Eccles Site and Dundas and Waterloo | Well Known as a Justice of the Peace Are Now in the Running. It Is Claimed.

The Merchants Bank will not seil their property on Richmond street, The Advertiser was informed today by one of the members of the city hall building committee and as a result it is considered out of the running now as a possible site for the new city hall.

Some time ago it was announced that the committee were in favor of this location, and since the negotia-tions with the county have been discontinued, it loomed up more strongly than ever as a possibility.

Efforts were made to secure option on the land, and although efforts were made to have the bank agree to a price, it has been nounced that the Merchants Bank will not sell. Efforts to secure the land have proved unavailing.

The two most likely locations now are the Eccles property on Queen's avenue, and the land at the corner of Waterloo and Dundas streets.

The latter has a very large following in the east end of the city; in fact, monster petitions are being prepared to submit to the council in very few days

A Personal Canvass.

In addition, a strong personal canvass is being made by prominent citizens in that section of the city to induce the aldermen to support that proposition. However, there is no denying that a number of the aldermen are very favor-ably disposed towards the Eccles property. An option has been secured on it, the price being about $32,000. Efforts are now being made to secure options on other property at the corner of Picton street and Queen's avenue. It is the intention to use the whole block if the and can be secured. Some bitch has occurred in the negotiations, else a meeting would have been called before this to dispose of the questions.

"The Eccles property has the call now," a member of the committee informed The

May Strike a Snag. A snag may also be struck in the purchase of the Eccles property, as a portion of it is said to be entailed. Expropriation proceedings might be taken, as the council has the power to take this step, but that would mean a delay of a year at least.

CITY GETS THE SURPLUS

Been Amended to This Effect by the Legislature.

The hydro-electric commission will en out the difficulty betwen the water commissioners, and the city council, It will be remembered that the com missioners offer to light the city with the present system, and add one-third more lights for the sum of $30,000. The city council at its meeting on Monday afternon decided that $25,000 was sufficient for the present system and all increases. The aldermen decided that this amount was all that the city should be asked to pay. An interesting situation has as a result developed. The water commissioners declare that they will stand pat. The figures have been gone over carefully, they maintain, and they are right.

City May Appeal, "I presume we shall be officialy no-tified of the offer," said Chairman Pocock to The Advertiser. "All we can do when it comes up is to inform the council that city has the right appeal to the hydro-electric commission if the rates are not right.

LOST THREE FINGERS

Member of Hariston Band Hurt While

Operating a Joiner. [Special to The Advertiser.]

Harriston, April 22.—While engaged n the operation of a jointer at Mer-'iam's mill, Mr. Mack Lewis had three ingers cut off his left hand. The inury was carefully attended to by Dr. Henry, and at present Mr. Lewis is taking several forced holdays. The injured man is a very prominent mem-ber of the band.

The anniversary services were conducted in the Methodist Church here on Sunday by Rev. Mr. Jackson, Tara, a former pastor. Two excellent sermons were preached. The work of the choir was very much enjoyed, especially the singing of Miss Jessie MacLaughlin.

THE SPARLING CASE

A SEVERE COLD

DEVELOPED INTO

PNEUMONIA.

Doctors Said He Would Not Live.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP Cured Him.

Too much stress cannot be laid on the fact that when a person catches cold it must be attended to immediately, or serious results are liable to follow.

There is only one way to prevent pneumonia, and that is, to cure the cold just as soon as it appears.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will do this quickly and effectively.

Mr. Hugh McLeod, Esterhazy, Sask., writes:—"My little boy took a very severe cold, and it developed into pneumonia. The doctor said he would not live. I got some of your Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and he began to improve. Now, he is a strong healthy child, and shows no sign of it coming

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25 cents. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

COMMISSION TO PROBE DISASTER

British Govt. Takes Prompt Action to Uncover All the Facts.

President of Board of Trade Announces Plan for Convention of Shipowners.

London, April 22.-Tonight's session of the House of Commons was devoted to a debate of the Titanic catastrophe, and the board of trade's antiquated regulations were brought into discus-

Will Crooks, the Labor member, initiated the necessary motion and scores of members of the House rose to sup-

A regular fusillade of questions was fired at Sydney Buxton, president of the board of trade, prior to the introduction of Mr. Crook's motion.

