Handicapped.

Parents often wonder why their Parents often wonder why their children do not take more interest and make better progress in music. Sometimes they blame the teacher and sometimes the pupil, while in many cases neither the one nor the other is to blame. Both are handicapped by the inferior instrument on which the pupil has to practice. Perhaps there is no instrument at all, and the practicing has to be done at the teacher's house. This is equally unsatisfactory.

Volunteer Crew Organized and the Lifeboat Manned-The Imperiled Sailors Rescued.

Port Stanley, Ont., Oct. 31.-A heavy southwest gale set in here early yesterday morning, which caused so much sea that two coal-laden vessels bound for this port could not make the harbor and came to anchor.

One of them, the Mineral State, of Alpena, Mich., as once set a flag of distress. No assistance could be rendered from shore and at 11 o'clock she either slipped her anchor or the chain broke and she commenced drifting ashore. The Mineral State, which was comloaded with coal for the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway, Port Stanley, soon began breaking up and at noon the mate, George Hazelwood, came ashore on a hatch cover and with the life preserver on. He managed to reach the beach at the foot of the high clay banks, where willing hands soon drew him to safety, and he is no worse for his experience, but was very much exhausted when he reached the shore.

THE RESCUE. The mizzen mast fell at 2 o'clock and by 4 the main mast fell, and the vessel was going to pieces fast, when the Gordon Brown towed the lifeboat down to the wreck. Coxswain Reginald Moore, with a volunteer crew, composed of sailors and citizens, as follows: Thomas Hough, Frank Eveland, Henry Cherrie, Fred Pollock, William Hough and Alonzo Taylor, by careful manage-ment, soon had the crew in the life-THE SAVED MEN. The rescued men are Capt. William

No further movement of the British troops against the Mad Mullah will be made until a large force is collected, which will be about two months hence. There is no doubt that the Somali levies showed the white feather in the recent fighting with the Mullah's followers. Colonel Cobbe is in command at Bohtle, Somaliland, where the guns have arrived. FISHERMEN IN PERIL Port Dalhousie, Ont., Oct. 30. — A heavy southwesterly blow today caught several Port Dalhousie fishermen too far out in the lake to make this port in safety. The steam fishing tugs and part of the sailing fleet have arrived, but there remain out yet two sailing boats with two men in each boat, which cannot be seen from this shore. The canal tug Golden City has arrived after being outside looking for them. The wind has hauled more westerly, which would drive them down the lake. The men who are in the fishing boats which have not been heard from are Frank Doughey and brother, from St. Catherines, in one boat, and Peter Math and his grandson, John Bents, in the manded by Capt. William Zient, and other one. One of the boats in tow of the steam fishing tug is adrift in the lake loaded with fish, the tug

The speaker then proceeded to ask whether it was irreverent to believe that Christ, in the matter of miracles, such as raising the dead, could not have failed to make a distinction between death and various forms of unconsciousness. With regard to the resurrection the Dean of Ripon said he considered this was meant spiritually, and not materially,

Eddy, "Mother of The loss is fairly well covered by in-Christian Science." shall or can be held | surance. responsible for the death of little Esther Quimby, of White Plains, was a question that puzzled the grand jury of West Chester County. Coroner Banning had asked that Mrs. Eddy be in-work of investigating the charges of manslaughter against John and Georgiana Quimbly, parents of the dead child, and John Carro: Lathrop, the Christian Science practitioner of New York City, who attended her. It is known that the jurors practically agreed that these three shall be held directly responsible for the child's Coroner Banning said that the disclosures made before a coroner had shown such a glaring case of neglect that he thought the grand jury ought to go higher and indict Mrs. Eddy. He

"She has taught these practitioners to go around praying for persons who are in need of physicians and not sending for physicians or telling the poor, deluded victims that they need medical attention. Her teachings they followed to the letter. They are guilty of manslaughter because of their culpable negligence, but Mrs. Eddy her-self is the person who is morally responsible for the death of little Esther Quimby. I hope this grand jury will call her to account for this crime."

Nothing New to Announce Regarding Cabinet Vacancy-Montreal Election Case Adjourned.

Winnipeg, Oct. 31.-Judgment in the Lisgar election case was given yesterday by Chief Justice Killam and Judge Dubuc. Both gave exhaustive reviews of the case. They found that none of the charges were sufficiently proved, and that the petition should be dismissed. Mr. D. A. Stewart, Liberal M. P., will therefore retain his seat.

In delivering judgment, Chief Justice Killam stated that the petition was based solely on allegations of corrupt practices, and charges in general terms, and in the language of the statute, the commission by the respondent person-ally and through agents and others on his behalf of nearly all the acts spe-cified by the Dominion elections act, 1900, as constituting corrupt practices. In conclusion, his lordship said: "On the whole, I think RITTER E that we should find that none of the charges were sufficiently proved, and that we should dismiss the petition."

THE CABINET VACANCY. Montreal, Oct. 30.—Inquiry in official circles today elicited the statement that there will be nothing to announce with respect to the Cabinet vacancy for several days yet. Hon. Boston, Oct. 20. - In an article for the Youth's Companion. which will be published next week Theodore Roosevelt gives his ideas of the duties and responsibilities of the President of the United States. The President wrote the article in 1900

ABSORBING PROBLEM

Of the Present Day.

The absorbing problem of today is, how to expend one's income so as to attain the best results; that is, get full value for one's money.

