

DOG CATCHING BURGLAR NABBED IN ACT OF ROBBING WAREHOUSE

John Weaver Arrested by Detective Nickle Last Evening.

COLORED MAN PLAYED HONEST

Was Approached by Weaver to Watch for Police, But Gave the Show Away.

John Weaver, a young man who has appeared in the police court a great many times, last evening attempted one of the most daring daylight robberies that was ever planned in London, and that he was not successful was due to the honesty of a colored man who was in the city from Woodstock on a visit.

P. C. McRae was on duty last evening on the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, about 6:30, when the colored man walked up and told him there was going to be something doing at a big red building down on the west street, indicating Clarence street.

"I know something," he said, and gave a description which enabled the officer to form the conclusion at once that Weaver was the man in the case.

Watch for Police.

The colored man stated that he had been told by Weaver to stand out in front of the door of the Reid Crocker building and kick the door if he saw an officer coming. Weaver, he said, was going to sell the stuff he stole to a Jew, and would pay him afterwards.

P. C. McRae knew it would never do for him to go near the Reid building as he had his uniform on. He hurried across to the police station and told Detective Nickle.

It was raining at the time and the detective, under cover of his umbrella hurried down at once to the place.

The colored man was standing there as he had been directed, but he did not know the officer.

Nabbed the Prisoner.

Detective Nickle went to the rear of the building, and it wasn't long before he saw Weaver climbing through one of the ground floor windows with a big bag on his back. He at once seized him.

Weaver fought desperately, but was no match for the detective, and was soon overpowered and taken to the station. In the struggle his coat was torn to shreds.

Pleaded Guilty.

He appeared in court this morning and at once pleaded guilty, when asked, and was remanded for a week for sentence.

"Can I get bail?" was all he said. "Certainly not, on a serious charge of this kind," said the court.

Weaver was sworn in yesterday as a dog catcher for the city. He has for some time been addicted to the use of drugs, and on many occasions has appeared in court for drunkenness and stealing. He is comparatively a young man, but has a long record in court.

A sad feature of the case is that his young wife and little child are ill.

GOVERNMENT AID TO FIGHT COMPANY

Municipalities Are Evidently Afraid of Claim of Cameron Septic Tank Company.

The Ontario Government will be asked to intervene in the threatened suits against London and many other municipalities regarding septic tanks. As a matter of fact, the claim of the Cameron Septic Tank Company is so far-reaching that it not only affects the municipalities meeting there, but also any municipalities contemplating the disposal of sewage. Individuals might be affected also, as they claim that they have the right to collect royalty on any inclosed system for the disposal of sewage.

People Viciously Interested.

"That being the case the whole people of Ontario are vitally interested, and we think that it is a question for the Government to look into."

"There are hundreds of municipalities in Ontario, a large number of them in New Ontario, contemplating putting in inclosed systems, and they are affected, so you see it is widespread."

"If the company have so great power by their patent it is high time it was rescinded. That was the opinion of Dr. Hodgkiss, provincial health officer, with whom we also consulted."

"Our engineers presented a voluminous report covering the whole field of controversy. In their opinion the municipalities are not liable. They claim that the Cameron patent dates from 1886 only, while prior to that time the same system was in operation, and was not patented. It was not theirs by right of discovery."

"I do not think we will have to pay royalties. There have been none paid in Canada yet, and there is grave doubt as to the ability of the company to collect them."

"It looks as if we will fight them to protect ourselves, or else the Government will protect us."

"There were thirty representatives at the meeting and it was a good one."

ELSIE SIGEL'S SLAYER IN CREW OF A LINER

A Leon Ling Signed as Seaman on Boat Bound for the Pacific.

Norfolk, Va., June 25.—The Hawaiian Steamship Company's steamer Ansonian, which sailed from Norfolk yesterday, bound for San Francisco, has aboard Leon Ling, or Lang, who was signed as a member of the vessel's Chinese crew in New York, June 11. He left on the steamer June 12 for Lambert's Point, where she yesterday finished taking on a full cargo for the Pacific coast.

BRUTAL TREATMENT OF LIVERY HORSE

Magistrate Love Scores John Lamppan and William Lake for Abusing Horse.

WERE HEAVILY FINED

P. M. Says He Only Wishes He Had Power To Send Them Over the Road.

There was a general murmur of approval from those present at the police court this morning, when after hearing evidence against John Lamppan and William Lake, two young men from the East End, who hired a horse from a livery, and used it very badly, Magistrate Love fined each of them $10, and $3 costs, or 21 days in jail.

Low and Cowardly.

"I can't find words strong enough to express my indignation at your low, cowardly conduct in regard to this poor animal," the court told Lake and Lamppan. "It was without doubt grossly illused, overdriven and beaten by you. I am determined to stop such brutality. It is the lowest kind of conduct that anyone can be guilty of to beat a poor horse that can't retaliate. It seems to be a common thing among you young fellows to get drunk, hire rigs, and then wreak their brutality on the horse. I only wish I had the power to send you for a long term in prison without giving you the option of paying a fine. You richly deserve it."

Story of Brutality.

The story as told by Ald. Rose, Police Officer Burton and Caretaker McLeod, of Queen's Park, was that the young men got the horse last Saturday afternoon and drove it some 18 or 20 miles about the city streets at a high rate of speed. Many people telephoned to Ald. Rose to tell him about the way the horse was being used, and he finally found it walking along the street by itself, with Lake and Lamppan in the buggy lying back in the seat intoxicated. Seven spokes had been broken from one of the wheels, the felloes were snapped, and a steel tire split.

Cruelly Beaten.

"The animal had fully 18 or 20 marks on its back, made by whip cuts, and was in an utterly exhausted condition."

The young fellows tried to run away when they saw Ald. Rose coming, but were too drunk, and he easily captured them. The cost of repairing the rig will amount to about $10.

Lamppan's parents were in court, and paid his fine. He wished to take the 21 days, but they would not hear of it, and his mother paid over the money.

Lake also paid his fine.

TORNADO TEARS CHILD FROM MOTHER'S ARM

Norton, Kansas, June 25.—Northwestern Norton County and Southern Nebraska, were swept late yesterday afternoon by half a dozen tornadoes. All rural telephone lines are down and reports are meagre. A child of Mrs. Frank Gentry, of Brunswick ranch, was blown from its mother's arms and had not been found up to late last night. Residences and outhouses were swept away.

OIL WAREHOUSE BURNED.

Welland, June 25.—The Ontario Iron and Steel Company's storehouse, a big frame structure, was destroyed by fire early today. It contained a large quantity of oil. The cause of the fire is not known. The loss is covered by insurance.

OIL PRICES DOWN.

New York, June 25.—The Standard Oil Company today announced a reduction in the price of oil of 10 cents per 100 gallons.

OSCAR LEWISOHN KILLED?

Berlin, June 24.—A report is current here that Oscar Lewisoohn, who married Edna May, the actress, has been killed in an automobile accident at some place on the road from Vienna to Berlin. Thus far it has been impossible to confirm the report.

June 24.—At New York—President Grant, from Hamburg.

At Hong Kong—Empress of China, from Montreal.

At Boston—Ivernia, from Liverpool.

At Havre—La Savoie, from New York.

At Genoa—America, from New York.

A BOLT HIT THE PARSONAGE AND FIRED A WAREHOUSE

Last Night's Terrific Storm Cut Capers at Delaware and St. Marys—Several Persons Having Narrow Escape From Death.

Last night's electrical storm cut capers in most districts surrounding the city, but was particularly destructive at Delaware. The storm, which made a magnificent spectacle, rolled up from the southwest about 7 o'clock, and broke over the village with terrific force.

A bolt struck Johnson's warehouse and general store, setting it afire, but a bucket brigade of townfolk by hard work managed to put it out.

Another bolt struck the Methodist parsonage, ripping up a section of the flooring and badly shocking Mrs. Freeman, who was alone in the house at the time. The telephone system was also burned out, the operator receiving quite a severe shock.

Stone Town Caught It.

St. Marys, June 25.—A severe electrical storm passed over the Stone Town on Wednesday at noon. A bolt struck the grandstand at the South Perth Agricultural Society grounds and badly wrecked it. During the storm a spruce tree in front of H. H. Stevenson's house, Water street, was struck and shattered. Some of the flying splinters came within two feet of Mr. Stevenson, who was sitting on his verandah at the time.

Another storm visited the town yesterday (Thursday) afternoon. The telephone service suffered considerably, and two houses were struck. Bert Gould's house, Queen street, east ward, had a part of the siding ripped off by the electric fluid, and a chimney was shattered on the residence of Mr. B. E. Thackeray, high school teacher, St. John street. Number of transformers of the electric light department were burnt out.

CANADIAN SOLDIERS FEED WELL CAMP STATISTICS INTERESTING

Men Got Away With 17,000 Pounds of the Roast Beef of Old Canada—1,000 Pounds of Cheese as a Side Line—Total Cost of Feeding Was $4,000.

The returns for the camp which closed last week show some interesting figures. Notwithstanding that the camp this year was a comparatively small one, the men consumed 22,000 pounds of bread, 17,000 pounds of prime roast beef, a ton and a quarter of breakfast bacon, 18,000 pounds of potatoes, and a proportionate amount of other vegetables, 2,500 pounds of beans, and a quarter of a ton of split peas. Slightly more than a ton each of butter, jam and sugar were used, 1,000 pounds of cheese, 600 pounds of salt, 400 pounds of coffee, 300 pounds of tea and 34 pounds of pepper. The total cost of feeding the men was in the neighborhood of $4,000.

No Chance to Lose.

Of the bread used the Army Service Corps baked more than 13,000 pounds, and in doing so used up about 62 cords of wood.

The 350 horses in the camp had to satisfy themselves with some 60,000 pounds of hay and 1,100 bushels of oats. Their maintenance cost in the neighborhood of $1,200.

For transporting the men and their supplies to and from camp the railways received between $2,500 and $3,000.

Each man received 50 cents a day regular pay, and in addition efficiency pay, based on his shooting, of from 20 to 60 cents extra. Fully one-third of the men made the necessary scores, entitling them to first-class efficiency pay, or 60 cents per day.

HIGH SCHOOL EXAM. RESULTS READY BY THE FIRST OF JULY

At Least an Effort Will Be Made to Publish Them Then—It Is Not Likely That Many Will Be "Plucked" This Year—Examinations Not Hard for Children.