Mr. Buxton in reply announced that he already had summoned a meeting of the leading British ship owners for an immediate exchange of views. He had also taken steps to confer with the lord chancellor in regard to the appointment of a high legal authority as wreck commissioner to preside over the Titanic inquiry. All questions as to route, speed, lifeboats, searchlights. etc., would, he said, be submitted to a searching investigation by the strongest possible court of inquiry, and if the board of trade's present powers were inadequate to enforce the necessary regulations, he would not hesitate to ask parliament to confer further

Mr. Buxton said that he was preparing for an immediate conference of the ship owners regarding the measures which the companies themselves contemplated taking pending a revision of the statuory rules. The president of the board of trade also was carefully considering the advisability of approaching other governments whose ships navigate Atlantic with a view to calling an inter-national convention to suggest legislation for the safety of passengers. Mr. Buxton reiterated the statement which he made on April 18, that the total number of persons aboard the Titanic, according to the information of the board of trade was 2.208 of trade, was 2,208.

Some of the members displayed anxiety regarding the attendance of witnesses at the British inquiry into the Titanic dis-Mr. Buxton said he had no power to detain them.

"Have not we the same power as the American senate?" asked Mr. Crooks. "I have not such powers," Mr. Buxton replied.

Admiral Lord Beresford then asked:
"Will every passenger, officer and man that can give evidence be detained in this country, and will you be careful that what occurred in the sinking off Beachy Head of the steamer Oceana, when officers who manned the boats were allowed to leave the country before testifying, does no occur in this case?" "I have no power to detain the passengers or crew," Mr. Buxton answered, "but the court of inquiry, which will be constituted before their arrival, will have the fullest powers." the fullest powers."
Mr. Crooks considered that the replies of the president of the board of trade were unsatisfactory, and he moved an adjournment of the House, which was carried.

On the resumption of the debate, Will On the resumption of the debate, Will Crooks said that in moving adjournment, he had not intended to seek a vote of censure with respect to the president of the board of trade, but to give an expression of opinion to the public. No time should be lost in endeavoring to discover the cause of the disaster. They had no right to blame anyone until they had heard the evidence. A commission should

Piles Not Taken Seriously

"Annoying, but not dangerous, seems to be the way many think of piles in the carly stages. But gradually they become worse, until they prevent sleep, undermine the nervous system and make a wreck of life. When the doctor is finally consulted he considers the case so serious that he recommends the surgeon's knife as () on!, mea.s of cure. It may cure or it may kill. The risk is

SUMMER GARDEN IN BASEMENT TOMORROW

Display of Porch Furniture, Rugs, Mattings, Curtains, Draperies, Etc.

Everybody seems to be getting ready to live out of doors! Bringing out the porch and lawn furniture; putting down cool-looking floor coverings; packing away heavy draperies and hanging the lighter fabrics; hanging porch shades, oiling up the lawn mower. There is no time to lose, for nature is working her marvellous transformation; spreading her green carpet of grass. The crocuses have burst forth in their smiling beauty, and soon, too, the trees will take on their magic coat of green, whispering through the new-made leaves inviting you to come. Every flower and blossom is a smile.

All of you for whom nature and the great outdoors holds a charm will want to see this setting forth of simple Furniture for lawn, garden, porch and verandah. It is the best we know, but there is nothing gaudy or garish about it. The rustic furniture is

BASEMENT TOMORROW DISPLA

Comfort Depends Largely on the Furnishings Porch Fine Showing Tomorrow in Basement

We have fitted up the basement as a pleasant summer garden promenade, well lighted and furnished with artificial flowers, which will be open for the balance of the week, the object being to assemble everything for the furnishing of the summer home or verandah, carried on the different floors and in the different sections in one great display, where you can view at a glance an unrivalled showing of summer furnishings, and we invite you to walk through and enjoy yourself. All around you will see a great lot of summer furniture, all moderately priced and agreeably suggestive of summer glories.

Every Kind

FOR PORCH, LAWN, COTTAGE OR BUNGALOW.

Quite surpassing any display of its kind ever before planned is this opening exhibition of Summer Furniture in the Basement. See for yourself the artistic beauty of this display, which is sure to be helpful in selecting the right Furniture for your own special requirements. Every reliable kind of Furniture for the porch, lawn, garden, summer home or lakeside cottage.

Chairs, Rockers, some with magazine pockets, others with foot rests, all specially finished in green, making them much more durable. Jardiniere Stands and Curates. Tables and Trays

RATTAN VERANDAH FURNITURE, in brown and green stain, which is very durable.

