greeted his story was cut in two by a sound which caused every man in the room to pause and listen—it was the sharp insistent call of an electric bell which rings automatically when a homing pigeon enters the trap. A non-commissioned officer set down his cup of tea untasted, arose and opened the door leading to the pigeon loft. From a corner where it was huddled he lifted a light blue pigeon, very wet and bedraggled, skillfully removed a small aluminum cylinder from its right leg, slipped the bird into a pigeon basket, and carried it into the messroom.

"Ere!" he called, "set the blasted pigeon on the 'arth till it dries art, and before the order could be obeyed he had drawn from the little cylinder a roll of tissue paper, smoothed it out flat, and was reading aloud:

"Machine wrecked and breaking up fifteen miles southeast of Rocky Point; send boat."

Two men had already reached for their oilskins and were passing out of the door into the fog. Another minute and those tapping their tea heard the staccato "put-put-put" of a motor boat flying away in the general direction of Rocky Point.

Darkness had fallen on the North Sea, and four men, wet and chilled, still hung to a wrecked seaplane. They had little hope that their message had been delivered, or, if it had, that help would come in time to save them. The wind had risen, and now and then the waves tore away some portion of the wreck, which sank lower and lower in the water. At last there came a sound—the sweetest music they had ever heard—the siren of a motor boat. Again and again it sounded, each time nearer; then the bearded men arose and sent up a wild shout in answer, and a hissing bow shot toward them from the darkness.

On top of a little basket by the fire in the messroom a modern blue pigeon sat quietly preening its damp feathers. And the next morning the British papers reported:

"Seaplane N-64 lost in the North Sea, fifteen miles southeast of Rocky Point. All the crew saved."

Steering Vessels by Wireless. Mist and fog will soon have no terrors for airmen. There should be no terrors now, said an official of the Air Ministry, as compasses have been so perfected that they adapt themselves immediately to their strange and trying position.

But even without compasses pilots will be able to make a bee-line for their objective. The other day a pilot and an observer started from the Biggin Hill airfield in a "hu" fitted with wireless telephony. They had, if possible, to pick up a destroyer at some unknown point off the south coast of England, the destroyer also using wireless. Steering purely by wireless, the airplane went in an absolutely straight line in the direction of the destroyer, which was some twenty miles off Brighton.

How is the manner of steering worked? By taking angle bearings, the method used in locating German submarines during the war. By noting the direction of their wireless messages to different points, our wireless experts were able to find the exact position of the submarines.

The wireless methods which proved so effective in war will soon be used to steer our seaplanes from their new port near Sheerness, or from the Thames between Westminster and Battersea, to different points of Europe. When the International Air Convention comes into effect, the trails will also be traced by means of radio signals. Already the names of towns figure in great capitals on the roofs of railway stations in Kent and Sussex.

Mr. Balfour.

Mr. Balfour is a Scottish philosopher who by a series of circumstances became a statesman. To many he is an enigma. "What a riddle!" a French writer exclaimed after a study of his character and personality. In his new book, "Mr. Balfour," Mr. F. T. Raymond says: "Five hundred years hence it will probably not matter very much in history that Mr. Balfour was Prime Minister of Britain, but as long as the proper study of mankind is man he will be something of a puzzle to all who take interest in human personality." Mr. Balfour's mentality is largely that of the metaphysician and as such is probably best understood and appreciated by the Scottish mind.

"Floating" Tower of London.

It is stated that the Tower of London moves four times daily, as the tides in the Thames ebb and flow. According to Mr. J. Leakey Lucas, the movement, which is most pronounced in the part nearest the river, made the place unsuitable for certain recent demonstrations under a Government Department. It seems that the movement is due to the fact that many tons of water penetrate under the foundation with the rising tides, and pass out with the receding tides. While the volume of water is under the building, and gradually increasing as the tide comes in, it has the effect of moving upwards the whole mass of the Tower.

