object of its enactment, and as a means of accomplishing such object in a community consisting of various denominations of Christians, the necessity is asserted of 15 having the said University entirely free in its government and discipline from all denominational bias, so that the just rights and privileges of all might be fully main-regard for the conscientious scruples of all classes of professing Christians, which it sought to evince by affording to the different denominations the opportunity, and thereby pressing upon them the obligation, each in its own

25 way and each according to its own discipline and in conformity with its own peculiar views of religious truth, of providing for the spiritual welfare and advancement in religious knowledge of the youth belonging to its own communion, and not from any indifference to the importance of religious duties or of imparting religious knowledge in the education of youth: And whereas, notwithstanding the distinct avowal of the principles on which the said Act was based, doubts have been raised as to the Christian character of the said Institution and of the 5 powers of the University, by statute or otherwise, to make the necessary regulations for insuring to its members the opportunities of religious instruction and attendance upon public worship by their respective Ministers, and according to their respective forms of religious faith: And 10 whereas, for the satisfaction of all whose minds may have been disturbed by such doubts, it is desirable to declare, Be it therefore accordingly declared and enacted by the Queen's most excellent Majesty, &c.