It may truthfully be said that this has been, is and always will be an absorbing problem to those with limited means; but the fact remains that, with the price of living necessities con-stantly rising one must husband one's resources more carefully than ever before if he would live within his in-come. In saying that prices are rising, we except one article which has come to occupy a prominent place in the family medicine closet, and that is the specific for piles or hemorrhoids known as Pyramid Pile Cure; this remedy is still sold by druggists at the old prices of fifty cents and one dollar, and these prices will remain unchanged. Those to whom this preparation has brought relief and a cure after years of suffering do not need to be told of its merits; others are advised that it is the greatest boon ever discovered, to all those afflicted with any form of piles; it is in suppository form, is easily applied, reaches the seat of the complaint, and gives immediate relief and a lasting cure. The reader may have tried salves, ointments and lotions without benefit, and feeling that his money has been wasted, resolves to suffer on rather than experiment further. The reason for the failure of these treatments is. that they do not reach the seat of the trouble, and hence do not remove the cause, as does Pyramid Pile Cure. A Ittle book describing piles, their cause and cure is published by the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., and any-Drug Co. It is unnecessary to enumerate the number of corporations in which these four men are interested, but a fair estimate is that on this total capitalization the income may be placed at 61/2 per cent, making the revenue per annum $100.750.000

This extraordinary sum, rated from individual income point, is available for strengthening the operations of the National City Bank. With such figures it becomes easier to understand how this combination of men is the most powerful group, in the mat-ter of resources, in this country. Whether there be four men anywhere else in the world of equal resources working together, may be a matter of speculation. If there be a superior group public attention has hardly been called to its operations.
So far as internal workings come to

His settlers, miners and lumbermen of that entire energy is bent on making money. His brother, John D., turns his capital in the direction suggested by William and H. H. Rogers. The easy way of explaining the increase was by the blanket of "syndicate operations." But there is reason to believe that, instead of the syndicate doing it, it was the old story of banks outside of New York calling loans of New York borrowers and causing the latter to reborrow of the New York banks. A conservative estimate is that $65,000,000 is loaned in Wall street by outside institutions.

MASONIC TEMPLE FRAUDS

Wheeler's Confession-Others Implicated in the Crooked Scheme.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—To State Attorney Deneen and his uncle, Police Inspector Wheeler, Luke Wheeler, the convicted tax fixer, has revealed the gigantic plot that collapsed with the discovery of the Masonic Temple tax frauds. Unless the present programme shall be changed Wheeler will go before the grand jury, and, under oath, reiterate the statements made to the prosecutor. Wheeler's confession places him in a new light, and if accepted, literally removes from him the stigma of the charge of building up a defense with the tombstone of the dead. The conspiracy or rather the series of conspiracies, drove two men to suicide, according to the confession.

According to Wheeler, the Masonic Temple fraud was merely incidental to an extensive series of operations, reaching back into the past, and made possible through lax methods, coupled with a desire on the part of responsible prominent business houses to evade taxation. Moreover, according to Wheeler's declaration, the promissory notes he was placed on trial for forging were bona fide and legitimate papers. He said that a public official at Springfield sought to blackmail the clique, threatened exposure and prosecution against one in particular, and worried him into ending his life. The second suicide involved in the case was due, Wheeler says, to fear that the fugitive (Wheeler) would confess when he was brought back from Canada.

One of the marked storm periods of the month falls in and near the center of a Mercury period. This Vulcan period covers the 19th to 23rd. Be prepared at this time for all the progressive phenomena of a very active storm period. Low barometer and warmer will end in general rains, rains will lead to snow and sleet—look for sleet -and snow and sleet will be attended and followed by a change amounting to a cold wave. This period will come to its crisis about the 22nd and 23rd and touching the 26th On the cloudy, unsettled weather, resulting from the Mercury equinox, will grow into decided autumnal storms of rain, wind and snow. In all northern sections look for heavy sleet. High northwesterly winds and change to quite cold will follow these storms. Frost and freezing will penetrate far into the south, along with the high barometer behind storms. On the north Atlantic rough seas and boreal weather will call for extra care and caution. Read telegraphic news and see.

As the month goes out a storm period will be in its first stages; it will be turning warmer in the west, with falling barometer and other indications of approaching storms. This period will culminate in the opening days of December.

BRAIN FOOD

Is of Little Benefit Unless It Is Digested.

Nearly everyone will admit that as a ation we eat too much meat and too ittle vegetables and the grains. For business men, office men and clerks, and, in fact, everyone engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables are much more healthful.

Only men engaged in a severe outdoor manual labor can live on a heavy meat diet and continue in health. As a general rule, meat once a day is sufficient for all classes of men, women and children, and grains, fruits and vegetables should constitute the bulk of food eaten.

But many of the most nutritious foods are difficult of digestion, and it is of no use to advise brain workers to eat argely of grains and vegetables where the digestion is too weak to assimilate them properly.

It is always best to get the best results from our food that some simple and harmless digestive should be taken after meals to assist the relaxed digestive organs, and several years' experience have proven Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to be a very safe, pleasant and effective digestive and a remedy which may be taken daily with the best results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardy be called a patent medicine, as they to not act on the bowels nor any particular organ, but only on the food They supply what weak stomachs lack, pepsin diastase, and by stimulating the gastric glands, in-crease the natural secretion of hydrochloric acid. People who make a daily practice of taking one or two of stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal are sure o have perfect digestion, which means perfect health. There is no danger of forming an injurious habit as the tablets contain absolutely nothing but natural digestves; cocaine, morphine and similar trugs have no place in a stomach med cine, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are certainly the best known and most popular of all stomach remedies.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent pack-age of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and after a week's use note the improvement in health, appetite and nervous

HURON ANGLICANS IN CONVENTION

Rev. Mr. Hicks Dons Mantle Lay Workers and Sunday School Teachers Meet.

ALL KINDS OF WEATHER COMING | GREETED BY INGERSOLL FRIENDS

Characteristic Address by the Bishop-Importance of Lay Help-Interesting Proceedings.