There was very evident relief in the faces of the children, as they filed out this morning after their last written examination, when they were somewhat tempered by the thought of the reading that was to come in the afternoon, for it takes a steady nerve to face an oral test without flinching, no matter how well they are prepared. But there was no such feeling when this afternoon the last bar between them and freedom had been finally passed more or less successfully, and excitement was rampant, for at last the holidays had come, with no bogey of examinations to hang over them and spoil the sport.

The Examinations.

This year there has been no complaint such as crops up now and then, that some certain examination was too hard. There are always certain pupils, of course, who are weak on some subjects, but there has been no feeling, to the slightest extent, that they have been too heavily dealt with, and most of the faces of the children, as they were seen pouring out of the building this afternoon, were alight with hope, and in most cases with confidence.

Ready July 1.

An effort will be made to have the results of the examination ready by the 1st of July, though that will mean a great deal of work for the men charged with the examining of the papers of the 423 pupils trying the examination. If not at that date, however, it will not be delayed much later.

IN ONLY ONE CASE WAS REDUCTION MADE

Court of Revision Dealt With Ward Four Appeals on Thursday Night.

At the session of the court of revision held last evening 24 appeals against assessment in ward 4 were taken up, but in only one case was there a reduction made, and that amounted to but $200.

This was in the appeal of Mr. William Taylor, of 315 Central avenue, whose assessment was reduced that sum.

In all the others the figures of Assessment Commissioner Grant were confirmed.

"The number of complaints was the smallest I can remember," said City Clerk Baker. "The reduction was extremely small."

"I am gratified at the results of the appeals," said Mr. Grant. "The number of appeals was small, very small, and in only one case was a reduction made. That speaks well for the department, I may be pardoned for saying, as it shows that we are as careful as we well can be."

The members of the board present were Mr. Philip Pocock, chairman; Mr. A. T. McMahon, Sheriff Cameron, Assessment Commissioner Grant and Secretary Baker.

Vote on Money Bylaw.

This evening a public meeting will be held in St. Marys Town Hall to discuss the $40,000 public school building bylaw. The voting takes place next Monday.

THUNDERSTORMS NOW IN FASHION

Six Big Ones Have Occurred in a Little Over 24 Hours.

SOME PECULIAR STUNTS

Fire Alarm System Was Paralyzed Yesterday—Girl Was Rendered Unconscious—Other Mishaps.

Six big thunderstorms in quick succession and more than an inch and a half of rain in a little over twenty-four hours is a phenomenon that is causing citizens to sit up and take notice. It is a very long time since so many violent electrical disturbances swept over the city in such a short space of time, in fact a great many people state that never, so far as they can remember, was there such a series of heavy storms. To make matters worse the weather man promises more.

Right on Schedule.

A peculiar feature of the storms of Wednesday and Thursday was that there were thunderstorms between 12 and 1 and between 4 and 5 o'clock on both days. This is to put it mildly a little unusual. The theory has been advanced that so much thunder and lightning is caused directly by the two eclipses, one of the sun and the other of the moon, which took place recently. It is probable, according to astronomers, that the eclipses did have something to do with the peculiar weather. But why the storms should be so heavy in this vicinity and not in other places is unexplained.

A Terrible Storm.

The storm that passed over yesterday at noon, while lasting only a short time, was of a terrific nature, and shortly after 4 o'clock there was another one which was still more violent. The lightning was most violent. The rain fell in torrents and the streets speedily became miniature rivers. While the storm was at its height the lightning struck the hose-tower on the East End Hall and ripped apart the top off and did other damage.

Alarm System Paralyzed.

"Our fire alarm system was completely paralyzed by the storm for more than an hour," Chief Attkin told The Advertiser. "What with the telephones badly crippled and unable to be used at all while the lightning was on, and the fire alarms out of business, we would have been in a bad way had there been a big fire any place. However, we were fortunate. It is a long time though since we had such a series of heavy electrical storms."

The Bathurst Street Escape.

In the storm yesterday at noon, Mr. and Mrs. Riddle, of 141 Bathurst street, had a narrow escape from being killed, when a bolt came through the roof of their house and passed between them in the dining-room. Mr. Riddle was brushing his hair at the time, and the lightning knocked the brush from his hand.

"It was the closest I ever got to lightning," Mr. Riddle said. "I don't want any more for a while. My wife is very nervous, even yet."

Rendered Unconscious.

In the storm of Wednesday afternoon a young woman named Jennison, who was working in a dressmaking parlor on Dundas street, near Wellington street, was bolted and rendered unconscious. Dr. Drake attended her and she soon recovered.

HEAVY STORMS HAVE CLEARED AIR SOMEWHAT

High Temperature Is Receding Now Bearable—But Don't Think of the Future.

The heavy electrical storms of yesterday afternoon and evening have had a tendency to clear the air somewhat, and though the weather is still very warm, the air is considerably fresher, which makes the high temperature more bearable. Last night the lowest temperature recorded was 64 degrees, while at 8 o'clock it was only 69 degrees, which is some 15 degrees lower than yesterday at the same hour. The highest temperature registered yesterday was 87 degrees, though naturally on the public streets, with the buildings and pavements attracting the heat, it would have been considerably higher than that. The lowest during the night was 64.5 degrees.

Everyone has begun to hope that there will be a little break in the temperature before the regular summer weather begins, to give them time to get a little accustomed to it. Garden parties are about the only thing that seems to be able to flourish in this weather, and the periodic thunderstorms are putting a little too much of the adventurous citizen into these for the average citizen.

JUNE FESTIVAL OF THE Y. W. C. A.

Was Held on Verandahs Last Night—Will Be Repeated Tonight.

On account of the bad weather last night it was necessary to hold the June festival of the Y. W. C. A. on the verandahs, instead of the lawn of the residence.

The verandahs were prettily decorated with Chinese lanterns and the tables with daisies, making a very pretty sight.

During the evening Miss Lenore Tate rendered some piano selections, which were very greatly appreciated, while Miss Finnigan gave two delightful readings. Mr. Wm. Wortman also gave a number of piano selections.

Joe cream, strawberries and cake were served on the side verandah, and home-made candy was served in the hall. Despite the unfavorable weather a very fair number of people enjoyed the evening. It was decided to repeat the festival tonight, when among those taking part will be Miss Nora Little and Mr. Harman.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES TALK CONTRACTORS' COMBINE

Have Been Investigating and Claim That Suspicious Are Well Founded.

Tenders for the brickwork of the Wootley road school are coming in, and it is more than likely that there will be plenty of competition when the offers are considered on Thursday next.

The announcement that the board of education would erect the Wootley road school by day labor has caused the contractors to sit up and take notice, and they will be ready with their tenders.

It is openly charged that the brick-masons were in a combine on the matter, and had decided to allow one member of the society alone to figure on the job.

Only one tender was received, and the members of the board became somewhat suspicious. Inquiries were made, and what was learned has convinced some of the trustees that their suspicions are about correct.

The Contractors' Position.

The contractors, on the other hand, state that there is not enough brickwork in the building to make it worth tendering on. They say that a large part of it is cement work, and it would be too much trouble, as well as too small a job, to tender on.

Fault was found with City Architect Nutter's plans, and they say the difficulty lies with them.

At all events, there will be some tenders at the next meeting of the board of education.

ALL DEPENDS ON INSPECTION REGARDING INSURANCE RATES

LONDON STANDS WELL UP IN BUILDING INCREASES

Tremendous Gain Is Shown by the Figures Compiled for May.

The June number of Construction notes enormous increases in building operations in all provinces.

In Ontario all the cities, except Port William, show increases over May of last year. Toronto had permits for $1,887,532 of new buildings, a gain of 55 per cent.

Berlin records an increase of 190 per cent, while London's gain is 76 per cent, and Peterboro's 54 per cent. Brandon, Man., shows a gain of 564 per cent, and Sydney, N. S., of 465 per cent.

RAT CAUGHT FIRE BRIGADE WERE CALLED

Blaze on Pipe Line Road Caused by Most Peculiar Mishap.

A broken match and a young lady's "rat" were responsible for a fire at the home of Mrs. Callaghan, 20 Pipe Line road, last night.

It seems that a young lady who was arranging her hair lit a match, and in doing so it broke and fell on her "rat," which lay on the bureau.

The "rat" blazed up and set fire to some clothes hanging close to the bureau, and there was a merry row in a few moments. The brigade made a fast run and soon had the fire out.

The only damage done was to the clothes, the wall and the dresser.

NO SPECIAL FAVORS FOR HAMILTON CITY

City of London Will Fight Any Attempt Along This Line Re Niagara Power.

The city of London will not, if it can help it, allow Hamilton to come into the Niagara power scheme unless that city assumes its share of the responsibility and expense.

"I have no definite information as to the exact words used by Mr. Lobb, solicitor for the hydro-electric commission," said his worship, "but the city of London will not consent to any arrangement that will give Hamilton preferential treatment. We want that city to be responsible for its share of the transmission line, and its maintenance, and all the rest of it. Hamilton should join with us in working out this proposition, and under no other ground will I consent to have them come in. No short-term agreements and easy terms for them. They either come in or stay out. That is the way I feel about it, and I am certain the council are of the same opinion."

Buried Four Hours Under Wheat

Montreal, June 24.—Sixteen coal trimmers were buried for four hours under 30,000 bushels of wheat in the hold of the Lake Manitoba last night and barely escaped with their lives. They were only saved by the anxiety of a boarding-house keeper, who sent to the ship to ask when his gang was going to eat. Steam shovels were put to work. Two men with wet sponges over their mouths, to keep out dust, went into the hold. They found that the sixteen men had crowded together below, a pipe leading to the outer air. They were all safe, but weak from the terrible heat and the expectation of dying where they lay.

Senator Scott Knighted By King

London, June 24.—Senator Hon. R. W. Scott, former Dominion secretary of state, is made a knight bachelor. Other recipients of King's birthday honors are as follows:

The order of C. M. G. is conferred on Harold Newcombe, Canadian deputy minister of justice; on Matthew J. Butler, Canadian deputy minister of railways and canals.

George Ross, Dominion superintendent of postoffices, is made a member of the Imperial Service Order, as is W. J. Gerald, Canadian deputy minister of inland revenue.