The "Vudor" Porch Shade

The only really satisfactory Shades are the "VUDOR," for they throw the porch into cool, mellow shade without making it too dark for practical use, excluding the sun's scorching beams and at the same time permitting perfect circulation of the summer breeze. They are just the thing for boxing in porches or balconies that are to be used for outdoor sleeping or living apartments; artistically stained in soft, pleasing colors, weatherproof, and will not crack off or fade. They are operated on the principle of a theatre curtain, and can be instantly raised or lowered and are easily and readily put up. Colors: Green, olive and light and dark brown stripes; 4, 6, 8 and 10 feet wide, and 7 feet 8 inches long. Prices.....$2.75, $4.00, $5.25 and $7.25

LONDON, TUESDAY, APRIL 23. THE LONDON INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

The parents of the city are this week receiving a circular describing the day Industrial School, which it is proposed to open in September next. This is a businesslike way of arriving at the attitude of the parents on this very important question, which the advisory industrial committee have had under consideration for some time. They are convinced, as all thoughtful people who look into the matter must be, that London, like other cities, is greatly in need of some means of providing for boys an efficient preparatory training which will insure to them a successful career in the Every thoughtful parent has been perplexed about what to do with the boy who is to become a mechanic. This is a live problem the world over. Trades are no longer taught in the shops as they were a decade ago. The responsibility of providing adequate industrial vocational training has now been placed at the door of our school system and educationists are practically unanimous that the work can no longer be postponed. President Elliot of Harvard University recently said; "The remedy for the defects in our educational system is to have industrial schools for children between the ages of 14 and 18 years."

The proposed day Industrial School here will be a good beginning. It will give a two-year practical course, which will prepare the boy for rapid advancement in the trade which he intends to follow. At the same time the cultural subjects will not be overlooked, for, as the circular says, "We need skilled workmen, but we also need well-trained citizens." No modern progressive city can afford to do without industrial schools. Let us see to it that the door of opportunity is opened to the boys of the city.

THE RESPONSIBILITY FOR CAL-AMITIES.

Human blindness or human greed is responsible for most of the great disasters, apart from the convulsions of the overseas nations was to grant them nature. How could experts calculate the capacity of Titanic lifeboats and not visualize such a calamity? How her. The Transvaal did not run away an Iroquois Theatre and not imagine government in 1906 amidst howls of the horror of fire and panic? How could the owners mount to the isolated lofts of a Triangle building and not the Rand. And Johannesburg still fear death for themselves and their stands! and is satisfied with things

Each fresh eatastrophe finds the world gazing, shamefaced, upon the multiplying phases of its tragic unpreparedness. The sins of omission are magnified when all about are the warnings of disaster. A rotten wallpierced hulk may crash down and crush out lives, and the community is shocked at someone's negligence. A lax inspector may permit crowding of some walled-in place that becomes a tomb for hundreds if fire breaks out. It is a rare instance when the blame does not belong to humanity.

The Titanic tragedy is one harrowwill not stop with the captain, who took too complacently the warnings back to the makers of the law, to the could not sink; that because of their vast machinery for propulsion and their great coats of armor, they could for fair treatment of the Irishman as challenge all the forces of nature. a white man able and anxious to bear And with the human element properly performing its duties it was possible ing, and against paternalism no iess to keep these ocean monsters away than tyranny. Mr. Walter Long ad-Yram peril. But man has come to depend upon machinery, and, in navigation, his dependence had apparently brought him to a careless defiance of natural forces, and though he may not know it, has caused a weakening of his self-reliance. The dereliction captain, officers, operators, directors and lawmakers, is rather an arraignment of society than of any individual. The individual is woefully weak alone, and the safety of lives is a matter for society to regulate. How seldom does anyone point to the dangers before they materialize. How seldom a criticism from the people as to the lack of any department of publie safety. It is time that the human race took away the bandage that blinds it to the possibilities of disaster. The Titanic foundering is a blow between the eyes for all civilization. May it rouse the nations to their sense of duty to human life.

CANADA AND IRELAND.

An arresting book on the Irish question has been published by Mr. Erskine Childers, entitled "The Frame-Work of Home Rule." . Sweeping aside inessentials and mere symptoms of disease on one side or the other, the said to be violent, disloyal or unfair What really matters is that the great | ever had. majority of the Irish people wants to govern itself, to take up responsibility for itself, and to work out a destiny of its own under the British crown. The Irish people demands a democracy of its own, and there can be no ques lution in this demand. Mr. Childers contends that one democracy must. above all things, abstain from "interference with another democracy." 11 is simply a vital point of Liberalism that the British democracy, now at last master in its own house, should freely and gladly concede to the Irish democracy what has long since been conceded to the great overseas colones, the precious right of manhood, political autonomy.