There are 200 species of moss found in the British Isles.

The Imperial Oil Company has erected storage tanks of ample capacity at the private siding of Hartland Cement Block Co. This is a safe distance from any building and they are in no sense a fire menace. Having the tanks erected here will prove a great convenience to the local merchants and the people at large, as in the past the merchants sometimes ran short of kerosene and gasoline in times of storms, when delivery teams could not come from Florenceville. The company have, however, given the people in general good service and their latest effort to this end will be appreciated.

LAST WORDS OF THE SAVIOUR PRESERVED FOR CENTURIES

A Document Which Is Said to Have Been Found Buried at the Foot of the Cross and Which Is Supposed to Have Been Written During His Sufferings.

The following is a letter said to be written by our Saviour and found at the foot of the cross. According to the history of the letter, it was written by Christ just after His crucifixion, signed by the Angel Gabriel 99 years after the Saviour's birth, and presumably deposited by him under a stone at the foot of the cross. On the stone appeared the legend: "Blessed is the one who turn me over."

No one knew what the inscription meant, or seemed to have sufficient curiosity to investigate, until the stone was turned over by a little child, and the letter which follows was discovered:

"Whomsoever works on the Sabbath day shall be cursed. I command you to go to church and keep holy the Lord's day without any manner of work. You shall not idle or mispend your time in bedecking yourself in superfluities of costly apparel and vain dressing, for I have ordered it a day of rest. I will have that day kept holy that your sins may be forgiven you. You will not break my commandments, but observe them and keep them. They have been written by my hand, and spoken from my mouth. You shall not only go to church yourself, but also your servant and maid-servant. Observe my words and learn my commandments. You shall finish your work every Saturday at six o'clock in the afternoon, at which hour the preparation for the Sabbath begins. I advise you to fast five days in the year, beginning on Good Friday, and continue the five days following, in remembrance of the five blood wounds I received for you, mankind. "You shall love one another, and cause them that are not baptized to come to Christ and receive the Holy Sacrament, that is to say, baptism, and then the supper of the Lord, and be made a member thereof, and in so doing I will give you long life and many blessings. Your land shall be replenished and bring forth abundance and I will comfort you in the greatest temptation, and surely he that doeth the contrary shall be cursed. I will also send hardness of the heart on them and especially on hardened and impenitent unbelievers. He that has given to the poor shall find it profitable. Remember to keep the Sabbath day; for the seventh day I have taken as a resting day to myself. And he that hath a copy of this letter written by our own hand and spoken by my own mouth, and keepeth it without publishing it to others shall not prosper. But he that publisheth it to others shall be blessed by me, and if their sins be as many as the stars of night, and if they truly believe not this writing and my commandments will have my plagues upon you and you will be consumed with your children, goods and cattle and all other worldly enjoyments that I have given you. Do but once think of what I have suffered for you; if you do, it will be well for you. In this world and the world which is to come, whomsoever shall have a copy of this letter and keep it in their house, nothing shall hurt them, neither pestilence, thunder or lightning, and if any woman be in birth and put her trust in me she shall be delivered of her child. You shall hear no more news of me except in the Holy Scriptures, until the day of judgment. All goodness and prosperity shall be in the house where a copy of this letter shall be found." Finished.

The story goes that the little girl that found it passed it to one who became a convert to the Christian faith. He failed to have it published, but kept it as a sacred memento of Christ, and it passed down to different generations of his family for more than one thousand years. During this period the family suffered repeated misfortunes, migrated to different countries, until finally one of them came to America, bringing the letter with them. They settled in Virginia, they moved further south, still followed by misfortune, when finally the last member, a daughter, approached her death bed and called a neighbor, Mrs. Thompson, giving her the letter, and related its history that had been kept for more than 1000 years. Mr. Thompson began the attempt and published the letter. It first appeared in Rome, Georgia, U. S. A., Oct. 31, 1891. It then appeared in Dayton, Ga., and Mrs. Wortman, now living in Marion, Ind., clipped it and kept it in her possession for many years without having it published. She was followed by misfortune, which she attributed to her neglect in trying to have it published. Mrs. Crutcheon, of Tennessee, is also said to have failed to make an effort to have it published; for three years it was followed by misfortune. Mrs. Lydia Howell clipped this letter in Alberta, Lea, Minn., and brought it to Canada, after having it in her possession for three years with now attempt to have it published. As far as known this is the first copy of this letter in Canada, Oct. 28, 1918.