Among the other honors conferred is that of knighthood on Arthur Wing Pinero, the dramatist; Herbert Beer-bohm Tree, the actor; Henry W. Lucy (Toby), M. P. of Funch, and F. J. Campbell, principal of the Royal Normal College and Academy of Music for the Blind. Mr. Campbell is an American by birth, having been born near Winchester, Tenn., in 1832.

A Mob Lynches a Negro Preacher

Talbotton, Ga., June 24.—Rev. Joe Hardy, a colored preacher, was lynched some time last night because he was stirring up strife between the races.

The lynching of the preacher is closely connected with the killing of the negro, Will Caneker, by a mob on Wednesday morning. Caneker was lynched for killing William Leonard, a prominent planter, and it is alleged, Hardy instigated him.

He came here from Atlanta, and in his sermons told the negroes not to work for white folks at all. It was with great difficulty that farmers in that section could keep their hands at work when this preacher was around. A number of white men went to whip him and drive him off. He was at Caneker's house. Leonard remained to keep back the negroes, while the other men drove off the preacher. Caneker saw Leonard and shot him dead. For this he was lynched.

The preacher, who was blind, managed to escape, but was captured some time last night and also was lynched.

WILL RAISE THE RATES

An Important Decision by the Sons of Scotland Society.

Toronto, June 24.—After a protracted discussion last night the grand camp of the Sons of Scotland Benevolent Society decided to revise their rates, and adopt the Hunter rate, the scale of rates authorized by the Dominion insurance act. The increase will apply to all classes of members, and will come into force on Sept. 1.

The debate, which lasted for several hours, was taken part in by many members, the principal speakers being Grand Chief Fraser, Rev. D. McCrae, Dr. Ferguson, Dr. Battle, of Ottawa; Mr. L. C. Barclay, of Whitby; Mr. J. E. Ferguson, of Montreal; Mr. Morgan, of Collingwood, and Mr. D. McNab, of Barrie.

Most of the discussion centred around the class A members, all of whom joined the society prior to 1885.

The feeling of the meeting at first was to make some special concessions in favor of this class, but towards the close this feeling changed, and the meeting finally decided upon treating all members alike. The new rates will be fixed according to the members' age at the dates they joined the society.

One of the results of the new rates will be to extend the society's field of operations, as it is an ideal one for those seeking either health or sport.

Homeseekers' Excursions.

A FIERCE STORM BREAKS OVER CORINTH

Two Men Shocked by Lightning—One May Die—Their Horse Killed.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Tillsonburg, June 24.—A severe electric storm passed over this section about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon doing considerable damage in and around the village of Corinth, about seven miles from here. Nelson Auger, a farmer living about a mile south of Corinth, was working in a field with a neighbor, D. Firby, when the storm broke, and the two men, taking the horse, fled to a tree for shelter. A bolt struck the horse, killing it instantly and severely injuring the men, burning Mr. Auger on the hand and arm and rendering him unconscious. Mr. Firby, although severely shocked, soon rallied and called the neighbors to Mr. Auger's assistance. Mr. Auger was taken to his house and medical assistance secured, but so far he had not yet regained consciousness, and only slight hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Mrs. Isaac Connors, the section foreman at Corinth, was inside her house watching the storm, when one of the trees in front nearly was struck. The shock also affected Mrs. Connor, injuring her side and back, and rendering her unconscious for a time.

CITY AND TOWNSHIP ARE AT LOGGERHEADS

Over the Matter of Payment for Work Done on Scanlan Drain in East London.

There was a lively time at the meeting of the board of works last night as a result of Reeve Kimball stating that the city owes London Township $1,400 for work done as long ago as 1903, and also that if the city want to sue the township for $410 alleged to be due as their share of the work on the Scanlan drain in East London they can go ahead and try it, as the township will fight it to a finish.

Reeve Kimball asked how the city based their claims for the account. Engineer Graydon went over the details of an agreement that was reached some time ago. Unfortunately, there is no written agreement, and Reeve Kimball contended that what has been done so far in no way gives the township any value at all for the work done. He said the county is spending $2,600 in doing what should have been done, and if the city wants to collect the money they can go ahead. Had the township got what they expected, Reeve Kimball contended, it would never have been necessary to spend the $2,600.

Is City in Arrears?

Reeve Kimball and Ald. Cooper got into an argument over the paying bills, and the former produced statements, showing that the city owes the county about $1,489.

"I think it is time we had an audit of the accounts between the city and county," said Ald. Cooper.

"I can state to you gentlemen candidly," said Mr. Kimball, "that the county won't pay the Scanlan drain bill without a fight."

"I have looked into this matter very carefully," he continued. "Why, your own committee disagree as to what the arrangements were."

"We have done all we agreed to do," said Ald. Cooper.

Ald. Saunders moved that the matter be left in the hands of the city engineer to investigate and report on the next meeting on Thursday evening. Carried.

An Argument.

Ald. Cooper and the mayor had an argument over the delay in paying bills, and the former produced statements, showing that the city owes the county about $1,489.

"That is all poppycock," said Ald. Cooper warmly. "Those men have settled the matter among themselves long ago and I want to know why the street is not being opened."

Nobody seconded Ald. Cooper's motion and the matter dropped.

PETERBORO LANARK PROTESTS STAND

Toronto, Ont., June 25.—Orders have been issued at Osgoode Hall dismissing all the federal election protests, with the exception of those against J. R. Stratton in West Peterboro, and Wm. Thoburn, in North Lanark. Those dropped include Norfolk, South Ontario, Centre York, Nipissing and Welland, and the petition against Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Ottawa.

The order for the dismissal of the Ottawa protest has been granted by Mr. Justice Tuckwell, and will be signed this afternoon. Only the Peterboro and North Lanark cases are set down for trial.

THIEVES RAIDED TECUMSEH LOCKERS

Some time during the last couple of days thieves broke into the lockers under the grandstands in Tecumseh Park. O'unga's team has suffered particularly, having lost a number of valuable catching gloves and baseball bats. Several of the other teams have also lost gloves and bats. The police are working on the case.

Cars for Bedroom.

A young man, who, it is alleged, has been sleeping in baggage cars at the Grand Trunk, was taken in charge this afternoon about 1:30. After receiving a warning not to repeat the offence, however, he was allowed to go.

License Commissioners.

The regular meeting of the license commissioners will be held tomorrow evening. The application for the transfer of the Barrell House license from Mr. E. Barrell to Mr. J. Collins will be considered. It is understood that there will not be any objections to the transfer taking place.

Still in Bad Shape.

Dr. R. W. Shaw, who is attending William Carroll, the blind man who was so badly burned as a result of his celluloid coat catching fire from a match, states that Carroll is still in very bad shape, although some slight improvement is noticeable. The case is one of the worst that the hospital staff have ever had to deal with, as Carroll walked around for a long time before he made his way to the hospital, and the wounds became terribly irritated and poisoned from contact with his clothes. It is believed that he will recover.

Late Mayor Pritchard.
A fine portrait of the late Robert Pritchard, mayor of the city in 1877, was presented to Mayor Stevely today by Mr. John Pritchard, his brother. It was painted by Mr. J. P. Hunt, the local artist. "It is a very excellent one," said Mayor Stevely. "I am sure we are grateful to Mr. Pritchard for his fine gift. This makes nine we have received, and there are more to follow."

Crest for Pte. Allen.

A very fine crest has been received from the militia department to be presented to Pte. F. Allen, of the Seventh Regiment, as the best shot in the regiment for 1908. The crest has as a background a maple leaf, with a gold crown on the top. Underneath is a circle with the words, "Best Shot—1908." In gold, and underneath are two guns crossed. It is all finished in gold, and is very pretty.

A POOR POLICY.

The policy that seems to be adopted by many of the Conservative leaders and papers in regard to the Grand Trunk Pacific is not very patriotic. Any rumor of difficulties in construction or in financing are quickly taken up and enlarged upon, and when subsequent events prove the rumor unfounded, no correction or retraction is made. One would think that they were anxious to see the enterprise a failure, and would willingly do anything to bring about such a result.

That the Conservative party should have doubted the wisdom of the Government's policy, and should have disapproved of its methods, was quite proper, if sincere. Men do not all think alike; no important question could be broached in Parliament on which all could be expected to perfectly agree. And as it is the business of an Opposition to criticize Government measures and discover their defects, no one could question the propriety of Mr. Borden and his followers in finding all the fault they could with the Grand Trunk Pacific when the scheme was first laid before Parliament.

But, after the fullest discussion, the measure passed through the House. The majority that introduced it have gone to the people, and have been endorsed in their action. The work has been undertaken, and is progressing rapidly. Parts of the line are already in operation. The matter has been settled, and the Grand Trunk Pacific will be finished, even if the Liberal Government should by any means have to make way for Conservative successors.

Even if the spokesmen of the Opposition are sincere in their criticism, what is to be gained by trying to injure the scheme? The honor and credit of Canada are now committed to the construction of the railway. Would it not be the policy of patriotism to give it all possible aid? Suppose the whole thing was a mistake. As it cannot now be prevented, why not make the best of it?

As a matter of fact, it was no mistake. No man in possession of his senses, noting the rapid development of the Northwest, questions the necessity for all the facilities for transportation that this and other lines can give. Some may still honestly doubt the wisdom of the methods adopted for its construction and operation. We may think the objectors wrong; but we will try to give them credit for sincerity. But it is too late to alter the policy adopted. The G. T. P. will be constructed according to the Government's plan, whether that be right or wrong. Carping criticism, exaggeration of the difficulties that impede all great operations, efforts to cast discredit on the scheme or its promoters, if these can have any effect it will only be one to the disadvantage of the enterprise. And anything calculated to injure the Grand Trunk Pacific will also injure the country which is committed to its construction.

IMMIGRANTS AND CRIME.

The conclusion reached in a report presented to the United States national conference of charities and corrections is that there has been no increase in serious crime, despite the heavy immigration of the past few years. The tendency to multiply minor or petty state and municipal regulations and prohibitions, the report says, is responsible for whatever apparent increase in criminality the official statistics may show. A Cleveland, Ohio, judge is credited with the statement that 80 per cent of the foreign-born persons written into the official records as criminals have absolutely no criminal inclinations, but are merely the victims of ignorance and misunderstanding.