Mr. Childers makes it abundantly clain that the historic case of Ireland and of the colonies is precisely the same. He draws attention to the fact. no mere coincidence, that the "Ninetytwo Resolutions" passed the Assembly of Lower Canada in the same year 1834, as O'Connell made his famous motion for the Repeal of the Union. The parallel between Ireland and Canada is close. The debates of that period in Lords and Commons on the two home rule questions afford an interesting study in the apathy, bigotry and ignorance of a parliament however enlightened trying to rule a dis tant people without its consent. The Irish nation is as remote in temper as the Canadian people in space from the body a large proportion of which was then disposed to coerce Canada, and almost half of which is now eager to trample down the aspirations of Ireland. Mr. Childers thus writes of the debates of 1834:

"The prevailing sentiment seems to have been that Ireland and Cad- ever wore." ada, leavened by a few respectacle 'loyalists' and officials, on the whole were two exceedingly mutinous and embarrassing possessions, which, nevertheless, it was the duty of every self-respecting Briton dragoon into obedience. Both de pendencies were assumed to be equally expensive, though, in fact, Ireland, as we know now, was showing a handsome profit at the time, whereas Canada was costing a quarter of a million a year. For the rest the pride of power tempered a soit of fatalistic apathy. In the case of hours every day." Ireland, the element of pure selfishness was stronger, because the immense vested interests, lay and clerical, in Irish land were strongly represented. The proximity of Ireland, too, rendered coercion more obvious and easy. Otherwise, her ease was the same as that of Canada. The Canadas are endeavoring to escape from us, America has escaped us, but Ireland shall not escape us, said an English member to O'Connell just before the Repeal debate of 4834. Such was the cur-

"Shall not escape us!" The only way that Great Britain found to retain home rule; otherwise they "escaped" inspectors count the exits of from her when it was granted selfblue ruin from the jingoes at home and an Ulster minority, so to speak, on as they are! Home rule is a much better guarantee of security and prosperity to the north of Ireland obstructionists than the disappointment of Nationalist hopes coupled with the possibility of foreign war and American hostility would ever be. Ireland is more likely to "escape" in very unpleasant and disastrous fashion or at the least to be useless to Great Bri tain, if left unsatisfied and mutinous with the door to self-government definitely slammed in her face. The strangest thing is that colonials are to be found to approve a policy of ing series of duties neglected. Censure coercion for Ireland which they have not endured for themselves. Mr. Childers' book, which is a fine piece of danger in his path, nor with the of literature as well as a philosophical operator who closed his cars to the study, should be a good antidote to doomed ship's call; it will work its way such contradictions. In the light of history he shows the Ulster party or owners and expert builders, and to Castle Compact to be only the Family the people as a whole. The attitude Compact in another clime, a "loyalof man has been that these great ships ist" minority, hugging baseless fears and strong-based emoluments or social privilege. His work is a pleavocates as an alternative to home rule the continuation of "eleemosynary benefits" as he calls them. Mr. Amery who pretends to be an imperialist, declares for customs duties favoring Ireland even against the colonies. Mr. Childers strangely asks Britain to trust the Irishman and give him what he asks for as a man able to take care of himself and possessed of a sense of responsibility like her own.

> The United States may have a rail- ish would go poaching. way strike on top of a coal strike Lloyd George cannot be blamed for this at any rate.

There will be also a British inquiry into the Titanic tragedy. It is one case of the kind where publicity will be ered all this time and nobody has sent complete, and publicity is the best cure me any circulars advising me to get and the best preventive.

Mr. Walter Long, M. P., wants to know what Canada thinks of the Irish Nationalists who opposed the Boer war. Mr. Bourassa opposed it and he service where he heard some fine was taken to the bosom of a great political party in Canada.

The salient feature of Canada's foreign trade in the past twelve months was the increase of $69,534,447 in the imports from the United States. Canadian purchases from that country were valued at $348,478,262, against exports of $105,747,730, the latter decreasing $6,000,000. For this adverse balance the majority of Canadian electors are to blame. They lost the opportunity to redress it when they defeated the reciprocity agreement, and closed the American market against Canadian producers.