Character Revealed by Old Shoes.

There is a good deal of character revealed in a pair of old shoes. If one wants to study them, shoes that are worn away at the outside denote a disorderly and unsystematic mind. The shoe which is worn away at the toe before it has commenced to go anywhere else denotes conceit and self-satisfaction but a hard-headed business person that is apt to get along.
The heel worn away and the toe turned up indicates a tinge of vulgarity.

Ingenious Sun Ovens.

In some tropical regions, where coal is scarce—as in Egypt, the Punjab and the African Karoo—sawwood boxes blackened inside, fitted with glass tops
and properly insulated, are in common use for cooking, baking and other purposes. These sun ovens, which have the advantage of eliminating cost of fuel, afford a temperature of 240 to 275 degrees Fahrenheit in the middle of the day. Provided with a mirror for a reflector they will run up to 290
degrees.—Milwaukee Journal.

You've Got to Hit the Bull.

The halibut feeds on the bottom of the sea, and when he is hooked he allows himself to be drawn toward the top without very much of a protest.
The struggle commences the instant his nose emerges from the water, and the possibility of a fight is anticipated by a hard blow on the head. This blow must be sure and hard, for if there is any compassion for the fish
he is as good as gone, for any opportunity to struggle means its escape.

Slavery in Scotland.

Less than a century and a quarter ago the workers in the coal mines and salt mines of Scotland were legally bound to the places in which they were employed, and when they attempted to escape were pursued, arrested and returned. Their children, if once employed, became subject to the same servitude.

House 1,550 Years Old.

The English castle, Saltwood, near Hythe, which is at present "to let,"
has an interesting history. It was built by Olaf, son of Hengist, in 448,
and rebuilt by Henry de Essex, the king's standard-bearer, about 1100.
Thomas a Becket's murderers met there in 1120 and laid their plans. In King John's reign it was the residence of the archbishop of Canterbury.

Real Sea Monster.

According to scientists of the Smithsonian Institute the record fish was captured at Miami, Fla., after a fight lasting 30 hours. Five harpoons and 150 bullets were required to subdue
the monster. It was a whale shark and weighed 30,000 pounds, its liver alone weighing 1,700 pounds.

WOULD GO FROM HOUSE TO HOUSE

Tennessee Farmer Wants to go From House to House and Tell Everybody About Tanlac.

"If I were not so busy with my farmwork I would go from house to house and tell the people about Tanlac," said A. J. Livingston, a well-known farmer, living near Ashland
City, Tenn.

"I had stomach and kidney trouble and suffered torment with my back and side. The doctors could do nothing for me so I wrote to a friend of mine in Nashville about Tanlac and he advised me to try it, saying he had heard so many favorable reports
about it and sent me a bottle.

"After taking the first bottle I felt so much better that I ordered another bottle myself and the result is I am a well man. I told a friend about it and ordered a bottle for him and he had good results. I can eat anything I want and it don't hurt me and can sleep like a log. To tell the truth, I just simply feel like a new man and have more strength and energy than I have had in years. It is simply the greatest medicine in the world. I would like to see all my friends and get those who are suffering to try it and I hope you will reach them through this testimonial, which I have gladly given."

A tiny accomplished such remarkable results in this man's case, is a wonderful tonic, appetizer and invig-orant. It builds up the system, creates a healthy appetite, promotes digestion and assimilation of the food and makes you feel strong, sturdy and well as nature intended.