This assertion may be somewhat exaggerated, but the Chicago Record-Herald is not far astray when it declares that "a better understanding of United States laws, customs and morals on the part of the new immigrants, coupled with a better understanding by the judges, prosecutors, and juries of the unassimilated aliens, and of their inherited and inbred notions, would prevent many infractions of the laws, and keep down the prison population." It is true that ignorance of the law does not excuse its violation, but everybody must admit there is a great difference between offences due to a depraved nature and those resulting from unfamiliarity with the legal and moral atmosphere.

AN IMPERIAL NEED.

The Earl of Crewe, secretary for the colonies, told the delegates to the imperial press conference the other day that what the empire needs almost above all other things is an increase of what in private life may be called ease and intimacy, the absence of which sometimes leads to much inconvenience. It is not only between the mother country and the colonies that closer and more frequent communication is desired, but between the colonies themselves. In Earl Crewe's opinion the empire will not be really united until the time comes when the average citizen, say of the western provinces of Canada, is in a position to learn and understand, if he will take the trouble to do so, what are the problems of Indian government; nor until it is made possible for the average citizen of Australia to learn early all about the developments of the great protectorates, such as the two Nigerias.

This absence of easy daily communication sometimes has its serious side. As matters now stand it is extremely difficult for really accurate accounts of what is said and done either in the mother country or the colonies to be reported all over the empire. Only recently the colonial office suffered from a difficulty of this kind. Just before adjournment of the House of Commons, Col. Seeley, the under secretary, made a statement in reply to various questions on the subject of the South African union bill. Anybody who heard his speech, or who had the opportunity of reading it in full, would have agreed that it contained nothing which need cause any uneasiness in South Africa, but in the form in which it reached that colony it caused for a time a very real uneasiness. This was not due to any kind of misrepresentation of what Col. Seeley said, but to an imperfect report, the result of the curtailed form in which it was telegraphed. Earl Crewe agrees with Lord Milner in saying that it takes almost a map of genius to avoid misrepresentation in sending reports of this kind by cable; and when to that is added the fact that the man at the other end of the wire might have prepossessions or represent somebody who has prepossessions in favor of one side or the other, it naturally inclines him not to garble a message, but to lay particular stress upon that part of it which favors the view he or his principal might hold. It is the telegram, not the letter received weeks after the event, which gives the abiding impression.

WILL DO HIM GOOD.

[Montreal Star.]
The new Sultan is to make a tour of Europe. This will be a great change after his long practical incarceration in a palace. It ought also to give him a better idea of the peoples with whom he and his advisers might do business. The more the secluded monarchs of the east get to know of the world of the west, the better are they likely to rule their own peoples and meet the new conditions which are perpetually confronting them. Haroun-Raschid had the right idea, but he did not extend it quite far enough.

A GOOD BEGINNING.

[Ottawa Free Press.]
The new Canadian Trade Commissioner to Newfoundland has apparently "made good" right from the start. He has persuaded the newly-formed board of trade of St. Johns to take an active interest in trade with Canada, and has apparently impressed the merchants of the Newfoundland capital with the fact that, if they only want to find it, they can secure a profitable market for their fish products in Western Canada. It is a long cry from Birmingham to Newfoundland, but Mr. J. E. Ray appears to have impressed the people of Newfoundland that he has no object but to promote trade between the two countries.

SIR LOMER'S PREDICTION.

[Montreal Gazette.]
Sir Lomer Gouin, at a banquet at Sherbrooke, has been predicting that in twenty years Montreal will have a population of 750,000, Quebec one of 150,000, and Sherbrooke one of 50,000. It looks as if the Montreal part of the prophecy, at least, may be fulfilled. A growth of less than 20,000 a year would be more than would be required, and anyone who takes a street car ride from Lachine to Longue Pointe and then to the Back River will think that it is being realized.

DOMINION ANNUITIES.

[Brantford Expositor.]
The revenue up to date from the Government system of annuities totals $168,000 and the total number of applications is 228. The revenue late has averaged $20,000 a week, but on one day of this week $18,000 was received. The system of annuities was inaugurated only in September last and the first few months were necessarily devoted largely to matters of organization. The Government is about to enter upon negotiations with the large manufacturers of the country suggesting the purchase of annuities for their employees or co-operating with the latter in doing so.

FAVORABLE SIGNS.

[Winnipeg Free Press.]
From the depression which set in during the latter part of 1907 there has already been a substantial recovery, but it will be some time before the monthly returns will show a trade volume as large as that recorded during 1907 and 1908. Buying is very active, but cautious. Imports at Winnipeg are showing a larger proportionate increase than at eastern ports in Canada, and at other western points there is a like showing. Another sign of expanding trade is the steady advance in the commercial loans of the banks. When the Government returns are published it is anticipated that these will show a substantial increase over the figures for April and a larger increase over the corresponding figures for 1908. Locally the banks are feeling a demand for larger credits and this change is not unwelcome.

AN IDEAL POLICE FORCE.

[Montreal Star.]
A police force should be judged not by the arrests it makes but by the arrests it does not make. Where it shows good judgment and permits a first offender to think it over, it should be commended; and when it fails to arrest criminals and trace crime, it should be condemned for its failure to perform the most serious part of its duties. With the settled criminal, there should be no pitying. No pains should be spared to arrest him; and, when convicted, the judges should give him a sentence which will feel and which will secure society for a long period against his depredations.

BLUE TALKS.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer.]
To judge by the doleful warning of college professors and graduating reformers, America is, indeed, on its last legs. The Government would appear to have about as much likelihood of surviving as an icicle in a kettle of boiling water. But cheer up. The commencement season will soon be over.

A CHANGE IN YEARS.

[Brookville Times.]
A short time ago a freight train passed through Brookville over the Grand Trunk Railway, composed of seventy-five cars—nearly two-thirds of a mile long. Frequently trains composed of fifty or sixty huge freight cars are hauled by monster locomotives. If some of the original railwaymen of the big Canadian roads could behold these enormous trains of the present day thundering across the land, how they would stare as they compared the difference between them and the little old wood-burning engines and the little cars and the short trains with the hand-brakes, which opened up this country.

NILESTOWN LODGE INSTALLED OFFICERS.

Local Masons Went to That Place Last Night and Took Part in Ceremonies.

The newly-elected officers of Nilestown Lodge, No. 345, A. F. and A. M., were installed last evening. Very Wor. Bro. E. W. M. Flock acting as installing officer. He was assisted in the work by Wor. Bro. S. Frank Glass, of Kilwinning Lodge, London, Wor. Bro. Benjamin Noble, of Union Lodge, London, and Wor. Bro. Richard Johnston. The officers installed were as follows:

W. M.—Wor. John R. Staples.
S. W.—Wor. Charles G. Carlton.
J. W.—Wor. George Jackson.
Secretary—Wor. Bro. A. O. Barrows.
Treasurer—Wor. Bro. Joseph Wilson.
Director of Ceremonies—Wor. Bro. W. Wallace.

A Fowl Supper.
After the work was completed, the visiting brethren were entertained to a fowl supper by the members of Nilestown Lodge. The banquet was highly creditable to the brethren of Nilestown.

A short toast list was introduced by Wor. Bro. Staples, and short addresses were delivered by Very Wor. Bro. Flock, Wor. Bro. S. Frank Glass, Wor. Bro. Benjamin Noble, and Wor. Bro. Richard Johnston.

A WOMAN'S BACK WAS NOT MADE TO ACHE.

Thousands of Women Suffer Untold Misery Every Day With Aching Backs That Really Have No Business To Ache.

Under ordinary conditions it ought to be strong and ready to bear the burdens of life. It is hard to do housework with an aching back. Backaches come from sick kidneys, and what a lot of trouble sick kidneys cause. But they can't help it. If more work is put on them than they can stand it is not to be wondered that they get out of order. Backache is simply a warning from the kidneys and should be attended to immediately so as to avoid years of terrible suffering from kidney troubles.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you in the same way as they have cured thousands of others.
Mrs. O. Warren, Radisson, Sask., writes: "I was troubled with very severe pains in my back for years. I tried every thing I could think of, but did no good. I finally told my husband to get me a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking two boxes, I have been troubled since."
Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.35, all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
When ordering specify "Doan's."

Bro. Benjamin Noble, Bro. C. W. McGuire, A. E. Somerville, J. H. Fowler, Bert Bart, Wor. Bro. Wallace Wor. Bro. Johnston, Bro. Quigley, Bro. Cochran, Bro. McKellar, of Chicago, and many others.
A toast to Nilestown Lodge was proposed by Ver. Wor. Bro. Flock and responded to by Wor. Bro. Staples.

An excellent reading was given by Bro. Charles G. Carlton.
Very Wor. Bro. Metherell, D. D. G. M., assisted by Wor. Bro. Chas. Morris and O. W. Bridge, installed the officers of Belmont Lodge last evening also.

The brethren of Nilestown Lodge will attend church service at the Pond Mills Presbyterian Church on Sunday afternoon next, when Rev. Dr. Macrae will preach a special sermon to them. Visitors are expected from London, Dorchester, Harrietsville, Belmont and other places.

Taylor's
Soap

for 5¢

This coupon with 5 cents will get you a regular 5 cent cake of Taylor's Borax Soap and also a full 10 cent cake of Infants' Delight Soap. You receive two cakes worth 15 cents for only 5 cents. One coupon only to each family and it must be presented to your dealer this week.

Taylor's Infants' Delight

Toilet soap should do just two things—remove the dirt and nourish the skin. Let us then show you how we have blended both qualities into a single cake.

For in 43 years we have learned the secret of perfect soap—one that leaves the skin as soft and pink as an infant's. So we call it Infants' Delight.

The olive oil in this soap comes from the gardens of France. There we pay the highest prices—often double what we might pay. But our oil is pure enough to use on your table.

Then we bring coconut oil over 12,000 miles from the isle of Ceylon. This oil has for centuries kept the Egyptian's skin soft and beautiful in spite of the tropical sun.

The oils are then filtered and boiled twice. After this they go through our own special milling process from which they flutter like flakes of snow into enormous bins.

These flakes are then crushed under a weight of 30 tons to press out the moisture. Then they pass through granite rollers and come out in miles of silky ribbons.