> COLOR PHOTOGRAPHY. [London Daily News.]

A new method of color photography, embodying some extraordinary brilliant results, has just been demonstrated before a crowded audience at the Royal Photographic Society. peculiarity of this method is that no special color plates are necessary, nor is there any introduction of artificial color screens or colored particles. A plain negative, as in ordinary photography, is taken, an ordinary positive or lantern-slide is made from it, and by purely optical means, using a grating and prism, a picture in natural colors is faithfully reproduced.

The process is the work of Ernest and Julius Rheinberg, and is called the microspectra method of color photography by prismatic dispersion. which necessitates a specia and costly camera, is put forward for its scientific interest and not commer-

Industrial School Seeks to Ascertain Number Who Would Attend Day Classes.

SKILLED LABOR MOVE

To Save the Rising Generation It Is Proposed to Have Day Industrial Classes in This City.

The London Industrial School has just issued a circular dealing with the proposed day classes that will commence next September. The circular which is of importance to intending pupils is addressed to "The Parents of the City," and is signed by Mr. W. W. Gammage, chairman of the advisory industrial committee. Inclosed is a postcard application form addressed to Mr. H. H. Beal, the principal ef the Industrial School. The applicant must state his age, the school he attends, and the grade he is in at present. He also has to state the course he wishes to take, and the trade he intends to enter upon the completion of the course.

The Circular.

The circular, which is being dis-

The circular, which is being distributed in the schools, is as follows. The object of this circular is to determine the number of parents in the city who would send pupils to a day industrial school, should such a school be opened in September next.

Industrial education has now become a world-wide movement. Not many years ago through the applenticeship and small factory system a boy could become a good, all-round mechanic in the shop. This is no longer possible. Under the modern factory system a trade is no longer taught in its entirety. If the boys of the rising generation are to hold their own with the skilled workmen, trained under the more effective European systems, some form of practical instruction must be given them outside of the shops. This responsibility has now been laid at the door of our school system. It is to meet this very real and pressing demand that industrial schools are being established.

The years from 14 to 16 have become known as the "wasted years" of a boy's life, from the fact that he is of little use in a trade until he is 16 years of age. As a result a great many of our boys, who leave school about 14 years of age drift in various forms of unskilled employment, and later find themselves without a trade, and so destined to fill denial and poorly-paid positions. To be-ome "the hewers of wood and drawers of water" of the industrial world. of water" of the industrial world.

It is to save the rising generation from such a fate that it is proposed to establish a day industrial school. The aim of this school will be to give the boy a thorough grounding in the practice and principles of the trade group in which the trade which he intends to follow lies. The practical instruction will be given by those who have a first-hand knowledge of the conditions and requirements of the industrial world. Successful mechanics of the conditions and requirements of the industrial world. Successful mechanics will be selected as instructors in the shop practice. It will provide a preparatory trade school course; at the same time the cultured element will not be overlooked. "We need skilled workmen, but we also need well-trained citizens."

In the course for girls, while the same industrial methods will be followed in the practical work as in the courses for boys, yet the aim will be largely domestic. The object of the course will be to fit them to discharge intelligently the duties that will confront them in the home.

In the last on the ice, beating it all the time until three years progressive Turkish ladies have stealthily been modifying style of the cumbersome tcharchaf into a semblance of the tailored sui earthenware tureen. Around the in-side of the dish put a piece of paper, veils, but also such accessories as furs, white spats and elbow gloves Parisian handbags, and so on. The ancient tcharchaff was a long, loose capelike garment, gathered at the waistline to form a full skirt. Every ne of the figure was effectually concealed, and as black silk was invariably used for these garments, it was best friend. The head was swathed in a heavy veil, with two small holes in serted before the eyes. The cruel edict has strictly forbidden all the recent in novations, and sadly the beautifu Turkish women are clumsy habit and smothering veil. The Sheik calls upon the husbands, fathers and brothers of all Mohammedar women to suppress the new fashion, in which, he finds a sign that the old religion and old customs are losing their hold.

[By Dr. Arthur Selwyn-Brown.]

The disaster to the Titanic must attract attention of the civilized world to the dangers presented to Atlantic navigation by icebergs, and also to the means steamship builders must take to minimize the dangers.

The disaster teaches some stern lessons, and if they are not heeded there will be more severe penalties to pay. Atlantic navigators have experienced trouble from ice from the earliest times, hundreds of vessels have been known to founder after coiliding with icebergs, and it is probable that hundreds of other vessels posted as missing met similar fates.

