Blacks Are Extremely Fashionable

Delightful as the holiday shopping has been, yet glad you are it is over. And what a pleasant change it is to get back again to the everyday requirements, amongst the newest dress fabrics, and sit down and talk styles and fashions. Your ideas, also those of the dressmaker, will no doubt be freshened from the rest during the past few weeks, which you have spent, we might say, in fairyland. The next few weeks is particularly the season for black dress goods, and we are showing a most complete and comprehensive range. It is many seasons since blacks have been so popular, and if you contemplate a new dress, now is a most opportune time to have it made for if there is such a thing as a quiet time with dressmakers and ladies' tailors it is at the beginning of the year. But this is always so quickly taken advantage of that before the first month is far advanced it is made a busy

We direct your attention this week to the finest stock of black dress goods ever shown at this store, including suitings, all-wool, silk and silk-and-wool dress fabrics, in sheer, medium and light weights, in plain and fancy effects, including Voiles. Poplins, Crepons, Poplin de Soie, Grenadines, etc. Now is the time for black dress goods, and January is the month to have your black dress made, before the spring rush begins. While others are waiting to have theirs made you vill be wearing yours.

BLACK WOCL VOILES—This popular dress fabric will be as much in demand as ever during the coming spring and summer seasons, and our stock has been replenished in all lines by recent shipments of French and British goods, Priestley's being well represented in our stock. The popular weaves are the fine and medium size meshes, hardtwisted threads, endering the voile non-crushable. Our dollar lines are extraordinary value. All are 44-inch widths. Prices, per yard 85¢, $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50

BLACK SILK-AND WOOL CREPONS—A new and fashionable soft draping fabric, which makes up very dressy, suitable for all seasons and most all occasions, showing a slight crinkle in the weave, in plain, spots and beautiful scroll and floral designs, which are the very newest from Paris; 44-inch widths. At, per yard, plain and spots,

$1.00 and $1.25 BLACK POPLIN DE SOIE—A beautiful material for evening wear and summer dresses, sheer but not very transparent, mostly silk, and very bright in finish, smooth surface; one of the most dressy and the most serviceable of sheer fabrics; 44 inches. $1.00 and $1.25 Also along this order we show a range of silk poplins, coming in a little heavier weight and in more decided cords, 44 to 48 inch widths. At, per vard, $2, $2.50 and $3 BLACK SILK-AND-WOOL SAN-TOY-This is a handsome fabric, very rich, resembling the silk poplin but not so highly finished, which is preferred by many; a strictly high-grade dress goods, medium light weight suitable for all seasons, very small, fine cord, the silk mixture giving it sufficient brightness and tastre to distinguish it from Black All-Wool San-Toy, or Fine French Poplin, 42 to 48 inches. At, per yard 65¢, 85¢ and $1.00

BLACK RESILDA—This new dressgoods has quickly become very popular for dressy gowns, having proven to be one of the most serviceable as well as beautiful materials, woven in light to medium weights, and absolutely non-crushable, with the lustrous th of the and the wear-resisting qualities of wool and mohair combined, being composed of these wools specially prepared, in plain Shantung finish and diagonal weaves: 44 mches. At, per yard $1.00 and $1.25

BLACK ALL-WOOL AND SILK-AND-WOOL HENRIETTAS, selected from the best makers in the world and imported direct. We show the best values obtainable. Our All-Wool Henriettas are the well-known German velour-finished goods, very rich and glossy, and good weighty cloth. Our Silk Warps are "Priestley's," the famous British maker, and for the new style dresses these are counted amongst the most popular materi-

"Besides, the London rate is a ford we have managed it better. Here we arrange a substantial reduction, but aim still to maintain a revenue sufficient to prevent the enterprise becoming a charge upon general ratepayers. We question if London can manage to avoid drawing upon the general purse."

Londoners themselves are asking sary to draw upon the general purse to make up the amount which must be paid the hydro-electric commission? The city had to meet the cut in the London Electric rates. It appal taxpayers.

Apart from the elections to the several civic boards, there are some questions before the ratepayers upon which a public journal ought to express an opinion.

posal to exempt anybody from taxation excites riotous enthusiasm, but facts squarely in the face. Against the facturers should pay their taxes as other property-holders do, and that there should be no discrimination between rich and poor. However, it is a condition that confronts the city, not a theory. Other municipalities are bidthe eight local concerns asking for fixin a score of cities or towns in Western Ontario. One of the firms was with offers to go elsewhere. This in the same circumstances. It should or wishes to move his plant, it is only by a stroke of fortune that he can sell his building without loss if it is adapted only to factory purposes. This is one new thing in London. Some of the firms are merely asking for the renewal of privileges they were granted years ago.

Ratepayers should ask themselves whether it is good business to risk losing any of the factories we have, or to advertise that London will do nothing to attract new industries. Some of the manufacturers asking for fixed assessments contemplate large additions and extensions. If they knew they would be assessed to the hilt on their additional plant, they might prefer to build elsewhere. It is time the city adopted a settled industrial policy which would put London on an equal footing with competing municipalities, and which would treat all local industries alike.