The annual convention of Huron Hicks, in his weather predictions for Anglican Lay Workers and Sunday School Teachers was opened in St. James' Church schoolroom, Ingersoll, yesterday afternoon. The Bishop of | Huron presided, having associated with him Very Rev. Dean Innes, Principal Dymond, chairman of executive committee, and Rev. J. Downie, chairman Sunday school committee. There was a large attendance of clergy and lay workers from various parts of the

> The meeting was opened with singing, after which Rev. Dr. Mackenzie read a portion of Holy Scripture, followed by prayer, led by Dean Innes. On motion of Principal Dymond and Dean Innes, Messrs. J. H. A. Beattie and J. S. Cameron were appointed sec-

The bishop then addressed the convention, pointing out that the objects of the convention were the consideration of the best interests of the church and to call out the devotion and effort of her members. He called attention to the history of the church from the earliest times. In the primitive church the spiritual part was the most prom-inent in the minds of all. The church considered that to be filled with the Holy Ghost was the all-important qualification for the work of the ministry, and gave instances of Stephen and others who were filled with the Holy Ghost from their birth. Later on, as the church expanded, another idea took the place of the earlier one, and the government and discipline of the church became of more importance. He pointed out that in the primitive age the laity preached everywhere and referred to the early Christians who went everywhere preaching Christ. Later on we learn of lay preaching from the second epistle of Clement, which is usually considered as a sermon by a layman, in which he contrasts himself with those in holy orders. The bishop referred to the change which took place when Constantine became emperor in the fourth century. Before this the Christians were cruelly treated and put to death, but from this time on the Christians became the dominant power. At first the office of bishop or clergyman was not separated from worldly employ-became a separate order. Gradually they grew in wealth and power. His lordship followed the church through its various stages down to the present time and showed the place and mportance of lay help throughout. Rev. F. G. Newton, of Warwick, read a paper on "The Successful Teacher," showing, first, the necessity for a definite aim; secondly, the need of using tact; thirdly, the value of touch or sympathy; fourthly, there should be testimony-first, of word. and secondly, of life. The speaker used many illustrations and referred ment, but this was changed and they

to numerous incidents to confirm his reasonings. Miss M. E. Gibson of Meaford, contributed a paper, entitled "Teaching the Lesson." Miss Gibson pointed to the importance of the teacher realizing the solemn responsibility of his or her position and the duty to aim high. work of the teacher resolves itself into two parts-the lesson at home and the lesson in the school. speaker gave many useful hints and suggestions in regard to both and closed an admirable paper with urging the duty of prayer and that teachers should never grow discour-Mr. Cameron, of Ingersoll, at this stage, addressed the bishop, clergy and delegates, in behalf of the mayor, extending a hearty welcome to the town, and as church warden, a welcome to the church. He regretted the absence of the mayor through illness. and in a few well chosen sentences expressed pleasure at the holding of the convention in their midst. The bishop in reply accepted the welcome extended by the mayor and the congregation and hoped for good results. Mr. James Morgan, M. A., of Barrie, commenting upon the papers read, brought forward several points for their consideration. First, the teacher is badly equipped, and urged the desirability of books of reference; second, the teacher should not aim at teaching too much; one thought well considered is more valuable than ten ill' digested ones; thirdly, in preparation the teacher should keep the class before the mind. Rev. Dr. Mackenzie, of Brantford. the next speaker, referred to the lamentable ignorance of the Bible which was to be found, among boys especially. He thought they should be taught the contents of the Bible, and should not only know about God, but should know God through Christ. some respects he thought it would b well to go back to the old plan of learning verses for the day by heart. Rev. Rural Dean Ridley, of Galt thought that the papers read all led to the same duty of training the spiritual nature for Christ, but pointed out that there were different ways of teaching.

Mr. C. H. Armitage. of London. thought that it would be well for th success of Sunday schools if the day school system could be introduced. He spoke of the object of all teaching to point children to the Saviour. If the teachers point to any other means of salvation they cease to be teachers in the true sense. He also pointed to the necessity for qualified teachers. The bishop summed up the proceedings in his usual eloquent way, and the meeting adjourned at 5:30 p.m. MUSICAL INSTRUCTION.

The Pacific Cable Opened.

A cable dispatch from London announces the formal opening today of the Pacific cable. The last section was laid at the Fiji Islands yesterday, and today the first message-a greeting to King Edward-was flashed under twd oceans and across a continent. The Pacific cable extends from Vancouver Island to Brisbane, Australia, in three sections. By means of the land lines in Canada and the trans-Atlantic cables, Great Britain, Canada and Australia are now directly connected by all-British telegraph systems. No portion touches on foreign soil. This great Imperial project was conceived by Sir Sanford Fleming, and has been realized in spite of very great obstaclesthe hostility of the Eastern Extension Cable Company, which has had a monopoly of the British-Australian business, and the lukewarmness of the mother country and the Australian colonies. The Canadian Government has given the scheme an enthusiastic support from the beginning. The cost Will be shared among the British, Canadian and Australian Governments. Sentiment gave birth to the project, and it now remains to be seen whether it will justify itself as a business venture. Its promoters are confident that

The Canada Atlantic.

Our Grit contemporaries are advocating the purchase of the Can-ada Atlantic Rallway by the Gov-ernment to prevent its falling "under foreign control." But does it matter very much who owns the stock so long as the railway is under Dominion laws? The same Grit argument would hold good for Government ownership of all railways. But our friends do not mean that, quite. They must have a card up the sleeve regarding the Canada Atlantic.-London Free Press.

Government ownership of all the railways is a fine ideal, but it will not be reached in this day or generation. The purchase of the Canada Atlantic is not a new proposition or a Grit argument. It has been advocated by public men of both parties. It would be a good thing from more than one standpoint - the Intercolonial would be greatly strengthened by an extension to Georgian Bay and the facilities for moving the western crop to the seaboard would be vastly incontemptuous.

The prying pilot crow persuades The flocks to join in thieving raids: The sly raccoon, with craft inborn, His portion steals; from plenty's horn creased. The country is spending a great deal of money on lake harbors. It is money well spent as there will be business enough for all the routes; but the purchase of the Canada Atlantic would yield larger and more direct results than any other project now practicable in connection with the transportation problem. The road nearly fell into the hands of a United States syndicate not long ago, and would have been used as a feeder to the New York Central or some other American trunk line. We agree with the Ottawa Free Press that it should not be allowed to pass into foreign control for that reason.

Tae American Invasion.