The soap is then dried eight times and goes through an ageing process equal to standing six months in your pantry. So you don't need to age this soap. It comes to you clear and firm—it is simply perfect soap.

Please use a single cake—then let the results decide for the future.

See for yourself how it lathers into a rich creamy foam. Note how it wears as thin as a wafer—how it leaves the skin as soft as velvet and as smooth as silk.

Besides this it is the loveliest soap for the baby's skin. And if it is best for the sensitive pink skin of an infant, it surely is best for your own.

You will like the dainty perfume, too. We pay over $100 a pound for pure Otto of Roses, but it requires 3,000 pounds of rose leaves to make a single ounce. The fragrance is simply exquisite for it is only the delicate scent of roses—the breath of a million flowers.

Taylor's Borax Soap

Here again is a soap different in every way from the ordinary—it contains borax. Where other soaps merely cleanse this goes further—it whitens and purifies. The effect of the borax is almost magical—it is the most wonderful soap ever made for the laundry.

In this soap we use only the finest grade of coconut oil, for it lathers with greatest abundance. Then we mix in the borax which softens the water and also softens the hands.

Soft water is pure, but hard water contains mineral matters which prevent the soap from lathering. Borax makes the hardest water as soft as rain water, so you require only half the amount of soap.

With this soap you save most of the rubbing—it dissolves the dirt instantly and leaves the clothes with snowy whiteness.

It cleans the daintiest of laces as well as the heaviest of woolens—and it prevents shrinkage of both. Every odor is removed and the cloth is pure and sweet. This soap also prevents starch from sticking and adds greatly to the stiffness.

Glassware it cleanses in half the time, and leaves a lustre that fairly sparkles with brilliance. But it does even more; it sterilizes and destroys every germ so as to avoid any possibility of contagion. Send a bar with the laundry and protect the health of your family.

This powerful cleanser is utterly harmless to the hands—it leaves them whiter and softer than before.

Think then how harmless it must be to cloth. For if it benefits the skin, certainly it could not injure the fabric. This is the purest of soap. During the boiling process we run through the soap thousands of gallons of clean water which carries away every impurity.

It requires twenty-one days to make a single cake. The labor of more than 200 persons is needed. Yet this wonderful soap costs no more than the ordinary. Simply because we make every year millions of cakes—we can buy at the lowest prices and give you the highest quality. Try one bar and learn the facts yourself.

Get the Free Soap This Week

We ask you to do us a favor—we want you to learn for your own interests the difference between these soaps and the ordinary. You have been using some soaps in the past and you naturally consider them good. But now we ask that you compare them with these—try them both and note how vastly they differ. We gladly invite the comparison because we have made it ourselves and we know just what must be the result. But it would be unfair to ask you to bear the expense of the test so we have made you this generous offer. We only ask that you buy one soap and we'll buy the other. Cut out the circular coupon on this page and take it to your dealer this week. Pay him only 5 cents and you will then receive both cakes worth 15 cents.

Detroit, June 25.—Detroit won its seventh successive game yesterday, George Mullin his thirteenth victory of the season, when the Tigers defeated the St. Louis Browns by a score of 2 to 1. The contest marked the sixth one in a row that McAleer's men have dropped to the Champions. Yesterday's exhibition was by far the most closely contested of the season of games and the result was in doubt until George Mullin fanned the last St. Louis man in the ninth inning.

Mullin and Dineen.
It was a pitching duel between Mullin, the man of many victories, and Twirler Dineen, a St. Louis favorite. There was glory enough for both. Mullin permitted the visitors six hits, walked three, fanned four and hit two. There were seven hits made by the Tigers off Dineen's pitching. The St. Louis twirler issued four passes and fanned none. He was by far the most effective of any of the Browns' pitchers who have opposed the Champions in the six games.

But to Mullin belongs the greater credit. The Tiger Iron man pitched a great game. George was somewhat unsteady throughout the contest. A little bit more so than he has been before this season. But the big fellow exerted himself when he had to—when a bingle to the Browns would have meant at least one run, perhaps more, and defeat for the Tigers.

Game Is Pitchers' Battle.
To land his thirteenth victory Mullin had to pitch a little bit harder than in any of the previous games. Sharp fielding and sensational stops left the contest a veritable struggle between the pitchers alone. Mullin pulled himself out of more than one bad hole. Dineen did likewise. In the third inning the Browns had the bases full. McAleer was up to bat. A hit would have decided the battle then and there. But Mullin was little worried about the seemingly imminent tallies. He braced himself and robbed the Browns of the victory by making McAleer pop an easy one to Crawford.

Again in the ninth Mullin found himself in bad. Jones, the first man up in this round, Mullin hit with the ball. Ferris laid down a pretty sacrifice and Jones went to second. The first sucker took too big a lead off the base and Schmidt shot the ball to

"Donie" Bush, who placed it on him and Jones was out.
McAleer Fans.
Mullin then walked Wallace. "Bob" ruffled the only base of the day. Schmidt, in trying to catch him, threw over Schaefer's head and the ball rolled to centre field and Wallace went to third.
Stevens was sent in by McAleer to bat for Criger. There was plenty of time for scoring, with Wallace only 90 feet from the plate. The big fellow fanned the Browns' outfielder and then darted happily for the club house.

Aside from Mullin himself, the work of Claude Rossman and Owen Bush shone brilliantly throughout the struggle. Rossman's fielding and stops of wild heaves won him applause time and time again.

LEON LING MADE HIS ESCAPE

circles of Chinese young men whom they fawn on as they teach from the word of God. The only work for white women to do in Chinatown is to be white women."

"Women and young girls say: 'Come in a jolly party to see the sights of Chinatown.' Their curiosity is aroused; the scene has a certain fascination and allurements, the very opium in the air assists in a measure to give Chinatown a peculiar charm."

The Awful Reality.

"All this sounds well enough, and in the spirit of a lark they will go. They may visit an opium den and watch the effect of the drug on some others. They are induced to try a puff or two, and before they know it they wake up in an opium den, stupefied from the effects of the drug. They are willing to take more and get away from the awful reality and then it is the old story."

"Why, I know right here in Mott street three women who were Vasari girls who came here just in that way, and they are here still, forever ruined and without caste. One has been smoking opium for nine years."

"Most of the missionary women who become infatuated with Chinese live in respectable homes uptown; they may or may not take cocaine or opium—and their association with Chinese is in visits to these men's rooms. Elsie Sigel, for instance, had been a frequent visitor for at least two years in the rooms of Leon and other Chinamen. And let me tell you right here, no woman goes to a man's room without knowing what she is doing."

"It is the women who are the aggressors. They begin by accepting presents from these young students, whom they are seeking to lead into Christianity, and they end by falling in love with them."

One Sad Example.

A proof of the truth of the missionary woman's statement, was a conversation I had with a pretty young woman named Sadie Stirling, who lives in a Chinese den with a Chinaman, who makes his living in gambling houses. Her eyes were large and brown, and with a quality that was Madonna-like in its sweetness. Her hands were slender and white; her voice soft and she used the most discriminating English.

"Yes, perhaps it is queer that I am here, I know I ought to get out of it," she told me. "But the question is, how? I have tried time and time again to get work, but like a wraith, Chinatown engulfs me."

"God knows, I want to get a way from it, but I am just anchored here in Mott street, it seems."

"You see, I am what they call a good white girl among the Chinese," she added. "I live with just this one man and he treats me with great respect."

"The girl said she had been married young to a dentist who first took her into Chinatown. 'I was so young that I didn't know there was such a thing as opium, and my husband first tried to make me take some with him; but I didn't know until afterwards that he had the habit.'

"I had trouble with my husband, and came down here with a friend. I am here still. I sometimes wonder if it is I. My family think I am dead; it was the only thing for me to do; they are highly respected in Boston, and gave me an education in the Boston Conservatory of Music, and in the schools there that any girl would be fortunate to have. But here I am, just the white woman of a Chin—bah—!—the creature droll, isn't it?" the poor creature added, with a break in her voice.

Elsie's Letters.

The police have kept tight hold on the girl's loving notes to her yellow admirers, refusing to make them public for three reasons. The Sigel family went to Commissioner Bingham and entreated him not to give them out. Hundreds of letters from all over the country have been received at police headquarters asking the commissioner to withhold them, because their publication might affect other girls who might be inclined to be as foolish as Elsie had been. For a third reason, the police heads argue that Leon might have a better chance to run loose if the contents of Elsie's letters were made public.

They have not been entirely successful in Mulberry street, though, in preventing the contents of a few of the letters to Leon, shut out all over the world as the girl's murderer, and to Chu Gain, her other lover, from becoming known; and these letters tell in themselves the cause of her murder.

She soothed Leon's jealousy with one hand, while she smoothed the ruffled feelings of the other Chinaman with the other. She wrote one day to Leon, the William L. Leon, of the missions, her "Willie," assuring him she would not give him up for anybody. A few days later she wrote to Chu Gain that she loved Chu and Chu only, and that Willie was nothing to her.

All of this time, for weeks before she was strangled in Leon's room, Leon was snarling with jealousy, threatening the girl, threatening Chu Gain, appealing to his own private tongue to help him get square and sending out Chung Sin as a spy.

Chu, no Chinaman for trouble, was dodging back and forth between the Sigel house and the Port Arthur restaurant, pleading with Elsie to keep Leon away from him, treating Leon to the best he had in his restaurant and asking the suspicious rival not to believe that his good friend, Chu Gain, had tried to take Elsie.

The police learned today that while Elsie was undoubtedly making love to both Chinamen, her mother had ordered her to break away from Leon and pay more attention to Chu Gain. Elsie had been in love with Leon for two years and more, but her mother, having had trouble with Leon about money matters, believed that Chu Gain was a better investment than the impetuous Leon.

Chu had money enough to support a white wife in style, while about all that Elsie's Sunday school pupil, Leon, had to offer was the ability to skin his own countrymen at bunco games with Chinese improvements. Elsie's letters indicated that she was willing enough to flatter the moneyed Chinaman with loving phrases, but she was not quite ready to break off with her old friend Leon. There is no doubt in the world, though, that Leon believed Elsie was getting ready to quit him for Chu Gain.

Less than a week before the girl was killed Chu Gain called on Elsie at the Sigel home. Leon arrived there as usual and found the Chinatown capitalist sitting on the same sofa as Elsie, who was smiling and smiling and wanted to ease himself out of a ticklish situation, but Elsie would not let him go.