The majority of icebergs found in the Atlantic originate on the western coast of Greenland between Cape Farwell and Disco Bay. The whole of the interior of Greenland is covered with a thick mass of solid ice. These spreading ice packs are known as glaciers. One is 18,500 feet wide and 940 feet deep. It produces enough ice to supply 100,000,000 people with five pounds of ice daily for a century.

RUDOLPH AND CONWAY LATEST Mitts of the Mighty MANAGER NEEDHAM IS READY ADDITIONS TO LONDON'S TEAM

Brother of Dick Rudolph, of Toronto Team, Has Signed a Local Contract—Cuban Stars Have Been Forced to Cancel London Dates-Park in Good Shap.

TWO MORE players have been added to the list who will report in London next week to struggle for places on the London Canadian League team. Edward Rudolph, a brother of the famous. Dick the Toronto International League pitcher, is one of the players. Rudolph is an outfielder. Last season he played in the New York State League, and had a good record. Several Canadian League clubs were after him this season, but the London club seemed to attract him a little stronger than the others, and his signed contract was reeived by the local management yester Rudolph is only a youngster scarcely out of his teens. He is said to be good with the bat, fast on the bases and an outfielder that can cover a great deal of territory. If he lives up to these requirements there is no doubt but what he will hold a summer-long job with the Tecumsehs.

The other player to sign a London contract in the last two days is John Conway, an infielder, who can play any of the infield positions. Conway lives in New York, and he is no relation to the Conway who played for Brantford last season. He is delighted to be a member of the London club, especially since it has been announced that Frank Bowerman, the idol of the New York fans, will manage the team. Conway comes well recommended, Bowerman himself advising the local club to sign him. He, together, with Rudolph, who lives in New York also, will report in London at the first of the week, and will be among the first to arrive. The local directors are well pleased over landing Conway and Rudolph, as they beat out several other clubs who were

LOTS OF CAUSE FOR REJOICING. With Bowerman coming on Thursday, and about twenty-five or thirty players coming next week, the local directors are able to sit back now and congratulate themselves on the winter's work. They feel that they have the most likely bunch to pick from in the league, more youngsters having been signed up than by several other teams put together. Bowerman is the only veteran on the team, the average age of the rest of the players being about The Tecumsehs should have the edge on many of the other teams in speed alone. Knotty Lee seems to fall back on the veterans, he having severa on his line-up. However, Knotty has a few good youngsters, Jo Jo Keenay being the most versatile of these. Jo Jo has practically cinched a job at third base with the Hams, and the local fans will look forward with pleasure to his first appearance in London in one of Knotty Lee's borrowed uniforms. CUBANS CANNOT COME.

The Cuban Stars, who were billed for two exhibition games in London before the Canadian League season opened, have been forced to cancel their dates, owing to the fact that they will be unable to reach here until near the end of May. The cold weather in the south this spring has kept them back and they have had to change their dates wherever they were billed. Severa! Canadian League teams had them billed to play pre-season games, but these will all have to be cancelled now. The Tecumsehs will play a couple of preseason games before the season opens, most likely with a team or two from Detroit. The Ottawas, who will train at Chatham, have arranged for a couple of games with semi-pro teams in Detroit, and it is likely that these will be brought on to London in order to give Manager Bowerman a line on his men EXCURSIONS TO BE RUN.

The London club directors are arranging for a number of excursions to London during the Canadian League season. In former years the excursions with the rallways for a number of excursions. As arranged so far, excursions will be the rallways for a number of excursions. As arranged so far, excursions defeated the champions of the Interwent from Condon but the local management can see no reason why the Stratford and points north, Woodstock and Ingersoll, and other places. It has long been a problem to the civic officials how to induce the people in the surrounding towns to come to London. It looks as though the London Baseball Club has solved the problem. Nothing will attract a crowd like a good baseball league, and with the Canadian League attracting the attention of the outsiders, there is no reason why London should not be a Mecca for excursionists this summer. The London team, with Frank Bowerman as manager, will be a strong attraction, and the announcement that the London club will arrange for cheap rates, will be welcomed by the fans in the differ

SOME CHANGES AT TECUMSEH PARK.