Rector Carnegie's recent demonability to compete any longer with the United States either as a producing, manufacturing or exporting nation is conceded to have been complete.-New York World. This is a bad case of swelled head,

Great Britain, with a population of 40,000,000, exported $1,000,000,000 worth of products in 1900. The United States. with a population of 75,000,000, had exports of $1,370,476,000 in the same year, and this year the amount will not go much beyond a billion dollars. Of the British exports in 1900 fully $1,500,000,-600 worth was in manufactured goods. Of the exports of the United States in the same year manufactures were valued at only $432,284,000. The bulk of American exports are raw products. The balk of British exports are finished products, the output of the factory, 2. Now for our turn to bring Ross' marepresenting the highest skilled labor jority up to three. and mechanical ingenuity. Yet we are told that Great Britain is out of the race as a manufacturing and exporting nation and must be content to revolve like a Lilliputian around the American Gulliver! By reason of its vast home market, the United States has become and likely will remain the greatest manufacturing nation, but as a commercial nation it can never be supreme while it maintains a policy which is deliberately designed to cripple foreign trade. The United States cannot flood other nations with goods unless it buys goods in exchange. The American invasion is a good deal of [Chicago Tribune.] For years the Rev. Samuel Skiles, of Ripley, Brown county, Ill., had been annoyed by a large and conspicuous wart on the back of his hand. Frank Leslie's Monthly.

Strange Case of Mr Skiles.

The booksellers in London report that their sales of Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for November have been so great that they have had to repeat their great that they have had to repeat their orders, so as to be able to supply the demand for it. This may be most reasonably accounted for by the fact that Miss Agnes C. Laut, who is well known here both personally and through her charming books, has in it an intensely interesting article about "The Greatest Fur Company in the World," the Hudson's Bay Company." a subject also which appeals especially to Canadians. Lesle's for this month is made attractive too for Canadians by its containing Lessle's for this month is made attractive too, for Canadians by its containing "Giengarry School Days." by Ralph Connor. Apart from these articles the Monthly for November is rich in highly-interesting matter, chief of which may be mentioned a delightful study, "The Mill," by Dr. Henry Van Dyke," a story by Anna Katherine Green, and two excellent articles relating to the stage, "The Making of a Play," and "On the Acting of Richard Mansfield," from the experienced and facile pens of F. E. Fyles and William Winter, respectively.

WHEN LIFE'S AT STAKE

The most timid man will take any chance of escape. The slender rope dropped down the precipice, the slippery log over the abyss, anything that offers a chance of life, is eagerly snatched at. The end the man seeks is safety. He cares nothing for the means to that end. There are thousands of men and women whose lives are at stake, who are hindered from accepting the one means of safety by foolish prejudice.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been the means of restoring health to many men and women whose hollow cough, bleeding lungs, emaciation and weakness seemed to warrant the statement of local physicians-"There is no cure possible."

Why should prejudice against a put-up medicine hinder you from trying what has cured thousands of suffering men and women?

"Only for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I think I would be in my grave to-day," writes Mr. Moses Miles, of Hilliard, Uinta Co., Wyoming. "I had asthma so bad I could not sleep at night and was compelled to give up work. It affected my lungs so that I coughed all the time, both day and night. My friends all thought I had consumption. My wife had taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it had helped her so much she insisted on my trying his 'Golden Medical Discovery' which I did. I have taken four bottles and am now a well man, weighing 185 pounds, thanks to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

Disaffected Doukhobors Start on Their Mission.

PURPOSE SEEMS INDEFINITE

The Only Harm They Do Is to Themselves-Want to Go to a Warmer Country.

Winnipeg, Oct. 30 .- Major Strickland of the Northwest Mounted Police, left this morning for the disaffected Doukhobor districts to superintend military operations in case the Doukhobors cause further trouble. The Doukhobor pilgrims are now partly started on their mission to Christianize the world. Last night they camped on a bluff east of Yorkton, and this morning they started on their long walk. When your correspondent reached them they were all congregated around three barrels of apples, and each took two or three and then started on his way. They are going in the direction of Saltcoats. Their purpose in starting out seems to be most indefinite, and the only conclusion that can be reached from inquiries from them is that they are anxious to do God's work. It was feared last night that an attempt might be made to liberate the women and children, but nothing of this kind was attempted, nor do they seem anxious to have them along. Doukhobors who are not converts to the new fanaticism followed them today and attempted to dissuade their countrymen from their intention, but it seemed of little use. Nearly every man is carrying either a bundle of a roll of blankets, and as long as the weather holds as it is they will not suffer. The only harm these people will do is to themselves. They are looked upon at Yorkton as a lot of harmless religious fanatics. The women are showing strong signs of wavering, and fully three-fourths of them are anxious to go back to their villages if the men will accompany

WANT WARMER PLACE. The Doukhobors at Yorkton have asked for a special train to take them to a warmer climate. All their funds have been given to Mr. Crerer, the local immigration agent, who has now upwards of $17,000, made up of their savings and the proceeds of the sale of their stock. One man, who had a good position in Yorkton, drew his $40 and immediately deposited it with Mr. Crerer and refused to work any more, saying he was going to work for Jesus. A few weeks ago letters were sent to all the states in South America by the Doukhobors asking if they could form a colony. It was stated that they would lead good lives, although they would not agree to conform strictly with the laws of the Government of with the religion of the country. Rubbers are now at a premium in Yorkton, as the Doukhobors have purchased all the supply, many of them refusing to wear leather in any form. Acting Immigration Commissioner Moffat, speaking today of the hallucination of the Doukhobors, said that the Government agents are doing all in their power to induce the Doukhobors to return to their homes and there hold their beliefs, instead of going on a pilgrimage to find their Messiah, as they now declare they are going to do. He is of the opinion that the Doukhobors are entirely harmless, and that they will not attempt to use any force. Asked if there was any truth in the statement made by some Yorkton people that when children died the Doukhobors just threw them into the bushes without burial, Mr. Moffat said he thought this statement was incorrect. He thinks the people will soon go back to their homes.

MR. PEDLEY'S ADVICES. Ottawa, Oct. 30 .- Mr. Frank Pedley has been advised as follows of the situation at Yorkton: "Situation apparently improving. Women and children taking food freely; hitherto re-fused. Men started this morning marching towards Saltcoats. hobors not affected using their influence with women to induce them to return home. A few consenting. Everything orderly and respectful." Mr. Pedley has replied recommending that the greatest care be exercised handling the Doukhobors.

FEARS FOR THE ISLAND

Thought That South Manitou May Disappear in Lake.