"There on Business," She explained quickly that Chu had come there on business, and that everything was all right. Leon need not worry, and managed to get Leon away. That evening she wrote this letter to Leon:

"My dear William, I am writing this while mother is away from home. She would not let me if she knew it. Don't think, Willie, that I will always run up for anybody. I will always remember the dear times we have had together. I will see you soon."

"With love, Elsie."

The police pointed out today that this letter was considerably less fervent than some she had sent to Leon previously. It did not close, as others did, with "Your own little Elsie sends you many kisses." They gather that Chu Gain had become decidedly No. 1 in the girl's affections.

On the afternoon of June 8, the day before Elsie disappeared, the situation was exactly reversed. Chu Gain travelled up to 200 Wadsworth avenue to call on his "Little friend," and bumped into Leon. They met outside the house and went in together. Leon giving Chu some black looks, Chu nervous and scared.

Chu Clears Out Quickly. After Elsie had received them both, Chu made excuses to get away and left inside of 15 minutes. The next morning, the morning of the day Chung Sin saw Leon over the girl's body, Chu got this letter:

"My Dear, I don't want you to feel bad because Willie was here tonight. You know that I love you and you only and always. Don't mind Willie. Although he is nothing to me, I had to see him tonight. I did not send for him."

"Your ever loving, ELSIE."

The officials who are conducting the investigation have concluded that if Leon heard about this letter to Chu, Elsie signed her own death warrant. The light of the missions was already half-crazy from jealousy, and that letter to Chu would certainly have finished him.

One of the features they worked on today was whether Leon got news of the letter to Chung Sin, a waiter in Chu Gain's place, or from Chung Sin, who had been taking money from Chu Gain while running errands for Leon. They put that point up to Chung Sin pretty hard today when they went at him again, but Chung denied consistently that he had carried tales between Chu Gain and Leon.

Anonymous Letters to Chu. Along this line the police called attention to the two anonymous letters, signed "Ah Tai" (The Chief), that Chu received.

These letters were turned over to Assistant District Attorney Ward today by Chu Gain's counsel, M. Jesse Harvey, of 120 Centre street. Both were in Chinese and a rough translation of one of them furnished to a detective on Police Captain Galvin's staff ran like this:

"You know what will happen to you if you are seen again with Elsie. You will be killed and the girl, too. The word has been given. Ah Tai."

The police theory is that after writing these letters, Leon found that Chu had not paid any attention to them. He saw Chu afterward with Elsie at the girl's house. Becoming convinced that Elsie's favors had been transferred to Chu, Leon planned the girl's death swiftly, sending her a message to meet him at his room at 872 Eighth avenue on the morning of Wednesday, June 9. It is believed at police headquarters that Leon certainly would have made an attempt to kill Chu Gain if he had not lost his nerve after Elsie's body had been put in the trunk.

In support of that conclusion, the fact was made public that Leon asked Chu to call at 783 Eighth avenue three days before Elsie was killed. Leon went down to the Port Arthur restaurant all smiles, though he had been there twice in the week past in a very different state of mind.

NEW I. C. R. BOARD CHOPPING OFF HEADS

Ottawa, June 24.—In the absence of Hon. Geo. P. Graham in Montreal, it is not possible to get an official statement as to the reductions of the I. C. R. staff.

The correspondent is given to understand, however, that under the plan of reorganization developed by the new board of management, it has been deemed expedient to reduce the staff at various points. This, it is understood, can be done without lessening the efficiency of the service.

Eighty men were laid off at Montreal alone.

Lost Energy Restored by Psychine.

Mr. Geo. Pratt, of Clarkson, Ont., says: "Four years ago my son Wilbert was so run down, thin and emaciated, that we thought he was going into a decline and feared he would never pull through the severe cold of the winter months. The boy had no appetite and seemed to have lost all energy and interest in life. He was altogether in terribly bad shape. His condition caused us the gravest anxiety."

"Fortunately I procured PSYCHINE for him and this soon gave him a new lease of life. It is really remarkable how rapidly this splendid medicine brought about a change. After taking one or two bottles he was hardly recognizable as the same youth. PSYCHINE effected a speedy cure and he was soon able to work about on the farm again. Today he is robust, young, and full of life, stronger than his brother. Nothing in the way of hard work seems to affect him. I cannot speak too highly of PSYCHINE. It certainly saved our boy and made a man of him."

Prevents the children taking cold, wards off that terrible malady La Grippe and completely fortifies them against disease. It should always be used for colds, a gripe, weiness, loss of appetite, etc. Send to Dr. T. A. SLOCUM, Limited, Spina Ave., Toronto. Sold by all druggists and dealers, 50c and $1.00.

PSYCHINE HAS BEEN BISHOP FOR THIRTEEN YEARS

Interesting Anniversary Celebrated by Dr. DuMoulin at Hamilton.

Hamilton, June 24.—Thirteen years ago today the Right Rev. Dr. DuMoulin, then rector of St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, was appointed to the office of bishop of Niagara, and he celebrated the anniversary of the occasion by presiding at the second day's proceedings of the synod.

Rev. Dr. Lyle, moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, was present, and was invited by Bishop DuMoulin to address the synod. Rev. Dr. Lyle expressed his thanks for the privilege accorded him, and said he much to the Anglican church. In a humorous way he told of what he, when a school teacher, had done for the Anglican church. He said that if the "Anglican" was taken out of him there would be precious little left. The creed of the Scotchman was to keep the Sabbath, and everything else that came his way, so that if the Anglican church came the way of the Presbyterian church, it would be accepted as the greatest asset the Presbyterian church could acquire. He expressed himself in favor of church union, even beyond all the churches of Canada, and he hoped the time would come when the church of Christ, in all denominations, would be united. In closing, Rev. Dr. Lyle expressed the hope that Bishop DuMoulin, who had been so long his intimate friend, would be long spared to carry on the work of his church.

Bishop DuMoulin replied briefly, thanking Rev. Dr. Lyle for his kind words. As Rev. Dr. Lyle was leaving the platform, His Lordship Bishop Sweeney, of Toronto, accompanied by Venerable Archdeacon Warren and Rev. Anthony Hart, entered the schoolroom and were accorded a welcome. The visitors were invited to the dining hall, and Bishop Sweeney addressed the assembly briefly.

In introducing the visiting bishop, Bishop DuMoulin said that Bishop Sweeney was no such stammerer as he was, so he would cease and allow the Bishop of Toronto to speak.

Bishop Sweeney said that he and his associates had only made a peaceful invasion of the city, coming from Toronto with about 1,500 members of the Anglican Young People's association of that city. He expressed the hope that he would be able to stammer as effectively to the end of his days as Bishop DuMoulin. It was, he understood, an anniversary, for thirteen years ago today the Diocese of Niagara had taken from Toronto its brightest ministerial jewel, and he hoped he would be long spared to prosecute the work of the church.

A Prince of Sinners

BY PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM.

Author of "A Lost Leader," "The Malefactor," "A Maker of History," Etc.

Lord Arranmore turned upon him with a rare irritation.

"Have I not made myself clear, Brooks?" he said. "If I were to keep open house to all the young women who choose to claim acquaintance with me I should scarcely have a moment to call my own, or a house fit to ask my friends to visit. Be so good as to make an answer sufficiently explicit."

"It is unnecessary, Lord Arranmore, I have come to ask you for it yourself."

They all turned round. Mary Scott was coming slowly towards them across the thick rugs, into which her feet sunk noiselessly. Her face was very pale, and her large eyes were full of nervous apprehension. But about her mouth were certain rigid lines which spoke of determination.

"Sybil lead forward from her chair and Lady Caroom watched her approach with lifted eyebrows and a stare of well-bred and languid insolence. Lord Arranmore laid down his cue and rose at once to meet her.

"You are Lord Arranmore," she said, looking at him fixedly. "Will you please answer the question—in my note?"

He bowed a little coldly, but he made no remark as to her intrusion.

"I have already," he said, "given my answer to Mr. Brooks. The name which you mention is altogether unknown to me, nor have I ever visited the place you speak of. You have apparently been misled by a chance likeness."

"It is a very wonderful one," she said, slowly, keeping her eyes fixed upon him.

He shrugged his shoulders.

"I regret," he said, "that you should have had your journey for nothing. I can, I presume, be of no further use to you."

"I do not regret my journey here," she answered. "I could not rest until I had seen you closely, face to face, and asked you that question. You deny then that you were ever called Philip Ferringshaw?"

"Most assuredly," he answered, curtly.

"That is very strange," she said. "Strange?"

"Yes. It is very strange because I am perfectly certain that you were."

He took up his cue and commenced chalking it in a leisurely manner.

"My dear young lady," he said, "you are, I understand, a friend of Mr. Brooks, and are therefore entitled to some amount of consideration from me. But I must respectfully remind you that your presence here is, to put it mildly, unsought, and that I do not find it pleasant to be called a liar under my own roof and before my friends."

"Pleasant!" she eyed him scornfully. "nor did my father find it pleasant to be ruined and murdered by you, a debauched gambler, a common swindler."

Lord Arranmore, unruffled, permitted himself to smile.

"Dear me," he said, "this is getting positively melodramatic. Brooks, for her own sake, let me beg of you to induce the young woman to leave us. In her calmer moments she will, I am sure, repent of these unwarranted statements to a perfect stranger."

Brooks was numbed—for the moment speechless. Sybil had risen to her feet as though with the intention of leaving the room. But Lord Arranmore interposed. If he were acting it was marvellously done.

"Be seated," he said, "that you will none of you. These accusations of Miss Scott, I believe, are unwarranted. A murderer, a swindler and a rogue are hard names, young lady. May I ask if you string of invectives is exhausted, or is there any further abuse which you feel inclined to heap upon me?"

The girl never flinched.

"I have called you nothing," she said, "which you do not deserve. Do you still deny that you were in Canada—in Montreal—sixteen years ago?"

"Most assuredly I do deny it," he answered.

Brooks started, and turned suddenly towards Lord Arranmore as though doubtful whether he had heard rightly. This was a year before his father's death. The girl was unmoved.

"I see that I should come here with proofs," she exclaimed. "Well, they are easy enough to collect. You shall have them. But before I go, Lord Arranmore, let me ask you if you know who I am."