The work at Tecumseh Park is proceeding merrily. The London fans will hardly recognize the place when they see it this spring. The ridge that marked the old bicycle track, that cost the park owners about $5,000, and never brought them in five thousand cents, is being plowed up, and the outfield is being made perfectly level, right to the fence. This work will be completed by the end of this zeek, and the grounds will be in splendid shape for the players next week. A big roller has been at work for several days, and the infield and outfield are being smoothed out. The infield is in splendid shape, and it will require but little improvement. The home plate and pitcher's box have already been put in, and all that is now needed to make it look like a real ball park is a few players. A roadway for automobiles is being built along the south side of the park, the south-eastern gate being enlarged so that autos can go out this way instead of having to back up and turn around to ge

It was not an easy task to lead her mind into other channels. The fierce pitching of the vessel, the distant sound of volces on deck, all conspired to defeat my purpose by reminding her that we were being buffeted by the great surges of the South Seas. Yet she endeavored bravely to respond to my thought, and so, at last, our conversation drifted, almost naturally, from the merest commonplace into a frank exchange of impressions upon many topics of common interest. MAGISTRATE SPEAKS FOR ZAM-BUK

Magistrate Perry, of Goldfields, B.C., believes in making a good thing known. Writing of Zam-Buk, the great household balm, he says:—"After a very tair trial I have proved Zam-Buk eminently satisfactory. In my case it cured a skin rash of five years' standing which no doctor had been able to do any good for. I would certainly encourage any person to keep Zam-Buk in his home." The magistrate is quite right. Every home needs Zam-Buk! Unequalled for cuts, burns, bruises, eczema, blood poisoning and all skin diseases. All stores and druggists sell it at so cents a box. Sure cure for piles.

DON'T NEGLECT THAT SORE!

A Chicago man has just died from blood poisoning arising from neglect of a small sore. Don't neglect a cut, a patch of eczema, or an open sore of any kind. The air is fall of polson germs, waiting to start up their evil results in neglected sores, wounds, etc. In Zam-Buk is safety. Zam-Buk is so highly antiseptic that applied to any skindisease or injury it makes blood poisoning impossible. . In using Zam-Buk you have three processes going on at once for Zam-Buk is healing soothing and antiseptic. Try it without delay.

A GENUINE OFFER. TEST ZAM-BUR AT OUR EXPENSE!

We appreciate the position taken by the man or woman who says :- "If your preparation is what you claim, you should have no objection to letting us try it before spending our money on it." To every person taking this view we say, send one cent stamp (to pay return postage) and name and date of this paper to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, and we will mail you a free trial box of Zam-Buk. Zam-Buk is purely herbal, suitable for the delicate skin of little children, yet powerful enough to heal chronic sores of long years' standing. All druggists and stores, 50c. per box, 3 for $1.25.

Music and Drama

"Mutt and Jeff."

There was an audience in the Grand Opera House last night, and a big audience at that, which laughed until it seemed that somebody would be ill as a result of the merriment. The cause of all the fun were Mutt and Jeff, Bud Fisher's inimitable characters, played by Roger Gray and Shorty De Witt, respectively.

The show is what is known as a burlesque, but the fun is clean and the jokes aboveboard. To give the audience a chance to recover between spasms, some really good songs and choruses are rendered. There are a score or more girls, young, pretty and vivacious, all of whom can sign. And in addition there are male voices, pleasing to hear, and a plentitude of appropriate stage settings.

If Mutt and Jeff are not cracking jokes, somebody is singing a song, or a chorus, with life and vim in it, rollicking over the stage to music that wins applause A young woman, good to look upon, and with plenty of ability, is Miss Stewart. She sings well, Frankie dances with rare grace, and is a general favorite with the audience. Louis Kelso, as Jack Weyler, sings Identification Complete. New York, April 22.—It was learned at the White Star Line offices that on the list of the Titaric's second cabin passengers were "Mr. Hoffman, child Hoffman, child Hoffman," and when the manifest of survivors brought here on the Carpathia was completed there appeared the names of "Louis Hopman and Lola Hop-man." There seems little doubt now that Hoffman is the family name of the two boys. The body of Hoffman was picked up at the scene of the wreck by cable steamer on Monday.

FOUR CASES SET FOR THE SESSIONS

Important Actions Will Be Tried Next Week Before Judge Riddell.