One Small Building Has Already Dropped Out of Sight.

South Haven, Mich., Oct. 81. - A letter received today from Robt. Smith, a member of the life-saving station at paper man that the experience was Sleeping Bear Point, says there is considerable anxiety felt in South Manitou Island over the fact that it is thought the island may suddenly disappear in the lake.

A few days ago the members built a small boathouse near the sta-tion. After it had been completed a short time the ground about the building began to sink, and suddenly the entire building dropped out of signa. Capt. Lafberg, in charge of the lifebuilding dropped out of sight. saving station at Sleeping Bear Point, made careful soundings, and found that where there had previously been but three feet of water it now registered over 30 feet. SOUFRIERE HEARD FROM Coffee Zone of Guatemala Devastated by Volcanic Fire.

Kingstown, St. Vincent, B. W. I., Oct. 30.-There was a ::light eruption of the Soufriere the night of Oct. 28. when, at a quarter past eight, loud groaning sounds were heard and a cloud of dark vapor was thrown out. These disturbances have continued and are causing much excitement at Georgetown, where earth tremors are continually felt. From the general appearance of the volcano another eruption of a serious nature can be expected.

The administrator of St. Vincent visited the Georgetown district Oct 26. He has advised the Governor of the Windward Islands, Sir Robert Llewellyn, that it is advisable permanently to locate the people of the disturbed part of the island at North Union, which is an appreciable distance from the volcano. DEVASTATION IN GUATEMALA Washington, Oct. 30 .- A cablegram from Consul-General McNally reports that the eruption of the volcano at Santa Maria, adjoining Quezaltenango, continues; that the city is covered with six inches of volcanic matter; rich coffee plantations on the coast side are buried under seven feet of sand and ashes from the volcano, and that detonations from the eruption were heard in the capital. There have been frequent earthquakes, and another eruption is reported in the department of Tombador. The entire coffee zone of Guatemala has been destroyed by flames and smoke from the volcano of Santa Maria. C. P. R. STEAMER ON THE ROCKS

Head, Lake Huron.

HAD 30 PASSENGERS ON BOARD FATALITY OCCURRED NEAR BY

Boat in a Tremendous Storm Carried Out of Her Course-A Passenger's Graphic Story.

Owen Sound, Oct. 30 .- Mr. P. Macdonald Fraser, of St. Thomas, was a passenger on the C. P. R. steamer Alberta, which went on the rocks near Cabots Head on Lake Huron on Sunday morning. To the Owen Sun's representative Mr. Fraser gave a detailed account of his terrible experience. The Sun says:

into port Sunday morning about 11:30, being a little over three hours late. She had about thirty passengers on er had weathered a fearful storm, and that there were few, if any, on fate than that of a watery grave.

A representative of the Sun succeeded in securing an interview with Captain McAllister, but the company's rules and regulations are such that he is not permitted to talk. He nevertheless assured the newsa terrible one and that some damage had been sustained, including the loss of a flange. He and his first mate, Louis Pyette, had spent the greater part of the night on deck, and were thoroughly soaked from the spray enveloped the vessel for three or four hours. "Further than this, the captain could not be induced to talk, and the Sun then sought an interview with some of the passengers, and from Mr. P. Macdonald Fraser, of St. Thomas, Ont., inspector of the Northern Life Assurance Company, London, the following thrilling story of one of the most terrible experiences encountered between Sault Ste. Marie and Owen Sound were gleaned:

"Mr. Fraser is a man well up in years, and says that though he has crossed the broad Atlantic 30 times he never met with an experience at all approaching that of Saturday night and Sunday morning. They left the Soo, he said, at 11 a.m., on Saturday, and had a most enjoyable Makes Loud, Groaning Sounds and Emits Smoke. Saturday, and had a most enjoyed run down the St. Mary River, all enjoying a splendid dinner, although the wind was blowing quite a gale. As they entered Lake Huron the storm increased in violence, and the sea ran with marked rapidity. No passengers ventured out, the wind being too high and the atmosphere too cold.

A TREMENDOUS STORM. "After supper the storm increased in night it blew a perfect gale. In the dead of the night all the doors battened up, and Mr. Fraser then knew what to expect. Most of the cabin passengers had retired. The boat was heaving tremendously, indicating a terrific storm. "With a view to gaining the Georgian Bay and securing some shelter, Capt. McAllister held the staunch steamer to a full head of steam; but owing to the violence of the storm and the fact that the vessel was enveloped in a heavy spray, she undoubtedly got out of her course, and when near Cabots Head. about 28 miles from Cape Croker, between 5 and 6 o'clock Sunday morning, she STRUCK ON A ROCK. "The bumping continued for some terrifying the passengers beyond description, and few, if any, on board, ever expected to reach terra firma alive. After a few minutes a big wave, with the assistance of the screw raised her off the rocks. During her contact with the rocks she rolled incessantly and the strain which she was subjected so warped her timbers that the cabin doors could not be opened except by force."

EXCITING EXPERIENCE. side of his cabin with great force and a week ago yesterday, Oct. 23. sustained some injury about the head while all the crockery in the cabin was broken and piled on top of him. He says the rolling of the vessel when on the rocks was an experience the commission's action. never to be forgotten, and caused the passengers to give up all hope. There were scenes he did not care to dwell reach of the fumes and fire that pours on, and he verily believes that a less staunch boat, and one not fitted with water-tight compartments, have been totally destroyed. The passengers were reconciled to their meager details are fate, and all devoutly thank Providence that they escaped death.

OFFICERS WERE COOL. Mr. Fraser says Capt. McAllister, First Mate Pyette and Chief Engineer Cameron were cool and collected throughout the whole of the trying ordeal; indeed all the officers did their duty unflinchingly, and were very kind to the terrified passengers. The waves ran mountains high, and no effort was made to lower the lifboats, for the simple reason that no boat could possibly survive for even a moment in such a terrific sea. The rolling ceased entirely soon after the vessel got off the rocks, but the tremendous heaving continued until the big steamer was almost in sight of Owen Sound. The storm was accompanied by terrific thunder and lightning, but for the greater part of the time the night was pitchy dark.