"I understand," Lord Arranmore answered, "that you are the daughter or niece of a highly respectable tradesman, a friend of my father's, and a client of our young friend here, Mr. Brooks. Let me tell you, young lady, that but for that fact I should not tolerate your presence here."

"I am Mr. Brooks's niece," the girl answered, "but I am the daughter of Martin Scott Cartnell!"

It seemed to Brooks that a smothered exclamation of some sort broke from Lord Arranmore's tightly-compressed lips, but his face was so completely in the shadow that its expression was lost. But he himself now revealed it, for touching a knob in the wall a shower of electric lamps suddenly glowed around the room. He leaned forward and looked intently into the face of the girl who had become his accuser. She met his gaze coldly, without flinching, the pallor of her cheeks relieved by a single spot of burning color, her eyes bright with purpose.

"It is incredible," he said, softly, "but it is true. You are the untidy little thing with a pigtail who used always to be playing games with the boys when you ought to have been at school. Come, I am glad to see you. Why do you come to me like a Cassandra of the Family Herald? Your father was my companion for a while, but we were never intimate. I certainly neither robbed nor murdered him."

"You did both," she answered fiercely. "You were his evil genius from the first. It was through you he took to drink, through you he became a gambler. You encouraged him to play for larger stakes than he could afford."

You won money from him which you knew was not his to lose. He came to you for help. You laughed at him. That night he shot himself."

"It was," Lord Arranmore remarked, "a very foolish thing to do."

"Who or what you were before you came to Montreal I do not know," she continued, "but there you brought misery and ruin upon every one connected with you. I was a child in those days, but I remember how you were hated. You broke the heart of Durran Leage, an honest man whom you called your friend, and you left his wife to starve in a common lodging-house. There was never a man or woman who showed you kindness that did not live to regret it. You may be the Marquis of Arranmore now, but you have left a life behind the memory of which should be a constant torture to you."

"Have you finished, young lady?" he asked, coldly.

"Yes, I have finished," she answered. "I pray heaven the next time we meet may be in the police court. The police of Montreal are still looking for Philip Ferringshaw, and they will find in me a very ready witness."

"Upon my word, this is a most unpleasant young person," Lord Arranmore said. "Brooks, do see her off the premises before she changes her mind and comes for me again. You have, I hope, been entertained, ladies," he added, turning to Sybil and Lady Caroom.

He eyed them carelessly enough to all appearance, yet with an inward searchingness which seemed to find what it feared. He turned to Brooks, but he and Mary Scott had left the room together.

"The girl—is terribly in earnest," Lady Caroom said, with averted eyes. "Were you not a little cruel to her, Arranmore? Not that I believe these horrid things, of course. But she did. She was honest."

Lord Arranmore shrugged his shoulders. He was looking out of the window, out into the gray windy darkness, listening to the raindrops splashing against the window-pane, wondering how long Brooks would be, and if in his face too he should see the shadow, and it seemed to him that Brooks lingered a very long time.

"Shall we finish our game of billiards, Catherine?" he asked, turning towards her.

"Well, I think not," she answered. "I am a little tired, and it is almost time the dressing-bell rang. I think Sybil and I will go upstairs."

They passed away—he made no effort to detain them. He lit a cigarette and paced the room impatiently. At last he rang the bell.

"Where is Mr. Brooks," he asked.

"Mr. Brooks has only just returned, my lord," the maid answered. "He went some distance with the young lady. He has gone direct to his room."

Lord Arranmore nodded. He threw himself into his easy chair, and his head sank upon his hand. He looked steadfastly into the heart of the red coils.

LOOKS MUCH BETTER FOR MRS. HOWARD GOULD

Important Evidence of Defiance Disproven—Actor Farnum Makes Deposition.

New York, June 24.—Actor Dustin Farnum's deposition in the Howard Gould separation suit, took up so much time today that when the afternoon session adjourned the direct examination of Mrs. Gould in rebuttal had just been finished. Mr. Shearn then announced that he would call several more witnesses, while the defense will also put on a few witnesses in rebuttal.

In the deposition Dustin Farnum declared that the only reason that he went to see Mrs. Gould in 1906, after not meeting her for two years, was because she thought of going back on the stage, and wanted to ask his advice. He denied that he had ever been in Mrs. Gould's room alone except at the St. Regis luncheon, when they talked over her plans, and said that the only other time he was ever with her alone was when they went out to Castle Gould in the automobile, and had a smash-up on the way back.

On her direct examination in rebuttal, Mrs. Gould declared that many of the incidents related by witnesses for the defense had been made up out of whole cloth or else highly colored. Her voice choked as she told how her husband left her after upbraiding her before the servants, and she was on the point of breaking down as she told of how, after she had lost all her happiness and the responsibilities had been taken from her, she thought seriously of going back on the stage, or acquiring a theatre in order to find a way to occupy her time.

Half a dozen other witnesses who had opportunities of observing Mrs. Gould intimately declared they had never seen her intoxicated.

Two girls employed in the Stafford Hotel, who testified that they had seen Farnum leave Mrs. Gould's room in the hotel and whose testimony has been disproven, refuse to accept subpoena for further examination.

Farnum's Deposition.

Mr. Shearn, Mrs. Gould's counsel, started to read the deposition of Dustin Farnum at the opening of today's session, and Mr. Nicoll, counsel for the defense, objected. "This witness is a resident of New York State and had been in the courthouse since the trial began," said Mr. Nicoll. Mr. Shearn said it was true that Mr. Farnum had been here two weeks ago. He had telegraphed him to Buckshot, Me., and received a message from Mr. Farnum's wife that he would not be able to come to testify on account of his physical condition. Justice Dowling allowed the deposition to be called, and Mr. Shearn asked the privilege of also calling the actor on Monday, if he could get him.

Farnum deposed that he first met Mrs. Gould eight or seven years ago at a charitable benefit given by a number of New York society women. Mrs. Lounsbury introduced him to Mrs. Gould, the witness deposed, Farnum then goes on to describe his numerous meetings with Mrs. Gould, and declared that at no time had there been anything improper at any of these meetings. Farnum also described his meeting with Mrs. Gould in Lynchburg, Va., at Hotel Carrol, when he was playing the southern circuit. He and a friend received an invitation from Mrs. Gould to Blue Gap Farm, and received word that Mrs. Gould was ill, and they did not go. He heard at the Carrol Hotel that Mrs. Gould was ill, and he went to her door and knocked, and asked if he could do anything for her.

"She looked very ill and thought she had been poisoned," said the witness. She said there was nothing he could do for her, and that night he took dinner with Mrs. Gould in her parlor. The waiter was there all the time, the witness said.

On the cross-examination in the Farnum deposition the actor said that at the time he had called at the St. Regis he and Mrs. Gould had talked about going on the stage, she had expressed the desire to play the part of "Rosaline" in "Taming of the Shrew" and "The Lady of Lyons," Farnum said.

DETROIT TO HONOR LADY ABERDEEN

Detroit, Mich., June 24.—Preliminary plans have been adopted by the Society for the Prevention and Study of Tuberculosis for the feting of Lady Aberdeen during her visit here next Tuesday afternoon and evening. The mayor and other prominent members of the entertainment committee will meet Lady Aberdeen at the Grand Trunk depot upon her arrival at 2 o'clock to escort her to the Hotel Pontchartrain. A further escort composed of police, military and local societies also will be provided. Later a flotilla of Detroit's finest yachts will fort to detain them. He lit a cigarette and paced the room impatiently. At last he rang the bell.

Boils and Pimples

Are caused entirely by the blood being in an impure condition, and the quickest and simplest way to get rid of them is to take a few bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters.

This purely vegetable remedy has cured thousands of cases of these painful and unsightly troubles during the past thirty years.

Mr. S. J. Weir, River View, Ont., writes: "Last summer I had nineteen boils on my neck and back. I was off work for over two weeks. I took every thing I could think of but to no effect. I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and before I had used half the bottle the boils were gone. I took the rest of it, however, and I have not had a boil since."

Mrs. W. J. Cranston, Mary, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with pimples on my face for a couple of years and tried a good deal of patent medicine, but they were not of much use. Finally I used four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters and am now entirely cured."

DESPERATE FIGHT.

When searched at the police station Long was found to have in his possession four revolvers and a bowie knife, as well as 150 rounds of revolver ammunition.

Another "Sunshine" Feature

This is an entirely new idea, and will especially interest people who reside in natural gas districts. The gas ring takes the place of the lower Sunshine fire-pot, thus making it possible to burn gas in your furnace without inconvenience. Such is not possible in a furnace where the ordinary gas log is inserted; for, should the gas give out, a coal or wood fire could not be started until the gas pipes were disconnected.

To provide against sweating in the summer time, Sunshine Furnace is equipped with a nickel-plated steel radiator and dome. All bolts and rivets are nickel-plated, all rods copper-plated. This special treatment, besides meaning quicker and greater radiation from the radiator and dome than cold cast iron could possibly give, acts as protection for the bolts, rivets and rods from iron-oxides of gas. When cast iron comes in contact with our nickel-plated steel it is coated with our special Anti-Rust treatment, which prevents the slightest possibility of rust commencing anywhere in Sunshine Furnace.

"I understand," Lord Arranmore answered, "that you are the daughter or niece of a highly respectable tradesman, a friend of my father's, and a client of our young friend here, Mr. Brooks. Let me tell you, young lady, that but for that fact I should not tolerate your presence here."

"I am Mr. Brooks's niece," the girl answered, "but I am the daughter of Martin Scott Cartnell!"

It seemed to Brooks that a smothered exclamation of some sort broke from Lord Arranmore's tightly-compressed lips, but his face was so completely in the shadow that its expression was lost. But he himself now revealed it, for touching a knob in the wall a shower of electric lamps suddenly glowed around the room. He leaned forward and looked intently into the face of the girl who had become his accuser. She met his gaze coldly, without flinching, the pallor of her cheeks relieved by a single spot of burning color, her eyes bright with purpose.

"It is incredible," he said, softly, "but it is true. You are the untidy little thing with a pigtail who used always to be playing games with the boys when you ought to have been at school. Come, I am glad to see you. Why do you come to me like a Cassandra of the Family Herald? Your father was my companion for a while, but we were never intimate. I certainly neither robbed nor murdered him."