Lift off Corns!

Doesn't hurt a bit and Freesone
costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.
A tiny bottle of "Freesone" costs little as any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it starts hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or distress. Truly! No humbug!

LOCAL AND PERSONAL ITEMS

On July 24, Rev. Mr. Bubar of Blaine will preach as follows: Centreville, 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., Carvell 3 p.m. All are invited.

The usual throng of Saturday-night
ers will be treated to a Something Special on Saturday evening, July 25.
The ladies of the U. B. church have started a parsonage verandah fund and in order to augment the funds in the exchange Rev. Mr. Clark of Bridgewater, the famous baritone, has promised to come for an open-air concert
and will bring along the Bridge after band. So all who attend will be able to enjoy a real honest-to-goodness concert,
which like the old-time religion,
will be absolutely without money and without price. Ice cream and delicious cake will be sold during the concert,
so come along whether your ice cream
appetite has the delicate dainties
of a canary or the pretentious proportions of a hippopotamus. The proceeds will be used to help erect a verandah at the U. B. parsonage. In the event of unfavorable weather the affair will be postponed until the Monday evening following. Don't forget the date.

The Misses Michard of Grand Falls
are employed at the Centreville Hotel.
Cyr Violet and family of Hartland
were here on Sunday.

Saturday evening saw a near fight
on the square over a pretty grievance.
After the usual preliminaries were arranged,
however, the would-be pugilists
were deterred by a haze of yellow lights and when the smoke of battle cleared away no one had been hurt.
A shot or two of Squirrel brand would have made the bout more interesting.
Miss Marion White is visiting her mother, Mrs. Alice White.

Mrs. B. B. Estabrooks and Miss Jean Estabrooks drove to Woodstock on Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Sam Charlton of Mad ison, Me., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ester of Waterville, Me., are visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Clark Strahan spent his week's vacation
with friends in Woodstock, returning on Friday.

A number of relatives drove to Woodstock on Saturday to attend the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Will not Burd of that town. About 75 guests were present to wish Mr. and Mrs. Burd a continuance of their long and happy life together and a number of pretty gifts gave concrete evidence of their good wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Burd and Mr.
and Mrs. Elmer Fulton of Bridgewater visited relatives in town on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Irvine of Mars Hill were the guests on Sunday of their daughter, Mrs. A. R. McLean.

Rev. B. C. Bubar of Blaine will preach in the U. B. church on Sunday morning and evening, July 24.

The members of the W. W. G. will hold another pantry sale on Saturday evening, July 30, where the usual fine assortment of bread, rolls, cakes, cookies, pies and pretzels may be had at a nominal price. These sales are proving most popular.

Centreville was well represented at Woodstock each day of the midsummer racing meet. Many of the more ardent devotees went down on all three days to play the ponies.

The big showers on Thursday last put the first honest-to-goodness smile on the farmers' faces that has been there this summer. It was a real relief to this section and the crops
have undergone a marvelous change
for the better in the intervening days.

Miss Ella Elbert of Calgary, Alberta, is spending part of her summer vacation
with her sister, Mrs. Norris DeLong.

L. B. Clark and Burton Clark attended the funeral of the late William Tompkins on Thursday at East Florenceville.
Miss Rosie A. Long of Medicine Hat, Alberta, arrived on Wednesday for the summer vacation at the home of her father, C. A. Long.

Miss Pearl Irvine of Blaine was the guest of the Misses Burd on Thursday.
Frank Phinney of Lynn, Mass., is visiting his uncle, David Reid.

B. C. White of Aroostook Jct. spent part of last week with friends in town.

Important!

Farmers buy a WATSON-TRIPLEX
SPRAYER to protect your potato crop.
This sprayer will do it.

I also call your attention to the
JOHN DEERE RIDING CULTIVATOR.
This cultivator was especially designed for the Aroostook County trade, so it works better than any other machine
when the plants get big.