Some of the party carried miners' lamps in their hands, while the others had them fastened to the caps. There were about 500 men and boys at work in the mine when the party was lowered into the workings. About an hour before the commissioners arrived at the shaft a Hungarian was killed by a fall of reef in the Sliffar mine, which adjoins the one the commissioners inspected. He was pinned down under the fall and his lamp set fire to his clothing. He was roasted death.

BLASTING COAL.

During the two hours spent under ground by the commissioners, a thorough inspection was made. The commissioners were taken about a mile from the foot of the shaft and also went into the Clifford mine which adjoins No. 2 shaft. The arbitrators were greatly interested in the blasting of coal by the miners. The workmen were asked many questions by different members of the commission as to their age, character of work, rate of wages, etc. After the party came to the surface an inspection of the out-side buildings was made.

DATE OF CHANGE IN WAGES. Scranton, Pa., Oct. 31.—The anthracite strike commission has officially decided that if any change is made in the rate of wages of the men, it shall date from tomorrow, Nov. 1. This announcement was made by the commission through Recorder Wright the following brief statement issued by him this morning:

"Voted unanimously that if the commission at the conclusion of its hearings and deliberations, makes any lence, and from that until mid- award affecting existing rates of wages, such award shall take effect from Nov. 1, 1902." The recorder said that this resolution was adopted by the commission because it felt that it was important to make its investigations deliberately, and it left also that it might be well undue haste, to inform the operators and the miners that should the investigation and the deliberations following it warrant any change whatreduction of wages, such change should be from a certain date, so as to enable all parties to facilitate their calculations.

SAVING TIME. The action of the commission in taking this step at this time will save the commissioners a lot of time. It is known that each side of the controversy would take a determined stand on the question of when the new rate of wages, if one is made, should go into effect. The operators, in their original proposition to President Roosevelt, wanted the commission to fix the date. The miners wanted the prospective new rate to be retroactive and go into effect on the day when the Mr. Fraser was thrown against the miners returned to work, which was

TODAY'S PROGRAMME. Scranton, Pa., Oct. 31. - The programme of the anthracite strike commission calls for an inspection of the Manville colliery at Green Ridge, two miles from here, and a drive through the nearby territory to view the dwellings of the mine workers. The commissioners expect to complete their inspection of this region this afternoon and to go to Wilkesbarre tomorrow morning.

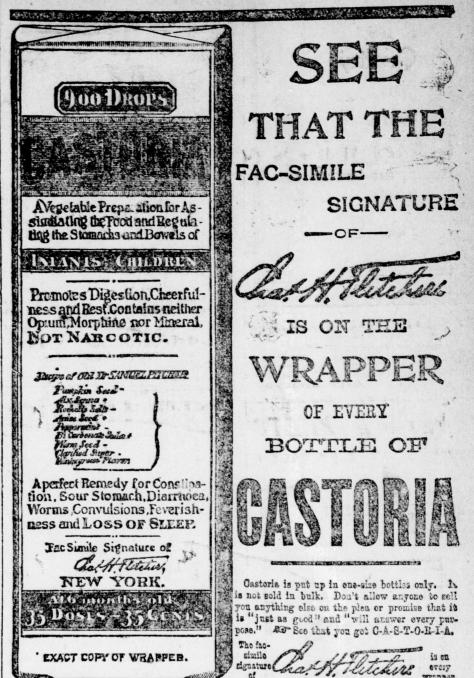

The Manville mine is operated jointly by the Delaware and Hudson and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Companies. The mine is one of the worst for miners in this territory. The veins are small, and there is barely room enough for workmen to stand This colliery was visited at the suggestion of the mine workers' representatives.

EIGHT HOURS' GOOD WORK. Scranton, Oct. 30. - Midnight. - The anthracite coal commissioners today made a tour of the extreme upper coal field and saw every step taken in the production of coal from the time it is blasted from the ground up to the point where it is sent to ma ket ready for use. They spent eight hours in observation and investigation. The commissioners displayed the greatest interest in every feature of coal mining, although they had to endure many discomforts.

London, Oct. 30. - Regarding the failure of the Boer mission, General Brussels, Oct. 30. — It is asserted bethe bere that Mr. Kruger has abandoned to plead a cause which should speak his irreconcilable eloquently enough for itself, we are sorely disappointed by the result. At least we have had every reason to consider that we have failed in our errand. in order to relieve itself of pressure It is assumed that we did not take from any source which might cause kindly to the loan. That supposition was gratuitous as to the shape in which material help should be given. We had neither the right nor the will ever, either in the way of increase or to pick and choose. But having seen no prospect of receiving such help we appealed for aid to all the nations of the world. That course has been sharply criticised.

> IN SORE NEED. So far as we can see, all our appeals to foreigners implied was that our people were in sore need of instant relief, and that we were willing to undergo the humiliation, no trivial ordeal, of pleading for it. Memories of help withheld, despite the pressing needs and the urgent appeal for justice and generosity, are certain to live long, die hard and inflict damage out of all proportion to the seeming importance. While the painful incidents of the war, however deep the wounds they may have inflicted at the time, are forgiven, even forgotten, those stating well-known facts, not uttering a covert threat. The sum required to relieve the primary needs of South' Africa would not constitute a really irksome burden to this wealthy empire, though certainly it is more than we have yet seen any disposition to grant. The number of farms destroyed is larger by far than the people of England imagine. We ourselves who know the country and its people are reduced to estimates which, laying no claim to absolute accuracy, would require to be officially verified by some Headache.

Pain across the forehead or at back of head is dangerous. It slowly but surely weakens the intellectual powers, impairs the vitality and will. Headache is sometimes from the eyes but more frequently is caused by a disordered condition of the stomach and digestive organs. Do not suffer. The pain can

It never loses its effect. Cures by driving out the poison, and does not simply deaden the pain as do so many preparations containing narcotics. Abbey's in the morning will

There were gifts of every description, however, which told that all this simplicity was from choice and not from lack of ornaments. Almost everything in the way of silver and jewels had been showered upon the gentle girl, whom all had grown to love, and there were two or three tables loaded with testimonials of friendship and good-will.