"You did both," she answered fiercely. "You were his evil genius from the first. It was through you he took to drink, through you he became a gambler. You encouraged him to play for larger stakes than he could afford."

NEW STEEL METHOD.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., June 24.—Mr. W. C. Franz, manager of the Lake Superior Corporation, in an interview today, stated that the new No. 3 open-hearth furnace would make its first steel today. The foundation work on No. 3 blast furnace has been started, and it is expected that in two weeks' time work will be commenced on the new structural mill, which will include all requirements for making structural steel. The making of steel in the new open-hearth furnace today brings to successful culmination the first improvement under the new management, that is, since English capital was introduced into the concern. Mr. Franz said it would take about a year to complete the blast furnace and about seven months to have the structural steel mill in operation.

AUDITORIUM IS NOW VERY HANDSOME PLACE

A Splendid Programme Was Carried Out at the Reopening Last Night.

Despite the heavy rain that fell shortly before 8 o'clock, and the continuous threatening appearance of the weather, there was a very good attendance at the formal opening of the Auditorium last evening after its renovation.

The auditorium looks very pretty in its new color scheme of pale green, with green hangings, and is now one of the prettiest halls in the city. Too much credit cannot be given to Mr. Maurice Pouré for his energetic work, that has been the means of having the hall renovated.

The orchestra, which consisted of nearly 50 instruments, was exceedingly well trained, and in the number from the "Peer Gynt Suite" was heard to great advantage. Mrs. (Dr.) Kingmill's vocal solos were greatly appreciated, and the harp solo by Ernest Cortese was very heartily applauded. The due to Messrs. Joe Cortese and Maurice Pouré was one of the features of the evening's programme, and was received with enthusiasm.

The members of the orchestra were as follows:

First Violins—Joe Cortese, Miss Dewey, Mrs. McCully, Miss Paterson, Miss Gooding, Miss Smith, Miss McNab, Mrs. Grant Harris, E. Nuttycombe, Mrs. Grant.
Second Violins—D. Fetherston, Miss G. Regan, Mr. Cortese, H. Anthistle, Miss E. Gourlay, Grant Milligan, Mr. A. Irwin, Mr. J. Miller, Doris Robbins, T. Levin, S. Levin, W. Harrison.

JUNE WEDDINGS

MOLLAND—FITZGERALD.

On Saturday, June 19, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fitzgerald, "Maple Snade Farm," Desjardins, a very pretty wedding took place when their only daughter, Lulu May, became the bride of Mr. Edwin Wilton Egerton Molland, of St. Ives. A unique feature of the event was that the marriage was solemnized on the anniversary of that of the bride's parents. Precisely at 4 o'clock, to the strains of Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus," played by Miss J. C. Gaudy, of Stratford, the procession began. The interest of the assembly was centred in the bride who was accompanied by her father. As they passed to the arch erected on the lawn where Rev. Mr. Kennedy, of Brynston, was to officiate, many wondered if a more beautiful bride had ever so graced a wedding scene. The arch under which the ceremony was performed was made of maple boughs, banked with ferns and geraniums, and floored with Wilton rugs. Seated from the centre were three horseshoes adorned with snowballs and ferns.

Mr. Everett Fitzgerald, brother of the bride, supported the groom, the bridesmaid being the groom's sister, Miss Jessie Strong, who acted as maid of honor, while Miss Margaret McIntyre, cousin of the bride, performed her duty as flower girl very prettily as she preceded the bride, scattering flowers in her path from a basket bearing the wedding ring.

The bride and groom were being extended the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march floated out over the lawn as the guests proceeded to the marquee, where a sumptuous wedding dinner was served. During dinner police music was played by the London Police Band. Appropriate toasts were proposed and ably responded to by the groom and others.

The bride's dress was a Parisian design of ivory duchess satin, adorned with pearls and director's sash. She wore a bridal veil and wreath of orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white roses, the maid carrying pink carnations and ferns. Her travelling costume was a navy blue suit of chiffon broadcloth, with hat to match.

The high esteem in which the young couple are held was manifested by the variety and value of the gifts. Pieces of cut glass, rare cabinet woods, Royal Derby china and other costly wares were much in evidence. A handsome Graysen-Hermain piano was the gift of the bride's father, and a large Bible from her mother. The groom's gift to the bride was a sunburst of pearls.

WON'T MIX

BAD FOOD AND GOOD HEALTH WON'T MIX.

The human stomach stands much abuse but it won't return good health if you give it bad food.

If you feed right you will feel right, for proper food and a good mind is the sure road to health.

A year ago I became much alarmed about my health for I began to suffer after each meal no matter how little I ate," says a Denver woman.

"I lost my appetite and the very thought of food grew distasteful, with the result that I was not nourished and got weak and thin.

"My home cares were very heavy, for besides a large family of my own I have also had to look out for an aged mother. There was no one to shoulder my household burdens, and come what might I must bear them, and this thought nearly drove me frantic when I realized that my health was breaking down.

"I read an article in the paper about some one with trouble just like mine being cured on Grape-Nuts food and acting on this suggestion I gave Grape-Nuts a trial. The large dish of this delicious food proved that I had struck the right thing.

"My uncomfortable feelings in stomach and brain disappeared as if by magic and in an incredibly short space of time I was again myself. Since then I have gained twelve pounds in weight through a summer of hard work and realize I am a very different woman, all due to the splendid food, Grape-Nuts."

"There's a Reason." Trial will prove. Read the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville," in packages.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet, to the maid of honor a crescent of pearls, to the flower girl a pretty emerald ring, and to the groomsmen a pair of solid gold cuff links.

Amid showers of confetti and with hearty good wishes, the happy couple left for London to take train for Detroit and Belle Isle, and thence up the lakes to visit relatives en route.

Mr. and Mrs. Molland will be at home to their many friends at Lindenhurst Farm, St. Ives, after Aug. 1.

Among the 150 invited guests may be mentioned Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald, Government Inspector, Ottawa; Dr. Foot, Rosseau; Dr. Guest, St. Thomas; W. E. Fitzgerald, solicitor, reeve of Watford; Mrs. T. A. Martin, Cheboygan, Mich., aunt of the groom.

ALD. COOPER GROWS QUITE ECONOMICAL NOW

Objects to City Engineer Employing Inspector to Watch Work Done by Street Railway.

At last night's meeting of the board of works there was considerable discussion over the city having to pay a man to watch the work being done by the London Street Railway Company in connection with the laying of a pavement on Adelaide street, north of Dundas.

"I want to know," Ald. Cooper demanded of City Engineer Graydon, "if Mr. Lowe, who is inspector there now, is in the pay of the city."

"Certainly, he is," replied the city engineer.

"It is high time we drew the line then on our expense," said Ald. Cooper warmly. "I don't think it is necessary to have a man paid by the city to see that the street railway do their work properly. I think they should be responsible for what they do. That inspector doesn't do any work. You gentlemen don't get your money that easy, and I have to work for mine, and I don't see why this man should be paid by the city for such a job."

Mr. Graydon's Opinion.

"If you don't have a man to watch them the street railway will spoil the whole thing," said Engineer Graydon. Assistant Engineer Wright cited a case that had been reported to him, where he had staked out a line to be two inches from the rail, and the street railway men were working to three inches when the inspector noticed it.

"Then hold them responsible, and make them make it right," said Ald. Cooper. "That is what they would do in other cities."

"You must have a man, though," said Engineer Graydon.

"I think so, too," said Ald. Saunders, "and I wouldn't stand for the street railway doing any work without an inspector to see that they were doing it right."

"It's all nonsense," said Ald. Cooper, "and every citizen that gets his tax bill knows that the expense of running the city is getting unendurable."

The matter then dropped.

Want Poles Removed.

Darch & Sons asked for the removal of the telegraph poles on Talbot street from Dundas to King. Engineer Graydon said it could be done provided the fire alarm wires could be removed. It was decided to leave the matter over until next Thursday night and have Chief Atkins report.

Paving Ridout Street.

A tender from the Barber Asphalt Company to pave Ridout street, between King and Dundas streets, and put down a sewer for $2,413, came as a surprise to the board.

"It can't be true," said the mayor. "There was never a block paved in London for that money."

"I never heard of such a bargain," said Ald. Cooper. "We had better accept at once."

"We sure will," said Ald. Rose, and he moved the acceptance of the tender.

"It is the cheapest I ever heard of," said the mayor.

Fullerton Street Sewer.

At a former meeting the matter of initiating a sewer for 150 feet on Fullerton street, was laid over for further consideration, as the board thought it would be advisable to place a sewer on the whole street, or else not put any down at all. The people, however, petitioned against the whole street having a sewer laid on it, and the board decided to lay the 150 feet originally asked for, and the rest of the street by a two-thirds vote of the council.

Cheapside Street Park.

It was decided to leave the question of making the park 660 feet long and 26 feet wide on Cheapside street, between Richmond and St. George, over until next Thursday night.

The question of maintaining the park caused some discussion, but it was decided that the city should maintain it. Ald. Rose moved that on account of the street watering men having so little time to put in owing to the wet weather, that they be given a chance to do some other city work.

"We will put them at work the first thing in the morning," said Engineer Graydon, "hauling broken stone."

Against a Sewer.

A petition against a proposed sewer on the Pipe Line road was received and granted. The people there found the cost of the sewer would be very great owing to the nature of the soil, and decided they could not afford it.

Mr. O. Pirie, of Wellington road, asked the board why he was asked to pay sewer rental on a sewer for which he had paid out of his own pocket. He said he was the only man in the vicinity who was asked to do so. Engineer Graydon was instructed to look into the matter and report at the next meeting.

Other Matters.

The work of laying a sidewalk on the east side of the Wharncliffe road, in West London, will be asked to pay sewer rental on a sewer for which he had paid out of his own pocket. He said he was the only man in the vicinity who was asked to do so. Engineer Graydon was instructed to look into the matter and report at the next meeting.

The request that a sewer be laid on Elias street from English to Elizabeth was granted, and the work will be gone on with at once.

A communication from C. E. Woolverton, regarding city parks, was laid over.

There were present Chairman Gerry, Ald. Rose, Saunders, Cooper, Engineer Graydon, and Assistant Engineer Wright, and Mayor Stevely.