2. The advisability of guaranteeing the bonds of the Midland Electric Railway to the extent of $200,000. This question is not submitted in the form of a money bylaw, as many may have supposed. It is merely a plebiscite of the ratepayers. They are asked to say whether they favor the proposal. An affirmative vote will authorize the council at its own discretion, to ask for special legislation to make the

Needlework Notes

The ugliness of the placket hole has been more or less done away with by the popularity of the habit back and the one-piece frock, so often opening on the side or down the front.

In sewing trimmings on a hat it is hard for the home milliner to stitch the ends of the threads, but if you will leave one end loose instead of drawing the knot close to the hat, and after securing the trimming tie the two ends together, the effect will be better.

It is a difficult matter to cut away the material under lace insertion without severing a wrong thread, unless means of overcoming the trouble be employed. Use a piece of cardboard four inches long, rounded at one end and cut wide enough to slip along between lace and the material. This will make the work easier and safer easier and safer.

Yuletide Fairy Tales 🐶

Fairies are ever, ever seeking out the lonely.

If there is a lonely child, a fairy in time will find her. If there is a weeping mother, a white-winged fairy will see her and comfort her.

If there is an old man-like Col. Kline, in his lonesome adobe shack in New Mexico—who just pines and pines for some kind of companionship, along comes a fairy, two fairies, three fairies, to cheer his lonesome adobe shack in New him up.
Col. Kline's fairles came in the form fuzzy cottontail rabbits, and scampered under his shack, for there they knew they were safe. Col. Kline never hurt my living thing.

About 8 o'clock one night Col. Kline heard a rustle and a bustle in the desert sand underneath his shack. So he went out to see what the noise was all about it's usually very quiet in the desert carried a candle in one hand and a big gun in the other-just to be ready i any trouble came along.

He poked his candle under the househich stands on sticks about a foot above the ground—and then he saw the three fairy rabbits. Only he didn't know they the ground—and then he saw the three fairy rabbits. Only he didn't know they were fairies, of course.

"Well, Jimminy Jinks!" exclaimed the colonel. "Hello, cottontails! I'm right glad, to see you!"

So the fairies, disguised as cottontails, knew they had made no mistake in coming to Col. Kline's shack, and they hopped toward him, wagging their floppy ears and smiling. Col. Kline left the candle for them to see by, and ran into the house for half of his last loaf of bread to feed them.

When he came back the cottontall rabbits were very glad indeed to take the crumbs of bread and enjoyed them very much. Then they are there yet. And the one thing the colonel doesn't like about his cowboy friends who visit him sometimes (and love him) is the way they suggest cooking up his rabbits for a stew! Just think! Then the colonel's mild blue eyes fairly blaze, and no cowboy dares to even touch his fairy cottontails.

[Associated Press.]

Washington, Dec. 28.—Statements re-lating to the kind of smokeless powder used by this country made by Sir Hiram Maxim who wrote President Taft Oct 25 last, that gun explosions in the United States army and navy were due to the form of powder grain in use were characterized as "unworthy of serious consideration" in a letter to Mr. Taft from Secretary of the Navy Meyer, made public at the White House Wednesday Appended to Mr. Meyer's letter was a memorandum on the subject from Brig .-Gen. William Crozier, chief of ordnance U. S. A., to the secretary of war, refuting Sir Hiram Maxim's criticism as well as an article in Engineering, a London periodical, referred to by Sir Hiram

"It is considered," says Mr. Meyer, "unwarranted to carry out further experiments desired by Sir Hiram Maxim, and that his statements in relation to our smokeless powder are unworthy of 000 may not be accepted in view of serious consideration, except as to their the fact that the Government is said misrepresentations, and to the evil effects of their wide publicity on those unacquainted with this subject."

In regard to Sir Hiram Maxim's statement that he "has had great experience and knows what he is talking about," Mr. Meyer says Sir Hiram is "ignorant of the type of smokeless powder used by the United States Government, and it is quite probable that he has had very little or no experience with it, however familiar he may be with nitro-glycerine or cor-dite powders." The letter also declares that though Sir Hiram professes to be the inventor of modern smokeless powder, he is "in no sense the inventor of the type of smokeless powder developed by the United States navy at the naval torpedo station. Newport, R. I., and used in the naval service since 1899."

[G. N. W. Dispatch.]

Toronto, Dec. 28.-The Ontario Bar Association opened its annual meeting this morning at Osgoode Hall with addresses by President S. F. Lazier, of Hamilton, and Lieut.-Col. Ponton. President Lazier advocated larger costs for lawyers, pointing out that while the cost of living had increased, lawyers' compensation had not kept pace with the advance.

He spoke in favor of a more satisfactory insolvency act, and said he believed the labor act should be made more stringent, so that where arbitration is provided for it should be compulsory. In speaking of the veto power of the House of Lords, Mr. Lazier expressed the opinion that this was a good time for Senate reform

SCRIBNER'S.