Miss Waldemar, the other bride, was Miss Waldemar, the other bride, was elegant in a delicate mauve-colored satin, trimmed with point lace; a set of diamonds fit for a queen, and which emitted flashes of light with her every motion. In her hand she carried a small bouquet of feathery clematis, and, with that subdued glory of happiness on her face, really made her as lovely if not a lovelier bride than sweet Annie Noble, as Grace Campbell had predicted.

Grace herself also demands a word of notice, for she had never looked so hand-

It had been but a delusion, and her untutored heart had rebelled like a child's, simply because it could not have what it had craved. Still, her suffering, for the time, had been deep and real, and had thus served to purify and ennoble her nature.

The words were spoken which made Annie Noble and Richmond Waldemar Halstead husband and wife; and then his father led Audrey quietly forward to their side, where a few simply spoken sentences united the hearts which for long years had been so true to each

Just before the newly-wedded couples were to start upon their trip, "Uncle George" drew Annie and her husband aside and put a folded paper into the young bride's hands.

"This fine-looking, high-headed chap of yours," he began, with a sly wink at Rich, "would make me do it! so I guess I've fixed it all square, and the whole thing is yours to do what you've a mind with." Well, but what is it, Uncle George?"

Annie asked, as she unfolded the legalooking document, and was appalled at its length and technicalities.

"It's nothing but a deed of that house in New York, and I only hope you'll enjoy living in it as much as I've helped fixing it up for you," returned Mr. Starkey, regarding the fair little wife with a fond expression.

He and Miss Starkey had come to spend the winter with their niece, and seemed to enjoy the prospect of another season of city excitement and privileges, mingled with suburban quiet.

As soon as they went back Mr. Star-key had consulted with Mr. Mason, and before Rich returned a fine stable was in process of completion; Mr. Remington in process of completion; Mr. Remington himself having planned the structure in order that it might correspond with the house. And now there were a couple of fine horses housed within it, and in the carriage-house adjoining a handsome coupe, the gift of Mr. Halstead, senior. That gentleman and his wife were occupying handsome apartments on Fifth avenue, not far from the Campbells, preferring to board for the winter, as they were contemplating a trip abroad the following summer. Meantime Mrs. Campbell was herself absorbed in the excitement of wedding preparations, for Roger Hamilton had persuaded Grace that she alone could make him happy for life; and she, feeling

One merning about Christmas-time, Miss Starkey came into Annie's private sitting-room and handed her a paper. "I a like to have you read that as carefully as you've a mind to, and then tell me what you think of it," she said, briefly; and then drawing out her knitting, she sat down to wait until she had compiled with her request.

"It's well to be prepared for emergencies, though I intend to hold on to life as long as the good Lord'll let me stay," remarked Miss Starkey, as Annie refolded the paper; "and so I thought I'd 'tend to this matter while I felt pretty well. Of course, if it doesn't suit you, child, it can be changed; and I know, too, that Grace'll have enough of her own by and bye; but I thought 'twould short of show my appreciation of her kindness to me last year if I gave her a little something to use especially on her errands of mercy."

TOMORROW'S GAMES.

Tomorrow's gridiron contests will decide which teams will clash in the finals of the intermediate O. R. F. U. Series. Wise ones are picking London II to defeat Toronto II, and Peterboro II to wallop Ottawa II. As to the latter game there can be little doubt of the result. In the London-Toronto game, however, anything is liable to happen. The Torontos have strengthened at all points and will doubtless put up a game struggle. BODIES AS FERTILIZERS

A Brahmin's Odd Reason for Objecting to Cremation.

Owing to the crowded condition of the swarming population in many parts of India, and the wretched circumstances amid which so many millions of them live, it has been found difficult for the British officials to check the progress of plagues and pestilences by the exercise of the most stringent sanitary regulations, says the San Francisco Cail. In spite of all that has been done to improve the health of the country, disease germs lurk and propagate almost everywhere. Much of the evil is attributed to the methods employed by the various Guelph was somewhat hurried, but the races and sects in dealing with the bodies visitors seemed such impressed at the of their dead, and some time ago the Government undertook to induce the people to practice cremation. It is the belief of the Government that if all the diseased bodies were duly burned the disease germs would be gradually destroyed and danger of pestilence largely diminished.

When the proposal was submitted to the Indian Council it was well understood that it would meet with violent opposition, and that it would be impossible to enforce the arbitrary act. A campaign of education on the subject was, therefore, begun, with the hope that it would eventually result in obtaining the assent of the leaders of the natives to the re-form. It was deemed a foregone conclusion that the opposition would be base upon religious grounds, and according the campaign of education was carefull outlined to avoid that issue, and bring the whole proposition within the domain of science.

To the astonishment of the British

To the astonishment of the British, some of the leading Brahmins have declared against cremation, on the grounds of the very science to which the Government appealed. The Westminster Gazette quotes a Brahmin member of the staff of the Indian Government Education Institution as saying: "There is no substance in the world which is so rich in plant food as the carcase of an animal. When it is burned and converted into ashes all the work accomplished by nature in her laboratory is wasted. The nitrogen is dispersed in the air. At eightpence a pound, the nitrogen in flesh and bones in each human carcase is worth about two each human carease is worth about two rupees. It is worth while storing it away at the roots of plants instead of allowing it to disperse in the air. * * * Cremation can do little harm so long as it is practiced by few, but universally adopted it will only man a few million adopted it will only mean a few million tons of food less per annum, and a grad-ually diminishing supply of food for the existing races of animals. * * * I would rather imagine my body slowly passing into the substance of mangoes and 'gold mohurs' planted in cemeteries than that it should be resolved into its native elements by sudden process in the course of an hour."

While that argument is more remarkable for its incompiler than its velidity. able for its ingenuity than its validity, it is an interesting illustration of the extent to which Great Britain has manag-

France Bears Heaviest in Proportion to Population.