MORE ARE LOOKED FOR

Smith Will Case, Action Against F. A. Fitzgerald and Others, Will Make Up the List.

set down in the office of Mr. R. K. Cowan for trial at the non-jury sessions of the high court, which comnence at the court house on Monday next before Mr. Justice Riddell, it is thought that the list will be well filled and that many cases of importance, including the now famous Smith will ease, will be then fought out. The first on the list is the action of the Fidelity Trust Company against

U. A. Buchner, and concerns the will of the late Thomas Rosal Rhoder The plaintiffs, as his administrators, claim that Fred, Delta, Gordon and Florence Hendershot, his grandchildren, and all minors, are the preferred beneficiaries, and are entitled to $1,149 24, which has been paid into ourt as the proceeds of a Royal Arcanum policy.

The defendant claims to be the wner of the certificate. which he declares he purchased for value. W. G. R. Bartram for the plaintiff; defend-

A Caradoc Caso. The second action for trial is rather complicated case, in which great many people are involved. William Toal, of Caradoc, and Frank P. Toal, of Detroit, are the plaintiffs, while by the original writ, William Ryan, David J. Toal, Mary McAteer, and Elizabeth Fisher were the de fendants. However, since the issuance of the writ, Mary McAteer has beome deceased, and her two children, William and Mary, both minors, have been made defendants to the action.

The parties to the action are the nly surviving relatives of Susan Ryan, of Euphemia Township, Lambton, who died on Sept. 16, 1911, leaving an estate made up of a farm of 125 acres in Lambton, valued at $7,000, and personal estate to the value of

A will, probated sine her death, and which the plaintiffs now seek to revoke, named three beneficiaries—David Toal, to the extent of $500; Elfzabeth Fisher, $200, and Mary McAteer, $300. Her sisters were allowed a certain piece of furniture, while the residue was for her husband. The plaintiffs assert that the will is void and that Mrs. Ryan at the time she named the bequests, was influenced by her husband, and was of angound mind.

William Ryan, the husband of the deeraid street north, did over $10,000 damage and caused the death of Charles Warren, one of the watchmen. The blaze started on the second floor of the building from an electric asphalt heater. It spread rapidly to the third floor and through the machinery building.

A London Action. The third case is another in which large number of people are interested. The Canadian Bank of Commercef on behal, of themselves and other creditors of Frederick Ardiel Fitzgerald, of London, are the plaintiffs, and Mary Edith Fitz gerald, Frederick Ardiel Fitzgerald, Wilmer Leighton Fitzgerald, Albert E. Fitzgerald, Mona S. Fitzgerald, Pauline Fitz-gerald, Fred R. Fitzgerald, Daisy S. Fitzgerald, Maud Fitzgerald, and William A. White, Llewellyn Jones and Victoria Hospital are the defendants.

The plaintiffs claim that they received a judgment in the high court on Oct. 3, 1901 for $56,790.42, which has not been paid. Thepresent action is to recover the money.

The defendants are represented by Meredith & Meredith, and two of them, who are minors, are represented by E. W. Harcourt, the official guardian. Gibbons, Harper & Gibbons are the solicitors for the plaintiffs.

sion in the Township of East Nissouri, in lieu of the forced road across said lots for which they received no compensation. They also ask for an injunction against the defendant interfering with their occu-pation of the land. Damages for trespass Smith sought to make the witness adthe plaintiffs, and Meredith & Meredith for the defendant.

DID TITANIC HIT ROCK?

Nautical Gazette Wants a Government Survey of the Spot.

New York, April 23.-The suggestion that the Titanic struck a ledge of rock and not an iceberg is made in the cur rent issue of the Nautical Gazette. The possibility of such an accident is urged because the ship struck in the longitude as the half-submerged Virgin Petition Is To Be Presented to the City Rocks to the north, and possibly in the same spot where the Naronic foundered

SMITH CASE IS

ACTION OVER A WILL

Estate of a Well-Known Resident of Strathroy Figures in Big Legal Battle.

Forty-one relatives, heirs and legatees I the late Richard P. Smith, of Strathroy, are engaged in a legal costest over the disposition of his estate, valued at $153,674. Mr. Justice Sutherland yesterday heard a motion from the twelve plaintiffs, who are dissatisfied with the will or its execution, asking that the twenty-nine defendants be limited as to the number of counsel they may have to represent them at the trial. They asked that the defendant be allowed one counsel for each group which had the same interest, but his lordship in giving judgment stated Although but four cases have been that he found no authority by which he could interfere with the defendants' right to be represented at the trial. Among the defendants are the Salvation Army, the Presbyterian Church, and the Sarnia General Hospital.

The case comes up for trial at the non-ury sittings, which will open before Mr fustice Riddell on Monday next.