Price Collier recently returned to New York after a long absence, having spent about a year in India and the Far East, and then made a journey to South America. Mr. Collier's book, "England and the English From an American Point of View," opened to him the doors of the ruling class in India, and he has written for Scribner's Magazine a striking series of articles beginning in January on "The West in the East," particularly England's rule in India, and with special reference to America's own problems as power in Eastern affairs. Other contributors are Dr. Van Dyke, Conan Doyle, Hopkinson Smith, Thompson Seton.

THE SMART SET.

The January number of the Smart Set is issued by the publishers as a special holiday number, and it is one of the most attractive magazines shown on the news stands at this season-both inside and out-for it has not only an all-star list of contributors, but presents an innovation as well in a very artistic new holiday cover of white and gold. The usual complete novel is for this issue the work of Helen Talbot Kummer; it is entitled "La Prevosa," and tells the story of a famous French dancer who gave up an enviable position and the adoration of whole continent for love. The story is spirited and full of action: the scenes are Paris and Russian Siberia.

Other strong features of this issue in clude E. Phillips Oppenheim's novel. "Immune," a poem by "Havoc"; Wheeler Wilcox: "The Passing of Pan," a poem by Bliss Carman; "Kinship," a touching story of inhumanity to woman, censers and vessels still filled with poem, a clever one-act play, and the

THE RED BOOK.

The Red Book Magazine for January offers as its foremost literary feature George Bernard Shaw's latest play, entitled, "The Dark Lady of the Sonnets In it Shaw projects Elizabeth, Shakespeare and Shakespeare's lady-love, Mary Fitton, the "Dark Lady of the Sonnets." The play is one of the brilliant Shaw's most amusing literary achievements.

A striking feature of this magazine for January is an article entitled, "Haunted Houses of Death." It deals with the war on the white plague, and is a power-

WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION. The Woman's Home Companion starts the new year with a continued story in which "votes for women" has a prominent place. This suffragette love story is entitled "In the Land of Tomorrow, by Claude Radford Warren, and, as you can imagine, is a distinct departure from the usual magazine story. Other fiction in this number includes "The Nine "Pierrette and the Gray Monk." by Fannie Heaslip Lea, and part three of "The The late London minister, who has Admiral's Niece," a most delightful tale by Kate Douglas Wiggin and her collab-

Free Correspondence School at Omaha for Railroad Men

Every one of the 21,312 employes of the Union Pacific Railroad is and ought to be a candidate for promotion.

The Union Pacific has established a correspondence school at Omaha, through which any employe can obtain free instruction in any branch of practical railroad workmechanical, electrical, accounting or traffic.

Such a school means bigger, broader and better railroad men. It means a better railroad. It means that the public's interest is better served.

The track-laborer employed by the Union Pacific can become one of its officials provided he will prepare himself for promotion.

These progressive policies have made the

CHATHAM WON

ntermediate Team Defeated Men From Sarnia in Slow Game,

[Special to The Advertiser.] Chatham, Dec. 29.—The first hockey ame of the O. H. A. series was played off in the rink last night, when the local team defeated Sarnia by a score of 6 to 5. The game started off with two goals for Chatham, and it looked for while as though' the locals would have it all their own way, but after the visitors had time to find the dimensions of the little rink, they seemed to be there at all times.

Considerable rough work was done on both sides, much to the disgust of the spectators, who were rather sore at the accommodation afforded. If the local club wish to make the game a success here, they will certainly have to provide cleaner and better quarters for audiences. The ice was in very poor

TONS OF SNOW FELL OFF MARKET HOUSE ROOF

Luckily Slide Occurred During the Night When the Square Was Deserted.

Some time during the night tons of snow slid off the market roof onto the pavement below, and this morning half dozen men were busily employed in shovelling it off into the road. Market Clerk Maker stated to The Advertiser that had the slide occurred this morning while the market was going on, it would likely have resulted in a serious accident, as people and every class is represented. are continually passing up and down the walk onto which the snow fell A new roof, which is a tin one, has lately been placed on the market house, but there are no snow guards to prevent the snow from sliding off. Also, there is no means by which the snow can be shovelled off, as it is practically impossible for any person to gain a foothold on the roof when there is snow on it.

The matter will be brought to the attention of the proper authorities, and some means taken to provide snow guards, so that a serious acident will not result if the snow should slide off on one of the busy market days.

G. T. R. Employee Huris Lantern Through Cab Window of Engine. [Special to The Advertiser.]

Owosso, Mich., Dec. 29.-It was learned Wednesday that the presence of mind of a Grand Trunk Railroad brakeman probably averted a crash similar to the one which occurred at Durand Aug. 24, in which ten lives were lost. The same conditions ob-tained Christmas night as on the of No. 14 suffering a breakdown near the same spot. The brakeman who was sent back placed his torpedo and then hurled his lantern through the cab window of No. 4, as it speeded by at a 50-mile-an-hour rate. The second section was soon brought under