With a population of 57,000,000 inhabitants, Germany now furnishes an annual contingent of 540,000 soldiers, which must be reduced to 413,000 after deducting the exempt from service, according to the latest figures given in an article in the Courrier des Etats Unis. A considerable share of these 413,000 men are immediately incorporated either in the landsturm or in the recruiting reserve, however, so that the number of men really incorporated in the regular army is only 220,000 men. In Russia, where compulsory service has been in existence for the last 30 years, the men are obliged to serve five years in the regular army, thirteen years in the reserve and five years in the Opoltchenie, which is the same as the reserve of the French territorial army. With a population of 132,000,000, Russia furnishes annually 980,000 conscripts, of whom about 880,000 are good for service. Under these circumstances the Government can well afford to be generous in the matter of exemptions. Their number amounts to 400,000, so that the real number of men in the regular service was

In Austria the annual contingent is 470,000, but the exemptions reduce it to 417,000. The length of the regular service is two and a half years.

In Italy, where the annual contingent is 315,000, only 205,000 are found to be good for service, which varies from two and a half to three years.

As to exemptions from military service, in Austria they amount to 50 per cent; in Germany to 37 per cent; in Italy to 27 per cent; in France to 21 per cent, and in Russia to 19 per cent. " A Trip to Coontown" at the Grand Opera House.

Cole & Johnson's melange of music and absurdity, "A Trip to Coontown," last night paid its half-dozenth visit the permanent force will take part in to London, and was presented at the Grand Opera House last night before one of the largest houses which has season, showing that the piece still retains its popularity in spite of the withdrawal of both Cole and Johnson from the cast of principals, to enter the vaudeville field. Their places were well-filled by W. DeMount, as Willie Wayside, the tramp, and Barrington Carter, as Jim Flimflanmer, the bunco steerer. They caused many laughs by their devious schemes for extracting money from old Silas Green. The latter character was again taken by Sam Lucas, who pleases, the audience with his representation of the guileless and old mayor of Coontown. NERVE DISORDERS OF WOMEN.

Accompanied by Neuralgia, Irritability, Sleeplessness and Depressed Spirits.

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

The feminine organism requires an enormous quantity of blood, not only to sustain the network of nerves which are found in the womanly system, but also to make good the periodical loss which so weakens the body.

Consequently it happens that just as soon as the blood gets weak and watery, or is deficient in quantity, the nervous system suffers, and in woman the effects are most severely felt in the form of irregularities and weaknesses of the feminine system. At the beginning of womanhood, at childbirth, during the nursing period and at the change of life, calls are made for an extra supply of blood, and as a result nervous disorders are exceedingly common at these times, and the health and happiness of the remainder of life may depend on the care of the system. Because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food actually forms new blood and creates new nerve force, it is the most effective preparation ever used by women to build up the system and restore vigor and strength to the body.

Mrs. C. Fitzgerald, 718 Princess avenue, London, Ont., writes: "For some time I have not been feeling at all well. I was troubled with general weakness. My nerves were very un-steady and I did not sleep well. Hear-ing of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I began a course of treatment with this preparation, and now consider that I am entirely cured. I cannot praise the Nerve Food too highly, for it has strengthened me, steadled my nerves, and enabled me to rest and sleep

PRESCRIBED CELERY KING

Physicians

A Toronto newspaper man relates that he had occasion to consult a well know physician for a functional disorder, which was pronounced consti-pation. He writes: "The doctor gave me a prescription and I was somewhat surprised to note that the formula was nearly identical with the constituents of Celery King, for which I had on more than one occasion prepared advertising matter. I had the prescription filled and it proved satisfactory, giving quick relief. A week later when I had taken all the medi-cine I again called on the doctor and mentioned the similarity of his prescription and the proprietary remedy spoken of, showing him both the remedy itself and the formula. The doctor was at first inclined to criticise what he called patent medicines, but appeared to be surprised when he noted to what extent his own prescription conformed to the formula I showed him. It was practically the same. After a short time devoted to noting the careful manner in which the proprietary medicine was prepared, he wound up by prescribing it for my case. Of course, I had to pay him for doing this, but it was worth the cost to have such high professional assurance that the advertised article was in fact the scientific formula it purported to be. I might have taken Celery King at first and saved the doctor's bill, but I think the confidence I have acquired in the efficacy of Celery King through the doctor's indorsement of it, is well worth the MATTER OF SUBSIDIES. The report of Evelyn Cecil, M.P. chairman of the Parliamentary sub-sidies commission, on the matter of British ship subsidies, makes the following recommendations: No subsidies are to be granted except for services rendered; in granting subsidies British lines of steamers should be favored; a permanent committee, composed of representatives of the Admiralty, the Board of Trade, the Colonial Office and the Postoffice, should watch the development of foreign competition; speed should be made a condition of all subsidy contracts; no subsidized vessel shall be sold abroad without the Cook's Cotton Root Compound. consent of the Government, under pain of forfeiture of the subsidy or heavy fine; a majority of the directorate of subsidized lines, all the officers and a proportion of the crews of subsidized vessels should be British, and the Government should have general control of freight rates and fares. Board of Trade regulations should be enforced against foreign ships in British ports, and the lighthouse duties now paid by British ships should be abolished. The question of excluding foreign ships from the British coasting trade should be considered with a view to exacting a fine or license-from such ships, based on any subsidy they may

A $1 and a $5 bill reached Buckingham Palace this denomination could be used, but the morning, being the first message sent two men who worked the trick here used the bills of the first denomination —a $1 and a $5 bill. It is worked in this way: One of the men will write in thin lettering on the back of the $5 bill what is supposed to be a list of his laundry. For instance, in this way: One shirt, two collars, two pairs of cuffs. He will go into a saloon when there is a rush on in order to further minimize the possibilities of the barkeeper's detecting the scribbling on the bill, and will call for a drink.

"The money is put in the drawer, the man gets his drink and his change and walks out. Directly his partner walks in, calls for a glass of beer and tenders a $1 bill in payment. The bar-keeper throws out 95 cents in change. 'You made a mistake, old man,' the purchaser will say; 'I gave you a $5 bill.' A polite wrangle follows. The fellow is insistent, says he only had one piece of money, and that was a $5 bill, and he remembers to have jotted down a list of his laundry on the back of it. He calls for the boss, tells on it in pencil. Sure enough, the bill is found and the man gets his $4 95 in change.
